Post Office searching for missing tubs

From Staff Reports

Before making your next trip to the post office to purchase stamps, check your garage and closets for plastic mail-storage tubs that are property of the U.S. Postal Service.

Although the tubs are convenient for storage purposes, the post office is asking that you return the tubs as soon as possible. The tubs cost $3.25 and the group doesn't want to purchase

These bins are used by the postal service to sort, process and deliver mail.

Two years ago, the U.S.

School Board set to sue Lake Mary

By Michelle Jerla Managing Editor

MAITLAND — Members of the Semi-nole County School Board and Lake Mary City Commission agreed on one thing Monday night — to disagree.

The disagreement concerns the relocation of Excel Alternatives Inc., a learning facility for expelled students. City Commission in November denied the School Board's request to rezone property for the facility. In response, the School Board began legal proceedings against the city and invoked the county's Interlocal Agreement on Mediation and Intergovernmental Coordination.

Monday's meeting at the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council was the third and final step in the mediation process before litigation is pursued in court. Since no agreement was reached, it is now likely the Board will file a lawsuit in civil court.

"I think the decision to sue has been made," said Sandra Glenn, a former Seminole county commissioner who was chosen to facilitate the mediation process. "But, at the end of the day, everyone will still be friends."

For two years, School Board staff members have searched for a new location for the alternative school in order to purchase a building rather than continue leasing the See Mediation, Page 6 current facility, located in Sanford on Lake Mary Boulevard, for $350,000 per year. The purchase would eventually save the school system money. School officials determined the Lake Mary site in Technology Park, located off Lake Emma Road, was best suited for the facility's needs. They also believe that the school's proposed use is compatible with the city's Comprehensive Plan.

Lake Mary officials believe the school will pose traffic and safety problems if it relo-cates to the Technology Park location. Their Budget year looks tight for Seminole

By Jamie J. Anderson Staff Writer

SANFORD — Concerned with budget issues, the Seminole County Board of County Commissioners cautiously made its way through several money-seeking agenda items Tuesday.

"Every year we go through this gloom and doom process," said Commissioner Randy Morris.

"And, every year things turn out better than predicted because we are conservative." are conservative."

Still commissioners continued to express concerns about spending funds before its next fiscal year, beginning Oct. 1 of this year.

"A dollar can only be spent once," said Commissioner Carlton Henley, in regards to where funding should be allocated.

One Item in particular was pulled from the agenda due to funding concerns. Commissioners decided to rethink spending $400,000 to Texas-based Duncan Associates. The organization was to assist Seminole County in making revisions to its land development code.

"I believe we should hold this

"I believe we should hold this item until we see what the budget looks like," sald Hersley. "I feel this would be nice to have right now, but not a necessity."

Voting on the item was post-poned until further notice.

Also, after a great deal of debate, an amendment related to the parking and drainage improvements scheduled in front of the County Services Building was cancelled.

The amendment would have changed the size of the storm water pipes used in the project, saving approximately $70,000. However, the changes would have cost the county $12,000 to revise engineering plans, for a net savings of $58,000.

The amendment addressed a November 2002 Item in which the county commissioners approved a joint effort between S County and the city of Sanford in the amount of $556,000 to improve the parking and draining at the county site.

In December of last year, the city of Sanford bowed out of the project due to a lack of funds. In an attempt to move forward, county staff proposed reducing the size of the storm pipes from 60 See Budget, Page 6

CRA imposes deadline to find center's hotel partner

By Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD - The clock is ticking on how long a downtown redevelopment agency will reserve money for key compo-nents of a hotel/conference cen-

Members of the Sanford Downtown Community Re-development Agency (CRA) unanimously agreed to wait until Sept. 1 before revising its long-term budget that sets aside $400,000 to provide parking for a proposed hotel/conference center. If by that date the city of Sanford has not secured a private hotel partner to share in the costs of operating the conference cen-ter, the CRA will remove the money it has reserved for parking money it has reserved for parking and use it for other projects.

Late last year, Seminole County and the city of Sanford approved an interlocal agreement whereby the county will fund the construction of up to a 63,000-square-foot conference center. In motion, the city will fund the construction of the county will find the conference center.

square-foot conference center. In return, the city will fund the operation of the facility, estimated to cost about $500,000 annually.

To offset those costs, the city hopes to find a privately owned hospitality company to build a hotel and use the profits of that venture to operate the conference center.

