

Hookworm Survey Will Be Made In Seminole County

Prevention And Curbing Methods To Be Told By L. P. Davis

A survey to determine the extent of hookworm disease in Seminole County was launched today by L. P. Davis from the Florida State Board of Health.

Mr. Davis has taken headquarters for his county-wide campaign in the office of the County School Nurse, Mrs. Dorothy Lamb. During his stay here he has planned an educational program as a preventive of the disease, and efforts will also be made to curb the extent of the disease through proper treatment.

In discussing the disease Mr. Davis stated that:

"There are certain diseases like pneumonia, smallpox, and typhoid fever, that strike men down so swiftly and with so heavy a hand that every one dreads them, others, like hookworm disease, work slowly and often produce such mild symptoms that they are little regarded and very often neglected. This should not be so, as the harm that hookworm disease may do may be greater and far more widespread than that resulting from an epidemic of some acute disease.

"Hookworm disease undermines the strength and saps the vitality of its victims. It stunts growth, both physical and mental. It kills energy and cripples one's capacity for work yet in many cases the actual signs of the disease may for a long time be so slight that the patient merely feels tired and lazy.

"The baby hookworm enters the body through the skin, and travels in a round-about way, through the lymphatics, blood stream, lungs, throat, and stomach to the intestines, where they grow to maturity. During their travel through the body symptoms are not usually produced in the usual cases of children.

"The first indication of the disease may be an irritation of the skin, where the larvae penetrates. This is called 'ground-itch'. The hookworm is a blood-sucking parasite that daily consumes many times its weight in blood. Because they are blood-suckers a child may have a sufficient number of hookworms to use up blood faster than the little body can manufacture it. He then becomes pale from lack of blood. His body functions are retarded, he grows very slowly, gets out of breath easily, is listless and dull, backward in school and takes but little interest in the usual games of children.

"The state department of public health of Florida is making a study of hookworm and other intestinal worms in people all over the state. This is being done with the idea of getting rid of the infections and teaching people how to avoid getting them in the future. Examinations will be made without cost to anyone so desiring.

"The work in this county is being done through the cooperation of the State Department of Public Health and the county superintendent of public instruction."

record in congress. During his five years in office he wrote and sponsored the municipal bankruptcy law which permitted cities and towns to wipe out their boom-time debts, the Wilcox air defense act and the Everglades National Park act.

He has actively supported legislation guaranteeing bank deposits, establishing the Home Owners Loan Corporation, the farm tenancy program, establishment of the Civilian Conservation Corps and assisted in drafting a fire-fighting bill to take the profits out of war which is now pending.

As a district representative he has been particularly active in the development of the lower seat coast, obtaining river, port and waterway improvements and public buildings including a new postoffice at St. Augustine, Fort Pierce, Palm Beach, West Palm Beach, Fort Lauderdale and Miami Beach, a customs house at Port Everglades, and the Overseas highway from the Florida mainland to Key West.

His announcement said he would open an active campaign after the first of the year. It follows:

"I will be a candidate for the office of United States senator from Florida, subject to the democratic primary to be held in May, 1938.

"I will conduct an active campaign after the first of the year and will at that time issue a formal and more detailed statement.

"For the present I shall content myself with the statement that the record of my five years service in congress is an open book. The measures which I have supported, the things I have stood for and the proposals which I have opposed give evidence of the character of my past service and the sort of service I shall render in the senate.

"I am a firm and steadfast believer in the principles of the democratic party, and I shall continue in the future as I have in the past to support those measures which conform to the principles of my party and vigorously oppose all measures which are at variance with those principles."

Wilcox, who is 48 years old, is a native of Georgia and a graduate of Emory university. He began the practice of law at Hazlehurst, Ga., in 1910 and moved to West Palm Beach in 1925. Since 1930 he has been counsel for the Florida League of Municipalities and has written several books on municipal taxation.

In 1929 he received the Citizen award for being the most outstanding citizen of West Palm Beach. He is a Mason, Elk, Kiwanian and a member of the Methodist Church.

have every person who should fill out the report card actually do it."

"On Tuesday Nov. 16, the Post Office in your City will deliver to each and every place where people live—whether home, apartment, trailer colony, flop house, or shack, the Report Card on which unemployed men and women are to register for this census," Mr. Biggers stated in his letter to the Mayor.

"Will you make it the first order of business to check on the census and assure yourself that nothing has been left undone in your City," the Census Administrator asked.

The last day for these forms to be filled out and returned to the mails is Saturday Nov. 20, it was pointed out, and subsequent to the return of these cards, the Government plans to make tests of the completeness and accuracy of the census in certain areas which will be chosen later.

"The supreme importance of this census to every element in the social, civic and economic life of the country justifies, Administrator Biggers asserted in his letter, all of us in dedicating five days to service for the common weal."

