BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE GOLDEN RULE: As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them.—Luke 6:31.

OF LITTLE FAITH

I said, when the word came, 'She will break like a tall ship riven by the shore.' As a dream, I saw the white sails shake.

The masts fall, heard the smoking funnels roar. I saw the black reef shatter the broken hull.

I saw the dead ship drop from the shore's embrace. And over the empty waters only screaming gull.

Winging its endless way to mark the tragic place. I felt the blown spume cut like driven snow.

"As a tall ship goes," I said, "so the will go." I raised my head and saw her land.

Like a tall ship won home from a gale. Her eyes like the deep sea far from land.

Her white face calm as a sleeping ball. The touch of her hand was cool as spray.

And her smile like the ripple at the prow. Of a tall ship going its silent way through an old swell, quietly breathing now.

After a storm, I said, "She has shown to me the deathless glory of the ageless sea."

"What would you do if you met Dillinger?" asks the New Smyrna News. Well, confidentially, we'd do our best to reason with him.

Peace Conferences

Huge army and navy appropriations, ship building programs, airplane expansion plans, and re-armament, in general, by all the leading nations of the world, follow many years of disarmament conferences and numerous international treaties to insure the peace of the world.

First World Peace Conference, May 18, 1899, thirty-five years ago this week.—Result: Creation of a Permanent Court of Arbitration, 1900.

Second World Peace Conference, June 15, 1907.—First conference attended by South American countries. Result: Passed the experimental stage of the first conference.

Washington Conference, November 12, 1921, to February, 1922.—Result: Establishment of the naval ratio 5-5-3 among Pacific naval powers, Nine Power Pact guaranteeing China's political sovereignty and the "open door" policy.

Geneva Protocol, 1924.—Result: Increased moral obligations of the nations in regard to war. Locarno, 1925. Result: Germany entered the League, 1926.

Geneva Conference, June 20 to August 4, 1927.—Result: United States and Great Britain could not agree upon cruisers.

Kellogg-Briand Pact, 1929.—Mediators: fifty-nine nations. Condemned the recourse to war to end disputes; initiated arbitration treaties for the outlawry of war.

London Treaty, 1930.—Result: Great Britain, United States, Japan ruling naval powers; France and Italy built up to treaty strength; United States scrapped three ships, Great Britain five, Japan one. Japan invaded Manchuria contrary to the "open door" policy of the Washington Conference.

Geneva Conference, February 2, 1932-1933.—Result: Hoover's plan for disarmament received coldly. Germany desired equality, withdrew from the conference and the League. Japan desired to go beyond the 5-5-3 ratio, withdrew; condemned for her Manchurian episode.

Four Power Pact among Italy, Great Britain, France, Germany, July 15, 1933.—Four Power Pact provided: For ten years advanced the penalty of economic and financial blockade against any government member violating the League agreement relative to war.

A Price On His Head

The prompt solution of the Gettle's kidnaping in California, the capture of the gangster, and their life-time sentences, afford profound hope for the ultimate triumph of law and order in the war against crime.

The return of the Robles girl in Texas, alive and unharmed, even though her captors escaped, is encouraging. But John Dillinger, notorious outlaw of the Middle West continues at large.

Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois, states forming the stamping ground of Hoodlum Dillinger in his deadliest exploits, says the Miami News, "have special interest in seeing him captured. The proposal of Governor Horner of Illinois that they join in offering a $5,000 reward is well received. Ohio has announced its contribution and Indiana, which could not with good grace stay out, follows suit.

Doubtless the other two states likewise will gladly assent. With the $5,000 offered by a news picture firm merely as a matter of good business, this puts a price of $10,000 on the gangster's head. The $100,000 reward proposed by a Florida sheriff is improbable, but small donations may raise the total to $15,000 or $20,000.

"Such was the familiar method of bringing the outlaw to book in the country's early days when the forces of law were not as highly organized as now. The modern task is one not for a clever individual but for the police, local, state and national, who tackle it to the best of their ability regardless of monetary reward. The "hick cons" of Arizona who rounded up the Dillinger gang only to have their less efficient colleagues of Indiana let the ringleader once more slip through acted without the need of a financial spur.

"The Indiana failure with its unpleasant implications landing two jail attacks in the courts may be more widely representative of the mixture of politics and police than we know. Rewards will not cure that. Their chief promise in effecting the capture of Dillinger is that some other crook will sell him in for the gold. The more likely result is that when and if he is taken, it will be by the regular forces of the law in routine operation, the money merely incidental."