Larry Strickler, chairman of the CRA, made the proposal to set a deadline. He said the purpose of his suggestion was to give the city time to secure a partner but not indefinitely pledge CRA money that could be used for other pro-

"We're not saying the conference center should go away," Strickler said. "I just don't think we should tie up $400,000 for something that may or may not happen."

Members of the CRA echoed Strickler's concerns. Tom Ball noted that the board has been an "advocate of a conference center with a private hotel." And Bob Parsell pointed out that operating costs were too substantial to go it alone.

"You've got to have a hotel to make this thing work," Parseli said. "If you think you're going to make it on just local folks, you're wrong. We already have a meet-ing facility (Sanford Civic Center) that loses money. There is no need to go buy a new one that will lose even more money. We have to

Mardi Gras ball tickets sold out, but there's still plenty of fun planned for weekend

SANFORD — If you planned to attend the Mardi Gras Ball but have yet to buy your tickets, you better make other plans, Cinderella.

Angelia Gordon, president of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, announced Tuesday that Friday's Mardi Gras Ball is "Response has been great," Gordon said. "This is the first formal event in Sanford for some time, and everyone is excited about it."

Those without tickets won't be left out of the Mardi Gras furt, however. The chamber will sponsor a day's worth of events Saturday, Feb. 15, beginning with a Dog Masquerade Parade at 11 a.m. and ending with an old-fashion, New Orleans style parade at 6:30 p.m. In between there will be plenting of contrasts a marginal and of contrasts. ty of contests, a musical perfor-mances and a classic car show held in conjunction with Sanford Main Street.

The Mardi Gras celebration is the first in what Gordon hopes will become an annual event in Sanford. While the event is meant for fun, the underlying purpose is to raise money for the chamber. Much of the money will be raised through donations raised by about a dozen community leaders cam-paigning for the title of King Rex and Queen Divine. The winning candidates will be the man and woman who raise the most money.

The festivities will kick off Saturday, Feb. 15 at 11 a.m. with the Dog Masquerade Parade. Much like their human counterparts, these parade participants will be decked out in festive costumes. The big dogs, of course will be Dog Rex and Dog Devine. The canine couple will be crowned based on the amount of money their owners raise. The dog parade also includes contests for telent and best dog-owner look-alike.

Gordon sald the encourages owners to register their dogs in advance. However, last-minute registration can be done saturday beginning at 10 a.m. In addition, all dogs must be kept on a leash during the parade, and children under 12 must be accompanied by

Among the musical performers will be Rodney Thibodeaux and Tout-Les-Soir (French for "every night"), a Baton Rouge-based Cajun/Zydecajun banti providing plenty of foot-stomping music that has become legendary at crawfish boils and local dance halls throughout Louisiana. Mark Dupuy will also delight listeners with his performance of mixed musical styles, from laid-back Jimmy Buffett to Calypso and Junkanoo material

The Perseverance Jazz Band will perform as the lead band during Saturday night's parade, provid-ing an up-beat, brass band sound.

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Bathroom window reveals more than neighbors know

DEAR ABBY: My next-door neighbors are nice people, but I'm faced with a problem I don't know how to solve. Their bathroom faces my driveway. They have a coating on their bathroom windowpanes, but it isn't as opaque as they think. There is no other window cover-

This morning I went out Abby to my car and could see him day. It was hardly a vision of loveliness. Even my friends have witnessed this unforgettable sight. It is embarrassing.

Please print this. I hope my neighbors see this letter and finally put an end to the "show."

SEEN IT ALL IN MINNEAPOLIS

DEAR SEEN IT ALL: It's not enough to hope your neighbors read Dear Abby and recognize themselves. If you cannot find the courage to tell them the naked truth face-to-face, mail them a sweet note suggesting either a "cover charge" or another form of window covering. If they don't believe you, invite the wife over so she can see for herself. They need to know they're overexposed.

DEAR ABBY: I have single-handedly raised my 16-year-old daughter, "Jenna," for the past nine years. Now she's begging me to let her live with her father and his wife, who live about an hour and a half away. Jenna wants to finish high school there. Over the years, she's visited her father every other weekend and for six weeks during the summers. They spoil her rotten.

Last year, Jenna witnessed her stepmother being handcuffed and taken away in a police car. The charge was forging prescriptions for a controlled substance—her second felony.

Although this woman has been clean and sober for six months, prior to that arrest she was an addict for years. Her grown son, his girlfriend and their baby also live in my exhusband's home.

