Our Army

The American Army is "woefully weak" with respect to some of the more important improvements that have been made during the post-war period in arms and equipment, according to the annual report of the Chief of Staff, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, which has just been made public.

The General Staff, the report says, has concluded that any major war of the future will see a rather noticeable swing away from the heavy and ponderous armies that have characterized wars of the last 75 years, and that in their place will appear more mobile and powerful, though somewhat smaller, armies.

The Chief of Staff analyzes the effects of post-war developments in the scientific field upon military training, organization, and tactics, and points out that to be efficient the army must remain abreast of all these developments and be constantly supplied with reasonable quantities of the latest and best types of weapons produced.

Gen. MacArthur's plan for modernization of the army, he says, includes all those revisions in organization, equipment, tactics, and doctrine that will make the man-for-man effectiveness of the United States Army equal to that of any other in the world.

The reduced appropriations provided in 1932 and the years immediately preceding, however, were not sufficient to sustain the army in the proper degree of readiness for emergency, according to the Chief of Staff. The effects of reduced appropriations upon material and upon training efficiency and personnel are pointed out.

Gen. MacArthur invites attention to "the fact that the American Army constitutes a very insignificant factor in the problem of reaching any international agreement concerning limitation of land armaments." So far as our own military establishment is concerned, he says, "it is already so small that it could scarcely be affected by any international agreement acceptable to other powers, except in some few special weapons, such as heavy mobile guns and bombing airplanes."

He points out, however, that in some countries these are logically regarded as offensive weapons, while in others they are just as logically considered almost exclusively defensive. The concluding paragraphs of General MacArthur's report express his conviction that the American army is "below the danger line" both in strength and efficiency. He ends with a recommendation for rectification of this condition.

A New Industry For The South

A new and potent industry for the South loomed as a possibility the other day with the announcement that a test of newspaper—paper on which daily and weekly newspapers are published—has proved successful. The fact is of especial interest to the South because the particular newspaper in question had been made from the pulp of Southern pine.

"Nine Georgia newspapers, cooperating, set out to see the thing through and to arrive at the truth," explains the Palatka News. "They bought wood pulp, made from Southern pine, shipped it to a Canadian paper factory, had it undergo the same treatment as spruce pulp, and then used it in their regular issues. The result was that they exclaimed 'Eureka!' simultaneously and declared that the experiment had justified their fondest hopes.

"The layman doesn't know, but the publisher does, that the acid test of newspaper is whether or not it will break when run through a high-speed press. If it does, then it is valuable. For too many breaks not only causes newspapers to miss mail trains but also show up gravely in cost accounting. This Canadian-made paper, we are told, behaved just like the real McCoy. So its future is assured. White paper, for other uses, it is claimed, can also be made from the same stock. This, of course, merely enlarges the field.

"This Southern newspaper, its sponsors assert, can be manufactured at a price far below that which is now being paid for the imported kind. The value of such a discovery is inestimable to the newspaper industry, especially in this age of big circulations. It is important, also, in that it precludes the dangers of retaliatory tariffs. The home product, if anything, is entitled to the protection of a tariff wall. It cannot, under any circumstances, be taxed except for export. And American publishers are not concerned as to paper that is on its way out.

"But the newspaper industry is not the sole beneficiary. Land owners in ten Southern states may profit by the creation of a market for their white-paper trees. Maturing in from seven to 15 years, the fast-growing Southern pine should become as staple a crop as cotton when the proper mills are built and equipped. And that won't be long, unless we are being hocus pocused by our Georgia contemporaries."

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

One of the most enterprising and thrifty communities in Seminole County is that of the beautiful little city of Geneva. The people of Geneva not only have fine homes surrounded by beautiful orange groves fronting the main lakes of that vicinity but they know how to dispense hospitality that is traditional with the southern people. Last Sunday the city of Geneva dedicated the elegant new Methodist Church recently built at that place and invitations were extended to the people of every denomination to join in the services. The Rev. A. L. Hope is the pastor of the new church and also has the Methodist Church of Oviedo in his pastorate.

