The Lust For Gold

Three bandits held up a cordial shop in New York the other day. In attempting to loot a get-away they attracted the attention of a large crowd. Their automobile overturned at a sharp corner and the pursuit continued on foot with the crowd steadily gaining and closing in on the bandits. It looked as if escape were impossible.

Suddenly one of the bandits hit upon a bright idea. He reached into his pocket, pulled out a roll of bills and a handful of silver. Like sailors on a foundering ship pursued by hungry sharks, he began scattering bait behind him in an effort to distract the attention of the mob. They took the bait. A pack of wolves could not have battled each other more furiously over a baby thrown from a fleeing sleigh. The bandits got away.

During the "Mad Twenties" most of the people of this country were like that mob scrambling after money. The Almighty Dollar was the ruling passion of the public. Those who had it were king; those who did not were benighted fools. Other things of life were forgotten. Decency, chivalry, morality, honesty, and kindness were completely neglected in the intense development of acquisitiveness. The lust for gold had its full sway.

Most of the laws which were passed in the special session of Congress last spring were designed to prevent a repetition of the abuses which sprang up during the moral breakdown of the past decade. The banking act, the securities act, the NRA and the AAA are all supposed to prevent the sharper and sharper people from taking an unfair advantage of those who are less gifted in the wiles of trade and finance.

And yet we sometimes wonder if it is possible to legislate into people a proper sense of justice and square dealing. Can a simple act of Congress make a man more considerate of his neighbor, more charitable toward his workers, more honest in his financial relationships? Does the history of our laws show that what is needed is more law, or perhaps a finer spiritual and moral enlightenment which our churches could probably supply better than our Congress?

If there had been a law prohibiting a mob from scrambling for a bandit's money when they are chasing him, would this New York mob have continued the chase?

The Menace Of Snakes

A newspaper dispatch carries the information that twenty-one rattlesnakes have been killed by crews of negro workers clearing a 100-foot right of way between Sanford and Fern Park during the past few days.

In a manner this is not pleasant news but it should be a warning to everyone, especially hunters who have occasion to go into the woods with the opening of the hunting season not many days away. Because of the high waters during the late summer, or for some other reason, snakes have been more conspicuous lately than in many seasons. They can be seen on the highways and in hammocks and almost everyone has a story to tell about one he has killed.

It is too bad that most of us cannot discriminate in our attacks on these reptiles and concentrate on those which are really a menace and spare those which benefit us. There are many snakes which work to our advantage, kill rats, insects, and other snakes and in general are a benefit to mankind.

The poisonous snakes, of course, should be killed, but why destroy a king snake which is the worst enemy of the rattler and moccasin and yearly accounts for the death of more of these reptiles than any other agency? If we had more king snakes we wouldn't have so many of the poisonous kind.

All of this recalls to us the advice we learned in the Boy Scouts under the heading of what to do in case of a snake bite. It is almost useless to attempt to tell someone how to conduct himself in such an exigency, so probably the soundest advice would be to go as quickly as possible to a doctor after placing a tourniquet above the affected part. (Of course there are many other things one might do but if this much is remembered it might save a life.)

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

The recent rains and cooler weather have aided the snailing countenance of the celery dais. Already the growers can count on better prices, better products and better conditions than they could last week when the hot weather prevailed.

The Brotherhood of the Presbyterian Church, recently organized has grown to such proportions that the members decided upon having monthly meetings where the members could gather for recreation aided by something to eat, so the committee on entertainment gave a banquet to present any prospective members Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dinges on Sanford Heights. Those present were: Robert Degen, Joel Field, Tanny Dean, Alvin Evers, E. E. McArthur, T. K. Bates, H. McLaughlin, H. E. Barnes, D. B. Caldwell, J. N. Whittier, C. H. Laffer, John Thomas, J. E. Tarrilliger, E. H. Chittenden, E. H. Macka, Kay Rossetter, W. H. Underwood, A.

