

OIL HEARING IS BEGUN AFTER 10 DAY RECESS

Washington, Feb. 25.—The oil hearing in the Senate committee on Commerce and Finance, which was suspended for ten days, began today.

By The Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Some definite pronouncement from the administration quarters regarding the controversy over Daugherty was forecast today as the senate assembled to consider the resolution for sweeping the inquiry into the administration of the department of justice.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The senate oil committee opened another bag of surprises Monday when it resumed hearings after a 10-day recess. Taking up trail of the $100,000 loan made to A. B. Fall by Edward McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, the committee was told by officials of two Washington banks that McLean's checking balance in neither of them was more than $10,000 in December, 1923. The publisher had informed the committee he gave Fall checks aggregating $100,000 on the two banks during that period, but that they were returned un cashed. C. Bascom Slemm, secretary to President Coolidge, was questioned about the visit he had made to Palm Beach while McLean and Fall were there last December and January. Slemm declared he talked with Fall several times and asked him for the truth "about oil charges and advised him to tell everything."

While the chief law officer of the administration is again under fire at one end of the capital, C. Bascom Slemm, secretary to President Coolidge, will be before the oil committee, a witness in a new line of inquiry.

The purpose of calling Mr. Slemm in to establish whether administration officers have had any communication with Albert B. Fall or others involved in the oil scandal since just prior to the trip of Senator Walsh, Dem., Montana, to Palm Beach to take the testimony of Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, regarding his payment to Fall of $100,000.

Wire Co. Manager Called
Washington managers of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies have been subpoenaed to appear before the committee to bring to the committee copies of all telegrams which have been sent by individual members of the oil committee or by government officials to Fall or McLean at Palm Beach or to the former interior secretary while he was at New Orleans.

Specifically the committee will require the production of copies of any messages sent to Fall or McLean at the Florida resort between Dec. 20, 1923, and Jan. 20, 1924. It also desires to know whether there was any communication by senators or others in official places with Fall while he was at New Orleans. It was there that E. L. Doherty informed the former secretary that it was his purpose to tell the oil committee of the loan of $100,000 which he made to Fall before the lease of naval reserve No. 1 in California.

Bank Officials to Appear
Officials of the Federal-American and Commercial National banks of Washington are subpoenaed to appear before the committee today for questioning as to the records of McLean's accounts with those banks. The Washington publisher told Senator Walsh at Palm Beach that he had drawn checks for $100,000 on one or the other of these banks payable to the order of Fall but they had been returned to him uncashed.

After the examination of these witnesses the committee hopes to hear from its expert accountants who have been examining the books of Harry Payne Whitney, New York financier, and J. P. Bonker and Co., New York stock brokers, in an effort to run down a report that the attorney general and other administration officers have had transactions in Sinclair Consolidated Oil stocks. Further procedure of the committee will be dependent upon the reports received from these accountants.

Without awaiting the result of the accountants' examination, Senator Wheeler, Dem., Montana, who pressed for adoption by the senate of his resolution calling for an investigation of the administration of the attorney general.

The resolution proposing this inquiry will be reported today by the senate audit committee and Senator Wheeler said last night he would ask unanimous consent for its immediate consideration. An objection by a single senator would force its consideration over until Tuesday.

Wheeler to Modify
Senator Wheeler will modify his resolution so as to leave to the senate the election of the special committee which is to conduct the inquiry. He still is determined to make a fight to have Senator Brookhart of Iowa, one of the Republicans identified with the La Follette insurgent group, named as chairman.

Worrying?

Notice the lines of deep worry on the features of Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, who returned to New York from Europe. The Senate Committee investigating naval oil leases called him to testify once more. Photographed on ship-board.

DAWES REPEATS LATE REMARKS AS TO THE RUHR

Continues to Stand By Statement "If French Were Not in Ruhr We Experts Would Not Be Here."

PARIS, Feb. 25.—"Certainly I said it," declared Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes, American member of the first committee of experts which has been investigating into Germany's financial and economic situation, to The Associated Press Sunday night. "I repeat it: If the French were not in the Ruhr we experts would not be here."

General Dawes had been asked by the correspondent if he was the expert to whom Premier Poincare referred in addressing the chamber of deputies Saturday when the premier said that one of the experts recently told a French colleague, "We should have been unable to reach our present results were you not in the Ruhr."

"I said it as early as February, 1923," Dawes replied, "I repeated it to my colleagues on the committee, and I am telling it to you now because I believe it."

