Zoo Supporters Plan Referendum

By Sarah Nunn
Herald Staff Writer

Whether or not the Central Florida Zoological Society moves its facilities to Orlando as is its intention, advocates of maintaining a zoo in Sanford say they are considering pushing for legislation to allow a referendum that would fund a local zoo through property taxes.

Supporters of a local zoo have proposed a bill which would call for a referendum on keeping a facility in Seminole County at the present zoo site.

The group has slated a meeting for

Dec. 2 at 8:30 a.m. at the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, at which time they will consider approving the proposal, according to A.B. Peterson Jr.

If approved by the legislature, the bill would enable the county to levy a yearly property tax of, perhaps, 10 cents per $1,000 assessed property value, which would net about $500,000 to financially subsidize a local zoo, Peterson said. The specific amount to be requested in the referendum would be decided at the Dec. 2 meeting, he said.

The group is looking to continue operating a zoo at the present location on U.S. Highway 17-92 when the zoological society moves its operation to Turkey Lake Park, a 175-acre site in Orlando. Zoo officials are planning the move because its present location, they say, is too crowded and too damp for hoofed animals.

According to Peterson, the zoological society is trying to raise $26 million to build a new facility in Orlando. Supporters of a locally-run zoo, however, want a small to medium size facility

Sanford Looks To Annexations

Land Plan Reaches Beyond City Limits

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

A master plan designed to map out Sanford's path to the 21st century will be unveiled by the Planning and Zoning Commission at tonight's city commission meeting.

To satisfy the needs of both the city and the state, P&Z chairman John Morris said his commission "took an extra step" during the efforts it has already taken to create a new comprehensive plan, under the state's 1984 growth management act. The commission developed a multi-colored, 3'x4', "interim" land use map, delineating current and anticipated developments against a backdrop of existing zoning codes.

The P&Z completed the interim map at its Thursday night meeting and tonight will request the city commission approve it as a means of enabling current consideration of future development, Morris said.

Because this map contains approximately 4-square miles of unincorporated county land, it must be amended prior to inclusion in the city's new comprehensive plan. "We'll have to pull in the map's boundaries to city lines," said Bill Simmons city building and planning director.

Morris and Simmons both said, however, the interim map will be used even after the state has reviewed, the city's comprehensive plan. Simmons said because the larger area represents "what Sanford will look like in 20 years, we've got to use it to guide our present efforts."

Seminole County Planning Director Tony Vanderworp said today the city has "no choice" but to pull back the map's boundaries before submitting it to the state. "It's not a joint-effort, so they can't present county property on a city plan," he said.

He also said he found it "interesting" that Sanford was going to submit an amended map to the state, "while continuing to plan with county property without contacting the county."

The county brought suit against Sanford in October over two annexations of approximately 220 acres of land arguing the parcels would create "enclaves" of city property surrounded by county land, forbidden by law.

Tonight's presentation will enable Sanford to take its first step toward not only complying with a state mandate requiring cities to amend their comprehensive land use plans, but surpassing its ambiguous requirements, according to Simmons.

Under the state's 1984 growth management act, municipalities must amend their comprehensive development plans. According to Simmons, however, both pieces of legislation call for future growth to be addressed, while at the same time "limit what we can plan for."

The city's last plan was created in 1979, and in light of the "booming development" Sanford faces now and in the future, the city's planners "have their hands full" in trying to develop a new one to comply with the 1984 act, Simmons said.

When the growth experienced by Sanford during the last six years is combined with what lies ahead, Simmons said difficulties encountered when the 1979 plan was prepared, "are

57 Dead In Bloodiest Hijack Rescue To Date

VALLETTA, Malta (UPI) — Egyptian commandos stormed a hijacked airliner and fought a 10-minute gunbattle with Arab terrorists who exploded three grenades among the passengers, leaving 57 people, including one American, dead in history's bloodiest hijacking and rescue.

The commandos, called into action after five passengers were shot in the head and thrown from the EgyptAir plane, blew in a cargo door and stormed the Boeing 737 with automatic weapons ablaze at about 8:15 p.m. Sunday, officials said.

The gunmen, identified today by the Egyptian government as members of a Palestinian faction opposed to the leadership of PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat, had commandeered Flight 648 Saturday night on a flight from Athens to Cairo.

Officials initially said there were four terrorists, but government information director Paul Mifsud said it was believed a fifth accomplice was also aboard and that all five had been killed.

The Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram, however, said in an unsecured report today that one of the hijackers was still alive and being treated at a Valletta hospital. It said Egyptian authorities asked the Malta government to keep him in custody for interrogation by Egyptian authorities.

Mifsud said the Egyptian troops crept up to the plane — the same one forced down by U.S. fighters as it carried the Achille Lauro hijackers out of Egypt — after the lights were turned off at the field at Luqa Airport in southern Malta before launching their assault.

"The hijackers threw three hand grenades at the passengers and the grenades started a fire that filled the plane with flames and smoke," he said. "[The commandos] fired with automatic weapons as they went in."

He said the commandos and terrorists battled for 10 minutes before the last of the hijackers was killed. Mifsud said none of the Egyptian commandos was killed but one had a leg blown off.

"It was terrible. There was smoke everywhere and you couldn't breathe," said French passenger Georges Gilbert Briard, 36, who told a radio interviewer he had hidden under his seat during the gunfight.

"There was a scuffle on the plane where there was no light. Then there were explosions," he said. "I saw a lot of people who had been hurt and others whose bodies were shot up. They got all the terrorists so that's good."

Mifsud, amending an earlier report, said police removed 55 bodies from the plane including those of all eight children aboard as well as the hijackers, passengers, crew and Egyptian sky marshals.

Another wounded passenger died later in hospital and a young American woman was murdered by the hijackers early Sunday.

There were 30 survivors, all of whom were hospitalized for smoke inhalation, burns, shrapnel or bullet wounds, hospital officials said. Eighteen female and wounded passengers were taken off the plane earlier.

The dead American was identified today as Scarlett Marie Rogenkamp, a civilian Defense Department employee based in Greece.

Tardy Governor Gets Reprimand

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) —

Gov. Bob Graham, trying to encourage public cooperation in cleaning up after Hurricane Kate, volunteered to put in one of his "work days" — the days he sets aside to work at the jobs everyone else does — with a city clean-up crew.

But Graham either missed or ignored an order to show up at 7 a.m. to help a city crew clear tree limbs from Tallahassee streets.

When the governor did appear at 11 a.m., he was handed a work shirt and hard hat — and a reprimand that noted employees had been placed on double shifts and were supposed to be at work four hours earlier.

Waite Heads For New York

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — Hostage trouble-shooter Terry Waite, "optimistic and hopeful" about his efforts to help free four American hostages in Beirut, says he expects to return to Lebanon after meeting U.S. officials in New York.

Waite would not reveal what he will discuss with U.S. officials in New York, where Church of England officials said he would arrive today. He also will see Presbyterian and Episcopalian church officials in the city.

Waite said he met the Moslem fundamentalist kidnapers of the four Americans at least three times while in Beirut, where he was trapped for four days by fierce Moslem militia battles that killed dozens of people.

"There are difficulties ahead, but the last couple of days have indicated that I should remain optimistic and hopeful," he said upon arrival in Athens.

Waite, the secretary to Archbishop of Canterbury Robert Runcie, said his status as a religious, rather than government, envoy had helped him in his negotiations with the kidnapers.

"They do respect the independence of my position, as I am not in the pay of any

Hijacking 'Was Hell' Wounded Pilot Says

VALLETTA, Malta (UPI) — "It was hell," the bandaged captain of a hijacked EgyptAir jetliner said of the assault by Egyptian commandos that ended the hijacking and resulted in the deaths of 57 passengers.

But Hani Galal, pilot of the commandeered Boeing 737, told a news conference at Luqa Airport after the 24-hour ordeal was brought to a bloody conclusion Sunday that he backed Egypt's decision to storm his plane as a way to "stop this nonsense" of hijacking.

"If I had to describe the hijackers, I would say first-class killers. ... I did not think I would survive," Galal said.

The commandos entered the plane through the rear cargo area and from doors over the wings, firing automatic weapons. Galal had tipped off Maltese authorities that the best entry point would be the plane's belly.

Of the hijackers' response to the Egyptians, he said: "I have never seen or heard anything like that before. Those people threw grenades on passengers in a confined place like a 737. It was hell."

Galal at one point told the hijackers — said to number four or five — he would never concede to their demands. "I said I wouldn't fly (out of Malta). I told them, 'You can kill me now,'" he said.

Maltese government spokesman Paul Mifsud said during the 10-minute assault on the plane about 50 were killed and 25 to 30 others, many of them wounded, were taken off the plane.

Galal said he would not hesitate to endorse similar tactics against hijackers under the same circumstance. "We have to stop this nonsense," he said.

Mifsud said Galal killed the leader of the hijackers with an ax, but the pilot said he believes

Borrowed Valve Puts Shuttle Liftoff On Schedule

By William Harwood
UPI Science Writer

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The countdown ticked smoothly along today for the shuttle Atlantis' sky-lighting blastoff Tuesday night on a weeklong flight featuring spacewalks to rehearse space station construction techniques. The countdown began on time Sunday at 2 p.m. EST after NASA engineers reversed themselves and decided the replacement of a balky hydraulic system valve could be completed in time for a Tuesday launch.

Earlier Sunday, NASA had issued a statement saying blastoff would be delayed 24 hours but work to replace the valve with one borrowed from the shuttle Discovery proceeded faster than expected, clearing the way for launch at 7:29 p.m. Tuesday as planned.

"Everything's on target for tomorrow night," a NASA spokesman said early today.

On board for the 23rd shuttle mission will be skipper Brewster Shaw, co-pilot Bryan O'Connor, Mary Cleave, Jerry Ross, Sherwood Spring, McDonnell Douglas engineer Charles Walker and Rodolfo Neri, the first Mexican to fly in space.

Spring and Ross plan to carry out two spacewalks to practice space station construction techniques using snap-together beams that work like giant

Martinez Makes It Official: Taps Brantley As Running Mate

Tampa Mayor Bob Martinez used a series of press conferences around the state today to announce what has been rumored for weeks: Longwood's Bobby Brantley will be his running mate in Florida's gubernatorial race next year.

A news conference in Orlando's Executive Airport, scheduled for this afternoon, was to follow similar announcements in Tampa and Tallahassee, then Miami to kick off the republican's bid for the state's highest office.

Martinez returns to Tampa tonight for a fund-raising dinner with Vice President George Bush speaking.

Flight Ends With Rupture

MIAMI (UPI) — A rupture in an air conditioning system caused smoke and fumes to fill the cabin and cockpit of an Eastern Airlines jet Sunday night and forced the St. Croix-to-Miami flight to return to the Virgin Islands, officials said.

No injuries were reported. Passengers aboard Eastern Flight 998 said the rupture sounded like a small explosion. It occurred just moments after the plane, a Boeing 757, left St. Croix at 5:54 p.m. for the flight to Miami.

An Eastern spokesman said smoke and fumes spewed into the plane's cabin and cockpit. He said the pilot immediately turned the plane around and landed at St. Croix without incident.

Eastern said about 70 passengers were aboard the plane at the time.

Teaching Shortage Solution?

MIAMI (UPI) — The latest innovation by Dade County schools to battle Florida's growing teacher shortage is the installation of vocation clubs for high school students interested in teaching.

Working on a theory of get'em while they're young, organizers hope to lure ambitious youngsters to the teaching profession while they attend high school, before the negative factors of low pay and low prestige sink in.

In the coming weeks, new clubs, called the Future Educators of America will be set up in all of Dade County's public high schools. Organizers said they hope students will swarm to the mutual-benefit clubs, and that more like them will spring up throughout the state.

Judge To Raise Inmate Quota

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — Prisoners at crowded Broward County jails will not be released from jails today as had been previously threatened, a federal judge has announced.

Instead, the judge said he will sign an order today substantially raising the maximum quota of inmates allowed at each jail. Broward County Sheriff Nick Navarro said the quota raise will help alleviate Broward's prison overcrowding.

U.S. District Judge William Hoeweler said at a meeting Friday he will sign an order today raising the county's state-mandated jail cap by 171 prisoners.

Longest Surviving Artificial Heart Patient Observes Anniversary

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The wife of William Schroeder says the artificial heart her husband received one year ago today was worth the risks despite medical setbacks that have left him unable to speak or move without help.

Schroeder's wife planned to mark today's anniversary by spending a quiet day with her husband in his hospital room. She requested a reception for Humana Hospital-Audubon staff members to thank them for the care they have given her husband, the world's longest-surviving artificial heart patient.

Although Schroeder's condition was deteriorated by three strokes — the latest on Nov. 11 left him unable to speak — members of his family said they believe the Jarvik-7 artificial heart implant was worth the risk.

Schroeder received the mechanical heart Nov. 25, 1984, in surgery performed by Dr. William DeVries, who implanted the world's first permanent artificial heart in Seattle dentist Barney Clark Dec. 2, 1982. Clark died 112 days later.

Senate Passes New Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Heartland Democrats, who tied up the Senate to sweeten grain subsidies in the farm bill passed this weekend, set the stage for pork barrel politics most beneficial to farmers from other regions of the nation.

Senators representing sugar, peanut, rice and cotton farmers who generally settle their differences in private took advantage of the skirmishes to work out deals behind closed doors.

The four-year bill, spending $53 billion for commodity programs in the first three years, was passed Saturday, by a vote of 61-28, after Senate Republican leaders and Democrats negotiated a two-year freeze of grain and cotton subsidy levels, with a small part of the second year subsidy paid in commodities rather than in cash. Subsidy levels would fall in the third and fourth years.

A California Holiday For Reagan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan wraps up official business today, formally accepting the traditional Thanksgiving turkey in the Rose Garden, and prepares to head to California for a weeklong holiday celebration.

The president will fly to his mountaintop ranch near Santa Barbara Tuesday morning where he will relax and ride horses following his summit meeting with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev in Geneva last week.

The Reagans will celebrate Thanksgiving Day with a turkey feast and most members of their family on hand. He will return to Washington next Monday.

Oil Threat To Long Island Sound

NEW LONDON, Conn. (UPI) — The Coast Guard has decided against raising an oil barge that sank to the bottom of Long Island Sound because of fears the vessel might break apart, spilling more oil in the environmentally sensitive area.

The vessel sank during a storm Friday near the opening of the Long Island Sound. It then lingered near the water's surface before moving down some 180 feet and settling on the sound's bottom early Sunday.

Police Seek Moroccan In Bombing

FRANKFURT, West Germany (UPI) — Police today sought a man, believed to be Moroccan, who bought an automobile used in a car-bomb attack on a U.S. Army shopping center that injured 36 people, most of them Americans.

Police said they were seeking a man who bought the BMW used in the Sunday attack, which caused an estimated $775,000 in damages.

Investigators said the man, who said he was Moroccan, bought the auto at a used car lot in Gravenbruch outside Frankfurt, but they had no other clues.

No organization immediately took responsibility, but authorities suspected the Red Army Faction, a left-wing terrorist group that launched a similar strike in August against U.S. Air Force headquarters for Europe outside Frankfurt. Two Americans were killed and 17 injured in that attack.

Federal Prosecutor Kurt Rebmann, who handles terrorist investigations, took over the case.

