

JUDGES ANNOUNCE THE WINNERS IN THE PIANO CONTEST; THE VICTORIOUS ONES.

Miss Maude Cameron Wins the Grand Prize.

Committee of Judges Composed of Messrs. Forest Lake and H. E. Tolar, Make Official Announcement of the Result, after Carefully Checking up the Votes won by Each Contestant.

The task of tabulating and counting the votes in The Herald's contest has been finished and the following is a list of the prize winners:

First Prize, The Piano Player was won by Miss Maude Cameron.

Second Prize, $25.00 Brass Bed, Mrs. R. A. Newman.

Third Prize, A Gold Watch, Miss Ruth McDaniel.

Fourth Prize, A Gold Locket was won by Mrs. R. L. Griffin.

The winner of the first prize had 1,638,009 votes.

The committee of judges, consisting of Messrs. Forrest Lake and H. E. Tolar had a large amount of work to perform in connection with the contest and they did it in a splendid manner. The Herald appreciates very much the assistance of these capable and efficient gentlemen in the capacity of judges.

In checking over and adding the certificates that represented the votes, the greatest care was used. The certificates were first assorted by names of contestants, and then each contestants votes were totalled on adding machines, afterward being carefully verified.

When summing up the amount of work done during the eleven weeks of the contest it was tremendous. The most striking feature is the very large number of new subscriptions added to the list, and the new territory entered, which has not heretofore been covered by The Herald.

Two Winter Resorts

The two resorts are no great distance apart as the crow flies. One of them consists mainly of a vast hotel. Its golf scores and dinner parties are carefully telegraphed to the metropolis press. Winter before last a western lady made elaborate preparations for a social campaign there; and on the third day she wrote home despairingly: "I have to eat luncheon and dinner in my room because my very best dresses are the kind the women wear here to breakfast." What it costs to stay at this resort is mentioned among common folks with half incredulous awe.

The dungs at the second resort are never chronicled abroad except in personal letters to the Lone Elm Vineyarder and the Peach Hollow Weekly Gazette. Its hotels make no pretensions to style anywhere except in their names. There are not even golf links. Elderly resorters pitch quoits and play croquet in their alaridreves, others go fishing and bathing. The average expenditure for a fortnight about averages the equal for a day at the first resort.

The smart resort would pronounce the other one quite impossible; but in ten years the smart resort has changed scarcely at all. Each January a crowd of affluent persons flock there. An army of servants is mobilized there from afar to wait upon them. Much food and drink, to suit their exacting tastes, is imported. In March they go away, and from April to the holidays the resort is mainly given over to some caretakers and speculative buzzards.

Meanwhile the second resort has grown from a struggling village in the sand to a very brisk little city, with some twenty miles of well paved streets, deep harbor improvements, three good public school buildings and other evidences of healthy prosperity. The undistinguished, middling sort who went there are the sort that built this ~~city~~ is in their nature to strike a root into the soil. "Pretty good place, eh, Tom? I believe it's got a future. Let's buy that five acres and put up some cottages." It's true everywhere; for a solid growth, get the undistinguished, middling crowd. Saturday Evening Post.

Cooperation means everybody clean up—April 2nd.

A pertinent suggestion. Be sure to cut the grass on the edges of your sidewalks. High grass growing on the sidewalks ruins dainty gowns.

Cleaning up day in the West Side April 2nd.

Went up in the Aeroplane

Ralph Wight spent last Sunday at Daytona Beach, and being invited to take a flight in the aeroplane that is making daily flights over there accepted the invitation. The pilot of the aeroplane is a most charming lady, which accounts for the avidity with which the Sanford boy accepted the invitation to go up aloft. Ralph states that the flight was a most delightful sensation but the sharp sea air brought the tears to his eyes, although the thoughts of home and mother may have had something to do with the lachrymos part of the flight.

Orlando Will Bond

The City Council at its meeting last night passed a resolution instructing the city attorney to draft a bill to present to the Legislature meeting in Tallahassee next month, asking it to grant to Orlando the privilege to bond for one hundred thousand dollars to be used in paving streets. With this amount it is estimated that Orlando will be given about eleven miles more of paved streets, covering practically the principal streets of the city with vitrified brick paving. Under the present ordinances the abutting property owners are required to pay for half the paving, so with the $100,000 bond issue there would be $200,000 available for paving purposes. When this project is carried out Orlando will have more paved streets for its size than any city in the south, and perhaps in the United States.—Reporter-Star.

Sanford's Temperature.

Editor of The Herald:
For publication in your paper I furnish herewith record of meteorological observations taken by the undersigned as a cooperative observer of the Weather Bureau of the U. S. Department of Agriculture during the week ending March 23rd, 1913, at Sanford. The instrumental readings are from government standard instruments examined and recommended by the Chief of the Weather Bureau.

Very respectfully,

BURYING THE VICTIMS

Funerals In Omaha All Day Long Since Storm

FIFTY TWO FUNERALS ONE DAY

Happenings From The World at Large by Wire and by Wireless Grapevine

Fifty-two funerals silently wending their way to cemeteries brought home with greater force to the people of Omaha today the full realization of the extent of Sunday's tornado. All day long as fast as hearses could deposit the bodies at graves, a continual death procession was kept up. There was little ceremony. As quickly as one funeral was over another began. Undertakers cooperated in arranging burials. In several instances where entire families were killed or where more than one member of the family awaited burial a single funeral service was held. Many cases of destitution were reported. The rescue work was slow. It took much time to prepare card index of sufferers' wants and to make requisitions on the central relief station at the auditorium for supplies. While these formalities were being carried through want stalked through disconsolate homes from end to end. Forty-five more persons applied for aid than any other day. There remained, however, many reasons which prevented sufferers from applying for assistance.

The fortress of Adrianople was taken by storm by the Bulgarians this morning, after fighting the most terrible character since Mousley. Flames are devastating the city. At an early hour this morning fires were raging in various sections of the beleaguered city. The maddened population, whose nerves had been shattered by the almost incessant bombardment for a period of over five months, was fleeing about the streets from one point to another, not knowing where to find shelter.

Senator Nathan P. Bryan has taken up the Florida delayed mail situation in earnest. The records in the case are en route to Postmaster General Burleson, and says that if necessary, he will make an immediate trip to Washington, and take the matter up personally with the Postmaster General. The Senator said that he appreciated the calling of his attention of this condition, and will exert his ever effort for immediate relief.

Will Open Dancing School

Arrangements are being made to open a dancing school to be conducted by Mrs. E. Glasgow Mehrtens of Jacksonville. The hall above the city council chambers will be used and the best music obtainable will be engaged.

The class will meet on the second and fourth Monday nights and the following Wednesday nights and every Friday night at 7:30 to 8:30. Dancing will then continue until 12:00 o'clock.

A children's class will be held every Friday afternoon for the benefit of the little folk.

It is expected that considerable interest will be taken in this class as Mrs. Mehrtens is highly recommended as a dancing teacher and good music will be furnished at all times. Mrs. Mehrtens may be seen at Mrs. Overman's Millinery Parlors.

Basket Ball

The Sanford High School five will meet the crack Daytona five on the home court next Friday, April 4.

The Daytona five are in fine shape and are sure of the game, but the captain of the S. H. S. team is sure to get his team into shape to win.

The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

has been considerably thinned out during the past twelve months, owing to the stringent city ordinance and the activity of Dog Catcher Schlemann. The city's records show that during the twelve month period Schlemann has executed 2,184 dogs and 686 cats.—Tampa Notes in Times-Union.

Flames and Floods Destroy Thousands of People in Indiana and Ohio

Unprecedented Rush of Waters Flood the Fertile Valley of the Prosperous Middle States

Three thousand may have perished in the deluge which swept the northern half of the Ohio River Valley Tuesday and Wednesday. Probably a half million people were made homeless by the flood in Indiana and Ohio, and the property damage in both states will be at least $100,000,000.

These facts were compiled late today from reports received here from various points in the stricken district. Further reports may increase the number of the dead and it is unlikely that a decrease in property loss will be reported.

An additional horror was reported yesterday from Dayton. Fire there seemed uncontrollable in view of the paralysis of the water plant. This probably brought a horrible death to many who sought to escape drowning by climbing to upper floors of buildings.

Fancy Work Circle

The Fancy Work Circle was entertained by Mrs. J. D. Roberts Tuesday afternoon. The members of the circle and visitors enjoyed a pleasant social afternoon together with their prettily fancy work. A delicious salad course was served by the hostess, whose guests were Mrs. T. S. Davis, Mrs. A. E. Hill, Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, Mrs. W. R. Hines, Mrs. W. A. L. Lee, Mrs. Kayton, Miss Home Rayton, Mrs. Eula Powell, Miss Margaret Davis.

Bridge Club

Mrs. E. L. Woodruff entertained the Bridge Club Thursday afternoon. Three tables of bridge were played, one of which was a guest table.

The club prize, a deck of cards was won by Miss Annie Hawkins, who made the highest score. At the guest table, the prize also a deck of cards was won by Mrs. J. L. Hurt. When the games of cards were concluded a delicious fruit salad, sandwiches, puddings, wafers and tea were served.

Mrs. Woodruff's guests were Mrs. M. Synow, Mrs. B. A. Howard, Mrs. Kent Rossetter, Mrs. C. C. Howard, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. Deane Turner, Miss Annie Hawkins, Mrs. J. C. Bennett, Mrs. A. Fitts, Mrs. E. B. Brown, Mrs. J. L. Hurt.

To Protect The Birds.

Miss Catherine H. Stuart of Virginia, is in the city today and will lecture at the public schools on the question of preserving our birds. Miss Stuart is National Field Agent of the Audubon Society and of the Florida Society and is doing a great work in preserving the birds that are being ruthlessly slaughtered. Her work in Florida is chiefly in behalf of Robin Redbreast, the little fellow whose fate is hanging in the balance in Florida at present and many bird lovers and chiefly the Audubon Society are interesting themselves to save this fine bird for future generations.

Sanford in the Movies.

Sanford celery fields were shown in the movie in Jacksonville this week but Sanford was not given any place in the picture and there were no labels on the views. The pictures were made some time since at the farm of A. Durner and everyone supposed that at least the name of Sanford would appear on the movie.

nothing in the picture to show that fields, although any one seeing the picture would know that at no other place in the United States could such a large amount of celery be grown nor could such quality be demonstrated. The movies show the celery from the seed beds to the markets and is a fine exposition of the celery business.

Flames that destroyed buildings in Dayton's submerged business section tonight cast a red, weird glow over the flood stricken city that added to the fear of thousands of refugees and marooned persons, and led to apprehension that there may have been many of the water's prisoners in the burned buildings.

Soon after notice was posted in headquarters of the emergency committee, announcing that the city was under martial law, several companies of soldiers arrived from neighboring cities to patrol the edges of the submerged district and prevent further looting of homes freed from the flood's grasp. Up to a late hour tonight there had been no material disorder.

At 1:15 o'clock this morning State Guardsmen shot and killed a man attempting to loot the homes of flood victims in Fifth street.

Apply to Associated Charities.

Sanford was worked very systematically on Thursday by a woman carrying a small child, and soliciting money with which to buy a ticket to South Carolina, where she claimed she had relatives. She presented a petition that was endorsed by a friend. In several instances she was told that she was violating a city ordinance in begging from house to house, and directed to the secretary of the Associated Charities, who would have carefully looked into her needs and done the soliciting in her behalf if it had been necessary.

She did not apply to the Charity office but continued begging and at last accounts had collected about enough to buy her ticket.

The citizens of Sanford are making a great mistake to indiscriminately hand out funds to strangers without any investigation.