French Press Featured
M. Poincare's reference in parliament to the foreign expert's opinion was given great prominence in the French newspapers Saturday, which printed it in heavy type on their front pages. The Matin attributed the remark to Reginald McKenna, head of the second committee of experts, who was quoted by the newspaper as having declared to a French senator in the course of a private dinner, "Previous to the Ruhr occupation the German people were willing to pay (Continued on page 8)"

Pistol Battle Result Of Plot To Blackmail Causes Deaths of Two

(By The Associated Press) CLEVELAND, Feb. 25.—Two men are dead and two other persons are being questioned by police Monday as a result of a pistol battle late Sunday night which is said to have been the culmination of a blackmail plot. The dead are Raffie Tranno and Mike Marino, who with a third man are said to have gone to the home of Mrs. Nettie Ansell, 21, last night to see whether the demands they are alleged to have made Thursday would be carried out. The woman, armed with three revolvers, fired a fusillade of shots at the men. She said after they had fired a shot through the window of her home. The police are searching for her husband who she says left home after the threats were received.

About 17 miles from St. Paul the animals chewed their way out of the crate and Anderson left the car in a hurry, slamming the door just in time. After consultation with the train crew it was decided to leave the door slammed until regular lion handlers could open it here.

HOUSE WEIGHS REVENUE BILL FOR LAST TIME

Further Contests Are in Prospect as Tax Measure Enters Home Stretch of Revision; Inheritance Tax Section Under Consideration and Higher Rates Proposed.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Revision of estate tax rates proposed by Rameyer, Rep., Iowa, subjected the revenue bill to another delay today while the house debated the question. Rameyer's amendment proposed to raise rates all along the line to a maximum of 40 per cent on the amount in excess of $10,000. The present rate is 25 per cent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The revenue bill enters its final stage of house consideration this week facing further revision by the Democratic-Republican insurgent coalition.

Monday the estate or inheritance tax section will be taken up and Representative Rameyer, Rep., Iowa, has said he would offer an amendment to increase the rates. Chairman Green of the ways and means committee also has announced he would propose a gift-tax. Republican insurgents are behind both proposals and the Democratic report on the bill by the ways and means committee members also suggested such revision.

More Contests
Further contests are in prospect on the other miscellaneous taxes as well as on the proposal to reduce the 1923 income taxes which are payable this year, Democrats opposing the provision for a flat 25 per cent cut with a offer to make their income rate schedule, approved last week, made retroactive for a year.

Representative Garner, Texas, leader of the Democratic tax forces, reiterated yesterday that he would not support any extended reductions other than those carried in the bill without providing for additional revenue from other sources in order to minimize the grounds for a presidential veto. Republican claim, on the basis of treasury estimates, that the measure, with the Democratic income rates already adopted, will cause a deficit of $400,000,000 in 1928. The Democrats assert their plan will raise more revenue next year than would have been possible under the Mellon plan.

While Republican leaders continue negotiations with a view to throwing out the Democratic income schedules when the measure comes up for final vote, both Republican insurgents and Democratic spokesmen insist they have gained strength.

A final vote on the measure is in prospect about Thursday or Friday and in answer to a request of the soldier bonus advocates in the senate both Representative Longworth, Ohio, the Republican leader, and Chairman Green announced today that the compensation bill would be taken up immediately by the ways and means committee.

Communications Are Now Restored In the State of Michoacan Reported Virtually Pacified by Federalists

(By The Associated Press) YERCA CRUZ, Feb. 25.—The military situation in this zone remains stationary from last week. The federalists are busy chasing rebel bands, having postponed their advance on Jalapa. Small bodies of insurrectionists are reported to have surrendered to General Heriberto Jara, at his headquarters in Orizaba, and similar bands have yielded to General Eusebio Topet at Tierra Blanca. Little cargo is being brought into Vera Cruz and business is practically at a standstill.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 25.—The state department of Michoacan is virtually pacified and communications restored, according to a report submitted to the war department from Morelia by Gen. Vincente Gonzalez, federal commander of that state.

The rebel leaders Dieguez and Enrique Estrada, with their disorganized followers, were retreating toward Colima from the district of Tepalapatlan and Coliman, while Jose Renteria Luviano and Orin Contreras are abandoning the districts of Tacamburo and Huastamo for the purpose of entering the state of Guerrero.

General Gonzalez estimated that a fortnight will be sufficient in which to extend federal control to these few remaining regions, while formation of regional guards throughout the state is expected to be adequate to cope with consequent banditry.

The measure, it was contended, "is particularly objectionable because it discriminates against certain nationalities already going to make up a great part of our population, fans the flames of racial, religious and national hatreds, and brands forever elements already here as of an inferior stock."

HODGE THINKS STOCK COMPANY DISARM A MENT MEET A SUCCESS OF 8 PER CENT

Secretary of Conference Says "Everybody Has Put Their Cards on the Table At Conference."

(By The Associated Press) ROME, Feb. 25.—"Everybody has put their cards on the table at this conference," said Commander Hodge of Great Britain, secretary of the naval disarmament conference, to the Associated Press Sunday.

"We all have learned something," he added. "We know that where we all stand, and for that reason this meeting is bound to bring good results on the question of limitation of armaments."

"For instance, take Russia. There was a great problem on which we all were at sea. But we heard the Russian view point frankly discussed by the Russian representative, we offered our counter view-points. Then, arriving at some basis; everybody has learned the other man's case. I am sure this feeling prevails throughout the whole commission."

