U.S. Grain To Russia To Cost $80 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—American grain going to the Soviet Union this year will cost U.S. taxpayers about $80 million in subsidies for ship operators and workers, according to government estimates.

Sham Tank Battle Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)—A forthcoming competition between a U.S. tank and West Germany's Leopard II to become America's tank of the future may prove to be a sham battle because U.S. officials already lean toward the Leopard.

The Pentagon promised to give the German tank a fair shot at the prize—a planned U.S. purchase of 3,312 new tanks for nearly $4 billion. But key U.S. officials are inclined toward U.S. tank entries even before the U.S.-German competition begins late this year.

Russian, Israeli Secrets Bared

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senior CIA officials estimate Israel has between 10 to 20 nuclear weapons and say the Russian space program is a "shambles," according to the Washington Post.

Ford Attacks Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford today accused the Democratic-controlled Congress of threatening the nation's cities with disaster by failing to approve an extension of the revenue-sharing program.

Survivors May Know Killer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—One of two surviving members of the AM family says he has given police his ideas about the slaying of five members of the family and a friend. A cousin added that they have an idea who was responsible.

"We think we know who may have done it," said Roger King, 26, a cousin of Michael AM, 20. Michael AM said he gave police his ideas about the case and predicted "things will become lively" today.

Busby Berkeley Dies

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Dance director Busby Berkeley, whose penchant for masquerading beautiful chorine girls in scant costumes produced some of Hollywood's most elaborate musical motion pictures, has died here at 80.

Berkeley directed a slew of musical films which featured extravagantly choreographed dance numbers. He personally wrote and rode herd on most of the dance scenes, and movies such as "Gold Diggers of 1933" and other "Gold Diggers" films, "42nd Street," "Footlight Parade," "Ziegfeld Girl," "Broadway Serenade" and "For Me and My Gal," became classics of their time.

D.C. Amendment Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is taking up the question of whether the Constitution should be amended to give the District of Columbia two senators and a share of representatives in the House.

The House is scheduled Tuesday to take up the amendment, proposed by the District's nonvoting delegate, Walter E. Fauntroy.

Union Protests Clause

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A union that has closed 12 of its 200 member Las Vegas Strip hotel-casinos says a lockout provision in a management proposal must be eliminated before talks can resume.

A fruitless meeting Sunday between negotiators for the 200-member Olinery Workers Union and hotel operators added to the feeling here that the walkout, now four days old, could last a long time.

Lake Mary Gets Small Land Offer

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY—Developers of the Interstate Industrial Park in the city have offered to donate a parcel of land and a 12-inch well to the city. Councilman Martin Bacon Sr. announced today, releasing a letter from developers Gordon M. Schaaf and R.J. Hubert of Kensington, Maryland making the offer.

The letter, signed by both developers, notes that the development of the industrial park is to continue this year. The written commitments say the developer would donate to the city a 50 feet by 70 feet section of land at the southwest corner of Lot 21 for a well to provide potable water.

"Drill a 12-inch well on this lot and donate this well to the city. The pump and any additional water treatment facilities would be the responsibility of the city."

The developers in exchange are requesting permission to install septic tanks and use septic tanks until city sewer is available.

The developers added that it is their intention to install approved roads, water distribution lines and sewer lines throughout the property. The sewer lines would extend to Rhinehart Road and be available for connection by the city whenever the city service was installed to the property.

The water lines would run from the well to each proposed lot and would include fire hydrants. Bacon, angry at hints leveled at a special council meeting last Friday that he was deliberately boycotting the meeting which adjourned 55 minutes after the scheduled beginning due to lack of a quorum, said today he took the mayor on Thursday he would not attend.

Bacon said on Friday he agreed to attend if only the proposed donation of a well and lot were to be discussed.

The councilman said in conversations with the developers of the Interstate Industrial Park he was told they would consider giving the city a different site if desired and constructing a building at the site for the city as well.

Bacon said he asked Mayor Walter Sororson to delay the meeting, called to consider an "ultimatum" from the City of Sanford to sign a contract for the purchase of bulk water by today or face withdrawal of the proposal.