The Associated Charities office has been established and is being maintained for the purpose of handling such cases and they should be immediately turned over to them. The average citizen has not the time nor the inclination to bother to look into the affairs of these applicants sufficiently to find out if it is money for a ticket that he really needs or something he wants.

The Associated Charities would advise the people of Sanford not to buy any more tickets to South Carolina or elsewhere until it is proven beyond a doubt that it is best for all concerned.

Lining-up With the West Side

The live, progressive spirit shown by the West Side Improvement Association has created a wide spread interest and enthusiasm that has more than fulfilled the highest hopes, for not only have the residents of that section planned to make Cleaning-up Day a splendid success, but corporations and merchants have lined up with them.

The A. C. L. have their gangs at work, putting their property in fine condition. The Fernald Hardware Co. will sell at 25 per cent discount all garden tools and implements Monday, March 31st and in this way cooperate with the association. Our live and genial manager of the Imperial Theatre will run slides in behalf of Cleaning-up Day. The interest and cooperation of the street committee is an assured fact. The Herald, too, has proven beyond a doubt the cooperation and public spirit of its editor. There is already a decided improvement in the appearance of the West Side, for householders and property owners are clearly demonstrating the truth of the old maxim "a hand well" etc. etc. will work wonders.

Has Fine Potatoes.

L. J. Hancock brought some Irish potatoes to Sanford yesterday that were excellent specimens. They were large and smooth and hearty looking and Mr. Hancock ought to realize a good price for them.

That a fierce fire which appeared to be sweeping through the half submerged business district late tonight had destroyed the Breckel house, where were supposed to be more than two thousand flood refugees, was the consensus of opinion of scores of watchers on top of the National Cash Register building, nearly two miles from the scenes of the flames.

At midnight residents of Dayton watching the course of the flames from across the wide stretch of flood waters believed the fire got its new start this afternoon in the store of the Patterson Tool & Supply Company, on Third street, just east of Jefferson. Thence it ate its way west, apparently aided by escaping gas and exploding chemicals in a wholesale drug establishment.

Cameo Bridge Club

Mrs. B. W. Herndon was hostess of the Cameo Bridge Club Wednesday morning. Two tables of bridge were played.

The highest score was made by Mrs. Herndon, who will have the pleasure of wearing the lovely emerald pin until some other member of the club makes a higher score. Mrs. Herndon's guests were Mrs. O. G. Hardy, Mrs. C. H. McCreary, Mrs. Laughlin, Mrs. C. M. Vance, Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. G. F. Smith, Mrs. Robt. Newman, Mrs. T. A. Neal.

Miss Linda Connolly Hostess

Miss Linda Connolly entertained a few of her friends informally but delightfully at a "Walsh Rabbit" party, complimentary to her cousin and charming house guest, Miss Eugenia Maullin of Washington (D. C.) Tuesday evening.

Musical and pleasant parlor games were the entertainment of the evening, after which the delicious "Walsh Rabbit" was enjoyed by the young folks. Miss Linda's guests were Misses Eugenia Maullin, Essie Panton, Helen Rowland, Karl Roudmilt, Osborn Herndon, Henry Purdon and Abie Kanter.

Furniture by The Cartloads.

W. W. Abernathy of this city recently returned from the big furniture markets of the east where he purchased two solid car loads of furniture and it has arrived in the city and will be unloaded at once to supply the Sanford trade and also the many stores that he has in other cities. Mr. Abernathy bought this furniture some time ago and received the benefit of the market of that time and on account of buying in quantities for his chain of stores was enabled to get the very lowest prices on the same and the Sanford people will gain the advantage. All those desiring the very finest furniture at the very lowest prices should see Abernathy's new stock and get his prices. He has a change of advertisement in this issue and will keep the people posted on prices each week. Now is the time to get your furniture while you have the large stock to make your selections.

New Smyrna to Have New Paper.

The Daytona Gazette-News make announcement to the effect that New Smyrna is to have a new paper, under the management of T. E. Fitzgerald of the Gazette-News, and Mr. Hord, who has been connected with the Gazette-News for some time. The News stated, several weeks ago, that it would be only a short time before someone stepped into New Smyrna and took over the business that had fallen in lines to the New Smyrna branch.

During the week ending March 15, there were 7,030,000 cigars shipped out of Tampa. Most of the factories are going at full blast and The Times says if the present trade keeps up this will be a record breaking year.

The Gainesville Board of Public Works has awarded contracts pertaining to the construction of an electric light and waterworks system combined, the cost not to exceed $97,173. The municipality already owns the waterworks system, but it is not large enough to supply the demands and furnish the fire protection that is desired, with the result that a fund of $40,000 was raised through a special bond issue to enlarge or extend the old plant. At an election held about seven years ago, $50,000 in bonds was voted for the purpose of erecting a light plant, but for various reasons no definite move was made towards consummating the project until about a year ago. The privately owned lighting plant is now too small to meet the demands made upon it.

Jerome Palmer, an old resident and business man of Orlando, is missing and circumstances all point to the theory that he has taken his own life. He has been suffering from severe nervous trouble for several months and has been an inmate of Dr. McEwen's sanitarium. He has been somewhat better and has been allowed to go out riding and yesterday morning he went for a horseback ride on his own favorite saddle horse. Not returning in a reasonable time, three of his friends, A. G. Brenham, Clark Robertson and Charles Lartigue, started out to find him. They finally located his horse grazing on the shores of Lake Holden, just southwest of the city limits. A thorough search of the lake shores and all the region about the lake has failed to find any of his belongings and the theory is that he has taken his own life, either by drowning or shooting himself, as it is known that he has made several attempts to borrow a revolver within the past few days. He was unmarried and has been a successful business man and the only possible theory is that he took his own life while out of his mind. A thorough search will be continued in the morning to ascertain where he is, if alive, and locate the body, if the suicide theory is true.

Later, The body was found in Lake Milton last night.

Jacksonville will send a delegation to the biennial convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen which is to take place in San Francisco, May 19-24. The delegates will ask that Jacksonville be allowed to try at entertaining the big biennial convention of 1916.

Florida was never represented in the United States Senate by an able or more popular man than Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, and Floridians have just cause to be proud of the manner in which he has been recognized in the organization of the Senate committee, through which nearly all legislation is shaped in that body. He is chairman of the committee on printing, which carries with it the chairmanship of the joint committee on printing, and is also a member of the commerce, judiciary and military affairs committees, all of them the most important committees of the senate.

Entailing a loss of thousands of dollars to the truckers of the lower end of the county, the heavy rain of Monday and Tuesday has proved to be the most disastrous event of the season in the trucking business in this vicinity. The rainfall south of the city was unprecedented for this season of the year, and coming just at the height of the tomato harvest has caught the farmers at the worst possible time. The loss is variously estimated at from ten to fifty per cent, with a complete loss in some districts.—Miami Herald.

The Gainesville Board of Public Works has awarded contracts pertaining to the construction of an electric light and waterworks system combined, the cost not to exceed $97,173. The municipality already owns the waterworks system, but it is not large enough to supply the demands and furnish the fire protection that is desired, with the result that a fund of $40,000 was raised through a special bond issue to enlarge or extend the old plant. At an election held about seven years ago, $50,000 in bonds was voted for the purpose of erecting a light plant, but for various reasons no definite move was made towards consummating the project until about a year ago. The privately owned lighting plant is now too small to meet the demands made upon it.

BROWN ON THE FEE SYSTEM

Polk County-Legislator Favors Change In Pension Idea

In a letter to the Tampa Times, Rep. Representative Brown of Polk county, aligns himself against the existing fee system for the compensation of county officers and wants to see it abolished. He says that the system was all right on the start when the county was sparsely settled, but it is unfair now when "some of our county officials are drawing more remuneration for their services than any member of the president's cabinet."

Mr. Brown says, among other things: "The question of compensating our county officials is a complex problem, and I know of no one who has advanced a thoroughly equitable and satisfactory solution that would work universally over the state upon a flat salary basis. The nearest approach towards placing these officials upon a mutually satisfactory scale of payment to the incumbent and to the counties, is advanced and incorporated in the proposed bill of Hon. Robert R. Tomlin. It is very essential that in fixing the remuneration we should bear ever in mind that we pay adequately for the service performed in order to maintain a high standard of efficiency and to attract men of exceptional ability for our public officers. I therefore endorse most heartily the proposed bill of Mr. Tomlin providing for a graduated fee system with the exception of that feature providing for a salary for county treasurer. I look upon the county treasurer's office as a sinecure and should be abolished, and provide by law for the county commissioners to designate a bank in each county as a depository for the funds, requiring said bank to publish at stated intervals the receipts and expenditures, for the information of the public."

Already the West Sides are busy and the interest in Cleaning-up Day grows more and more enthusiastic.

NEWS from the COUNTY

MOORE MOVEMENTS.

Rev. H. T. Gaines, as announced, will preach here Sunday, March 31st, and also on his regular appointment, April 8th. Everybody welcome.

John Britt of Allapaha, Ga., is spending some time here with his brothers, W. W. and K. L. Britt.

Mrs. K. L. Britt and children went to Bowling Green Monday to see her father, Sam Keene, who is very ill.

Mrs. George Mitchell and little son are spending some time in Cow Creek visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Commons of Stone Island were calling on the Ellsworths here Tuesday.

Mrs. J. F. McClelland had as dinner guests Saturday Mrs. H. M. Gilbert, her niece Miss Osborn of Sipes Ave., and Mrs. J. C. Vaughn of Celery Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dressor attended the Congregational church and dined with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Haynes in town Easter Sunday.

The barns belonging to Mr. Pace were burned Monday afternoon, origin of fire unknown.

Frank Bassett, who has been spending the winter here, is visiting other points in the state before returning to his home in Watertown, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Humes expect to move to Hampton Falls, N. H., shortly. Mr. Humes has a position waiting for him there. Mrs. Humes' father, Charles Avins, resides there now, close neighbors to the Fogg family who lived here several years.

Miss Maud Cameron fulfilled the expectations of her friends and won the piano player in the contest and naturally is a very proud young lady, and is accepting many congratulations.

The Easter entertainment Sunday evening was a delightful surprise and success, being the most elaborate entertainment ever given here, and was carried out altogether in a very pleasing manner. The special Easter decorations were very pretty and caused much comment. The Lillies, daffidils and other decorations were made and arranged by Mrs. H. M. Gilbert, who also arranged the entertainment. Mrs. Gilbert wishes to thank the young people who took part and the friends who assisted in different ways. The church was crowded to the doors.

OVEIDO

Mr. and Mrs. David Speer, who have charge of the Geneva Hotel, were in town Friday morning en route to Sanford for a few hours.

Prof. L. Coward, teacher at Monroe, closed his school Friday and was here Saturday evening on his way to his home at Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Teimbyer of Longwood, were in town Sunday.

Mr. L. L. Hunt spent Saturday in Orlando, looking after business interests.

Mr. Harvey Partin of Christmas, was trading in town Saturday. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Mr. Theo. Avlin and wife have moved into one of Mr. Swope's portable houses.

Rev. Hope is engaged in a series of meetings at Geneva.

His two daughters have closed their schools and are now enjoying home comforts.

Mrs. Mary Lester is expected to enter a n. lines of several weeks.

Mrs. Harvey Moors, at the McKinnon turpentine still, is quite sick.

Mr. A. J. Barber of Chulouta, was in town Monday.

Rev. E. Lee Smith returned from his appointment at Apopka on Monday evening and reports a good service Sunday. He will be engaged in a series of meetings at Winter Park over the 5th Sunday, and all are invited to attend these meetings.

