

Idiocy Of Some TV Commercials Is Appalling

By Russell Kay
Hello Stupid! No wait, I am serious. Of course, this ribald salutation doesn't apply unless you are one of the poor dumb clucks who listens to the radio and television commercials, and falls for them.

No friend, I didn't insult your intelligence in calling you stupid. The bright-eyed and bushy-tailed Madison Avenue boys did that. They give you an I.Q. about equal to a six-month-old baboon.

Mrs. Sillypants didn't know she was on television. Everybody who believes that can stand on their heads with their tongues hanging out. Mrs. Soubottom thinks her detergent is stronger than Glare, the detergent that reflects the sun. Doesn't she know that she can't get to first base unless she adds Boop-a-doop, Samapoo, and Slick-a-sack? Besides her washing machine would clog.

Then you better not brush your pearly teeth with anything but Glaze, Glow,er, Pepopunk or Puck-apuck, or you will have cavities up to here and behind your little pink ears.

Any poor simple sap knows that no product is worth its salt that isn't new and improved. Next year the poor advertisers will have to fall back on double improved and newer than new. Of course, you and I know that it is the same old product, but we have to sit and listen to bored announcers try to make us believe that black is white and red is green.

And what about shampoos. Why don't you drag out your favorite pearl necklace and tear it apart so that you can drop one in this and another in that bottle of shampoo and see how long it takes for the gem to reach bottom.

And if you happen to shave with an electric razor you know that those that cut this way are far superior to those that cut that way and if you are silly enough to rough up your poor delicate skin with a razor that is obsolete you are as crazy as grandmother's quilt.

And the guy I like is the brave and noble knight that gallops over the countryside with his magic lance and astounding poor dumb mechanics in the grease pit and Little Leaguers at the city park. And what business has he got on a public thoroughfare with traffic running bumper to bumper?

The soap and detergent people used to depend on movie stars and beauty contest winners to sway the feeble mind of the average housewife. Now they got a flock of trained sels. They memorize a lot of drivel and tell how they couldn't live or hold a husband without Glade in their washing machines. Nuts to them and all the poor dumb females who rush to their supermarket and scream for Sids. Wouldn't it be funny if some dumb, crazy manufacturer took the bull by the horns, kicked out all the bright young men on Madison Avenue and just simply took 20 seconds to say "We brought you this splendid television duct which is as good as anything on the market at the price. You can show your appreciation by buying our product which is as good as anything on the market at the price."

Florida Marijuana Ring Is Broken Up

TAMPA, (UPI) — A narcotics ring that planted, cultivated and harvested its own marijuana, has been broken up with the arrest of 10 persons, police revealed today.

The arrests were a result of a lengthy investigation by city, county and state law enforcement agencies.

Fred Usher, district supervisor of the state narcotics division, said the ring was one of the largest in the history of Tampa, and represented a retail profit of about a quarter of a million dollars annually.

Officers said Anthony Larocca, 24, of Tampa, was arrested and charged with violation of narcotics laws. They described him as being the leader of the operation. Larocca leads a musical combo that plays at a local motel.

Police said two of the group were high school students and six were musicians. Only one was a woman.

Bull Fight On TV Allowed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission refused Monday to take action against Chicago station WCUI-TV for televising bull fights. But it said it would consider the matter when the station's license comes up for renewal later this year.

Attorneys for the National Anti-Vivisection Society asked the FCC to revoke the station's license or issue a cease and desist order against it. The lawyers said the televised fights violated Illinois law, but the FCC said the law seemed to prohibit bull fights in the state, not showing of pictures.

Encouragement Is Keynote At CC Meeting

Encouragement was the keynote of Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce which was held at the Trade Winds Cafeteria in Casselberry.

Highlighting the parley was the report of Scott Burns, chairman of the industrial committee. He reviewed recent accomplishments of his group which resulted in the Chemical Corporation taking over the Del Mar Building and the Williams Building being occupied by Southern Fiberglass Products which will manufacture boats.

Francis Roumillat Jr., reviewed the activities of the Port Committee, reporting on the recent trips to Jacksonville and Brunswick and the progress being made in arranging for legislation to be introduced to the 1965 session of the state legislature to create a port authority.

Latest returns gave Lodge 1,308 write-ins and Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., 853, with 841 for former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had 148 votes.

Holland, after campaigning for a fourth term in St. Petersburg, and Clearwater Tuesday, said he would be making a major speech in the Senate Thursday.

Heavy Rains In 13 States

The rising Cuyahoga River in northeastern Ohio was reported near flood stage. Rainfall also has been heavy in southern Arkansas and neighboring areas.

Someday soon a lovely Seminole County girl will take off for the New York World's Fair, courtesy of the Civitan Club.

The lucky girl will be "Miss Seminole County" of 1964 and she will be crowned Saturday night at the Industrial Exhibit which will be held at the Sanford Civic Center.

Holland To Halt Campaign Tour

U.S. Sen. Spessard L. Holland was scheduled to cut off his reelection campaign today to return to Washington and continue his fight against the pending civil rights bill.

His opponent, Bradley T. DeLoach, charged Holland Tuesday with misleading Congress by saying the DuPont estate was a "wholly charitable institution."

Holland, after campaigning for a fourth term in St. Petersburg, and Clearwater Tuesday, said he would be making a major speech in the Senate Thursday.

He told audiences in Pinellas County Tuesday he would rather retire from the Senate than vote for a civil rights bill which "would turn a horde of government agents against every businessman and against every community with desegregation problems."

Arms Money Bill Near House Vote WASHINGTON (UPI)—The administration's $16.7 billion money bill for the Army, Navy and Air Force moved toward a House vote today with no major changes expected to be enacted.

The measure included $52 million for work on the proposed new supersonic bomber instead of the $5 million Johnson requested, but otherwise it embraced about what the President had asked.

But it appeared that any such amendment would be ruled out of order on the ground that nuclear power for the new carrier-opposed by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara—had not been authorized by law.

Observers said it was the first time since the dispute started in late 1959 that so much progress had been made in the tangled controversy.

LBJ On Hand To Open World Fair

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 1964-65 World's Fair opened today with colorful but rain-dampened ceremonies including a dedicatory visit from President Johnson.

The fair's 95 turnstiles at eight entrances began spinning at 9 a. m. (EST), at the command of an electronic impulse from the atomic clock in Neuchatel, Switzerland. Fair chairman Thomas Deegan snipped a ribbon in the city's colors of orange and blue and welcomed the first visitor, William Turchyn, 18, of Neptune, N. J., with a handshake across the turnstile at the main gate.

The turnstile refused to work when Turchyn tried to make his entrance, and repairmen had to be summoned to get it in working order.

"That's not a stall-in, that's a slick-in," someone yelled, referring to the civil rights demonstrations which threatened to mar the opening day. The fair officially marked the 300th anniversary of the establishment of New York as a city. It is the largest exhibition in history and 30,000 employees were on hand this morning to man its 134 pavilions, restaurants and amusements which cost more than $300 million.

Demonstrators Picket Florida Fair Exhibit

NEW YORK (UPI)—About 50 shouting, sign-carrying Negroes began picketing Florida's exhibit at the World's Fair today just after Gov. Farris Bryant arrived for a pre-opening look and one of them tried unsuccessfully to scale a 110-foot citrus tower.

Four policemen dragged the climber down from the second level of the tower, the landmark of the World's exhibition, and carried him off in handcuffs.

The negroes, identifying themselves as members of the congress of racial equality (CORE), shouted slogans, sang hymns and carried signs reading "Freedom Now," and "CORE Demands Its Fair Share."

Ignoring crisp 40-degree temperatures and a chilly drizzle that put a pall over the opening day of the fair, the pickets shouted at Bryant: "Jim Crow Must Go—Governor Bryant Must Go."

Bryant, who had just arrived with a group of newsmen to tour the cluster of Florida pavilions, ignored them and went inside one of the buildings. Several of the negroes, including the one who tried to climb the tower, were put into a police bus and taken away from the scene.

The demonstration began 10 minutes after the governor, state officials and newsmen arrived at the $3.8 million Florida complex shortly after 9:30 a. m.

Bryant, various Cabinet and state agency officials and nearly 100 newsmen from throughout the state flew here Tuesday aboard an Air National Guard plane and an Eastern Air Line jet liner. The wives of the state officials followed the party in a third plane.

The Florida delegation was on hand at noon when President Johnson formally opened the 1964-65 fair. The Florida exhibit is located near one of the five entrances to the big show. The Florida layout, marked by a 110-foot, orange topped citrus tower, was still receiving finishing touches by workmen Tuesday night.

About 2,000 police, evenly divided between fair personnel and city patrolmen, were on hand to maintain order in the face of threats from rebellious local branches of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) to stall hundreds of automobiles on major access routes.

One of their first tasks was to assist the Secret Service to protect Johnson, former President Harry S. Truman, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, daughter of India's Prime Minister Nehru, Marjuesa Carmen Villaverde, daughter of Spain's Generalissimo Franco and other notables.

The 616-acre fairgrounds, which was also the site of the 1939-40 World's Fair, was as soggy as a sponge after days of rain. But freshly laid sod, avenues of trees, and gushing fountains gave a finished look to the exhibition, which was actually only 95 per cent completed at the opening hour.