I am convinced that Jenna should continue living with me and remain in the school where she is enrolled. She's a good student with many friends. Now she is furious with me because I won't give in to the pressure that she and her dad's household are putting on me to allow her to move. (They've promised to buy her a car.)

Am I wrong to hold to my decision leet it is not in Jenna's best interest?

MOTHER KNOWS BEST

IN VIRGINIA DEAR MOTHER: Stand your ground and follow your instincts. I see no compelling reason why your daughter should be uprooted from an atmosphere in which she is thriving — good grades and good friends — and placed in such a non-traditional household.

While her stepmother's recovery is admirable, and seems to be on its way there is no guarantee she won't slip. It's not a chance you want to take.

GMAC Real Estate shoots for $250 million mark in 2003

Signature GMAC Real Estate, Central Florida's largest locally owned and operated real estate company with offices in Lake Mary and Oviedo, benefited from record level interest rates and a robust resale market to post a record $194 million in home sale volume in 2002.

Signature GMAC Real Estate, recognized as the fastest-growing real estate company in the GMAC network two years ago, completed its eighth year of operations with an impressive increase over 2001 figures of $177 million, reports President and COO John J. Nadler.

The company, which has seven sales branch offices and approximately 175 agents serving a four-county Central Florida market, is shooting for $250 million in volume this year which would represent nearly a 30 percent gain.

"We couldn't be more delighted with what we accomplished in 2002 but feel that 2003 will be an even bigger year for our company because of the continued growth of our New Homes and Commercial Real Estate divisions," says Nadler.

"We are also exploring the idea of opening additional offices in key growth markets."

The strong 2002 showing could again put Signature GMAC Real Estate in line for another GMAC growth award. On the strength of its 2001 sales volume, the company was recognized last year as the fastest-growing real estate company in the GMAC network – a network than encompasses 1,500 offices and nearly 25,000 agents.

Signature GMAC Real Estate achieved that distinction by posting a whopping 532 percent increase in sales volume since 1999. The company was GMAC's second-fastest growing nationally in 2000 on its $100 million in sales volume.

"Except for a short lag early in the year in the aftermath of 9/11, the year was exceptional," he says. "There was a slight slowdown in the upper end of the market, but activity in the low and mid range properties remained consistently strong. The continued low interest rates have been a lifesaver to the real estate industry during a sluggish economy. Most forecasters agree that interest rates will remain low for much of 2003 and that's good news for all whose livelihoods depend on a strong real estate market."

The company, which is head quartered in Ococe/Windermere, has been on the fast track since opening it doors in 1995. It started that year with one 990 square-foot office and one agent – Nadler.

Signature GMAC Real Estate
now has seven offices and 175 agents and is the largest GMAC franchise in the state. Besides its Ococe/Windermere and Lake Mary and Oviedo offices, the company also has sales branches in Bay Hill, Winter Park, Clermont and Kissimmee.

"Our plans are to continue on track as a diversified real estate company," says Nadler.
"Although general real estate will continue to serve as our core business, we will be utilizing our collective experience and expertise to tap into other areas that will help our company grow, including the sales and marketing of New Home communities and commercial real at estate sales," he says.

Buffkin named Sanford Employee of the Month

Sanford City Manager Tony VanDerworp, left, presents an Employee of the Month certificate to Max Buffkin, of the Sanford Fire Department. Buffkin was cited for the award because of his leadership style, specifically his work in organizing the fire department's first awards banquet. In nominating Buffkin for the honor, his stated, "(Buffkin) has often stated that he would not expect his subordinates to do anything that he, himself, would not be willing to do. While some supervisors tend to disassociate from their subordinates, Max has remained close to his. You can often find him eating lunch, training or working out in the gym with the rest of the firefighters. His "leadership by example" qualities truly set the bar high for success and positive morale within our department."

Florida Solar entrance into West Palm Beach market a slam-dunk, says company founder Florida Solar, a division of Olympian Home where the company is Services, Inc., opened a West Palm Beach branch recently and Skip West, president of marketing and sales for Olympian, said the first week was the busiest of any of the firm's branches.

"Altogether, we installed pool heating systems worth more than $43,000," West said. "Typically, during the first week we expect to see sales of some $20,000 or at the most, $25,000."

Branch manager, Shane Ackerman, and sales manager, Christine Abbott, were the drivers responsible for the great week.