Osborn Hagdon made a business trip to Jacksonville Saturday. The Music Department of the Woman's Club held its regular meeting Saturday afternoon in the club rooms with Miss McKim in charge of the program. Those taking part were: Mrs. T. A. Newton, Miss Margaret Davis, and Mrs. Cooper.

At a recent meeting of the Woman's Club plans were made and committees appointed for "Cleaning Up Week." The club members were enthusiastic about the plans for the week.

ROOSEVELT IS BACK OF PLAN TO WHIP FORD

(Continued from Page One) people have signed the code? "I saw it in the paper but I do not know what they did or how they did. That's all I know."

"Could the Lincoln Company sign without the other Ford companies signing? Would that be acceptable to you?" "Yes, I think I would have to sign it as far as the Lincoln Company is concerned."

"Does Mr. Ford regard his signing as a sign of approval?" "I don't know. I will be clear in my mind of the fact that I have not signed it yet."

SCHACHT TERMS Ford Position In U. S. MONEY PLAN NRA Situation Is Finally Stated TOO ARTIFICIAL

Reichsbank Head Says Nazi Policies Are Less Inflationary

BERLIN, Oct. 23. (AP)—The president of the Reichsbank quoted figures yesterday which, he said, seem to show a Nazi or Fascist regime is able to handle currency policies less inflationary than a democratic one.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, the president, spoke at a general shareholders' meeting particularly to "eliminate the judicious handling of capital" to increase the market and to give unemployment a death blow.

"At the present time," Dr. Schacht maintained, "when the whole world is raising the cry that Germany is drifting to inflation, statistical figures show that in the United States, France, Belgium and other countries the paper circulation is considerably higher than at the present time."

"In Germany and Italy," however, the reverse is true, which seems to show a Nazi or Fascist regime is able to handle currency policies less inflationary than a democratic one.

"Business under the Nazi regime is showing an unmistakable revival which is organic and not artificial."

The Reichsbank officer explained that the Reichsbank statute is far less elastic than that of other issuing banks, inasmuch as non-metallic coverage for notes was limited here to commercial paper, the scarcity of which led the Reichsbank during the crisis of 1931 to accept bills that were not strictly commercial, but financial.

BANK DISOWNS WIGGIN'S ACTS, PROBERS TOLD

"As a matter of fact today the Metropolitan corporation does not deal in Chase stock in any way whatever, and as long as I have anything to do with the management of the bank in Chase stock will not be an artificial one."

Explaining a moment later that the last part of his statement might seem too strong, Aldrich modified it so that the "market in Chase stock shall not be affected by the operation of trading accounts by the affiliates of the bank."

Aldrich, brother-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the largest single holder of Chase bank stock, brought about the divorce of the bank and its securities affiliate last spring as one of his first acts on assuming the leadership.

Peoria brought out that while Wiggin's personal contributions showed a profit of more than $10,000,000 in the bank stock, the Chase Securities corporation's operations yielded around $150,000. Wiggin explained there was a difference in the way they operated.

Wiggin did not challenge Peoria's statement that the banker's personal company realized a fortune. He listened to the figures unsmilingly and said he could not verify them. They were compiled by Peoria and his staff.

To explain the difference in profits, Wiggin said his personal corporation had held the stock in which they traded for much longer periods than had the Chase Securities and affiliates, operating the bank affiliates "in and out" of the market.

Success Of NRA Is Assured, Is Pearce's Belief

(Continued from Page One) that probably 14,000,000 Americans were jobless led to the creation of a program aimed at relieving this critical condition, he said.

"It was originally planned by the new Administration that business reorganization was to be brought about as a major part of the new program," he said.

"Through a system of codes which were to be based upon what business wanted, the government had planned to lend a hand with a minimum of supervision. NRA was the result."

The President's Agreement, "merely an instrument to take care of a pressing situation until January first," was introduced late in the summer, he said, "in an attempt to maintain the morale of millions of unemployed who, although jobless, had since March looked on the hope that things were getting better. These millions however were having their faith in the Administration shaken by an increase in the price of the things they needed, an increase in the price of the things they brought about by a horde of profiteers."

