Pollen reason for yellow dust

"It happens about this time every year," commented Howard Jeffries, Sanford manager of Parks and Grounds Maintenance.

The yellowish-green substance that has been falling on streets, buildings, lakes, yands, outdoor furniture and vehicles is pine pollen, according to Jeffries.

"Unless people are allergic to it, it won't cause any problems or spotting," he said. "It's pollen falling from pine trees, and some maple trees."

City offers assistance for condo project

By Dan Ping

SANFORD — A proposed mixed-use residential project along Lake Monroe got a boost from two separate city entities.

Last week members of the downtown Sanford Community Redevelopment Agency (CRA) agreed to provide approxi-mately $150,000 in infrastructure improvements for the development proposed by Suncor Properties Inc. of Lake Mary. Located on vacate property west of City Hall, the project would include condomini-ums overlooking Lake Monroe and town-houses without lake views, as well as office space and small retail shops.

Redevelopment agency OKs $140K in aid, while Commission attempts to secure property

"This is exactly the type of project Sanford needs downtown," said CRA board mem-ber Bob Parsell. "Suncor has already invested more than $1 million acquiring some of the property. You've got a developer who put his money where his mouth is. When you do that, I don't have a problem with the CRA providing some incentive."

The project is projected to have a value of $12.5 million and generate about $150,000 in annual taxes, according to City Manager

Tony VanDerworp.

The project would incorporate three separate parcels of land: a privately owned lot next to Sailpointe Apartments; a small par-cel that fronts Seminole Boulevard directly west of City Hall; and the land where the recently demolished Florida Power & Light (FP&L) building was located. Suncor has purchased the private lot, and city commissioners have indicated they would be willing to donate the city's land that fronts Seminole Boulevard.

site and city officials have inquired about acquiring that property and then reselling the property to Suncor. On Monday, city commissioners, by a 4-1 vote, authorized VanDerworp and Mayor Brady Lessard to enter negotiations with the county to purchase the property of the county to purchase the chase the property for not more than $250,000. Any agreement reached by the city and county would have to be approved by commissioners.

"I think we need to move forward with deliberate speed," said Commissioner Veima Williams. "Of course, we must be

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Wife loses sleep when man's libido works the night shift

DEAR ABBY: I need to know if I'm being unreasonable. A few nights ago — around 3 or 4 in the morning — my husband got into bed and woke me to have sex. I had only been asleep for a few hours. He knows I have to get up for work by 7 a.m. It's not the first time this has happened.

When I tell him I need my sleep, he gets mad and says I'm rejecting him. Then he gives me the silent treatment.

Abby, I have never been a morning person and have always needed my sleep. This is a recurring problem that affects other parts of our relationship. My husband and I have been married 15 years and have quarreled continuously over his "nocturnal needs." I should add that he is unemployed and can sleep any time he wants. How do you suggest I get my hubby to be more considerate without hurting his feelings?

Abby

DEAR SLEEP-DEPRIVED: You and your husband should hash this out in the cold light of day, preferably with a marriage counselor. Intimacy is an important part of marriage, but it has to be mutual to be enjoyable.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a college student attending school across the country from my family and friends. My parents were in Europe for Christmas this year, so my Aunt Louise invited me to spend the holidays with her and Uncle Harry.

Aunt Louise lived far from us when I was growing up, so I didn't get to see her often and I welcomed the chance to get to know them better.

Aunt Louise operates a bed and breakfast, and knows just what touches in the room make her guests feel at home. Abby, on my nightstand was a delightful little booklet of yours — "Keepers." I read a piece or two from it each night before I humed out the lights.

I would like a copy of your booklet for myself and also one for each of my sisters who live out West. How can I get them?

Thank you in advance for the information, and happy new year. AMANDA IN BUFFALO, N.Y.

DEAR AMANDA: I'm delighted you enjoyed...

favorite inspirational and humorous pieces. To order the booklets, send a self-addressed envelope, plus a check or money order for $5 (U.S. funds only) for each copy, to: Dear Abby — Keepers, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. (Postage is included.)

