Lyman Baseball Team Honored At Party

Couch and Mrs. Jim Payne gave the Lyman Baseball team a party at their home on Sanlando Springs Rd. by Rock Lake on Tuesday evening.

As a gift of appreciation, the team presented Payne with a smart, red banian shirt. The boys christened their managers, Roger Krohne and Ronnie Jones by throwing them into the lake fully clothed.

After a spirited game of whiffle ball, hamburgers, banana splits and soft drinks were served by Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Mary Mobley and Mrs. Vester Elgin with the assistance of Mrs. L. R. Payne.

The remainder of the evening was spent playing ping pong. The boys had a marvelous time and agreed unanimously that Mrs. Payne makes the best banana splits in Central Florida.

School Clinic Set Wednesday At Altamonte

By Shirley Westworth
Parents who will have children entering either the Altamonte Spring or new Bear Lake Elementary Schools for the first time next term are reminded that the pre-school roundup for both locations has been set at the Altamonte school next Wednesday.

Request has been made that only the parents make the registration which will be open from 9 a. m. until 2 p. m. Birth certificates of children to enter school will be required.

Jack Hipps, speaking for the group of residents, requested Fasula to contact all landowners of the section asking for their opinions on a charge of $3 per month for repair and maintenance of the roads. He further requested that the trucks be rerouted to a back road.

Voiced at the meeting was a request for an ad valorem tax to be presented at the June council meeting. In answer, councilman W. W. Anderson advised that "even though the council can assess taxes up to 10 mills without referendum it would not be morally right without the people's permission. Adding taxes at this time will discourage the city's growth and I for one want to see it grow."

South Seminole Roundup Set Next Tuesday

By Jane Casselberry
A pre-school roundup for all children who will enter the first grade in the fall at South Seminole Elementary School will be held next Tuesday morning at the school.

Redistricting has changed the schedule for South Seminole Elementary and some areas formerly served there will now send children to Altamonte Springs Elementary.

According to Principal Herold Heckenbach, those who live in the areas served by runs A and B of Bus 74 and west of Hwy. 17-92, who in the past would have registered at South Seminole, should register at Altamonte during its roundup next Wednesday.

Although children will be welcomed, it is not necessary that they attend South Seminole registration, however, their birth certificates will be required. At this time it will be necessary to register only those children entering the first grade.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Democracy?

Disagreement is one of the basic ingredients of democracy. From the earliest days of our country's history when the laudable institution of the Town Meeting was originated in New England, disagreement has always worked for the benefit of the people.

As long as we can disagree about things, then we need have no fears about our freedoms enduring.

What worries us is not disagreement, but petty bickering and acrimonious behavior on the part of government officials on what ever level they operate, national, state, county and municipal.

On the local level petty meanness and ill feeling is to be particularly deplored. The constant effort of one group to "get" the leaders of another group is not a demonstration of democracy at work. It is a show of small minds and the small-minded concept of democracy.

Surely in a country such as ours the governing bodies should seek higher levels of operation.

Club President Levels Criticism At Voters

Scorching criticism of American's Creed." She suggested that members of the women's organization, in particular, make an effort to meet the candidates and know their platforms and if necessary, seek counsel with a qualified advisor but to at least "set out and vote."

"We are responsible for putting men in these offices... if you don't vote, don't gripe," she concluded. Since the South Seminole club will host the June 23 meeting of the Fifth Congressional District Council, no regular meeting of the local group has been scheduled for the month.

Saying that she was shocked and surprised at the "terrible turnout" in her own precinct which has 477 registered voters, Mrs. Bennett pointed out that although the candidates were thoroughly publicized by all news media prior to the elections, she learned that many people "didn't even know who was running and just voted for the first name on the ballot in each race."

She repeatedly urged a stronger turnout for the May 29 primary underlining her statements by reading "The

Board Clashes Over 77 Cent Telephone Bill

Although the Casselberry board took less than half last month's record 90 minutes to pay this month's bills Tuesday night, a hassle over a 77 cent telephone call sparked a personality clash among members of the board which developed into a mild name-calling session as Chairman Paul Bates repeatedly called for a motion "to approve the bills for payment."

The call, made by Mrs. Hope Bennett during the past month to Attorney Kenneth McIntosh, came under fire from Alderman George Howard who called attention to his motion made and approved on Jan. 8 that only such expenses incurred by the mayor and chairman be paid by the town and, according to the minutes, "no more calls be charged to the mayor's phone."

Mrs. Bennett assured that she would pay the 77 cents in question and that the charge "hadn't been made to the mayor's phone."

Motions and counter motions were put on the floor without seconds before Bates finally got a move "to pay the bills as corrected."

Campus Site Name Is Open To Suggestion

President Morris Hale of the University of Orlando, whose activity is currently confined to Orlando Junior College, let it be known this morning that the university is open to suggestions for a name for the new college to be activated at North Orlando next year.

Hale said "We want to give the new institution a name reflecting the area in which it is located and we are open to suggestions from the people of Seminole County."

The new school, as described by Hale, will start in September, 1963, with an additional freshman class opening in the fall of 1964. It will be a two-year college to serve the same purpose for Seminole County as Orlando Junior College performs in Orange County.

Succeeding years it is hoped, will see addition of two more classes to the college's enrollment and have it emerge a four-year college. The senior division will operate under a name different from the one adopted for the North Orlando school, but will share the same campus.

The whole institution, including the Orlando installation, will operate under the general corporate name of The University of Orlando, but the major concentration of buildings and equipment will be on the Seminole County campus.

Plans and drawings for the master plan for the North Orlando school are now on the drawing boards, and Hale hopes construction will start on the first building within six months.

The new campus will comprise 200 acres lying south of Longwood-Oviedo Road west of the shopping center, which will place it in the ranch home section of the new town. The college has an option to buy an additional 100 acres and the president said the master plan is being drawn up with the utilization of the full 300 acres in mind.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Home Economics Building at Forest Lake Academy will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday on the campus of the school.

The new building will house the home economics department and will have completely equipped laboratories, kitchens and class rooms.

County Commissioner James P. Avery will be the speaker at the groundbreaking. He will share the platform with school principal William Fuchs and H. H. Schmidt, president of the Florida Conference of the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

The new structure will cost an estimated $180,000, and will be the first unit of a five-year redevelopment plan designed to increase the school's capacity and usefulness to the community.

Also in the works is a new printing plant and book bindery to be staffed by students wishing to learn the printing trades.

Mrs. Margaret Reynolds has certainly won the respect and affection of the parents and children of Pinecrest School during the past seven years that she has been principal there, as witness the demonstration put on in her honor recently. PTA members really showed some talent in the production of their "This is Your Life" show.

The mother of the child who was hurt when the airplane in the Elks Playground broke has written to say that although "my family has spent many happy hours playing there," she "strongly urges its removal." Maybe it can be replaced with a sturdier model. The kids love it.

Carpenter Inherits Glenn Problem

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A parachute problem that plagued the space voyage of John Glenn three months ago returned Thursday to haunt America's second manned orbital flight and forced a new postponement until next Tuesday.

U. S. scientists decided at a top-level conference Thursday night the trouble posed too much of a threat to the life of spaceman-elect M. Scott Carpenter to risk going ahead with the launching Saturday as scheduled.

Thursday, a weather forecast predicted near-gale force winds and rough seas in one of the three main recovery areas in the Atlantic Ocean.

That alone indicated the Carpenter shot stood a good chance of slipping into next week.