Commander Hodge refused to give any of the tonnage figures discussed, saying all the members of the commission were sworn to secrecy until the meeting ends.

The delegates to the conference today took a rest and made slight-seeing trips into the country. There is evident disappointment regarding Spain's stand for the tonnage she requested and her withdrawal from the conference. The commission has met with many snags, similar to that of Spain, but nevertheless many of the delegates insist that the meeting has been successful.

State Press To Meet In Cocoa Next Month

On Apr. 17, 18 and 19 Cocoa will have the honor of entertaining the newspapermen of Florida, as on those dates the Florida State Press Association will meet here in annual convention, having decided upon Cocoa as their meeting place last spring in Tallahassee.

Though the organization has been in annual session for many years at various cities in the state, the beautiful Indian River country has never before been selected, and to those editors who may be unacquainted with this section of the state, it is safe to say this visit will prove a pleasant surprise, for we have much to offer that is different even to one from another part of the state.

The dates selected were in accordance with the request of the secretary of the organization, George Hooper of Fort Myers, but are excellent dates from a local standpoint, as it is still early enough for our fruit to be ripe and late enough to be assured of beautiful weather, but best of all, it is the time of this year when any newspaperman can view the moon rising over the Indian river and fall to be "sold" on this section, then indeed his soul is sold.

It is certain, they add, the names of Underwood and McAdoo would appear on the ballot of this state and they expect that James M. Cox, publisher of the Miami News-Metropolis will allow his name to appear also.

OVER TEN THOUSAND ATTEND BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION OF WASHINGTON HELD AT EUSTIS

EUSTIS, Feb. 23.—(Special).—Over 10,000 persons attended Washington's birthday celebration and dedication of the memorial library by Governor Cary A. Hardee here yesterday. Festivities opened at 9:30 Friday morning with a Lake county floral parade, in which nearly 100 floats and decorated automobiles participated. First prize was won by a float prepared by an Ohio delegation spending the winter in Eustis. The prize winner portrayed the state of Ohio as the "Home of Presidents." Fifty girls under 12 years of age entered a decorated baby carriage parade which followed the floral procession before a committee of judges. Governor Hardee, in his address at dedication of the recently completed library of the American Legion Post, stressed the need of this country for proper education to meet the problems of peace as well as of war.

"We honor Washington not alone because he was a great general and a great leader of men in the time of war but also because he combined all his worthy qualities to become the greatest American," said the speaker. "His work gathering together men in convention that arranged the constitution of the United States, the document which has since been the pattern for every constitution written since the time ours was made, and stands far above all other claims to greatness," he added.

Governor Hardee emphasized the fact that the ideals of soldiers in battles fought during all wars had been the cause of victory and said since the great war is over the ideal must continue to be patriotic; one but must be reached through education of the people of the nation along all lines and consequent betterment of conditions of government and administration.

The legion post also received from three living members of the local G. A. R. post, an American flag owned since the installation of the organization in Eustis, and a new flag from the women of the legion auxiliary. The gifts were accepted by Commander Tom Newnam of the legion post.

The pageant, "The Landing of King Orange and Queen Lemon," opened the afternoon program and was followed by races for all classes of motor boats. Boy Scouts assisted in the entertainment with demonstrations and won the competitive drill from the Girl Scouts. A thousand dollar fireworks display and basketball game between the Eustis and Gainesville High schools preceded the annual "King Lemon's Ball" at night.

FLORIDA

The Winter Playground of the United States and No Less Delightful in the Summertime

Florida is free from severe cold and from extreme heat—has an equable climate the year round.
The balmy breezes and soft sunshine of Florida in the winter months have made this state the nation's favorite playground.
Florida is no less delightful in summer. Temperatures are even, the heat is tempered by constant breezes and the nights invariably are comfortable.
There are no extremely hot days and sun-strokes are unknown. A narrow peninsula, no part of Florida is far from the sea and every section is swept by mild zephyrs from the Atlantic ocean and the Gulf of Mexico.
Summer in Florida does not enervate as in less favored sections. The climate at this season is actually milder than in many states farther north. Summer excursions to Florida are becoming very popular.

"Florida Is A Modern Earthly Paradise; and Will Be the Future Home of Millions"

—ARTHUR BRISBANE
Mr. Brisbane, an editor of national reputation, further describes Florida as "a national flower garden, a winter vegetable garden, an all-the-year pleasure and health resort—the treasure of this nation and the envy of others." Fronting on the ocean and on the Gulf, endless in fertility, Florida is the modern earthly paradise for a prosperous and happy people.
The climatic advantages of Florida have a distinct asset value from the standpoints of agriculture and commerce. There are maturing crops every month and people can live more cheaply, more happily and with better health. Transportation is never interfered with by excessive heat or cold, and manufacturing can be economically carried on.

