

Army Air Force Decides To Give Atlantic City Back To Tourists

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Features Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—The burkep solemnly wagged his head and proclaimed: "We sure will miss the boys."

He thereby summed up the post-Occupation sentiments of the seashore resort that first put salt water taffy and bathing beauties on the map—and which one year ago was invaded by thundering swarms of Uncle Sam's husky neophyte eagles.

Now the Army Air Force, after putting a quarter-million youths through basic training here, find the schooling emergency sufficiently slackened to give the city back to the tourists. By mid-August the Occupation, with minor exceptions, is expected to be over.

Case History

What's happened is a case history of what may occur wherever the post-World War II crisis sends the tide of tourists to resorts and big towns for hurry-up quarters. The town looks the same, but there are differences.

Take hotels, for example. The pros and cons concerning them have engendered skirmishing between some hotelmen and War Department officials.

All 17 all-domes beachfront hostels and 30 other inns, totaling 15,000 rooms—half of the city's facilities—were taken over. Houses with rooms for 800 persons, guests were packed with 4,000 athletic youngsters. Six hundred small hotels were left for civilians.

"Wear and tear on equipment was exceptional," says Alvin Hunsicker, president of the hotelmen's association. For instance, he says bureau tops were given saturated pattern of cigarette burns, walls were battered with muddy boot imprints, floors were scuffed. Fancy plumbing made way for less aesthetic but more practical rows of shower sprinklers unornate wooden stairways burgoned as auxiliary fire escapes on outside walls. Electric washers found new utility as potato mashers for 4,000 hungry mouths.

The mischief wasn't malicious on the part of the warriors, that everyone agrees, and hotels used as officers' clubs came through the Occupation with little damage. But an unofficial estimate is it will cost $5,000,000 to rehabilitate—and that's only part of the financial picture.

Hunsicker says that in an ordinary year the 47 hotels would gross $12,000,000 but War rent payments probably won't exceed $1,000,000. Convention Hall, pride of the city, which costs $1,500 a day, went for $75,000 for the year. Other hotelmen point out that the Occupation cut into two summer seasons at one year's rental. Most of the 10 hotels that returned won't be ready for civilians next month.

The Army puts a different complexion on the situation. Joseph C. Goldborough, project manager of the Corps of Engineers, asserts that "in many respects the property which the Army is returning to its owners after a year of use is in better condition than when the Army took possession."

Claims Adjusted

He adds that at some hostels equipment repairs and additions were made construction strengthened and cleanliness standards maintained in accordance with requirements of the surgeon general.

Appraisers are to adjust damage claims, but hotel furnishings aren't being made new and one spokesman estimates that 75 per cent of any equipment taken over in the Occupation will be a loss.

The town businessmen won't forget the boys quickly either. Frank W. Amatus, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce, cites increased bank clearances—over $100,000,000 beachfront trade kept up well, thanks. There was, however, a change in trade channels. Two million of the $1,500,000 monthly Army payroll ended up in bars.

Half the luxury shops—furs, jewelry, art galleries—folded for the duration. Mushrooming in their place were seven post-Occupation shops.

Where else of all the places in the world that the Army has gone will the soldiers want to return to with their families when the war is over?

World War II Is Bringing Medals To Many Women

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Features Writer

Communique from the United Women's War Front in Europe: World War II has brought women the same medals for valor and bravery awarded to men.

Yekaterina Tkachenko, a 24-year-old Russian, received the Soviet medal "For Valor" in recognition of her secret work behind enemy lines when she discovered the Germans were preparing to send a detachment against Russian guerrillas. She trodged across difficult mountain country and warned the guerrillas in time. The Germans were repulsed in a fight for which Yekaterina acted as intelligence officer.

Sima Dneprovskaya, a support scout, bettered Yekaterina's medal record by winning two decorations for valor. She was active in capturing an enemy stockpile, machine gun and valuable military papers on the Leningrad front.

Eight Czechoslovakian women soldiers won top honors in medals from the Soviets for the fight they made beside their men on the eastern front. Two of the Czech women received the "Red Star" and the other six the "Medal for Bravery."

Add to that record the decorations bestowed on British women. The Auxiliary Territorial Service received 24 awards for gallantry. The Women's Auxiliary Air Force got 32 decorations for bravery and the Women's Royal Naval Service chalked up 19 service awards.

Fine, young Yugoslav nurses serving with guerrilla bands around Kurpani, have received applause from their countrymen for the independent action they took to save guerrillas' lives after a recent battle. When the blood supply in their temporary field hospital ran low, three of the nurses crawled a mile through mud, past the enemy's forward gun emplacements. There the surprised Nazis into surrender. All the three live Germans, they returned the way they had come. And within a few hours German blood was coursing through the veins of wounded Yugoslavs.

When the second front opens, a thousand Polish women expect to be ready for active service with Polish troops. They are training now in Scotland in the ranks of the PENTKIN (The Polish Women's Auxiliary Territorial Service), whose name, besides spelling the initials of the organization, little means the stone in a fruit. When the Allied troops enter to follow the Polish troops, serve in their posts in field hospitals, care and administration work behind the lines. Some of them may fight with honor as the original P.K. did when the Nazis invaded Poland.