Then, a U. S. C-130 airplane en route from France to Zanzibar with a small emergency recovery force for the orbital flight crashed into a mountain during landing attempt near Nairobi, Kenya. All 13 Air Force men aboard were killed.

The federal space agency said the recovery force, designed to pick up the astronaut should he land outside one of the main landing areas, was "important but not essential" to the flight. Plans were made immediately to send a replacement force.

The final stroke came when experts who had thought that in Glenn's three-orbit flight Feb. 20 were "random" actually were serious enough to pose a threat to Carpenter's mission.

The bell-shaped capsule carries a pair of parachutes in its slender neck — one to slow the spacecraft at an altitude of about 20,000 feet, and a second main chute to further break its rapid fall at a height of about 10,000 feet.

Del Mar To Get Building Tuesday

The new plant for the Del Mar Industries, Inc., makers of kitchen cabinets, located on 20th St. at the ACL airfield will be officially turned over to company officials Tuesday at 2 p. m., according to Chamber of Commerce manager John Krider.

The ceremony will mark the completion of the first project of the Seminole County Development Co., to entice new industry to the county.

From the Del Mar plant the chamber officials will journey to Longwood to turn over another new plant built by the development company to the Lowe - Temp Corporation, manufacturers of ice making machines and low temperature equipment.

"Concerning that race, a lot of people are going to be surprised," said Bryant, but would not explain what he meant.

On other subjects, the governor said he felt that Florida's May 8 primary indicated that President Kennedy's popularity has gone up in Florida, and that he was "tremendously proud" of Florida units stationed on Fidel Castro's doorstep at the Guantanamo Bay Naval Base.

The reapportionment plan on the November ballot would increase the Senate from 38 to 45 members and the House from 95 to 104.

Bryant said he would go out and campaign for passage of the plan if he thinks it is necessary.

He said the voters may feel this time that the plan would be better than defeating it and leaving the next Legislature to fight over a new plan or try to reapportion under the present membership, "which would not make substantial improvements in the Senate."

He said the recent U. S. Supreme Court decision authorizing district courts to step into reapportionment disputes may have changed the complexion of the reapportionment issue in Florida. But he did not elaborate.

As for the primary last week, the government said that "any one who looks at the races of candidates closely related to Kennedy must recognize there seemed to be an approval of his administration by the voters."

Estes Got Help By Lawmakers, Senator Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Republican senator said today that Agriculture Department officials cancelled Billie Sol Estes' cotton allotments and then restored them after a New Year's Day meeting with Estes and two lawmakers.

"This was more than favoritism," Sen. Karl E. Mundt, (R-S.D.), charged. "This was complete capitulation to a guy out on the make."

Mundt is a member of the Senate investigations subcommittee which ordered a full investigation of the case Thursday shortly before President Kennedy told his news conference that government investigators were "staying right on Mr. Estes' tail."

Kennedy said 76 FBI agents had been assigned to the case and promised that "if members of the executive branch are involved" they would be "immediately disciplined appropriately."

On Dec. 15, 1961, Mundt said, Agriculture Department General Counsel John C. Bagwell recommended that Estes' cotton allotments be cancelled "and they were cancelled."

But on Jan. 1, 1962, he said, Bagwell was called to the office of Under Secretary Charles S. Murphy. After a meeting there which Estes, his attorney, a senator and a congressman attended, Mundt said the cancellation order was "rescinded pending further study."

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, (D-Tex.), was the senator referred to by Mundt. An aide to Yarborough said the senator was acting in behalf of a constituent at the meeting "the same as he would have for any other constituent."

The congressman, it was learned, was Rep. J. T. Rutherford, (D-Tex.), who represents Estes' district. Rutherford was not available for immediate comment.

Get Your Spine Tingled On Armed Forces Day

Highlight of the Armed Forces Day observance Saturday at the Sanford Naval Air Station will be the exhibition jumping show put on by the Seminole-Navy Sky Divers Club.

This group will demonstrate their spine-tingling free fall jumps, falling with parachute unopened from a height of 10,000 feet to a height of only 2,200 feet, before pulling the ripcord.

U.S. Troops 'Will Be Driven Out,' Soviet Premier Declares

United Press International Nearly 500 more American combat troops were disclosed to be flying toward Thailand today as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said that U. S. forces sent into that Southeast Asian nation "will be driven out."

A Honolulu announcement said between 450 and 500 American troops — combat specialist and combat support troops — flew from Hawaii to join some 2,800 American troops — flew from Hawaii to another 500 are scheduled to depart early next week.

Khrushchev, speaking during a tour of Bulgaria, said "it is only a question of time" until American forces will be driven from Thailand. He said it was "stupidity" to send them there.

Khrushchev did not say who would drive the Americans out of Thailand. But the implication was that this would be done by the people of Thailand themselves.

Khrushchev made his blunt speech just as Kennedy's decision to send combat forces to Thailand appeared to have cooled down the crisis in Southeast Asia.

Teenage Brothers Admit Slaying

KISSIMEE (UPI) — A teenager admitted he and his half-brother killed an aged woman and set her house afire in 1958 — a case which had been closed after the death was ruled accidental.

Osceola County Sheriff Robert Buckles said Thursday night that the youth confessed in a correctional institution that he and his half-brother killed Mrs. Laura E. Thompson, 76, of St. Cloud, because she owed them money for yard work. Neither boy was identified.

According to the confession, the sheriff said, the boys waited for Mrs. Thompson to come home Dec. 8, 1958, then beat her and held her head under water before setting fire to the house. The sheriff said the confession, given by a boy who was only 12 at the time of the incident, said the boys stole $30 and some other items from the house.

A grand jury ruled in 1959 the death was accidental. It said it believed Mrs. Thompson returned home, found a fire smoldering in a closet, and fell and injured herself in a panicky effort to get water.

She was found dead in a shower stall after the fire was extinguished. The jury ruled she died of hemorrhaging of her bronchial tube apparently caused by her fall.

Another grand jury was convened here Thursday and began hearing testimony today.

Buckles credited Deputy State Fire Marshal William Thomas Knight of Winter Haven with cracking the case. He questioned two boys who were arrested for beating and trying to rob another St. Cloud June.

TOMATO BEARING POTATO? No, not really, but the rarely occurring potato seed pods popping out on Catherine Burk's Academy Manor garden so closely resemble tomatoes that most folks, in Florida anyway, identify them as such. County Agent Cecil Tucker, who advises that it takes unusually cool and humid conditions for the potato to produce a fruiting body, says that this is only the second time since he has been in the county that he's seen a potato bloom reach maturity. Catherine, a junior at Crooms Academy, planted the garden as a project for her homemaking class. (Herald Photo)

How Loyal Are We?

When President Garfield was shot, the medical doctors felt that he should have quiet and peace to help in the fight for his life. A place was selected that was very isolated and supposed to be ideal from several standpoints, however, some means of transportation was necessary to facilitate the task. In order to accomplish this important venture a short railroad was deemed necessary to take the president, the medical staff, and all of the equipment needed to save the president's life.

The line was laid out by the engineers and all was progressing at great speed until it was discovered that it would be necessary for the railroad to cross a farmer's front yard. It was perfectly natural that this man would not want such a thing to happen to his property until he learned that it was for the President of the United States. When this was explained he said, "That is different. Why, if that railroad is run for the President, you can run it right through my house."