From Michigan to Florida by auto seems much longer and more tiresome, but to come from Michigan to Florida in a wagon drawn by two mules seems longer and more tiresome and yet this last named means of locomotion was employed by A. preceding week. He declined to disclose the sum available for this purpose.

The effect of the gold buying program on government bond prices and on governmental credit was a principal point of the criticism made by Sprague Tuesday in resigning as special financial advisor to the treasury.

The administration's announced purpose is to raise the price of commodities by buying gold at home and abroad and pushing the price of the metal upward. A corollary result is the depreciation of the dollar in terms of other currencies.

The price of domestic gold was set yesterday at $33.76, unchanged from Tuesday. Meanwhile, the world price of the metal fluctuated from $34.41 to a point below the Washington figure and back again as the dollar zigzagged on the foreign exchange markets. Generally, it tended to be a trifle firmer. Government bonds sagged.

While the administration had nothing to say regarding Sprague's assertions other than that its plan and purpose was unchanged, economists, members of Congress and others yesterday engaged in a round of statements on his action and his charges.

From Secretary Woodin, on leave of absence in New York, came an informal statement taking Sprague to task for impugning the financial integrity of the government.

"It impeaches Dr. Sprague's common sense," he said.

The retiring financial advisor was defended by Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania. The resignation, he said, "should serve as a warning to the country if the national administration stands at the brink of the most dangerous experiment any government could undertake."

Professor James Harvey Rogers, a Yale economist and administration advisor asserted that of the inflationary powers entrusted to the President, the mildest had been employed. If they proved ineffective, he said, "the danger is that Congress will make mandatory more drastic and even uncontrollable measures."

He added: "In that event, it will be upon those who sabotage the present policy that the onus of such a frightful disaster must rest."

straight and shoes polished or to expect "disciplinary action!"

They were warned not to smoke and not to indulge in "unnecessary conversation" while on duty.

The guards stationed in the deserted building through the night found they could not smoke or read while on duty from 11 at night until 7 in the morning.

There are hundreds of officials at the department who are "officially superior" to the guards and they have visions of hours daily of "starving for attention."

Originally Mergenthaler's "Treasury Department order Number 1," forbade department officials from giving correspondents any information of any nature. The modification is intended to permit them to give out statistics and figures.

The chief of each division will be held personally responsible for whatever is told to newspapermen regarding the activities of his division.

Mergenthaler agreed that it might in some cases prove difficult to separate fact from policy and said that in cases of doubt the official should ask his assistant, Herbert Gaston.

The modification was made a short time after another order had been issued instructing Treasury guards to "show respect for official superiors by standing at attention" when such officials approached or addressed them.

stances were they to answer questions even remotely dealing with matters of policy.

The order, issued after Mergenthaler had complained to other officials about the conduct of the guards, laid down eight requirements for the force.

Immediately following the order the guards were found standing at their stations, instead of sitting in the chairs provided for that purpose. Their coats were buttoned tightly in spite of warm day and some of them, even in the far-off corners, were smoking during his eight-hour tour of duty.

Under the new orders, the guards were admonished to keep their clothing pressed, caps on for a motive for the strange crime. A major development was yesterday's disclosure that the mother-in-law herself had taken out a $5000 policy on the victim eight days ago. Walter W. J. Brown, representative of a New York insurance company, informed Coroner Walsh that Dr. Wynkoop had paid the first premium of $42.50 on the policy, of which she was the beneficiary, and which carried a double indemnity. Brown said the physician first had asked for a $10,000 policy.

Mergenthaler Firm Suffered Loss Near Million Last Year

NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 23.—Mergenthaler Linotype Company, in its annual report covering the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, issued recently, shows net loss of $959,253, after taxes and depreciation, comparing with a net loss of $993,526 in the preceding fiscal year.

Business conditions encountered as a result of the continuance of the depression produced even greater difficulties to contend with than ever before, the company's report to stockholders stated.

"Suspensions, mergers, liquidations and bankruptcies which have taken place among newspapers and general printing concerns, brought innumerable typesetting and other kinds of machinery into the second-hand market.

