GATOR HUNTERS GET A SECOND SHOT Alligator hunters who had permits to hunt Sept. 1-8 and Sept. 8-15 didn't get to participate because of the state of emergency caused by Hurricane Frances, but the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) had good news for them Friday. FWC executive director, Ken Haddad, signed an executive order authorizing Sept. 1-8 permit holders to hunt gators Oct. 8-15. Sept 8-15 permit holders can take gators Oct. 15-22. These permit holders will be receiving a postcard that will provide additional details relevant to this action. FWC officials said alligator trappers should be sure to be in possession of their original permit while hunting during these additional harvest periods since the FWC will not be sending replacement permits.

In addition, the FWC may authorize similar accommodations for Sept. 15-22 and Sept. 22 -Oct. 1 permit holders if a state of emergency exists over those harvest periods.

The city commission voted 3 to 2 in January not to renew Grieshaber's contract, and because the commission was coming up on elections, a decision either way became a hot topic during the campaign.

Newly elected Mayor Linda Kuhn said in April that she was disappointed the issue had become a part of the campaign, but had earlier said she would Grieshaber attempted to fire Van Gaale for using a city-leased golf cart for personal needs during the Fourth of July celebration in 2004.

The decision to accept Grieshaber's resignation included conditional items such as a continuation of salary and benefits until Nov. 30, in return for consultation on some of the 35 ongoing projects he had been involved with. Then, interim manager Miller came on

Miller, who has more than 40 years experience in a city manager position, has introduced a Friday letter to the commissioners that is posted on the city's newly designed Web site, and has also helped the city reorganize its goals, which most recently included instituting 21 more jobs to the city staff to help move the city forward.

In June, Miller was given the go ahead to perform the city manager search for candidates. He promised to narrow the list of applicants down to no more than 10. The six he narrowed it down to will participate in phone interviews with the commissioners during Aug. 18-22.

State office to sweep Seminole auto repair

By Staff Reports

TALLAHASSEE — Florida Agriculture and Consumer Services commissioner announced Tuesday that inspectors will conduct a sweep of auto repair shops in Seminole County next week.

The inspections will make sure that shops are registered with the state and complying with regulations governing estimates and invoices for repair according Commissioner Charles Bronson.

The proactive inspections, which will begin Monday, are designed to enhance the consumer protections offered by Bronson's department to car and truck owners in Florida.

"It is critical that shops are properly registered and providing written statements and invoices," Bronson said. "Shops that fail to comply with these requirements are not treating consumers fairly and enjoy a competitive advantage over shops that follow the rules."

The blitz is expected to continue for two or three days, and will involve visits to each of the 492 registered auto repair shops in Seminole County as well as visits to any unregistered facilities that inspectors detect during their sweep.

Under Florida law, motor vehicle repair shops are required to be registered with the Florida Department of Agriculture and

Plan would spend $7.7 billion, but won't fulfill transportation needs

LAKE MARY - A regional transportation plan will invest $7.7 billion over the next 20 years, but that still won't be enough to meet all the needs of Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties, according to the executive director of MetroPlan.

Oviedo police looking for teen offering rides to bus students

By Llane Edixon Herald Staff

SANFORD - Local schools are open now, and just a few weeks in, the safety of children becomes a prevalent issue again.

The Seminole County Sheriff's Office and the Oviedo Police Department are looking for a man they say is approaching middle school aged students at their bus stops and offering them rides.

Several citizens have called in their complaints about the 18- to 19-year-old suspicious man.

The first incident happened Monday, Aug. 8 around 9 a.m. when the suspect asked students at a Chiles Middle School bus stop if they wanted a ride to school.

A parent of one of the students witnessed the exchange and none of the students got into the vehicle. The parent later learned that none of the students knew the man, a news release said.

The parent called the Sheriff's Office to report the incident, which happened at Lockwood Boulevard and Hampstead Cove.

Then on Wednesday, Aug. 10, the Oviedo Police Department took a report of a male approaching some students at another middle school bus stop, located within Oviedo's city limits.

Again, none of the students got into his car. The car reportedly sped off when another vehicle approached

Local teacher union declares contract draw

The Seminole Education Association has declared an impasse with the State of Florida Public Employees Relations commission in an effort to secure a fair and equitable contract settlement for more than 4,000 teachers they represent who work for the Seminole County public Schools.

