SANFORD MARKET REPORT

Tuesday, March 12, 1940. Daily report of prices at Sanford State Farmers' Market to growers, currier, assemblers and other dealers for a 24 hour period ending at 5:30 P. M. today as reported by J. J. Lehman, manager, to the Federal-State Market News Service.

SAMPLE PRIMARY ELECTION BALLOT DEMOCRATIC PARTY TUESDAY, MAY 7, 1940. SEMINOLE COUNTY PRECINCT NUMBER

- FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS: Spessard L. Holland, Francis P. Whitehair. FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR: Spessard L. Holland, Francis P. Whitehair. FOR GOVERNOR: Spessard L. Holland, Francis P. Whitehair.

- FOR SHERIFF: B. C. Dodd, Geo. W. Gray, C. M. Hand, J. F. McClelland. FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION: T. W. Lawton. FOR SUPERVISOR OF REGISTRATION: O. J. Pope, D. L. Thrasher.

Easter, 1940, goes very Spring-like with this refreshing appetizer for the dinner.

Like coffee there is no real tea. Germans are drinking "tea" made out of dried apple, peppermint and strawberry leaves.

The German, who always has been an enormous meat eater, is now allowed 500 grams about the size of five American hamburgers—of meat weekly.

The country still rations butter at the rate of one-quarter pound per person weekly.

One is supposed to have a hot bath on Saturday and Sunday but one is sometimes cheated.

Drowsy Insides Get Pleasant Awakening. This pleasant way to relieve constipation and its attendant headaches had been combined two important features.

Registration officials throughout the state report that many people are not aware of the fact that it is no longer necessary to pay a poll tax in order to vote.

For a glamorous Easter dessert try FROZEN SURPRISE. This recipe is for this easy to make, yet individual sponge cakes (hollowed out of course) with whipped cream that has been flavored with orange.

President P. P. Campbell, Secretary Ralph Bagwell and the directors and membership of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce were roundly praised for the achievements of the past year by Harold Colee of Jacksonville, vice president and general manager of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, and Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce, at the annual "kick off" dinner of the local trade body held at the Valdes Hotel last night.

An enthusiastic gathering of approximately 80 country club members heard Mr. Colee describe the achievements of the past year and Mr. Lehmann describe the achievements of the past year. ### Florida Wants More Industries And Capital, Speaker Says

Business in Florida today is from 10 to 100 percent better than at this same time last year despite the recent freeze, said Harold Colee, vice president and general manager of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce last night, in pointing out that Florida now has many diversified industries and cannot be injured so much by the failure of any one of them.

Calling attention to the three "pitfalls" which played an important part in the development of Florida—Henry Flagler, Henry Plant, and Henry Starnford—Mr. Colee remarked that Sanford has come a long way since that pioneer day in 1871 when the former minister to Belgium bought 12,000 acres of grove land at Belair. "Today this area is the winter colony kingdom of the United States and Sanford is known the world over for this tasty, healthful product."

"But the men and women of Sanford and Seminole County, the men and women of Florida, yet have so much work to do," Mr. Colee continued. "Our state is Florida's 'East Frontier.' We have natural resources as yet barely tapped. We have treasures of land, sea, mine and soil that await the coming of capital and enterprise for development and profitable production. Florida has slides to be built, roads to construct, forests to plant, waterways to develop, domestic and foreign trade to be increased."

"Florida needs and wants increased population. Florida has millions of idle, unimproved acres to be developed and brought into profitable production. Florida has slides to be built, roads to construct, forests to plant, waterways to develop, domestic and foreign trade to be increased."

Encouragement of intelligent, aggressive and serviceable citizenship is one of the principal objectives of Kiwanis International during the current year and there is no better means of attaining this objective in Sanford and Seminole County than by supporting the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Florida district of Kiwanis International and secretary of the Lake County Kiwanis Club at its weekly luncheon in the Valdes Hotel today.

"Follow in Kiwanis have community responsibilities," he declared, adding that one of the best ways in which to discharge community obligations is by supporting the Chamber of Commerce. "It is the one organization in which all can have a part," the speaker said.

"The services in the past year you have provided for the city are many," he said. "You have helped in the building of the city, you have helped in the building of the city, you have helped in the building of the city."

Military Group To Probe Sale Of U. S. Planes

Secretary Woodring To Be Called To Testify On Administration Policy

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—(AP)—The house military subcommittee decided today to "look into" the administration's policy on the release of military planes and munitions for sale to foreign powers, and asked Secretary Woodring to testify as the first witness tomorrow.

