

C. M. Hall's Fast Greyhound Seems To Be Unbeatable

LONGWOOD, Jan. 8.—(Special)—Who will stop Hi-Guide? Is the question being asked around the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

No one seems to know the answer, for the C. M. Hall greyhound appears to be as unstoppable as America's march to victory. Last week, he lowered the season's track record for the futurity mark in winning his third straight start. Tuesday night, he romped the 5-16th's in the fastest time of the season, leading all the way to grab his fourth decision in as many starts. Gilderleeve, who has run second to Hi-Guide so often that he's beginning to develop a complex, managed to beat out Rambling Nora for the place.

Tonight's feature race appears to be a free-for-all with the draw in the post positions only to favor the leader of the race. Track fans have been waiting anxiously for Rambling Nora to draw the one box, where she can get away to a fair start. So far, she's drawn nothing but inside boxes where the slow-starter has usually been gobbled up and unable to recover in time to win.

Louis Is Ready For Buddy Baer Challenge Friday

By SID FEDER
 NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(AP)—Joe Louis is considerably annoyed when another fighter dumps him out of the ring—especially when he lands on his head.

He is also somewhat irked when he is accused of any foul tactics. And he is always put out at any kind of a "sneak" from a rival.

Buddy Baer did all of these things to Louis last May before Joe stopped his challenge in six rounds. Now, Louis isn't angry at the big east-going Californian, but he's that proud that he doesn't want such a matter as this to stand in the books without a clear cut settlement.

So, his figures are walking out in Madison Square Garden's ring Friday night and telling Buddy over rapidly. This corner believes he'll do it just that way, and that Buddy won't be on hand when the going gets rough for round four.

These return engagements have always been more or less fatal for fellows who've survived one walk with Louis. Max Schmeling tried it, and then decided parachuting was safer. Arturo Godoy crowded and crooked for 15 rounds in his first side of the merry-go-round. The second time Joe turned out the lights in half that distance.

Defense Classes For Negroes Organized

Negro defense training courses have been organized in Seminole County by the government, and negro youths may accept the opportunity offered them by learning specialized mechanical and carpentry work by registering with Professor John Lawson, Jr., at Crooms Academy, County Superintendent T. W. Lawton announced today.

Courses are being given in auto mechanics, woodwork and building construction which includes carpentry and painting. The classes started Monday and will run for eight weeks. They start at 7:00 P.M. and last three hours, and are held five nights a week.

Bob Foster rode a bicycle the route once. Next trip to the post he was floored six times and then the roof fell in.

The National Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C., cited as the largest marble building in the world, took less than four years to build and cost about $15,000,000.

Celery Fed Cage Team Opens 1942 Slate At Tavares

Seminole High basketball performers, minus two regulars from last year and their coach, L. McLucas, will pop the list off of their 1942 cage schedule tonight at Tavares against the Bulldogs, starting at 8:00 P.M. The B squads of the two schools will open hostilities at 7:00 P.M.

Herman Morris, Junior High School principal will lead the team as Coach McLucas is suffering from a cold. He is in the Orange General Hospital and is expected to be away from the cage picture for two weeks.

Friday night, the Fed cage artists will start their home slate against Eustis. Both A and B squad games will be played at the high school.

The starting line-up for the Fed tonight is expected to be Warren Daniels and Jack Herprie at the forward posts, Robert Lee and Pete Brock as guards and Billy Fleming, center. Herprie, who has acquired the nickname of "Burrball," is the only senior on the team and was outstanding last year. Daniels is a junior who has shown much improvement in practice this week.

Lee, a steady player with some experience, and fast Petr

Breck hold down the guard positions, while Fleming drops them in from all angles from his center post.

Composing the second team are McKay Truluck and Bill Branan guards; Mack Cleveland and David Gatchel, forwards; and Melvin Doble at center. The Fed's have been practicing since early last December and are reported in good condition. Coach McLucas relies mainly on a man-to-man defense and the low break offense.

Motorists in Florida who want a certain serial number will pay $1 for the privilege, and the revenue received will go to dependent children.

Nazi Gains During Last Three Months In Russia Are Lost

Reds Break Siege Of Leningrad And Retake Large Area From German Army

R. A. F. Pounds At Enemy In Africa

Incessant Air Attack Scores Direct Hits On Provision Ships

The Russians were declared today to have virtually broken the sieges of Leningrad and Sevastopol, claiming the Germans lost everything they had captured during the past three months east of Leningrad. The Axis, with its land supply routes under almost incessant attack from the air, tried by sea to provision its retreating Libyan forces, the British announced. Axis ships drew a storm of direct hits from the R. A. F. and successful aerial combats were reported. The British Navy joined with land artillery and air forces in an effort to destroy Axis harbor forces in the Mediterranean along the Egyptian border in Libya.

