Employees Get Pay Raise

Hooper Named County Administrator

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Commission Tuesday named Ken Hooper county administrator and gave all county employees a Christmas present of a pay raise.

Hooper has been the county's environmental services director for six years.

At the end of public hearings on zoning issues at 11 p.m., the commissioners unanimously named Hooper, 36, to the top county administrative post at an annual salary of $54,500.

Hooper had been serving as acting county administrator for the past 2½ months prior to the departure of T. Duncan Rose III. Rose's salary was $51,000 annually.

With money on hand from attrition and unfilled positions and because county employees have not received a pay raise since October 1983, the commissioners also unanimously granted all employees an across-the-board 2.5 percent pay raise and department and division heads a 6.2 percent pay raise retroactive to Oct. 1.

Ken Hooper

according to County Commissioner Sandra Glenn. Those same employees may also get additional raises after a wage classification and pay plan is completed and delivered to county commissioners in January.

Mrs. Glenn said the $600,000 cost of the salary increases, granted retroactively, is to tell the employees "the commission appreciates their work and in many cases the dual jobs many employees have been performing over the past six months to a year."

"In government, we can't call it a bonus, but the money is there and it is time to reward the employees to show them we are extremely please in their exemplary performance," she said.

County staff recently voted down a unionization attempt.

Mrs. Glenn said the $600,000 is coming from budgeted salaries for positions that are unfilled and from attrition. She emphasized the county will not have to dip into contingency funds to pay for the raises. In the 1984-85 fiscal year budget some $1.2 million was set aside for additional pay raises expected to be called for in the wage study when it is completed.

Jeers Pelt Longwood Mayor

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Verbal attacks pelted Longwood's lame duck mayor/commissioner J. Russell Grant as a large commission meeting audience expressed its disapproval of his administration. Even City Attorney Frank Kruppenbacher bucked the mayor laying down the law at one point.

Grant lost the Dec. 4 election for the District 3 commission seat to Perry E. Faulkner, 1,007 to 455 and the audience wasn't about to let him forget it. Carl Brandenburg of East Second Place, Longwood, when at the microphone to complain about drainage, told the mayor, "That's why you're not here any longer, you don't know when to shut up." After that when addressing the commission, Brandenburg said he would only recognize the other commissioners and would ignore Grant.

The crowd reacted with laughter and derisive remarks throughout the meeting as Grant attempted to preside. Later Grant, describing the audience as "pure down right mean and rude," said "Just because I was defeated doesn't mean I'm not still the mayor and a commissioner until the end of the year. The city can't come to a grinding halt. I intend to carry out my duties until the end of the year and then turn them over to my successor."

Grant said that there was no truth to elsewhere reported allegations by Commissioner Harvey Smerlison that Monday night's agenda was long because the lame duck commissioners (Grant and Bill Mitchell) were trying to push things through before they go out of office. Grant said there had been other agendas during the year that were at least as long and the agendas are made up by City Clerk Don Terry from what he has. One controlling factor, he said is the number of items passed on to the commission by the Land Planning Agency which have to be taken up at the next scheduled meeting. Grant said that the disturbances at meetings had been going on for some time and were generally caused by "newcomers" to the city, who are not typical of Longwood residents just more vocal.

A public hearing on a conditional use request for a Planned Unit Development (PUD) by Centex Homes of Florida, Inc., came to an abrupt stop and was postponed until the next meeting when the Kruppenbacher said that the city ordinance said

Homeowners Object, Blame Moore

City OKs Industrial Zoning

Over the strenuous objections of nearby homeowners, the Sanford City Commission rezoned an agriculturally designated 19-acre tract off Pine Way to industrial on a vote of 3-2.

And even though Mayor Lee P. Moore insisted neither he nor his company, the Sunniland Corp., had anything to do with the sale of that property to a trust controlled by attorney William C. Hutchison and to E.B. Smith, who owns 13 of the 19 acres, the disgruntled homeowners blamed Moore for the rezoning as they left the commission chambers.

During a 75-minute public hearing prior to the commission action, 12 homeowners in the audience, who were protesting the rezoning, stood to identify themselves as persons to whom Moore had earlier sold portions of the former Sunniland tract.

"I can't be responsible for what someone does with property after I have sold it," Moore said.

When Hutchison was asked by Commissioner Ned Yancey what is planned for construction on the property, Hutchison said he doesn't know. Yancey said the zoning was obviously for speculation purposes.

Hutchison said one can't spend the thousands of dollars required for engineering a parcel unless the proper zoning is in hand.

First a vote was taken on a motion by Commissioners Eddie Keith and Yancey to deny the rezoning. It failed 3-2 with Keith and Yancey favoring and Moore, Commissioners Milton Smith and David Farr opposing.

Clerk-Elect Fires 3; More May Get Ax

Clerk of the Circuit Court-elect David Berrien has given the ax to the three top administrators in the office of the man he is replacing, Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. And more firings may be forthcoming.

Berrien said the reason for firing some of the employees is because "this is a new administration."

Berrien said today he has given 90 days notice to Beckwith's chief deputy Eloise Pfeiffauf and head of county finances Virginia "Ginny" Huff. And administrative assistant Ashby Jones has been given six months notice so he may retire with 24 years service to the county, Berrien said.

Mrs. Pfeiffauf has been employed in Beckwith's office since 1958, working herself up to chief deputy. During that time she has also received a master's degree in business administration from Rollins College.

Mrs. Huff with the clerk's office since 1965 is working in the master's program at Rollins College now.

"Mrs. Pfeiffauf and Mrs. Huff will be working with their replacements," Berrien said, adding he will be reasonable about the time they must leave.

Berrien declined to name the persons he will appoint to fill those jobs, saying all three are giving notice at their current employment.

Others on Beckwith's staff may also be fired, he said, noting he is going through the qualications of all the administrators as well as the qualifications of candidates for the jobs.

He also revealed that he has a meeting Friday with County Commission Chairman Bob Sturm to discuss moving the financial operations of the clerk's office from the courthouse to the county services building.

"It is reasonable to consider moving the county commission's financial division to the location where the county commission is," he said.

Berrien said he has also agreed to discuss with the county commission the possibility of placing the financial business in his office under the commission's umbrella.

"I have agreed to discuss it and I'm sure they would like to see that happen, but I haven't made that decision," he said.

Berrien has been keeping regular office hours at the clerk's office three days per week since shortly after he was elected in November. He said he has also been meeting with various persons in other locations.

Stamp Price Upped To 22 Cents

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Board of Governors of the U.S. Postal Service announced today it will raise the cost of a first-class stamp Feb. 17 from 20 cents to 22 cents, the first increase in more than three years.

Board Chairman John McKean said the increase "will enable us to break even financially and continue to operate with no taxpayer subsidy to the Postal Service whatsoever, as the law requires."

"None of us welcomes this increase, but we have no other practical options," he said.

The service's Postal Rate Commission had trimmed that request in its September review.

Santa's Visit Brings Hope To Girl Scarred In Accident

DALLAS (UPI) — A young girl whose friends taunted her about the ugly scar on her face received a surprise visit from a sidewalk Santa, an outpouring of public sympathy and an offer of free help from a plastic surgeon.

Jerry Tobias, the father of 7-year-old Shea Tobias, said Tuesday Dr. Sydnie Smith was touched by news accounts about the child's plight.

He offered free reconstructive facial surgery to the girl, who was injured while trying to shove her friend out of the path of a car.

"I have not seen the child. I don't know how extensive her injury is," Smith said. "Whatever it is, I'm more than happy to do what I can."

The case gained the attention of Smith when a story about a Santa Claus visiting the child appeared in the newspaper.

Smith has practiced plastic surgery since 1956.

Lea Chambers was wearing a Santa suit at a grocery store recently when Tobias asked him to come home and cheer up his daughter. Her face was cut open by a car's bumper as she pushed a friend out of its path.

The accident left gashes on Shea's face and forehead that took 200 stitches to close. The scars upset the first-grader and led to taunts from other children.

Chambers' visit to the family's apartment, where he sang songs and talked to the girl, improved her spirits dramatically, Tobias said.

"All I wanted out of it was the gleam in my daughter's eye," he said.

That story prompted an outpouring of offers to the Tobias family.

Not only has Smith offered his services, so has Scottish Rite Hospital. A law firm has established a fund at First City Bank of Dallas and Shea's mother Kay says other callers have offered toys.

She and her husband said the response was a surprise.

"The only thing that really surprises me is why don't people be a little nicer all the time than super-nice just part of the time," Jerry Tobias said. "It would be a much better world."

Smith said the Christmas season was part of the reason he offered to help.

"You read something like this in the paper, and it's Santa Claus time, you do what you can," he said. "They have an appointment with me in January, and I'm to examine the child at that time."

Death Threats Spark Shakeup Of Ambassadors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration, citing death threats by political extremists and drug traffickers in at least three cases, is replacing its ambassadors to six Latin American countries, including El Salvador, Chile and Colombia.

Thomas Pickering, the ambassador to El Salvador who officials said has been the subject of assassination plots by associates of rightist Salvadoran leader Roberto d'Aubuisson, is among three ambassadors to be pulled out because of death threats, White House spokesman Robert Silms said.

Ambassadors Lewis Tamba in Colombia and Edwin Corr in Bolivia, who have been threatened by drug traffickers for their tough support of anti-drug crackdowns there, and the ambassadors to Chile, Honduras and Costa Rica are slated to move.

Cuban Undesirables Going Home

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has drafted a provisional agreement with Cuba to begin allowing Cuban immigrants into the country for the first time in four years in exchange for Cuba's acceptance of more than 2,000 criminals and mental patients, officials say.

Administration officials and Cuban diplomats, who asked not to be identified, said Tuesday a draft immigration agreement was drawn up in talks Nov. 28 to Dec. 5 in New York.

The pact now is under review by both governments, the officials said.

U.S. and Cuban officials indicated the two countries might not have fixed the number of 1980 Mariel boatlift refugees to be considered "excludables" and returned to Cuba.

In return for repatriation of those criminals and mental patients, the United States would resume the normal processing of Cuban immigrants suspended in May 1980, State Department officials said.

Military Plane Crash Kills 4

FORT BELVOIR, Va. (UPI) — A twin-engine military aircraft crashed while landing outside Washington, D.C. today killing four people aboard, military authorities said.

The aircraft, a U-21, crashed at 7:15 a.m. at Davison Army Airfield, said Courtney Welton, public affairs official for the military district of Washington.

"We have no information on the home base of the aircraft, no confirmed reports of anyone on board or the cause," Welton said.

A Fort Belvoir spokesman said the field is used mostly by military personnel from Washington, including the Pentagon.

Land Fraud Culprits To Escape Jail

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Two men accused of bilking thousands of European investors out of about $500 million in what prosecutors call the biggest land fraud scheme in U.S. history pleaded guilty, but the judge said they will probably not spend time in an American prison.

Despite the vast amount of money lost,

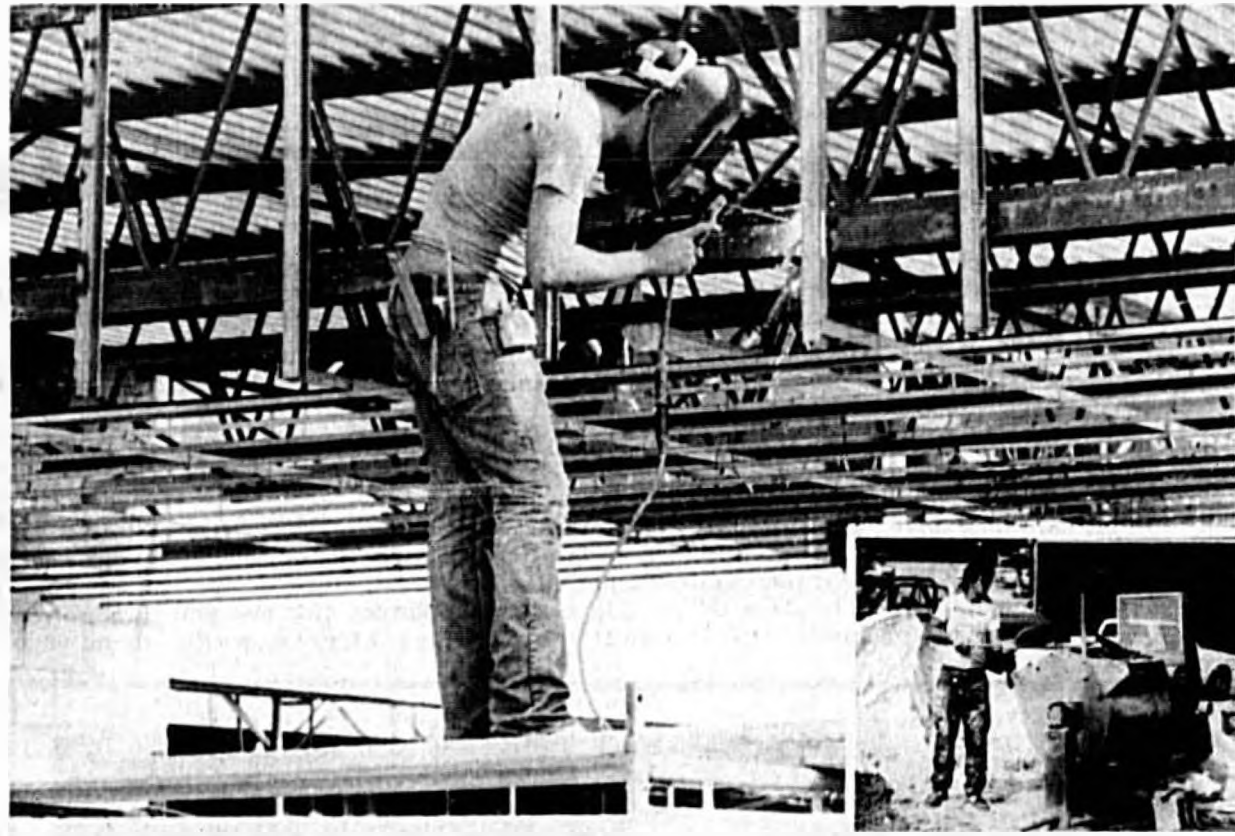

U.S. District Court Judge Richard Gadbols Jr. said Tuesday that neither man will serve lengthy prison terms in the United States.

The judge said Rienk Kamer, 41, a Dutch citizen arrested in Belgium in October 1983, will be sent back to the Netherlands, where he faces additional fraud allegations.

Gadbols said he probably would sentence

Bernard Whitney, 65, a seriously ill former lawyer and real estate developer, to not more than six months in a half-way house.

The pair were accused of luring up to 6,000 investors into buying land in Utah, Texas, New York and desolate areas of Southern California with the promise it was to be developed as housing tracts.

Bombs Knock Out NATO Fuel Lines

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) — Experts say attacks by Communist terrorists on Belgian sections of NATO's pipeline system have halted fuel supplies for three days and drawn attention to the vulnerability of the Alliance's supply lines.

