

NEW SCHOOL WILL START NEXT WEEK

PRESIDENT COMES TO US WITH GOOD ENDORSEMENTS

The new Commercial College for this city promises much in the way of giving this section a good commercial school not only for the citizens of Seminole county but those of adjoining counties who can now send their children to Sanford with the full knowledge that they will be taught the best business course obtainable.

Probably there is no one thing in Florida of greater concern to those who expect to spend the winter in Florida than the question of schools. Among Miami's educational advantages is the Pan American College of Commerce.

The spacious rooms are beautifully furnished and especially suited for the winter. There are outside windows on the east, south and north, constant breeze from both the Gulf and the Miami river.

Last winter students from fourteen states were enrolled, and a number were so attracted by the climate here that they accepted positions in the city and have become regular Miami-ans.

January 20 was another "real letter" day for those that attended the bi-annual reunion of the West Longwood Old Settlers' Association.

Mrs. C. E. Walker who was unable to be with us, having located with her family in Berlin, Wis., where they expect to make their future home.

Miss Alice Tetherly was elected president and Mrs. J. S. Dinkel was re-elected secretary.

The Longwood and West Longwood people in attendance were J. B. Clouser, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Searey, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Nieweyer, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bittins, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dinkel, Miss Olive Dinkel, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Polk and son, Mrs. Healey, Mrs. Geo. Hardaway, W. M. Bicknell, from Orlando, Mrs. W. M. Bicknell, from Orlando, Mrs. Helen Greenwood, Miss Tetherly, Miss Morton, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Piler and two children, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Singleton and son, Walter, St. Augustine, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Singleton and daughter, Louise; Inverness, Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar; Willow Springs, Mr. H. H. Hill.

Every one voted a good time and expect to meet again on the third Saturday in January, 1918.

W. I. Singleton and family motored through Inverness to take in the reunion.

W. I. Singleton and family were guests at the Longwood Hotel for a few days. They came over from St. Augustine for the Old Settlers' Reunion.

Mrs. L. S. Dinkel was shopping in Sanford Tuesday.

J. A. Bryan was transacting business in Sanford Saturday.

SEMINOLE MOTORCODE TO ORGANIZE

TRIP TO BE MADE FROM SANFORD TO CHICAGO IN JUNE

Sanford boosters are now busy arranging for a Seminole county motorcade that will leave this city some time in June and make a trip by auto to Chicago.

This trip will do much toward advertising the city and county as literature will be carried along and the motorists will communicate with the boards of trade along the route and arrange meetings which will be addressed by the Sanford boosters.

At the present time there are six cars lined up for the trip and it promises to be one of the finest trips for a vacationist that could possibly be arranged.

HENRY WATTERSON'S TRIBUTE TO FLORIDA

EDITOR OF COURIER-JOURNAL IS FLORIDA'S GREATEST BOOSTER

(Written for the Courier-Journal)

Pictured on the map of the United States the state of Florida looks like the caudal appendage of some strange monster curled around the south Atlantic to embrace and protect the Gulf of Mexico.

From the St. Johns to Cape Sable in the east and Charlotte Harbor in the west, Aladdin's garden would seem by comparison a brief patch, the Everglades but half explored awaiting the hour when they may pour into the common Dissease was supposed to start in the Dry Tortugas and to spread northward. In "Bonny Havens, O," the ancient drinking song of the West Point cadets, we come upon the line, "On Tampa's lovely shore," expressing a prehistoric idea of those days.

Nevertheless, all along the Atlantic coast between St. Augustine and Key West there are notable and delightful points, like Daytona, Ormond and Eau Gallie to mention only a few, and on the Gulf coast between the beautiful and fertile river we have St. Petersburg, Sarasota, Ft. Myers and Naples.

Probably the Tamiami Trail, running east and west will be completed early in the year. There is project and bound to follow a line of railway uniting the old Plant system with the Florida system and saving the public a thousand miles of travel.

The Courier Journal twenty years ago called the Gulf of Mexico the Mediterranean sea of the western hemisphere. Florida the American Riviera, the European Riviera, however, is mainly a playground.