Unemployed persons and partially employed who fill out and send in cards for the National Unemployment Census during the five-day period need not fear that their names will be published or made public in any way.

This pledge is contained in the instructions sent to all offices where the census is being taken. "The confidential nature of the answers to the questions on the Report Card will be respected by the Administrator," the instructions state, and also that the information given by the signers of the cards will not be used to their disadvantage in any respect, the data being solely for the purpose of the census.

Roosevelt Urges Co-operation For Census Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt appealed to the Nation last night for whole-hearted co-operation in a "complete, honest and accurate" census of the unemployed this week.

In the countrywide radio broadcast from the White House, the Chief Executive said the huge task to be inaugurated Tuesday was necessary to furnish facts upon which the Administration hopes to base a sound, long-range program of re-employment.

Unemployment, he observed, had delayed the balancing of the National Budget.

Asserting that unemployment relief is "of course, not the permanent cure," Mr. Roosevelt said: "The permanent cure lies in finding suitable jobs in industry and agriculture for all willing workers. It involves co-operative effort and planning which will lead to the absorption of this unused man-power in private industry."

While the President spoke, Census Administrator John D. Biggers was making final preparations for distribution, through the postal service, of more than 85,000,000 census forms which will go to every adult in the land on Tuesday.

Those wholly without work or only partly employed are asked to fill out the questionnaire and return them, postage free, to the Government.

From the answers, which must be in by midnight, Nov. 20, the Administration hopes to determine:

The number of unemployed and those who work only part time; their age groups and geographical location and the type of work for which they are best suited.

"Enforced idleness, embracing any considerable portion of our people, in a nation of such wealth and natural opportunity, is a paradox that challenges our ingenuity," President Roosevelt said.

"It has been with us, in a measure since the beginning of our industrial era. It has been accentuated by the increasing complexity of business and industry, and it has been made more acute by the depression.

"It has made necessary the expenditure of billions of dollars

Grand Jury Starts 'Big Shot' Roundup In Lottery Racket

Parade Of Witnesses With 'Cuba' Records Are Called Before Inquisitorial Body Penalties Cited For Conviction Ministerial Group Appeals For Help Against Gambling

Definite action against lottery racketeers in this section has been started by the Seminole County Grand Jury now meeting in session in the Court House. The Herald was reliably informed today after a series of witnesses known to have been implicated in various lottery schemes were summoned before the group yesterday and today.

Following a number of arrests made by the Police department during the past few months among sellers of Cuba and Bolita tickets, the Grand Jury has summoned these men to appear before it in an attempt to ascertain the backers of the racket, and if possible to secure indictments against them. It was stated on the streets today.

Yesterday and today a veritable parade of "witnesses" appeared before the grand jury from among that large number of persons who had previously been arrested by the police for selling tickets. None of them would have anything to say about what happened in the Grand Jury room, and the office of the State Attorney was equally non-committal, but Court House attendants appeared confident that a move was underway to round up the "big shots" in the lottery racket.

The penalties for operating a lottery racket, The Herald was also advised, include a fine of not less than $500 or more than $5,000, or imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than ten; and for anyone convicted of printing, selling, or distributing lottery tickets, a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $3,000 or imprisonment for not less than one year or more than five. The law also provides a fine of $100 or imprisonment of not more than three months for possession of a lottery ticket.

It was this penalty of imprisonment which was causing so much consternation in the ranks of the racketeers. The Herald was advised, as an aroused public opinion.

Miami Night Spot Raided By Gang In Ku Klux Regalia

150 Hooded Men And Women Assault And Rob Entertainers

MIAMI, Nov. 10. —(AP)—Authorities investigated today a raid by men and women in the Ku Klux Klan regalia on the La Paloma night club in which the proprietor said the place was ransacked, entertainers were assaulted, and a sum of money stolen.

Al Youst, operator of the resort on the outskirts of the town reported to the Sheriff's office that the hooded raiders descended last night, following a public initiation of 150 new Klansmen at the city playground, ordered his patrons to leave and forced the club to close.

He also charged that $100 in cash and a $7 watch were stolen from him during the raid and that the club was badly damaged. At Jacksonville Captain George J. Garcia, grand dragon of the Florida Klan, said he would investigate when informed of the incident by newspapermen.

"Klansmen do not steal," he said. "Some of the best people in Miami are members. It may have been that people who are not members used the Klan regalia as a mask during a raid on the club."

Fred R. Wilson Is Principal Speaker At Jaycee Meeting

Speaking on the subject of general dissatisfaction on the part of the public toward matters of government and what action the public should take to correct this dissatisfaction, Fred R. Wilson, addressed the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce today during the regular weekly luncheon that was held in the grill room of the Valdez Hotel.

