

'We Like It Here' In Seminole, Say Pioneers

"(Dillon's) note: Seminole County is a great place to live. We like it here! A lot of folks have been saying that recently, and we thought you would like to hear a little about them, and why they like it here. So 'The Herald' is introducing a new feature today. 'We Like It Here' will run weekly. We hope you enjoy it!"

By CLEARENCE LEONE

Benjamin Franklin Whitner, the fifth, has been around these parts for a long time. He spent his childhood in the area, and he first pioneered the state almost a century and a half ago. And the B. F.'s that came between have all been of the same pioneer spirit that made this county a unique place to live in.

Benjamin Franklin Whitner, who lived in Seminole County since his birth, 73½ years ago. His birthplace is across the street from his present home, at 702 Oak Avenue in Sanford. "It's one of those big, old-ranching houses," says

Whitner. His parents built his present home in 1918. "I want to better understand the man one must look briefly at his forebears, for they have wielded their influence upon the man."

The Whitner family has been a part of the history of this area since 1846 when B. F. II had the imagination and foresight to realize that his particular plot of wilderness would someday be a thriving, charming town.

"Colonel" Whitner (B. F. II) came to Sanford from Tallahassee, where he had been raised, in 1848. He settled in the Lake Conway area. First, but the Indians were so dangerous that he returned to the safety of his hometown for 20 years. Then, in 1868, he returned to the Sanford area to build a home on Silver Lake.

The Colonel, a surveyor, left his imprint on the county history as well as figuratively. His surveyor's marks are still to be found in the county! B. F. III carried on the tradition of leadership in this county. He was the first county judge of Seminole County, taking the position in 1918 when the county was formed, carved out of Orange County. He also played the first cello in the Sanford area.

B. F. IV was a cashier of the First National Bank, now known as the Sanford Bank. He took great pride in the fact that he was the bank that during the depression paid its depositors at 70 cents to the dollar.

He, as was his father, was active in the Episcopal Church, Holy Cross, in Sanford. He served his church as a lay-reader and a Sunday School teacher for 30 years.

B. F. V is the last of the Whitners. He has two daughters, Mrs. Frank Baker, of Illinois, and Mrs. Roger Griggs, of Tampa. His wife, the former Katherine Byrd, is from Tallahassee, but visited here frequently during the 20 years before her marriage.

B. F. V has lived here all of his life except for four years at the University of Florida in Gainesville. He was graduated with a degree in agriculture.

After his graduation he worked on the Chase farms for a few years and then became county agricultural agent. Then came the hard times of the depression.

In 1945, following the depression B. F. V joined the staff of the Central Florida Experiment Station. Plant breeding was his specialty. He retired in 1967. (According to state law he had to retire from his state job at the age of 70.)

Even though B. F. Whitner had been content to remain in the same town all of his life, he could not face an idle retirement. This was the time to work more actively on his avocation.

Since his teens Whitner had wanted to become a minister of his church. "But the Greek and Latin that were imperative then to become a priest were my Waterloo!" he admitted with a grin.

So, in 1962 he did the next best thing. He became ordained as a deacon in his church. "I work about 25 hours a week," he said, obviously satisfied with his lot in life. "I've hit a balance. I'm tired at the end of the day."

It's common for young people to leave the county they are born in to seek new experiences, to forge a new life for themselves and their young families they will raise. What, then, held Benjamin Franklin Whitner the fifth?

He puts it succinctly, summarizing up over a 190-year-old family feeling. "I have a lot of family feeling," he said wistfully, adding "and loyalty to God." He assists the priest, Rev. Sanford.

LeRoy Soper, in church service and in the minister of the community. Although he cannot offer a blessing to the congregation (only the ordained priest can do that) he does offer prayers in behalf of the congregation.

Well, Cassin Clay isn't fighting now so he's decided to take to the field of journalism. He's been a boxer, poet and now he is setting out to write his autobiography.

"I can't wait to get started on writing," exclaimed Clay at a news conference Tuesday. It was at this news conference that Random House announced that they would publish the autobiography of the controversial fighter, who was stripped of his world championship title for failure to report for military induction.

Clay has already received an advance check for $80,000 and Robert Berman, president of Random House said total payment "will exceed $200,000."

It is expected that the book will come out at the end of the year or in very early 1971.

The Ford Motor Company has finally decided to give in to the new NASCAR rule aimed at preventing a future race boycott by top name drivers such as the one at the Talladega, Alabama 500 last year.

The drivers at the Talladega 500 refused to race on the Alabama track because they claimed the racing surface was crumbling, tearing up tires, and was unsafe.

Chrysler has already agreed to the new rule that requires car owners to substitute drivers in the event the scheduled name driver does not show up for the race.

The new NASCAR regulations are printed on the entry blanks and will prevent another boycott.

Bobby Isaac's dramatic super speedway victory at the Texas 300 capped the stock car racing season and brought the number of Dodge wins to 42 of 136 races entered in the five major late model circuits during 1969.

It brought the total win average to 32.5 per cent for the Dodge manufacturer.

The circuits include NASCAR (National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing); NASCAR-West Coast; USAC (United States Automobile Club); IMCA (International Motor Contest Association) and ARCA (Automobile Racing Club of America).

Dodge highlights for the season include:

- Highest number of wins in USAC, NASCAR-West, and IMCA, and a tie in ARCA.
- Two championships—legendary Ernie Derr, of Keokuk, Ia., who has won more races than any other driver in the sport on any circuit. Derr won his 10th championship in IMCA, the last five consecutively in a Dodge.
- Dodge has won more championships in IMCA than any other car.
- Ray Elder, of Caruthers, Calif., won the NASCAR-West Coast crown with a points record including two wins, five second-place finishes, two thirds, and two fourth-place finishes.
- Dodge driver Jack McCoy, of Modesto, Calif., was runner-up to Elder. McCoy had nine wins.
- The Manufacturer's Award in USAC for the most number of wins by manufacturer and the Index of Performance Award (record of finishes in positions 1 through 12).

Five days of IMCA Grand Championship auto races, now officially recognized as the WINTER NATIONAL SPRINTS, will inaugurate the 1970 fair circuit of speed, under sanction of the International Motor Contest Association, at the Florida State Fair here in February.

The annual winter speed classic, which will be celebrating its Golden Anniversary, is the oldest winter auto racing event in the nation and the oldest racing event of any kind for 45 years and legalized horse racing was started 44 years ago. This makes the Winter National Sprints the Granddaddy of them all.