The purchase of water from Sanford is part of a project to be funded by a federal loan of $54,000 from the U.S. Farmers Home Administration, to update, expand and increase water pressure for firefighting purposes of the Lake Mary water system.

Bacon said he requested the delay because Council member DeLore Lash has been ill with the flu while Councilman Bert Perinich has been in Atlantic City at a conference. He said he believed the project so important that all five members of the board should be present.

"I asked the mayor to request Sanford City Manager W.E. Knowles to extend the deadline for the contract," Bacon said.

Lake Mary, on Feb. 25, received a letter signed by Knowles notifying that the contract to supply water would be null and void if not signed.

Winter Springs Sets Personnel Workshop

WINTER SPRINGS—A workshop will be held at 7:30 p.m. today, prior to the regular city council session, to consider another personnel regulations proposal after a previous city council session was adjourned.

At the February 23 meeting, Councilman Donald Browning, who for several weeks had opposed a proposed ordinance prepared by a Hunter's committee working with City Attorney Gary Massey, submitted a 47-page copy of employee personnel regulations developed for the City of Melbourne.

Hunter had requested a three-week delay before considering the document, which Browning obtained from a Melbourne city employee.

"I'm not against the program, but we are starting all over again with a new concept and I want to take time to read it," Hunter explained.

Patrolman Lewis Coombs said Kinnaird was also cited for improper lane change, no valid inspection and driving on the wrong side of the road.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Attempts To Plug Nuclear Power Plant Leaks Futile

MIAMI (AP)—Attempts to plug leaks in pits storing used radioactive fuel at Florida Power & Light Co.'s Turkey Point power plant have been unsuccessful, say officials from the company and the Nuclear Energy Commission.

The "spent fuel" pits at the plant have been leaking for two years, but the release of radiation have been small and pose no threat to the public or to plant workers, company officials told The Miami Herald.

Officials said that efforts to plug the flow of radioactive water from the leaks have been hampered by intense radioactivity inside the pits that makes it impossible for people to work inside them.

Deputy, Gunman Killed

FORT MYERS (AP)—A shootout between police and two armed men during an attempted robbery at a service car company left a deputy and one gunman dead and a hostage and three others wounded, police say.

"There was plenty of shooting," Lee County Sheriff Frank Wanick said. "The gunman knew what they were doing, but they weren't good enough."

Deputy Mike Yabl, 24, who had been on the force 2 1/2 years, was killed during the Saturday gun fight at the Purulor Security Company.

The other victim was Frank S. Yorkzaka Jr., alias Frank S. York, 39, unemployed and from Naples. His brother, Myron D. Shemak, 38, of Key Largo, was reported in critical condition with gunshot wounds, police said. Both moved to Florida from Mount Carmel, Pa.

Kiser Raps Petition Drive

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A legislator says it's wrong to collect petition signatures at polling places as Gov. Reubin Askew did when he got 78,000 signatures for his Sunshine Amendment during the primary election.

Rep. Curtis Kiser, R-Dunedin, said Askew's action will set a precedent for advocates of other causes.

"I think this is going to open the floodgates to every cause under the sun—abortion, prayer in schools, busing, legalization of marijuana and legalization of prostitution," Kiser said.

Four Satellites Launched

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—Two nuclear-powered Air Force communications satellites designed to foil enemy sabotage attempts have been successfully launched into space along with two Navy satellites, officials say.

Technicians at the Kennedy Space Center Cape Canaveral said the four military satellites blasted off on time Sunday night aboard a powerful Air Force Titan 3C rocket.

The twin 1,000-pound Air Force satellites were headed today for stationary orbits 22,000 miles from earth. The 400-pound Navy satellites, designed to monitor solar flares, were headed for circular orbits about 75,000 miles from earth on opposite sides of the globe.

Bosch On Hunger Strike

MIAMI (AP)—Orlando Bosch, a fugitive Cuban exile who claims he is the leader of an international terrorist war against the Fidel Castro regime, says he is on a hunger strike in his Costa Rica jail cell.

