

Socialist Says France Has Taken 'Swing To Right'

133 Commie Incumbents Defeated In County Elections

PARIS, Mar. 23—(AP)—Interior Minister Jules Moch, a Socialist, said today France has taken a "swing to the right" in the cantonal (county) elections, in which the Communists took a licking.

The cantonal elections ended yesterday. Final results showed that 133 Communist incumbents were defeated and only 34 Communist incumbents were returned to office. The parties making up the middle-of-the-road coalition government swamped both Communists and the De Gaullists of the extreme right.

In Socialist ranks, 150 incumbents were defeated and only 270 of 429 former office holders were returned to their jobs. Socialists have been left of center, but have not been travelling with Communists.

Popular vote figures were not released for the present. Last week, in the first round of cantonal elections, General Charles De Gaulle's Rally of the French People (RFP) carried about 28 percent of the popular vote, more than any single party, and it appeared the De Gaullists continued that trend yesterday.

At noon today, the De Gaullists claimed to have elected 530 councillors instead of the 380 officially reported for them. The popular vote totals were not made public immediately.

The election for general councillors, who help run the departments—roughly equivalent to American states—was important chiefly as an indication of popular feeling. It had no bearing on the organization of the national government.

There was no voting in Paris where the Communist vote is generally large.

Louis Johnson

"I am deeply moved by the trust which the President has placed in me and by the Senate's approval. In assuming the great office of Secretary of Defense, I am conscious of the heavy responsibilities it carries.

"The size of the defense job we have is not of our choosing. It has been thrust on us by the tension of the world today. America is committed to defend its own national interest and the principles of world democracy.

"This is the President's foreign policy, to which both parties of the Congress have agreed and which the American people endorse.

"Our defense policy will consist in mustering the maximum of strength within the limits of our economy and our democracy, to back up that foreign policy and make America secure by discouraging any potential aggressor.

"To achieve that goal we shall attain the necessary measure of strength in all three branches of national defense. They will be united as one in the service of the nation. The American people expect it, and they shall have it.

"Behind the armed services are the people themselves. I know that I can count on the help of Congress, the press and all devoted Americans.

"With God's help and guidance we are determined that American youths will not again have to take part in the tragedy of a war."

Congress Roundup

The measure, as finally agreed on, is considerably short of what President Truman had asked for. He wanted a 24 months extension of controls and a tightened law.

However, congressional leaders said Mr. Truman made no criticism of the bill, as it was shaping up, when they had their weekly conference with him this forenoon.

Both Senate and House will now vote on the compromise version.

Both measures contained "home rule" or "local option" features for ending rent controls in states, cities and towns desiring to do so under certain circumstances.

Meanwhile, Senate Majority Leader Lucas said after a conference with President Truman that the Senate will not vote on the proposed North Atlantic Defense Treaty until domestic "must" legislation is cleared away.

The treaty, ultimately expected to embrace 12 nations, is to be signed here Apr. 4.

Lucas predicted that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee will hold about a month of hearings on the proposed alliance. The pact must be ratified by a two-thirds vote of the Senate to become binding upon the United States.

Other congressional developments: Holiday House majority leader McCormack (D-Mass.) said he plans to leave the House recess from Apr. 14 through Apr. 25 for the Easter holy season.

Spies—Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) of the House Un-American Activities Committee said he is working on a new anti-red, anti-spy bill and may introduce it late today or tomorrow.

It is aimed at barring Communists and Soviet agents from government jobs and spots where they would have access to secret data.

Marshall plan—Senator Bridges (R-NH) complained that sabotage and Communist propaganda are keeping Europeans in the dark about American aid under the multi-billion dollar recovery program.

The decision was in a case holding the Women's Sportswear Manufacturing Association of Boston had violated the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. The government had charged the association with restraining trade through an agreement with jobbers.

Under this agreement, the jobbers were to give all their work to association members in good standing with the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. The government said the union did not appear to be a party to the agreement.

The court's quote a "cat's-paw" was in answer to the association's contention that inclusion of the labor union provision made the agreement immune from attack under the anti-trust laws.

Burgman is the 25th American to be indicted for treason during World War II—and the 15th to be indicted for assisting in enemy propaganda broadcasting.

During World War I, Burgman served in the American Army. After going to Berlin to work for the embassy, he married a German woman and has a grown son in Germany.

Burgman was arrested for preliminary investigation shortly after the end of World War II. He was then released.

Late last year, he was re-arrested and last February was sent back to this country to answer the treason accusation.

He has been held in the District of Columbia jail since. Burgman's indictment followed by less than a week the sentencing of Mildred E. Gillars known as "Axis Sally" to 10 to 30 years for broadcasting for the Nazis.

Burgman is alleged to have operated "Station Debunk" from a secret transmitter inside the Reich. Its programs were in English and were beamed to this country and American armed forces abroad.

The government has described this station's output as consisting principally of scurrilous news reports, and comments by Burgman under the name "Joe Scanlon."

The grand jury said these programs were intended "to persuade citizens and residents of the United States to decline to support the United States in the conduct of the war, to weaken and destroy the confidence of citizens and residents of the United States in the administration of the government of the United States, and to impair the morale of the members of the armed forces engaged in the prosecution of the war."

G. W. Spencer, (1934-35) revealed the enjoyment he had derived working on the program committee and stressed the motto of Rotary, "Service Above Self," as a means of getting more out of the club than one even hopes to receive.