There was news of fresh Russian success above the capital. One of the most important official organs of the Red army announced that Soviet troops in a day's action had thrown in a total of 22 additional villages.

Axis was making a delaying stand night from the Agadabia area of Libya, favored by an unusual combination of mud that hampered tank attacks and a swirling sandstorm that half-blinded the pursuers. Further complicating the running battle, British imperial troops fought with Rommel's forces were mines which Rommel's sappers laid in roads and other inviting terrain.

Further south, a flanking operation was attempted simultaneously by the King's Dragoon Guards and a South African armored force, but while this carried the offensive 50 to 40 miles deeper into territory now held by the Axis, it still left Rommel's flank intact.

Defense School Will Have Seven Training Courses

Mr. Johnson said that each class will be started by Feb. 3 and some of them are expected to commence immediately. Registrations are being taken at the offices of Seminole High School, Vero Beach and the instruction will be held at the City warehouse, Sixth Street and French Avenue where the instruction will be held.

Tokyo States British Lose Railroad Town

Trolka, 240 Miles To North Of Singapore Falls To Nipponese As English Retreat

On the Malay front, a Tokyo communiqué asserted that the Japanese had driven the British out of their defense lines at Trolka, on the north-south Singapore railway 50 miles north of Kuala Lumpur and 240 miles above Singapore. Domei said the British were in a general retreat in Kuala Lumpur sector. The British said a violent battle was raging in the Slim River sector, 50 miles above Kuala Lumpur with heavy casualties on both sides.

The tempo of the Japanese advance down the west Malay coast has been stepped up, and the bicycle and midget gun carrier vanguard is being followed by heavier mechanized forces, indicating that the Japanese have reconstructed the demolished roads and bridges in Perak province to the north. The British artillerymen and the commando guerrillas were putting up a heroic defense. They were mostly Australians and Indians. An Australian war correspondent reported that one commando party killed a Japanese major general and his staff in a surprise attack on Japanese headquarters in Perak. Striking from ambush, the commandos annihilated the establishment and escaped on foot into the jungle.

A dispatch from the western Malay front revealed that the Imperials were making no attempt to hold a continuous line but that they were setting up artillery emplacements at all strategic sites and were making use of small commando units, mostly composed of Australians and Indians, including youths of 18, who infiltrated Japanese-held areas to sabotage, hamper, destroy and kill.

U.S. Announces Sinking Of Freighter, Transport, Three Big Supply Ships

Invasion Armies Ready For Drive

Tokyo Declares Outright Conquest Of America Possible

A possible large-scale blockade of Japan was suggested today as imperial headquarters acknowledged an Allied submarine raid within 100 miles of Tokyo in which a 2,225-ton freighter was torpedoed and damaged. The nationality of the attacking craft was not given. Previously, a U. S. Navy bulletin reported the sinking of the Asiatic fleet had sunk a 10,000-ton Japanese transport and three 10,000-ton Japanese supply ships.

Despite these attacks, the Japanese boasted of the possibility of the outright conquest of the U. S. "The contention that the United States cannot be invaded is as much a myth as that the Maginot line could not be taken or that Singapore and Pearl Harbor are impregnable" said the government-controlled Japan Times and Advertiser.

The War Department reported a number of operations had closed to minor skirmishes in the Philippine campaign as the Japanese moved on for a climactic drive against the American Philippines.

Assistant Secretary of War John J. McCloy told a press conference the War Department has had no complete report on casualties in either the American or Japanese side.

Mr. McCloy continued, indicating that American casualties are "not unduly heavy" and that Japanese losses are "considerably heavier than our own."

Brave Men

When the final story of this war is written, General Douglas MacArthur's gallant defense of Luzon will stand out in bold relief for its skill, courage and heroism. Out-numbered ten to one, fighting without adequate equipment, and with all hope of being reinforced gone, MacArthur and his men have rendered an account of themselves which will live forever in American history.

The strategic importance of the Philippines is now fully recognized by every American citizen, even by those who only a few short months ago were saying, "If Japan attacks the Philippines, let her have them." The Philippines are the gateway to the Dutch East Indies and Australia and together with Singapore are our most advanced base for operations against the Japanese.

Because this was not fully realized during the five years which immediately preceded this war, and because General MacArthur's repeated warnings and pleadings for adequate defense of the islands were ignored both by American congressmen and Filipino politicians, there is little chance now for holding them and eventually they will have to be won back at great cost and sacrifice.

But because he has been left, in effect, with the bag to hold, General MacArthur is fighting none the less vigorously and valiantly. He is a thorough-going soldier and can be depended upon to do his job the best he can with what he has to do it with. Unfortunately the men who refused to give him guns and planes are not the ones who today are being pounded by the Japanese. But MacArthur can take it.