"Taking 1929 as a base, net sales volume dropped in 1930 to 82 percent; in 1931 to 55 percent; in 1932 to 30 percent and in 1933 to 25 percent. It is reasonable to assume that the terrific drop in business has reached its lowest point and that any appreciable improvement in general conditions should immediately reflect an increase in our sales volume."

The company's balance sheet, as of Sept. 30 shows surplus of $9,491,927, against $10,768,381 at the close of the previous fiscal year. Current assets, including $308,446 in cash, amounted to $14,806,518 and current liabilities were $153,096, comparing with cash of $669,132, current assets of $15,430,675 and current liabilities of $20,204 at the end of the preceding fiscal year. Total assets on Sept. 30 amounted to $23,431,253. Capital stock consists of 256,000 shares.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 22.—State Conservation Commissioner George W. Davis has recommended to Florida sportsmen the observance of the "ten commandments" recently adopted by the national game authorities. They are:

1. Take your birds in a sportsmanlike way and avoid excesses.
2. Select your birds and refrain from destructive flock shooting.
3. Refrain from shooting at birds beyond reasonable range.
4. Never shoot at birds on the water unless badly crippled.
5. Retrieve your down birds and avoid all possible waste.
6. Do not patronize commercial shooting stands where abuses are practiced.
7. If you feed birds during the season, continue it as long as feed is beneficial.
8. Do your part to restore breeding grounds and maintain refuges.
9. Be a sportsman—obey the law and insist that others do likewise.
10. Swag the crow and other predators that prey on game.

Lake Mary Pupils See Fort In St. Augustine

A pilgrimage to St. Augustine for Lake Mary students of early American history, arranged by Mrs. H. M. Cochran, teacher in the Lake Mary School, for her fifth grade history class, proved an interesting day for the 20 persons making the trip last Saturday.

Cars left Lake Mary early in the morning and arrived at St. Augustine in time for a trip through historical Fort Marion before noon. A picnic luncheon was enjoyed at Anastasia Light-house Park after which the afternoon was spent in sightseeing among the places visited were the old city gates, the oldest house in the United States, the oldest schoolhouse in the United States, and adjoining museums.

Those making the trip were: Mrs. H. M. Cochran, teacher; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kelly, C. W. Isbill, principal of the Lake Mary schools, Joseph Isbill, Roy Howell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans and sons, William and Jack, and the following fifth grade pupils, Claire Evans, Ruth Anderson, Lucille Garrall, Jack Howell, Laurette Minehew, Ruth Pugh, Ned Bostic, John Marshall, Harold Robinson, and Margaret Sjöholm.

The Story Of Hobo Life To Be Depicted In Film

Ripped from the front pages of America's pity papers, "Wild Days of the Road," a first National picture, comes to the Middle Theater Friday and Saturday as a vivid depiction of what half a million of America's boys and girls in their teens are going through in this country.

Fifty hundred thousand of these "wild boys" it was recently reported to a Congressional investigating committee—boys and girls mixed, were riding on freight trains, living under tent roofs, in hobo jungles, in sewer pipe cities, in swamps, victims of diseases, without law, handling, begging, bumping, fighting, with no one coming to their aid.

Public Is Invited To Thanksgiving Cantata

The public is cordially invited to attend the presentation of "Seed-Time and Harvest," a Thanksgiving cantata by John E. West, which will take place Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the First Baptist Church.

A large group of Sanford singers has been rehearsing for the cantata for the past several weeks under the direction of B. C. Moore. The affair is being sponsored by the Music Department of the Women's Club with Mrs. Arthur Branam and Mrs. Walter L. Cooper as program sponsors. Mrs. Frances A. Hickson is organist for the affair.

