GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The tempo of activity speeded up today as the University of Florida's 12,000 students made final plans for their homecoming celebration Friday and Saturday.

The big weekend begins with the largest parade in homecoming history, and the state's largest gathering of football fans, politicians and alumni will be underway.

Fraternity and sorority groups have begun construction on house decorations and floats for the festivities.

The Gator Growl, reputed to be the nation's largest student prep rally, is scheduled Friday night and a standing-room-only crowd of 45,000 are expected to be on hand.

Most of the state's political leaders will meet at the Florida Blue Key Banquet Friday evening when W. Thomas Rice, president of Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, will address the crowd in Florida's gymnasium. Circuit Judge John McCarty of Fort Pierce will be toastmaster.

Gov. LeRoy Collins will attend and address a legal breakfast Saturday morning. Along with the governor will be former governors, U.S. senators, congressmen, state legislators, college presidents and many other prominent Florida citizens.

The alumni legislators' barbecue Saturday, performances of acrobats, alumni reunions, numerous high school marching bands and the student body of the university will combine to welcome the returning graduates.

The highlight will be the Florida-Vanderbilt football game Saturday afternoon.

McQuatters was third in individual livestock judging at the show.

Six From Seminole At Research Meet

Six Seminole County men last week attended a two-day vegetable research work conference at the University of Florida, touring all extension service facilities in Gainesville. The tour included a look at the small atomic plant for experiments in radiation. The plant was established at the University through cooperation of the Atomic Energy Commission. Agost Cecil Tucker said radiation tests are made on plants and animals. The results carefully logged for future use. Attending the meeting from Seminole County, in addition to Tucker, were Harold Kastner, M. I. Cullum, Dr. R. W. Hupfret, Dr. John Wilson, all of Sanford, and Leon Miller, Ovidio. Tucker said the research conference was attended by representatives from all state experiment stations, farmers and industrial leaders. Highlight of the conference was a discussion of present research in vegetable production and suggestions of what type research is needed. While there, Tucker also attended a meeting of the Extension Service Vegetable Advisory Committee, of which he is a member.

Dade County Is Working On School 'Mixing' Plans

Odham Is Seeking More Cooperation On Milk Transfers

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Florida Milk Commission has tentatively scheduled a public hearing on producer prices in December. The commission, for the second time, failed Wednesday to reach an agreement on a mandatory order forcing transfer of milk from one plant to another in times of surplus.

Chairman J. Bradley Odham of Sanford, said a letter would be sent to members of the industry, however, urging more active cooperation in moving surplus milk to areas where needed.

Another proposal, which drew less opposition, was a voluntary order to extend additional controls to the Tampa Bay and Central Florida milk marketing areas. The order would allow a producer to cut his production during a contract signing period, where there is usually a surplus, but retain the amount of milk he would normally sell to the distributor.

The commission also kept for later review, and perhaps reevaluate, orders which could penalize producers for turning out surplus milk and enable the commission to shift producers from one plant to another.

Governor Favors Integration Test

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. LeRoy Collins today gave his blessing to a Dade County School Board study to determine if an all-white school can be integrated. Collins was asked at his news conference whether he favored the school board's plan for a feasibility study on admission of Negro children to Orchard Villa, an elementary school located in an area where several Negro families live.

Four Negro children applied last month and were denied admission, but the board Wednesday voted to postpone a final decision on an appeal in order to make the study.

"I think it is wise for the board to make a study of this type, seeking information upon which to later have some conclusion," Collins said.

"The board should be encouraged in doing this," he pointed out that the state pupil assignment law anticipates local school boards, in assigning students to particular schools, will consider sociological and psychological factors and "this cannot be done without determining the facts in the communities affected."

Collins was asked if he thought other communities should undertake similar studies. "This is a local matter," he replied. "If use reasonably for the schools in other areas feel there is a need for such a study, it should be done but that is a community determination."

Collins, on another subject, called "revolving" a proposal endorsed by the Democratic State Committee last week urging that U.S. Supreme Court justices be subject to election and recall by the people.

He termed it "repugnant" to the theory of Democratic processes which have through the years tended to get justices away from public pressure.

Surprise Proposal By School Board May Set Pattern

MIAMI (UPI)—School officials began work today on an unusual plan which may result in a "pilot school" in Miami to test integration on an experimental basis.

If such a project proves practicable, it could mean the first desegregation of any public school below college level in Florida.

It might also serve as a pattern for other Southern states in determining whether an area is ready for integration.

The proposal came unexpectedly Wednesday at a meeting of the Dade School Board. On a motion by C. T. McCrimmon, the board voted to postpone a final decision on an appeal by four Negro children seeking admission to Orchard Villa, an all-white elementary school located in an area where several Negro families live. The children were denied admittance by the board last month.

NAACP Attorney G. E. Graves said at that time the parents would carry their case through all steps prescribed by the Florida pupil assignment law. Then, if they were forced into court, he said it would be a "direct attack" on the controversial state law.

McCrimmon moved that action be delayed until "additional data" was compiled on the "sociological and psychological effect" on Negro and white students if Negroes were admitted to Orchard Villa.

Board member Jesse Yarbrough then suggested the additional information should include a report on the feasibility of establishing a "pilot" school at Orchard Villa to measure reaction and effects of integration.

Nationalists Say Build-Up Continues

TAIPEI (UPI)—Nationalist China is still making aerial reconnaissance flights over the Formosa Strait although they have stopped flights over the mainland, the air force said today.

An air force spokesman said the decision to discontinue aerial photo missions over the mainland did not affect reconnaissance flights along the coast. He did not disclose how close the flights came to the coast.

Some aerial photo equipment can be mounted on the sides of planes so that intelligence photographs can be taken a considerable distance to the left or right.

Red Bulldog Continues President Chiang Kai shek meanwhile was quoted as saying the offshore islands would be threatened as long as Communist forces are poised directly opposite them.