So many people are very happy to pledge their loyalty to the Lord just so long as it doesn't interfere with anything that they love. If they can claim the blessings of faith and still put all of their desires first, then that is fine. For some people it becomes a different matter if loyalty to God cuts across their business, recreation, or even their pet projects, as good as they may be.

If we do not have very strong convictions about our loyalty to God we are not going to put Him first in our decision because it is a rather expensive thing to do from some standpoints. One will find that he is being called "square," "old fashioned," "square," and sometimes names that are far worse but unprintable. There will be some business deals that one can't go along with, some political decisions, and even some things that happen among groups that are supposed to be dedicated largely to religious causes. It becomes necessary for us to decide if God is really God for us because if we are putting anything or any one above Him He simply isn't our God at all.

It is my firm conviction that there was never a time when we need people who will dare to stand for God as we do now. I feel just as strongly that if we do not have many who are willing to do so, that our way of life is certainly doomed. All of the good intentions are not enough if they leave God out.

How true it is to say that there have been many changes in our time. All we have to do is recall life a few years ago and think of it now. In the realms of science there have been so many changes, yet so much is still the same. The laws of human nature are the same. The Ten Commandments would still bring to our world a way of life that would be wonderful. If we would but put them into effect, the Sermon on the Mount has not been outdated but ignored by the vast majority of the world. The Lord Christ still presents to us the way of life and yet how much of life do we see that reflects loyalty to His ideals.

In spite of our advances in the areas where our progress has been so great, we have more anxious, fearful, and confused people than the world has ever seen. We still stand on the brink of what could be the destruction of civilization, yet how many are willing to bow in humility and remain loyal to God as He has so graciously expressed Himself in Jesus Christ. This is the time of decision! The luxury of waiting is not of this age!

Further information concerning the revival may be had by contacting Rev. James L. Powell of Longwood or Rev. B. M. Griffin of Sanford.

Stock Market Skid Brings Up Questions

NEW YORK (UPI) — The morning after New Year's Day, trading on the New York Stock Exchange opened with the Dow Jones averages at 731.14.

Today at the opening of trading: 654.04.

Difference: 77.10.

Wall Streeters differ in their regard for all the technical values of indexes; but they all watch them. This particular set represents the general levels of 30 industrial stocks.

People ask: What happened to the level of stocks? Is there something wrong in the stock market?

Out in Chicago, engineer Robert E. Lyke said he is "perplexed."

"All the business indicators point to a rise, but the bottom keeps dropping out," he said.

But down in Washington Tuesday Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, pointing out jumps in the rate of personal income for April over the figures for the preceding month and a year ago, said what was happening in the stock market was "not a reflection of what we find in the economic picture."

Traders and analysts—the men who try to keep track of what the market is doing—have varying theories on its behavior. But most agree it is not one single thing, but a combination of many, which has led investors to watch IBM go from 579 last Dec. 29 to 437 Tuesday; American Telephone and Telegraph from 136 1/2 to 120 1/2 and others perform similarly.

They talk about the "earnings ratio." That is the ratio of the dollar value of a stock at the current market price to the dollars it earns—the dividends—per year.

More simply: How much of a dollar comes back for the dollars tied up?

Some investors during the latter months of 1961 and on into 1962 certainly had the feeling that the earnings ratio was too high.

In a frame of mind of this kind, one may or may not choose to ignore whatever might be the long-range worth of the company or industry behind the stock; decide simply that the price to pay—for the price one could get for a share—was such that there might be a better opportunity elsewhere.

After all, banks and other financial institutions raised interest rates. Or perhaps the growth potential—the amount by which one's stock could hope to increase just because of the population figures or the opportunity for a business expansion—was not growing as fast as it had in the past.

Forty dollars of a man's money might be tied up to get him $1 a year. He might be able to get $1.60 by putting it into a bank and leaving it there for awhile.

Tiger Tales

By Dick Cleveland

The "Tigers" of Heavy Attack Squadron One have once again demonstrated why they are a Battle Efficiency "E" Award winning squadron. Today draws to a close the first week of regular air operations since entering the Mediterranean Sea and joining the Sixth Fleet. We have operated around the clock for the past three days flying in Air Defense exercises, Anti-Submarine Scoring and simulated strike missions over friendly NATO allied countries. The "Tiger Crews" and their mighty Douglas A-1H "Skywarriors" have met all commitments... a feat and feather in the cap for our "Best in the Business" Maintenance Department. Lcdr. Marcus McHenry head maintenance tiger and his senior Aviation Chief Jet Mechanic, Frank Huhn can be justly proud of this weeks accomplishments!

During these odd hour days it is not at all strange to walk into Wardroom I or the mess decks at 0300 and find flight crews, deck handling and maintenance crews eating dinner, lunch or even breakfast depending on their particular schedule. This is all part of the flexible capabilities which are standard operating procedures when you are with this tough, ready, mobile striking force. It's just one week of flexing the powerful muscles that maintain our freedoms throughout the free world.

Tomorrow, we'll be back on regular hours as we steam into our first port of call, Cannes, France where we will pick up representatives from American news media. Out again into the deep waters off shore where Carrier Air Group Seven will display its Fire Power Demonstration; but more about that tomorrow.

The "Tigers" are looking forward to their first liberty in three weeks. We will have five wonderful days in Cannes, five days to relax and refresh ourselves after this strenuous at sea period.

There goes "mail call." Hope it is better than yesterday's. Have you written a Heavy Under lately?

It is estimated that Americans use about 400 million cans of food each week.

The Latin term used to designate books printed before 1,500 is "incunabula."

THE OLDEST AND THE YOUNGEST Mothers of Elks members were honored at Mother's Day ceremonies at the Elks Club recently. Receiving a plaque for the Oldest Mother was Mrs. Mary E. Jameson and for the Youngest Mother, Mrs. Henry Jameson also received a plaque.

Only Goldilocks!

Advised that a group of super-patriots in Texas is gunning in Florida for the censorship of one of his historic novels, writer MacKinlay Kantor of Sarasota commented: "I think this is an invasion of state's rights by Texas."

Kantor, asked about the banned book list that includes his "Andersonville," said to a reporter: "Just a minute. Let me remove from the wall of my library a handsome certificate which I value enormously. It reads: 'The Secondary Education Board of the U. S. Annual Book Award is presented to MacKinlay Kantor, March 2, 1956, for 'Andersonville.'"

Kantor isn't the only target of the far rightists of Texas who dare to try to dictate to other states what works shall be excluded from school libraries.

Thomas Wolfe, one of America's foremost novelists; A. J. Guthrie an outstanding American historian; Oliver LaFarge, the anthropologist who wrote understandingly of American Indians; Aldous Huxley, who wrote so chillingly of totalitarianism in his "Brave New World;" Herman Wouk and his widely read "Mojave Morningstar" and of course, Sinclair Lewis and John Steinbeck, those biting critics of American pretensions—all these were on the list.

Now if Texas wants to host book burners who would police what little Texans read, that's deplorable, but nonetheless the right of Texas.

But Texans, if they really believe in states' rights, have no business trying to set the match to books in Florida schools.

The State Education Dept. has sent a warning to school superintendents to be aware of the attack, and to get their defenses up. School libraries need more books treating life realistically, not fewer, if high school students are going to enter college prepared for the literary challenges they will face.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Uncle Sam now is in dire need of some shrewd psychanalyst. He used to be an impartial referee of our "free enterprise" game. Now all patriotic Democrats and Republicans should join forces in pulling him back off the field, for he is running with us and competing with us little players instead of refereeing our private competition.