No injuries were reported in the six bombings Tuesday, which came on the eve of Secretary of State George Shultz's arrival for an alliance meet/24

The explosions spewed fountains of burning fuel along a 100-mile belt of pipeline running from the French border to the West German border across the southern half of Belgium. The Communist Combatant Cells group claimed responsibility for the blasts, saying they had launched a "war against NATO." It was the largest strike by the group, which began a series of bombings in early October.

The 3,680-mile central European pipeline system carries fuel to NATO forces in France, Belgium, the Netherlands, West Germany and Luxembourg.

"Don't forget to wear your galoshes!"

Mothers always used to say things like that, and they still do. "Be careful when you cross the street," and, "Don't gulp your milk!" sound as familiar to kids today as they did a couple of generations ago.

And we think that's good. Because it's a demonstration of caring which is carried from generation to generation — and caring is what funeral service is all about.

Not Enough Tourists For All Of Central Florida's Hotels

ORLANDO (UPI) — Tourism continues to rise in central Florida but not fast enough to keep pace with the hotel-motel industry.

The first effects are evident now, and hoteliers fear there will be a serious room glut in the Orlando area during the next few years.

"Word gets out that a place is hot, and everybody rushes in," said Tom Herring Sr., president of the American Hotel & Motel Association. "Eventually some people get badly hurt and trampled in the stampede."

Herring blamed greed and the psychology of mass "hysteria" for the area's problems.

In 1982, there were about 34,000 hotel rooms in Orange, Osceola and Seminole counties. Now, there are 44,500 rooms, and plans call for more than 61,000 rooms by mid-1986.

That would give Orlando more hotel rooms than any U.S. city except New York City.

But the Florida Division of Tourism does not expect the number of tourists coming to the Sunshine State to increase more than 2 percent to 4 percent in 1985 and 1986.

The result will be many empty hotel rooms, and plenty of hoteliers battling for the tourist dollar.

The signs of the times are everywhere. Near Kissimmee, two small motels advertise rooms for as low as $9.95 a night.

On tourist-oriented International Drive, some brand-new hotels with $40 rates are less than one-third full.

Hoteliers claim the slashed rates and the almost-empty hotels mean central Florida already has more rooms than visitors.

But the worse still might be around the corner.

Laventhol & Horwath, an accounting firm that monitors the central Florida hotel-motel industry, predicts area occupancy levels could sink as low as 62 percent in 1985 — below the industry's average break-even point of 65 percent and far below levels of 90 percent recorded as recently as last year.

Price wars, already being waged in some corners, could break out all over and the result could be disastrous for some hoteliers.

"I'm afraid many of these new owners won't be able to make their mortgage payments if there's a rate war," said Clayne Dice, vice president of Hilton Inns in Orlando and Kissimmee.

Some of those newcomers said they are aware of the risks and believe things will eventually work out.

Dale Jones of DSK Development Inc., a firm that recently purchased a hotel in Altamonte Springs, said he is "fully aware that things could be slow for two years. But we're looking down the road several years, and I think a slump will be overcome by the dynamic growth of the area."

Whatever the result, some battle-scarred hoteliers see similarities to the hotel crunch in the mid-1970s when the Arab oil embargo devastated Florida tourism by making gasoline scarce.

"I'm flabbergasted at the situation now," said Bob Stolz, vice president of operations for the Buena Vista Palace and the Hotel Royal Plaza in Lake Buena Vista. "It gives you such a sick feeling."

Sheriff Named In False Arrest Lawsuit

A former Mailland man whose lawsuit against Seminole County for false arrest was dismissed last month has filed a second suit, this time naming Sheriff John Polk.

Samuel Radabaugh, now of the Jacksonville area, filed suit in circuit court Tuesday seeking an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000 for what he claims was a false arrest. Unlike an earlier suit which was dismissed Nov. 12, Radabaugh did not name the county or the arresting deputy as defendants. Polk is the only defendant listed in the latest suit.

Radabaugh maintains that he was illegally arrested by sheriff's deputy Allan McCormick on March 28.

Radabaugh filed suit Aug. 23 against McCormick and the county but the suit was dismissed by Seminole Circuit Judge Dominick J. Saffi. The county successfully argued that a deputy is an employee of the sheriff, not the county.

McCormick said he could not be sued under Florida law because he acted in good faith, in a non-dangerous manner and without malice.

Radabaugh states in the latest complaint that McCormick illegally arrested him for an alleged misdemeanor that did not happen in the deputy's presence.

According to Radabaugh, a woman told the deputy in the parking lot of Goodings supermarket, U.S. Highway 17-92, Mailland, that Radabaugh battered her. The deputy, Radabaugh said, investigated the claim and went to Radabaugh's Mailland home at 605 Endsley Court.

Radabaugh said he went to his door with his .38-caliber revolver at his side. He said the deputy pulled his revolver and ordered him to drop the gun.

Radabaugh said in the complaint that he then turned and told the deputy he could enter the house. The deputy then reportedly grabbed him from behind, twisted his arm from the back and applied a choke hold, causing Radabaugh to become unconscious.

Radabaugh said McCormick arrested him not for the battery on the woman, but for aggravated assault on a law enforcement officer and resisting arrest with violence.

On June 23, according to court records, Assistant State Attorney Ralph Erickson declined to prosecute the aggravated assault case, stating there was insufficient evidence to legally support a conviction.

Radabaugh claims the deputy had no probable cause to arrest him. He says the arrest damaged his reputation.

No trial date has been set. —Deane Jordan

The Tests Of Combat Overseas

Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger made a significant speech recently on the use of military force by the United States. It is significant not only as a carefully considered expression of his personal views and as a high-level policy statement of the Reagan administration but, most important, because "Cap" Weinberger was expressing the deeply held views of the military establishment in this country.

His six tests that must be met before the United States sends troops into foreign combat are so basic and so sound that we repeat them in full here.

First, the United States should not commit forces to combat overseas unless the particular entanglement or occasion is deemed vital to our national interest or that of our allies.

Second, if we decide it is necessary to put combat troops into a given situation, we should do so wholeheartedly and with the clear intention of winning.

Third, if we do decide to commit forces to combat overseas, we should have clearly defined political and military objectives. And we should know precisely how our forces can accomplish those clearly defined objectives. And we should have and send the forces needed to do just that.

Fourth, the relationship between our objectives and the forces we have committed — their size, composition and disposition — must be continually reassessed and adjusted if necessary.

Fifth, before the United States commits combat forces abroad, there must be some reasonable assurance we will have the support of the American people and their elected representatives in Congress. We cannot fight a battle with Congress at home while asking our troops to win a war overseas or, as in the case of Vietnam, in effect asking our troops not to win but just to be there.

Finally, the commitment of U.S. forces to combat should be a last resort, and to be used only when other means have failed.

If President Eisenhower had had these tests thoroughly in mind Jan. 20, 1960, when he took President-elect Kennedy aside in the White House and advised him that under no circumstances should he allow the communists to take over South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, the course of U.S. history would have been changed. There wouldn't be that memorial in Washington with 58,022 names carved in black stone.

If President Reagan had kept these tests firmly in mind in 1982 and last year, there wouldn't have been 278 American servicemen killed in action in Lebanon.

If President Reagan follows these principles, there is little chance of sending our forces into combat on the ground in Central America.

An Opportunity?

Sharing a continent with a huge, powerful neighbor isn't easy. Even the friendliest Canadian governments tend to regard the United States as Canada's biggest foreign-relations problem. But the new Progressive-Conservative government of Prime Minister Brian Mulroney sees the United States more as an opportunity than a problem. That positive change ought to be welcomed by Americans and Canadians alike.

Mulroney's foreign minister, Joe Clark, expressed the new outlook in an October speech. "Over the years," he said, "Canadians have feared that pervasive American presence. Yet working with the United States can pay handsome dividends. ... Closer economic relations with the United States, if played right, can enhance our voice and influence in international affairs. ... A strong economy builds respect and allows initiative. Successful nations are listened to."

Clark clearly hopes that closer ties will open American markets to more Canadian products and investment, and thereby strengthen Canada's trade position worldwide. And while he expressed traditional Canadian concern about preserving national sovereignty and culture, his observations contrast sharply with the protectionist economic nationalism practiced for so many years in Canada under former prime minister Pierre Trudeau.

The Insect You Save May Bug You

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Research Council concludes that the 55 mph speed limit saves both lives and fuel but concedes that motorists who want to drive faster in rural areas may have a point.

Some observers have complained that in this study the council was trying to move in both the fast lane and the slow lane simultaneously. I, however, admired its ambiguity and recommend that approach to others.

While I personally would not quarrel with so august a group, I must point out that the report, particularly the latter view, puts the council squarely at odds with NOT-SAFE, a California safety organization.

Since 1981, NOT-SAFE has campaigned for a 15 mph speed limit. It insists the lower velocity would "stop the splattering of insects" against windshields and other parts of a car.

I hardly need say that it is in rural areas where motorists are most likely the run into swarms of bugs. So upping the speed limit in those areas obviously runs counter to NOT-SAFE's objectives.

The 15 mph speed limit proposal is connected to a larger crusade by NOT-SAFE to end what founder Dale Lowdermilk describes as "insecticide," which he likens to genocide.

"The abuse of laboratory animals is minor compared to the abuse inflicted on insects," he writes.

While admitting that "some bloodthirsty, yucky bugs," such as mosquitoes, are virtually asking to be squashed, Lowdermilk asserts that "millions of crawling creatures are being slaughtered each day for trivial crimes."

He mentions such offenses as "living in wood (termites), stealing bread crumbs (cockroaches), congregating in garbage cans (ants), chewing on plants (mites, locusts, worms) and sleeping in hairballs or carpets (fleas)."

"Human beings aren't punished for doing these things," Lowdermilk observes, and questions whether bugs should be.

"Just because a snail doesn't scream when stepped on doesn't mean that it cannot feel pain," he argues. "Insects are animals, too."

It is tough to dispute that kind of logic, or to challenge Lowdermilk's contention that anti-bug exterminations "could be done more mercifully if manufacturers simply added a few drops of anesthetic to each can of spray."

It is, however, in the field of auto speed limits that his arguments attain their maximum cogency.

In addition to the "inadvertent splatterings" that occur on America's highways and sidewalks, he reports that in South America "tiny beetles are being crushed alive so their broken bodies and wings can be used as an ingredient in shellac."

"Perhaps even more humiliating is the netting and grinding of beautifully iridescent 'third world anchovies' into fertilizer. This depravity must end!"

"All animals, from the harp seal to the lowly slug, should be treated with respect regardless of their appearance, size or how stoically they endure pain. Our furry friends in America deserve only the best, most humane treatment available."

To these sentiments, I can only add, "Drive on!"

A Less Powerful Reagan

By Arnold Sawlsak
UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The fact that nothing really changed — same Republican president and Senate, same Democratic House — in the 1984 elections means that not much is likely to change in 1985 Washington.

It is one of those ironies of politics that although President Reagan produced a genuine landslide with his campaign for a second term, he may actually have less power to achieve his goals in the next four years.

The failure of the Republicans — some would say the failure of Reagan — to capture control of the House or to elect a secure conservative Senate GOP majority leaves the power balance between the White House and Capitol Hill much the same as it was at the end of the 98th Congress last fall.

Although Reagan surprised Washington by the ease with which he was able to dominate Congress during the first two years of his presidency, GOP losses in the House in 1982 and what can be called nothing less than distrust of the president by some key congressional leaders resulted in near stalemate in the final two years of his first term.

An example. The toughest political problem Reagan confronted during the 1981-82 congressional session was reform of the Social Security system's financing. He solved the problem by persuading Democrats to take part in a bipartisan commission that reached a compromise solution.

The 1983 compromise did put some nicks in the retirement program, but by taking part in the commission, the Democrats effectively gave up the issue for the 1984 campaign.

Medicare also has impending money problems, but because Reagan and the Republicans got the biggest political gain from the Social Security compromise, it seems unlikely in the extreme that the president will be able to sign up the Democrats for a bipartisan approach to solve the problems of that program or any other of major proportions, such as how to get the federal deficit under control.

Finally, Reagan is a lame duck president, which in Washington is shorthand for a politician without a future.

Mexico: Embers Of Discontent

WASHINGTON — The future course of North America could be radically changed next year by an event that most people in the United States aren't even aware will be taking place: the election of five state governors and 400 members of the national legislature in Mexico.

Why should the Mexican midterm elections be of any interest to us this time around — or ever? Simply because there's a good chance that, for the first time in 55 years, the Mexican people will elect a large and vocal opposition. If the ruling party resists this unprecedented competition by fraud or repression, civil war could break out south of the border, sending thousands of refugees fleeing north.

Farfetched as this may seem, CIA analysts and other experts are taking the matter seriously. Here's what my associate Dale Van Atta has learned from various intelligence sources:

Mexico's claims to democratic tradition cannot withstand close scrutiny. Despite its populist rhetoric, it is an oligarchy on the lines of

ROBERT WAGMAN

The New Congress

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The 99th Congress, which convenes on Jan. 3, will differ greatly from the one that preceded it and from any Congress in the past decade.

The major reason is that for the first time since 1974, the White House is occupied by a second-term president. President Reagan's lame-duck status will grow in importance during the new session, making this Congress much more independent and much less influenced by the administration than the last two.

In addition, both the Senate and House majorities face internal pressures that will influence their conduct during the next two years.

Republican control of the Senate has narrowed to 53-47, and it's a very nervous majority indeed.

Twenty-two GOP seats will be at stake in the 1986 elections: Arizona's Barry Goldwater has announced his retirement and 21 GOP senators face re-election. Of these, 16 are freshmen, and many face possible challenges by popular incumbent Democratic governors. Few GOP senators believe that their party will retain control of the Senate past the midterm election.

Robert Dole of Kansas won the majority leadership largely because he's seen as independent of the White House and willing to make the 1986 Republican re-election efforts his top priority. (Dole himself faces re-election and a challenge from a Democratic governor.)

The voting for other leadership positions was even more telling. A majority of GOP senators didn't want to be seen as moving too far right: They quickly eliminated Idaho's James McClure on the first ballot for the majority leadership, and did the same to Wisconsin's Robert Kasten in the election for majority whip, the No. 2 leadership position.

The Democrats retained control of the House, but the GOP's pickup of 14 seats clearly makes the House a bit more conservative — and, like the GOP in the Senate, the House majority has its problems.

Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill will retire in 1986, and he'd like this Congress to be his "last hurrah." However, he's already under pressure. Since the election, O'Neill has had to put down two rebellions in the ranks.

All of this means that in the 99th Congress, both the House and the Senate probably will have weak majorities. It's therefore questionable that much major or controversial legislation will get through or even be brought to a vote.

It also means that, at best, Reagan may enjoy only the briefest of honeymoons with the new Congress, despite his huge re-election victory. This Congress won't be nearly as pliable as the one he worked with in 1981, when he pushed one economic program after another through both chambers in a two-year honeymoon.

Guess Who Gets Visit?

First, the background. The first Robert F. Kennedy Human Rights Award was recently announced. The winners of the $30,000 prize, said to be the largest in the field, were several hundred Salvadoran women, the members of the Committee of Mothers and Relatives of Political Prisoners, Disappeared and Murdered of El Salvador — CO-Madres for short.