LAKE MARY NEWS

The weather is still unsettled to the detriment of the farmers. Several have lost their crop of Irish potatoes.

John Evans is shipping his oranges and will no doubt receive good prices at this late date. Some growers have made deals with Orlando buyers and realized good prices.

Mrs. J. G. Martin, our postmistress gave a reception last Thursday in honor of Mrs. G. W. Venable's birthday. Mrs. Venable is the wife of Rev. G. W. Venable, who has been supplying the pulpit of the Presbyterian church of Lake Mary and also of Paula for the winter, but leave in a few days for their home in Illinois. The following persons were present: Mrs. Keely, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. McBride, William Evans of Lake Mary; Mrs. S. Anderson and Mrs. Pasamore of Norristown, Pa. Miss Mittie Bray of Winter Garden and Rev. J. P. Sundell, Mrs. Wood of Jacksonville, Mrs. Gillett of Ohio. A very nice time was spent together and the guests left wishing Mrs. Venable many more birthdays.

Mrs. H. Ingersoll, we are sorry to hear is not well, and trust that she may be well in a few days.

Rev. Samuel McBride held services at Upsala and Clyde Sunday. He reports good attendance considering the weather.

Mrs. McBride who has been on the sick list most of the winter is much improved and gets about some.

Two very nice young men of this place and school teacher of this and nearby place went out to fish the other day. Did not learn how many fish were caught, but learned that they were caught in rain storm.

Mrs. Joyce and children, who have lived here for several years have left to make their home in Ohio, we believe. We are sorry to have them go.

GOLDEN ROD NEWS

We are having lots of rain, but as yet no one complains, as it is good on the orange groves.

E. J. Cox of Fairmount, Indiana, is stopping at J. P. Strickland's for a short time, looking after his fine groves in this neighborhood. Mrs. Cox did not accompany him this winter. He will return in about six weeks and then come again in the fall and build a fine bungalow, and then he and his wife will come to Golden Rod to spend the winters. We all welcome them to this neighborhood.

W. Mixon has moved out to his home place south of Golden Rod.

W. J. Collicutt and wife, accompanied by Walter Wright, made a call at J. P. Strickland's last Sunday.

Capt. Brannon and wife were riding around in our section Sunday.

Perry Horton visits Orlando today.

Mrs. Julia Strickland happened to a very painful accident Saturday while gathering flowers. The bush she was holding slipped out of her hand, causing her to gash her left thumb with a sharp knife.

Miss Kate Mathers' school closed last week at this place and the children are all rejoicing over having a vacation.

E. J. Cox visited S. E. Mathers Sunday and after dinner they visited Mr. Cox's old homestead in the Iron Bridge settlement, now owned by S. E. Mathers and Mr. Cox reports a fine time and says his old home place looks well.

The young folks of this settlement had an Easter egg hunt at E. J. Brannon's Sunday afternoon. Those present were Misses Kate and Renie Mathers, Jessie and Lula Callicutt, Mary Lizzie and Alice Brannon, Mr. Drady and Carl Mathers. They all enjoyed the hunt, but report only two eggs.

PRIMARY FOR POSTOFFICE

Arcadia Calls for Election to Choose The Postmaster

Arcadia, March 23.—(Special)—It is the desire of the people of this community that a preferential primary be held April 22 for the purpose of nominating a postmaster. A committee has been appointed who will arrange for and carry out this primary. The qualification for candidates will be that they shall file with the chairman of this committee, on or before the 12th day of April, 1913, their notices of candidacy and application to have their names so printed upon a blank to be furnished by said chairman, which application is to be accompanied by an assessment of ten dollars to cover the expenses thus incurred; they shall be white Democratic voters who declare their adherence to the principles and organization of the Democratic party—National, state, county and city; who by law of the state are lawful electors and have their place of residence in district No. 9 of DeSoto county, this committee reserving the right to pass upon the qualification of any candidate.

All white male residents, who are 21 years of age and will have lived in district No. 9, for a period of six months prior to April 22nd, 1913, and are patrons of the Arcadia postoffice, will be entitled to vote, provided they register in the special registration book which will be kept open from the first to the twelfth day of April.

The nominee of this primary shall be certified to the chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, our representatives in Washington, the Postmaster General, and our national committeemen, with a request that said nominee be appointed to the position of postmaster of Arcadia.

Cut your grass! Sweep your walks! April 2nd.

Young Girls and Others Cannot Get Love Letters at the Window

Jacksonville, March 28.—The women and young girls who have been getting their mail at the general delivery window at the postoffice have received a rude shock. In the future any person getting general delivery mail may be required to give their home address and the reasons for obtaining mail at the postoffice instead of at their home, or their mail may be withheld until the reasons are investigated.

This order was issued some time ago by the first assistant postmaster general and granials duly habeen put to force here, until now the number of girls and women calling for mail at the general delivery window has decreased to a mere fraction of the number calling in the past.

The main idea of this order is to prevent the misuse of the mails by young girls and foolish women and to protect them against their own folly. The general delivery has been the means of making many clandestine engagements and has led to the downfall of many girls. In the future the postmaster has it in his hands to break up all such correspondence, and it is being done here.

Wednesday Club

The Wednesday Club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Wight Wednesday afternoon; the president, Mrs. George L. Maris, presiding.

The program was opened with two beautiful violin selections, delightfully played by Mrs. Albert Wilhelm, accompanied by Mrs. D. L. Thrasher.

After the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. H. H. Chappell, the leader for the afternoon read a very interesting paper on "Jaurez and His Work."

The story was continued by Mrs. B. F. Whitner, Jr., in an outline of Porifiro Diaz, "The Guiding Hand" in Mexico for so many years.

A very fine article on "Madame Diaz" from the pen of an interesting writer was read by Miss Alice Tetherly. The roll was called by the secretary and a number of the members responded with brief mention of some of the topics of the times.

A report was received from Miss Guild, one of the committee to decide of the disposition to be made of the books owned by the club on Scandinavia, and which the club wanted to give to either the town library or the school library. The committee divided the books between the two libraries.

A report was also received from the committee who have charge of the program for Library Day, soon to be observed by the club.

The members were reminded of the invitation of Mrs. C. R. Walker to meet at her home next Wednesday afternoon, April 2nd.

Program for April 2nd:
"Home Sweet Home," Mrs. F. F. Dutton, leader.
Music.
"Woman's Sphere," Mrs. A. C. Brown.
"Child Life in Mexico," Mrs. F. F. Dutton.
"Educational System," Mrs. G. B. Waldron.

Favors a Primary

Editor Sanford Herald:
I notice in the last issue of The Herald your remarks in regard to the appointment of a postmaster at this place. I think that as this is a democratic administration, that the people should have a chance to express their preference. I am a candidate for the office, not for the glory that there will be in it, but for the salary attached. I expect to make every honorable effort to get it. If I am beaten in a primary I will not feel badly about it, as I shall consider that I have had just as good a chance as anyone.

Yours truly,
M. W. LOVELL.

For the Beautiful Flowers

Dedicated to the decorators of the First Methodist Church Easter morning, Sanford, Florida, March 23rd, 1913:

Which was poured upon the Savior's head?

Said the cold and gruffy man,
When the hungry should be fed.
What was done, the Saviour replied,
Anointed me for my burial,
And wherever this gospel is applied
This woman shall be heralded.

Is it for men alone we live,
While God Himself is left out?
Then what we do will be for our ill,
Should He not be about.

Next to the ointment of that day,
Which was for the Saviour's death,
Comes these flowers blooming far away,
To perfume His living breath.

The rose of Sharon, lilies of the valley
Nature offers for His resurrection day,
And the gatherers of flowers in their call,
Brought this for a natural display.

May the Easter service of this morning,
Whenever and wherever it is remembered,
Bring to mind the artistic dawning
By those who of His kingdom are members.

Causes Much Disease

Advice about Stomach Troubles and how to relieve them.

Don't neglect indigestion, for it may lead to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent physician once said that ninety-five per cent of all ills have their origin in a disordered stomach.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be one of the most dependable remedies known for indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. Rich in Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine, the pills they afford is very prompt. Used persistently and regularly for a short time, they tend to relieve pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets help insure healthy appetite, aid digestion, and promote nutrition. As evidence of our faith in them, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give entire satisfaction, we will return the money you paid us without question or formality. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00.

You can buy Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in this community only at our store:

More Express Complaints

Has Bradentown an express delivery service? is a question which frequently arises in the minds of our business men and citizens.

At different times and at short intervals in the past, we have had a one-man push-cart service, which, while not worthy the name, was accepted as such, and came to be depended upon by people in the business district. But when the Christmas holiday rush came on and it was impossible for the aforesaid "one man push cart service" to do the work the thing ended, and without notice to the public that it had been discontinued.

Previous to the inauguration of the delivery service, post card notices of the arrival of packages were sent out to the consignees. This practice was, however, abandoned when the delivery service was established and for two or three months past there has been nothing much doing in either line, and express packages have been allowed to remain in the office for days and days, to the great inconvenience of the business public.

There should be a shaking up of somebody for this neglect on the part of the express company of the business interests of Bradentown and its citizens generally. If it is a matter that can be handled by the railroad commissioners it should be called to their attention, as should also the railroad companies' neglect to respond to our oft repeated request to improve conditions around the depot.

The Board of Trade has a committee which has had the latter subject up with the railroad people, and a short time ago President Harahan and other officials were here and admitted the necessity for improvements, but the "nothing doing" sign is still up.—Manatee River Journal.

The Vegetable Movement

The weather has not been favorable this week for the free movement of vegetables. Hardly a section of the producing district on either coast or in middle Florida has escaped having two or three showers a day for several days. The ground is full of moisture and it does not seem reasonable to expect some vegetables to "carry" in good order. Today (Thursday) it is raining here. The storm, though not a very severe one, seems to be the tail end of a pretty stiff one that is general over a large area.

Tomatoes are showing the effects of the recent rains. Reports indicate that they are arriving generally in poor condition. Beans are also causing considerable trouble. They are showing up "spotted" and watery. Eggplant is also generally complained of. Just as soon as we have a few days of decent weather everything will assume normal condition and will move freely. Sound stock of all kinds is in big demand and prospects are certainly bright for good paying prices.

The ground is still wet. We have not had as much rain as we did last week. That is the general report from all sections. Cucumbers, beans and potatoes have started from a number of points south of here. Wauchula, Plant City, Webster, Coleman, Center Hill and other shipping stations have all begun their regular spring season. Harming unforeseen disaster, the middle of April will see the shipping season in full swing.

The Celery Movement

Shipments of celery are a little heavier this week than they were last week from around Sanford. Reports from the Palmetto section indicate a movement from this week of between 40 and 50 cars.

The total movement from Sanford will be close to 75 cars, if weather clears up.

Sanford has shipped this season, up to and including last Wednesday night, 698 cars of celery. This is 20 cars more than the total output of lettuce from here for this season. Celery will be shipped out of this place all through April, but of course not in such large quantities as have been going out this month.

Sanford Potatoes

One carload of potatoes was loaded here yesterday. Another will be loaded today and possibly one more tomorrow. This is the opening of the car lot season here. The potatoes are packed in barrels and were sold 1 c. b. cars here. It is understood the price paid was about $1.25 per basket. As it takes about four of these baskets to make a barrel the price is not a bad one.

Last week it was estimated that the damage to the potato crop here was about 33-1-3 per cent. This week it is said the loss will run closer to 50 per cent. The blight has spread very rapidly. As there are somewhere close to 500 acres in potatoes here, the loss will be a serious one to some of the growers.

VERBAL ENTRAPMENT

Happy Outcome of What Appeared to Be a Hopeless Mix-Up.

By Henry Mundon.

