Big Crowd Attends Stunt Night

By MARIAN E. JONES
OVIEDO—As we arrived at the school auditorium to be one of the spectators at the annual Stunt Night conducted by the Oviedo High School each year, the proceeds of which are used toward the athletic fund, a large crowd had already assembled. We quickly found seats and had a good view of the stage.

It was not long before the 300 seats were filled, and some spectators remained standing. The plays were so good that they were well worth the standing.

The eleventh grade presented their play first—"Oh, Baby". It was rather short, but full of action and was very good. Carl Faby was the outstanding actor in this play. He and Georgia Dishman were the representatives chosen from this class for the final judging of the best actor and actress of the evening. Miss Kathleen Wait sponsored the play. Others acting in the play were: William Hart as Jimmy; Mary Ann Tealmsky as Ada; Mike Tyre as Reginald; and Melanie Jackson as Mrs. Dud.

Professor Paul Mikler's seniors were next on the program, presenting "Displaced Baby Sitter".

The outstanding acting ability displayed by Betty Stevenson as Pat Frazier and Norman Nicks as Harry Frazier was very noticeable. Betty, who is very adept at whatever she undertakes, was superb in the typical Martha Raye role—only with the Kim Novak looks and Jane Russell figure. She drew thunderous applause as well as bows of laughter.

As this is Betty's senior year, we are very much in favor of her choosing the acting profession—if Friday night was any sample of her ability in that direction. If the talent scouts could have seen her, we are certain that she would have been whisked away to Hollywood by now and well on the way to supplant Jane Russell, Kim Novak, Martha Raye or Betty Grable in the hearts of her audiences.

As for Norman Nicks, he may some day be a good substitute for Cliff Webb. Who can tell! He played the irate father to perfection. They also were well supported by Luther Duda, as Bladislav; Gordon Horton as Cousin Herbert; Eliza Tuby as Delores P'tazler; Jinx Miller as Ruth Frazier; and Peggy Fleming as Marsha.

Norman Nicks and Betty Stevenson represented this grade in the final judging.

The tenth graders were last on the program but first in the prize winning column. "Bobby Sox" was a well-presented play. Bobby Sox, played by Lois Murphy, and Margie, played by Ann DeShazo, took the prize for their heated arguments.

Lois and Ann were ably supported by Mary Ann Slayton as Mrs. Hanna; Richard Smithson as Norton Brown; Wallace Kelley, Jimmy Mentzer and Jim Hill as Cal, Bill and Cliff. Mrs. Lucy Smith sponsored this play.

We are quite certain that Marilyn Monroe will have to take a back seat when Lois Murphy hits Hollywood, for the crowd really double for her. No kidding.

The large group of people present judged the winners by the applause meter. The 10th grade nosed out the 12th by a narrow margin, thanks to the "small fry".

Lois Murphy and Norman Nicks won the honor of being the best actor and actress of the night. Josephine Mikler was awarded the prize for selling the most tickets by W. H. DeShazo, principal. She sold $26.00 worth.

Members of the ninth grade were ones who put on the "between acts" portrayals. The highlight of the bobby-sock group was Melvina Wesley (Elvia Presley) as characterized by John Holler. He drew several curtain calls. The Jordinaires associated with him in his act were Benne Wainwright, Virgil Wilson and John Perry.

Charles Parker, Linda Miller, Ronnie Willis and Johnny Tealmsky were the cast for "Tragedy". June Fleming, Michael Duda, Pat Jackson and Robert Mikler characterized "Where Is It". It was a huge success.

Hammarskjold Seeks Power To Work Out Front Query

Makes Plea To General Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold today asked the General Assembly to give him broad powers to work out with Egypt agreements on the deployment of the Middle East police force.

He told the Assembly he and President Nasser had worked out certain broad principles on the use of the force, but his report left unanswered the big question whether any of the U. N. troops would police the Suez Canal area after the withdrawal of Britain and French forces.

Hammarskjold said he and Nasser had agreed to proceed immediately, if the Assembly approves, "to explore jointly concrete aspects of the functioning of UNEF, the U. N. Emergency Force, including its stationing and the question of the lines of communication and supplies."

The negotiations, Hammarskjold said, would be based on two major principles:

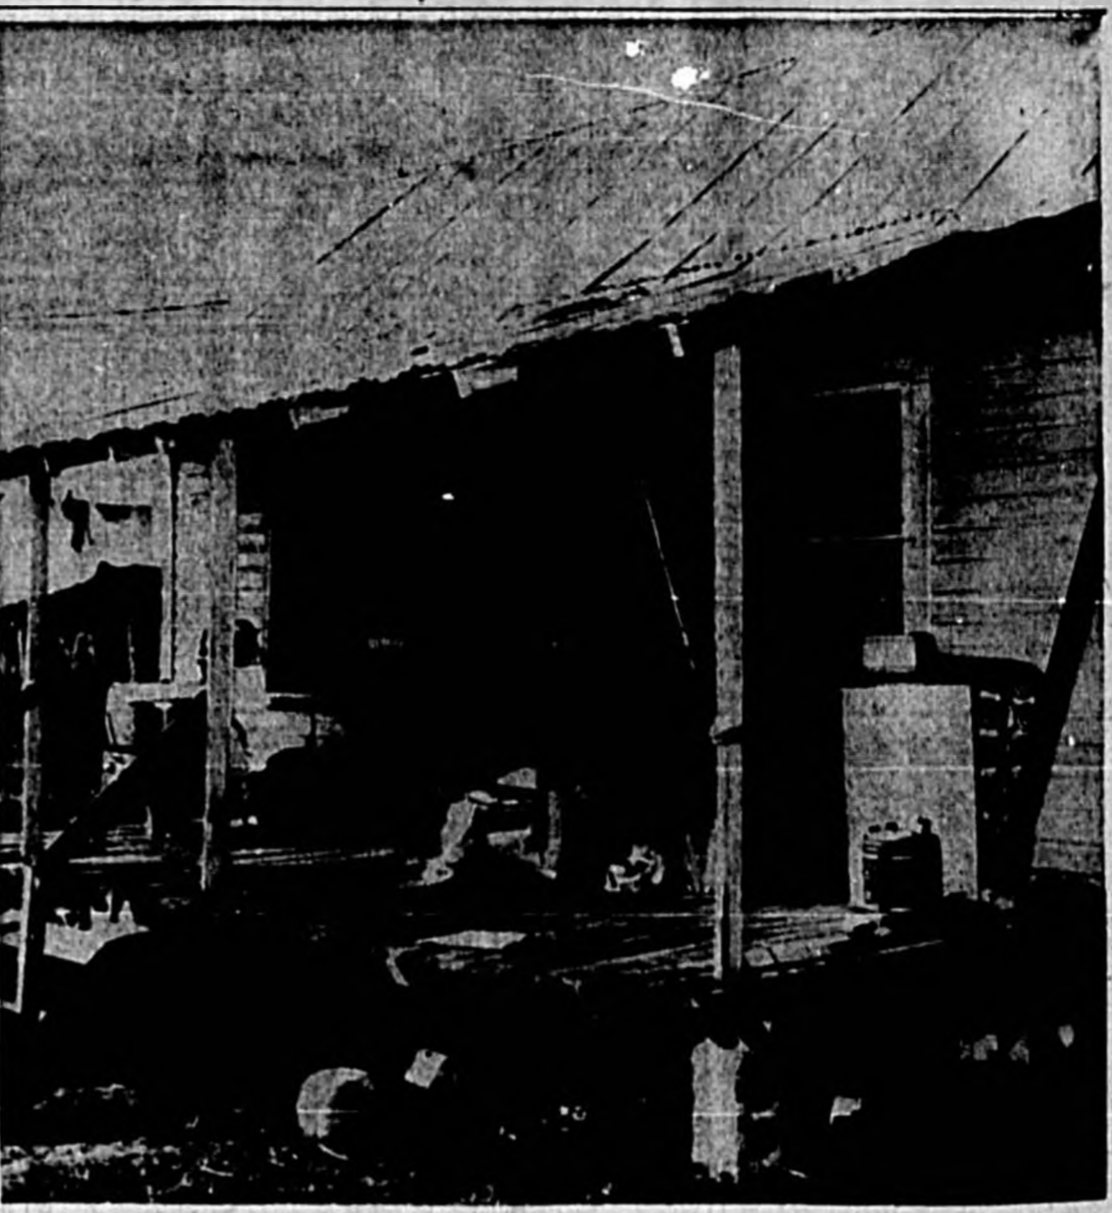

- 1. Egypt's sovereignty will be recognized in matters concerning the presence and functioning of the U. N. force.
- 2. The U. N. will maintain the force in Egypt until it has completed its task of supervising the cease-fire and the withdrawal of troops.

Hammarskjold told the Assembly the functioning of the force had been hampered by the fact that "as yet no withdrawals have taken place in compliance with the resolutions of the General Assembly" adopted Nov. 2 and 7.

He indicated he had asked Britain, France and Egypt for information about their plans to withdraw and told the Assembly he would report again "as soon as I receive clarifications from the governments concerned."

He said that, if the Assembly gave him a go-ahead his initial talks with Nasser would form a foundation "on which the cooperation could be developed and necessary agreements on various details be elaborated."

There was no immediate comment from the British, French or Israeli delegations. There also was no word when they would reply to Hammarskjold's request for a statement on their withdrawal plans.

Oviedo Baptist Set Homecoming, Gathering Sunday

By Marlan Jones
OVIEDO—The Oviedo Baptist Church will play hosts Sunday for their former members and all local citizens who wish to participate with their annual Thanksgiving get-together and Homecoming.

We know what a good time we had a few weeks ago at the Methodist homecoming, seeing old friends, etc. Now, we are looking forward to Sunday with pleasure.

The Sunday School hour is 9:45 a. m., and a special service will be held at the 11 a. m. worship hour.

Our friend, Mayor Gary, has promised to be on hand. He had better be there to welcome us, as we were there to welcome him at his church.

Turkey will be furnished by the church. All others are asked to bring baskets and eating tools. Any other meat is acceptable, also.

Get your things together and meet us there. We will be watching for you.

Mystery Surrounds Accidental Hanging

Mystery still surrounds the accidental hanging and critical injury of a 10-year-old Wagner boy who was found by two hunters returning from their field Tuesday morning about 8:30.

noticed the boy stopped their car, turned around and went back.

Longwood cut the rope from around the 10-year-old boy's neck while the boy's mother slept in a nearby room. The home is a frame dwelling just off the highway on the Oviedo Road in Wagner.

The father had gone, as he told Deputy Sheriff A. E. Evans, "to Orlando to buy a battery to start my car."

The crude rope, tied into a noose, was firmly around the boy's neck. It was tied to a post on the front porch with another rope and thrown over the two-by-four rafter.

Deputy Sheriff Evans, reconstructing the placement of the rafter from the floor at 6 foot 10 inches, the noose hung 2 foot 10 inches from the floor of the porch, and exactly five feet from the ground.

Community Service Tomorrow Morning

A Community Thanksgiving Service will be held tomorrow morning at the Central Baptist Church, 14th St. and Oak Ave., beginning at 10:30 a. m.

The county-wide service is sponsored by the Seminole County Ministerial Association composed of 17 churches.

The Rev. J. W. Parham, pastor of the Central Baptist Church is host pastor. Organist for the community service will be Mrs. R. D. Grieme.

The Rev. Fred Bowery of the Free Methodist Church will offer the invocation and the scripture will be read by the Rev. Harry W. Henderson of the Church of God.

Offering will be taken by the Rev. David Carnes of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church. All monies received will be utilized by the Seminole County Ministerial Association for county and community interests.

The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. J. Bernard Root, of the Congregational Christian Church. The Thanksgiving Sermon topic will be "Pilgrims Progress".

Benediction will be offered by the Rev. R. H. Spear Jr. of the Church of the Nazarene. Dick Aiken will sing the solo immediately prior to the Thanksgiving Day sermon. The public is invited to attend the Community Thanksgiving Service.

GOP Administration, Demo Congress Should Unite To Help Solve Problems

Once again a Republican Administration and a Democratic Congress have the opportunity to place patriotism and common sense above politics.

They can unite to help solve grave international problems confronting the nation and world today.

They can also unite to protect the greatest economy by devotion to principles of the Constitution, to protection of individual liberty and opportunity, and by understanding and supporting the free competitive enterprise system.

The Administration and Congress have before them the problem of the small businessman—the small industrial adventurer—the business people of the nation who need the advice and help of friendly government agencies.

At the rate the small businesses of the nation have been turning over there is no stability in the economy—and the professional people as well as skilled workers are suffering from the vast change taking place as big business overshadows the individual who is striving to keep his organization and business venture on an even keel.

There are troublesome times ahead, too, as additional taxes loom to the forefront. These taxes, hidden in the enormous turnover from producer to distributor, have been designed to take over responsibilities that should stay within the realm of the state.

It has been ably stated that of four dollars collected in taxes from within a state, only one dollar returns for the purpose to which the monies are to be applied. The Two-thirds allegedly go for overhead and administrative cost in collection and distribution. It is well that we understand that these monies can just as easily be collected and disbursed within the community where help is needed—whether it be for schools, for roads, for agriculture or other improvements.