CASE M-429: Uncle Sam is our case today.

Our Founding Fathers expected him to serve as an umpire or referee, while manufacturer coupé with man-

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Cabinet is considering the possibilities of trying to acquire 500 acres of the Richmond Naval Air Base south of Miami for a proposed Sunland Training Center for 300-400 Retarded Children.

Larry Lee, coordinator of the Board of Commissioners of State Institutions, said he has it on high authority that the base will be declared surplus in July by the federal government.

He said the government indicated it would consider a bid by the state to acquire part of the base for a state institution.

ufacturer, banker with banker, grocer with grocer, etc.

Uncle Sam could modify the rules of this "free enterprise" game to prevent unfairness.

And this same change in rules has occurred in football, baseball and similar sports, both for the safety of the players and the greater enjoyment of the spectators.

For example, the old flying wedge was outlawed in football as too likely to injure players.

And the forward pass opened up the game, thus making it more exciting to watch.

Uncle Sam likewise altered the rules of our "free enterprise" so that monopolies could not oppress the small manufacturer or merchant.

But Uncle Sam was supposed to stay out of the actual game and only be a neutral referee!

Under this wise arrangement, we enjoyed greater freedom and a higher standard of living than any other nation in all history.

In fact, our modern historians, Samuel B. Pettengill, says our workers' at their lowest wage scale had more take-home pay than any other workers of any other nation even at the latter's highest wage scale!

But in 1910 Uncle Sam notoriously violated the intent of our Founding Fathers, for he ran out on the playing field, seized the ball, and began competing with us players over whom he was to serve solely as an impartial umpire.

For in 1910, Uncle Sam became a "playing umpire" which is intolerable.

That was when he invaded the small banking field via the formation of the Postal Savings System.

Thereby, he put every post office into direct competition with each local bank and life insurance company.

"But didn't the Postal Savings System encourage many people to save money?" you might protest.

Undoubtedly it did. But this was Socialism.

You can adduce a few good arguments in favor of Socialism as well as Communism.

But the essential point at issue is this: our nation was conceived with Uncle Sam as a neutral referee, not as a competitor of the players.

If Uncle Sam had decided in 1910 that we needed a wider spread of small banking, he could have set up a Bureau of Banking, much like the Bureau of Standards, to furnish helpful facts to all private citizens who wished to enter the banking game.

Now Uncle Sam operates over 700 corporations that run in direct competition with us taxpayers. And these 700 are tax-free, rent-free, and we must then make up their deficits via higher taxes.

If they were sold back to private investors, we could realize an estimated $100 billions . . . enough to cut our federal debt one-third!

Then those $100 billions of assets would go back on the tax books and furnish $8 billion more taxes per year . . . enough in 25 years to wipe out the balance of our U. S. debt. So send for my booklet, "How to Save Our Republic," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Pass it around widely! (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long four cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Complaint Filed Against School

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Civil Liberties Union filed a complaint in court today against St. John's University, a Roman Catholic institution in Brooklyn, for dismissing three students because they participated in a civil marriage ceremony.

The union pointed out that St. John's is chartered by the regents of the state and is open to qualified applicants of all religious faiths. It described the university's action as "arbitrary and capricious" and "violative of academic rights."

It is estimated population of the U. S. will pass 200 million late in 1960 at the present rate of growth.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Filipinos Are Too Sensitive

As a young nation sensitive of its independence and national pride, the Republic of the Philippines frequently has shown burst of temper against the United States.

But never have these outbursts been allowed to damage permanently the peculiar affection existing between the Philippines and the United States which gave the Filipinos their independence in 1946 and established them as a showcase of democracy in Asia.

This is another period of temper.

As a result, President Diosdado Macapagal canceled a scheduled visit to the United States next month and accused the American people of a lack of interest in the "problems of a steadfast ally in the struggle against international communism."

The source of Filipino indignation was congressional failure a week ago to approve a $78 million appropriation which was to pay off the last of the Philippines' war claims from World War II.

Especially rankling to Macapagal was the congressional charge that payment of the damage claims would constitute a handout and a "windfall" to thousands of individuals and corporations.

In the years since independence, U. S. aid to the Philippines has been as considerable as the quarrels have been numerous.

In 1950, President Truman dispatched Daniel W. Bell to Manila to check charges that 12 billion provided by this country had not been used wisely.

The Bell report criticizing corruption in the Philippine government raised a storm of indignation.

But it also resulted in Philippine tax and land reforms, establishment of minimum wages and continued U. S. aid.

The United States also aroused Filipino anger on the question of U. S. bases in the Philippines and jurisdiction over crimes committed by U. S. servicemen.

These differences simmered for years until the Philippines finally won a greater voice in the use of the bases and agreed that jurisdiction over criminal cases should be split—U. S. jurisdiction if committed on-base, Philippine jurisdiction off-base.

To The Editor

Editor: Attention: Mr. Verabel

As the mother of five young children, I too, deplore the loss of the aircraft at the Elk's Playground. My family has spent many happy hours playing there.

However, as the mother of the 21 month old baby who was pinned under its fall section, I strongly urge its removal. The child merely walked near it when it happened to fall. I am sure that if you had spent hours sitting at his hospital bedside, as I did, you would not consider its loss as "The greatest loss of all."

Furthermore, you categorize this plane with a sentimental phrase as though it were a Sanford historic landmark. In reality, the plane has been there roughly five years. Hardly a landmark!

In the future please consider human life and possible injury as more important than selling newspapers by stirring up a controversy.

Some of the condemned buildings around town that you delight in mentioning are at least not on public property where children are encouraged to play.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Marcella OLM

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The tough nut to crack in aid to higher education legislation now before Congress is whether there shall be federal scholarships for gifted but needy students.

House action in agreeing to let its Education and Labor Committee negotiate with Senate conferees on this issue finally clears the way for some kind of compromise after a three-months' stall by the House Rules Committee.

The House passed a college aid bill Jan. 30. It let out scholarships but it provides $800 million in grants and $800 million in loans for construction of college buildings other than dormitories, which have already received $1.8 billion in federal aid in the last 11 years.

The Senate passed a higher education bill on Feb. 6, with $1.3 billion made available in construction loans for classrooms, laboratories and libraries over a five year period. Another $250 million in matching grants would go to the states for junior colleges.

And finally, there would be $324 million made available for 212,000 scholarships to high school graduates who might otherwise not be able to go to college at all.

The maximum grant would be $1,000 a year for five years to gifted students if they are unable to finance their higher education from family or other private sources. The average grant is expected to be about $700 a year per student.

These scholarships would supplement the $388 million in federal loans which have been made to over 160,000 college students since 1959, the average loan being $340 a year.

The average cost of higher education is now about $1,750 a year and is going up. This is why President Kennedy advocated the scholarship program. But the House of Representatives has voted it doesn't want any part of it.

A privately organized United Student Aid Fund, Inc., is trying to finance higher education on a private bank loan basis, direct to students certified by a college.

Statistics on scholarships now available aren't very good, but they indicate that there aren't enough to fill the need. It is estimated that from 160,000 to 200,000 high school graduates who have the mental equipment to go to college—but not the money—will drop out of the educational mill this June.

U. S. Office of Education says that about $105 million has been made available for scholarships this college year by private corporations, individual grants, college and university endowments.