"Now we are at the start of a vitally needed 'Buy Now' campaign," he said. "Need I say that if you people in Sanford will put this program over you'll find out quickly and convincingly just what the NRA means, and that it is most certainly worth while?"

The answer to the complaint of those who say that the NRA has done nothing, that is definite, Mr. Pearce said, is that "Patience is needed before a condition that has existed for nearly four years can be corrected. Can we get out of a four-year depression in three months?"

The South, particularly Florida may expect to see more definite results shortly after the first of the new year, Mr. Pearce stated. Since it has mainly citrus and vegetables to sell to the people of the nation, he said, and since the effects of the NRA have noticeably increased the buying power of persons in the North, Florida growers' prospects are exceedingly bright.

Mrs. W. C. Hill Gives How Report On U.D.C.

At the monthly meeting of the D. C. held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank L. Woodruff, Oak Avenue, Mrs. W. C. Hill presided and gave her annual report and officers for the coming year were announced.

Mrs. F. E. Roumillat of the nominating committee gave the following list of new officers: Mrs. G. D. Bishop, president; Mrs. B. L. Perkins, vice-president; Mrs. W. C. Hill, second vice-president; Miss Margaret Roberts, recording secretary; Mrs. B. D. Caswell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. M. Hayes, treasurer; Mrs. A. K. Rosseter, historian; Mrs. M. S. Wiggins, registrar; and Mrs. C. P. Herndon, chaplain.

During the meeting Mrs. Hill told that the chapter is helping a former slave who lives in the county and Mrs. Roumillat gave a report of the state convention held last week in Gainesville. It was decided that the chapter furnish lunch daily to one school child.

Among the items of interest in Mrs. Hill's annual report were the following: the only Confederate veteran in Seminole County was honor guest at the December meeting when he told of the reunion of Confederate soldiers in Richmond and was presented with fruit and gifts from the chapter; fruits and vegetables were given to the Soldiers Home in Jacksonville; an account of the Robert E. Lee ball; announcements that a contribution was made to the Norman V. Randolph Relief Fund for needy Confederate women; flowers were given to the sick and for funerals; resolutions were written on the death of two honorary members, Mrs. B. F. Whitner, Sr. and Mrs. J. D. Barker.

Also that 10 booklets on the life of J. E. B. Stewart were procured to sell to chapter members; communication was sent to the legislators asking them to give assistance in continuing the Confederate soldiers' pension; Southern Memorial Day was observed on Apr. 25 and the chapter joined with other patriotic organizations in observing National Memorial Day on May 30; seven members attended the meeting of the Fourth District Brigade in Apopka in March and nine members were present at the state convention in Gainesville recently; framed pictures of Gen. Robert E. Lee were presented to the West Side Primary School, the Seminole High School and the Junior High School.

Also that a tea was given in May honoring Mrs. E. A. Douglas, past state recording secretary and past president of the chapter, at which time Mrs. Douglas was given a past president's pin.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Roumillat and Mrs. C. P. Herndon. Those present were: Mrs. A. K. Rosseter, Mrs. P. M. Elder, Mrs. B. D. Caswell, Mrs. W. C. Hill, Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, Mrs. C. P. Herndon, Mrs. Frank L. Woodruff, Miss Margaret Roberts, and Mrs. J. O. Long, a visitor. At the November meeting Mrs. C. P. Herndon and Miss Margaret Roberts will be hostesses.

Marlene Dietrich Has Glamorous Role In New Film At Milane Sunday

A new Marlene Dietrich, different than her millions of screen admirers have ever glimpsed in her previous pictures, will be seen in "The Song of Songs," her new Paramount picture coming to the Milane Theater tomorrow.