Recent reports from Quemoy told of a continuous Communist buildup along the coast opposite the islands.

"As long as Communist military forces remain opposite the offshore islands on the mainland the Communist threat to the islands will remain as it is," Chiang told Australian newsmen Denis Warner.

Sheffiff Rodney Thursday said Smith also is wanted in three other states, including Georgia, for warrants brought against him by his former wife.

Chamber Captains Hear Drive Plans

The minimum subscription fixed by the directors is $25. It was pointed out that this sum is "far less than most trade bodies ask for membership," McKibbin said. "It is a terrifically low price to pay for the huge effort that is made to bring business right to the door of each business."

The captains were told that the operators of new businesses in the county are welcome, not only at the monthly meetings of the Chamber, but may attend any of the quarterly directors' meetings.

Hopes 'Brighter,' School Head Says

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Private School Supt. W. C. Hruschak said today that "hopes are somewhat brighter" for starting completely private and segregated high school classes in Little Rock but he still can't predict when they actually will begin.

The State Board of Education, meanwhile, provided for allocation of about $170 toward the cost of schooling for each of the city's more than 3,000 displaced high school students.

The board authorized withholding of $30,000 from state funds originally designated for the closed Little Rock schools, but did not decide whether payment should be made to individual students or to the Little Rock Private School Corp. The latter course would be in defiance of federal court orders.

Hruschak said a prediction that private schools will be opened in the near future "is just wishful thinking."

"I wouldn't say we could open in a month, or six months," he said. "If I give a date, you can be sure we will open on that date."

Safety Tips Given On 'Trick, Treat'

The National Safety Council has released an advisory concerning the costuming of children participating in annual "Trick or Treat."

Attention has been called to the following accident prevention measures:
Buy children light-colored costumes—they're easier to see at night. Make sure the outfit aren't tripping hazards and that they're flame-proof.
Painted masks using rough, eye-brow pencil and moustache stick will allow better vision.
Warn children against dashing from between parked cars, playing in the street and crossing the street without looking both ways.
Use reflectorized tape or bands on costumes to make doubly sure motorists can see children.
And—motorists can help by slowing down a bit on Halloween and by keeping in mind that there will be lots of children out that night—excited children who may dash into the street without advance warning.

Sanford Will Host Church Convention

The convention city of Sanford will play host to approximately 1,100 Jehovah's Witnesses when they convene here for their circuit assembly Nov. 14-16.

Newsworthy is the fact that their last international convention was held at Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds in New York City last summer. Climaxing the eight-day Divine Will Assembly, over 25,000 visitors heard the main Bible lecture of the meeting, entitled "God's Kingdom Rule—Is the World's End Near?"

The forthcoming convention will consist of Bible instructions, demonstrations on fulfilling Christian requirements and important Bible prophecies and their fulfillment at this time.

All meetings will be opened to the public and no collections will be taken. A complete program will be printed later, as the convention draws closer.

Graham Compares Bombing To Hitler
CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham says recent school and church bombings across the nation are "symptomatic of the same kind of violence that brought Hitler to power."

Graham told a crusade audience of 12,500 in the Coliseum here Wednesday night that "every Christian should deplore" the "wave of bombings of schools, churches and synagogues."

"We ought to pray that this spirit of hatred and bitterness will be brought to an end," he said. "If not it could bring a union of the forces of crime and hate groups which could lead to anarchy and a joining with communism to overthrow the government."

In his sermon on heaven and hell, Graham said that it is "instinctive" to believe in life after death.
"As our scientists are talking about the end of the world and a button pushed by a maniac could destroy civilization, the subject of life after death becomes more interesting," he said.

Bullets, Bomb Kill British Official, Hurt Three Others

NICOSIA (UPI) — Underground bullets and bombs killed a British official on this strife-torn Mediterranean island today and wounded another British man and three Greeks, one of them an elderly woman.

The official, whose name was not made public immediately, was shot dead on a road nine miles west of Nicosia.

Earlier, John McElvride, a private citizen, was shot and wounded by a sniper as he left his car outside the telecommunications building in Nicosia's Turkish quarter.

A city-wide curfew had been clamped on Nicosia shortly before the Britisher was shot, after unidentified gunmen had thrown two hand grenades at a British jeep in "murder mile," scene of frequent attacks.

The riders in the jeep escaped injury, but the grenades wounded the Greek woman and damaged shops over a wide radius.

The bombing attack occurred at 7:15 a.m., while most of Nicosia's residents were still at home.

"If it had happened an hour later, it would have been mass murder," a British bomb expert said.

Meanwhile, it was reported in London that Britain has agreed in principle to most representatives of Greece and Turkey to discuss possible changes in the "partnership" plan that went into effect here Oct. 1.

LONDON (UPI) — A New York insurance man made nearly two million dollars in 21 minutes Wednesday night at an art auction that set all-time records for a single picture's price and for total sales.

Seven paintings by French impressionist masters, put on the block by Irwin Goldschmidt, fetched a total of $2,196,800—nearly half again the $1,108,550 record set in the sale of 10 paintings in New York last year.

Even after commissions, Goldschmidt's net is expected to be near the two million mark.

A blue-ribbon audience, including such notables as Hollywood star Burt Lancaster and Mrs. Winston Churchill, jammed Sotheby's auction rooms for the exciting sale, but the pictures were knocked down to dealers—most of them from New York.

It was believed that most if not all of the buyers might be acting for such noted principals as U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney or Greek shipping magnate Stavros Niarchos.

The pictures were: Cezanne's "Boy in the Red Vest" bought for $616,000 by New York dealer Georges Keller. The price of this picture more than doubled the previous record of $291,200 for an impressionist painting.

Van Gogh's "Public Garden at Arles," for which New York dealer Samuel Rosenberg paid $252,000.

Manet's "Street in Bern," knocked down to Keller for $216,400.