Race dates have been set for Wednesday, Feb. 4; Saturday, Feb. 7; Sunday, Feb. 8; Wednesday, Feb. 11 and Saturday, Feb. 14, according to Secretary J. Mickliss Jeter National Speedways of Florida, Inc., will supervise the 5-day speed meet. Races will start at 2:30 p.m. daily. Feb. 15 and 22 have been reserved for rain dates.

Prize money has been increased to $20,000.00 and championship points toward the 1970 national sprint car crown will be awarded. A number of additional prizes have been put up by local and national sponsors.

The trophies for all events have been donated by the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company and a special race will be named in their honor each day. Over $25,000 and merchandise has been pledged by Andy Granatelli, president of the STP Corporation for the top 15 drivers finishing in the 1970 IMCA championship standings. This points won at Tampa will go a long way toward winning the bulk of the accessory money. This past year brought over $28,000 in added money to winning drivers at the annual IMCA banquet.

The Tampa races, which have gained a national reputation as the "World Series of Dirt Track Racing" is expected to attract top cars and drivers from every major racing circuit in the United States and Canada. Due to limited pit space and parking facilities, entries have been limited to 60 cars.

All around the clock... all through our service area... our whole team is back on the job together again. And we're glad, as we know you are too.

With Florida growing so fast—especially in the areas we serve—there's plenty of work to do. Keeping you equipped with the power that serves your comfort and convenience at home. Keeping industry and commerce on the move. Planning and building the facilities that will serve you in the great years to come.

It's a big job. And we'll all be working together on it for you—every man and woman at FPL.

Now, if you'll excuse us, we'll get on with our job. Helping build Florida... it's a lot more than a slogan to us.

Seminole Junior College looks to Saturday night for its first "meat" game of the season, after being rated as the nation's number six Junior college team in a poll released yesterday from Hutchinson, Kansas.

Saturday's game, will be power against power; balance against balance; and rival against rival, in what should be a real thriller, as the Raiders host St. Johns Junior College of Palatka in the Seminole High School gym. Tipoff is slated for 8 p.m.

St. Johns, "It's tough" according to SJC's brilliant head man Joe Sterling. Sterling then remarked, "I'd call the game a tossup."

"I've seen them play twice and they have a real fine ball club backed up by good guard play and board strength," the SJC mentor told the Herald this morning.

Sterling, especially pointed to the Vikings' sharp shooting guard, Dean Bass, a product of Gainesville High School, who led his prep team to the Double A Florida High School championship last year.

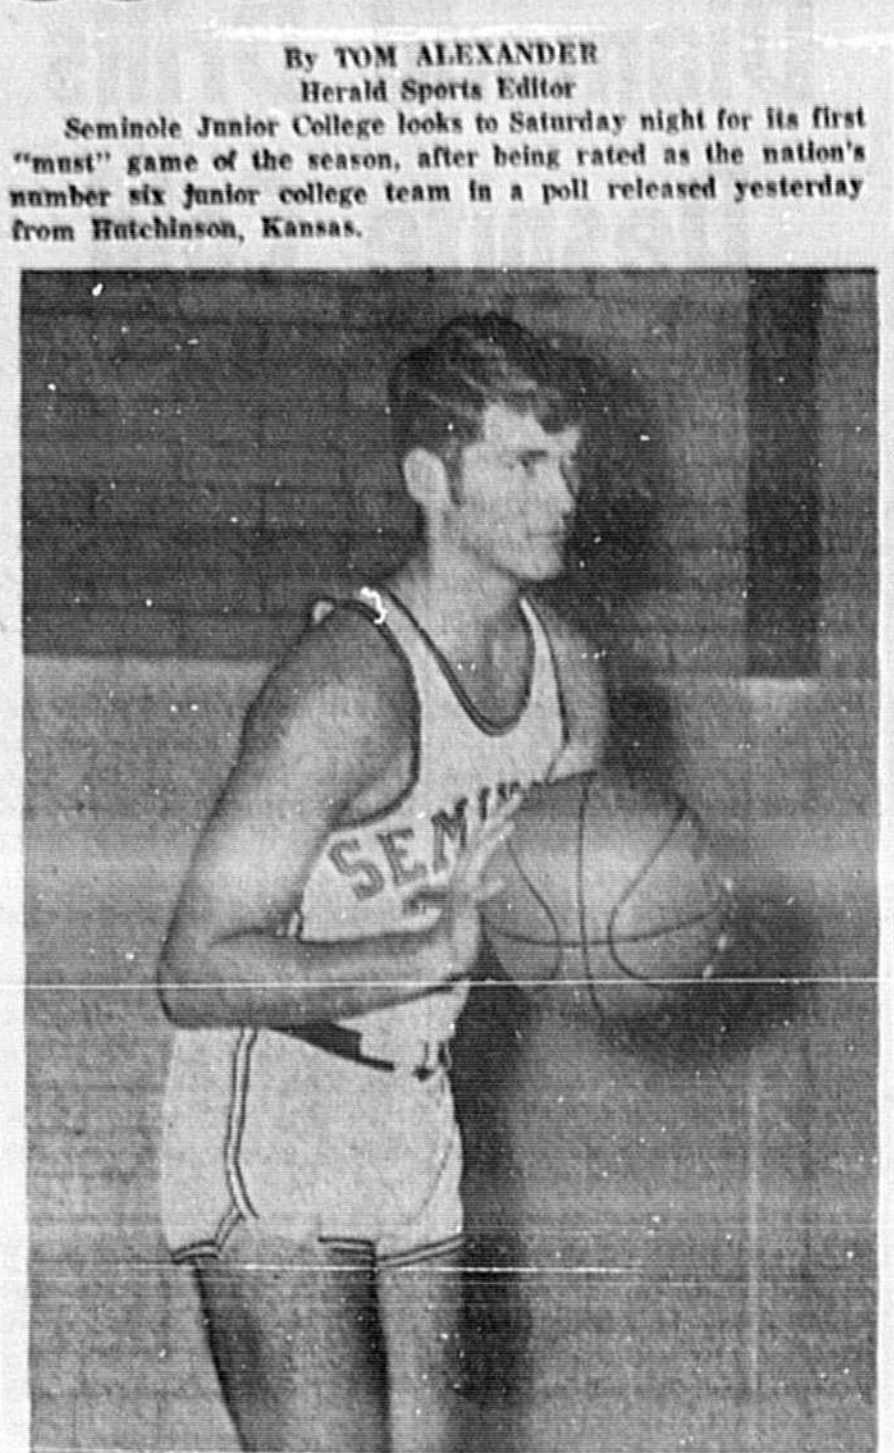

Now a freshman at St. Johns, Sterling considers Bass a real threat.