FRESHMAN NOTES
Interesting Program
 Friday, Feb. 22, being the birthday of George Washington we had a very interesting program in Chapel. The program was given by the pupils of the school and consisted of the following numbers:
 "Life of Washington"
 "Mrs. R. C. Maxwell"
 "Things That Washington Didn't Have"
 "Washington's Relatives"
 "The Cherry Tree Story"
 "The Washington Monument"
 "Narrow Escapes"
 Mrs. Dixie Owens, president of the Clara Barton Memorial Association, gave a very interesting talk about "The Youth of America."
Half-Holiday
 The pupils of Seminole county were given a half-holiday Friday, Feb. 22, because of the monthly meeting of the Seminole County Teachers' Association at Monroe. We are very grateful to the faculty for these half-holidays every month.

JUNIOR CLASS
Student Government
 Student government is in full swing now, and many have found out that they were treated grand in the "old" days and were not abused as so many thought.
To Serve at Luncheon
 The Home Economics Girls are going to help serve at the luncheon at the Woman's Club Tuesday. Some people just don't know what good waitresses we have up here at High school.
We Have 'Em Here
 Some people say that the girls of this day and time cannot cook, but, if seeing is believing, just come up to the High school and we think you will be convinced that there are good cooks, if you will just look for them.
Celebrate Washington's Birthday
 We had appropriate exercises at Chapel Friday, celebrating Washington's birthday. Different members of the classes giving parts of George Washington's life. Mrs. Owens was at Chapel at this time and told us a little about Clara Barton. Her talk was enjoyed very much.
Mrs. McKay Back Again
 Mrs. McKay, our class sponsor, was absent from school two days last week. We are glad to see her up again and back to school.
Visits School
 Mr. Quinn, representing Rollins College, was at Chapel Thursday, inviting all of the student body to hear Edward Markham next Wednesday night. Everyone should take advantage of this opportunity to hear him.

SOPHOMORE NOTES
 The Literary Society had a very nice program Friday. The selections were taken from the poems of James Russell Lowell and also Oliver Wendell Holmes. The program was as follows:
 "The Life of James Russell Lowell".....Theron King
 "Beaver Brook".....Frank Dutton
 "The First Snow-Fall".....Briggs Arrington
 "The Life of Oliver Wendell Holmes".....John Hutchinsor
 "To An Insect".....Earle Appleby
 "My Aunt".....Walter Barber
 Mrs. Owens, president of the Clara Barton Memorial Association, visited the High school Friday. She told us many things of the great Clara Barton, who was the founder and first president of the American Red Cross. She also talked about the "Youth of America" and the things he said made us feel as if we were worth something after all. Mrs. Owens has been almost all over the United States and she is planning to give a talk here. All the students were invited to hear her. The object of these talks is to tell the people more about the founder of the Red Cross, which is one of the greatest institutions in America. The people should avail themselves of this opportunity to hear about one of America's greatest women, Clara Barton.
In Favor of Sanford
 The girls' and boys' basketball teams played the teams of St. Cloud. The girls' game ended with a score of 29 to 5 in favor of Sanford.

Grammar School Notes
 We can see that the Grammar school students have been dwelling much on the effect of good English. The papers were very good and showed thought. We seem to have found that everything depends on good speech. It was brought out that even our manners are somewhat polished through careful selection of words.
 Have you ever had the interesting experience to be strolling through unswept path in a beautiful patch of woods and suddenly halted in front of you? You were confronted by a standard with an improvised sketching board and in front of that a very thoughtful looking person with a rather far away expression for they were visualizing a bit of nature put into colors upon a canvas. Upon talking to this busy person you will find them musing on this shade and that. One atmospheric color may blend for the delicate color scheme while another may not. Each has its place in the wonderful formation of nature's representation. Thus it is with the spoken and written word. There is a musical tone about it. It has two artistic meanings, the color scheme and the picture upon the canvas of the mind. It may paint a picture that has for its aim the growth of a beautiful character or may contribute to that which tears down all we are trying to build up.

 If a word is a sign of an idea and ideas are thoughts then we must be up and doing.
 You never can tell what thoughts will do
 In bringing you hate or love,
 For thoughts are things and their airy wings
 Are swift as a carrier dove.
 They follow the law of the universe
 Each thing creating its kind;
 They speed o'er the track to bring you back
 Whatever goes out to your mind.
 —Mary Lamb.

Correct Speech.
 (Prize Winner.)
 Antoinette Shiholser, Seventh Grade.
 What good comes from bad grammar?
 None whatever. You ask, what good comes from correct speech? Correct speech is sure to give a good impression, and is also pleasing to the ear. It is not often that a person who has an ear for correct speech, and is user to hearing it clings to bad grammar. Therefore, there is a reflection on your kins-people and companions, in the English which you use. Listen to grammarians and people who make a study of correct English, find your mistakes and correct them.
 When you are speaking to any one do not talk in self-consciousness. Open your mouth and do not swallow your words. An elocutionist with a harsh, shrill and highly pitched voice is not pleasing to the ear.
 Speaking of things pleasing to the ear, the omission of final letters, which should be sounded is also a thing which should be brought to the memory of the general public, as, puddin', hopin', gettin', etc.

