Veterans Cut From Scope Of Revamp Bill

Administration Men Make Further Concessions To Insure Passage Of Measure

Other Exemptions Are Seen Likely

Additional Funds Appropriated For Use Of CCC Work Camps

WASHINGTON, Apr. 4.—(AP)—House opponents of the government re-organization bill won a new concession from Administration leaders today when they agreed to an amendment exempting the Veterans Administration from any merger.

Representative Warren, North Carolina Democrat, said he saw no objection to such an amendment and it probably would be approved. He is author of the re-organization bill.

Chairman Cochran, Missouri Democrat, of the re-organization committee, said he would not oppose it. Representative Griswold, Indiana Democrat, a member of the House Veterans Committee, said the demands for exemption were based on fears it might be placed in the proposed new Department of Welfare and "put in a hot tub on the shelf."

Some congressmen said the approval of the amendment would open the way for proposals to exempt other agencies.

The House Appropriations Committee approved a resolution to provide funds for continuing 300 Civilian Conservation Corps camps which otherwise would be closed July 1.

The bill would appropriate $15,000,000 and re-appropriate $10,000,000 of an unobligated balance of the present CCC funds for use in the year beginning July 1.

Leaders of the re-organization opposition group admitted privately that the compromise offer, giving congress power to override executive orders by a majority vote and exempting the bureau of education from reorganization, would insure passage of the bill. This, with Mr. Roosevelt's return to Washington, will bring the measure to a vote late this week or early next week, they said, but they promised a fight to keep debate open against further attempts to impose a gag rule.

Sea Scouts Complete Boat Party Plans

A large group of water enthusiasts attended the Sea Scout's meeting on Thursday at their headquarters on the lake here, at which time plans were completed for a boat party.

Male Walter Ward announced that plans have been definitely made for the boat party to be given on Apr. 22, and First Mate Clifford Bell urged that all Scouts plan the best calling for a weekend cruise. He announced that Tuesday and Friday will be the days set aside for the building of the ship's second hull.

Miss Houghton and Sidney Witz reported upon the cruise which they took on the lake on Sunday, Mar. 27.

The Sea Scouts were quizzed on first aid and the construction of boats by Male Ward and Miss Houghton.

Those attending the meeting were Skipper Walter Ward, Clifford Bell, and Scouts Sidney Hill, Bill Houghton, Joe Crumshaw, Tom Gordon, Robert May, James Taylor, John Pugh, Wilbur Davis, Richard Lovelace, Fred Jones, James Toy, and Jack Houghton.

Those at the meeting were: Chairman De Wally, Harold Houghton, Robert Adams, and James Adams.

Relation Between Administration And Banks Scored

Tampa Banker Tells Convention It's No Time To Sulk

HOLLYWOOD, Apr. 4.—(AP)—George B. Howell of Tampa, president of the Florida Bankers Association, today told delegates to the 44th annual convention that the "days of understanding and cooperation between business and the Administration seem to have ended before getting beyond the talking stage."

He added "what the future holds for bankers of Florida is hard to predict. I do not believe it is time to be frightened, nor is it time to sulk."

He said the government agencies gradually had taken over most of the duties heretofore performed by banks until now little is left for banks to do. He recommended that banks improve their facilities, declaring "we can no longer do it our way, we must serve the public in the way it wants to be served."

More than 200 delegates registered yesterday for the convention. Among the delegates were J. L. Ingley, executive vice-president of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank and W. H. Tunnell, president of a mortgage loan association with Orlando headquarters.

Gov. Fred P. Cone, a former president was among the arrivals. Last night the Governor, Hon. H. Barnett of Jacksonville and others were guests of President George B. Howell of Tampa at a dinner for past heads of the group.

Many bankers attended the financial dress parade of the Riverside Military Academy and afterwards were guests of the Broward County Bankers Association at a cocktail party.

Speakers at the opening session today included State Comptroller J. M. Lee, Julian T. Barber of the United States Secret Service, whose subject was "Tainted Money" and Dale Graham of New Orleans, who talked on "The Problem of Making a Living."

Rotary Names Geo. E. Rollins As President

Miss Frances McDougal, County Welfare Nurse, Gives Talk On Public Health

George E. Rollins was unanimously elected president of the Rotary Club for the year beginning July 1, at a meeting of the board of directors held immediately prior to the regular weekly luncheon of the club at the Valdes Hotel today.

Other officers of the club were re-elected, as follows: Henry Colglough, treasurer; and Dr. A. W. Epps, secretary.