"If the firm doesn't raise my salary on October 19," said Allan Fielding, as he tried the new wedding ring on his fiancée's finger, "I shall do something desperate."

"But why October 19, Allan?" inquired pretty Lavinia Holden, patting his hand affectionately. "Why not wait till the New Year?"

"Because," replied Allan firmly, "everybody asks for a raise at the beginning of the year, whereas I am the only member of the staff who entered the firm's employment on October 19. Just think, next week I shall have been there five years. And to get a beggarly twenty-two-fifty a week! Why, we can't begin to live on less than twenty-five."

"But Allan, dear, you aren't going to do anything rash for the sake of two dollars and a half," said his fiancée. "Sooner or later they will do you justice, I am sure."

"You don't know old Briggs," replied Allan moodily. "No. It amounts to this, dearest. Unless he raises me to twenty-five our marriage must be postponed."

"Postponed!" exclaimed Lavinia in consternation.

"That's what I said. I'm not going to start life in a cheap flat with installment system furniture and—why, what's the matter, dearest?"

"If you think more of your old flat than you do of me," sobbed Lavinia.

"I'm Not Going to Marry a Man Who Says I'm Unreasonable."

"You may take your old ring and leave me forever." And, flinging the ring upon the table she hurried toward the door.

"But Lavinia!" implored the young man. "Be reasonable!"

"It's you who aren't reasonable," she sobbed. "I'm not going to marry a man who says I'm unreasonable. If I'm unreasonable pray get some more reasonable girl." And she was gone, leaving Allan a prey to the deepest gloom.

For he knew that Lavinia, though sweet and loving, was of a disposition which could only be described as stubborn.

Allan came to the conclusion that it would be best to settle his difficulty with his employer before attempting reconciliation with his fiancée. Accordingly, the next morning he requested an interview with Jeremy Briggs, the head of the corporation in which he occupied the post of assistant cashier.

"Mr. Briggs," he began, "I wish to apply for an increase in salary, to take effect immediately. I am to be married shortly, and I find twenty-two dollars and fifty cents a week insufficient to support a wife."

Mr. Briggs spun round in his chair, his eyebrows lifted.

"How much did you say you received?" he asked.

"Twenty-two fifty," faltered Allan. "Weekly or monthly, Mr. Fielding?"

"Weekly, sir," replied the other, allowing a diplomatic smile to hover over his features.

"I did not know that, Mr. Fielding," replied Mr. Briggs. "I thought your salary was eighteen dollars. I should, however, have something to increase it to twenty, but no, Mr. Fielding."

"Morning, sir." And he returned to his papers, while Allan, too discomfited to utter the words which he had prepared for just such a contingency, retired to his work.

All was over, then. He must relinquish Lavinia and devote himself humbly to his firm's interests. He knew that the ultimate prospects were good; he was in line for promotion; he was too wise to carry out the threat he had made. But till then prospects materialized he dared not ask Lavinia to be his wife. That evening, seated at the table in his little room, he wrote two letters. One was to Mr. Briggs, apologizing for his action. "I very much regret that we are standing this afternoon," he wrote. "I hope you will forgive the unreasonable nature of my request and disregard the incident." The other was to Lavinia. In this he passionately announced at once his love and his determination, with the secret, unwritten reservation that he would some day return to claim her.

Then he went moodily to bed. He knew Lavinia's stubbornness and pride. He knew that she would never be the first to make advances to him again. The dawn broke, and he rose, after a sleepless night, ready for the new life to which he had pledged himself—a life of renunciation and labor. The sun was warm, the air fresh, and one-laden from a sea breeze. All nature was smiling that fair October morning, and Allan's spirits went bounding up again. Only yesterday all had been well. What an ass he had made of himself—what an incomparable ass! If only he had thought things over! Now he had injured his prospects of advancement and lost the girl whom he adored.

"Mr. Briggs wishes to see you in his office at once, Mr. Fielding," announced the office boy, as soon as he had taken his seat.

Fielding arose and went in to the interview. He cared little what the message portended. To his astonishment, however, Mr. Briggs was mild, almost apologetic.

"Er—Mr. Fielding," he began, "we have been looking up your record and I wish to say that—with regard to your letter, we have decided that we can afford to increase your salary rather than let you go."

"My letter, sir?" exclaimed Allan, dazedly.

"This is your letter, sir. I believe," said Briggs testily, laying a missive before him. "And let me say, Mr. Fielding, that you have pleaded better with your pen than you did yesterday in person. A vacancy is to occur in the auditing department on the first of the month. It is worth thirty-five dollars a week, and—"

But Allan only heard dimly, for, stretched out before him, he read the words of his own letter:

Mr. Jeremy Briggs,
Eastern Reserve Quality Corporation.
My Dear Mr. Briggs
I must leave you at once. You will not see me again. Think kindly of me, for I gave you all my devotion, and my entire life and hopes were centered in you. Yours, broken heartedly,
ALLAN FIELDING

Half a minute later Allan was at the telephone. Just forty-five seconds afterward he heard Lavinia at the other end.

"I shall be home tonight, Allan," she said sweetly. "Forgive me? Yes, of course I forgive you, dear. But you will have to explain just why you wrote me such a dreadfully formal apology."

POISON MAKES THE GENIUS

Professor Claims the Human Brain is Made Stronger as the Body Decays.

Poison and disease foster genius. They inspire poets, authors, statesmen and inventors to the height of achievement.

Such is the discovery of Dr. Charles H. Reed, professor in the medical school of Northwestern university.

Scores of examples are cited by Doctor Reed to prove his assertion. His list of men whose intellectuality, he claims, was thus stimulated to brilliancy includes names prominent in literature and art.

Such masterpieces as Milton's "Paradise Lost" and De Maupassant's "Pierre et Jean" would not have been created had their authors relied upon their normal forces, he contends. Such poisons as ether and strychnine, arsenic, alcohol, cocaine, chloral and hashish inspired the musings of Poe's "Raven" and created the musical rhythm of Burns' "Tam O'Shanter's Ride," he declares.

Doctor Reed bases his theory on the fact that the mind, under stress of great emotion, is easily concentrated upon one thing. Reactions have the same effect. He cites history to show that during periods of unusual stress or tension, as from war, grief or love, many minds are emotionally excited and the literary product is increased and improved, as compared with the product in times of mental peace and commercial prosperity. He calls such emotions "mental stimulants."

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 147

After Harney county is created how high will the Orlando government building be?

Suppose the Orlando editors wake up and realize that Harney county is already assured.

Why didn't Taft remember his Republican friends at Orlando and give that city an appropriation?

Supposing Orlando carries their bond issue. Will they consult the Orange county law student about it?

And about that new road to Titusville passing through miles of swampy land. Has Orlando consulted the law student about the county spending money on a private enterprise?

The Herald congratulates the Executive Committee upon their re-election of Josiah Ferris. No man in Orange county could hold the position as Secretary Ferris has done nor arrange the clear and concise statements in such a pleasant manner.

If Harney county is born wet how many days would it take to depopulate Orlando? Supposing you ask Howard's wet friends down there. The ones who always circulate the wet petitions in Sanford.

The only way to make a wet county dry is to hold a local option election within the county lines.—Orlando Citizen.

And the only way to make a dry county wet is for the Orlando people to call an election and you don't need a law student to tell you that.

Between an Orange county lawyer and the Orange County Citizen the decisions of the supreme court could be set aside and these two gentlemen adjudged sane and supposing.

AN IRISH ANSWER

Even the Reporter-Star is worried over the wet and dry question in Harney county and asked Judge Cheney's opinion about it. He replied: "I should like to ask this simple question: How can you convict a man for selling liquor without first proving that the county in which the sale is made has voted against the sale of liquor?"

In the language of Editor Howard, now supposing you could. How old would Ann be?

THANKS, AWFULLY

Bob Holly, of the Sanford Herald, is a candidate for postmaster in his town; but as the present Republican incumbent's commission doesn't expire for yet three years, and Postmaster Burleson says that the beastly Republican habit of firing the enemy on general principles will not prevail during his administration; we suspect that Robert will have plenty of time to study about it before he gets the job. But he would make an "ideal" postmaster and Sanford would be fortunate to get him.—Lakeland Telegram.

WANDERING AGAIN

The county was not divided yesterday. But then Sanford will go to the bat again, but Holly always strikes out, Bates muffs and Healy roots too loud, and the steady old umpire at Tallahassee will call them all out at first.—Orlando Sentinel.

You are wandering again, dear brother. What did county division have to do with you making a correct report of the county executive committee? You just bet Sanford will go to the bat again and every time we go to the bat we take Orlando's goat and lead the animal home with us. And we will have Orlando's goat when we come back from Tallahassee and we will be the animal to a celery over there will be no Orlando to shelter the goat.

WE ARE FOR TAMPA

The recent re-organization of the customs service for Florida has brought forth a storm of protests from every section of the state, not only from those ports affected but also from Jacksonville, the city that would be directly benefitted by the change. The idea of the re-organization was to abolish certain ports of entry and delivery in Florida and make Jacksonville the district headquarters. Tampa with custom receipts 73 times greater than Jacksonville... the city and in Powell's words allow the tail to wag the dog.

If the present customs service re-organization plan is put into effect it will be an industrial calamity to Tampa. For years the citizens have fostered and encouraged the cigar industry, with land, with buildings, with money. Nearly 30,000 of Tampa's citizens are interested directly or indirectly in the industry of hand-made clear Havana cigars. If it becomes necessary for the cigar manufacturers to take matters of importance to headquarters every time that their business demands (which matters are now settled at the Tampa Custom House by a Collector of Customs) the expense of the trip to Jacksonville and return, the delay incident to the transaction, etc., would eventually drive the manufacturers from the city.

Sanford wishes to add her protest for we believe that the chief city in Florida especially in this matter of customs is Tampa.

JUST SUPPOSING

Suppose there should be a new county. Suppose there should be liquor sold. Suppose there should be an arrest and a trial. Suppose there should be a conviction of the violation of the local option constitutional amendment. Suppose the liquor interests should carry it to the state supreme court.—Orlando Citizen.

Suppose county division had never been agitated. Suppose the wet and dry question comes up in Orange county. Suppose Sanford refused to help Orlando go dry. Suppose Orlando is found to exist without financial aid from Sanford. Suppose Orlando quits drinking booze and talks about the weather. Suppose Orlando would favor division. Suppose Orlando had anything to do with county division.

NO AGITATION

The secretary's books were at the committee meeting yesterday, but Mr. Holly was not on deck. Only one agitator had the hardihood to stick up his head, but he floundered hopelessly in the air.—Orlando Sentinel.

Mr. Holly did not need to be on deck. There was no need for agitation on our part. The agitation was all on your side, Josiah, and the Sanford man spoken of found flaws in your report and called for a complete report—something that the people of Orange county have asked for continually and never received and something that they will get now, thanks to The Herald. The only agitator and flounderer was the secretary of the committee. And hereafter the money left in the treasury will be given back to the candidates and there will be something doing all the time in your little committee that was formerly run for the benefit of a few. And while we think of it, how do you stand on county division?

FLORIDA VEGETABLES

"The success of growing vegetables in Florida is too well known to justify going into lengthy details as to method of cultivation or transportation. Among the most profitable crops are tomatoes, beans, Irish potatoes, celery, cabbage, lettuce, peppers, eggplant. From the growing of each of these products thousands of people reap a rich reward for their labor every year, and many of them make comfortable fortunes; most, if not all of these vegetables, are grown at seasons of the year which enables them to command a monopoly of the markets, as well as prices. Many of these crops bring handsome returns. Tomatoes, for instance, have yielded as much as $1,000 per acre, but the average runs from $300 to $500; Irish potatoes will average near $100; lettuce from $300 to $800 per acre, and celery as much as $1,500 per acre.—St. Cloud Tribune.