Bosch, who served four years in a federal prison for anti-Castro sabotage in the Miami area in the late 1950s, was arrested in San Jose, Costa Rica, Feb. 19 on a charge of entering the country illegally.

In a letter to news media in Miami from his jail cell in Cartago, Costa Rica, Bosch said his hunger strike was to protest his treatment by officials in that Central American nation.

Gunter Opens Campaign

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Though formally opening his campaign today, former congressman Bill Gunter has been registered since December for the Democratic nomination for treasurer-insurance commissioner.

DISCUSSING PROBLEMS

Gunter's campaign notice for the only Cabinet seat open this year is among a big stack of registrations for several offices already on file with the Elections Division.

The Cabinet seat is open at midterm because of Thomas O'Malley's resignation last July as part of a plea-bargained agreement to drop an impeachment move and most criminal charges against him.

MIAMI (AP)—Senate Education Chairman Robert Graham says the state should be paying more money for schools, not trying to avoid a commitment to pay a bigger share.

Graham, D-Miami, added his voice Sunday to lawmakers and teacher union leaders attacking Gov. Reubin Askew's plan to hike school tax rates on the local level.

The plan to raise the tax rate from a minimum 6.3 to 7 mills or $7 per $1,000 assessed property value, was revealed last week as part of Askew's recommended budget.

MIAMI (AP)—State planners say marshes should be created on state-owned hunting lands and private acreage to store polluted water and keep it out of Lake Okechobee.

Officials told an environmental group here Sunday that failure to take action could ruin the vast underground aquifer that supplies the fresh drinking water for heavily populated South Florida.

"Not only do we now know what a horror story that would be, but we know how to prevent it," said Curry Hutchinson of the state Division of Planning.

L. Munson's Beauty Is Only Skin Deep

By JOHN VAN GIESON Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The morning mist shrouding Lake Munson slowly lifts to reveal the rich textures of a natural paradise. Snowy white egrets perch on the upper branches of tapering cypress trees draped with beads of Spanish moss.

Ducks paddle lazily across the placid greenish-black water. Fishermen sit solemnly on the spitway at the south end of the lake, their cane poles bobbing to the occasional tug of a trout and shellcracker.

But the idyllic scene of pristine beauty is illusory. The 264-acre lake five miles south of the center of Florida's bustling capital city is dying.

A river of refuse flows into the lake, bearing a with a brew of sewage effluent, lawn fertilizer, dog droppings and assorted leavings of an affluent society.

A closer look reveals a tawdry ring of green sump, castoff tires, plastic wrappings and wine, whiskey and beer bottles which rim the lake. The wastes of a growing urban area with 120,000 residents are burying Lake Munson in an ooze of slime.

"At one time that lake was clear enough you could see the bottom anywhere in it," said Truman Moore, retired bait-shop owner who moved to the area in 1933. "You can't see anything now. It's a regular sewer."

Moore and his neighbors have organized to fight the pollution of Lake Munson, but they face a bewildering array of problems.

Glen Carter, co-owner of a drapery store who built his spacious home on the south shore of the lake, accused city, state and federal officials of bureaucratic apathy to repeated calls over many years to save the lake.

"They haven't done us right," he said. "We're the people on the other end of the block, across the tracks, so to speak."

Pollution flows down a slough into Lake Munson from two primary sources: A nearby city sewage treatment plant and a network of ditches draining into the spitway at the south end of the lake, their cane poles bobbing to the occasional tug of a trout and shellcracker.

Even if the city fits together the pieces of the airport irrigation system puzzle, Lake Munson will continue to receive a killing load of materials from the city drainage system, officials said.

"If we completely remove—and these people must understand this—all the sewage effluent from the lake, they wouldn't see any dramatic improvement in the water quality of the lake," Smith said.

Don Jensen, a state Department of Environmental Regulation official, said as much as 149 million gallons of water laden with an incredible variety of wastes cascades into the lake every time there's a heavy rain.

