Patrolman politics may determine who will be Seminole County's next superintendent of schools, succeeding R. T. Milwee, resigned.

Seminole County's five-man School Board is divided 3-2, three Democrats and two Republicans, but it was learned today, it agreed on the submission of the names of two Democrats as No. 1 and No. 2 choices in recommendation to Republican Gov. Claude Kirk for appointment of Milwee's successor.

Patrolman politics may determine who will be Seminole County's next superintendent of schools, succeeding R. T. Milwee, resigned.

Keeth submitted his letter of resignation to the Governor Friday. It contained just one sentence: "I herewith tender my resignation as superintendent of public instruction of Seminole County effective June 30, 1967."

Teague is presently administrative assistant and served in that post for the past 14 years.

Sen. Robert E. Keeth (R - Wintermere), chairman of the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation, is expected to vote on Seminole County's principal legislative measure, according to Sen. Robert E. Keeth (R - Wintermere), chairman of the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation.

'Supreme Self Sacrifice'

'... Did Not Die In Vain'

By DONNA ESTES
 O, say does that Star Spangled Banner yet wave, O'er the Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave? Two of Seminole County's finest young men made the supreme sacrifice in the Vietnam War to "protect all of you at home," their relatives told The Herald today in personal interviews.

The two young men, Terry Correll and Glenn Friddle, although they never knew each other, had ideals and hopes and plans for the future from early childhood.

Terry was the first casualty from the county who was killed in action in 1962 before most people even realized the United States was involved in a struggle for freedom in a little, unheard of country, named Vietnam.

Terry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Correll of 1200 S. Orange Avenue, was born, reared and received his grade school and high school education in Sanford. He had high ideals and was often thought of as a future leader in the community.

The military life, however, beckoned and soon after graduation from The Citadel, he entered the service.

As a captain in the elite Green Berets, he distinguished himself time and again with heroic actions. He particularly stressed in letters to his mother, his affection for the Vietnamese people and his strong belief in the righteousness of Americans fighting for the freedom of others.

"These people need our help," he wrote. "They are so pitiful and have so little in the way of material things. They are good people."

He was killed in October, 1962 of severe burns and injuries received when the helicopter in which he was flying was shot down in a reconnaissance mission.

Glenn Friddle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Friddle of Lakewood, was a mild-mannered and quiet boy. His neighbors often smiled when they saw him preparing to leave. Very often, on one of his hunting jaunts with his faithful dog, Trouble, and his trusty shotgun, he would be seen.

Glenn, too, admired the military and his favorite hobby other than hunting was his love of history and sketches and paintings of the Civil War. He was quite a talented young man and his paintings show inspiration and character.

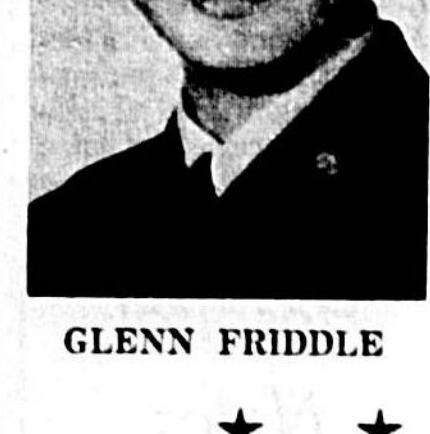

It was a surprise to his friends when he announced in June of 1964, soon after graduation from Lyman High School, that he had enlisted in the Army, not the glorious Air Force or Navy, but the Army.

"The Army is where the real fighting men are—in the infantry, that is where I want to serve," he was often heard to say.

Today his parents are in Georgia deprecating his grave in the Arlington of the South, Marietta National Cemetery.

 Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Whitner of 702 Oak Avenue, Sanford, are to be honored guests at the annual dinner being held by the Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences in recognition of those who are retiring from active service during the year.

This farewell dinner put on by the University of Florida will be held at the Holiday Inn, Gainesville, Friday, June 2, at 6:30 p.m.