EASY TO STAND PAT

It is an easy idea for the man who never has an idea, or if perchance he has one and hasn't the courage to put it out, to criticize the idea of the other fellow. The world is made up of two classes—the do-somethings and the do-nothings. And the do-nothings work much harder than the do-somethings in their untiring efforts to block the wheels of the do-somethings. Anything that is radically new is necessarily radically wrong. No trail leads to the clearing till it becomes

Anything dealing with a subject on which people are so sensitive as politics gets it good and plenty if it isn't conventional to a degree. A proposal to do something out of the ordinary is satirized, ridiculed and alighted, not because it lacks merit, not because it won't fit the case, but because it isn't or hasn't been. The measure of slavery to what is or to what has been is simply appalling.—Frank Munsey.

MACK MAKING GOOD— "Florida throughout South Florida of J. M. Cathcart, Jr., were pleased to learn that he had been appointed clerk of the Senate committee on printing, in addition to his other duties as secretary to the committee on printing. Cathcart's success at Washington has been very gratifying to all who know him, and especially to the Tribune, with which paper he was connected when he was appointed by Senator Fletcher. He is a young man of indomitable energy, of thorough reliability and great ability and he will continue to advance in his new field.—Tampa Tribune.

Mack's many friends will be more than pleased and he has many in the Florida Press Gang. He has made good by hard work and deserves all the good things coming his way.

ORLANDO WAKES UP

A bond issue for a hundred thousand dollars will mean the paving with brick of anywhere from eleven to fifteen miles of streets, according to the ruling price of brick when it is ordered, and the efficiency with which the work is executed. This will put Orlando in the class where it belongs, in company with progressive cities that are catering to the needs of the time. Too long has the city been held back by reactionary sentiment, fostered by a miserable fear of the results of expansion through bonding.

It is hopeful that we are getting out of the rut. The citizens of this community are agreed that this is as good a town in which a man cares to hang-up his hat. But it is no secret that public improvements have not kept pace with the private enterprise.

It takes fifteen miles of paved streets, as a public enterprise, to offset a million dollar bank, as a private enterprise. If a town is to flourish, public improvements and facilities must not only keep pace with private endeavor, but lead the way.—Reporter-Star.

FLIES THE TRACK AGAIN

Quite the richest joke of all the county division campaign is the endeavor of an Orange county attorney working for Orlando to set aside the opinion of the Attorney General and attempt to prove that Harney county will be wet. The Orlando Citizen losing all hope of preventing county division and running short of ammunition takes up half of the paper in an agonized plea to the people to stop the county division because this law student had proven (?) that Harney county would be wet. The Orlando Citizen admits that county division will succeed else why all this fuss about something so remote as the wet and dry question.

The people of Harney county are not worrying about the wet and dry question. We are able to handle the wet and dry question without any assistance from Orlando and we wish the Orlando people could say the same thing about us and not ask for money and assistance to make Orlando dry as they did last time. What a grand thing it would be if Orlando could at some future time struggle along without the assistance of Sanford prohibitionists in keeping the city of Orlando dry.

The wet and dry question is agitated every two years in Orange county by Orlando men and will be agitated just the same next fall and just because Orlando men have agitated this question in Orange county every two years and just because Orlando comes up to Sanford for assistance of money and men to keep Orlando dry we prohibitionists have decided to separate from Orange county and stop all this agitation for all time to come. It seems that Orlando cannot keep from agitating the wet and dry question probably because so much booze is consumed at the county seat, and having booze on the brain Orlando talks booze to the exclusion of everything else.

The executive committee on county division here is composed of prohibitionists. The personnel of the 150 citizens committee on county division is prohibitionists. The majority of the people in Harney county are prohibitionists.

And the majority of the people of Orlando are in favor of saloons and the wet petitions come from Orlando and are always signed by Orlando people, and saloon men are against division. Can you beat it?

Attended Good Roads Meeting

Philip went over to Eustis yesterday to attend a meeting called there to discuss the question of bonding for brick roads. They report that the people of Lake county are most enthusiastic over the good roads matter and that in the near future a good brick road or asphalt road will be built to the county line and Harney county will join up with them.

A STATEMENT FROM THE GOVERNOR

published in a recent issue of the Herald asserts that "the ideal system of banking will guarantee to depositors the absolute return of every dollar deposited, and this will insure the greatest possible volume of loanable funds for the needs of business."

THIS COINCIDES PERFECTLY with the statement we have been making for the past seven years in Sanford. The plan we operate under is conceded to be the best that has ever been developed, being nearer to the Payne-Aldrich idea than any of the others.

DEPOSIT INSURANCE is much like other insurance except that under our system the Trustees of our Guarantee Fund do not take it for granted that we are running our bank in the proper manner, for like the man from up the Mississippi, "they have to be shown." We are required to report our condition twice each week to the Trustees of our Guarantee Fund and once each month a detailed statement is required. They also send independent accountants several times each year for the purposes of verifying our accounts—these audits being supplemented by the regular examinations by the Comptroller and the Directors of the bank.

WE BELIEVE WE HAVE AN IDEAL SYSTEM and to prove the confidence the community asserts in our financial stability, we have but to call attention to our statements published during last week in the Herald.

LOCAL NEWS

ENTERPRISE LOCALS

Appos to the awakening of the various towns of Florida since the wide spread depression of '95 is that of Enterprise, Florida, our neighbor across the lake. For years Enterprise was "down and out," its tourist hotel unpatronized, its buildings neglected. Now all is changed, with the expenditure of more than $15,000.00 during the past two seasons on the tourist hotel, the shelling of the streets of the town, the establishing of an excellent ferry capable of carrying a hundred passengers at a trip between Enterprise and Sanford and making three round trips daily, the condemning and the surveying out of land for a lake shore drive of over two miles, the drive to be completed during the summer, the establishing of the new telephone exchange with long distance connections, the repainting and painting of the older buildings of the town, together with the many real estate transfers and new buildings being erected, is giving an impetus to the town which will soon result in all its old time prestige as a tourist resort.

Among the many recent purchasers of Enterprise realty are the following: Miss L. A. Smith, Dover, Mass.; Jas. L. Pratt, Bridgeport, Conn.; J. L. Pratt, Jr., Bridgeport, Conn.; Mrs. Louise Voorhis, Bridgeport, Conn.; A. C. Acker, Bridgeport, Conn.; C. L. Howard, Jamestown, N. Y.; Miss Mary Zwisler, Cincinnati, O.; William Richardson, Hornell, N. Y.; Mrs. H. I. Stanton, Lawrenceville, Ind.; C. E. Reynolds, Indianapolis, Ind.; Jewett Horton, Piermont, N. Y.; Dr. Harrigan, N. J. Also many local purchasers.

C. E. Reynolds, A. C. Acker and J. A. Pratt, Jr., have bought the large packing house on the Watson place and will soon take it down, using the lumber in the erection of some modern bungalows.

A. W. Brown, our real estate agent is developing a thirty acre tract close in to town, streets are being opened, ditches cut and lots cleared. Mr. Brown makes a very attractive proposition. Lots will be offered for sale at $100.00 each, including the fencing of the lot, the setting of twenty orange or grapefruit trees and the care of the trees for three years. Cash or monthly payments.

WATCH US GROW

Presbyterian Church

The 11 o'clock service Sunday morning will be a children's service. A chorus of thirty-five boys and girls will lead the singing. Miss Eleanor Herjring will play a violin solo. Boys will act as ushers. The sermon will be an object lesson sermon. Fifty new chairs will be put in the church for this service, so all of the grown up children are invited to come to this service too.

The night service will be evangelistic. We have arranged to have Dr. A. A. Little of Atlanta with us for a ten days' meeting beginning April 20th. Keep this meeting in your mind and on your hearts.

Missionary Meeting

The Missionary Society of the Baptist church was entertained at their regular meeting, Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Calvin Williams.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Austin Williams. Mrs. E. E. Cox entertained the society with interesting current events pertaining to the work. "Cuba" the subject for consideration was led by Mrs. J. W. Wildman.

Several articles on the missionary work in Cuba were read by members of the society, and also several talks on Cuba were enjoyed. "How to Interest the Young People in Missions" was an interesting discussion by the ladies.

When the business of the meeting and program were concluded delicious ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses.

Every Week Bridge

Mrs. O. W. Brady was hostess of the Every Week Bridge Club Thursday afternoon.

Two tables of bridge were played Mrs. Forrest Lake made the highest score and won the prize, a handsome brass letter rack.

After the conclusion of the pleasant games of cards delicious ice cream and cake were served.

Mrs. Brady's guests were Mrs. C. M. Voite, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. W. R. Anno, Mrs. W. D. Holden, Mrs. Cruss Barnes, Mrs. Forrest Lake, Mrs. Smith.

Drowned on Lake Apopka

Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the bodies of Mr. F. P. Lewis and F. Garner of Apopka and Frank and Clarence Garner of Orlando, the victims of Sunday's tragedy on Lake Apopka, were laid to rest in the Apopka cemetery.

ride on the lake Sunday, and from the best information must have lost their lives during one of the storms that passed over the lake, one at about 12 a. m., and the other at 1 p. m., as when the boat was found standing on end two miles out, the machinery was still in perfect working order. Late Sunday evening, when the parties failed to return, searching parties were formed. It was at a late hour Sunday night when the boat was found, but the search was continued for the bodies, and last night about 8 o'clock the four were fished up from near the boat and within ten feet of each other. Two of the men were partially disrobed, having taken off shoes and coats, apparently trying to save themselves from a watery grave.

Mr. Lewis leaves a wife and two married daughters, while F. Garner and Clarence Garner each leave their wives and one child each. John Garner was a single man and an employe at the Nye packing house in this city. Clarence Garner, who had been an employe of Chase & Co., was a brother-in-law to E. E. Carroll, one of Orlando's grocery merchants.—Reporter-Star.

Book Circle

The members of the Book Circle and specially invited guests were entertained by Mrs. D. L. Thrasher in a very unique and amusing way Thursday afternoon.

On arriving the circle and visitors were invited to be seated at a table and announcement was made by the hostess that Miss Inez Ferran would open a school for the afternoon and that they were to be the pupils. In a dignified way the teacher rang a bell and the exercise began with a song, "School Days." The roll was then called and the pupils then present were Gay Hawkins, Laura Whitner, Bernice Wood, May Stringfellow, Ada Hill, May Purdon, Camilla Shaw, Mary Hahn, Annie Millard, Maud Doyle, Julia Williams, Laura Fish, Susie Bouchelle. Those absent were Maggie Pitta, Lula Harris and Eva Doyle.

A prize was given for the best recitation in "Rithmetic, Literature, Fizzology and Geography." Susie Bouchelle was the star scholar but she also received the largest number of demerits for misbehavior, and as a punishment was made to recite the "Romance of a Country Lad," accompanied by Camilla Shaw on the piano, and also "Memoirs of Home and Mother." When Susie Bouchelle received the prize, a box of candy she reluctantly shared it with her classmates, warning them, however, each time she passed it around, "not to take too much."

Lake all school children, the pupils were very thirsty and on holding up their hands for permission to get a drink of water they found delicious punch prepared for their refreshment by their kindly teacher, and also a dainty lunch in a pretty napkin and tied with red ribbon at each place.

When school was dismissed for the afternoon ice cream decorated with cherries and cake were served.

