

DELAY ASKED UPON QUESTION OF RELIEF BILL

Postponement Urged In Order To See If Red Cross Drive Is To Be Successful

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Postponement of consideration of the $25,000,000 appropriation for Red Cross relief work for two or three weeks pending the Red Cross campaign for $10,000,000, was advocated today by Senator Reed after a conference with President Hoover. The Pennsylvania starburst supporter of the President at the same time indicated he favored the $25,000,000 appropriation proposed by Senator Robinson of Arkansas.

Senate leaders believed there was little chance of deferring the appropriations issue with every likelihood it would be approved.

Administration leaders took note of the mounting stack of necessary legislation which must be passed before Mar. 4 adjournment to avoid the extra session and Senator McNary of Oregon, assistant Republican leader, gave notice he would ask night sessions next week.

Deported Editor Is Not Peeved About Government Action

MIAMI, Jan. 17. (A.P.)—John T. Wilford, American newspaper editor, ordered deported from Cuba by President Machado, said after his arrival here last night he was not angry because of his expulsion.

"No one with a sense of humor could be angry," he added. Mr. Wilford had been a resident of Havana 21 years. He was editor of the Havana American, an English language newspaper. He said the actual order of deportation, which was issued Thursday night, had not been served upon him but he understood it had been given to the police department, any member of which might have served him with it.

The Havana editor said he could have stayed in Havana the full 48 hours given him in the order had he desired.

Arriving here by airplane from the Cuban capital yesterday afternoon, Mr. Wilford went directly to his hotel. There he said he would stay in Miami for several days until he has recovered from a slight cold which he smugly told interviewers he caught "during the police."

He said he would go from Miami to Washington where he could be close to news of interest to Havana and Cuba. Other than that, he said his plans were indefinite.

Knockout Drops Are Featured In Inquest

WEST PALM BEACH, Jan. 17. (AP)—Testimony of a plan to put knockout drops in the whiskey of George C. Brown, who died of poisoning after taking a drink Jan. 5, was given this morning before a coroner's jury which was recalled for more testimony.

A filling station proprietor testified that an employee of the plant where Brown worked related a plan to get the drops and make Brown drunk so as to report him to the head of the company at Miami. After Brown's death, however, the witness said the employee told him the plan was not attempted. No arrests have been made yet.

Plans Are Ready For Huge Air Tour Which Will Come Here On Monday Afternoon

"We need more automobiles with which to transport the nearly 100 aviators and officials to their hotel Monday afternoon, and once again we urge you, especially the ladies of Sanford, to donate the use of your automobiles for a few hours Monday so that we may aid in making the Lions Club's efforts a success," said Harry M. Papworth, president of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce today. Mr. Papworth pledged the aid of the local trade body in securing needed transportation, and has taken much interest in the proposed air circus.

As reports from Committee chairmen come hourly, at the office of Maxwell Stewart, secretary of the Lions Club, it is revealed that every detail in connection with the coming event is in order with the lone exception of having enough automobiles. The field is pronounced in perfect condition; the weather is scheduled to be clear and warm; the cooperation of county and city police officials is assured; the entertainment of the visitors is expected to be well-taken care of in that heat, dog race, and dance tickets will be provided gratis, and, with the event well advertised in the surrounding cities and many local merchants planning to close their stores between the hours of 2:30 and 4:30 o'clock, a red-letter day in Sanford aviation circles is in prospect.

PRINCE OF WALES ENDS FIRST LAP OF TROPICAL TRIP

British Heir And His Brother Arrive In Paris Aboard Plane

PARIS, Jan. 17. (AP)—Two traveling salesmen from London spent last evening in comparative quiet at their hotel here, but they were the object of considerable mere attention than is usually accorded a commercial traveler.

They were the Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, and they were strictly incognito but there was none of the pomp with which visiting royalty is usually pestered.

They did not go to the theatre, as the prince is accustomed to do on his visits to Paris, because both are in mourning for their mother, the princess royal, who died last week.

The two young men, on their way to South America where the Prince of Wales is to open the British Trade Exposition next month, crossed the channel in the prince's airplane, reaching Le Bourget field after two hours' flying over threatening clouds and through fog. The Prince of Wales was a little deaf from the roar of the motors after they landed, but he recovered quickly.