Dr. J. Wayne Bell, president of the University of Florida and Miss Myrtle C. Wilson, former Home Demonstration Agent, Seminole County, are among the 18 persons being so honored. Staff members and their wives from the Central Florida Experiment Station are planning to attend the dinner.

According to the regulations of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station, retirement is compulsory as of July first of the year following the employee's 70th birthday. Mr. Whitner, an assistant horticulturist, was born in Sanford on Feb. 5, 1887, so his retirement from the Central Florida Experiment Station is on July 1, 1967.

Two Sanford Teens Jailed

Two Sanford teenagers are in jail today on three charges and $4,000 bond after they are accused of spraying homes in Midway with chemical fire extinguisher.

The two, Richard Bowes, 823 Park Ave., 15, and Daryl G. McLain, 19, of 708 Elm, were arrested early this morning by police officers Lt. Edward Hayden and Patrolman Charles Tate.

They are charged with disturbing private property and possession of stolen goods.

Deputies said the two stole three fire extinguishers Saturday from the Town 'N Country apartments on First St. They are accused of hiding through Midway over the weekend and spraying various homes and people with the chemical.

The soldiers waited to move up to the front. They played stud poker and "craps." You played with Korean money or U. S. script. You gambled recklessly. . . . What difference did it make when you might die in a matter of hours. One guy lost $50 in 20 minutes. . . . He didn't say a word. Just got up and went back to his outfit. He was killed by a sniper four days later. . . . I had $14 of that guy's money and promised myself I would never spend it. . . . I forgot all about it when we hit Seoul.

Sometimes at night you didn't realize it was war. It was the same night over Brooklyn, N. Y., or Sanford, Fla. There wasn't much difference except the smell.

You try to write a letter telling them at home what happens when the first guy drops. . . . you know everybody feels that, or when they throw in a few grenades and the sharp. . . . You try to tell them about the cold. . . . and water up to your waist. . . . and the bugs crawling. . . . But what's the good. . . . I mean a lot of people don't know. Never will know. They don't want to know.

Sent U.S. Seeking To Avoid Israeli-Arab War

Diplomacy Staves Off Showdown

Gamal Abdel Nasser U Thant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States clung today to a policy of silence on the Middle East crisis, with officials hoping secret diplomacy would find a way to avoid an Israeli-Arab war.

A State Department spokesman who declined Monday to answer any questions about U.S. moves in the crisis, said his silence was "merely designed not to tilt the balance of diplomacy which we've worked so hard to achieve."

He was understood to mean diplomacy and restraint on both sides to far has been the key to a showdown and created time in which a solution to the underlying problem may be found.

His discussion seemed to create the picture of the program as a whole with a series of supplementary education and recreation. The director also spoke of the accredited academic subjects at the secondary level; opportunity to gain extra credits out of regular sessions; classes open to visiting students; driver education; recreation and arts and crafts.

The time of the year might be critical to the guidance and library services available to second students. Parents wanting to enroll their child in the 1967 summer school program will be interviewed by the State of Florida in order to be eligible for the program.

Honor Is For All

There is a tendency for patriots everywhere to paint idyllic pictures of their young men falling in combat. But soldiers do not always die gloriously. Some do and memorialize themselves as they are heralded in the press, medaled by their superiors, remembered by their comrades.

But far more common is the man who succumbs while simply doing his job—by just being there. He dies in a shallow foxhole, on a jungle trail, in a plunging F-105.

The shock is intensified when losses from occasional tragic mistakes are told. Almost unbearable are the tales of the errors in field gun loads, the miscalculations in bomb drops. Bitter as it must be to the parent who receives a posthumous medal for a fallen son, how much more bitter it must be to the family of a young man killed in a training accident.

The inglorious as well as the glorious are honored lumped into the balance as they are necessary cost of the merchandise—freedom.

To honor the dead is impossible without honoring the whole. And the jeep crash at Da Nang, the engine malfunction over Ploesti, the misfire at Misamis Ridge are all a part of the price and in the final account, all share equally in the credit.