Rick Hillman, President of the SEA said, "This was not an easy decision to make. However, after several weeks of ongoing negotiations with no or very little movement from the School Board of securing an equitable salary structure for all teachers in Seminole County, we felt we had not choice but to utilize the problem solving process set forth in Florida Statute by the Public Employee Relations Commission."

The 2005 teacher negotiations began on June 20, 2005 and continued for several sessions throughout the summer. However, discussions came to an end on Thursday, Aug. 11, late in the evening. The final days of negotiations were spent in voluntary mediation resolution to no avail. A formal declaration of impasse has been submitted to the State's Commission by the teachers' association. Once officially received by the state, an available Special Master will be selected by both sides to assist in securing a settlement for the teachers in Seminole County. The Special Master's role is to evaluate the positions and proposals of both the Association and the School Board, and render a recommendation to both sides.

"We are optimistic that this step in the negotiation process will result in a favorable agreement for the teachers we represent", said Hillman.

"We feel strongly about the priority goals we have set for this year's negotiations and to accomplish them will take very little movement from the School Board - we are not that far apart financially," said Paul Sanchez, Executive Director of the SEA.

Sanchez further stated: "That these priority goals were set by the teachers of Seminole County and they began to define them when they elected President Hillman last April to lead them toward achieving them."

"On behalf of SEA, I want to thank the community for their unwavering support of the teachers," Hillman said.

DAR chapter donates flags to LMHS

LAKE MARY — Mandated by the 2004 Florida Legislature, each public school classroom in the state will be flying a flag of the United States of America at least three by five feet in size when the students return to class Aug. 1. JROTC students have been installing new flags during the summer.

Several financial institutions in Seminole County were contacted by individual members of Sallie Harrison Chapter, DAR, and graciously provided donations for the project. One such institution was the Fairwinds Federal credit Union on Airport Blvd.

Tuesday, July 26, three Navy cadets from the Lake Mary High School JROTC assembled at Lake Mary Elementary School to conduct a flag ceremony. They are Roger Walton, Jr., Evan Sknederin and Jacob Chaires. Lake Mary Elementary School Principal Mrs. Deborah Wright joined DAR members Dr. Lois Somerville, Regent, Fran Morton, Virginia Powell, Elisabeth Boyd and Mary Anna Rockey. The ceremony took place in Mrs. Christine Watkin's classroom.

Credit Union personnel were unable to attend, but will receive a certification of appreciation for their contributions. Richard Wells, Director of Community Involvement and Public Information for the Seminole County public Schools coordinated the project in compliance with Freedom Flag Act (H1757) provisions.

The deadline for applicants was July 22, 2005, and what Miller called a stringent list of criteria, is a possible reason for the short list of 49 candidates. Although the list was shorter than usual, Miller said it was helpful in narrowing down the field.

"Upon scanning the resumes as they come in, I believe Sanford is in a great position to hire a quality city manager," Miller said a few weeks ago.

Qualifications that commissioners had requested for the candidates included: International City/County Management Association Credentialed Member; master's degree in public administration or similar; experience with full service local government; demonstrated success; accomplished in a transitional city or economy; strong personality, with the ability to say no to commission; manager, not a dictator; good at inter-local government relations; skilled in diverse community interest groups; an open communicator; an innovator; people ori-ented (all the time); a mitigator who can deal well with conflict whether internally or externally; willing to get involved in the community.

Of the 49 applicants interested in the position, Miller found six that he felt would be a good fit for Sanford. (See separate list of candidates, this page.) On Aug. 22,the commissioners will narrow down the candidates to three to five, following phone interviews.

Duncan Ballantyne: Currently employed for the last nine years as the city manager of Concord, N.H., population of 41,000. Also worked as a city manager for Bath, Maine, for more than six years. He has also worked for five years as an assistant city manager in Grand Rapids, Mich., and an assistant to the city manager in Charlotte, N.C., for more than five years. He began his career in local government more than 28 years ago in Charlotte as a Budget and Evaluations Analyst.