Judge Call Has the Call

Prominent members of the bar, well-known citizens and friends of Judge Rydon M. Call, Fourth judicial circuit, were pleased last night when they heard the news from Washington that President Woodrow Wilson yesterday announced the recess appointment of Judge Call, of this city, to be United States district judge for the Southern district of Florida.

The news became well spread last night, and several well known attorneys said that the appointment was fit and proper, and that Judge Call is in every way qualified for the judgeship of the federal court. In all that was said and expressed by those who were seen last night, there was a quiet satisfaction and a dignified pleasure in the appointment of Judge Call, who for almost two-score years next June will be almost two-score years—it would have been twenty years next June—has so competently served as judge of the circuit court.—Times-Union.

Educators at Gainesville.

Gainesville, March 26. (Special)—State Conference of Educators, including all county superintendents, members of county boards of public instruction and state high school superintendents, opened up here about two hundred in attendance. The conference was called by State Superintendent W. N. Sheats with a view of advancing the educational interests in the state.

Mayor Christopher Matheson welcomed the visitors on behalf of the city. Dr. L. J. Kelly, county superintendent, in behalf of the board of public instruction; President A. Murphree in behalf of the university, and Dr. J. Harrison Hodges for the board of trade.

All made good talks as also did Secretary Moore of the board of trade, who spoke on "What is Gainesville?"

An automobile ride in the afternoon to the university and other places of interest was greatly enjoyed.

Easter Egg Hunt

There was a happy crowd of little folks and young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Walker Monday afternoon to enjoy the Easter egg hunt tendered by the officers and teachers of the Sunday school of the Congregational church. Mr. Walker's home is beautifully adapted for children's playground and a fine time was enjoyed, hunting eggs and playing games. Little Margaret Peters was the lucky finder of the golden egg. A special invitation to the cradle roll membership and their mothers brought out a number from this department. The babies were photographed in a group. Altogether it was a delightful affair and wound up with refreshments.

Change in Train Time

On April 1st train No. 84 will leave Sanford on new schedule at 11 a. m. instead of 11:15 as formerly. The public will please take notice and be governed accordingly.

Library Notes

Eugene Field, asked for the best ten books for young people under sixteen years of age, is said to have given this list: Pilgrim's Progress, Robinson Crusoe, Anderson's Fairy Stories, Grimm's Fairy Tales, Scottish Chiefs, Black Beauty, The Arabian Nights, Swiss Family Robinson, Little Lord Fentleroy, Tom Brown's School Days, for boys, or for girls, Little Women. Sanford boys and girls will find them all in the Children's Corner.

On the reading table I notice several handsomely bound volumes of magazines—Scribner, 1888; Leslie's Monthly, 1904 and 1905; American, 1905; Eclectic, 1890, a magazine of foreign literature, science and art; American History Magazine (4 volumes). These were a contribution of Mrs. O. W. Brady. For more information write to the Library Association wish to express to her their appreciation and thanks.

Fiction—The Vester, by Margaret DeLand. Their Yesterdays, by Harold Bell Wright. Jack Spurlock, Prodigal by George Horace Lorimer.

Ashton Kirk, Investigator, and Ashton Kirk, Secret Agent, are two interesting detective stories written by J. F. McIntyre.

Fanchon the Cricket, Constelo, Indiana Jealousy and Countess of Rudolstadt by George Sand.

The Horse in America, by George Gilmer Speed, is a practical treatise on the various types common in the U. S., with something of their history and varying characteristics.

The librarian wishes to call attention to the loss of one volume, Mary John's to the loss of one volume, Mary Johnson's "The Long Roll." If any reader has kept it over time please return no fine. It is one of the two historical novels; "Cense Firing," the sequel to "The Long Roll" is one of the new books given by the Lend a Hand Society both deal with the closing days of the civil war, with Stonewall Jackson and General Robert Lee central figures in the stirring scenes, and as Miss Johnston has endeavored to make the books historically true, and at the same time weave in a love story, that is interesting to the end, the volumes are in demand.

ASSISTANT LIBRARIAN.

The Jacksonville Floridian says Senator Nathan P. Bryan has appointed Wm. T. Bauskett as his private secretary. Mr. Bauskett gave up the position of city editor of the Times-Union to accept the secretaryship to Senator James P. Taliaferro, and his twelve years' service in that capacity better qualifies him for the position than any other man Senator Bryan could possibly have elected. It is now almost the universal custom among public men to select experienced newspaper reporters as their private secretaries, and Senator Bryan has made no mistake in appointing Wm. T. Bauskett as his secretary.

IN THE WRONG STATE

Story of Moonshiners and Love in the Kentucky-Tennessee Mountains.

By HAROLD CARTER.

John Vincent, federal revenue officer acting in Kentucky, pulled in his mare and coolly surveyed the heights in front of him. On every side arose precipitous mountains, clothed with their perennial garb of spruce and pine. The trail, which wound sluggishly through the dense, disappeared into the heart of the forest, to reappear, a sinuous, winding ribbon, along the flank of the crest. There was no sign of human habitation in that rugged and abandoned land.

Yet somewhere on Bear Mountain was the cabin of the Norman men, "moonshiners" and outlaws. And for the arrest of Jim Norman, the youngest, Vincent held a warrant. He had set forth to bring him into Kempville. Others had held warrants too; but Vincent, newly appointed to his post, was more reckless than they, and he had dared to ride alone into the heart of the Norman stronghold.

He reined in suddenly, for his quick eyes had caught a glimmering flash from the peak in front of him. It might have been the sun glancing on some hidden pool. But it looked more like light reflected from a rifle barrel.

After a moment's hesitation he urged his mare into a canter and plunged into the undergrowth. For the next half mile he was safe, until he emerged upon the mountain slopes. And when at last he came into the sunlight again he tethered his beast to a sapling and, drawing his revolver, began to ascend the peak cautiously, keeping out of the range of the hidden marksman of whose existence he was tolerably sure.

He crouched beside the trail, plunged into the scrub pine, emerging, lost again, until at length he saw who he bore a resemblance to. In front of him, and near the summit was a small log cabin, set in the midst of a tiny patch of garden ground. This was the place of which he was in search.

His weapon in his hand, Vincent leaped forward, scaled the boulders on the summit, and appeared before ground, and, as Vincent ran forward, held up a hand and called:

"Stop! You can't come nearer!" Vincent did stop, from sheer surprise. For this voice was a distinct and clear woman's voice and, as he looked he saw a glimpse of a woman's face peering from below the old stubb hat.

"Miss Lily?" he gasped.

The girl sat up and laughed. "Yes, I'm Miss Lily," she said. "I reckon it's Jim you're after."

"Where is Jim?" he demanded savagely, standing over her. He had often seen her in Kempville, this dark-haired and blue-eyed mountain girl, of that perfection of type which flourishes, as in its native soil, in the Kentucky hills. The sight of her, flushed with her race, her eyes alight with triumph, set his heart furiously beating, and, mingled with this new emotion, was one of anger and shame at having been outwitted.

"Jim?" she drawled. "Oh, Jim was in the woodshed when you came up. I reckon you won't find him now, though. Jim's a swift runner. I reckon Jim's swifter than me, and you couldn't catch me," she mocked.

"Then—then—" he stammered. "Now, Mr. Vincent," said the girl soothingly, "if it hadn't been for me you'd never have reached Bear Mountain. Jim had a bead on you all along the trail. You've got me to thank for saving your life by this here change of parts."

"Well, I've got you, anyway," said Vincent sullenly. "I reckon not," she drawled. "Why not?"

"Because," she answered, "this is Tennessee, and I reckon your territory's Kentucky."

Vincent was dumbfounded. He had forgotten the warning, carefully conveyed, that the Norman cabin was designedly perched upon the border line, and that therefore he must take his captive within the cabin itself.

"You stop right where you are," said Lily. "If you lay a finger on me I'll tell the governor of Tennessee."

A light of amusement flickered in Vincent's eyes. Deliberately he stretched out his hand, found the cool, slender fingers of the girl, and held them.

"I guess the law doesn't say anything against amicable visiting between the states, does it?" he asked.

"Well," she admitted, "if you come that way, I—I guess it doesn't."

Vincent stepped forward and planted both feet firmly upon Tennessee soil.

"Nor about—this?" he asked. And, placing his arm round her, he drew her to him and kissed her upon the lips.

"Lily," he said, "this isn't love at first sight, for I've loved you since I first saw you in Kempville. But it comes mighty near, and if I can't get Jim—why, I reckon I'm going to get you some day."

CHRONICLE OF THE SINNER

Being the Story of a Man Near Enough to Deceive Even His Trusting Wife.

At two o'clock in the morning William Wilberforce succeeded after many efforts in getting his key to serve the purpose for which it had been made. Then he stumbled into the hall and fell over an upturned corner of a rug. This awakened Mrs. Wilberforce, who switched on the electric light.

When she got downstairs her husband was sitting up and staring vacantly at a beautiful picture of Queen Louise of Prussia.

"Why, William!" exclaimed his wife, "what has happened? Where are your glasses? How did you get that cut on your nose? Why are your clothes all covered with mud?"

Mr. Wilberforce put his hands up to his face and sobbed. "Dearest," Mrs. Wilberforce cried, kneeling beside him, "tell me what is the matter."

"I can't, 'm dear," he replied, "it was awful horrible!"

"O, William! Is it possible that you have been—"

"No, no, it isn't possible," he interrupted. "Wasn't assaulted by robbers. The 'sh what happened?"

"Darling! Are you badly hurt? Did they rob you of everything?"

"No, 'm only stunned, that's all—only stunned. I licked 'm both. They didn't get my watch, 'n they didn't get my money. I'm all ri'—jush stunned, jush all."

"Shan't I phone for the doctor, dear?"

"No, 'm all ri'. Jush a little stunned—'sh 'sh all."

Then, believing him, she helped him upstairs and assisted him to get into bed.

pressed the wish that his wife should remain in charge of the manuscripts because their careful arrangement, classification and preservation had been wholly her work. France has a jealous eye upon Massenet relics, for the memory of her composer is very dear to her.

Every day some anecdote of the musician appears in the newspapers, of which the following, taken from The Figaro, is typical. A critic was indulging in extravagant praise of Massenet to his face, and wound up his flattery: "Wagner? What was he? His talent is most absurdly exaggerated. I have to pick and choose among a lot of rubbish in Wagner." "Is that so?" came the composer's suave reply. "I should be quite happy with what you leave."

Burying San Francisco.
He was a wealthy youth, blessed with plenty of money, and a great number of people were ready to take it away from him. He lived in San Francisco, which city, according to reliable report, is as full of speed and action after dark as Ty Cobb is when he steals home with the winning run.

One night the young man, full of check books and ideas, hired a string of 40 cabs and hacks, and, forming them in single file, led the procession down Market street, the principal thoroughfare of San Francisco. His walk was slow, grand and impressive, and the vehicles followed him at a snail's pace. It looked like the funeral of a pet dog or a Mohammedan.

Suddenly a policeman ran out and put about his neck strong but uncarrying fingers.

"What are you trying to do?" asked the officer of the law.

"Why," said the leader of the procession solemnly, "this town is dead, and I'm burying it."—The Popular Magazine.

Killed by Madman.
Romanshorn, in the canton of Thurgau, Switzerland, has been the scene of a terrible tragedy, no fewer than seven men being killed by a madman, a soldier and seven others being wounded.