Civil Rights Discussed By 4 Candidates

By United Press International Four of the state's six Democratic gubernatorial candidates discussed civil rights while the other two talked about education and state legislators who are employed by state agencies.

Sen. Scott Kelly, Lakeland, said his election would lessen the chances of the proposed civil rights bill's passage, while Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns said the bill would be harmful to free enterprise. Fred O. Dickinson, West Palm Beach, said Miami Mayor Robert King High has two views on the civil rights bill.

High, meanwhile, told supporters he "deplored Negro ruffians" who planned to disrupt the opening of the New York World's Fair.

Rep. Fred Karl, Daytona Beach, touched on another issue and said state legislators who draw paychecks from the state government are involved "in a conflict of interest."

Sen. John Mathews Jr., of Jacksonville, said the state must face up to matters like education to prevent federal intervention.

In Panama City Dickinson accused High of defending the bill in South Florida while telling North Florida supporters he has reservations about portions of the bill.

Burns told factory workers at Wauchula the passage of the bill would not end the matter. "We must decide if we are going to lie down and let it steamroller over us or use every legal means to protect the rights of citizens and free enterprise."

Fair Opening Marred By Demonstrators

NEW YORK (UPI)—Civil rights demonstrators harassed the opening of the World Fair today by scuffling with police, delaying subway trains and staging sit-ins.

A planned massive automobile stall-in blocked cars at scattered points, but the city traffic commissioner said traffic flow was less than normal. Reinforced police squads made arrests following demonstrations ranging from Manhattan's Times Square to the Flushing Meadows fair grounds.

Involved in the sit-in demonstrations at the fair were Bayard Rustin, leader of last year's civil rights march on Washington and organizer of New York's first school boycott, and James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE).

First demonstrators were picked up at 7:30 a. m., EST, when they delayed subway trains carrying visitors to the fair by pulling emergency stop cords, throwing themselves on the tracks and preventing train doors from closing.

Sanford C. Of C. Has Open House

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce held an open house at its new offices today at 107 West Commercial.

The newly organized Sanford trade body was host to most of its members and Chamber officials from New Smyrna Beach, Orlando, Winter Park and North Orlando.

Sanford was represented by Mayor A. L. Wilson, Chief of Police Roy G. Williams and Fire Chief Mack Cleveland Sr., representing the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce was Karyl Housholder and Charles Morrison, and the County Commission was represented by its chairman, James P. Avery.

Jim Talmadge, a retired Navy officer, is the group's manager.

Stop Reading Word By Word When, Why And How On Taking Notes

Written for NEA
Time your reading of this column and compare your speed with that indicated at the end. The expected speed assumes a daily five per cent improvement.

Each student has his own system for taking notes from reading. Now there is a really loose statement! System implies intelligent planning and ordering, so let's rather say that each student takes notes and most need a system. We'll answer three questions here: when to take notes, why to take notes, how to take notes.

WHEN SHOULD YOU TAKE NOTES? During thorough reading. In a certain sense you already look notes in the process of selfquizzing following pre-reading they were in question form but they were notes. Your real note-taking, however, accompanies the thorough reading. That answers WHEN.

WHY SHOULD YOU TAKE NOTES? To improve your learning during and after reading and to retain your learning.
How does note-taking improve your learning? By involving more of you. First the eye saw the words and phrases, then the mind translated them into knowledge. That's one learning process. When you take notes in your own words, other muscles are engaged in transcribing what the mind has cast in another way. The mind is involved in two different ways; it is both producing and reproducing. How note-taking helps you to retain is obvious; you have something to save which you actually wrote—your understanding of the subject.

Don't ever make taking notes which you can file away be a substitute for memory. You can have a stack of notes four feet high at the end of your school career and it may be worth only the going price of old paper.

Another point in this connection. One author will cover as much of a subject area as he wants, he may not do all you want. So you will be reading other books in this field. Good. Whether you thoroughly read them or skip and skim through them, you'll have material to supplement the notes you have from the first book. Include the new notes in the proper place with the old notes, and you have more than either author. Your note-taking will reveal points that have to be strengthened and points that have not been covered. You are now motivated to complete those notes by further reading.

HOW TO TAKE NOTES. First, distinguish the useful from the useless; then the more important from the less important. Your clear purpose, pre-reading, self-quizzing and skimming and skimming make this simple.

Second, write the note fully Whitney's "Gin"
Eli Whitney's cotton gin is enshrined at Savannah, Ga., where it was built about 1794. The gin rests in his original workshop, an old barn, now known as the Eli Whitney Museum.

Shares outstanding on April 4 amounted to 12,632,404 compared to 12,638,019 on April 6, 1963.

Winn-Dixie now operates a total of 632 retail stores and eight wholesale units, compared to 607 retail stores and eight wholesale units a year ago.

enough so you'll understand it a year from now, and write it in ink.
Third, use only one side of the filing card or paper. Further reading will give you additional notes, and you want them in the proper place.

We recommend filing cards for note-taking and notebooks for summarizing. Notes on the same subject, taken from other books, may easily be placed in the appropriate place in the pile. If you prefer the note book, then be sure to leave space where you feel further notes are forthcoming.

Finally, you should have some way of recording the source of your notes. Here's one system you can adapt to your preferences. The opening card lists the title and author of each book. For each title make up a code number. On the following cards include the code number of the book plus where the information was found. This makes later reference easy.

Above all, write all notes in your own words.
(You should have read this column in 66 seconds.)

U. S. Prepares For Possible Cuban Crisis After May 1

Threat Stems From Protest Over Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration, anticipating the possibility of a new Cuban crisis within six weeks or so, has contingency plans ready to meet threats on either the military or diplomatic front.

The major peril stems from Russia's intention to turn over to Fidel Castro control of advanced anti-aircraft missiles capable of downing the high flying U2 American reconnaissance planes which keep constant surveillance on the island.

Another type of crisis — this one diplomatic — would erupt if Castro goes through with threats to seek United Nations condemnation of the United States for violation of international law because of its aerial patrol of Cuba.

What happens if the trigger-happy Cuban leader shoots down on the U2 planes when he secures control of the missile systems, which Washington understands will occur about May 1?

The answer, according to officials, is that American retaliation will be swift but tailored to the magnitude of the offense. The U. S. response will not be invasion, at one extreme, or mere diplomatic protest at the other. The punishment, in the words of Gilbert and Sullivan, will fit the crime.

While plans obviously are secret, there is evidence American retaliation might take the form of wiping out the base from which any missile or missiles were fired.

There are 24 of these locations, each with six firing sites. They were built by the Russians, whose military personnel have controlled them since their construction in 1962.

A missile from one of these sites is credited with having destroyed an American U2, which flies at an altitude of more than 70,000 feet, during the October, 1962, missile crisis.

Since then, the Russians scrupulously have refrained from bothering the U2 flights. Khrushchev was unable to persuade Castro to accept international inspection which the Soviet leader had promised to verify withdrawal of his intermediate-range nuclear missiles. These, which were sited in on targets in the southern United States, were withdrawn by Khrushchev along with his nuclear bombers under U. S. pressure.

Davis Talks To Underwriters On Education

State Rep. Joe Davis, speaking this week to the Life Underwriters Association of Seminole County, reviewed the highlights of the 1963 Florida Legislative session. The Sanford attorney said that, in his opinion, the most significant legislation enacted affecting Central Florida was in the area of higher education.
This included the establishment of an Extension of the University of Florida Engineering College which has been located in Brevard County. This school will provide an opportunity for graduate studies in engineering and the sciences for individuals in those fields. It will also provide opportunities for research which will open the door for governmental and industrial grants and contracts.
There was also authorized a four year university which is to be located four miles south of Oviedo. The university will be available to college-age students of Seminole County within the next few years.

He reviewed the appropriations and tax bills which were enacted during the 1963 Session. Davis stated that, with the continued population explosion in Florida, there can be no great reduction in cost of government in the foreseeable future. He did emphasize that there are areas in which government costs can be cut, and any waste, inefficiency and un-needed services should be eliminated.

HLH TO EXHIBIT AT INDUSTRIAL SHOW

HLH Products' $1 million plant located in the 617 acre industrial park, and which employs from 200 to 400 persons at various seasons with an annual payroll of more than half a million dollars, will be one of the exhibitors at this year's industrial show.

The Sanford plant is one of 13 different plants operated by HLH in the United States and is the largest of its kind in Florida. It is a division of Hunt Oil Company, of Dallas, and H. L. Hunt is the president.

This unit is a case of the producer following an existing sales market and taking advantage of the area's natural resources including fertile land, a long growing season, an excellent labor pool, and virtually all types of transportation and rapid distribution facilities.

The plant processes green beans, turnip greens, spinach, collards, kale, tomatoes, potatoes, beets and carrots during the 10-month growing season.

Lake Monroe PO To Cut Service

Parcel post deliveries on Saturday afternoons will be eliminated at the Lake Monroe post office, effective May 4, under a new Post Office Department curtailment order, according to Postmaster Robert A. Mann.

Normal parcel post delivery will be effect on weekdays and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to noon, Mann said.

Window service at the Lake Monroe postoffice on Saturday will be between 8 a.m. and noon. There will be no money order service on Saturdays but window service will be provided for parcel post, CODs, stamps, envelopes and other postal supplies.