French "Sea Assistants" in England are doing something different in wartime welfare work. They visit ships in port, learn what the crews need, visit their sick wives, trace missing relatives and otherwise try to help solve their personal problems.

Hendricks Is Main Speaker At Luncheon

Tells Kiwanians Of Dangers Facing Nation Now And In Post-War World

"We have thousands of communists in our government in Washington and the American people, and particularly the American Legion, had better think what is going to happen to our country if these communists are not kicked out of our government," Representative Joe Hendricks told Sanford Kiwanians and their guests at a luncheon presided over by President C.D. Workman at the Mayfair Hotel today.

Declaring against both isolationism and entangling alliances for America in the post-war world, Representative Hendricks said this country should sign no peace which interfered in any way with our having a large standing army and a Navy "strong enough for us to tell any nation in the world with aggressive designs against another to stay out of her neighbor's backyard."

Introduced by Mayor Ed Higgins who said that Representative Hendricks has always been of great assistance on all local projects, the Congressman declared he would speak on the Post-War America and the Post-War World, and if he was asked to assist in the preparation of a speech to be given at the annual meeting of the Kiwanis Club, he would be glad to do so.

Mentioning the Atlantic Charter and the Four Freedoms, Representative Hendricks said that "the United States cannot guarantee the Four Freedoms" and neither can any combination of nations without interfering in the internal affairs of other nations.

"We cannot give freedom of speech to Russia," he said, "without interfering in the internal affairs of that nation." He said that the United States should not be a "big brother" to other nations, but should be a "big friend."

"They would also have us adopt a hush-hush attitude toward Russia because Russia is fighting on our side and might be offended if we told the truth about Russia. The fact is that Stalin is just as much a dictator as Hitler is, or Mussolini was, and has no use whatever for democracy in government."

"I would say to Stalin: You have fought a great war and we are with you in it. We will help you fight it and we will help you win it. But we do not like communism and we will do everything we can to prevent it from spreading in the United States. Stalin would understand that and he would like it."

Police Rescue Girl Attacked In Central Park

2 Officers Hear Cries, Shoot 1, Man Captured

NEW YORK CITY, Aug. 16.—Two policemen interrupted an attack on a 17-year-old girl by the men in Central Park Tuesday night, and rescued her. One of the men was shot and captured. The other was seen fleeing.

The girl, whose name was withheld by the police, was seen by the officers at about 10:30 p.m. She was accompanied by two women. When the men began to molest the girl, the other women fled.

The police were alerted by the cries of the girl. One officer shot the man who was attacking her. The other officer captured the man who was seen fleeing.

The girl was taken to a hospital and is recovering from her injuries. The man who was shot is in a serious condition. The man who was captured is being held in custody.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

IF YOU ARE SATISFIED WITH A LITTLE GOD WILL HEAP GIFTS ON YOU. MAY BE YOU COULD NOT STAND THE FOULISH THINGS YOUR GREED URGES YOU TO REQUEST OF YOUR INFINITE FATHER. Give us this day our daily bread.—Matt. 6:11

German soldiers are about convinced that Messina is Italian for "the fix we're in."

We have an idea the manpower shortage would be vastly relieved if there were no government questionnaires to answer.

Roosevelt and Churchill are said to be planning the grand strategy for the next six months. We hope it includes a bomb or two for Tokio.

The Miami Post is convinced that whether men take up the painted stocking leg or not, a lot of them would like to get back on their feet.

Over ninety German submarines have been reported sunk in the last three months. We'll bet it is mainly on the Nazi home front that morale is crawling.

Our post-war planning should include mosquito and gnat eradication as well as decontamination of Lake Monroe so that people can go swimming there.

A friend of ours told us the other day that he did not like Mrs. Roosevelt not because she traveled so much, but because she was so travelmate about it.

Neophytes
Galvary recruit—"Sergeant, pick me out a nice gentle horse."
Sergeant—"Have you ever ridden a horse before?"
Recruit—"No."

Sergeant—"Ah, here's just the animal for you. Never been ridden before. You can both start together."—Lake City Rider.

Washington bureaucrats can make a regulation they want to in their attempt to control agricultural production, but the storms, floods and freezes as well as the vagaries of the labor supply, will still rule the roost. That at least seems to be the opinion of William L. Wilson, director of State Markets, who knows more about Florida farming than anyone in Washington.

A newspaper reduction of at least 30 percent is estimated for next year on account of the manpower shortage. It takes big men to cut the huge trees needed for wood pulp manufacture and not many of them are left outside the armed services. But what a 30 percent cut in newspaper will do to the size of newspapers, their number of issues and their circulations is not pleasant to contemplate.

Mountain Art
Said the artist: "I'll give you $5 if you'll let me paint you."
The old mountaineer shifted his tobacco from one cheek to the other and back again.
"It's easy money," said the artist.

"That ain't no question 'bout that," the mountaineer replied. "I was just a-wonderin' how I'd get the paint off afterwards."—Winter Haven Herald.