Barbara Lipscomb: Currently employed for the last year as interim city manager in Gainesville, population of 118,000. Before that, she was the assistant city manager in Gainesville for less than a year. She also worked as an assistant city manager/deputy city manager of Lakeland, Florida for 18 years. She began her career in local government in administrative positions in Grand Rapids, Mich., more than 30 years ago.

Dean Sprague: Currently employed for the last ten years as the city manager in Maitland, population of 18,000. He also served as assistant county manager of Brevard County for more than a year. He began his career in local government 26 years ago in Florida holding several administrative positions.

Richard White: Former town manager of Lexington, Mass., population of 32,000, for 17 years. Before that he was town manager of Bedford, Mass., for three years. His local government career spans 27 years.

Robert Yehl: Former president/CEO of Woodlands Community Service Corporation of Woodlands, Texas, population of 80,000 for three years. Before that, he was city manager of West University Place, Texas, population of 14,500 for more than six years. He also served as an assistant city manager for Des Moines, Iowa, for nine years. Most of the through freight trains would be rerouted north and west of the commuter rails.

He estimated that by 2010, commuter rail could be in place. At that same time, from 2010 to 2014, heavy construction is expected along Interstate 4, so many people could use commuter trains as an alternative.

Barley said the 20 year transportation regional plan through the year 2025 will meet many needs, but won't keep up with the growth. To continue on the same trend as the region does now, however, would end up with even worse congestion.

And building roads is not going to be the only solution, he told the Lake Mary Commission.

The tri-county plan is the only place in Florida where a regional plan extends beyond one county, he said. The MetroPlan Orlando plan was approved by the board in September 2004.

The plan involves more than just transportation, he said. "Our economy moves on wheels," he explained. Any improvements in transportation will be felt in the economy and environment, for example. He talked about the causes of congestion in the three county area. The region greets 50,000 new people per year with an additional 35,000 added cars and trucks for roads. Growth is wonderful, he said, but it comes with responsibilities. He also gave statistics to show that Lake Mary is growing faster than the county and the region, percentage wise.

In addition to new residents, Central Florida of course welcomes thousands of tourists and business travelers to its roads every day. The plan calls for several rail projects, of which commuter rail will be the first. Light rail plans will return in the future as well as high speed rail. Bus transportation will increase accordingly as well, Barley said. That will include some rapid transit areas and probably double the number the buses in the future. Extending and adding bicycle paths are also part of the regional plan. "We have created these problems," Barley said. The area cannot do the same things it has always done and expect a different out-

The plan also searches for new revenue to pay for regional transportation answers, he said. E-pass, for example, has been very successful, he said. Another revenue source may be rental car surcharges. A proposed $2 per day sur-charge could give the region $60 million extra to help with transportation problems.

Barley said he is convinced people will not stop coming to Central Florida if there is a $2 surcharge on their rental cars. Legislative help will be needed to get this idea approved. The recent federal transportation bill also increases funding by 33 percent, Barley said, but it pays for projects done up to eight years ago. "It's eaten that up very, very fast," he said. The federal gas tax is another area that could bring in more revenue for transportation, Barley said. The 18.4 cent federal gas tax has not increased in many

"So I think the solution is state, local and user fees," Barley said.

E-pass also cuts down on delays too on toll roads. Barley said 50 percent of the delays on I-4 and other places stem from the fact that accidents happen.

"It's amazing, the rubbernecking phenomenon," Barley said. In March, MetroPlan held a regional safety summit to recognize the 10 worst accident locations and the 10 worst behaviors that cause acci-

The number of accidents through July is slightly better than last year. Seminole County had 29 traffic deaths through July in 2004. That number was escalating, he said. This year, the county has seen 27 traffic deaths through July. 'At least it's not escalating as it had been," he said. The plan will look at the behaviors of motorists. What happens when an accident occurs, he said for instance. Education about clearing lanes can help lessen the time it takes to restore normal traffic flow. Planners will also look at growth in Central Florida.

Barley said the region needs smart growth because urban sprawl and uncontrolled economic growth are a recipe for more transportation prob-

Bronson explained the importance of repair shops being registered, saying that authorities cannot track problems at such facilities or perform inspections at them if his department is unaware

Locals helping war dogs beat the heat

By Charles D. Jackson Herald Correspondent

SANFORD — Efforts are underway locally to help equip and protect one of America's most vital assets fighting wars in Iraq and Afghanistan — the military K-9 troops.