Miss Dietrich, who hitherto has appeared as a sophisticated worldly woman, is revealed in her new production as an innocent young country girl of rare beauty who goes to Berlin and, lured by a handsome young sculptor, runs the gamut of tragic experience.

She marries a rich and elderly Baron, whom she does not love, and following their divorce she becomes bitter and disillusioned, and a notorious woman in the gay German city's night life.

Brian Aherne, referred to by drama critics as the most romantic actor of the New York stage, following his work as Katherine Cornell's leading man in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," makes his screen debut as Miss Dietrich's leading man, Lionel Atwill, who has been a stage star for sixteen years, appears as her husband, Alison Spivorth. Harold Allright and Helen Freeman also have good roles.

4 Sponsors For Annual Art Exhibit Are Named

Mrs. W. M. Scott, Mrs. Henry Wright, Mrs. E. M. Galloway, and Mrs. E. D. Browlee will be sponsors for the annual art program of the Woman's Club to be given Wednesday afternoon in connection with the monthly business meeting and luncheon of the club. The Literature Department, assisted by the Music Department, is putting on the program.

Features of the afternoon will be an exhibit of pictures, anti-ques, and needlecraft from Sanford homes and a talk by Mrs. W. M. Scott on the late B. E. Ward whose canvases will be on display.

Mrs. Smoot and Miss Margaret Smoot of Maitland, sculptors, will be present at the meeting to display several examples of their work, and give talks on the personal side of a sculptor's life. Miss Smoot studied last year in Europe.

Among the musical selections to be presented during the afternoon will be several numbers by a stringed quartette.

NO JOKING - - MONEY GROWS ON (shoe) TREES!

PUT your pair of shoes on trees and plant them away in their box on a dark closet shelf. Forget all about them 'til next spring. (That's hard to do, we know, because you're sure to remember every time you dress up.)

But we suggest this as a real economy. Because when you bring those shoes out in wagg' three or six months from now, they'll probably be selling for half again as much as (at very best) when you bought them. . . and you can see, you've bought these pairs instead of one!

There are about the best-kept-est fashion merchandise that we know of. A good article in correct style, and you'll find it hard to get a better one. You'll find it hard to get a better one. You'll find it hard to get a better one.

In the advertising columns of this newspaper you will find many good shoe bargains still to be had at amazingly low prices. Study them carefully . . . then apply your present and future needs!

"The Christian Religion is the Paramount Issue of Today," will be discussed at night.

Preparations for "House Coming Day" are going forward in great shape. Dinner? I should say so, plenty of it, too, enough to feed all the old members and present ones—those who live in other sections and those at home.

The time? Nov. 5th, all day program of interest and good fellowship. All former members of this old church are especially invited to be present. Extra good made by our songsters will not eat anything.

The Sunday School and Epworth League will have special work: do on this day. "So Long" till Nov. 5th.

Seminole High Scores 9 To 0 Florida Is Among 5 Home Coming At Victory Over Deland After Unsullied Record Local Delegation

The University of Florida Open their record marred by a scoreless tie with N. C. State, rate 25th among the major grid teams in the nation, according to a Central Press survey released today. They have three wins and no losses and are one of the five teams which have not been scored on, while amassing 63 points.

Carnegie Near Peak Princeton tops the list with three wins and no losses or ties none for the opposition. Nebraska, while scoring 105 points against its second and Carnegie Tech, cumulative of Notre Dame, is third. Notre Dame, usually one of the top leaders, is way down on the list with a win, loss and tie in its three starts. Most interesting is the fact that it has scored 12 points to none for the opposition in the trio of combats.

Tennessee, Dixie pace-setter for the past three seasons, is also submerged with two wins and two defeats. Tulane, another old-time leader, has the same record.

The following table shows games won, lost and tied, points, opponents' points and percentage:

DETROIT MOBS WREAK HAVOC UPON PLANTS

Windows Broken, Cars Overturned By 2500 Workers Who Storm Tool And Die Shops

DETROIT, Oct. 30.—(A.P.)—A mob said by police to number 2500 riding in nearly 800 automobiles swept through streets in which several tool and die shops were located, hurling bricks through plant windows and overturning automobiles in what officials said was a demonstration against tool and die makers who returned to work during a strike.