Cezanne's "Still Life of Apples," sold to New York's Knoedler Galleries for $232,000.

Manet's "Promenade: Portrait of Mme. de Gamby in the Bellevue Garden," bought by Keller for $249,200.

Renoir's "The Thought," sold to E. Speelmann for $201,600.

Manet's "Self Portrait," which went to Joan Summers for $182,000.

Goldschmidt inherited the paintings from his father Jacob, a German refugee banker who settled in New York.

Although Georgia is known as the "Peach State," South Carolina nearly every year produces more peaches than Georgia. In fact, South Carolina usually leads the nation in shipments of fresh peaches.

Expansion By Pierro Another City Boost

Sanford yesterday received good and bad news about its industrial endeavor. The bad came from Johnson & Johnson, which informed the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce that it was delaying a decision on locating a plant here.

Several hours after this information was made public, one of Sanford's oldest industries, Pierro Manufacturing Co., announced plans to move into a new building, to be constructed at Fourth St. and Pecan Ave. At the time Pierro moved into its new plant, the number of employees will be increased.

In looking at the matter squarely, it would seem that Sanford won one, lost one on this day. It would appear to us, however, that Sanford came out ahead. A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, as the old adage says. Pierro is here, Johnson & Johnson was a prospect.

This is not to minimize the importance of the location of a Johnson & Johnson plant. An industry this size would do a great deal for Sanford. It would be most welcome, as emphasized by the firms and individuals who pledged money for land, engineering, etc.

Johnson & Johnson said its decision to delay a decision on locating a plant here was based on "economic conditions and other factors." It did not say what these "other factors" might be. There is a possibility that negotiations with the company might be reopened. However, this appears unlikely since the pledged money is being refunded.

Pierro's announcement is important to Sanford. The firm has been growing since it opened in 1953. Construction of a new building and the hiring of more employees should be proof positive that Sanford is a good place to establish a business. Johnson & Johnson, and other industrial firms looking for sites, will likely consider the Pierro story in Sanford. It is a story of success.

Fire Protection Lost

Residents of Sanford's fringe area, wavering between "yes" and "no" on the question of annexation to the city, have lost their fire protection.

These homes and businesses may again have it by the simple process of becoming a part of Sanford. In the past, fire protection was provided by the City Fire Department through an agreement with Bralley Odham, who paid the city $1,000 per month to make runs into these areas when needed.

Fire protection is important. At stake are lives and the possessions of the families who live in these areas. Without the protection afforded by the fire department, these residents are in dire danger. As an added incentive, fire insurance rates tend to be lower when fire protection is available.

Petitions still are being circulated in an effort to get a vote on the annexation question. These petitions have been in circulation for months. The city would welcome these fringe areas into a greater Sanford. Perhaps residents of these areas will ask to become a part of this growing city.

Fire protection isn't so important until it is needed. If it is available, it is worth a great deal. Fire protection isn't the only advantage offered these fringe areas. The many other services offered by the city would be available to these residents.

Construction Set On Oviedo Street

Construction of a 20-foot street in Oviedo will start next week after the telephone company removes all poles and cables. A drive-in teller window will be built on the south side of the bank building and will be easily accessible upon completion of the street. Off-street parking will be provided for public use.

Doctors Think Cold To Be Conquered

By DELOS SMITH
 UPI Science Editor
 NEW YORK (UPI)—A medical science authority respected throughout the world has taken the hopeful view that the virus (or viruses) of the common cold surely can't resist scientific detection much longer.

But it confessed that at the moment scientific ignorance concerning the virus (or viruses) hardly could be more complete. In short, science doesn't know of anything that can be done about a cold.

The authority is the international technical journal, "The Lancet." It based its views largely on those of two American scientists, Dr. J. H. Dingle, president of the American Association of Immunologists, and Dr. C. H. Andrews, of the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

Rather despairingly, "The Lancet" also gave prominence to "The Handle Theory" of the common cold proposed by Dr. J. Morrison Hiltner, an English public health physician. At all times all of us have numerous bacteria engaged in obscure activities in our noses and mouths.

Ritchie's theory is the common cold virus (or viruses) acts as a "handle" which moves these bacteria into inflicting a cold upon the person harboring them — if the right kinds of bacteria in the right amounts are present when the virus drops down among them.

Ritchie has been applying his theory in experiments with factory workers for two winters. When a worker feels a cold coming on, he reports to the factory doctor. The theory is that we often can "feel" it when the virus cold.

Half the reporting factory workers were given an antibiotic in pill form through the two winters, and half were given nothing. Antibiotics kill bacteria but they do just about nothing to viruses. For whatever it means, most of Ritchie's workers who got an antibiotic didn't come down with colds, while many of those who didn't take the pills, did come down.

The endorsement of "The Lancet" was for Dingle, however, for Dingle's statement that "ignorance of the cause, precludes puts a handle on the bacteria; we have a sense of "catching a bug" factor, and treatment of the common cold is so great that the field is wide open for theories and unproven assertions."

Virus Yet Unknown
 The trouble is that no scientist has yet identified the virus (or viruses) which cause the common cold. Andrews, a virologist, has made extensive efforts to do so — and to cultivate it (or them) in the laboratory. In the search, he has identified many a new virus, and he has suggested that the common cold may be caused by a large number of different viruses.

Optimistically, "The Lancet" said the present is "a phase of rapid advances," and "it will be surprising if the common cold virus resists cultivation for very much longer — although, even if the virus gives in quite soon, we may still spend many years wearing our flannel underwear to keep off chills."

Like many medical authorities, it scoffs at the idea of most lay people (and of some doctors) that you can catch a cold by getting chilled. A feeling of chilliness is one of the first signs that you have caught a cold, rather than something which causes you to catch one, these authorities hold.