The canned goods are marketed under brand names of HLH, Alma, Saxet and Hallmark. Other HLH brands are Butterfield, Triumph and Perfection.

HLH Products also markets locally the 711 different items produced and distributed by HLH throughout the country.

Walter Blevins is the local plant manager.

An industrial spur of the Atlantic Coastline Railroad serves the HLH plant and truck shipments have easy access over U. S. Highway 17-92.

Lyman's Smith Blanks Darters On Three Hits

Leahy Dennis Smith went to the hill Tuesday afternoon for Lyman High of Longwood and scattered three hits as the Greyhounds blanked the Apopka Blue Darters 10 to 0 in an Orange Belt Conference contest at Longwood Park.

The win gave the 'Hounds a record of four victories against three defeats in conference competition. The overall record is five victories against six setbacks. The tilt closed out the regular season for the Greyhounds but they will play in a group tournament.

Lyman moved away out in front during the early frames. The 'Hounds pushed over a pair of runs in the first, four in the second and added a single marker in the third. In the fourth Lyman got three more to end the scoring.

Lisk started for Apopka but was relieved by Sheppard in the second. However, the Greyhounds found the reliever's offerings to their liking and continued their scoring spree, added by four costly Apopka errors.

Richard Smith, Lyman first sacker, came up with a double and a triple. Dennis Smith, Lyman's moundman, fanned 11 Blue Darters while walking only one.

Tribe Gridgers Gain Weight

Of 21 returning lettermen, Seminole High football coach, Jim Pigott, says the average weight has increased nine pounds per man and the chances are that by the time the date for starting spring drills rolls around it may go even higher.

Spring practice will begin May 5. Pigott says it's being billed especially as a varsity function. The Seminole mentor reports also that the team average is now listed at 181 pounds per man. The line average 188 and the backs 178.

Jim says the Seminoles could put a team on the field that would look and sound like this:

South Seminole Punches Holes In JH Defense

By Julian Stenstrom

The Sanford Junior High Braves pounded three South Seminole Junior High hurlers for 14 hits Tuesday afternoon and, despite six errors, the Braves beat the Hurricanes 11 to 9 at the local junior high park.

The Braves recorded their eighth victory of the season against a lone setback, that one coming at the hands of Evans High School's Jayvees at Orlando.

It was a rather wild affair with the Braves blasting the South Seminole pitching on the one hand and playing extremely loose baseball defensive as they posted six miscues.

The Hurricanes jumped into a lead with a pair of first inning scores. The Braves bounced right back to tally three times but South Seminoles quickly knotted the count with a second inning run. The Braves, just as rapidly, untied the score with a single marker in their half of the second.

The Hurricanes took a 5 to 4 lead with two runs in the third and moved to a 7 to 4 margin with two more in the fourth. The Braves then came up with five runs in their half of the fourth to take a 9 to 7 lead. They added two more in the fifth and limited the Hurricanes to one in seventh.

Mark Brewer started on the hill for the Hurricanes. He gave way to Charlie Newell who in turn was relieved by Bruce Stuart. Ron Dudley was the Braves starter but was replaced by Steve Leach in the fifth.

Sanford catcher Tommy Bryant came up with a double, a triple and a single in four trips to the plate. He drove in four of the Braves' runs. Frank Whigham also had three for four, all singles. Mark Caslo, Leach and Dudley also contributed two each to the score.

Helms had a pair of doubles for the Hurricanes while Burg had two for four, both singles.

The Braves will host Lyman High's Baby Greyhounds next Tuesday at the Sanford school's diamond. On April 30 they will meet South Seminole in a return match to be played at Longwood Park.

DAVE WALLACE, designer of the new Deltona Golf and Country Club course looks over a general view of the ninth fairway. In the right background is the site where the new clubhouse is to be constructed. Wallace will be the club pro when the layout is opened in September.

Deltona's New Golf To Be A Challenge

In a little more than four months play will begin on one of the finest and most challenging golf courses in Florida.

The first nine holes of the championship course at the Deltona Golf and Country Club is scheduled to open in September. Construction of the second nine holes will begin shortly.

Frank E. Mackle Jr., president of The Deltona Corporation, said "the golf course is being rushed to completion a full two years ahead of schedule to give our residents the recreation facilities so badly needed in this area."

Construction is scheduled to begin soon on the course clubhouse—overlooking the first tee and the ninth green—which will include a snack bar, locker rooms, pro shop and a club room. A large parking lot will be built adjacent to the clubhouse.

A five-acre driving range is already producing the grasses which will be used to keep the fairways and greens in top shape. Pipe and sprinkler heads have been installed on most of the fairways.

Designed by noted golf course architect Dave Wallace, the Deltona course is being laid out on 150 acres of rolling, tree-covered land on Normandy Boulevard at the north end of the community.

The natural contour of the land makes the site "an ideal location for a golf course," Wallace said. "Elevation of the course varies from about 18 feet to 80 feet above sea level and this makes the course unique in a state which is noted for its flat terrain."

Some of the elevations and depressions on the Deltona course had to be modified because they were so abrupt. The course will be a true test of a golfer's ability. Its fairways will feature

Tebbetts On Mend

By United Press International

Convincing Birdie Tebbetts reports he's coming along just fine, thanks to plenty of rest and some home therapy by Leon Wagner. Tebbetts is recovering from a recent heart attack in Tucson, Ariz., and one of the few things he does every day is check to see how his Cleveland ball club is doing.

He has a special interest in Wagner because the Indians tried to get him from the Los Angeles Angels for two years and finally succeeded last December.

Wagner hit 28 homers for the Angels last year and insists he can better that total check to see how his Cleveland ball club is doing.

He belted his second homer of the season with one in the eighth inning Tuesday night to bring the Indians from behind and lead them to a 5-3 victory over the Kansas City A's.

Wagner's blow sailed completely over the right field "pennant porch" and came off loser Diego Segui, who had homered himself with the bases empty in the seventh to put Kansas City ahead, 3-1.

The Indians added two more runs in the ninth but winning pitcher Jim (Mudcat) Grant yielded to reliever Ted Abernathy in the bottom of the ninth after giving up a homer to Bill Bryan and a single to rookie Dick Green.

Detroit defeated the Angels, 6-4, in the only other American League game played. The Washington-Minnesota game was rained out.

In the National League, Cincinnati beat Houston, 10-5.

Pittsburgh downed Chicago, 8-3, and the Philadelphia-New York game was postponed because of wet grounds.

Ex-Dodger star Larry Sherry recorded his first AL victory by pitching three hitless innings in relief for the Tigers against the Angels after taking over for starter Frank Lary.

The Tigers scored what proved to be the decisive two runs in the sixth when Los Angeles Manager Bill Rigney employed three of the seven pitchers he used in the game. Two singles, an error and an infield out gave Detroit its two runs. Dan Olnicki was the loser.

Cincinnati raked former teammate Jim Owens for 16 hits as southpaw Jim O'Toole picked up his second win of the season although he had to leave in the seventh after being hit on the finger by a batted ball.

County To Vote May 5 On Water Conservation Proposal

1963 Session OK'd Act

Seminole County voters on May 5 will vote on the question of an act authorizing the County Commission "to construct or acquire water conservation and control facilities."

The act, approved by the 1963 Legislature, is 45 legal pages long, single spaced. The title, itself, is 1 1/2 pages.

James P. Avery Jr., chairman of the County Commission, summarized the act for The Sanford Herald.

Quoting the late Gifford Pinchot, Avery stated: "A nation deprived of liberty may win it, a nation divided may remain, but a nation where natural resources are destroyed must inevitably pay the penalty of poverty, degradation and decay."

Following is Avery's summary of the referendum up for approval or disapproval by the county voters on May 5:

Because water is generally conceded to be our most important natural resource, the placing on the ballot of Seminole County's first Water Conservation and Control Act becomes of vital interest to every citizen within our boundaries.

By being thorough, the Bill of Necessity, contains some 45 typewritten legal size pages, with over one and one-half pages required for the title alone. To put it rather mildly, this presents somewhat of a problem to your County Officials interested in disseminating its content to the voters being asked to vote its future in the Primary Election next.

The Act cites as its reasons for existing, the great damage, both economic and actual, resulting from severe flooding and long periods of drought experienced by Seminole County. It also recognizes as a County purpose, the means to provide a remedy for the future.

However, the Act may not become effective until its approval by a majority of the voters in a referendum election to be held in Seminole County. Hence, its reason for being placed on the ballot May 5th, by your Board of County Commissioners.

Generally, the Bill can be divided into two broad categories, i. e. WHAT it authorizes the County to undertake and the FINANCING of any such undertakings.

AUTHORITY

It grants very broad and general powers to the County, almost without limitation. The County is authorized and empowered to employ Engineers, Attorneys, Accountants, Financial and other experts necessary to acquire rights, easements and franchises of any nature and to construct, improve, reconstruct, maintain and operate canals, ditches, drainage facilities, reservoirs, dams, levees, sluiceways, dredging holding basins, floodways, pumping stations or any other facilities for the conservation, control, development, utilization and disposal of water.

To acquire by condemnation, purchase or gift, lands above and below water, riparian rights and personal property for the construction of the aforementioned facilities.