These scholarships have gone to about 262,000 students for an average of around $400 each. This covers less than a fourth of the costs of college education. And it disproves the belief of many people that a scholarship, any scholarship, provides a free ride through college.

A further limitation on existing scholarships is that they are not evenly distributed among all of the 2,000 United States colleges and universities.

Over a third of the scholarships, nearly 900, are available only in 50 of the older, better financed institutions. American Council on Education raises these estimates somewhat, reporting that $250 million a year is now available in scholarships from private sources. But the council finds that only about 500 colleges now grant scholarships to as many as 10 per cent of their students.

Only 120 colleges make scholarships available for as much as $100 per student per year, according to the council, and the average scholarship pays only about 4 per cent of the total costs which students now pay to all institutions of higher learning.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Federal Aid To States Is No Giveaway — Wilson

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The New Jersey Taxpayers Association (NJTA) comes up today with its annual report debunking the idea that federal aid to states and local communities is a kind of free lunch that doesn't cost anything.

Free lunch is a saloon term. Free lunch was an institution in the bad old days before prohibition sought to impose itself on the drinking classes. But free lunch did not return with repeal. In some states it is specifically forbidden by the liquor laws.

Any old time saloon keeper could have told you, however, that free lunch was never free, whether it was soggy cheese and crackers in some dump or a noble spread of meat or fowl with appropriate trimmings in the saloons frequented by well-heeled fancy Dons. Of course the customers paid for the food in their liquor tabs. Else the owner of the store would not have set it out.

The beer drinker who happily thought the lunch was free was, of course, a sucker. But no more a sucker than are millions of citizens who bleed the U. S. Treasury for home town or home state projects in the belief that it doesn't cost them anything.

Not all citizens are such suckers, however, because of the 50 states there are 38 that are getting more out of the federal treasury than they pay in. Not much more, in some cases, and a great deal more in others.

The concern of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association is with those states that are, in fact, suckers for the something-for-nothing idea that the politicians peddle with respect to federal aid to states and local communities.

New Jersey taxpayers are the biggest suckers of them all. NJTA calculates that for every $1 of federal aid to projects in New Jersey, the taxpayers of that state have to put up $2.07. The other sucker states and the cost to each for every $1 of federal aid are:

- Delaware, $2.07; New York, $1.63; Connecticut, $1.51; Pennsylvania, $1.42; Wisconsin, $1.34; Maryland, $1.33; Ohio, $1.27; Michigan, $1.25; Indiana, $1.24; Massachusetts, $1.24; Illinois, $1.21; California, $1.17; and Florida, $1.05.

Among the other 36 states, the cost of a federal aid dollar varies from 99 cents in Virginia to 17 cents in Alaska.

NJTA acknowledges that federal aid programs are ballooned as designed to equalize resources between rich and poor states but argues that it fails to do so. Only about one sixth of the overall federal aid spending actually transfers resources from the 14 aiding states to the 36 aided states."

"Nationally," NJTA reported, $5.8 billion or 84 per cent of the federal aid dollars made the round trip to Washington last year and ultimately returned to the 50 states of origin under accompanying federal programs.

Only the remaining $1.1 billion (18 per cent) was switched from the 14 aiding to the 36 aided states."

Among the "needy" states to which the 14 sucker states contribute are Iowa, Oregon, Montana, Oklahoma, North Dakota and Texas. The sum of federal aid to state and local governments is getting bigger every year: 1950, $2.2 billion; projected 1963, $9.9 billion.

Cardinal's Pitcher Gibson Discovers New Pitch

United Press International
Former Globetrotter Bob Gibson has become the "stopper" of the St. Louis Cardinals' pitching staff because he's discovered a "new pitch." It's called a strike.

The 6-1, 190-pound right-hander struck out 166 batters last season but had only a 13-12 record largely because he led the National League with 119 walks. He's shed the "wild man" role this year, however, with his strikeouts outnumbering his walks, 40-17, and his won-lost record improving in corresponding fashion to 5-2.

But what's more important to the Cardinals is the fact that Gibson has been the "stopper" of three-game losing streak.

Gibson turned in the most important victory of his big league career Thursday when he beat Billy O'Dell and the San Francisco Giants, 1-0, with a six-hit, two-walk, 10-strikeout performance. The victory snapped both the Cardinals' three-game losing streak and the Giants' four-game winning streak.

The Cardinals scored the game's only run in the ninth inning on Red Schoendienst's single, pinchrunner Julian Javier's stolen base, an error and Charlie James' infield hit. It was only the Giants' third loss of the season in San Francisco's Candlestick Park.

The Los Angeles Dodgers crept to within three games of the first-place Giants with a 5-4 victory over the Houston Colts, the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Cincinnati Reds, 9-6, and the Milwaukee Braves beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-2, in other NL games.

In the American League's only games, the New York Yankees shaded the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, and the Baltimore Orioles scored a 6-4 triumph over the Los Angeles Angels.

Wally Moon's bases-filled single in the bottom of the 10th gave the Dodgers their dramatic victory after they rallied for four ninth-inning runs to tie the score at 4-4. Houston's Jim Golden had held the Dodgers to two hits until the ninth when Moon's two-run double was the key blow of the game-tying rally. Ed Roebuck, who pitched the last two innings for the Dodgers, gained credit for his second win.

The Phillies ended their five-game losing streak and the Reds' six-game winning streak with a nine-hit attack featuring homers by Ted Savage, Sam White and Don Demeter. Cal McLish yielded 12 hits and two walks in eight innings but won his fourth in a row for the Phillies.

The Braves routed Bob Friend with seven runs in the first inning and went on to beat the Pirates behind the eight-hit pitching of Bob Shaw. Howie Bedell's triple and Roy McMillan's double were the key blows of the Braves' big first inning.

Mickey Mantle walked, stole second and continued to third on a throwing error to score on Elston Howard's sacrifice fly and give the Yankee's Maraball Bridges the triumph. Gene Conley blanked the Yankees for seven innings and yielded only five hits—three by rookie first baseman Joe Pepitone—but lost his third decision of the season.

The Orioles "bombed" rookie no-hit ace Bo Belinsky for six runs in 2 2/3 innings to hand the Los Angeles morning glory his first defeat after five victories. Homers by John Powell and Jackie Brandt ended the Orioles' attack.

Palmer Generates Golf Excitement

UPPER MONTCLAIR, N. J. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer is generating gobs of excitement in golf today on a par-busting parlay of victories and money.

Having won the Masters, he's after a big slam of the U. S. and British Opens and the PGA all in one year. And he's also shooting to break his own record of $15,203 in one-year winnings.

Which is where Upper Montclair Country Club and its $100,000 Thunderbird Tournament June 7-10 come into the picture.

Because Upper Montclair is a "Palmer course"—long, tough and rugged. And because the first prize in this one will be a very tantalizing $25,000.

Anybody who has ever tried to hole a long putt on the final hole to win a 10-buck Nassau has to figure that nobody can withstand the kind of pressure that is riding Palmer this year. But, according to Craig Wood, they're overlooking two factors.

"He'll be able to handle it," said Wood. "He has the confidence and he has the physical strength."

Wood knows how important the latter can be. When he won the U. S. Open in 1961 he played with his back in a harness. He thus had to pull it off with 75 per cent determination and 25 per cent of his natural ability.

College Scandal Boss Arrested; Former Star

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, highly pleased with the arrest of Jack Molinas as the alleged mastermind in the college basketball "fix" scandals, today promised to "keep the ball bouncing" in his tireless probe.