Church Gives Advice About Drinking

By LOUIS CASSELL
 United Press International
 MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—The Episcopal Church today offered its members some down-to-earth advice about drinking.
 It said Christian principles do not forbid "moderate and responsible use" of alcoholic beverages. But it warned that much of the so-called "social drinking" in America today is both sinful and dangerous.

These views were spelled out in an extraordinarily forthright booklet entitled "Alcohol, Alcoholism, and Social Drinking."
 It was prepared by a special committee headed by Bishop John Brooke Mosley of Delaware and made public here today at the church's 50th general convention.

Here are some of the highlights: "There is no scriptural command requiring total abstinence, either in the Old Testament or New Testament." The Bible teaches that alcohol can be one of God's blessings if properly used.

On the other hand, the Bible "clearly" states in many places that drunkenness and all "immoderate use of alcoholic beverages is sinful." Any value to be found in drinking is "lost where relaxation becomes loss of control."

There are "excellent reasons" why some people should not drink. Alcoholics are "sick people" for whom total permanent abstinence is absolutely necessary. Also, people who "need sharp senses, keen judgment and quick reflexes in their work" cannot in good conscience take a drink at any time when it might interfere with their performance.

Social Drinking
 There is an increasing tendency in America for drinking to become the "main purpose" of social occasions rather than an incidental support to good fellowship. To resist this dangerous trend, Christians should be careful of the kind of hospitality they offer guests. Among other things they should never give a party "for the main or sole purpose of drinking." They should "always serve food with alcoholic drinks" and avoid any "prolonged delay" between cocktails and dinner.

While there are many causes of alcoholism, evidence is strong that the "majority of alcoholics reach that condition rather gradually after a period of heavier and more frequent social drinking." During this stage a potential alcoholic "still has a free choice of behavior" and therefore a moral responsibility to restrain the habit of overindulgence that is leading him toward catastrophe.

Dixie's Lighter Side

By LEON BURNETT
 United Press International
 The lighter side of Dixie: A third grader has composed what might well be a footnote to last week's "moonshot" attempt.

It was written by a little girl in Mrs. Russell C. Perrone's DeKalb County, Ga., class as the climax to a story competition on a variety of subjects. It read: "We all must obey the law of gravity."

A major golf tournament is coming up in Atlanta next month under sponsorship of a beer manufacturer, and it certainly would be appropriate for a particular Florida entry to win it. Name's Gay Brewer, Jr.

After rookie policeman William J. Gibbs of Tampa was late for work twice in eight days, his superiors figured he needed some sleep. They suspended him for five days.

J. Raymond Thomas figures the double standard should not apply to one-way streets. Thomas admitted he drove the wrong way on a one-way thoroughfare. But so, he said, did the blonde in the car just ahead of his. Both cars were stopped by a patrolman, he continued in his complaint to the City Council at Charlotte, N.C. But he got a ticket—while the blonde smiled prettily at the officer and was allowed to go without charge.

Puzzle of the week: Why was C. E. Parnell's car abandoned in the mud near Mebane, N.C.—and why was a brown bear ramming around inside?

Charges were dropped in Tampa, Fla., against 215 persons charged with watching an indecent decent floor show.

It turned out that a uniformed, off-duty policeman was guarding the door at a club where the performance was given. Prosecutors said the spectators, seeing the officer, had no reason to believe what was going on inside might be unlawful.

A special green paint has been developed for spraying on grass that has turned brown. It won't rub off and it won't track.

Seeking Second Win, Seminoles To Travel

By Jerry Livingston
The Sanford Seminoles are hard at work in an effort to break their scoring slump when they go again Fort Myers tomorrow night.

Last week against Ketterlinus, the Seminoles showed a fine offensive attack but were unable to move over the stripe for a score. The Seminoles failed on five attempts inside the 10-yard line and they are planning their strategy this week to remedy this.

The passing began to click in the second half last week with Cecil Dandridge throwing to Alan Swain and Gerald Jones very effectively. This phase of the game has looked good this week and should work against Fort Myers. The running of Harold Stone and Lin Risher proved to be outstanding last week and, with a few breaks, they could give the Fort Myers squad plenty of trouble.

Dandridge also has done a fine job on the option play and picked up three first downs last week on the keeper. His punting so far has been one of the bright spots of the season. He has an average of 37.3 per kick.

The line has taken shape. With four games under their belts, linemen should be ready to go tomorrow night. Kelly Lake, who had to sit out the last game with an injured knee, is expected to be ready. This should strengthen the line considerably. Last week Duke Schirard did a fine job by filling in for Lake, but should be back at the center spot, along with Tommy Butler. Schirard also did a great job at the linebacker and will be called upon to fill this spot again in Fort Myers.

Dave Stanley showed his championship form last week against Ketterlinus and should be in top form to go again tomorrow night. With Stanley leading the way, the line should be enough to stop the squad from the Tropical City. He ripped through the Ketterlinus defense all evening to throw the fast backs for good losses. He is a great competitor and is very deserving of the Co-Captain honor that he carries.

The ends continue to show good form with the past re-signing of Jones and Swain and the defensive work of Walter Middleton. The latter has shown plenty of action, it is a hard work on every play.

Cannon, Cravens To Pit Rushing Talents In Tilt

By DAVID M. MOFFIT
United Press International
ATLANTA (UPI)—Two of the Southeast's most feared runners, halfbacks Billy Cannon of Louisiana State and Bobby Cravens of Kentucky, put their near-equal records on the line Saturday night.

These two highly-touted halfbacks met for the first time in 1957 when Cannon took the glory with a great performance, but Cannon and company won the ball game 21-0.

Cannon, a 200-pound junior, has been the big gun for LSU this fall as the Bengals chafed up a 4-0 record, including last week's 41-0 rout of highly-regarded Miami. Although often used as a decoy, he has gained 254 yards for an average of 6.2 per game.