Military Working Dog Teams are an integral part of the United States mission in the Middle East. Several hundred working dogs perform their duties in the heat and sandstorms. Heat exhaustion is a major concern, with temperatures reaching 130 degrees during the month of August.

To help keep the K-9's cool, a Sanford store is raising money to purchase "cooling Dog vests." Bone-Jour Dog Boutique and Bakery, 210 E. 1st St., in Sanford, launched a campaign last week to obtain the "Chilly Dog cooling vest," which is the specialty itemmost requested by the dog handlers, according to store owner Nicole Poch.

The vests cost $130 each with the needed additional cooling packs of $80. The vests help combat the intense heat with an active ingredient that is natural so the dogs will not be poisoned if the vest is punctured.

Other items dogs need are treats and biscuits, booties to protect sensitive paws, frontline, protective eyewear, flea collars, toys, shampoo, brushes and grooming supplies and nail clippers.

Poch is working with the Space Coast War Dogs Association in sending the needed supplies to the troops.

"My goal is to get as many vests and we can," Poch said. "These animals are fighting tremendous heat and combatants to help our country's interests, so I think it's important for us to help support them."

Poch said the drive will continue through August. The cooling vests are made by Patrick Air Force Base in Brevard County.

Pitch for cell phones calls for response

Sanford Rotary Club to act on a pitch from Dottie Burkett to help the elderly.

Last week, Burkett, an elder care officer with the Seminole County Sheriff's Department, told Rotarians and guests about the need to help the elderly by donating used cell phones so they can make emergency phone calls.

Monday, On Dave Shidemantle, the club's community service chair, asked Rotarians for their support in fulfilling Burkett's wish of cell phones for the elderly. Immediately, ideas went forth on how to begin collecting the phones. People may be able to drop off used cell phones at members' places of business or give them to any Rotarian. Burkett said the devices would be a vital link to emergency personnel for seniors who often live solitude lives, many trying to remain inde-pendent although their health may be failing.

SPEAKING OF SENIORS: Rotary is planning "John Mercer Day" to celebrate the club's longest-serving member (with perfect attendance), who joined the international organization more than 50 years ago. Mercer is a longtime banker in the Seminole County area, who has given many years to the betterment of his community. He's called on regularly within and without of Rotary to share his knowledge and wisdom. John Mercer Day is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 20, at the Red Tail Golf Club from 6 to 8 p.m. RSVP to Chris Stubbs, 407-

The commercial was for Friendly's ice-cream, one of Collin's dream commercials, since he loves snacking on everything from cotton candy ice cream to chocolate ice cream, as long as it isn't

In the commercial a little girl named Amy is walking down the street, presumably heading toward Friendly's for her birthday. Everyone is saying hello and hi to her as she walks with her mother and father. Toward the end, Collin is sitting with a friend in a baseball field, and he's wearing a catcher's outfit. "This would include strangers who approach your children while they play in their yard, while they wait for a bus, or, for older kids, while they cruise the mall or use the net," Olson said.

According to Olson, parents should also be aware that it is not just a stranger who can do harm to children.

LEXINGTON, VA. — VMI head baseball coach Marlin Ikenberry recently announced the addition of a pair of assistant coaches, as Ryan Mau and Joe Hastings will each join the program following a trip to the NCAA Regionals with their former teams.

"I am extremely excited about Joe and Ryan," said Ikenberry. "They both come from great baseball backgrounds both as players and now as coaches. Both played professionally and for programs that competed for championships year in and year out. They both come from programs that played in a regional and know what type

Seminole Community College recently named Tara Gibson and Bobby Washington head coaches for women and men's basketball for the 2005-06 season following the departure of Coaches Lisa Nuxol and Stan Cromartie.

Tara "Coach T" Gibson takes over the helm as women's basketball head coach following three years as an assistant basketball coach at SCC and four years as an assistant basketball coach at Daytona Beach Community College where she earned the honor of Mid Florida Conference Volunteer Coach-of-the-Year, while assisting the Lady Falcons to four straight state tournament appearances.

A Lake Brantley High School and University of Central Florida graduate with seven years of coaching under her belt, Gibson makes her head coaching debut in familiar territory.