During the meeting, a letter from the Jacksonville Junior Chamber of Commerce was read by President E. E. Laney of the local organization, in which the Jacksonville civic body asked that Sanford send a delegation to the State Junior Chamber of Commerce Mid-Winter convention to be held in Jacksonville December 10, 11, and 12.

Several members of the local club stated that they would make the trip and attend the convention but a definite number was not on hand at the present time.

The group also heard reports from the various committees talking of their progress in the different forms of civic work.

Ada Rose Demerest Talks Against Alcohol

Miss Ada Rose Demerest, of the National Alcohol Education Bureau and working under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union defined the uses and abuses of alcohol in her address at the Sanford Grammar School yesterday, according to T. W. Lawton, superintendent of schools.

Throughout her address, Miss Demerest gave illustrations that would particularly appeal to the school children, Mr. Lawton said. Today, accompanied by County School Nurse Mrs. Dorothy Lamb, Miss Demerest will visit various rural schools including Lake Monroe, Wilson, Lake Mary, Lyman and Orlando. After the completion of her itinerary of this County, she is scheduled to continue her work in Orange County.

Farm Meeting Names Three To AAA Board

Melsch, Chapman, And Henry Nickel Selected As Nominees For Control Committee

John Melsch, R. B. Chapman, and Henry Nickel, three prominent celery growers, were elected nominees for grower members on the Control Committee of the Celery Marketing Agreement for the Sanford District at a growers meeting in the Court House last night. County Agent C. R. Dawson, who acted as chairman of the meeting, reported today.

E. J. Meyer, O. J. Pope, and Gus Schmah were elected by acclamation as alternates for the committeemen.

A good representation of growers in the Sanford district were present at the meeting. Mr. Dawson stated, adding that in addition to the election there was some discussion of the provisions of the celery pact which, recently, was declared effective by the Secretary of Agriculture.

H. B. Davis, AAA representative from the Lakeland office, and D. E. Timmons, of the Extension Service in Gainesville, were present at the meeting and explained various matters relating to the agreement.

During the meeting, Mr. Dawson stated, the question of whether or not there was any provision for standardizing and regulating the quality of the celery shipped in interstate commerce, came up for discussion.

The group was advised that at the present time there was no such provision in the agreement but that it might be incorporated in the pact through addition of an amendment or possibly through the cooperation of the State Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Dawson also called a meeting of the shippers of the Sanford district for tomorrow for the express purpose of electing Sanford's quota of four shipper members to the Control Committee. The meeting will be held at the regular meeting place of the shippers in the Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building.

After the election of the shipper members to the Control Committee, Sanford's representatives to the administering committee will have been elected and the other sections are scheduled to hold their elections during the latter part of the week.

Grower members of the Committee from the Orlando district will be elected at a meeting of the growers in the Orlando School tonight. Mr. Dawson said, adding that meetings are scheduled for the other two celery districts of the State Wednesday and Thursday.

Local Townsdenites Attend DeLand Meet

A brief business meeting was held by the Sanford Townsden Club in the club rooms last Friday night, after which the body attended the rally in DeLand, according to officials of the Sanford Club.

At the rally, several prominent speakers were introduced by the Mayor of the City, including Clyde Holland of Clearwater, authorized speaker on Townsden movements in this State, and Manley Goldsberry, who was stationed at Orlando recently from the national headquarters in Chicago.

The meeting was held in the land-shed in DeLand and was well-attended, it was reported.

A Public Appeal

To the People of Sanford:

The Sanford Ministerial Association would urge upon the people of this community to help curb the evil of gambling. In indignation the people of the State rose up some months ago and voted against the slot machines.

Now we would urge that all the decent, upright, and intelligent people would help in any and every way possible to stamp out the cube and bolita gambling.

It is against the law.

It is distinctly and definitely a low form of gambling. By your patronage—even to the extent of nickles or dimes—you help to increase the revenue and strengthen those who are opposing the laws of the land.

It is a serious menace not only to good morals but to business as well.

Public opinion, if once thoroughly aroused, can go a long way toward stamping out the nefarious practice.

Respectfully,
Sanford Ministerial Association.

Mrs. Curlett Is Re-elected Head Of Civic Group

C. Of C. Women's Committee To Continue Welcome Program

Mrs. Endor Curlett of Geneva was unanimously re-elected Chairman of the Women's Civic Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at the Committee's first meeting of the fall season yesterday morning in the Chamber of Commerce Building. Mrs. R. F. Monnarvatge of Sanford was also unanimously re-elected Vice-Chairman.

The "Welcome-to-Sanford" plan inaugurated last year by the Civic Committee was again adopted as a major activity and Mrs. Pearl H. Hansell was re-appointed General Chairman of the welcoming committees. This activity is carried on by a special committee which is appointed each month to call upon new residents in Sanford and extend a cordial welcome on behalf of the business, civic and social interests of the city. The new comers are also presented with special courtesies with the compliments of several business firms. During the summer months the work of the committee was handled directly from the Chamber of Commerce office.

