

PARTY PLANS FOR CONGRESS ASSUME SHAPE

Democrats In Senate And House Plan Conference To Frame Legislative Work

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Party plans for the coming session took clearer outlines yesterday, particularly those of the Democrats—almost in control of Congress.

With the Democrats almost certain to organize the House, Senator Harrison of Mississippi gave notice that if any vacancies occurred during the session to give his party priority in the Senate it would take the reins there.

Heartened by the trend of recent elections, Democratic leaders in both the House and Senate plan early conference to frame a legislative program.

It would be directed principally to a party policy on taxes and the tariff.

Support for previous Democratic demands for tariff revision was expressed by Representative Rainey, Democrat, Illinois, who said tariffs should be reduced on a reciprocal basis.

He also urged a land policy for the Democrats along the lines of the reforestation plan of Governor Roosevelt adopted last week by New York state.

C. Of C. Secretary Has Full Day With His Engagements

That Seminole County residents know how to keep their Chamber of Commerce secretary busy is evidenced by his engagements, covering a 24 hour period.

At 7:00 o'clock last night he met with the committee in charge of the Seminole County Progress Day Celebration to be held here early in December with Governor Doyle E. Carlton as guest.

At 8:30 o'clock he addressed members of the Ovids Agricultural Club in the school house at Ovids.

This morning at 9:00 o'clock he spoke to students of Seminole High School and at 10:15 o'clock he spoke to students of Junior High School.

At noon today he attended and spoke at a Rotary Club meeting, and at 2:00 o'clock he visited and inspected several of the stores of members of the Independent Merchants Association in company with President George Weinstein.

This afternoon at 4:00 o'clock he met with the Highway committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. At 5:15 o'clock he will meet with the Publicity Committee, with J. L. Marentette as chairman, and tonight at 7:00 o'clock he meets with the Board of Governors of the trade body.

This makes a total of nine meetings attended in 24 hours, in addition to handling many office details, meeting individuals interested in various projects of county-wide importance, and other matters which fill a fairly busy 24 hour period for any secretary, although all days are not so filled with meetings.

SEMINOLE C-OF-C MEETINGS

Tuesday, Nov. 10, 8:15 o'clock: Publicity Committee; 7:00 o'clock: Board of Governors meeting.

Wednesday, Nov. 11, 4:00 o'clock: Real Estate Division meeting; 8:00 o'clock: Membership Committee.

Winter Sweeps Into Pacific Northwest

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Habitants of winter except the Pacific Northwest and Northern California today. Rain and snow fell in Washington and Oregon and rain came unexpectedly to the northern half of the state. A storm is moving inland with rain and snow forecast for Northern Nevada and Idaho. Seven inches fell in parts of Yellowstone National Park and Crater Lake. Oregon saw seven inches of snow fall last night and other sections of Oregon are blanketed.

GLORIA SWANSON RE-MARRIED TO IRISH SPORTSMAN

YUMA, Ariz., Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Gloria Swanson, much married film star, and her latest husband, Michael Farmer, wealthy young Irish sportsman, were re-wed here yesterday by Justice of the Peace Freeman.

The couple motored to Yuma from Hollywood, and went through a marriage ceremony which apparently cleared away all legal complications arising from a previous wedding, solemnized before the actress' divorce from her third husband became final.

The divorce question, for Marquise de Falaise de Courcy, was made final yesterday in superior court at Los Angeles. Simultaneously a divorce was filed in Elmford, N. Y., showing Miss Swanson wed Farmer there last Aug.

This was two days after the couple arrived in New York from Europe on the same liner. Since then the moving picture star frequently has denied the marriage.

Immediately after yesterday's ceremony the couple left Yuma. They said they would return to Hollywood.

The bride gave her age as 31 in applying for the license, and Farmer entered his as 29. Farmer entered his place of birth in the license as Cork, Ireland, and his occupation as broker. Miss Swanson is a divorcee.

Parliament Opened Amid Much Splendor

LONDON, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Amid pomp and glitter of tradition King George V, wearing the crown of the empire, and craning his neck over the waning sun of a field marshal, today opened the new Parliament whose task it is to rescue the nation from its financial and industrial crisis.

Speaking from the great golden throne in the House of Lords His Majesty bade the MacDonald Government Godspeed in its undertaking. "My people have given you sympathetic mandate and we expect you to achieve success," he said.

JAPS PROTECT WOMEN

HARBIN, Manchuria, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Japanese authorities here today ordered all Japanese women and children at Manchou and Hailar to come to Harbin for safety because of increasing Chinese animosity. Both places are in the north near the Siberian border.

Stage All Set For Red Cross Drive Throughout County Next Thursday

While the national Red Cross annual drive for memberships opens tomorrow morning, to continue through Thanksgiving Day, members of the Seminole Chapter of the Red Cross will not stage their drive until Thursday morning, when, starting at 8:30 o'clock, almost 50 Seminole County women will engage in a one-day house-to-house canvass for the double purpose of securing members for the national organization and raising funds with which to employ a county nurse.

Mrs. J. G. Sharon, roll call chairman of the local chapter, today notified all chapters of various committees in Sanford and in towns throughout the county, that everything is in readiness for the drive. She appealed to each resident to give thought to the great work done by the Red Cross throughout the world, and again asked that all persons who may not be at home during the day, leave their donations with some-

ROBBER MAKES CASH OFFER TO GET FREEDOM

Would Spend $75,000 To Get Back Securities Taken, He Says. By Other Gangsters

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Nebraska officials yesterday revealed gangland was willing to spend $75,000 for the freedom of a bank robbery gang leader, August "G" Winkler, who State Attorney General Sweeney said was a leader of "Surface Al" capone. The authorities have not yet decided what to do about the offer.

Winkler now is free on a $100,000 bond pending trial in connection with the $750,000 robbery of the Lincoln National Bank & Trust Company, Sept. 17, 1930.

He has offered to buy a farm in the Lincoln section from the bank and return them if the charges were dropped. In a conference recently with Lincoln authorities, Winkler said he and his friends, presumably Surface Al Capone and his allies, would spend $75,000 of their money to get the negotiable securities. He said he did not participate in the holdup and an ally advised he was in a Buffalo, N. Y., hotel the day of the robbery.

Phil D'Amico, Hollywood actor, visited Winkler in jail here while he was arranging for bond.

The proposal now is before County Attorney Max Towle who frowned on the offer, but said it would be several days before he could make a thorough investigation of the alibi and reach a definite decision.

"If Winkler is guilty he will be prosecuted at any cost, irrespective of whether the state prosecutes or not," Towle said.

"I'm satisfied that he is innocent," he said. (Continued on Page Five)

Dancing And Black Ants Are Cause Of Uncommon Deaths

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Dancing and black ants have been added to the unusual cause of death in Florida.

The person was killed by a fall while dancing last year and a black ant was stung to death by a swarm of ants.

This was disclosed yesterday in a report by Dr. Stewart G. Thompson, director of the bureau of health, on the state board of health, on violent and accidental deaths in the state last year.

Seventeen persons died falling down stairs or on steps while lost their lives by falling out of bed. Four persons fell in bathtub or in bathrooms and were killed and one fatally resulted from a tumble off a mile.

In all, 85 persons lost their lives in falls from trees, scaffolds, ladders, porches, chairs, horses, water tanks, telephone poles and school bells, or while walking, diving, swimming or in tumbles into manholes and sewers or against tables.