Dr. R. W. Ruprecht, (1941-42) said that he was glad to see young blood (new members) in the club, and urged that the increase its program of community service. He told of visits to many Rotary clubs in the state.

City Receives Complete Plans For Swim Pool

Structure Will Be 60 Feet Wide And 100 Feet Long, All Above Ground Level

Plans for the proposed municipal swimming pool in Fort Mellon Park were submitted to the City Commission last night by Donovan Dean, Lakeland architect, and A. P. Michaels, consulting engineer, of Orlando.

According to the plans, the pool will be constructed completely above ground of concrete blocks reinforced with cement and steel. It will be 60 feet wide and 100 feet long. The water will vary in depth from three to nine feet.

Stairways from the ground level lead to the top of the pool, where operator decks are located. Under the decks are complete locker and dressing room accommodations for men and women. In front of the structure will be a wading pool for children and a large circular flower garden.

Italy Notifies U. S. Of Intention To Join Alliance

Acceptance Sent To State Department By Italian Embassy

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29—(AP)—Italy today notified the United States it is willing to join the North Atlantic Defense Alliance.

Italy's action brings to 10 the number of Western democracies that have formally gone on record as willing to line up in a mutual aid defense pact.

The State Department's press officer, Michael McDermott, told a news conference the Italian acceptance was sent to the Department this morning by the Italian embassy.

Portugal and Iceland have yet to be heard from the Department of officials are hoping they will decide to be at the signing of the agreement Apr. 4.

Italy's formal acceptance came only a few hours before the Italian Foreign Minister, Carlo Sforza, reached Washington as Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Sforza reached Washington last night well ahead of the parade of nine—and possibly 11—other foreign ministers converging on the United States to sign the North Atlantic Defense Treaty Apr. 4.

The official business is scheduled to get underway Saturday when the foreign ministers meet in a secret session intended to smooth out details leading up to the signing on Monday.

Group Of Students From Ohio State Visit Farm Mart

As the final stop on a tour of state markets, a group of agricultural students from Ohio State University visited the Sanford State Farmers Market Friday and left convinced that their home state ought to have a similar system of state markets, Sandy Anderson, manager of the market, announced today.

The young men were shown through the market by Mr. Anderson, and were then taken by him on a tour of the vegetable growing areas of Sanford, shown the local system of sub-irrigation and told of the cost of growing and harvesting vegetables here.

R. A. Higgins, professor who accompanied the boys on their trip, was outspoken in his praise of the "Southern hospitality" shown the group on their swing through Florida, said Mr. Anderson.

He described the students as courteous and well behaved; they seemed eager to learn about vegetable growing and processing in Florida, and asked "sharp" questions, he said. The students revealed that the trip supplied the equivalent of six months of schooling, and expressed the hope that next year a larger class might visit the market.

State Department Blocks Reds' Tour

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29—(AP)—The State Department today threw up a blockade against any tour of American cities by Soviet-and-satellite delegates to the "world peace" conference. It circulated a notice to embassies of their home countries, reminding them that the delegates were granted admission to this country only for the purpose of attending the controversial conference in New York. Now that the conference is over, the Department announced, the United States assumes the delegates will leave within a "reasonable time." The notice was sent to the Russian, Czechoslovakian, Polish and Yugoslav embassies. The delegates from those countries have a different position from the delegates from other countries. American laws forbid admission of Communists to this country. That law was waived so that the delegates from the Communist-controlled nations could attend the conference. But the waiver extended only to the conference.

Johnson Sets Out To Unify Armed Forces

Defense Secretary Outlines Plan To Abolish Many Unneeded Agencies

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29—(AP)—Defense Secretary Johnson set out today to unify the three Armed Forces completely and quickly.

As the first step of this crackdown, he told a news conference he is ordering the Army, Navy and Air Force to move at once to the Pentagon. Some agencies of those departments are scattered throughout the city.

They were already under orders to move to the Pentagon, but the approved moving schedule stretched out over two and one-half years. Johnson has told them to scrap the schedule and move now.

Johnson said he also intends to abolish many of the 800 boards and agencies set up by the Army, Navy and Air Force over a period of years.

He declared: "There are too damned many for efficiency's sake and we're going to abolish and coordinate some of them."

It probably will be possible to abolish 30 or 40 right at the start, he said.

A reporter asked Johnson if he has made up his mind what the "respective roles" of the Air Force and Navy should be.

The two services have quarreled over what bombing duties each should have in event of war, Johnson replied.

"I do have a pretty fair conviction. The three services are going to have a chance to argue me out of that conclusion in the next couple of days."

He said he plans to go to Key (Continued on Page Six)

Court Approves Bond Issue For Dade Improvement

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 29—(AP)—The Florida Supreme Court today approved $3,200,000 worth of bonds for bridge and park improvements in Dade County.

In two separate opinions, the court unanimously upheld a $2,000,000 bond issue for the improvement of three Dade County parks and a $1,200,000 issue for construction of five bridges.

Both issues were approved by a majority vote of justices in the court's general session.

Parks to be improved by the bond issue funds are Homestead Bay Front, Crandon Park and Haulover Beach Park.

The bridges will be constructed along Miami Canal between Miami Springs and Hialeah across Miami canal at N. W. 36th street; Miami Canal at Maynada Street; Little River Canal at N. W. 103rd Street and on South River Drive at Palmer Lake.

The bond issues were contested in Dade circuit court because the projects were grouped and voters were not permitted to cast ballots on each bridge and park separately.