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I invited another couple, whom we had not previously entertained, to our home for dinner. When my wife told me what she planned to serve, I told her she would do well to ask our guests if they liked that particular "exotic" dish, or if they had any dietary or religious restrictions or dislikes.

My wife insists that to do so would be impolite and urmecessary. Now there's a quarrel brewing over this. Who's right?

Lake Forest, the premier luxury community NTS Corp. is developing off S.R. 46 in North Seminole County, made a strong appeal to officials studying possible routes for the northwest extension of the Orlando Beltway recently.

degree in criminal justice.
"In order be a commissioned officer I had to have a bachelor's degree," explained Hodgins, 31.
"My brother was killed by a drunk driver which led me to getting a criminal justice degree."

Hodgins' desire to become a pilot seemed natural to his parents, Gale and Paul Hodgins of Sanford. Paul was once a U.S. Air Force pilot and his family has a history of turning out war heroes, including Revolutionary War soldiers Henry Dixon and his son, Wynn Dixon, who Hodgins is named after.

After earning his wings in December 2001, Hodgins was selected to be a part of the Harrier program. In this program, he learned to fly the Harrier jet, the most advanced vertical takeoff and landing (VTOL) jet in use today.

The Harrier's namesake is a bird, whose long, low glides are accompanied by the ability to pause and hover briefly. Harrier jets are used primarily for close-air support for U.S. Marine Corps ground troops. Cherry Point squadrons own both AV-8B II Harriers and AV-8B II Plus models.

"It's everything I thought it would be and more," said Hodgins. "It's incredible. It's a great job. I pinch myself every time I go out to the aircraft. I wouldn't trade it for anything.

At this point, Hodgins is not in danger of deployment as part of Operation Enduring Freedom. However, if that time comes he says he is ready and willing to defend his country.

"We're trained very well for what we do," explained Hodgins, who isn't concern that some Marine aviators have nicknamed the Harrier jet "The Widow-Maker." "In the flight training we do, we always train for what we would do in a war or combat situation. I really don't think that it's dangerous because I'm trained so well and I have confidence in the aircraft, my training and the Marines that maintain the aircraft. To me it's a safe aircraft and a safe job as long as I stay within the guidelines I've been given."

The tournament is part of the regional and national trails of bass fishing, which are English Paradise, Southern Association of Black Bass Anglers (SABBA) and People of Color (POCO). The local club began in 1997, but the national organization has existed for more than 20 years and has more than 12,000 members.

People from all the trails will participate in the tournament this weekend. Oliver expects mem-bers from Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, North Carolina and South Carolina to attend.

The local club holds meetings

Within the past week, old rivalries were restored when the FHSAA released the new district alignments for 2003-2004, a former Seminole High star announced that he is headed for the NFL Draft, and the 2002 All-State Football Teams were released by the Florida Sports Writers

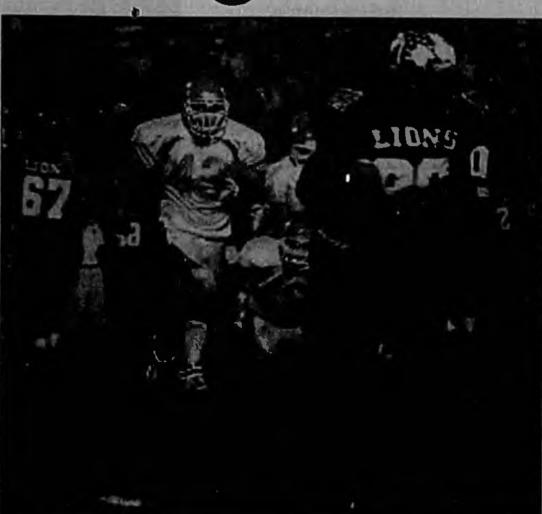

Association. Realignment, which the FHSAA does every two years as student enrollment counts fluctuate, was the biggest news as Seminole County schools will once again be able to compete against one another and not have to travel all over the state to play.