The program at the luncheon consisted of a talk on public health in Seminole County by Miss Frances McDougal, county welfare nurse, who paid tribute to the American Red Cross and to W. A. Luffler for the assistance which each has rendered the health program in this county.

President H. H. Coleman called upon the Rotarians to assist as much as possible in the Salvation Army drive. Mr. Rollins was named delegate to the district Rotary Conference to be held in Ocala on Apr. 21, 22, and 23, with Mr. Coleman as alternate.

"How many of you in this room today have a clean bill of health from the servant you employ in your own home," Miss McDougal asked, as she declared that out of 20 colored women recently examined at the County Clinic five were suffering with syphilis, that (Continued on Page 20)

Japanese And Rebel Armies Push Enemies

Meanwhile British And French Governments Are Facing Domestic Discord

Blum's Financial Program Okeyed

Opposition To Chamberlain's Policies Causes Near Riot

The Spanish government army with its back to Barcelona and the sea, and the Chinese army with its back to the Lunghai railway fought desperately today against destruction in the world's two wars.

Meanwhile the British and French governments, both arming against the possibility of new wars to come, were faced with domestic discord.

The French People's Front cabinet approved Premier Blum's drastic financial program, including centralization of all foreign exchange operations in the Bank of France. The program will be debated in the Chamber of Deputies tomorrow and in the Senate Wednesday. It appeared the Chamber would give approval but Senate action seemed unlikely.

Opposition to the conservative ministry of Prime Minister Chamberlain threw the British House of Commons in an uproar. One member slipped another during a heated debate.

Parliament critics in northern Spain were hoping gun wars toward the sea. Government forces yielded ground but continued to fight desperately. Madrid suffered the heaviest aerial attack since the civil war began.

Parliament critics in northern Spain were hoping gun wars toward the sea. Government forces yielded ground but continued to fight desperately. Madrid suffered the heaviest aerial attack since the civil war began.

In China the Japanese army cracked the central China front near Yenchowang on the Grand Canal only 15 miles from the main railway which is the spinal cord of Chinese resistance.

It was believed that before war broke out a suburb north of Madrid was the heart of rich Catalonia province and attack here would drive on to the seacoast at Tortosa or at Vittoria to isolate loyal Spain in half and isolate Barcelona.

Before the final assault upon the city, which has been known for hundreds of years as one of the most impregnable fortresses in Spain, the armies of Franco and Mussolini formed contact at Alcaniz, 12 miles northwest along the highway to Barcelona.

From there the line of attack led along the broad highway to the Hamlet de Aragon on the northern section of Lerida, up steeply inclined streets blocked by machine gun nests and barricades.

Victims sent a fleet of fast whippet tanks up the Hamlet, followed by African Mowra ant tanks for the opportunity to avenge the defeat of their ancestors driven from Lerida more than 1100 years ago.

The advance began in bright sunshine early in the morning, aided by 200 pieces of field artillery and scores of nationalist planes, and was terrific.

The loyalists attacked their last counter-attack at 8:30 o'clock when the nationalist infantry surged through the streets in a bayonet charge behind the whippet tanks. A half hour later the remnants of the government troops were fleeing eastward across the Negro river.

Headquarters reports said an enormous number of prisoners were taken, including troops of the crack El Campesino and Lister brigades pushed up from the southern fronts for a do-or-die defense of Lerida.

The fate of the city was said to be uncertain.

Generally fair and warmer tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy, scattered in extreme south portion, slightly warmer in north portion.

Give To The Salvation Army

With the celery market what it has been all winter, with citrus prices hardly sufficient to pay the freight, and with business men pretty generally discouraged, a drive at this time to raise $3,500 in Sanford may seem like an extremely ambitious undertaking.

But that is the goal which the Salvation Army seeks, and for the very fact that conditions here are unfavorable at this time and have been all winter provides all the more reason why every person who is in any way at all able to do so should contribute his part toward making this campaign a success.

Because of bad prices and poor market conditions, and because of the business slump, there are more people than ever in Sanford who are in need of the type of service which the Salvation Army renders, and because more than six months are ahead of us before another season rolls around, the chances are that the demands for relief will increase throughout the year.

Most cities have their Community Chests, or other similar organizations which provide assistance for the poor. In Sanford we have no Community Chest, and practically all of the work which ordinarily falls upon such charity organizations is taken care of here by the Salvation Army.

Therefore every person should give to the full extent of his ability in this drive and may well know when he does so that every dollar of it will be well spent for the relief of human suffering within our own community.