"They play similar to us and they have a young ball club backed up by 8'8" Steve Richardson, a transfer student and one returning letterman," Sterling said, viewing his scouting reports.

Next week will be "super week," starting with Saturday night's contest against Division II rival St. Johns.

On Wednesday Seminole hosts revenge minded Lake City, who according to Sterling have some of the best basketball material in the country. The Raiders then play Stetson Uni-

PGA Tour Starts At LA Today

By JOE ST. AMANT
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Arnold Palmer and 137 other guys who play golf for money and sometimes just for fun begin the annual pro tour today in the first round of the $100,000 Los Angeles Open at the year they're shooting for a record total of $7 million in purses.

Palmer likes the L.A. Open and the course—Rancho Park's tight par 36-37-71 6,821-yard layout and he's won it three times. Of course, there are a number of other former champions and youngsters who'll give him an argument for first prize of $20,000.

Among those on hand who hope to get off to a good start on the wheel of fortune for the new year are: Dave Hill, the scrappy No. 2 money winner last year who earned $18,423; Bruce Crampton, the Australian who now plays out of Dallas, Tex., and won $118,555 in 1969; Gene Littler, the 39-year-old Rolls Royce fancier, who was No. 6 with $112,737; Tony Jacklin, the up and coming British Open champion; Orville Moody, who came out of nowhere (the U.S. Army) to take the U.S. Open in 1969; and handsome, Moody Ray Floyd, one of golf's most eligible bachelors who took home (wherever it was) $109,950 last year; steady Billy Casper and flashy Tom Shaw.

Top Scorer West, Set For Stars

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers, the top scorer in the National Basketball Association, heads the Western Division starting team named today for the NBA's All-Star Game at Philadelphia on Jan. 26.

West received a vote of 11,750 points out of a possible 14 from sportswriter and sportscasters from each of the NBA franchise cities who took part in the balloting.

Joining West on the starting team will be Lakers teammate Elgin Baylor, Connie Hawkins of Phoenix, Nate Thurmond of San Francisco and Lou Hudson of Atlanta. Also chosen to the Western squad were: Chuck Walker of Chicago, Elvin Hayes of San Diego and Jeff Mullins of San Francisco.

West's team will be represented by Billy Cunningham and Hall Greer of Philadelphia, John Havlicek of Boston, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee and Gus Johnson of Baltimore.

Dallas Nips Los Angeles

By Dallas Press International

Los Angeles and Denver came away with important victories Wednesday night in an American Basketball Association doubleheader at Los Angeles involving the four teams in the chase for second place in the Western Division.

Dallas, behind Glen Combs' 30 points, edged Los Angeles, 114-112, after Denver used Larry Jones' 29 points to beat Washington, 129-118, and extend the Rockets' winning streak to nine games.

In the only other ABA action, New York, with Sonny Dove leading the way with 21 points, defeated Pittsburgh, 123-119.

Hot Tribe Ready For DeLand 5

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Writer

It'll be a hot time in DeLand tomorrow night. The Fighting Seminoles of Seminole High will journey to the home of the Bulldogs for one of the hottest battles of the year.

Seminole, 7-1 on the season will battle the undefeated Bulldogs that now stand at 8-0. Seminole met their only loss in the finals of the Ft. Myers Christmas Tournament, losing to Ft. Myers, 55-44 in a game much closer than the score.

With less than three minutes to play, the Seminoles trailed by one point, but the Ft. Myers coach, rated number 10 in the state, began to pull away and took the 11 point lead.

The Seminoles came back with a 21-20 win over New Smyrna Beach Tuesday night to set the stage for this crucial tilt. DeLand is one of the State's Class A basketball powers as they have many of their players returning from last year.

Seminole and DeLand are in the same district, and last year met in the finals of the district tournament, with DeLand taking the win.

The Seminoles, under the coaching of Joe Mills, are led by the scoring and rebounding of Larry Kearse. The big 6-foot-5 center has been pacing the team averages in both those departments.

Bill Corso has been coming along steadily at one guard position. He has been scoring the high points, but most of all he has been rebounding.

Tommy Whigham is at the other forward position. He has been playing fine defensive ball. After the last game, Mills commented, "He only scored four points, but he played a whole of a ball game." Whigham is a top-notch defensive player.

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The slick tricks of the '70s against the meat-and-potatoes of the '60s—this is the way Coach Hank Stram of the Kansas City Chiefs views Sunday's Super Bowl clash between his squad and the tough Minnesota Vikings.

The Chiefs, champions of the American Football League, feature "maybe 30 or 40" different sets in their offense, in the estimation of quarterback Len Dawson.

On the other hand, the Vikings, National Football League champions who will be two touchdown favorites, rely on just a few formations in which execution is the important thing. Simple things done in a simple way, but done so perfectly that they are irresistible.

"There is no doubt that the trend in recent years has been a simplicity trend—a 4-3 defense and one or two formations—a variety trend."

Canada Seeks Olympics

CHICAGO (UPI)—Montreal would like to see the 1976 Summer Olympics move northward and Mayor Jean Drapeau was here Wednesday to do a little lobbying with Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee.

Drapeau brought with him his city's official answers to an IOC questionnaire regarding the feasibility of holding the Olympics there. Each city bidding for the games must answer the question regarding existing facilities, planned ones, etc.

Montreal is planning an extensive sports building program regardless of whether it is awarded the games, but Drapeau said, was an $8,000 seat stadium for track and field costing about $40 million. The structure would "Most likely" have a dome, he said.

County Sports Review

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Staff
(Last Of A Six Part Series)

On December 13 Bill Parker slammed into a wall at the Seminole High gym. This was a great loss for the Seminoles as Parker was one of their top defensive players. But the Seminoles seemed to play harder to make up for the loss, and they advanced their record to 5-4 with a 75-52 victory over Eau Gallie a few days later.

On December 16 the light started going up at the new Lynnman Stadium. After nearly month-long projects, work was starting. The lights went up, but it left the Boosters Club with a tremendous task ahead of them.

Along this time, after Ovidio had finished a poor gridiron season, word was received that head coach Herman Kefauver had resigned from that post. As of yet, his replacement has not been named.

On December 23 Bernie Harbour was back in town after finishing his last year of football at North Texas State University. Already, 21 pro teams have approached the Seminole High graduate. Harbour gained much national attention for his achievements at the school.

On Christmas Eve, word was received that Rick Browne had decided to sign with the University of Florida. At 12 noon Coach Ray Graves, who recently resigned that position, but stayed on as Athletic Director, signed Browne to a four-year scholarship at his English Estates home. Readers of The Herald saw an exclusive picture coverage of the event.