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the Middle East the United States is getting a taste of things to come, and they won't be pleasant.

The years since World War II certainly have had an atomic monopoly and was the most powerful force on earth—may have seemed like a new era.

But gradually the postwar years have come to look like an interim period between an era that ended with the war and a new one not fully arrived yet.

When the United States must share its dominance with the Soviet Union and Red China.

For most of its history the United States has been the captain of the Western Hemisphere, hardly at all at first, then with increasing power and intensity through a while abating its power with its Latin neighbors.

Through the years it sought to keep foreign intruders out of this hemisphere and now, because of its strength and will, it can force them to stay out.

The capture of Cuba by Castro's communism was a historical break. This country was sound asleep to what Castro really meant. When it realized the mistake it backed a disastrous Cuban-exile invasion to throw him out.

Even so, Castro was a kind of local boy, when Moscow tried to move into the hemisphere by putting its hand on Cuba, this country fully asserted itself, ordering the Soviets out, even if it meant war.

Moscow was at a disadvantage. It was butting into something far from its home base, and it backed down.

Meanwhile, nothing showed better the end of the old era than what happened to Britain, the colonial empire and lord of the sea. It became a second-rate power unable even to continue its help to Communist-tainted Greece and Turkey.

It was then, with the doctrine of President Harry S. Truman in 1947, that the United States took over as the No. 1 force on the face of the earth. The Soviets still didn't have atomic weapons then.

In his doctrine pledging help to Greece and Turkey and all other free nations similarly endangered, Truman laid down a policy followed by his successors ever since, particularly in Vietnam.