The car used in the August attack also had been bought at the Gravenbruch used car market.

The shopping center, which has a department store, commissary, snack bars, a laundry and car wash, was open Sunday for Thanksgiving and Christmas shopping.

The attack injured 34 Americans, including several children, and two Germans. Most were cut by glass splinters and all but seven Americans were treated at the U.S. military hospital in Frankfurt and released.

Maj. Cecil Green, spokesman for the army's Frankfurt-based Fifth Corps, said none of the seven was in critical condition.

The main part of the shopping center is guarded and the identity of motorists entering it are checked to prevent terrorist attacks.

Green said the BMW, which had West German license plates and was destroyed in the bombing, was driven into the shopping center at a place where traffic is not controlled and parked in a driveway leading to a car wash.

The blast damaged 42 cars parked in the area, shattered windows within a radius of 100 yards, gouged a 6-foot hole in the ground and battered a one-story office wing of a building.

In the August bombing at the Rhein-Main Air Base outside Frankfurt, the car packed with explosives had bogus American forces license plates. But the BMW car used in the new attack had plates issued in the West German city of Aschaffenburg.

The Red Army Faction, also known as the Baader-Meinhof gang, has carried out a number of attacks on American installations in Germany since the late 1960s.

Ways And Means Struggles With Tax Reform

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee struggled as it tried to finish writing a sweeping tax reform bill with more loopholes and higher tax rates than President Reagan wants.

The 36-member committee met in closed session in the early morning hours, to decide on numerous crucial items including the tax rates, the standard deduction and the controversial state and local tax deduction.

After all the decisions are made, staff members plan to spend a week putting the massive bill into legislative language. A vote in the committee and the full House is planned for shortly after Congress returns from its Thanksgiving recess during the first week of December.

After the panel met, Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, the committee chairman, presented a proposal that would set four personal tax rates of 15, 25, 35 and 38 percent and would have a top corporate tax rate of 35 percent, which was eventually changed to 36 percent through an amendment.

Reagan has proposed only three individual rates of 15, 25 and 35 percent. His top corporate rate would be 33 percent.

Also, Reagan's plan was more generous in terms of what income levels forced people into higher tax brackets.

The Rostenkowski proposal would also retain the complete deduction for state and local taxes, which Reagan would have eliminated.

A late amendment passed by the committee would not tax employer-provided fringe benefits — a practice the president's plan would have begun.

The plan would include a top capital gains tax rate of 22 percent — higher than Reagan's suggested 17.5 percent.

But while it appeared to be moving slowly through the committee, Rostenkowski's new plan also would make a number of basic changes that had not been anticipated.

It would set a personal exemption rate of $2,000, but only for taxpayers who do not itemize deductions. Itemizers would get a $1,500 exemption.

It would set the standard deduction at $4,800 for married couples filing joint returns, $4,200 for heads of households and $2,980 for individuals. All of those levels are considerably lower than he had proposed before.

The plan contains a variety of dates for the tax changes to take effect. While many deductions would be eliminated at the beginning of the year, the lower rates would not take effect until halfway through the year, and the new standard deduction levels not until the following year.

The higher tax rates and other money-raising items in the Rostenkowski plan reflect actions taken by the committee during the past two months that preserved, at least in some form, many of the tax breaks Reagan would have eliminated.

The largest of those differences — the deduction for state and local taxes — is worth about $35 billion per year.

The fate of the overall bill from the committee may depend on the reaction of Reagan. The president, who early in the bill-drafting process kept mostly silent about the committee's actions, eventually criticized the panel for watering down his proposal.

Some committee Republicans said they expected the president would support it as a way to get it to the Senate, where the administration hopes to push for changes it wants. Senate action will not take place until next year at the earliest.

Three More Spy Suspects Arrested

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three more people accused of spying — a former National Security Agency employee, a retired CIA worker and the wife of a counterintelligence analyst — have been charged in separate cases in which national security secrets were allegedly passed to the Soviet Union, China and Israel.

Ronald William Pelton, 44, a one-time NSA communications specialist, was arrested today on charges of "gathering or delivering defense information to aid a foreign government," specifically the Soviet Union. FBI Director William Webster announced today through a spokesman.

Larry Wu-tai Chin, 63, charged Saturday with conspiracy to commit espionage, is accused of being a "recruited intelligence agent of the People's Republic of China" who provided "numerous classified CIA documents" during and after his employment as an intelligence analyst with the CIA.

Anne Henderson-Pollard, 25, also was accused Saturday of unauthorized possession of classified documents following her husband's arrest last week on charges he passed documents to a foreign power that sources identified as Israel.

Pelton, a boat salesman with "no fixed address," was arrested early today in an Annapolis, Md., hotel, the FBI spokesman said. Henderson-Pollard and Chin were also picked up by the FBI, but the agency emphasized there were no connections between the three cases.

The FBI said Pelton worked for the NSA, the super-secret intelligence agency that keeps the nation's communications codes, from 1965 to 1979 as a communications specialist. It declined to say what secrets Pelton is alleged to have passed.

A federal complaint was to be filed today against Pelton, a former Washington resident, before a U.S. magistrate in Baltimore, the spokesman said, adding that, if convicted, he faces a maximum of life in prison.

The FBI declined to say how long Chin, a native of China and a naturalized U.S. citizen, had been with the CIA or exactly what documents allegedly were compromised. But The Washington Post reported that Chin retired from the CIA in 1981 after about 30 years of service.

If convicted, he faces a maximum sentence of life in prison.

Jonathan Pollard, 31, a civilian counterintelligence analyst for the Naval Investigative Service in suburban Maryland, was charged under espionage laws, with stealing "highly sensitive documents" and passing them to a foreign power.

If convicted, Pollard faces a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine on each charge, the FBI said. His wife faces the same.

In Washington Sunday, the Israeli Embassy expressed "shock and consternation" at Pollard's alleged connection to Israel and said it was against government policy to spy on allies.

In a statement, the embassy said: "Action of this kind in the United States stands in total contradiction to the policy of the Israeli government."

$18 Million Damage Fund Established

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — President Belisario Betancur, declaring a 35-day national state of emergency, said an $18 million fund has been established to repair the massive damage caused by a devastating volcanic eruption.

"We will begin without delay the reconstruction," Betancur said in a 30-minute speech broadcast to the nation Sunday night.

In an apparent reference to widespread criticism that the government did not do enough to rescue victims of the Nov. 13 eruption, Betancur said, "It's convenient to look for someone who's guilty. But this debate must stop. The most urgent thing we must do is unite in the work of salvation."

The president said he rescued a baby girl the day after the Nevado del Ruiz volcano erupted — one of his many visits to the disaster area. "I carried her to an ambulance," he said.

Betancur called the volcano disaster and the Nov. 6 attack on the Justice Palace, in which nearly 100 people, including 11 members of the Supreme Court, were killed, the most "horrible and frightful tests in our history."

He said at least 20,000 people were dead or missing — below estimates of 25,000 dead other government officials have provided — and that a final count was being prepared of those killed in the mudslide that followed the eruption.

The president also said 4,500 homes were destroyed and 27,000 acres of land buried in towns affected in the volcanic disaster.

The president acknowledged that recent evacuation drills have caused dismay among area residents.

NATIONAL REPORT:

Thunderstorms drenched southeast Texas today where torrents of floodwaters washed out roads and homes, freezing rain blamed for one death frosted the Midwest and a snowstorm crept into the already snow-covered West. As much as 10 inches of rain swamped southeastern Texas Sunday, flooding more than 20 families out of their homes, swallowing cars in flooded creeks and derailling a freight train on a washed-out track. Sheriff's deputies rescued stranded drivers whose cars were swept away and authorities in San Marcos pressed city vehicles into service for evacuation efforts. "We were at the point where we were using six school buses and five fire trucks to evacuate," San Marcos Fire Chief Oscar Carpenter said. "They can go through 4 feet of water, but it was to the point where a few were starting to stall out." In Montgomery County north of Houston, sheriff dispatcher Jerry Rutledge said he could not keep up with the number of motorists stranded by flooding. "Oh, Lordy, I don't know, when it goes that fast you can't keep a statistical count," Rutledge said.

No deaths were reported in the flooding. Thundershowers hung over the area early today and a flash flood watch was issued for south central and southeast Texas. Gusty winds brought a new storm into the snow-weary West today and freezing drizzle laid a slippery glaze of ice over Kansas, Missouri and northern Indiana. In southeast Kansas Sunday, Melissa M. Vance, 17, of Chanute was killed when her car collided with a pickup truck on the ice-covered Neosho River Bridge just east of Chanute. The Kansas Highway Patrol said both vehicles slid out of control. The driver of the truck was not seriously injured. The Western storm was expected to drop as much as 15 inches of snow in the Colorado high country by late today. Winter storm warnings were issued for the northern mountains of Utah, where 8 inches of snow was predicted. Snow fell in the Sierra Nevada of California, as well as over southern Idaho and northern Nevada. In Idaho, the storm dumped 3 to 4 inches of snow at Mountain Home Air Force Base and Hagerman Sunday.

Woman Abducted On Street, Then Raped

A Longwood woman told police she was raped after a man got into her car while she was looking for change to mail a post card.

According to a sheriff's deputy report, the 26-year-old bartender said she was at Hunt Club Corner and Miami Springs Boulevard, Friday at about 9:30 a.m. when she stopped her car to mail the card. While she was rummaging through her purse, a man got in her 1979 car and said "I won't hurt you if you do what I tell you."

After directing her to drive to a secluded wooded area, he raped her, she said.

She said he was about 6-foot-3, weighed 190 pounds and was 28 to 30 years old. He had brown hair and eyes, several days growth of beard, and was carrying a blue backpack.

The case is under investigation.

PEDDLING POT
An Oviedo man was arrested on a charge of selling marijuana after he reportedly sold some of the drug-weed to an undercover agent.

According to a drug task force agent, he met the man at a bar in Oviedo and bought $6 worth of marijuana from him.

Arrested and charged with selling marijuana is Mark Leonard Turner, 19, of Box 584

Academy Place, Oviedo. He was released from the county jail on $1,000 bond.

SELLING POT, CHILD ABUSE
Lawmen arrested an Altamonte Springs woman on charges of selling marijuana and child abuse after an undercover agent said he bought drugs from the woman and a 12-year-old boy at the residence and saw a girl there selling the material.

Police report confiscating 117 packets of marijuana, $162, and a .38-caliber pistol during the raid.

Arrested around 8 p.m. Friday and charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana, possession of marijuana with intent to distribute, and contributing to the delinquency of a minor — child abuse — was Vanessa Lane, 29, of 9930 Matheing Road. She was released on $1,000 bond.

STOCK BOYS BAGGED
Two Casselberry stock boys were arrested and charged with petty theft after a deputy on routine patrol found stolen cases of alcoholic beverages next to one of the suspects car's behind where they work.

According to the arrest report, the deputy was on routine night patrol when he saw the booze and confronted the duo. In their possession, he reported, was a case of sparkling wine, wine coolers, and a case of beer.

Arrested and released on $100 bond each was Daniel Jeffery Chinelli, 20, of 110 Avalon Court, and Jason Brian Carter, 19, of the same address.

PARKING PEST
A Sanford man who became loud and unruly when asked to move a motorbike blocking parking at a restaurant was arrested on charges of disorderly intoxication and resisting arrest without violence.

According to a Sanford police report, an officer was called to the Golden Lamb, U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford, in reference to motorbikes misparked. When the officer spoke to one man about the parking he became loud and would not calm down. The incident occurred 2:55 a.m. Saturday. After he was arrested, he had to be forced into the patrol car, the report said.

Being held in lieu of $500 bond Saturday in the Seminole County Jail was Roy Paul Dealis, 33, of 721 Royal Plam Court, Sanford.

BABY TAKER
A Sanford man was arrested on charges of trespass and disorderly intoxication after he took a baby from his estranged wife's home.

According to a Sanford police report, the man removed the baby from its bed around 4 a.m. Saturday. When the officer arrived the man was on the lawn with the child, which he gave back to his wife. He was then told to leave and when he did not he was arrested.

Released without bond was Randy Williams, 27, of 2519 Ridgewood Drive.

EXTORTION
A Winter Park teenager was released without bond after being charged with extortion and battery.

According to a deputy's report, the 18-year-old had been extorting money from a Lake Howell High School student for about a week. He reportedly had received about $22.

Arrested and charged with extortion and battery was Roy H. Davenport of 3036 Dikewood Court.

TIED AND BEATEN
A 14-year-old Fern Park girl told a deputy that her mother bound and gagged her, then beat her and her younger sister. She also alleged that her mother's boyfriend sexually assaulted her.

She said her mother bound them with belts, gaged them and then whipped them with a switch. She said the sexual assault occurred in August.

The report is under investigation.

BURGLARIES AND THEFTS
Someone smashed the glass door of Joe Miller Jewelry, 1449 State Road 436, Casselberry, and took about 50 rings. The incident occurred around 6:30 a.m. Friday. No value was placed on the rings. The report said the rings were not insured.

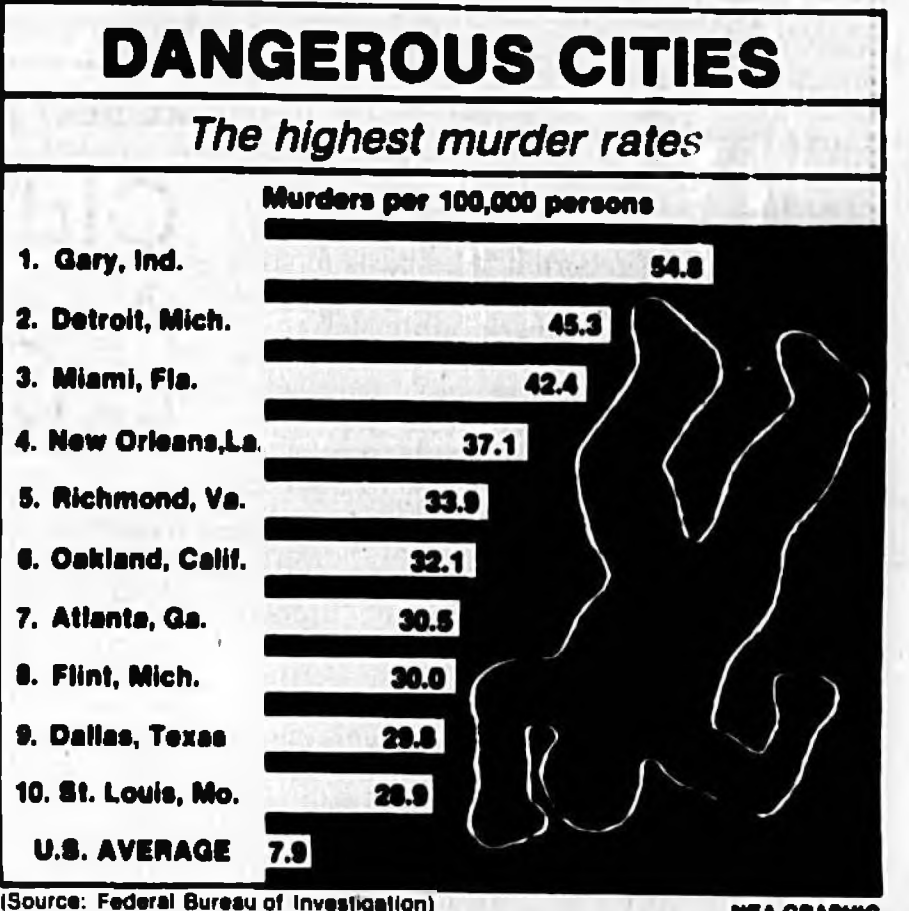

Between 9 p.m. Thursday and 7:30 a.m. Friday someone broke into the Dockmaster's shop at Hidden Harbor Marina at the Port of Sanford. Apparently nothing was taken, the report said.