Man of genius that he was, Mr. Flieger builded even wiser than he knew when he penetrated the terra incognita which Mr. Plant, likewise a man of genius, had a generation before, barely touched with the wand of enchantment.

And what would the east bidden by the rest of the country in the last election to go way back and sit down yobnat would the Tenderloin and Tuxedo do if they could not rid themselves now and again of their idle rick and had not Palm Beach for a dumping ground?

And so, from regions of snow and ice, the Courier Journal sends its wroated New Year's greeting to the land of sun and flowers, shrine of the fabled scorpionium and home of the paradisaic crocodile, not to mention the allegorical alligator.

The dafferdowndilly, The dafferdowndilly, Likewise the lily, The sweet carnation, And the blooming pink.

Rev. Davidson of the Congregational church called at the Board of Trade office yesterday to inform us that he had the boosting habit and he demonstrated this fact in many ways you are the right sort, keep it up.

Go easy about knocking, nine tenths the fellow you are talking to is a member of the Board of Trade and you can mark it down he's a live one.

Will Decorate the Cars: The Percy Decorating Company, who are official decorators for the Fair have opened up headquarters in the old Seminole Bank rooms.

Those wishing to have their cars decorated for the parade should see Mr. Halstead and make arrangements. Those who wish to decorate their own cars can call at display rooms and buy the decorations, which will be sold at a low price.

Mr. Halstead by a large store of festooning in all colors, also games, flags and hunting.

The streets are to be decorated with flags and pennants, and we hope the merchants will all decorate their stores and buildings. The price for decorations of cars will be from $5 to $15.

WILL GREET OLD FRIENDS

Rev. F. D. Hunt to Preach Sunday Morning Presbyterian Church

Rev. Frank D. Hunt, evangelist for the Synod of Appalachia with headquarters at Bristol, Va., will preach at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Hunt is one of the most popular and loved evangelists of the Presbyterian church. He is known to the older residents of Sanford, as he was pastor of the Sanford Presbyterian church during the time of the great freeze, and a number of the members of the church still active in the work of the church united under his ministry.

Mr. Hunt is one of the best Bible students in the Presbyterian ministry, and he knows how to bring the Scripture to every day needs. Large numbers are expected to hear him next Sunday. We not only invite all who read this notice, but also each of you to invite others.

The pastor will preach Sunday night. Seven people united with the church last Sunday, and this has been a very busy week in the church. The session will meet Sunday morning after the morning service to talk with any who would like to speak with them about admission into our church, or to speak with us about becoming Christians.

Any who desire to renounce sin, accept Jesus Christ as Savior, and seek to do His will in the world are invited to membership in the church. These are the only requirements.

The church is well heated.

Mrs. Marie Allison of Indianapolis, who will be remembered as having visited here before is expected in Sanford very soon to be the guest of Mrs. R. R. Deas.

WATERWAYS COMMITTEE IN SANFORD

GATHERING HERE IN FEBRUARY SHOULD BRING BIG RESULTS

The Waterways convention to be held in this city on Feb. 2 promises to be well attended, as Secretary Woodruff of the Waterways committee of the Sanford Board of Trade is busy sending out invitations to parties all over the east coast and central parts of Florida.

Thoughtful minds have studied out a plan which is believed to be feasible for reducing results. Public opinion of this scheme is desired and for that purpose a meeting of representatives from various parts of the state is called to convene in the court house, Sanford, Friday afternoon, February 2nd at 3 o'clock.

Will you be present, Mr. Business Man, Mr. Professional Man and Mr. Farmer? You are needed, your judgment and counsel are respectfully solicited and it is earnestly requested that you let nothing prevent your attendance.

Mrs. E. M. Galloway motored over to DeLand today for a few days visit with friends.

ANOTHER SEMINOLE BUILDING

NEW BANK TO ERECT ANOTHER FINE STRUCTURE ON MAGNOLIA

Sanford continues to grow apace and the growth is not confined to new people but the home people who know their town best are the ones who invest their money realizing the great future in store for Sanford.