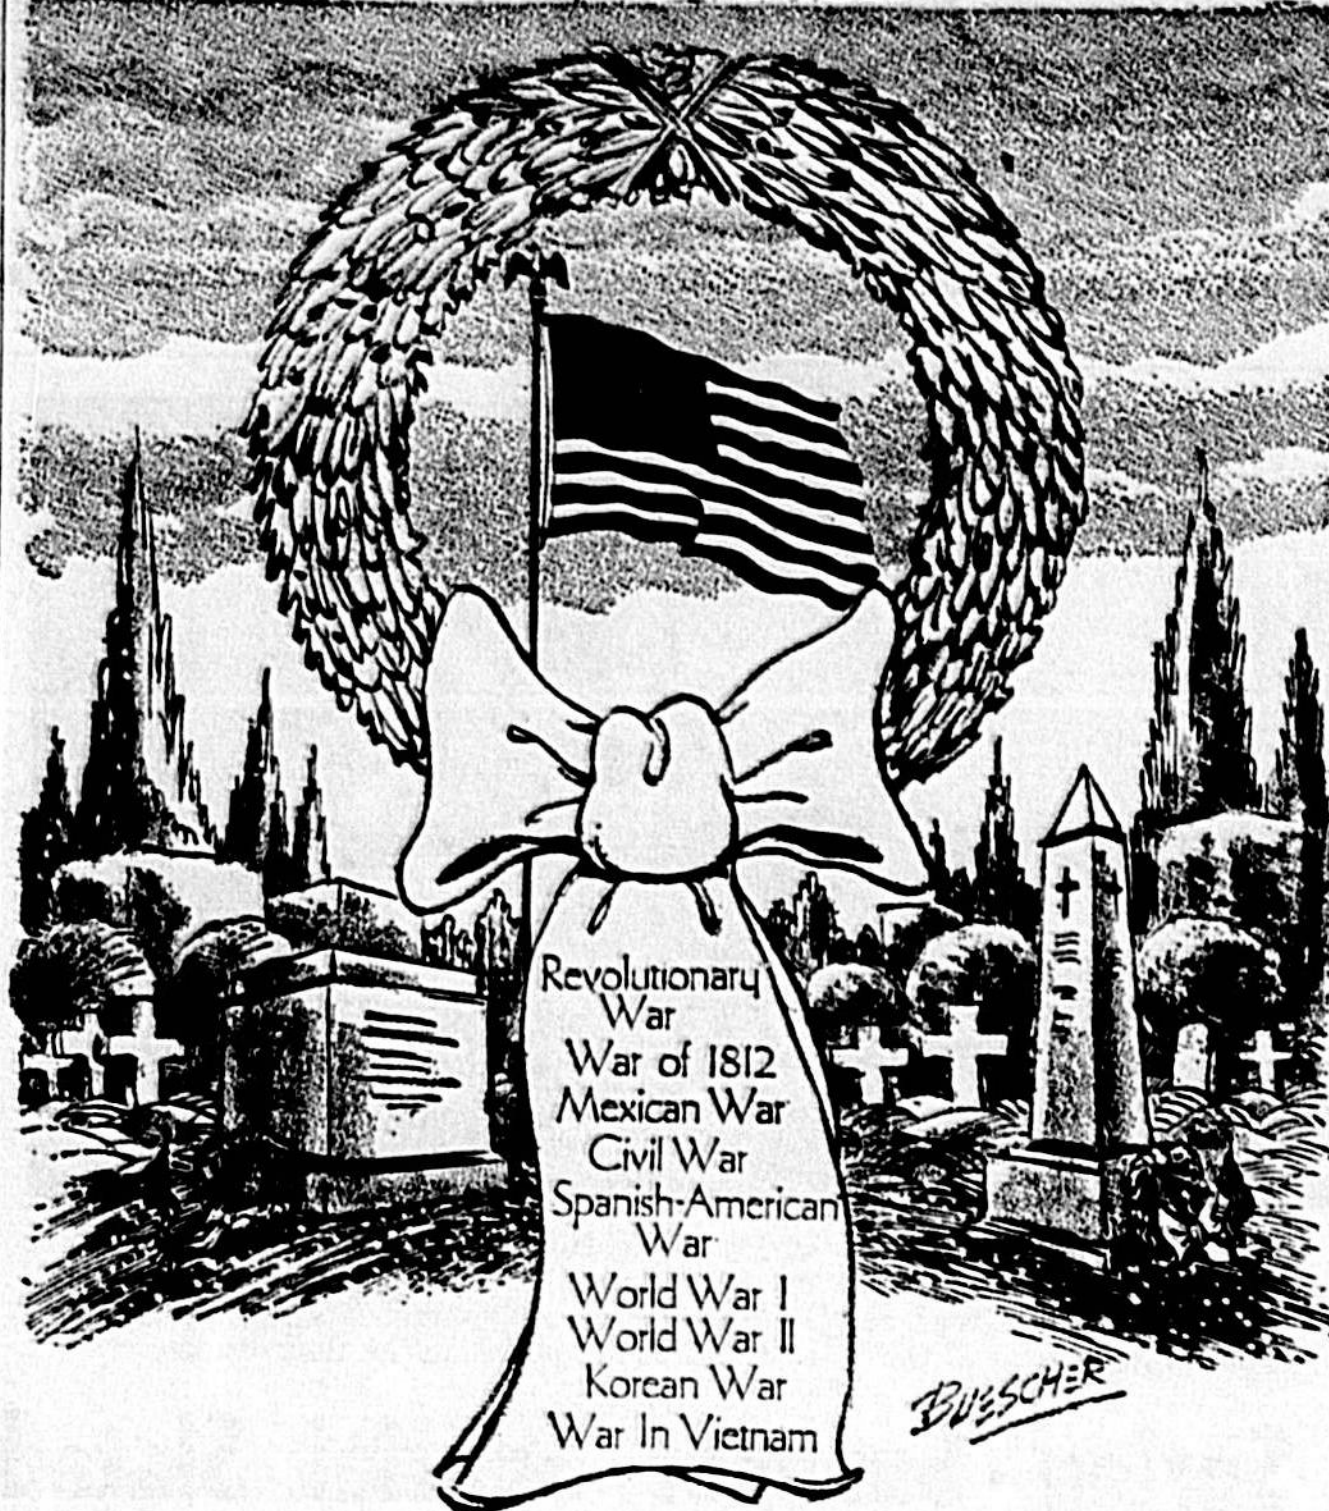

"I believe," he said, "it must be the policy of the United States to support free peoples who are resisting attempted subjugation by armed minorities or outside pressures. I believe that we must assist free peoples to work out their own destinies in their own way."