Pending appeals, which have to be submitted to the FHSAA by Jan 20, Oviedo, Lake Brantley and Seminole won't have to travel to acksonville as Mandarin and Sandalwood are now alone in Class 6A-District 1.

The Lions, Patriots and Fighting Seminoles are now a part of District 2 with DeLand, Lake Mary, which moves back up from 5A because of enrollment growth, and Deltona, which will return to district play after four years as an independent.

The other big winner as far as less travel and a return to an SAC rivalry base is Lake Howell, which will return to Class 5A because of growth. The Silver Hawks are now in 5A-District 5 along with the other two remaining SAC

Harald printes by Jim Works Oviedo's Howard Lingard (No. 99, above) and LaDarien Rudolph (left) made some noise on offense for the Lions this season, but it was on defense where they made All-State as Lingard was picked as a linebacker on the Class 6A First Team Delense and Rudolph, who set a school record with 13 sacks this season, was named a Third Team defensive lineman. Lake Brantley offensive lineman Jordy Lipsey was named to the Class 8A First Team Offense. Other county players recognized were offensive lineman Matt Beard, safety Blake Joyce, quarterback Lee Sloan, Wide Receiver/Defensive Back Jason Raulerson, and Linebacker Ray Brown from Ovledo; linebacker Chris Castilio and defensive lineman Marcus Hubbard from Seminole; linebacker Keith Rivers, running back Reggle Campbell, defensive lineman Larry Pirollo and lineman Randy Jackson from Lake Mary; and wide receiver Kyle Hill from Winter Springs.

Svantesson set for Star Island Tennis Classic

By Chris Bernhardt Herald correspondent

WINTER PARK - Standing in his Winter Park tennis shop and stringing up a racket, Tobias Svantesson reflects on what he will take on this week. He's 39 now, pushing 40. The Swede who came to Seminole County in 1982 to attend Seminole Community College, who once beat the likes of Jimmy Connors, Ivan Lendl and Boris Becker, hasn't participated on the ATP tour in ten

But he still looks to be in great condition, which will help when he teams up with fellow former pro Richard Schmidt, 37, in the doubles competition of the Star Island Tennis Classic at the Star Island Resort in Kissimmee, Jan. 17-26.

"I'm not sure where we stand actually," Svantesson said. "We haven't seen that kind of pace in a while. We both play a little bit, but we don't play every day. So we'll see what happens. It's doubles, so fitness is not such a big piece."

After leaving the tour in 1993, Svantesson, who was a two-time

JUCO All-American at SCC and a two-time NAIA All-American and National Singles Champion at Flagler College in St. Augustine, got into the health care business for a few years. Then four years ago that market dried up and he found his way back to the tennis court. Three years ago he and a friend imported tennis strings from England and founded E-Tennis, Inc., a full service tennis shop and Internet company located just in front of the Interstate 4 overpass on West Fairbanks Avenue.

But this weekend he'll take a break from the shop to play relatively close to home. Selected to the tournament as a wild card team, Svantesson and Schmidt will likely rank as the oldest team in a field of players ranked between 286 and 498 in the world. The tournament qualifies as a United States Tennis Association Professional Circuit "Futures" event, serving as a proving ground for young up-and-coming players. UCF wins national cheer title!

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - UCF's varsity cheerleading squad turned in a flawless routine of tumbling, stunts and cheers Saturday to claim the Universal Cheerleading Association College Cheerleading National Championship at Disney's Wide World of Sports. In the process, the Golden Knights erased the heartbreak of last year's runner-up finish and ended the string of eight con-secutive national titles for Kentucky.

It was UCF's first national title and marked the ninth time in the past 10 years UCF has finished in the top 10 in the nation. UCF finished behind Kentucky last year and also posted a runner-up finish in 1994.

Kentucky finished second Saturday, followed by Alabama, Tennessee and Cincinnati. Penn ate, Ohio State, Wisconsin, LSU and Mississippi State rounded out the top 10.

UCF's dance team KnightMoves had its highest ever finish in national competition Saturday with a fifth place showing behind a quartet of Big 10 schools (Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indianaand Michigan State), while UCF's mascot "Knightro" finished 10th in the mascot competition

The event was taped and will be shown at a future date on ESPN.