 Let's let our better English campaign last forever.
Good English.
 Hilda Murrhead, 7th Grade.
 We use good English for several reasons. We want to make a good impression and it is the correct way to talk. If you had a cousin that you had never seen and went to the town where she lived, and called up from the station to see if she was at home and at the end said in a harsh voice, "Year, disere's her," what would you think? I can tell you. You would think of staying a very short time indeed. Then if the sound came in a low, sweet voice, with rippling laughs in between, "Yes, she is here and it may interest you to know that she is talking to you." Besides the good impression it would be so pleasing to the ear that you would think of all you could say to her. What a good mother and father she had! Yes, and the good mother and father knew their duty; no such phrases as "ain't, never went," "I have saw," "I seen," "gimme de candy." Instead she heard, "have never been," "I have seen," "I saw," "please hand me the candy."
SECURED RELIEF THROUGH FOLEY PILLS
 John R. Gordon, Danville, Ill., writes: "I have suffered with kidney trouble five years; could not sleep at night and was always tired. I was not strong and hard work made my back ache. I got some FOLEY PILLS and after a few treatments I felt better and could work with more ease, became stronger and could sleep better." FOLEY PILLS are a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, make them more active. Get a bottle

CLAIM ORIGIN OF BASEBALL.
 TSINGTAO, China, Feb. 25.—The Japanese have made wonderful progress in baseball, so much so that some of them are challenging the American claim to originating the game. A controversy has arisen here by the contention advanced by certain Japanese that baseball originated in their empire.
 A prominent fair official was heard to say that the home demonstration displays keep getting better and better every year in every way. He is right.
 The livestock show—hogs, cattle and poultry—were much better than a year ago. There never has been a better poultry show in Florida.
 The boys of Sanford also won over Et. Cloud boys. The score was 13 to 9. Both games were very exciting and hard fought on both sides.
 Our teams play the Leesburg teams Saturday night in Leesburg and of course we will win.

Primary School Notes
 The Feeling Brillancy Little Fern Helen Dressor, Third Grade, South Side Primary.
 I am a big fern, I am growing dog walked on me and I was afraid, nicely but I did not want to be alone. One day a big girl and a A man came by though an dplanted some little ferns by me and I felt better. Then later a good little boy came and planted a red rose by me. This little bush has pretty flowers on it now. This little girl gives us water often, the little boy is stronger though and he gives us more water.
 "Little plant tell me as you grow. Do you long to little children tell How their playmates treat you so As you with beauty try to fill the dell!"
 Then did little Sonny with listening ear intent Bend to the lowly plant its message to receive; A gentle breeze and the little plant unbent, Then did Sonny a half twisted branch perceive.
 Sonny stood and pondered, then on his knees Beside the plant he bent, and its branches fingered Listened to the plant and heard its plans, Long he worked and happily lingered.
 Knifed had been a piece of root, Sonny with paint covered the bleeding part, Why had children of this plant taken root? The harder Sonny thought, the harder beat his heart.
School Grounds the Beauty Spot of Sanford.
 It was 1934 Clifford had been two years in college and was returning home bringing with him a friend to help him enjoy a few choice holidays.
 After a few hours spent at home Clifford and Jack were on their way toward the landmarks of Sanford. They were talking rapidly while motoring up and down the different avenues and streets. Clifford was going over the good times of his youth. Of course he was exceedingly proud of his home town and wished Jack to see the best parts of Sanford.
 The tropical part appealed most to Jack as he was from Pullman near Chicago. After admiring the Canarlanases or palms and Washingtonias spaced here and there on the boulevards of private homes they strolled up the avenue to Lake Shore Boulevard winding in and out the various promonades they discussed as well as examining various southern shrubbery. They had been interested in the latter for various branches had been studied and specimens gathered at college.