The madman, Hermann Schwarz, had been recently discharged from the army owing to mental trouble. Provided with a rifle and a supply of cartridges, Schwarz barricaded himself in his room, and from six o'clock in the evening until past eleven kept up a continuous fire upon passers-by and upon people who attempted to break down the door and deprive him of the rifle. In all four men were killed and eight others were wounded. Bugles were blown to summon the fire brigade, and a large crowd assembled in response to the ringing of bells. Shortly after midnight a number of courageous individuals rushed the house, but found that Schwarz had disappeared. It was believed that he had taken to the forest, and the next morning a large party, comprising firemen, police and citizens, with dogs, started to search for him. After the pursuit had been in progress for some time, a policeman came upon the madman, who immediately fired, mortally wounding his pursuer. Schwarz then disappeared again. The hunt was continued, and after an exciting pursuit in which more than 100 people were engaged, Schwarz, who was seriously wounded by shots, was at length arrested in the neighborhood of Romanshorn, but not before he had killed another of his pursuers.

Settled.
"At last, Henry, the question of votes for women is to be submitted to the people."

"So I see."

"Henry, you will admit that women are as intelligent as the men."

"Freely I admit that."

"And that as women pay taxes, they ought to have a say as to how their money is to be spent."

"That seems reasonable. But let us discuss the question. I earn the money we have, don't I?"

"Yes."

"But do I have any voice in how that money is to be spent?"

"A few minutes later he put on his hat and coat and left the house, regretting that he had given that twist to the argument.—Detroit Free Press.

The water being absolutely clear, he comes to the bottom with his water glass and when he sees a plate or other article he takes from the bottom of the boat an octopus attached to a line, which he drops down just over the object. When the octopus is right over it the fisherman at the top jerks the line—which makes the octopus cling at once to the thing nearest it, which in this case is the plate. Then the plate and octopus are pulled to the surface.

the door. Upon the threshold, a rifle in his hands, stood a young man. His back was turned and he was attempting to eject a stuck cartridge.

"Hands up!" yelled Vincent.

The man started, stared at him for an instant, and then, with a sudden dash, leaped across the cabin, gained the rear entrance, and was away and running like a deer. Vincent followed him. He was certain that this was Jim Norman, whose appearance had been particularly impressed upon him by his superior officer when he started on his mission.

"Looks like his sister," he said. "You've seen that Norman girl down at the store? Her image! Don't go arresting the girl instead of him," he laughed.

Jim Norman had only recently returned from parts unknown, to resume his "moonshining" operations, which had been broken up by the authorities two years before. The rest of the gang was hiding somewhere across the Tennessee boundary. Jim had been sent back to the cabin on Bear Mountain.

His revolver in his hand, the young officer followed the fugitive. But, though in the pink of condition, he could not lessen the distance between himself and the young mountaineer. His hope, however, was in his superior staying power.

But just where the great dipped down into the valley below the fugitive hung himself leaning upon the

Law About Newspapers Now In The Supreme Court

Postmasters need not demand or receive any more statements from newspapers, as to their circulation, management, ownership, etc., until a decision has been handed down by the United States Supreme Court in the test case now before it.

Assistant Postmaster A. E. Sawyer, of the local office, said today he has received the following order from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, A. M. Dockery:

"Office of the Third Assistant Postmaster.
Washington, D. C.
"On assuming office on March 1, 1913, the Postmaster General felt it his duty to enforce the law embodied in paragraph 2, section 2, of the Act of August 24, 1912, section 467 1-2, postal laws and regulations, in respect of semi-annual statements concerning the ownership, etc., of publications entered as second class matter, as he found it. However, since the supreme court of the United States has entered an order restraining the Postmaster General from the enforcement of this provision of the law pending decision of the court in the cases brought before it to test the constitutional validity of the act, it has been determined to take no further action looking to its enforcement until after the decision of the court has been rendered.

Church of the Holy Cross

Services next Sunday, March 30th, will be as follows:

Sunday school, 9:45.
Morning Prayer and sermon, 11 a. m.
Evensong and address, 7:30 p. m.
The special Easter music will be sung again this first Sunday after Easter.

On Wednesday evening each week there will be a short prayer service at 7:30, and the rest of the hour usually occupied by the regular evening service will be devoted to a course of instruction on the Bible and the Historic Church. These talks will be quite informal, questions will be invited and freely answered on all points on which anyone may wish further enlightenment. All are cordially invited to attend, especially those who are looking to confirmation, or who being in the Church wish to be able to give a reason for the faith that is in them.

Percent Postmasters Retained

Pensacola, March 28.—The published report of several days ago to the effect that the policy of Postmaster General Burleson would be to leave all Republican postmasters now in office in the South at their present posts of duty unless there should arise some specific cause for discharging them, was confirmed in Pensacola when a local man received a letter from a United States Senator of Florida in which the senator at Washington stated that he had seen the postmaster general and Mr. Burleson had informed him that the term of the postmaster at Pensacola would not expire until July, 1916, more than three years from now. The postmaster general intimated that Mr. Gib Fell, the present postmaster, would not be dismissed without cause. This is the announced policy of Postmaster General Burleson in similar cases throughout the country; an incumbent postmaster will not be dismissed from the service simply because he is a Republican. To dismiss every postmaster in the country simultaneously and appoint new men in their places, it is said, would paralyze the postal system.

"Our Personal Guarantee to all Skin Sufferers"

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons right.

So when we tell you that we have found the eczema remedy and that we stand back of it with the manufacturer's iron clad guarantee, backed by ourselves, you can depend upon it that we give our advice not in order to sell a few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or tetter, we want you to try a full size bottle of D. D. D. Prescription and if it does not do the work, this bottle will cost you nothing. You alone to judge.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin takes away the itch instantly. And the cures all seem to be permanent.

D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch, you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you applied this D. D. D.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try it now on our positive no-pay guarantee.

Silk Hosiery that Anyone can Afford

THINK of genuine Silk Hose costing no more than cotton! That is just what we offer you in our new line of Phoenix Silk Hose at 50c a pair for men's and 75c for women's.

No other silk hose at any price contain better silk or are better knitted. They have all the soft luster and "cling" of the very costliest hose—and they wear so finely that we will replace any pair that doesn't give good service. Come and see this remarkable hosiery—then you'll understand why we are so enthusiastic about it. All the popular colors are here. Just say "Phoenix" to our clerks.

MEN'S PANAMAS

AND UP

"Real Silk? Sure!"

And I only paid 50c for 'em, too." That's what you'll tell "the boys" after you've seen the new line of men's hosiery we are showing this week—Phoenix Silk Hose at 50c a pair. They cost no more than lisle, but every thread in them is pure, genuine silk. And they wear! We will replace any pair that doesn't. The toes and heels are reinforced by an exclusive process, and there are no seams to rip. The classiest looking hose a man could wish for—and you can afford them for everyday wear. We carry the full line—all the new colors. Come in today and say "Phoenix" to our clerks.

THE SANFORD MUSIC CLUB

Gave an Interesting Recital on Tuesday Evening

UNDER DIRECTION OF MRS. HOY

Small But Very Appreciative Audience Enjoyed the Musical Event of the Season

A small but very appreciative audience attended the recital of the Sanford Music Club last Thursday night and those who failed to attend missed a rich musical treat. The recital was under the direction of Mrs. George L. Hoy and her work was most apparent in the well balanced chorus of twenty voices that exquisitely blended into an ensemble of perfect harmony.

The opening was the finest bit of artistic development in the musical line. The curtain rose on a beautiful bit of woodland scene in which every detail had been most carefully planned. The proscenium was a huge bank of flowers from the footlights to the rear of the stage where the drop curtain assisted in the effect. Beautiful potted plants, ferns and vines were grouped and draped and intertwined into a perfect bower of beauty and a real cricket sang contentedly in one of the potted plants. Grouped most naturally in this woodland scene were the nymphs of music, the ladies who were to take part in the program.

Some of them occupied rustic benches, some were comfortable in porch rockers and some of them were idly swinging in porch swings.

This new and novel opening was very realistic and was so different from the usual stiff and formal first numbers of recitals.

The orchestra, composed of Mrs. O. W. Brady, Misses Jessie, Josie and Junie Stumon, Miss Irene Brady and Prof. J. M. Stumon leader was all that could be desired and no orchestra ever rendered any better numbers in this city. Prof. Stumon had the distinction of being the only male man in the recital which honor did not seem to embarrass him any.

The violin solos by Mrs. Albert Wilhelm and cornet solos by Miss Jessie Stumon were excellent, as was to be expected from these finished musicians and were encored repeatedly. Mrs. Hoy also rendered two solos in her usual excellent manner and the audience that were waiting for her numbers were not disappointed.

The Sanford Music Club is to be congratulated upon the success of their 1918 concert. Not a financial success because the audience was small, but their recital from an artistic view was distinctly a success demonstrating as it did that Sanford has a large percentage of artists. Members who love art for art's sake and are striving to attain greater heights and place music upon the high pedestal where it belongs.

The musicale last Tuesday night was one step in the advance and the Sanford Music Club and the leader of the chorus, Mrs. Hoy deserve a vote of thanks for their enterprise and devotion and the rare treat given the public.

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your mere request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes: 50c. and $1.00.

You can buy Rexall "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store:

"Cardui Cured Me"

For nearly ten years, at different times, Mrs. Mary Jinks of Treadway, Tenn., suffered with womanly troubles. She says: "At last, I took down and thought I would die. I could not sleep. I couldn't eat. I had pains all over. The doctors gave me up. I read that Cardui had helped so many, and I began to take it, and it cured me. Cardui saved my life! Now, I can do anything."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

If you are weak, tired, worn-out, or suffer from any of the pains peculiar to weak women, such as headache, backache, dragging-down feelings, pains in arm, side, hip or limbs, and other symptoms of womanly trouble, you should try Cardui, the woman's tonic. Prepared from perfectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is the best remedy for you to use, as it can do you nothing but good. It contains no dangerous drugs. It has no bad after-effects. Ask your druggist. He sells and recommends Cardui.

Welaka Club Notes

The largest bridge party since Lent was the Shamrock Bridge given by the Welaka Club in the rooms on Tuesday afternoon. The Civic committee had pretty potted plants there for sale, which added to the attractiveness of the occasion. There were six tables, Miss Mell Whitner making the highest score and winning the club pin for the month.

Green and white were the colors used. The score cards were large green clover leaves. The refreshments were cream, in the green and white, and cake. Mrs. A. W. Brown, hostess, was assisted by Mrs. A. W. Fitts, Mrs. R. J. Holly and Mrs. C. C. Howard. Those present were Mrs. Vorce, Mrs. Holden, Mrs. DeForest, Mrs. Holly, Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. Hurt, Mrs. Marks, Mrs. Butt, Mrs. C. C. Howard, Mrs. Fitta, Mrs. Newman, Mrs. Puleston, Mrs. Brady, Mrs. J. W. Dickins, Mrs. A. W. Brown, Mrs. G. W. Smith, Miss Annie Parramore, Miss Mabel Bowler, Miss Jean Wickars, Miss Mell Whittner, Mrs. DeCottet, Mrs. Ernest Tolar, Mrs. Roumillat.

On next Tuesday will be the business meeting. All members are urged to be present.

The musical has been the road from the 22nd to the 8th.

FOR WOMEN

A Medicine that Cures Their Diseases or Costs Nothing.

This will tell you:
How diseases peculiar to women can be cured;
How expensive doctor bills may be saved;
How you may avoid the surgeon's knife;
How for every sick woman there is health and happiness;
How if Reno's New Health fails to cure you it will cost you nothing.