"We are continuing the investigations," Hogan said after Molinas, a former court star, was indicted Thursday for bribing or conspiring to bribe 22 players from 12 colleges to dump 26 games from coast to coast.

Molinas, 30, who was barred from playing in the National Basketball Association in 1954 after admitting he had bet on games in which he played for the Fort Wayne now Detroit Pistons, pleaded innocent at his arraignment and was released in $5,000 bail.

Looks Like Preakness Classic Will Be Three Horse Race

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The 86th running of the $100,000 Preakness Stakes Saturday shapes up as a three-horse race among Jaipur, Decidedly and Ridan.

However, the owners and trainers of the eight other entries to day offered logical explanations for giving their colts a crack at the second of the Triple Crown classics.

"Five horses broke Whirl-days track record in the Kentucky Derby," said trainer Tom Kelly, referring to the mile and one-quarter in 2:00 3/4 turned in by Decidedly with four other horses less than five lengths behind him. In the Derby, Ridan was favored but that honor apparently goes to Jaipur in the Preakness even though the colt never raced further than a mile and never has been around two turns.

Trainer Leroy Jolley is counting upon a new bit to enable Jockey Manny Yezza to control Ridan, with the bit working upon the colt's jaw rather than his mouth. Ridan tried to "run out" in the Kentucky Derby.

Luro however, is counting upon the same "finishing kick" which carried Decidedly to victory in the Derby to carry him a little closer to a Triple Crown Victory by taking the Preakness.

KC Athletics May Go Texan; Dallas Next?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Kansas City Athletics boss Charles O. Finley threw a curve at fellow American League club owners on Thursday and found no takers.

Finley told the AL moguls at their meeting in a mid-town hotel that Dallas is ready for the major leagues, and while they listened patiently he added that his Kansas City franchise should be moved to Texas.

The indefatigable Finley, who has been flirting with the idea of pulling the Athletics out of Kansas City since he bought controlling interest in the club, did not make a formal bid for approval to transfer the A's to Dallas, but asked the AL club owners to take the move under advisement.

Since Finley did not ask for a vote or discussion, no action was taken. And as one observer pointed out, none is likely to be taken until at least the end of the current season. It was pointed out that any such premature speculation at this time would hurt the A's at the box office this year.

Durable Patty Berg Still Top Distaff Star

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (UPI)—Freckled Patty Berg, showing no signs of slowing up despite 22 years as a professional golfer, took a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $7,500 Muskogee Open.

Miss Berg, of St. Andrews, Ill., found few hazards in Thursday's wind-swept 18-hole opener and fired a one-under-par 69. Nuth Jensen, Seattle, Wash., shot par 70. Marlene Hagg of Delray Beach, Fla., who set a Muskogee Country Club record of 68 in Tuesday's pro-am event, carded a 71 Thursday. Carol Mann, Olympia Fields, Ill., Kathy Whitworth, Jr., N. J., and Shirley Engelhorn of Spokane, Wash., all had 72s.

Most of the girls had a rough time of it, particularly on the yawning 580-yard third hole where tournament favorite Mickey Wright ran afoul with a double-bogey. Miss Wright, leading money winner on the Ladies Professional Golfers Association circuit, had a six-over-par 76.

Collins Hot At Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI)—Bill Collins, whose seven-under-par 65 is leading going into today's second round of the $20,000 Hot Springs Open, said his game is starting to fall again.

And if confidence is what Collins needs, this is a good place for him to get it. He has won almost as much money here the last two years ($2,422) as he has won so far in 12 tournaments this year ($2,545).

He won here in 1960 on the way to his best year, and in 1961 finished with a last-day 64, the best round of the tournament, for ninth place.

Collins has averaged 71 in three tournaments here.

After Thursday's string of birdies, including six on the last seven holes, he said he began playing well at the Colonial last week and feels he has found himself again.

His play has been so bad that Collins has finished in the top ten only once this season.

His 24-21-68 put him a stroke ahead of 1960 British Open champion, Kel Nagle of Sydney, Australia, who had a 31-38-66. Al Geiberger of Carlton Oaks, Calif., and Buster Cupitt of Fort Smith, Ark., each had 67s.

Forty of the 88 entered broke par, with six firing 66 and eight players each shooting 69 and 70. Fourteen more have 71.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: If you want to do your readers a big favor, please print my story: I quit a wonderful job and flew to Reno, Nevada, to divorce my wife. I set up a six weeks' residency thinking that was all I needed. My wife flew to Reno to contest the divorce. I had to pay for her first-class jet fare and all her expenses. I have spent up in the thousands and still no divorce. Tell those who think it is easy to get a divorce in Reno to save their money and stay home unless they have an agreement before they go.

DEAR MISS M. W.: Lovely. Does anyone know if there is a Bachelor's Day? If so, perhaps these two groups could get together and entertain each other.

DEAR ABBY: Who said there ought to be a special day set aside to honor "old maids"? There are TWO such days. One is "Independence Day" and the other is "Thanksgiving." Sign me — OLD MAID

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column from a little boy, who couldn't understand why God didn't answer his prayers when he prayed so hard, reminded me of this wonderful story:

Tommy, a church-going, 7-year-old, told his playmate that he had been praying all year for a bicycle for Christmas. Christmas came and went, and little Tommy did not receive the bicycle. His playmate asked, "Where is that bicycle you prayed for all year, Tommy? You told me that God answers all our prayers." Tommy thought a moment and then replied, "He answered mine. He said NO!"

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3865, Beverly Hills, Calif.

DEAR J. J. Your story chokes me up. If more married people would spend as much money, time and energy on making their marriages work, as they do on trying to dissolve them, we could turn our divorce courts into bowling alleys.

DEAR ABBY: Your "OLD MAID" is asleep on her rights. There IS a National Old Maid's Day. It was founded in 1948 by Miss Marion Richards of Norristown, Pa. The official date is June 4th. The purpose of establishing Old Maid's Day was not to get "loot," as your correspondent suggested, but to honor less fortunate and unappreciated old maids. For instance, last year I entertained a group of maiden ladies from the County Home for dinner. Sincerely, MISS M. W.

PORTRAYING teenagers caught up in the overwhelming power of their love for each other, Natalie Wood and Warren Beatty head the cast of Ella Kazan's provocative production of "Splendor in the Grass," opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In. The Warner Bros. Technicolor presentation of William Inge's first original screenplay stars Miss Wood, Pat Hingle, Audrey Christie, Barbara Loden and Zohra Lampert and introduces Beatty, making one of the year's most eagerly anticipated screen debuts.

Inge Film Set For Drive-In

In William Inge's screenplay for "Splendor in the Grass," producer director Ella Kazan found an ideal opportunity to once again focus his artistic talents on the dramatic conflicts of American life. The provocative Warner Bros. Technicolor presentation, opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre, is enriched by the subtle psychological and sociological emphases that characterized Kazan's "East of Eden," "Streetcar Named Desire," "On the Waterfront," "Baby Doll" and "A Face in the Crowd."

Introducing Warren Beatty, the film deals with the struggle of two young people to live with the powerful passions that bring them into sharp conflict with themselves and with their respective families. The other feature on the program which will play through Tuesday is "No Down Payment."

On Wednesday and Thursday "Tarawa Beachhead" and "They Came To Cordura" will play. A triple feature program is scheduled for Friday and Saturday. They are "Twinkle and Shine," "The Mysterious Island" and "North To Alaska."