Florida Solar now has branches in Sanford, headquartered, Tampa, Sarasota, Fort Lauderdale and West Palm Beach. The firm will open branches in the Fort Myers-Naples area on Feb. 15 and in Jacksonville in March or April,

Business leaders say tort reform is one of state's most pressing issues

Tort Reform to reduce Workers lawyers. Compensation insurance costs is one of Florida,s most pressing needs, says one of Florida,s biggest employers. Mark A. Lang Sr., founder and chief executive officer of Workers Temporary Staffing, Inc., said Florida is in a double-bind that is hurting business, reducing employment and could lead to significantly higher taxes for everyone who lives here.

"Florida's Workers Compensation system is in a crisis and we had better do something about it now," said Lang. "Insurance costs keep rising, insurers are pulling out of the state in droves and Florida employers and workers are left holding the bag."

Lang characterized Florida,s tort system as a lottery for "Workers Compensation insurance is supposed to protect workers who are injured on the job by making them whole again," Lang said. "But the way lawyers have twisted the system, it,s more of a lottery, and they are all playing the numbers."

Worse, Lang said, lawyers who post highway billboards and air radio and television commercials have turned Florida,s Workers Compensation system into a joke even among the workers the system is designed to protect.

"Go on a jobsite and listen to what the workers say," Lang encouraged. "Every time there,s a bump or a clang someone hollers, 'Workers Comp!' And on a construction site, there's lots of bumps and clangs."

"The workers know it's a joke and employers have known it for several years now. We're all wondering when Florida,s legislators are going to get it."

For some workers, Lang said, the joke is real.

"Some workers, and their lawyers especially, view a workrelated injury as an entitlement program. There are many hurt workers who are not getting the full benefits needed for their injuries because lawyers are taking such a large portion of the pie. Lawyers are stuffing their pockets at the expense of all workers everywhere," Lang

Lang opened Workers Temporary Staffing some 12 years ago. The firm now has 21 offices throughout Florida and hires about 12,000 workers annu-

Local investment analyst says war with Iraq could slow economy

ing at a normal pace from a recession, which ended more Iraq could delay the recovery, says one longtime area commercial real estate analyst.

On the other hand, say George Livingston, president of NAI Realvest Partners, Inc. in Maitland, war with Iraq could spur a quickened economic pace.

"If you are an optimist, the Iraqi war could lead to a settlement in the Middle East," Livingston said, "and that would certainly bring some major energy to our economy."

Livingston said the U.S. economy is in a normal recovery cycle from the recession that officially started in March of 2001 and officially ended in November of that same year.

"That should be a relief for some," he said. "Our most recent recession in fact was less severe and more shallow than the weak stock market make it seem jobs will be created in 2003.

The U.S. economy is recover- more severe than the numbers show."

The U.S. economy grew an than a year ago, but war with average of about 2.5 percent last year, just below the long term average of three percent, Livingston explained.

"In the fourth quarter, economic growth passed the four percent mark. This year the economy is projected to expand by 2.5 to 3.0 percent, Productivity also increased at a 5.6 percent rate, the best record since 1973. That is a significant plus."

Low, stable interest rates and continued strong housing sales are two of the economy,s biggest stimulants, Livingston said. Inflation is likely to remain weak through the end of the year, despite the high prices for oil.

Deflation in the U.S. is unlikely, he added.

"Home refinancing has put a lot of cash into the pockets of consumers," Livingston said. "The job market has been weak, norm. The burst of the dot.com and that trend is likely to persist. bubble and the resulting An estimated 600,000 to 700,000

Those numbers will increase in 2004.1

Elsewhere the picture is not so bright, Livingston said.

'Hotels are weak and will remain so. The probable war in Iraq is a big weight for the tourism industry. Retail has peaked and development sites are hard to find," Livingston said. "Immigration has slowed and migration to growth areas has also slowed. Both trends negatively impact this market segment."

Industrial occupancies will continue to decline, with vacancies increasing until the end of 2003. Things look much better next year, however, he said.

"If the war in Iraq is quick and sharp, the outcome will be positive," Livingston added. "After a spike up, oil prices should decline to $18 to $22 a barrel and that will provide an economic stimulus. There is a likelihood of terrorist acts in the future. When the Iraq war starts, we will be entering a period of high risk, and then we have to deal with main concern, however, is that the facility is not compatible with the surrounding industrial setting.