Many DeMolays To Come Here For Big District Meeting

What is expected to be the largest day in local DeMolay history is being planned for Monday night when several hundred representatives from various parts of the state, including high schools, will meet here at the Masonic Temple on Park Avenue to take part in a district meeting called by A. C. W. Wood, of Tallahassee, the state deputy of the DeMolay Order.

Last night at a regular meeting the DeMolay chapter decided to make the affair a day to be remembered in Sanford and set about making plans for the entertainment of the guests. A letter from Mr. Wood said that chapters in Lakeland, Orlando, Gainesville, Jacksonville and St. Augustine will be present and that he had invited J. C. Rogers, Past Scribe of the Leesburg Chapter; Ira Patterson, past master councilor of the Daytona Beach chapter; and other officers from Live Oak, and Duval City.

Glen Crenshaw, presiding officer of the local chapter, last night appointed Paul Higgins, Jr., chairman of a committee in charge for the entertainment of the visitors. Mr. Higgins said that he expects to have music and a banquet to be held in the Masonic dining room, included on the program.

Garner Says Party Has Program Ready

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Representative Garner said today that the Democrats would have a full legislative program, adequate to meet the situation, ready to present the coming Congress. The Democratic House chairman made the statement in a conference with newsmen here today after his arrival today, but declined to disclose the nature of the program.

Armistice Day Observance In Sanford Will Include Parade, Dinner, Football

The Armistice Day in Sanford, Fla., will be observed by a parade, a dinner and a football game. The parade will be held at 10 o'clock and will feature a band, floats and a large number of citizens. The dinner will be held at the Elks Club and the football game will be played between the Sanford and Jacksonville teams.

FINANCIAL MARTS DREISER DENIES BEGIN WEEK WITH BULLISH TRADING AS TO MORALITY

STOCKS, BONDS, SILVER, ANSWERS RECOMMENDATION TO JURY TO INVESTIGATE AFFAIRS

PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Theodore Dreiser, novelist and writer, today denied charges that he had been indicted for a $100,000 grand jury here today on charges of adultery. The offense is a misdemeanor under Kentucky law.

The indictment charged the defendant with committing the offense while he was in the employ of a coal field in Kentucky and a committee of writers investigating a fatal outbreak in the coal field in the labor controversy last summer.

Jacksonville Pauper Takes His Own Life

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—He and penniless John Greese, 37, today killed his clothing and efforts in the unemployed and shot himself through the head.

He died at a hospital. In a note he said he was forced to commit suicide on account of a man who cheated me out of my life savings of $700.00. A three hundred-dollar life insurance policy, among his effects, also will be given to the unemployed fund. Greese was a native of Sweden. He had no relatives in this country.

Rehearing Is Asked Upon Gas Tax Case

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 10.—John Mathews, Jacksonville legislator, today asked the Supreme Court for a rehearing on his attack on the validity of the state's 1931 gasoline tax distribution act which recently was upheld by the state court as constitutional. The law apportions six cents of the seven-cent levy. Mathews won in the lower court, but the Supreme Court reversed it in a four to two decision.

Traveller Hits Mine

BRUNNEN, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—A Belgian traveler struck a floating wreckage mine near Wanda-ker Nighthouse in the North Sea yesterday, and was blown to pieces.

NEW MILK LAW IS ADOPTED BY HEADS OF CITY

Report Presented By Commission Named To Study Electric Light Rates In City

The heads of city departments today adopted a new milk law which will regulate the sale of milk in Sanford. The law will require that all milk sold in the city be pasteurized and that the milkmen be licensed.

Unique Irrigation System Installed Upon Orange Grove

The installation of a unique irrigation system on a 22-acre orange grove in the county today is being completed under surface irrigation without the cost of a single inch of pumping water.

This grove is the property of the M. F. Robinson Estate, located 12 miles southeast of Sanford on Lake Jessup.

It is irrigated by means of two floating wells from which the water is piped to hydrants in the grove. When irrigation is needed, these taps are opened and the water moved down between the rows of trees.

In this old grove there are some trees more than 60 years old, trees which have survived every type of weather condition, even the great freeze it is located at a low-point in Florida, for the legend is that Tallahassee is the second oldest settlement on the United States, that after the colony had been established at St. Augustine a settlement broke out and a group of the settlers moved up the St. Johns River and into Lake Jessup, founding a settlement of a point called Tallahassee, where they lived for many years.

Advertising Seen As Large Trade Builder

How consistent advertising through a medium that reaches the majority of the buying public builds a business, regardless of location, may be seen clearly by a visit to Calhoun's Department Store, 208 Sanford Avenue.

Since laying out the store operated by W. E. Dunaway last March, Hugh Calloun, who has long been associated with the ready-to-wear business, has seen his business grow steadily and it is his belief that advertising "did the work."

Mr. Calloun's store has been remodelled and restocked since he assumed the management and today he boasts "a first street store on Sanford Avenue."

DELAND ELECTION HALTED

DELAND, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Judge Marion G. Rowe yesterday issued a temporary injunction halting a referendum scheduled for tomorrow for adoption or rejection of an act of the last legislature providing for an increase in the corporate limits of Deland. A group of taxpayers brought the suit.

Mr. ROWE O. D. Stephens cleaned and opened Baby Giff Links.

Third Annual Cooking School Will Be Staged At Milane For Two Days

With the arrival in Sanford late tomorrow afternoon of Miss Viola Decker, nationally known home economics expert who will remain here for two days at the head of The Sanford Herald's third annual cooking school for Seminole county housekeepers, the Sanford merchants who are assisting in staging the show announced today that they are ready to lend every assistance to make it a success.

The school, the first of two schools to be held within the next three weeks, will be confined solely to dishes which may be prepared on electric appliances of some description. Seven Sanford concerns are furnishing electrical appliances, such as stoves, hot-water heaters, toasters, egg-broilers, waffle-irons and the like, and with these articles, Miss Decker will produce numerous delicious and tempting foods.

Miss Decker is favorably remembered by the 700 or more women who last year were the guests of The Herald at the Milane Theater, which has again been engaged as the scene of the school. She will hold her first class starting at 10:00 o'clock on Thursday morning, and joins The Herald and assisting merchants in extending an invitation to every housekeeper in the county to be present. The balcony will be reserved for negroes, as was the case last year.

The following firms are co-operating to make the school a success, and are lending electrical equipment which will be demonstrated from the stage: Automatic Electric Co.; Hill Hardware Co.; Hof-Mac Battery Co.; Mahan Electric Co.; Randall Electric Co.; Sanford Electrical Contracting Co.; and Sanford Furniture Co.

Search For Drifting Men Interrupted By Inclement Weather

MIAMI, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—The Tropical Ra to Station here was interrupted today by the steamers, Costa Rica and Gotcha, en route to the Caribbean near Cartagena, in search of eleven castaways were forced to halt their search. The Costa Rica abandoned the search for good while the Gotcha stood by. The Costa Rica saw no trace of the shipwrecked group when it left Captain Frank Oimster, an airplane pilot, said he saw the men yesterday drifting on a log raft and the raft with sea animals on it in the face of a 25-mile gale, which prevented him from landing to effect a rescue. Steamships went to the location last night but had another heavy rain search.

