New Senate Probe Closely Resembles 'Five Per Center'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Senate investigation reminiscent of the "5 per center" probes conducted during the Truman administration is in the making.

Starting Wednesday, the Senate investigations subcommittee will hold public hearings in an inquiry described by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) over the weekend as involving "corruption" in clothing contracts for the armed forces.

He said the gift of at least one home freezer had been disclosed in testimony already taken behind closed doors, but he added, "It goes beyond that to actual cash payments."

Gifts of home freezers figured in a 1946 investigation the subcommittee made of influence peddlers and persons dealing with the government for private interests for a fee, often 5 per cent.

MANSLAUGHTER WARRANT WILL BE SOUGHT

DETROIT (AP)—A manslaughter warrant will be sought against a foster mother in the fatal spanking of a 4-year-old boy, police said yesterday.

An autopsy report said the boy, Robert Szabo, died of hemorrhages and shock following a "severe beating" on the buttocks, forearms and hands.

'Davy' Makes Visit With Small Fry During Weekend

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Davy Crockett, one of America's oldest yet newest heroes, came face to face with the small fry for the first time over the weekend.

It was quite an experience for both.

Fess Parker, 6-foot-5 Texan who plays the hero of the Alamo on television, was a surprise guest at a birthday party given by Mr. and Mrs. Red Skelton for their two children, Valentina, 8, and Richard, 7.

Mrs. Skelton had invited Parker. "It was the only way I could get Red to stay—tell him Davy Crockett was coming," she said.

Parker hadn't been in the house five minutes until Skelton had him autograph a mug upon which was inscribed: "Davy Crockett's mountain dew."

The lanky actor came dressed in his Crockett buckskins and brought along his musket and guitar and his sickle George Russell (Buddy Ebsen). Davy allowed as how it was his first appearance before a group of young-uns.

More than 30 kids, many of them children celebrities, clamored to shake the hand of Parker.

'Water Hyacinth' Prisoner Escapes From Broward Jail

FORT LAUDERDALE (AP)—John Honegger, who was playing the role of a water hyacinth when he was captured as a boat thief here last summer, has escaped from the Broward County Jail.

Sheriff Amos Hall reported that Honegger, a 28-year-old Miami, walked out Sunday morning while doing some painting in the jail.

He had pleaded guilty to the theft of some 30 boats and was awaiting sentence.

Honegger had a hyacinth tied to his head and was hiding in a patch of the flowers in a canal when he was arrested. He told police he had been in the water 15 hours. He looked like a prune after the long immersion.

An autopsy report said as a professional diver and said he wore a skin diver's outfit with a breathing apparatus while stealing the boats.

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP)—A 20-year-old heir to $3,400,000 was killed Sunday when his car crashed into a bridge 15 miles west of Junction City.

John W. Baughman II was killed half of his grandfather's estate, appraised at $3,400,000 last December. It was to be held in trust until he was 35. Four nieces and a nephew now may share in the $3,400,000.

Love, Understanding Wanted By Children, According To Judge

COUNTY JUDGE ERNEST HOUSHOLDER
He Seeks End To Juvenile Delinquency

If you want to keep your child from becoming a juvenile delinquent, give him or her plenty of love and understanding.

That's the advice of County Judge Ernest Housholder, whose dual role as juvenile judge makes it necessary for him to decide scores of difficult problems involving Seminole County youngsters.

Judge Housholder earlier this year made a speaking tour of county schools, during which he explained his juvenile program and familiarized students with juvenile court procedure. He now is planning a more extensive tour. Judge Housholder said he did not feel that the problems of juvenile delinquency "are increasing in our county except as they might be compared with increased population."

"Our program is working well," he said today, "except in a few cases where parents are more delinquent than children. In such cases we get very little help."

Although metropolitan newspapers constantly scream of increasing juvenile delinquency, Judge Housholder said he did not feel that the problems of juvenile delinquency "are increasing in our county except as they might be compared with increased population."

Judge Housholder said children between the ages of 14 and 17 are usually those who commit acts "that would be criminal if committed by adults." Children from 10 to 14 usually are only absent from school or are guilty of other infractions of the law, he said.

"During the past several months," Judge Housholder continued, "special attention has been given to truancy from school, and we have made marvelous progress in the situation."

Judge Housholder said it "would be impossible to say" what causes delinquency.

"For instance," he said, "during the past four weeks, I have had some 12 or 13 white boys before me. They were from 14 to 17 years of age. Some were charged with larceny, some with taking people's automobiles and using them, some with destroying public property, such as breaking out windows, and some with other infractions of the law."

"Talks with them did not disclose what brought about the violations. Talks with their parents and investigations of their home life disclosed they were children who were being raised in the normal American way by good parents who had a desire to do (Continued On Page Two)

RIFLE SHOTS BLAMED ON BOAT OPERATOR
PORT HURON, Mich. (AP)—A Marine City boat livery operator was held at St. Clair County Jail today, accused of firing rifle shots at a Canadian freighter steaming past his property on the St. Clair River.

Floyd B. Warwick, 45, was one of a number of riverfront residents who had complained that waves from fast-moving vessels had damaged their property.

Warwick denied he was the sniper who fired three shots at the freighter John E. F. Muner last Thursday.

Strolling In Sanford

Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, principal at Southside Primary School, urges that all parents bring children who start to school in Southside or Pine Crest next year for registration at her school before the end of May. "Many have turned out," she said, "but there are still quite a few who haven't."

Word has been received that Bonnie Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Anderson, has been chosen as assistant drum major for the Florida State University Band. Out of some 50 persons trying out Bonnie is a Freshman at the college and this is the first time that an assistant drum major has been chosen.

Cub Scouts Visit Sanford Herald

Nine Cub Scouts of Den number seven, Cub Pack 34 visited The Sanford Herald yesterday afternoon and watched with interest the process of getting out the paper. They saw the automatic linotype in operation receiving perforated streamers of paper tape which resembled the midtime player piano rolls; they saw the forms being prepared for the make-up which, when covered with ink lead, formed a cylinder of type that took its proper place, page by page, on the fast moving rotary press that turned out the finished paper.

All in all, it was an experience that the following cubbers will not soon forget: Carl Atkinson, Don and Gary Breckenridge, Robert Brooks, Huelan Grier, David Miller, Clark McGray, Tim Richards and J. C. Singletary. Den Mother, Mrs. Gus Miller was the chaperone.

Sources Say Reds Will Close Offices

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Russia apparently is not going to wait for ratification of the Austrian state treaty to begin withdrawing its occupation troops. Austrian sources say Soviet commanders in several towns have notified police that their headquarters will be closed in a day or two.

A U.S. Army spokesman said yesterday that no orders have been received to move out American troops in advance of ratification. The pact does not actually go into effect until ratification has been completed in the United States, France, Britain, Austria and America.

DeBary Methodists Have Organization

Organizing Ceremonies were held for the DeBary Methodist Church Sunday, 4 p. m.

Dr. Paul Fletcher, District Superintendent of the Orlando District of the Methodist Church, gave the organizing speech and a full church worship was carried out.

Minister will be the Rev. Leslie E. Lewis, a Lt. Commander at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station.