On December 26, the Fighting Seminoles moved their regular season to end by defeating Venice in the first round of the Christmas tournament in Ft. Myers. The next night they were dropped by Ft. Myers, 35-44, and had to settle for second place behind Larry Kearns and Tommy Banks were named to the All-Tournament team.

The end of the year, a very successful year for sports, brought nothing more than the start of another year. In this year, The Herald sports department will endeavor to bring to readers all the local news first. When, and if it happens, the Sanford Herald sports department will be there, if it's worth happening.

Hitchcock With Expos

MONTREAL (UPI) — Former Baltimore Orioles and Atlanta Braves Manager Billy Hitchcock has been named director of first instruction by the Montreal Expos.

The appointment was announced today by Expos General Manager Jim Fanning.

Fanning also announced the hiring of Ray Hayward, former director of scouting and special assignment scout with the Braves, as a special assignment scout for the Expos.

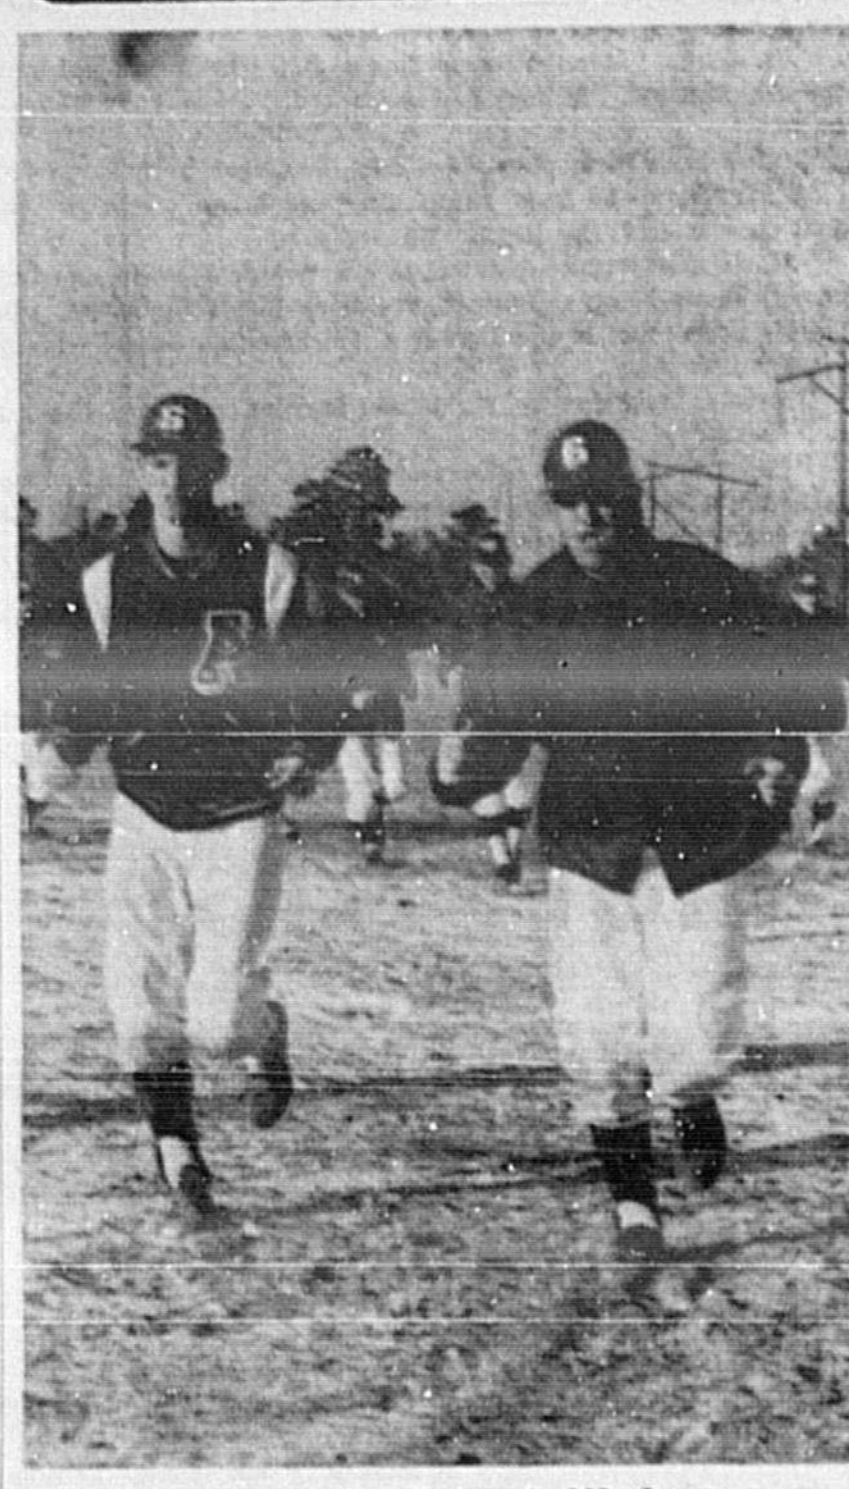

Hitchcock managed the Orioles from August, 1966 to the end of 1967. He was named special assignment scout to the Expos during the last two seasons.

Raiders Go Through Workouts

Viking Surge Comes Sunday

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. — (NEA) — When Bud Grant smiles, his mouth smiles, but not his eyes. His eyes are pale blue, and they would accept a light touch as amusing rather than funny.

A young man, 38, Grant's hair is white and cut short. He wears a dark suit, a white shirt and a dark tie. He is smiling at the camera.

He claps his hands behind his head and leans back in his chair in his office. His face, and his torso — under a blue plaid wool shirt that fits neatly and impeccably — look lean. He is willing to discuss almost anything, except that trophy.

Everybody didn't love him, said Grant. "I was at an impressive age. He was a peppy sort of Irishman, who I think was a boxer at one time or another. He was happy but strict. He wasn't beyond punching a player who got out of line. He was fair, though, and played no favorites. He was sincerely interested in all the boys. But he was tough and, you know, I don't remember myself after any one coach's experience. "But one is a product of the sum total of your experience. Take what you're absorbed, and then you do it your way."

Grant disciplines his team like an army, he says. "A team must have order, must do things together." Yet he understands that the men under him are not robots, but college-educated, sensitive men. For example, he felt his linebackers might become more mobile if they lost weight for this season. He wanted more interceptions from them — and had not had one from them in a year-and-a-half. "I didn't demand that Roy Winston and Lonnie Warwick lose weight," he said. "I just suggested it." Last year Winston weighed 320 pounds, now he is 280. Warwick dropped from 250 to 220. And Viking linebackers have made nearly a dozen interceptions this year.