A New York negro is deferred from the draft on the grounds that he is a key man in an essential industry. Editor of a community newspaper which has published three issues since it was founded a little more than a year ago, this negro, who is only 30 and has no children will not be drafted through these issues of newspapers on the paper office have volunteered and are now actively in the service.

Somebody's getting busy. Some months ago I received "Don't Suffer Little Children" from the United States Congress. I think the membership is going to write some more. I think the Congress is going to write some more. I think the Congress is going to write some more.

"Dem Golden Slippers"

Roi Otley, prominent negro leader from Harlem, has written a new book called "New World A-Coming" in which he seeks to show the part which the negro will play in world affairs after the war is over. "I'm gonna capture Hitler. I'm gonna deliver him to President Roosevelt. At the front door of the White House... Then I'm gonna fight for some rights over here", is the way one of his characters puts it.

"We've had enough of the gospel of 'dem golden slippers', is the way he quotes another one. "What we want is the gospel of thick soled shoes". Otley says the negro is demanding the full privileges of a free citizen in a nation dedicated to democracy. He will accept little else but equality on every line, which, in practical terms, means no segregation, no discrimination in jobs, in education, in politics, in social life.

Pointing out that the negroes are now being told that Beethoven, Haydn, and Jean Baptiste Bernadotte, the founder of the Swedish royal family, were negroes, and that Joe Louis, Marian Anderson and Roland Hayes typify the superiority of their race, Otley, while ridiculing this thesis, admits that this is but the expression of a seething race consciousness which marks the difference between the old negro who "shed a tear when he was insulted" and the new one "who is ready to shed blood".

Such talk, all too current these days, is doing the negro and his chances for further progress more harm than all his real friends who have a sympathetic understanding of his problems can overcome in years. To try to elevate the negro by brute force alone is as dangerous and futile as for Cuba to try to overcome the United States by force of arms. There are about ten million negroes in this country; there are about 120 million whites. All such methods can possibly accomplish is considerable bloodshed, not the least of which will be among the negroes.

But a better future for the negro can be had for the asking, if the asking is reasonable and unaccompanied by threats. There are enough white people in this country, who want to see better opportunities for the negro, to get them for him if his case is not too prejudiced by such outbursts as occurred recently in New York City. The repetition of such hoodlumism and outlawry can only result in sympathetic white people washing their hands of the negro problem and in a setback for the negro race which may take generations to overcome.

The negro has better schools today than he had a few decades ago; he should have better schools in the future than he has now. The negro has better health facilities today than he had ten years ago; in another decade there should be no negro health problem. Unfortunately recreational facilities have failed to keep pace with other benefits for the negro race; that condition should be remedied. Better economic opportunities can and should be his.

But these things cannot be gained for the negro by radical leaders who promise to accomplish miracles with magic wands.

Joys Of Being Editor

Getting out this newspaper is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly. If we don't they say we are too serious.

If we clip things from other newspapers, we are too lazy. If we don't, we are stuck on our own stuff.

If we stick close to the job all day, we ought to be out hunting news. If we do get out and try to hustle, we ought to be on the job in the office.

If we don't print contributions, we don't appreciate true genius. And if we do print them, the newspaper is filled with junk.

If we make a change in the other fellow's write-up, we are too critical. If we don't, we are asleep.

Now, like as not, some guy will say we swiped this from some other newspaper. We did— Leesburg Commercial.

Built In

A survey made among those who expect to build or buy homes after the war reveals that more closet and storage space are definitely in the minds of 84 percent of home planners. Kitchens must be all built-in. Closets should have hat shelves or cupboards over rods. Shoe-racks can be built on closet doors. Cupboards can be built in dining rooms and back hallways. They want cupboards which hold card-tables below, with shelves for games and toys above.

This is interesting and valuable knowledge for architects and builders. But there's a danger in overdoing it. Built-in furniture and storage shelves have permanence. Too much in one room prevents the alteration in arrangement which can so revivify it. Some leeway should be left for family changes and development of taste.

"SUFFER LITTLE CHILDREN"—The Saviour once said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me." He drew many simple lessons from the life of children and in fact pointed our way to salvation by telling us we should be like them. The Harry-Anna Crippled Children's Home at Umatilla, sponsored by the Elks of Florida, is one of the finer charitable organizations in the State. The Elks in my county are getting on a drive to raise funds for this home. Many crippled children who could not otherwise get the proper treatment on a necessary operation have gone to this home and have returned to normal life. Don't you want to become an Elk or at least help to become an Elk or at least help to become an Elk?

"THE FINISHING TOUCHES"

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

Every time I've tried to read or hieroglyphics write the young lady asks: "Can you see the two white lines?—Do they cross?—How many red balls do you see?—How many yellow ones?—Now see if they merge.—Which is higher, the red or the yellow?—How many vertical lines do you see now?—How many horizontal?—Which are the greatest, the vertical or the horizontal?"

You squirm and squint and give your answer which she writes down on a report card which is eventually to disclose your batting average.

But all this is just preliminary work. After twenty minutes of so of this you are turned over to the doctor and taken into another mechanical den where you are seated in what seems to be a kind of a cross between a dentist and barber chair, surrounded with all manner of mechanical bric-a-brac.