The County would be empowered to regulate supplies of water by diverting excess waters from one area, lake, pond, stream, basin, river, or other storage facility to any other lake, pond, etc., and to establish and maintain water levels in all lakes.

It would grant the County authority to require permits for any person, firm, corporation or other body, (except municipalities and special tax districts) before construction of any water control facility.

The authority is granted to suspend or deny permits, including building permits, until an adequate drainage program, including the ultimate disposition of the waters drained from the property for which the permit is requested, is established.

The County would have the power to establish and create departments, boards or other agencies it deems necessary or desirable to carry out the powers provided in this Act.

It creates an "Advisory Committee", which shall consist of five members appointed for a term of two years selected one each from the following interests: Council Member or Mayor of a municipality, Agricultural, Recreational, Industrial and a Freeholder from the County at Large.

Possibly, the broadest power granted is the one dealing with "Assessable Improvements". Simply stated, it allows the County to construct facilities of a local nature that will benefit to the premises or lands served by such facilities; and to place on those lands served, a special assessment to recover the cost of such facilities.

The Board is authorized to create special tax districts for secondary conservation and control facilities, and assess, levy and collect a special tax for the operation and maintenance of said districts.

A secondary facility being defined within the Act as a facility designated by the Board of County Commissioners, and shall include storm sewers, ditches, minor flow canals, curb drainage systems, transporting and draining water from individual properties and local areas.

FINANCING

In every instance, the issuance of general obligation bonds must be approved by the registered freeholders in a referendum election. They are further limited to a total value not to exceed 4% of the assessed value of the taxable property within the County.

The Board is granted authority to levy a tax to exceed two (2) mills per year for construction, operation and maintenance of primary facilities.

For purpose of operating and maintaining secondary facilities in a special tax district, the Board may levy a tax not to exceed three-tenths (3/10) of a mill each year.

Special assessment bonds may be issued in an amount not to exceed 70% of the total cost of assessable improvements. However, should the full faith and credit of the County be pledged as additional security, the same procedure as with general obligation bonds would apply.

GENERAL

For thirty years and longer, leaders in the fields of Agriculture, Industry and Recreation, have recognized the need for effective water conservation and management, in order that future generations may continue to enjoy our most priceless resources.

This Bill will provide a means to insure a good, sound and progressive program. Should the voters desire to place the necessary tools in the hands of their elected Board of County Commissioners.

Whatever the Act's fate on May 5th, the Board considered it an urgent responsibility to prepare and place before our citizens this important decision, which is rightfully theirs. This responsibility has been creditably discharged.

DeBary Group Hears Report On Roads

By Mrs. Adam Muller

Possibilities of four-laning U. S. Highway 17-92 through DeBary were discussed at the last meeting of the Business and Professional Division of the DeBary Chamber of Commerce held with Mrs. Dorothy Papineau presiding in the absence of E. A. Davis, chairman.

Sam Faron reported on a meeting with Max Brewer, district chairman of the State Road Board, advising that it was his opinion after this meeting that nothing would be done on the four-laning project until I-4 is completed. Ed Redman and William Stripp, also members of the local committee, concurred.

It was reported that the matter of potholes on the highway and signs at each entrance to the community had been taken up with Richard Green, district engineer with the state road board.

Garden Circles

Palm Circle
"Orchids to you!" might well have been the theme of the April meeting of the Palm Circle of Sanford Garden Club at the home of one of its DeBary members, Mrs. William Ferguson.

With orchids as the theme of the program, the speaker of the morning, Mark B. Kerr, orchidist of DeLand, discussed with positively contagious enthusiasm the care and feeding of these exotics. With his wife, Mrs. Kerr he illustrated his talk with examples of Cattleyas, Phalaenopsis (which grows well in greenhouses in northern Florida) and several other breathtakingly beautiful specimens "Kerr grown in DeLand," he said.

"Florida's climate," he said, "which is so congenial to more than 80 indigenous species, is also very favorable for the production of the large-flowered cattleyas that most women consider the 'Tiffany of the corsage world.'"

During the informal coffee hour some 20 members and several guests registered their appreciation of the work of their president, Mrs. Blanton Owen, at the Sanford Flower Show and the honor accruing to Palm Circle in the Sweepstakes Award, Award of Distinction and three Blue Ribbons which went to her.

Palm Circle's May meeting will take the form of a covered dish picnic at the home of Mrs. Arthur W. Lambert of Highbanks Road, DeBary.

The nation's teen-age girls are giving the bikini the cold shoulder. Only 1.8 per cent of them favor the mostly-bare swimsuit, according to a survey by one magazine. Most popular with the under-20 swimmers: the one-piece suit.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: After reading about the woman whose birthday presents consisted of new carpeting, a sofa cover and an invitation to go out for dinner from her husband, and some charms for her bracelet from her son, but who was unhappy because she didn't get a cake, I couldn't resist writing to you.

March 8th was our 19th wedding anniversary. I have never had a cake. On my last anniversary I got a kiss, an embrace and a sincere "I love you." In 19 years we have gone out for dinner five times. My only complaint is that my husband isn't able to devote more time to our four youngsters. But knowing that he must travel 60 miles a day to support his family, I can overlook this. You made my day when you followed that woman's complaint with this sentence: "The most important thing a man can do for his children is to love their mother." My carpets are threadbare, I don't expect to go out for dinner in the very near future, and I don't own a charm bracelet. But when my husband comes home at night, I feel as though I am 21 and it's our first date. Just sign me—

LUCKY IN LOVE IN HARRISBURG

DEAR ABBY: Some women are nuts, I'm talking about that shrew who didn't get a cake for her 48th birthday, and although her husband gave her lovely gifts and invited her out for dinner, she was so mad she opened a few cans for his dinner and went straight to bed. I have been married for 17 years, and the only time my husband ever thinks about my age is when he has to fill out some papers and has to know when I was born. And he never remembers from one time to the next.

NOT NUTS

DEAR ABBY: What's wrong with having a child answer the telephone with, "Who is this?" My children (and I have five ranging from four to ten) do this all the time for me. If there is something wrong with "WHO IS THIS?", then I also give up.

BUSY MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: With little extra effort a child can be taught to ask, "Who is this, PLEASE?" And few callers object to being asked to identify themselves, if asked courteously.

DEAR ABBY: I have a suggestion for the woman who signed herself "I GIVE UP" because little twerps answer the telephone, "WHO IS THIS?" This happens to me often as I use the telephone a great deal in my business. When little ones answer the phone and don't want to give it up, but try to engage me in conversation, I say, "This is Santa Claus and I am taking orders. Go get your mother." They run for Mamma real quick and pull her to the phone.

R. F. J.

CONFIDENTIAL TO W. B. It is amazing how much more receptive a child will be to, "LET'S LOOK IT UP," than to, "GO LOOK IT UP!" Try it!

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212, for Abby's new booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30-9 p.m. NBC. Opening Night at the World's Fair. (Color). Despite the title, most of this 90-minute special was filmed and taped well in advance of the opening. There are quick tours of various areas on the enormous fair grounds conducted by such stars as Carol Channing, Cantinflas, Fred MacMurray, Lorne Greene and Marian Anderson, with Henry Fonda serving as the overall host. Much of what you see will look as if it were just completed for the show, but that's largely due to the magic of the NBC cameras and the cooperation of fair officials in making those attractions not yet completed seem ready. The mud and incomplete construction have been temporarily concealed in the interests of glamorizing the opening, which, it's readily acknowledged, is one of the events of the decade. The show will include the dedication ceremony and everything possible has been done to make you want to visit the fair. This show doesn't even scratch the surface as a come-on, so come on down.