Members of the Committee discussed at length the need of acquainting the general public with traffic laws existing in Sanford, and a vote was carried to call upon the Safety Committee of the Sanford Elks Lodge and the City Police Department to conduct such an educational campaign, and see that traffic regulations are rigidly enforced upon every one.

That visitors may know about various meetings and entertainments being held throughout the city, calendars of events will be posted in the hotels and several other places where they will be.

Senate Delays FDR Program In First Move

Study Of Controversial Anti-Lynching Bill Draws First Attention Of Solons

Storm Of Protest Is First Reaction

Reorganization Bill Is Only Other Measure Which Is Ready

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. —(AP)—The Senate side-tracked the Administration program today as it prepared to take up the controversial anti-lynching bill. Senator Byrnes, South Carolina Democrat, announced on the floor that a motion would be made for consideration of the lynching measure.

He said the leaders had decided not to permit him to move for immediate consideration of the government reorganization bill, the only one of President Roosevelt's measures ready for consideration. There were immediate signs of a filibuster to block action on anti-lynching measure. There was a short sharp explosion on part of the Southern senators who have been opposing it.

The House, meanwhile, was in a tangle over adjourning for the day. After rebellious Republicans had blocked the Democratic leaders' effort to quit work until Friday, Republican Leader Snodgrass forced a roll call on adjourning until tomorrow.

House Minority Leader Snell took a verbal jab at the "Roosevelt legislation" last night and predicted that "if conditions go along as they have been, you'll see an entirely different complexion on the Seventy-Sixth Congress."

The recent elections in New York and Ohio indicated more Republican gains in the future, he said.

"There is every indication," he told reporters, "that we're going (Continued on page four)

Sit-Down Strike In Fisher Plant Unauthorized

CIO Union, General Motors In Deadlock On New Contract

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 10. —(AP)—Sit-down strikers who had occupied the Fisher Body Corporation plant here for nearly 12 hours left at 8:25 A. M. today and the management took possession of the factory.

Don Mitchell, president of the United Mine workers of America, said today that the strikers ordered the 2,500 men to evacuate because the strike was "unauthorized."

He said a conference had been arranged for 1:00 P. M. between union and company officials on grievances which caused the sit-down at 8:30 o'clock last night.

The principal grievance he said was the laying off of 500 employees.

Negotiations between General Motors Corp. and the United Automobile Workers of America on a new contract, apparently were stalemated yesterday on the corporation's demand for renewed assurance against unauthorized strikes.

U. A. W. A. conferees rejected Sunday a proposed new agreement, terminating five months of negotiations. The original agreement, signed March 12, continued in effect but without a clause added tentatively on Sept. 16 conceding to the corporation the right to discipline persons responsible for "wildcat" strikes.

Power Company To Hold Division Meet At Mayfair Hotel

There will be a meeting of the district managers of the Northern Division of the Florida Power & Light Co. at the Mayfair Hotel tomorrow morning and will be attended by some 20 officials of the company, H. H. Coleman, local manager, reported this morning.

Taking advantage of a change in former procedure, Mr. Coleman said that he obtained this meeting for Sanford after an announcement by Northern Division Manager D. P. Caldwell that the monthly meetings of managers, formerly held in the Division headquarters in Daytona Beach, would henceforth take place in communities more centrally located in the territory.

The purpose of the meeting, Mr. Coleman said, is for the discussion of operating matters of the Company, and plans for the coming year.

District Managers will attend from Daytona Beach, St. Augustine, Palatka, Cocoa, Lake City, Live Oak, Madison, Perry, Titusville, Melbourne, Monticello, and Sanford.

Blackcats Ready To Play Leesburg Lions

Coach S. A. B. Wilkinson's Sanford Semi-Pro Blackcats held the tapering-up drill last night under the floodlights of the Sanford Armory Drill Field for their initial contest of the season tonight against the strong Leesburg Lions headed by George Miller, former ace Leesburg and Rollins backfield man.

The game is scheduled to start promptly at 8:15 o'clock and one of the largest crowds to see a central Florida football game this week is expected to attend.

Local Chessmen Lose To DeLand In Tourney

DeLand chessmen posed out the Sanford group by a small margin in a tournament in DeLand last Thursday night, according to officials of the Sanford Chess and Checker Club.

The score of the fray was 16 1/2 to 14 1/2 in favor of the DeLand Club.

Game Slated For Friday By Semi-Pros

Officials of the Sanford Semi-Pro Football Association this morning completed a deal for a football game which will be the second played by the Blackcats and the first home game of the season. The game will be played against Jack McDowell's Rollins Baby Tars.

The game will be played Friday, Nov. 26, on the local High School Athletic Field starting at 8:15 o'clock.