Cravens has done as well for Kentucky but the Wildcats have a deceiving 2-2 record after losing to Auburn and Mississippi, both unbeaten and No. 2 and No. 3 nationally. The 190-pound senior has 299 yards rushing for an even 6-yard average against the top defensive teams in the Southeastern Conference.

Both have excellent supporting casts, especially in the backfield. Rounding out that LSU backfield are quarterback Warren Rabb, halfbacks Jimmy Robinson and Don Purin and fullback Tommy Davis, the Bengal's leading scorer and the star in the Miami victory.

Cravens has been sharing the limelight at Kentucky with quarterback Lowell Hughes, the Southeast's leading passer, and sophomore speedster Calvin Bird, the leading pass receiver.

In last week's 20 loss to Auburn, Kentucky's offense bogged down when Hughes was hurt. But the junior quarterback is scheduled to play Saturday at Kentucky seeks to maintain its pace as top yardage gainer in the Southeast.

Another SEC headliner at Atlanta matches Georgia Tech's improved platoon against Auburn, the defensive giant of college football for two seasons.

Perfection Pads Lead In Bowling

Perfection seems to mean just that. Perfection Dairies added three more pins to hold its lead in the Sandspur Bowling League.

This gives them a total of 20 wins and eight losses, and leaves Roundhill & Anderson 3 1/2 games behind in second place. In third slot is A. B. C., followed by Robinson's Wilson-Maier and Wade's.

The team that should end up on top, according to actual pinfall, is A. B. C. Each week, they seem to have higher scratch games and higher scratch series than any other team. While handicap plays an important role, it cannot keep a good team down forever, so watch for this team to start climbing soon.

A. B. C. has a grand total of 12,769 pins toppled, while Perfection has only 12,318. Wilson-Maier is second with 12,493; Roundhill & Anderson has the same total as Perfection, and Wade's has 12,090. Robson is low team with 11,142. These figures prove that even the lowest teams sometimes work harder than their position in the "Wins and Losses" column shows.

Tuesday evening held quite a thrill for Jimmie Livingston, who has tried so hard to get her name on the board in the "170 club." She finally made it, rolling her highest game to date, 180, which was also high scratch game of the evening. This gave her high handicap honors, too, with 217 pins. Betty Juneau had high scratch series, 460, and high handicap series, 342.

Virginia Lane, Donna French and Jimmie all rolled turkeys, while Dot Teslo picked up the 3-5-7 split, Barbara Rowell the 5-7 and 7-9; and Betty Juneau made the 3-7.

Team high game, scratch, was rolled by A. B. C. with 649; handicap game going to Perfection, 568. A. B. C. has led in both scratch and handicap series, with a total of 1037, scratch and 2378, handicap.

Next week will see Wilson-Maier doing battle with Wade's to decide which team gets to remain in last slot; A. B. C. vs. Roundhill's; and Robson's hoping to emerge victorious over Perfection.

Seminole Get New Second Unit

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—An entirely new second string backfield—composed mostly of sophomores—may be called on when Florida State resumes gridiron action this week against Virginia Tech.

Gene McCormack will go at quarterback in the No. 2 unit, with V. Conrad and Carl Meyer at the half and Paul Parquise at fullback.

Five men will be out of the lineup because of injuries. The Seminoles concentrated on pass defense Wednesday, looking ahead to the meeting with Virginia Tech's Bill Holciclaw, talented quarterback who has completed 50 per cent of his passes this season.

Stengel Lays Down Law To Yankees

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—Casey Stengel laid down the law to his world champion Yankees for next year—and made it clear that it applies to everyone, even superstar Mickey Mantle.

Stengel, who heads for his 11th year, told the team today that he has a new two-year contract that could bring him nearly $500,000 a year, got a number of things out of his chest at Wednesday's gala signing ceremony.

The 68-year-old Casey predicted his 10th pennant in 11 years, then suddenly grew solemn and warned some of his players they'll be peddled "if they fool around too much."

Of course, Stengel certainly isn't going to trade Mantle but a suspicion existed that he was trying hard to light a fire under his celebrated center fielder when he named Joe Mauer, Yogi Berra and Hank Bauer as the three greatest players he has managed since coming to the Yankees in 1915.

Who about Mantle? "Well," Casey said, "he has everything to make him the great one, but these are times he doesn't look like it. The whole thing is up to him. I know he can do it, and I'll tell you something else. I'm very glad I have him."

Getting back to the possibility of union, Stengel mentioned no names but did say, "A player can't be satisfied with life and remain around here. That's a sure way of getting fired. We may have to make some trades we don't want to make."

The Yankee manager came right out and said he was after a pitcher and an outfielder. Again, he didn't mention any names but it's no secret he would like to obtain either southpaw Billy O'Dell of the Orioles or named Joe Mauer, Yogi Berra and Hank Bauer as the three greatest players he has managed since coming to the Yankees in 1915.

Argument Raging On Dirty Football

By WILLIAM R. TEAGLE
COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Controversy raged in the Big Ten today.

Coach Woody Hayes' prediction that he would "stir up a hornet's nest" proved true as Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson and Coach Ray Ellet of Illinois leveled blasts at Hayes.

Both were angered by Hayes' charge that college officials are allowing defensive players to "get away with a lot of dirty football."

Hayes said Monday that officials are "officiating the offense right out of business" while letting the defense play dirty football.

Long recognized as a man who speaks his thoughts, Hayes blasted officials for letting teams to pile on, drive a runner back after the whistle, and for using arms and elbows as a fall.

In Chicago, Wilson charged that Hayes had done "a disservice to college football" by leaving the public with "an impression that college football is dirty."

Opposes Public Airing
Wilson added, "I do not believe his generalizations are well-founded. We have not received comment from other coaches or observers that would confirm them."

"Coach Hayes knows full well that there are better channels than public discussion for disposing of any question he may wish to raise regarding officiating. He also knows full well that we do not condone dirty play as having any place in college football and he knows very well that we do not permit our officials to tolerate it," Wilson said.