Lillian Canniggaro, 62, of Ft. Myers, reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that she put her purse on a hook in the restroom at the Interstate 4 rest area near State Road 434 and a thief stole jewelry from the purse.

Ms. Canniggaro said she noticed her purse was missing and found it discarded in a toilet stall, still containing travelers checks and change, but her jewelry had been stolen. The theft occurred Tuesday.

Persons unknown removed a $1,639 Mercury boat motor from a boat at 184 Jaffa Drive, Altamonte Springs. The incident occurred in the early morning hours of Friday, the report said.

Retired CIA Analyst Arrested As Spy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Larry Wu-lai Chin, a retired Central Intelligence Agency analyst, was arrested Friday night on charges of passing classified national security documents to China, the FBI announced today.

Chin, 63, was taken into custody in suburban Alexandria, Va. He faced formal charges today of espionage and conspiracy before a U.S. magistrate.

A naturalized U.S. citizen,

Chin is accused of being a recruited intelligence agent for China.

The FBI declined to say how long Chin, a native of mainland China, had been with the CIA or exactly what documents were alleged to have been compromised.

But The Washington Post reported Chin retired from the CIA in 1981 after about 30 years of service.

"He's been spying for a long period of time," Assistant FBI Director William Baker told the Post.

At the time of his retirement, Chin reportedly worked in the Foreign Broadcast Information Service at the CIA's headquarters in Langley, Va.

The FBI said Chin provided numerous classified CIA documents to the Peoples Republic of China during and after his employment with the agency.

Federal authorities were continuing their investigation.

The arrest came a day after Jonathan Pollard, a civilian counterintelligence analyst for the Naval Investigative Service, was arrested outside the Israeli Embassy on charges of spying.

The FBI said there was apparently no connection between the two cases.

Paid Assassination Ends Bloodfeud

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) — On what would be the last day of his life, Robert Pfeil listened calmly from a hospital bed as his wife related how police believed his brother-in-law had paid an assassin $10,000 to have him killed.

"No kidding," the senior Alaska Airlines pilot said softly as Marianne Pfeil described the plot. "No kidding."

By all appearances, Pfeil's ruined body was healing from the three large-caliber bullet wounds he had received nearly a month earlier in a posh South Anchorage neighborhood.

Pfeil (pronounced fee) knew he would be paralyzed and his career ended. But as he lay in the Mayo Clinic research hospital in Rochester, Minn., it appeared he would live.

The next morning, a blood clot worked its way into one of his lungs, killing the 55-year-old Alaskan.

Thus ended a feud that had begun nearly a decade earlier when Pfeil's sister, Muriel, divorced wealthy Anchorage businessman-attorney Neil S. MacKay.

Pfeil's death ended a chapter in a tale of mayhem marked by a bloodfeud, an unsolved murder, courtroom battles, numerous arrests and a deadly gangland-style attack.

MacKay was 28 and fresh out of law school when he arrived in Anchorage in 1951 with his first wife, Barbara. It was a small town then, one of a few in a giant territory unspoiled by the oil bonanza that would come decades later.

Instead of practicing law, MacKay opened a mortuary in a building on Fourth Avenue.

Slowly, MacKay began an extensive foray into the real estate market, eventually amassing a fortune. In 1965 he divorced his wife and three years later married Muriel Pfeil.

But by 1974, bitter divorce proceedings were under way and a bizarre side of MacKay began to surface publicly. He barricaded himself in the penthouse of his 14-story downtown building and refused to appear in court, violating a judge's order.

The divorce was granted in 1975, and Muriel won one of the state's largest divorce settlements — $750,000, plus $500 monthly support for their son, Neil P. "Scotty" Mackay.

MacKay filed suit to gain custody of Scotty, but his wife won the case.

Muriel was 41, a wealthy, attractive woman with a successful travel business. A newspaper account referred to her as a "hard charger, a tough businessperson and a good mother."

On Sept. 30, 1976, she finished some early afternoon business and slid into the driver's seat of her new orange Volvo, which was parked in a busy downtown Anchorage lot. The ensuing explosion under the car's hood rocked the area and left Muriel dead.

Nothing like that had ever happened in the far north city before, and for 10 years the homicide has remained unsolved.

From the time of Muriel's death, Robert Pfeil and MacKay squared off in what would be a protracted battle over Scotty and control of his inheritance. Pfeil was the executor of Muriel's will and the manager of the boy's $1 million trust fund.

Stormy court hearings continued into the fall of 1977 as Pfeil fought to wrest Scotty from MacKay's custody.

Hauled into court were psychiatric records in which MacKay was said to suffer from "acute organic brain syndrome," a condition Pfeil's lawyers said caused memory and speech dysfunction, and impaired ability to think and reason. They pushed hard to persuade the court that MacKay could never be a fit parent.

MacKay finally ignored court orders and left Alaska with Scotty on Dec. 11, 1977, fleeing first to Hawaii and later to the South Pacific atoll of Likiep in the Marshall Islands.

With Scotty hidden on Likiep, MacKay refused to disclose the boy's whereabouts and was jailed briefly in Hawaii until he agreed to return the boy to Alaska.

MacKay, however, eventually prevailed with the help of his Los Angeles attorney, Robert Kaufman, and won custody of Scotty over the resurgent objections of Robert Pfeil.

The Pfeils remained in Alaska while MacKay and Scotty lived in a condominium in the Iliak Hotel complex in Waikiki, but the miles between the two sides did nothing to dissipate the enmity.

MacKay believed Pfeil was diverting money from the estates of Muriel and Scotty, according to court documents filed last week.

Pfeil and MacKay refused to speak to each other and instead duelled through lawyers.

"Men Of Steel" Pinup Calendar Contest

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (UPI) — Pennsylvania's muscled steelworkers have long depended on their brawn to lift steel rods and pour hot molten metal — but now a handful are flexing for a pinup calendar.

Unlike other beefcake — or in this case steelcake — calendars, the full-color pictures in the "Men of Steel" monthly docket will benefit a worthy cause: helping colleagues who are out of work and down on their luck.

At least $1 of the proceeds from the $8.95 calendar will go to two charities — 50 cents to the food bank of United Steelworkers union locals in Bethlehem and 50 cents to the area chapter of cystic fibrosis.

The calendar was the brainchild of Robert Parr, the president of Dorney Park, the country's oldest family-operated amusement park, who himself is featured as the calendar's fleshy finale, Mr. December.

"Allentown is a hotbed of athletes," Parr said. "Wrestler and football player traits are typical of steeltown natives."

In fact, eight of the men featured in the calendar list either football or wrestling as hobbies. With the exception of Parr, all are steel, iron or automobile workers, or truck drivers.

Parr said he ordered 35,000

calendars and has sold or has orders for about 15,000.

The calendar has a suggested retail price of $8.95.

Parr said he got a late start this year but hoped to sell all the 1986 calendars by Christmas. Parr added 1987 calendars "are already at the printers."

Censorship Is Latest Stupidity

As though South Africa's government had not lost enough credibility, with its repressive policies, Pretoria has now initiated a crackdown on all reporting of the nation's protracted violence.

The draconian decree, issued Nov. 2, prohibits all broadcast journalists and news photographers from reporting disorders in 38 designated emergency areas. Similarly, newspaper reporters are permitted to visit these areas only in the company of police liaison officers.

The government's rationale for this censorship has been to accuse numerous journalists of deliberately inciting the very unrest they have reported. The basis for this flimsy charge is an unnamed government informant and a questionable letter of dubious origin that appeared in a London newspaper several weeks ago. Otherwise, South African authorities have not documented their assertion that the media are engaged in a conspiracy in order to discredit the government.

Actually, Pretoria doesn't need such evidence to tighten the screws on the press.

More recently, the government brought criminal charges against Tony Heard, editor of the Cape Times, a generally critical newspaper. Mr. Heard's so-called crime consisted of publishing an interview with Oliver Tambo, president of the banned African National Congress. Never mind that the interview contained no inflammatory rhetoric or that Mr. Tambo called for peaceful negotiations with the government. If convicted, Mr. Heard faces the possibility of a three-year prison sentence.

Obviously, such heavy-handed tactics are meant to intimidate the press and to prevent the outside world from gauging the depth of domestic discontent against South Africa's repugnant racial policies. The predictable result is that this blatant new censorship erodes ever further Pretoria's credibility at home and abroad.

Now It's Coffee

There they go again — medical researchers proclaiming a study indicating that something that tastes delicious may be hazardous to our health. This time it's coffee in large quantities that's suspect, according to a study of 1,130 white, male graduates of Johns Hopkins Medical School in Baltimore.

The study, begun in 1948, suggests that a person who drinks five or more cups of coffee a day risks a three times greater chance of having heart problems than a non-coffee drinker. Coffee is said to stimulate heart rate, raise blood pressure and possibly increase cholesterol blood levels.

Americans who consume a third of the coffee produced in the world won't take kindly to this threat to the aromatic brew. They'll grasp at coffee leaves, so to speak, and point to researchers' acknowledgement that other studies have found slight or no links between heavy coffee consumption and heart disease, although the Johns Hopkins research is more comprehensive than others.

It would be unfortunate, indeed, if evidence against coffee increased to the point that U.S. workers began going out for "tea breaks," flight attendants offered passengers "bouillon, tea or milk," and panhandlers were forced to ask passersby if they could "spare a half a dollar for a cup of cocoa."

But coffee drinkers can take comfort in researchers' assurance that it's all right to drink one or two cups of coffee daily as long as they reduce well-known heart risks such as smoking, high fat diets and high blood pressure. That would at least satisfy the needs of so many of us who are no good until we've had that first cup of coffee in the morning.

American Messages Multiply Via VCR

It was reported last week that in the month of October more than 1 million video-cassette recorders were sold in the United States!

In a season of summitry, we might consider how popular technology — like VCRs — can change global politics more than even Reagan and Gorbachev.

Some numbers: There are now VCRs in about 30 percent of American households. There are about 100 million sets in the world. Costs have come way down. You can get a basic model now for $190.

Who gains from this technological explosion? The Japanese build the sets. But Americans make most of the movies. They have the hardware. We have the software.

You can make money on both, but the software has a political payoff as well. The advent of the VCR vastly multiplies the numbers of people who will see the movie version of America.

It's happening everywhere. In Western Europe our movies are more accessible than ever before: A rental fee is cheaper than two theater tickets and a baby sitter. In poor countries, people watch "E.T." in remote villages that do not even get a television signal. There are no movie theaters in Saudi Arabia; the sheiks stay home and watch "Beverly Hills Cop."

The tantalizing question concerns to what extent the VCR will penetrate the Iron Curtain. It is already common in some of the satellites of Eastern Europe.

The Soviet Union is a tougher nut to crack. Yet, it is happening. The Soviets tried to produce VCRs, but, alas, the sets turned out so bad the government can't even unload them on yokels in the provinces. However, it is legal for Soviet citizens to buy foreign VCRs in Eastern Europe. Soviet visitors returning from the United States stock up on VCRs before going home.

Pre-recorded tapes are another matter. They are deemed subversive. They cannot be legally brought in, but they have arrived. It is already enough of a problem that an entire group was arrested for watching a Western movie.

The VCR is a danger to a totalitarian state. Unlike a foreign radio signal, it can't be jammed. Unlike a book, a tape can be easily reproduced. And what the tapes show is devastating: they are popular, musical, thrilling, violent, vibrant, visual, seamy and sexy — just what people like to watch.

Many of us in America complain that American movies and television only show the bad side of things. But that is a relative view. If "Miami Vice" is shown in Moscow, what the viewers will notice is that even American slum-dwellers own cars.

It won't be many years until taped American movies and television may be a somewhat familiar, if illegal, sight in the U.S.S.R. Just imagine: "Rambo" in Russia! "Kramer vs. Kramer" in Kharkov! "Nine to Five" in Novosibirsk! "Ghostbusters" in Gorky!

Does all this help America? You bet. After all the summit talk of missiles, let's remember that the ultimate contest between East and West will probably be settled in the minds of men.

Gorbachev came to the summit spouting off that America is the land of monopoly repression, a land that is anti-Semitic and anti-black, full of hungry, homeless and unemployed people.

Our movies, now proliferating everywhere, show a different view to the foreign eye: materialism beyond belief, excitement, technical virtuosity and the freedom to be critical — very critical. Which is a pretty good menu of what the rest of the world would like to be.

Old Laws Are Now Enforced

SAN FRANCISCO (NEA) — Employees of the Crocker National Bank here have stringent new rules for dealing with customers seeking to make deposits or withdrawals involving large amounts of cash.

When handling any cash transaction of $10,000 or more, Crocker's tellers must obtain the depositor's name, address, occupation, employer and Social Security number. The individual's identity must be verified through a driver's license, passport or other reliable document.

"If a customer refuses to provide any of the requested information," one bank rule states firmly, "explain that U.S. law requires the bank to report the information. If the customer still refuses, DO NOT COMPLETE THE TRANSACTION."

Another rule prohibits the issuance of cashier's checks for more than $2,500 to non-customers seeking to pay with cash.

These new restrictions were promulgated after Crocker was fined $2.25 million by the Treasury Department earlier this year for failing to comply with the Bank Secrecy Act, which requires that all large cash transactions be reported to the federal government.

Crocker is not the only bank which has acknowledged violating the cash reporting law, designed to prevent the "laundering" of cash by narcotics traffickers, organized crime figures and others engaged in unlawful enterprises.

Four of New York's largest banks — Chemical, Chase Manhattan, Manufacturers Hanover and Irving Trust — were fined $210,000 to $360,000 for their failure to report a total of $1.33 billion worth of cash transactions.

The Bank of Boston was fined $500,000 for its failure to report $1.22 billion in cash transactions. The Bank of New England was accused of allowing a convicted gambler to circumvent the reporting requirements while withdrawing more than $800,000 in cash.

At least two other banks in Massachusetts and two in Rhode Island are the object of federal criminal or civil investigations. In Washington, D.C., Riggs National Bank was fined almost $270,000 for noncompliance with the law.

Throughout the country, more than 50 banks are the targets of Treasury Department civil investigations.

Coup Plotters Can Be Bounty Hunters

By Jack Anderson And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — If you think the CIA plays hardball when it tries to undermine a hostile regime like Nicaragua or Libya's, consider the Dutch, of all people. They have, in effect, put a billion-dollar price on the head of Lt. Col. Desl Bouterse, the self-proclaimed Marxist who has controlled their former colony of Suriname for the past five years.

Practically singlehandedly, Bouterse has made his obscure, Georgia-sized country on the northeastern shoulder of South America a trouble spot worthy of Washington's attention. Bouterse has achieved this dubious status by conspiring with Fidel Castro to stir up trouble in Latin American countries struggling to remain free and democratic.