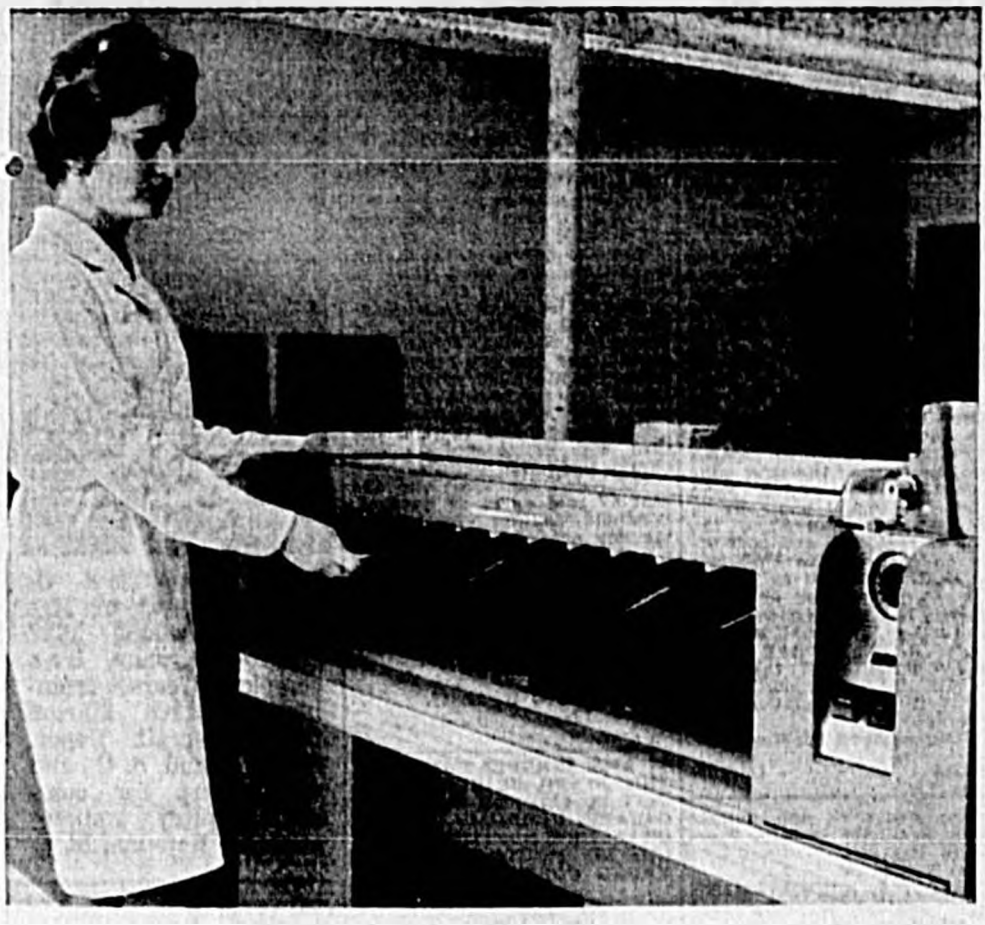

7:30-9 p.m. ABC. The Ozzie and Harriet Show. "The Blue Moose." (Rerun). Don't bet that the inspiration for this episode wasn't provided by Mark Twain. Rick and his fraternity brothers work out a diabolical scheme to con a rival group into painting Rick's fraternity house. This ancient situation comedy series continues to remain young in heart.

8:30-9 p.m. CBS. Suspense. "The Savage." What could have been developed deeply with racial conflict becomes an ordinary good guy vs. bad guy plot here. A fair amount of suspense is generated however in what is essentially a two man plot. An Indian youth (Corey Allen) comes across a disreputable renegade (Neville Brand) at a lonely waterhole in the desert. The renegade recognizes the lad as the son of the chief responsible for his serving a prison term for bootlegging. The renegade recognizes the lad, but not till he has put the lad through some awful moments, not the least of which is forcing the boy to drink whiskey that could kill him.

8:30-9 p.m. CBS. The Beverly Hillbillies. If the basic plot is familiar, it's only because this series has used the mistaken-identity bit so often, only rabid fans may not be aware it's become a cliché. Some good laughs, nevertheless, as the Clampetts inspect a ritzy dress shop they've invested in and are mistaken for beggars. In turn, the Clampetts feel the skinny proprietress is starving and decide to do something about it. Playing the snooty shopkeeper very well is Natalie Schafer and there's an added treat here when Elly May (Donna Douglas) steps out of her tomboy clothes to model some eye-popping gowns.

10-11 p.m. CBS. The Danny Kaye Show. Vincent Price, Howard Morris and Shari Lewis are Danny's guests tonight, and the closest the horror movie star comes to being a monster is as a head waiter in a sketch with meek Howard Morris. Miss Lewis and Danny open the show as puppets singing "Ballin' the Jack" and later Shari brings on her favorite lamb chop puppet, who sings "Fere Jacques" with the host.

In the final skit Mr. Price employs his vast knowledge of art when he explains paintings to Kaye, who just stepped into the art gallery to get out of the rain.

JO ANNE HERN operates one of the IBM electronic data processing machines which will be on display by Florida State Bank during its 25th anniversary open house on May 1.

FLORIDA STATE BANK TO INSTALL $50,000 DATA PROCESSING UNIT

Electronic banking equipment valued at more than $50,000 will be on display at Florida State Bank during its open house celebration May 1.

The data processing system equipment being installed at the bank in May and will result in more rapid posting of accounts, daily computing of savings account interest, improved accuracy and safety in checking account posting and increasing ability to handle growing business in Seminole County and Central Florida.

A portion of the system, which includes nine pieces of equipment, will be on display in the bank lobby during the 25th anniversary open house celebration on May 1.

The display will continue during banking hours on May 4, 5 and 6. The system will then be moved to second floor quarters where it will be placed into operation in the bank's accounting department.

The installation is the first electronic banking system to be introduced in Seminole County banking. It is expected by late 1965 that the bank will be able to offer the data processing capabilities of the IBM system to major business houses of the area for the processing of complicated accounting records.

According to Richard Keogh, vice president of Florida State Bank, the IBM system offers these unique improvements to banking service:

- Using punched cards to record each deposit and each check drawn on an account, the system will post all items to the proper account on the same date the item is received at the bank, rather than the next day.
- The system automatically computes and prints the monthly statement and figures the monthly service charge for the current month.
- Savings account interest is updated daily by the system and will be credited to

Annual Track Meet Wednesday

While Boone, Evans and Colonial squabble among themselves for the Metro Conference baseball title, the league's schools will congregate their respective teams Wednesday night at Evans High in Orlando for the loop's annual track meet.

Winter Park is favored to take the title since they amassed 113 points in a recent Orange County track meet.

The Parkers probably will find most of their competition coming from the Boone High Braves.

Civitan's Try Falls Short

The Junior Boys League Civitan nine tried hopelessly to capture their initial victory of the current season Monday afternoon when they rallied for four runs in the last half of the seventh frame in their contest with the Shriners.

However, the rally fell one-run short in the Civitan effort to knot the count and the Shriners grabbed a 7 to 6 victory.

The Shrine nine moved into fourth place in the loop's standings and are now only one game behind the league leading Kiwanians.

The line score:

Shrine 020 130 1-7 7 2
Civitan 100 001 4-8 4 2
WP—Billy Gracey (1-0), LP—Tom Hickson (0-1), HR—Jim Warren (Shrine)

Bear Lake Beats North Orlando

The Bear Lake Pirates came from behind in the sixth inning to score four runs and nip the North Orlando Little League nine by a score of 5 to 4 Saturday afternoon at Bear Lake.

Larry Glynn and Nick Constantine shared the mound duties for Bear Lake with Constantine getting credit for the victory. Glynn paced the Pirates at the plate with a triple. Ben Condon, Tyle Dooco, Clint Goree and Glynn did the scoring for Bear Lake.

Raz Brooks did the pitching for North Orlando with Keven Stephenson behind the plate.

Bear Lake goes to Longwood for a contest slated at 5 p.m. Wednesday. Saturday the Pirates will play the Allamonte Springs Twins.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

J. S. Weller of Los Angeles entitled an article in the Assn. Quarterly "Six Cards to Half a Slam."

The point of the article is that a comparatively weak six card suit will fit six tricks if partner can fit it.

His example hand is from a duplicate game in which most North players chose to respond three no-trump to their partner's diamond opening. In every instance, South passed and North proceeded to take his 12 top tricks.

One North player took a far different view of the hand. He saw the extra trick possibilities inherent in his four card support for South's diamond suit and responded one spade.

When South rebid to two diamonds, North was off and running. He assumed that South had a six card diamond suit and went right into a Blackwood routine.

When South showed three aces and no kings, North decided that the diamond grand slam would be cold provided that South had the expected six card diamond suit and at least three clubs and that some nasty opponent did not hold all missing diamonds. North bid seven diamonds and South wrapped it up.

This North was really entertaining. He would have gathered in the same top score for the more conservative bid of six diamonds. On the other hand, it seems to me that all other South players were a trifle timid. Perhaps, at least one might have realized the combination of a six card diamond suit and three aces was worth some further bid after his partner jumped right to three no-trump.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

It's surprising how many wives wonder, "Is he still in love with me?" — and how few ask themselves, "Does he like me?"

In order to keep a husband in love with her, a woman will try almost anything. But it's amazing how little thought the average woman gives to keeping her husband's liking and respect.

Mentioned below are a few of the things she can do to help insure that her husband will continue to like her through the years. And if she has her husband's liking she doesn't have to worry much about his love or about the possibility that she will ever lose him.

She can win his liking and respect by being good enough as a homemaker so that her husband is proud of her and of their home.

She can win his liking by treating his parents and relatives as considerably as she treats her own.

She can keep his liking by the way she meets difficulties and hardship — gamely and without complaint.

She can be sure he'll like her if she never damages his ego by pointing out his faults, harping on his mistakes or blaming him when things go wrong.

She can keep his liking if she is good company, gay and cheerful and happy.

She can be sure he will like her if she shows a real sympathy for and understanding of others.

And it will certainly make him like her if he knows that she sees the best in him and seems unaware of the shortcomings he knows he has.

Marriage is a lifetime thing. And although the "honeymoon" type of love won't last forever, genuine liking and affection between a husband and wife will keep the marriage intact.

Enterprise Postmaster To Retire

By Helen Snodgrass
Miss Sarah Burns, Enterprise postmaster for the past 40 years, will retire this Friday at the close of the working day.

Beginning as a clerk in the office in 1920, Miss Burns was appointed to the postmaster's job in 1924. During the years she has been assisted by her sister, Mrs. Bertha L. Hardin, who also will be retiring this week after 20 years service.