They have been active advocates of human rights since early in their country's vicious civil war. At considerable personal risk, the group has publicly demanded amnesty for political prisoners and an accounting by Salvadoran authorities for the thousands of individuals who have disappeared.

"Ordinary citizens ... made extraordinary by circumstances," the award committee said, the women exemplify a commitment to conscience and sense of responsibility that "cannot be silenced by an adversary authority."

The award festivities took place in Washington on Nov. 20, but without the attendance of three designated representatives of the CO-Madres. They had been denied visas for the occasion.

The explanation was that the CO-Madres are not what they pretend to be, non-political seekers of justice. In the State Department's view, the mothers are a pressure group for the rebel left in El Salvador and are excessively critical of American support for the Salvadoran government upon which they blame virtually all human rights abuses.

Now for an update. Another Salvadoran is having no problems with U.S. visas these days.

He is Roberto D'Aubuisson, defeated rightist candidate in last spring's presidential election and the man most frequently mentioned in connection with death squad activities, the 1980 assassination of Archbishop Oscar Arnulfo Romero and other highlights of recent Salvadoran history.

D'Aubuisson has been admitted, for his second visit this year, to be feted by assorted conservative groups in Washington.

Anyway, D'Aubuisson's admission and the denial of a visa to the CO-Madres has raised some questions that the State Department has been trying — not too successfully — to answer.

Inmate Plays Hooky, Gets Drunk With 'Blood Brother'

A Seminole County jail inmate returned to the lockup apparently drunk and with a self-inflicted wound after having become a "blood brother" with his civilian drinking companion, deputies reported.

The work release program participant was supposed to return from his job at Certified Slings, Inc., Casselberry, at 5:30 p.m. He finally arrived around 8 p.m. along with another man, who reportedly told deputies that he and the prisoner had spent the day drinking at a Sanford bar and had become "blood brothers" during their outing. Both men had cuts on their hands, deputies report.

The second man was not a prisoner and deputies report that he was first spotted in the parking lot of the jail slumped over the steering wheel of his vehicle.

The inmate was given a breath test that showed he had a blood alcohol level of .15 percent, a sheriff's report said. A .10 reading is considered legally under the influence.

Sheriff's spokesman John Spolski said the incident brought an automatic end to the inmate's work release program participation. The suspect was serving time for violation of probation on a burglary charge. Probation officer Ed Bedell said that a judge will probably review the case and Clifford Wade William, 24, may have his probation on the burglary charge revoked.

GIRLS REPORT FONDLING
A January trial date has been scheduled for an Apopka man accused of separate lewd and lascivious assaults on two girls.

Otis Clay Osborne, 41, of 2634 Downman Drive, is scheduled to be tried during a three-week period beginning Jan. 21 before Seminole Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi.

According to court records, Osborne was arrested Nov. 15 by a sheriff's deputy serving a warrant issued by the State Attorney's Office. The arrest came after two girls in a protective shelter of the Department of Health and Rehabilitation told an investigator that a man had fondled them often during a 1 1/2-year period. The girls said they were also forced to fondle him.

If convicted, Osborne faces up to a year in jail on each count.

FRIGID EXPOSE

A DeBary man reportedly braved the frigid temperature Saturday and stood nude in front of an Altamonte Springs 7-Eleven. He was captured by Altamonte Springs police and charged with indecent exposure and possession of under 20 grams of marijuana.

The clerk at 7-Eleven on Douglas Road at Westmonte Avenue called police when she spotted the man outside the store sans clothing and performing a sexual act on himself, a police report said.

After an Altamonte Springs police officer arrived on the scene he and the clerk spotted a man behind the store who was dressed in jeans a denim jacket and untied shoes. The man was zipping up his pants when he was spotted, the report said.

The suspect was searched and a bag of marijuana and cigarette rolling papers were reportedly found in his possession.

Horace Glenn Thompson, 24, was arrested at 5:12 a.m. Saturday. He was being held today in lieu of $600 bond.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

Lynn Ann Sheehy, 26, of 336 Oleander Way, Casselberry, reported a man approached her car on Jackson Street in Altamonte Springs, said he was sick and asked her to drive him around the corner to a church. After she stopped her car, the suspect reached into the vehicle and snatched her purse. The incident occurred at about 7 p.m. Monday. The suspect fled into nearby woods with the purse, which contained $70 and a diamond ring, a sheriff's report said.

Sheriff's deputies have the name of a suspect who may have stolen $900 from beneath the bed of Henry Jones, 42, of 317 Teakwood Lane, Altamonte Springs. The theft occurred between 1 and 6:10 a.m. Monday.

A $643 television belonging to Champion TV, Kmart Plaza, U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park, was stolen from the home of Jeffrey J. Jones, 32, of 2750 20th St., Sanford, on Monday, according to a report Jones filed with deputies.

BREAK DOWN THEFT

William A. Riddles, 43, of 1064 Lundy Way, Winter Park, reported to deputies that his car broke down at about 11 p.m. Friday on Interstate 4 about one mile north of state Road 436, Altamonte Springs. Riddles walked to a service station to get help but when he got back to where the $4,200 car was parked a few minutes later it was gone.

FLEA MARKET TICKETS

Sheriff's deputies issued more than 100 tickets to motorists who were parked illegally on the right-of-way on U.S. Highway 17-92, south of Sanford, at Flea World Sunday, sheriff's spokesman John Spolski said.

Spolski said the $15 citations will be handed out until people learn that the illegal parking, which creates a traffic hazard, will not be tolerated in that area.

WHEELS STOLEN

The owner of a Sanford auto dealership reported that someone removed the rear wheels from a car on the lot.

Beverly Kay Hunt, 39, of Hunts Used Car Lot, 1215 W. First St., told police that between 7 p.m. Friday and 9 a.m. Saturday someone removed the back wheels from a 1979 Buick.

The wheels were valued at $100 each, according to the report.

TIMELY THEFT

The cold apparently got the best of a thief who couldn't resist the 10 cords of firewood stacked in a fenced area at Uncle Jones Bar-B-Q, 1370 E. Altamonte Drive, Altamonte Springs. Deputies report the wood was stolen between 7:30 p.m. Thursday and 7:30 a.m. Friday.

Owner Anthony C. Elfis estimated his loss at about $500.

STRONG ARM ROBBER

A Sanford man reported to deputies that he was robbed of $85 by two men who approached him and demanded cash as he walked along state Road 46 in Midway around 5 p.m. Friday.

Freddie Lee Griffin, 57, of 147 Beardall Ave., told deputies the men grabbed him, searched him and took the cash.

Intercepted Phone Conversation Leads To Filing Of Lawsuit

A witness in a divorce suit is suing the wife involved in the litigation and the woman's attorney claiming they illegally recorded her telephone conversations.

Roberta L. Ehrhart of Altamonte Springs filed suit Monday against Carolyn A. Zeull and her attorney, John A. Baldwin, Fern Park.

Ms. Ehrhart is asking for an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000. She is asking for actual and punitive damages.

According to court records, Ms. Ehrhart was ordered by the court to provide material related to the ownership, finances and licensing of Box-Car Bar B-Q. The order was related to the divorce litigation of Phillip Zeull, of Lake Mary, and his wife.

Ms. Ehrhart states that at a deposition hearing on Nov. 26, Baldwin played a recording of her (Ms. Ehrhart's) telephonic communications to one or more people.

While the content of the communications was not mentioned in the civil suit, Ms. Ehrhart said Mrs. Zeull and Baldwin illegally intercepted the communications in early 1984 and that Baldwin willfully disclosed them.

She says in the suit that the communications were intercepted to give Mrs. Zeull information and an advantage in the pending divorce litigation. She states the interception is illegal under Florida law because she did not consent to the recording and also had a reasonable expectation of privacy.

She is suing them individually and together for actual damages of $100 a day for every day the communications were intercepted or $4,000, whichever amount is greater. She has asked for attorney fees, litigation costs and a trial by jury.

The case has been assigned to Seminole Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi. No trial date has been set.—Deane Jordan

Jury Recommends Death For Christmas Eve Killer

MIAMI (UPI) — A Dade County jury has unanimously recommended the electric chair for a janitor convicted of murder in the Christmas Eve death of a express mail delivery woman who was beaten with a computer and stabbed repeatedly.

The 12-member jury made its recommendation Tuesday to Acting Dade County Circuit Judge Morton L. Perry, one day after it had convicted Joseph Jerome Ramirez, 25, of first-degree murder, armed robbery and armed burglary in the death of Mary Jane Quinn.

Quinn was found dead in a hall at the Miami Federal Express office on Christmas morning by co-workers. She had been stabbed at least 10 times and her head was smashed by repeated blows with a 70-pound computer transmitter.

Ramirez worked for a janitorial service cleaning the Federal Express offices. Quinn, a part-time employee, went there Christmas Eve to pick up packages for delivery.

Judge Perry must consider, but need not follow the jury's request for the death penalty when he passes sentence Jan. 9.

Citrus Belt Survives Cold Spell

United Press International

The Florida citrus industry survived its first brush with cold weather this season, and growers believe the recent chill in the air actually helped their crops.

Bobby McKown, executive director of the Florida Citrus Mutual growers organization, said Tuesday citrus trees are "more cold-hardy" as a result of the cold snap over the weekend.

"Our first real cold front of the season started placing citrus trees in a dormant condition that will make them more resistant to any hard freeze that might come along later," said McKown.

He also said the cool weather helped advance what citrus industry calls "color break" — the natural change in the exterior of fruit from green to orange in the case of oranges and from green to yellow for grapefruit.

Liberty City Wants Independence

MIAMI (UPI) — The firing of city manager Howard Gary has helped revive a stalled campaign to make Miami's largest black community a city of its own.

Black leaders said Tuesday they want greater police protection and more power in Liberty City, the site of Miami's worst riots this decade.

If the measure passes, the 15-square-mile Liberty City area would become the county's third largest city behind Miami and Hialeah. The population mix of the area's 103,000 residents is about 88 percent black, 18 percent non-Latin white and 14 percent Hispanic.

Officials said the firing of Howard Gary, the city's first black city manager and the nation's highest paid city manager, by a Hispanic majority of the Miami City Commission sparked the rejuvenation of the movement.

It was necessary to meet all the requirements of a site plan review request at the same time a PUD is applied for.

City Administrator David Chacey said approval of the concept comes first, then the developer applies for the site plan review and Grant said the city attorney had previously said the PUD request was proper. The attorney replied "I was advised by the staff that everything had been complied with, but I couldn't find an application for a site plan review."

The Bright Trappings Of The Season Can Be Deadly

Celebrate Christmas with joy and sharing, advises Central Florida Regional Hospital officials, yet take precautions not only with children's toys and decorations, but with live plants used or given during the holiday season.

Adults and children should be able to enjoy the beauty and color of such plants as poinsettias, holly, mistletoe and Christmas cactus, however, the hospital encourages parents to make sure that a toddler or a pet does not eat some portion of the plants.

It is also known that several Christmas plants may irritate the skin and some may create respiratory problems. There is a wide range of susceptibility and severity with different people.

Dr. Vann Parker, a pediatrician on CFRH's medical staff, said, "If it is known a child has eaten a part of a harmful plant, the first thing to do is make the child vomit, then call a physician, a hospital emergency room, or the Poison Center in Orlando."

"The American Academy of Pediatrics has indicated that a bottle of syrup of Ipecac should be in the home of every parent and grandparent as a precautionary measure for poisoning. It also would be very helpful, as in all cases of poisoning, to have the suspected item — leaf or berry — on hand for identification."

To help make the community aware of poisonous plants which are common to Central Florida gardens and which may be used at Christmas time, the hospital is distributing over 20,000 flyers and posters. The majority are being sent home with elementary school children through the school systems in Seminole and west Volusia counties. In addition, displays of some of the more common Christmas plants are set up at both Central Florida Regional in Sanford and at the Urgent Care Center on Saxon Boulevard in Deltona.

Brochures listing other poisonous plants indigenous to the area are also available at the exhibits.

If visitors wish to further explore the subject, they are invited to tour a poisonous garden located immediately west of the hospital. Tours may be scheduled by contacting the CFRH Public Relations office.

A second motion by Smith and seconded by Farr to rezone the tract was approved 3-2 with Keith and Yancey opposing.

The commission several weeks ago gave preliminary approval to the rezoning, but a month ago, when Moore was out of town on business, a motion to rezone died on a 2-2 vote with Farr and Smith for approval and Keith and Yancey opposing.

Two weeks ago the commission instructed City Clerk Henry Tamm to readvertise a public hearing for rezoning of the property from agricultural to industrial.

As the new public hearing began Monday night, Moore said the city commission must cast at least three votes to reject a request, just as it must have three votes to approve a request.

Since a 2-2 vote neither approves nor denies a request, the rezoning request had to be considered again for final action, Moore said.

Moore said his company originally owned the 19 acres involved but he sold the tract to another party who sold it in part to Hutchison's trust and in part to Dwight Black, one of the major opponents of the rezoning.

Black, protesting the rezoning, said after the November hearing he believed the rezoning was turned down and proceeded to begin construction of a new home.

He said he paid $24,000 for his six-acre parcel, $14,000 so far to a contractor who is building the house and $500 toward the digging of a well at the site.

Black said he thought once a rezoning request was not approved, an applicant had to wait a period of time before applying again. He said he was surprised to find that at the "whim and fancy" of the city commission, the matter could be brought up again.

Seven other property owners, some with homes already built and others with plans to build homes nearby, protested that further industrial development in the area would depress their property values.

Roberta Andrews, who said her property bounds Rush Hampton Industries and is near the 19 acres, questioned Farr's assurance that the city can control the development of industry on the Hutchison property through site plan review. Mrs. Andrews, noting she lives in an 1860s-era home, said she couldn't get the city to do anything about Rush-Hampton's pollution of her neighborhood.

"I had to get help from the county," she said.

"The front yard at Rush-Hampton was beautiful, but the back yard facing my house was a garbage heap," she said.

She also reminded that the city's industrial zoning law permits explosive factories, incinerators, chemical plants and any number of other obnoxious industries.

Meanwhile, Hutchison said Black's daughter, for whom Black is having a house built, plans to raise greyhound dogs on the parcel. He added he is willing to buy the Black property.

Other opponents to the rezoning told of plans to build $100,000 to $150,000 homes on sites of four acres and more.

Mrs. Andrews also asked why more land had to be rezoned for industrial development when at least four industrial buildings are vacant in the Silver Lake Road area.

And Eleanor Anderson, director of county management and budget, said the county's computer services department is making every effort to get the checks for the retroactive pay raises to the employees before Christmas.

Mrs. Glenn also explained Hooper's appointment to the administrator office without the county accepting applications from the outside.

County policy says current employees should be given a favored consideration for advancement, she said. "We are very pleased with his performance in the 2 1/2 months he has been acting county administrator."