During the series of mediation meetings — which Lake Mary City Manager John Litton deemed a legislative exercise rather than quasi-judicial — staff, executive officers and members from both parties made progress in finding a resolution regarding the traffic and public safety issues. However, at the end of Monday's meeting, both were still in disagreement over compatibility.

"If Excel is not compatible in this location, we want to know what will make it compatible," Seminole Deputy Superintendent of Schools Dianne Kramer said. "As we read it (the city's land-use plan), schools should be away from industrial areas to avoid things such as noise, odor and traffic, which is not a problem in this location."

School board members also noted that the alternative school operates on a business-like model, which is consistent with businesses and industries located in Technology Park.

However, city officials said a school, no matter what type it is, is not compatible with the area.

"The fact remains that there will be students and children in an area of working adults," Lake Mary Deputy Mayor Janet Jernigan said.
"I don't think they belong there. I think it's a wonderful program, it just isn't compatible in that loca-

City officials said they have also received numerous letters against Excel's relocation to Technology Park from residents and businesses located in the area.

Members of both parties didn't seem surprised about the outcome of the mediation. In December, the School Board voted to begin the litigation process against the city and finalized a contract to purchase the Technology Park building. If the district is not successful in court, the facility will be used for offices and storage.

Following Monday's meeting, however, School Board Chairman Sandra Robinson said she didn't know when, or if, the School Board would file a lawsuit against the

"I don't know if a legal timeline has been set," Robinson said. "We also want to wait and see, if by some miracle, the city has a change of heart. The last place we want to be is in court."

On Tuesday, Litton said the issue will be placed on next Thursday's Commission agenda.

'It will be on the agenda in case any of the commissioners want to reconsider it," Litton said, "But, I don't anticipate any change; and ultimately, it would take a majority to change the decision.

"We are prepared for a possible lawsuit," he said. "We feel just as strong in our position as the Board feels in its position regarding the

have a hotel partner."

Sanford Mayor Brady
Lessard said he had not spoken with CRA members about their decision, but thinks the agency will have enough information to make its decision before Sept. 1.

"The county is moving forward pretty aggressive-ly," Lessard said. "They're working with architects and owner's representatives right now, so the CRA may have its answer before (Sept. 1)."

That answer might not come before a crucial decision on bonding the project, however. Lessard said he expects the county to have a "hard" number on the cost of building a conference center by the end of May. At that point the county and city would be ready to sell bonds to fund the project, though the project may still lack a hotel partner.

Lessard said a panel made up of himself, Lake Mary Mayor Thom Greene, former Sanford mayor Larry Dale and officials from the county plan to cull a list of 220 possible hospitality partners down to 50 and then narrow that list to five or 10. Those companies would then be pursued as partners for the project.

No timeline has been established, but a decision could be made by late summer, Lessard said.

"I foresee having our partners poised so that after the bonds are released, we could reach an agreement in short order," Lessard said.

While part of Strickler's rationale for putting a deadline on finding a private partner has to do with determining how much money the CRA has to bud-get for future projects, he said he also believes there are more opportunities to redevelop downtown Sanford than in previous conference center/hotel idea has been around for about 10 years, the project for the last six years as a way to revitalize its downtown. During that time, minor improvements along 1st Street and the start of construction on the $12 million Riverwalk project have made downtown more attractive to developers. Case in point, Strickler said, is the $12 million project proposed next to City Hall. Lake Mary-based Suncor Properties Inc. plans to finance and build condominiums and townhomes, as well as office and retail space. The CRA has pledged $140,000 for infrastructure Improvements, and the City Commission has agreed to donate land to Suncor. Combined, the contribu-tions are millions less than the county will spend to build a conference center, Strickler noted.

He still believes a conference center/hotel can provide a boost for downtown, but Strickler sald a major publicly financed project is no longer the only catalyst to reviving downtown.

"Ten, 15 years ago, the only idea to revitalize downtown was a public sector one: courthouse expansion," Strickler said. "That's not the case any-more. We're seeing the private sector exploring ways to Invest in Sanford.

Commissioner Grant Malov expressed concern regarding whether the project as proposed in the amendment would assist in the drainage problems in front of the building. Commission decided to return to using 60-inch storm pipes and are looking at ways to include the city of Sanford using a possible payment plan.

Also during the meeting.