More tests follow, first with one eye then with the other. If there is anything a guy might do with his eyes, from crossin' 'em to squintin' 'em, that ain't done. I don't know what it is. What I mean, they put you thru and no foolin', and all the time the doc keeps your report card at his elbow and after each test he makes a notation.

Now and then he lets you rest while he questions you as to whether or not you indulge in alcoholic beverages, read in bed or while lying down, work under artificial light, and so on.

Part of the time your tests are in a darkened room and part of the time in the light. Just when you're getting the impression that the procedure is never ending and never over, the doctor says, "Okay, that's all," and you hop out of the electric chair, feeling like a condemned man who has just gotten a reprieve.

Then you sit at the doc's desk and he starts adding up the score. He mumbles something that sounds like a mess of football signals: "20-30, 20-20"—and then smilingly informs you that it could be a lot worse and asks what style of glasses you prefer. I'd never given much thought to it before, but nowadays optometrists are not satisfied with merely fitting a patient with glasses that will aid his sight. They are equally concerned with appearance, and there is a proper style for every kind of face, some with rims, some without, cut in a variety of styles. You try on one set after like you might try on a hat, and as you study the result you realize that there is a whale of a lot of difference in how they look.

Well, thanks to Doc Eychane and his optical gadgets, I am again able to read without weeping and the American Optical Company managed to provide me with a set of modern specs that give me a rather distinguished look. Now all I've got to worry about is WHERE DID I LEAVE 'EM and LOOK OUT I DON'T BREAK 'EM!

Have a "Coke" = Aloha No

WELCOME FRIEND. "Coke" = Aloha No. It's natural for people's names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke". ... or how to be at home in Hawaii. There are two ways to greet a friend in Hawaii. Aloha No, says the native, and Have a "Coke", says the visitor. Both expressions carry the same sense of welcome and affection. From Honolulu to Hilo, Coca-Cola has become the symbol of the peace that refreshes—the genuine Hawaiian hospitality that refreshes.

Miss Jane Elizabeth Harkey daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Harkey, became the bride of William Edward Kircher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kircher of J. H. H. at 6:00 o'clock Saturday Aug. 7 in the Junior First Christian Church. Rev. J. Warren Leonard performed the ceremony. Baskets of white gladioli and palms flanked the altar where the bride was given in marriage by Edward Party of J. H. H. An organ recital by Miss Ruth Martin preceded the ceremony and Miss Phyllis Parry sang "All For You Love Shall Abide an Everlasting Friendship." The bride wore a white chiffon gown with a white sash and a white hat. Her veil was floor length and she carried a white Bible bearing a white orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Martha Wright attended as maid of honor in a pale blue chiffon gown. Miss Martha Bates of Smyrna, Tenn. and Miss Edna Vinney of J. H. H. dressed in rose chiffon gowns. Best bridesmaids Edna Irene Swanson of Chicago was junior bridesmaid and wore a blue length frock of white marquisette. Each attendant carried a colonial bouquet.

Carl Kircher served as best man for his brother and Ernest Southward, party officer, acted as ring bearer. The bride and groom were ushered by Carl Kircher and Ernest Southward. The bride and groom were ushered by Carl Kircher and Ernest Southward.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 150 guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kircher. The hostess was assisted by Miss Gertrude Weaver, Miss Katherine Kircher, Miss Alma Patten, Miss Gladys Liebenthal, Miss James Carpenter, Mrs. Ray Cody, Mrs. Edna Weaver and Miss Peter Anderson.

Covering the bride's table was a white linen damask cloth and in the center was a low arrangement of white flowers and white tapers and a wedding cake. Music was provided by a trio consisting of Mrs. Hazel Gagne Johnson, violinist, Mrs. Stella Gagne, pianist and Roy Ziegler, flutist.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Kircher wore a rose gown and the reception hostess wore a frock of blue organdy.

After the reception the couple departed for a trip to Seattle, Wash. The bride will resume her work as USO director at Smyrna, Tenn. ### Dizzy Now Throws Fast Ones From Radio Booths

By EDWARD H. KITCH AP Features

ST. LOUIS—Dizzy Dean is still pitching—but not from a major league mound. He's throwing his best Texas lingo from a radio broadcasting booth announcing play-by-play accounts of Cardinals and Browns home games.

The "Me" of the "Me and Paul" Dean combination of the 1943 gas house gang now is a voice personality to baseball fans. His technique has brought him new fans as well as the old ones who remember when Dizzy starred for Frankie Frisch's Cardinals, 1931 World Series victors over the Detroit Tigers.

The sponsor's announcer, J.

Taylor Grant, introduces him as: "The one and only, the great one, broadcasting in his original style; and here he is, Dizzy Dean." Dizzy receives $12,000 a season from the brewery which hires him.

Dean's broadcasting partner, Johnnie O'Hara, not only assists in alternating innings, but also suggested "intestinal fortitude."

Dean rebelled with, "Oh, I don't like those high soundin' words, Johnnie, that's just a fancy word for just plain guts."