Plane Crashes Into Cars; Driver Dead

BABYLON, N.Y. (UPI)—A lumbering Air Force troop carrier plane crashed Wednesday night on a busy Long Island suburban highway, killing three automobiles and hitting one motorist. Six persons were hurt.

Drivers frantically wrenched their cars off the road and sped into the ditches to avoid the two-engine C123 as it screeched and skidded several hundred feet down the four-lane southern state parkway.

The plane apparently had been attempting an emergency landing at Zah's Airport, about a half mile from the parkway, after it ran into trouble on a flight from Bradley Field, Windsor Locks, Conn., to Mitchel Air Force Base, several miles from the crash point. The plane was attached to Troop Carrier Wing 70 of Dobbins Air Force Base, Marietta, Ga.

The Air Force had grounded all C123's earlier this month for modification of the aircraft's fuel system but work on the plane that crashed Wednesday night apparently had been completed.

Harold J. Schneider, 30, of 36 Allida Ave., West Islip, N.Y., was fatally injured when the plane crushed his car against an underpass.

Mrs. Mary Rehn, 42, of 360 Ocean Side St., Islip Terrace, N.Y.,

received a broken leg in the third car. Mrs. Jean Calabrese of 27 Landscape Drive, Wyandanch, N.Y., who was in the second car hit, received less serious injuries and was taken to a hospital.

Of the six crewmen aboard the plane, four received minor injuries. Only one, Sgt. Willard Carman, was hospitalized. The pilot, Capt. Keith Sessions, was slightly injured but not hospitalized.

Six Airmen Killed, Several Seriously Injured In Crash

CHRISTCHURCH, N.Z. (UPI)—A giant U.S. Air Force Globemaster transport plane crashed in the Antarctic today, killing six of the 13 men on board. "Several" of the seven survivors were reported critically injured.

Dramatic air and ground rescue efforts were being pressed to pluck the downed airmen from the wastes of the polar continent in 40 degree below zero weather that was expected to get worse.

The four-engine C124 left Christchurch on a supply mission to Cape Hallett, an outpost 450 miles from the main U. S. base at McMurdo Sound.

Reports reaching here said the plane was losing altitude preparatory to dropping a 12,000-pound load of lumber when it hit a 500-foot hill 1,500 feet above sea level, in the area of the towering Admiralty Mountains.

Apparently, the timber broke loose on impact and crashed forward, killing or injuring the men on the cargo deck. The survivors were on the flight deck.

SOS signals broadcast by a battery-operated emergency radio established the plane's approximate position. But bad weather made it impossible immediately to sight the wreckage from the air.

A ground party started out from Cape Hallett, 30 miles away, and pilots of other Globemasters flying over the same route established radio contact with the survivors.

Synagogue Stoned, Police Hunt Bomb In St. Patrick's

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police searched St. Patrick's Cathedral today for a reported bomb and investigated the stoning of a Brooklyn synagogue.

A police emergency squad and a half dozen radio patrol cars rushed to St. Patrick's after Father William O'Brien at the cathedral reported he received a telephone call from a man who said there was a bomb planted in the Fifth Avenue edifice. The priest said the man identified himself as Michael Romano.

A search of the block-size structure failed to disclose evidence of a bomb.

Police also were called to the Synagogue Ahaus Achin in the Bensonhurst section of Brooklyn by custodian Nathan Birch, who reported three small panes of glass had been broken by stones. Total damage was placed at $1,500.

The cathedral bomb scare occurred toward the close of the 6:30 a. m. Mass. About 500 worshippers were in the cathedral at the time. The Mass was completed despite the police search, which continued during the 7:30 a. m. Mass.

In view of bombings in Peoria, Ill., Atlanta, Boston and other cities, Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy issued an order to all policemen to "be alert to prevent any desecration or act of vandalism or malicious mischief at or in the vicinity of places of worship, religious centers and cemeteries."

30-Day Forecast: Warm, Little Rain

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast from now until mid-November calls for warm, dry weather for much of the nation. The forecast follows.

"Temperatures to average above seasonal normals over most of the nation, except for near to below normal east of the Appalachians, along the Gulf Coast, and also in the Pacific Northwest. There are some indications of a sharp break in the prevailing warm regime, perhaps during the first half of November, but it is too early to specify the nature of the new weather pattern.

"Precipitation is predicted to be subnormal over most areas, except for near to above normal in the western quarter of the country and also along the Gulf Coast."

Next Pope To Face Serious Problems, Vatican Declares

By DANIEL F. GILMORE
VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The next pope faces problems perhaps as grave and far-reaching as any in the history of the Roman Catholic Church, Vatican sources said today.

The fight to the death against Communism and a need to shore up the inner structure of the church were the two major problems threatening the church.

The Vatican readily admitted that Communism poses the greatest threat to its existence the church has faced. However, much of the speculation on the new pope to be selected by the conclave of cardinals meeting here Oct. 25 was based on problems not connected with the Communist menace.

A strong current in Vatican circles believes the new spiritual leader of the world's 960-million Roman Catholics should be a "pastoral" pope who would concentrate on the major internal church problems. Pope Pius XII, who was buried Monday, was regarded as a "diplomatic" pope.

A high Vatican source, after stressing the overriding importance of the struggle against Communism to which the late pope dedicated himself, cited three main problems the new pope must face:

—A shortage of priests, missionaries and religious orders all over the world. The shortage is particularly grave in some Latin American countries and in Africa, Ireland and Spain are considered the only nations which don't have a serious lack of priests.

—The need to adapt the ancient machinery of the church to the vast changes in life during the current century.

—The restoration of the seal that can propagate the church in such great territories as Africa, and the need to strengthen religious instruction and the participation of the faithful in liturgical rites.