PWA INJURED BY NRA CODES FOR BUILDING TRADES

Sharp Increases In Price Of Materials Slows Up Projects

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Sharp increases in building costs, resulting largely from the NRA, are the Public Works Administration's chief reason for slowing up projects.

Prices of eight principal construction materials increased approximately 20 percent from April, 1933, to April, 1934, according to the Associated General Contractors of America. With higher wages and material costs, this agency estimated that the increase in construction costs was over 10 percent.

In a few instances allotments for Public Works have been rescinded at the request of the applicants, who found when bids were asked that their original estimates of money needed to complete particular improvements were inadequate.

For example in the case of school district No. 5, Richmond county, Montana, which was allotted $20,000 for a high school building, the board of school trustees advised PWA they had unanimously decided to defer action, because of "increases in building costs."

Recently, the Public Works Administration awarded a grant of $150,000, covering 30 percent of the estimated cost of labor and materials to be used in building fifteen school houses in Montgomery county, Maryland, to allow use of the entire grant on those buildings. Original estimates allowed $541,200 as the cost of labor and materials on all fifteen buildings. When bids were received, it was found that more than this would be required for only three buildings.

United States it would be rejected 10 to 1. He said the money of Andrew Carnegie and the Philadelphia Boka were behind the "propaganda" for American entry.

"When I think of Andrew Carnegie," Reed said, "I think of the Homestead slaughter. I think of and stand by dollars. I am opposed to seeing the dead hand of this man who looted his native Scotland reach out to finance a drive to get the United States into this so-called court."

"This isn't a court. It is a political exercise of a political organization created by the nations of Europe and Asia which we declared we would not join."

Reed said that he was "too busy" to lead the "rocks out of the switches." Mr. Eastman sketched proposed steps to bring about reductions in the cost of operation. He admitted that "economy in building operation is bound, in large part, to be labor saving economy." He revealed that the government is studying "prudent methods for supervising construction, unemployment benefits and labor wages."

"No one who knows the facts as they are, compares with industrial labor," Eastman said. "Since 1920 the number of employees on the payroll has been cut in half, and those who remain have suffered severely in their demand on wages. We hope to work out a program which will afford reasonable protection to labor without stifling progress."

Should the world price of silver reach $1.29 an ounce before the reserve is acquired, the Treasury would be authorized to stop buying and to sell silver if it saw fit until the price fell below the $1.29 figure.

Adams said the silver would be bought at the market price, but that it would be given a value of $1.29 an ounce by the Treasury and a dollar silver certificate would be issued on each ounce.

The Treasury will take the profit resulting from the difference between the price at which the metal is purchased and the value put upon it as a currency base.

Adams said the Treasury estimated that it would have to purchase about 1,800,000,000 ounces to establish the reserve. He said the Treasury profit from the devaluation of gold was figured in advance of the 25.75 ratio.

"This means the purchase of more silver," he said.

Mr. Smith fall down on payments after turning back $1,000, the government would pay under 20 percent on the second $1,000, and the lender would the other $800.

Successful investigation of those making loans is planned, and many probably will be well under the $2,000 maximum, officials believe the total of defaults to be small.

The expected effect of the guarantee will be to make lenders more willing to lend, since they need not have a little fear of a loss running as high as 20 percent.

In the case of projected new loans, if Mr. Smith has $2,000 the government plans backing for $1,000 more. His period of payment could run to 20 years.

TABLE TALK

The Martins usually spend their mealtimes talking about the doings of the children at school, the neighbors on the street, the gangsters in the papers, the celebrities on the screen. The movie magazines supply them with much of their table talk.

The Carrolls prefer current events, rather, Mr. Carroll does. They talk about the affairs of the day, rather, Mr. Carroll does, while Mrs. Carroll responds, "Yes, dear," and the rest sit in heavy silence, getting away from the table just as quickly as is consistent with the intake of sufficient food to last till next time. Sometimes Mr. Carroll discourses on how different things were. When he was a boy, but let's spare ourselves that, and get away from the table just as rapidly as the children do.

At the Robertsons, things are somewhat different. Some time ago Mr. Robertson proposed that each one should present a contribution at each mealtime, the rest to decide whether or not it was acceptable. It may be an interesting incident of recent occurrence, but plain gossip is usually taboo. Dad, who loves history, frequently smokes in the library just before mealtimes to brush up his recollection of some favorite incident well enough to relate it. Mother—but then, the rest were usually so interested in telling theirs that Mother rarely finds herself called upon to contribute.