There are many ways our Administration and Congress can join hands to help instead of defeat.

It behooves the taxpayer—the individuals

Myths Explode As One Grows Older

NEW YORK—Curbstone comments of a pavement plat:

One of the dubious rewards of growing older is that you find much of what you learned when young is no longer regarded as true.

The myths you believed in during childhood are exploded one by one.

That is hard enough to face. But even harder to face is the realization that today the making and unmaking of myths has speeded up tremendously.

A thing that is accepted as fact in the morning is rejected as fallacy by nightfall. Today's wonder drug is tomorrow's blunder.

"True or false?" This is no longer a game. It is a terrible problem in living. As the scientist learns more and more about less and less, the average man learns less and less about more and more in our new age of enlightened superstition.

Old beliefs are toppled daily and new beliefs set up in their place are immediately challenged. The slogan of truth seems to be, "Here today, gone tomorrow."

A few recent examples will show the conflict any guy now has trying to make up his own mind about anything:

Educators renounce rock 'n' roll music as a harmful influence on the young—but an Iowa therapist says it has a beneficial influence on mental patients, even as sung by Elvis Presley.

Since 1805 every Briton has been proudly sure that Admiral Nelson messaged his fleet at Trafalgar. "England expects every man will do his duty." But a 78-year-old British signalman now says Nelson wouldn't have wasted time sending such a message, and even if he'd tried to it wouldn't have been seen.

A host of physicians have blamed the rise of lung cancer on cigarette smoking—but Dr. W. C. Cut the top from an Edam cheese in a thin slice. Hollow out the cheese and mix with cooking sherry, using an electric blender. Put the mixture back into the shell, replace the top, and wrap in waxed paper. Refrigerate for a couple of days before serving as a spread with crackers.

It takes the average woman shopper eight seconds to decide what to buy, says a merchandising expert. But how long before she notifies the clerk?

A stock breeder reports he's experimenting with the breeding of miniature cattle, to weigh within the community—to write his or her Congressman or Senator to let them know just how we feel toward progress that can be accomplished now.

Frustrated Citizens

One of the persistent afterthoughts following a presidential election concerns the several million Americans of voting age for one reason or another—but through no fault of their own—were not permitted to vote. While the rest of us rehash the campaign and talk of the election as either an affirmation or negation of the way we voted, these underprivileged citizens must stand by, not silent, but at best frustrated.

And who are these frustrated citizens? Some six million of them, a study by one of the nation's leading institutes discloses, are victims of residence requirements. They could not vote because, having moved, they had not lived in a precinct, county or state for a sufficient time before election day. These requirements vary considerably. In many cases, they appear to be capricious and take little recognition of the fact that millions of Americans move each year.

An inexcusable denial of the voting privilege exists in the seat of the nation's government. About half a million residents in the District of Columbia are disqualified voters simply because they live there.

When a citizen fails to vote, that is bad citizenship. When the right to vote is denied without good and sufficient reason, that is an affront to individual freedom. No mature citizen of good character should be deprived of this right.

Peace Of Mind

This is an age devoted to the dream of attaining peace of mind. Books on the subject, books purporting to enable their readers to reach this happy state, have been best sellers.

There is a serious question, however, as to whether peace of mind is either possible or desirable in these times. An oyster doubtless has peace of mind; a cow in a barn must enjoy this blissful attitude toward the world. But how can a thoughtful, sensitive human being settle back into peace of mind in a world of strife and human suffering?

To have a philosophy that provides a shield against the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune is one thing. Without it, one is in danger of yielding to despair when the evidences of man's inhumanity to man begin to pile up.

But such a philosophy is armor for combat. Peace of mind, in the sense too often accepted, is nothing more than a plan for retreat from reality.

With so much of his salary taxed to balance the budget, all the average man can do is budget the balance.

Television sets are three dimensional; they give you height, width, and depth.

Many a man's wallet would be flatter if it weren't so full of credit cards.

HANDICAPPING THE HUNTING DOG

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay
Recently I attended the 40th Annual Meeting of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce in Jacksonville. Highlight of the occasion was the dedication of the Chamber's splendid new building.

The new headquarters of Florida's most active and aggressive business organization is located just a few minutes from downtown Jacksonville, at 3037 Expressway on a beautiful site contributed to the organization by Mrs. Carlotta Alderman.

No state in the nation can boast a finer or more beautiful headquarters and all Florida can point with pride not only to this magnificent edifice itself, but to the exception personnel that through the years has worked so diligently and effectively to advance the welfare of the state as a whole.

It was a proud day for Harold Cole, executive vice president of the FSCC as well as for the building committee, Board of Directors and other business, industrial and civic leaders who had the vision and courage to make a dream a realization.

None can visit the new State Chamber of Commerce headquarters without being tremendously impressed. It is a fitting monument to an organization that has done more than any other to sell this state to the world, encourage business and industry, increase tourism and its tremendous service and value to every man, woman and child cannot be measured.

Now with the added facilities and room for expansion that this new building provides the Florida State Chamber of Commerce is in a position to do even a greater job and can be depended upon to do so for under the capable leadership of such outstanding executives as Edward Ball, Walter L. Hays, Carl D. Brodien, W. J. Clapp, J. L. McMullen, N. J. McArthur, McGregor Smith, S. Kendrick Guernsey, Claude Yates, Carl S. Swisher, Hayden Burns and others of equal stature, the organization has grown to become outstanding among such groups throughout the nation.

Jazz Entering New Golden Age

By HAL DOTY
NEW YORK—Right at the peak of the rock 'n' roll madness, an older and less barbarous form of music is enjoying a new reborn.

They used to call it jazz—and they still do.

If anybody thought the rowdy strains of rock 'n' roll would doom jazz to the musical graveyard, they low-rated the vitality of the Dixieland school of horn tooters and their robust disciples. By the sacred horns of the legendary Elx Beiderbecke—"He just put that horn to his lips, man, and blew himself straight up to heaven"—jazz is entering a new golden age.

Just 30 years ago jazz was regarded as the juvenile delinquent of the musical world. Today it is the darling of the intellectuals; it is accepted as an art form; it is taught in colleges.

A jazz band led by Dizzy Gillespie even went abroad, with the blessing of the U. S. State Department, to tout for the American way of life.

Jazz is doing well, too, in the realm of the big dollar. Its practitioners are in top demand. Old jazz records are high priced collector items, and some 85 companies turn out a total of more than 1,000 new platters each year.

A leading historian of the field, Leonard Feather, has just compiled "The Encyclopedia Yearbook of Jazz," which is a fine prose pudding full of rich plums for fans who like to argue the merits of Count Basie versus Duke Ellington.