Advertise Old Goods And Help Business

The exchange of commodities is what is commonly known as business. When this exchange is rapid, business is said to be good; when it is slow, business is bad. One of the greatest handicaps to an exchange of new commodities is the difficulty of disposing of used goods.

The automobile dealer can't sell many new cars unless he finds a buyer for the customer's old car; a man in the market for a new radio or a new refrigerator can hardly be sold unless some disposition can be made of the old ones; a house who would like to buy a new gun hesitates because the old one will still be on his hands.

The list could be added to indefinitely, but this would give us nothing. What is important is for people to realize that through a more rapid exchange of used goods there will follow a substantial sale of new products. Both the individual and the merchant stand to gain.

The best way to speed up the exchange of used goods and thereby make the consumer stand to gain is to advertise in the Sanford Herald. A white one of this section will result in more property for you.

FASHION NOTE

Rock him on the kisser. Put him on the pan. Roll him in the gutter—He's a business man!

Fillory the sucker. Toke him in the eye. Jump upon his torso—He's a business guy!

Has he built a business? To enormous heights! Brand him as a cheater—Never mind his rights!

Does he give employment? Is the pay roll big? Put the bum in front! Toss him in the brig!

Does he pay in taxes? What the law calls for? Why, the dirty reptile Should be paying more!

Blas him in the headlines. Charge some crooked act! Let this be your slogan: "Anything but facts!"

Has he made some money? Get his scalp today! Say, where does he think he's living, anyway? —H. I. Phillips.

Looks like the cross state canal lost its ninth life when President Roosevelt announced this intention to shut down on spending.

Some people are so cautious they always stop their car on the railroad track to see whether a train is coming.

For each dollar it spends, the government now takes in 69 cents. It is only the large number of such transactions which makes this possible.—Detroit News.

The Japanese are accused of using poison gas. Now the Chinese can understand how the people of this country feel after a session of Congress.

"The peace of Europe is not threatened," says Lord Mottistone, British politician, "because only a lunatic would raise a war now." Lord Mottistone is assuming that lunatics do not sit in high places.—Ted Cook in New York Mirror.

Eleanor Holm is going to give up champagne cocktails and swimming trophies for Billy Rose. All she wants now is a little home out where the West begins.

The Soviet government will take a new census because the first was unsatisfactory. It must have shown some "counterrevolutionaries" overlooked by the executioners.—Buffalo News.

President Roosevelt recognizes the need which little business has for relief from the burden of taxation and so expressed himself in his message to Congress yesterday. It now remains to be seen what Congress will do about it.

The Japanese invasion benefited China in one way. Florida operators had planned to ship a quantity of slot machines to Shanghai, but the order was canceled on account of the war.—Tampa Tribune.

Kenneth Ballinger, an unusually well informed newspaperman writing in the Miami Herald, Orlando Sentinel and other papers, says that Judge Millard Smith of Tallahassee is planning to run for Congress against "Little Joe" Henderson of DeLand. Judge Smith is a thoroughly honest and capable man representing the highest type of public official and he would be an excellent addition to any Florida delegation in Congress.

A Hopeful Sign

There was a marked contrast in the tone of President Roosevelt in his message to Congress yesterday and in previous speeches in which he has assailed business interests. It was only a little more than a year ago that in Madison Square Garden he boasted business had met its master.

The President now apparently realizes that business has indeed been suffering from the body blows which it has been receiving on every hand. There has been, he admits, "a marked recession" in industrial production, although he cannot yet see it as serious, it is encouraging to note that something has got to be done about it.

We were glad to see an admission on his part that taxes are too high, particularly for the small business man. Calling for the elimination of injustices in federal tax laws, he said, "We should give special consideration to lightening inequitable burdens on the enterprise of the small business men of the nation."

About prices he also admitted that something has got to be done. He pointed out the rapid rise in many prices, particularly those which blocked the revival of the building trades, but especially did he seem concerned over the high prices of many foodstuffs.

Admitting that the FIA has failed to accomplish its avowed purpose of reviving the construction industry, the President pointed out the necessity of new legislation to "encourage private capital" to enter the field of new housing on a large scale, but reserved for a future message specific recommendations.

Significant also was the President's changed attitude toward the Constitution since the day when he proposed that new justices be appointed who would give it a different interpretation. Speaking of the agricultural program, he said, "We must keep in mind the Constitution of the United States."

The speech, to our way of thinking, indicates a decided change of attitude on the part of the Administration and will, we feel sure, result in a better spirit of co-operation between the business interests of the country and the government. If we are correct in this assumption and if the Congress moves along the lines which the President has suggested, there is no reason to believe that the present slump will be of more than short duration or that business conditions in 1938 will not show considerable improvement.

Tung-Oil Production

Pointing out that the tung-oil is used in the preservation of wood, in the manufacture of soap, in waterproofing masonry, cloth shoes, clothing, paper, baskets for the transportation of liquids, and many other things, the Tampa Tribune declares that whereas this country formerly imported all of its tung-oil, in the last few years much of it has begun to be produced in California and Florida with more than 6,000 acres of trees in 30 Florida counties alone.