The 25 charter members of the church include: Mrs. Adam Blum, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Krug, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Neay, Mrs. Ethel P. Woods, Miss Beatrice Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coffin.

WIDOW IS NURSE
MANHASSET, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., widow of the son of President Theodore Roosevelt, is in North Shore Hospital here for general nursing the hospital said tonight. Her husband, a brigadier general, died of illness in Normandy during World War II.

Herold Heckenbach Is Elected Head Of Children's Committee

The Children's Committee of Seminole County, at its meeting May 17 elected officers for the coming year. They are: Herold Heckenbach, chairman; the Rev. H. L. Zimmerman, vice chairman; Marquette Graham, secretary.

Mrs. Margaret Golt, chairman of the committee which was appointed to make recommendations for the Castle Brewer Kindergarten, gave her report which suggested that some sponsoring organization be contacted, and that this organization set up standards for operating the nursery, and that the State Welfare department be contacted for commodities for lunches. The report also suggested sources for additional material and supplies. Mrs. John Wilson, Miss Joyce Hessel, and Mrs. Mabel Brown were other members of the committee.

Judge Housholder reported on the newly drafted juvenile Court bill, reading parts of it. The bill is supplemental to the older bill which is in force, and is intended to strengthen the original law. He also spoke of the fine relationship that his office has with the county commissioners. During the past month he and Mr. Jones,

Fishing Vessels Conflict

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—American fishing vessels today are engaged in a conflict over freedom of the seas.

Shots have been fired and one man, William Peck, 42, Seattle, Wash., seriously wounded. The conflict is over the claim of Peru, Ecuador and Chile to sovereignty for 200 miles off their shores. It is complicated by increasing competition from Japan for the U.S. consumer market.

The American tuna vessels have extended their range to reach virgin fishing areas south of the Equator. Some have moved their base of operations to South America.

Eight vessels flying the U. S. flag have been seized by Peru and Ecuador. Their owners have been fined a total of more than $85,000 to obtain release of the ships. The U. S. State Department has protested and Congress has reaffirmed this country's position that the sea's are free beyond three miles from shore.

Congress has also authorized reimbursement of the fines from the Federal Treasury and efforts to recover the amounts from the South American countries.

Grandmother Doss Enters Guilty Plea In Husband's Death

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—After pleading guilty yesterday to poisoning husband No. 1, Grandma Nannie Doss admonished her laughter not to worry because "I'm not worried."

The surprise plea, entered in District Court after the confessed poisoner of four husbands was visited by the daughter, reversed her earlier plea of innocent.

The daughter, Mrs. Melvina Hedrick, born of Mrs. Doss' first marriage to Charles Bragg, told a newsmen her visit from Lexington, N.C., had nothing to do with her mother's sudden decision to tell the court she was guilty of killing Samuel Doss, 36, with rat poison.

Mrs. Doss, who had been scheduled for trial next month for Doss' death last Oct. 10, faces either life in prison or death.

Judge Elmer Adams explained carefully to the 49-year-old widow the possible punishment he will decide on May 31. County Atty. J. Howard Edmondson said he would ask for death in the electric chair.

Warren Indicates Quick Court Ruling
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chief Justice Warren indicated today the supreme court will rule before recessing for the summer on how and when to end segregation of white and Negro pupils in the public schools.

Warren said in an address prepared for the American Law Institute that despite an increase this year in the volume of Supreme Court work, the court has been keeping abreast of it, and he added:

"This means that our work is on a current basis and, as has been the practice for many years, action in all argued cases is expected to be announced prior to adjournment."

Brother, Sister To Face Charges

HEREFORD, England (AP)—A brother and sister who were married in childhood but later met and married are facing trial on incest charges. Authorities accuse them of knowing they were related when they were wed.

At a preliminary hearing yesterday, a local court ordered Geoffrey Walter Hughes, 26, and his sister Marjorie to stand trial June 20. Both were released on bond without entering any plea to the charges.

The couple married in 1951. They separated early this year when their relationship was disclosed, and the sister since has remarried.

Ike Says Vaccine Job Handled Well

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today Secretary of Welfare Hobby has handled the Salk polio vaccine program and her job generally in a highly efficient manner.

The President's statement was made at a news conference when he was told Sen. Morse (D-Ore) had described Mrs. Hobby as guilty of "gross incompetence" in the vaccine program. Morse said she ought to be removed from office.

Eisenhower said it would be a waste of time for him to take note of Morse's accusations.

The President went on to say that Mrs. Hobby's record in the cabinet has proved out what Eisenhower termed the good opinion in which she was held during the war as WAC commander.

Those good opinions are fully justified, Eisenhower said, adding that she has handled her job, including the vaccine program, in a highly efficient manner.

Her counsel, Eisenhower said, has been eagerly sought.

Pensacola Fliers Reported Missing

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Two Navy fliers, one of them the commanding officer of a Navy field at Pensacola, were reported missing today following the crash of a Navy jet northwest of here.

The Navy identified the occupants as Capt. Albert S. Major, commanding officer of Saufley Field, and Lt. Edward Kennedy, also stationed at Saufley.

The plane, a two-place T27, took off from the naval air station here late yesterday shortly before it went down in a swampy area about eight miles north of Baldwin. It was on a routine flight to its home base.

A Navy rescue squad reached the crash scene last night and began searching to determine the fate of the two fliers.

The jet burned and very little of the craft could be found, the Navy said.

Strong Orders Sent To Soviet Farmers For End To Delay

MOSCOW (AP)—Strong orders went out today to Soviet farmers to end an "unbearable" delay in the planting of corn and get their quotas in the ground within the next three to five days.

The Kremlin command was made public last night only a few hours after announcement of the U. S. invitation for a delegation of about 10 Soviet farm experts to inspect Iowa farmers' ways with corn and hogs this summer.

The coincidence, however, did not appear by Soviet design. The Moscow and provincial papers have been packed for the past 10 days with announcements of the farmers' failure to follow through on Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev's demand in February that vastly more corn be grown for hog food.

School Problem Discussed

Civic representatives met this morning with Cdr. F. R. More, commanding officer of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, and Cdr. J. R. Wilson, executive officer of the base, to discuss the new problems that will be faced with the coming of additional personnel.

The six squadrons that will be based in Sanford will bring approximately 100 officers and 800 enlisted men of which about 77 officers and 150 enlisted men will live off the base. The number of children of Naval personnel in local schools will practically double, bringing in about 100 more students, it was pointed out. This influx will create an urgent demand for living quarters and educational facilities. Navy officials and civic leaders are seeking to work out the problem with as little disruption as possible. The change will also bring in more civilian personnel.

"Sanford has been regarded as an area of slow growth, but the coming of the additional squadrons will change the picture entirely," one representative brought out.

Forrest Breckenridge, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, today issued an appeal for all persons having houses or apartments for sale or rent to list them with the Chamber.

"The arrival of the additional squadrons at the Sanford Navy Base will create an acute shortage of accommodations, and any listing of living quarters will be greatly appreciated," he declared.