Suriname's previous claim to fame was as a footnote in colonial history. In one of the shrewdest bargains ever made, the British gave Suriname to the Dutch in 1667 in exchange for Manhattan and the Hudson River Valley.

Bush Replows Policy

The farm question has Bush walking a precarious political tightrope.

He has the best chance of winning the presidency in 1988 if he runs as Reagan's logical successor — preferably with Reagan's at-least-tact endorsement. Therefore, Bush must seem to back Reagan totally and support all of his programs, including the farm program.

At the same time, Bush must have the farm states' support: No Republican can win the presidency without collecting most of the Farm Belt's electoral votes.

The problem is that Reagan's farm policy has become anathema to most farmers — which means that Bush must back something that the voters hate.

To walk this tightrope, he's supporting the farm program while showing extreme interest in the farmers' welfare and appearing ready to seek new solutions in the future.

Bush ostensibly went to Iowa to help raise funds for the re-election campaigns of the state's Republican governor, Terry Branstad, and GOP Sen. Charles Grassley. Both men have tried to salvage their political careers by actively — and very vocally — opposing Reagan's farm policy. Bush devoted most of his two-day visit to politicking and fundraising. However, most local attention was focused on his hour-long meeting with the leaders of 16 major farm organizations.

"I heard with heart-wrenching frankness ... there are a lot of problems," Bush said. But, he added, "it was a listening thing. I don't come out here with a lot of new programs or new ideas. If that's not enough, I'm sorry."

He told the farm leaders that he couldn't make promises and wouldn't distance himself from administration farm policies, even if that would damage his chances of winning the presidential nomination.

"It would be hypocritical of me to do it," he said. "I can't turn my back on him (Reagan). That's the price I pay (for) being vice president."

He admitted that the administration may have been "a little slow" to realize the magnitude of the farmers' plight. However, he said, "I think we have to demonstrate to people here that the administration cares, I care, the president cares. We do, greatly, but I'm not sure people here realize that."

Farmers haven't benefited from the economic recovery, said Bush, and "restoring the health of the farm economy has to remain a Republican national priority."

DON GRAFF

Economics Conquers Ideology

"As one assesses the recent step-up of Soviet proxy activity in the Third World... one can only conclude that the era of the 'resource war' has arrived."

That ominous assessment was delivered in 1980 by then Secretary of State Alexander Haig. Some among us today — looking at southern Africa, Central America and Southeast Asia — might say the only change in the situation has been for the worse.

The Center for Defense Information is not among them, however. In a just-released study, "Resource Wars: The Myth of American Mineral Vulnerability," the privately funded defense watchdog questions both the logic of the Haig view and the massive spending on military forces it has been used to justify. The military, it is argued, must guarantee continued U.S. access to overseas resources.

But back to the "war." The most direct way for the Soviets to score would be for them to seize contested resources for their own use. The study cites two reasons why this is unlikely to happen on a large scale: The Soviets lack the means to intervene militarily very far from home, and they already possess ample mineral wealth. The Soviet Union is itself an important raw-material exporter.

The more plausible ploy would be for the Soviets to gain political control of producing countries, which would cut off exports to the West. But then the Soviets would have to come up with alternative sources of income for the client states or subsidize their economies. The economic reality is that the United States and its industrial allies are the only hard-currency customers ready to do business with the producing countries.

"No developing country, socialist or capitalist, can afford the prolonged loss of the foreign exchange earned by mineral exports," the study observes.

It notes that Marxist Angola, Cuban troops and all, continues to do business with American Gulf Oil, illustrating "how easily economic expediency can overcome ideology."

OK, so let's leave the Soviets out of it. What about an internal upheaval in a producing country that would require a U.S. response to prevent disruption of supplies?

Military force alone, as CDI sees it, cannot guarantee the uninterrupted flow of raw materials from overseas.

Young Bucs Pay Off With Overtime Win

TAMPA (UPI) — The Tampa Bay Buccaneers counted on two rookies of varying backgrounds Sunday to salvage some pride from their forgettable season.

Quarterback Steve Young, ravaged by the Detroit defense through three periods, made his NFL debut a memorable one as he and first-year kicker Donald Igwebuikwe combined talents for a 19-16 overtime triumph. The Buccaneers rallied from a 10-point deficit in the final 3:38 to force the extra session and Igwebuikwe's fourth field goal of the game, a 24-yarder with just 2:29 left in overtime, gave the Buccaneers their second victory in 12 games. The loss dropped the Lions to 6-6 and crippled their hopes for a wild card playoff berth.

"It was a wild day, there was yelling and screaming and things were tough out there," said Tampa Bay tackle Ron Heller. "I think Steve's ability to motivate was great out there. Steam was coming out of his ears and he was ready to go out and do the job needed to win."

The Lions built a 16-6 lead on three Ed Murray field goals and a 1-yard touchdown run by James Jones. In the third quarter alone, the Lions sacked Young three times and Tampa Bay had zero yards passing heading into the fourth period.

"There are a few passes I wish I had back," said Detroit's Eric Hipple, who completed 22-of-38 for 225 yards. "In the end, they out-performed us. They toughened up on us defensively and when we needed to get a drive going, they stopped us. There is no doubt this hurts us and hurts us badly."

Igwebuikwe kicked first-half field goals of 33 and 48 yards as Tampa Bay trailed 7-6 at intermission. Midway through the fourth quarter, Young ignited a 74-yard drive by hitting consecutive passes of 19 yards to Gerald Carter and 15 to James Wilder, who had 98 yards rushing in 27 carries. After a critical pass interference call against Bobby Watkins sustained the march on third-and-12, Wilder dashed off left end from six yards out to make it 16-13 with 3:38 left in regulation.

Young's 23-yard strike to Kevin House led to Igwebuikwe's tying 36-yarder with a minute remaining and a 19-yard pass to Carter set up Igwebuikwe's game-winning kick. Igwebuikwe, a 10th-round draft pick who was born in Nigeria, has clicked on 14 of his last 15 attempts.

Young, born in Salt Lake City, is a former All-America from Brigham Young University who set or tied 13 NCAA records. After two years in the USFL with the Los Angeles Express, Young got a chance Sunday to display his talents in the NFL before a crowd of 43,471.

"I have to give a lot of credit to the men around me ... and a big hand has to go to the defense," said Young, who completed 16-of-27 passes for 167 yards and added 60 yards rushing on 10 scrambles. "When I go one-on-one with someone, I feel like I can slide off and defeat the hit."

For the Lions, who sacked Young six times but ran for just 73 yards, it could be wait until next year.

"We knew he'd run," said Detroit defensive end William Gay. "I don't know what else to say about him. I'm too depressed."

SCC Tries To Regroup For Manatee

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

TEMPLE TERRACE — Seminole Community College's Raiders have been pretty fortunate on the road this year. They pulled out a narrow win at Brevard, rallied for a victory at Lake-Sumter and posted a convincing triumph at North Florida.

That road magic, nevertheless, came to an end Saturday night at Florida College, a tiny junior college of 400 students north of Tampa. In a battle of unbeaten, the Falcons used several Darren Chandler breakaway slam dunks down the stretch against a gambling SCC defense to post an 81-73 victory.

The loss dropped the Raiders to 6-1 while Florida College improved to 7-0. SCC, however, won't have any time to lick its wounds. It's on the road again tonight when coach Bill Payne's forces travel to Bradenton for an encounter with Manatee.

"We didn't shoot very well," Payne said. "It was a total team effort. Everybody made turnovers. But they got a nice team. It's tough to play in that gym. I'm not disappointed, except for our shooting."

"It's unfortunate we have to play Manatee right away. They're 5-0. I just hope we can bounce back. Physically, it shouldn't be no problem. Mentally, it might."

The Raiders played well for 37 minutes Saturday but an inability to convert offensive rebounds — which had been a saving grace in the past few victories — cost SCC in the final three minutes.

SCC jumped to an early 11-8 lead with its scrambling defense as Tony Roberts came up with consecutive steals and fed Greg "Slim" Johnson for a slam and David Gallagher for a layup.

Freshman Vance Hall could manage just 1 for 14 from the floor, all coming inside of five feet. Roberts was just 6 for 17 from the outside.

Florida College's 6-4 point guard Oscar Santiago turned the tide in the second half. The slim guard combined with Dexter Ray to continually back the smaller Raider guards inside.

The turnabout came with 3:05 to play. The Falcons took a 66-62 a minute early but Hall canned two free throws and Roberts used a nifty ball fake to draw a foul while he hit the baseline jumper. His three-point play gave SCC its last lead, 67-66, with 3:29 to play.

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (UPI) — Having disposed of the Buffalo Bills, the Miami Dolphins are already thinking about their next task — the unbeaten Chicago Bears.

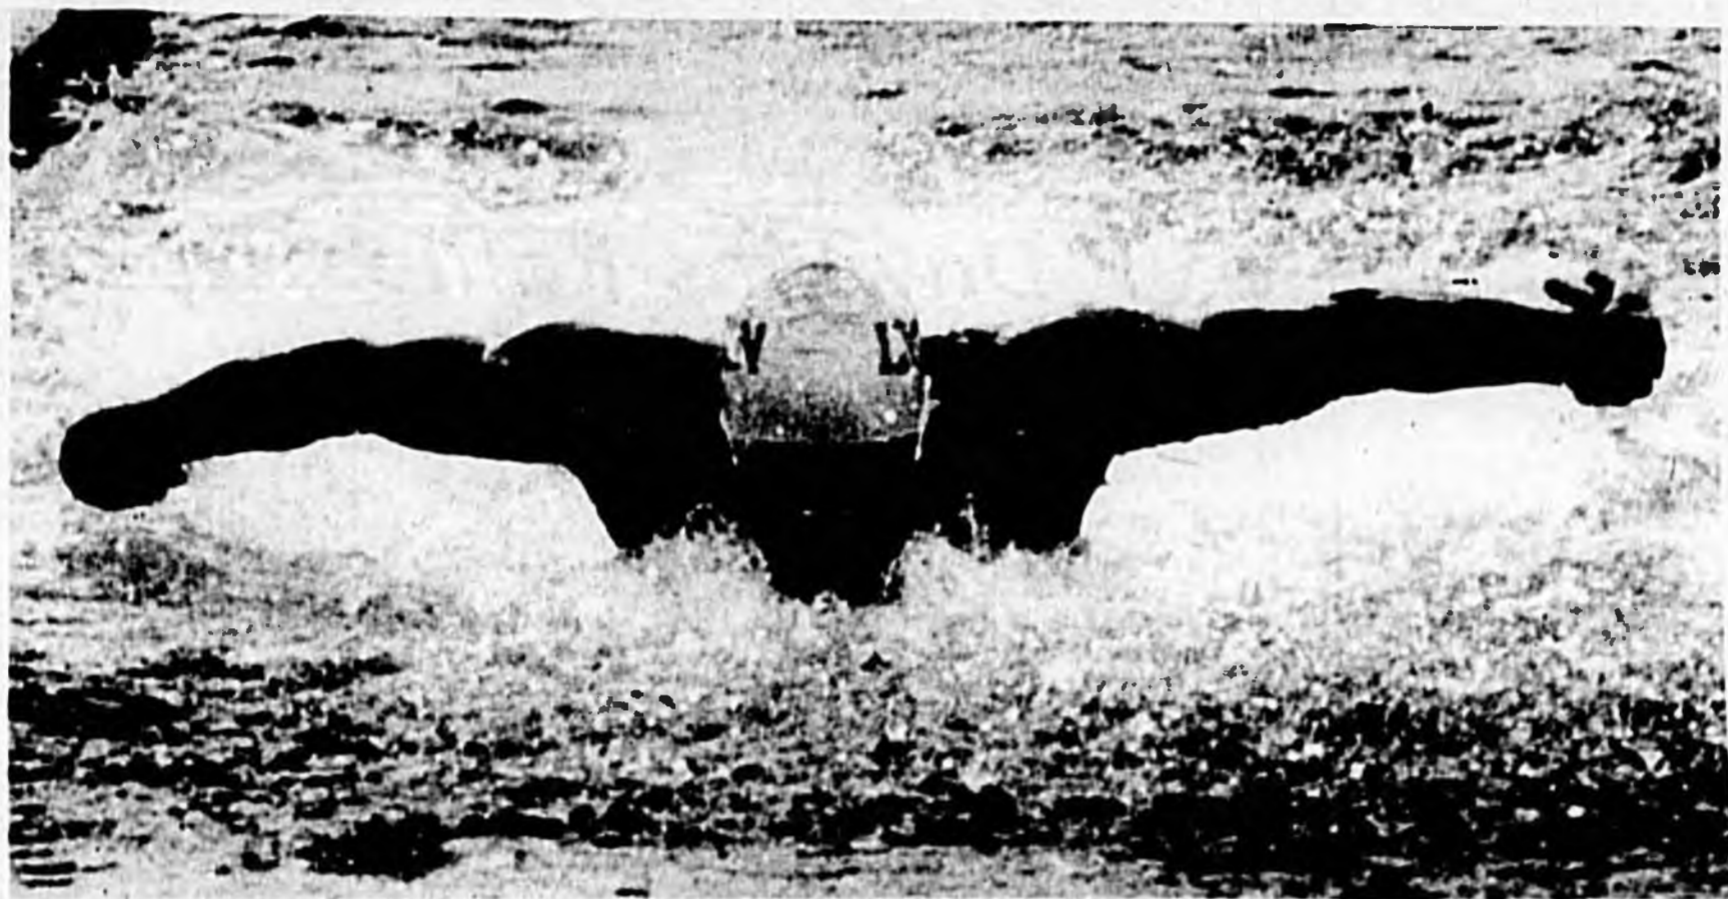

The Dolphins polished their offense Sunday enroute to a crucial 23-14 win over Buffalo, a victory that boosted their record to 8-4 and kept them alive in the race for the AFC East title.

Now it is onto the 12-0 Bears for a Monday night contest in the Orange Bowl.

"We got a win we needed today to stay in the hunt," said Dolphins Coach Don Shula. "We will start our preparation for the Bears on Tuesday."

ORLANDO — The Lyman Greyhounds, sparked by Charlie "Chazz" Rose's state-championship swim in the 200 individual medley, stroked their way to one of the school's highest places at the Class 4A Boys' State Championships at the Justus Aquatic Center this past Saturday.

Even though the Winter Park Wildcats, led by state record breaking senior Joe Auer, captured their sixth straight title, the Hounds managed to pull out a fifth place overall finish with more than 6,000 fans watching and more than 73 schools competing.

Led by Rose, senior Ken Barnett and junior Tom Mooney, the Greyhounds scored 70 points giving them the fifth place score. Winter Park won hands down with 198 points to runner up West Orange who put 102 points on the scoreboard.

Rose, who placed fifth in the 200 individual medley only a week ago in the district meet at Sharidan Aquatic Club, splashed to a dramatic finish to out-touch Winter Park's Brandon Bryant and West Orange's Jack Jackson. Rose finished with an All-America consideration time of 1:55.30.

Politowicz Breaks 12:00, Breezes In 1A

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

If she was running the 100 yard dash Saturday, Adrienne Politowicz may have gotten some competition.

There were a few runners with the Trinity Prep senior in the dash for position at the beginning of the two-mile race, but the rest of the way it was Politowicz against the DeLand Airport course. And, in the final Florida race of her prep cross country career, Politowicz even conquered what is her least favorite course.