The source, however, did not discount the Communist menace in the thinking of the men who will choose the new pope.

Deaths

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Arthur C. Jacobson, who retired last month as editor of the Medical Times, a national monthly magazine, died Wednesday at the age of 86.

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (UPI)—Jack Norton, who appeared in more than 200 films in the brief role of a lovable drunk, died Wednesday at the Will Rogers Hospital, of a respiratory ailment.

CHICAGO (UPI)—Capt. Thomas J. Callaghan, 73, long time U.S. Secret Service man who guarded such presidents as Theodore Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman, died Wednesday.

Faubus Gets Yen, Hint On Spending

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Gov. Orval Faubus appreciates all contributions to the Little Rock Private School Corp. in its plan to circumvent integration, but some of the money won't be of much use.

Some of the letters that are arriving daily at the gubernatorial mansion and the governor's office contain Confederate bills—in denominations of from $100 to $1,000. Enclosed with a Japanese yen was this note:

"Orval: I suggest you go to the land of the rising sun and spend this."

Faubus Nominated For Honor Medal

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus has been nominated for the $5,000 George Washington Honor Medal awarded annually by the Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa.

Robert B. Snowden, wealthy Memphis planter, nominated Faubus as a "champion of states rights against the federal government." Faubus said he was "honored by the confidence in me expressed by the nomination."

Actor Loses Round To Ex-Wife; Judge Delays Decision

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actor Sterling Hayden's ex-wife Betty has won the latest round in what may well turn out to be a battle for custody of the couple's four children.

The District Court of Appeals in Los Angeles Wednesday postponed until Nov. 19, a ruling on whether or not Hayden could take the children, Christian, 10, Thor, 9; Getchen, 8; and Matthew 6, on a proposed cruise to the Baltic Sea aboard the actor's boat.

"I won't go without them," Hayden said. "It looks like I may have to cancel the trip altogether." Hayden originally planned to leave on Sept. 15 but his ex-wife's suit prevented him from doing so.

one of the largest illegal whiskey operations in Central Florida.

The arrests climaxed a four-month investigation by county, state and federal authorities which began when Harry L. Kennick, 58, Daytona Beach, allegedly attempted to bribe E. C. Stansland, district supervisor for the state Beverage Department.

Stansland reported the bribe and was ordered to cooperate with the moonshiners until the investigation was complete and authorities were ready to move in. Stansland said Kennick offered to pay him $250 a month to "look the other" way while Kennick operated nine stills.

Kennick, termed as one of the largest dealers in the area, was arrested behind the state Beverage Department office during a payoff rendezvous. He was charged with bribery and conspiracy to violate the state beverage code and released on $2,000 bond.

The others, charged with violation of the beverage code, were identified as Gus Stephens, Teresa Beverly, Annie Mae Boatly, Charles Robinson and Sam McDowell.

Write-In Appears Certain In County

Seminole County apparently will have a write-in candidate for County Commissioner in District 4 in the November general election. A political advertisement in The Herald today informs voters to "be prepared for a write-in candidate" and gives instructions on voting for such a candidate. The advertisement was signed by the Countywide Seminole County Citizens Council. It did not reveal the name of the write-in candidate, the chairman of the Council, Vernon W. Dunn, Democratic nominee in District 4, last week said that he had been informed that he would face opposition from a write-in candidate, Dunn defeated incumbent B. C. Dodd by 37 votes in the Sept. 8 Democratic primary. Dodd has been mentioned as a possibility. Another name which has cropped up in the political speculation is Lee Gary, Oviedo. In addition to Dunn's charge that a small group is seeking to "beat me," the Longwood Citizens League has reported an "underground movement" to enter a write-in candidate in the race. It demanded that Dodd take a stand on the issue.

The advertisement today was the first public announcement that a write-in candidate would oppose Dunn. Under state law, voters are given the option of the write-in, whether a candidate wages a campaign or not. Dodd in January will complete 12 years on the County Commission. He and incumbent Fred A. Dwyer were defeated in the Democratic primary. Dwyer lost to David Gatchel, a member of the Sanford City Commission.

Seminole County Starts Crippled Children's Unit

Seminole County last night organized a unit of the Florida Society for Crippled Children, the first such in the county's history. Elected president of the new organization was Ken McIntosh. Other officers are Mrs. Robert Bradford, vice-president; Mrs. Ernest Housholder, secretary; and Howard McNulty, treasurer. The charter for the new unit was presented to the local group by Gen. Vatican Is Seeking Little Iron Stove

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Vatican officials raced against time today to find the little iron stove used to announce to the world that a new pope has been chosen.

Vatican sources admitted Thursday night that the stove, last used 19 years ago to announce the election of Pope Pius XII, was missing. Every storehouse in Vatican City has been searched without finding a trace.

The age-old stove has been used in several conclaves to burn the ballots of the electing cardinals. When a new pope is chosen, the cardinals mix the ballots with dry straw and a Sistine Chapel to announce the white smoke rises above the dome.

If the vote fails to gain a majority, the ballots are mixed with wet straw to yield black smoke.

McInnes Shoots Ace; His Fourth

Harold McInnes yesterday realized the ambition of all golfers, but the hole-in-one was "old hat" to him. It was his fourth.

Playing with Tom Butts and Robert S. Billheimer, McInnes scored the 108-yard No. 7 at Mayfair Inn Country Club. He used a No. 4 wood for the drive because he was firing into a strong headwind.

McInnes was happy, naturally. He said the ace yesterday maintained his average, a hole-in-one about every 10 years. Although he admitted that ace are acquired with aid of "a lot of luck," he accepted it as if he had planned it that way.

The ace helped him finish the round in 71, his best score since the Mayfair course was lengthened two months ago. A hole-in-one and a 71 on the same day, it should happen to every golfer.