Beginning Saturday, the office will be located at the corner of Main and DeBary streets and will be operated by Mrs. Ritchie Harris. At this time house to house delivery will become available to all interested in this service. Fair Stage For Civil Rights Demonstrations

United Press International
Civil rights groups vowed today to make the New York World's Fair and surrounding roads a stage for anti-segregation demonstrations.
A threatened "stall-in" — the deliberate creation of traffic jams — could spoil the opening day of the fair which was to begin a two-year run this morning.
Pinkerton detectives hired by the fair had detention compounds — capable of holding up to 600 persons — built in warehouses on the fringe of the fairgrounds.
James Farmer, the national director of the Congress of Racial Equality CORE, said there would be demonstrations inside the grounds which would lead to arrests.
In Washington, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the civil rights movement is being influenced by the Communists. Hoover, in testimony before a House subcommittee, said the Communists magnify and exploit racial incidents to generate tension in their effort to "infiltrate, exploit, and control of the Negro population."
Eisenhower, in Jacksonville, Fla.: Police reported no racial trouble Tuesday following minor violence Monday. The city's Community Relations Committee to elect a new chairman and fill vacancies on the executive committee caused by recent resignations.
Jackson, Miss.: Federal Judge Sidney Mize refused Monday to take jurisdiction of 13 persons, including white and Negro ministers, arrested while trying to attend services in an all-white church.
Washington: A group of University of North Carolina students, led by a professor, lobbied Tuesday in support of the civil rights bill.
Washilla, S. C.: Mayor Sam B. Moyle said "general opposition" had forced the city to abandon a plan to permit Negroes and whites to use the public swimming pool on a segregated basis.

Achievements Of ACP Listed

Agricultural conservation program, as in past years, played an important part in conservation accomplishments made during 1963. ACP is a farmer-government partnership. The government shares a part of the cost of carrying out the needed conservation work—less than 50 per cent in most cases—the farmers and ranchers themselves bear the major portion of the cost.
Some of the conservation practices completed under ACP in 1963 in Seminole County were:
1. Establishment of 356 acres of new improved pasture.
2. Summer cover crops in groves were planted on 89 acres.
3. Application of 1171 tons of liming materials on 1033 acres of pastures and cover crops.
4. Application of 554 tons of rock phosphate on pastures.
5. Construction of four wells for livestock water.
6. Planting 24 acres of slash pine seedlings.
7. Construction of open drainage systems on 20 acres and under ground drainage on 30 acres of farmland.
Cost-shares earned by participating farmers and ranchers in Seminole County during 1963 totaled $15,972.34. ACP assistance is limited to equipment which would not be able to carry out to the extent necessary if they had to bear the whole cost themselves.

To vote is to express a wish, or opinion of a person or a body of persons by a ballot, by way of voice or the like.
The United Progressive League is asking all citizens of Seminole County to meet and hear the candidates Sunday. This organization believes that in order to vote intelligently for the best interest of our city, county, state and nation, the voters should meet, hear and study the platform of those seeking office.

Russian Growth Rate Lowest Since Start Of Seven-Year Economic Plan

MOSCOW (UPI) — New government figures showed today that Russia's current industrial growth rate is the lowest since the start of the seven-year economic plan. The figures also showed a decrease in labor productivity, although most of the items in the industrial sector exceeded the state quotas. The economic trends were contained in a report from the Soviet Union's Central Statistical Board covering the first quarter of 1964. The massive drive for more chemicals was announced last year by Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The chemicals will be used for certain consumer goods and extensively for fertilizer to bolster the country's lagging agriculture. The report disclosed that the Soviet industrial growth rate is "about 8 per cent." This compares with the 8.2 per cent figure for a like period published last April. In April, 1962, the rate was listed at "more than 9 per cent." Even so, the Soviets claim that the nation's economy is outstripping the United States. Mineral fertilizers were up 20 per cent over last year. But animal fats slumped about 12 per cent in comparison with last year's first quarter - apparently because of the lack of fodder with which to feed cattle. Last year's poor harvest, caused in part by inclement weather, forced the Soviet Union to contract abroad for about 10 million tons of grain, much of it from Western countries, to feed the nation. Labor productivity was listed as growing only 4 per cent. Last year's equivalent figure was 5.4 per cent.

Labor productivity was listed as growing only 4 per cent. Last year's equivalent figure was 5.4 per cent.

per cent figure for a like period published last April. In April, 1962, the rate was listed at "more than 9 per cent." Even so, the Soviets claim that the nation's economy is outstripping the United States. Mineral fertilizers were up 20 per cent over last year. But animal fats slumped about 12 per cent in comparison with last year's first quarter - apparently because of the lack of fodder with which to feed cattle. Last year's poor harvest, caused in part by inclement weather, forced the Soviet Union to contract abroad for about 10 million tons of grain, much of it from Western countries, to feed the nation. Labor productivity was listed as growing only 4 per cent. Last year's equivalent figure was 5.4 per cent.

Alaska Spirit Unshaken

Great natural catastrophes like the Alaskan earthquake remind us how insecure a tenancy mankind holds on this planet.

The earth we consider so firm, in-to which we bore our deep mines and sink the foundations for our towering buildings, is but the merest outer skin of the huge globe.

We are told that the massive adjustment of the crust which shook Alaska released more energy than all the nuclear bombs ever exploded. Actually, an event that could cause tidal (seismic) waves thousands of miles away and lift the city of Houston, Tex., five inches in the air is not measurable in terms that have any real meaning to us.

In the face of such power acting over such a vast area, the fact that the death and injury toll was as low as it was is all the more amazing. As for the economic loss, it will be many weeks before that can be fully assessed.

Fortunately, it is not man's nature to dwell on his own puniness compared to the cosmos. We take note of our insignificance; we mourn our dead; then we set about to rebuild our shattered cities and lives.

In this effort, the gallant people of Alaska are fortified with the knowledge that the resources and strength of the entire nation, as well as the hopes of the rest of the world, are behind them.

It would take more than an earthquake to break these human bonds.

Ignore Sure Bet

Educators and others are noting a strange phenomenon in the land:

While for the past five years the demand for engineers has steadily risen, the number of students enrolling in engineering schools had just as steadily declined.

In 1960, for example, we graduated 38,000 engineers (the U.S.S.R. graduated 108,000). In 1961, the figure dropped to 36,000.

This downtrend is especially puzzling at a time when industry and government are devoting more and more energy to space and defense and many other technological research programs.

All signs indicate the demand for engineers will continue indefinitely—at least 48,000 openings a year, at starting salaries currently averaging $7,000.

Why then are students shunning engineering? "That is exactly what we are trying to learn," says Dr. Lee

H. Johnson, dean of Tulane University School of Engineering, one of many schools reviewing their methods and curriculums.

The National Academy of Sciences has appointed a top-level committee to consider the problem. Another group, the Engineering Manpower Commission, is trying to find answers.

It is a matter of some urgency that the answers be found.

Thought For Today

And if one asks him, What are these wounds on your back? He will say, The wounds I received in the house of my friends.—Zechariah 13:6.

Against a foe I can myself defend, —But heaven protect me from a blundering friend!—D'Arcy W. Thompson.

Worry Clinic

CASE S-445: The entire city of Jabesh-Gilead was slaughtered by the sword just to get 400 brides.

For when the worst sex crime in history had been committed by lewd men of the tribe of Benjamin, the other tribes of Israel wiped out all the men, women and children of Benjamin save for 500 men who fled into the mountains.

Then the other tribes repented and decided it was not proper for their brother tribe of Benjamin to be exterminated entirely.

So the problem arose of how to find 600 brides.

For all the remaining 11 tribes of Israel had vowed never to let their daughters marry a Benjaminite.

That's when they took a census, hoping against hope that some city had failed to send recruits to the army.

Since Jabesh-Gilead had not done so, they eagerly sent 12,000 picked men and wiped out all the inhabitants except the eligible unmarried girls, of whom they found 400.

"But what shall we do about the remaining 200 men who lack wives?" was the next problem.

If they had possessed our modern Emissary Scientific Marriage Foundation, where we use the IBM machine to match congenial folks of similar age, religion, ideals, etc., then they could have solved the problem of all 600 wifeless Benjaminites without slaughtering an entire city.

But they lacked our modern scientific methods of matching suitable couples, so they resorted to fierce measures.

The wise men of the 11 tribes of Israel then remembered that there was an annual religious feast in Shiloh. And at this celebration it was customary for the girls to come forth on the mountain side and dance.

So the 200 men of Benjamin were urged to hide in the vineyards before the dance. Here's the Bible's own words:

"Behold, if the daughters of Shiloh come out to dance, then come ye out of the vineyards, and catch you every man his wife of the daughters of Shiloh, and go to the land of Benjamin."

Then they said that when the fathers or brothers of the girls protested at this mass kidnaping, they would mollify those male kinfolk.

And they used a neat subterfuge to exempt those male relatives from their vow not to give their women to men of Benjamin, for the wise men said:

"For ye did not GIVE unto them at this time, so you are not guilty of violating your previous vow."

This was a semantic distinction between giving one's daughter versus having her stolen.

And the book of Judges closes just two verses later with this:

"In those days there was no king in Israel: every man did that which was right in his own eyes."

By implication, when people have kings or even too strong a centralized government, they must do what their leader tells them and no longer do individual thinking as to what is right! Beware.

When people uncritically "parrot" what their leaders tell them, they have become mental "goosesteppers."