The one that really put the radio fans back in their seats was "He's out on a foul ball and the runners go back to their respectable bases."

An element of suspense is present in Dean's delivery and to hear him you would think he was announcing a soap opera serial.

"Now with Musial on first, what will happen? Will Kuroski hunt? Will Southworth ask for a hit? Or will they walk him? I'll tell the pitcher to give him one right

Deland Hotel Is Turned Into Fine Rest Home For Returning Navy Men

DELAND, Aug. 18, (Special)—Uncle Sam has set up here one of the most unusual naval activities in the country. A selected group of boys in Navy blue actually are living the proverbial "life of ease."

Amid luxurious resort surroundings they play golf, swim, fish, read the latest best sellers and enjoy three meals a day that would top the best menus in many of New York's finest restaurants.

"Rafters," they call them before they arrived at Deland. "Guests," they are called after they register. And the whole idea is to provide these guests with the finest accommodations, recreation and rest that the state of Florida has to offer.

The United States Navy Rest Center, formerly the famous Ocala Arms hotel, personnel returning from combat action—principally torpedo ships, from the far Hong Kong front. All of the guests are excellent physical condition when they are sent to Deland for the two week rest course. It's a complete mental vacation that these boys want to enjoy before they return to the sea.

Here, amid the peaceful environs of one of Florida's oldest college towns, these youths are being taught how to play golf again. Under the guidance of Lt. Comdr. Jack A. Mitchell, USNR, commanding officer of the center, they are encouraged to play 18 holes of golf a day before a can of worms and a fishing pole and his themselves to the nearest pond or lake for a tussle with Florida's famous fresh water fish.

—or to sprawl out on the wide, grassy lawn with a copy of the latest mystery novel or sports digest.

In November, 1942, the Navy officially commissioned the Deland rest center. Since that opening date a steady stream of "rafters" has spent the allotted 2 weeks of rest and fun before once again returning to the rigors of war.

A typical example of the average at Deland is John Stahl, a young first class petty officer of Norwalk, Conn. Stahl, a husky member of a Navy gun crew aboard a merchant ship was torpedoed in the South Atlantic a couple of months ago. For 12 days

Only Profiteers Are Hit By New Liquor Prices

By ROBERT FARRINGTON WASHINGTON—You may pay less for a bottle of "Old Gully Washer" after the new OPA liquor regulations take hold August 29—but only if your dealer has been overcharging you right along.

If he has been abiding faithfully by the law, as have many stores, you will probably pay more for Old G.W. than you used to.

Here's why:

The old legal price was the highest charged during March 1942. Few customers could remember that far back and only the larger stores kept anything resembling complete records. OPA had to take the word of wholesalers and retailers thousands of whom showed their prices as high as they dared.

To stop this, OPA got out a new order which starts with the distillery price of March, 1942, to figure really verifiable and allows dealers to add specific percentages for their services.

These percentages, OPA admits, are on the high side and will raise allowable retail prices of low-observing dealers—but still, not back the profits of violators.

A retail markup of 33 1-3 percent over the wholesale price is permitted. This may be 10 percent more than your dealer (if he is honest) used to get so he can boost his price to make up the difference. Old Gully Washer, which used to sell for $2.50, would go up to $2.75.

Few dealers are expected to resist the impulse to charge the legal limit, but OPA contends that this increase will be much less he and 14 companions drifted aimlessly in the broiling sun far off the South American coast. At the end of the second day a storm washed their rations overboard and the following days melted into a sweltering nightmare of wind, sun and rain. John Stahl was not injured physically—but mentally he had suffered minor shock. What he needed was rest and play without the usual regimentation and regulations so often found in naval sick bays.

So to Deland he went. Upon arrival he was personally interviewed by Commander Mitchell and then turned over to youthful Dr. Paul Hurly, Lt. Comdr, USN who passed him a thorough once over for any possible ailments that might have lingered.

Then for two complete weeks John Stahl became a guest of the hotel. Three times a day he sat down to food that surprised anything he had seen in months and his meals were blended with spotless linen, polished silverware and gleaming glass. Pretty, young waitresses in neatly starched uniforms performed the same courteous service they had previously done for high-paying guests before the war.

Once a day he was taken to nearby Ponce de Leon springs to swim in the invigorating waters. Lessons from a professional golfer and a set of matched golf clubs stowed up in a canvas bag for a daily round over the tricky hotel course. In between time he was free to play softball, croquet, relax on a lawn, billiards or just dance several nights a week. There was music and dancing by friendly groups of civilians in the evening. Liberty was granted every night from seven until eleven o'clock.

All in all, John Stahl was enjoying what the northern tourist had formerly paid many a dollar to receive.

not be able to masquerade as the price equivalent of high-class liquor.

Still unsolved is how to beat "Joe Gouger." Joe keeps his popular brands under the counter and is always sold out of them at the legal price. Of course if you want to come up a buck or two, Joe will hunt around and in about 12 seconds find exactly the liquor you want.

During the American Revolution the state of West Virginia supplied Gen. Washington with more soldiers than any other state.