Cdr. More expressed hopes that something could be done to improve Omara Road which leads to the Sanford Ave. turn-off to the base to Highway 17-92. The issue is now in (Continued On Page Two)

Russia, Satellites Sharply Increase Cotton Purchasing
CAIRO (AP)—Russia and her satellites have sharply increased cotton purchasing in Egypt. Red China may also absorb heavy tonnage.

To Egyptian cotton men the Communist economic delegates are fronts in need—even though trading is on a barter basis. The main thing in Egyptian eyes is that the Red deals take part of Egypt's backlog out of warehouses.

Egypt's newspapers greeted the prospective deals as a new blow against "imperialism." The influential Al Kahira said: "To think of exporting Egyptian cotton in markets other than those fixed by the imperialists was regarded as a crime in the past; now Egypt is at liberty to sell her cotton to any buyer."

Reserves Program Expected To Pass
WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's program to build up the military reserves was expected to pass the House today despite efforts to soften or kill it.

Rep. Brooks (D-La.) predicted it would pass without major amendments, but only after a fight. Brooks leads House forces backing the legislation, which already falls somewhat short of original Pentagon requests.

President Eisenhower is behind the measure to give the military limited authority to enforce reserve obligations and to provide a new plan for training up to one million teenage volunteers in four years.

Queen Is Searching For Political Head To Form Cabinet

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—The first Dutch government crisis in nearly three years sent Queen Juliana searching today for a political leader to form a new cabinet.

Premier Willem Drees submitted last night after losing a vote of confidence in Parliament's lower chamber, 50-48. The vote came on a government bill to raise real-estate taxes 10 per cent on about one-third of Holland's rented homes.

Because the rent issue is a main point of controversy between the country's two major parties, the Catholics and Drees' Laborites, political circles predicted a long crisis. Each party has 20 of the 100 seats in the second chamber.

The Laborites deserted Drees to vote solidly against the rent bill. They said they would agree to it only if wages were raised simultaneously.

Elaborate Plot Is Killed By Tip

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Police said an informer's tip thwarted an elaborate plot to rob the U.S. mail of a large amount of gambling casino money last night.

Police Chief A. H. Kennedy said five persons were taken into custody, including a Las Vegas police officer and his attractive red-haired wife.

He said an informer told him two weeks ago of a plan to rob a police car delivering a load of cash from the Las Vegas post office to the railroad station.

Postal authorities said the police car had been scheduled to carry a "very substantial amount of money" destined for San Francisco. There were reports it would have amounted to half a million dollars but postal authorities would not verify this.

Several postal inspectors from California and Nevada hid with 22 policemen in the vicinity of the post office. No attempt was made to halt the police car, which because of the tip carried no money.

Waste We Can't Afford

Secretary of Labor Mitchell said recently that we must train more skilled workers if we wish to maintain our industrial superiority over Russia and continue to be prosperous. He also warned of wasting great sources of potentially skilled manpower by neglecting schools in some areas and by exercising bias against hiring women, persons over 45 and Negroes.

Ours is a rich nation—rich in resources and in energy and know-how. Perhaps no nation has ever been so blessed with these things. Yet this does not mean that we can afford to squander what we have. Our future strength and prosperity depend on our continued expansion. This can only come if we expand opportunity for all of our citizens.

Secretary Mitchell summed it up well when he said that discriminating against women workers, Negroes and people over 45 is "equivalent to letting Babe Ruth sit on the bench because you don't like the cut of his uniform."

Advance Order Books Are Watched

NEW YORK — Businessmen are watching their advance order books today for a clue as to how much of a summer slump to expect.

Some in the steel industry, for example, are looking for a July and August drop in production of about 10 per cent from the present near-capacity rate. If so, this would leave that basic industry in a very prosperous condition.

Order books of many industries are already well enough filled to assure high production schedules through this month and next. And such manufacturers are optimistic that they may have a little more to show down for the rest of the year.

But a seasonal slump during the hot months is so traditional that the Federal Reserve Board makes allowance for it in reaching its views on the industrial output index.

One reason is the growing trend for factories to close their shops for one to three weeks in the summer for plant vacations. But only does the output of the factory fall off, but the need for raw materials and supplies also is deferred.

This summer there may be a marked drop in some production for a while. The companies are expected to change over to their new models a month or two earlier this year than they did last. Work on 1966 models will begin.

This will show up first on the order books of the steel mills.

Some mills report there are signs already that steel deliveries to the auto industry will drop by 10 to 15 per cent in July and August. The steel mills say that orders have increased lately from such other users as farm machinery makers and the oil companies, which will help offset any slump in Detroit.

All concerned, however, are watching closely the sales trends of the auto dealers and the production chiefs of the construction industry. Any marked change in either could foreshadow a shift in business prospects for the last half of the year.

An all-male jury in Criminal Court set the punishment Monday for Miss Sarah Fry, an attractive former state official's widow.

William B. Fitzhugh, 55, died a few hours after Miss Fry eloped with her slapper at a Nashville night club Dec. 18. Police at the time said jockeys led to the clubbing.

The brown-haired defendant began her sentence at 11:10 p.m. Monday and was released at 12:10 a.m. today. By law the "all day" ends at midnight. This made her eligible for release 18 hours after she was locked up.

Farming Know-How

American technological genius is known the world over. Not so famous but receiving increasing attention is this country's agricultural genius. Every year foreigners from every corner of the free world are coming here to study our farming techniques.

In 1954 more than 2,500 agricultural authorities from 85 different countries toured the farmlands of this country to learn the food-growing techniques—the most successful in the world—practiced here. Almost without exception, they are interested in American irrigation and conservation practices as well as the use of modern machinery.

Also of interest are America's unique land-grant colleges which bear the primary responsibility for educating this country's farmers in the latest agricultural techniques. India already has established a system of agricultural extension services modeled along the lines of those operated by the land-grant colleges.

Under American leadership, many foreign countries have raised farm output through the use of improved fertilizers, improved seeds and improved conservation methods. It will take many years yet to erase the rampant poverty existing in many foreign countries; the improved techniques they now employ represent a significant first step.

America's high standing is a tribute to its farmers. Through their hard work and their open-minded willingness to use new techniques, they have produced an agricultural system that is the envy—and the hope—of the world. The American farmer sometimes may feel ignored at home, but he has become famous outside.

Zhukov's Risk

President Eisenhower reveals that he and the Russian Field Marshal Zhukov have been corresponding for some time. During the war they were on a basis of friendly cooperation. Now that Zhukov has become one of the top figures in the Kremlin, he might be in a position to improve relations of the two countries.

On the other hand any sign of friendship on Zhukov's part in the United States might be and probably is being used against him by his rival politicians. Zhukov is a national hero, but he might be liquidated if there seemed to be a good chance. That could be done quietly, and the information kept secret for a long time.

Chronic Bronchitis Is Common in Adults

By NEWMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

UNLIKE bronchitis or acute bronchitis which usually runs its course in about two weeks, chronic bronchitis will only get worse if left untreated. This might leave the victim a semi-invalid.

Occasionally encountered in children, it is a common affliction in those of you over 40. You can inherit a tendency to contract chronic bronchitis.