But the Soviet Union is a great power, and it has been working for years to have influence in the Middle East, which, being on the Soviet doorstep, has the same geopolitical relationship to the Soviets as Latin America has to this country.

Just as the United States did, and would, resist any Soviet attempt to butt into Latin America, it seems likely now Moscow would do the same if the United States lets itself get militarily involved in the Middle East or elsewhere in the fringes of the Soviet Union.

No wonder the United States at the moment is being quiet

LEST WE FORGET—

Helen Fuller Says:

Medicare Build-Up Seen

WASHINGTON—Congress is actively considering extending Medicare aid to 1.5 million economically disabled Americans under 65 now eligible under that program.

The House of Representatives has just completed four weeks of hearings on the proposal. Stearns is building up both for and against the plan.

Most of us know individuals, disabled and unable to perform in a regular job, who qualify for social security aid because of their handicaps but, because they are under 65, do not qualify for Medicare benefits. In the Virginia town of 250 people where I spend weekends there are 15-20 such persons.

The disabled, their figures show, are hospitalized more often and for longer periods than the aged as a rule. Then in a high-risk group, the disabled have greater difficulty obtaining adequate private health insurance to protect them.

The question worrying many in Congress is not the need but the cost of extending Medicare in a new direction.

Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) is said to be concerned about the cost of what is already on the books in light of skyrocketing hospital rates last year. Mills wants new data from the Social Security Administration to show that its original estimates on revenues in relation to costs of the medicare program will hold up.

The Commissioner of Social Security admitted to Mills' Committee that the degree of the increase in hospital costs in 1966 had been a surprise to medicare administrators. He is still confident that Social Security estimates are valid and has ordered a new look at the figures by his experts to document the point.

Much hangs on the facts Social Security presents to the Ways and Means Committee after that study.

The American Medical Association, which is actively opposing initiation of the medicare program for two decades, questions "the advisability of extending the medicare program to the aged who have largely gotten under way."

The Health Insurance Association of America warns against "costly expansion" of medicare too soon.

Congress will listen to these and other opposing voices. And look at the figures Social Security projects on medicare taxes and costs. Then it will decide.

If there is a way for that decision to come down on the side of added aid to the disabled within the political practicalities, that will be what will happen.

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following Memorial Day column, written in 1967, has found its way into many family scrapbooks. It is reprinted today as still timely.

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—America today needs a spring of remembrance, not just for the brave who have died for their country, but for the living who are still in the line of duty.

A miracle of resurrection takes place in millions of households as the dead come home again—and walk the earth once more in gladness.

Their presence is invisible to the eye, inescapable to the spirit. For this haunting day of return they are as alive as we.

The loneliest man in the land is the man who has no one to remember Memorial Day. He is indeed a soul lost a stranger on the earth—a pilgrim going from nothing to nowhere.

For it is the memory of the dead that in great measure keeps us human, that sets us apart from stone and star, man and mole, and all other feeling and unfeeling prisoners of the great pulley, "What is Memorial Day?" asks the child. "Will I get a present—like on Christmas or my birthday?"

It is a hard question to answer. How can we, who are ourselves childishly bewildered by the mystery of both life and death, explain the puzzle of that living-loving death we call memory?

Perhaps the best answer you can give a child is to say, "Memorial Day is the day when everyone anyone ever knew is alive, and nobody is dead."

Isn't that about as close as you can get, anyway?