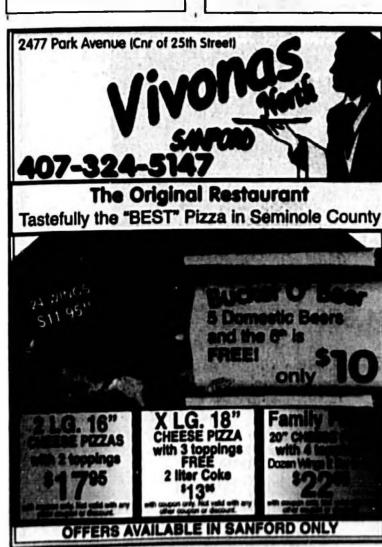

As an assistant at SCC, Gibson helped re-establish Lady Raider basketball as a national powerhouse. In three years, the Lady Raiders earned two state tournament berths. finishing second in Mid-Florida Conference play each year. During the 2004-05 season, the Lady Raiders ranked as high as ninth nationally and as high as fourth in the state.

Gibson enjoys spending time with her mother Lois, sister Tiffany and her nieces Jessica and Jordan along with being involved in her church and other volunteer activities.

Alex de la Fe will continue as assistant coach for the Lady Raiders.

DeLand teenager injured in boating accident Saturday

Special to the Herald

Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) law enforcement officers are investigating a boating accident in which a 13year-old girl was injured in Lake Beresford in Volusia County about 4 p.m., Saturday.

Danielle Gamroth, 13, of DeLand, was run over by a pontoon boat and then cut by its propeller. The vessel was operated by her father, Donald Gamroth, 43, also of DeLand.

Moments before the accident, Danielle was sitting in front of the boat's guardrails in the front of the vessel, hanging her legs in the water, a practice commonly called "bow riding". The boat was traveling on a plane when Gamroth suddenly slowed it down. The motion caused Danielle to fall overboard, but before he realized his daughter was in the water, Gamroth powered the vessel back up and ran over her, according to FWC Investigator Al Corfield.

"Allowing bow riding is typically considered careless operation," said Joy Hill, FWC's public information coordinator for the Northeast Region. "It is a boating violation and a dangerous practice which often results in people being thrown overboard, as was the case with Danielle."

The pontoon boat was a rental from Holly Bluff Marina in DeLand. None of the six other passengers on board were injured in the acci-

Danielle was transported by Volusia County's Air One to Halifax Medical Center in Daytona. The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission is investigating the cause of the Safe Boating Tip: Pay attention while operating a vessel. Careless operation was the number one cause of boating accidents in Florida last year.

"We just can't say it enough - when operating a vessel, pay attention to what's going on around you," said Hill. "A boat's operator needs to be aware of what everyone on the boat is doing, what's in front, behind and on the sides of the vessel, what other vessels in the water are doing, speed zones, manatees, skiers, swimmers - you name it . There's a lot going on out there, and it's the operator's responsibility to be aware of it."

$1.9 MILLION WAL-MART FLW REDFISH SERIES TO VISIT TITUSVILLE

The $1.9 million Wal-Mart FLW Redfish Series - the most lucrative redfish tournament trail in the world - is headed to Titusville this weekend (Aug. 19-20) for the circuit's seventh event. Up to 150 teams will be competing in the Eastern Division's final tournament of the regular season, which features a $200,000 cash purse.

Anglers, competing in two-man teams, will fish for a top award of as much as $50,000. Competitors will also be vying for valuable points that could earn them a berth into the noentry-fee $300,000 Wal-Mart FLW Redfish Series Championship in Mobile, Ala., Oct. 27-29 for a shot at as much as $100,000.

A stone's throw from the Kennedy Space Center, some of the nation's best redfish anglers might find the Titusville waters and the popular Mosquito Lagoon a bit low when the tournament arrives in late August.

Sand Point Park will host daily takeoffs and weigh-ins at 7 a.m. and 3 p.m., respectively. Takeoffs and weigh-ins are free and open to the public.

Teams will compete for two days to determine the winner based on accumulated weight.

The winning team earns $25,000 cash. If a member of the winning team is the original owner of a Ranger, Champion, Aquasport, or Wellcraft boat or a Hydra Sports 1900, 2000 or 2300 Bay Bolt that is used during the tournament, the winners also receives a $12,500 bonus. Additionally, if a member of the winning team is the original owner of a Yamaha outboard that is used during the tournament, the winners also receives a $12,500 bonus from Yamaha for total award of $50,000.