GABRIEL TO PLAY IN SENIOR BOWL

Wide receiver Doug Gabriel accepted an invitation to Mobile, Ala. and will be the first ever from UCF to play in the Senior Bowl, an all-star game that gives the country's top collegiate football players the opportunity to work with coaching staffs from two NFL teams. Gabriel will be a member of the South team.

The Senior Bowl, sponsored by Food World, will be played in Ladd-Peebles Stadium this Saturday (Jan. 18) at 2 p.m., and will be televised on ESPN. Gabriel had a great senior season with a school-record 1,237 receiving yards, the fifth-best single season performance in Mid-American Conference history, and earned second-team All-MAC honors. He teamed up with fellow senior Jimmy Fryzel to become the most productive tandem in terms of yardage in a season at UCF, combining for 2,363 yards. Gabriel doubled as UCF's kick returner and set a school record with 324 all-purpose yards against Syracuse. He finished the season with a bang by being named the MAC's East Division Co-Offensive Player of the Week as a result of his school record-tying four touchdown receptions in the season finale against Ohio.

Gabriel is the second from UCF to be extended an invitation to play in the Senior Bowl.

The last two years Lake
Howell has had to cut back on playing local schools and played in unquestionably the toughest district in Florida top to bottom.

Among the new wrinkles is a statewide split for 2A that creates a seventh state final. Class and includes Lake Highland Prep and Trinity Prep, which missed the 1A cutoff by 10 students.

The only real downside to the changes is that at-large playoff spots are a thing of the past because all but two area regions, both in 4A, will shift from three to four districts.

SAC schools were also well represented on the All-State teams, although maybe not as high as in the past.

Two local products, Lake Brantley offensive lineman Jordy Lipsey, who will be attending Purdue, and Oviedo standout Howard Lingard were named to the Class 6A First

Lingard, who transferred over from Pine Ridge this season, was probably better known for his ball-carrying this season, but made the team as a linebacker after leading a Lion defense that shut out five opponents.

Oviedo also had three players named to the third team, offersive lineman Matt Beard, defensive end LaDarian Rudolph, who set a school record with 13 sacks this season, and safety Blake Joyce, and three more make honorable mention, quarterback Lee Sloan, Wide Receiver/Defensive Back Jason Raulerson, and Linebacker Ray

Brown. Seminole High School had two honorable mention picks in linebacker Chris Castillo and defensive lineman Marcus Hubbard.

In Class 5A, Lake Mary linebacker Keith Rivers was a Second Team defensive selection, star running back Reggie Campbell and defensive lineman Larry Pirollo made the Third Team offense and defense, respectively, and lineman Randy Jackson was named honorable mention.

Winter Springs stud wide receiver Kyle Hill also was named honorable mention.

In other prep news, Tim Smith resigned as head coach at Lake Howell after going just 1-9 in his first season.

Smith took over for longtime Lake Howell Coach Mike Bisceglia last March after Bisceglia retired from coaching at the end of the 2001 season. Smith had been the head coach at Warner Christian from 1997-99 and Umatilla from 1999-2001. He also was a defensive line coach at Spruce Creek in 2001.

And Lyman wide receiver/ defensive back Travo Woods, one of the fastest Central Florida, has decided to attend Wake Forest.

Jeff Faine

in college news, Seminole High School graduate Jeff Faine has decided to forego his firral year of eligibility at Notre Dame to enter the NFL draft.

The 6-foot-3, 298-pound Faine, who has started at center the past three years for the Irish, said he made the decision after petitioning the NFL draft advisory board to see where he might be drafted. He was told he was a likely second-round pick in the April 26-27 draft.

Faine, a second-team All-American this season, said he would return to school this month and hoped to receive his film degree in May.

Faine is a senior at Notre Dame but since he did not play in a game as a freshman could have come back next year. He was also a finalist this season for the Dave Rimington Trophy that is presented to the nation's premier college football center.