I do enjoy taking a meal with the Robertsons. You really ought to have heard my contribution, just time I was there!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: Dear Dr. Richardson: What's the best book that has been written for the guidance of expectant mothers, during the months before the coming of the baby? I want the very best there is.

ANSWER: You put me in a very embarrassing position; but I cannot tell a lie. A DOCTOR'S which costs $1.75 and can be obtained by sending that amount in care of this newspaper, has advice to fathers as well as mothers; and it discusses the emotional problems that make these months so trying, as well as the physical matters that are commonly taken up in book about this period. I won't say that this is the best book ever written on the subject; but you just can't get me to refuse to admit that it is, either. It's a small thing, but mine own, to paraphrase a well-known expression.

LETTER TO EXPECTANT PARENTS

QUESTION: How can I stimulate my fifteen-year-old boy to do better work in school? His teacher, his principal, his father and I have all tried to get him to do better; but so far he has failed to respond. What can you suggest?

ANSWER: All these stimulants having failed why not try a sedative? Doctors find that too many stimulants defeat their own purpose; and I believe that maybe that has been the case with your boy. He may need rest, and praise for what he has done, not reprimand for what he hasn't. Try a little approval and see what happens.

Outstanding Road Obligations Fell Off During 1933

TALLAHASSEE, May 17. (AP)—Reduction of $6,742,783 in outstanding road obligations of county road and bridge districts during 1933 was reported Tuesday by the state board of administration.

The reduction, the board said, was due to retirement of bonds and payment of interest coupons with receipts from gasoline tax revenue and other sources which were applied on the indebtedness.

Outstanding road and interest in maturity in the districts amounted to $253,934,507 at the end of 1933, compared to $261,667,292 at the close of 1932, the report said.

Also the board reported the purchase of county bonds with par value of $1,362,000 for the sum of $431,624 as provided in the Kan-ner bill, enacted last year. Seventeen counties operated under the bill. The administration listed a balance of $524,365 in the Kanzer bill fund.

Expenses of the administration during the year were $32,018. The members are Governor Sholtz, Treasurer Knott and Comptroller Lee.

MILLIONS of ACRES...beg for INDUSTRY

Ten million dollars of government money is being spent to improve that vast and fertile region of South Central Florida known as the Everglades, in construction of the Lake Okechobee levee and deepening of drainage canals to Ocean and Gulf. At present, only one per cent—30,000 of the 3,000,000 acres—is under cultivation. Here are possibilities and resources scarcely dreamed of... needing men, machinery and industry for their development.

What is being done TODAY hints at what can happen TOMORROW!

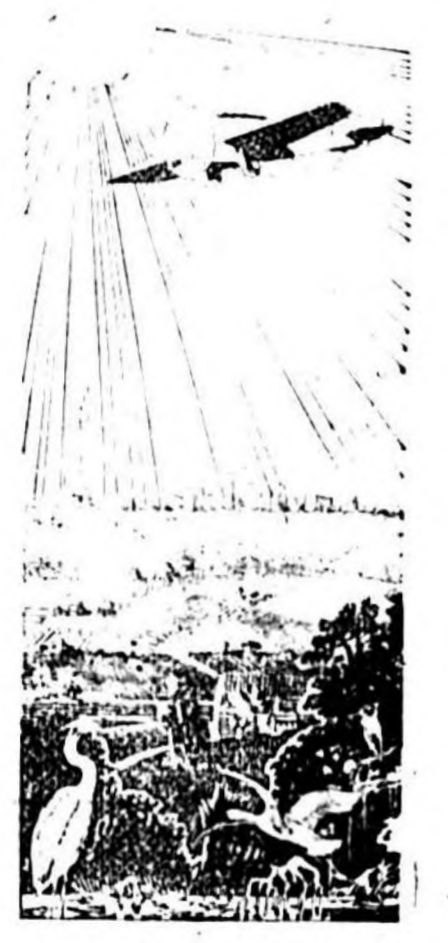

This year 12,500 acres of sugar cane are being harvested. Crop value is $3,000,000. Approximately 3,000 workers are employed.

Along the south and east shores of Lake Okechobee, 10,000 acres produce green beans, tomatoes, corn, lima beans, cauliflower and cabbage. Thirty to sixty carloads are shipped daily to Northern markets during the winter.