RAILROAD GIVES REPLY TO ACTION OF FARMER CLUB

Says It Isn't Responsible For Present Freight Rate Row

That it is out of the question for the Atlantic Coast Line railroad to further decrease its revenues by seeking a reduction in the recently authorized freight rate increases on celery; that its freight revenue from this state will be reduced more than $1,000,000 as it is because of the Interstate Commerce Commission's recent decision, and that the responsibility for the present situation between the farmer and the railroad interests is not the railroad, represent the position of the Atlantic Coast Line in the controversy with Seminole County farmers regarding freight rates.

These facts are contained in a letter received this morning by Fred F. Dornier, president, and Philip R. Bach, secretary, of the Seminole Agricultural Club, which last week went on record as favoring the farmers.

JAPAN TURNS TO CHINA FOR KEY TO RIDDLE

Spurns League Of Nations In Effort To Obtain Solution To Manchurian Affair

PEKING, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—A proposal for a complete reorganization of the government of Manchuria was made by Eugene Chen, noted Chinese journalist and statesman, today and turned the attention of Japan to China again rather than to Geneva in the hope of a possible permanent solution of the knotty Manchurian problem.

The proposal is said to have been formulated by the opposition government at Canton and was given to the Japanese consul in Canton by Chen before he left for Shanghai to discuss with Nanking the reorganization of the nationalist government.

The plan calls for a closer cooperation with Japan and the expulsion from Manchuria of the "greedy and meddlesome war lords" together with the appointment of a high commissioner by the central government to take charge of Manchurian affairs.

Renewed rioting in Tientsin yesterday resulted in a Japanese order that Chinese police, seeking to keep order, withdraw 300 yards from the Japanese concession. Chinese dispatches said the Japanese bombarded the native city because of failure of the police to obey the order. The Japanese said the order was issued because two Japanese soldiers had been killed by stray bullets.

Nanking officials declared Japanese were secretly organizing "disturbances" in north China cities, including Tientsin, as a means of proving to the League of Nations the inability of the Nanking government to keep order.

Japanese reports said the Tientsin trouble was started by a group opposing Chang Hsiang-ling, Nanking vice-generalissimo and ousted governor of Manchuria. Another report was that Chang Tsung-Chang, whom Chang Hsiang-ling had befriended, had been arrested for plotting against the vice-generalissimo.

Proclamation

WHEREAS, leaders of the world's greatest nations, wearying of the strife and horror of a war such as this world had never before witnessed, declared an Armistice thirteen years ago, and,

WHEREAS, Governor Doyle E. Carlton together with the chief executives of the 47 other states of the United States has proclaimed Wednesday, Nov. 11, 1931, as a legal holiday, and,

WHEREAS, all true Americans are expected to set aside at least one day each year in which to commemorate and revere the memory of those loved ones who made the supreme sacrifice, lest that day which brought an end to the world's most disastrous conflict be forgotten, and,

WHEREAS, it has been the custom since the first Armistice Day, in all sections of the United States as well as throughout the world, where the youth of the nation offered their lives in the defense of their country, and the principles for which their country stand, to observe this occasion as a general holiday;

THEREFORE, I, T. L. Dunaway, mayor of the City of Sanford, do hereby request that the merchants and business houses of Sanford close their doors for the entire day of Nov. 11, so that all may join in the national observance which have been planned by members of the Campbell-Lanning Post of the American Legion, and an associated organization.

T. L. DUNAWAY
Mayor of the City of Sanford.

TEN TEAMS STILL HAVE CHANCE FOR NATIONAL HONOR

Tulane, Georgia, Tennessee Are Leading Packs in Southland

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—Standing out boldly in the national football pack yesterday were ten teams from the Mid-West, three from the South, three from the East and one each from the Southwest and Far West.

There will be few, if any, dissenters as to the top-flight ranking of Notre Dame and Northwestern; Tulane, Georgia and Tennessee; Harvard, Cornell and Syracuse; Southern Methodist and Southern California. All of these teams, except Southern California, are unbeaten although Notre Dame and Northwestern fought to a scoreless tie earlier in the season. Southern California, after an opening game defeat by St. Mary's of Oakland, has won five straight games from Oregon State, Washington State, Oregon, California and Stanford to virtually clinch the Pacific Coast crown. St. Mary's, victorious over Southern California and California earlier in the season, suffered in his first defeat yesterday, losing to the Olympic Club, 10-0.

Georgia invaded the East for the second time and nosed out New York University 7-0 in Butler Mott's 97 yard run in the third period and a successful try for point by "Cattfish" Smith. Tulane buried Auburn's strong eleven under a 27-0 rout while Tennessee, third of the undefeated Southern Conference teams, upset Carson Newman, 31-0.

Harry Wood's pass in Haysman with four minutes to play and his successful kick for a try point gave all-round a 7-0 triumph over Dartmouth. Cornell and Syracuse, however, smacked away at, or rival's easily, the future champion Alfred, 54-0, and the latter overwhelped Western Reserve, 33-0.

Southern Methodist, playing at a Southwest Conference championship, beat Texas A. and M., 8-0. St. Mary's, playing a Sunday schedule in the main, already accounted six victories with Southern California and California among the victims.

Georgia's triumph over N. Y. U. was the exception to a general rule of Eastern victory in inter-sectional combat. Friday: Fordham, another of the East's best, wall-ped Detroit, 40-0. Columbia whitewashed Virginia, 27-0, and Brown defeated Ohio University, 20-13. Leigh upset Princeton, 19-7, in one mild upset among Eastern sectional games.

With Northwestern practically assured of the title, other Big Ten elevens will have to content themselves with a race for second place. Michigan hung up another conference win at Indiana's expense, 22-0, and Wisconsin turned back Illinois, 7-0. Iowa went outside the conference to take a 7-0 beating from Nebraska. Of the inter-sectional games, Ohio State's victory over Navy, 20-0, was expected. Purdue whipped Centenary, 49-0, and Chicago tied Arkansas, 13-13.

Iowa tied the surprise of the Big Six, handed the Kansas Aggies their first defeat, 7-0. Oklahoma added to Kansas' woes with a 10-0 triumph.

Keeping pace with Southern Methodist in the Southwest Conference was Texas Christian which eked out a 7-0 win over Rice. Texas wall-ped Baylor, 33-0. In the Far West, Southern California virtually clinched the Pacific Coast Conference title by trouncing Stanford, 19-0. California, improving as the season grows colder, beat Washington, 13-0.

Utah continued its march through the Rocky Mountain Conference, taking Colorado College over the jumps, 28-0, but their chief rival, the Utah Aggies, bowed to Brigham Young, 8-0. From a national viewpoint, perhaps the biggest game of the coming week-end will pit Georgia against Tulane at Athens, Ga., a contest that may decide the Southern Conference title.

HELD FOR MURDER

LENOIR CITY, Tenn., Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—Leon J. Fritts, 45, was held on a charge of murder here yesterday after firing five bullets at his cousin, Fred Fritts, on a crowded street here Saturday, killing the man instantly. Fritts refused to talk after his arrest, but his attorneys said the shooting resulted from "family troubles."

BEDS, FASCISTS FIGHT

MAGDEBURG, Germany, Nov. 9.—(A.P.)—Several hundred communists stormed the national assembly headquarters Saturday night in nearby Schonberg, setting off a riot which resulted in an exchange of shots. The communists were already in the streets, and the riotous scene was chaotic.

OH YEAH?