Police reserves were called after the mob had visited the plant of the Kiestlin Tool and Die Corporation, smashing 134 windows but the men had sped on to the plant of Frederick A. Colman and Sons, where they circled the factory, and then drove away as patrolmen rushed to the place.

Demonstrators then sped to the Faigle Tool and Die Company plant where they overturned automobiles parked in a lot near the factory, hurled bricks through a window and stormed the offices of the plant.

Officials reported that men seized blue prints and drawings, took them into the streets, and burned them.

All available police were ordered to tool and die plants in the city, and all patrolmen off duty were told to report to their stations immediately. A report to headquarters said that 10 men were injured during the demonstration.

Negro Chorus Will Sing At City Hall For Elks Auxiliary

"From Sun To Sun" an original stage presentation which depicts in song and dance the average daily life of the negro of the South, a presentation which was written and directed by Zora Hurston, has been selected by women of the Elks Auxiliary of Sanford Elks Lodge No. 1241 as the first of several affairs which are to be offered in Sanford for the benefit of the Harry Anna Memorial Home for Crippled Children at Umatilla.

This announcement was made today by Mrs. J. G. Leonard. The City Hall will be the scene of the performance, in two acts and several scenes, which is to be presented next Friday night. Entire proceeds will be turned over to the Home.

Zora Hurston is a negro woman and native of Florida. A college graduate, the first negro ever to be admitted to Barnard College, she majored in anthropology. Three years of study in the South aided her in gathering together the largest collection of negro folklore ever attempted. "From Sun To Sun" is a production based on some of this lore, and parts of the performances are exactly the same as those presented at the John Golden Theater in New York in 1932. The entire cast is composed of negro singers and dancers, and all acted a bit in performances at Rollins College and in Orlando early this year.

No establishment may change from the hours of operation program in which it has elected to operate except upon Dec. 31 of every year.

Any establishment may at any time increase its store hours provided it complies with the employee work week of the program in which it has elected to operate.

Any establishment may, for a period not to exceed three months during the summer, temporarily reduce its store hours, but the weekly wages of its employees shall not on that account (Continued On Page Two)

LITVINOFF TURNS UP IN PARIS BUT REMAINS SILENT

PARIS, Oct. 30.—(A.P.)—Abruptly bringing to an end the mystery which has surrounded his movements for hours, Maxim Litvinoff, Russian Foreign Commissioner, arrived here today en route to the United States.

Reported to have left Berlin for Paris yesterday, he did not arrive here as was expected and his whereabouts were unknown until he appeared here without explanation.

His plans for sailing to the United States, where he is to confer with President Roosevelt regarding a possible American recognition of Russia, remained veiled in secrecy. He made no appointments but it was said that he would see Foreign Minister Paul Painleve.

Meanwhile France prepared a national funeral for Paul Painleve, Premier from 1917 to 1923, former war minister and aviation enthusiast, who died yesterday of heart disease at the age of 70.

His body will lie in state in the new "Painleve amphitheater," the conservatory of arts and trades which President Lebrun dedicated only Saturday. From there it will be transported to the Pantheon for the funeral services.

The genial, absent-minded baker's son, one of the world's most distinguished scientists, was also one of the most enthusiastic promoters of aviation.

He was Wilbur Wright's first passenger in France in 1908. He learned much from the American inventor and, as an early enthusiast, obtained the first parliamentary credits for building up the French air force. He was minister of air in the last Herriot cabinet when his last illness began.

A doctor of mathematics and winner of institute prizes for works on scientific subjects, Painleve was the first French interpreter for Albert Einstein.

Throughout his life, Painleve was engaged in public affairs. He was premier of France in 1917 and in 1924 missed by a narrow margin the election to the presidency of France. In 1925 he again was made premier. He was an advocate of payment of the war debt to the United States.