Politowicz led from start to finish in winning the 1A State Meet individual title for the second year in a row with a time of 11:52.6. It was also the first time she had broken 12 minutes on the DeLand course.

"I was happy I ran under 12," Politowicz said. "I had to push myself to do it. The course didn't feel as slow as the last time I ran on it, but it still wasn't great."

Politowicz bolted right out to the lead in the first quarter mile and wasn't threatened the rest of the way. The second place finisher, Jenni Soles of St. Petersburg Keawick Christian, came in nearly 20 seconds after Politowicz. Soles, though, will be back. She is just an eighth grader.

Cross Country

"I thought there would be two or three girls that would have at least hung with me until the mile," Politowicz said. "But there was nobody there. I find it hard to keep pressing myself when nobody's running with me."

Politowicz could have had plenty of competition had she chosen to go to Winter Park High for her senior year. But she decided that staying at Trinity Prep would be the best thing for her and, although Winter Park won the 4A championship, she's happy she stayed at Trinity.

"It would have pushed me harder to go to Winter Park but it also would have hurt me because its such a big change," Politowicz said. "I'm glad I stayed at Trinity Prep. I don't feel there is much more I could do with my training. I could have gotten the more quality races at Winter Park, but I should get that in track."

Politowicz will run one more cross country race as she travels to Charlotte, N.C., this weekend for the Kinney Nationals. Politowicz will run against Winter Park's Kim Bovis and Amy Gamber, the top two 4A individuals, in the national event.

The Trinity Prep girls team finished seventh in the 1A State Meet Saturday after not having a complete team most of the season.

Following Politowicz in the top five were Becky Baskin (26th at 13:55.3), Stacy Johnson (42nd at 14:33.3), Laura Barrett (43rd at 14:34.6) and Janet Cabascango (60th at 16:20.8).

Lakeland Christian won the 1A girls title for the third year in a row with a team score of 50 compared to 78 for Keawick.

In the boys 1A race, Trinity Prep took eighth place with a team score of 199. Fort Lauderdale Westminster Academy won with a score of 40.

Trinity Prep's top five included Jon Fritz (25th at 17:39.9), Ervin Dasher (39th at 18:05.3), Brad Shapiro (43rd at 18:13.1), Jason Hale (53rd at 18:35.9) and Jean-Paul Montoya (58th at 19:07.3).

Rohr Soars To 9th

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

DELAND — Lake Mary's Ken Rohr and Seminole's Billy Penick ended their prep cross country careers on different notes Saturday at the 4A State Meet.

Rohr put on a tremendous finishing kick and accomplished his goal of attaining all-state status. The senior distance standout finished ninth in the race with a time of 15:44 over the DeLand Airport course. The top 10 individuals make the all-state first team.

On the other hand, Penick, still feeling the affects of the flu, finished a disappointing 11th with a time of 15:49.5. Penick had the second best time in the state (15:02.5) going into the meet.

Meanwhile, the Lake Howell Silver Hawks competed in their first state meet ever and found the competition to be extremely tough. The Hawks finished 13th with a team score of 270.

Favorited Clearwater Countryside took the team title with team score of 78 compared to 93 for Tampa Leto. Mike LeValle, out of Lauderdale Lakes Boyd Anderson, was the individual champion with an impressive time of 15:17. LeValle upset individual favorite Roger Letchworth (second at 15:28) of Countryside who took a wrong turn and ran 80 yards off course in the early going.

While LeValle and Letchworth battled for the first place throughout most of the race, Penick stayed with the second pack. The Seminole senior ran fourth or fifth for the first two miles but fell to eighth going into the last quarter mile. Three runners, including Rohr, passed Penick on the home stretch.

Rohr started out a bit slower than usual and worked his way up as the race progressed.

"He ran exactly what I told him to," Lake Mary coach Mark McGee said of Rohr. "We thought it would be smarter to go out slower and work his way up and try to come back and get in the top 10. He was 18th at the mile and worked his way up to 10th at the two mile mark. He stayed there until the last quarter mile when he moved up."

"He accomplished his major goal of getting all-state," added McGee. "And finishing in the top 10 will do a lot for his confidence for track."

Lake Howell put on its patented third-mile kick but was too far back after two miles to get into the top 10 teams.

"It was a new experience for the kids," Lake Howell coach Joe Corso said.

The Hawks top finisher was Anthony Howe who came in 39th at 16:27.9. He was followed in the top five by Jeff Van Buskirk (55th at 16:43.5), John Davis (58th at 16:44.5), Chuck Buster (72nd at 17:59.1) and Brent Springhart (101st at 17:38.4). Also running for Lake Howell were Dylan Rowe (108th at 17:58.1) and Bryan Droze (109th at 18:05.7).

Lake Howell finished fourth out of the teams from Region 3. The Hawks were third at regionals, Melbourne Palm Bay, the fourth team at the region meet, was the top region finisher Saturday as it took 10th at 215.

The top individual finisher was Jamie Schuddekoph of Lantana Santaluca who came in fourth at 15:34. Schuddekoph finished second behind Penick at the region meet.

the team thinking about the Bears," Shula added. "You do that and you can easily be beaten."

Yet it was the Bears — not the Bills — that were the main subject of conversation among the Dolphins after the game.

"Why would I be here if I didn't think that we could beat the Bears?" asked Miami running back Tony Nathan, who scored the game's final points on a four-yard touchdown run late in the fourth quarter, and picked up 77 of Miami's 172 rushing yards.

"Mentally, I think this sets us up for the Bears real well," said offensive lineman Roy Foster. "It was a good win and it's a bit more boost of confidence."

"The Bears are undefeated and we were undefeated at this point last year," Foster added.

The Dolphins mixed the pass with the run against Buffalo, with Dan Marino throwing touchdown passes of seven and 15 yards to running back Ron Davenport and tight end Dan Johnson respectively in the first half to get off to a 14-0 lead.

The Bills, behind the scrambling and passing of quarterback Bruce Mathison, cut it to 14-7 just before the half on an 11-yard Mathison to Andre Reed scoring pass. Buffalo tied it in the third quarter when Mathison connected with wide receiver Jerry Butler on a 60-yard pass play.

Miami kicker Faud Revelz kicked a 22-yard field goal into a gusty 30 mph wind in the third quarter for what proved to be the game-winning points. The field goal came after Buffalo's Donald Wilson muffed a Miami punt on the Bills 11.

Foster said that because of the upcoming Bears game, and the Bills record, which dropped to 2-10 with the loss, the Dolphins had a tough time preparing for the game.

"It was one of those weeks when you had to concentrate on what a team like Buffalo was trying to do to you," Foster said. "They can pull out a whole bunch of tricks and pull out a lot of things."

IN BRIEF

Lanham Accounts For 3 TDs As Knights Smother Savannah

Central Florida's Knights snappd a seven-game losing streak Saturday night as Tony Lanham passed for two touchdowns and ran for another in a 31-7 victory over Division II Savannah State at Orlando Stadium. The game drew just 3,478 fans, the worst in UCF history.

The victory for first-year coach Gene McDowell's Knights upped their season mark to 3-7. The Knights close the season next Saturday at home against Samford.

After a scoreless first period, Lanham opened the scoring with a 45-yard toss to Brian Glasford. Lanham's one-yard run later in the period and the second PAT kick by Eddie Miller gave the Knights a 14-0 halftime bulge.

In the third quarter, Lanham found favorite receiver Teddy Wilson for a 17-yard scoring toss. Wilson had 10 receptions for 120 yards. Lanham finished with 13 completions in 23 attempts for 246 yards. He was intercepted twice.

Lanham gave way to former Lake Howell High standout Darin Slack, who engineered UCF's remaining points. Slack hit all three passes he attempted for 23 yards.

Armour Lifts Lions To Grey Cup

MONTREAL (UPI) — Starting in a championship football game is nice. Former San Diego State trackster Ned Armour prefers starting.

Armour, who never played college football, caught two long touchdown passes Sunday to lead the British Columbia Lions to a 37-24 Grey Cup victory over the Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Canadian Football League championship game at Olympic Stadium.

"I only played one regular-season game and caught one pass all year long," Armour said. "It sure was satisfying to get in the playoff game last week and this big game today. I got into our two biggest games of the year. I hope I can be a starter next year."

The 6-foot-1, 185-pound wide receiver replaced Mervyn Fernandez, who missed both playoff games because of a thigh injury.

Armour, a native of Indianapolis, caught first-half touchdown passes of 84 and 59 yards from Lions' quarterback Roy Dewalt before 56,723 fans.

Nenow Sets Turkey Trot Record

ROSEMONT, Ill. (UPI) — World-record holder Mark Nenow set a course record Sunday to win his third consecutive Rosemont 10K Turkey Trot. Zola Budd of Britain easily won the women's competition.

With temperatures in the low 20s, Nenow left the pack in the first half-mile and stretched his lead throughout the 6.2-mile race. His time of 28 minutes, 35 seconds was a course record but was more than a minute off his world record pace of 27:22.

"I think it was pretty good for today," Nenow, 27, of Lexington, Ky., said of his time. "It's nice to be able to win again."

Simon Kigen of Kenya and Boulder, Colo., finished second in a time of 29:26 and his countryman Samson Obwocha finished third at 29:32.

Seniors: Player Surges To Win

BOCA RATON (UPI) — Gary Player, who trailed by four strokes entering the final 18 holes, Sunday surged to win the $200,000 Quadel Senior PGA Classic with a record-tying score.

"I felt left out after scoring a 73 opening day," said Player, who qualified for the Seniors Classic Nov. 1 by celebrating his 50th birthday. "I wanted to do well in my first senior tournament. Winning it means a lot, especially with the good scoring. I wanted to start a new career by winning."

Player shot a 68 in the third round to tie Arnold Palmer's tournament record 205 for the 54 holes. Ken Still, the early leader, finished second by three strokes to make his debut on the Senior tour a successful one.

Navratilova Regains No. 1 Rank

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — Martina Navratilova regained the world's top spot in women's tennis Sunday by defeating Hana Mandlikova in three sets to capture the New South Wales championship.

Playing the same woman who defeated her in the final of the U.S. Open last September, Navratilova beat Mandlikova 3-6, 6-1, 6-2 in a 71-minute final played under a fierce sun before 5,300 fans at White City. The victory was worth $26,000.

After the match, Women's Tennis Association officials calculated that Navratilova's victory over Wendy Turnbull, Helena Sukova and Mandlikova in the 100th New South Wales championships gave Navratilova 173.73 points, pushing her past Chris Evert Lloyd by a mere 1.48 points.

Nance Takes Blame For OT Loss To Suns

Credit Phoenix forward Larry Nance with two things — an assist in Milwaukee's overtime victory over the Suns, and honesty.

"Come talk to me. I'm to blame for this one," Nance said after the Suns' 140-138 loss to the Bucks Sunday night. "I should have hit those two free throws and we shouldn't have been in this overtime. Blame this one on me, okay?"

With the Suns leading 127-123 and 19 seconds left in regulation, Nance missed two free throws that would likely have put the game out of reach. Terry Cummings nailed a 16-footer with one second remaining to send the game into overtime.

Nance did not lose the game by himself as the Suns allowed a 9-point lead to evaporate in the final 31 seconds of regulation. The Bucks' comeback was highlighted by 3-point plays by Lamp and Ricky Pierce that quickly cut a 7-point lead to just one.

NBA Roundup

Jeff Lamp's two free throws with four seconds left in overtime won it for Milwaukee.

"I don't think we had much business winning this game," said Lamp, whose shots overshadowed Walter Davis' tying free throws. "We just kept playing hard and got some breaks at the end."

Davis led all scorers with 37 points. Cummings led Milwaukee 28 points and was followed by Lamp with 23 points and Sidney Moncrief with 21.

For Phoenix, which dropped to 2-13, Alvan Adams had 28 points and James Edwards had 18.

Elsewhere, Washington topped Chicago 115-106. Cleveland defeated Atlanta 98-90, Portland beat Houston 125-118, New Jersey defeated Sacramento 118-103, Seattle bombed Denver 110-84 and the LA Lakers beat San Antonio 118-102.

Long's Journey Finds Roses

United Press International
People travel great distances to fulfill their dreams. Iowa quarterback Chuck Long covered over 10,000 yards to make his come true.

Long, a fifth-year senior who decided against turning pro for the chance of starting in the Rose Bowl, broke the Big Ten career passing record Saturday by lifting for 288 yards and a touchdown to lift the fourth-ranked Hawkeyes to a 31-9 victory over Minnesota.

The triumph gave the Hawkeyes the Big Ten title, and a ticket to Pasadena for a Rose Bowl encounter with Pac-10 champ UCLA.

Long, called by Iowa coach Hayden Fry the "greatest quarterback in America," erased the Big Ten career mark of 9,948 yards set by Purdue's Mark Herrmann. He completed 21-of-31 passes and set Iowa passing records for attempts, completions and yards. His career yardage total to 10,142 yards.

"There have been a lot of great quarterbacks in the Big Ten through the years and when Chuck breaks all those records, it's got to be meaningful," Fry said.

Fry, whose team was humiliated 28-0 by Washington in the 1982 Rose Bowl when Long was the backup quarterback, vows a better showing this year.

"Well, you can't hide the truth. There are nine guys with us now who were with us then," Fry said. "We have an awful lot of pride."

The No. 8 Bruins, who lost to Southern California 17-13 Saturday, backed into the Rose Bowl when Arizona defeated Arizona State 16-13. Redshirt freshman Rodney Peete dove over from the 1 with 73 seconds remaining, enabling Southern Cal to register its upset victory. Despite finishing 5-5, the Trojans were extended an Aloha Bowl invitation to play Alabama.

The Orange Bowl will be the showcase event this year and should decide the national championship with No. 1 Penn St. taking on third-ranked Oklahoma. The Sooners clinched the Big Eight title with a 27-7 rout of Nebraska. Penn State capped its perfect season with a 31-0 blowout of Pittsburgh.

The lineups for the other two New Year's Day games show Nebraska (9-2) playing No. 6 Michigan (9-1-1) in the Fiesta Bowl, No. 5 Miami (9-1) vs. the Southeastern Conference champ, likely No. 15 Tennessee (7-1-2), in the Sugar Bowl and No. 9 Auburn vs. the winner of the Thanksgiving Day game between No. 18 Texas A&M and No. 19 Texas.

As for the other bowl games, this is the way the pairings shape up:

California Bowl at Fresno, Calif., Dec. 14. Fresno State vs. Bowling Green.

Cherry Bowl at Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 21. Maryland vs. Syracuse.

Independence Bowl at Shreveport, La., Dec. 21. Minnesota vs. Clemson.

Holiday Bowl at San Diego, Calif., Dec. 22. No. 16 Arkansas vs. Arizona State.

Liberty Bowl at Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 27. No. 14 Baylor vs. No. 17 Louisiana State.

Citrus Bowl at Orlando, Fla., Dec. 28. No. 11 Ohio State vs. No. 13 Brigham Young.

Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas, Dec. 28. Georgia vs. Arizona.

Freedom Bowl at Anaheim, Calif., Dec. 30. Washington vs. Colorado.

Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 30. No. 7 Oklahoma State vs. No. 12 Florida State.

Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Dec. 31. No. 10 Air Force vs. Texas-Texas A&M loser.