"A joke has been made of the fact that it seems every county employee was acting as something additional. Rather than going through the process of getting applications from the outside, the commission decided that since the preliminary report on the management study said the administrator should be making decision we felt comfortable with Hooper," Mrs. Glenn said.

Hooper went to work for the county on April 8, 1974 as a laboratory technician at a salary of $5,355.96 in what was then called the pollution control department. After several promotions he was named environmental services manager in October, 1978 and became director when the division was named the Department of Environmental Services on Nov. 28, 1982.

His salary in that office was $44,388.

Hooper has bachelors' degrees in environmental science and environmental engineering and holds a master's degree, all from the University of Central Florida.

Commissioners at a work session next Tuesday will be discussing the management study and are expected to decide at that time whether the county will have one or two deputy county administrators.

Hooper said today he is delighted with his promotion. "I will continue working for the board and working with the staff to make quality decisions and will implement county commission decisions to bring services to the public," he said, adding he sees no immediate staff changes.

Hooper said the job of deputy county administrator will be posted in house and applications are expected.

Mrs. Anderson, who has been serving as acting county administrator while continuing her work as director of management and budget, already has an application on file for the deputy administrator post as does John Percy, director of services and development.

head is together," the attorney replied. "I can only go by what is in the ordinance."

A frustrated Andrew Hannigan, Centex president, who had presented a proposed drawing of the project and architect's renderings of what the patio homes would look like, said that he was not aware of the requirement, but that he had all the necessary information for a site plan. Hannigan said the information the city was asking for is "what I've gone over with the city staff for the past three months and it is not going to change."

Commissioner Harvey Smerison demanded Centex also have all necessary permits from the Department of Environmental Regulation before the PUD concept is approved, but Hannigan said the DER will not consider a project until it is approved by the city.

The 44-acre site for the proposed West Lake PUD is east of West Lake and south of Longwood Hills Road. The present zoning is R-1A residential. Centex wants to build 166 patio homes with a 3.7 per acre density. The homes will have 1,300 to 1,800 square feet, Hannigan said, and there will be on site recreation facilities composed of a swimming pool, cabana, and tennis courts.

Hannigan was told to pay a site plan review and whatever else was needed and he would be put on next week's agenda.

During the aborted public hearing some residents of the area expressed concern over impact on the lakes and drainage and traffic on Longwood Hills Road the proposed PUD development would have. They complained that there is already a problem with standing water and mosquitos.

Johnson, White Knock Out Tribe

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

It was too much Terry Johnson for Seminole's scrappy cagers Tuesday night.

Johnson, Seabreeze's spectacular 6-2 guard, canned four straight jumpers to open the fourth quarter as the Sand Crabs raced to a 71-61 Five Star Conference basketball victory over the Seminoles before 450 fans at Seminole's Bill Fleming Gymnasium.

"He (Terry Johnson) really got hot," said Seminole coach Chris Marlette about the senior's 20-point performance. "Alvin (Jones) was getting picked off and we didn't have anybody on him."

The setback was the first for Seminole after three straight wins. Seabreeze, which is ranked fourth in the 3A poll, improved to 3-1. The Sand Crabs are 1-0 in the Five Star Conference and the Tribe is 0-1. Seminole hosts Lyman, a loser to Lake Mary Tuesday, Friday.

Although Marlette was impressed with Terry Johnson's eye-popping shooting display, he pointed to a stellar inside job by Terry White as being the difference. On four occasions in the second half, White slipped inside or behind Seminole defenders to tip in two shots and rebound two others for eight BIG points.

"They shot the ball outside and we didn't box out," he said. "Those second shots hurt us in the third quarter."

Seabreeze coach Joe Piggotte, Jr. agreed. "White is only 5-11, but we tell him he's 6-1 and he believes us," said Piggotte. "He's a great leaper and he was all over the boards tonight."

And he was all over them when it counted in the third quarter. With Seabreeze holding a 32-31 halftime lead, White tipped home a missed shot to open the third quarter for a 34-31 lead.

Sophomore Rod Henderson countered for the Tribe but John

Parks drew a foul and hit one free throw. When he missed the second, White was there for the rebound. He snatched it and put it back up for a 37-33 lead with 5:12 to play in the third period.

Seminole, which received a gritty relief job from junior Daryl Williams, came back on a baseline jumper by Williams but then lost ground when sophomore Shawn Beckton hit a jumper and Terry Johnson dropped two free throws for a 41-35 lead with 3:29 left in the third.

James Rouse, who missed the second period because of foul trouble, tossed one in from the wing to cut the lead to four but Parks scored from underneath. Alvin Jones then stole the ball and scored but White came back with a bucket from the paint for a 45-39 lead with two minutes left.

Williams pulled Seminole within four again with two free throws, but the Tribe then missed two opportunities to even the score. Gordon came up with a steal and was fouled on the other end. The deadeye senior hadn't missed a free throw all year, but he missed the front end of this one plus one to cut his string at 12.

Seabreeze then got another shot at the other end and when the Sand Crabs missed, Beckton tipped it in for a 47-41 lead. With 12 seconds left, Terry Johnson started to find the hot hand as he popped in a baseline jumper from 15 feet for a 49-41 lead at the end of three quarters.

Terry Johnson put the Tribe away in a hurry in the fourth quarter. The slick senior, who played quarterback during football season, used a variety of picks to shake loose and bang home his four jumpers in a row

Dennard and Holden combined for 15 points as coach Tom Smith's crew broke open a tight game in the third quarter by outscoring Seabreeze, 17-4. Seminole hosts Lyman Friday at 6:15 p.m.

Temika Alexander and Andell "Soul" Smith are two down-to-earth young ladies. It's just those springy legs and quick feet that make them appear to be flying.

Not all of the attributes of these two Lady Seminoles, however, are physical. Temika's 3.5 grade point average and Andell's 3.4 gpa make the lessons on the basketball court a little easier to learn.

After Tuesday night's 72-57 victory over Seabreeze gave coach Ron Merthie's Lady Seminoles a perfect 6-0 record, Temika, a junior, and Andell, a senior, guarded their modesty like they do opposing guards.

"We aren't talking too much on ourselves, are we?" Temika asked halfway through the interview. "We know it isn't good to brag, especially when things are going so well."

Neither needs to worry about sounding her own horn. After the quickstepping and fasthanded performance each put on Tuesday night, Alexander and Smith will have plenty of people to honk their praises.

"Both of them have come from JV programs where they had to be leaders and scorers," said Merthie. "They're not afraid to shot the ball. Temika had 39 points in one game last year. Andell played a lot last year and got a lot of experience. They know the pressure and can handle it."

"Both are (spiritually) strong persons. They each have a lot of determination which makes them good defensive players."

Temika threw in 14 points, handed out five assists and came up with four steals. Andell chipped in 12 points, doled out three assists and made four steals. Add Mona "Miss Reliable" Benton's 24 points, eight assists and five steals and it doesn't take an Einstein to figure out why the Lady Seminoles are ranked as the No. 6 team in the state in the 4A basketball poll.

Tuesday's victim was supposed to be a tough one. The Lady Sand Crabs returned four starters and had narrowly lost to pre-conference favorite DeLand in the closing minute in Saturday's Big Four Tournament at Daytona Beach.

They opened the game like they were just that, hitting their first five shots to both to a 10-6 lead. Donnela Wesley hit four jump shots to pace the surge.

Seminole cut the deficit to two on two Benton free throws but point guard Michelle Efersson hit three more jumpers to push the lead to 16-10.

"I was worried," admitted Temika. "But I knew coach Merthie would call a time out and tell us what we were doing wrong."

Merthie did just that at the three minute mark and a switch from a press to a 2-1-2 zone paid off with a basket by Andell Smith and a steal and a deuce by Benton. Yolanda Robinson then popped off the bench to throw in a short jumper to cut the first-quarter edge to 20-16.

Merthie switched back to the press early in the second quarter and this time it worked. "When the guard with the ball is on the other side, I sag back," said Temika. "Andell tries to force a bad pass so I can pick it off."

After Catherine Anderson dropped in two short-range baskets to tie the game at 22 all, the Lady Seminole pickpockets went to work. Temika made two steals, feeding Benton for one bucket and Andell for the other. Benton then picked off a wild pass and laid it in front of Andell who ran under it and scored for a 30-26 lead.

Seabreeze called a time out, but it couldn't stem the tide. After Donnela Wesley pulled the Lady Sand Crabs within two, Temika hit a 12-footer, then

Lake Mary Overpowers Lyman

By Chris Flister

Darryl Merthie shook off a sluggish first half and poured in 18 points in the second half and Chris Jackson added seven fourth-quarter points as Lake Mary's Rams disposed of Lyman's Greyhounds, 72-59, Tuesday night in Five Star Conference action at Lake Mary High.

Merthie hit just 2 of 12 shots in the first half but the inside play of Donald Grayson and Andre Gray enabled the Rams to stay on top until Merthie broke loose late in the third quarter.

Merthie, a 6-0 senior, wound up with a game-high 24 points while Jackson added 11. Ray Hartsfield tossed in 10 and Grayson grabbed a game-high 15 rebounds.

Four players scored in double figures for the Greyhounds led by Robert Thomas with 16, Ralph Philpott with 13, T.J. Scaletta with 12 and Reggie Douglas with 11.

Although Lyman got balance from its starting five, the Greyhounds didn't receive any scoring from their bench. On the other hand, Lake Mary had 25 points off the bench.

Lake Mary, playing its first game since Nov. 24, improved to 2-2 for the season and stands at 1-0 in the conference. Lyman fell to 1-3 overall and 0-2 in the Five Star.

"We're still not ready," Lake Mary coach Willie Richardson said. "I switched a lot of players around trying to find the right combination. We've got a lot of young people who need a little maturity on the court."

The two teams traded baskets throughout the first quarter and Lyman took a 16-15 lead on Douglas' layup at the buzzer. Lake Mary made just 7 of 30 shots in the first quarter while Lyman made 6 of 20.

The game continued to go back and forth early in the second quarter but, with Lyman holding a 20-19 lead, the Rams reeled off eight straight points to take a 27-20 lead with 1:11 left in the half. Jackson's layup started off the string and Hartsfield followed with a jumper to make it 23-20. Grey then dropped in a layup for a 25-20 Lake Mary lead and Merthie's layup made it 27-20.

Lake Mary held on to a seven-point lead, 29-22, at halftime.

Scaletta made the first basket of the second half to trim Lake

Mary's lead to 29-24, but the Rams came back with six straight points and Jeff Reynolds' layup made it 35-24 with 5:09 left in the third quarter.

Lyman could not get any closer than eight points the rest of the quarter and the Rams took a 10-point lead, 44-34, into the final period.

Lake Mary scored seven consecutive points to open the third quarter to take a commanding 51-34 lead. Jackson hit five of the seven points including a three-point play that gave the Rams their 17-point lead with 7:10 left in the game.

Lyman got back within 11, 53-42, before Merthie took over. His three point play gave the Rams a 55-42 lead with 4:44 left and he came back with a slam dunk off Grayson's feed. Lyman stayed within 12 until Merthie's four-point play with 3:09 left put the win on ice for the Rams. On the play, Merthie went in for a layup and was intentionally fouled by Philpott. Merthie converted both free throws.

"He had an off night but he did make some big plays," Richardson said of Merthie. "Grayson did a heck of a job on the boards and Andre (Gray) did a super job in the first half. Lake Mary returns to action Friday when it hosts Lake Howell while Lyman travels to Seminole Friday night.

"Every team in the county scares me," Richardson said. "Every team is capable of beating any other team. It should be an interesting year. The conference is stronger overall than it was last year."

Lady Rams Bury Lady Greyhounds

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

This was a defensive masterpiece. Lake Mary's Lady Rams had Lyman's Lady Greyhounds thoroughly frustrated Tuesday night. So much so that Lyman coach Dick Copeland pulled his first team midway through the third quarter with Lake Mary holding a commanding 45-19 lead.

Lyman's second team made it a little more respectable against the Rams' second unit but Lake Mary still coasted to a 61-35 rout of the Greyhounds in Five Star Conference action at Lake Mary High.

"We played some good defense tonight, both individually and as a team," Lake Mary coach Bill Moore said. "We weren't letting them (Lyman) penetrate and we weren't giving up the easy basket. We can stay with most teams if we play defense like that."

Leading the way for the Rams' defense was senior forward Aileen Patterson who put the clamps on Lyman's Kim Forsyth. Patterson held Forsyth, who scored 50 points in Lyman's last two games, to just four points.

With its inside game taken away, Lyman couldn't find the touch from the outside and the Rams wrapped up the victory early. Lake Mary improved to 3-2 overall and 1-0 in the Five Star while Lyman fell to 1-4 overall and 0-3 in the conference with its third straight loss.

Lake Mary blazed to a 9-0 lead in the first quarter before Lyman could solve the Lady Rams' defense. The Rams took a 12-4 lead at the end of the quarter.

Patterson's layup gave the Rams a 14-4 lead early in the second quarter and Lake Mary went on to build a 17-point lead, 28-11, on Kim Averill's jumper late in the quarter. Kelly Carman's layup cut Lake Mary's lead to 15, 28-13, at halftime.

Lake Mary pulled away early in the third quarter behind the strong inside play of Courtney Hall. Hall scored Lake Mary's

Seminole Kisses Step Sister With 5-5 Tie Of Spruce Creek

The old cliché says that a tie is like kissing your sister. But when you score three goals in the last three minutes to produce that deadlock, that kiss has a little more smack to it — sort of like kissing your step sister.

Seminole's soccer team did just that Tuesday night at Port Orange, rallying for three goals — two within 29 seconds of each other — to pull out a 5-5 deadlock with Spruce Creek in Five Star Conference soccer action.

Coach Logan Fleck's booters avoided losing for the first time in four matches. After dropping three consecutive matches to open the season, setback No. 4 looked to be a distinct possibility as the Tribe fell behind, 5-1, at halftime.

Sidney Griggs had the lone first-half goal for the Tribe.

After J.J. Partlow scored in the second half to pull Seminole within 5-2, the Tribe really broke loose in the last three minutes. Timmy Roberts booted home a goal to make it, 5-3, and senior Mike Welcheel scored his first varsity goal to close the gap to 5-4.

Then, with just one minute to play, Richard Colon set up Matt Albert with a half volley pass and the freshman flash kicked in the tying score. Neither team came close to scoring in the last 59 seconds, said Seminole assistant coach Don DePierro.

"This is a big lift," said Seminole coach Fleck. "We're happy with the comeback and the way the players never quit."

Part of Seminole's offensive troubles in the first half stemmed from the loss of Chris Ray. The hardnosed freshman smacked heads with a Spruce Creek player just 10 minutes into the game and had to go to Halifax Hospital. He needed 10-12 stitches to close the wound, according to DePierro.

GIRLS PIT TO BE TIED

In girls soccer action Tuesday, the deadlocks continued as both Seminole and Lake Mary played ties. Sanford's Lady Seminoles and Trinity Prep battled to a 0-0 deadlock. Seminole, 2-0-2, returns to action Saturday at home against Orlando Luther. Seminole's 1-2 punch in the net of Sherri Rumler and Kim Walsh turned back 20 Trinity shots for the night. Rumler stopped 12 in the first half and Walsh thwarted eight in the final 40 minutes. "Both Sherri and Kim had excellent games," said Seminole coach Suzy Reno. "But we just couldn't get our offense going."