Some of Grant's moves have seemed strange at first, but have usually proved out in his favor. In the first game of the year, the Giants came from behind to beat Minnesota. Gary Cozzaro was the Viking quarterback and did acceptably. Yet Cozzaro was the Viking quarterback for the previous two seasons, was back three seven touchdown passes to tie a pro football record. The Vikings won decisively.

Raiders Open Diamond Drills Despite Cold

"We'll have to play more conservative ball," was the comment of Bergman. He went on to say, "Last year we averaged 8 runs per game and we could afford to give up a few runs, this year we might have to make two runs with it."

Last season the Raiders had 21 wins. The pitchers who accounted for 13 of the wins, Dennis Pitts, Ron Harry and Gene Griffin, are back in addition to Steve Shumaker, Chip Gierke and Bob Sherman, all freshmen.

The Raiders are practicing on their new field, located on campus. They will be practicing hard until January 20 when they will begin playing practice games until late February, when they will open a 44-game slate.

This year the Raiders will use "mod." They will use but girls. The SAC cheerleaders will serve as batgirls for the team. When asked about the local competition, Bergman commented, "I just think we have one of the finest, if not the finest staff in the state. Last year the Raiders had power, whereas this year they don't."

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our 20-year-old daughter who attends a college in another state wants to get married to tell us that she and her boyfriend got married last night. They had planned to get married when they both finished college, but I guess they couldn't wait that long.

I want to send our relatives and friends formal announcements of their marriage, but something just occurred to me. What if they had not gotten married in a hurry?

DEAR MOTHER: In that case, send them almost nothing. What if they had gotten married in a hurry?

DEAR ABBY: After being married for 28 years to a dear, sweet, lovely, little woman, several months ago she was hit with something called "change of life."

I found myself living with a complete stranger with a complete stranger with me and go into a tantrum over the most trivial matters.

She refused to go on a holiday with me this year for the first time, so I went alone, and I must confess I had the best holiday of my life. When I came home after 12 days she was not the least bit glad to see me.

We hardly speak now, and she is separate bedrooms for the first time. I consulted our family doctor and he said my wife would not improve unless she visited him for treatments, which she absolutely refuses to do. Do you recommend a permanent separation? I am seriously considering it.

DEAR GRANDPARENTS: DEAR BEL & ST: You took this woman "in sickness and health." This is sickness. Are you sure the memory of your holiday without her isn't influencing your decision? Talk to your doctor again and ask for some suggestions on how to get this once dear, sweet, lovely woman to go for the treatment she so desperately needs. Don't desert her in her hour of need. Her condition may be temporary.

DEAR ABBY: Our wedding album has been the privilege of seeing our grandchildren. She claims that she has spoken to a psychiatrist, and even to her clergyman and they all agree that it would be in the best interests of the children if they were not to see us anymore.

The children are 8, 10, and 11. Our ex-daughter-in-law recently remarried, and our son agreed to let her new husband legally adopt the boys. We love these children, Abby, and this breaking address envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, JAN. 8, 1970

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day and evening to put into motion the most profitable plans you can envision. You would also be wise to get together with good friends. Choose associates who have your interests at heart. See them in places where you can enjoy the hobbies that appeal to all of you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Know exactly what your personal aims are. Then go after them in a wise and direct fashion. Show your liking for others. Give that party and repay some important social obligations.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): A good day to discuss some new and up-to-date ideas with influential allies and get their support. Buy the appliances that make your work lighter, invest wisely and get the best value for your money.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Get into those new arrangements and with fastidious, successful people so that you become more successful. You have to have more confidence and a more positive attitude to win out.

MOON CHILDREN (June 21 to July 21): If you use updated methods and schedule your time and activities wisely, you can accomplish much more now. Show a different attitude toward your romantic life. Avoid unwanted strangers.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Cement better relations with associates and arrive at an improved policy position with others. If you cooperate more, you find that you get the support that you need, also. Be happy in the evening and forget shop talk.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Get busy with responsibilities ahead of you so that you can start the weekend on a note of happiness and freedom from worry. Don't criticize a co-worker but give encouragement and get right cooperation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Plan your recreation for this evening and the rest of the weekend. Wind up business affairs. Give compliments to make and show that you are truly devoted and helpful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Try to meet the expectations of those who are close to you, either in business or social life. Make your own a truly charming place to be. Be very charming with guests and show you are fond of them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): The right day to make those calls that will help you to come to a better understanding with allies, those vital to your welfare. Gain their support for your joint projects. Be clever.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Think of a high plane if you are to have the true abundance you want in the future. Listen to what an influential figure has to suggest. Follow through on finest ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Use that generous quality to get your associates to support you with real enthusiasm in your finest venture. Spell out your aims in a definite way. Stop procrastinating so much.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Show good friends who are having difficulties that you can forget your own to give them a helping hand. Let your intuition be helpful in your daily routine, activities. Don't let others make a fool of you.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those descriptively serious and quiet people who others think is not friendly at all. Actually, this individual can be one of those intellectual social lions nobody forgets. Ideal chart for work which will help others to put their finest talents forward.

"The Stars impel that you do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jacoby On Bridge

We have devoted enough time to the match to determine the 19th North American International team and will return to telling about the trials and tribulations of ordinary bridge players.

East was a very good player. He was the first trick with his ace of hearts and took the dummy unhelpfully. He knew that South was one of those book players who would surely hold from 12 to 13 high-card points for his two no-trump bid.

East added his own eight to dummy's 13 and South's minimum of 12 to reach a total of 36. This left West with a maximum of four high-card points. There was no way for West to bid a high-trump honor and a

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY: I have a simple answer to M. J. K.'s color problem that worked for me. Tell her to buy two large boxes of baking soda and put it in small dishes to place under her couch, on tables and anywhere there is an odor. She may have to leave them there for several weeks and even change the supply of soda. In just a day or two, she should notice that the odor is starting to disappear.

DEAR POLLY: The girl who wishes to get rid of the cat odor in her home should be encouraged to try putting lemon halves turned down on newspapers. Leave all the windows and doors closed during an eight-hour period. This method worked for a man who hit skunk with his automobile. He wore lemons and papers the following morning.

DEAR POLLY: My six expensive, plastic tumblers are stuck together. I'm being stacked when warm and a little damp. The hot and ice water treatment did not budge them. Could someone help me with a suggestion?

DEAR POLLY: I hope some man's "arrow of aercal" can read your column. I would like to tell them that people with poor eyesight cannot see the arrow which shows which way to spray if the arrow is wide. One of my friends almost blinded herself because the arrow was so dim and she squinted the wrong way, toward her eyes. I think all these arrows should be red.