"In 1921 we imported 27,249,000 pounds of tung-oil at a valuation of $2,470,000," the Tribune says. "The next year these imports rose to more than 97,000,000 pounds with a valuation of $8,000,000. In 1929 the imports of tung-oil had reached the 119,000,678 pounds at a valuation of $14,972,000. The present annual requirements of this oil are now reaching the huge sum of nearly $20,000,000. This amount represents the appropriate annual expenditure for a single item which this country has been almost wholly dependent upon China to furnish.

"Taking cognizance of the ever increasing demand for tung oil, and obviously of the huge annual sum being spent abroad for its purchase, growers in California and Florida several years ago began to look into the possibilities of growing the tung-oil tree.

"In 1912 the Florida experiment station undertook the planting of tung-oil trees with a marked degree of success. From 1912 to 1922 there was a gradual increase in the number of trees and the number of nuts produced. The first tung-oil tree planted in this country was on November 15, 1906, by the late William H. Raynes, a well-known horticulturist, of Tallahassee. Out of the five trees planted, only one survived. The surviving tree began to bear nuts at the end of the third year. By 1913 Mr. Raynes' original tree had produced 1095 nuts.

"In more than 30 counties in Florida not less than 6000 acres are planted in tung-oil trees, the principal portion of the acreage being mainly in northern central Florida. The first commercial plant for expressing oil from the seeds was erected and put into operation near Gainesville, in 1928. Through the medium of this plant, growers are offered a ready outlet for their crops. Recently, 80 varnish manufacturers reported tests on tung-oil from Florida-grown trees.

"Nearly all of these manufacturers reported the American oil to be superior to imported oil. Those who have been interested in experiments and commercial growing of the tung-oil tree believe that in a few years it will be possible to lessen our imports of this product."

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

WASHINGTON. — A prosperous English builder spent a week or so visiting in important circles here recently and his comment on the British labor and industrial situation prompted some new thinking over here.

The builder is John Laing of London, head of J. L. Laing and Son, Ltd., described here as one of the biggest construction firms in England.

Laing apparently made no effort to outline for his American listeners what he thought of the American labor problem. He simply drew comparisons between the current policy in Britain and previous ones.

hourly basis. Of course actually the working man is paid a lower rate per hour for 48 to 50 weeks of work than he would be paid if he earned the same annual income in 30 weeks. But the lowest cost of building houses has been a spur to British industry for some time.

There are many valid arguments against such a course, one of which is that if the working man consents to take a lower wage per hour he will simply get less pay for himself, at least until investors get interested in the building field.

However, the Laing story has stirred some government officials to the point of examining our recent policy of encouraging labor to get high hourly pay—at a possible sacrifice of less time on the job.

It would require a hardy public official to come out with a recommendation that labor accept a promise of longer work each year, even if he could predict with some assurance that the annual shading of hourly pay in return for a promise of longer work each year, even if he could predict with some assurance that the annual income would be the same or higher.

But there is a fair possibility that part of the recent business felt here toward urgent labor demands is due to a belief that high hourly wage levels, were one of the factors contributing to the current business recession.

There again, however, the question is highly debatable. Likely John L. Lewis would not altogether agree.

Rex Beach Romance Plays At The Ritz

There's at least one group of men who have resisted the increasing commercialism of the age: They are the owners of the "Skagit Chief," an old stern-wheeler which Harry Sherman, film producer, wanted for scenes in Rex Beach's romance, "The Barrier," which plays tonight at the Ritz Theater.

Sherman wanted an authentic old ship, one which had actually been used in the goldrush trade, but found that no matter how much money he offered, the owners of the "Skagit Chief" wouldn't take her off her regular run to rent her for the picture.

Just as Sherman, defeated, was walking out of the shipping office, one of the owners spoke up. "Wait a minute, Mr. Sherman, he said. "You can't rent the 'Skagit Chief' for money, but I'll tell you what we will do. If you'll give us a print of all the scenes in which the ship appears, so that we can run 'em off here and see her as a movie actress, we'll let you take her."

Sherman instantly agreed, shipped the prints the moment they were finished, and added, as a separate gift from himself, the latest model projection machine and screen.

The "Skagit Chief" has been used in scenes featuring the leading members of the cast, including Leo Carrillo, Jean Parker and James Ellison.

The exchange committee headed by Mrs. Harry Heeren reported a total of 49 plants exchanged during the past month. Mrs. C. R. It was announced that the bird house contest will be judged in front of Penny's on the last Saturday in January. Some of the houses will be for sale at this time.

