Post Office Girds For Hectic Days

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

"Did you get the Christmas present I sent?...Oh, not yet. Well, I thought I mailed it in plenty of time."

When a Christmas present or special card doesn't arrive by the big day, it's hard to say who is more disappointed — the sender or the one to which it was sent.

At least some local residents aren't taking any chances. The public is mailing earlier this year and postage sales have already tripled at Sanford Post Office, according to Postmaster James H. Covington.

In the next couple of weeks things are expected to get even more hectic. Covington said he expects the postage volume to increase to four to five times more than normal. An extra window has been opened and lines are already, but not backing up too badly, he added.

Packages should be mailed as early as possible and should be securely fastened with approved mailing tape. For procrastinators who wait too long to mail parcels, he suggests the U.S. Postal Service's Express Mail, which if mailed by 5 p.m. is guaranteed to be delivered the next day.

There are also private letter and package carriers.

"(U.S.) Mail is moving rapidly as it should be and extra vehicles are standing by to transport mail to and from this office if needed," Covington said.

Things you can do to speed your holiday mail and help ensure it arrives in one piece:

- Buy stamps and drop off packages in off-peak hours — lunchtimes and late afternoon are the busiest times.
- Provide full addresses, including zip codes, on all letters and packages. Write clearly using pens that will not smudge or smear.
- Don't use flimsy boxes, thin paper or cellophane tape when wrapping packages.

• Protect items from possible damage by cushioning loose items with newspaper, plastic foam, airpocket padding or specially padded envelopes.

• Don't guess the amount of postage needed.

If follow these suggestions you can relax and enjoy receiving holiday mail, at least until a few days before Christmas when those inevitable last minute cards come in from those you forgot.

Then when you ask the clerk, "Will this get their by Christmas?" he's apt to reply: "Which Christmas?"

County To Weigh Renegotiating With Herndon

Seminole County commissioners are undecided whether they will renegotiate a contract with Herndon Ambulance Service, Orlando, or adjust their bid requirements to allow consideration of a proposal from an out-of-state firm.

County staff members, who are studying the matter, will present their recommendations to the commission at today's workshop meeting, Assistant County Administrator Jim Easton said.

Herndon has provided emergency transportation service to the county for more than 10 years. The company's extended contract, which includes an additional three-month extension clause, runs out Dec. 31.

The contract now calls for an annual payment of about $220,000 for the stationing of four advanced life-support ambulances in Seminole County, Herndon President Idus Willis said today. The company also serves Orange County and supplies additional emergency vehicles from locations there, he said.

He said the commissioners began discussing upgrading the service in the fall and are considering asking the contractor to provide an additional ambulance and a full-time paramedic.

"Right now we're pretty well covered. We have about four transports per day per unit. A faster response time in the Oviedo area would be provided with one more ambulance but it would be expensive," Willis said.

Willis said he may ask for a $10 increase in rates to Seminole County residents, who now pay $60 to $80 per call. The increase would bring local rates in line with those charged in Orange County, he said.

Easton said his staff is collecting data for the commissioners to determine if bid requirements for a new contract should be adjusted — specifically if a performance bond amount should be reduced from $500,000 to $100,000.

A performance bond must be posted by all contractors with the county to ensure that the work will be done or that the county will be financially covered if the contractor does not perform. Deputy County Attorney Bob McMillan said today.

Willis has maintained that the performance bond amount is too high.

"A $500,000-bond is just too much. It's not worth it to tie up those kind of assets.

"We could get it (the bond) but you almost have to have that much in CDs (certificates of deposit) or something to put up," he said.

Bypassing County

City Turns To DER For Water Testing

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Faced with what Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles calls "a lack of understanding about municipal water systems by county health authorities," the city has appealed to the state Department of Environmental Regulations for assistance.

"We have turned to DER and its Bureau of Underground Water Management for their testing and review and DER has indicated a very cooperative approach," Knowles said today.