"We fed it to some cows at Florida A&M university and they found it was just as acceptable and digestible as any other forage crop," said Tom Smith, director of city underground utilities.

But the EPA rejected permanent use of that site on grounds it was too small, forcing the city to plan on using a 900-acre site at the municipal airport. Airport area residents, fearful of the pungent odors

Reclamation Law Out Of Date

The federal Reclamation Act of 1902 has been a great spur to the development of agriculture in the West.

A new dispute is flaring in California's San Joaquin Valley over the application of that 74-year-old law in this era of mechanized agriculture and corporate farms.

It is a judicial question whether the letter or the spirit of the Reclamation Act is being violated under any of these arrangements.

In Family Living Skill Book, for example, Scouts are shown how to inspect their home for such hazards as unlit pilot lights, trash and garbage unregularly stored, rats and roaches, poisons and drugs.

The list of merit badges also reflects the changing times. Among 10 new badges available to Scouts last year was one called "Consumer Buying."

It is a matter of principle it is easy to defend the 1902 act on grounds that a government-financed water project should not work to the benefit of a few large landowners.

The economics of large-scale farming operations are undeniable, and the enviable productivity of American agriculture owes much to the organization of "agri-business."

Where justice lies in the Westlands case is not easy to decide. Congress has a good reason, nevertheless, to question whether the equities which inspired all provisions of Reclamation Act in 1902 carry the same weight in the scale today.

The Other Message

A little wire service item out of Lincoln, Neb., the other day was designed, no doubt, to counter attacks on technology as wasteful of our resources.

A fluorescent lamp today, according to the release, produces 100 times more light than one of the kerosene lamps once commonly used in American homes.

But, the article went on, the amount of fuel required to generate electricity for the fluorescent lamp is no more than necessary for the old fashioned kerosene variety.

It's not that we're unappreciative of the benefits of technological achievement, but remembering our recent electric bills, we are more staggered by the sudden realization of what must have happened to the price of a gallon of kerosene.

Scouting Emphasis Altered

Like any other organization that wants to stay in business, the Boy Scouts of America has had to change with the times.

The current Scout Handbook is a drastic departure from the one that generations of older Americans knew, with less emphasis on wilderness lore and more on the problems of modern, everyday living.

In Family Living Skill Book, for example, Scouts are shown how to inspect their home for such hazards as unlit pilot lights, trash and garbage unregularly stored, rats and roaches, poisons and drugs.

The list of merit badges also reflects the changing times. Among 10 new badges available to Scouts last year was one called "Consumer Buying."

A new specialist who should take his place inside other top-level corporate officers is the "vice president, energy," argues William P. Chapman, president-elect of the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning Engineers.

Often, he points out, a company can substitute a modern machine for an old one and not only improve productivity but save energy.

By eliminating waste and making better use of existing resources, the "vice president, energy," would pay for his own annual salary very quickly, says Chapman. Not only that, but scientific energy management could save the U.S. up to 10 percent of its annual energy usage, he claims.

Or so warns an Indiana physician, who claims flabby that "for both men and women, jogging is one of the most wasteful and hazardous forms of exercise."

For one thing, says Dr. J.E. Schmidt, jogging can produce varicose veins. "With every step, with every thump of the foot, a column of blood several feet high pounds the veins of the legs like a battering ram," he writes in an article in Sports Magazine. Moreover, if clots or crusts are present in the vein, the impact may release them into the blood stream and cause them to be swept into the heart or lungs.

The same youngsters can also burst, or herniate, the spinal discs, as well as put strain on the arteries and veins leading to the heart in place.

In women, says Dr. Schmidt, jogging causes the breasts to droop prematurely and puts undue strain on the uterus.

Reagan Violated 11th Commandment

WASHINGTON — There's no doubt that Ronald Reagan made a respectable showing against a sitting Republican President in the early primaries both in New Hampshire and Florida. In the Sunshine State the President used his incumbency to its fullest, awarding prime government contracts to key local companies, promising to rebuild VA hospitals, and in one instance announcing the appointment of a prominent Republican conservative to a high Treasury Department post.