Today the brothers will catch a train for Santander, Spain, where they will board the liner Oropesa for the voyage across the Atlantic.

Prince George originally had planned to cross the channel by steamer, but his brother dissuaded him and they made the flight together after they had called up the King and Queen to say goodbye.

A couple of British Army planes escorted them to France and the British air attaché greeted them at Le Bourget.

As he stepped out of the plane the heir noticed a group of photographers fuming behind a line of soldiers. He grinned at them and posed for five minutes while they aimed their cameras at him.

"Oh, let them alone," he said to the commander at Le Bourget.

Report Of Mellon's Resignation Denied

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—It was said at the White House today that there was no foundation for reports published today that Secretary Mellon had submitted his resignation. The denial was forthcoming to a published report that Ambassador Dawson would become Republican national chairman and that Secretary Adams of the navy department would succeed him in London as ambassador.

The report as to Mellon was said at the White House to resemble similar reports that have been denied by the administration since Mar. 4, 1929. It was also denied that George Atkinson, now assigned as secretary to the secretary, would be succeeded by the recently appointed California lawyer.

ADVERTISING IS SEEN AS HOPE FOR REALTORS

Real Estate Men Are Told They Are Lagging Behind In Attracting Business

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 17. (AP)—Real estate dealers must wake up to the fact that they must do more attractive, constructive and intelligent advertising if they expect to survive general business competition. Hugh Potter, Houston, Tex., chairman of the advertising committee of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, declared yesterday. He was one of the principal speakers at the mid-winter business meeting of the association.

Potter said much of real estate advertising, especially in the case of small town realtors, is "unpleasant, unattractive and does not pull." Until they realize, he said, they must keep step with other lines of business, he added, they cannot expect to progress.

He pointed to attractive advertising of automobiles, cigarettes and other commodities today and declared realtors were lagging.

"The big problem with them," he said, "is that they cannot afford to advertise on their own hook as they should. We can solve that problem at one-sixth the cost they now pay."

"Our aim is to increase the quality and quantity of real estate advertising at a reduced cost. We propose to help realtors by better newspaper advertising, direct mail, whereby we furnish the operator with attractive ads bearing his name, which he can send to prospects; radio electrical advertising at a nominal cost, and a consultation service whereby our advertising men will confer with realtors in various cities and advise them on proper advertising."

"Realtors today are realizing the need for good advertising as a result of the business depression. We have had plenty of publicity. What we need is advertising." Don Riddle, Chicago, director of the advertising service bureau of the national association, also declared.

Elks Band To Give Third Performance At Municipal Pier

The band shell at the Municipal pier at the foot of Park Avenue will be the scene, Monday night at 8:00 o'clock, of the third public appearance of the 30-piece band which has recently been organized here under the sponsorship of the Sanford Elks Club.

The program will be composed of the numbers which were to have been played at the community sing during the holidays. Bandmaster Edgar A. Ball, of Orlando, has also added several popular numbers to the already large number of melodies and compositions which will be heard.

With fair and warmer weather predicted for next week, no interference is anticipated due to inclement weather. However, if extreme cold or rain is the order, the concert will be postponed until a later date.

The City parks have been scouring for benches which will accommodate a large audience, and the local members of the lodge extend an invitation to all.

"As president of your organization, I submit the following report for the twelve months beginning January 16th 1930 and closing January 15th, 1931.

"During this period a total of 545 patients were admitted to the hospital, and 61 minor cases treated but not admitted. There were 151 major and 204 minor operations, 134 medical cases, 53 obstetrical (41 twins), 54 births and 61 minor accidents, making a total of 660 cases, of these 100 were colored patients.

The average number of patients per day, including new born, was 12. The average number of days per patient 7.5. During the year 56 per cent of bed capacity was the average occupied. Of this amount $1791.50 was charged to Seminole County and will not be paid, as it was covered by an $1800.00 appropriation listed as donation. This leaves the sum of $3244.94 charged to the sundry individual patients, the majority of whom will be unable to pay. Seminole County discontinued last September any appropriation for the maintenance of the hospital, and from that time on has paid and will continue to pay a reasonable charge for county patients. This action will reduce our revenues (Continued On Page Three)

10,000 Outfit Among Secondary Schools Estimated As Total
 NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Every thousand persons are held in a great stadium at Dallas, Tex. Brilliantly dressed cheerleaders on either side of the field break the drab gray and brown of the sea of spectators and half on the field two teams of 25 men each crouch, they stand together, the stands roar.