The dead have far more power over our lives than we ordinarily realize. We read dead men's books, sing dead men's songs, they dead men's laws. Dead men taught us to sow the earth and reap the harvest. Dead men won us our present perilous safety—we especially honor them this day—and to dead men we owe our finest victory of heaven.

Every step upward we take in the sacred steps taken by our guardian dead. As the preacher man says, what is our own breath but a brief smelt on the surface of death's endless deep. Earth is poketed by more tombs than there are living men to journey to them. And so it is.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Norma is in the same boat with thousands of girls who support their gigoles escorts and attain reasonable happiness due to their 75 per cent maternal nature. But a dominant, virile male can easily steal them away by his masculine magnetism. For gigoles are sassy and regarded more as a son than a sweetheart.

CASE C-356: Norma J., aged 26, is a school teacher.

"Dr. Crane," her sister asked at the church Marriage Clinic, "my sister Norma has been dating a man of her own age. "But let her be," said the theater tickets and pay all their expenses when they go to a restaurant.

"My husband dislikes him for this spicing on Norma and being a gigole.

"But we can't get Norma to break off with him. Why would any self-respecting woman be so stupid?"

Material Norma is about 75 per cent maternal (motherly) and only 25 per cent sweetheart (erotic).

In order to feel properly romantic about a virile male, a girl must be dominated by him, at least in the erotic sphere.

So she generally expects her sweetheart to pay for the movie tickets and other expenses on a date.

But in our society where women greatly outnumber men, it is not easy to find a thrilling, dominant male for all the unattached women.

Thus Norma, like thousands of others, is selling out for half a man, rather than not having any date whatsoever.

For women derive a great deal of pleasure "mothering" a male.

So they will put up with gigoles and pay his bills, as they would for a son, just to feel maternal and protective.

Norma thus expends affection and care upon her gigole which she would otherwise withhold from her present gigole, or in her spinster isolation.

Her gigole (or so a substitute for her cat (or dog) and other relatives) the feminine desire to cuddle, comfort and protect.

Women Society Installation Set

Joy Circle of the Woman's Society of Grace Methodist Church presented a book entitled, "Forget-Me-Not of Love," to Mrs. Lamar W. Williams, co-chairman, in appreciation for services during the past year, at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Roger Harris.

The devotions were given by Mrs. Otis Taylor and reports by various officers.

During the business session it was decided to use the money collected in the "Bridalday" to purchase prayer books for each of the graduating seniors of the church.

Mrs. John L. Martin reported that much needed supplies had been taken to the needy family, which the Joy Circle is sponsoring.

Officers will be installed at the church service Sunday and the next general meeting on June 1.

Plans were made for a party with the Joy Circle to host the Easter Circle on June 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Mrs. James Leonard presented the program a continuation of the study on the book, "Christianity and Doing," by Mrs. Robert Bennett, Mrs. Alvera Kelly, Mrs. Malcolm Lodge, Mrs. Richard Silvers, Mrs. Samuel Greene, Mrs. William Fagerstrom and Mrs. Frances Munsen.

The next regular meeting of Joy Circle will be held at the home of Mrs. Fagerstrom on June 8.

Introducing Irene And Lana Creamons

LANA CREAMONS Irene Creamons. Here's a positive thinker if there ever was one. I have to agree with my hostess that Sanford has the most in potential and we need more "doors" and less talkers. She displayed a keen interest in the town and townspeople and happily currently are residing in Titaville but plan to move to Sanford in about two weeks to initiate Kenoxy into the automobile business. It is apparent that Joe Creamons thinks big and acts in accord. The proof is in the expansion and face lift that his new business, Joe Creamons, Inc., has undertaken. He still plans to expand and modernize the present site. His aim is to provide his customers with relaxing comfort and his automobiles 100 per cent. He realizes the need for completely satisfied customers and his success thrives on repeat customers. Already the family has become a asset to our community and we roll out the red carpet to the Creamons family and extend a most cordial welcome. Joe's folks like them, keep the wheels of progress spinning.