Every team that receives weight credit in a tournament earns points that determine angler standings. Two hundred points are awarded to the winner, 199 points for second, 198 points for third, and so on. The top 50 teams from each of the Wal-Mart FLW Redfish Series' two divisions - Eastern and Western - will advance to the championship.

Each Wal-Mart FLW Redfish Series Division features four regular-season tournaments. Named after the legendary founder of Ranger Boats, Forrest L. Wood, FLW Outdoors adminisother national tournament circuits offering a combined $30 million in awards through 214 events in 2005. AUTO CLUBS MAY FALL SHORT WITH TRAILER BOATERS

What happens when a motorist towing a boat trailer has a breakdown on the side of the road or becomes disabled on a busy launch ramp?

The answer you'll likely get from your auto club is you are on your own, according to Boat Owners Association of The United States (BoatU.S.), the nation's largest organization for recreational boaters. That's because most autoclub towing plans only cover vehicles - not boat

"When there's a breakdown, trailer boaters are sometimes forced to leave their trailer boat unattended on the side of the road," said Jerry Cardarelli, vice president of BoatU.S. Towing Services. "With our Trailer Assist & Tow program, we do all the work for you by locating over 14,000 professional towing companies across the country that are equipped to handle both tow vehicle and trailer, and are available through our 24-hour-a-day dispatch centers on both coasts. We get trailer boaters on their way in a hurry - all you have to do is sign and BoatU.S. "Trailer Assist & Tow" is a service that will provide assistance when either the trailer or the towing vehicle suffers a breakdown while trailering a boat. Labor charges for flat tire assistance, fuel delivery, lockout service, or jumpstarting of the towing vehicle are included. Most importantly, if your towing vehicle or boat trailer is disabled while trailering - or even stuck on the launch ramp - Trailer Assist & Tow will pay up to $150 to have your tow vehicle and/or boat trailer towed to the nearest repair facility or safe location. All you have to do is sign for serv-

He also established the Cougars' single-season mark for winning percentage (1.000) while posting a 1.79 ERA, the second-lowest singleseason total in school history. Following his collegiate career, he signed as a free agent with the Florida Marlins and nitched for two seasons with the Kenosha Mammoths and the Southeastern Cloverleafs. Hastings doesn't have far to come with his move to Lexington. He spent last year as the volunteer assistant at the University of Virginia, as the Cavs advanced to the Corvallis Regional as the #2 seed following an improbable run to the ACC Championship game, where they fell 4-3 to #1 seed Georgia Tech.

While at UVA, Hastings worked heavily with the Cavs' summer camp and recruiting.... efforts while coaching outfielders and first basemen. At VMI, he will work primarily with the Keydet hitters and infielders.

The Keydets are coming off of one of the most successful campaigns in school history, as they established a new school record for wins in a season (27), while posting three consecutive 20-win seasons for the first time in school history. Over the past four seasons, the 2005 senior class racked up 85 wins, the most in a four-year period, while breaking the school record for wins twice. This'seeson, the Keydets won six of their final seven regularseason contests to qualify for their first-ever Big South Conference Championship, finishing the season one game under .500 (27-28) while garnering the fifth seed in the tournament with 11 wins in the

Robert L. "Bobby" Washington Jr., joins SCC as men's basketball head coach after serving two years as an assistant coach for the Florida A&M University Rattlers. A young, enthusiastic coach who brought experience and discipline to the Rattlers coaching staff, Washington plans to bring the same passion for the game and coaching to SCC.

Washington's college playing career was injury-plagued, which resulted in only one full season of play with Bellville Area Junior College. He completed his bachelor's degree in Juvenile Services and Corrections at Eastern Kentucky University in 2001 and continued at EKU, earning his master's in Criminal Justice in 2003.

Washington began his coaching career in 2001 as a volunteer, assisting the boy's basketball coach at his alma mater Bryan Station High School in Lexington, Ky. The following season, he served as a graduate assistant coach at Eastern Kentucky in Richmond, Ky., until he joined the Florida A&M University coaching staff for the 2003-04 season.