Seminole could muster just eight shots on goal in the first half but came on with 23 in the second half. Two, said Reno, were near misses. Senior Janet Hauck drilled a potential game winner off the post and then couldn't boot in the rebound and Rumler was denied a goal with 39 seconds left on a questionable offsides call, according to Reno.

"It was a dubious call," said Reno about the call after Rumler's goal. "We were jumping all over the field. We thought we had won the game. But that's the way it goes. We'll get another chance at them in the Pizza Hut Classic (Dec. 20)."

Reno said sweeper Angela Freeman and Cindy Bengé had outstanding games. The veteran coach also commended midfielders Tracey Farrelly and Rachelle Denmark for moving the ball well.

Lake Mary's Lady Rams, meanwhile, battled powerful Vero Beach to a 2-2 tie in the first half, but Vero Beach came back with three unanswered goals in the second half to claim a 5-2 victory over the Rams Tuesday night in prep soccer action at Lake Mary High.

The Lady Rams fell to 1-3-1 with the loss. Lake Mary returns to action Saturday at Trinity Prep.

"Offensively, we're still outshooting our opponents, but we made too many defensive mistakes," Lake Mary coach Bill Eisele said. "Our goalkeeper (Laura Hellegard) is inexperienced but she's doing a good job. She's just paying the price for our defensive mistakes."

Vero Beach got on the board with 10 minutes gone in the first half on Kathy Mitchell's unassisted goal. Vero Beach made it 2-0 four minutes later on Kim Long's goal.

The Rams came back at the 19-minute mark when Kelley Bruen headed in a corner kick and Amy Fluet tied the score with 10 minutes left in the half on an assist from Vicki Warner.

Margaret Murphy broke the tie six minutes into the second half to give Vero Beach a 3-2 lead and Kris Miller and Lisa Pickel also added goals to make it 5-0.

Vero goalkeeper Susan Barket held the Lady Rams scoreless the second half. Barket had 12 saves for the game.

Vero Beach made the most of its shots on goal as it scored five times while taking just 10 shots. Lake Mary took 21 shots on goal. — Sam Cook

Stand Wherever You Want On Partner's Serve

Here's a list of some of the more intriguing questions I've been asked recently.

Question: Is there any ruling that precludes my standing where I want to when my partner is receiving?

Ruling: Case 1 under Rule 37 (including the USTA Comment) makes it quite clear that you may take any position that you desire, in or out of the court, on your side of the net. (The same is true of the partner of the server.) You may even stand in your partner's service court.

Question: My shot hit my opponent's knee and bounced back into my court. When I was unable to return the ball he took the point. Was this fair?

Ruling: You were robbed. As soon as your shot touched your opponent, he lost the point.

Question: After a first service fault on the first point of a game it is discovered that A is receiving instead of his partner, B, who should be receiving. Since no point has been played, should B change courts with A and receive the second serve?

Ruling: No. Rule 39 makes it very plain that when during a game the order of receiving service is changed by the receivers it shall remain as altered until the end of the game, with the partners resuming their original order in the next game.

Question: I dropped a contact lens, without which I could not play. After 30 seconds of searching I could not find it, so the umpire defaulted me. Was this proper?

Ruling: No. The umpire apparently confused natural loss of condition with accidental loss of condition, the category in which your misfortune falls. If you will read the revised Case 2 under Rule 31, you will see that the umpire could have permitted you up to three minutes to search.

Question: After a first service fault, how much time does the server have to put the second serve in play?

Ruling: The second serve should be put into play "expeditiously," as determined by the umpire. There is nothing in the rules that establishes an interval of a certain number of seconds. This matter has been presented to the International Tennis Federation, the custodian of the rules, and further guidance will be forthcoming.

Larry Castle
Herald Tennis
Writer

Question: When I dropped my hat and tripped over it, I immediately said, "let." My opponent hit my shot for a placement, mainly because I had stopped playing. I thought we should have had a replay of the point.

Ruling: No, the point belongs to your opponent. You cannot replay a point for any personal equipment problems. Broken strings, shoe untied, etc. You can replay the point if a ball is broken during a rally.

Question: A sudden gust of wind blew a ball that had been lying on A's court into A's feet and tripped him, with B's shot sailing over his head. A immediately claimed a let on the grounds of interference. Should his claim be honored?

Ruling: No. Since A is responsible for the housekeeping on his court and he obviously had an opportunity to clear the ball, he must be held responsible for his misfortune caused by the wind.

Question: In this non-officiated high school match my opponent took about four minutes at each changeover. Her delaying tactics eventually ruined my concentration and I lost the match. What can I do to protect myself if this situation arises in the future?

Ruling: The first thing to do is to remind your opponent of the 90-second changeover rule, and ask her to conform. If this fails, then ask the referee for a chair umpire and refuse to continue to play until one is provided.

Question: In the middle of a point playing doubles, I heard "out" from the other side of the net and immediately stopped play because I understand that once "out" is called, the ball is dead. I thought the point was over, but the opponents thought it was theirs. We finally played a let. Whose point was it?

Ruling: There is no restriction on calling "out" as advice to a partner — which is apparently what occurred here — that a shot is headed out of court. But calling "out" to indicate that a ball has landed outside the court does stop play. In your case, if the ball was on your opponents' side of the net when play stopped, the best decision would probably have been to play a let. But if the ball was on your side of the net when play stopped, the point should go to your opponents, bearing in mind that a request to stop play is not automatic, but is granted only when backed by a valid reason. The valid reason did not exist in this case since the request was based on your own misunderstanding of the rules.

Burger King Fetes Footballers; Brooks, Forsyth 'Cage' Awards

Davgar's Burger King restaurants will honor the Seminole County varsity football players, coaches and athletic directors with a banquet tonight at 6 at the Eastmonte Recreation Center in Altamonte Springs.

An awards presentation will follow at 7 p.m. where the Burger King offensive player, defensive player and coach of the year will be announced by Community Relations Director Bob Santulli.

In other news, the Burger King Selection Committee voted Lake Howell's Efram Brooks and Lyman Kim Forsyth as its first basketball players of the week.

Brooks, a 5-10 senior guard, hit 19 of 33 field goals and 7 of 9 free throws for 45 points last week while leading Lake Howell to a pair of wins. Brooks also had 10 steals, seven rebounds and nine assists. Forsyth, a 5-10 junior center, connected on 21 of 34 field goals and 8 of 21 free throws for 50 points along with 19 rebounds as the Lady Greyhounds split a pair of games.

Other nominees for the girls included Seminole's Mona Benton, Lake Mary's Courtney Hall and Lake Brantley's Kristen Dellinger. Boys' nominees were Seminole's Ken Gordon and Rod Henderson, Lake Brantley's Greg Courtney, Lyman's T.J. Scaletta and Oviedo's Allen Unroe.

UPI Names Fralic Top Lineman

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — As a rule, Bill Fralic cares little about individual honors.

"They don't do for me what winning football games do or what playing well in winning football games do," says Fralic, the University of Pittsburgh's two-time All-America offensive tackle.

But the 6-foot-5, 285-pound senior didn't get to win many football games this year. Pitt, a pre-season Top 10 selection, suffered through a 3-7-1 season that left Fralic feeling flat and frustrated.

Because of that, Fralic found being named United Press International's College Lineman of the Year Wednesday extremely gratifying.

Fralic earned 21 votes among 76 sportswriters and sportscasters casting ballots nation-wide. Nebraska center Mark Traynowicz was second with 11 votes.

King's 34 Points Burn Sixers

NEW YORK (UPI) — The game plan was simple. Bernard King was back, so give him the ball and get out of the way.

King, the NBA's leading scorer who missed the last seven games with a groin injury, returned to pour in 34 points and Darrell Walker "had his best game as a Knick" Tuesday night to lead New York to a 110-106 upset of the Philadelphia 76ers.

"I think it was an electrifying win for the fans at the Garden," said King, who watched his team lose six games in his absence. "I was out 13 days and yesterday was my first full workout. My conditioning was not quite where I wanted it to be, but I think I did provide a spark."

Elsewhere, Boston beat New Jersey 130-121. Denver edged Portland 123-122. Utah downed Washington 85-82. Phoenix defeated Houston 120-112. Detroit stopped Chicago 108-101. Kansas City shaded San Antonio 121-120. Milwaukee downed Cleveland 120-106 and Los Angeles Clippers beat Golden State 116-104.

Islanders Flatten Devils, 7-5

NEW YORK (UPI) — Long Island is supposed to be such a pleasant place — smooth roads, sandy beaches. But whenever the New Jersey Devils go there, they always seem to hit potholes and ditches. And then they get flattened by a tidal wave called the New York Islanders.

Tuesday night that all changed. For the first time in the franchise's history, the Devils beat the former three-time Stanley Cup champions at Nassau Coliseum as Mel Bridgman scored twice to lead the Devils to a 7-5 triumph.

Elsewhere, Vancouver beat Quebec 4-3. Winnipeg topped Philadelphia 5-4 in overtime, and Washington and St. Louis played to a 3-3 tie.

Ward's Shot Avenges Georgia

United Press International

For many in the crowd in Atlanta it was payback time. Ten days ago Georgia Tech upset Georgia in football. The sport in question Tuesday night was basketball and Georgia won 60-59 on a shot by Joe Ward with five seconds left.

"Sure, we were aware that some of our fans were anxious for us to even things up," said Ward, who finished with 20 points. "But our desire to beat Georgia Tech would have been just as intense even if our football team had won."

Georgia Tech, ranked No. 14 in the country, led 59-54 with 2:47 to go. Ward then hit a short shot and Donald Harry a turnaround to make it 59-58 with 55 seconds left.

Georgia Tech, 3-1, was led by Yvon Joseph with 12 points while Bruce Dalrymple and John Salley had 11 each. Harry scored 12 points and Gerald Crosby 10 for the Bulldogs.

Elsewhere, No. 5 Memphis State edged Mississippi 57-52 in overtime and No. 16 Indiana beat Iowa State 69-67.

Lynn Will Add Sock To Orioles

BALTIMORE (UPI) — American League pitchers who have feared Cal Ripken and Eddie Murray in the Baltimore Orioles' lineup now have another worry — Fred Lynn.

The club announced Tuesday it had inked a five-year deal with the veteran free-agent, whom Orioles general manager Hank Peters expects to play center field and bat fifth behind Ripken and Murray.

"It's obvious we're going to score some runs," said Lynn, who spoke to reporters by telephone from Southern California. "They can't pitch around Ripken and Murray like they did last year."

The former California Angel also expressed confidence that he would add some power to the Orioles No. 5 slot.

"I like the Baltimore ballpark. It's suited to my style of hitting," he said. "I've always done well there."

Lynn, 32, a former MVP and Rookie of the Year, has played the last four seasons in Anaheim and was widely expected to continue his career with a West Coast team, likely the San Diego Padres.

Fred Lynn
...five-year contract

A.L. Baseball

But Lynn's agent, Jerry Kapstein, said the slugger's decision came down to taking the best offer.

"The Orioles' offer was the best that was on the table at the time Fred made his decision," said Kapstein. "We're extremely pleased."

Terms of the contract were not revealed, but Peters said the pact included a no-trade clause.

The signing of Lynn was a coup for the Orioles, who had been hunting for a slugger to bat fifth after last season when the 1983 world champions slumped to fifth.

Tose: Nothing Final On Move To Phoenix

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — For every dollar of his sizeable debt, Leonard Tose must have made as many denials that he would sell the Philadelphia Eagles or allow any buyer to move the team out of the city.

The denials — many of them expressed in colorful language — have been steady in recent years. Even when Tose tentatively agreed to sell his team for $40 million to a five-person group in the summer of 1983, he got cold feet at the last minute and spent $1.75 million to buy his way out of the deal.

But the weight of his debt, estimated to be about $40 million, appears to have grown to be too heavy a burden for the 69-year-old trucking magnate.

The Eagles confirmed Tuesday that Tose is mulling over the transfer of the franchise to Phoenix.

Pro Football

"Leonard Tose is considering a move to Phoenix but nothing has been signed and no final decision has been made," Ed Wisneaki, the team's director of communications, said in a statement.

But considering Tose told a reporter last month that the team would only be moved out of Philadelphia "over my dead body," Tuesday's non-denial was looked upon by many as a strong hint that the city would lose the Eagles after 51 years.

"It doesn't sound like something you could see happening," veteran quarterback Ron Jaworski said. "I can't see a team not being in Philadelphia. That's hard to believe."

Owners, Players Warm Up To Negotiating Agreement

Baseball

NEW YORK (UPI) — Representatives of the owners and the Major League Players Association began negotiations Tuesday toward a basic agreement, but they did little more than warm up in the bullpen.

The two parties met for three hours to set plans for later meetings to achieve a new basic agreement for baseball in an effort to avoid another strike.

The management team was headed by Player Relations Committee President Lee MacPhail — former president of the American League — and the players' group by Don Fehr, president of the MLPA. Buck Martinez of Toronto and Mike Armstrong of the New York Yankees were the only players present.

"Free agency and compensation were among the topics brought up," said American League spokesman Bob Fishel. "But they talked in generalities and no decisions were reached."

The groups will meet again Thursday in New York with other meetings scheduled for Dec. 18-19 in Los Angeles.

Three years ago players struck for seven weeks. The strike caused the cancellation of 579 games and the owners and players lost an estimated $100 million in revenues and salaries because of it.

The pact signed between the players and the owners in '81 expires Dec. 31 and the two groups want to get a head start on negotiations for a new one.

Other than free agency and player compensation, a major topic of debate is expected to be television revenues.

The Players Union is expected to ask for a percentage of the $1.25 billion TV contract major-league baseball signed with the networks last year to go towards their pension fund. This is similar to the demands the NFL Players Association made when it struck in 1982.

RANGERS SQUARE DEAL
ARLINGTON, Texas (UPI) — The Texas Rangers announced Tuesday it has sent minor leaguers Tim Henry and Jorge Gomez to the Chicago Cubs to complete the deal that sent pitcher Dickie Noles to Texas last season.

Rangers general manager Tom Grieve said the contract of Henry, a pitcher, and Gomez, an infielder, were assigned to Chicago's Class AA club.

Miss Seminole County

Regina Patricia Garcia, 19, captured the crown as the winner of the 1984 Miss Seminole County Pageant held at Seminole Community College Fine Arts Concert Hall. In addition to other prizes, she won a $1,500 scholarship. The pageant is a preliminary to the Miss Florida and Miss America Scholarship Pageants. Miss Garcia is the daughter of Ignacio and Erma Garcia, Altamonte Springs. She is a 1983 graduate of Lake Brantley High School and attends Seminole Community College. Her career goal is professor of music education. Runners-up and their scholarship awards are: Michelle Anne-Marie Mestan, Altamonte Springs, $1,000; Lisa Ann Hughes, Orlando, $500; and Mary Beth Stoff, Longwood, $250.