Texas playing Southern Methodist.

The St. Joseph Dallas and Springfield high schools weather their annual football war.

Similar scenes were staged at San Francisco last fall when 20,000 before a crowd of 20,000 and several hundred games in New York City drew over 50,000 through the gate.

Alhambra, and Bethlehem high schools, and Pennsylvania play every day before many thousands. Their battles and legends of high school football is shown by James G. Thompson, Pa., and attention to his making, the King of intercollegiate and inter-school sports, and by The Associated Press.

There are approximately 10,000 high school teams in the United States, Davis estimates, representing about 50,000 players. Almost 20 times the number of schools and players of collegiate rank.

In almost every state they are organized much more closely than are most college groups.

The various local groups are joined in a state-wide organization and these state organizations are bonded together in a National High School Athletic Association of the United States. The association of the various state high school teams are placed in a large collective state rivaling those of the smaller colleges.

High school football is self sustaining, as is the college sport, and pays the expenses in most instances of its less popular brother.

Davis brought out the interesting fact that only a small proportion of these players continue the sport when they go to college. He believes the youngsters are more interested in profitable alternative activities and find the college extremely exciting they volunteer for the intercollegiate game, also has appeared in the high school football.

The football player in the United States has a month of the White Palace N. Y. high school team to play a team of Florida all-stars for ability.

Davis said this to try about the high school games:

"High school football surprises in every way. In the average college football it is making many more among the spectators and more among the managers are an important part of the college manager."

There were 15 regular hands and two substitutes in the game.

At the first Atlantic coast two players had disaster and five of the players died. The two replacements were taken from the air but both were forced to come down in mid-stream. Each was taken to a hospital and one was reported to have died.

When the equipment left Oriskany, N. Y. for a flight by way of the Atlantic coast, the other was reported to have died when it returned to the side of the landing field.

The progress of aviation will be illustrated by the arrival in Sanford Monday of the first of forty planes which comprise the All-Florida tour. A few years ago the sight of one plane circling a city or coming to rest in a neighboring field would have been a sufficient novelty to arouse the curiosity of thousands of persons and to draw crowds from miles around. Monday thousands gather to greet nearly a hundred aviators, some of them the most famous and the most skillful in the air, who will entertain them with flying stunts and parachute jumps and who will show them the latest improvements which the aviation airplane industry has been able to produce.

Even air war which is enlightening the minds of many persons as to the possibilities of aviation, is indicative of the progress being made over the world. The transportation of goods in this way and the carrying of passengers is being revolutionized. It was possible a few years ago to visit a distant city and leave the airplane in the hands of a pilot who would return it to the airport. Now the airplane is a self-propelled machine, which can take the pilot with him, and with heavy bombs and flying instruments to attack distant cities. Development continues to operate pace following the war, but it was not until a few days ago that the clouds at Roosevelt Field had dropped and the sun shone across the Atlantic. It is that innumerable additional improvements have been made with lightning rapidity.

Some of these dozens of new airplanes have been built in the United States, others in Europe. Transportation companies have been organized in Turkish, and planes in all directions and from one corner of the country to another. Flying fields and airports have been constructed by the hundreds until they fairly carpet the country. The speed of airplanes, their safety and dependability have been improved until one can fly from San Francisco to New York in a few hours with little more danger than any other mode of transportation entails. Connecting links have been established with South American countries and the islands of the West Indies so that one can tour the entire Western Hemisphere with the comfort of an ocean voyage and all the speed which is characteristic of the Twentieth Century.

The Herald is glad to see the air tour coming to Sanford and extends a cordial welcome to its scores of flying visitors. We see in their arrival here a milestone on this city's highway to future greatness. Just as the landing of the first boat, which made its way down the St. Johns from Jacksonville to tie up near old Fort Meikim, marked the almost primitive beginning of Sanford, and the first shove-off of dirt turned by General Grant in the construction of the South Florida Railroad marked the connection of this city by modern means with the outside world, so does this air tour and its stop-over here indicate a new era for Sanford, an era which will see hitherto land-locked citizens taking to the air.