Commission requested that

Seminole County staff move forward with negotiations to change overhead power lines to underground facilities in front of the new courthouse at Bush new courthouse at Bush Boulevard and 17-92. If approved after negotiations, the county could pay Florida Power and Light as much as $103,681 to complete the project improving aesthetics along 17-92.

"I'm Immune to the power lines, but not the big yellow buildings like Flea World next door," said Maloy. "I don't see where the cost is worth the benefit."

Commissioner Dick Van Der Weide disagreed, stating, "Who knows what type of development might happen in this area. I don't think the citizens would expect us to go cheap on something like this. We would just have to come back later and re-do it." Another hard-hitting money Item in the amount of more than $376,000 discussed Commission was the execution of an agreement with Cumming McGillivray, LLC, in Orlando. The company, which specializes in management of both private and public-sector construction projects, was selected to oversee the construction of the Seminole County Convention Center, another joint project between Seminole County and the city of Sanford. "This is a major issue and it's premature to vote on this," said Maloy.

"You have to have a way to fund the construction," he added. 'I'm not at all confident that the city of Sanford will fund this especially if they can't fund a pipe outside our building." In the end, the item passed with Other funding items to note, the commission:

 Voted unanimously to adopt a resolution, requested by Seminole Community College, in support of funding for Central Florida's community colleges.

• Approved unanimously a request to transfer funds in the amount of $340,000 from a traffic safety improvement project at Heathrow Elementary to a substitute project at Red Bug

Help still needed in hunt for Putnam bird killers

Special to the Herald

OCALA — Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) investi-gators still need information to help them find the person or persons who shot and killed more than 45 wading birds in Putnam County in late December or early January.

In an effort to find those responsible, FWC law enforcement officers are distributing flyers with informa-tion about the shootings to local businesses in the hopes that someone will remember seeing or hearing something about the crime.

"The FWC's Wildlife Alert program is offering $1,000 reward for information which leads to the arrest of those who committed this irresponsible act," said Joy Hill, public information coor-dinator for the FWC's Northeast Region.

Wading birds are long-legged birds, such as egrets and herons, that forage for food in shallow water. They are often seen along shorelines, roadside ditches and water retention ponds stalk-ing their meals. There is no hunting season on most wading birds and they are protected under both federal and state migratory bird laws. Violators could face fines and jall time if convict-

Someone reported the dead birds floating in the barge canal between Rodman Reservoir and State Road 19 to the FWC on Jan. 7. They had been recently shot. Investigators discovered a large pile of shotgun shells and boxes in the vicinity of the dead birds, and took impressions of a tire track and a boot print, as well as collected other evidence from the scene.

Anyone with any informa-tion on this, or any other fish and wildlife-related crime, should call the FWC's tollfree, 24-hour Wildlife Alert Hotline at 888-404-3922. Callers may remain anony mous and may be eligible for a reward.

This is a joint investigation by the FWC and the United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

RADIO COLLAR FOUND CUT OFF BEAR IN MARION COUNTY

A radio tracking collar found last week in south Marion County was apparently cut off the neck of a black bear that was part of a study on bears with mange In the Ocala National Forest.

"We assume the bear is dead since it would be difficult to cut the collar off a live bear," said Joy Hill, public information coordinator for the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC). "And the collar was definitely cut. It did not deteriorate and fall off."

Biologists tracking the bear with radio telemetry equip-ment found the collar after they received a mortality signal from its radio frequency. They discovered it lying on the ground on Feb. 5, in the area of Locust Pass Run and Locust Road near East Silver Spring Shores.

The collar belonged to a 98-lb., mature female, last documented alive about a week before only a few hun-See Ouldoors, Page 10

Lake Mary sweeps in district soccer

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

DeLAND — Seminole County teams won four of a possible five district cham-pionships in soccer Friday night and six teams are still alive for state titles as the playoffs move into the regionals this was decided by two goals.

Both of Lake Mary's leams won their respective districts, while the Lake Howell and Trinity Prep boys also claimed gold.

The Lake Mary boys appeared headed to an easy victory when they took a quick 2-0 lead over Lake Brantley in the 21st minute of the Class 4A-District 2 final at DeLand's Spec Martin Stadium.

lan Hauck and Norman Molinari scored the goals and the Rams kept the shutout until Paul Georgelos scored Lake Brantley's first goal in the 31st minute. Lake Mary (23-1) pushed the lead back to two, 3-1, right before half when Joris

Claessens got wide open in front of the net and the Rams carried all of the momentum into the halftime break.