Only Profiteers Are Hit By New Liquor Prices

This is a tough nut for OPA. "Old Lockjaw" has no March, 1942, history and has to be priced by comparison with other brands. Strangely enough the sellers insist on comparing "Old Lockjaw" with the most expensive whiskey in its group.

By this simple dodge, new brand prices have been inflated as much as 25 percent above what they are really worth. OPA tried to crack down by "back-label" comparison—that is, by checking proof age and spirit formula as listed on the back label.

However, the agency can't get into a free-for-all with the bourbon makes the better mint julep, although any Kentucky council will offer to fight you over the matter.

In the works is a regulation that OPA hopes will cut new brands down to some approximation of fair prices. This order will limit "Old Lockjaw" to an average price of the March, 1942, whiskeys in its class, and it will through the middle, "cause, brother, we need them runs."

A heavy eater Dean munches a great deal of candy and plays his unquen working powers. For example, last year a fan sent him a briar pipe with instructions to smoke it when the Cardinals were hitting. Dizzy thought that was a great idea—and sure might be something to it—the Cardinals were world champions in 1943.

Dean is always prepared to defend a fellow pitcher. "Ed Smith hits and that puts the White Sox out in front one to nuthin', and they tell me a pitcher can't hit."

During an argument on the field there usually is a call from O'Hara might ask Dean what the umpire said to the pitcher. Dean answers: "Well, I can't tell ya over the air, brother, but come outside the booth and I'll tell ya."

O'Hara often pokes fun at Dizzy and once said: "You ought to try some snake oil on your arm. Maybe it would help ya."

"Well, I'll tell ya, Johnnie" answers Dean, "once you hurt your arm brother, there ain't nuthin' you can do for it."

Football Prospects of '43

By STACY

What do you think of this year's football prospects? Football player Charley Gormly seems to think he will have a better team than in the previous eight or ten years. Gormly has the line-up all ready for us. This is it: Fox, center, Fleming, full-back in full, and shore, quarterback, Crumley, end, Slingotary, tackle.

Although this year's coach is unknown we hope to have a coach as good as Coach McLucas was. W. R. Hires also an football player thinks we should have a good team with our star player, O. D. Landress in there smacking some punts as he did last season. Al and Alburn, a guard in there laying 'em out along the side lines should prove satisfactory.

To all our Celery fans, our first game is with OHS (Orlando High School) so fellas if you're going out for football watch the paper for the date training begins.

Quebec Conference Laying Plans For Ruthless Attacks

Alternative To Unconditional Surrender Is Seen As Complete Destruction

QUEBEC, Aug. 20, (AP)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill are developing plans at their conference here to "bomb and ruthlessly destroy" the Axis war leaders, British Minister of Information Bracken disclosed yesterday.

Bracken, after a conference with Churchill, told correspondents the military decisions now being arrived at will result in the "complete destruction of the Axis."

"The plans are to bomb and ruthlessly destroy in every way available to us the people responsible for creating the war," Bracken said in the first official disclosure as to the subject matter of the momentous conference.

"The British spokesman left no doubt that Allied policy still is to 'beat Hitler first,' he added.

"When we have rounded up Mr. Hitler the full weight of the British empire is going to be given over to the task of destroying the Japanese."

"Bracken was bitter in his discussion of the Japanese, describing them as a 'seemingly content to live on blood'."

"The news will come from the ruthless men in the Citadel through their generals, admirals and air marshals leading fierce forces."

"Then and then only will it be reported in the press."

Characterizing Roosevelt and Churchill as the "masters in the Citadel" Bracken said that at the conclusion of the war talks the two leaders would have a "staggering" announcement to make.

Bracken walked into the crowded chamber of the colonial old city hall, where the press conference was held, set down on the rostrum borrowed a match from a reporter and began to talk.

Lawton Makes Announcement About Schools

4,000 Pupils Expected To Enroll When Schools Open At 9 On September 8th

All Seminole County Schools, white and colored, will open at 9 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 8, it was announced today by T. W. Lawton, county superintendent of schools. Less than 4,000 pupils will enroll, he predicted.

The Vocational Commercial School in the Kent Building on Commercial Avenue will open at the same time, Mr. Lawton stated. Mrs. B. Maxwell is principal and Mrs. Lucile Hall is assistant.

"Due to the fact that reports have been received of cases of infantile paralysis, the two weeks residence requirement prior to school opening will again be enforced this year as in the past," said Mr. Lawton.

"Both teachers and pupils are expected to be in the county at least two weeks before the opening of school."

In case this is impossible, the teacher or pupil must submit a certificate from health authorities or a reputable physician of the community in which they have been staying, stating that that place here is at present non-infantile paralytic, or no epidemic of any communicable disease.