By PETER SCHAAL

Butler Mott's gallant 97 yard dash for a touchdown, followed by old Cattfish Smith's easy kick for the extra point, proved to be the most exciting feature of a day of football Saturday in which the favorite throughout the land, in almost every case, rode home to victory. Here and there someone fell by the way, leaving only 10 major undefeated teams, but on the whole, there were few startling upsets. Duke wrecked Kentucky, Shipwreck Kelly and all by a 7-0 score, as a major Southern upset, while Georgia Tech, shoved from pillar to post all season, displayed a remarkable offensive comeback to earn a 19-19 tie with North Carolina. Florida's whipping by Alabama was surprising only in the size of its score, for the Gators entered the game the under-gators.

Mott's run and Smith's kick to give the Georgia Bulldogs another 7-0 victory over N. Y. U. and thus keep their national title chances above water seem to me to be the only features over the weekend. The Georgians were whipped from all sides, according to every press report, although they staged a gallant last minute goal line stand which averted defeat. Only Tulane stands in their way now, and the eyes of the nation are kept on the game at Athens this week when the Great Wave and Bulldogs meet.

Local football followers are to be given a real football treat here this week for Coach Leonard and William Semole. High eleven will not only mix with the student body, Orlando, but on Saturday will do battle with the Gainesville outfit. Both games are to be played at Municipal Park, and with the exception of a game next week with New Smyrna, will be the last of the season on the local field.

Oh Yeah saw Orlando drop a close 0 to 0 game to Leesburg Friday night. Mott's men must play both these evenings and if they had fought games with victory favoring either side. To beat Orlando, someone will have to concentrate on 100 yd. a tackle, back, a powerful defensive fullback, and Johnson a fast, shifty halfback. Quarterback Perella will also prove a thorn in the side of the local eleven if he gets away as he has been. Orlando seemed weak on pass defense and with Lyles and Courier throwing them on well last week against Rollins and especially with Odham and Stanley nabbing them as though they have been doing it all their lives, a passing attack may be the solution to the problem.

Sanford's line will find plenty of opposition in both Orlando and Leesburg's front lines, but I think Kanner and Riser will handle most of the trouble-makers long enough for Hester, Lyles, and Entzinger to get away on long gains, and insure victory. Leesburg has a set of fast backs who know how to run when they edge past the line of scrimmage, and Sanford's backfield is to have its hands full all afternoon for Brady and Whittier will certainly be seen scampering around ends and off tackles as they did in Orlando. Brady has a weaving, slicing style of slipping between the cracks in the line and he's hard to tackle as a result. Entzinger ought to lay him low though, for there isn't a better defensive fullback in this section than he. He and Hester will have to do 2/3 of the defensive work, for Lyles and Courier are admittedly weak on defense. Courier probably because of his small stature, Lyles no doubt because he remembers too well a hip injury which kept him from competition for a time last season.

The Sanford-Orlando game here Armistice Day afternoon at 3:30 o'clock is of course, the feature football attraction of the local year. That a huge crowd will attend is a certainty, for both elevens are well-matched, have hosts of followers, are traditional enemies, and last year played before nearly 2000 persons in Orlando, 400 of whom were from Sanford. The school campus has echoed to the cry "Beat Orlando" for weeks, and there appears to be more enthusiasm around town than at any time in recent years.

Among the matters you hear discussed when fans congregate to talk over Sanford's chances against Orlando is what Sanford's all-star prospect Murray Kanner, is going to do. His friends anticipate that he will play his finest game, that he will show his already impressive individual efforts to bring victory to Sanford, and that his

MISS TAKACH IS WINNER IN GRID GUESSING GAME

She, And D.W. Hutchison First To Select 12 Out Of 14 Winners

Miss Margaret Takach and D. W. Hutchison are the winners of The Herald Pick-The-Winner contest for last week. They were the first of six contestants to hand in 12 out of 14 winners, and they are the winners of the $1 in trade at either Churchwell's Department Store or Woodruff and Watson's men's wear shop.

The significant thing about each of the six lists handed in is that each contestant picked almost the same teams to win. Only one of the six selected Duke, which in beating Kentucky, caused a mild upset, while all selected Iowa State over Kansas Aggies although the Aggies were the favorites and were defeated.

Exactly 98 contestants handed in lists during the past week with six having 10 winners; 27 handing in 11 winners; 23 handing in 10 winners; 21 handing in nine winners; nine handing in eight winners; six handing in seven, and one handing in six winners.

Here's what the newcomers to the contest did: D. W. Hutchison picked 12; Otto Hutchison, Arthur Williams, Doris Lake, Bill Huges, Billy Zachry picked 11; Harri Hutchison, J. E. Preston picked 10; Thomas, George, E. D. Froelich, Mrs. E. J. Routh, D. L. Cameron, E. J. Jones, E. L. Loney, Mrs. D. W. Hutchison, picked eight; Sammy Ward, Robert Wallace, D. R. E. Stevens, Edith Bellamy, picked seven, and Chas. Booth picked six.

The scores of Saturday's game at Duke 7, Kentucky 11, Alabama 11, Florida 9, Princeton 7, Georgia 7, N. Y. U. 0, Lafayette 25, Baylor 9, Vanderbilt 39, Maryland 12, Virginia 22, Penn State 7, Harvard 7, Washington 6, California 13, Washington St. M. U. 8, Texas Aggies 12, Northwestern 22, Minnesota 11, North Carolina 19, Georgia Tech 19, Pittsburgh 11, Carnegie Tech 6, Iowa State 7, Kansas Aggies 0.

play will meet the approval of every fan in the field. Orlando included Kanner's name in a 13-word throughout the town as well as throughout Central Florida, and he'll be the center of all eyes Wednesday if there ever was a football player watched. Here's hoping he continues his amazing and breath-taking style of play. A Sanford victory is assured in that event.

NOTRE DAME BEFORE CAMERAS

Pick The Winner

Here's the seventh list of selections for 1931, and they are getting easier each week. Woodruff and Watson's and Churchwell's are still co-operating to make you fans do your best in selecting the winners, so get out your pencil and start marking. Remember, $1 in trade at either of the above named stores to the first person guessing the nearest number of winning teams.

Table with 4 columns: Name, Address, and two columns of numbers representing selections.

Clip this coupon, place your name and address on it, put a "W" or "T" opposite the name of the team you think will win or tie, and send it to the Sports Editor of The Herald before noon Saturday, Nov. 11. Remember, the list handed in the earliest has the best chance for the trade coupons.

HOME CANNING TO BE FEATURE OF BETTER FARMING SHOW

Living on the farm will be emphasized in the Seminoles County Better Farming Show, which is planned for Jan. 7, 8, 9, at Sanford. Premiums and trophies will be offered for all types of home canning and preserving including meats, vegetables, jellies, preserves and other phases of food storage.

It is expected that this feature of the show this year will be one of the most interesting. The Seminoles County Better Farming Show will this year take the place of the Poultry Show, which has been held for the past two years. While poultry and rabbit exhibits will be one of the principal items of show interest, many other phases of work are being included, such as home canning, home dairying, lower citrus cost and truck crops. The committee on this show consists of J. A. Blitstein, Hayward Walker, C. R. Dawson, Karl Lehmann, Roy Pippin and Alex R. Johnson, who have laid plans, which will make the show of a strictly educational nature.

SEVERAL POULTRY FARMS ARE BEING PLANNED FOR LAKE MARY DISTRICT

For the past two months the agricultural department has been conducting a series of meetings on poultry production at Lake Mary, which have been well attended and resulting in much interest being shown by the farmers of Lake Mary.