SCCES To Sponsor Volunteer Master Gardener Program

The Seminole County Cooperative Extension Service will soon become the 33rd county in Florida to institute the Master Gardener Program. Florida Master Gardeners are adult volunteers trained at the Agricultural Center in Sanford by Extension personnel.

After 45 to 50 hours of intensive horticultural training, the unpaid volunteers become certified Master Gardeners—ready to return a minimum of 50 hours of service to the community through assistance with Extension home horticulture activities.

The basic requirement is a love of gardening with a lot of experience, particularly at the "dirt-under-the-fingernails" level, according to Alfred Beessen, Seminole County urban horticulturist. The course consists of eight day-long sessions, once a week on Wednesdays beginning January 2, 1985. Topics to be covered include: basic plant science, soils and fertilizers, plant diseases and insect problems, fruit culture, vegetable culture, lawns, foliage plants, landscaping, and pesticides.

Upon completion of the course, the certified Master Gardeners will participate in activities such as telephone and diagnostic duty at the Agricultural Center, plant clinics at various locations around the county, and presentations to garden clubs and homeowner associations and civic groups.

Interested gardeners may call the Extension Office at 323-2500, Ext. 175 to request an application form. Class size is necessarily limited so applications should be filed as soon as possible.

Foster Parents Share Home With 6 Mentally Handicapped Children

By Brenda Lowe
Herald Correspondent

The Christmas season is synonymous with sharing and family. This week's cook, Betsy Howard, has a special family. She and her husband, Gary, have two children of their own, Adina who is 10 and Travis, 8. But they also have six foster children, David, Eddie, Todd C., Todd G., Billy and Azzure, all of whom are mentally handicapped.

Betsy and Gary decided to open their home and their hearts to these children about 10 years ago. Betsy says that she was working as a lab technician at Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando when she first became aware of the need for foster parents for handicapped children. At that time the Sunland Center was being closed and homes were needed for these children. They started with one boy, and gradually over the years, four more boys have come to live with them.

The most recent addition to the family is a little girl, Azzure ("Zuzu"), who is 2½. Betsy says that she and Gary are in the process of adopting her.

With 10 people in the house most of the time, there's a lot to be done and Betsy says that all the children have specific responsibilities. Cleaning their rooms and doing their own laundry is at the top of the list. Betsy says, too, that the boys help Gary with his furniture refinishing business. A combination of love, patience and teamwork keeps their large, beautiful home running smoothly.

Since Betsy used to own a ceramics studio, her home is filled with a variety of colorful and exquisitely-crafted Christmas decorations which she has created. But the spirit of Christmas at the Howard household transcends the decorations. It is reflected even in the sounds which reverberate throughout the house — laughing, giggling, happy children and a menagerie consisting of cats, birds and a spunky poodle named "Schotzie."

In addition to being foster parents, Betsy says that she and Gary are marriage counselors for their church, Calvary Assembly of God, in Winter Park.

Betsy says that she learned to cook from her mother and both her grandmothers. Following are a few family favorites:

GERMAN CHRISTMAS STOLLEN

5 yeast cakes dissolved in 1 cup warm water
6 eggs or 2 quarts warm milk
1 pound butter
2 pounds shortening
1 pound bitter almonds
1 pound citron
1 cup candied cherries
1 pound white raisins
1 pound dark raisins
1 pound cut fruit
1 pound currants

Herald Photo by Brenda Lowe

Betsy Howard has a happy household of 10. The true spirit of Christmas is reflected in the Howard home with all sharing responsibilities.

3 pounds sugar
Add enough flour to the above ingredients to make a stiff dough and let it rise three times (covered, in a warm place). This is enough dough to make 12 stollens (loaves). Bake at 375° until golden (approximately 1 hour). While hot, spread melted butter over each loaf and sprinkle with confectioner's sugar.

LITHUANIAN KUGELIS (Baked Potato Pudding)

1 quart grated potatoes (4 cups)
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 cup chopped onion
4 tablespoons farina
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup cream
salt and pepper, to taste
Combine all the ingredients and pour into a small greased baking pan so that the mixture is approximately two inches deep. Bake at 400° until brown crust forms on top. Cut into squares and serve with hot cream or melted butter. Serves 4-6.

RED VELVET CAKE

1 box yellow cake mix
1½ cups milk
½ cup Weason oil
2 tablespoons cocoa

1 teaspoon vinegar
2 1-ounce bottles red food coloring
2 eggs
Mix cake ingredients together and beat well. Add food coloring and blend. Bake cake as directed on the box.

Icing:

1 box confectioners' sugar
1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
1 stick margarine, softened
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1 cup pecans
Whip cream cheese and margarine until light and fluffy. Add sugar, vanilla and nuts. Blend well.

CREAM CHEESE CAKE

Cream together:
2 8-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
¼ teaspoon salt
Bake at 325° for 55 minutes in a buttered 8 or 9-inch pan. Remove from oven and cool for 15 minutes. Remove, cool, and chill thoroughly.

BAKED BEANS

1 pound salt pork
2 pounds beans
2 cups sugar
3 tablespoons mustard
½ cup ketchup
Soak beans in water (enough to cover) with salt pork. Boil beans in same water for about 1 to 1½ hours, removing foam. Mix all the ingredients together and put in baking pan. Cover with bacon and onions. Slow-bake at 250° for three hours.

EGG SOUP

3 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon flour
4 beaten eggs
Nature's Seasoning salt, to taste

Melt butter in a fry pan, add flour and seasoning salt. Stir until this thickens and browns. Add enough water to make a medium-thin gravy. While this simmers, add enough flour to the eggs to make a thick dough. Drop by spoonfuls into the simmering gravy. Cook until done, about ten minutes. Makes approximately six servings.

Preview Reception Opens Santa Exhibit at Museum

Starry-eyed youngsters and the young at heart, ranging in age from 1 to 93, helped get the holiday season underway for the Library-Museum Association on Dec. 6 at a reception previewing the 1,000 Santas from around the world currently on exhibit at the library-museum.

The youngest guest was Sarah Mancuso, granddaughter of Rear Adm. and Mrs. Richard Fowler, and on the opposite side of the spectrum were Miss Martha Fox, a longtime associate of the library-museum who will soon celebrate her 93rd birthday, and Sanford artist E.B. Stowe who celebrated his 90th birthday this year.

Entertainment was provided by the Central Florida Chorale whose members presented a program of holiday classics.

The Holiday Preview Reception was planned and hosted by the members of the Library-

Museum Association and the Historical Preservation Society including: Ruth Lee, president of the Library-Museum Association; Barbara Moore, president of the Historical Preservation Society; Mildred M. Caskey, curator; Dr. Richardson, exhibit chairman; together with members Patricia Barden, Jean Fowler, Frieda Gielow, Elizabeth Gallant, Juanny Mercer, Grace O'Brien, Penelope Peterson, Carl Patten, Barbara Ruprecht, Rebecca Stevens, Ruth Swinney and Orrian Walker. Program chairman was Jim Jernigan.

The Edith Hakken Santa Claus exhibit will run through the first week in January and is open to the public. Library-Museum hours are from 2-5 p.m., Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday.

Son Shows Hostile Hospitality To Mom

DEAR ABBY: Last winter I wrote to my son and asked him if I could come to visit him for a few days before Christmas. He told me to come and reminded me that he had a bad back and couldn't give up his bed, so he hoped I wouldn't mind sleeping on the floor in the living room. I said I wouldn't mind. (He's 42 and divorced.)

He told me he had a girlfriend who sometimes "sleeps over," so I shouldn't be surprised if she was there. As it turned out, she was. They slept in the bedroom and I made a bed for myself on the living room floor. It was very hard, but the worst part was not having any shades on the windows.

I arrived on Friday and planned to leave on a 4 p.m. plane on Sunday, but my son and his girlfriend wanted to drive somewhere to see a football game, so they dropped me at the airport at 9 a.m. where I sat for seven hours until my plane left. Oh yes, my son gave me $2 for lunch.

Do I have a right to feel hurt? And do you think I should visit my son again? I am 69 and a widow.

MOM

DEAR MOM: You have a right to feel not only "hurt," but insulted and mistreated. And if you visit him again, Mom, you should have your head examined.

DEAR READERS: If you can use a few good laughs today, try these quotes:

"Eighty percent of married men cheat in America. The rest cheat in Europe." (Jackie Mason)

"Your manuscript is both good and original. But the part that is good is not original, and the part that is original is not good." (Samuel Johnson)

"A man is incomplete until he is married. After that, he is finished." (Zsa Zsa Gabor)

"A critic is a man who knows the way, but can't drive the car." (Kenneth Tynan)

Dear Abby

"France is a country where the money falls apart but you can't tear the toilet paper." (Billy Wilder)

The above quotes are from the book "The Other 637 Best Things Anybody Ever Said" by Robert Byrne published by Atheneum. It's $10.95, and worth every cent.

DEAR ABBY: Even though you stated that not one penny is charged to organ donors or their families, it happened to us four years ago. Our daughter was in an automobile accident. There was no hope for her survival and we were asked to donate her organs after her death. We agreed because we wanted to help others in need, knowing our daughter could not be saved.

We received an extremely large bill from the hospital for the surgery, operating room, etc. related to removing her organs for transplant purposes. We are not wealthy people, but we paid the bill.

We were later told that we should not have been billed and were advised to sue the hospital. We did not sue because we felt if they could live with their conscience, we could live without the money. We did what we thought was right, and that's all that matters.

ANOTHER EX-DONOR IN WEST VIRGINIA

DEAR EX-DONOR: I submit that doing what you thought was "right" is not all that matters. When you allow dishonest deeds to go unpunished, you encourage cheats to continue cheating. Even though you can live without the money, why not demand its return — and give it to charity?

Cooking Contest

Chicken Recipe May Win $10,000 In National Competition

Time is running out for entering your best chicken recipe in the competition for a $10,000 prize. Deadline for entries in the 36th National Chicken Cooking Contest is Dec. 31.

A finalist from each state and the District of Columbia will be chosen to take part in the Cook-Off on May 16, 1985, at the Grove Park Inn in Asheville, North Carolina. In addition to the $10,000 first prize, four runners-up will share another $10,000 in prizes, ranging from $4,000 second prize to $1,000, fifth.

It's easy to enter. Just write your name, address and telephone number on the front page of your recipe and mail it before the Dec. 31 deadline to: Chicken Contest, Box 28158 Central Station, Washington, D.C. 20005.

The Chicken Cooking Contest was first held in 1949 and was an annual event until this year when it began an alternate-year schedule. During the years of competition, chicken has been

Search On For Today's Homemakers

A national search is underway for four consumers who typify "America's New Traditional Homemakers."

Each of the four winners will receive $10,000 from the American frozen food industry, which is sponsoring the search. In addition to the prize money, the four lucky winners will travel to different parts of the country with all expenses paid as consumer spokespeople for frozen foods.

According to Paul Corrdry, President of the American Frozen Food Institute and Orinda Foods, Inc., of Boise, Idaho, "The people we're looking for are today's contemporary homemakers — men as well as women. They share traditional American values of good nutrition and good eating. But because of their active lifestyles, they're in need of new solutions to menu planning and meal preparation problems."

Once America's New Traditional Homemakers are selected, the four winners will be introduced at a national press conference in New York City early next year. Beginning in March, during National Frozen Food Month, they will travel and make personal appearances, with all expenses paid, to three exciting American cities each.

They will appear on radio and television shows, be interviewed by magazine and newspaper editors, and meet with many other "new traditional homemakers" and consumers just like themselves.

While on tour, America's New Traditional Homemakers will discuss their own lifestyles, family, work, personal pursuits, interest in nutrition and meal preparation, and how they use frozen foods in everyday menu planning.

The promotional tours will consist of short two or three-day trips, totalling approximately 10-15 days over the course of the year.

The search for America's New Traditional Homemakers is open to anyone in the United States who is 18 or older, unless prohibited by law. To enter, complete the nomination form or a copy of it available from: America's New Traditional Homemakers, c/o FACT (Frozen Food Action Communications Team), P.O. Box 2412, Grand Central Station, New York, NY 10163, and return it to this same address.

You can also submit a nomination by writing a detailed letter to this same address telling why you or someone you know is one of America's New Traditional Homemakers. The letter must include biographical and lifestyle information, a list of interests both in and outside the home, and information about the role of frozen foods in the nominee's life, and two personal references. A photograph of the candidate must also be included with each nomination.

All nominations will be judged by the Frozen Food Action Communications Team. The winners will be selected by February 1985 on the basis of how well they fit the criteria for today's New Traditional Homemakers. The deadline for nomination entries is January 15, 1985.

cooked in hundreds of different ways and over a quarter-million dollars in prizes awarded.

Although only five of the 51 finalists in the National Chicken Cooking Contest take home one of the $20,000 in prizes, each contestant is already a winner, having been chosen the best entry from their home state or the District of Columbia. And each enjoys an expense-paid trip with many special events in the Cook-Off city.

Scoring high with judges in the 35th Contest was the Indiana contestant's recipe for "Lemon-Caper Butter Chicken." Try it and then enter your favorite recipe in the 36th competition before the Dec. 31 deadline.

LEMON-CAPER BUTTER CHICKEN

4 whole broiler-fryer chicken breasts, halved, boned, skinned
 1/2 cup butter
 1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon paprika
 1/4 teaspoon freshly-ground

pepper
 1 1/2 tablespoons capers plus 1 tablespoon juice
 1 large garlic clove, minced
 1 cup chopped parsley
 In large frypan, place butter and melt over medium heat. Add mushrooms and saute 5 minutes; add lemon juice, salt, paprika, pepper, capers with juice and garlic. Heat to boiling.

Place chicken in single layer in frypan and heat again to boiling. Reduce heat, cover and simmer about 20 minutes or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Uncover and cook, turning once, about 10 minutes longer, or until chicken is lightly brown on both sides. Serve with rice; garnish with parsley. Makes 4 servings.

Microwave Magic

Old Favorites Set Pace For Holiday Gifts

The holiday season is an exciting time of the year. It is also hectic and often the things we want to do are time consuming.

By using your microwave for preparing foods for gift-giving you will save time and have something extra special to give. The ease of preparation, time savings and wonderful results will make you wonder how you ever got along without your microwave.

Homemade candy is always a well received gift. As with conventional candy-making there are several things to keep in mind when microwaving candies. A microwave thermometer is an invaluable tool.

Humidity affects the results in candy-making. It is best to avoid making candy on humid days, but if you do, allow the temperature to rise a few degrees higher than the recipe suggests.

Microwave ingredients in a deep container that will allow for "bubble-up." Remember too, that foods that are microwaved continue to cook for a few minutes after they are removed from the oven. It is best to wait until the boiling stops before stirring in additional ingredients.