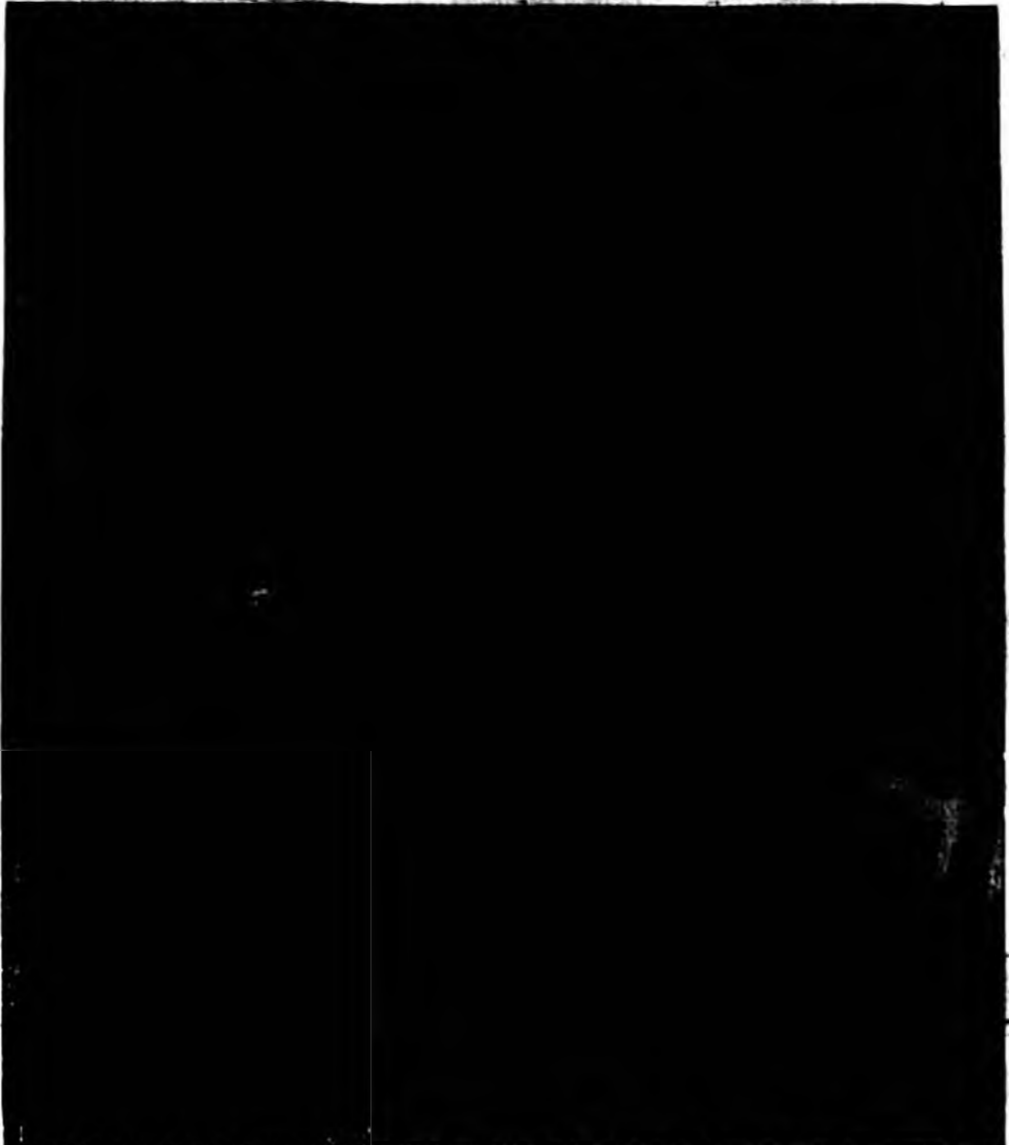

Students coming here from other schools should bring report cards and promotion certificates in order to be properly placed in their classes.

"Pupils entering school for the first time should submit a birth certificate showing that they are now six years of age, or will attain their sixth birthday not later than Jan. 1, 1944. There are no mid-year promotions since all pupils who reach the age of six by Dec. 31, 1943 must enter school in September as no classes will begin after that time."

The schools will close at noon on Wednesday. Buses that have been used to transport children to school will return to the depot at 1:30 p. m. on Thursday afternoon. In those schools in which lunch rooms are operated, lunches will be served beginning Thursday noon, Mr. Lawton added.

All principals and teachers he stated will be at the school buildings on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 2 and 3, in order to register new pupils and to confer with parents on problems in connection with school entrance.

New Deal Offers New Program To Stimulate Farms

Vegetables Would Be Bought By U.S. And Resold At A Loss

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20, (AP)—Chairman Fulmer (D-SC) of the House Agriculture Committee predicted today a serious food shortage this winter, and announced he would seek a compulsory farmland of farm labor out of the Army for the harvest season.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20, (AP)—Officials predicted today that the new cost of living study plan will be in operation before Congress returns next month but it will be necessary for the lawmakers to provide the wherewithal, because existing subsidies through a presidential veto. The spread the congressional act only Administration is expected to sidestep further subsidies without Congress' okay.

However, officials revealed a new plan about to be unveiled which is expected to deal largely with vegetables. One official suggested the new program "will contain a little of everything," meaning direct subsidies, government purchase and resale-at-loss operations.

The idea is for the government to buy all or nearly all of a certain crop at handsome price to encourage maximum production, then resell it to the trade at a price reasonable to the consumer.