Several things tend to lead to chronic bronchitis. You probably are more likely to be stricken if you are fat, have asthma, pneumonia, arteriosclerosis or curvature of the spine. Heavy smokers also are frequent victims.

Chronic bronchitis is especially dangerous to elderly persons because it weakens their resistance to the killing disease. Children come down with one coughing cold after another if they are afflicted with this disease. Frequently their school and play life is so disrupted they can't grow up properly.

So distressing is chronic bronchitis that just about everything has been tried to cure it. Since it usually occurs in cold damp climates, you might get relief by moving to a warm, dry climate. If such a move is impossible may be a change in jobs will help you. A warm, dry occupation might bring considerable relief.

No Smoking or Alcohol

Don't smoke and don't drink

any alcohol if you've got chronic bronchitis. Your doctor can give you drugs which dilate the bronchi, enabling you to breathe more easily.

Maybe he'll give you codeine to reduce your coughing during the night. Ephedrine tablets usually relieve the bronchial spasm. Sometimes, however, it is necessary to operate to remove a hopelessly diseased part of the lung or to cut a hole in the windpipe to get the material out.

Pneumonia is a Great Aid With development of antibiotics, these extreme measures are used less frequently. Pneumonia is a great aid because it killed off many more bacteria than the previously used sulfa drugs. And within the past few years other broad-range antibiotics have been developed which kill the bronchial infections in about a week.

What causes colds and flu? Within an hour after eating and a while coating of my tongue, and what could I do for this condition? My teeth are perfect.

Answer: Bad colds of the mouth may come from several things, such as infected teeth, bad tonsils or adenoids, or infection of the nose or nasal sinuses. A thorough examination should be made to determine the cause. What the is found, the condition can be quickly cleared up.

Husband Worship Week Is Over

NEW YORK — Would it help cut the divorce rate in America if every year we had a week dedicated to husband worship?

A hundred Hindu wives in India recently completed a five-day festival of husband worship. In one ceremony during the festival each wife washed her husband's feet, and a Hindu mystic expressed hope this rite "will end divorce."

Well, it was a heart-warming thought. But would it work here? Many foreigners accuse Americans of woman worship. They feel our high divorce rate stems from the fact the ladies have too much power in this country—that a wife loses respect for a husband she can wear like a watch or a pair of shoes like a marionette.

Hmmmm. After all, we do celebrate things like National Dill Pickle Month. Why not set aside one measly week a year for husband worship? That would still leave us 51 weeks of wife worship—surely enough to keep any reasonable woman happy.

No, fired up with the heady prospects of launching America's first annual Worship Your Husband Week, I broached the project to a guy I know whom everybody calls "the oldtimer." He is also a veteran scarred but unbroken by a 30-year tour of duty on the same matrimonial battlefield.

Somewhat to my surprise, the oldtimer, after listening to my proposal, immediately threw cold water on it.

"Son, I know it sounds like heaven," he said, "but that's why it won't work. Heaven don't work on earth."

"You mean you wouldn't enjoy having your wife worship you for a week out of every year?" I asked.

"Lord a-mighty, no!" he thundered. "I don't know how those Hindu men stood it, having their womenfolk coming around worshipping 'em and washing their feet for five whole days. Father's day is almost more than I can bear, with my life and kids being having like slithering lizards seeing me for the first time. You haven't thought this thing through."

"I don't get you," I murmured. "How?"

"Well, for one thing I bet you think American wives would resent a Husband Worship Week and holler against having to wash the old man's feet. Like Hindu ladies."

"Of course, they'd holler." "That's how little you know about women," said the oldtimer. "Why they'd go for it like a wasp goes for hen eggs."

"The wives would be fighting to show how much they worshipped their husbands. Every home soon would have a gilded bowl—something like the old shaving mug—inscribed, 'Dear Daddykins—His Toesie Bath.'"

"They'd have all kinds of Precious Time foot soaps on the market—perfumed. Naturally. Wives would be trading feet bath rituals, and there'd be national institutions to pick America's leading foot-washing wife."

"Not at all," he replied. "A Husband Worship Week would be one long hell. A man wouldn't move. He'd be so smothered it wouldn't matter of vaccine for those first and second graders and so far had received a little over seven million. That means the manufacturers still have to supply 2 1/2 million cubic centimeters."

Keefer said it may be mid-August before the foundation's order is filled. This means those above and below the first and second graders won't get their shots before then.

And Dr. Leonard Schein, surgeon general of the U. S. Public Health Service, part of Mrs. Hobby's department, said he doesn't think the manufacturers can go into large-scale production before next fall or winter.

So, he said, he couldn't predict what the supply will be at the peak of the polio season, which comes between mid-August and mid-October.

adulation he'd be like a fly in a barrel of molasses. And that's the way his wife would like to have him.

"Son, when you worship someone, it becomes your prisoner. Nothing with any sense really likes being worshipped. That's why women enjoy it. I fought my wife for 20 years before I found out the secret of how to beat her—which was, to worship her."

"I told her I worshipped her. I've been telling her that ever since. When you keep telling a woman you worship her, she has to let you have your own way—for fear you'll stop telling her. If there's a slave in the family now, well—it ain't me."

The oldtimer paused for breath. "Let's have no more nonsense about husband worship," he said. "A thing like that could snowball and ruin every sensible marriage in America."

"Any husband who lets his wife put him on a pedestal will find he's turned his home into a museum and himself into a piece of statuary."

Jacaranda Circle Of Sanford Club Has Picnic Supper To Honor Husbands

The Jacaranda Circle met on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. W. B. Brinson for the last meeting of the season.

It was in the form of a covered dish picnic supper served in the lovely garden behind the home. The table was beautifully decorated with day lilies and Jacaranda blossoms. Japanese lanterns lighted the picnic area and contributed much to the beauty of the setting.

"A much needed rain came in time to dampen the table, but it in no way dampened the spirits of the group," one member stated.

The husbands of the members were honor guests and in her opening remarks of welcome to them the chairman, Mrs. R. E. Peurifoy recited a poem "It ain't no use to grumble and complain, It's just as cheap and easy to rejoice. When the Lord sorts out the weather and sends rain, Then rain's my choice."

Attendance prizes were presented to three of the men. Guests also present were Mrs. Harry Heeren, sponsor of the circle, Mrs. George McCall, president of the Garden Club and Miss Ellaire Kirchhoff. Gifts were presented to them.

Mrs. Heeren gave an interesting history of the Jacaranda tree and urged members to plant them. Miss Kirchhoff gave a brief talk on her experience in growing gerberas and had a number of fine specimens for the group to enjoy.

Mrs. Irving Pryor, who recently moved into her new home, was presented a tree hibiscus for her garden. Mrs. Peurifoy received a beautiful planter, a gift from the circle.

During the business session, Mrs. Metta Starke gave reports of the NAAS Convention and of the District Meeting in Winter Garden. She was given a rising vote of thanks for her work as flower show chairman of the circle.

Mrs. Peurifoy then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Starke, incoming chairman and she named her committee chairmen.

From Looks Of Past Seven Days

This May Be Hurlers' Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
From the looks of the past seven days, this may turn out to be a pitcher's year in the major leagues—their first since 1951.