This temperature guide will help with your candy making:
Soft Ball (Forms ball, but flattens when taken out of water), 235-240 F
Firm Ball (Holds shape until pressed), 245-250 F
Hard Ball (Holds its shape, but is pliable), 255-265 F
Soft Crack (Separates into threads), 270-290 F
Hard Crack (Forms hard, brittle threads), 300-310 F

This is an old favorite made with modern convenience.
ALMOND BUTTER CRUNCH
1 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cup sugar
3 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon corn syrup
1 cup slivered almonds

1 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1/2 cup chopped almonds
Mix together butter, sugar, water and corn syrup in a 2-quart glass batter bowl. Microwave on 100% power four minutes, stirring once. Stir, scraping sides of bowl to dissolve all sugar. Insert microwave candy thermometer. Microwave on 100% power 8-10 minutes or until mixture reaches 300° (Hard Crack). Stir whenever necessary to prevent boil over. Stir in slivered almonds. Pour onto ungreased metal baking sheet. Sprinkle with chocolate pieces. Let stand until chocolate is softened; spread evenly over toffee. Sprinkle with chopped almonds, pressing them into chocolate. Refrigerate to set chocolate. Break into pieces.

The reputation of this fudge has traveled far. This adaptation is good. Use butter for exceptional flavor.

MACKINAK ISLAND VANILLA FUDGE
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup light brown sugar (packed)
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups powdered sugar, do not sift
1 teaspoon pure vanilla
1/2 cup chopped pecans
Mix together milk, butter, brown sugar, granulated sugar and salt in a 2 quart butter bowl. Microwave on 100% power 3 minutes. Stir, scraping sides of bowl to dissolve sugar. Insert microwave candy thermometer, then microwave on 100% power 6-7 minutes or until mixture reaches 235°F (Soft Ball). Stir several times during this time. Add powdered sugar and vanilla. Beat with electric mixer on medium speed until thickened. This will take about eight minutes. Stir in pecans, spread in a buttered loaf pan. Let stand until set. Cut into squares.

I used to search a box of candy for the chocolate covered honey comb. Here is a recipe I make myself which, incidentally, is better than the commercial candy.

HONEY COMB CANDY
1 cup sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 tablespoon soda
1 pound chocolate coating
Mix together sugar, corn syrup, and vinegar in a two quart batter bowl. Microwave on 100% power five minutes. Stir to dissolve sugar. Insert microwave thermometer, then microwave on 100% power 7-8 minutes or until mixture reaches 310°F (Hard Crack).
Allow to stand 2-3 minutes. Stir in soda. Pour into a greased 12x8-in. metal pan. When cool break in pieces.
Place chocolate in a four cup glass measure and microwave on 50% power 5-6 minutes or until melted, stirring twice. Stir until smooth. Let stand 5-10 minutes, stir occasionally until temperature is about 85°.

Using a dipping fork lower each piece of candy into chocolate and coat evenly. Tap gently to remove excess chocolate. Place on wax paper. When set, remove from paper and store in a cool place.

Praline-type candies have few ingredients and are so good.

MICROWAVE PRALINE
2 1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon soda
2 cup chopped pecans
Mix sugar, milk and soda in three quart microwave safe container. Microwave on 100% power four minutes. Scrape sides of bowl to dissolve all sugar crystals. Microwave on 50% power 10-12 minutes or until mixture reaches 235°F (Soft Ball) stirring when necessary to prevent boilover. Beat mixture slightly, stir in pecans. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto wax paper. When set, remove from paper and store in a tightly covered container.

Joan Collins: Most Beautiful Woman On TV

RADNOR, Pa. (UPI) — Beauty experts say Joan Collins is the most beautiful woman on television. The star of "Dynasty" was chosen No. 1 in a list of TV's 10 most beautiful women by TV Guide magazine. "You can tell she absolutely loves to be beautiful and, consequently, she is," said one judge, Michael Maron, a celebrity makeup artist and photographer. No. 2 on the list is Jaclyn Smith of the old "Charlie's Angels" series. The panelists judged hundreds of women by the same criteria.

The traits common to celebrity beauties: high cheekbones, full lips and eyes set far apart.

But they found that each in the Top 10 has high cheekbones, full lips and eyes set far apart. Another "Dynasty" actress, Linda Evans, was judged the third most beautiful while Veronica Hamel of "Hill Street Blues" was named fourth. Tied for fifth and sixth places were Diahann Carroll of "Dynasty" and Stefanie Powers of "Hart to Hart." Jayne Seymour, a British actress who stars in "East of Eden," finished seventh in the poll. "Hotel" also was a duel winner with beauties Connie Sellecca and Shari Belafonte-Harper being voted eighth and ninth. Elvis Presley's former wife and star of "Dallas," Priscilla Presley, made it to the 10th. It wasn't only Hollywood stars who captured the eye of the panel. Newscasters Connie Chung, Jane Pauley and Diane Sawyer were listed on several ballots.

Chiles Challenges For Senate Leadership

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic leader Robert Byrd today faced the first challenge ever for his leadership post, but confidently predicted he would defeat upstart Sen. Lawton Chiles in the bid for party control.

"No question about it, no question," said Byrd, who has been Senate Democratic leader since 1977. "I can only say that I'm confident and sure."

A Chiles spokesman said when told of Byrd's remarks, "I guess there are senators working both sides on this thing, telling us one thing and Byrd the other."

The 47 Democratic senators of the 99th Congress were to meet today in their Capitol caucus room, not far from the Senate chamber, and elect their Senate minority leader for the next two years by secret ballot.

The odds-on favorite was Byrd, 67, a member of the "old guard" from West Virginia who served as assistant Senate Democratic leader from 1971-77.

He was elected majority leader in 1977, without opposition, upon the retirement of Mike Mansfield, D-Mont. Byrd became minority leader when the Republicans regained control of the Senate in 1980.

Chiles, 54, a three-term senator from Lakeland, Fla., entered the race only last week and offered himself as a "new face" who would be more forceful, articulate and telegenic than Byrd.

It is the first time Byrd faced a challenge — one more indication that some party leaders are looking for a change following President Reagan's landslide victory.

The Senate historian's office said there never has been a challenge to an incumbent Democratic leader. A spokesman for Byrd said Tuesday the senator had more than 30 commitments from senators. Some of these commitments, however, were made before Chiles entered the race and not all may hold.

"We're not likely to get a clear definition of what people are going to do when they go in to vote on a secret ballot," Chiles' spokesman Jack Pridden said.

Chiles maintained his practice of not releasing the number of commitments he had received from his colleagues. The only senators to publicly endorse him have been Bennett Johnston of Louisiana and Jeff Bingaman of New Mexico.

"He's got people that have given him a firm commitment," Pridden said. "But he's sensitive to the position that senators are put in" with an incumbent leader running for re-election. "He's not going to put them on the spot."

Sen. John Glenn of Ohio said he was supporting Byrd because part of the leader post is "making sure the trains run on time," which he said the incumbent has done well.

Two Jolts Needed To Kill Murderer

JACKSON, Ga. (UPI) — Double-murderer Alpha Otis Stephens was executed in Georgia's electric chair today with two 2,080-volt surges 10 minutes apart — the first leaving him brain dead and the second stopping his breathing.

The 39-year-old career criminal with 19 felony convictions made no final statement, but wrote his last victim's son earlier this week asking to be forgiven.

Stephens, who received his first jolt at 12:18 a.m. and his second at 12:28 a.m., was pronounced dead at 12:37

a.m. But officials said he was "brain dead" after the first surge, although he was still breathing.

The wooden electric chair at Georgia's Diagnostic and Classification Center had been tested five times this week. Although officials only planned to give Stephens one jolt, they insisted "there apparently was no malfunction."

Stephens, who began his criminal career at age 16 with an auto theft, was sentenced to death for the 1974 execution-style slaying of Roy Asbell, who caught Stephens and an accomplice robbing his son's home.

Hostages: Iran Didn't Help Hijackers

FRANKFURT, West Germany (UPI) — Two Americans, their eyes blackened and faces burned with cigarettes by airline hijackers in Tehran, arrived in West Germany in "good spirits" today as the bodies of two Americans killed were flown home.

As the last hostages left Tehran Tuesday, the Reagan administration stepped up criticism of Iran's handling of the six-day ordeal and a White House spokesman said President Reagan felt a "sense of outrage."

Two officials of the U.S. Agency for International Development — Charles Hegna of Sterling, Va., and William L. Stanford, a resident of Karachi, Pakistan — were killed by the hijackers. Their bodies were being flown to Andrews Force Base outside Washington today.

The two survivors — New York businessman John Costa and U.S. AID auditor Charles Kapar — said they were beaten, tortured and ordered to confess that they worked for the CIA. But they told reporters they saw no signs of Iranian cooperation with the hijackers.

Costa and Kapar walked unaided from the Air Force medical evacuation plane to a limousine that took them to the U.S. Army's 97th General Hospital in Frankfurt.

They nodded to people who greeted them at the airport but made no statement. "They are very glad to be back," a U.S. spokesman said. "They are in good spirits."

Four hijackers, demanding that Kuwait release 17 prisoners held for a series of bombings against U.S. and French targets last December, commanded the Kuwait Airways plane with 161 people aboard Dec. 4 during a flight from Kuwait to Karachi and forced it to land in Tehran. Iranian security forces stormed the plane Sunday and freed the last of the hostages. In Karachi, two Pakistani passengers released earlier said Iranian authorities supplied the hijackers with weapons, ropes and handcuffs and left the plane unguarded for two days.

But Costa, Kapar and the British pilot of the hijacked Kuwaiti airliner said they saw no indication that Iran aided the hijackers in any way. Their statements were echoed by the chief Kuwaiti negotiator sent to Tehran.

Reagan, however, told a guest at the White House Tuesday: "Even if they weren't in collusion, the Iranians could have done a better job."

Deputy White House press secretary Larry Speakes told reporters Iran "clearly encouraged extreme behavior" by the hijackers.

A statement issued jointly by the White House and the State Department said, "Two passengers were murdered by the hijackers, more were tortured and many were brutalized for an extended period of time without any effective measures being taken by the government of Iran."

But Iran's Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini dismissed the criticism. "If any country other than Iran had handled an instance of air piracy like Iran did, the entire world would have praised it for the skillful, responsive and adroit handling of the incident," he said.

Costa and Kapar received medical attention in Tehran before being flown to Kuwait, where they spoke to reporters before boarding the Air Force plane for the Frankfurt.

Both had been beaten — their eyes blackened and heads bruised — and repeatedly burned on the face with cigarettes by the hijackers, who they said tried to force them to confess that they worked for the CIA. But both said they saw no sign of Iranian complicity in the hijacking or cooperation with the four hijackers. "To our knowledge, we know of no cooperation with the Iranians," Kapar said.

Dessert Buffet

Host Elegant But Simple Get-Together

Does the thought of hosting even the simplest get-together give you the jitters? Then you'll be surprised to hear how easy — but elegant — entertaining can be with very little effort on your part!

First of all, it's important to remember that your guests have come to see you and enjoy your company. If you wind up spending frantic hours in the kitchen pre-party, as well as precious time while your company waits for an elaborate spread to be set before them, you'll find it nearly easy setting for after-theatre gatherings, late-night tete-a-tetes, apres sports get-togethers, or large-scale entertaining on a budget.

- Consider the needs of your guests. Provide foods that require minimum or no tending while you're visiting with company.
- If you're serving a larger crowd, prepare extra platters of every food ahead, and use them to replenish quickly whenever needed.
- Keep a supply of dessert

MENU

- DANISH CHERRY-TOPPED BRIE OR CAMEMBERT
- CHERRY-FILLED CHOCOLATE CUPS
- ROBERT MONDAVI MOSCATO D'ORO SWEET WINE
- DANISH CHEESE AND FRUIT TRAY
- COFFEE AND TEA

impossible to be the gracious entertainer you intended to be. What's more, a thoughtfully put together ensemble of tempting foods, simply prepared and freshly presented with a minimum of fuss, is every bit as appealing as the most haute cuisine fare.

That's the wonderful secret behind the sumptuous but simple dessert buffet. It can be assembled in as little as 15 minutes, but it's a menu any guest will be anxious to sample — again and again!

If you're accustomed to serving cheeses for appetizer fare, note that cheeses served for dessert are even nicer. Fresh-tasting, mild Danish cheeses, such as creamy havarti, fontina, blue, camembert, and brie are wonderful accompaniments to fresh fruits. And there's a new addition: natural Danish peach cream cheese. It's a delightful spread for fruit slices or dried fruit or nut breads. For the best flavor, remember to set out hard cheeses about 30 minutes before serving. They'll also cut more easily that way. The petite rounds of brie or camembert will be conversation pieces topped with ready-to-serve canned cherry pie filling and bedecked with fresh mint sprigs. Provide unsalted crackers or shortbread cookies as slightly sweet dessert crackers. Of course, a thoughtful selection of cheeses and fruits, attractively displayed, is always a welcome finale.

Don't overlook the virtues of convenient canned fruit fillings, such as cherry pie filling. It's a super-quick topping or sauce for a host of enticing desserts. The bright red color and fresh cherry flavor add elegance to any dessert. What could be easier than filling purchased chocolate liqueur cups with cherry pie filling for visiting sweet-tooths? Cherries elevate the ordinary to the extraordinary.

As the perfect entertainment insurance, stock your freezer with dessert staples like plain poundcake, angelcake, or cheesecake. Then give those plain Janes a dazzling finish with warmed cherry pie filling, tinged with fresh orange peel, rum, brandy, or a favorite liqueur. Fold the cherry mixture into a chocolate mousse, ladle it over an easy ice cream pie, or dessert waffles or custard. For the height of decadence, take your cue from the Australians, who like to make "fool" by folding fruit mixtures into nothing more than whipped heavy cream. You'll win raves!

Speaking of complements, both edible and verbal ones: sweet wines, such as Robert Mondavi Moscato d'Oro, are enjoying newfound popularity. The Mondavi version in particular is meant to be served well-chilled (an ice bucket is not necessary) with nearly any sweet dessert.

You'll find that this fruity, crisp varietal wine also makes an excellent entertainment wine. The 1983 vintage is ready to be enjoyed now — don't even think of storing away the pleasures of the finest Muscat grapes! Aside from drinking this or any sweet wine, remember that they are as versatile a dessert ingredient as regular wines are in savory dishes.

Tips for a memorable Dessert Buffet:
● Think of the impromptu dessert buffet as the perfect, forks, cheese spreaders, small-sized napkins and plates on hand for just these occasions.

● For atmosphere, keep a selection of party music in an easy-access place. Collect different-sized candlesticks for mood-lighting, and stock up on tapers, votives, and other candle sizes you may require.

A little attention to these details beforehand will help insure that you never miss your own party again!

CHERRY MERINGUE NESTS

- 6 egg whites
 - 1 cup granulated sugar
 - 1/2 cup powdered sugar
 - 1/4 cup cornstarch
 - 2 pints vanilla ice cream
 - 1 can cherry pie filling
- Line a large baking sheet with parchment paper or waxed paper. Grease waxed paper. Preheat oven to 225° F.

On high speed of an electric mixer, beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Slowly beat in granulated sugar until mixture is stiff and glossy. Sift powdered sugar with the cornstarch; fold into egg white mixture and pipe rosette shapes about four inches in diameter (or spoon mixture onto baking sheet; flatten mounds into circular shapes with the back of a large spoon).