However they could seem to think of nothing else but school. Jack said I remember your telling me once about your school yards here. You told of the order in which your yard was planted at the different schools. Clifford was already starting the car and had in his mind to go to the East Side Primary.
 Stopping here they caught the cheerful red of the Poinsettia banked on all sides of the school foundation. Window boxes hostad of red and green foliage plants. Along the walk on either side were flaming red geraniums. Sturdy St. Augustine grass carpeted the whole south side part of the school. Clifford explained this was where he first learned the story of the dwarfs and fairies and was glad to read. They cast anxious eye at the playground equipment on the north side of the grounds. Clifford explained he had heard this had been given in appreciation to good upkeep of the grounds.
 When they reached the West Side school this too presented a refreshing picture. The big oaks gave bountifully of their shade. Canna beds owned the center of the grounds on either side of the cement walk. The colors of orange and red blended well with the red hibiscus hedge which flouted the foundation of the building.
 Clifford could scarcely wait until Jack saw the South Side Primary. They pulled up on the west side of the building near a tree which Clifford remembered the Boy Scouts had planted and of which he had carefully tended. This was a beautiful medium sized but trim little tree. The brother a disaster trees had grown much too. The ferns which fringed the foundation of the Opportunity room had grown tall, and thick. They had spread everywhere so that Clifford could not point out anywhere the identical ones which the Opportunity Class had given, and had mothered. Clifford told Jack they would have to get out from the car to walk around the grounds. The park to the north was a maze of glory. It had been planted according to a plan. A giant Canarlanias held down the middle; Washingtonias and bamboo with various other tropical planting stood growing systematically here and there. On the edge near the walk and still for a good many feet were the swings and gymnastic apparatus for the children. As they stood in the park they viewed the corners of ground proper, and enjoyed the various blue, red, pink and green shades of native foundation planting. Jack mused a while and asked Clifford if all this had ever been photographed because he had a faint recollection of having seen this somewhere. Clifford was happy to reply that movie screens had been featuring this as incentive to other schools to imitate it, saying others could do what they had done. Clifford then proceeded to relate all the organization which had led up to the beauty of the grounds.

This is what comes of an early dream. Come, let us fulfill the dream.
 (Prize Winner.)
 West Side School Ground. Marian Johnson, West Side School, Third Grade.
 First I would pick up all the paper and clean up the grounds nicely.
 Then I would plant grass, and make a flower bed on each side of the walk. I would plant trees on each side of the walk. I would plant trees on each side of the school house for shade. Then I would paint the fence white.
 What I Can Do To Make My Grounds Pretty.
 Andy Bucurel, Third Grade, South Side Primary.
 I can pick up paper and take care of the flowers and trees. The trees make shade and they are so pretty.
 I can keep the school building clean and pretty, too.
 I can keep the plants and flowers and trees watered, too. Then people will say the South Side Primary is the prettiest of all.
A Story of a Tree.
 Martha May, South Side Primary, Third Grade.
 I am a little tree. I am going to grow up. I am going to give the people some shade. I want the birds to build nests in my branches.
 The wind came one day and blew my leaves all off, and the nests were not covered, but the sun came out and gave me some more leaves. I began to grow a lot after this, but a boy came and broke off my branches and I most died but for a man came and fixed me up.
My School Grounds.
 Doris Hopkins, South Side Primary, Fourth Grade.
 The way I can keep my school grounds prettier than any other is to keep all the papers picked up. Tell some one else to keep them picked up, too. I can tell the children not to forget the trash can. Another is to keep off the trees and not swing on them. The trees will be a great help to us and give us shade so we can play under them.
 We do not want anybody to step on the flowers. They will grow up big and have pretty blossoms. Some will be purple, red, and pink.
South Side the Prettiest.
 Eugene Estridge, South Side School, Fourth Grade.
 We are going to have the prettiest playground soon. The Parent-Teachers' Association and the city are helping us to plant grass so we can plant some flowers.
 I am going to help keep the paper off the grounds. We are going to make Mrs. Arrington happy and everybody else. We will have some see-saws, too.
 We are going to make people think the inside of our side of our school is a library with books and things.

I will help water every one of the grounds so the flowers and pretty things will grow.
My Work.
 Beulah Mae Simmons, Fourth Grade.
 This is what I can do to my school grounds pretty. I can keep everything picked up. I can give the flowers a nice coat of water. I can tell the other children and watch them so they not step on the flowers. There's just lots of things we do to keep our grounds the prettiest.
 I hope that every boy and girl will try their very best for our school grounds the prettiest in the state of Florida.
 The negro exhibits in the school building were not quite as good as a year ago. The fair activities should stress this department more. Fifteen counties were represented.

SHADOWS.

Heart of mine, the shadows are creeping,
 The curtains are drawn, the hearth fire burns brightly,
 Down from the skies the wan stars are peeping,
 And memory talks through the long, lonely night!
 Can you remember (though memory chills me)
 The lift of your laughter that rings through the years;
 And your eyes filled with love-light?
 (Oh, how it thrills me!)
 I grope through the shadows,
 My eyes blinded with tears!
 I had known, dear, that some day you'd leave me,
 Wistful and lonely—and wanting you so,
 So, with your kind heart, would not willingly grieve me,
 Fast would I hold you, and not let you go!

CECILIAN MUSIC CLUB.