As a result of a DER recommendation, Knowles said samples of water from all seven city wells and the city water plant at the Mayfair Golf Course were taken by city personnel Monday and delivered to Orlando Laboratories for testing. The wells were pumped for 15-20 minutes each before the samples were taken, the manager said.

The results of the testing are expected by the city about Dec. 19, Knowles said. The testing will be comprehensive, he added. The DER recognizes that the water the people receive from the city of Sanford comes from the plant and not directly from the wells," Knowles said. "This is what we have been trying to tell the county the whole time."

Knowles said after water is pumped out of the wells it is aerated and treated with chlorine at the water plant.

Knowles and Dr. Jorge Deju, the county's director of Health and Human Services, have had a running battle going for the past several days over the county's refusal to retest the city's three down wells.

Knowles' ire was raised after Deju's staff tested the city's eight wells in the U.S. Highway 17-92 area, some three miles from the Mayfair Golf Course, last week while refusing to re-test three wells at the golf course, shut down on city order after infiltration of EDB was found. The 17-92 Airport Boulevard wells were found to be free of EDB when samples were tested at a state laboratory in Jacksonville.

The county health department in cooperation with several state agencies has been sampling wells on and within 300 feet of golf courses where EDB, a pesticide and suspected carcinogen, was used in recent months to eradicate nematodes in the soil.

County Administrator T. Duncan Rose said the county conducted the tests at the 17-92 city wells to bring "peace of mind" to city water users, concerned about whether wells other than those at the golf course might be contaminated with EDB.

Follow-up tests of samples from the three contaminated wells on the golf course by a private laboratory commissioned by the city showed only one of the three currently has EDB above the acceptable .1 parts per billion, Knowles said. Dr. Deju said, however, that the results from a private testing firm are not acceptable.

Deju said Wednesday he will be advising the city of Sanford by letter to hire hydrology engineers to determine how to decontaminate the three city wells and when those wells can be put back on line.

Deju said samples from the three wells should be taken only when those wells are in operation and recommended that the wells not be tied into the city water system until several negative results of EDB testing are seen over a period of months.

Deju said health authorities don't know at this time exactly how long the three wells would have to show no presence of EDB before they could safely be used again.

"This has to be determined by an expert in hydrology," he said, noting he has discussed the issue with hydrologists at the University of Florida.

Rose suggested the wells might have to be in operation for a time period that could range from 24 hours to as long as a week before effective sampling could be done.

Knowles said today that even in normal operations, no city well is operated for a seven day period.

"Usual practice in Sanford," he said, "is that the longest any well operates is about 3½ days before pumping is rotated to another well. And during each of those days, the well is operated about 19 hours."

"What is used is a system of rotating and resting wells. Within the first 15-20 minutes of pumpage, wells have reached their 'cone of depression' and the column of water is then pumped from the aquifer," Knowles said.

"If we would pump a well for seven days it would try to suck the country around dry," the manager said. "I wonder where they are coming up with this type of information and I am concerned about their background in municipal water supplies."

Voter Turnout Brisk In City Elections

Lines of voters waiting for the polls to open were queued up at the front doors of the Longwood and Casselberry city halls this morning and city clerks in both communities saw this as a sign of good voter turnout in city elections today.

Polls in both cities will close at 7 p.m. and absentee ballots will be accepted until 7 p.m.

Longwood City Clerk Don Terry said 12-15 persons were waiting to vote and the turnout continued brisk in the morning hours.

"Some 105 voted the first hour," Terry said. "I am very encouraged that the turnout will be good."

Terry has predicted that 25 percent — 1,061 — of the city's 4,246 registered voters will cast ballots on three city commission contests and four bond issue questions for projects totalling $1.1 million.

Casselberry City Clerk Linda Zike said in addition to the big line that greeted the poll officials at 7 a.m., voting was steady in the first two hours.

"We had 188 voters by 9 a.m.," Mrs. Zike said. She has predicted an "optimistic 30 percent turnout" — 1,942 — of the city's 6,475 registered voters. Last year the voter turnout was slightly more than 27 percent in Casselberry.