Manuel Carlos Found Guilty Of Black Marketing

OPA Suspends Tavern Operator From Buying For 90 Days

Found guilty of black marketing, by having bought a dressed hog and a bull without surrendering rationing points, Manuel Carlos, tavern operator on the Sanford-Orlando highway, has been suspended for 90 days by the OPA from buying or selling meats, butter, lard, cheese or other processed foods, effective Sept. 18.

This finding was pronounced Wednesday in Orlando by Chief Hearing Examiner Daniel L. Bell of the War Relocation Authority, who conducted an OPA examination of various alleged violations of rationing laws.

On Friday, Aug. 13, Carlos was tried in Circuit Court on a charge of unlawfully buying and receiving 150 pounds of dressed beef, 200 pounds of butter, 100 pounds of lard and 100 pounds of cheese, J. F. Story of Chuluota. Carlos is said to have admitted in court that he purchased this meat, but denied knowledge at the time of purchase that it was stolen goods, and the jury found him not guilty of the charge.

It was in connection with this beef buying transaction that Carlos was found guilty of failing to give out the little meat coupons, which made it a black operation.

C. of C. Discusses Plans To Improve Hospitalization

The necessity of improving hospital conditions in the community was a topic for considerable discussion by the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, which met Tuesday evening at the Chamber office with W. A. Leffler, president, it was announced today by Edward Higgins, secretary.

"It was a large number of the Board of Directors that this sanitation should definitely get behind a sound proposition to improve hospital conditions in our community," said Mayor Higgins, adding that President Leffler will appoint a special committee to handle this program at a later date.

T. W. Lawton, president of the Fernald-Laughton Hospital Association, stated that he would have some plans for improvements ready to submit to the organization at its next meeting. Mr. Lawton also made a report on the nursery school for white and colored children that will be started as soon as it is found necessary, and which is financed by a federal grant in accordance with the Lanham Act.

Secretary Higgins reported on the success of the recent convention of the Florida Seedsmen's Association, and stated that the City of Sanford had thereby received such valuable publicity. He also reported on the success of the Florida Seedsmen's Association, and stated that the City of Sanford had thereby received such valuable publicity.

The matter of a rest room for students in the City was discussed and will later be referred to the Chamber of Commerce. City Commissioner James G. Gattuso also reported on the concrete manufacturing plant by the Planning Concrete Pipe Company, Inc. which he stated was operated by the parent company throughout the United States, and that he looked for this plant to be put into operation this fall if transportation is available. He was also instructed to try to arrange to have pipes supplied to restaurants and eating places this winter.

Day And Night Rain Of Bombs, Shells Rock Axis Back In Southern Italy

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 20, (AP)—United States warships freed from the Italian mainland, it was disclosed today.

President Roosevelt congratulated General Eisenhower in a message from Quebec on the successful conclusion of the short campaign "in accordance with the planning of the Allies."

New forces were massed at strategic points all along the Allies' 2000-mile Mediterranean line.

How To Come Soon

There is little doubt that the next blow will come soon against the walls of Hitler's European fortress.

The United Nations radio at Algiers told the people of occupied Europe for the second successive night to perfect their pre-invasion preparations and that the time of action might be near.

The hammering of Italy and recent heavy air raids on Southern France and Romania plus reserves newly built up apparently are giving the Nazis and their satellites their worst moment in nearly four years of war.

Emulating its tactics of the period before the invasion of Sicily, the Berlin radio repeatedly broadcast that large Allied naval and merchant forces were concentrating along the shores of Sicily and North Africa.

An Allied blow launched from the Middle East to the westernmost point in French Morocco is equally possible.

Exchange Free

British as well as American naval forces struck an Italian shore, a British cruiser destroyer force exchanging fire with Italian long range batteries on Messina Strait.

Allied airmen flew hundreds of missions over southern Italy.

Civilians emerged from caves and tunnels in the hills about Messina where many had lived under the Allied bombing that was to free them from German domination.

Aerial striking crews' chagrin beaten Axis forces across southern Italy bombing and machine-gunning trains, truck convoys, small ships and every other type of transport in which German and Italian survivors of the battle of Sicily were extending their getaway.

American and British field batteries maintained their duel with enemy coastal rifles on the extreme toes of Italy. The Axis 150-pound guns were hurling 2400-pound shells across Messina Strait. The lighter but more rapidly loaded Allied guns smashed back.

U.S. naval units turned their weapons yesterday on bridges and power installations around the Gulf of Gioia and violent explosions followed the shelling, a communique announced. The major target was the oft-bombed hill town of Palmi, 30 miles above Messina. Gioia Tauro, six miles farther north, also was bombed from the sea.

LAUNDRY SHORTAGE

ATLANTA, Aug. 20, (AP)—A protest to eliminate the dry and dry cleaning shortage in the southeast was announced today by W. T. Christie, chairman of the Georgia Textile and Apparel Manufacturers Association.

Christie said the shortage of laundry and dry cleaning is due to the fact that the industry is unable to obtain enough cotton linter for the production of rayon.

He said the shortage is due to the fact that the industry is unable to obtain enough cotton linter for the production of rayon.