All American Bowl at Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 31. Georgia Tech vs. Michigan State.

Peach Bowl at Atlanta, Dec. 31. Army vs. Illinois.

In addition to Nebraska and UCLA, another member of the top 10 was beaten last Saturday as Oklahoma State dropped a 15-10 decision to Iowa State. The loss ended any Orange Bowl hopes for the Cowboys.

Otherwise, Miami defeated Colorado State 24-3, Michigan beat Ohio State 27-17 and Air Force topped Hawaii 27-20. Auburn was idle.

Penn State is unbeaten in three Orange Bowl appearances, while Oklahoma has compiled a 9-4 mark.

In the finale at Pittsburgh, backup fullback Tim Manoa set up one touchdown and scored two others for Penn State.

At Norman, Okla., tight end Keith Jackson raced 88 yards for one touchdown and quarterback Jamelle Holloway dashed 43 yards for another, both in the first quarter, to send Oklahoma over Nebraska. The Sooners intercepted three passes, recovered a fumble and held the Cornhuskers to 161 yards on the ground — 230 below their nation-leading average.

At Miami, Alonzo Highsmith and Melvin Bratton scored on short runs in the second half to send the Hurricanes over Colorado State.

At Ann Arbor, Mich., Jim Harbaugh set two school passing records with three touchdown passes to lead Michigan over Ohio State. The Buckeyes pulled within 20-17 on Jim Karsatos's 36-yard pass to Chris Carter on 4th-and-15 with 10:10 left, but Harbaugh responded two plays later with a 77-yard TD pass to freshman John Kolesar.

MVP Dawkins Rallies Duke Past U-AB

United Press International

The Duke Blue Devils Sunday showed Alabama-Birmingham why they are the nation's fifth rated college basketball team. At the heart of their display was Johnny Dawkins, who may be the country's No. 1 guard.

The Blue Devils overcame foul trouble and used a fierce defensive game to rally past No. 16 Alabama-Birmingham 66-54 Sunday in the second round of the National Invitation Tournament.

Dawkins, named the region's most valuable player, was held to 4 points in the first half but finished with 18.

The Blue Devils advance to the tournament's semifinals Friday in New York.

David Henderson and Mark Alarie each scored 15 for the Blue Devils. Jerome Mincy led UAB with 21 points and Steve Mitchell added 18.

Mitchell dropped a pair of long jumpers and Mincy scored 5 straight points to put the Blazers ahead 44-36 with 13:13 remaining.

Dawkins and Henderson each scored 4 points to tie the score with 10 minutes left.

After Archie Johnson gave the Blazers a 47-45 lead with a free throw at 8:59, Duke ran off an 11-0 surge for a 56-47 cushion.

Dawkins hit a long jumper. Billy King hit a 3-point play. Dawkins fired two straight jumpers, and Alarie sank a pair of free throws with five minutes left.

Elsewhere in the NIT, St. John's advanced to New York with a 65-58 victory over West Virginia. No. 4 Kansas moved to the semifinals with a 69-64 victory over No. 17 Washington, and tenth-ranked Louisville defeated Tulsa 80-74.

At Hartford, Conn., Walter Berry scored 18 points, and St. John's survived a furious second-half comeback bid by West Virginia to advance.

After the Redmen scored the game's first 10 points and took a 43-23 halftime lead, the Mountaineers rallied behind the hot shooting of senior guard Dale Blancy.

At Denver, Ron Kellogg scored 22 points to lead Kansas to a come-from-behind victory over 17 Washington.

The Jayhawks received 14 points from 7-footer Greg Dreiling and 12 from Calvin Thompson. Chris Welt had 21 points to lead Washington.

At Cincinnati, Billy Thompson scored 21 points, including 12 in the second half, to power Louisville.

Jets Nip Patriots; Bears Smear Falcons

United Press International
The New York Jets, Los Angeles Raiders, Cleveland Browns and Washington Redskins made major gains in their quests for playoff spots Sunday, while the Chicago Bears just rolled along.

On the flip side, Philadelphia, Detroit, Green Bay and Minnesota had their playoff chances severely damaged as the NFL season enters its final month.

The Jets grabbed sole possession of first place in the AFC East with a 16-13 overtime victory over New England. The Patriots had a six-game winning streak snapped, lost quarterback Steve Grogan for the season and fell into a tie with Miami, one game behind New York at 8-4.

"That's probably the best team we'll play this year," said Jets nose tackle Joe Klecko, who keyed a New York defense that allowed 11 yards in two possessions of overtime. "It was a good, tough football game and the kind we'll have to win if we want to go somewhere."

The Jets were hindered by AFC rushing leader Freeman McNeil's sprained ankle but NFL passing leader Ken O'Brien producing his third straight 300-yard passing game. He was 20-of-33 for 311 yards and his 88-yard TD pass to Wesley Walker, the third longest in Jets' history, put New York ahead 13-3 with 43 seconds left in the third quarter.

Kurt Sohn's 46-yard punt return set up Pat Leahy's game-winning 32-yard field goal 10:05 into overtime. The Patriots had tied the score 13-13 on Tony Franklin's 28-yard field goal with 16 seconds left in regulation time.

The Raiders moved into a tie for the AFC West with Denver with their 31-28 overtime victory over the Broncos at Los Angeles. Both clubs are 8-4 and meet again Dec. 8 in Denver.

Chris Bahr, who missed a potential game-winning field goal at the end of regulation, kicked a 32-yarder 2:42 into overtime to lift the Raiders. The Raiders and Broncos are both 8-4.

The Redskins' 30-23 victory over Pittsburgh, coupled with Cleveland's 24-8 rout of Cincinnati, left the Steelers and Browns tied for the AFC Central lead.

NFL Roundup

Washington, bolstered by the play of quarterback Jay Schroeder in his first NFL start, also stayed within a game of co-leaders Dallas and the New York Giants in the NFC East and in the thick of the NFC wild card hunt.

Schroeder, who took over and led the Redskins to a 23-21 comeback victory over the Giants after Joe Theismann broke his leg last Monday night, completed 15-of-28 passes for 163 yards, including an 18-yard touchdown pass to Clint Didier.

At Cleveland, Kevin Meck ran for 117 yards and two TDs and Gary Danielson, starting for the first time in five weeks, tossed a 72-yard scoring pass to Clarence Weathers to lift the Browns. Cleveland and Pittsburgh are 6-6.

At Chicago, the unbeaten Bears stayed on course to become the first NFL team to go 16-0 with their second straight shutout — a 36-0 romp over the Atlanta Falcons.

The Bears' defense, tops in the NFL, has not permitted a touchdown in the last 13 quarters dating back to the Green Bay game Nov. 3. The scoreless string stands at nine straight quarters.

Walter Payton recorded his seventh straight 100-yard plus game, tying a NFL record set by O.J. Simpson and Earl Campbell. He scored on a 40-yard run in a 20-point second quarter, which included a 1-yard TD by William "The Refrigerator" Perry.

Tonight, Seattle plays at San Francisco. Cowboys 34, Eagles 17

At Irving, Texas, Danny White threw three TD passes, two to tight end Doug Cosbie, and Tony Dorsett ran for two TDs to lift the Cowboys. Dorsett claimed the club total TD record with 74 and cracked the 1,000-yard mark for the eighth time in nine seasons.

Saints 30, Vikings 23

At Minneapolis, Bobby Hebert fired a 39-yard TD strike to John Tice with 50 seconds remaining to back up Earl Campbell's 160-yard rushing effort and enable the Saints to snap a six-game losing streak.

Rams 34, Packers 17
At Anaheim, Calif., Ron Brown returned two kickoffs for TDs to equal an NFL record and Eric Dickerson rambled for 150 yards and another TD to propel the Rams. Brown bolted 98 and 86 yards for TDs in the first half and caught a 39-yard fourth-quarter TD pass.

Giants 34, Cardinals 3

At St. Louis, Phil Simms threw two TD passes and George Martin returned an interception 56 yards to cap a stellar defensive game and spark the Giants. Simms completed 15-of-24 passes for 177 yards. Rookie George Adams ran for 113 yards and one touchdown on 25 carries.

Oilers 37, Chargers 35

At Houston, Tony Zendejas kicked a 51-yard field goal with two seconds left to cap a wild finish and lift the Oilers. The lead changed hands three times in the final two minutes as 17 points were scored.

Chiefs 20, Colts 7

At Kansas City, Mo., backup Todd Blackledge passed for 246 yards and a TD to help the beleaguered Chiefs snap a club-record seven-game losing streak.

'Punchless' SCC Finishes Second

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer
Seminole Community College's Lady Raiders have yet to generate enough offense to go with their stubborn defense.

Saturday night, the Lady Raiders were in position to pull off a major upset but some costly turnovers on offense down the stretch, and only 40 percent shooting for the game, enabled Pensacola Community College to pull out a 54-48 victory in the finals of the SCC Lady Raider Tournament.

SCC, which opened the tournament with a 64-30 rout of Miami-Dade South, now stands at 5-2, with both losses to Pensacola. The Lady Raiders return to action Tuesday at 5 p.m. as they host Panola (Texas) Junior College, Pensacola, the defending state champion, improved to 7-2.

After a sluggish start Saturday, the Lady Raiders came back to tie the score at halftime, 27-27. The game was close throughout most of the second half but SCC got a little sloppy in the late going.

"It was a one- or two-point game until the last six minutes," SCC assistant Debbie Scherr said. "Then we made some really costly mistakes on offense."

Fatima Lafond was high scorer for the Lady Raiders with 17 points while Kim Lemon added 10 on 5 of 7 shooting. Lisa Starks and Aileen Patterson added six points each. Starks pulled down seven rebounds while Patterson and Vikki McMurrer nabbed five each.

In Friday night's first round, SCC roared to a 37-10 halftime lead and cruised to a 64-30 victory over Miami-Dade South.

Lemon hit 9 of 11 floor shots and 3 of 5 free throws for a game-high 21 points. The sophomore forward also grabbed 14 rebounds. For the tournament, Lemon hit 14 of 18 floor shots for 78 percent accuracy.

Lake Howell's Lisa Samocki finished eighth in the 4A State Cross Country championships at DeLand Saturday.

Lady Hawks' Valiant Attempt Falls 8 Short

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

DELAND — After losing to Winter Park by 31 points in the district, a lot of people wrote off Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks.

Lake Howell sent back its R.S.V.P. to those people Saturday at the 4A State Meet and it said that the Lady Hawks were back. And they almost came back all the way.

The Lady Hawks put four runners ahead of Winter Park's third and put a big scare in the Lady Wildcats. But Winter Park, behind the 1-2 finish of Kim Bovis and Amy Gamber, managed to pull out the victory with a team score of 70 compared to 78 for Lake Howell.

"The girls dug down deep and made it close," Lake Howell coach Tom Hammontree said.

Winter Park took command of the race when Bovis, a junior, and Gamber, a senior, finished 1-2. Bovis tore up the DeLand Airport course with a time of 11:15 while Gamber put on a tremendous kick to finish second at 11:29.

Lake Howell then put four runners in before Winter Park's third. The first Lady Hawk to finish was junior Lisa Samocki who came in eighth at 11:50.8. It was the second season in a row that Samocki finished in the top 10, earning a berth on the all-state first team.

Junior Martha Fonseca completed a fine season with another strong race as she finished 12th at 12:01.3. Senior Angie Smith had her best race since early in the season as she came in 18th at 12:10.6 and senior Amy Ertel rebounded from a midseason slump to finish 20th at 12:17.6.

Winter Park then put its third, fourth and fifth runners ahead of Lake Howell's fifth and it was enough for the Wildcats to hang onto first place.

Lake Howell's fifth runner was freshman Jenny Bolt who came in 41st at 12:46.8. Bolt has run better races before but Hammontree said it is always tough for a freshman to run in the state meet. Also running for the Lady Hawks Saturday were juniors Mary Fonseca (44th at 12:51.1) and Rachel Barnes (52nd at 12:58.7).

Cross Country

"The girls ran well as a team and gave it a good shot," Hammontree said. "When it counts most is when we were there. I was especially happy for the seniors (Smith and Ertel)."

One of those seniors, Ertel, came back further than any runner on the team.

By the Seminole Athletic Conference meet, she was put on the junior varsity team. After she won that JV race, Ertel was an alternated for the district. But, when Barnes couldn't run because of an injury, Ertel was put into the lineup and she ran a good enough race to stay there.

"That was probably the turning point for me," Ertel said. "I felt like I was going down hill when I was put on JV. Winning that race (SAC) made me feel good and I did pretty well at district."

After another good race at regional, Ertel gave it her all at state and she passed a number of runners to come in 20th place, which is second-team all-state.

"I feel excellent in two ways," Ertel said of Saturday's performance. "It's my senior year and I wanted to do well my last race. And I wanted to give it my best shot for the team. I just went out and started picking people off. And not one person passed me."

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds made their first appearance at state since 1978 and found the competition has gotten much tougher since then. Lyman finished 11th out of 14 teams.

"It was pretty hard on the girls being their first time at state," Lyman coach Joe Laughlin said. "The competition was really tough. I don't know if the girls really got ready for it enough."

Lyman's top finisher was junior Julie Greenberg who came in 35th with a time of 12:36.4. She was followed in the top five by Lynn Gomezperalta (42nd at 12:47.7), Jennifer Hitzges (60th at 13:04.9), Tara Braheny (68th at 13:17.2) and Tracy Fisher (91st at 13:56.9).

Lady Patriots Splash To Best-Ever (Fifth) State Finish

By Chuck Burgess
Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — The Lake Brantley foursome of Manda Davis, Kristen Pauley, Lisa Moon and Michelle Gruse paced the Patriots to their best finish ever in the Class 4A State Swimming Championships at the Justus Aquatic Center this past Saturday.

The Patriot girls posted a fifth place overall finish by scoring 63 points. The fourth place team, Pensacola Woodham, placed only one point ahead of the Pats with 64.

Although the Pats couldn't compete with the likes of St. Petersburg Seminole, who won the meet with 138 points over defending state champions

Winter Park who finished with 112, they still showed they will be a team to be reckoned with next year.

Davis was the highest county girl finisher when she broke through with a third in the 100 breast. Swimming to a time of 1:07.87, Davis gave the Patriots much needed points down the stretch.

"I felt really good and did exactly what I wanted," freshman Davis said. "I placed second at districts a week ago and third at state this week."

Davis has finally overcome a two-year let-down to become one of the premiere breaststrokers in the state. "I've had a 1:10 for two years," Davis said. "I've finally gotten out of my slump. It feels great."

Swimming

Pauley also swam the 100 breast at the state meet this past Saturday. Making it a 3-4 finish for the Pats, Pauley finished right behind Davis to place fourth with a time of 1:08.66.

"I was really nervous," Pauley, who is also a freshman, said. "I felt a lot faster than usual this week in practice. Clay (Parnell) helped me out a lot on my stroke and that helped at state."

Pauley also managed to make the top twelve in the 200 free where she sprinted her way to a ninth place in

1:58.03. "I didn't do as well as I wanted in the 200 free," Pauley said. "I didn't have much rest after the 200 medley relay and I was a little tired."

Pauley was referring to the relay in which the four lady Patriots joined forces to produce a fifth place in 1:54.83.

Moon was probably the highlight for the Patriots. Moon won the consolation finals in the 100 freestyle and finished sixth in the 50-yard free.