ASK HIM WHAT IT IS!

Invisible, Invincible Forces

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The "white lie" has some standing in diplomacy and social intercourse, but in journalism it deserves to be treated as a leper.

Let us walk wide of the amiable liars who use impostor euphemisms to misinform the public about the relationship between President Johnson and Attorney General Robert Kennedy. It just isn't true that the two men are "amused" or "puzzled" or in any way unaware or unconcerned that they are now horn-locked rivals for power inside the Democratic party.

The situation is very much as it was in 1960: Johnson vs. Kennedy.

The latest manifestation of the dark war is the resignation of Bob Kennedy's one-time protegee, White House Secretary Pierre Salinger. It follows those of Kennedy men named Schlesinger, Sorensen, Heardon and Hays. It will precede additional resignations, and the reason for the increasing exodus is more important and more authentic than a guesswork roll-call. The Kennedy men are leaving because they can't work for Bob Kennedy while serving under Lyndon Johnson. And work they must, with or without the Attorney General's say-so. Here is an expression of the compulsion, somewhat paraphrased to spare the speaker and to respect his confidence:

"There are those of us who love the Kennedys. We loved Jack, and our affection is transferred to Bob. He is powerless to call us off, even if we embarrass him, even if he wishes we'd quit. What Bob would like to do is take his family to Europe for a year's recuperation from the shock of the assassination. But he can't very well do this while urging others to stay in the fight for all the things that President Kennedy stood for."

The above is out-of-the-mouth reporting, and I make it with mixed emotions. My heart has gone out to Bob Kennedy, a figure of courage and sorrow, and I think it is self-evident that a man who has managed a winning presidential campaign, and who has run a clean, active Justice Department, is eligible for national election. But there are good reasons in a republic to be suspicious of any dynasty, and many more reasons to abhor both the foreign and domestic legacies of the New Frontier.

Still, facts are facts, and the Kennedy candidacy for Vice President is a reality in flesh and blood. All over Washington, and all over the country, there are men and women of the Kennedy underground. At the Justice Department his legionnaires are apt to be anonymous, for many are civil servants who must be mum on politics. But they think that no Attorney General has run a more aggressive fight against gangsters, dope peddlers and political crooks, and they want to keep Kennedy in public life.

In the White House there are Kennedy clansmen like McGeorge Bundy and Michael Forrestal. One of Kennedy's strong admirers in the sub-cabinet is Under Secretary of State Harriman, now on a roving exile in Africa. At higher level, in strong rapport with the Attorney General, are Secretary McNamara, Secretary Dillon and General Max Taylor. Another nucleus of Kennedy strength is the Kennedy Library, a memorial to JFK, where brother-in-law Stephen Smith is entrenched. If there is a chief-of-staff at this writing, he would be Senator Ted Kennedy, who's up for reelection.

Phil Newsom Says . . . Disarmament Progress Slow

UPI Foreign News Analyst Palala Dea Nations, Geneva—Cut in the marble above the doorway to the room through which the delegates to the 17-nation disarmament conference must pass to sit around the rectangle of their green felt-covered desks is a slogan which says:

"Here is a great work for peace in which all can participate. . . the nations must disarm or perish. Be just and fear not."

The message over the door reminds the delegates of the goal they seek. And around the walls running up to the conference room's 40 foot ceiling are symbolic paintings reminding them of man's long history of inhumanity to man. This is the setting. Less impressive has been the tortoise-like progress of the conference itself whose members have been at work with various interruptions, since March 14, 1962.

Yet there has been progress. Chief Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin ended a distribute against Germany to make the surprise announcement that Russia was ready to negotiate the "hot line" between Moscow and Washington as a measure to prevent war by mistake.

On Aug. 6, 1963 the United States, Britain and Russia signed the limited test ban agreement in Moscow after months of spadework done in Geneva.

In addition, there is the agreement against the placing of weapons in outer space. That was the end of visible progress in disarmament efforts which since 1946 have consumed so many millions of words and the time of some of the world's top diplomats.

In this nuclear era conditions also have changed. It no longer simply is a matter of total and complete disarmament. There also are what are called "collateral" conditions which deal with the questions of war by mistake, of sneak attack and step-by-step measures which, while not actual disarmament, might contribute to a lessening of tensions.

In the twice-weekly meetings which the conference holds, one is devoted to total disarmament and the other to the "collaterals."

Taking over from U.S. disarmament chief William C. Foster at the conference on March 2 was Adrian S. Fisher, a bluff hearty man with a successful record both as a lawyer and in the State Department, who declares himself not discouraged by the slow pace of progress.

"These are issues of enormous importance," he says, "and we must expect them to take time."

Q—When did Great Britain recognize the independence of the United States?

A—By the Treaty of Paris signed in 1783 and ratified by the U.S. Congress January 14, 1784.

Barbs

BY HAL COCHRAN

When a person is constantly long on rushing through life that's what shortens it.

A man told a judge he deserved his three-months sentence for being a constant drunk. That's the ol' spirital. Little kids love to make popcorn even if it does give them the shakes.

Four of the things a man can get in a barbershop are a haircut, shave, shoe shine and gab.

When maple syrup season arrives it's pretty sweet for everybody except the fellows who holl.

We wonder how a fellow who says he's a self-made man feels when he steps on a scale and looks at 340.

Osteen Civic Association Has April Meeting

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
The Osteen Civic Association met Thursday evening at the County Barn building with Nick Pfeilfuf, president, presiding.

Twenty-four new memberships have been received since the last meeting.

The committee for the community picnic reported it was a huge success. Several donations have been received for the building fund.

The organization thanked Joe Masters and Robert Hilt for their cooperation in moving the monument and erecting the flag pole at the park. It was also recommended that a thank you letter be written to County Commissioner Harris Saxon, The Chase Company and Hill Lumber Company for their part in the project.

A report was given on the Talent Show being sponsored by the organization. This show will be given Tuesday evening, April 28, at the Do-Bary Civic Center. Tickets are on sale various places in Sanford by the members and will be available at the door. It was decided to dispense with the regular meetings in July and August.

A picnic party will be held in May with the proceeds going to the building fund. The date will be announced later.

Other fund raising projects were discussed. This will be continued at the next meeting.

Prifaut then introduced Mrs. Thomas Lergen, president of the Seminole County Cancer Unit. She spoke briefly to the group then introduced Mrs. Helen Gleason, public education chairman.

Mrs. Gleason explained how they were trying to educate the public and told how thousands of lives could be saved if people would have yearly health checks.

Dr. Lergen showed pictures on the subject and answered questions from the group.

Layo Releases Fund Report

By Donna Estes
Chief Claude Layo reported today that a total of $246 has been donated, to date, to the Longwood Volunteer Fire Department Ambulance Fund which has been set up at Florida State Bank of Sanford.

The fund was initiated recently with the donation of two $100 bills by John D. Scott, president of the Astoria Automatic Sprinkler Company, Inc., Long Island City, N. Y., and winter resident of Longwood.

Scott, who will return to his summer home in Hightstown, N. J., within the next few weeks, will investigate there the costs of a fully equipped ambulance. When the vehicle is acquired it will be staffed by members of the Volunteer Fire Department and Auxiliary who will be qualified to administer first aid.

Donations may be turned in to Mayor A. H. Lormann, Chief Layo or Mrs. Layo, who has been appointed secretary of the fund, or to any member of the department.

Mrs. Layo will keep a complete list of those making donations which will be available for public inspection upon request.

Russia Agrees To Remove Ships

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department announced Monday that the Soviet Union had agreed to withdraw Russian vessels fishing for king crab near Kodiak Island, Alaska.

The United States protested the presence of the Soviet vessels were outside the traditional three-mile fishing limit but the protest contended that the crawling crabs were "natural resources" of the U. S. Continental Shelf.

The original name of the "United Nations" was suggested by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, according to Encyclopedia Americana.

Exhibit Salute To Business Achievements

Forty-one displays will highlight the Industrial Exhibit of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Industrial committee commencing at 6:30 p. m. tonight at Sanford Civic Center.

Co-chairmen Carl Schilke and Scott Burns said the exhibit is a salute to all Seminole County industry.

Karyle Housholder, Chamber president, Saturday night will present an Award of Appreciation to the industrialist contributing the most to the development of Seminole County.

The exhibit will be staged for three nights, opening at 6:30 tonight and Friday night and at 6 p. m. Saturday.

Highlight of the exhibit will be the annual beauty contest sponsored by the Sanford Civitan Club. Nineteen beauties will vie for the title of "Miss Seminole County."

Salute to county industrialists will be voiced at 7:30 tonight by Schilke, Mayor A. L. Wilson and James P. Avery Jr., County Commission chairman.

Girls entered in the beauty contest will parade in bathing suits at 8 this evening, in evening gowns at 8 Friday evening and for the final judging at 8:15 Saturday evening.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a free snack bar each evening and door prizes will be awarded at intervals all evening.

Burns, co-chairman of the trade body's Industrial committee, said today that 2,500 persons visited the show during last year's one-day run. This year, with the show running tonight, Friday and Saturday, chamber officials are anticipating a much larger attendance.