For over a month now, he and his little conglomerate aggregation of American and Filipino troops have been bombed by night and shelled by day. From the coastlines to the Batan peninsula they have been driven back day by day but they have made the Japanese pay dearly every step of the way. Today the American flag still flies over Corregidor fortress and MacArthur and his men stand ready for the last grand assault.

Essential Business

Of course there can be no "business as usual" with this country at war, but there must be the usual business in so far as possible if the cost of the war is going to be met and the morale of the civilian population maintained. In a letter appointing Lowell Mellett as Co-ordinator of Government Films During the War Emergency, President Roosevelt said: "The American motion picture is one of our most effective media in informing and entertaining our citizens. The motion picture, especially as used by the Federal government, has a very useful contribution to make during the war emergency." What is said here of the motion picture is equally true of newspapers, the radio and many another private business. We can no more get along without them in times of war than in any other times.

Treating A Cold

An elaborate two-year inquiry into the causes of the common cold has begun in California. It might take up for consideration the popular maxim connected with that ailment. What do people usually mean when they say, "Feed a cold and starve a fever," and what meaning were the words originally intended to convey? Normally the advice is delivered straight. It is apparently recommended that you eat heartily when you have a cold and eat sparingly when you have a fever.

But there is another school of thought. It interprets feeding a cold and starving a fever as it interprets sparing the rod and spoiling the child or marrying in haste and repenting at leisure. It uses the imperative verb but it really means the conditional. If you insist on feeding you will have to starve a fever; in other words, don't eat when you have a cold.—New York Times.

THE STATUE OF LIBERTY
 SPEAKS — "Recently as you probably know, I celebrated my fifty-fifth birthday! If you are a native-born American, this may not have meant much to you. You have—in this case—enjoyed the blessings of liberty ALL your life. You have never known what it means NOT to be free. Since you were a child, so long as you haven't interfered with the rights of others, you have thought what you pleased, said what you pleased, done what you pleased. You have gone to the church of your own choosing followed the vocation that appealed to you, read or listened to whatever suited your fancy. You have had the right to own your own business, your own farm, your own home. On election day, you have voted a secret ballot, had your say in selecting your public officials—from the lowest to the highest. You have had the right to protection from unjust search and seizure; you have had the right to assembly, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances; you have had the benefits of the fairest and most independent judicial system on earth. You also have had use of the finest public schools, the finest public parks, the finest public libraries. More than any individual who ever lived outside this country, you have had the right to own your own way of life, just because you were born here."

DONE A LOT OF THINKING.
 The people of France understood these things. That is why, though almost crushed by the five billion franc indemnity imposed upon them by Germany as a result of the Franco-Prussian War, they dug down in their jeans to provide the money required for MY construction. Finally, on the day I was unveiled on Bedloe's Island, all humanity rejoiced. Just the knowledge that I was there—welcoming those of the Old World to the freedom and opportunity of the New World—renewed the faith and hope of the downtrodden people of every land. Holding my torch of liberty three hundred feet high, I have been acclaimed the most soul-stirring sight in all the world. Of course, it is not for me to say that this is true. But I do know that since my dedication on October 28, 1886—over twenty six million men, women and children have come to me from across the sea. I know, too, that millions of these people have come down on their knees and thanked God when they first gazed upon my unveiled torch. Liberty Enlightening the World. That is my official name. But today I am more, even, than that. I am the one beacon that MUST BE kept burning, whatever the cost may be. Make no mistake about that. If I see, no light of the world, I will go out. No."

... we have never been revealed... I have done a lot of thinking. As I have looked across the ocean, I have seen nations after nation crumble and fall. I have seen tens of millions of people become a mass of helpless, starved, and cold, and I have seen what I call the light of the world go out. No."

Williams Addresses Local Club Women

Pointing out the strategic location of the West Indies and their proximity to the Panama Canal and to Jacksonville, Fred H. Williams talked to members of the Woman's Club on "The Place of the West Indies in Democratic American Unity" at their regular luncheon and business meeting on Wednesday afternoon in the club.

Mrs. Williams, who spent several months in the West Indies where she was stationed at an army post in Cayey and San Juan, P.R., traveled over the entire island, noting the modern, up-to-date stores, and vegetation which is similar to that of the United States, sugarcane and tobacco being the main products.

Plans for defense have been in progress there for some time, declared Mrs. Williams, who told of the hidden batteries placed at strategic points throughout the islands.

All highways in the islands are in excellent condition, stated Mrs. Williams, who said that all of those paved and bordered with Royal Palms which "stretch to the mountain tops for miles and miles, making a lovely background for the blue waters of the Caribbean Sea in the harbor of Anauvilla where Columbus first filled his water casks. Flowers grow colorfully and abundantly everywhere.