However, the court said there is ample evidence the bridges were for a single purpose and fit into a general network or system of public roads traversing Dade County and accommodating the public and the people of the county.

The court's opinion also upheld validity of a law granting Dade County authority to issue bonds for the public works program.

Kaiser-Fraser Corp. Announces Slash In Prices Of Its Cars

DIOROT, Mar. 29—(AP)—Kaiser-Fraser Corp., already the industry's fourth largest producer, came out today with the biggest postwar automobile price cuts in a bid to further improve its competitive position.

To speed its entry into a "bigger mass market" the four-year-old partnership company shifted increasing control into the family of industrialist Henry J. Kaiser.

Edgar F. Kaiser, son of the founder of Kaiser-Fraser, was elevated to president. He succeeds Joseph W. Fraser, who was given a newly-created post of vice chairman of the board. The younger Kaiser had been vice president and general manager.

The price slashes range from $198 on the standard Fraser up to $333 on the Kaiser Special, the company's lowest priced car. They are effective immediately.

K-F sources indicated that a board member, Edgar Kaiser will have almost a free hand in guiding the company's new policy.

They said they were not yet prepared, however, to announce new production schedules under the expanded program.

The price reductions were the third in the auto industry in little over a month. General Motors, the biggest producer, cut $10 to $40 off its passenger cars Feb. 25 and up to $150 off its truck prices. Willys-Overland brought down

Negotiations between Israel and Trans-Jordan began Mar. 1 under the direction of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting U. N. mediator for the Holy Land.

Israel has signed armistice agreements with Egypt and Lebanon. No agreements have yet been reached with Syria, Iraq, Yemen and Saudi Arabia.

Warren Says Salaries Are Only Small Part Of Record Budget

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 29—(AP)—Governor Warren said today only a "slight dent" would be made on the record $20,000,000 budget recommendation to the Legislature if every state employee was laid off.

He said "more than three-fourths of the budget is for schools, welfare and higher education."

Comptroller C. M. Givens said if 20 salaries were eliminated the state would still be "several millions" short in meeting present operating costs, without getting any increases.

However, Givens said he believes the cabinet should "watch salaries and not let them get out of line."

The cabinet Budget Commission approved for distribution to members of the Legislature, and the press a chart that shows operating costs of the various services rendered by the state.

The chart shows that only about $8,000,111 is included in the new budget recommendation for general government activities, administrative and judicial departments—an increase of about $600,000 over current expenditures.

The biggest increase in expenditures is for public schools. The state contributed only $18,000,000 in 1947, but it is anticipated $60,000,000 will be required under the minimum foundation program in 1951.

State benefits to the aged, dependent children and blind have jumped from about $4,500,000 in 1947 to $10,000,000 from the general revenue fund for 1951.

The universities and colleges received only $5,000,000 from the general revenue fund in 1947, while $14,000,000 has been recommended for 1951. The institutions (Continued on Page Six)

Chang Confers With Chiang On Peace For China

NANKING, Mar. 29—(AP)—General Chang Ching-Chue, head of the national peace delegation to talk peace with the Communists, reportedly departed for Peiping today to consult with retired Peiping leader Chang Kai-Shek.

A number of Chang's family members, the chairman of the government peace delegation had slipped quietly out of town less than 24 hours earlier he publicly announced membership of the delegation would not visit Chiang before their departure for Peiping the Red reported.

Efforts to conceal any visit to Chang evidently stemmed from fear that the Communists would criticize delegates for even considering Chang the Communists' enemy.

Commie Newspaper Attacks Georgia

BERLIN, Mar. 29—(AP)—Berlin's Communist newspaper today attacked the state of Georgia as a commonwealth known for its "discrimination laws and 'for the liquidation of its Indian population.'"

The attack was published in Neues Deutschland, organ of the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity (Communist) Party.

Reasons for the blast were: (1) Georgia is the home state of General Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor, and (2) Berlin's anti-Communist lord mayor, Ernst Reuter, recently visited Atlanta on his American tour and there expressed pleasure at seeing Clay's native state.

Stock Market Is Jolted Into New Spree Of Buying

Prices Shoot Ahead 1 To 3 Points In High Speed Session

NEW YORK, Mar. 29—(AP)—A blizzard of auction transactions jolted the stock market into life today.

Prices shot ahead 1 to around 3 points at a fast opening as a overnight accumulation of orders poured into the stock exchange. Many were later trimmed a bit and the rapid trading slowed.

Fort a short while after the starting bell the high speed ticker tape dropped behind its job of recording transactions on the floor of the exchange. The extreme lag was three minutes. Last time the tape failed to keep pace with the market since Jan. 3.

Gain of around a point or more was seen in many issues as a result of the high speed session. Glenn Martin, American Telephone, Allied Chemical, International Paper (Continued on Page Six)

Ohio Republican Proposes That Senate-House Group Revise Compromise Plan

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29—(AP)—The Senate today approved compromise legislation to continue rent controls 15 months. The bill also provides for "home rule" decontrol and a "fair net operating income" for landlords.

The measure now goes to the House, where Administration leaders predicting its approval before nightfall.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29—(AP)—The Senate refused today to send the compromise rent control bill back to a Senate-House Conference Committee for revision of its terms. The action came on rejection of a motion by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio), who told the Senate that a conference provision designed to give landlords a "fair net operating income" is meaningless. The vote against Bricker's motion was 53 to 31.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29—(AP)—Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) asked the Senate today to reject a compromise bill extending rent controls for 15 months.