The Casselberry ballot includes races between incumbent Charles Glascock and George Smith for mayor; and incumbent John Leighty and political newcomer Al Harmon, for a city council seat.

Casselberry's electorate also has a choice of voting for the present full time mayor or for a city manager form of government with the mayor fulfilling only ceremonial functions, and other changes. In Longwood, the voters are selecting three city commissioners. Incumbent June Lormann is facing Dr. Frederick Pearl while incumbent, Charles "Chick" Pappas is opposed by Ed Myers and Harvey Smerilson is challenging incumbent Steven Uskert.

Sanford Man Gets 23 Years In Kidnap-Rape

A 27-year-old Sanford man who kidnapped a woman and her infant son at gunpoint and raped the woman has been sentenced to 23 years in prison.

Seminole County Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. Monday imposed the sentence on Halsey Dean Piercy, of 3806 Country Club Road, who was out of prison on probation for an earlier robbery conviction when he kidnapped the woman.

Piercy pleaded no contest to charges of kidnapping, robbery, sexual battery and petty theft on Dec. 2.

Mize sentenced Piercy to 20 years in prison for each of the counts with the sentences to run concurrently.

Piercy must serve a minimum of three years in prison. Mize also sentenced Piercy to a year in prison for each of three counts of violation of parole with each sentence to run consecutively.

"I'm relieved to see a menace removed from society," said Chief Assistant State Attorney Ralph Eriksson.

The state charged that Piercy approached a 27-year-old Geneva woman in the parking lot of the Park n' Shop supermarket, 25th Street and Park Avenue, Sanford, at about 2:30 p.m. last May 2 and forced the woman and her one-year-old son at gunpoint to enter the woman's car with him.

Piercy drove the car to a wooded area near Allen Pond in Geneva, and, using the infant as a hostage, forced the woman to have sexual relations with him, the state charged.

Piercy then drove the car to a Handy Way store at State Road 46 and County Road 426 in Geneva and forced the woman to go into the store and buy some beer after telling her that if she said anything to anyone he would shoot the baby and kill her, the state charged.

Piercy drove the car, with the woman and infant still in it, to Titusville and then back to Sanford. At about 5:30 p.m. he pulled into a Fina gas station at 1219 Park Ave. In Sanford, had an attendant fill the gas tank and sped away without paying for the gas, the state charged.

Piercy drove on State Road 415 into Volusia County where Volusia County deputies spotted the car at Howland Road and gave chase in a patrol car. During the chase the woman grabbed Piercy's pistol, threw it out the window of the car and jammed the car's gearshift into "park," causing the car to stop, the state said. Deputies then arrested Piercy.

Piercy's criminal record began on Jan. 29, 1976 when

IN BRIEF

Iran vs. Saudi Arabia At OPEC Meeting

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — Iran carried its threat to halt the flow of oil through the Persian Gulf into a pre-summit meeting today of OPEC oil ministers trying to overcome deep divisions within the 13-nation cartel.

The battle lines for the summit, which begins Wednesday, already were drawn, with maverick Iran challenging Saudi Arabia's domination of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries' pricing and production policies.

The Saudi-led Persian Gulf camp wants to keep OPEC's base oil price at $29 a barrel through 1985 and require strict observance of production limits.

But Iran has threatened to halt the flow of oil through the Persian Gulf if OPEC does not agree to raise its prices to at least $34 a barrel. Iran also is pressing for a reduction in OPEC's output ceiling to 15 million barrels a day.

Poland Under Alert

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — The Polish government ordered a virtual nationwide military alert imposed today in a show of strength apparently aimed at defusing mass protests expected to mark next week's second anniversary of martial law.

Polish leader Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski ordered "a nationwide action" allowing military task groups to conduct mass inspections of municipal services and check "defense readiness" throughout the country, the official PAP news agency said.

The military action began at midnight Monday but Jaruzelski did not say when it would end.

Jaruzelski's order said inspection teams would have the power to enter any public or private premise to check on the observance of all rules and regulations — including those dealing with "order and social discipline."