TRUCK CROP EXPERIMENTS ARE BEING CONDUCTED IN COUNTY

As a result of the special fund allowed by the County Board of Commissioners, for this year the local agricultural department in cooperation with Dr. M. E. Ensign and Dr. O. C. Bryan, of Gainesville, has started several long time experimental plots in celery fertilizer and seed strain tests. Thirteen celery fertilizer plots are now planted on the school farm at Sanford and plans are made for planting six celery fertilizer plots at Orlando during the coming week. Thirty-four varieties of celery have been planted on the farm of Ed Cameron on the East Side, and thirty-three varieties of lettuce have been planted on the school farm.

GATORS PREPARE FOR REMAINING GAMES OF YEAR

Rehabilitation Of Bewildered Team To Be Aim Of Coaches

By Sam Dutz JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 9.—Somewhat bewildered after accepting two severe shocks on successive Saturdays, the Florida football squad yesterday returned from Birmingham to Gainesville and will attempt this week to rehabilitate its shattered forces. The worst part of the schedule is over, and though the remaining teams on the list are not to be taken lightly, three of the four are at least close to the Gators' class. Kentucky can be rated much better.

The myth, created in the first four games of the season, that Florida could get past its "offense" without the expected series of reverse had been well shattered by Georgia and Alabama. The Bulldogs trimmed the Gators 33 to 0 in Gainesville on October 11. But the fans still hoped that the Orange and Blue was merely having an off-day against a real team and that Coach Charlie Hadden's boys would rally back to the peak in the Alabama test.

But Alabama, just last Saturday, gave the Gators a real trimming and demonstrated fully that the sophomores still have plenty to learn. The 41 to 0 being proved conclusively that Florida has a lot of rebuilding to do before it can get back to its form of the last few years.

In addition to being overpowered and outplayed, the Gators were at their lowest spiritual mark of the campaign in Birmingham. The boys went against them in the first few minutes and they lost what little fire they had carried to the field. Though not a giving up to the inevitable without a show of fight, the Florida athletes furnished the most lackadaisical exhibition they have yet presented.

The coaches and athletes realized that the boys were not in the best frame of mind for the battle, but all efforts to key the squad were fruitless. That the players then elude admit their lack of enthusiasm for this particular battle is promising. They talked things over on the train Saturday night, set right down to cases and expressed determination to pull through the remainder of the campaign in better shape.

And no one can blame the Gators for not being inspired up at Birmingham. In their opening four game they played far over their heads and showed more football than they really possessed. They continued the sharp scamp against Georgia and were far from dilly-dally on the Coast Thanksgiving.

World has been received a few days ago from the State Department of Vocational Home Economics approving the plans of the local agricultural department to offer a series of meetings and demonstrations in home canning. This work will probably be held in the early spring.

A sale of pure bred dairy animals will be held in Gainesville Nov. 17. This sale is sponsored by the State Dairy Association. The leading dairy farmers of Florida have been asked to send to this sale some of their best young stock.

PIGS STILL AVAILABLE ON SCHOOL FARM

The school demonstration farm has four or five pure bred pigs for distribution to those farmers who are interested in practicing the live-on-the-farm program in growing their own meat.

The Red Cross Drive

Tomorrow the American Red Cross begins its fiftieth annual drive for memberships. Thursday the annual one-day drive will be held in Sanford when it is hoped that the co-operation of charitably-minded Sanford residents will enable the committee to reach its quota in a single day without the necessity of making further appeals before Thanksgiving. Florida today boasts some thirty-two thousand memberships. The goal this year has been set at nearly twice that figure.

Some will wonder why when times are hard the Red Cross asks for more funds than in years when prosperity reigns. When they are being pressed by the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, they wonder why they should also be pushed more than ever by relief organizations. They quite naturally forget that when times are hard the Red Cross has more work to do than when times are good, hence greater need for funds. In Florida there are only a little more than two persons in each hundred who belong to the Red Cross. Surely there are two more who might also join, thus doubling the total membership, subscribing the quota.

With Armistice Day upon us, it is well to remember that the Red Cross is today performing a great and noble service in the caring for disabled veterans of the World War who might otherwise go unprovided for. During the past year local Red Cross chapters, with assistance of the national organization, handled the cases of more than 400,000 veterans and their families, who were in dire need of aid. The work of the Red Cross is greater in this field of veteran service than in any other with the exception of disaster relief.

And disaster relief, as everyone knows, is a service which this country could in no wise do without. No community is so blessed that it can safely say it is beyond the reach of disaster. We never know when drought, plague, fire, or hurricane may lay us low. Then the Red Cross will step in with its services which only then can be fully appreciated by those who previously have felt little need of them. During the drought of last year, in the twenty-three states affected, more than 2,750,000 American residents came under the care of the Red Cross. Food and clothing were furnished to hundreds of thousands. So thoroughly was the work done that not one case of actual starvation as a result of the drought was reported.

In considering this appeal of the Red Cross, one should remember that only fifty cents out of each membership goes to the national organization. The rest remains at home to be expended by the local chapter in caring for the unemployed and impoverished of our own community.

A Perilous Victory

Many cheers have been heard in Democratic quarters as a result of the recent election which placed Democrats in control of the House of Representatives, and which gives them the task of organizing the revenue branch of Congress. That the situation which is producing the cheers today may be the cause of tears tomorrow is the belief of Walter Lippman, former editor of the New York World, one of America's foremost Democratic writers, who explains his position in his column in the New York Herald Tribune, as follows:

"The Democrats who will become chairmen of committees and the leaders who will sway the caucus will be responsible to no national Democratic command. Their inherent tendency to pursue policies which are popular with their small local constituencies will not be offset by the prestige or the coercive power of patronage which a Democratic president would possess. A national leadership of the party will not exist until the struggle over the presidential nomination is decided. It is difficult, therefore, to see where the Democrats in the House will look for policies and a strategy which will command general, rather than merely local, confidence.

"Their best hope lies in the possibility that they may realize quickly and vividly how extraordinarily perilous is the position in which they find themselves as a result of this barren victory. Realizing it, they may become receptive to a leadership such as their silent, ambitious and calculating presidential candidates have not yet furnished them. They cannot trust to the tides which have been running against the administration and hope to drift ashore with them. The tides can turn, may turn, probably will begin to turn soon. For Mr. Hoover has been through a grueling experience which has not been altogether unprofitable in his political education. He is a much more experienced president than he was a year ago, and his opportunities are tremendous. He is likely to set the pace with a very different kind of determination than he did before he had looked into the abyss which suddenly opened up before him this summer.

"Now the Democrats will be tested in the world crisis. Within sixty to ninety days they will have to show where they stand on the great issues of commercial, financial and foreign policy which hang over the world's affairs. Do the Democratic leaders know where they stand?"

There is usually a large acreage of celery grown in New York state for marketing during the fall and winter. The large markets in the East usually buy heavily of this York state celery for storage purposes in order to supply their trade wants during the holidays and at times this York state celery is not exhausted from storage until February. This season the reports say that owing to the weather conditions during the growing season in New York state the yield of fancy celery was exceedingly small, and the supply of fancy York state celery will be exhausted early in December.

SOY BEANS AND MACHINE GUNS

With Japanese troops reported in a clash with Chinese troops thirty miles south of the Chinese Eastern Railway, the trouble between China and Japan is in danger of embroiling Russia.