It's been four years since the pitchers got together and confronted the hitters with as many as 13 guys who won 20 or more.
Since then the hurlers with the whammy have fallen off to six in '52, eight in '53 and six again last season.

Right now, 17 pitchers have won four or more (a year ago there were 13) and they've had help from the rest to give the majors a total of 39 shutouts to date. In each of the past three seasons there were only 35 scoreless performances on record at this stage.

Thirty-two pitchers have figured in the whitewashings, and 13 shutouts have come in the past week—including Don Newcombe's one-hitter at Chicago and Sam Jones' no-hitter against Pittsburgh.

There were three shutouts last night. Rookie Larry Jackson put the collar on National League-leading Brooklyn at St. Louis in a 3-0 Cardinal victory. In the American League, Alex Kellner gave the Kansas City Athletics a 1-0 triumph for the New York Yankees against the Chicago White Sox.

Only two other National League games were played. Milwaukee look over second place, eight games behind the Braves, by beating New York's Giants 9-4. Cincinnati made it six straight defeats for Pittsburgh 9-2. Cold weather shelved Philadelphia's game at Chicago.

In the American, Boston knocked off Cleveland 10-3 and Baltimore beat Detroit 3-2.
Jackson's no-run job on Brooklyn gave St. Louis its third whitewash victory in four games. The Braves tagged the young right-hander for 10 hits, but when the chips were down, Jackson went to a curve ball and found the answer.

Home runs by Red Schoendienst and Ken Boyer gave it to the Cards, who got nine hits off Carl Erskine, losing his first in six decisions, and Jim Hughes. The Cards moved up from fifth into a two-percentage-point edge over the fourth-place Giants.

Florida Golfers Begin Qualifying In 4-Ball Tourney

CLEARWATER (AP)—The seventh annual state four-ball golf tournament opened today without any pronounced favorite.

Dave Ragan and Dick Johnson, the Daytona Beach team which captured the title last year, were prevented from competing this year because of business.

The Clearwater team of Jack Russell and Ward Rodgers, who won the first state four-ball here in 1919, had been installed as the early favorite but Rodgers is unable to play because of illness.

Russell is playing with another Clearwater golfer, Bill Carson.

Other leading pairs included Doug Saunders and Jim Busby of the University of Florida's Southwestern Conference golf team; Hugh Hayes and Les Hardt, Tampa; Bev Nabers and Horace Williams, St. Petersburg; Bill Stember and A. J. Henderson, Miami; Harry Root and Maynard Ramsey, Tampa; and Harold Ebberts and Fritz Sonnenborn, Clearwater.

Duke Warren and John Ireland, West Palm Beach; Ned Searcy and J. D. Cann, Jacksonville; Pat Schwab, University of Florida; and Arthur Harrison, Clearwater; Dexter Daniels and Dexter Daniels Jr., Winter Haven; and Calvin Popper, Gainesville, George Beverly, Clearwater.

Today's play will be an 18-hole qualifying round to determine the top 32 teams. Match play begins Thursday, with 18 holes for each round until Sunday's 36-hole championship match.

Two Clubs Seek Rematch Between Dupas and Ryff

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The strip-line Louisiana Boxing Enterprises and the powerful International Boxing Club of New York today competed for a return match between top-ranked lightweight Ralph Dupas of New Orleans and New York's Frankie Ryff.

Dupas won a bloody, 10-round split decision in handing the No. 3 ranked Ryff his first professional defeat Tuesday night before the largest paid crowd in New Orleans history. But many of the 9,200 fans disagreed with the decision.

Blaise D'Antoni, wealthy founder of LBE, made a $15,000 offer to Charlie Black, Ryff's manager, for a return match in New Orleans. The fight drew a $40,000 gross gate and LBE officials pointed out many matches in Madison Square Garden draw less than half that.

IBC wants Dupas and Ryff in a televised match from Madison Square Garden.

Frank Kellert of the Dodgers was a basketball star at Oklahoma A & M from 1946 to 1949.

High Price Tag Put On Reactor

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—For about a million dollars and a stiff-worded contract other countries can now buy an atomic research reactor stamped "Made in U.S.A."

A value of $350,000 was put on the 10-kilowatt reactor the United States will sell to Switzerland. Dr. I. I. Rabi, a senior adviser of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission and one of the top world scientists helping plan the U. N. atoms-for-peace conference, was asked if the Swiss figure plus a reasonable profit was what any country could now buy a reactor for.

He looked doubtful. Well, how about one million dollars?

"That puts you in the ball park," answered the Columbia professor. Rabi said that in addition any buyer would have to sign a bilateral agreement, under U. S. law with the United States. This would strictly limit the uses to which the reactor would be put, so that no country would get an idea it could manufacture a few small A-bombs on the side.

Turkey has already signed such an agreement and will get an American reactor. Japan also may soon be in the market.

Along with the reactor, the United States will sell uranium to the buyer. It will dilute about 11 pounds of rich, weapon-grade U-

235 with a dross of 44 pounds U-

238, and will keep strings attached to the nuclear material.

The reactors are able to turn out isotopes for use in medicine, agriculture and some industry.

Dick Holtzclaw Has Many Roles

By CHARLIE MORRISON

Do you remember where we left off yesterday? That's right, I had to pick up an ad and since it is my good fortune to handle the grocery accounts for our paper, I found myself getting hungrier by the minute as I read the tremendous values our local food emporiums (I got that out of an old book) are offering. So, naturally, I knocked off for lunch and what a lunch it was! I finished just in time to start wondering what I would have for supper, yes, we're old fashioned at our house, but I must finish our visit with Dick Holtzclaw.

Well, I asked this corpulent star, famous for his quick study and ability to master many roles, about his start in life.

I found out that Dick was born in Williston and came to Sanford in 1920. He began his musical training in piano and voice here, later studying with Mrs. Kurt Mueller, a German voice teacher in Atlanta, Ga. He won a scholarship with Paquale Amato, famous Metropolitan baritone, and spent four years at Louisiana State University where he took part in many operas. He joined the San Carlo Opera Co. in 1939 and remained with them until 1942 when he was inducted into the U. S. Army Medical Corps. After receiving his discharge in 1945, he returned to New York where he appeared in his first Broadway show, "If the Shoes Fits" in 1946. In the fall of 1947, he joined the New York Opera Co. and has since been the leading bass-baritone and comedy bass, known in opera, as the bass buffo.

"Tell me, Dick, which is your favorite role, Don Pasquale, in which you so recently had the starring part?" I asked him. "No," he replied, "the role I like best is that of Falstaff in Verdi's opera of the same name. Then I would say Don Pasquale by Donizetti and Don Giovanni by Mozart."

"In how many languages do you sing?" was my next question and Dick's reply was, "Four—French, German, Italian and of course, English." "And in how many roles are you up?" (You see I wanted him to know I could use some stage language). I almost fell out of my chair when he said that he had played 84 different roles in 53 operas. When I asked him to explain Dick said, "Well, for example, I have played four different roles in La Traviata, four separate roles in Carmen and three in Aida." (In minstrel show parlance, that's "doubling in brass"). And just to prove that he is a versatile sort of fellow, Dick has taken leading roles in 36 operettas. And to add more proof to his versatility, he is booked to sing in the Messiah, at Lake Charles, La. in the near future. All of which makes me very

Atomic Power May Soon Be Produced For Use In Homes

TOKYO (AP)—American homes can "conceivably" begin using electricity produced by atomic power plants within three or four years, the United States' former atomic power chief said Tuesday.

Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, now atomic research director for the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, told a reporter "four of five U. S. utility companies" are now building commercial atom power plants.

"They will produce 700,000 kilowatts of electricity, enough to supply a city of 700,000 persons," he said.

Dr. Hafstad, who resigned as director of atomic reactor research for the Atomic Energy Commission early this year, made his remarks immediately after a press conference here.

Crazed Man Dies; Sheriff Is Buried

GROESBECK, Tex. (AP)—N. J. Tynes, a crazed farmer who killed a sheriff, wounded a youth and held off 100 officers for five hours Sunday, died Monday night of wounds suffered before his capture.

Funeral services for Sheriff J. Harry Dunlap, 47, were held Monday. He was killed when he stepped from cover to attempt to reason with Tynes, 44, a bachelor farmer who was about to be committed again to a state mental hospital.

Tynes shot Johnny Ray Bentley, 17, Saturday night as Bentley plowed a field near Tynes' home. Dunlap had attempted to question Tynes about the shooting.

The largest crowd to see a baseball game at Comiskey Park, Chicago, on a week-day was the 38,056 on July 28, 1954 to see the White Sox and the Yankees.

...with the sweetheart of the low-price 3

Biggest of the low-price 3! Plymouth is much bigger than the "other 3" low-price cars. You get more beauty outside, more comfort inside, more trunk space, plus the only truly big car ride in the lowest-price field.

Most economical of the low-price 3! Plymouth's fast-moving new 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117 is a joy to drive, and own. Its exclusive Chroma-Sealed Action locks in power to give you peak performance for extra thousands of miles—of prohibition out.

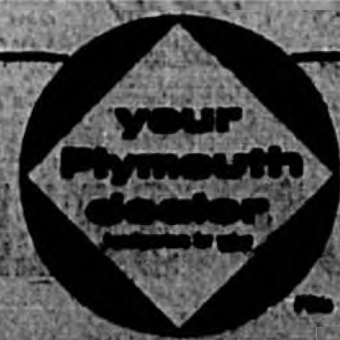

Greatest vision of the low-price 3! Plymouth's new Full-View windshield, with corners swept back both top and bottom, gives you the widest vision of any low-price car.

Newest power features! Plymouth alone offers full-time Power Steering, and all the other energy-saving power seats, at low extra cost. And you get many features that other low-price cars don't have.

Drive this big beauty today!

Why pay up to $800 more for a car smaller than Plymouth?

Don't be fooled by the claims of medium-price cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags, you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much, much less, and gives you more car for your money!

Tell Her It's MURDER

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

REGINA went straight up to Andrus in the interview room, where he stood beside a table, her hands out. "Jim," her eyes filled. "Susan told me everything, from the beginning. She's so much better than I am. She has so much more resolution, faith. I can't tell you how it made me feel. That you've suffered! It's horrible. . . I thought all the time, I was sure. . . I never had any doubt. And now—"

She was very beautiful in a black suit with a tiny red hat on her black hair. She put up her face. Andrus was deeply moved. He kissed her forehead, made her sit down on one of the straight chairs, pulled up the other.

"Never mind it, Regina, as long as you know," he said down close to her, took her hands in his. "Look, don't feel too badly, Regina. I didn't know myself for a long while—at least I wasn't sure. They talked very briefly of that distant night. It wasn't a subject to dwell on. Then Regina said, 'But this—this incredible, this ridiculous charge against you—it will soon be over and you'll be free. That woman—what was her name?'"

"Fena," Andrus said, and his signature for both of them. "Fena, Fena. . . You said she was going to die, that she was conscious and can talk, you'll soon be out of all this. She'll know you tried to kill her, and then they'll have to let you go."

It was the first word Andrus had had of Mrs. Fena's possible recovery. "How do you know? Are you sure?" Regina said.

Mr. Todhunter had told her. At the end of another 10 minutes, as soon as Regina was gone, he informed the guard, about to return him to his cell and settle to the evening paper, that he wanted to see either Sgt. Dupasse or the district attorney, at once.

Mrs. Fena not only continued to hold her own, she even improved a little. She was naturally strong. But she was still on the danger list. And Dr. McGraw had down conditions. She was in a large double room on the third floor that could be made to accommodate three beds. At present it held only two. Screens were to be placed at the side of the bed cutting off a section of this room. The police officials would have to remain behind the screen while Mrs. Fena's mind was in the few necessary questions. If all went well, the prisoner would then appear at the foot of the bed in a strong light, after which the room would immediately be cleared. The whole thing couldn't be allowed to take more than five minutes at the most.

The little convalescent arrived at the hospital at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Fena was lying high on piled pillows. Her head was completely swathed in bandages. Her arms lay on top of the spread, along her sides. Hands and face were grayish. Her eyes were open but for all the life she showed they might just as well have been closed. Dr. Hoffman was already there. He came into view, facing Todhunter, and began to talk in a low, carefully modulated voice.

"You're feeling a little better tonight, Mrs. Fena?"

The eyes didn't move. She gave the slightest of nods.

"You know what happened to you, Mrs. Fena. We spoke of it earlier this evening. You were down in the cellar of your house drawing wine from a barrel into a pitcher when someone struck you from behind. Don't be frightened or upset. Nothing can happen to you here. You're perfectly safe. We're going to show you a man and ask you if it's the man who attacked you. Raise your hand if it is, or nod your head. If it isn't, don't do anything. Do you understand?"

Another nod. There was a faint expression now on the gray mask surrounded by whiteness. It seemed to Todhunter that the woman was trying to say something. Her lips stirred. She mistook them with the top of her tongue. But she closed them again.

The doctor said, "All right, Mr. Andrus," and Andrus walked out from behind the screen and over to the foot of the bed. The light that had been rigged up was switched on, bathing him in brilliance. The rest of the room was dim.

"Is this the man who attacked you, Mrs. Fena?"

Not a sound except the far off murmur of the city below; Mrs. Fena gazed straight in front of her at Andrus. It was a long look. Blank at first, intelligence began to dawn in it. She gave a convulsive start, her lips parted again and her eyes opened wide. This time she spoke, in a hoarse, husky whisper. But her words were clearly audible.

"That's him. . . That's the man."

The effort exhausted her. Her head fell back, her eyes closed, and two tears squeezed themselves out from under the lids and ran down her cheeks.

Todhunter went to work. He alone had correctly read the expressions on the stricken woman's face when the doctor first spoke. Before dawn he had the story out of her.

Mrs. Fena had recognized Andrus at right, but not as the man who struck her down in the cellar. She recognized him as the man, the drunk, Midnight Mike had brought with him to the house on Glover st., on the night Roger Felham was killed. The only trouble was that she couldn't be certain about time, and in her condition it was useless to press her. She knew it was late when Midnight Mike arrived with the drunk. She had expected Mike earlier, she had a port roast in the oven and it was almost spoiled. Mike might have brought his swaying cargo in at maybe a little after 11, but then again it might have been much later. First she thought one thing and then another.