A New Industry

During the past few months we have heard a great deal about a new industry which promises in time to take its place alongside of citrus, calery, and tourism, as Florida's most productive crops. The Tung oil industry is of course in its infancy, but it has already been demonstrated that Tung trees can be made to thrive in some sections of Florida and it is quite possible that they will do well in others which have not tried to cultivate them. The possibilities of Tung oil as a marketable commodity are unlimited.

"Upon the authority of the Polk County Tung Oil Digest," says the Tampa Times, "there are at the present time over 850 manufacturers in the United States using Tung oil as a necessary ingredient in their product and it is stated by those in a position to know that if any available acre suitable to the Tung oil tree was planted the new uses constantly being found for its use and its by-products will alone take care of such production 10 years from now. In view of this it is felt by those best posted that Tung growing offers to the sections suited to it the most far-reaching horticultural and industrial opportunity ever before presented to the progressive interests of this county."

"As a result of this there has been something started in Polk county which will be watched with interest. A co-operative organization has been formed, with Isaac Van Horn as chairman, which proposes developing the Tung industry there. It is stated that this movement is not for the purpose of selling land; not for the purpose of planting groves to sell to others on promises of returns, but for the purpose of making such a county-wide demonstration of the adaptability of Polk county soil and climate to the commercial growth of the Tung oil tree to as give additional stability to the county, with its real values established on merit.

"What is true of many other things is true of Tung trees. They cannot be successfully grown just anywhere, on just any land that they may be put on. So the thing to do is to find the soil suited to them and plant it. This is what is being undertaken in Polk county. Undoubtedly, there is much land in that county, as elsewhere in this section of Florida, which can be properly classed as Tung land of A-1 grade. When this is established beyond peradventure, as the project headed by Mr. Van Horn purposes establishing it, Polk county will be in for such a development as will more than ever entitle it to be referred to as Imperial Polk."

WORLD'S VIEW

M. Pasquie, the Governor-General of Indo-China, returned to Paris by airplane the other day after covering the immense distance in five days. Stepping from his plane at Bourget, the French airport, M. Pasquie remarked that the airplane was "an instrument of peace," because, he added, "in the course of our trip we encountered French and Dutch, Egyptian and English aviators and we fraternized immediately."

There is no doubt about this, of course. But if M. Pasquie had traveled by camel and encountered Dutchmen and Englishmen somewhere in the Arabian desert, would there not have been fraternization? Is the camel less an instrument of peace than the airplane? The answer is that the meeting would have been a happy one.

Even if Germans had been considered on such a hypothetical journey, there would have been no fraternization.

The United States of America has always been a great power. We think back of the Arab history of the year, when the desert was a land of fighting, with alarms and rumors over the situation in the Holy City of Jerusalem. Bedu tribesmen were on the march everywhere. Following the old Hedjaz railway with Djedda as our destination, we encountered a lone white man at the El Ula oasis, not so very far from Medina. This individual turned out to be the famous Prof. Balla from Leipzig, one of the greatest Arabic scholars, by nature a taciturn and reserved man.

The meeting was as if long-lost brothers saw each other for the first time in ages. We sat down under a palm tree, and not only had a pleasant meal of mutton and dates but a most refreshing conversation. The professor knew nothing about the disturbances in Jerusalem, but upon our assurance that the Mosques of Omah was still standing he immediately volunteered to reassure the Arabic tribes that could be seen in the distance moving slowly to the North, bent on revenge. In this case, both the automobile and the professor's camel certainly were instruments of peace.

Observers are agreed that the year 1931 will see the decisive test of the Soviet's economic system and the staggering five-year plan with its far-reaching effects upon the entire world. Next year's program, Moscow reports, requires a 25 per cent increase in industrial production and the collectivization of 50 per cent of the peasant households. The achievement of bathing suit.

MEMBER—Now, how about this Gene Tunney matter, Mr. Chairman? What's Gene done now?

MEMBER—Well, he's been appointed to the staff of the Governor of Connecticut with the rank of major.

CHAIRMAN—Did they consult us about it?

MEMBER—No. They made the appointment over our head.

CHAIRMAN—Gene Tunney a major, hey? That's serious.

MEMBER—I'll say it is. We ought to get in touch with the Connecticut Boxing Commission and have it nullified.