This cannot be a comforting prospect for the Japanese. Economic circumstances are their excuse for marching north against the local Chinese Governor. This year, by delay in mending a bridge over the Nenni River, a virtually severed north from south Manchuria. In so doing he had deprived the South Manchuria Railway of the freight in soy beans which is now beginning to pour out of North Manchuria on its way to world markets. Its passage along the branch railways to the South Manchuria Railway blocked, it would have been diverted east along the Chinese Eastern Railway for disposal at Vladivostok. So the Japanese decided to repair the bridge themselves, even if thereby they endangered their relations with the Soviet Union.

In their present position, the Japanese troops are at least 100 miles from the Russian border and have no intention of crossing it. Why then, should Moscow have any reason for alarm? And why should world opinion consider the possibility of a Russian complication?

A look at the map will show the reason very clearly. By going into north Manchuria, the Japanese have entered a salient which separates Moscow from its Pacific littoral and the port of Vladivostok. The region is so important in a control of Russian communication that Moscow has never relinquished its view of north Manchuria as a Russian sphere, the outward manifestation of which is the possession of a half interest in the Chinese Eastern Railway, which is the north Manchurian link of the Trans-Siberian system.

It has been said that not only do neither Japan nor Russia desire a line-up, but that one is impossible to maintain. Some kind of understanding exists between them. The existence of an accord has been bruited in the Far East since the Moscow mission of Viscount Goto in 1927. Dr. C. Walter Young, in his "Japan's Special Position in Manchuria," while not denying that an understanding may have been reached, does not believe that it took written form. The supposition is that it may have been a promise to remain neutral in the event that either party took occasion to inflict reprisals on China.

Can it be that under this promise Japan could occupy the theater of its present action? It is doubtful. In Japan, Chinese action, in refusing to mend the bridge, will doubtless be traced to Russian influence, but Japanese action in reply to it is much more provocative, because it is overt.

The stirring of this witch's cauldron of nineteenth century realism is spurring Geneva to further a nation in defending world peace. A meeting of the League Council has been called for November 17. FARMERS ARE ENCOURAGED

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

The down-trodden American farmer believes that prosperity is knocking at the door. By next spring he believes he may be in a position to buy a new automobile, a radio or something he has been forced to forego for many months. Already he is buying coal as fuel to heat his home instead of using his almost worthless corn to burn in the kitchen and living room stoves.

The big advance in the price of grain and other farm products during the last few weeks has brought new hope to the agriculturist. Seventy-cent wheat returned to the Chicago Board of Trade this week after prices had hit the lower level in 1930 years. Forty-five cent corn and a big advance in the price of oats and rye also came along. In less than thirty days the advance in grain prices added $432,000,000 to the value of farm products. Of this amount fully $125,000,000 has been added to the value of grain held on the farms.

Another factor giving rise to the belief that the depression period is nearing an end is the higher prices prevailing for dairy products, eggs and livestock, which now are considered the most important farm products. On June 1 butter was quoted on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange at 21 3/4 cents a pound. Now the price averages around 30 cents. Eggs have advanced 10 cents a dozen. At the low point in October the best eggs were quoted at 19 1/2 cents wholesale. The price now is about 28 cents.

It is pointed out that where the price of wheat affects farmers only in certain states, advancing prices in butter and eggs bring in additional cash to practically every farmer in the country. Grains give the farmer money at only certain seasons of the year, but butter and eggs bring in a weekly check the year round.

With the increase in the prices of grains and farm products the buying power of the farmer has been increased tremendously. Farmers have driven their automobiles until they are ready for the junk pile. They have used their agricultural implements until they, too, are ready for discard. Already the increase in farm prices has caused a corresponding increase in the price of stocks of mail order houses and farm implement manufacturing companies, on the ground that the increased buying power of the farmer will benefit these corporations.

QUESTIONING

Shall I repent my innocence of yesterday, And mourn my ignorance of things beyond The scope of Youth's smug reckoning? Or shall I laugh and be most gay, Knowing that now, between us is (when we meet) the bond Will be inevitable—without any beckoning. And the million other ways of courtship love; Knowing that now, we'll boldly smile at one another, Then talk of many things interperate: Of ebbage and kings, the turtle-dove; And suddenly stop short, both feeling talk a bother And seeing that the hour grows quite late— Blt calmly on, before the open fire, Watching the tongues of flame pass, too, beyond desire. Theatrical producers in New York are insisting that there be no more jokes based on the depression. Hard times, ceased to be a joke to most of us a long time ago.

The federal deficit with only one third of the year a matter of history, is already $61,000,000, with the likelihood prevailing that by the end of the year it will reach the astounding figure of $2,000,000,000. That is something which causes President Hoover as much concern as the Oriental situation, or the Navy League attack. It means that next year the tax rate on incomes will have to be increased, or some new form of taxation devised.

"Smith Slickers of America," what appears to be a political organization, is soliciting funds with which to conduct a campaign for the nomination of Al Smith for the presidency. Smith, himself, however, declares he knows nothing of the organization and believes it is purely a commercial enterprise for the personal and pecuniary benefit of its backers. In short, it is just another kind of racket. And there will be lots of similar rackets during the next year.

Tomorrow is Armistice Day. That means a holiday for most people, a half holiday for us. Not much else. We used to think it meant something about a war to make the world safe for democracy, a war to end war, or something like that. But since then we have had Lenin, Trotsky, Stalin, Primo de Rivera, Mussolini, all unites for democracy, and several wars, many revolutions, and now, what appears to be impending, as great a war in the East as was waged thirty years ago in the West.

War appears inevitable in the East. The Marshall of Manchuria, a powerful Chinese war lord, has already declared war on Japan. His action will very likely be quickly followed by similar action on the part of Chiang Kai Shek, Chinese generalissimo, and president of the republic. After his, Russia on the side of the Chinese. Predictions will shake their heads and lament that the "war to end war" was to be a small. Bankers and business men will shake their heads, but they will hold money in China, which is to be used for the purpose of the war. For the time being, from the standpoint of the "war to end war", it is over.

LEGAL BULINGS, PARTY QUARRELS ARE SOME OF THE DIFFICULTIES

Legal Bulings, Party Quarrels Are Some Of The Difficulties

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Legal rulings and party quarrels over reapportionment's shift of voting power are providing new difficulties for political leaders mapping the 1932 presidential campaign.

Only half the 32 states whose voting strength was changed by the 1930 census have set the geographical bounds by which congressional representatives, presidential electors and national convention delegates will be selected for the next decade.

In the other 16, failure to act as far has left question marks hovering over the election of nearly 500 House members, electors, and of twice this number of votes in Republican and Democratic nominating assemblies.

National committees in each party are puzzling over this winter's duty of prescribing rules for nominating convention delegates from the large territory where new districts have not been outlined and where the action of three states has been thrown into the courts.

A New York supreme court justice has just ruled against the effort of the state's Republican legislature to allot districts to two additional representatives without approval of Democratic Governor Roosevelt.

The Minnesota supreme court has cleared the way for a United States supreme court review of its decision that the state legislature, redistricting resolution was legal though vetoed by Gov. Floyd B. Olson, Farmer-Labor.

In Illinois, where representation was unchanged by the last census, a state judge has ruled unconstitutional a law fixing districts for two existing representatives at large on the grounds the redistricting bill was inequitable in putting many more voters in one district than another.