Several thousand acres are growing peanuts, shipped North each year for roasting, for peanut butter and various oil products.

Fiber can be grown in the Everglades, so tough, experts say, that if used in tire manufacture it will outlast any car made. Manufacture of rubber from goldenrod, perfected by the late Thomas Edison, is another possibility.

Three million Everglades acres, fully utilized, could supply material for forty sugar mills, thirty canning factories, ten fiber plants, ten tire factories, five peanut products factories and five packing plants—100 industrial enterprises employing a half million men, in one of the greatest agricultural and industrial centers of the country.

To approach this accomplishment, we must bring more people to Florida. Most of Florida's industries have been started by visitors who came for enjoyment, and—impressed by the opportunities they found—established themselves here permanently. We can bring more of them here by advertising Florida's attractions and advantages to all the world. A unified, properly planned state advertising program will get RESULTS... increase population and business... pour untold wealth into Florida!

The All Florida Committee—whose present membership includes all newspapers, radio stations and outdoor advertising plants in the state—is a non-partisan, non-optional, non-profit organization formed to promote the industrial, agricultural and tourist potentialities of the State. During the summer a drive will be made to solicit the support of every citizen, business house and political subdivision. Send the non-committal card, as they appear weekly in this publication.

That's the tire we're offering you today—at no price increase! A tire built to stand up on the new, modern, high-speed, quick-starting, quick-stopping cars—and keep its grip 43% longer!

A tire that gives more safety—more miles of traction—on any car!

It keeps the famous All-Weather Tread—but makes it wider—pats more tread blocks in the center of the tread—more rubber—an average of 2 pounds more—in the tread! And it can do all this because it has the extra resilience, extra endurance of Super-twist—a patented Goodyear ply material in the body of the tire.

Come in and see it! It's the greatest buy in years. It costs more to build—but there's no extra cost to you!

WARNING!

Watch the rest of the industry try to copy this amazing tire. Watch them try to duplicate Goodyear's claims. But, remember, you have to have "non-skid" before you can have "non-skid mileage." And to have "non-skid," you have to have GRIP where you see it here—GRIP in the center of the tread—the place where it counts, because it's the spot where the tire contacts the road. Look at the grip on this Goodyear Tire and ask yourself why buy any tire that lacks this safety?

Chief Mac Cleveland Asks That Care Be Exercised By Cigar, Cigarette Smokers

The Chief, Mac Cleveland today issued an appeal for smokers to exercise more care in the disposal of matches and cigar and cigarette stubs. He also advised smokers to refrain from smoking in bed.

Chief Cleveland said that the chief danger to the country every year, according to the chief, is the carelessness of the smoker. He pointed out that a single match or cigarette stub thrown carelessly into a pile of rubbish, may start a fire which would be decidedly uncomfortable and costly.

Chief Cleveland also urged motorists to extinguish cigarette stubs entirely before tossing them out of moving cars. Scientific tests have proven that a burning cigarette which is thrown into grass or brush needs only a slight breeze to communicate its fire to the surrounding area.

In concluding his warning to smokers, Chief Cleveland said, "Enjoy your smoking, but smoke with consideration. It is a pleasant habit, but one that has a large potential fire hazard. Only a little care is necessary to prevent fires caused by matches and smoking. And you will enjoy it more if you are sure that you will not cause property loss, injury or even death to yourself or others."

SIKES PROTESTS AGAINST FERA'S BUYING POLICIES

New Centralized Purchasing Plan Said Hurting Merchants

ST. PETERSBURG, May 17. (AP)—Renewing his protest against the FERA's new policy of centralized purchasing, State Senator James E. Sikes yesterday wired Jerome A. Connors, executive officer of emergency relief at Jacksonville for an appointment today to discuss the practice.

"Members all over the state," Senator Sikes' message said, "are struggling to keep employees on the payroll through the summer on NRA basis. Failure to fill FERA needs from local sources is working severe hardship on business men in all parts of the state. Trust to have the sincere interests of the merchants and their employees at heart and will assist in correction of this unwarranted policy."

The senator Monday urged Julius E. Stone, Jr., state administrator, to reverse the centralized purchasing policy, and called upon President Roosevelt and Governor Sholtz to intervene in behalf of the merchants.

Sikes declared the policy would "defeat the purposes of the national recovery program, in fact and in principle."