Personally, I like many other tone-deaf musical illiterates. I thought that rock 'n' roll music was a form of jazz—a sort of retarded stepchild.

While admitting there is a fringe area where it is hard to draw a line between the two, Feather prefers to point out that the best jazz is closer to classical "musical."

"Rock 'n' roll bears the same relationship to jazz that wrestling bears to boxing," he said.

"Rock 'n' roll not only is very rarely jazz; it is very rarely music. Its present popularity is a passing fad about which the parents of America need hardly concern themselves."

Rock 'n' roll seems to have a firm grip on millions of high school students. Who, then, are America's jazz fans? Surprisingly, only a few are oldtimers nostalgic for the roaring 20s and the threadbare 30s.

A poll by Feather shows that about half were of college age, only 6.4 per cent were over 30. Two-thirds of the fans reported they spent from 5 to 20 hours a week listening to jazz music, although one woman reported "I try for at least 112 hours a week, and another said she devoted 84 hours a week to jazz and 30 to classical music.

Nearly half said they spent from $2 to $5 a week on jazz records, but one fan said his weekly outlay was $25 to $30.

The most cheering note in the whole poll to purist Feather was this: 78.6 per cent of the jazz fans expressed a violent dislike for rock 'n' roll.

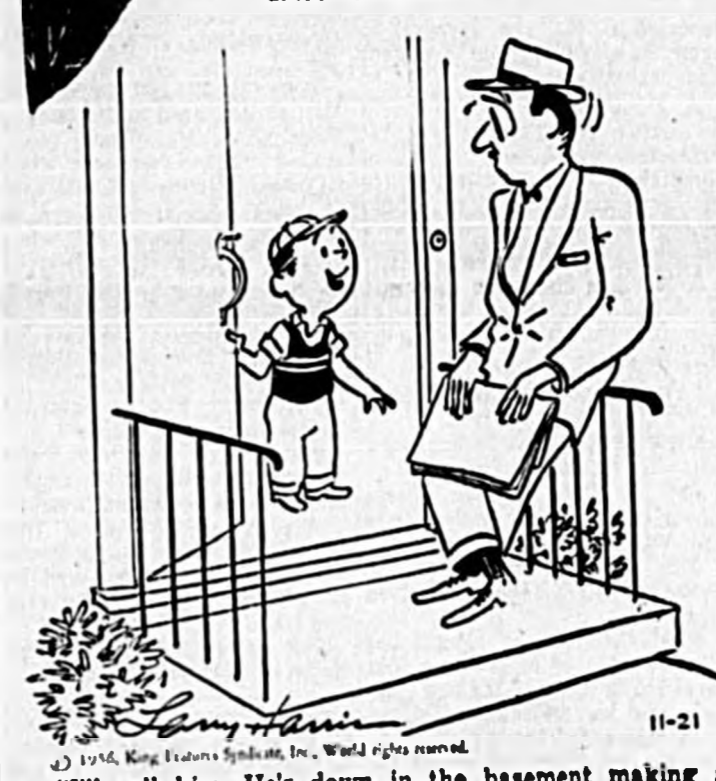

"Beyond any doubt," he said, "the rhythm-and-blues—or rock 'n' roll—fan and the jazz fan

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN

Mrs. Myrtle Gradick of the Business and Professional Women's Club has announced that chances will be sold on a Terry Lee doll and wardrobe, with money to be used for dental work on a little girl who will lose her teeth if they are not cared for immediately. The child's parents are unable to assist in payment, and so the club has taken this method of helping. Members of the Officers Vines club will have several books of tickets, so when you are contacted you know the story. If you wish to donate immediately call Betty Lemos or very glad to assist you. The tickets will be 50c, and I understand the doll and wardrobe are beautiful and just the thing for a little girl at Christmas.

The wives of HATTU had a coffee Tuesday morning in honor of three girls who soon will be leaving. The honorees were Gay Brown, Pat Ruhl, and Mary Schwartz. Hostesses were Rosemary Duncan, Ruth Norville, Helen Griffin, and Mollie Barlow. Mollie and Lil Gray made lovely little corsages out of yellow, lavender and white chrysanthemums for the guests of honor. The sun porch of the B. O. Q. where the party was held, was gay with hibiscus. Many HATTU wives called to bid farewell to Pat, Mary and Gay. Attending were Claire Lynch, Alice Myers, Anita Hadden, Diana Miller, Betty McLean, Mildred Loper, Polly Savage, Mac Edwards, Virginia Johnston, Marty Millaps, and Sally Weigle. Went to the first performance last night in the concert series, as did many in Sanford, Pinckney School was alive with people enjoying the amusing talents of Mary Hutchinson. Since I don't know my position as a critic I will refrain from further comment, but I am looking forward to the next attraction which will be that famous male quartette the Chanticleers. Some faces glimpsed in the crowd are those of Bill and Betty Lemos, Rita Bauer, Dick and Dot Mann, and guest Pearl Moore, Alice Myers, Dornell Kilcline, Fran Murray, Kay King, Barbara Chapman, Joe Tully, Cammy Bruce, and I guess I could go on forever. It was wonderful to see such a large turnout. Francis and Dotti Roumillat have worked so hard on their campaign bringing performances of merit to Sanford, that I'm sure they feel rewarded by the response this year.

PAUL AND BETTA SPELTZ HAVE A NEW CAB! Yes, a brand new turquoise and white Chevrolet, and according to the Speltzes this is an occasion to make headlines. For years they have been giving out the same old malarkey that there is nothing as wealthy as a junior officer, and commanders can't afford new cars. All I can say is, if that boat paid for a trip to Europe and a beautiful car, Paul had better build another one, or at least market the plans. It's no fair hiding such a pot of gold!

Here is a note to all Girl Scout and Brownie Troop leaders. Please order your supplies and Holiday needs by December first or it may be too late to get them by Christmas. Mrs. Heathcock will be on hand to take orders in the equipment agency. As readers may have gathered by now, I am very new to the Girl Scouts, and am constantly amazed by the efficiency of such a large organization, especially when it is largely manned by volunteers. Since I have recently been named the Public Relations Committee of the Citrus Council, representing Seminole County, I hope I'll learn more about the way the whole program is run, and perhaps some of it will rub off on me. Meanwhile bear with me and after I have figured out the minutes of their last meeting I will try to give a full report on happenings this month. Seriously enough though, I'm looking forward to working with the committee and will try to do a good job.

Beta Sigma Phi To Donate Basket To Needy Family

The Beta Sigma Phi met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Herbert Stenstrom, at which time plans were made for a raffle to be held, with chances to be sold on a Terry-Lee doll and wardrobe. The doll and wardrobe will be awarded on the day of the Christmas Parade, Nov. 28, at 35c apiece or three chances for a dollar.