Beauty after Forty

The fifth annual prestige awards from France was a truly beautiful gala. Late was dramatic and done in so many beautiful gowns, underwear and for brides that it all fell into a frothy, lace scene.

Black lace was prominent, and the new French metallic laces played a prominent part. Each lace gown presented was created by a famous name designer and showed their skill with lace. The gala started with exquisite undergarments. There was a charming touch when four young members of the American Ballet Theatre performed a new "Mimot in Lace."

The dance was specially choreographed by Nanci Clement. The dancers wore black and white lace. Nothing becomes a woman as dressy as lace. It has that look of elegance so important to the after-forty woman and women of any age.

The beautifully done show was arranged by Ken Williams who is so knowledgeable about

Jacoby and Son

South's 10 was covered by West's rick and dummy's king was the trick.

South was a book player. He knew all the elementary rules of bidding and play, including the finesse. He led a club to his ace and a low club to dummy's jack for a trick. East took his ace and played another spade.

South saw his danger but it was too late. Clubs failed to break and South was down one. If only his bridge education had included the count to nine, he would have made his contract by the simple expedient of noting that he had eight top tricks and could be sure of nine by simply playing a heart and setting up a trick in that suit.

Chinese Artist Featured

The Sanford Seminar Art Association will sponsor free to the public on Sunday, Jan. 11, the well known Chinese artist, Lily Chen, at 2:30 p.m. at the Lily Chen Center.

Lily Chen, formerly of Honolulu, Hawaii, now residing in Indianapolis, is well known for her water colors. She studied in Hawaii, China, and Florida.

For the past 10 years, she has been active in exhibitions, demonstrations in water color techniques, and has served as judge in several major art shows.

Many well deserved awards have been bestowed upon Mrs. Chen and the association feels it is a pleasure and an honor to have such a talented artist here to demonstrate her techniques.

Leader Training

Boy Scout leader training will be conducted at Grace Methodist Church for all Scouts of the St. Johns District. The first of seven sessions will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

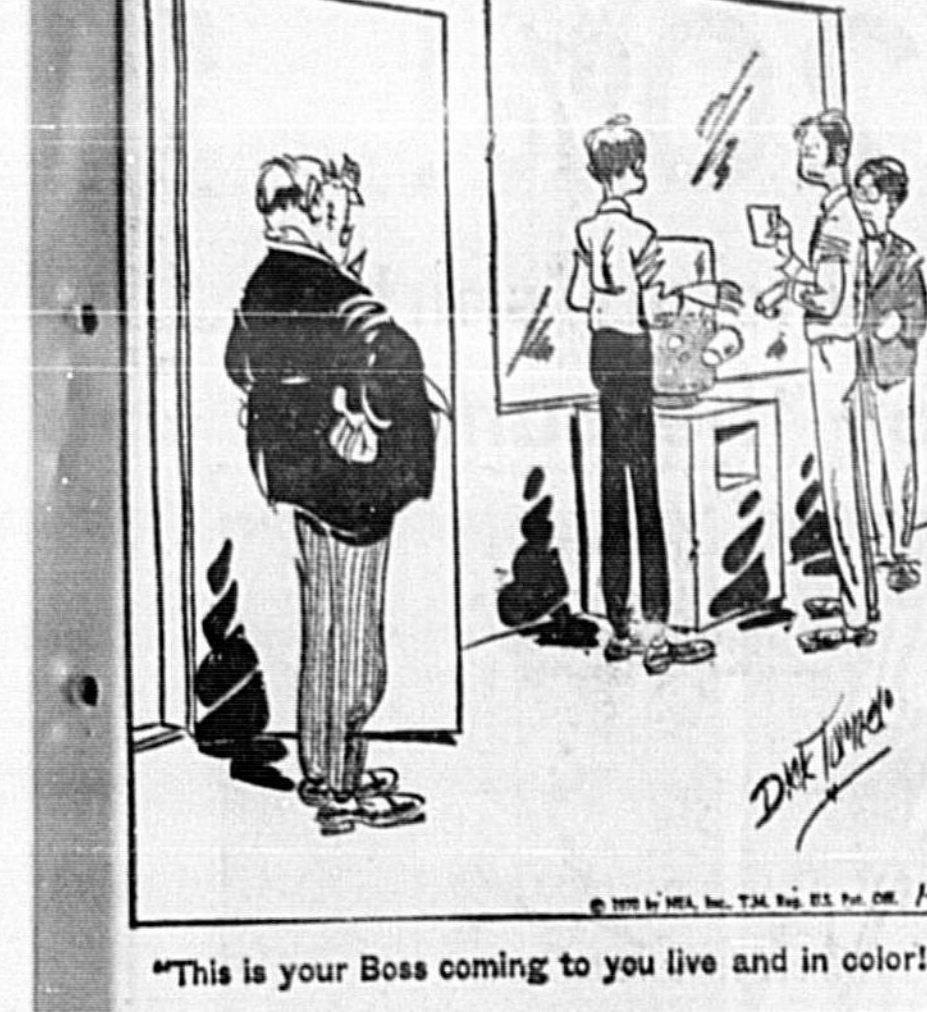

Sessions also will be held Jan. 14, 21, and 28 at Grace Methodist Church. The final three sessions will be held at Camp Howard during a camp-out scheduled for Jan. 30 - Feb. 1.

All scoutmasters, assistant scoutmasters and troop committeemen who have not completed the training are urged to attend. Men who are not presently connected with any scout troop but are interested in working with Scouts are invited to attend and learn about the scouting program.

We The Women

Any author or reporter can tell you that they are always being asked, "Don't you ever run out of ideas?" or "Don't you have trouble finding things to write?"

While somebody is asking those questions, somebody else is waiting in line. And they are going to say, "Listen, do I ever have a good idea for YOU?" or "Here's something I want you to say."

Not that a writer can use many of their suggestions. Unless, that is, a writer cares to be used for slander, jailed, ridden out of town on a rail, or quite possibly murdered in his bed some night.

It goes without saying there is no dearth of publicity requests for a certain manufacturer's soap or shoes is exactly what we've been praying for, but, alas, the past few months, I have been asked to

THURSDAY, JAN. 8, 1970

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. Daniel Boone: "An Angel Cried." (Color) Love comes to trapper Josh Clements (Jimmy Dean) in the form of a lovely nun in distress. Josh discovers her budding in the underground apes house of a missionary school, which has been burned to ashes by Indians. While leading her to safety, he develops more than a platonic friendship with the woman and tries to dissuade her from taking her final vows. It's an old plot line, with the predictable bitter ending, but the exchanges between Dean and Mariette Hartley, the novice, are convincing and charming.