Mrs. Heeren gave an interesting talk on the palms found around Sanford. Some of them are: Acrostoma Tolat, a native of Paraguay which is grown in the garden of Mrs. Henry Wight; Arca Lutescens, a pot palm which can be found in Mrs. Heeren's garden; Cocos Nucifera, coconut palm a specimen which can be found in front of the Elk's Club; Cocos Plumosa, from Brazil; Oreodoxa Redia, a stately palm found mostly in southern Florida, a specimen may be found in Mrs. Olive Marshall's garden on East Second Street; Phoenix Canariensis, from Canary Island, the largest specimen in the state may be found in the garden of Mrs. James Moughton. ## Mrs. Curlett Is Re-elected Head Of Civic Group

Since the depository boxes placed several years ago throughout Sanford to receive clothes for the needy are no longer necessary, members of the committee voted to have them dismantled.

In discussing the present shortage of small apartments and houses for seasonal renting, several members of the committee called attention to the importance of maintaining rentable property in a first-class and attractive condition, inasmuch as a prospective winter visitor or year round resident gains one of his first impressions of a town from the type of accommodations he is shown. The committee will recommend to Sanford realtors that all houses, apartments and rooms be inspected for cleanliness and attractiveness before being placed on their lists, and when there is need of improvements suggest to property owners their value and do not accept the listing until such improvements have been made.

Those present in the meeting yesterday included: Mrs. Fred T. Williams, Mrs. H. M. Papworth, Mrs. Martin Bram, Mrs. Pearl H. Hansell, Mrs. J. M. McCaskill, Mrs. E. E. Roumillat, Mrs. Gladys Kendall, Mrs. J. M. Hayes, Mrs. Z. B. Ratliff, Mrs. E. A. Douglass, Mrs. Thos. L. Sullivan, Dr. Elizabeth Tracy, Mrs. A. M. Phillips.

Brussels Meeting Leaves It To U. S. To Handle Japan

BRUSSELS, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The far Eastern peace conference yesterday succumbed to failure in its efforts to negotiate a Chinese war settlement and left it up to the United States to take the lead in applying force against Japan.

The conference, angrily breaking off all negotiations with the Tokyo government, adopted a declaration branding Japan as an outlaw among peace-loving nations.

France, Italy, fighting Japan's battle within the conference amid protests of the new German-Italian business alliance, voted against the declaration on the grounds that it "opens the door for grave complications instead of for a settlement."

Denmark, Norway and Sweden, formerly allied in the Oslo "council group" and fearful of the consequences of forceful measures against the Japanese, abstained from voting although they approved the resolution of censure "in principle."

Despite Italy's negative vote Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Spaak, president of the conference, declared the declaration adopted.

The delegates of the 19 powers adjourned at 5:10 P. M. until next Monday afternoon to wait and see whether the United States will abandon her traditional isolationist policy and take leadership in applying strict measures—such as supplying arms and munitions to China—against the Japanese.

If Congress, which met in Washington today almost at the hour Norman H. Davis was casting the vote of the United States in favor of censure of Japan, refuses to alter the U. S. neutrality law the peace conference is doomed to absolute failure.

For without American leadership both Britain and France—deeply involved in European complications—will refuse to step out with any stern measures against Japan.

Delegates were pessimistic over the possibilities of any mandate from Congress to bolster President Roosevelt's recent attack on "aggressor" nations and his proposal for a "quarantine" of treaty-breakers.

Unless Congress modifies the neutrality law the United States can not take leadership because a formal declaration of war in the Far East would force President Roosevelt automatically to declare an embargo on arms and credits for either Japan or China.

Some delegates, foreseeing collapse of the conference, were already intimating that they would like to place on the United States responsibility for its failure.

The Scandinavian delegates, asking what the future course of the conference would be, were told by Spaak that it would be governed by the last paragraph of the declaration stating that the powers "must now consider what their common attitude will be."

Other nations, the speaker stated, could not develop without infringing upon the rights of the vast industrial empire of the English and also her many territorial holdings prohibited the migration of her European neighbors.

During last night's session Legionnaire George Weinstein told those present of his trip to the Legion Convention in New York recently and outlined for the group the plans formulated by the National organization for work during the coming year.

Mr. Weinstein also gave a resume of the work accomplished by the local Post under the supervision of L. F. Boyle, immediate past commander and awarded him a Legion Emblem for his valuable services.

Grand Jury Starts Plans Are Made "Big Shot" Roundup In Lottery Racket

Continued From Page One—on and an alert grand jury went about its duty of clamping down on gambling rackets. Prospects of a fine, it was pointed out, hold no terrors for professional gamblers whose profits run into the tens of thousands but the thought of a jail sentence was said to be running the "big shots" to cover.

Along with many favorable comments heard on the streets regarding the action of the Grand Jury came simultaneously a public appeal by the Ministerial Association of Sanford to support the law enforcement officers in their drive to stamp out gambling. Characterizing lotteries as "a serious menace not only to good morals but to business as well," the Ministerial Association said "it is distinctly and definitely a low form of gambling."