White House Wants To Cut C.D. Budget

WASHINGTON — In its complex effort to cut the cost of some other government, the Administration is proposing a quillotine slice in fiscal 1977 for the nation's civil defense agency.

At that, many in Washington feel the outlay is excessive. In a world where nations have accumulated at least 150 million megatons of deliverable nuclear destruction (the Hiroshima bomb was 0.13 megaton), the popular notion is that a civil defense against doomsday is impossible. Thus funds for C.D. are imprudent.

The stock market has undergone many regulatory and structural changes in recent years, but the biggest change of all has been this transference of power from individuals to institutions, common trust funds and mutual savings banks.

The $16 billion in stock held by the nonresident funds at the close of 1975 contrasts with the holdings of only $500 million in 1949. The $2.5 billion held by open-end investment companies, more commonly called mutual funds, contrasts with $1.4 billion in 1949.

The growth of institutional power has, of course, been at the expense of direct individual ownership, although both seemed to prosper until the great debacle of the late 1960s and the earlier years of this decade.

It should be noted that institutional ownership does not mean exclusion of individuals. It is individuals who make up the institutions. It is they, largely, who benefit from or are hurt by performance.

What has occurred, however, is the introduction of intermediaries between the individuals and the market place, intermediaries who make the decisions for the individuals.

White House Wants To Cut C.D. Budget

WASHINGTON — In its complex effort to cut the cost of some other government, the Administration is proposing a quillotine slice in fiscal 1977 for the nation's civil defense agency.

At that, many in Washington feel the outlay is excessive. In a world where nations have accumulated at least 150 million megatons of deliverable nuclear destruction (the Hiroshima bomb was 0.13 megaton), the popular notion is that a civil defense against doomsday is impossible. Thus funds for C.D. are imprudent.

The stock market has undergone many regulatory and structural changes in recent years, but the biggest change of all has been this transference of power from individuals to institutions, common trust funds and mutual savings banks.

The $16 billion in stock held by the nonresident funds at the close of 1975 contrasts with the holdings of only $500 million in 1949. The $2.5 billion held by open-end investment companies, more commonly called mutual funds, contrasts with $1.4 billion in 1949.

The growth of institutional power has, of course, been at the expense of direct individual ownership, although both seemed to prosper until the great debacle of the late 1960s and the earlier years of this decade.

It should be noted that institutional ownership does not mean exclusion of individuals. It is individuals who make up the institutions. It is they, largely, who benefit from or are hurt by performance.

What has occurred, however, is the introduction of intermediaries between the individuals and the market place, intermediaries who make the decisions for the individuals.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Soviet Union Suffers Setback In Middle East

CAIRO (AP) — The Soviet Union has suffered another setback in the Middle East with President Anwar Sadat's announcement that he is leaving the 1971 Soviet-Egyptian treaty of friendship and cooperation.

Amid the political turmoil and continuing fragmentation of government and military authority, the civil war between leftist Moslem and rightwing Christian factions appeared to be resuming. Gunmen fought a mortar and rocket duel in Beirut's fire-blackened hotel district, and police said 30 persons were killed and 48 were wounded in scattered fighting in Beirut and northern Lebanon during the past 24 hours.

More Fighting In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Moslem and Christian gunmen fought mortar and rocket duels in Beirut and northern Lebanon today as President Suleiman Franjeh and his opponents waged a war of words.

Hearst Trial Resumes Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Government rebuttal testimony in Patricia Hearst's bank robbery trial was expected to resume today when Miss Hearst, newly recovered from a bout with the flu, returns to court.

"Every indication is she will be in court Monday," defense attorney Albert Johnson said Sunday. "She told me she's improved, although she still has some aching and congestion."

Court sessions were canceled last Thursday and Friday when the 22-year-old newspaper heiress fell ill and was returned to her San Mateo County Jail cell to recuperate.

Dr. Harry Kozol, a Boston psychiatrist who interviewed Miss Hearst for the prosecution, was on the stand last week and is expected to continue testifying today as the trial enters its eighth, and perhaps final, week.