Todhunter would have liked a clear cut verdict. The earliest Roger Felham could have been killed was at 12:30. Obviously Andrus couldn't have been at the wheel of his car in the Felham grounds at half past 12 if he was down in Yonkers with Midnight Mike, either in or approaching Mrs. Fena's house. For the moment Todhunter was forced to rest on his laurels.

Mrs. Fena was a woman who thought before she spoke, a woman who had to be clear in her own mind before she gave tongue. She was very clear about one thing. She hadn't seen the man who struck her down when she was drawing wine in the cellar. "I started to look around, to turn, I thought I heard a sound, and then—nothing." She couldn't even remember the blow or blows. The next thing she knew she woke up in bed in the hospital with a terrible pain in her head.

Before he went to sleep at 8:30 a. m. Todhunter called the inspector. He told McKee what had happened and that Horton admitted that the case against Andrus was full of holes. "I think they're going to turn him loose," Silence from the other end of the wire. Then McKee said softly, "I was afraid of this."

"Afraid, Inspector?"

"Afraid," the Scotsman repeated, his tone grim. "Now we're back where we were in the beginning. Now it starts all over again."

Later that morning, Thursday, Susan Dwight woke up smiling. She felt happy, light hearted. The smile was for Barry. The charge room in a police station was an odd place in which to receive a proposal. Barry had asked her to marry him a couple of times before, but never in such surroundings or with such earnestness as while they sat there in two golden oak chairs near the high desk with a fat policeman writing behind it. She had wanted to laugh, not at Barry but at his solemnity, his nose very long, his chin very firm, his warm brown eyes very grave, with no fun in them.

She had answered gently, "No, no, Barry, dear. I wish I could say yes, but I can't." She patted his hand affectionately. He had drawn it away affronted. "Are you in love with someone else?"

She most emphatically wasn't in love with anyone. She had said so, shortly. But his question made her angry. He had no right to ask it. She had never given him any encouragement along these lines. They were distant cousins and close friends, the way you were with people you had been brought up with; know inside out, but that was all. Later that afternoon the question came up again, in another and more outrageous form. Then Susan went into a white fury. (To Be Continued.)

Wife Tells Police To Snatch Hubby Away From Cards

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sgt. Vincent Serio of the Baltimore vice squad got a call from a woman who told him her husband was spending all his money in poker games and she was starving as a result.

Where was he? asked the sergeant. She gave him an address, and he dispatched two patrolmen to the spot. They broke up a card game, hauled six men to jail.

But the phone rang again. "You didn't get him," said the same voice. She explained she had learned that her husband had fled from the game before the police got there. She gave Serio a new address.

Off went the vice squad again. They broke up two games, took in nine players.

But the phone rang again. Same woman, same complaint, new address.

The next call brought in 13 more sporting gentlemen. It made a grand total of 25 players arrested in five card games.

The woman never did give the police her name, but Serio figures they got her husband in the last haul. She didn't call back.

People With Yen Are Given Advice

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Out here in the canyon country, the people with time to play and a yen to touch vodka-on-the-rocks glasses with celebrities, have one piece of advice for visiting firemen: "Don't bother with the television crowd, they're dull. They never do anything but work all the time. Stick with the movie people. They work hard when they're working, but it's usually a long time between pictures when they can have fun."

"Ha," snuffed Miss Dinah Shore scornfully when she heard these words. "I wouldn't change places with anyone in the movies for anything in the world. Look, I can get to work at 10 in the morning, rehearse during the day, do my show and go home to my family and forget the whole thing. I've time for my family. Time to be home, time for my friends. Most of all, I have plenty of time for the children."

Although plenty of TV people do work long hard days every day and go home to worry over lines at night, Dinah does a pleasant 15-minute live television show two nights a week — Tuesdays and Thursdays — on NBC.

Mostly she sings songs — and she loves to sing — and wears pretty clothes which she enjoys wearing. She doesn't have dialogue to learn — "I just say whatever seems right and best at the time" — and she doesn't have to play any role except Dinah Shore, singer and wholesome American girl, both of which are familiar. Occasionally she does get a little fed up with being so nice all the time, she confesses.

Dinah has been happily married for years to one man, George Montgomery, who does extremely well in a quiet sort of way making motion pictures which are also in a quiet sort of way — very good box office. George also runs a furniture plant on the side and his pieces are very much in demand. They've been having a delightful time building and furnishing their new home in Beverly Hills. They are happy together, and mutually devoted to their two children.

Baroda Maharanee Asks Paris Court For Separation

PARIS (AP) — The cigar-smoking Maharanee of Baroda has asked a Paris court to grant her a legal separation from her princely Indian husband, the former Gaekwar of Baroda. No grounds for the action were disclosed.

The petition was filed yesterday by Princess Sita Devi, 36.

The Maharanee, who is well known also in New York and London society, maintains an apartment in Paris with her 10-year-old son. She asked for a "separation de corps" — legal recognition and sanction that she is living apart from her husband.

The ex-Gaekwar, 46, recently has been staying at Cannes, on the French Riviera. Although he still uses his title, he was stripped of it along with his princely privileges and $350,000 annual pension in 1931 by the government of India after he tried to start a rebellion of princes.

Rookie outfielder Bill Virdon of the Cardinals was a high school track star. He participated in the 100 and 200 yard dashes, pole vault, shot put and relay.

U. S. 17-92 Progress Plan Stays Ahead

The campaign to improve Seminole County's main arterial highway, U. S. 17-92, is steaming ahead, but no increase in tax millage will result from the latest move on the county level.

County Commission chairman John Meisch made this clear yesterday after the Commission voted Tuesday to ask the State Legislature for a special bill permitting the county to borrow $220,000 for right-of-way purchases.

The amount, plus the $327,000 in uncommitted secondary funds, would make up the total the county could put into right-of-way this year.

The Commission acted after R. M. Hartfield, state director of revenue projects, informed the county by letter that it could safely borrow $220,000 and repay it in four years from the gas tax surplus due Seminole County.

At the same time that it passed the necessary resolution asking for the special bill, the Commission declined to make a firm commitment on secondary funds. Bralley Odham, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's long-range roads planning committee, asked the board a declaration of intention.

"I think this resolution shows where we stand," Odham was told by Commissioner Otis Fouraker. It may possibly take about two months to put the special bill through the legislature. A similar period will be required to get up abstracts on all property along the highway from the Orange County line.

Miss Esther Rive, manager of Title Abstract and Guaranty Co., gave the estimate of time needed to obtain the abstracts. Right-of-way cannot be secured until the county gets the abstracts.

Softball Game Set By Jaycees Tonight In Lakeland Park

A softball game between the active and associate members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be played at 7:30 p. m. today at the Ft. Mellon Park softball diamond, located behind the old bus station.

Carl Overstreet, chairman of the Jaycees' softball committee, will head the active members, and Gordon Sweeney will manage the associate members. Approximately 25 members will participate.