Newspaper Advertising

As we have frequently pointed out in these columns during the past few years, it pays to advertise. Herman Roe, once field director of the National Editorial Association, recommends ten points for newspaper advertising which he says will bring a high measure of success, prosperity and profit to any retailer who spends the greater part of his advertising appropriation in good newspaper copy.

These ten points, contained in an address on "Newspaper Advertising and the Small-Town Merchant," are as follows:

- 1. I advertise regularly. Every issue of the paper takes my story to its readers. 2. I make every ad look like mine. Years ago I adopted a distinctive style, and have stuck to it. I use plenty of white space; my ads are never hard to read. 3. I put into my newspaper advertising a definite proportion of my gross sales. I fix this at the beginning of the year. My rule is to make it three percent of the previous year's gross, with more if special conditions justify it. 4. I brighten my ad with frequent illustrations, either humorous or practical. This costs me little, for I subscribe to an advertising cut service, and keep the cuts as I buy them listed to use again some time. 5. I am careful never to over-promise. When I make claims I back them up with reasons. Then when I really have an unusual bargain, people believe me when I "whoop'er up a little." 6. I think advertising all the time. I buy goods that will advertise well. Sometimes I buy goods just for their advertising value. 7. I get good display for my ads by seeing that the copy is in the newspaper office in plenty of time. I do this by having a definite hour to write the copy. 8. Whenever possible, I carry the nationally advertised goods that are advertised in my home paper. I feature them. Sometimes they give me a smaller margin than fly-by-night concerns, but I find that I sell faster, and make more money in the end, besides pleasing more customers. 9. I always plan my window and counter displays to link up with my newspaper advertising. Each helps the other. 10. My sales people back up my advertising. They often help with suggestions for it, and I see to it that they always read it.

WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

By JOE HENDRICKS

DON'T PUSH: I am interested in having the opinion of my constituents in regard to any measure before the Congress of the United States, however, there are times when they are inclined to push me into a decision. I get many letters condemning the reorganization bill and urging me to vote against it. In the first place, if my constituents know what will be in that bill, at final passage, they have some source of information that I have not tapped yet! In the second place, I am not going to be stampeded into voting against this bill by my constituents any more than I am going to be stampeded into voting for it by the administration. I am going to study the bill as I have been trying to do, and then listen to the debate by capable men on the floor of the House, and when it reaches a vote, if I find the advantages outweigh the disadvantages, I shall vote for it. If I find the disadvantages outweigh the advantages, I shall vote against it. I believe this is a position, and the only position, which my constituents can respect.

IS THE SENATE CONSERVATIVE: The reorganization bill has just passed the Senate a few hours before this writing. If you will recall when the Wagner-Hear bill was before the Congress, the Senate passed the bill by exactly a two to one vote. At that time I predicted the House was less conservative than the Senate, however, when the bill reached the House, it was reamended. This, of course, with the consent of certain labor organizations. Will the reorganization bill follow the same course upon reaching the House?

TAX BILL MODIFIED: It seems as though taxes on business will be modified again after the recent modification in the Lower House. The Senate Committee has withdrawn from the bill the special law on undistributed profits, and capital gains taxes. Of course, this does not mean that these two classes of revenue will be discarded. There will be substituted instead a straight 18 percent tax.

CHERRY BLOSSOM TIME: Almost 200,000 citizens from the territory surrounding Washington visited the City on last Sunday to get a glimpse of the beautiful Japanese cherry blossoms. We had three warm days in the Capital City recently and the cherry blossoms burst forth in full glory almost overnight and are in full bloom now. The moving picture certainly serves a most useful purpose in this instance because the beauty of the Total Basin surrounded with a halo of Japanese cherry trees in full bloom can be seen to those who are unable to come to see them. NO WORKERS—One member of Congress whom I shall not name recently is angry over the Japanese sinking of the Panay and their invasion of China made a fiery speech recommending that the Japanese cherry trees be dug up by the roots and burned for kindling wood. No wonder that member is at home now fighting to return to office.

SPEAKING FOR MYSELF: This was taken from the Washington Merry-Go-Round: "The company which prepares newspaper 'columns' for Congressmen is known as Congressional Associates, Washington. They prepare 'copy' and sell it to the members of Congress who want to provide newspapers in their district with a 'confidential' letter from their constituents." Perhaps the news would be more journalistic if I had hired a ghost writer, however, I do my own writing.