Canned goods and staples were collected from the members for the annual Thanksgiving Basket to be donated to a needy family. It was explained to the pledges the part the chapter takes in the state-wide donation of gifts to the patients at the Chattahoochee Mental Institution. All Beta Sigma Phi chapters in Florida do this each Christmas.

Mrs. Gordon Frederick, Mrs. Ralph Betts, and Mrs. Vernon Hardin gave a very interesting program on "Awareness of Blessings" and "Personality Relationship".

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Herbert Stenstrom and Mrs. Francis Stenstrom, to the following members: Mrs. David Bach, Mrs. Donald Bales, Mrs. Ralph Betts, Mrs. Harold Chapman, Mrs. Gordon Frederick, Mrs. Vernon Hardin, Mrs. E. C. Harper Jr., Mrs. Warren Knowles, Mrs. C. M. Nichols, Mrs. Roy Saxon, Mrs. G. Andrew Spear, Mrs. Sam Thurmond, Mrs. Wallace Tyre, Miss Jeannette Wolfert, Mrs. E. W. Peterson, Miss Sue Batterton, Mrs. Jim Jenkins, Mrs. Lloyd Swain, and Miss Betty Billhimer.

The next meeting will be on Dec. 3, at the home of Mrs. Volie A. Williams Jr., 1203 Washington Ave. All members are requested to bring gifts, wrapped and labeled, for Chattahoochee to this meeting.

Plans For Play Are Discussed At Meet Of Little Theater

The Sanford Little Theatre Guild met last night to discuss plans for presenting a play in the near future. They plan to hold another meeting Monday night, Nov. 26 to read over some plays and to select one adaptable to their stage settings and their members.

Anyone who would be interested in taking part in the play or assisting in any way is urged to attend this meeting, which will be held in the City Hall Auditorium at 8 p. m.

Those attending last night's meeting were Donald Fletcher, Jimmy Powell, Francis Roumillat, Mr. and Mrs. George Dabbs, Mrs. Ruth Billhimer, Robert Mero and Miss Marie Edwards.

Fine Arts on Campus
The second Lyceum Council program of the semester at Uoff was presented Monday night in the form of a series of scenes taken from the works of John Steinbeck. Broadway and Hollywood stars Contance Bennett, Tod Andrews, Frank McHugh, and Robert Strauss appeared in the production.

The first choral group concert of the year at FSU was presented Saturday night in Westcott Auditorium, and featured the combined University Singers and Choral Union, together with the University Symphony.

The famed Billy May Orchestra will present two concerts on the FSU campus on Nov. 29 as the first event of the Student Artist Series.

The religious drama, "Job," to be presented December 13-15 at Stetson University's Stover Theatre, will be their second production of the year. Playing the part of Job will be Jack Coldiron, a member of the faculty of the School of Music — many of you will remember Jack as having been music director during several revival meetings at the First Baptist Church in Sanford while he was a student at Stetson.

Betty Oed and Joe Kellogg Miss Shirley Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Robinson, has recently been selected as the accompanist for the Osweaga College Choir in Osweaga, N. Y., where she is a student. She will be featured in two piano solos in the annual Christmas concert. Wish we could hear you, Shirley!

Harold Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Marsh, will be spending the Thanksgiving holidays as the guest of Miss Kathy Jensen of Winter Park, but it won't be holiday for him. In addition to carrying a full academic load in the Engineering School at Stetson, Harold is also a member of the police force in Sanford — he "walks his beat" from 12-3 a. m. every day. That boy really has ambition, huh?

Last night saw the arrival of three Sanford boys home for the holidays from The Citadel in Charleston, S. C. These boys are Allen Maffett, who is an instructor in swimming at The Citadel among many other activities; Terry Cordell, who commands his own ROTC unit; and Ronnie Robinson, a member of the Citadel Choir. We hear that these boys really had to miss being here for the first day of hunting season, but I'm sure they will make up for lost time during the rest of the week!

Beverly Cooper will arrive tonight for the holidays from Alabama College in Montevallo, Ala., where she is a junior physical education major. To enjoy the holidays with her as a guest will be a classmate from Birmingham, Ala.

Junior Metts has done it again! In the first few minutes of the game between FSU and Mississippi Southern, he carried the ball over the goal line for the first touchdown of the game. Junior was described again by his coach as having been the most valuable member of the FSU team this year. This happened to be Junior's last home game, being a senior this year — We know they are going to really miss your great work on the team next year, Junior! You have played some terrific ball this year, and we in Sanford are proud of you!

The Thanksgiving Hymn Festival staged last Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian Church was acclaimed by all attending as an outstanding success. Presenting this program of specially arranged Thanksgiving music was a 100 voice choir composed of members of nine church choirs of the city, truly a marvelous group to hear.

The success of this production can be credited largely to the continued efforts of Kirby Rogers, student at Stetson, who conceived and promoted the idea, directed the co-operative endeavors of the Sanford choir directors, and then conducted the entire performance on Sunday afternoon.

Kirby is originally from Jacksonville and is presently enrolled as a senior at Stetson where he is majoring in choral directing. For the past fifteen months he has been director of Music at the First Baptist Church in Sanford doing excellent work there in directing three choirs and other vocal groups.

For this outstanding work throughout the year and most especially for the tremendous job you did with the Music Festival, we of Sanford applaud you, Kirby — we are mighty proud of your accomplishment!

Mrs. Joe L. Corley Honors Wedding Party At Dinner

Fall decorations, with gold predominating, were used throughout the Corley home Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Joe L. Corley entertained the Singletary-Hyman wedding party at a rehearsal dinner.

Very effective use was made of the gold theme at the bride's table, which was overlaid with an ecru cutwork cloth and centered with a pair of wedding bells flanked by gold tapers. Wedding bells were used also as place cards.

The dining room table featured a centerpiece of gold, with gold candles used here also, as well as on the individual tables, which were centered with lovely bridal arrangements.

Those attending the dinner, in addition to the bride and groom, were Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Hyman, of Waynesboro, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Guy L. Ryman Jr., Lt. J. G. and Mrs. Henry Walker, Lt. J. G. and Mrs. Paul O'Dea, Lt. J. G. and Mrs. Dean Ortmann, Lt. J. G. and Mrs. Robert Fitzsimmons, Lt. J. G. and Mrs. Gordon Jackson, Lt. J. G. and Mrs. A. C. McAdams, Miss Clare M. C. Corley, Pauline Murphy, Miss Anna Corley and Miss Irma Jean Corley.