Kozol's controversial Jan. 7 examination of Miss Hearst was the subject of a three-day pretrial hearing. The defense tried to prevent further examination by the psychiatrist, whom Miss Hearst said had bullied her to hysterical tears with accusing questions.

However, Kozol disputed virtually all her contentions, and U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter ordered Miss Hearst to submit to further examination by Kozol.

Since last week, Miss Hearst's physical condition has become nearly as much an issue as her mental condition because it has slowed down her already protracted trial.

Just officials reported Saturday and Sunday that Miss Hearst was improved and said she was resting comfortably without fever.

But Johnson said Sunday that Miss Hearst is "a rundown person" and she was rundown before the trial, and she's more rundown now. She weighed herself the other day and it was down 92 pounds.

The Boston attorney said it is unlikely Miss Hearst will be called to the witness stand during defense rebuttal. But he said it hasn't been decided whether her parents — Randolph A. Hearst, president of the San Francisco Examiner, and Catherine Hearst, a University of California regent — will be called.

FBI Investigating Callaway

DENVER (AP) — The FBI has begun investigating the proposed expansion of a Colorado ski area controlled by Howard "Bo" Callaway.

U.S. Atty. James L. Trece says the investigation when an agent related to federal prosecutors a report that a bribe might have been paid. A newsman says the report originated with an anonymous caller that $25,000 had been paid.

Callaway told a voluntary leave of absence from his post as President Ford's campaign manager over the weekend last week.

On Sunday, Simon Tullai, assistant agent-in-charge of the Denver FBI office, confirmed that the FBI was investigating the case but refused further comment. "We were told back at headquarters to refer questions to the U.S. attorney's office," Tullai said.

Callaway said he is confident there has been no impropriety. He said he was asked to be relieved because he feels Ford's reputation of openness, honesty and integrity makes it important to the extra mile.

Kuhn's Foot Down, Baseball Will Open

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) — Commissioner Bowie Kuhn is expected to step in today and order the opening of baseball's spring training camps while negotiations continue between club owners and the Players Association over a new labor contract.

"I can't offer you a hard date, whether it is Monday or Tuesday, but we will have baseball and on time," Kuhn said Sunday in a surprise appearance at the hotel where negotiations are taking place. Despite Kuhn's optimism, the negotiators issued four reports at the end of the 29th negotiating session.

"We're a long way from having the key to the padlock," said John Gaherin, the chief negotiator for the owners.

"There is no drastic change at all," said Gaherin. "We're still confronted with many problems."

Marvin Miller, executive director of the Players Association, agreed with Gaherin. Miller indicated, however, that the owners were stalling until a specific time, and then would break the impasse.

A management source told

The Associated Press that the owners' deadline was Monday, probably before nightfall. That would give the players three weeks to get ready for the April 6 opening.

Kuhn was asked about the Monday deadline and replied: "I hope so ... But there is a difference of opinion among owners on how much time is needed for preparations."

The commissioner has the power to open the camps for the best interest of baseball. The league presidents, Chub Feeney of the National and Lee Macphail of the American, also could issue the order if they felt enough progress was being made at the negotiating table.

The thorny problem of the reserve clause still confronted the negotiators. The owners want a player tied to a club — unless traded, sold or released — for nine years. The Players Association is willing to settle for a six-year reserve clause. The players, under an arbitrator's decision subsequently upheld by two federal courts, legally could become free agents in two years under the controversial one-and-one option ruling.

Kuhn, however, took the play away from the tense negotiating scene. Casually attired in a yellow sport shirt and red sweater, he indicated that he came to Florida to help break the impasse.

Edgewater On Title Cloud

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — "It's still exciting," veteran coach Johnnie Williams said, reflecting on the way his Baby Bantlers pulled off Malone 85-72 for the title Saturday.

"But the thing that's rewarding this year is that these kids love basketball and we have depth."