Even though the Lake Brantley Patriot girls were making all of the waves at the state meet, Lake Mary's Kelly Wise treaded some H2O herself.

Wise grabbed a pair of top 12 finishes by scoring in the 200 I.M. and the 500 free.

Swimming in her first state meet, like most of the county swimmers this year, Wise finished twelfth in the 200-yard I.M. with a time of 2:17.06 and splashed to a tenth in the 500-yard free at 5:20.14.

Don Clark's Lady Greyhounds pulled a sixth place finish in the 400 free relay out of a hat to give the 'Hounds a 17th place overall finish.

Karen Long, Milette Webber, Jane Hall and Shannon Parker combined to finish the season in style with a finishing time of 3:48.95.

supposed to do," Lyman head coach Don Clark said. "He did a great job after what happened last weekend."

Clark was so ecstatic over Rose's win that he almost took a dip himself. "I got so excited when Charlie (Rose) went from fifth to first in the finals that I almost fell in the pool," Clark said.

Not resting on his laurels, Rose swam to a fourth place finish in the 100 back to add to his win. Finishing just behind St. Petersburg Seminole's Douglas Graham, Rose went his best time with a 52.94.

"I felt really good in the backstroke," Rose said. "I was really stretching my stroke out through the whole race."

Mooney, who made the top twelve in both of his events, sailed to an eighth place finish in the 100 back with a lifetime best of 55.39 and cruised to a tenth place in the 200 free with a final time of 1:47.79.

"Tom Mooney is the real hero as far as I'm concerned," Clark said. "I said last week that once Tom shaved he'd be there."

Mooney swam a 1:48.45 in the 200 freestyle in the morning preliminaries and also went a 55.17 in the 100 back in the prelims.

Barnett, in his last meet as a Greyhound, used his strength and power to place fourth in the 100 butterfly with an outstanding time of 52.82.

"Ken Barnett went fifty-fours all year long," Clark said. "Then he goes a 52.6 in the finals. That's unreal!"

The trio of Rose, Barnett and Mooney teamed with freshman Sam Rennard to form the Greyhound 400 free relay that swam to a third place with a 3:16.87. The only other relays to beat them were Winter Park — who set a new state record of 3:08.98 — and Tampa Chamberlain who went 3:15.54.

"All week long I was telling my guys that when I coached at Colonial I had a relay that went 3:17.0," Clark said referring to his previous coaching job. "These guys went out and broke that time just to shut me up if nothing more."

Even though Lyman was the most successful county team at the state meet, Lake Mary had a couple of swimmers who opened the swimming world's eyes wide open.

Senior butterflyer Todd Stebbins and freshman breaststroker Karl Kuchma both made the top 12 in their respective events.

Stebbins, who went to state last year in the 100 butterfly, scored the Rams' highest place when he flew to a sixth place finish in the 100 fly. Stebbins was touched out for fifth by .51 of a second.

"Todd (Stebbins) did a great job," Ram head coach Walt Morgan said. "He didn't do as well as he could have. He felt he worked harder than what he got."

Stebbins, who had problems earlier in the season when he couldn't get psyched up for his swims, continued his success in the 200 I.M. just missing the top twelve by placing 13 with a time of 2:02.85.

"He started too early in the week getting psyched up," Morgan said. "He was burned out (mentally) before the race even began."

Kuchma, on the other hand, swam his personal best in the 100 breast and fared well placewise. Swimming in his first state meet, Kuchma bobbed his way toward a 10th place finishing with a time of 1:02.47.

"He still has a lot to learn," Morgan said referring to Kuchma's inexperience in championship meets. "But for a freshman, he did an excellent job."

Kuchma and Stebbins have led the Rams all year long teamwise and individually, according to Morgan.

The only other male county swimmer was Seminole's Jaime Bojanowski. Bojanowski, who is only a sophomore and competed in his first state meet, ended up 25th in the 500 free at 5:11.84.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Egypt Increases Alert On Libyan Border After Aircraft Hijacking

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI) — The government said its commandos "suffered no losses" when they stormed the hijacked EgyptAir jetliner on Malta, and a military alert along the border with Libya has been intensified.

Military sources said the decision to reinforce the desert border area was made early Sunday at a meeting President Hosni Mubarak held with his top aides.

First word on the military alert came after Radio Cairo reported that the Cairo-Alexandria desert road would be closed for 12 hours during the next two days. The road is sometimes used for moving reinforcements to the border.

Two other highways linking southern Egypt with the border region will be shut down for seven hours on Tuesday, Cairo press said.

Troops along the desert border between Libya and Egypt have been on alert since the two countries fought a bloody war in the summer of 1977. The alert is intensified at times of crisis, officials said.

China Begins Reform Campaign

PEKING (UPI) — China today unveiled a sweeping campaign to weed out diehard Maoists and corrupt officials from rural branches of the 40 million-member Communist Party — the latest in a drive to eliminate opposition to the free-market reforms of Chinese leader Deng Xiaoping.

A major policy statement distributed nationwide said party members who have committed "serious mistakes" should be punished, and "those who refuse to receive any education should be cleared out of the party organization."

Scheduled to begin this winter and last until the spring of 1987, the effort was aimed at "purifying" local party organizations by weeding out officials who were obstructing free-enterprise reforms, the directive said.

Review Of Reforms Expected

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The head of the American delegation to the bishops' synod reviewing the reforms of the Second Vatican Council likened interest in it to the worldwide interest in last week's summit meeting in Geneva.

The extraordinary, worldwide synod, which opened Sunday and will continue through Dec. 8, begins its first working session today in the Vatican's ultra-modern auditorium, adjacent to St. Peter's Basilica.

The president of the U.S. Conference of Bishops, Bishop James Malone of Youngstown, Ohio, compared the significance of the meeting for Catholics to President Reagan's summit meeting with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev for the world.

Pope John Paul II opened the synod Sunday. In his address, he avoided mentioning any of the numerous issues or problems that have beset Roman Catholicism in the last 20 years, including: theological dissent, priestly celibacy, widespread rejection of the church's total ban on birth control, the role of women, and the question of who rules the church — the pope alone or the pope and his bishops.

Survey Shows Whites Will Share

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Most whites believe they have broken with apartheid and will share political power with blacks, and about one-third say the change away from racial segregation is progressing at the right speed, a survey showed.

The pro-government Rapport newspaper said Sunday a survey of about 2,000 whites showed two-thirds believed the country was committed to sharing power with the 24-million black majority. But those polled did not believe the power-sharing would take the form of one-person, one vote.

he only "stopped" the gunman when he struck him and that the man was killed by gunshots or shrapnel.

"I don't know why he decided to kill me. Perhaps for the fun of it," said Galal, whose head was wrapped by a bandage after it was grazed by a bullet during the fighting. He called the wound "a scratch."

He said the hijack leader entered the cockpit about 10 minutes after the departure from Athens, holding "a grenade in his hand with the safety pin off."

"He pulled a gun, a six-shooter, and pointed it at my head and that lasted for most of the time. We were together about 30 hours," Galal said.

The captain said the hijack commander grew angry when he saw the security forces surround the plane and asked them to withdraw.

"After that he was excited," Galal said. "He executed another American girl and he kept on like this until six (were shot). I heard them begging for mercy and waiting to be killed."

"He was not even touched (by their pleas). Sometimes he would make jokes."

The pilot said he agreed with Maltese authorities' decision not to refuel the aircraft and that he tried to fix the plane's controls so he would be unable to take off even if it were refueled.

Asked if he would fly again, Galal replied with a smile. "Of course. I will fly again. But not tomorrow morning."

Guilty Verdict In Baby Murder

A DeBary man who killed a DeBary baby by throwing her against a wall because she cried while he was eating was convicted of first-degree murder in Circuit County in Volusia County Friday.

Rickey Jack Lusko, 28, of 9 Granada Ave., faces at least 25 years in prison before the possibility of parole for the death of Jessica Ann Lang.

The jury returned the verdict after about one hour deliberation.

Lusko, a maintenance worker at St. Ann's Catholic Church in DeBary, was arrested after an autopsy showed the infant died of a skull fracture. She died May 20, 1984, at the Shands Teaching Hospital in Gainesville after being flown there by a Shands' helicopter from West Volusia Hospital. The infant was taken to the Volusia hospital by her mother, Paula Lang, and Lusko after the couple took the "fussing" infant to the Orange City home of the baby's grandmother.

Lusko confessed to investigators and said he was eating supper when the infant's mother went to the store to get some food. As he ate, the baby began to cry, he said.

"I got up, threw the kid against the wall, sat back down, and finished my food."

...Plan

nothing compared to what we're looking at now."

The problem, Simmons said, lies with the legislation prohibiting land outside the city from being included in the comprehensive plan's land use map. The city, he said, receives weekly annexation requests from residents and developers whose property lies just outside the city in unincorporated Seminole County.

The frequency of these proposals creates difficulties for both the comprehensive plan and its land use map, Simmons said. "We're expecting a lot of annexations during the next few years, but the legislation won't allow us to include them on our map," he said. Also, under both acts, the city can only amend its comprehensive plan twice a year.

Although this won't prevent the city from continuing to allow annexations, Simmons said, "it definitely creates problems" because the land use map can only be changed twice a year. "We let them in," he said, "but can't issue building permits because they're not 'officially' part of the city."

The situation is an "unfortunate" one, Simmons said, because annexations improve the city's tax base and enable services such as utility, police and fire to be expanded for the benefit of all city residents.

According to City Manager Frank Faison, although the city commission denies very few annexation requests, it has "no choice" but to let a number of them add up before they're incorporated into Sanford's land use map.

As a result of this, the city conducts twice yearly public hearings to adopt "a considerable amount" of these land use amendments, Faison said.

When applied in a broader sense to "an ever growing city" being prohibited from including land outside its boundaries in its new comprehensive development plan, "the situation becomes almost ridiculous," Simmons said.

"We have to create a new comp plan to comply with the growth management act," he said, "but we also have to develop ways of immediately and successfully planning for the future."

And, according to Morris, the interim map has already demonstrated its worth. "In the last month alone several people west and southeast of the city have contacted us about possible annexations," he said.

The land they discussed is included on the map, as is additional unincorporated county property, and it provides a means for the city, "to give people an idea of the kind of zoning we want in their area," Simmons said.

"We don't want a developer coming to us for a high rise, high density development, when what we want is low density residential," Simmons said.

According to both men, in addition to creating difficulties for future planning, the growth management act contains another "confusing and frustrating guideline."

They said although the act calls for county input regarding Sanford's land use map, it also precludes the same.

"We're supposed to work together, but what we ultimately submit can't include each other's land," Simmons said.

Morris said, however, because of current and anticipated "common boundaries" the city shares with the county and Lake

Mary, "we felt we should meet with them to discuss our plans."

Morris said Lake Mary was "very responsive" during discussions, although the county, "didn't seem very interested in a meeting."

However, Vanderworp said his department was never contacted by the Sanford P&Z. Vanderworp also said the Sanford interim map "has no legal status" because it was not done as a joint effort with the county.

According to Simmons, the Sanford Planning Department "discussed" contacting the county regarding the city's plan, but did not follow through.

Simmons also acknowledged because of the comprehensive review act, sections of the interim map, although "necessary for long range preparation," can only serve as an "expression" of the city's land use plans. He also he will be working with the P&Z during the next six months to review all the city's land use zones in an effort to obtain "more uniform usage."

However, when the map is combined in theory with the comprehensive plan, "We get a very good idea of how to approach future development and service," he said.

Through colored shadings, the interim land use map displays Sanford's various building zones. These range from bright red for the commercial and office zone along U.S. Highway 17-92, to pale yellow for the low density residential areas lying in the center of the city and along its northeast and southern parameters.

Both Morris and Simmons said they would like to see a new zone added to the interim and comprehensive plan land use maps. This designation would be for a low density residential area lying along the borders of Lake Monroe.

"It would be a way to preserve that natural area, rather than allow it to be developed," Simmons said.

Lake Monroe's borders are zoned for public and semi-public, and medium and low density residential, Morris said, during its review of city zoning, the P&Z will be taking "a close look" at adopting an environmental zone along Lake Monroe and possibly other parts of the city.

In addition to land use zones, the city's comprehensive development plan must address traffic, conservation, housing, recreation, intergovernmental coordination and utility, water and sewer services. According to Simmons, because these measures stand to be directly impacted by current and projected development, "the map we work with has to consider areas beyond current city limits."

He said this is also why the city's last comprehensive plan has been put aside while the new one is being prepared.

"We wanted to develop an entirely new plan that shows how everything is related," Simmons said. "When we're done, then we'll look at the old plan to see if we missed something."

Morris said he expects the new plan to be completed by the end of January. At the commission's Dec. 2 workshop, he said he will request that consulting engineers be hired to assist the P&Z in compiling the new plan.

Once finished, Morris said a public hearing will be held to review the entire comprehensive plan before it is sent to the state.

Once approved, the services mapped out in the plan will carry the city a major step closer toward its "15 year destination," Morris said. "It will also provide the framework for us to get there successfully."

here that area residents can enjoy, he said.

"We're trying to maintain a zoo we have had here for some 60-odd years. If they move, we want to fill the gap," Peterson said. "We want to call for a referendum to see if the people want to financially support a zoo."

The proposed legislation would set up a zoo here, giving the county the authority to appoint a board to call for a referendum, he explained.

If the supporters agree to go ahead with the request at next Monday's meeting, they will ask the legislative delegation to take the proposed bill back to the state legislature, Peterson said. The deadline for filing a local bill is April 8, 1986.

"We can't do anything until the other zoo decides what it wants to do," Peterson said. "If they move, we want to operate (the present site) as a zoo facility."

In the event the present society elects to stay, the legislation can be held in abeyance and possibly at a future date. It may be activated to support the existing society, he said.

Peterson, who supervised the drawing of the present society's charter and served as its founding president, said it appears newly created zoo regulations by state and federal agencies "has increased the cost of maintaining a zoo to the point that governmental assistance is mandatory."

The bill would enable the county to create a Seminole County Zoological and Botanical Garden Special District Commission and to hold a referendum to fund the park when necessary, he said.

County Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff, Peterson indicated, prepared the proposed bill. The zoo, located west of Sanford, is in Kirchhoff's district.

According to Central Florida Zoological Society Executive Director Alan E. Rozon, it would cost $543,568 to operate the proposed local zoo facility in 1985. Those costs would increase to over $600,000 in 1986 and 1987 for supplies, equipment, salaries and other operating costs.

Tinkertoys. In one experiment, the spacewalkers will build a tower that will extend 45 feet out of the shuttle's bay.

But putting business before research, the crew plans to launch three communications satellites owned by Mexico, Australia and RCA American Communications Inc. during the first three days of the mission to earn the space agency about $35.5 million in delivery fees.

Atlantis' thundering blastoff will be only the second night launch in the shuttle program.

"We're hoping to give you a good light show," Shaw told reporters when the crew arrived in Florida Saturday. "We're hoping the weather will be good and you'll be able to see us all the way to (main engine cutoff)."

The shuttle Challenger's night launch in August 1983 lit up the sky for hundreds of miles and was viewed as far away as Miami, despite heavy cloud cover.

The shuttle Challenger's night launch in August 1983 lit up the sky for hundreds of miles and was viewed as far away as Miami, despite heavy cloud cover.