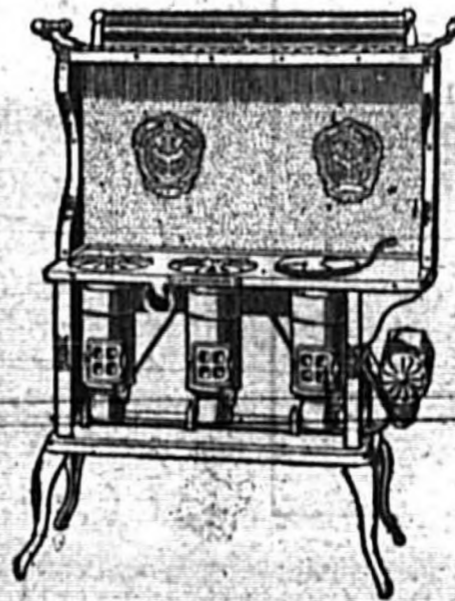

If you are sick and discouraged and have wasted time and money trying to get well, if your family physician and expensive specialists have failed to cure you, if you have taken a great many remedies and are no better, if you are told that your only chance is on an operating table, you have naturally lost faith in everything, yet it is needless to go on suffering with scanty, Profuse, Painful, Irregular or Suppressed Menstruation, Slight Periods, Constant Weariness and Weakness, Depression, Cramps, Dizziness, Violent Headaches, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Back and Groins, Leucorrhoea and all inflammation, Ulceration and Discharges of the Vagina and Uterus, or other ills to which women are Reno's New Health for women, the prescription of an eminent New York physician, absolutely cures nine out of every ten sufferers with female diseases. In fact, your druggist will refund the purchase price if it fails to relieve or cure. You are to be the judge.

Is it not worth your while to try Reno's New Health when you have nothing to lose and everything to gain?

Billy O'Lee and Irish Molly Tell About the Coming Cleaning Up
 Billy O'Lee and Irish Molly, the Gibson servants met at the corner of the Robbins Nest. Said Billy to Molly: "It's time to get ready for the clean up day over there."
 Irish Molly: "Sure and it's behind the time ye are Billy, me do be getting ready for the clean up day over there."
 Billy: "Clainin' Up Day, pwhat's that?"
 Irish Molly: "It's true but a stupid spalpen ye are at all, at all. If ye had eyes in your head, ye'd see 'em raking and mowing' and scrubbing and aven paintin' of the town."
 Billy O'Lee: "Painting the town red, did ye say?"
 Irish Molly: "Not red, but grane, it is the color. Ye'd think they do be gettin' ready for the blessed Saint Patrick for its decoratin the flower pots with grane paint and a plantin of vines, they are begorra, but they have all got the faver over there."
 Billy O'Lee: "An for the love of Mike M-M-Molly, is it a catchin faver?"
 Molly: "Sure and it is, Billy, me bye its the regular epidemic. Everybody's got it and sich a clainin up you never heard tell of afore. An' its a pint I'm givin' ye, Billy, if you don't want to worruk just kape away from the West Side until after April 2nd, for its the min, and the wimmen and even the chulder that's got the faver."
 Irish Molly poked Billy O'Lee in the ribs and went on her way grinning while Billy scratched his head, sauntered leisurely back to the east side whistling, "I'm tired now and sleepy too."

Card of Thanks

To those who so kindly assisted in the funeral services and interment of my son, J. A. Silver, to the A. C. L. Railway officials and the trainmen and to the public in general who by many acts of kindness and sympathy helped to assuage my grief in my recent bereavement I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks. Only those who have suffered a like affliction can appreciate the sorrow that has come to me in the loss of my son and can know the appreciation of kindness in that hour.

TURKS ARE IN DANGER

Not From Outside But From Inside Foes

GOVERNMENT NOW UNPOPULAR

Other Notes of Interest From all Corners of the Civilized World.

The Bulgarians yesterday left—dead on the field after engagement yesterday of Biyuk Chekmedy, according to an official report. Since the engagement all has been quiet along the Tchaltja line as well as at Bulair. The fall of Adrianople has caused a feeling of deepest dejection in all sections which has tended to increase the unpopularity of the government. The British consul at Adrianople sends a message that all the consuls and foreign dignitaries are safe and well. His Bulgarians are safe and well. His report says that Bulgarians took only 15,000 prisoners, the rest of the garrison being missing. It is expected that the powers will not on the subject of a division of territory to be presented to the parties concerned.

J. Pierpont Morgan's condition at Rome. The announcement made today by attending physicians. For several days he has been unable to stand on his feet. His weakness has given rise to apprehension. Up to Saturday night Mr. Morgan was able to walk. Saturday and the effort to conceal Mr. Morgan's condition. Later on Sunday Mr. Morgan died last night.

The attacks on the part of some of our leading states before the Supreme Court. An attempt will be made shortly after the court opens April 7 to show that the National Prohibition Act requiring the introduction of spirits brought into the country.

The Mexican government has made a formal protest to the American government against the shipment of ammunition from the United States to rebels and has requested that the vigilance be increased on the frontier. Mexican officials that numerous contraband articles, including machine guns, have been sent across the border in some cases even at the regular ports of entry and are now in the hands of the rebels.

The "smoothing out" process to be initiated this week in preparation for handling tariff revision in the next session that opens April 7. Congressional leaders.

Important step in the program of tariff preliminaries. Chairman Martin of the Senate finance committee will confer with Chairman Underwood of the House ways and means committee tomorrow and both are to talk with President Wilson and arrange for future conferences at which disputed points will be discussed.

Chicken Pilau

A jolly party of young people enjoyed a pleasant car ride to Cameron City Friday evening and a delicious chicken pilau, which an expert chef sent out in the afternoon, had prepared, and had in readiness with all the accompanying accessories on the arrival of the party. With high spirits and merry conversation the awaiting feast was enjoyed by the weird light of huge camp fires, when the happy laughter and jolly talk of the merry party awoke from silence and slumber all the crickets and birds in the vicinity.

After the banquet the car ride homeward was also a pleasant feature of the happy evening.

The members of the party were Mrs. J. E. Purdon, Mrs. T. S. Davis, Mrs.

Ohio and Indiana are Recovering From the Yellow Flood

Death Rate Not as Large as Reported. Conditions Are Vastly Improved.

Huntington, W. Va., March 31.—By Phone to Pittsburgh. This place is in total darkness and is facing a water and food famine. Two persons are reported missing, the property damage, according to close estimates of leading business men will amount to nearly $10,000,000 and numbers are homeless.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock the river reached a stage of 41.2 feet, the highest in the history of Huntington and a new stationary.

The entire business district is inundated, the water being up to the second floor of all buildings. Many homes have been wrecked and many people have been forced to take refuge in the surrounding woods.

Lawrence Herndon received news to-day that his wife, Mrs. Herndon, had died at her home in Huntington, W. Va.

The body of the late Mrs. Herndon was taken to the morgue at Huntington, W. Va., and will be buried there.

PONCE DE LEON IN FLORIDA

Brilliant Ceremony Opens in Ancient City

FOUR HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY

Other News and Views of Florida Garnered by Special Service

St. Augustine, March 30.—Practically everything else has been set aside and everyone will devote the present week to the proper enjoyment of the Ponce de Leon celebration which will commence here tomorrow and continue daily until Friday evening. Chairman A. W. Corbett and his executive committee together with the sub-committees have put in several weeks of hard work and now every detail of the elaborate program for celebration week has been completed and all is in readiness for the big demonstration. The people are giving their hearty cooperation and support to the celebration, both morally and financially. The entire city is in gala attire, especially in the business sections where practically every building is covered in flags and bunting of variegated colors representing the various nations who have held possession of Florida during periods of the past, of course with the American colors predominating.

The erection of the new grammar school building in Orlando will likely begin during the early part of next month. The new structure will have a seating capacity of 1,200. The manual training structure will be provided. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $250,000.

Within the next few weeks the Semco Fuel Oil Company expects to begin operations in Jacksonville with a fleet of over 300 motor trucks. The property where the old cannery was located has been purchased by the new company and will be used as the automobile tire factory.

A half million quarts of strawberries was the record for this season which has not come to a close at Lakeland. Although less than one-third the acreage of last year was planted this season, the yield was the largest ever known in the county. The average yield of the previous year was 20,000 quarts per acre, which brought about $100,000 into local circulation.

The contract has been awarded for the erection of the main building for the Florida Military Academy in Jacksonville. The contract calls for a brick and concrete building to be 188 feet in length and 100 feet in width and a center tower 100 feet high. It will be three stories high with ornamental towers. It will front to the northwest on Edgewood road and will have grounds of five acres for a campus and drill grounds for the students.

Laurel Avenue Needs

Several lots on Laurel avenue opposite the West Side Park are in a bad condition. Apparently they have been used for a dumping ground for ages past and should have the attention of the owners or town authorities on Cleaning-up Day. Overgrown with weeds, covered with wagon loads of cans, bottles and other refuse they are a disgrace to any well organized city, in addition to being a menace to health and morals. Laurel avenue is one of the prettiest streets and is one of the approaches to the park. The West Side Improvement Association is fighting an uphill fight to maintain the park (the city's property) and should have the approaches to it at least kept in good condition by the proper authorities.

Basket Ball

The Sanford High School basket ball team are to play the Daytona High team at the High School grounds. The line up for the Sanford team is as follows: Crosby, R. F., Raynor and Kanner, I. F., Gilbert, C., Routh, R. G., Field, L. G. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

NO COUNTY DIVISION

Deep Laid Scheme Between Sanford and Orlando Exposed

Restricting the State

It is the important part of restricting the state into congressional districts. The legislature should consider that the state is not evenly and justly represented in relation to the representation and services of the people. The Association of the People of Florida is opposed to the proposed division of the state into congressional districts. It is having less than 1,000 population and would give the people of the state a greater voice than is given by other members of the legislature. This is not a logical argument. If conditions are such that the creation of a new county is demanded, the work of a county should be properly restricted. Every proposition that comes before the Florida legislature should stand or fall on its own merits. If the state is unfairly divided it should be restricted. Pensacola Journal.

Poor Man's Club

The following from the 45th week requires no comment to express home truths contained therein: "It seems that all at any time something needs to be closed up, it turns out to me a 'poor man's club.' If the plea of the attorney for the defendant happened to be true, the poor man would show very questionable taste in his clubs. About the only things professing to be poor man's clubs happen to be those violating the law, and one of the things of these places which try to hide

Marion's Death

Marion, March 31.—A young man died here at 12:00 last night after a critical illness of several weeks. Only by the movement of his right arm, which he was able to do, he was able to get up and walk. He was a member of the Sanford High School and was a member of the Sanford High School and was a member of the Sanford High School.

Auction Bridge

The Auction Bridge Club were the guests of Mrs. Robert Newman Monday afternoon. Several prizes were pleasantly given in bridge playing. The prize a lovely playing silk parasol was won by Mrs. B. W. Herndon, who made the lucky top score. After the conclusion of the games of cards delicious deviled crabs in shells, sandwiches and coffee were served. Mrs. Newman's guests were Mrs. W. R. Anno, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. A. P. Campbell, Mrs. F. E. Miller, Mrs. B. W. Herndon, Mrs. B. E. Whitmer, Jr., Mrs. Samuel Paleston.

In Honor of Miss Mauldin

The charming hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Herndon was never so much enjoyed as on Thursday evening last when they entertained the younger social set in honor of Miss Eugenia Mauldin of Washington City. The handsome rooms of this lovely home were filled with the pleasure loving young people of the city. The special features of the evening were dancing, cards and dancing. Punch was served with cake in the dining room. On the handsome table the elegant point lace cover in rich design made the beautiful centerpiece a large bouquet of exquisite red roses, more charming and effective. The excellent music made dancing the specially attractive and pleasing enjoyment of the evening.

Quitting a Few People in Sanford

Quite a few people in Sanford are desirous of owning homes on Sanford Heights on account of the flood conditions prevailing in Ohio and Indiana.