Williams noted that Ronald Lang rose to a peak in the state tournament — reflected in his unanimous selection by writers and broadcasters to the Class A all-roster team.

Malone's swift 5-foot-9 Edward McKay also was unanimous. James Bozeman and Carl Grant of Malone and Carl Johnson of St. Augustine St. Joseph rounded off the all-star team.

Honorable mention went to Kenneth Jackson of A&M and Nivaldo Roman of Coral Gables Deerbone.

Clearwater Catholic's Class 2-A champs placed sharpshooter Tim Damiani and 6-foot-4 Bob Dolan on the all-tourney team. Speedy Curt Garrett, a sophomore who almost drove Blountstown to the title before losing 59-56 in the final game, was chosen along with Wilmore Fowler of Palmetto and Vince Campbell of Alachua Santa Fe.

Hubby Chason of Blountstown and Bruce Sheppard and Cleve Hardwick of Santa Fe won honorable mention.

Tallahassee Ricard's path to the Class 3-A crown, right through a 71-60 championship victory over Titusville Astor-naut, was greeted by a pair of cousins, Terry Sermon and Rodney Sermon. Both were unanimous all-tourney selections.

Others were Candy Marshall and Chris Collinsworth of Astor-naut and freshman Anthony Carter of Riviera Beach Suncoast.

Honorable mention went to Mike DeVoss of Astronut, Michael Williams of Ricard's, and Mark Flom and Joseph Magadan of Tampa Jess.

Big school Class 4-A champions Orlin Edgewater showed their dominance in whipping Miami Gables 85-65 for the title and in placing three players on the all-tournament team.

Dion Rainey, 6-foot-5 high leaper who got 19 points and 13 rebounds in the championship game, was selected from Edgewater along with play-making 6-foot guard Mike Gorman and 6-foot-6 offensive end Steve Clint Curtis.

Richard Harris, a defensive 6-foot-4 sparkplug from Jackson, and 6-foot-4 Joe Childers of Tallahassee Leon were other selections.

Honorable mention went to Mike Muller of Edgewater, Michael Hudson of Jackson, and Reggie Buchanan and Mark Bulr of Bradenton Manatee.

Sanford Racers Lose In 'Gator'

GAINESVILLE — Chalk up the weekend as a wipeout for Sanford race drivers Johnny Brown and Randy Harrison and their bid to gain championships in the GatorNats.

Brown blew an engine in his first run, and Harrison lost in the first heat.

Meanwhile, Don Prudhomme has become the top winner in National Hot Rod Association history by capturing funny car competition for the third year in a row.

Sunday's victory gave the Grenada Hills, Calif., competitor 16 career titles in NHRA competition.

James Warren reached a speed of 236.22 miles per hour to claim top honors. Warren, 38, of Bakersfield, Calif., beat Jim Bucher of West Chester, Ohio, in the finals to earn approximately $12,000 in prize money.

A crowd of 56,200 watched the four days of competition.

Raiders Stopped By 9-0

Seminole Community College played its best match of the season Saturday night and 9-0.

Not that the Raiders are anything to sneeze about. They are about the best junior college team in the state.

Saturday night's loss was to one of the premiere university teams in the nation — Kentucky.

"We played our best tennis, and even though we lost, we are happy to be able to get that level of competition," said coach Larry Cade this morning. "The day before, Kentucky beat FSU by 9-0. So we were again some strong players."

Earlier in the day Saturday, Seminole bested Edison Community College of Fort Myers, 7-0, in a match which was little more than a warmup for Kentucky.

Seminole is 8-2 overall, 7-0 against junior colleges. The Raiders go to the Orlando Tuesday afternoon for Division II action against Valencia.

His Steering Damaged, Cale Still Wins Southeastern 500

BRISTOL, Tenn. (AP)—Despite damage to the steering of his Chevrolet, Cale Yarborough coasted to his first Grand National victory of the 1976 season in the Southeastern 500 here Sunday.

"My only problem was when I cut a tire down the front straightaway and hit the guard rail on the first turn," Yarborough said after collecting $11,419 for the first-place finish.