Among those taking part are: Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. Arthur Branam, Mrs. Eustis Peake, Mrs. Walter L. Cooper, Mrs. S. J. Nis, and Miss Madeline Mallett, soprano; Mrs. Gladys Morris Williams, Mrs. R. R. Pippin, Mrs. C. H. Mason, Mrs. A. C. Moore, Mrs. Clarence Bare, and Miss Mildred Nix, altoes; Dr. H. W. Rucker, Dr. C. W. Baker, Walter R. Skelley, and Frank Lamson, tenors; and J. M. Stinebaugh, the Rev. Martin J. Branam, and F. C. MacMahon, basses.

Hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. W. P. Brooks, Jr., Mrs. P. M. Murler, Mrs. J. B. Root, Mrs. Karl Lehmann, Mrs. James O. Huff, Mrs. A. C. Chamberlain, and Miss Mabel Bowler.

The entire cantata will be given as follows:

Mrs. Campbell Honors Husband With Supper

Honoring Dr. W. R. Campbell, who celebrated his birthday anniversary recently, Mrs. Campbell entertained with an informal "stag" supper given last night at their home on Magnolia Avenue. Card games were enjoyed until a late hour when supper was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. A. E. Abernathy.

Entertainment during the evening was furnished by Miss Margaret Davis and Mrs. A. M. Phillips who presented several musical selections. A color scheme of red and white was developed by quantities of red roses and white chrysanthemums arranged about the rooms of the Campbell home.

Those present were: Dr. W. R. Campbell, honor guest, Dr. C. W. Baker, J. Dingfelder, W. D. Hoffman, Dr. L. D. Brown, G. O. Danner, G. E. Abernathy, E. E. Laney, Dr. A. W. Knox, Walter L. Morgan, J. E. Rowland, Jr., Ralph A. Smith, J. C. Mitchell, E. H. Cullum, Roy Holler, and Dr. R. M. Terry.

Miss Bridgman Feted On Her 14th Birthday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bridgman at Lake Mary was the scene of a party given Wednesday evening by their daughter, Mrs. J. L. Staudemire, in honor of her niece, Miss Cassie Bridgman, who celebrated her fourteenth anniversary recently.

Games and dancing were enjoyed during the evening and musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. Staudemire and Clifford King. Refreshments were served from a large table which was centered with a white birthday cake bearing 14 lighted pink candles.

Later in the evening the guests were invited to Evansdale Park where a marshmallow roast was participated in. Those present were: the Misses Cassie Bridgman, honor guest, Elise Lowe, Ida Robinson, Jane Cochran, Lucy Williams, Betty Jean Williams, Margaret Gordon, Loretta Gordon, Eleanor Hartman, Sonia Hartman, Doris Isbill, Opal Tillis, Alberta Jantman, and Wade Wansley, Norman White, Junior Boteler, Luther Bridgman, Bobby Brown, John Marshall, Billy Gordon, and Clifford King.

So ROUND, so FIRM, so FULLY PACKED

Luckies draw easily - burn evenly

It's easy to see why so many women prefer Lucky Strike. Luckies are fully packed with long strands of choice tobaccos, round and firm to the very tips. That means Luckies always draw easily, always burn smoothly. It also means no annoying loose ends to cling to lips or mess up the nice things in a woman's purse. And every day more and more women are showing their appreciation by saying "Luckies please".

ALWAYS the finest tobaccos ALWAYS the finest workmanship ALWAYS Luckies please!

DR. WYNEKOOP
ADMITSKILLING
SON'S WIFE

Bizarre Mystery Ends With Confession Of Elderly, Prominent
Chicago Physician

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—(A.P.)—Lieut. Otto Erlanson announced today that Dr. Alice Lindsay Wynekoop had confessed to the slaying of her 23 year old daughter-in-law Rheta. She has confessed that she did it, the officer asserted and hurried back into the room where the questioning was proceeding.

The arraignment came after her son, Ernie, pleaded with her to confess if she did it. She had told him not to worry, that she had not slain his wife.

The alleged confession is reported to have come from the elderly woman physician after a verbal struggle in which she acknowledged she had been with Rheta when the latter was murdered.

Mrs. Rheta Little, diminutive department store clerk, told police last night that she was the "other girl" in the bizarre mystery and that on the night before Rheta was slain she had a date with Dr. Wynekoop, great husband of the victim, Mrs. Little, she said, who had a flititious name, promised to marry her and never told her that he already had a wife whose hair was as white as his own.