Large Crowd Enjoys Annual Class Event

Approximately 115 people attended the second annual Thanksgiving Dinner held Monday night in the Educational Building by the Herman Morris Bible Class of the First Baptist Church.

All the wives and children of the members were invited to this affair, which all enjoyed immensely.

Hill Stomper, president of the class, was in charge of the dinner and Volie Williams Jr. was master of ceremonies and song-leader.

Dependable Class Plans Christmas Party For Dec. 17

The Dependable Class of the First Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. R. W. Herron Monday evening. The rooms were beautifully decorated with the Thanksgiving theme. The devotional was given by Mrs. Herron, using First Corinthians, Chapter 13, as her text. Mrs. John Schirard Jr. presided over the business meeting, with monthly reports being given. The sunshine committee reported on six visits made of late which a letter and Christmas card was read from the Class' adopted Korean boy.

Plans for the Christmas party to be held at McKinley Hall Dec. 17 were discussed.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to the following: Mrs. Lowell Ozier, Mrs. John Schirard Jr., Mrs. P. H. Lansing, Mrs. Cyril Butner, Mrs. Sam Murphy, Mrs. M. H. Wyatt, Mrs. A. L. Skinner, Mrs. James Wright and Mrs. C. L. Wallis.

Teams Are Evenly Favored In Tilt

The tussle battle between the Sanford Seminoles and the DeLand Bulldogs tonight in Memorial Stadium is expected to see the Seminoles trying for a victory harder than has been attempted during this season.

Suffering their heartbreaking setback last week to Leesburg, the Seminoles are expected to come back into gridiron battle with a renewed vigor reminiscent of past seasons.

The two teams will be evenly favored, with the Bulldogs from DeLand holding a slight weight advantage. In the speed department, Bulldog Al Scott will be the workhorse for the visitors. Scott is a triple threat man with a powerful passing arm.

During the few past days of preparation the Seminole mentoring staff has put their charges through intensive defensive pass drills in an attempt to bolster a front that will be impervious to the Bulldog air attack.

"If our defensive line is as good as they were last week against Leesburg, we'll be able to chill Scott and the DeLand running game," Bill Fleming said this morning. "He'll be added, but if our pass defense is as poor as it was in the crucial moments of last week's game, we'll be rocked back on our heels."

Assistant coach Bud Loyer, after having observed the Bulldogs, said, "They'll be faster than we, but I don't think they can match the drive and determination we showed last week. For their lack of experience DeLand shows almost uncanny football sense and they are the type team that can capitalize on mistakes and score before you know what happens."

Dave Lawrie said that the passing game would be as prominent as it was last week. "We have some plays now that are effective, and we won't hesitate to throw the ball at any time the situation calls for it. We are out to win this one, and we don't expect to take no for an answer."

Fleming pointed out that the DeLand line was a green but aggressive one, and the spirits of the team are high. "They like to run through the line and they have a couple of boys in the person of Bill Brackett and Kit Giles that can open holes for Scott to shoot through." Brackett tips the scales at an even 200 pounds and Giles at 210.

Both teams will be seeking their second win of the season; both teams have had a tough schedule; both teams lack experience but have good potential; and both teams scored their singular victories over the same team—New Smyrna Beach.

This, the grudge classic of the year for both DeLand and Sanford, will see the teams on an even scale and will match determination and drive more than anything else. Both teams have depth in green reserves, and both teams misjudged their power in pre-season ratings.

Right halfback Bruce Gibson was the initial veteran around whom the Bulldog attack was based. Gibson showed well last year and has been combining with Scott to be a danger to any club. The Thanksgiving eve event tonight will be a real test of

Lyman To Take On Powerful Hastings

The Lyman Greyhounds hopes for a varsity win before the end of the season dimmed considerably last week after they dropped their homecoming to Mt. Dora. Friday night the Greyhounds travel to Hastings to take on the powerful veteran Spudsters.

In summing up his season Jim Payne, Greyhound head mentor, said that his perennial plague of lack of reserves hadn't changed. The team began its first season as an independent by switching to the speedy and deceptive Split-T, but key injuries as the season progressed set the Greyhounds floundering.

Crooms Works On Pass Defense To Meet DeLand

After a bruising setback from a blistering aerial attack at the hands of Daytona last week, Crooms Academy Panther head mentor Joe Fair has taken no chances on a recurrence of a similar situation tonight when the Panthers travel to DeLand to be hosted by Euclid. This morning the squad wound up a session of morning and afternoon practices that was concerned entirely with an effective pass defense.

"DeLand is principally a passing club and this boy Bob Butler is one of the finest passers around," Fair said today. "We must either stop the passing game or play a wide-open, free scoring sort of thing that means little to the winner."

Fair said his team was in no physical condition to wage a wide open game. "We were hindered with a lot of bugs and bruises last week, and the boys haven't had time to hammer up yet," Fair said. "We are rushing into this game and we don't like it. We completely misjudged our passing attack, and two days is hardly time enough to do anything about it."

Euclid of DeLand has a 4-4 record for the season so far and all their victories have come as a result of a successful aerial attack. Euclid, however, has not been in the type competition as has Crooms and there is only one game as a basis of comparison, and that is highly unreliable.

The only mutual foe of the two teams is Hungerford of Winter Park. Crooms played an unimpressive tie with the team while Euclid fell by one touchdown before the Hungerford squad.

"We are proud of our boys so far this season," Fair said this morning. "Every team we have faced this season represents bigger schools. Next year we will be an active, participating member of the Big 9 North Conference and we hope we'll have an even better season than."

Fair pointed out L. J. McFadden, the Panther fullback, particular praise after last week's game. "McFadden was a consistent runner against Daytona. He could bull his way for three or four yards through the middle of that tough Centipede line last week and kept us alive for the first half. We plan on building our offense around him tonight."

Walt McPherson, coach of the basketball and golf teams at San Jose State College, graduated from San Jose State in 1939.

The 1956 football season marked the 60th in the history of the sport at the University of North Dakota.

Movie Industry Getting Help From G. Abbott

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (CP) - Does the movie business have a future? James Stewart thinks so, but he adds there'll be some changes made.

Stewart is worth listening to. After all, he's a No. 1 star at the box office. Despite his casual manner, he's a keen student of things cinematic. Probably no actor in the post-war period has earned more from movies than he. Jimmy was the pioneer of the 50 per cent deal. When his salary got too big for Universal-International, he was offered half of the returns for his services in a picture. Since most of his films attract multimillion-dollar grosses - this proved profitable indeed.

The picture business has got a change, Jimmie reflected on the "Night Passage" set. "We've got to make movie going more attractive for the average public. That means we've got to have more comfortable seats, better air conditioning, more attractive theaters. We've got to make going out to the movie theater a real treat for the family."