Bricker moved that the bill be sent back to a committee of House and Senate members who finally agreed yesterday on a bill ironing out differences between separate measures passed by the two branches of Congress.

Bricker proposed that the Senate-House committee be asked to make a new try at writing a compromise bill.

Administration leaders were confident that Bricker's move (Continued on Page Six)

Pilot Says Loss Of Lubricating Oil Forced Plane Down

PEARL HARBOR, Mar. 29—(AP)—The pilot of a Navy jet that forced down southwest of Honolulu Island Sunday radiated today loss of lubricating oil from one engine caused it to fail.

The pilot, Lt. Comdr. William G. Hartman of Altadena, Calif., and 10 other men were rescued early Monday by navy LMS-448 shortly before their flying boat sank in middle of the rough Pacific.

The pilot said the crew jettisoned all luggage gear and the plane's auxiliary wing tanks at 3,000 feet when the motor failed. He said it was impossible to feather the propeller and the Catalina lost altitude.

The plane's landing gear was damaged when it landed in the rough seas and the 11 men had to bail constantly to keep the plane afloat until help arrived about nine hours later, Hartman said.

When the navy amphibious craft arrived on the scene, Hartman said a line was passed from the ship and the survivors were pulled across in liferafts. None was injured.

OLD TIME PRICE CONTROLS

One of the most tantalizing experiences conceivable would be to stand outside a room filled with interesting objects, and get only occasional glimpses of the interior when the window was opened for a moment. This is what the study of ancient history is like, and of some modern history, too. We do not really know much about the men and women of 4,000 years ago.

This thought is prompted by the announcement from Prof. Albrecht E. R. Goetze of Yale University that he has been able to read ancient Babylonian tablets discovered by him last year in Iraq. One interesting feature of these tablets written in the Sumerian language of ancient Babylonia and thought to date from B. C. 1900, is that they record a system of price and wage controls in this forgotten kingdom of Eshnunna. A bushel of grain was priced at one quart of an ounce of silver. To hire a donkey cost 40 quarts of grain and the same amount was paid to its driver.

What we should like to know about these laws, and probably never shall have enough data to find out, is, "How did they work?" Midway in time between Eshnunna and today the Roman emperor Diocletian ordered an elaborate system of price controls. That is really all that we know about them, except the fact that they were later given up. It is improbable that we shall ever learn more.

Considering how hard it is to get a general agreement on the effect of our own price controls, it may readily be seen how impossible it is to pass judgment on barely mentioned similar systems in by-gone days. Similar limitations apply to many kinds of knowledge of ancient times. That is one reason why history cannot yet be called an exact science.

Blind Senators

The famous blind man of Oklahoma is no more. Thomas P. Gore, the state's first senator, who served from 1907 to 1921 and again from 1931 to 1937, has just died in Washington, at 78.

Blind most of his life, Senator Gore got along with the help of a devoted wife and a phenomenal memory. An isolationist, he was at odds, though a Democrat, with the Democratic presidents of his day. He opposed the League of Nations in Wilson's time, and was a thorn in Franklin Roosevelt's side. This lack of harmony with the administrations of his party accounted for his two election defeats.

Gore's second hitch in the Senate coincided in part with the term of the only other blind senator in our history, Thomas D. Schall, a Republican from Minnesota. Schall proved too conservative for his state, and served only a short time.

A cynic might say that Gore and Schall were not our only blind senators. Some of those who have the blessing of eyesight seem to be blind to the needs of the nation.

The Real Shakespeare

Who wrote Shakespeare's plays? Most persons are quite content in the assumption that William Shakespeare wrote them. But not the members of the Francis Bacon Society, 68 years old and 600 strong, who met recently to commemorate the 338th birthday of their hero. Most readers of Shakespeare have heard of their arguments, that Shakespeare did not have the education necessary to write his masterpieces, and that their real author was Francis Bacon, judge, philosopher, scientist and literary figure—a universal genius if there ever was one. This argument is supposed to be supported by secret ciphers said to be found in the plays and containing Bacon's name or initials in numerous places.

Though the Baconians are still undaunted, most critics think they have failed to make their case. A parallel is in the attempt, 150 years old now, to attribute the poems of Homer to a series of unknown bards. After cultivating this theory for many years, Greek students have come more and more to return to the traditional view, that Homer and no other wrote the Iliad and the Odyssey.

Commission Meet

Chase and City Manager Clifford McKibbin to consider the plans and to make recommendations to the City Commission.

The second reading of an ordinance placing a stadium tax on admissions to athletic events at the Municipal Park was completed. Commissioner Krider outlined plans to go ahead with the construction of new stands at the park.

The Commission adopted a resolution requesting the transfer of two pieces of property from the County to the City. Requested returned to the City was the land immediately north of the present Municipal Ball Park and the property south of First Street opposite the radio tower, formerly designed as the proposed hospital site.

Mr. McKibbin was instructed to contact Leedy, Wheeler and Allen, Orlando bond attorneys, to prepare an enabling act to be introduced in the Legislature for the City to pay for work to be done in connection with the financing of the proposed waterway terminal.

Mayor Gordon presented a report of the J. E. Face Subdivision to be called the Fellowship Addition. The Commission approved the plan, subject to the approval of the City Zoning Board.