Professor Calls For Fair Levies On Forest Lands

LEESBURG, Apr. 4.—(AP)—If Florida can afford homesteaded tax exemption it can afford to tax forest lands "fairly," Dr. W. A. Ziegler, professor of forest economics at the University of Florida, said in an address here. "Fair" taxes are needed if timber production is to grow from profitably to supply the new pulp mills of the state, he said. More forest land in Florida has gone back to the state for unpaid taxes than in any other southern state, he added. The professor predicted that wood which is being sold to pulp mills for fifty cents a cord will bring from $1.50 to $2 when the demand and competition increase. There are 22,000,000 acres of land in Florida, suitable for growing timber, he said. "But there isn't a county in the state which has 25 percent of the trees on its forest land it should have." Dr. Ziegler declared Florida has produced $1,000,000 worth of lumber since the industry began operating in the state. He said naval products had added another $500,000,000.

Entry Of Woman Enlivens Race In 4th District

Qualification For County Offices To End Next Thursday

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 4.—(AP)—Last minute entry of a woman candidate Saturday night enlivened the race for representative of the Fourth Florida Congressional District.

Bernice H. Bowers qualified from Miami tonight, listing her legal residence in Palm Beach County. She opposed at least five men for the seat of Rep. J. Mark Wilcox—once occupied by Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde.

A seventh candidate in the Fourth District was expected before midnight. He was Walter H. Beekham of Miami, who posted his fee but did not formally qualify for the race.

R. W. Farnell of Lake City qualified before the deadline to oppose Rep. A. A. (Lex) Green of Starke in the Second Congressional District.

These new candidates issued a contest for the United States Senate and for three of the five congressional seats from Florida in the Democratic primaries next month. At the same time, the Republicans will decide between two aspirants for the senatorial nomination.

Rep. J. Hardin Peterson of Lakeland, First District congressman, and Rep. Joe Hendricks of De Land, from the Fifth, apparently had escaped opposition.

Interest in Senate Race.
State-wide interest centered in a five-man Democratic fight for nomination to United States Senator Claude Pepper's seat.

An unprecedented campaign developed in all three races for seats of the Supreme Court, two of which qualifying ended two months ago.

The two candidates for reelection to the Railroad Commission, faced opposition.

Besides these top-rank contests, the voters must select a judge in the 5th Circuit, where five candidates qualified, 11 State attorneys, 19 State senators and 45 members of the State House of Representatives, and fill many purely county offices, in primaries May 3 and 21.

Late Qualifiers.
Late qualifiers today included Fred L. Stinger of Brooksville, for the Fifth Circuit judgeship; J. H. Popham of Inverness for State senator from the Thirty-Eighth District; Philip E. Paine of Coral Gables for Eleventh Circuit State Attorney; and Louis E. Mare of Fort Lauderdale for Fifteenth Circuit State Attorney.

Most members of the State Senate whose terms will expire next January sought reelection and most of them had opposition.

This was true of J. Turner Butler of Jacksonville, president-designate of the 1935 Senate, whose reelection was opposed by A. T. Brown of Jacksonville.

Candidates qualified with the Secretary of State included:
For United States senator: Democrats, Pepper, Wilcox, former Gov. Dave Sholtz, T. C. Merchant of Madison and Finley Moore of Lake City; Republicans, Allen E. Walker of Winter Haven and Thomas E. Swanson of Fort Lauderdale.

For Supreme Court: Group 1, Justices Rivers Buford and Senate President D. Stewart Gillis of DeFuniak Springs.

Group 2, to succeed Chief Justice W. H. Ellis, who plans to retire: Truman G. Fitch of Tallahassee, Judge Edwin Thomas of Fort Pierce and J. Tom Watson of Tampa.

Group 3, for two years, unexpired term of late Fred H. Davis: Justice Roy H. Chapman and John Melvin Hearn of Live Oak.

For Railroad Commission, Group 1, Eugene B. Matthews, incumbent; W. E. (Hack) Hancock of Madison, and Bruce Davis of Tallahassee.

Group 2, Chairman Jerry W. Carter, Walter Kehoe of Miami and Wilbur C. King of Zolfo Springs.

ALEXANDER KORDA'S FIRST MUSICAL PRODUCTION "THE GAY GIRL"

WHAT WAS GONE BEFORE?
Rene Martin, whose name is coupled by Paris gossip with that of Jeanette Dupont, a show girl whose name has never been used in her dressing room to squelch the rumor. He falls in love with her without revealing his identity. Jeanette, who has been made a star on the strength of the rumor, is called by the producer of her show, Jacques Thibaud, to bring Martin to dine with him at a well-known restaurant to give Thibaud's creditors the impression that Martin is backing his show. The bridge Martin, not knowing who he is, to "impersonate" the millionaire, and he promises to meet Jeanette in the theatre someplace. Jeanette grows furious, thinking he is making game of her.