Among those taking part will be William Stemper, John Alexander, Tommy Peterson Jr., Tommy Stringer, Tony Russell, and possibly "Buddy" Lake, who is well-known in Central Florida athletic circles.

The idea behind the softball committee is to build a team capable of opposing Jaycees in surrounding towns. Overstreet said he was planning to make arrangements for such games.

The game tonight was discussed at today's weekly Jaycee luncheon at the Yacht Club, and many members expressed satisfaction with the program.

"I think it would be a great thing to create fellowship with Jaycees from other communities," Overstreet commented. "The game is only secondary, and we are not going to concentrate so much on winning as in building up this understanding."

Overstreet said he had a few "dark horses" in his pitching staff and warned the associates that "we're ready for them."

Women In Ministry Endorsed By Group Of Presbyterians

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A proposal that women be admitted to the Presbyterian ministry was endorsed today by the national body of the church.

Dr. Ralph Waldo Lloyd, president of the General Assembly and moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., also called for churchwide practice of nonsegregation.

His views were contained in a sermon prepared for delivery at the church's opening session of the 167th general assembly.

The sermon was Dr. Lloyd's last official sermon as moderator. His successor will be elected later today to serve during the week-long sessions and through the coming year.

Cancer, Heart Disease Leading Death List

State Board Of Health Releases
Statistics For January-March

Heart disease and cancer caused the most deaths in Seminole County during the period from January through March the State Board of Health announced today in its monthly vital statistics report.

The report said 23 died of heart disease and 13 of cancer. Causes of other deaths were cerebral vascular disease, 11; other circulatory diseases, six; influenza and pneumonia, five; nephritis and nephrosis, two; diabetes, two; and tuberculosis and syphilis, one each.

No deaths from motor vehicle accidents were recorded, but other accidents claimed five lives.

A total of 88 deaths, including 46 white and 42 colored, were listed during the period. Fifteen infant deaths, two white and 13 colored, were reported.

The Board of Health report listed 218 births for the period. Of this number, 110 were white and 108 colored.

Eighty-one marriages and 22 divorces and annulments were also recorded.

Portugal has refused to discuss India's demand that it withdraw from its settlements on the Indian subcontinent.

Thirteen of the Indian participating in yesterday's march were released, but the rest were reported held by Portuguese authorities.

Reports said the marchers either gave Indian border police the slip or ignored them in entering Goa.

Jury Clears Mayock Of Evading Taxes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Weibum Mayock, former general counsel of the Democratic National Committee, has been cleared by a federal grand jury in connection with a complaint alleging evasion of income taxes.

U.S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters said the complaint, issued last April 4, would be dismissed.

Mayock, a Washington and Los Angeles attorney, signed a waiver of immunity and appeared voluntarily before the grand jury to deny that he evaded $25,718 in taxes due on income of himself and his wife for 1948.

Irishman Woos Pretty Maiden; But Is Married, Has 2 Children

BILLESDON, England (AP)—The 40-year-old Irish farmhand who ran away with the pretty sister of England's hereditary royal champion turned out today to be a married man with two children.

"I have wronged the girl terribly," said James Webb, who slipped away 10 weeks ago with Susan Dymoke, 25-year-old daughter of one of Britain's oldest families. The two told friends they planned to wed.

"I have deceived her and her family into thinking I was free to marry her," Webb told newsmen, "but I am not."

Mrs. Mary Webb, 40, an Ashford, England, riding instructor, produced a wedding certificate yesterday showing she had married John Dymoke in 1937. She said her husband had left her and

Eisenhower Vetoes Postal Pay Raise

Air Of Uncertainty Hangs Over Program

A cloud of uncertainty hung over the anti-polio inoculation program in Seminole County today as Dr. Terry Bird, County Health Officer, said he had no idea when second shots of vaccine would be given.

"It looks like we may run out of school before we get another supply of vaccine," Dr. Bird declared, referring to the swiftly approaching end of the school term.

If school ends before more vaccine is received, children may be given their second shots at the County Health Unit or School Superintendent R. T. Milwee may be asked to transport children to their respective schools on certain days for the vaccinations.

Dr. Bird said. Another possibility, he said, is that shots may be given at the offices of doctors who helped administer the first shots.

The first shots were given April 25 at Southside School. Dr. Bird said the second inoculations should have been given a week ago.

Just how long the vaccine is effective is not known, the Health officer pointed out. Dr. Jonas Salk, the discoverer at one time estimated the period at from two to four weeks, but since has announced that it should be effective for a longer period. The second shot is more or less a "booster."

Dr. Bird pointed out that the Health Unit is extremely busy at this time and should the vaccine be received next week, the job of administering it would be a particularly tough one in view of the burden on staff.

Meanwhile, the government announced today there will not be any further releases of vaccine (Continued On Page Three)

Orlando's Skies Scene Of Wedding For Miami Couple

ORLANDO (AP)—A Miami Beach couple married in a blimp over Orlando yesterday. "We wanted to do something different," Art Townsend, 32, and Virginia Brune, 22, a waitress formerly of Huntington, L.I., said at first they planned to be married in a swimming pool of a swank hotel.

"But everybody does that in Miami, and we wanted our marriage to be something special from the beginning," said Townsend, a sand blaster.

"The other night we saw the lights of that Goodyear blimp while we were driving over the MacArthur Causeway back home and we agreed that was it."

Afterward, the couple left by car for their honeymoon.

Senate Is Sent Message

Ike Says Burden
Would Be Made

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today vetoed a bill to boost the pay of 500,000 postal workers by an average of 8.6 per cent.

The President told the Senate in a veto message he regretted his action and earnestly hoped and recommended that "the Congress will quickly consider and enact postal pay legislation that will be in the public interest and fair to all the half million employees who man the postal service."

He said the vetoed measure would impose "a heavier burden upon the taxpayer than is necessary."

Eisenhower listed three reasons for his veto:

"First, the bill creates new discriminations or inequalities which would affect many thousands of postal employees."

"Second, the bill creates grave administrative problems such as the establishment of thousands of individual pay rates. It forces awkward and unfair administrative practices in a government department whose operations affect every person, every enterprise, every community in the country."

"Third, the bill imposes a heavier burden upon the taxpayer than is necessary to establish salary rates throughout the department which will compare favorably with rates for similar work elsewhere in government and in private industry."

The President has indicated an average 7.6 per cent raise is about as far as he is willing to go.

Millionaire's Son To Be Arraigned

VAN NUN, Calif. (AP)—Julian Hammer, son of a New York millionaire, will be arraigned in Los Angeles Superior Court June 1 on a charge of murdering a friend, Bruce Whitlock.

The arraignment was set yesterday at Hammer's preliminary hearing. He was released on $20,000 bail. Hammer's father, Dr. Armand Hammer, manufacturer and art gallery owner, was not present in court, and the 23-year-old defendant's lawyer declined to say where the bail came from.

The district attorney said he did not oppose bail because he does not consider the death penalty warranted in case of conviction. Where the death penalty is to be asked, no bail is allowed.

Hammer said the fatal shooting occurred in an argument May 8 over an old gambling debt. Hammer is a writer on technical subjects for an engineering concern.

Campaign Called Off