The Cecilian Music Club gave a most interesting program last Saturday afternoon at the studio of Mrs. Fannie S. Munson on Myrtle Avenue.
 The history topic of this meeting, was "What England gave to music in the early centuries," covering the covering the birds and days of minstrelsy, specially mentioning the order of date. King Brian-Boru of the Tenth Century, whose harp of eighteen strings is now to be seen in the Dublin museum.
 Dunstable, (called the father of Polyphony) Tallis, whose hymn tune, (Tallis), is still sung in our churches. Byrd, who wrote much beautiful music for the Virginals, the instrument Queen Elizabeth delighted to play.
 They came John Bull (1563), the great Virtuoso, who it is said wrote "God Save the King," known in America as "My Country 'Tis of Thee."
 Most famous of all, and for over two hundred years, England's greatest composer, was Purcell. He was organist at twelve years of age and finally at Westminster and then the Chapel Royal. He died at the early age of thirty-seven. His music was very original and still the delight of artists programs.
 Laws, born in 1595, was the intimate friend of the blind poet Milton, and wrote the music for his "Comus."
 Most of this period, was Thomas Arne. We are familiar with the "Swiss With the Delicate Air." Also the "Rule Britannia" besides several operas, he wrote music for some Shakespeare plays.
 Galli Curci and some facts of her life, was the current topic discussed.
 Mrs. Craig Harris, pianist, was the assistant talent and gave a group of much enjoyed solos. For an encore, she gave McDowell's "To a Wild Rose."

Swift Company, which recently secured contract to build a new storehouse for the Central of Georgia Railway Company in this city at a cost of some $60,000 to $70,000. His company is not a stranger in Columbus building circles, for it constructed the magnificent new roundhouse and machine shops for the Central of Georgia Railway in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins have spent much of the present winter at Sanford, Fla., where the Geo. B. Swift Company has been working on an important railroad construction contract. In recent years the company has built railroad shops and stations in several southeastern cities, two of its most interesting contracts having been at Waycross and Macon. TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION OF SEMINOLE COUNTY MEET AT LAKE MONROE

The Teachers' Association of Seminole county met at the graded school at Lake Monroe Friday afternoon and held a very entertaining and instructive session.
 Prof. J. T. Jacobs, chairman, called the meeting to order, and after the audience joined in singing "America," a short scriptural reading followed. Mrs. Barber, secretary, then read the minutes of the last meeting, which was held at Ocala.
 "Patriotism and how best taught in our school," the subject chosen by the committee, was ably handled by the various teachers placed upon the program. All readily responded and the talks and papers were highly entertaining and enlightening.
 Professor McKay, first upon the program, began with a brief sketch of the history of the boys of the different epochal wars—patriotism in time of conflict. He also emphasized the importance of patriotism in time of peace, true regard for law and order, qualification of officials as chosen by voters, study of public questions, etc.
 Mrs. Arrington then made a few remarks upon the well rounded character which should begin the development in early childhood and the teaching of patriotism as an incentive in the development. She then called Miss Turner, primary teacher, to continue the program.
 Miss Turner spoke of living for our country as well as dying for it and gave many helpful suggestions and devices towards teaching little folks the true meaning of patriotism.
 Mrs. Barber, secretary of the association, was next in line and discussed the importance of molding of character in the teaching of patriotism. She spoke of lessons of thrift, effort, cultivating an attitude of cheerfulness, finding joy in every duty, also the practice of patience, kindness, perseverance and benevolence.
 Patriotism as taught in the Grammar school was efficiently handled by Mrs. Babbitt, who enlarged upon the primary methods and advised the study of biography in the higher grades as history revolves around the lives of great men.
 "To die for our country is essential, but it is more necessary to live for our country," quoted Mrs. Maxwell when called to give her views as used in High school. She stated that the subject was handled very much through research work and the writing of essays. Mrs. Maxwell also suggested a set of books, "The Making of a Citizen," which she considered very fine.
 Superintendent Lawton's ideas were brought out in a brief talk which the school boys of the city of educating the heart. In a previous talk he urged a small contribution from school children towards a monument of John Heenan, one of the early settlers of the state, which is to be erected near Jacksonville.
 The program was concluded by a short drill, "The Building of the Flag," by eight of the school boys after which all joined in singing "Dixie."
 An enjoyable social hour followed in which strawberries, cake and punch were heartily partaken. The teachers will meet next month at Chuluota and as the occasion is so near St. Patrick's day all teachers are requested to be ready with a typical Irish joke.

One had to admire the Pinellas booth. It seemed to have everything and its appearance was very pleasing.

Mr. Successful Grower:

What Are You Doing With Your Money?

A good place to put some of it where others are making profits is in that phenomenal new city growing rapidly just at Miami's northwest gate.

HI-A-LE-AH is only three years old and is known as Miami's fastest growing suburb.

An Increase of 600 per cent in Three Years, or 200 per cent a Year.

The first advertisement announcing sale of Hialeah lots was published in Miami February 1, 1921. The prices of lots were from $100 to $500.

These same lots now, with three years of development of Hialeah, have value of from $600 to $3,000.

What will the next two or three years mean to the value of this property?

Hialeah Homes are just the Right Distance From Miami

You are invited to visit Hialeah and look over the investment opportunity. See what has been accomplished in three years, then estimate, if you can, what Hialeah will be in two or three years more.