Chapter Six
"My dear Martin!" effused Thibaud. "I'm delighted to see you. Come right in!" He waved Martin to a chair beside the desk at which he had been mournfully going over his accounts.
"I'm afraid I can't stay long," said Martin. "I'm in a great hurry. The course, of course. You know, Martin, I took a liking to you last night. I said to myself, 'at no last

"Put your arms around my waist... Now kiss me!"
ter what inconvenience, I'd like that to have a share in my show."
"That's very kind of you," replied Martin, taking out his checkbook. "Would you mind passing me that?" He began writing.
"What shall we say?" said Jacques hopefully. "A hundred thousand?"
"Oh, dear me, no."
"No, perhaps that is a little large. Fifty? No? Thirty? No? ... Five?"
"Oh, no, nothing like that," protested Martin.
"But my dear fellow, think of the money to be made in the theatre. Not to mention the film rights—the photograph recording rights—"
"Will you please accept this check?" said Thibaud, handing a check toward him. "I'm in a great hurry."
With a sigh, Jacques took the check and looked at it. Then he looked quickly back at Martin and laughed—a bit sadly.
"This will amuse you, Martin. Glancing at this check I thought it was a check for a million francs."
"It is. Will you accept it? First meet me later, and I'll explain what I mean."
When Jeanette came in a few minutes later, she found Jacques and his faithful flunkies, Clarence, dancing wildly about the room, jubilantly waving about the Martin check. She asked at once what was up—and when they proudly showed her the check, her worst fears were confirmed. Might as well break it to them at once, she thought.
"Jacques—listen. The check is no good—he's not Rene Martin. I don't even know Rene Martin. I'm awfully sorry, but—well, I was forced into it. You wanted to meet Rene Martin and I had to produce some one, and he only did it because I asked him to."
But the show, as an immortal paraphrase once put it, had to go on. And it did go on—quite profitably. For it was a good show. Thibaud's final and supreme effort to put over a success and recoup his fortunes. And now it was going full blast—spectacular number fol-

Ickes Denounces Hike In Relief Funds May Reach $2,000,000,000

Secretary Declares President Expected To Tell Congress Totalitarianism Is Distinct Threat Of Unemployment

CHICAGO, Apr. 4.—Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior, asserted last night that "fascism is the deadly and insidious foe that we must prepare to combat without loss of time."
The secretary made the assertion in an address, broadcast over a nationwide hookup, at a dinner commemorating the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the Jewish Daily Courier. His subject was "Progress by Purges."
Declaring that he suspected "either the motives or the intelligence of those who would have us march our forces against a highly imaginary danger of communism while fascism thunders at the gates of our citadel of liberty," he secretly added:
"Let us make no mistake. Totalitarianism is a real threat to our institutions. More and more people are coming to recognize the danger even to America of this ruthless political monster that hunts by day and prowls by night."
"They are coming to realize that unless we are luckier than we are likely to be, our concern for the safety of our democratic institutions will increase rather than diminish. For fascism—arrogant, devoid of conscience and knowing no mercy for man, woman or child—is on the march."
"Let us make no mistake, Totalitarianism is insidiously boring today from within the temple of our liberties and assailing it from without. It rides the radio waves, spews from the press, soars through the air in bombing planes, sinks under the sea in submarines and crosses the surface of the earth to a chorus of clanking tanks."
"Never has any foe of civilization moved so mysteriously, so unerringly, with such deadly swiftness, or over so wide a territory. The urgent and the unopposable duty of every American who loves liberty is not only to let the light of reason guard him from within against this treacherous foe but to join his fellow citizens in resisting it from without."
WASHINGTON, Apr. 4.—(AP)—Administration leaders last night definitely abandoned hope of holding direct relief outlays for the 1939 fiscal year to the $1,000,000,000 tentatively budgeted by President Roosevelt, and forecast a program which may cost about $3,000,000,000.
Mr. Roosevelt, after a final checkup with his fiscal experts, expected to inform congress shortly of the precise status of the unemployment crisis arising from the trade slump, and his exact needs.
Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, his assistant, Aubrey Williams, and WPA economist Leon Henderson discussed the situation in detail with the chief executive while returning from Warm Springs, and are understood to have told him a hike in the relief outlay is vital and unavoidable.
Officials close to the White House have informed congressmen leaders that Mr. Roosevelt tentatively had requested the $1,000,000,000 relief bill for the current fiscal year requires that the money be spread out over the entire 12 months. The result, according to WPA officials is that they were powerless to combat the business recession when it hit.
"There is no question but that $1,000,000,000 is insufficient to meet the need for the entire year," Chairman Ed Taylor of the house appropriations committee said tonight. "It will probably be sufficient to tide us over until next January. But the ultimate program looks to me like about $2,000,000,000."