Icuis Johnson, assistant Secretary of War, voiced opposition meanwhile to any sidetracking of the Army-Navy aircraft orders for those of France and Britain and told reporters no new type planes were intended for the country's armed forces should be sold abroad.

He added he knew of no Anglo-French proposals to set aside army orders to speed up delivery of planes to the Allies. He hints that the Army has a new pursuit ship which outdoes the present 490 M. P. H. fighter failed to stop congressional complaints about the sale of planes abroad.

Arrangements for services each morning at 7:30 o'clock during the holy week were completed at a meeting of the Sanford Ministerial Association on Monday. A group of long ministers is being obtained to speak at each of those services and a program of appropriate music has been planned in observance of the last days of Jesus on earth. Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem will be commemorated with special services at all of the churches on Sunday. It was pointed out.

Urging the public to attend these meetings, the ministers said that all of the services will be held in the Congregational Church. The schedule of speakers for the week is as follows: Monday, Dr. Fred Turner, pastor of the Methodist Church in Orlando; Tuesday, Dr. Irving Stover of Stetson University in DeLand; Wednesday, Dr. Lindsay E. McNair of Orlando; Thursday, Bishop Frederick D. Leete of the Diocese of Florida; Friday, Dr. Victor B. Chicone of Winter Park.

The services will close in time for business men, students, teachers, and others to take part, those in charge stated.

WPA Hospital Project Gets Board's Okey

Engineer Is Authorized To Prepare Application For Modern Institution

The immediate preparation of a WPA project for the construction of a Seminole County Hospital was authorized on a motion made by Commissioner P. A. Tyson, seconded by Commissioner W. G. Kilbee and endorsed by all members of the Board of County Commissioners at a special meeting in the Court House last night.

The tentative proposal, as submitted at a joint meeting of the City and County Commissions last night, will include the Seminole County Medical Society, provides for submission to the Works Projects Administration the same plans and specifications for the hospital included in the $127,000 project submitted by the Board over a year ago to the Public Works Administration with the exception that architectural consideration will be used in construction instead of structural brick provided under the original plan.

As proposed the County's share of the project would be financed through the $70,000 bond issue endorsed by the freeholders of Seminole County in the general election in 1938 by a four to one majority.

Last night's meeting was the first step toward securing an up-to-date and modern equipped hospital for the county since the Board has authorized the engineer to prepare the application for WPA assistance.

Such a project has been considered by the Board for some time and due consideration was given the effect of the proposal on the County's finances. Chairman W. B. Ballard pointed out at last night's meeting that the County's finances are in good condition now and "we don't want to do anything which will embarrass our financial condition."

The bill authorizing the bond issue provides for a levy not to exceed two mills for the retirement of the bonds in the event the revenues from the instant tax are not sufficient to meet the obligations. The bonds cannot be sold below par.

End Of Russo-Finnish War Seen As Indirect Defeat For Allies

LONDON, Mar. 12.—(AP)—The end of the Russo-Finnish war is an indirect defeat for Britain and France. It probably will bring into play new factors which may have the most important effect on the war between the Allies and Germany. Berlin and Moscow will consider it a major victory.

Paris and London must find some formula which will enable them to assert that it is not a catastrophe. To conservative students of the European situation, scores of them have expressed their opinions on this correspondent during the past few days, these conclusions stand out:

1. The Russo-Finnish settlement is a definite blow to the prestige of the Allies in the Scandinavian nations and the Balkans. It brings, to some extent at least, all the Scandinavian nations into the Russian orbit. It probably will weaken Turkey's allegiance to Britain and France. It complicates the situation in Rumania, where King Carol has been resisting German efforts to obtain a definite economic domination of his country.

2. The settlement should improve Germany's economic outlook and hence her chance of defeating the British-French "blockade war." Germany's strategy is independent to an extent on her ability to obtain food, raw materials, oil and other products from Russia. An end of the Russo-Finnish conflict, which has been absorbing most of Russia's production, will release these supplies to Germany. Finland and the Scandinavian nations, too, now will be increasingly open to German trade. Germany's continued access to the vital Swedish iron mines would seem assured. Transportation lines which have been tied up by the Russo-Finnish conflict again will be available to the Germans and men who have been employed on the Russo-Finnish fighting fronts may be released to aid in Spring plant-

Conflict Ends On 105th Day Of Bitter War

Treaty Signed At Moscow Gives Reds More Than Asked Before War Began

Scandinavia And Allies Are Blamed

By Associated Press
Pence on Russia's terms today ended the Finnish-Russian war as fighting stopped at 4:00 A. M. (EST) on the 105th day of bitter northern warfare in accordance with a treaty signed in Moscow yielding to Russia even more than she demanded before the war started Nov. 30.