Eat, Drink And Be Sterile

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Thailand celebrated King Bhumibol Adulyadej's 56th birthday with music, food and free vasectomies for more than 1,200 men, setting a record for voluntary sterilizations.

The Thai Population and Community Development Association, a private group, holds a free vasectomy clinic every year on the king's birthday, one of the country's most festive holidays.

Monday's clinic was held in the national lottery building where 42 makeshift operating tables were set up, allowing 50 doctors and 85 nurses to complete an average of two vasectomies per minute during a 10-hour period.

Jury To Recommend Sentence For Stano

TITUSVILLE (UPI) — A Brevard County jury, preparing to recommend a sentence of life in prison or death in Florida's electric chair for mass killer Gerald Stano, saw evidence from past murders by the man.

The jury also on Monday heard testimony from police experts, who described the investigations into the other Stano murder cases.

But Circuit Judge Gil Goshorn sent the seven-woman, five-man jury home for the day and ordered them to reconvene again today.

The jury found Stano guilty last Friday in the December 1973 murder of Cathy Lee Scharf. The body of the 17-year-old Port Orange girl was discovered by hunters in January 1974 in a remote area of the Merritt Island National Wildlife Refuge.

The murder conviction was the ninth for Stano, a former Ormond Beach short order cook who has claimed responsibility for the killing of at least 39 women. Stano already is serving six life prison terms and has been sentenced twice to the death penalty.

Sunshine To Cost $100,000

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The University of Florida's attempt to clarify whether faculty search committees are covered by the Sunshine Law may eventually cost more than $100,000.

The Florida Supreme Court said last week such committees must be open to the public. The decision ended a legal battle that began in 1980 when the university said a search committee discussing candidates for dean of the law school could meet in private.

The university has already paid the private law firm of Holland & Knight $65,811 in legal expenses, but it may also have to pay the legal fees of the plaintiffs, former Florida student-editors Terri Wood and Thomas Jullin.

The university has already agreed that $33,000 would be a fair settlement for plaintiff's legal fees should the university be required to pay, but that was before the case was appealed to the high court. Jullin said the university should pay more now.

'Jack B. Nimble' Challenging I.D. Law

You're walking across the Seminole Plaza parking lot in Casselberry at 12:52 a.m. A police officer asks what your name is and you reply with what sounds like "Jack B. Nimble."

Later you admit that's not your real name and the officer arrests you and charges you with obstructing police by giving false information and loitering or prowling.

Altamonte Springs defense lawyer Glenn Klausman says that's what happened to his client, Jeffrey Tenuto, on Feb. 9.

Tenuto, 23, of 137 Southcot Drive, Casselberry, is a self-employed janitor. He was released from the Seminole County Jail Feb. 18 on pre-trial release without paying bond.

Klausman is trying to get the "false information" law declared unconstitutional and to have both charges dismissed.

Klausman says the charge was filed against Tenuto under a new state statute that makes it a misdemeanor for a person to refuse to give his name to a police officer.

Klausman has filed a motion with Seminole County Judge Alan Dickey to dismiss the case on the grounds that the statute is "both vague and over broad" and therefore unconstitutional.

Dickey continued the case last week.

No date has been set for the next hearing.

"The statute should say if you have the intent to deceive a cop or make him think you're someone other than who you really are, then you can be charged," Klausman said.

"I'm sure the officer didn't think Tenuto was really Jack B. Nimble. He was just being comical and the cop over-reacted."

The officer "had no right to stop the man in the first place," said Klausman. The person stopped "has to be a danger to persons or property. People have the right to walk the streets at night."

The report filed by the Casselberry police officer who arrested Tenuto gives a slightly different account of the incident:

The officer saw Tenuto walking "in the shadowy area of the Private Eye restaurant" at the shopping center and asked him for identification, the report said.

Tenuto said his name was "Jack B. Inable," and said he was apartment shopping, the report said.

"The whole case is ridiculous. Judges, prosecutors and police officers complain about being swamped," said Klausman. "Part of the reason is cases like this being pushed through the system."