Bake with oven door slightly open for 3-4 hours, or till meringues are completely dry and set. Carefully remove from baking sheet; cool on a wire rack.

To serve meringues, fill each shell with ice cream; spoon the cherry pie filling over each serving. Garnish with toasted slivered almonds, if desired. Makes about 15 servings.

DANISH BLUE CHEESECAKE

- Crust: 1 1/4 cups graham cracker crumbs
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 2 tablespoons sugar

Topping: Desired sliced fruit or canned fruits

Coarsely chopped or sliced almonds, walnuts, pecans, or hazelnuts

- Filling: 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1 cup milk
- 8 ounces Danish blue cheese, at room temperature
- 8 ounces cottage cheese
- 1 cup dairy sour cream

For crust, combine the crumbs, butter or margarine, and sugar. Press mixture firmly on the bottom of an 8- or 9-inch springform pan. Chill.

For filling, combine the gelatin and 1/4 cup sugar in top of double boiler. Beat the egg yolks and milk together and stir into pan. Cook mixture over simmering water, stirring constantly, till gelatin dissolves, about 5 minutes. Turn mixture into a bowl and cool till slightly thickened. Push both cheeses through a sieve. Stir into gelatin mixture. Fold in sour cream. Beat the egg whites with 1/4 cup sugar till stiff. Fold into mixture. Turn into prepared pan. Chill cheesecake several hours or overnight till firm.

To serve, sliced or spoon fruit over cheesecake. Garnish with nuts if desired. Makes 12-15 servings.

Sumptuous dessert buffet can be assembled in as little as 15 minutes.

Sharing Food Gifts Reflects True Spirit Of Season

Thoughtful gifts made at home add a personal feeling to the holiday season. In many cases, sharing gifts from your kitchen with friends, relatives, or those in a hospital or nursing home rekindles the true spirit of the season.

SECRET CHRISTMAS PUDDING

2 ounces flour
1 teaspoon each allspice, mace, ginger, cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
4 ounces mixed candied peel
4 ounces chopped blanched almonds
1 tablespoon golden syrup or black treacle (molasses)
4 ounces fine bread crumbs
4 ounces finely chopped or grated suet
4 ounces brown sugar
4 ounces grated apple
1 small carrot, grated
1 pound mixed dried fruit (suggest 8 ounces raisins, 4 ounces sultanas, 4 ounces currants)
Grated rind plus juice of 1 large lemon
2 eggs
¼ pint stout, ale, beer (or, if preferred, milk)
4 ounces brandy
Mix all ingredients together and stir well. Let the mixture mature for 24 hours.

Then, press into a large buttered or oiled pudding pan or mold; cover with waxed paper and then with foil.

To be sure the pudding remains very dry while cooking, cover it with a paste of flour and water (adding enough water to 6 ounces of flour to make a firm dough). Roll out dough and cover the top of the pudding.

Steam for 6 to 8 hours. Remove the damp cover. When cold, wrap in muslin and then foil.

On Christmas Day, or whenever you decide to serve, steam for 2 to 4 additional hours. This special kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 pudding.

HARD SAUCE OR BRANDY BUTTER

4 ounces unsalted butter
6 ounces confectioners' sugar
4 to 8 tablespoons brandy (rum may be substituted)
Cream butter until white. Gradually add the sugar and brandy. Let stand in a cold place for some time to harden.

FESTIVE PEAR FRUITCAKES

1 can (28 ounces) Bartlett pears
¼ cup shortening
¼ cup sugar
1 ½ cups each mixed candied fruits, pitted dates and dried currants
1 cup chopped walnuts
2 ¼ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 ¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
½ teaspoon salt
Drain pears, reserving syrup for another use. Puree pears in blender, food processor or food mill. Combine pureed pears in saucepan with shortening and sugar.

Bring to boil; boil 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cool. Combine candied fruits, dates, currants and walnuts in large mixing bowl.

Stir together flour, soda, spices and salt; sprinkle over the fruit. Mix until each piece of fruit is coated. Add cooled pear mixture; mix well.

Turn into 4 waxed-paper-lined 3-½-inch-by-5-½-inch loaf pans. Baked at 300 degrees 1 ½ to 1 ¾ hours or until wooden pick inserted near center comes out clean.

Remove from pans; cool on rack. Wrap in plastic wrap or foil and store in cool place to mellow for 2 weeks before slicing. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 one-pound fruit cakes.

GOLDEN GIFT PIES

4 cups pared, cored and sliced Golden Delicious apples
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ cup each golden raisins and chopped nuts
Pastry for two-crust (9-inch) pie
Sprinkle apples with lemon juice. Combine sugar, flour and cinnamon; toss with apples.

Add raisins and nuts. Place in four 4-inch pastry-lined disposable pie plates. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes or until apples are tender. This kitchen-tested recipe makes four 4-inch pies.

GRAPE BONBONS

¼ cup butter or margarine, softened
5 to 6 cups sifted powdered sugar, divided
2 ounces unsweetened chocolate, melted
¼ cup heavy cream
1 tablespoon brandy
1 teaspoon vanilla
Dash salt
Red or green grapes, seeded if necessary
Cocoa powder or chocolate sprinkles

Combine butter, 1 cup powdered sugar, chocolate, cream, brandy, vanilla and salt; mix well.

Add remaining powdered sugar just until mixture reaches consistency that is easy to handle. Form chocolate mixture around individual grapes to make balls about 1-inch in diameter.

Roll balls in cocoa powder. Store, refrigerated, in flat, covered container. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 30 to 35 bonbons.

Note: Bonbons made with seeded grapes can be stored up

CALIFORNIA PISTACHIO SHERRY CHEESE BALL

3 cups shredded sharp Cheddar cheese

1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened

1 to 2 tablespoons dry sherry
1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
3 drops bottled hot pepper sauce
¼ cup chopped shelled natural California pistachios
Crackers or assorted raw vegetables

Blend together cheeses, sherry, mustard and hot pepper sauce. Chill about ¼ hour or until firm enough to handle.

Shape into a ball and roll in pistachios. Serve with crackers or raw vegetables. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 ball.

Tip: California Pistachio Sherry Cheese Ball can be made ahead, wrapped and stored in the refrigerator. Bring to room temperature before serving Gifts from the kitchen include proper Christmas pudding, pear fruitcakes, grape bonbons and mint apple pies.

Invasion Of The Gingerbread People

The gingerbread house with white icing and confectionery decorations originated in Germany and Sweden.

Now, many confections from the kitchen are shared as gifts for friends and relatives and include the classic gingerbread people, an eggnog bundt, Chinese date and walnut chews.

GIANT GINGERBREAD PEOPLE COOKIES

- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 2 eggs
- 6 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 2 teaspoons ginger
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon ground cloves

Decoration:

- 2 egg whites
- 4 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 6 to 7 teaspoons hot water
- Food coloring
- Plain or peanut chocolate candies

For cookies, beat together butter and sugars until light and fluffy; blend in molasses and eggs.

Gradually add combined flour, baking powder, cinnamon, ginger, salt, soda and cloves; mix at lowest speed on electric mixer until well blended.

Divide dough into 3 equal portions. Wrap each securely; chill 1 hour. On 17-inch-by-14-inch cookie sheet, roll out portion of dough to 1/4-inch thickness.

Use patterns to cut out 2 large gingerbread people from one portion. Remove excess dough; reserve for additional gingerbread people. Repeat with two remaining portions and reserved dough.

Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 18 minutes or until edges are lightly browned. Immediately remove to wire rack; cool thoroughly.

For decoration, beat egg whites until foamy, gradually adding confectioners' sugar. Add vanilla and 1 teaspoon water at a time, beating until glaze is thick and of spreading consistency.

Tint glaze with food coloring, as desired. If glaze thickens, add a few drops of water. Decorate with glaze and candies, as desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes nine 10-inch-by-8-inch gingerbread cookies.

Note: To make boy pattern, trace outline onto wax paper. Using tracing, cut out figure from cardboard. For girl pattern, repeat process including outline for skirt and hair. To make cookies, place pattern on dough and cut around with sharp knife.

CHINESE CHEWS

- 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
- 1 cup flour
- 1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 1 1/2 cups firmly packed chopped dates
- 1 1/2 cups chopped pecans or walnuts
- 3 eggs, separated
- confectioners' sugar

Combine granulated sugar, flour, baking powder, salt and ginger. Add dates and nuts; mix well.

Beat egg whites until stiff; reserve. Beat egg yolks until thick and creamy; stir into flour mixture, mixing until well blended. Fold in egg whites.

Spread mixture evenly into greased 13-inch-by-9-inch baking pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes, or until lightly browned.

Cool about 25 minutes on wire rack. While warm, cut into 1-inch squares; roll squares to form balls. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar.

Store in tightly covered container. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 2 dozen 1-inch cookies.

EGGNOG BUNDT CAKE

- 1/4 cup finely chopped nuts
- 1 1/4 cups butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
- 4 eggs
- 3 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 cup eggnog
- 1/4 cup brandy.

Glaze: 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
4 teaspoons water
2 teaspoons brandy
For cake, generously grease, 10-inch bundt-type pan with vegetable shortening; coat bottom with nuts. Beat together butter and granulated sugar until light and fluffy.

Add eggs one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Add combined flour, salt, soda and nutmeg, alternately with combined eggnog and brandy, mixing well after each addition.

Spoon batter into prepared pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour or until wooden pick inserted in center of cake comes out clean.

Cool 10 minutes in pan; invert onto wire rack to remove from pan. Cool thoroughly on wire rack.

For glaze, combine confectioners sugar, water and brandy; mix until smooth. Drizzle over cake; garnish top as desired.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes one 10-inch cake.

Variation: For cake, substitute 1/4 cup orange juice for brandy. For glaze, substitute 2 tablespoons orange juice for water and brandy. Proceed as recipe directs.

Notes: Substitute two 1-pound coffee cans for bundt-type pan. Generously grease bottom and sides; coat each with 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts.

Spoon about 3 cups batter into each can. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour, or until wooden pick inserted in center of cake comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes in can; remove from can. Cool thoroughly on wire rack. Glaze as directed above.

Substitute five 16-ounce vegetable cans for bundt-type pan. Generously grease bottom and sides; coat each with 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts. Spoon about 1-1/2 cups batter into each can.

Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes, or until wooden pick inserted in center of cake comes out clean. Cool and glaze as directed above.

Confections and candies, from gingerbread people to mint bars, are a special part of Christmas for all ages.

Happy Hanukkah from the families at Publix.

Hannukah

Tsimmes Favorite Of Season

Many favorite Jewish dishes are an integral part of holiday feasting.

One of the more traditional dishes served is tsimmes, a carrot dish with sweet potatoes and dried fruits often added.

Here's an updated version of tsimmes to serve during the eight-day observance of Hanukkah, the Festival of Lights, which begins Dec. 19.

For a large gathering, here also is a recipe for a dairy potato salad.

HOLIDAY VEGETABLE STEW (TSIMMES)

2 cans (12 ounces each) carrot juice
¼ cup pitted prunes, halved

¼ cup dried apricots, halved
¼ cup golden raisins
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
2 teaspoons honey
2 ½ cups peeled sweet potatoes cut in 2-inch pieces
1 cup carrots cut in 1-inch pieces
In a medium saucepan combine carrot juice, prunes, apricots, raisins, cinnamon and honey. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer, covered, for 5 minutes.

Holiday Feast For 2

This year, break from tradition and plan a holiday menu around an appealing, easy-to-prepare combination of traditional and non-traditional foods.

A boneless pork roast makes an impressive entree during the holidays. A three-pound roast also will provide enough meat for several meals for a twosome. When selecting a pork roast, look for a delicate pink interior and a thin outer layer of fat. The fat bastes the meat as it roasts for extra moistness. Fresh pork should be used within three days of purchase. For longer storage, wrap securely in moisture-vaporproof wrap and freeze up to six months.

Before preparing the meat for roasting, get a head start on a second meal. Trim approximately three-fourths pound from one end of the roast. Cut into cubes, wrap tightly, label and freeze. Place the roast, fat side up, on a rack in a shallow roasting pan.

CELERY AU GRATIN

1 ½ cups diagonally-cut celery slices margarine
1 tablespoon flour
Dash of salt and pepper
½ cup milk
½ cup (2 oz.) shredded sharp natural cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons dry bread crumbs

Cook celery in boiling water 10 minutes or until fork-tender. Drain. Melt 1 tablespoon margarine in saucepan over low heat. Blend in flour and seasonings. Gradually add milk; cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add cheese; stir until melted. Place celery in 14 to 16-ounce baking dish; top with cheese sauce. Toss bread crumbs with 1 tablespoon melted margarine; sprinkle over sauce. Bake at 350° 10 minutes.

2 servings
MICROWAVE: Omit bread crumbs. Microwave 1 tablespoon margarine in 2-cup measure or bowl on high 20 seconds or until melted. Blend in flour and seasonings; microwave 15 seconds. Gradually stir in milk. Microwave 2 minutes, stirring well after each minute. Add cheese; stir until melted. Combine celery and ¼ cup water in 14 to 16-ounce baking dish; cover with plastic wrap, venting one corner. Microwave 3-4 minutes, turning dish after 2 minutes; drain. Top with cheese sauce. Microwave 1 ½ minutes.

Celery can be stored in the refrigerator in an airtight container for several weeks, making it one of the season's most versatile veggies for cooking and snacking. Crisp celery sticks spread with your favorite flavored cheese spread add eye and texture appeal to an assortment of post-holiday appetizers or a brown bag lunch. For a hearty main dish, pair sliced celery with the pork cubes reserved from the Thanksgiving roast.

Slow, gentle simmering in spice-sweet French dressing adds extra flavor to pork cubes and winter vegetables in Harvest Pork Stew. Convenient pourable salad dressings are flavorful braising liquids for lean-tender meats and poultry. The Kraft Kitchens recommend serving this satisfying one-dish meal with crusty French bread and a simple fruit and cheese desert.

HARVEST PORK STEW

¾ lb. boneless pork loin roast, cubed
2 tablespoons flour
¼ cup French dressing
1 cup water
2 carrots, cut into thin sticks
1 small onion, sliced
1 small potato, peeled, cubed
½ cup celery slices
¼ teaspoon pepper
Coat meat with flour. Brown in 2 tablespoons dressing in large saucepan over low heat; add remaining dressing and water. Cover; simmer 1 hour. Add remaining ingredients. Cover; continue simmering 40 minutes or until meat and vegetables are tender, stirring occasionally.

CRANBERRY MALLOW SALAD

1 cup chopped apple
¼ cup miniature marshmallows
¼ cup celery slices
¼ cup whole berry cranberry sauce
Lettuce
Walnuts, toasted
Combine apple, marshmallows, celery and cranberry sauce; mix lightly. Chill several hours. Serve on lettuce-covered salad plates. Sprinkle with walnuts.
2 servings
Variation: Substitute cranberry orange sauce for whole berry cranberry sauce.