Mrs. Williams explained how President Roosevelt was instrumental in having English taught to all of the younger persons speak the language fluently. Spanish is the general language spoken, he said.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. C. Bills, Jr., of Geneva, sponsor of the program with the words: "When Columbus pushed out on his perilous voyage, he touched the West Indies, the touch of which was the West Indies."

Following Mrs. Williams' talk a round table discussion was held at which time he answered numerous questions concerning his visit there.

During the business meeting reports were heard from the following:

Mrs. B. C. Moore, first vice president, announced the proceeds of the show "All That Money Can Buy," sponsored by the Woman's Club, had netted a total of $411 for the club to maintain the Red Cross sewing rooms.

Mrs. J. G. Patterson, second vice president, named Mrs. Fred H. Williams for re-instatement in the club and Mrs. B. A. Matson as a seasonal subscriber.

Mrs. J. W. Hall, chairman of the civic department, announced that a party will be held for tourists and all other persons in Seminole County on the evening of Jan. 27 in the club house.

Mrs. O. P. Herndon, social chairman, stated that a box of gifts and the amount of $6 had been sent to the Children's Home Society in Jacksonville at Christmas.

Mrs. J. B. Ray, house chairman, thanked the Sanford Gas Company for the gift of a clock which was donated the Club through the courtesy of J. W. Hall, manager.

Announcement was made by Mrs. C. R. Dawson, president, of the all-day meeting in Geneva on Feb. 11. The meeting will pertain to food conservation and nutrition.

Mrs. Bills, garden chairman, for the defense council, urged everyone to plant vegetables as well as flowers in their gardens.

The annual election of officers for all departments of the club will be held this month, Mrs. Dawson stated. The third reading of the revision of the by-laws was given by Mrs. W. L. Cooper and Mrs. Glenn E. McKay.

Mrs. James Moughlton, chairman of the victory box campaign, asked that all members have school books and biographies, and Mrs. Patterson of the defense committee, urged the saving of all waste paper, magazines, glass jars and covers for use in the defense program.

The meeting was closed with the salute to the flag, and the singing of "America" by the assembly, after which luncheon was served. Hostesses were Mrs. E. Compton, Mrs. H. H. McCaslin, Mrs. R. M. Ball, Mrs. Frank Evans and Mrs. R. E. True. The club was decorated with bamboo and Brazilian pepper for the meeting.

JAP HUNTING SEASON

New Records Are Set At Sanford-Orlando Track

LONGWOOD, Jan. 9.—(Special)—The Sanford-Orlando Kennel club winds up its first two weeks of racing tomorrow night with more than one new record behind it.

has seen a better price average paid on winners than before. The average price, favorites and longshots, has been slightly over $10 for each winner. The favorites are winning their share of the race, but a better class of dogs has resulted in wider-spread betting, raising the prices on the winners.

Too, Hi-Guide's feat in running the futurity in 29.1 and the 5-16th's distance in 32.2 has been sensational. In winning four starts in the first eleven days, Hi-Guide has also established a winning record never equaled before. The track also holds a hardluck record, twice in as many days the rabbit has broken down, cancelled races. The first one happened Tuesday night and the second on Wednesday. To carry the coincidence still farther, both accidents happened in the seventh race.

Claim British Leave Vital Section; Japs Poised For Blow

World's Rubber Capital Is Reported Abandoned Before Nipponese Drive

Invading Troops Are Led By Tanks

50-Mile Jungle Advance Is Made By Foe In 24 Hours

Japanese field dispatches indicated late today that British troops had abandoned Kuala Lumpur, the world's rubber capital, 50 miles north of Singapore, as the Japanese troops, advancing through the Malay "green hell" jungle, overtook the outskirts of the city.

There was no confirmation from the British, however, that they had yielded Kuala Lumpur, led by heavy tanks, the Japanese opened a general assault on the southern part of Kuala Lumpur this morning.

(By Associated Press)

The Japanese today claimed troops, led by monster tanks, advanced almost 50 miles in 24 hours, reaching within 10 miles of Kuala Lumpur, the world's crude rubber capital, 240 miles north of Singapore.

The British admit fresh Japanese attacks on the city's stronghold is greatly threatened and needs reinforcements urgently. The R.A.F. slashed at three Jap bases in the Philippines, pressuring an attempt of the East Indies.

The Japanese drove ahead of them a brigade of elite soldiers, and left in their wake a trail of mines and wreckage, including rubber stocks, machinery and covering material in a land that had known peace for centuries.

British soldiers are reported to be in a state of panic, and the full-scale drive for Singapore was under way, although the Japanese still had more than 300 miles to go. The defenders were pitifully outnumbered.

Meanwhile Chinese military spokesmen said their troops of the Chinese Nationalist Government were in a state of panic, and the full-scale drive for Singapore was under way, although the Japanese still had more than 300 miles to go. The defenders were pitifully outnumbered.