The biggest bore, he opined, was going to the movie house and being unable to get in. "There's nothing that sours a movie goer more," he said. "I think we've got to think about having a reserved seat policy, the same as legit houses. When people go to the theater, they want to know they're going to be able to find a seat."

As a matter of fact, much debate is going on in greater circles on the same matters Stewart brings up. The trade journal Variety has raised the issue that many theater owners are poor housekeepers and have allowed their theaters to get run down.

Appendicitis Can Still Be Dangerous To Some

By HERMAN H. SCHMIDT, M.D.

ALTHOUGH the death rate formerly can be little if any help to the physician trying to diagnose acute appendicitis is extremely low (only 0.3 per cent), appendicitis still is dangerous for the very young and the very old. In 1948, the last year for which I have national figures available, the death rate from appendicitis was one-seventh of what it had been in 1900. It was 1.7 per cent.

Yet, low as this figure might seem, it reveals that 2,800 persons died of appendicitis that year - an average of about 80 per week. Specific Remedy An appendectomy is a relatively simple operation. In the field of medicine, we feel that we have a specific remedy for this disease in surgery. Then why so many deaths?

Again let me cite Census Bureau statistics. They show that 1,500 of those 2,800 deaths occurred in persons over the age of 64. Many of the remainder were children.

High Risk In both the elderly and the young, appendicitis carries an inordinately high risk because of vagueness of symptoms. In the aged, onset of the disease usually is insidious. The victim may fail to seek treatment promptly, either because of fear or because he is accustomed to discomfort. Also, his complaints of diarrhea and vague abdominal distress may give the appearance of a chronic illness.

Little Help Young children, of course, usually

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE New Life For Oil Wells Recent Middle Eastern events threatening the transport of the West's major supplies of crude petroleum focused new attention on the increasing efforts to boost oil production in the United States. One concept which has excited particular interest is that of secondary oil recovery using citric acid, now being studied by major oil producers and by Pfizer, the leading citric acid producer. Secondary oil recovery, usually by water flooding an underground reservoir, is used for wells in which production has slowed down to an uneconomical rate. Recovery by flooding, however, is hampered by the formation of insoluble iron compounds in the water which clog the underground "pores" in the rock between the oil and the well proper. To get rid of this iron, oil men use a chemical called a "chelating agent" from the Greek word for "claw," which combines with the iron and snatches it out of the rock pores into solution. Some chelating agents are relatively expensive, and most of them are not selective enough; they will "grab" several other elements besides iron. But Citric acid - a common chemical in nature, particularly in citrus fruits - is cheaper. Pfizer makes it by the ton by a mold fermentation process. And, as a chelating agent, citric acid is highly selective, preferring iron to any other element likely to be prevalent in an oil well. Trials of citric acid in a number of old tired wells have shown that it works. Thus chemistry is adding still another contribution to the productivity of our industrial civilization.

America's Millions Celebrating Thanksgiving With Grateful Hearts

Holiday Observed Nationwide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
America's millions — with many, many things to be grateful for — celebrate Thanksgiving today with traditional church-going, feasting, family gatherings, football games and parades.

Many had one eye on the turkey and the other on events in Europe and the Middle East.

Prayers of thanks for past blessings mingle with prayers that there shall be no more war and that the down-trodden peoples of the world shall win their freedom.

Special church services — many of the nation is fair and cold.

For President and Mrs. Eisenhower there is attendance at the National Presbyterian church in Washington, to be followed by a turkey dinner at the home of their son, Maj. John Eisenhower, and his family at Ft. Belvoir, Va.

Family reunions and gatherings of old friends around the festive board were abundant.

Railroads and airlines reported heavy travel.

Today was the first Thanksgiving Day for the initial group of Hungarian refugees from the current Communist terror. Sixty of them landed yesterday at an Air Force base in New Jersey and more are due tonight.

Holiday menus were prepared in hospitals, jails and other public institutions.

Servicemen and women at home and abroad also feasted, with turkey tops on the menu.

For many of the unfortunate, from New York's Bowery to skid rows far away, there is free turkey and trimmings at shelters.

In Washington, diplomats from American republics are to be among worshippers at the 47th annual Pan-American Mass at St. Patrick's church.

Fifty residents of Plymouth, Mass., where the first Thanksgiving Day was observed, wear Pilgrim dress in with behind a drummer up Coles Hill to attend services at First church.

Department store parades are being held in New York City, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Detroit and elsewhere.

Great big, colorful balloons will be on hand to sell during the parade, Mason Wharton chairman of the Balloon Committee and the Christmas Shopping Tour Committee, said. "Proceeds from the sale of the balloons will provide a gala shopping tour in Sanford for deserving boys and girls from a nearby orphanage."

Children, and parents as well, are looking forward to seeing the ten colorful bands march and play in next Wednesday's parade. Prominent among the visiting bands will be the Stetson University Marching Band accompanied by a corps of majorettes and drum majors who will thrill their Christmas Parade audience. In addition, the Florida Military Academy marching unit and band will be on hand in Sanford for the first time. The Winter Park High School band will be here "with bells on" according to a "message from its director recently. The Boone High School Band in their colorful and unique regalia will also be here to take part.

Also prominent in hand positions will be the Seminole High School band, Crooms Academy Band, Oviedo-Lyman High School Band, Junior High-Pinecrest School Band.

Other out-of-town bands who will take part in next Wednesday's parade are those from Leesburg High School and DeLand High School.

Formal Opening Of Mayfair Inn Set For Dec. 8

Ushering in the winter and Christmas social season will be the New York Giants' annual formal opening of the Mayfair Inn, Saturday night, Dec. 8 beginning at 7 p.m.

The announcement, made today by the Mayfair Inn's General Manager Frank Mebane Jr. will start the reservation list for the gala occasion that will take place in just a few days more than two weeks.

Reservations, said General Manager Mebane, may be made by phoning the hotel.

According to the program for opening night at the plush New York Giants' Mayfair Inn, Cocktails will be served at 7 p.m., Dinner will begin at 8 o'clock, and dancing will get underway at 9:30.

Larry Fuller and His Orchestra will play for dancing on opening night and will then appear throughout the season at the Mayfair Inn. The popular three-piece orchestra comes to Sanford and the Mayfair Inn from New York City.

Dinner, this year, will be served in the newly decorated dining room which is again in charge of Mrs. Ida Mae King and her husband Herbert King. Mr. and Mrs. King will be remembered locally for their unusual personality and popularity among guests visiting the Mayfair Inn.

The huge dining room has been completely done over, Manager Mebane said today, and especially attractive are the brilliant new chandeliers which adds a touch of elegance and formality.