Possibly hinging on the highest court's ruling in these cases is Missouri's future representation. Here, a Republican governor vetoed the Democratic legislature's plan for dropping three from the state's congressional delegation, thereby leaving the prospect of 13 representatives running at large.

Already, lack of state action has slated for state-wide campaigns the one additional representative each assigned Florida, Connecticut and Oklahoma, the two given to Ohio and the two remaining to North Dakota. Unless expected special sessions are called in Texas and Wisconsin, the former's three new members, and the latter's entire House delegation—cut from 11 to 10 in the census—also will run at large.

This category of campaigners would be further increased by two New York and nine Minnesota representatives should the supreme court ultimately sustain the New York state justice and overrule Minnesota's court.

It is the general rule that where states lose representation and fail to redistrict, their entire congressional delegations must run at large. Failure to act where representation is increased forces only the additional members to run at large.

No such rule applies, however, to the selection of convention delegates. Each party may determine arbitrarily the composition of its nominating convention.

When the Republican national committee meets Dec. 15 and the Democratic committeemen gather in January, they must first decide whether next year's convention delegates shall be chosen on the basis of the new apportionment. In all probability these decisions must be made before the courts have ruled finally on the New York, Minnesota and Illinois cases and before the legislatures of Kentucky, Mississippi, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Virginia and South Carolina have acted.

The great bulk of delegates now are selected by congressional districts. If party chieftains make the new apportionment the basis for their election, they next must determine whether delegates will run at large in states that have not redistricted.

KEY PLEAS FOR REVOLT AGAINST PROHIBITION ACT

Declares Conditions In Country Have Become Deplorable

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—Mayor James L. Key of Atlanta declared here last night conditions in this country have become so "deplorable" because of prohibition that "it is high time the people rise up in revolt and demand a change."

Addressing a junior chamber of commerce meeting, Mayor Key said: "There is more general drinking today, even among our most respectable people, than ever before," and added, "those who do not drink look upon the prohibition law with absolute complacency and do nothing about it."

He suggested government sale of liquor as a solution for the present economic problem and said such a procedure would be a "service to humanity."

He estimated that under such a plan between $2,000,000,000 and $3,000,000,000 a year would be added to the federal treasury, effecting a "tremendous saving to the tax payers," and providing a means of alleviating economic conditions.

"It is up to the people, themselves, to provide a solution," Mayor Key said. "It is time for the people to revolt and say 'we are not going to stand for it any longer.'"

"With all our prosperity, our country is in despair; it has been stilled as naked as a jaybird by so-called experts and politicians. We should take the matter in our own hands and tell the politicians to go to hang."

"Respectable people do not have any respect for the prohibition law. We are sapping the morals of the people by trying to enforce it. We are breeding disrespect for it and all laws by trying to enforce it. We are doing harm to our people, and the sober-minded people should rise up and put a stop to it."

In advocating government sale of liquor, Mayor Key said the country is sovereign and that the prohibition law could not keep the government from engaging in such business.

"I tell you the government should step in and reap the harvest that is now being gathered by the bootleggers, the gangsters and the thugs," Mayor Key declared. "You can put your Al Capone in jail, but the same system prevails and for every one you put in jail three more are developed."

Referring to a recall petition circulated against him in Atlanta, and attacks made upon him by church organizations, Mayor Key reiterated a previous statement that prohibition has failed and declared: "I challenge every one, from bishop on down to janitor, to show barbecue expert, the food and its efficient handling is assured.

The 26-piece Sanford Elks Band has consented to play a concert later in the afternoon at the football game at Municipal Park. The band, under direction of Edgar A. Hall, Orlando, is said to be one of the best in Central Florida, and it will soon present its annual winter concert.

At 3:30 o'clock, Sanford High School will meet its traditional rival, Orlando High School, in a football game which is expected to provide plenty of excitement for the huge crowd anticipated. Last year, the two teams played before 3000 persons, largest crowd ever to attend a high school game in Central Florida. Both teams are well-matched, both expert victors, and neither is as yet established as the favorite.

The day's activities will be concluded with a dance at the Trianon Dance Club, south of the city, where members of Stetson University fraternity will entertain. Tonight, the Campbell-Lewising

WHAT A COOK SHE TURNED OUT TO BE!

As a newly wed—what a cook she was! But after attending cooking lectures and studying the science of cooking from those who know the latest art and methods, ideas and recipes, what a change. What a cook she turned out to be!

There is no excuse for poor cooks and poorly cooked meals these days when there are so many opportunities for women to become informed in the practical and economical methods of cooking.

One of these opportunities is The Sanford Herald Free Cooking School which will be held Thursday and Friday of this week at 10 A. M. in the Milane Theatre. Don't miss these demonstrations.

Electric Range will be given away. See any of these firms for details.

BIG MOTORCADE TO MARIANNA IS BEING PLANNED

Committee Named For Democratic Parley Slated For Nov. 27

MARIANNA, Nov. 10.—Letters received from J. A. Cawthon, R. A. Gray, W. S. McLin, W. M. Knott and others from Tallahassee, show much activity in the organization of a motorcade from this city of gigantic proportions to the Marianna Democratic conference, Nov. 27-28.

The Quiley and Gadsden county motorcade will join the Tallahassee visitors at the courthouse square in Quincy on the morning of Nov. 27. The Quiley and Gadsden county motorcade has been well organized by R. L. Sawyer, editor of the Quincy Times, and A. L. Hinson, chairman of the Democratic committee of Gadsden county. It is expected that at least 150 automobiles will form this motorcade, headed by the Tallahassee band.

A large number of letters are being received each day from all over the state, indicating a large crowd of leaders, and among these are many members of the Florida Legislature.

W. L. Hinson of Jacksonville and Panama City, chairman of the state reception committee, has named a member of his committee from each county, and these have been notified of this appointment and urged to report at Chipola hotel at 9 A. M., Friday, Nov. 27, where badges will be provided. This committee, headed by Mr. Wilson, is as follows:

L. G. Swartz, Pensacola; Millard F. Caldwell, Milton; Mattie Martin, Crestview; Stuart Gillis, DeFuniak Springs; Senator Ray Neal, West-View; John Glenn, Chipley; L. E. Vickers, Panama City; Cleon Tucker, Blountstown; B. W. Wallis, Fort St. John; E. L. Sawyer, Quincy; C. P. Wood, Sumatra; Percy Combs, Apalachicola; Tom Yon, Tallahassee; Walter Page, Crawfordville; Senator S. Dilworth, Clark, Monticello; R. H. Rowe, Madison; Ben Lindsay, Perry; R. E. Parker, Mayo; Senator S. A. Hinely, Live Oak; J. J. McCall, Jasper; W. W. Phillips, Lake City; J. D. Stone, Sanderson; J. H. Stewart, Fernandina; Mayor John T. Aloop, Jacksonville; A. M. Taylor, St. Augustine; J. E. Latren, Keystone Heights; E. M. Johns, Starke; C. A. Roberts, Lake Butler; Henry McKenzie, Palatka; William Shands, Gainesville; W. J. Matthews, Trenton; M. L. Fleischell, Shamrock; W. C. Hodges, Cedar Key; W. T. Gorey, George Woodly, Flagler Beach; George F. Westbrook, Clermont; Samuel W. Getson, Bushnell; Frederick Van Roy, Crystal River; Hugh Hale, Brooksville; Mrs. Edna Miller, Orlando; J. J. Parrish, Titusville; Peter Thomacello, Sr., Oklawaha; B. K. Bullard, Lake Wales.