SHOLTZ PLEADS FOR BIG VOTE IN JUNE PRIMARIES

Governor Asks People To Pay Poll Taxes By Saturday Night

TALLAHASSEE, May 17 (AP)—Governor Sholtz yesterday appealed to Florida voters to continue in full force their ever increasing attention to the balance of the state and national government.

The Governor urged maximum qualification of voters for the June Democratic primaries before the deadline for payment of poll taxes, Saturday midnight.

"It is not my desire to tell anyone how he should vote," the Governor said, "but I do hope that every voter will be sure that he is voting for his own best interests and the best interests of his community and state."

Above all I do wish that every citizen of the state would take the opportunity of expressing his opinion at the polls, whether it may be:

Advance figures are reported to list approximately 275,000 persons. The number of qualified voters will not be known, however, until after the poll tax books are closed and tax collectors have totaled the payments.

the budget of the city of Vero Beach would tell you that a Scotchman had a hand in its preparation even though you might not know that Alex MacWilliam, hurr and all, is entering upon his third term as mayor of that sprightly community.

Vero Beach, like most other cities in the boom area, is submerged by debt. But it has a municipal light and water plant earning fair revenues, it has a mayor and councilmen who take no part of the public funds in salaries; and the city, uncommon among Florida municipalities, underestimates its prospective cash receipts, and thereby guards against over spending.

They entered into the real estate boom of 1925 with zest, and consequently find themselves, with a population of 3,000, owing $1,750,000 today. White ways, sidewalks, streets, boulevards and sewers and converted the land for miles around into a perfect rash of subdivisions, dotted with an occasional house. The fact that Vero, as it then was called, is an especially attractive tourist resort as well as one of the capitals of the Indian River citrus belt, made all that expenditure seem justified.

But like most other cities, tax collections have dropped off. City revenues have declined. Only the conservative nature of the city's administration, which allows it to spend about $40,000 for operations, has kept the pay of policemen and firemen and clerical help coming in regularly. Bondholders are being left to their own devices, except for seven of them who have obtained writs to enforce a tax levy. Much good it does them, for the rate of collection on the 1931 roll was only 38 percent, on the 1932 roll, 27 percent, and for the first two months of the current roll was 4 percent.

Bonds out against Vero Beach total $1,305,868, with $329,609 in default. Defaulted interest amounts to nearly $300,000 more. Time warrants and other loose odds and ends of debt make up the balance, for which scant provision

East Resumed Its Mail Carrying Duties Tuesday

ATLANTA, May 17.—(AP)—Eastern Air Lined resumed carrying the air mail in the South officially at 12:01 A. M. yesterday after abandoning day passenger flying over its line Tuesday. Passengers will be carried at night only.

The first actual trip marking the return of the mail carrying duties to private operators left Miami at 7:30 A. M. for New York. Mail only was carried.

The first plane leaving the Newark airport was at 5:40 P. M. carrying passengers and mail for Miami and a mail only ship left for Miami at 11 P. M. A mail-passenger plane left for the north from Miami at 8 P. M.

There was no announcement as to the discontinuance of the day flights but officials said passengers generally preferred to fly at night as the air was smoother and the trips could be made without the loss of a business day.

Officials of the lines, reorganized from Eastern Air Transport after the mail contracts were cancelled, were in New Orleans yesterday studying the Atlanta-New Orleans line that will be opened shortly. A survey of the Chicago-Jacksonville route will be made as soon as possible and mail service started on that route.

It is said that there are bones of 11,000 girls, massacred by Huns in the fourth and fifth century, at rest in the church of St. Ursula at Cologne, France.

Enough iron to make four teppany nails is contained in the human body.

President Lincoln's private secretaries were both named John—John Hay and John Nicolay.

In medieval, as well as in ancient times, honey, instead of is being made. The city is an ideal one for refunding, as 73 percent of its bonds come due between 1933 and 1943. Under the new municipal bankruptcy amendment, Vero Beach may be able to reorganize its debt, but whether it wants to fight now, or not, is another matter. Low priced bonds in the amount of $208,538 have been accepted for delinquent taxes since March, 1931, and that is a quicker way of retiring debt than with cash.

The light and water plant appears to have been run on very sound principles. Gross profits made available for city operations range from $20,000 to $40,000 annually, and as set up in the public records, adequate depreciation and replacement have entered into the book value of the property, something that is not always taken into account with such public utilities.

The place of Vero Beach as a tourist haven and continued center of citrus production is assured. The men and women who form the backbone of the community are there to stay—and they seem to enjoy it. Once the city debt is shared so it can be carried, and property returns to the fold as a tax-paying entity, the city of Vero Beach by all rights will become one of the brightest spots on the East Coast tourist map.