It has been earlier reported that the coming season at Mayfair Inn will be the biggest in the history of the popular vacation spot here in Sanford.

Reservations have been received for weeks from hundreds of the former guests of the hotel and new guests who are looking forward to spending their winter vacation in Central Florida.

Following close on the heels of the gala annual opening night at the Mayfair Inn will be the Second Annual Mayfair Inn $15,000 PGA Open. The mid-December golfing event which drew thousands to Sanford last year will bring even larger crowds for Florida's biggest and most popular tournament.

Mebane said today that reservations may be made for opening night tables by calling the Mayfair Inn.

A MESSAGE FROM SANTA CLAUS was delivered at the local Western Union office to Garfield Willetts, chairman of the Santa Claus Committee for the Jaycees. Santa Claus said "I'll be in Sanford next Wednesday." (Staff Photo)

USO Building Is Being Redecorated

The Sanford USO Club is closed until Dec. 1 while the interior of the building gets a complete renovation.

City crews are busy sanding floors, repainting the interior, repairing furniture, and fixing up in general.

When reopened Dec. 1, said Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider late yesterday, the Navy men will have a completely new and redecorated USO to enjoy.

The building, after Dec. 1, said Krider, will be for the exclusive use of the USO and their activities.

Social Security representatives, and representatives of other governmental agencies who have been using the USO facilities will now interview their clients and groups in the recreational building located in Fort Mellon Park.

"Our Navy men must be happy and have a place for their USO activities," said Krider.

Weather

Fair and much colder today; highest in mid 30's; fair and colder tonight, lowest 32-40; fair and continued cold Friday.

Santa Claus To Be Here For Parade

Members of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce are happy today. They've heard from Santa Claus!

For awhile, the Committee slated to meet Santa Claus, and appointed to see that the boys and girls of Sanford and Seminole County all had an opportunity to see Santa were pretty glum.

Garfield Willetts, chairman of the committee, today had a telegram from Santa Claus at his headquarters at the North Pole, which states that the Jolly Old Gentleman will arrive in Sanford in time for the gigantic Jaycee-Merchants Association Parade next Tuesday.

The telegram read as follows: Boys and Girls of Sanford: I will be in Sanford for the Christmas Parade, Nov. 28, 1956. Be good boys and girls for Mom and Dad. See you then.

Love, Santa. Willetts was elated over his telegram at the Western Union office late yesterday afternoon. He says, our plans to meet Santa and have him in the Parade on time will now be completed. "We

First Aquatic Art Symposium Stated In Winter Park

A symposium to acquaint Central Florida with the activities of the International Academy of Aquatic Art will be held at the Langford Hotel in Winter Park on Dec. 21-23.

The first Annual Aquatic Art Symposium will be conducted by Beulah Gundling, Pan-American champion, 5 times U.S.—A.A.U. Champion, 1935-36 winner of the coveted solo 1st class honors at the International Festival of Aquatic Art, and her husband and coach, Henry I. Gundling, president of the International Academy of Aquatic Art and a member of the U.S. Olympic Games committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Gundling will be assisted by Miss Lynda Bridgers of Altamonte Springs and Seminole County who won international recognition last summer when she received third class honors in the Academy Festival held at McGill University, Montreal, Canada.

Lynda Bridgers was responsible for the appearance in Central Florida at the Symposium. The Gundlings coached Lynda to stardom.

Lynda, 15-year-old is a junior in the top five of her class at Winter Park High School, is an honorary member of the fabulous Ivar-Nixon Troupe of Munich, Germany, and the Peterboro Oratorical Swimming Club, Peterborough, Ontario, Canada.

Sam Snyder, producer of the world famous Water Follies has already offered Miss Lynda Bridgers star billing at top prices anytime she wishes to turn professional but her formal education comes first.

Those attending the symposium will have an opportunity to see Lynda perform, demonstrating figures and variations not yet standardized or listed in the A.A.U. Swimming Hand books.

Those wishing to register for the Symposium and participate may do so by contacting Mrs. A. L. Bridges, chairman, Aquatic Art Symposium, Langford Hotel, Winter Park.

The proposed schedule on Dec. 21 is the first session to begin promptly at 7:30 p.m.; on Dec. 22 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon — 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. — and 8 to 10 p.m.; on Sunday Dec. 23 the Symposium ends with a session from 2 to 5 p.m.

However, a water ballet, "Christmas Around The World" will be staged Sunday night, Dec. 23 at 8 p.m. by Langford Marine Club. It will be directed by Miss Diane Nita, a former star of Sam Snyder's Water Follies.

Interstate Highway Survey Is Underway

A progress report on the Florida Interstate System, which includes plans for the Lake Monroe Causeway originally proposed to cross the lake at the foot of French Ave. and join 17-92 in Volusia County by way of a new route, was made late yesterday to Gov. LeRoy Collins by Road Board Chairman Wilbur E. Jones.

Road Chairman Jones said yesterday, in Tallahassee air and field surveys of 1,164 miles of the Florida Interstate Highway system are underway preparatory to submitting detailed route descriptions to federal highway authorities.

No mention was made in the report regarding the Lake Monroe Causeway which Fifth District Road Board Member William Dial said would be the first section of the proposed system to get underway.

However, Jones did say that the road department is holding off work on the detailed route description of the section between Lakeland and Daytona Beach by way of Orlando pending conferences with representatives of the Glenn L. Martin Co., which is planning to erect a large manufacturing plant south of Orlando.

In the first of regular monthly progress reports to Gov. Collins on the interstate system, Jones said detailed topographic and traffic studies are being made to meet the requirement that route descriptions be presented to the Bureau of Public Roads by Jan. 1.

He said the road department also is setting up procedures for making detailed cost estimates of the proposed Florida system. The estimates must be in the hands of the bureau by July 1.

Under the federal interstate highway law, the federal government will bear 90 per cent of the cost of building multiple lane, limited access highways connecting population centers over a 15 year period.

Florida has been allocated 19 million dollars in federal funds for the current fiscal year and 23 million dollars for the second year of the program. The state must commit the funds within a two-year period.

Jones advised the governor secretary of the department of transportation.

The only interstate highway project actually under way is a five-mile section at the Lakeland and Daytona Beach link. Another five-mile stretch between Plant City and the Polk County line will be put to contract as soon as rights of way acquisitions are completed.

A study of Tampa's metropolitan street system, including an expressway and interstate route through the city, will be completed shortly after the first of the year, Jones said.

Field surveys have been completed between U.S. 901 in Hillsborough County and Lakeland on the interstate system location and contract plans are nearing completion on a third Tampa Bay bridge which will be required to carry an interstate highway into St. Petersburg.