Foreman of the Grand Jury is J. H. Colclough. The other members are: J. M. Hinesipher, clerk, Gus Schmah, C. N. Hudson, H. Grant, Walter S. Coleman, Howard Boteler, J. T. McLain, Jr., H. L. ### Government Of Chinese Moves Out Of Nanking

Hankow, 300 Miles To West, Becomes Seat Of Civil Authority

NANKING, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The Chinese government decided tonight to move to Hankow on the Yangtze nearly 300 miles to the west because of the threat to the capital by the Japanese armies advancing from Shanghai. Civil departments will be removed but officials emphasized that this did not mean abandonment of the capital and they agreed that the army would defend Nanking until the last with Chiang Kai-Shek, premier-Generalissimo himself in command.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Thousands of panic-stricken Chinese fled from three of China's great cities tonight to escape advancing Japanese armies and widespread bombing by Japanese warplanes. The great exodus was underway from Nanking, the nation's capital and the object of the tremendous Japanese drive into the interior from Shanghai.

Similarly civilians were fleeing from Tainan, Shanghai province capital north of the Shanghai war area, and from Soochow, the central point in the Chinese defense lines between Shanghai and Nanking. Japanese planes dumped bombs over the widespread area of Shanghai peninsula to smooth the way to Nanking for troops and naval vessels.

Foreign military observers predicted the Japanese could reach Nanking within a month. Peking's bombed harbor included Fushan, a Yangtze River port on the water route to Nanking, and Chinese troop concentrations between the Chinese defense lines and Nanking.

By highways, rivers and canals the civilian population was leaving Nanking by thousands, spurred by reports of terrible destruction inflicted on Soochow by Japanese bombing planes. The normal population of Nanking is over 1,000,000. Seven hundred bombs within 20 hours were said to have made a shambles of Soochow, city of 250,000 some 50 miles west of Shanghai, keypoint in China's Hindenburg line, formerly one of the country's most picturesque and prosperous cities.

Government officials remained in Nanking. The government announced determination to defend it to the last. This raised fears Nanking would suffer punishment similar to that of Soochow.

Yuanwards of the Japanese army, heavily reinforced by newly arrived troops, were reported within 12 miles of Soochow, having swept westward after the capture of Kunshan, 20 miles east of Soochow. Japanese lines still were 400

Senate Delays FDR Program In First Move

Continued From Page One—right this Fall. And all the reserves of individuals, corporations, municipalities, and States have been wiped out and the country as a whole is in nowhere near as good shape to meet the Roosevelt depression as it was to meet the depression of 1932.

The cause of the present depression, Spell argued, is a nationwide lack of confidence in the administration.

"I don't think they'll say any more about a chicken in every pot under Hoover, for they haven't got even a blackbird in every pot under Roosevelt," he snapped.

"How long we are going to get along experimenting and guessing, I don't know. But the American people are getting sick of these jumps in the dark."

In a statement commenting upon President Roosevelt's message to Congress today, John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican National Committee, declared: "Republicans in and out of Congress can be hopeful now that their repeated warnings have forced the President Roosevelt at last to face realities. He finally promises us tax revision. His promises are indefinite as usual but it does seem that the 'Roosevelt recession' has taught even Mr. Roosevelt that you cannot ignore economic laws and get away with it forever."

"When he spoke of taxes today Mr. Roosevelt might well have repeated the words he used in October, 1932, and then so soon 125 to 150 miles southeast of Nanking, but foreign military observers predicted they could reach the Chinese capital by mid-December. The Japanese were advancing in a fan-shaped formation nearly 100 miles long, stretching from the Yangtze River southward well into Northern Chekiang Province, with the center before Soochow.

Foreign advices said the bombing of Soochow had inflicted terrible casualties and enormous damage. Heavily further west, also was being punished. Japanese spokesmen said the bombings were necessary to "create panic among Chinese troops falling back to those points."

Dr. H. P. Eitinger, Austrian official in the Chinese Medical Service, reported that many wounded and the entire staff in a Soochow dressing station simply disappeared when the station was hit by a huge bomb.

Seventy Japanese warships were reported concentrated in the lower Yangtze River west of Taungjing Island to support the landings and islands (islands of fresh Japanese columns. On this wing the Japanese said they had advanced to within sight of the walls of Changshu, 25 miles north of Soochow, and threatened to cut off some 50,000 Chinese soldiers fleeing from Kunshan and Tainan.

forget. At that time he said: "Taxpayers are paid in the sweat of every man who labors... Our workers may never see a tax bill but they pay in deductions from wages, in increased cost of what they buy or, as now, in broad cessation of employment."

"We Republicans ever since have been reminding him of those words. At last our warnings have taken effect."