Clearwater Girl Held Guilty Of Car Death

CLEARWATER, May 17.—A jury in circuit court last night convicted Mrs. Nancy Russell, 16, of Washington, D. C., a winter visitor here, on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Ralph R. Plumb, Mar. 31.

Sentence was withheld, pending a hearing on a motion within the next four days by Mrs. Russell's attorneys for a new trial. The maximum sentence for conviction of manslaughter is 20 years.

One witness, Mayor Clifford S. Hadley, of Gulfport, who said he was driving behind Mrs. Russell when her car struck and killed Plumb, testified Tuesday she was doing more than 60 miles an

LITVINOFF IN GENEVA, TALKS DISARMAMENT

Commissar Believed Also To Be Seeking Soviet's Entry In League Of Nations

GENEVA, May 18.—(A.P.)—Maxim Litvinoff, Russian Commissar for Foreign Affairs, arrived here unexpectedly today to consult with the League of Nations leaders on the question of disarmament, and possibility of the Soviet Union's entry into the League.

Meanwhile, a proposal to clamp an embargo on arms shipments to Paraguay and Bolivia was referred to jurists of the League council today after a Bolivian representative had vigorously opposed its application to his country.

Belief that world public opinion would demand that the world disarmament conference openly condemn its failure was expressed last night in League of Nations circles.

The entire disarmament situation continued in apparently unbreakable deadlock, with nothing on the horizon, despite recent hopeful views expressed by individual nations, to save it.

A proposal to rest the fate of the conference, called for next May 29, upon a decision of the League of Nations council was causing acrid, although secret debate.

The prevailing view was that open confession of failure would be better accepted by the world than an attempt to hide it by reporting the conference lack to the council.

Dillinger Reported As Leader Of Band That Rabbled Bank

FLINT, Mich., May 18.—(A.P.)—Machine gun bandits who may have been led by John Dillinger, carried out a carefully planned raid on the Glenwood Avenue branch of the Citizens Commercial Bank this morning and made off with a consignment of between $25,000 and $30,000 in currency that had just been delivered in an armored car.

Witnesses said there were six men and a woman in the robber gang, and that one of the three men who entered the bank "looked like Dillinger." He carried a machine gun.

The bandits escaped in two automobiles despite prompt police action in answering an alarm.

CORRECTION

It was inadvertently stated in a front page Herald news story Thursday that Alex Foster had planted 14 acres of colery on the old American Fruit Growers, Inc., "100" on the West Side "against the advice of A. P. G. Inc. officials who told him he wouldn't be able to produce much colery" on the land. The statement was made by a group of farmers who said Mr. Foster couldn't raise late colery on sandy land, and not by A. P. G. officials.

With slightly more than 24 hours remaining during which poll taxes which will make them eligible to vote in the June primaries where they are registered and otherwise qualified, the number of persons who had paid poll taxes at noon today still was far from the number which local candidates had hoped would have paid. Fifty-five poll tax receipts were received Thursday, bringing the total at noon today to 1870 receipts for 1934, and 1487 receipts for 1933. Tax collector J. D. Dinger's office will be open until 9:30 o'clock Saturday to permit all persons to pay their poll taxes before the polls are closed for the year. ARE YOU HAVE PAID YOUR TAX BEFORE THAT TIME TOMORROW NIGHT?

Vincent Astor Denies Using Friendship With Roosevelt To Get Anyone Federal Job

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(A.P.)—Vincent Astor, President Roosevelt's yacht companion, yesterday denied, flatly and crisply, to a Senate committee that he ever used his friendship with the President to get or try to get anyone a job.

Particularly, he denied such of fort had been made by either himself or his guests aboard his yacht, Nourmahal, while the President and the Astor party cruised off Florida or Long Island.

The President's cousin, Kermit Roosevelt, likewise declared no messages relating to shipping business or the shipping board personnel had come to him while a member of the Presidential yacht party.

In effect, the testimony of the two was a reply to statements in the Senate by the Republican Indiana senator, Arthur Robinson, that there had come to him reports that messages of this nature had been radioed to the Nourmahal while the President was aboard.

The testimony of the two came during the course of the special Senate committee's inquiry into ocean and air mail contracts. Astor is a director of the International Mercantile Marine, Roosevelt's vice president of the company.