CITADEL IS OUT OF S. I. A. A. CAGE

MACON, Ga., Feb. 25—With the Citadel today cut off from the S. I. A. A. basketball tournament, which starts here tomorrow, sending the college into the second round without a struggle. Twelve of the other teams arrived in Macon today in preparation for the championship struggle which will be decided Thursday night, and University of Chattanooga's quintet, which drew a bye in the opening round, will reach here tomorrow. By reason of the Citadel's default, Centre and Chattanooga are matched to play Tuesday and a hot contest is considered certain between these two strong teams for the right to enter the tournament.

The first tournament held exclusively for S. I. A. A. teams will start tomorrow afternoon when the ball is tipped off between the centers of Louisiana college and Presbyterian College of South Carolina. Mississippi college and Birmingham Southern will follow and the third game in the afternoon will match Georgetown, (Ky.) college, regarded as a dark horse in the tournament, against Newberry for the right of meeting Furman, which also drew a bye.

With the Citadel out, only two games will be played tomorrow night, Wofford meeting Howard in the first and Mercer playing Millsaps in the second. Four games will be played Tuesday and two each on Wednesday and Thursday nights, the defeated teams in the semi-finals meeting Thursday night in a contest for third place.

Seven Southern states are represented by the teams which will contest for the S. I. A. A. court title. South Carolina leads the list with four teams. Furman, Newberry, Presbyterian college and Wofford, Kentucky, Mississippi and Alabama have two teams each in the race, as follows: Georgetown and Centre from Kentucky; Mississippi college and Millsaps from Mississippi and Howard and Birmingham Southern from Alabama. Louisiana is represented by the University of Chattanooga, and Georgia by Mercer university.

The arrivals today included Herb "Flash" Covington, all-Southern quarterback on the Centre college football team. The Centre team also includes Kukulak, another football star, and Roger Snowday, brother of Terry Snowday, a former Coloual star. The visitors were met at the station today by members of the Macon Athletic club, which is sponsoring the tournament and were provided with automobiles for trips over the city as the first

RICKARD CHARGE BEING IN LEAGUE WITH SCALPERS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25—Gene Doyle, well known local sporting man, associated with Jess Willard in his attempted come-back, has stepped out in support of Tom O'Rourke's charges at Albany, N. Y., yesterday that Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, was in league with ticket scalpers.

Doyle charged that Rickard submitted a contract to Willard for a return bout with Dempsey, calling for $60,000 cash as a guarantee, an interest in the motion pictures, a percentage of the gate receipts over $400,000 and a percentage of the scalpers' profits.

"I asked Willard what the 'scalpers' profits' clause meant," Doyle said. "He said he knew how Rickard did business and that was his way of beating the law governing the price of tickets.

"Willard wouldn't accept the date set for the return bout, claiming it gave him too little time to train for such an important match."

Tex Says He Didn't

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—Tex Rickard, New York's leading boxing promoter, denied emphatically today the charges made in Albany yesterday by Tom O'Rourke, former deputy boxing commissioner that he had turned over $135,000 worth of tickets for the Dempsey-Firpo fight last fall to speculators.

Rickard said that the only tickets left after the fight had been staged were those of $20 and $15 denominations, which, he said were always the hardest to sell.

O'Rourke who was connected with the Polo Grounds club at the time charging before a legislative committee that Rickard turned back $135,000 worth of seats that could have been sold at the box office.

TOURNEY, SAID ROUSH WON'T TALK TO REDS

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 25—Outfielder Ed Roush said Saturday that he does not expect to come to Cincinnati this week to discuss his 1924 contract with the directors of the Cincinnati National club.

"I did not make any appointment with President Herrmann," said Roush over the telephone from his home in Oakland City, Ind., to the Times Star late today. "I have not heard anything recently from Mr. Herrmann, and have no engagements to talk baseball."

Roush is quoted as saying he wants to be with the boys, and will go on the Florida trip if things can be arranged satisfactorily.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 25—Jakey May has decided to come into the Cincinnati National camp and settle his differences with the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league, without worrying the Red management about his dispute over a part of the purchase money.

The little lefthander, in a letter received today by President August Herrmann, said he is pleased with Cincinnati's championship prospects and that he will accept terms in the near future.

Indigestion

"I had very severe attacks of indigestion," writes Mr. M. H. Wade, a farmer, of R. F. D. 1, Weir, Miss. "I would suffer for months at a time. All I dared eat was a little bread and butter... consequently I suffered from weakness. I would try to eat, then the terrible suffering in my stomach! I took medicines, but did not get any better. The druggist recommended and I decided to try it, for, as I say, I had tried others for years without any improvement in my health. I found the Black-Draught was acting on my liver and easing the terrible pain.

"In two or three weeks, I found I could go back to eating. I only weighed 123. Now I weigh 147—eat anything I want to, and by taking Black-Draught I do not suffer."