8:30-9 p.m. ABC. That Girl: "Opening Night." (Color) Three Hollywood columnists speak to Marie her opening night performance on Broadway was so lust. It's a dream sequence.

match (who would Tinseltown chroniclers be covering New York?), but it so unweaves our girl, whose play is to debut that night, that she asks to be left in peace by Don and father Law. Alone, however, she soon becomes the victim of a house-hold accident that makes her nightmare seem like sweet dreams. Columnists Army Archerd, Joyce Haber and Vernon Scott appear at the beginning of the show.

8:30-9:30 p.m. NBC. Ironside: "Dora." (Color) Organized crime invokes the wrath of the chief when one of its members, Del Laver, harasses Ironside's old friend Dora. As part of an attempt to wrap up San Francisco's wholesale produce market, Laver tries to blackmail Dora into selling her fruit and vegetable business by photographing her son in a compromising position. The Chief's investigation goes a little too smoothly for credence, but makes fairly diverting watching. Hank

Would Unseat Movie Star Champ's Son Challenges

REVEREND, Calif. (AP) — John V. Tunney, a tall attorney with lots of energy, an engaging smile and five years of experience as a congressman, launched today a quest for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate.

The 35-year-old son of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney hopes to win the primary in June, then unseat incumbent former movie star George Murphy, 67, who says he'll seek a second term.

Tunney's theme, "California needs leaders of action and commitment," and Murphy is a "do-nothing" senator.

"Who is John Varrick Tunney? Who indeed, the average Cal-

One attention-getting plot was to don diving gear and go 200 feet deep off Santa Barbara to see how much oil was seeping from fractured underwater strata at the site of a disastrous leak.

His appearance at a farm workers rally made headlines, because he was booted for endorsing a union-sponsored boycott of California table grapes.

He has made fact-finding tours, delivered innumerable speeches and has spoken out at frequent news conferences on

New Sub Important To U.S. Strategy

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A submarine capable of hitting the Soviet Union with nuclear missiles while docked in a U.S. port is beginning to play an important part in the Pentagon's strategic planning for the 1970s.

Ironically, the program, referred to by the Navy as "ULMS—undersea long range missile system"—was all but dead a few months ago.

The defense chief said the advanced sub-missile system or a new bomber to replace the aging B-52 may be necessary if the Soviet missile deployments continue or if there is no agreement at the Russian-U.S. arms limitation talks.

Either system would provide a means of expanding the U.S. nuclear arsenal to assure survival of a large portion of the American retaliatory force during a surprise attack.

The United States has for the moment decided against building more land-based missile silos, on choosing instead to defend such sites from attack with the Seaquester antiballistic missile system.

The undersea long range missile system, which essentially would be an extension and improvement of the present 41 boat Polaris fleet, was put in the defense budget as a research item last spring.

The Senate Armed Services Committee cut the $20 million in ULMS research money in a move that would have killed the program but Laird personally and successfully appealed for reinstatement of $10 million.

Threats Follow Deaths

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer

CLARKSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Investigators say two close aides of the late Joseph A. "Boss" Yablonski have received threats, sending telephone calls since the slayings of the United Mine Workers' union reformer, his wife and daughter.

State police said Wednesday the first report came from Marion Pellegrini, an official of UMW District 8 from nearby Connersburg.

Later, Elmer Brown, a Delberton, Va., coal miner who was Yablonski's vice presidential running mate in the union's recent presidential election, said he had reported a threat to the FBI.

Pellegrini, who was questioned by four FBI agents, said his wife received a call from a man at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday. The caller simply said, "Warning. You're next," and hung up, he said.

"We don't know whether this is a crank call or not, but we're keeping patrol in the area," said Capt. Joseph Snyder, the trooper in charge of the investigation.

Pellegrini said he was sure the caller meant the threat.

"I take this seriously," he said. "The job is worth a person's life, especially if it is a threat to a person's family."

Brown said he received a telephone call a few days ago "warning me to mind my own business." He described it as "more or less a warning," saying he didn't take it too seriously.

In his report to the FBI Brown asked that top officials of the UMW be given the detector tests to clear themselves of the slayings.

He's confident he has the financial backing for his campaign, which he says will cost $1.5 to $2 million.

Tunney was born in New York City June 25, 1934, graduated from Yale in 1956, studied international law at The Hague, and obtained a law degree from the University of Virginia in 1959.

He practiced briefly in New York City before serving three years in the Air Force as an aviator, winding up at Westley March Air Force Base.

Back in civilian life, he was in private practice here before winning his congressional seat in 1964.

His wife, Michele, 33 is a Dutch girl he met while studying in The Netherlands. They have three children, Edward, 8, Mark, 6, and Arianna, 2.

"What does he stand for?" He thinks the five main issues are: —Vietnam, where he calls for increasing troop withdrawals.

—Civil justice and law and order, where he says the key is spending more money on housing, education and jobs to eliminate root causes.

—Combating campus disorder by giving students more say in their affairs.

—Air and water pollution.

—Inflation, which he says calls for a cut in government spending.

Student Sentenced For Life

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A 21-year-old chemistry student was sentenced to two life prison terms Wednesday after he pleaded guilty to killing two teenage girls with a rifle.

Circuit Court Judge E. Thom Rumberger passed down the consecutive life sentences on Daniel Bernard Thomas after defense counsel negotiated the guilty plea with state officials.

The sentence came during the third day of Thomas' trial on charges of gunning down two teenagers, Michelle Smith, 16, and Elmer Hughes, 21, in October.

Thomas pleaded guilty to first-degree murder in the slaying of the Smith girl and the July death of Connie Ruth Ballard 11. Miss Ballard's bluish-black body was found floating in a river near Melbourne.

Thomas was to go to trial Feb. 8 for killing Miss Ballard and her 19-year-old boyfriend, George P. Martin, in the lover's lane slaying.

Under, Over? Girls Win Right To Pants

Seminole County School Board has given permission for girls to wear pants . . . long pants . . . to school during cold weather. The by the educators came after a delegation of Sanford Junior High School girls, led by Debbie Dyess, an eighth grader, requested board approval for the wearing of pants due to the cold weather and short mini-dresses.

Jean Bryant, board member, after hearing the girls said plight, moved to approve long pants for the rest of the winter and on pre-dicted cold days at all county schools.