Chairman Black, (D., Ala.), asked Kermit Roosevelt if he had reports of an "offer" to give Joseph Daniels, Woodrow Wilson's secretary of the Navy, the "dictatorship of the shipping board."

Roosevelt said he had heard Daniels had been offered the job and that "we wondered about it."

"Well," asked Black, "what did you do, if anything, besides wondering about it?"

"We sent a cable to Mr. Astor and asked him what he thought we should do," Roosevelt answered.

STONE APPROVES IDEA OF LENDING MONEY FOR WORK

Bankrupt Florida Not Able To Complete Projects, He States

JACKSONVILLE, May 18.—(A.P.)—Approval of a plan providing loans to cities facing loss of work projects because they cannot furnish materials was sought yesterday by Julius F. Stone, Jr., Florida Emergency Relief Administrator.

In a letter to Corrington Gill, assistant federal administrator, Stone explained any money the cities could put up would have to be included in the budgets, usually drawn up in October.

"Meanwhile," he added, "we need some money now to help with other than labor expenses and materials on the large number of good unfinished projects in this state."

"I have explored the matter somewhat and I believe that many of these towns will be glad to sign a memorandum of legislative agreement through a responsible official that they will include in their next year's budget the amount lent."

"It is virtually impossible for any of the local governments here to borrow from banks or to issue certificates of indebtedness. They are financing themselves on a pay-as-you-go basis, strictly budgeted."

"We need the money now if some good finance man, or anyone agreeable to you, would approve such legislative programs would you be inclined to provide the money to finance them until taxes actually are collected?"

The Administrator has pressed local governments to aid in financing projects and beginning others by furnishing materials and in some cases skilled labor with the PERA bearing most of the labor expense.

France Uneasy Over Saar Basin Activities

PARIS, May 16.—(A.P.)—Uneasiness over the situation in the Saar territory, lying between France and Germany, caused the government to order an unspecified number of regiments from the sixth army corps at Metz and the 29th corps at Nancy to conduct maneuvers on the French-Saar frontier.

The order coincided with a cabinet request to the finance commission to speed up its report on appropriation for the completion of the marginal "steel wall" along the entire German frontier.

Already 3,442,000,000 francs have been spent on the wall and 400,000,000 francs for anti-aircraft defenses, a total of 3,842,000,000 francs ($254,110,000).

Drought In Central Plains Is Unabated

CHICAGO, May 18.—(A.P.)—The drought held the great central plains in its unrelenting grip last night while government forecasters raved the skies in vain for a rain that would bring relief.

Rivers abated further and Lake Michigan dropped to within one foot of an all-time low level as the threat of middlewestern drought was added to the menace of shriveled crops.

CROSS-STATE HOUSING BILL CANAL STUDY SAID ORDERED UNWORKABLE

New Yorker Reported Appointed By President To Probe Wide Estimates Of Cost

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(A.P.)—The office of Senator Park Trammell said yesterday W. J. Douglas of New York had been appointed by President Roosevelt as "non-interested" engineer on a board to study the divergent estimates of Army and Public Works engineers of the cost of a Gulf-Atlantic ship canal.

Other members of the board will be two Public Works engineers and two Army engineers. Trammell said recently the President had informed him these would be Clarence McElhough and C. O. Fowler, representing the Public Works, and Major Himmann and Major Bronson Summerville, for the Army.

Public Works engineers were reported to have estimated the canal cost at about $115,000,000 while Army engineers set the figure at about $200,000,000.

An application was pending before Public Works for funds to build the canal, which it was set forth would be self-liquidating.

Soviet Guards Deny Killing Manchukuan

MOSCOW, May 18.—(A.P.)—The Soviet government denied official yesterday that its border guards fired on a Manchukuan river steamer, killing one sailor and wounding another.

The Soviet account of the incident on May 12 on the Amur River differed materially from that given in Japanese reports. Instead of firing directly on the boat, official dispatches from Khabarovsk, Siberia, said, the guards fired blank shot bullets into the air to warn the steamer to halt.

Torrential Rain Brings Estimated Loss To Oviedo Growers Of Nearly $150,000

Damage estimated at between $100,000 and $150,000 are reported from the rich Oviedo muck lands today producing area as the result of a torrential downpour which fell over seven hours before ceasing at about 1:00 o'clock yesterday morning.

The estimate was made by several growers and shippers after a survey of an area which, in sections, was two feet under water, some of the water had subsided at noon today, and promise of more rain served to bring a re-estimation of the damage to growers. The total damage to growers is estimated at $150,000.