SECOND MEMBER—I got a better idea than that. If Gene Tunney's a major, he ought to fight.

CHAIRMAN—You're darn tooting! Let's give him till June 1 to fight. If there ain't a war going on by then, we'll refuse to recognize him as a major.

MEMBER—Not only that, but in the meantime I think we ought to demote him to a second lieutenant.

CHAIRMAN—That's swell. Have the commission's secretary notify Gene at once.

MEMBER—Now, how about the middleweight situation in the ladies' division?

CHAIRMAN—What's going on there?

MEMBER—Well, there's Mrs. Goss and Alice Longworth. They haven't scrapped for over six months.

CHAIRMAN—They can't get away with that on us! Do they think they're bigger than the Boxing Commission?

MEMBER—It begins to look so.

this program will involve the completion of 98 per cent of the plan in the basic industries and of 79 per cent in other industries. The 1931 program also indicates that there will be no relaxation of the tremendous strain under which the country has labored for the last two years. If the program of a 25 per cent increase in industrial production was not fulfilled last year, it is evident that a still larger program next year presents formidable difficulties, especially in view of the labor shortage and the overloaded condition of transport.

Pravda says that "next year must complete the collectivization and liquidation of the kulaks in the important grain regions" and the achievement of 50 per cent of the party Soviet leaders collective farming the dominant form of Soviet agriculture. The program, more uncompromising than ever, stakes the future of the country on the success of Socialist schemes of economic reconstruction and lends added significance to the recent retirement of Rykoff and the evident determination of the party Soviet leaders of the collectivization may be divided into four parts: tearing down the walls, bastions and fortifications of the backward, which had already been built into the old walls, tearing down the old walls, and the construction of a new wall which will be available for construction.

The whole job of getting the strated that it was an act of violence to have walls around Paris to protect the city from an enemy, the municipal authorities have been tearing down the old fortifications to make way for boulevards, parks and swimming lots. In the year which has just passed this job will be virtually completed, and Paris will no longer be walled town. The walls will have been 317,000,000 for the year of 1931, and about 100,000,000 will remain to be spent on the improvements which take the place of the old military works.

somewhat, as the amount charged to the county has never been quite as much as their donations. The City, however, has continued its appropriation of $1000.00 per year and at the same time pays for the rate of $3.00 per day for patients whose admission is approved by the City Physician.

"At a total number of patient days of 4382, and an expenditure of $29,621.24, the average cost per patient day was $4.70 1-2. This means that if every patient had been charged $4.70 1-2 per day, and every patient had paid in full, the institution could have maintained without revenues from donations, or any other source other than patients. This cost was 25 cents per day more than the preceding twelve months; this is accounted for by an increase in expenditures for repairs, furniture and furnishings.

"No membership drive was made this year, hence no revenues from that source. The only donations received were $1000.00 from the county, $200.00 from the City and $25.00 from the Sanford Electric Company. Dividends from the First National Bank on current balance and an old savings deposit amounted to $22.45.

"During the year Mr. Frank Peters and Mrs. C. E. Myers resigned as members of the Executive Committee and were succeeded by Mr. A. P. Connelly and Mrs. J. Lehman. The active membership of the hospital for the past several months has been 100. The Executive Committee consists of Mrs. H. C. DeLoach, chairman, Mrs. F. E. Stoddard, Mrs. F. E. Stoddard, Mrs. H. J. Connelly, Mrs. A. G. Wagner and Mrs. A. G. Wagner as members."

Health Examinations Of Children Ended
By MRS. DOROTHY LAMB
All school children in Seminole County totalling 1108 have been examined by the county nurse. Out of this number, 1210 have been found to have remediable defects.

As an incentive for our boys and girls to "want health" a Blue Ribbon Program is being put through all the schools in the County. The purpose of this program is to stimulate the pupil's interest in his own development.

A few of the most essential points to be eligible for this Blue Ribbon are as follows: Satisfactory work in school (average grade of 85 per cent); practice ideals of sportsmanship; no uncorrected defects; active or acquired immunity from communicable diseases; and faithful practice of health habits at home and at school.

Parents who are anxious for their children to qualify for the Blue Ribbon are urged to have their children's defects corrected by Feb. 20 which will be the closing date for candidates. The candidates who are eligible by Feb. 20 will have health check cards sent home on Mar. 2 to be returned to school by Apr. 10.