Poe Thriller Ritz Bound

Edgar Allan Poe's extraordinary tales of the macabre remain classics of their kind more than 100 years after his death mainly because they are as up to date in their depiction of human emotions as if written by a modern psychiatrist. It is Poe's years-ahead-of-his-time understanding of human fears and emotions, coupled of course with his masterful writing, which make his terror tales so gripping and chilling.

Poe's "The Premature Burial" was and still is one of the most terrifying stories of fear and its effect upon a human being ever written. American International Pictures now brings it to the screen with all its thrills and terrifying drama, with Ray Milland starring.

Weekend Television

Table with columns for FRIDAY P. M., SATURDAY P. M., SUNDAY P. M., and MONDAY A. M., listing various TV programs and their times.

Highlights TV Time Previews

7:30-8:30 p. m. (NBC) International Showtime. "Circus Moreno." (Repeat). One of the better three-ring shows in this series, although lacking an aerial act, is this telecast originating in Bellahol, Denmark. There are seven acts including a very good lion tamer (Gerard), trick horse riders (who are also some of the circus owner), a magician, a circus-dog-crowd act, acrobats and an array of slapstick clowning. 8:30-9:30 p. m. (CBS) Route 66. "A Feast of Strength." With co-star George Maharis hospitalized, Martin Milner carries on alone in the next few episodes. Tod Sille (Milner) goes to work for a crippled wrestling promoter and gets involved in a triangle. Jack Warden guest stars as a Hungarian wrestler who can't reconcile himself with "re-heard" matches, especially when he is the loser. Complicating matters is the promoter, who is in love with the wrestler's wife (Signe Haas). Some good, solid dialogue, plus some action as Milner and Warden get involved in a realistic wrestling match. 9:10 p. m. (ABC) 77 Sunset Strip. "Flight From Escamido." A bit better than usual is this story of an aerial hijacking. Jeff is on an assignment to bring a runaway girl back from Latin America. He succeeds, but runs into trouble when the plane he is bringing her back on, is taken over by enemies of a passenger, a military commander, Roger Smith stars with Phillip Carey, Susan Seaforth and Mario Alcide. 9:30-10:30 p. m. (CBS) Father of the Bride. "The Hammer." A prolonged but funny double-act occurs when dad welcomes an old high school chum. He remembers his friend as a "skinny weakling, and is surprised to greet a mass of muscles who makes his living as a TV body builder and health-food salesman. Leon Ames and Ruth Warrick star with George Kennedy and Dee J. Thompson. 9:30-10:30 p. m. (NBC) NBC White Paper. "Red China." This repeat is well worth watching again. Little need be said of the menace of Red China, though we rarely have the opportunity of seeing for ourselves what goes on behind the "bamboo curtain." Tonight's films were shot by Swiss cameraman Fernand Swisga who managed to get in and out of China with his photographs last year. They show the harsh commune system, hand labor utilized in building, and the growing industrial complex in Manchuria. Narrator Chet Huntley provides historical background on the power grab of the Communists, their means of holding and consolidating that power and the potential of their future. We highly recommend this program. 10:10-10:30 p. m. (CBS) The Twilight Zone. "I Sing the Body Electric." Pure fantasy, but exciting all the same. Josephine Hutchinson, of "Arsonic and OM-Lace" fame, plays a robot governess, and makes capital of her mechanical inclinations. A widower (David White) grudgingly buys the robot to care for his three children, two of whom (Charles Herbert and Dana Dillaway) innocently approve, but the eldest (Veronica Cartwright) won't cooperate, despite the robot's seeming tenderness. 10:11 p. m. (ABC) Target: The Corruptors. (First of two parts). "The Organiser." Very strong drama with some excellent acting. Though next week's climax hits harder, this half is more than whets your appetite. Chief friction is between an honor labor leader (Brian Keith) and a corrupt union boss (Jack Warden), Newsmen Marino (Steve McNally) can't get the honest one to give evidence to a government counsel (Richard Anderson). Caught in union corruption are a father and son, well played by Murray Hamilton and Burt Brinckerhoff. See this and you won't want to miss next week's conclusion.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

South's four-heart contract was nothing to write home about. He had a minimum opening bid and if North had merely bid three hearts, instead of four, chances are that South would have settled for a part score. Nevertheless, South found a way to wind up with an over-trick. East won the first trick with the ace of spades and shifted to a trump. South cashed the ace and king of trumps and then went after the business of setting up dummy's fifth diamond for a discard. He cashed the ace and king of diamonds, ruffed a dia-

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

"When you teach a boy the love of nature and the beauty that can be derived from it, you teach him how to take care of his life and to respect another man's property," says a retired civil engineer who is interested in gardening as a hobby not only for the elderly but for the young. Perhaps one reason why we have so much juvenile vandalism today is that so many children know so little about the work and the joy involved in making things grow, in keeping homes, and yards in good repair, in taking the responsibility for looking after pets, and so on. Certainly a child who has a small garden plot of his own or who has helped his parents set out flowers and shrubs wouldn't be tempted to make a mess of somebody else's yard "for kicks" the way some juveniles do. Certainly the boy who has painted a fence, or done small repairs around his own home, wouldn't consider it fun to smear paint on buildings, break windows or knock down mail boxes. Just knowing the work involved in repairing such damage would be enough to make a boy think twice about wrecking anything for want of something better to do. And certainly any boy who has had full responsibility for taking care of a pet learns something about the need for kindness to all living things. But today not much is asked of the young, even in families where the parents, themselves take pride in growing things, in keeping their yards and houses neat and in good repair. And yet every child needs to learn from experience that John H. Ballard conceived the idea of putting commercials into radio station breaks in 1926.

Reporter: I'd like to speak to the governor. Evans: Regarding what? Reporter: The assessed valuations in the Oviedo area have been drastically cut over the past few years. I would like to speak to Mr. Bryant about this.

Evans: Has the governor received any complaints? Reporter: We're giving you one now.

A CONVERSATION WITH ABOUT TWO HOURS LATER.

Reporter: Have you heard from any bookburners from Texas?

Milwee: No. Reporter: You know some of these people want to take some of our classics off the school shelves. You wouldn't do that, would you?

Milwee: Not before some long and thoughtful study.

Reporter: Is Huckleberry Finn still on the shelves?

Milwee: Yes. Reporter: Aye Thomas Wolfe and Steinbeck still on the shelves?

Milwee: Yes.

There's no doubt the city is losing thousands of dollars yearly on valuations from vacant property.

City Clerk Henry Tamm Jr. submitted a list of 837 parcels of vacant property to the commission today.

At the last meeting of the board Tamm as well as City Manager W. E. Knowles was asked to investigate revaluation of vacant property bringing it up to a more equal value of residential property.

The report (we sneaked a look this morning) indicates that the vacant property value is 34 percent of the market value.

The city is considering putting a traffic light at the corner of 20th St. and Sanford Avenue.

The Herald erred in a column the other day and labeled Capt. Joe Tully the commanding officer of HAWING 1, the correct designation for Capt. Tully's job is "commander".

Sorry, Captain, we'll watch our protocol closer in the future.

County Commissioner Vernon Dunn made an error when he said for Thursday's paper, with reference to the Ballard Road controversy that we didn't ask him for any information concerning the blockade.

As quoted in the paper we did ask him, and his comment precluded any further querying. It was a flat "No Comment."

If the county commission wants warning devices by some of these Atlantic Coast Line tracks they will have to pay for them out of secondary funds.