NEEDY WILL NOT SUFFER, HOPKINS TELLS WORKERS

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 30.—(A.P.)—Forecasting that "we are going to start the winter with a million more families than were on relief a year ago at this time," Harry L. Hopkins, Federal unemployment relief administrator, yesterday said "very emphatically, the needy unemployed are going to be taken care of this winter."

He told relief delegations of Iowa, Nebraska, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, and Kansas, "If we are to provide adequately the essentials of life, which is the chief motive of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, all forms of government, local, state and federal, must work together in contributing funds."

"Although there wasn't anything said about it," Hopkins said, "last February and March there were 4,500,000 families, or something over 20,000,000 persons on relief. It was an unprecedented circumstance. It need not be worried at that few persons really have any idea of the extent of the destitution problem.

"As I see it, we are going to start the winter with a million more families than were on relief a year ago."

Hopkins estimated about 3,500,000 families were on relief rolls at the present time. During the five months the Federal Emergency Relief Administration has been in operation approximately $216,000,000 has been allotted by the federal government to care for the needy unemployed, he said.

He noted that when new jobs open up most of them are filled at first by "self-maintaining unemployed who have never been on relief rolls."

"The unemployment relief bill of the nation, which is approximately one billion dollars per year, must be paid," he said. "This means that the need for private contributions is greater."

TUGWELL SAYS U.S. TO INVADE HIGHER WAGES FOREIGN MARKET MUST BE PAID TO BUY GOLD

U. S. Advisor Assails Gold Standard Idea, Supports Roosevelt Monetary Policies

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(A.P.)—Rexford G. Tugwell, assistant secretary of agriculture, said today that "the gold standard is a relic of the past" and that "the United States must be paid to buy gold."

In an address before the Gold Standard Association of America, Tugwell said that the gold standard is a relic of the past and that the United States must be paid to buy gold. He said that the gold standard is a relic of the past and that the United States must be paid to buy gold.

Assailing the gold standard, Tugwell said that the gold standard is a relic of the past and that the United States must be paid to buy gold. He said that the gold standard is a relic of the past and that the United States must be paid to buy gold.

Proponents of the gold standard, Tugwell said, are "a relic of the past" and that the United States must be paid to buy gold. He said that the gold standard is a relic of the past and that the United States must be paid to buy gold.

It seems to me that the gold standard is a relic of the past and that the United States must be paid to buy gold. He said that the gold standard is a relic of the past and that the United States must be paid to buy gold.

Recovery Heads Interpret Six Features Of Master Code Which Is Now In Effect

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(A.P.)—And the flurry over Henry Ford's status under NRA, the Recovery agency went on Saturday towards its mass mobilization of industry by proposing a way for all trades to agree upon a set of uniform competitive practices.

Simultaneously, to get into operation this morning the retail code, its largest single one, NRA issued a series of interpretations applied to simplest terms so that every storekeeper might get the requirements of the code straight without delay.

The code proposals to govern competition made at NRA Saturday were for six basic principles worked out by a joint committee of the Recovery unit and the Department of Commerce following a survey of the 1,000 preferred codes of regulations adopted by trade associations; of the commission over 15 years, and selling worked out by newspapers and better business men.

The six practices singled out for emphasis were, in summary: advertising and selling; attack on competitors; price discrimination; commercial bribery; breach of contract or interference with those of others; coercion by black lists and other devices.

The interpretations on the retail code, were:

The code must be observed by all stores which do not engage "primarily" in selling food, milk and tobacco or those coming under separate codes, selling stationery, automobile agencies, lumber and material yards, and sellers of oil burners, ice coal, jewelry and sewing machines.

It does not apply to well segregated divisions of department stores such as restaurants, lunch counters, barber shops.

Starting Monday the "loss leader" is dead. That is, no merchant shall sell any article, except those specifically exempt, at less than its cost or at which he could buy it today, whichever is lower.