Mayor Carraway told the Commission of an unofficial meeting with representatives of the Sanford Shuffleboard Club, the Tourist Club, Manager Edward Higgins and President John Ivey of the Chamber of Commerce and the City Manager with the view of making better arrangements for facilities for tourists.

With a State deficit piling up of something like $30,000,000 a year, it might be well for Florida taxpayers to know how their money is being spent by the State government. Only a little more than 11 cents out of every dollar is devoted to the cases of general government. The rest is divided among the counties which received an 18 percent, the highway department 20 percent, schools 10 percent, and other departments 49 percent.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Hopes of generations of great idealists for creation of a United States of Europe are moving closer to fruition—closer to peace.

Diplomatic representatives of ten nations are meeting in London to complete details for the establishment of a Parliament of Europe. These ten are Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Italy, Luxembourg and Elia. It is hoped to see this parliament in session by the coming summer, probably in Strasbourg, France.

When this Congress opens it will represent a brave beginning of the United States of Europe for which famous statesmen have labored so earnestly and so long. Prominent among these was France's famous Aristide Briand—premier, Nobel Peace Prize winner and player of an important part in bringing about the Kellogg Pact to outlaw war.

As one of the old timers I had the privilege of knowing the humanitarian Briand. I'm sure his spirit, with his old-time genial smile, will be standing beside the presiding official when the gavel falls to signal the opening of the first session of that parliament.

There was a lot of talk about a United States of Europe in the last century as a means of fostering peace. At that time the so-called "balance of power" was depended on to prevent conflict.

World War I demonstrated that the balance of power was outmoded and must be replaced. The result was the league of nations. However, it quickly became apparent that the league was too heterogeneous in structure to function well. There was too great divergence of race and customs among the world-wide membership. The same regulations wouldn't fit all.

This weakness gave a fillip to the idea of a United States of Europe. It was recognized that Europe was the greatest danger spot as a breeder of world wars. Supporters of such a united states pointed out that the greatest danger could be formed among the nations of the continent because of the similarity in race and culture. This would be conducive to peace and the idea could be made to fit into the League of Nations.

Well, the plan didn't jell quickly enough, and it quickly became apparent that the league was too heterogeneous in structure to function well. There was too great divergence of race and customs among the world-wide membership. The same regulations wouldn't fit all.

So far as one can see this is likely to represent a step in the direction of the "one world," which isn't likely to be achieved until human nature has undergone a mighty change. As a matter of fact, it's easy to believe that when future generations achieve "one world" it may be comprised of a large number of just such blocs of nations as the projected "United States of Europe." That would seem logical in view of the diversity of special interests.

Certainly it's difficult to imagine "one world" in which the member states would surrender their sovereignty to a parent parliament. There has been much pride in nationalism to permit of such emancipation. However, this need not preclude wholesale cooperation for general welfare among the various groups of "united states."

BELLS REPLACED SCHAFFHAUSEN, Switzerland Mar. 28—(AP)—Five hundred Swiss school children tugging on ropes helped to put back in place the five church bells at St. Niklaus-kirche, bombed in error five years ago by American fliers.

The church was destroyed on Apr. 1, 1944, when American bombers, whose targets were in Germany only a few miles away, mistakenly bombed Schaffhausen, the church has been rebuilt and the installation of the bells was made a public ceremony. The 500 children marched to the church in a parade which featured the bells.

Auto Price Cuts

The Kaiser-Frazer officials said that among the factors entering the price reductions were these: "1. We are carrying into reorganization a company goal to place Kaiser and Frazer automobiles within the buying ability of additional hundreds of thousands of potential large car owners, thereby affording the public the cost savings resulting from higher volume production and sales.

"2. The company now is in the best supply position in its history in respect to finished parts and basic materials. The company's recent acquisitions of raw materials facilities, particularly the world's largest blast furnace at Cleveland, operated for us on a long-term contract by Republic Steel, assure us an uninterrupted flow of basic metal and finished automotive sheet at competitive prices.

"3. Starting-up costs required in establishing a new auto company and bringing out the first entirely new postwar car have been completely absorbed. We have purchased the Willow Run Plant and gained in efficiency through new tooling and machinery."

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, was named for a river which does not exist. Spanish discoverers mistook the wide bay for the mouth of a river, which they called River of January, because they came upon it January 1.

Chase and City Manager Clifford McKibbin to consider the plans and to make recommendations to the City Commission.

The second reading of an ordinance placing a stadium tax on admissions to athletic events at the Municipal Park was completed. Commissioner Krider outlined plans to go ahead with the construction of new stands at the park.

The Commission adopted a resolution requesting the transfer of two pieces of property from the County to the City. Requested returned to the City was the land immediately north of the present Municipal Ball Park and the property south of First Street opposite the radio tower, formerly designed as the proposed hospital site.

Mr. McKibbin was instructed to contact Leedy, Wheeler and Allen, Orlando bond attorneys, to prepare an enabling act to be introduced in the Legislature for the City to pay for work to be done in connection with the financing of the proposed waterway terminal.

Mayor Gordon presented a report of the J. E. Face Subdivision to be called the Fellowship Addition. The Commission approved the plan, subject to the approval of the City Zoning Board.

Mayor Carraway told the Commission of an unofficial meeting with representatives of the Sanford Shuffleboard Club, the Tourist Club, Manager Edward Higgins and President John Ivey of the Chamber of Commerce and the City Manager with the view of making better arrangements for facilities for tourists.