Salvation Army Fund Drive Is Launched Today

contributions to carry on the work of the Army in Sanford.
"Planning out that while cash donations were made acceptably, Capt. Rose stated that pledges to be paid at any time during the year will be acceptable. In this way, he said, many who find they are unable to contribute cash, find it possible to pledge their support at some future time.
Capt. Rose also reported that approximately $500 of the $2,500 quota set for this City has been turned in already by the Advance Gifts Committee, and asked for the continued co-operation of the public in the drive for funds to carry on the work of the organization for another year.

out of 68 white women recently examined four had syphilis.
Further pointing out that there are now 12 white persons receiving regular treatment for syphilis at the county clinic, and 170 colored persons, Miss McDougal urged that those who are able to pay for their treatments be encouraged to consult with their regular physicians that it is impossible for the County Physician, Dr. A. C. Kirk, alone to treat all of those who need it.
Revealing that 68 treatments for venereal disease were given by Dr. Kirk to colored patients in October, Miss McDougal stated that the number increased to 88 in January, 255 in February, and 201 in March; while the number of treatments given white persons was 11 in January, 14 in February, and 8 in March.
All of these treatments are given to persons totally unable to pay either for the medicine or for the doctor's services, and does not include those who are able to pay for their treatments by other physicians without pay. Miss McDougal said. The work is carried on by Dr. Kirk every Saturday night beginning at 7:00 o'clock.

After the loyalists' ill-fated counter-attack, Yague turned his guns upon the castle, dominating the entire city. The doors were blasted by direct artillery hits and tanks moved through the debris. The impetuous Moroccos annihilated the loyalists there with grenades and bayonets.
More than 2000 prisoners were taken in the first phase of the 15,000 losses were said to have been suffered by the government, including dead, wounded and prisoners.
The loyalists were said to be reorganizing around Balaguer, 11 miles northeast of Lerida where the government's general headquarters was set up three days ago after fleeing Lerida.
While his mobile units and Moroccos seized the city, wiping out loyalist resistance, Yague held his storm-troops and civil guards in readiness on the outskirts ready for actual occupation.
Few of Lerida's normal civilian population of 40,000 remained, most non-combatants having been removed to the rear and into Barcelona.

BRADFORD, Pa.—(AP)—A childhood prank of 48 years ago weighed heavily on the conscience of an Olean, N. Y., man.
He wrote Mayor Hugh J. Ryan a letter, relating that "way back in 1890" he visited the old fairgrounds at South Bradford. But instead of paying an admission fee, he crawled under the fence.
The thought of the act had disturbed him all these years, he wrote, and now he would like to know to whom he could pay the fee.

Grand Jury Cracks Down On Gambling

Hillsborough Sheriff And 8 Other Public Officials Are Indicted In Cleanup

Cone Is Asked To Remove Officials Charge Is Failure To Arrest, Prosecute Illegal Gamblers

TAMPA, Apr. 5.—(AP)—A Hillsborough county grand jury, returning indictments against nine public officials and seven other persons, called for cleanup today of Tampa gambling and asked the public's co-operation.

Among the defendants named in the jury report were Sheriff J. R. McLeod, Police Chief C. J. Woodruff, County Solicitor J. E. Williams, Deputy Sheriff E. C. Logan, Deputy City Detective Chief W. D. Bush and Constables Hugh Oulbreath, H. C. Graves and Henry Rosenman.

The indictments charged the officials with the failure to arrest and prosecute gamblers. The bond for each was set at $500. Seven of the nine had made bond by noon.

Williams said he would seek a writ of habeas corpus as a means of attacking the indictments. Mayor R. E. L. Chaney said he had fallen in with Woodruff and Detective Bush and would not spend them from duty.

Sheriff McLeod said, "My friends know I will be completely vindicated of these charges." In a telegram to Gov. Cone the grand jury asked the removal of the sheriff, solicitor and constables. Cone, at Hollywood where he is attending the State Bankers Convention, declined to comment.