On Oct. 22, 1957, the County Commission and the ACL agreed that the county would provide all traffic light signals by crossing.

Don't forget second primary coming up a week from Tuesday. Deadline to pick-up absentee ballots is 5 p. m. Thursday at the registrar's office.

Looks like more interest in the second primary than the first.

Only 80 absentee ballots picked up on May 8. Thus far more than that for the second.

Mrs. Wright Called 'Sane'; Will Stand Trial

Commission Names Bill Bush County Engineer

To Face Fall Term Of Court

Mrs. Christine Wright was found sane this morning, and will stand trial for the murder of her husband at the fall term of the Circuit Court. The hearing was held in the chambers of Circuit Court Judge Volie A. Williams Jr.

The order for the hearing was set by the court on May 9 at the motion of the defendant to meet this morning at 8:30.

Present at the hearing were Judge Williams, Defense Attorney Kenneth McIntosh, Dr. Rodman Shippen, Orlando, and Dr. Clarence L. Fessenden, also of Orlando. Assistant State's Attorney Anthony J. Hoseman, was not present.

The purpose of the hearing was to determine whether or not Mrs. Wright is presently competent to work with her attorney in the preparation of her defense, and whether or not she was sane at the time of the shooting.

Under questioning by Judge Williams, Dr. Shippen, who has specialized in psychiatric medicine for 12 years, nine of them in Orlando, testified that in his opinion, Mrs. Wright is "legally sane, knows the difference between right and wrong and understands the nature of the charge against her."

Under a brief cross examination by Atty. McIntosh, Shippen said he had examined the defendant at the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital, Orlando, where she is presently confined and he had consulted with her attending physician, the staff psychiatrist, Dr. E. F. Mearns.

Dr. Shippen also said he had consulted the complete record of the defendant at the hospital and looked into her medical history and the circumstances surrounding the shooting.

Dr. Fessenden, who for 20 years was head resident in psychiatry at New York's famed Bellevue Hospital, also testified that Mrs. Wright was legally sane at the time of her husband's death, and is now competent to assist her attorney. He also declared, "I don't think she has ever been out of contact with reality," under cross examination by the defense attorney.

Mrs. Wright is under indictment for second degree murder for the shooting of her husband handed down by the Seminole County Grand Jury on May 4, following the shooting of her husband on April 14.

Wright was found dead in the garden at the back of the Wright home early on April 14, from shots in the face fired from a weapon in the possession of his wife.

Mrs. Wright said at the time she shot blindly through the back screen door because she heard noises at the back of the house.

Wright was dead on arrival at the Seminole Memorial Hospital.

The trial will be held during the fall term of the Circuit Court, Judge Williams declared at the close of the hearing.

Avery Says 'Need Men Of Vision'

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Sunday afternoon at Forest Lake Academy for the new Cafeteria and Home Economics building to be erected this summer and ready for use for the Fall term.

Principal speaker for the occasion was County Commissioner James P. Avery, who stressed the importance of vision in the training of our country's youth, and pointed out that the nation's leaders are the result of the training received when they were young, and have had the benefit of teachers who took the "long view."

Prior to Avery's remarks the attending crowd was addressed briefly by the Rev. Mr. H. H. Schmidt, president of the Florida Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, who spoke on the commission given the church to teach. He pointed out that education has been, "from the beginning" the main concern of the denomination.

Academy principal William Fuchs introduced those on the speakers stand: Woodrow Wilson Whidden, president of the student body; Mrs. Dell Smith, head of the Home Economics department of the school; Sam Porter, president of the Forest City Civic Association; Dr. Schmidt, and the Rev. Mr. H. H. Roll, secretary and treasurer of the Florida Conference of Seventh Day Adventists.

The ground breaking, which took place after Avery's remarks, was done Jan. every one on the speakers stand wielding huge four foot spades, indicative of the purposes of the new building.

To be built on a split level plan, the new structure will house the school cafeteria, laboratories and kitchens for the Home Economics department. It is the first unit of the five year development plan for the Academy which will cost an estimated $1,500,000.

Prior to the opening of the ceremonies the Forest Lake Academy concert band played "Totent Pole," by Osterling; "His Honor," Fallmore, and the national anthem. The program concluded with the band playing "The Billboard" by Klobner. Dan Shultz directed the musicians.

Invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Roll.

prospective superintendents can participate in, or ignore it as they wish.

Superintendents are elected by popular vote in all but Dade, Pinellas and Sarasota counties. There are no qualifications for the office and the Supreme Court has ruled the Legislature cannot prescribe any by statute.

A recent incident in Charlotte County showed the need for a training program, Bailey said. The schools there lost accreditation when the voters elected a superintendent who could not meet standards of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

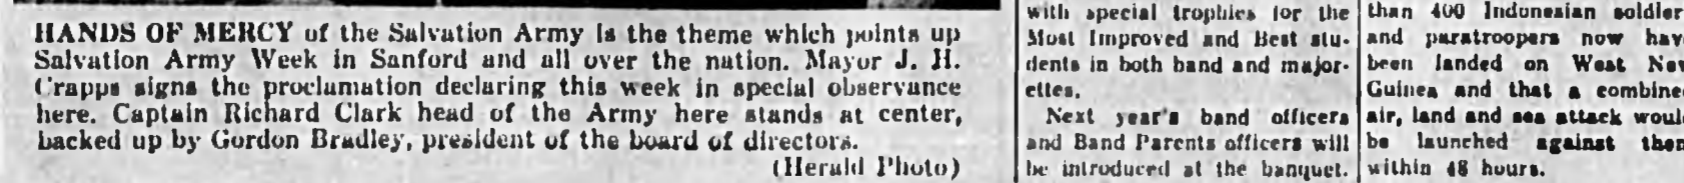

A new state program for training and certification of the superintendents will go into effect next fall, but Bailey concedes it's no panacea and does not come to grips with the central problem, which is the method of selecting administrators.

The training program is voluntary and present and invited to the banquet and awards night of the Seminole High School Band will be held at 6:30 p.m. today in the school cafeteria, with a band concert to follow in the auditorium at 8 p.m.

Special guests of the band will be the alumni, former students who were band members. At this time awards, keys and letters will be presented to the band members and majorities, with special trophies for the Most Improved and Best students in both band and majorities.

Next year's band officers and Band Parents officers will be introduced at the banquet.

'Closed Door' Estes Hearing Set To Start

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate investigators hoped to start taking testimony behind closed doors today on the operations of indicted Texas farm tycoon Billie Sol Estes. Chairman John L. McClellan, (D-Ark.), called an afternoon meeting of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Interviews were planned for the morning, and McClellan expected to take testimony from some witnesses at the afternoon session.

McClellan declined to name any witnesses in advance. He said some out-of-town witnesses might be questioned, as well as officials from government agencies in Washington.

Informed sources said the Senate investigators had quietly arranged to examine the income tax files of Estes and others involved in his dealings with the government.

They said McClellan's subcommittee had asked for tax records of Estes and three former government officials who lost their jobs as a result of disclosures arising from Estes' grain and cotton operations. An executive order gives the subcommittee the right to make use of tax returns.

The subcommittee staff is interested, this source said, in whether other investments from abroad have been made in the Estes enterprises and whether Estes, himself, has foreign assets.

The subcommittee request was separate from an investigation of the tax returns of Estes and others in the case now being conducted by the International Revenue Service.