With a State deficit piling up of something like $30,000,000 a year, it might be well for Florida taxpayers to know how their money is being spent by the State government. Only a little more than 11 cents out of every dollar is devoted to the cases of general government. The rest is divided among the counties which received an 18 percent, the highway department 20 percent, schools 10 percent, and other departments 49 percent.

delegation also disclosed that General Liu Pei, vice minister of national defense, will accompany the peace delegation to Peiping. Liu is considered one of the Nationalists' best soldiers. He probably will take a major part in negotiations on the key issue of joint army reorganization.

The secretariat said the government peace mission will leave in two groups on Thursday and Friday. The peace delegates themselves will leave Nanking on Friday.

Meanwhile another member of the delegation, Huang Shao-Huang, en route from Hong Kong to Nanking, said that Nationalist China can not afford a continued civil war.

"Economically China is already bankrupt, and an impoverished country can not afford to fight any war," Huang said.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 29.—(AP)—When in doubt, make a Western. This old movie maxim, based on the sure-fire box office of horse operas, is being heeded by Robert Taylor and James Stewart Taylor's next film after "Battle Ground" is slated to be "Howl's Doorman" which is one of MGM's first Westerns since the actor's "Billy the Kid."

Stewart just finished "Operation Malaya" at MGM. The picture has the amazing record of being finished in 29 days on a 10-day schedule. The pace had everyone dazed "I hope we don't find out that we left out the middle or something," says Jimmy.

Gene Crosby can't seem to escape horses. He's acting with "in" in "Hiding With Him" that should be the signal for Hollywood to get out his "Crosby's Horses" gag file.

Stan Kenton, now on a six-month tour of South America, is said by friends to be planning a change of profession at 28. After being run ragged in the band business, he wants to turn to psychiatry. Some might consider the two fields a little different.

Tom Costello hopes his lightweight championship fight between the Williams and Earlobe Bolinas will lift his outside youth foundation out of the red. The May 25 bout will have to pay off $20,000 debt on the place into which Abbott and Costello have already poured $100,000. Lou reports the foundation has helped decrease juvenile delinquency 40 per cent in the area.

The 20th-Fox-Paramount talent exchange may pave the way for similar deals. So far the deal has involved loans of Ray Milland, Wanda Hendrix, John Lund, Paulette Goddard, Coleen Gray, Victor Mature, and Gene Tierney. Sounds like a better deal than costarring the same team in picture after picture.

A sequel is already planned for "My Friend Irma," even though the first film isn't finished yet. The second edition is planned for next fall. The cast is having fun planning the next title. Suggestions are "My Friend Irma out West With the Hawks" and "Irma Meets Boston Blackie."

Short takes of Tom Drake cuts loose from MGM in a couple of weeks, says he'll free-lance. It'll be 20 Radio Theater appearances, appearances for Claudette Colbert and Fred MacMurray when they do "Family Honey-moon" next Monday. Cass Daley is back in voice after having a baby. Her first record is a raucous "All Right, Louie, Drop the Gun."

Cosmetic Industry Is Holding Its Own

By BETTY CLARKE
AP News-Features Beauty Editor

It wasn't too long ago that women had to avoid handbags to have their facepinks unattended with color. If today's woman would take the time of looking at her face, the whole fashion and cosmetics picture could change.

Application might be put on the shelf as girls are not so sure of the facepinks that topped the wardrobe in a 1948-49 season. Let's face it, most girls are not so sure of their facepinks and handbags in their straw-sandals chaperone.

Back on toiletries, beauty would be smiling, salts, beauty creams and hand lotions used for perfume, the beauty business is a whole new market. Men might be sure that "natural" blush again by dipping a rose in water and rubbing it on her cheeks. Or perhaps a strawberry would do the trick.

Such was the soldering used by young ladies in the Nineties, and even before, who wanted to enhance their beauty without incurring the wrath of the gentlemen of that period.

Cosmetics manufacturers often gave cooperation to the ladies of that era. Memorabilia from Revlon and Ulm's archives reveal that as one of the leading cosmetics lines of that period, the manufacturers then whitened to the point of highly perfumed handbags, elegant, even perfume-smelling, salts, used under tooth wash and scented tooth powder. A velvet case, elegant and Vanities, always ready to be used only by the most daring.

Mrs. and Mrs. America are taking their cosmetics to the next level. It looks as if the toiletries are here to stay.

Princess Fawzia Wed In Quiet Ceremony

BY ALBURN D. WEST
CAIRO, Mar. 29.—(AP)— Princess Fawzia, the beautiful former Empress of Iran, was married yesterday to Ismail Shirine Bey, a distant relative of Egypt's royal family.

The marriage was the second for the 30-year-old princess, who is the sister of Egypt's King Farouk. She had been married to the Shah of Iran until he divorced her last November. She had borne one son to inherit the Iranian throne.

Yesterday's ceremony was a simple Muslim one and strictly private.

The royal cabinet announced the wedding had taken place in a special, official communiqué.

"By Allah's will and with the guidance of his light and under the care of (King) Farouk," the statement said, "the great marriage of Princess Fawzia x x x to Ismail Shirine Bey x x x has taken place."

Throughout the ceremony she was expected to remain in her own suite at Kouba palace. In some cases a woman member of a Muslim household reads the Koran—the Muslim Bible—to the bride during the waiting period.