While Mrs. Little was telling her story and the handsome husband was answering questions and frustrating as he stood looking down upon his wife's body in a mortgage, other members of the cast waited nervously in the musty old mansion on Monroe street.

Dr. Alice Wynekoop, 63, member of the elite, a leader in the community for years, she was strangely and extremely nervous when she was arrested and charged with the slaying.

Dr. Catherine Wynekoop, 24, sister-in-law of the victim, Mrs. Rheta Little, stern-minded middle aged school teacher who lived in the Wynekoop mansion and whose 69-year-old father was the last of four persons to leave the mansion four years preceeding Tuesday's tragedy.

Dr. Wynekoop, the husband of an aviator, employed until recently at the World's Fair Sky Line, where he met Mrs. Little, was the man who was arrested with Dr. Wynekoop, son of Assoc.
Rheta Gardner Wynekoop, 23, the victim. A beautiful girl of a prominent Indianapolis family which opposed her marriage into the Wynekoop family.

Dr. Wynekoop, who had been employed by her mother, former university instructor, to a security post in Indianapolis four years ago, her courtship was very brief.

NRA RESULTS
ACCLAIMED BY
HUGH JOHNSON

Recovery Chief Terms
Program 25 Percent
Successful So Far;
Critics Are Assailed

ATLANTA, Nov. 24.—(A.P.)— Hugh H. Johnson, addressing an NRA rally last night, called the results obtained so far by the Roosevelt recovery program "astonishing wonder of the world," and assailed its denouncers as "leaders, guides and scouts of the old road to ruin."

Speaking not only of his own division, but the entire recovery enterprise, Johnson said the experiment already has produced 25 percent of the results expected of it," and he predicted that business was on the verge of another forward surge.

It was Johnson's first address as NRA head in the southeast, and part of his speech was directed specially at southern problems, but most of it was given over to a new assault on the "tom-tom tooters," the "corporals of disaster" and "discredited leaders of an old economic system—social neuro-tics—who are out to stop the recovery program."

He spoke in the Atlanta city auditorium.

Roosevelt Switches Welles From Cuba To Position As Assistant State Secretary

WARM SPRINGS, Nov. 24.—(A.P.)— President Roosevelt is changing ambassador in Cuba in confidence of an early establishment of government there to meeting his conditions for reconciliation through stability.

Apparently satisfied that the provisional government of President Grau San Martin "will reach some peaceful agreement" in the near future which "may result in general support of government," he announced the diplomatic transfer late last night.

Ambassador Sumner Welles, after his return to Cuba to complete the understanding, is returning to the United States as assistant secretary of state, and Jefferson Coffey, present assistant secretary is going to Havana.

Very apparently complete understanding has been reached in the troubled Cuban situation which originally impelled the President to send Welles to Cuba to settle minor disorders continued throughout several provinces in the interior last night but insurgent activities appeared to be lessening. Fifteen men were arrested by government forces at Pinar del Rio, capital of the province of the same name, after reports had circulated indicating they were members of an expedition of Menendez and had landed at Cienfuegos with a large supply of arms and ammunition.

Confidence conference continued at Santiago where the government is meeting protests from the Cubanists against the Trust Co. of Florida trustees for 29 trust properties scattered throughout the state, which were litigated in Judge Ritter's court.

Disastrous Fire Is Out Of Control In California Hills

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—(A.P.)— A disastrous brush fire in the hills northwest of Los Angeles today completely out of control.

It has crossed the ridge into the thickly populated Earl Canyon and is headed toward Arroyo Seco, source of the Pasadena Municipal water supply. The flames raged along a jagged fire front fanned by a treacherous wind. The famed Rose Bowl is in Arroyo Seco, but no brush surrounds it, and it is in little danger.

The county fire warden's office estimated the damage already done amounts to $4,000,000. Just how many homes and cabins are destroyed is undetermined but some estimates are as high as 100. In Earl Canyon are the estates of Victor McLaughlin and Max March of the Midlars.