"I knocked my steering two inches off center, but the car continued to handle all right," he added. Yarborough finished more than a full lap ahead of Darrell Waltrip, also driving a Chevrolet, of Franklin, Tenn., after taking the lead on the 13rd lap around the half-mile oval.

"I was outmaneuvering Waltrip all day and I knew I had the lead and I didn't want to take any chances the last 100 laps," Yarborough said.

Telly's Pop Is Sniffing Mint Juleps

By The Associated Press — "We're going all the way, baby," says Telly Savalas. The colorful star of television's Kojak, a novice when it comes to thoroughbred racing, has a hot horse to go with his hit series. He's co-owner of Telly's Pop, one of the leading candidates for the Kentucky Derby.

Telly's Pop staked a claim to being the best 3-year-old in the West by winning Saturday's $100,000 California Derby at Golden Gate Fields. Afterwards, Savalas issued a warning to Kentucky Derby favorite Honest Bledsoe, generally rated the best in the East.

"They'll call him Honest Bledsoe," he said, looking to the West. "I know it was bound to happen sooner or later," he said of win No. 7,000. "I wasn't nervous about it. I think everyone else was anticipating this one more than I was."

Shoemaker, 44, won his first race nearly 37 years ago. Since then his horses have won more than $58 million. "I knew it was bound to happen sooner or later," he said of win No. 7,000. "I wasn't nervous about it. I think everyone else was anticipating this one more than I was."

Second Chance Or Last Chance?

MIAMI (AP) — Show horse Second Chance got his name four years ago when rancher Bonn Denmark nursed him back to life after he was found starving to death on a Dade County farm.

Now Mrs. Denmark is fighting to save the animal's life again — this time from a state Agriculture Department order that he be killed because he has Swamp Fever.

Mrs. Denmark says she's trying to force the state to change the department's rule that horses infected with the anemia-causing disease be either quarantined or killed.

Infectious horses must be identified with a tattoo mark inside the lip or on the neck, which Mrs. Denmark claims disfigures the animal.

Her horse was one of nine found starting on a farm four years ago. Second Chance recovered and won horse show prizes, but since the unfavorable diagnosis, he has been barred from competition.

Mrs. Denmark has hired lawyer Ellis Rubin to argue that the state to court and argue that Department of Agriculture tests for Swamp Fever are not conclusive or accurate.

"My Newspaper Carrier Is A Genius!" "I WAS ALMOST FRANTIC about my Grocery Bill last week. I could just picture myself fighting those crowds looking for the specials. I really dreaded getting started."

ONE AFTERNOON MY DOORBELL RANG. It was the neighborhood newspaper carrier. He invited me to become a regular subscriber. When I told him I was too busy to read the paper because of my busy schedule and trying to save on my shopping, he suggested that I check the ads in the paper each day and make my selection before I set out to shop.

I AGREED TO TRY THE PAPER, and he was right!!! In a few days I had found some wonderful values, I knew just where to go and what the items would cost. In addition, my grocery shopping time is much faster. I know where the best buys are.

I THINK MY NEWSPAPER CARRIER IS A GENIUS. You can be sure I'll never be "too busy" to read the paper again.

Sanford Won't Scrap Various Local Projects
If Revenue Sharing Program Ends

By AUDIE MURPHY
Herald Staff Writer
A possible cutoff of federal revenue sharing funds poses no real threat to the construction of Sanford's new city hall, nor other projects already under way.

Sanford will have received $1.4 million since the inception of the five-year program, officials said.
The City of Sanford won't arbitrarily abandon capital improvement projects in the event the revenue sharing program isn't extended, Mayor Lee P. Moore said today.

Sanford officials said it was doubtful that a revenue-sharing funds cut-off would require any immediate increase in ad-valorem taxes.
"Besides, I think an extension of the revenue-sharing program is going to pass," Moore said.

Commissioner Chairman Michael Hattaway said Neiswender is his top choice. However, Hattaway said he wanted to see what other commissioners had to say before the hiring of the new assistant is scheduled to come before the board.