The nine city and county officials named in indictments returned by the Hillsborough county grand jury 10 minutes before midnight were:

Sheriff J. R. McLeod, County Solicitor J. E. Williams, Chief of Police C. J. Woodruff, Chief of Detectives W. D. Bush, Chief Deputy Sheriff Amason C. Logan, Deputy Sheriff Ed Vesel, Constable Hugh Oulbreath, Constable T. M. Graves, Constable H. C. Graves.

All day and until almost the hour of midnight at which it went out of office the grand jury was constantly at work. It brought in a report, bristling with charges of wholesale gambling.

Judge Sends 14-Year Old Boy Back Home

"Stay away from bad company," was the advice given by Judge R. W. Ware when he returned Douglas Huff, 14-year-old Chicago youth to his home instead of sending him to a term in Marianna as he did his two cronies, Andrew Lambros and Francis Mulheon.

The three youths were caught in the act of robbing Benjamin's Department Store on First Street some time ago and after obtaining a detailed report of the robbery, Judge Huff had previous records. Acting accordingly, he sentenced Lambros, who was apparently the leader, to serve 24 months in reform school and the other to serve 12 months. Young Huff, who had run away from home for the first time, was returned to his home in Chicago on the recommendation of juvenile authorities there.

Telling of his association for the robbery, Huff told the following story:

"I arrived home yesterday, and when I was glad to get home, I found some day I will be able to hold hands with you, this time as a man."

Franco's March To Sea Watched By Democracies

Speculation Rife On Moves If Rebel Armies Win Civil War

By MORGAN M. BEATTY, WASHINGTON, Apr. 5.—(AP)—Heads of governments all over the world are anxiously watching General Franco's march to the sea and asking their respective confidentially—to guess the train of events in the wake of a final nationalist victory in Spain.

The guesses are confidential because no government is willing publicly to count other people's chickens before they're hatched. Naturally, the guesses don't agree on details but enough of their opinions have leaked out in democratic capitals to make a composite of the scene after Franco wins—if he does.

Possible Developments Here are four big developments the guessers expect in the wake of insurgent success:

1. Methodical, red-sashed General Franco would scrap the seven-year old republic that succeeded the Bourbon monarchy in 1931, and himself assume absolute control of "New Spain."

France has indicated he's not set on any one form of government, so long as he holds the reins. Most interpreters think, however, he probably favors restoration of a Bourbon king as a veneer for his own dictatorship.

2. Firm suppression of republican remnants.

Since the world-famous Spanish empire crumbled 200-odd years ago, Spain's history has been one page after another of intrigue and revolt. Her several classes range from out-and-out royalists to anarchists who want as little government as possible, and that in the hands of labor. In between are the militant Catholic party, the Masonic groups, socialists, communists, and others, none of which has much in common with the rest.

Successful rulers of modern Spain have been men who ruled with an iron hand, like Dictator Primo de Rivera who modernized the country in the prosperous thirties. If Franco would rule, he must suppress the so-called "red" opposition, some of which is composed of moderates, much the members of the democratic and republican groups in the country. He also must watch for revolt within his own ranks. It is estimated in Spanish circles that he will have to

Florida Labor Refuses Okeh On Candidates

Office-Seekers Presented At Convention But Not Permitted To Speak

PENSACOLA, Apr. 5.—(AP)—The Florida Federation of Labor today steered itself away from public endorsement of political candidates. Instead, its executive committee will compile information about the attitude of candidates on labor legislation, and this will be sent to local unions throughout the state.

Candidates for various offices were introduced to the annual convention here but were not allowed to make speeches. There was no opposition to the motion from the floor that, since no speeches were allowed, there should be no public endorsements.

Delegates handed in a flood of resolutions but these went to a committee whose approval is required before they come to the floor. One, which went to the committee, proposing the endorsement of Senator Claude Pepper was read. Another resolution offered by Tampa cigarmakers would endorse the Federal wages and hours law.

Florida musicians at the conference asked a resolution for the investigation of the Federal music project in Florida, charging that musicians "through gross misrepresentation" left homes and were required to live in Jacksonville to rehearse for tours of the state symphony orchestra. The resolutions committee will report tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 5.—(AP)—Vice President Garner and Speaker Bankhead today named three Democrats and two Republicans from each legislative body to conduct a congressional investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority and private power companies operating in that area.