Mrs. Bryant reasoned that Seminole High and several other schools have relaxed dress codes to permit pants to be worn to school, and being a woman, herself, she could appreciate the "situation" of the girls. Allan F. Keith, board member, was the only "nay" vote cast to the Bryant motion and he explained his belief that each individual principal should be allowed to set rules for his school. Mrs. Bryant said she could speak from a woman's viewpoint on the problem. "On cold days we need more clothing to cover up," she advised. Keith indicated he could see his disadvantage of viewpoint but would insist that young Miss Dyess stop referring to the garments at "pants" and use "slacks" instead.

This brought on howls of laughter and the motion was passed with only Keith opposed.

Cobia Launches Cutlass

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

There'll be a christening today at Cobia's Monroe Harbour Marina in Sanford.

The Sanford-based boat builder, a subsidiary of the Ashland Oil and Refining Company is one of the three leading boat manufacturers in the Southeast.

It's with the introduction of the "Cutlass" 18 deep-vee bow rider that Vice President and General Manager Carl Deeter is hoping that Cobia will become "Number 1" in the boating industry.

According to Deeter, Cobia enters 1970 at the greatest production rate than at any time in the company's history.

"Last year we lost some ground by not being able to deliver the merchandise when our dealers wanted it . . . usually in 'yesterday's delivery' schedule," added Deeter.

In order to offset this problem, Cobia's inventory has been increased to 655 boats in preparation for the spring selling period at an investment of $425,000. This is the first year that Cobia has ever concentrated on extra inventory to be ready for the new model year.

Edward Atchley, vice president of marketing said that Cobia sales are continuing to run ahead of last year. "At a matter of fact, since August 1, our sales have been eight per cent ahead of the same period last year."

Employment stands at 186 as compared to 177 this time last year and represents an annual payroll of $1 million to the local economy.

Cobia has a dealer organization of over 200 in 25 different states handling four lines of boats: "Banlando," "Cutlass," "Caribbean," and the "Mobile Mini-Yacht" — all totaling 25 different models in three hull designs — conventional, deep-vee and tri-hull.

Tonight Will Be Critical

By CHARNER LEONE

"Damage to fruit crops in the area is still hard to assess but I don't think there was much," said Frank Jasa, Seminole County Agricultural agent. Last night's freezing temperatures were similar to the previous night's cold. There was little or no frost, he said.

But the damage is cumulative, he warned. "The longer the severe cold persists the worse it will be," said Jasa. For instance, the dehydration of the trees will become more critical if the freezing temperatures persist.

"We need a gradual warming up," said the agent. "Rapid evaporation from the fruit and leaves causes more damage." The early fruit is hardest hit by severe cold. But that fruit has been picked. The late fruit that is widely grown here can withstand more cold, explained Jasa.

The freeze won't affect next year's crop unless the branches and other woody parts of the tree are frozen. If only the leaves fall off as the result of the freeze the undamaged branches will be able to produce new fruit next year. If the woody part of the tree is frozen new branches would have to grow before the tree could produce fruit again.

"I don't believe there has been any freezing of the woody part of the tree locally," said Jasa.

Tonight's predicted low for 22 to 28 degrees. Unless there is a heavy frost (if the wind dies down) the picture won't change much.

The picture for the produce grown in the area isn't as comforting.

"We're bound to have some damage," said Charles Fox, salesman for the Harold Koster Company, produce broker. "It will take several days to know the extent of the damage, however."

"The cabbage definitely will be retarded," he said. "The lettuce probably will come through all right."

"We seldom have three days of such cold in a row," said Fox. "Tonight will be critical."

Watershed Area At Altamonte Bid

By MARION BETHA

Altamonte's Mayor W. Lawrence Swafford would appear to have a vendetta against the Board of Seminole County Commissioners, and at a meeting of city council last night it ran the gamut from flooding of homes at Lake Orienta area to which would cost, in his words, "$3 a home or about the price of a half dozen cans of beer."

Swafford continued his tirade against the "trouble maker Caponi" by saying both the City Council and County Commission were influenced by Caponi's contention that there are only six homes affected by the lake, which during the past year has had increased run-off and become land-locked.

Swafford lashed out at Orange County had established drainage ditches countywide and put in lift stations to relieve the problems, and that since the function of a county commission is to serve "all the people," Seminole County should establish a similar criteria.

The mayor's remedy would be to set up a water shed district which would cost, in his words, "$3 a home or about the price of a half dozen cans of beer."

Weather Claims 12 Lives

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A weeklong siege of arctic cold clung to the nation's eastern half today and caused a growing toll in hardship, inconvenience and deaths.

Temperatures eased slightly in parts of the Rockies and Plains. But the cold intensified in much of the East and South. Overnight lows of zero or below ranged from the Rockies to New England and south into Georgia.

Weather-related deaths numbered 12.

Residents went without heat in scattered sections of the Midwest and South as heating systems failed or proved inadequate, or fuel supplies were curtailed. Schools were closed in scores of communities.

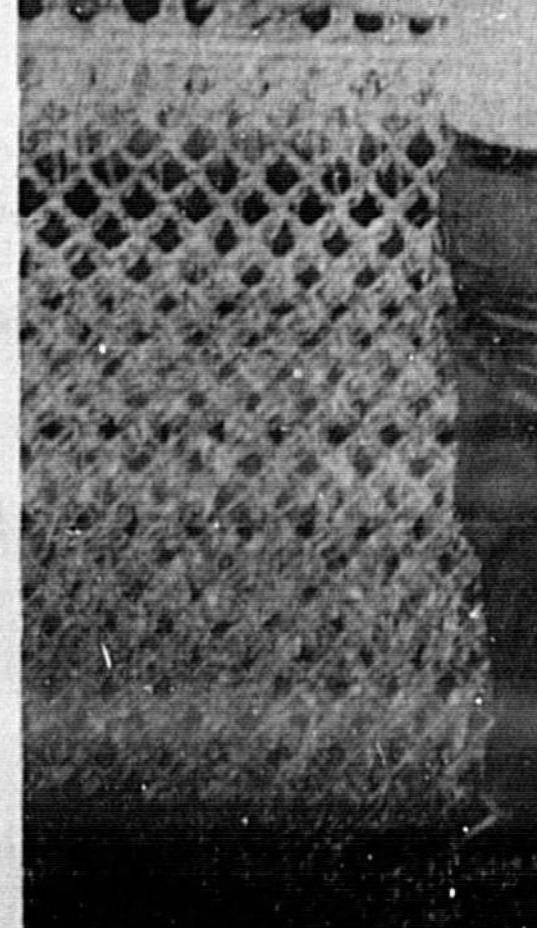

Utility companies continued to report record outages of natural gas and electricity, but the weather slowed delivery in many cases.