The top-seeds took advantage of that momentum and built a three goal advan-tage when Jerry Girard found the back of the net early in the second half.

But Lake Brantley (19-4-1) showed why it has been one of the top teams all season, especially over the latter half of the season, when it battled back on goals by Graham Zusi and Nick Roberts in a 52second span to cut the lead to just one in the 67th minute.

Lake Mary was not to be denied, however, and was able to maintain control of the ball over the final minutes to preserve the championship.

Both teams will be in action again tomorrow (Thursday) with Lake Mary hosting Jacksonville-Mandarin at 7 p.m. at Don T. Reynolds Stadium and Lake Brantley going to Orange Park for a 7:30 p.m. Regional Quarterfinal contest.

Lake Howell's boys were the top seed in Class 3A-District 5, but the Silver Hawks appeared to be in trouble when star Nick Martin went down with a hamstring injury early in their game with See Soccer, Page 10

If you have been a good boater throughout 2002, you may have been one of the lucky ones to get a Digital Selective Calling (DSC) VHF radio from Santa for the holidays. To add to this wonderful lifesaving gift, you can register your radio and get a free Maritime Mobile Service Identity (MMSI) number at http://www.BoatUS.com/mmsi or by calling 800-563-1536.

"We have it on good authority that Santa was very generous with DSC VHF radios this holiday season," said BoatU.S. Founder and Chairman Richard Schwartz. "We believe it's because many boaters had been boating safely, following the nautical rules of the road, and being great stewards of our waterways."

With the pressing of one but-ton, DSC VHF radios allow anyone on board to send a continuous distress message that contains the vessel's identity and contact information - even if the captain is incapacitated. And if the DSC VHF is connected to a GPS or Loran, the distressed vessel's latitude/longitude position is also automatically broadcast. However, for these automatic functions to work properly, boaters must register to receive an MMSI number. While The U.S. Coast Guard is not expected to fully monitor DSC distress calls until 2006, DSC equipped vessels in the broadcast area will receive the automatic distress call and identification information - and may be potentially able to respond. A DSC VHF radio also retains all the functions of a non-DSC VHF radio and can broadcast a channel 16 volce distress message.

For non-emergency purposes, a MMSI works like a "VHF phone number." An MMSI avoids having to monitor high traffic channels just for a hail from your boating buddy - the DSC VHF "rings" like a telephone, notifying you that you have a call.

An MMSI issued by BoatU.S. is only valid for recreational vessels in domestic waters.

BoatU.S. - the nation's leading advocate for recreational boating issues before Congress and the federal agencies - provides its 535,000 members with a wide array of consumer services including a group-rate marine insurance program that pro-vides over $7 billion in hull coverage; a fleet of more than 400 towing assistance vessels; discounts on fuel and slips at nearly 700 marinas; and a subscription to BoatU.S. Magazine.

and SCC would like to play that playoff at The Raiders got off to a fast start behind Bracy, who hit four three-pointers and scored 18 first half points, and forced St. John's to use three timeouts in the first 12:32 of the game.

Manny Figueroa (16 first half points) did his best to keep the Vikings in the game, but it was former Seminole High School star Marcus Robinson the came off the bench to spark the visitors, scoring four points and setting up another score with a blocked shot as the visitors battled back to tie the game at 37-37 at halftime. The teams traded two scores each before Bracy hit a 'three' to break a 41-41 tie that began the amazing 18-0 run that gave SCC a 59-41 lead with 16:36 remaining.

But the Vikings again answered with a 19-5 run to cut the lead to four, 64-60, with 14:08 left. Bracy came out of a timeout to hit his sixth three-pointer of the game and a steal by Jackson led to a three by Rushawn Johnson and the Raiders had pushed the lead back to 10, 70-60, with 13:57 left on the clock. SCC was able to maintain a slight lead the rest of the way as it won its second straight game at home. Bracy finished with 32 points, while Lyman grad Houston chipped in with 18 and former SJRCC star Bright added 14. Jackson helped out with seven points and 10 rebounds, and at least six steals, while Kitus Witherspoon was held to six points, but controlled the backboards with 15 rebounds. George also had a big game off the bench with seven points and four steals. St. John's River, which fell to 10-15 overall and 3-4 in the M-FC, got 21 points (19 in the second half) from Shelton Edwards and 20 points (13 in the second half) from Clarence Ferguson.