Speaker Bankhead named representatives Mead, New Hampshire Democrat, Dwyer, Arkansas Democrat, Thomson, Texas Democrat, Jenkins, Ohio Republican, and Wolcott, New Jersey Republican.

Vice-President Garner appointed Senators Donahay, Ohio Democrat, Brown, New Hampshire Democrat, Schwarts, Wyoming Democrat, McNary, Oregon Republican, Hays, Idaho Republican.

Senator Borah promptly announced he would decline to serve. President Roosevelt yesterday signed the resolution authorizing a $50,000, joint congressional investigation into charges of corruption and waste within the Tennessee Valley Authority and activities of private utilities in fighting the New Deal's power rate "yardstick" program.

The President's action came while the Senate was in recess and shortly after the House adjourned, blocking appointment of the committee until Monday.

Yankton and Garner, carefully concealing their selections, said that they would be chosen on the basis of "strict neutrality" during the TVA controversy which culminated with President Roosevelt's removal of Arthur E. Morgan as the agency's chairman when he refused to substitute charges of dishonesty against his co-directors, David E. Lilienthal and Harcourt A. Morgan.

Indications are that the committee will begin work this week. One of the first jobs will be to select its chairman. It has a $50,000 bank account to defray expenses and wide subpoena powers to gather all available data on the TVA and the fight against it by utilities.

Mystery Shrouds WPA Road Work

Miamian's Death, Officers Claim

Salesman's Body Was Discovered In Everglades Waterway

WEST PALM BEACH, Apr. 5.—(AP)—Sheriff's deputies today said a mystery surrounded the death of Johnson L. Lightsey, 53, Miami salesman, whose body was found in an Everglades drainage canal on Conner's highway 25 miles west of here.

Lightsey's body was recovered yesterday within a few miles of the place where the body of Lawrence W. Bell, 39, West Palm Beach salesman, was found in a submerged car Sunday.

Officers said they found a letter in the water nearby addressed to a friend in Miami in which Lightsey said he had been kidnapped by two men who robbed him of $52 after forcing him to drive to Fort Pierce.

Lightsey's car was found on a canal bank Mar. 25 after he had left West Palm Beach for the Lake Okechobee region.

WPA Road Work Receives Approval Of Commissioners

With Loyalists Divided Franco Attacks Barcelona In North, Valencia In South

British Unionists Slow Rearmament

Internal Dissension In London And Paris Is Brought To Head

By Associated Press The Spanish insurgents' powerful war machine today drove ahead toward what its leaders hoped would be a quick, final victory in the civil war that has made Europe an armed camp.

Both Great Britain and France struggled with internal dissension stirred up largely by the Spanish strife and brought to a head by the insurgents' swift offensive.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco's armies held eastern seaboard and look down on the Mediterranean at the city of Tortosa which they expect to occupy shortly. With the first great offensive won, Franco's forces turned their attacks north toward Barcelona and south toward Valencia.

In London, Prime Minister Chamberlain's government, the victor over the labor party in the foreign affairs debate, ran headlong into union workers' coolness toward its armament speedup program because of opposition to the government foreign policy.

French Premier Blum battled with an uproarious parliament for drastic powers over the nation's economic and financial life.

In the Orient the Japanese pressed on toward the Lunghai railroad, the east-west transportation artery of Central China. Retreating Chinese, however, made another stand on the bitterly contested front, again slowing up the Japanese drive.

Spain's rebel officers last night announced General Franco's forces had cut Catalonia off from the rest of government Spain including Valencia and Madrid.

Federal Court To Try Citrus Case

GAINESVILLE, Apr. 5.—(AP)—Federal Judge A. V. Long yesterday set Friday, Apr. 29, for a three-judge Federal Court hearing in Jacksonville on an application for a temporary injunction filed by 10 citrus growers and shippers against the Florida Citrus Commission and Nathan Mayo as commissioner of agriculture.

The shippers and growers seek to enjoin the Citrus Commission and Mayo from enforcing the Mar. 15 order of the commission making the one and three-fifths bushel citrus container the Florida standard and outlawing the present two-bushel container.

The application for the temporary injunction was filed here Mar. 31 and after a restraining order preventing the enforcement of the one and three-fifths bushel container regulation until the three-judge court could act upon the application.

Judge Long's order yesterday stated the three-judge court would be composed of Judge Rufus E. Posler, of New Orleans, one of the judges of the Fifth District Circuit Court of Appeals, Judge Louis W. Stryun, Jacksonville, one of the judges of the Southern District of Florida, and Judge Long, judge of the Northern District of Florida.