Each of the two charges against Tenuto carry a maximum sentence of 60 days in jail and a $500 fine.

'Forced Heirship' Causes Hardship

DEAR ABBY: In response to "Heartbroken Mother," who had a decision to make concerning how her estate should be divided among her children, you responded with the question: "Where is it written that children should automatically get what their parents have worked and saved for?"

The answer is: "In the Constitution of the state of Louisiana." Abby, Louisiana is the only state in the United States that has what is known as "forced heirship." It's 25 percent to 50 percent — depending on the number of children — of the deceased parent's estate, irrespective of whether the children are deserving, or whether it was the wish of the parent to exclude a child from the inheritance.

The majority of Louisiana residents are not aware of this law. You would be doing the people of Louisiana a great service if you would print this letter and make them aware of this archaic and unjust law in order for them to take action through their legislators and correct this injustice.

STUCK IN LOUISIANA

DEAR STUCK: If anyone living in the state of Louisiana wishes to challenge this so-called "archaic and unjust law," I recommend that he/she retain a Louisiana attorney and go to work on it. I have an agreement with the Louisiana Bar Association — its members don't write advice columns and I don't practice law.

DEAR ABBY: Being a single girl, I am at a loss as to how to graciously turn down a date.

Dear Abby

There are some men whom I choose not to date for one reason or another, but I can't think of a polite way of saying, "Thanks, but no thanks" without hurting their feelings.

If I say, "I'm busy next Saturday, night," they ask for Sunday, or Monday, or Tuesday, and I have to lie again. And when I say I'm busy on all those dates, I am asked when my first free evening is, and then I am stuck!

Abby, can you, or any of your readers, suggest a polite way to decline without hurting a man's feelings?

THANKS, BUT NO THANKS

DEAR THANKS: Although it would save him a lot of time and repeated turn-downs, it's not easy to tell a man that you don't want to work with him next Saturday, Sunday, Monday or ever, without hurting his feelings. Gentlemen? Ladies? Here's a tough one for you, and I welcome your suggestions.

Dear Abby: When my husband and I moved to another state, I had to find a new physician. Right off the bat, he started calling me by my first name, so I said, "Since you are calling me 'Mellanie,' I suppose I may call you 'Milton.'"

He looked a bit surprised and replied, "No, just call me 'Doctor.'"

I suppose rank has its privileges, right?

Mrs. Jones
Dear Mrs. Jones: This is not the army, Mrs. Jones. Ask your doctor to please call you "Madame" or "Mrs. Jones."

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago our home was burglarized. Fortunately, we were insured. Among the items that were stolen I listed a pair of diamond earrings valued at $3,500.

My insurance company reimbursed me for the earrings and I replaced them with a similar pair.

A few days ago I discovered my "stolen" earrings in an evening bag I seldom use. What should I do now?

MIXED EMOTIONS

DEAR MIXED: Inform your insurance company immediately that the earrings you thought were stolen were only misplaced. And be prepared to return the $3,500.

(If you're single and want to know how to meet someone decent, see Page 20 of Abby's booklet, "How to Be Popular." Send $2, plus a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

president Laurel Rodgers conducted the chapter's business meeting. Members began discussing their current service project. They are working with Gladys Wilson, a counselor for student services for Seminole County Schools, to provide Christmas gifts and dinner for a family in need.

Beautifying Museum

Camellia Circle of the Garden Club of Sanford has undertaken the project of beautifying and adding to the landscape of the Henry S. Sanford Museum-Library, 520 E. First St., Sanford. Helping with setting out new plants and shrubs are, from left, Chal Horrell, Pat Sentell, Mildred Caskey, museum curator, and Emy Sokol.

Driftwood Village Is Expanding With More Shops And Services

The Driftwood Village at 549 W. Lake Mary Boulevard, is the only shopping center within Lake Mary's city limits. It has distinct country character that sets it apart from the many look-alike shopping complexes and has a more relaxed atmosphere.