Johnson Meet

(Continued From Page One) West with the commanders of the three Armed Forces within the next week to confer with General Dwight D. Eisenhower, the temporary chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, Eisenhower went to Key West yesterday to recuperate from an illness. Presumably, the talks there will concern the roles of the services under unification. Johnson said he is giving General Joseph T. McNarney, who has been chief of the material command of the Air Force, the job of coordinating the changes he plans to make. Johnson took over the cabinet job yesterday. He and retiring secretary James V. Forrestal have been the center of a series of rumors since the resignation of the latter. Last night, there was a testimonial dinner of about 250 top government officials. President Truman made a speech. He said he is trying to build up a cabinet that can meet the "very great" America is facing. "And I think I am succeeding in doing it," Mr. Truman added. Today, the House Armed Services Committee had Johnson and Forrestal in for a welcome-and-farewell session. Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) presented Forrestal with a large silver bowl. Johnson told the committee there would be some changes in the country's military organization. He added: "The headlines will say Louis Johnson did this and that. But actually these changes are the result of months of work begun by Jim Forrestal. They just weren't ready to be announced before he left." From the Capitol Hill meeting, Johnson went to the Pentagon and held his news conference. He told the reporters firmly that he intends to put an end to the contest between the Navy and Air Force for public attention. "There will be vying between the services for headlines. No release of things that are secret." Without mentioning names for particular jobs, Johnson said: "There will be some personnel changes but they will not come fast and they will not come thick. The people who are doing their jobs will remain." He was asked if there would be any changes in the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force. "That is a matter between the three secretaries and the President," Johnson said.

Italy Pact

(Continued From Page One) Ernest Bevin, ex route to the U. S. to sign the pact, is expected to ask the American government for a precise statement of its views concerning a Mediterranean Defense Treaty linked to the North Atlantic Alliance. Informants aboard the liner Queen Mary said Bevin has held several conferences, presumably on the Mediterranean subject, with Belgium's Premier Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak. Holland's Foreign Minister D. U. Stikker and Premier Joseph Bech of Luxembourg. State Department experts hurried final work on plans for rearming the North Atlantic Alliance. The State Department reported conversations with the Budget Bureau to determine a specific figure for arming the pact members and other friendly nations.

Stock Market

(Continued From Page One) The Federal Reserve Board, the agency which has the say-so on so many of the nation's credit policies, announced late yesterday that effective Wednesday stocks may be purchased for only 50 per cent cash instead of 75 per cent. Stocks which are now owned on a 75 per cent margin may be changed to 50 per cent, brokers said. The amount of cash thus released, they added, could be used either to make new purchases of stock or merely credited to the customer's account. Brokerage firms already have on their books large sums of cash—so-called free credit balances—which have been lying idle for some time because investors have preferred to maintain a highly liquid position. These sources added that there had been little interest shown thus far by their clients in changing from a 75 to 50 per cent margin basis. The federal reserve's announcement as the board's announcement so frequently do—caught the financial district completely by surprise. Wall Street had looked forward to a reduction but few observers had anticipated a change for a couple of weeks at least.

Major Problems Will Be Discussed With Ministers Coming Here To Sign Pact

WASHINGTON, Mar. 30—(AP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today major German problems will be discussed with Western European foreign ministers coming here to sign the North Atlantic Treaty.

Acheson told a news conference the talks on Germany will be highly informal. But he said he hopes they may bring further progress on problems such as formation of a German government which are already under discussion in conferences in Europe.

The Secretary's principal discussions on the German issue will be held with the foreign policy chiefs of the other two occupation powers of Western Germany—Britain's Ernest Bevin and France's Robert Schuman.

Acheson pointed out at his conference that the British cabinet also have figured in some discussions on the policy of the Western Powers toward Germany.

He said they might come into the picture that the British cabinet are discussing. The Netherlands and Luxembourg. The Atlantic Pact is to be signed on Monday.

Acheson said that in the highly important series of talks leading up to the signing he would see Bevin tomorrow, at an hour not yet announced, and also expects to meet during the day with Netherlands' Foreign Minister D. U. Stikker.

Acheson said he also intends to discuss Italy's former African colonies with some of the foreign ministers who will come here to sign the pact.

The Secretary said he had a (Continued On Page 41a)

Prof. Ray E. Short To Speak On World Federation Friday

Professor Ray E. Short of Florida Southern College, executive director of the state branch of United World Federalists, will speak Friday night at 8:00 o'clock at the Sanford Women's Club on the subject, "World Government, The Path to Peace."

He was recently elected to the National Council of UWF, and has been appointed state chairman of the Florida Jaycee committee on world government.

He says his interest in world government came as an outgrowth of his study of a thesis paper on atomic energy control written by Dr. Hermal Hartz at Duke University. In order to do full time work for world peace, he has been granted leave of absence from Florida Southern College, Lakeland, where he was assistant professor of religion.

Eight months after he took the chairmanship of the state UWF organization, membership tripled and 15 new chapters were started in cities throughout Florida.

Stetson Students Tell Kiwanis Of Teaching Program

Experiences of Stetson University students who are learning to teach through actual experience with classes at Seminole High School were today told by students to Kiwanis at the Tourist Center and the purpose of the program of such teaching was outlined by Dr. J. C. Park, director of the program for teachers at Stetson University.

Duties Of Instructors Learned By On-Job Training

Principal Herman E. Morris introduced the students including Miss Audrey Bach and Paul Hickson of Sanford; Bill Orr of Deland; Mrs. Altha Chance of Pensacola; and Harry Gaventa of Tampa.