Finland gave up large slices of strategic territory, and made a sweeping economic concession by pact. The Finns blamed the capitulation on failure of Britain and France to send sufficient aid, saying they had "no faith in the promises of others," and on refusal of Norway and Sweden to permit passage of foreign troops. German yaws jubilation, counting the minutes as their own diplomatic victory.

The gloomy Allies, fearful that the peace of Finland might free Germany to give Germany at least economic assistance, urged themselves for trouble in the Balkans or a military blow on the Western Front. Britain's former war secretary Horne-Belisha in the House of Commons attacked the government's failure to send Finland men on a "purely technical" absence of appeal for troops. Scandinavia, relieved that the threat of war spreading to its territory had been removed at least for the present, counted the peace to be still but not unbearable considering the hopelessness of Finland's fight alone.

Estimated damage to Shreveport alone was $1,000,000. Five hundred Shreveport homes were damaged. National guardsmen were called out immediately to prevent looting of homes. They were joined by C. C. volunteers in search for victims.

Another Munich?

We suppose we should rejoice that the war in Finland which has brought so much bloodshed, destruction, and suffering to our friends the Finns is over, but we cannot overlook the reports that all the rejoicing comes from Moscow, Berlin, and the capitals of other aggressor nations. There is no rejoicing in Finland, and not much in England and France, where the treaty signed yesterday is generally regarded as a diplomatic defeat for forces of law and order.

One can hardly blame the Finns for giving in. They have been waging a hopeless battle for over three months, a nation of 3,000,000 souls pitted against 180,000,000 people. Their little army, outnumbered ten to one, fought bravely and brilliantly from beginning to end, and despite the odds against them, won most of their battles, but they could not win the war because the Russians had more men than the Finns had bullets, and the aid which had been promised them was late in arriving.

One can hardly blame the British and French for they had a war of their own on their hands against a nation famed throughout all history for the power and strength of its armies. And though the Allies were willing to send soldiers to aid the Finns, they could not get them there without crossing Norway and Sweden which could give no such permission without risking attack by the Germans.

Only France and England today are fighting the nations which would revert to the brutality and the tyranny of the Middle Ages. Germany, Russia, Italy and Japan are all in the ranks of the aggressors and the oppressors. A dozen smaller nations have already been subjected or subdued by them. The task of Britain and France has been made increasingly difficult by the fall of each one of them.

Rising Debts

Insisting that someone's reckoning is out of balance, the Bradenton Herald shows in a recent editorial that the combined debts of the cities, counties and states during the last few years have not declined, as the federal debt increased, but have themselves been on the increase also.

"The statement made by President Roosevelt some time ago that the vast increase in the national debt since 1932 was more than offset by decreases in indebtedness on the part of the nation as a whole, including debts of individuals," says the Bradenton paper, "is rather disputed by the Annalist, at least so far as indebtedness of states, counties and municipalities go."

"First pointing out that the national debt rose in the seven years from $19,487,009,766 to $40,439,632,411 (not counting the government-guaranteed debt which on June 30, 1939, amounted to $5,469,691,592), the Annalist goes on to say that in the same period total state and local debts rose from $19,330,000,000 to $19,626,000,000. On this showing the total of federal, state and local indebtedness actually increased by $21,249,000,000."

Francis Whitehair Strikes Blow For Law Enforcement

DELAND, Mar. 13.—Francis P. Whitehair, aggressive 39-year-old candidate for governor who is figured at the top of the heap by practically every political prognosticator in the state, this week struck lusty blows for better schools and control of law enforcement in the hands of local authorities.

In West Palm Beach Whitehair said the school teachers of Florida are paid the pitifully small average salary of $70 a month.

"Somewhere in the hustle and bustle of pioneering our great state we have forgotten that education for democracy is the backbone of America. Education for democracy is our first line of defense against the dictatorship of Europe and all the 'isms' which are constantly sipping at our body politics."

"America's future, Florida's future, depend largely upon our free public school system where our children and our children's children are taught the principles of democracy."

Mr. Whitehair said he had a great love for Florida's public school system "because I was a poor boy myself and would have been denied the opportunity of an education equally as good as the education of a wealthier boy was able to obtain if it had not been for our free schools."

"Free public schools enable all our boys and girls to develop the full power of the brain which they were born with. Florida's school standard is low and something must be done about it. Our teachers and our children are being denied the opportunity of an education equally as good as the education of a wealthier boy was able to obtain if it had not been for our free schools."