The Permanent Solution, owned by Diane Burton, is a full service styling salon for the entire family. There staff, composed of six professional stylists and a nail specialist, will be glad to give you a new look for those holiday parties. Some of the businesses and professional offices already located at Driftwood Village include The Village Shop, Rocking Chair Needlecrafts, The Permanent Solution, Petsos Travel Agency, Christo's Restaurant and The General Store.

Adelaide Moses, owner, has been in the retail clothing business in Sanford since 1965 and opened her Driftwood Village shop three years ago.

Buzz Petsos is owner of The General Store, which carries gifts for all occasions, gift wrap, bows, and greeting cards as well as items such as cigarettes and tobacco products, film, flashlight batteries, charcoal, hardware, school supplies, milk, bread and cold drinks. Bernard Fisher, Orange Hearing Aid Centers vice president and licensed hearing aid dispenser, and hearing aid consultants Harry Powers and Frank Whitten, are all certified by the National Hearing Aid Society will be at these offices to perform the hearing tests.

Speech-age technology has come to the hearing aid industry and a hearing aid has been developed that only costs pennies per year to operate. The newer rechargeable aid also automatically controls speech interfering noises and can be "custom-adjusted" for correct hearing on the spot.

Orange Hearing Aid Centers offer a special 30-day trial period, satisfaction guaranteed, with every hearing aid obtained from their office.

Let Blair Agency Solve Auto Insurance Needs

Are you having a problem with your automobile insurance? Perhaps, while uninsured, you've had an accident or been given a ticket for driving under the influence and you need to have automobile or truck insurance quickly.

The place to go is the Blair Agency, 2510-A Oak Ave., at the corner of Park Avenue in Sanford. There are three experienced underwriters and Mrs. Genie Blair, founder of the agency, there to help you solve your problem.

The Blair Agency is one of the few insurance agencies in the area empowered to fill out an SR 22 form confirming that a client has purchased liability insurance.

A client can purchase his insurance in the morning from Blair, have the SR 22 form filled out immediately thereafter and hand carry the form to the state Drivers' License office where it can be forwarded to the state. This will stop a driver's license from being suspended.

The forms affirm that a driver is financially responsible.

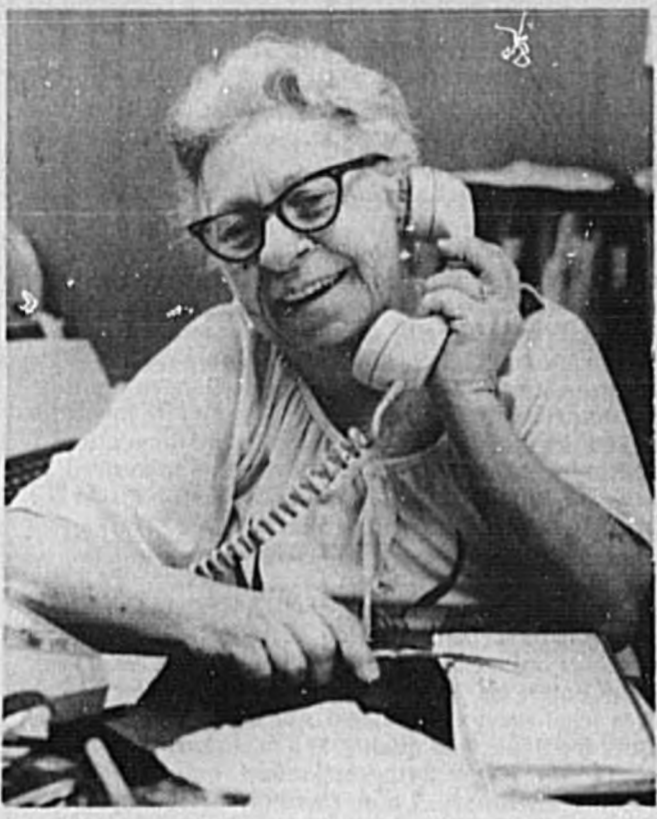

With 27 years in the insurance industry, Mrs. Blair founded her own agency 12 years ago. The Blair Agency has been at the same location for the past seven years.