RITTER DENIES
ALL GUILT AS
HEARING ENDS

House Committee Will Report In January,
With Impeachment
Or Exoneration Due

MIAMI, Nov. 24.—(A.P.)—The hearing by the House Judiciary committee into the official conduct of Federal Judge Hailed Ritter ended today following a decision from the witness stand by the judge himself that he had any knowledge of being guilty of any wrongdoing in office.

The inquiry had been called at the request of Congressman Mark Willes, and it was joined in by Judge Ritter.

Congressman Tarver, Georgia Democrat and chairman of the committee, said it reserved the right to reopen the hearing if it is deemed necessary. The committee will report to Congress in January, exoneration, or impeachment proceedings are the possible verdicts.

Obits and ends of testimony concerning multiple litigations in two large bankruptcy cases and mortgage fore-closure cases in which Ritter and a conspiracy were charged formed the axis around which the hearing revolved yesterday.

They were the $2,000,000 mortgage foreclosure suits against the palatial Whitehall Hotel at Palm Beach and bankruptcy proceedings initiated against the Trust Co. of Florida trustee for 29 trust properties scattered throughout the state, which were litigated in Judge Ritter's court.

State Senator, 70
Others Convicted
On Federal Charge

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—(A.P.)— State Senator John McLean and 70 confederates were convicted today on a federal charge of participation in an alleged violation of the National Prohibition Act.

All are specifically charged with conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law. Among those convicted were Eugene White, chief clerk of the state House of Representatives, and a number of Chester county Republican leaders.

Civil Works Board
Sets Up Plan To Aid
County Unemployed

Over 650 Persons May Get Regular Jobs
Starting Monday
11 Projects Set Up

Hope that at least 650 white and colored men and women living in this county will be placed upon a regular 80-hour work week with a minimum wage of $12 per week starting next Monday morning was expressed by the local Civil Works Administration today as it sought to correlate a mass of telegrams, letters, and telephone calls from state Works Administration headquarters at Tallahassee.

There is every indication, it was reported late this afternoon, that at least 650 persons, probably 700 persons, will be switched over from the part-time work relief to direct relief which they have been receiving for the past several months under authority of the Seminole County Emergency Administration Council which is now known as the Civil Works Administration.

But, there was nothing definite as to the hour these people will go to work nor even that they will go on this regular work week basis. That advice is expected to come within the next 48 hours, and just as soon as it is received it will be relayed to every person affected through the medium of a personal visit from one of the local Administration workers, and through the Sanford Herald.

Everything is believed to be in readiness locally to handle the transfer of the idle from one mode of employment to another. The Council accepted the responsibility of administering Civil Works in this county. The trends and subtleties which it had gathered after months of painstaking work has eventually come into the hands of the civil works board, and it is understood that the first to be

Nude Couple Joined In Marriage Pact
By Nude Minister

ELSINORE, Calif., Nov. 24.—(A.P.)— With principals, preacher and spectators all standing in their "birthday" clothes, a wedding ceremony was performed yesterday at a nudist colony seven miles southwest of here in a secluded Sylvan Valley.

The bridegroom was Jim Goodman, railway conductor, and the bride Miss Susie Wise. They went to San Francisco on their honeymoon.

Goodman and the preacher, the Rev. Clark Irvine of the Temple of Nature Church, laid down a path from their hungalous to a well, singing out "won't you join us?" to several nude men guests.

The guests, including a young ranger with a van dyke beard, beamed the calling.

In the clearing, the bride discarded a kimono, all she had on, and the ceremony was performed.
Some of the women guests wore slippers, but nothing else.

"I married this way because I like the simplicity and freedom," said the bride, a nudist of three months.

Goodman, colony member for four months, said he liked to come down on week-ends, take off his stiff uniform and "comp around."

ATLANTA, Nov. 24.—(A.P.)—A light rain in south Georgia Monday night was reported by the local weather bureau with predictions for more rain that would probably break the drought it recently labelled as one of the most severe on record.