Carl Higginbotham announced that Kiwanis will sponsor the 1949 Salvation Army Drive which will start Apr. 1 and which has a goal of $2,500, which has been reduced $1000 since last year. As campaign chairman for the drive, he outlined instructions of the workers in soliciting donations.

Dr. Park reported that Stetson University has 62 students teaching all over the state. These students are each working under school teachers who guide them in the work of instructing classes. Pupils in schools are doing better work under such instruction because of the break in the monotony of the regular routine, he said. He termed Seminole High School teachers as willing and capable.

The transition from student to role of teacher is enormous, he pointed out, and while a student may be scolded as a matter of discipline, a teacher may not be asked to come back the following year.

Miss Audrey Bach declared that she is thoroughly enjoying her work as an English teacher under the guidance of Mrs. M. B. Smith. She said that she believed the program to be very beneficial, and declared that she is learning the names of pupils, calling the rolls and getting accustomed to the work of the students.

Bill Orr revealed that he is helping with athletics under the guidance of Coaches B. P. Ganas and Otis Mooney, and told of his (Continued On Page 41a)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 30—(AP)—Rep. Peterson (D-Fla.), who plans to retire from Congress at the end of this term, is being urged by friends to run for U. S. Senator or governor—but the answer is "No."

Peterson told a reporter that he "deeply appreciated" the thoughts of his friends, "but I'm homesick and I want to return to Florida to live—where I can walk down the streets in my shirt-sleeves with the sun beating on my back."

Peterson announced his retirement last Friday. Since then, his office has been besieged with mail from friends throughout the state. Fellow congressmen slap him on the back and say "Fate, it isn't true. You can't quit."

But Peterson has a longing to return to his home state and perhaps hang out his shingle and practice law in Lakeland.

Court Refuses To Dismiss Taylor's Alabama Sentence

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Mar. 30—(AP)—A circuit court judge refused today to dismiss a disorderly conduct conviction of Senator John Taylor (D-Idaho).

Judge George Lewis Hubbs overruled a defense motion to strike the conviction on grounds that Taylor was denied constitutional rights of free speech and assembly.

The hearing is on an appeal by the Idaho Senator of a police court conviction of disorderly conduct, resisting an officer and assault and battery. He was fined $50 and given a suspended sentence of 180 days in jail last May.

Taylor was arrested May 1 while working to enter a meeting of the Southern Negro Youth Congress through a door marked for negroes.

The dismissal motion was made by Arthur Shores, Birmingham negro attorney, who contended the arrest was a part of overt act by the city of Birmingham in a "willful and deliberate plan" to deny Taylor his constitutional rights.

The motion also contended Police Commissioner Eugene Conroy and the city entered into a conspiracy to prevent Taylor from speaking at the meeting. Taylor had come here during his campaign for Vice President on the Henry Wallace.

Another attorney for Taylor, Morel Montgomery of Birmingham, sought to withdraw a request for a trial by jury. The court also overruled the motion.

The court called a brief recess, after which the attorneys will begin selection of a jury to hear the appeal.

Nation Is Scoured To Find Love Grass Seed For Soil Day Planting

By RALPH SASSAR
There is no love in Sanford—weeping love grass, that is. It all started along about the first of March when Soil Conservation Service technicians decided that weeping love grass was to be used on the farm of the Fellowship Biblical College's 385 acre Soil Conservation Miracle Day program.

Particularly adapted to sandy dry land and almost unknown in Florida weeping love grass has a place in the scheduled conservation program. However, no seed could be secured.

J. J. Rocca, local seed dealer, and chairman of the Miracle Day seed committee called seed dealers all over Florida and received the stock answer, "Never heard of it."

5 Senators Offer Voluntary Health Insurance Measure

WASHINGTON, Mar. 30—(AP)—Five Senators today offered a new "voluntary health insurance bill" intended to make hospital and medical care available to all persons.

Senator Hill (D-Ala.), one of the sponsors, said the new plan, based on state and local controls, is a substitute for what he called "compulsory system" advocated by President Truman and some members of Congress.

Invitations To Soil Day Program Sent To 400,000

Nearly 400,000 invitations to the Miracle Soil Conservation Day program here on Apr. 7 are going into the mails this week, because of the interest of Florida bankers in soil and water conservation. Edward Higgins, chairman of the steering committee announced today.

One of the orange-and-blue invitations, about the size of a check, is being placed in the statement of each depositor of the 1777 banks which are members of the Florida Bankers Association.

Three men worked out the plan to tell all Florida bank depositors about the logical soil conservation field day ever scheduled in the state. They are Floyd Call, secretary of the bankers association of Orlando; E. J. Folmar, chairman of the association's agricultural committee; of Hominy, and Mr. Higgins.

A complete soil and water conservation and good land use plan will be carried out on the 385-acre farm of the Fellowship Biblical College at the Municipal Airport Thursday. The plan was worked out by U. S. Conservation Service technicians assigned to the Seminole Soil Conservation District. The District is co-sponsor of the Miracle Day program with the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce, the Orlando Sentinel-Star, the Sanford Herald, and the Bible college.

The Florida Bankers Association has been actively supporting the soil conservation district program in the State. In February, Chairman Folmar of the Agricultural Committee and Collins, the SCS state conservationist at Gainesville, sent a copy of a typical soil conservation farm plan to each member bank in the association. Each banker received a conservation plan of an actual farm representative of territory his bank serves.

In his letter to the bankers, he said that the plan would help to "inform bankers on just how important conservation is to every community and every bank in the state."