"Professionalism and service" are the key words at Blair. The underwriters at Blair don't consider the agency a selling agency, they consider it a service agency in business to help people.

Blair specializes in writing non-standard insurance, the type of insurance which is difficult to acquire at some agencies; insurance for those who have traffic violations on their records and insurance for the young and older citizens of the community.

Package protection including liability protection, theft and contents is also available at Blair for owners and tenants of mobile homes.

Auto insurance can now be purchased at the

Genie Blair, owner of Blair Agency

Blair Agency in Sanford on a one-month basis. And financing is available for those who care to use it. This is in keeping with the agency's policy of complete service to its clients.

One of the first things the Blair Agency sees as a necessity for people buying insurance is that they receive complete information about the various types of insurance available. With this knowledge, clients can decide what is best for them.

The three professional underwriters at Blair are willing to talk with you on the telephone to help solve your insurance problems.

You may call either 323-7710 or 323-3866. Or stop by the office, open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Illusion Of Motion Is Actually Vertigo

DEAR DR. LAMB—I am 61 years old and have always been in good health, but I am about 30 pounds overweight. About two months ago I discovered that when I was driving my car and came to a complete stop, my car felt like it was still moving. This also happens when I'm in line at the grocery store or at the bank. I feel as if I'm losing my balance. I had a complete checkup. My ears were all right. The only thing wrong was that I had high blood pressure. I was put on medicine for it and the medicine helped my blood pressure, but I still have this same problem.

Health Letter 9-10. Dizziness and Vertigo, which I am sending you. Since you evidently have seen an ear specialist, I would recommend that you consult with a neurologist to evaluate any changes that may have occurred in the brain function that causes your symptoms.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I have been taking birth-control pills for about seven months now, but a couple of days ago I stopped taking them because I want to become pregnant. I would like to know how long I should wait before becoming pregnant. Would there be any danger of becoming pregnant now, so soon after stopping the pill?
DEAR READER—If you get pregnant immediately after stopping the pill, the probabilities are that nothing adverse will happen. There is no evidence that a woman who has been taking the pill is likely to have a baby with any defects.

The only question is whether you are more likely to have a spontaneous abortion or not. There is some suggestion that women who become pregnant within the first three months after stopping the pill are more prone to spontaneous abortions. This also is true if conception occurs within three months after a normal pregnancy is completed.

DEAR READER—You do not have to postulate a small stroke to explain your sensation. You are describing vertigo, an illusion of motion. In people under 50, it most often is caused by an ear problem, such as inflammation of the small balance canals in the ear. But in people over 50, it is more likely to be caused by a disorder in the brain. That disorder can be any of the changes in circulation that can occur. High blood pressure can be a cause of the changes in circulation, or there may be actual changes in the arteries to the brain. The sensation of motion and balance is affected by nerves that control position sense, your eyes and your ears. But the signals from all of these sources must be relayed to the brain. Here they are integrated to provide an automatic sensation of normal position and motion or lack of motion. If an area in the brain involved in that mechanism is affected by any disorder or even a medicine, it may cause you to have the illusion of motion. I have explained the mechanisms involved in balance problems in The greatest experts, but it is a bad and expensive habit. South's excuse for his jump to three no-trump was that he did not want to stop a diamond lead by making the normal, sensible two-diamond call. Actually, three no-trump should romp in with an overtrick. With clubs breaking 3-3, South can just run off the first 10 tricks, but this South decided arbitrarily that clubs were not going to break and he needed to get one spade trick in early. So he took his ace of hearts after ducking once, and led a spade toward dummy's jack. East grabbed his ace, led his last heart and South was one trick down. The hand is hard to bid, but a good pair would reach four spades. South would rebid two diamonds. North would go to two spades and South would jump to four or even make some fancy bid on the way. In four spades, all declarer needs is a 4-2 trump break and has no worries about other suits.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby
Some people believe that the Declaration of Independence gives them the right to play all no-trump contracts and to play all contracts in no-trump. This no-trump complex affects lots of players, including the