Little Rock Sets Opening For 'Private' High School

Little Rock, Ark. (UPI)—The Little Rock Private School Corp., with contributions totaling $61,481.25 in the bank, announced today that it will open private classes for white high school seniors in private quarters Monday.

"We feel that this amount will allow us to start operating," said Dr. Thomas J. Roney, president of the private school corporation.

"W. C. Brashear, (private school superintendent) says we have a sufficient number of teachers to operate the senior class."

Private school will start, he said, in a huge, three-story building in western Little Rock that formerly housed the University of Little Rock Graduate Center. The corporation has signed a lease for it with Vance Thompson, who bought the building recently.

There are three temporary corrugated iron buildings nearby that also can be used.

Newsman interviewed Roney today under the maple trees on the lawn in front of the building. There is a row of dilapidated Negro homes directly across the street.

An reporter arrived, Little Rock firm men were tacking a huge cloth sign on the tall white columns at the entrance to the building.

The sign said, "Senior High School" in big letters, and below that in smaller letters, "Little Rock Private School Corp."

Gov. Orval E. Faubus disclosed Thursday night that Roney, an osteopath, would have an "important announcement" today.

Faubus sponsored the private school plan and personally appealed for contributions to operate private classes.

The plan is an alternative to Faubus' original plan to lease the closed high schools, reopen them at private, segregated institutions and pay the tuition of students with state tax funds. This was stopped by federal court injunction.

UF Total Climbs; Support Is Urged

Approximately $400 had been collected for the United Fund in Seminole County today.

In a joint announcement today, Harold Kastner, George Tough, Roy Mann and C. E. Tucker urged support for the drive. A goal of $36,000 has been set for the UF this year.

Organization for the campaign has been completed. Leaders expressed the hope that Seminole County residents would "give generously" to the drive, which supports the activities of green local charity, welfare and youth agencies.

Chairmen have been appointed for Lake Mary, the Altamonte-Lungwood and Geneva. Howard McNulty, campaign chairman, stressed that the UF is a "county-wide affair" and urged participation by residents of all areas.

5 Indicted For Bombing

ATLANTA (UPI)—Five men were indicted today in connection with the dynamiting of the Jewish Temple here.

The grand jury handed down indictments against the quartet that could possibly send them to the electric chair for the dynamiting last Sunday of the house of worship on famed Peachtree Street.

An Atlanta detective working on the case disclosed meanwhile that the identity of a so-called "fat cat" financier of such terrorist activity as the Temple bombing is known.

Those indicted today include Wallace H. Allen, an Atlanta printing salesman who lives in a $40,000 home in an upper class section, George Bright; Kenneth Chester Griffin, an employee of the State Revenue Department; and Richard and Robert Bowling, brothers.

The indictments came under terms of a state criminal code that sets up a penalty of 20 years imprisonment and possible execution for dynamiting a building within a city limits.

Most investigators believed the bombing was part of an interstate, possibly international, conspiracy.

Detective Capt. R. E. Little Jr. said he "definitely" knows the identity of a person referred to as "fat cat" financier who, the writer said, "is putting his $55 where his mouth is, God bless him."

The letter contained this line: "The big blast is all set for either next Sunday or Saturday. . . We will know tomorrow and will keep you informed. But we want to have it Sunday, if possible, because the boys are coming down from New York for the bank here — no guts in the local citizens — and we want to have Saturday in pass out thousands of handbills and put up posters to sort of steam things up for the big blow itself."

Randall Chase, president of Chase and company, said today no flame developed from the chemicals. However, company officials did call the Lake Mary Fire Dept. to stand by in the event fire did break out.

Motorists and residents in the vicinity became alarmed over the smoke and calls were made to the Naval Air Station and other facilities for fire equipment.

Needed In Sanford: 80 To Run Sewing Machines

Needed in Sanford: about 80 women who have had experience on automatic sewing machines, and who would like employment in one of the three local textile plants.

The call for help was issued today by Sanford Manufacturing, Brookfield Mills and Pierrro Manufacturing. Thus, Sanford's fast-growing garment industry again flexed its muscles for expansion of plants and payroll.

Pierrro Manufacturing earlier this week announced plans to move into new and larger quarters, increasing its payroll at the time of the move. Yesterday, Sanford Manufacturing officials said they would like to double their present payroll.

Marvin Meltzer, plant manager, said about 30 employees now are working. Present annual payroll is about $250,000. Meltzer said the payroll could be increased to $500,000 "if we can get qualified employees to fill our pressing needs."

The field office's current operations this week after a summer shutdown. This plant, which manufactures bathing suits, needs experienced machine operators to get into full and expanded production.

John Krider, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, estimated that the Sanford area has "at least 100" experienced machine operators who are not employed by either of the three local plants. Many of these, Krider added, "would be happy to get these jobs — our problem is locating them and informing them that the jobs are available."

Meltzer said Sanford Manufacturing is planning to add 20 machines immediately. He would like to add a second (night) shift at the plant, if qualified employees can be found. However, the plant needs employees on the day shift at present.

The three plants need additional employees due to increased production. Applications should be made at plants.

26 Believed Dead As 2 Ships Sink

LONDON (UPI)—A Russian fishing boat and a Danish freighter sank in heavy seas off northern Britain today with a loss of life estimated at 26 or more. British rescue vessels landed some Russian survivors in Britain against Soviet wishes.

Twenty five seamen were reported drowned when the Soviet trawler SHT 442 broke up on jagged rocks off the island of Unst in the Shetlands north of Scotland.

Capitans of other Soviet vessels in the area radioed demands that any survivors be put aboard their ships and not taken ashore. British rescue ships ignored the demands and took three rescued Russians to the Shetland town of Lerwick.

The Danish freighter Adler Svanholm went down in the North Sea about 10 miles off the English coast after springing a leak at the height of the storm.

Reports from the scene said the British trawler Trinidad had rescued the freighter's 25 crewmen and recovered the body of the captain, who apparently was washed overboard.