As national chairman, informed President Hoover that the Senate proposal was embarrassing their campaign for $10,000,000. Others of the delegation included Secretary Lambert and Under Secretary Mills and Assistant Secretary Hope of the Treasury.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, replied in the Senate by asking prompt approval of the $25,000,000 loan. He said the Red Cross was making an effort to hinder passage of this proposal by the statement Senator Black (D Ala) said the $10,000,000 would not be enough.

Administration leaders conceded last night these proposals would be less than a score of votes against the $25,000,000 appropriation. In addition to the coalition of Democrats and Republicans independents, several Republican regulars are ready to support it.

Referring to the statement of the Red Cross officials, Senator Robinson said: "In an effort to embarrass its passage, a statement was given out yesterday by the Red Cross that this proposal will hinder the collection of the $10,000,000 asked by the Red Cross from the people."

"It is to be hoped that this Red Cross appeal will be responded to promptly. It will be a poor excuse for those who can afford it not to contribute because the government also proposes to give. It is a poor compliment to the Red Cross for it to say it can not take public funds and add them to private funds for the lofty purposes of relief."

"Just a few days ago the head of the Red Cross said he needed no additional funds and that if he asked for them the public would laugh. Notwithstanding that assertion he now makes an appeal to the generosity of our citizens for $10,000,000. I hope he gets it."

Black recalled the testimony of Herbert Hoover before the House in 1920 in urging the appropriation of $20,000,000 by the government to feed the starving of Russia.

"The only difference between that and this," interjected Senator Caraway (D Ark.) "is they were Russians and Americans now who are hungry."

Repudiation Of Lucas Asked By Senator Cutting

of the income tax returns. Senator Kean (R N J), interposed that the internal revenue collectors in the administration of President Harding were mostly Democrats.

Cutting asserted that Lucas was "obviously" promoting the candidacy of President Hoover for re-nomination by his letter to precinct committee workers in December, urging them to defend the President. He again assailed Lucas for his activities against Senator Norris of Nebraska.

The New Mexico Senator denounced Senator Fess of Ohio, chairman of the Republican Committee, for issuing a statement through the committee in criticism of Senator Couzens on the railroad merger dispute.

He said Senator Fess had no right to use the National Committee for a personal attack upon another Republican Senator, regardless of the merits of the dispute. He also demanded that Fess take a stand on "this clear issue of right and wrong" involving Lucas.

"I don't care whether Lucas stays down there forever," said Cutting, "but I do call upon Senator Fess as the titular head of the party, and upon the men who actually control the party, to repudiate the disgraceful and outrageous actions of this man."

Cutting read a letter which he said Lucas wrote on National Committee stationery to former employees of the Internal Revenue Bureau shortly after he had resigned as commissioner of internal revenue, asking them to keep him informed "of political conditions in your section."

"It is obvious," interjected Johnson, "the internal revenue collectors acting for the department in Washington through internal revenue taxation attempt to or do control the politics of the nation."

Cutting demanded a "square deal" for Alfred E. Smith, Democratic Presidential nominee in 1928, who was asked for an apology from Lucas and the Republican National Committee for distributing a cartoon caricaturing a "snake" quotation to Smith.

pledged the lack of proper advertising by realtors.

"Realtors wouldn't think of sending out to a prospect an agent with dirty, sloppy clothes," he said, "yet he will run down in newspapers and magazines. There isn't any difference. Advertising is the realtor's calling card yet he doesn't realize it."

"The real estate operator today is a one-man show. He hasn't realized the importance of advertising. Realtors operate in little groups, while other concerns operate on a wide scale and have the money to back them."

"Pointing out the advertising of 50 percent of the 'best' real estate is represented in real estate. Riddle said operators should realize this and 'quit trying to write mediocre ads, but get on advertising that will draw business. You have been selling advertising rather than buying it."

the position she told Miss Bow she had never had any experience as a secretary and thought if she couldn't make good she might have trouble getting back her job of hairdresser at a studio. "Clara told me I would never have to try to get my job back because she would take care of me," Miss deBoe testified. She said she was to get $75 a week and at the end of a year $125 a week.

"Did you act as her companion as well as her secretary?" Freedman asked.
"Yes," Miss deBoe replied, "and when I first went with her she said that after she had dismissed the chauffeur I could make myself available to drive the car around."