Union Threatens Strike Of NYC

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Michael W. Herr, strike chairman of the railroad trainmen on the New York Central Railroad east of Buffalo said today that as far as he is concerned the presidential agreement between the unions and railroad management is not satisfactory and that the trainmen would strike the Central at 12:01 a. m., EST, Saturday.

Herr said a strike would threaten Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

Herr said, regardless of the terms, the unions have taken a beating in the way government pressure was applied to bring an agreement and that "collective bargaining has taken a blow."

Neil P. Speirs, head of the switchmen's union, headquartered in Buffalo, said in Washington that the treaty was a "balanced agreement." Speirs indicated that the switchmen would be asked to ratify the pact when specific details are drawn up.

Kelly Assails Cost Of Road Consultants

By United Press International
State Sen. Scott Kelly charged today that the past two administrations have been wasteful in paying out millions of dollars for road consultants.

In a speech to supporters at Miami, Kelly said "Millions have been paid out in consultant fees in the present and just previous administrations. The money has been wasted because some of the projects became obsolete."

Miami Mayor Albert King High was in Coral Gables, just outside Miami, talking to a realtors' meeting.

"Votes are more important than dollars. If you believe that principles are more important than huge war chests of some candidates who are buying their way to Tallahassee, then I believe you should vote for me."

High also cited his record as mayor of Miami during four terms, and repeated promises to cut out wasteful spending at the state level.

Wednesday High blasted the reappointment plans of three opponents: Fred Dickinson, Sen. John Mathews and Jacksonville Mayor Haydon Burns.

House Approves Arms Money Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has approved unanimously a $46.7 billion defense money bill providing all that President Johnson asked plus unrequested funds for development of a new bomber.

House passage by a vote of 365-0 Wednesday sent the measure to the Senate where action must wait until the end of the civil rights battle, possibly in late May or early June.

The House action came after two days of debate, during which members argued bitterly on only one point—a controversial 35-65 per cent split between private and naval shipyards in assignment of Navy repair and conversion work.

Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., of the armed services committee argued in vain that the required allotment to private shipyards was jeopardizing the Navy's own yards.

Jo Foy, manager of Florida State Employment Service offices in Sanford is serving an appeal today for citrus pickers.

"Steady, able-bodied laborers are badly needed for picking of citrus," said Foy.

Anyone interested is urged to apply at the local employment office which is located at 200 South French Avenue. Foy said it would be a good opportunity for good earnings.

'Phone Barrier' Tour Made By State Official

Seminole County's "telephone barrier" was studied Wednesday by Wilkins Linhart, utility engineer of the Florida Public Utilities Commission. He said he will report his findings to the Commission.

Linhart, guided on his tour of South Seminole County by J. O. (Jess) Gregory, conferred with James P. Avery Jr., chairman of the County Commission; Harold Decker, Fern Park-Casselberry Chamber of Commerce, and Morris Ruby, English Estates School principal.

Linhart discussed his findings and possible future telephone action with Karyle Housholder, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Before departing from Sanford for his home in Fruitland Park, Linhart said he was "amazed at both the extent and the quality of new developments in the area south of Sanford." He further predicted that when the telephone barrier is lifted the volume of cross-country calls will multiply by a factor of five to six. He based his estimate on past experiences with similar problems in other like circumstances.

Some of the South Seminole areas visited included Howell Park, English Estates, Tanglewood, Oakland Shores, Florida Haven, Altamonte Springs, Bretton Wood, Casselberry, Longwood and Lake Mary.

The party was chapered by Gregory's son, Jess, a student at Florida State University.

Rail Accord Hailed As Victory For LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Members of Congress "paved the way" for President Johnson's settlement of the long-standing railroad dispute today as a triumph for collective bargaining and a personal victory for President Johnson.

Both Republicans and Democrats hailed the agreement removing the threat of a nationwide strike. There was no speculation of the political effect of the development in an election year.

But legislators expressed candid relief that the touchy issue would not be dumped back in their laps so close to national elections. Only last August, Congress passed the first peacetime compulsory arbitration bill in history to block a rail walkout.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said: "We are all indebted to the President for his work and perseverance."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said: "I think the President has performed the impossible and come up with a miracle. I couldn't be happier that this is now off the minds of all of us."

Senate Democratic Whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., lauded the railroads and unions for "demonstrating the effectiveness of collective bargaining."

President Johnson has again demonstrated his effective and persuasive leadership."

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., said: "A great victory for the American people, for collective bargaining, and a great tribute to the persistence of the President."

Rally Tonight At Oviedo High

Second countywide political rally under the sponsorship of the Democratic Executive Committee will be kicked off with a chicken picnic dinner at 5:30 tonight at Oviedo High School cafeteria.

Mrs. Ruby Estes, dinner chairman, said her committee is planning for 350 guests.

Paul Mikler, rally chairman, said county candidates will be introduced starting at 7:30 p. m. Each candidate will be permitted three minutes to recount his or her qualifications for office.

Third and final rally of the executive committee will be held at 7:30 p. m. April 30 at Sanford Civic Center.

VAH-5 Pilots Pass Carrier Landing Tests

The Navy's first unit to fly the new RA-5C Vigilante reconnaissance bomber continues operations at the Sanford Naval Air Station this week as a weekend in which the pilots became the first to land on carrier operations.

The Navy announced today that all pilots assigned to Sanford's Heavy Attack Squadron Five (VAH-5) completed the required day and night arrested landings during carrier qualifications aboard the USS Saratoga off the coast of Florida last week.

This is a Navy prerequisite for every pilot prior to an extended operation at sea involving flight from an aircraft carrier deck.

VAH-5, the first fleet squadron to fly the twin-jet RA-5C, is scheduled for deployment to the Western Pacific aboard the USS Ranger this summer. The "Carquals" were, in effect, a final exam for the VAH-5 fliers.

Aside from carrier suitability tests, conducted by the Naval Aviation Test Center two weeks earlier, this was the first time that the aircraft had been operated from a carrier deck.

The Sanford pilots were praised by supervising commanders, including Rear Adm. Robert Goldthwaite, Commander Fleet Air Jacksonville.

Meanwhile, Sanford's training arm, Heavy Attack Squadron Three (VAH-3), was qualifying pilots for duty with subsequent RA-5C equipped squadrons.

Currently undergoing instruction in VAH-3 are flight crews and support personnel from VAH-5, which is scheduled to receive its first RA-5C this week.

A third squadron, VAH-1, currently has men in training for its transition from the A-1A (attack) version of the Vigilante to the more advanced RA-5C later this year.

Turk Cypriots Reject Plan

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — Hopes for conciliation on Cyprus dimmed today with the angry Turkish Cypriot rejection of President Makarios' peace plan that called for a general amnesty.

United Nations peace force officials feared the dominant Greek Cypriots headed by Makarios might now use more forceful means to eliminate Turkish Cypriot resistance. Makarios implied a threat against the Turks when he proposed his three-point plan Wednesday.

A reminder that the new $75 series E U.S. savings bond, bearing the portrait of the late President Kennedy, will go on sale May 1, came today from Victor H. Northcutt, volunteer savings bond chairman for Florida.

State Board of Health urges parents who have children starting to school this fall to obtain certified copies of birth certificates. However, Seminole County schools will accept any legitimate recording, even family Bibles.

"The Clock" was curious the other day about a Seminole-licensed car with a "Blount for county judge" bumper strip, when no "Blount" is on the county ticket. Many readers telephoned to let us know Uriel Blount, erstwhile president of the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce, is running for county judge in Volusia County.

The Clock Winders have just learned that the Diversified Cooperative Training Club at Seminole High School helped several local families enjoy the recent Easter holiday. Under the direction of Lou Girard, co-ordinator, the families were provided with food baskets containing a complete Easter dinner. The families were located through the Salvation Army.

Our apologies to Johnny Van Eepoel. In Doris Williams' interview in The Herald with his mother, Mayor Irene Van Eepoel, of North Orlando, so much concentration was placed on the spelling of the family name that Johnny's name came out "Johnny." It's spelled with one "N," Johnny.

Sanfordites are wondering about the "Welcome Shriners" on Fulton Street. It's stretched across the street... right in front of the city jail! Chief Roy Williams, who also is president of the Shrine Club, is taking a terrific ribbing—is he inviting his fellow Shriners to "visit" his jail?

Sanford Jaycees are nominating five outstanding young men of Seminole County for a national publication.

Your arm around her may be fun. And you may think her hand is won. The families with you'd never risked it. Now that you're a statistic.

Look for some innocent (?) fun on Sanford streets Friday and Saturday when 5,000 Shriners converge on the city to initiate 100 candidates Saturday afternoon. The printed program indicates some shenanigans for Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday morning, along with a band concert and parade. Shrine Temple always bring along their fun teams, plus bands and drill teams.

Junior Chamber of Commerce movement is expanding in Seminole County. Sanford-Seminole Jaycees is sponsoring a South Seminole Jaycee group. Some 14 already interested, with Bob Miller as acting chairman.

Take a look at the flower garden setup in front of the county jail. Adds a neat touch to the modern building.

You ever wonder where we'd be without the efficiency of the modern American farmer. Probably on the farm ourselves. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says during 1962 each of us consumed 163 pounds of beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton; and 37 pounds of chicken and turkey. We ate 193 pounds of fruit and 230 pounds of vegetables. Tums, anyone?