W. E. Burns, New Port Richey; Ed. C. Beckett, Tarpon Springs; Mrs. J. Reid Ramsey, Tampa; A. W. Young, Vero Beach; Mrs. Edgar A. Lewis, Fort Pierce; Peter Thomacello, Jr., Oklawaha; J. M. Lee, Highland Park; V. W. Sursey, Wauchula; Dr. J. H. Corfee, Arcadia; M. O. Harrison, Palm Bay; Louis Lancaster, Narasota; C. P. Durrance, Punta Gorda; J. H. Peebles, Citrus Center; A. G. Caraway's Widow May Be Named To Fill Out His Term

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—As Arkansas prepared to pay final tribute to Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway, whose funeral was held yesterday in Jonesboro, the opinion was advanced in many quarters here that his widow Mrs. Mattie Caraway, might be named to fill out his unexpired term.

Provision for such action on the part of the state Democratic central committee was established in the case of two Arkansas Congressmen, W. A. Odell and Olin Wings, whose widows were selected as their successors. A special election must be held within the next 120 days but it will be largely a formality, as the Democratic nomination, which may be made by the state committee, or in a primary, is equivalent to election. Several political leaders have been mentioned as prospective candidates in addition to Mrs. Caraway.

The body of Arkansas's fiery senior senator, whose death Friday night followed by a week an operation for a kidney ailment, lay in state in the rotunda of the capitol here yesterday, with a military guard of honor. Last night it was borne by train back to northern Arkansas where the man who represented this state in the National Senate and House for 18 years had lived nearly half a century.

Railroad Gives Reply To Action Of Farmer Club

ing the short hauling of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, by the farmers of Seminole County in the shipping of celery and other vegetables produced in this section. C. McD. Davis, vice-president of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, is the writer of the letter which reads as follows:

Mr. Fred K. Dugger, President, Seminole Agriculture Club, Sanford, Florida.

Mr. Philip R. Bach, Secretary, Seminole Agriculture Club, Sanford, Florida.

Gentlemen:

"Mr. T. L. Dumas, Superintendent of this Company at Sanford, has forwarded to me a signed copy of the resolution adopted by the Seminole Agriculture Club at its meeting held at Sanford, November 5th.

"I regret exceedingly to note the very unfair attitude taken by the Club.

"Neither the Atlantic Coast Line nor the other railroads participating in the movement of this traffic are in any way responsible for the present situation. There was formerly in effect on vegetables (and fruits) a per package basis of rates, about which the Growers and Shipper League complained to the Interstate Commerce Commission. At the initial hearing of that complaint (Orlando, November, 1925), the growers and shippers advocated, as did the railroads, a continuation of the per package basis, but at subsequent hearings the Growers and Shippers League had secured the services of an outside witness who advocated the establishment of a per hundred pounds basis. The railroads, including the Atlantic Coast Line, did their utmost to persuade the Commission that the former rates should be continued unchanged, and pointed out that a change from the per package to the per hundred pounds basis of publishing these rates on vegetables would inevitably result in lowering the per car revenue on the lighter vegetables, and increasing the per car revenue on the heavier vegetables, such as celery.

"The result of the Commission's decision has been to reduce the earnings of the railroads more than a million dollars per season on citrus fruit, and more than $300,000 on vegetables. Notwithstanding their present financial situation, the railroads have put these reductions into effect, but to accede to your request and seek to have the Interstate Commerce Commission still further decrease our revenues by a reduction in the celery rates, is not of the question, as I am sure you and every other fair minded person will appreciate."

Very truly yours,
C. McD. DAVIS,
Vice-President.

traced with the inspection and examination of milk at certain times a federal inspector makes a periodical visit.

The absence of Mayor T. I. Dumas and Commissioner H. J. Lehman at last night's regular meeting of the Commission resulted in the postponement for discussion of several weighty matters, one of which is the preliminary report of the City's special committee on investigation of electric light rates in Sanford.

Fred T. Williams, member of the committee, presented a voluminous report, most of it comparative statements, which his committee has been gathering since last August. He stated that while his committee had practically completed its findings, and "enjoyed" this work very much, for we learned numerous surprising facts. It did not ask to be discharged. Rather it expressed the desire to be of further assistance if the Commissioners, after having studied the report, sought further information.

Acting Mayor W. A. Leffler accepted the report on behalf of the city, thanked Mr. Williams and his group, and ordered that the matter be tabled until a full quorum could study and discuss it.

The commissioners, appealed to by Harry M. Papworth, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, and Benjamin F. Haines, Altamonte Springs, chairman of the trade body finance committee, authorized an appropriation of $500 to the trade body to take that organization over until it received its share of the one-half county tax for publicity late in December.

Upon motion of Commissioner C. A. Byrd, the Commissioners extended the time limit in which taxpayers may pay delinquent taxes with bonds, until Apr. 1, 1932.

City Clerk V. H. Lamson reported that the registering books for the city special yesterday, and that all persons wishing to vote in the special election in December may now register.

Financial Marts Begin Week With Bullish Trading

20 pt. Some bull traders saw fresh war clouds, in the Far East as a basis for higher prices. Late profit taking cancelled the gains, but the market closed with negligible changes from Saturday. Various deliveries were unchanged to 3-8 of a cent lower.

The stock market churned about evenly, a bulls launched vigorous drives in steels, utilities, rails and non-ferrous metals. Extreme advances were obtained by realizing in the last half hour, but provisional shares generally ranged 31 to 32 a share above Saturday's final price. Trading was quiet. Saturday's best price at times, and the turnover exceeded three million shares, the largest in a month.

The bond market broke through a new high for the week, in the best advance in three weeks.

Silver futures surged up three cents an ounce on the national metal exchange, reaching for the first time the limit which the exchange permits in fluctuations in any one day. Bar silver for immediate delivery rose 1.3 cents in New York to 35 3/4 cents an ounce, a new high for 1931 for the fourth time in five months.

Raw hide futures continued to surge upward. Gains ranged from 35 to 85 of a cent.

Rubber, coffee, raw silk, wool and cotton seed oil were among miscellaneous commodities to show a firm tone.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—(A.P.)—The bull market in grain showed again yesterday that it could "take punishment."

Smoothed at the opening by stacks of week-end selling orders, grain futures sagged as much as 2 cents a bushel. But there they held, slowly recovered and finally spiked again until most of the contracts sold at the highest prices of the season.

The maximum figures, which followed new rumors of war in the orient, were not maintained and at the close wheat and corn were not far from Saturday's finish. Oats and rye were strong, however, particularly rye which closed from 1 and 1/2 cents higher for the day, with all contracts at new high prices for the season.

May wheat, which closed Saturday at 71 3/8-1/2 closed today at 71 1/8 to 3/8, a trifle more than 1/4 cents under the close of a year ago.

Gifford Calls For No Economy Cuts To Hurt Children

Gifford appealed to the White House conference on Child Health and Protection to "be on guard against any retrenchment which pinches the young."

He characterized the children as "innocent, from all blame and responsibility in the difficulties with which we are faced," adding that they "must be held in special guardianship during the period of readjustment."

"Public machinery directed to the protection of childhood such as public health, welfare, agencies, and educational systems, should by the last to be affected by measures of economy," he said. "Communities will need to take care of recreation and facilities for play, both public and private."