"What were your duties as Miss Bow's companion?"
"I went with Clara everywhere I would go to the door when various men arrived and tell them she was at home or was not at home according to her wishes."

"What did you pay for Miss Bow at the door?"
"Liquor, much liquor."
"What was the most you ever paid for liquor at one time for Miss Bow?"
"I don't know exactly, I think it was about $275."
"Did you go to live in Miss Bow's home as soon as you were employed?"
"No, it was about three months later, Clara went to New York the first week I was there."
"Were the servants living there?"
"Yes."
"Who else was living there when you first were employed?"
"William Doe and Jimmy Dundee. I moved in when they moved out of the front bedroom."
"Did you have access to her account before you moved into Miss Bow's home?"
"Yes, to the special Clara Bow account."
"Did you ever have occasion to pay poker debts?" Freedman pursued.
"Oh yes, lots of times. We played poker nearly every night. She liked to play poker and we'd stay home as many as six nights a week just to play it when she wasn't working in pictures."
"Did you pay them many times?"
"Yes, I remember one of $25."

Everything Ready
For Huge Air Tour
Due Here Monday

wood, the automobiles are mainly decided for transporting the guests to the Valdez Hotel from the field.
According to the official entry list received in Sanford today, nearly 50 planes will come to the ground at the Sanford Avenue Field Monday afternoon. The flyers will leave Tampa early Monday morning, make a noon stop at Titusville, and will probably arrive over this city at about 2:30 o'clock. The fleet of ships is divided into five squadrons, traveling about 10 minutes apart, and arranged according to the speed of the planes. In the first section will be the giant tri-motored Ford plane which contains officials of the tour, headed by Capt. A. H. McMullen, of Tampa. J. K. Williams, advance agent, W. G. Sawyer, referee, will accompany that ship. The Department of Commerce Laird monoplane with Inspector Jaynes in command; the Sikorsky Amphibian, featuring an adjustable propeller, and the famous "doodlebug" plane, are scheduled to be in the first group.
The St. Louis Robin, the plane used on the record breaking endurance flight over St. Louis last year; the Monarch Food Co. plane, a tri-motored Ford all-metal ship; and Bill Alexander's Bellicona monoplane, with Mr. Alexander as a squadron commander will be in the second group. Some of the women aviators of prominence who accompany the tour will be in the third group, including Miss Antonie Strassman, German aviatix now on a good-will tour of the country. She will be seen in a Swallow monoplane, number NC8740, with Paul Snick as co-pilot. Blanche Noyes, whose name leads the list of American women flyers who have contributed materially to aviation, is in the third group, flying a Great Lakes biplane, number NC821K.
Stunt flying and parachute jumping will be under the direction of Freddie Lund, premier thrill artist, whose feats have been the wonder of the tour in each of the cities visited. More than an hour's time will be spent in performing the newest and most advanced types of fancy flying and stunting, following which passenger flights will be in order.
Air-mail enthusiasts locally are rejoicing over the fact that the government has given pilots of the air-mail ships operating daily in Florida permission to make a courtesy stop here that day. In commemoration of the opening of the aviation field that day, a special cachet or stamp has been devised which will be affixed to over 2,000 pieces of air mail. Stamp collectors throughout the nation have been sending letters to be mailed from here Monday to G. B. Rowe, local stamp collector for the past month. Mayor T. L. Dumas, Postmaster J. P. Hall, and officials of the tour will autograph many of the letters, thus increasing their value to collectors of stamps and envelopes.
The entire tour is being brought to this city through the efforts of the Sanford Lions Club which has been sponsoring aviation locally for many months. Several of the members of the local civic club are also members of the Sanford-Orlando aviation club, and are receiving instructions in aviation weekly. Geo. W. McRory and Volle A. Williams are the general chairmen, with the entire membership co-operating.

Mr. J. A. White Says, "If You Have An Automobile, Keep Rat-Snap."

"If I knew about RAT-SNAP last winter, would have saved $120. My car was in the garage for a few weeks during the bad weather, when I went to take it out, found that rats had eaten great holes in two new tires. Got them later with RAT-SNAP. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and Guaranteed by Stanley Rogers Hardware Co., 204 Sanford Ave.—Adv.