Once the code authority sets an allowed floor for goods to be charged above cost of the goods to the merchant—probably early next week—this "markup" about ten percent, must be charged on (Continued on Page Two)

STATE SEEKS BIG MILITARY BURIAL SUM FOR FOREST REHABILITATION

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 30.—(A.P.)—A present reforestation program, ultimately embracing 2,000,000 acres and costing $8,000,000, will be undertaken by trustees of the state internal improvement fund if the national public works administration will advance the money.

Cutover lands now lying idle would be used to produce fine timber under the reforestation program, the trustees said, and money loaned by the public works administration would be repaid through sale of lumber and forest products, and possibly through ultimate sale of some of the lands.

The trustees have applied to the public works administration for $400,000, the first quota of the fund that will be sought. This would be used to start reforestation work on 150,000 acres in three tracts. The first tract is in Wakulla, Leon and Liberty counties, a second is in Putnam and Clay counties, and the third in Duval and Hillsborough counties.

Governor Sholtz and members of his cabinet who are the internal improvement fund trustees, prescribed the plan to federal officials in Washington last week.

Fred C. Elliot, engineer for the trustees, said the preliminary plan called for dividing the state into 10 forest districts, with 200,000 acres of land suitable for reforestation in each district. Every county in the state would be included.

A survey by Elliot showed there are 8,000,000 acres of cut-over land, of which 6,000,000 acres are of a type suitable for reforestation.

Four million acres in large holdings or in contiguous tracts suitable for reforestation as state projects would be available if the program should be enlarged.

The total of 2,000,000 acres was decided upon because virtually all of this land now is under state control because of nonpayment of taxes. It would be acquired by the state through payment of the delinquent taxes to the counties and taxing districts with funds obtained from the public works administration.

FRANCE WILL DEFAULT ITS DEBT PAYMENT

Sarraut Cabinet Plans Same Action Taken In June By Daladier; Gold Reserve Is Off

PARIS, Oct. 30.—(A.P.)—The government of Premier Albert Sarraut, it was learned in official quarters today, intends to default on the American war debt installment due Dec. 15, as did Premier Edouard Daladier on June 15.

It said semi-officially that the government would abstain from raising the question in parliament and this policy rather than his health would be responsible for the absence of former Premier Edouard Herriot because his participation would be certain to revive the debt question. Herriot is an advocate of the debt's payment.

The Dec. 15 due payment is $22,300,000.

The great gold reserve of the Bank of France was decreased $14,000,000 francs, (approximately $12,526,000), it was revealed in figures released Saturday.

For the seventh consecutive week the bank has lost gold. The figures appeared to confirm the warning of former Premier Edouard Daladier to Parliament last Friday that 200,000,000 francs have been withdrawn in a single day, indicating that the franc was shaky.

Coast Line Official To Speak Here On Monday

J. R. Franks, general yard master of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad shops at High Springs, is announced today as the principal speaker on a program which, presented at the City Hall next Monday night by the Jacksonville District Progressive Club of the railroad, will be one of the inaugural features of Seminole County Safety Week which opens next Sunday.

Mr. Franks has never spoken before a Sanford audience. He is nationally known for his safety activities, and he is safety chairman for the Florida American Legion.

His appearance here was suggested by New York heads of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., who, appealed to for a well-known speaker on safety subjects, recommended that either Mr. Franks or Robert Scott of Wilmington, N. C., be asked to make the address. Both are Coast Line officials.

Other speakers at this rally will include R. A. McCranie of Jacksonville, T. L. Dumas and S. E. Jones of Sanford. Mr. Dumas is chairman of the Jacksonville District Safety Committee and Mr. Jones is secretary. The District recently reported that it now holds a record unpassed by any A.C.L. division in that no reportable accidents have occurred since Jan. 1 of this year, and only one took place, all last year.

The public is invited to attend this Safety meeting which is to be followed by a dance as a social feature beginning at 9:00 o'clock.