Growers who worked frantically yesterday as well as during the night, to save their crops from being ruined by the rain, reported that the damage was heavy. Loss of a portion of the crop at the time is calamitous to Oviedo growers who had been holding their crop in anticipation of higher prices. Only a week ago a 10 acre tract brought $4500 in the field and many reports were heard that growers were turning down $1500 cash for a single acre of colery.

Mayo Warns All Employees Of Agriculture Department To Stay Out Of Politics

TALLAHASSEE, May 18.—(A.P.)—All employees of the State Department of Agriculture were cautioned yesterday by Commissioner Nathan Mayo "against expressing by word or mouth or letter opinions and preferences which show bias for or against any candidate for office in Florida."

In a formal letter to department employees throughout the state, Mayo said, in part:

"While it is the duty of every good citizen to pay his poll tax and exercise his right of nomination and election of capable officials, you are reminded that as employees of the state government, it is highly desirable for you to refrain from active participation in personal or fractional politics."

"States of good men are offering themselves for office and it is the privilege of all of us to make our personal selections. No man, however, who is employed by the State Department of Agriculture should forget himself to the extent of neglecting his duties and bringing criticism upon himself and the department by taking sides in the political struggles which do not affect him or his department."

"You may, as citizens of this state, exercise your franchise without the slightest interference from me, but I take this method of cautioning you against indiscretions that would involve you in controversies and ill feeling that sometimes precede political campaigns."

"Let us remember that the shoe-maker should stick to his last. It is, therefore, the part of wisdom and prudence for all employees of the State Department of Agriculture to give consistent and undivided attention to their official duties."

He indicated that Great Britain was willing to participate in an international policy of sanctions that is "opposed" against treaty violations in specific cases, should the United States and other nations interested agree to it for many.

Treadway Believes In Receipt Of Road Cash

TALLAHASSEE, May 18.—(A.P.)—Back from Washington yesterday, T. H. Treadway, chairman of the State Road Department, declared he believed the "fast" road bill would be passed and that the state would receive a share of the road building funds.

He said the state's share would be about $5,200,000, and that unless Florida had some federal funds there would be little road construction in the state this year, aside from that done by convicts.

U. S. MOVES TO SILENCE GUNS IN CHACO AREA

Roosevelt Prepares Message Asking For Quick Passage Of Arms Embargo Bill

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(A.P.)—The United States moved today on two fronts to silence guns that for 50 years have boomed between Bolivia and Paraguay.

Under State Department instructions, American envoys in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, and Peru are seeking the support of those governments in a plan for joint action to bring an immediate end to the blood-drenched dispute over the jungle empire.

At the same time President Roosevelt began drafting a message in which he indicated he will ask Congress for quick passage of an arms embargo bill.

This would permit the United States to join with 16 other nations manufacturing nations in declaring an international and impartial embargo on all shipments of war supplies to belligerents.

The President hopes to send a message to Congress late today in which he will recommend an embargo on arms shipments to belligerent nations.

Before assuming the reciprocal tariff debate, senators had a chance to see the 1934 version of the "Bonus march."

Several be-draggled politicians trod up Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House. "We still need the bonus," said a placard carried by one veteran.

Other topics prominent in the day included drought relief, Democratic party deficit, ocean mail, and the proposed NRA telegraph code.

In Washington, William Phillips, undersecretary of state, late yesterday said the United States had been interested and has been doing all it can for more than a year to bring the war to an end.

His statement was taken as an indication that President Roosevelt may ask Congress to rush action on the arms embargo resolution which has been pending for some time.

An official spokesman in London emphasized the British position that nothing less than a tight embargo will end the conflict.

On Apr. 26 the S-42 soared 13,156 feet with a payload of 16,608 pounds which broke the altitude record of 6561.6 with a payload of 14,220 pounds made by Steindorf in Germany in 1929.

Almost Anything Will Go At Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH, May 18.—(A.P.)—You can roll down that bathing suit if you want to, or wear only shorts or trunks on Daytona's beach, but you've got to put on a bathrobe, a raincoat or something over them when you stroll the streets.

Such was the edict of Chief of Police Harney yesterday in announcing summer regulations for the beach.

Formerly stripping to the waist was forbidden to bathers here for men as well as women. But of late the sun bathing cult has become so strong the practice of going nude to the waist in general, that Chief Harney proclaimed the old regulations obsolete.