First Federal Puts The 'Skids' To Chase, 8 To 6

Chase's run-away bid for the National Little Major League pennant came to a screeching halt as first Federal's Brent Babron limited the league leaders to two hits.

Steve Griffin was the winning moundman for the Mobile team and also was yesterday's hitting star, going 3 for 3 from the plate. Ricky Ulrich was the leading batsman for the losing Hunt Lincoln team, which dropped their tilt 8 to 7 to Modern Mobile.

There was only one game played in the Joe We Baseball as the Cubs routed the Braves 18 to 4 behind the three hit hitting of Kit Johnson. Johnson also was one of the team's hitting heroes as he collected two hits and team-mate Wayne Shrine stayed within striking distance of the top rung when they topped Rotary 7 to 4 with Scott Harris firing lots of strikes past the Rotary nine.

His opponent Paul Watson was struck to the task as both hurlers were out of the box for 3 1/2 innings. Scott Harris and Ed Grooms slammed two hits each for the Shrine, with one of Grooms a solo shot over the fence. Gordon Bradley led the losers with two safeties.

First Presbyterian Church of God of Prophecy 7 to 6 in the Church Softball League last night as Ben Chada Sr., was credited with the win. The hitters for the winners were Carl Ulrich with three and Ben Chada Jr., adding two. Marvin Briggs and David Smith both had two hits for the losers.

Orioles Trade For Richert

BALTIMORE (AP) — Harry Dalton, engineering his second major baseball deal in less than 16 months, may have traded the Baltimore Orioles to their second successive American League pennant.

Moving to bolster Baltimore's struggling pitching staff, the Orioles' vice president swapped promising but unproven youngsters Mike Epstein and Frank Bertalan to the Washington Senators Monday for veteran left-hander Pete Richert.

Epstein, who had gone home after refusing to report to the minor leagues, thus gained his objective of getting a chance to prove he has major league ability.

The Orioles, meanwhile, added to their starting rotation a pitcher who won 23 games during the past two seasons with eighth-place Washington, although his record so far this year is 2-4 with a 4.64 earned run average.

As far as opposing clubs are concerned, looking at the immediate effects of the trade, the Orioles picked up Richert for Bertalan.

Richert, 27, was rated by Dalton as "one of the top left-handers in baseball," the quality pitcher who has been looking for since last fall.

Nesmith Huris Lake Mary To 5-1 Win Over Altamonte

Ricky Nesmith continued his fine hurling and clutch hitting for Lake Mary last night, pitching and hitting Coach John Brewer's Giants to a 5-1 victory over the Altamonte Senators in Seminole Major League play at Cooper Field in Casselberry.

Nesmith, who has yet to lose a game this season, fired a three hit shut out, striking out just one runner and scattering only 11 in six innings.

Nesmith, Ken Hickson and Tommy Wheaton all had two singles for Lake Mary. Mike Delk and Bill Bordeaux also had singles for the Giants. Jim Johnson, Selamy and Bobby Stuart had singles for the Senators.

John Durham hurled a four hit shut out for Lake Mary, striking out just one runner and scattering only 11 in six innings.

Cinci Thanks To Rose, Perez Sets Torrid Pace In National

The Pete Rose-Tony Perez entry is giving Cincinnati's front-running Reds that wire-to-wire look in the National League derby.

Flood, who drove in five runs with a homer and two singles before being strangled by a pulled hamstring.

Flood's two-run homer in the seventh tied the score at 6-6, but the Reds won it in the ninth on Perez' leadoff triple, a pair of intentional walks and Simpson's run-scoring fly to center.

In the first game, Gilson struck out 12 Reds on the way to his sixth victory against four losses. Cincinnati clipped him for a run in the seventh on Billy Helms' double and Leo Cardenas' single. The Cardinals broke the tie in the eighth on a pair of intentional walks and Simpson's run-scoring fly to center.

At San Francisco, Haller drove in a run in the fifth with a 1-2-3 lead.