NASA officials say if the weather cooperates this time, Atlantis' fiery launching may be visible in Georgia and South Carolina.

Concern about a launch delay developed when a hydraulic valve in one of the shuttle's three hydraulic systems began behaving erratically Saturday night.

The valve is used to maintain hydraulic pressure for main engine No. 2's steering system and works with the other two hydraulic systems to provide power to operate the ship's landing gear, wing flaps and rudder.

Four hours after the countdown began Sunday, NASA officials said the replacement valve had been installed and tested and engineers began closing up the shuttle's engine compartment for blastoff.

government, and they know I stand on a truly humanitarian base," he said. "And I've been helped by my reputation for fairness in the past."

Waite secured freedom for Presbyterian minister Benjamin Weir on Sept. 14, after winning the release of four Britons held in Libya in January and three others from Iran in 1984.

Waite said he expects to return to the Lebanese capital within days of his New York trip and praised the role of the press during his negotiations in Beirut.

"The press has been helpful and understanding of the sensitive situation I've been in, even at times when I've had to ask them to stay away," he said.

The Anglican envoy said he asked the kidnappers not to harm the Americans — the Rev. Lawrence Jenco, American University of Beirut hospital director David Jacobsen, professor Thomas Sutherland and journalist Terry Anderson.

The Islamic Jihad, or Holy War, organization has said it will not release the four until President Reagan pressures Kuwait to release 17 Moslems jailed for a series of bombings against U.S., French and Kuwaiti targets in December 1983.

Islamic Jihad said it killed a fifth American hostage on Oct. 4 — U.S. Embassy political officer William Buckley — but that has never been confirmed. The fate of a sixth kidnapped American — librarian Peter Kilburn — was unclear.

Also missing in a series of kidnappings that began in 1984 are four Frenchmen, a Briton and an Italian.

Officers Acquitted In Black Man's Death

NEW YORK (UPI) — Six white transit police officers hugged and kissed their families in jubilation when an all-white jury acquitted them of all charges in connection with the death of a young black man in a case marked by allegations of police brutality and racism.

Michael Stewart's parents, who had attended almost every day of the five-month trial, stared silently at the celebrating officers in state Supreme Court in Manhattan Sunday.

But after the jury announced the verdict — which came on the seventh day of deliberations — courtroom spectators immediately began chanting, "fascism in America" and "disgrace in America."

Stewart's parents alleged their son died of a fatal beating following his arrest for vandalism.

William McKechnie, head of the Transit Police Benevolent Association, called the verdict a "total vindication" of the officers.

33 — were accused of perjury for allegedly lying to a grand jury about the alleged beating.

Stewart, 25 years old at the time of his death, was arrested in the early morning of Sept. 15, 1983, in a subway station for allegedly scrawling graffiti on a wall.

He was taken to a nearby transit police station. Witnesses who lived in a college dormitory across the street testified they saw a struggle and saw officers kick and beat Stewart.

Stewart was comatose when police brought him that morning to Bellevue Hospital. He died there 13 days later without regaining consciousness.

Black community leaders charged Stewart was a victim of police brutality.

Defense lawyers contended Stewart had consumed "huge amounts" of alcohol and resisted arrest, causing police to have to forcibly restrain him.

There were 24 prosecution witnesses who said they saw Stewart being subdued by police, but none could identify any officer who allegedly took part in an assault.

However, the prosecution asserted that even if the officers did not take part in a beating, they were guilty for failing to prevent an assault.

Lake Howell Marching Band To Be In Macy's Parade

Lake Howell High School's 140-member Silver Regiment Marching Band is all set and "rearing to go" for their invited appearance in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York City Thursday.

Band Director, Greg Martin, received notice in June of last year that the Silver Regiment was one of 12 high school bands chosen from a field of 400 applicants vying for the honor to march and play in the traditional and prestigious parade.

Band members have been practicing and marching, as well as doing everything from peddling pizzas to selling their services through Rent-a-Kid program to earn the $90,000 needed for the band to make the trip. Donations from organizations and service groups have been of a great help in achieving the earnings.

Be sure to look for the Silver Regiment in the televised parade on Thanksgiving morning as they march the 3 1/2 mile route and play "Sleigh Ride" and "Don't Rain on My Parade."

First Americans Should Be Honored With Holiday, Too

DEAR ABBY: Now that Congress has approved Mule Appreciation Day, perhaps they will consider designating a day to honor the native American Indian.

On Jan. 12, 1983, Public Law 97-445 was enacted directing President Reagan to designate May 11, 1983, as "American Indian Day." On April 14, President Reagan did so. However, that was a one-time designation only!

I think there should be a national holiday every year to honor the American Indian instead of a one-day holiday.

Abby, you went to bat for a National Bachelor's Day; won't you please say a few words in behalf of the American Indian?

A PROUD SIOUX

DEAR PROUD SIOUX: A national holiday to honor our native American Indians is long overdue. If enough citizens get sufficiently fired up about it, perhaps we can send some smoke signals to Washington.

DEAR ABBY: "Ed P. in Richmond, Va." proposed we honor bachelors by having a National Bachelor's Day. And you said, "If Congress can approve Mule Appreciation Day, why not Bachelor's Day?"

Abby, what have bachelors done to deserve any form of homage or appreciation? They do not necessarily sow, nor do they reap. How can their accomplishments be compared to those of the mule?

The mule has justified its existence many times over. It has plowed our fields, provided us transportation (You wanna ride a bachelor?), pulled our borax ore, helped us through gold claims, and carried us down the deep slopes of the Grand Canyon.

I was amazed to learn that the bill was sponsored in Congress by Robert Garcia, who is not from an agricultural community — he's a Democrat from New York and lives in an apartment house in the Bronx.

BARRY V. IN CORAL SPRINGS, FLA.

DEAR BARRY: Several of Rep. Garcia's constituents wrote to inform me that the Mule Appreciation Bill was not sponsored by Garcia.

I stand corrected. But since it was passed unanimously, it's safe to say that he did not oppose it.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know how Thomas Paine made your list of famous bachelors. He was married first on Sept. 27, 1763, to Mary Lambert in Sandwich, England, who died of pneumonia while expecting his only child.

Then on March 26, 1771, Paine married Elizabeth Ollive in Lewis England. The were subsequently divorced.

DEARTA G. ALAMEDA, GA.

DEAR DEATRA: The definition of a bachelor is "an unmarried man." At the time this survey was taken, Thomas Paine was apparently between wives, hence he was classified as a bachelor.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Re "Bachelor's Day": It would certainly be a surprise to Andrew Carnegie's daughter, Margaret, to learn that her father was still a bachelor after marrying Louise Whitfield (Margaret's mother) in 1887.

JOHN A. CAMERON, MASSAPEQUA, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: I read your column only as an appeasement to my wife of 43 years. You and Mr. Ed of Richmond may make light of Mule Appreciation Day to honor the hybrid who did man's bidding in the expansion of this country. But George Washington felt differently, no doubt, when he accepted a pair of jackasses as a gift from King Charles III on Oct. 27, 1785, and started breeding the mule.

I will gladly condone a National Wives' Day to honor women who work like a horse (especially mine), but what does a bachelor do besides avoid the responsibilities of a marriage and a family?

Perhaps one day a year should be celebrated to recognize the importance of the jackass (four-legged and two), and that would cover everything.

BILL WADLEY, KIMBERLING CITY, MO.

DEAR ABBY: I have blue eyes and my husband has green eyes. Our son has brown eyes. There have been some jokes about the child's paternity, but recently, someone told me in all seriousness that my husband could not possibly be the child's father.

I know that my husband is in fact the father, but I need a genetic explanation. If it's any help, my father's mother is the closest family member with brown eyes. I'm not sure who has brown eyes in my husband's family, but several of them have green eyes. Can you provide an explanation?

ANONYMOUS, PLEASE

DEAR ANONYMOUS: The genetic research of Gregor Mendel, a 19th-century Austrian botanist and monk, resulted in the discovery of dominant genes and recessive genes.

This means that a child can inherit a recessive gene from an ancestor and have eye, hair, skin color and other features that are different from either of its parents.

This scientific law of the inheritance of physical characteristics is called Mendel's law. To learn more about it, visit your public library and ask for books about Mendel's law of genetic inheritance and recessive genes.

Patient's Nerve Paralysis Serious

DEAR DR. GOTT — X-rays indicate that the nerve that operates the right side of my diaphragm has been severed or paralyzed. The doctor is unable to establish a reason. What could have caused this and what can be done to repair the nerve?

DEAR READER — The disorder you describe is serious. Loss of diaphragm stimulation can result from severe injury, infection or tumors. Before advising you about what to do, I would make a careful analysis of the cause of your problem. Sometimes, in selective cases, surgeons can repair the nerve so it will work again. However, I believe that your next step is to obtain a referral from your doctor to a pulmonary specialist. You really must find out why a major nerve to a vital organ is malfunctioning.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is there anything a female can do with that will postpone the onset of the menstrual period for a few days? My daughter is to spend the day in a chlorinated pool and she would like to postpone the period she is expecting.

DEAR READER — How fortunate that you and your daughter have such good communication. I'm sorry to say that no form of douching will accomplish her goal. Some women use contraceptive pills in a manner that postpones their periods if they are scheduled to menstruate at particular inconvenient times. Menstruation is governed by internal chemistry, so topical treatments will not affect it.

I understand that modern tampons are so absorbent that swimming is a completely appropriate activity during menstruation, providing the tampon is changed frequently. Rather than fret about her dilemma, your daughter might be relieved to know that tampons may enable her to have an enjoyable day of swimming.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a woman 70 years of age. The doctor says I have degenerative arthritis of the spine and says that is what causes my legs to hurt. What is this disease and how can I best take care not to have so much pain? The Incontin capsules help, but it seems I can live with the hurt better than what the side effects would be.

DEAR READER — As people age, their bones become more porous and brittle. This can result in a tendency for the vertebral backbones to become crushed. This form of compression causes a deformity of the normal bone structure. Part of this deformity is called "flipping," in which calcium deposits form around the ends of the vertebral bones. These deposits can rub and pinch nerves as they exit from the spinal cord to supply the back and legs. A form of sciatica can be produced. Special exercises, calcium supplements and a lumbar corset may help your pain, although you may have to use occasional pain pills, too.

An orthopedic surgeon may be able to give you more specific advice about how to cope with this extremely uncomfortable condition.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
If you like bridge books, I suggest you write to The Bridge World, 39 West 94th Street, New York, NY 10025. Some of their titles, by authors well-known in Europe but less famous in the United States, deserve attention. Today's instructive deal is from "Step-by-Step Card Play at No-trumps" by Berthe and Lebelly.

After winning the opening lead, declarer might play West for the diamond queen, since he is likely to hold that card for his opening bid. But an immediate finesse against the diamond queen would fail. East would win and return a spade, setting up that suit while West still held both the diamond ace and the club king for entries.

Since declarer can be virtually certain that West holds the diamond ace, he should play a diamond to dummy's king at the second trick. When this wins the trick, he can shift to clubs, ensuring the contract with two spades, two hearts, one diamond and four clubs.

If West happens to take the diamond ace immediately to clear the spade suit, then declarer should finesse against the diamond queen to keep West off lead. In this case, the nine tricks for declarer would be four diamonds and one club, along with four major suit winners.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...
YOUR BIRTHDAY NOVEMBER 26, 1985
Enterprises that you originate or conduct independently should work out advantageously for you in the year ahead. Don't drag in partners if they don't have something special to contribute.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Usually you're a very optimistic and positive person, but today, when you analyze situations, you might put too much emphasis on the dark side. Trying to patch up a romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Guard against tendencies today to try to do more than time or your talents permit. Both have their limitations, so schedule tasks sensibly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Before committing yourself to attend a social gathering today, check the guest list to be sure it doesn't include a person you've been trying to avoid.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You have a marvelous imagination, and this is a tremendous asset. However, don't use it today to worry about things that might never happen.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you want accurate appraisals regarding a situation about which you're concerned, don't ask advice from a person who is a negative thinker.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be financially prudent and disciplined today. Keep current with your obligations, and don't lend what you can't afford.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You might have to deal with someone today who is always insistent upon doing everything his way. Be careful how you handle this individual.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Duties and responsibilities must be attended to promptly today, not swept under the rug. Once you fall behind, it'll be difficult to catch up.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Before trying to control things for others today, be sure you first properly manage what you should be taking care of for yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you are going after something important today, be prepared for a struggle. Goals can be achieved, but you will require fortitude.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You're not apt to have much patience with people who oppose your ideas today, even though, down deep, you'll know their points are well-taken.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's best not to take on any new long-range financial obligations today until you have all of your old ones cleared up. Don't put yourself in a bind.

Hollywood Tribute For Kerr, McDowell

By Stan W. Metzler
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — More than a hundred stars turned out for a warm-hearted tribute to Roddy McDowell, the child actor who grew up to become Hollywood's best buddy, and Deborah Kerr, honored as the perfect screen lady.

"He's a consummate actor, but he's a genius at friendship," Elizabeth Taylor said in presenting McDowell at the third annual American Cinema Awards banquet Friday night.

"He has a talent for understanding and a gift for disconcertment. And he cares. He gives 100 percent of himself to so many of us," Taylor said.

"I know and appreciate and am in awe of the great, compassionate actress, Deborah Kerr," Dinah Shore said of her friend since their days together as struggling ingenues. "But I know and love the lovely woman and humap being, Deborah Kerr."

The glittering dinner at the Beverly-Wilshire Hotel, a fundraiser for a cinema museum and library to be built in Malibu, was billed as the biggest reunion of Hollywood's Golden Era.

Most of those creating a stir during Robert Wagner's spotlighted introduction of "the wonderful and beautiful celebrities" in the crowd were old-fashioned movie stars or those from the infant days of television.

Dame Judith Anderson, Eve Arden, Milton Berle, Jackie Cooper, Billy Dove, Yvonne DeCarlo, Ann Jeffries, Virginia Mayo, Sidney Porter, Jane Powell, Vera Ralston, Alexis Smith, Jimmy Stewart, Rudy Vallee, Cornell Wilde, Jane Wyatt and Jane Wyman were among those drawing the most gasps and applause.

One retired actor not at the banquet, Ronald Reagan, sent a letter saying, "Deborah and Roddy are two of filmdom's brightest and most enduring stars. Each, in their own way, has brought a special magic to the movie screen."

In thanks for his award, McDowell said, "Love, affection, strength and friendship, that is the mortar of one's survival. And my life has been blessed, inundated, by those extraordinary qualities from an army of people."

The evening turned to Kerr with the showing of film clips, including two of the most emotion-packed scenes in cinema history — her passionate embrace in the surf with Burt Lancaster in "From Here to Eternity" and her rousing dance around the palace with Yul Brynner in "The King and I."

Robert Mitchum, four times her co-star, introduced "the formidable lady who is dear to my heart," praising her style and her "odd mixture of dignified confidence and totally feminine vulnerability."

She listed several of them — stars who might well have attended the affair were they still alive, including Clark Gable, Spencer Tracy, Walter Pidgeon, Bill Holden, David Niven and "dear Yul Brynner" — then ended the evening with a thought shared by half a century of movie fans:

"To all of those people in the past, and to all of you who are here now, thanks to all of you. I've had a lovely time."