Among the very latest buildings to be contemplated is the two story brick building that will be erected on Magnolia avenue on the vacant lot just south of the New Seminole County Bank. The directors have just finished one of the finest bank buildings in the state but the building fever is still on them and having this new lot in the rear of the bank in the heart of the business section decided at their meeting yesterday to make use of the lot and the plan was made into a reality and the plans will be submitted today and the contract let at once.

The building will be 40 feet on Magnolia and 52 feet deep, two stories of pressed brick, the first floor on Magnolia will be made into two store rooms and the rear of the building will be a large store room for the Hill Hardware Co. The rooms on the second floor will be used for offices and the building will be made up to date in every particular. This fine building will add much to Magnolia and Herald Square is fast becoming Wall Street.

Another fine store building in the process of erection is that of Mrs. DeForest at the corner of Second and Sanford avenues. This building is of curved brick and is 50x100 and will consist of two stores on Sanford and one on Second street. This building takes the place of a lot of old shacks and is an improvement that meets with the approval of every one in the city and will add much to Sanford avenue and Second street.

There are several other buildings contemplated in the next few months and Sanford while not booming is growing surely and steadily.

With a comedy drama in three acts, "The Broken Butterfly," the Pickert Stock Company opened a week's engagement, at the Lyric Theatre last night, and a crowded house greeted the capable players.

Val C. Cleary in the leading role of a southern racing gentleman and Blanche Pickert as his wife displayed talent that pleased, while Clint Dobson as a comedian succeeded in provoking many a laugh. It was a strong cast throughout and special scenery added to the effectiveness of the play.

Vauville acts were the best ever seen in Batavia with a stock company. Bob McIntyre drew cartoons of a number of prominent people; Dodson & Dodson pleased in a musical act. Miss Dodson's triple tone solo was good. Egan's xylophone player received his share of the applause. Williams & Boggs were the comedy hit of the show. The Pickerts in singing, dancing and music were artists and Val C. Cleary had the audience all singing an animated song.

"Little Girl Next Door"
LYRIC—MONDAY, JANUARY 29

Jersey Shore, Penna., October 9th, 1915.

Manager Pickert Stock Co., Galeson, Penna.

Dear Sir: My partner, Mr. Andrews of the Emporium Opera House has just notified me of the men business world at Emporium. I can do nothing but congratulate your company for the very excellent satisfaction they gave in our town. It is indeed gratifying to us and more especially so in view of the fact that Mr. Andrews hesitated in allowing anything to be put on our regular picture business in the fear of dissatisfaction and a loss.

Yours very truly,
J. S. Veil.

Batavia News.

At Lyric Monday, Jan. 29

"H. Jennie Winston, now known all over the world as 'The Little Girl Next Door' had only known life in its true and pure phase, the golden shimmer of her beautiful wings would not have been brushed away by the ruthless hand of man; she would have gone on to the end of her life and to the beginning of the life eternal in all the beauty of her God-given chastity. Instead of a broken and crushed being, left quivering in the dust of degradation, where the man had left her after marring her beauty and her life."

In this manner a well known Chicago minister recently stirred his congregation to the crying point as he started off his sermon, "The Little Girl Next Door." He then explained that his sermon was based upon the photoplay, "The Little Girl Next Door," which, he said, in turn was based upon the report of the Illinois Vice Commission. This mind later went so far as to urge each and every member of his congregation to see this picture because he felt that the producers were actuated by a desire to acquaint the country with what good could be accomplished when a body of sincere men and women set about to improve the vice conditions of any city.

However, it must not be inferred that "The Little Girl Next Door" is purely a sermon drama, so to speak; instead it is a story of today, which is filled with thrills and laughs, romance and adventure, and all the other elements that go to make up any real story or photoplay. But the fact that it is a true story, or more properly, stories in stories, will make the picture all the more impressive.

Aside from its splendid cast of Essanay players, headed by Ward Howard and handsome and dashing Darwin Karr, "The Little Girl Next Door" has cast such well known personages as Vice President Marshall, Congressman James Mann, author of the White Man Slave Act; Speaker Champ Clark; Lieut-Gov. of the State of Illinois, Major Thompson, and a host of other prominent ministers and social workers.

Prepare Your Sweet Potato Seed Bed Soon

With the high priced potato boosting the sweet potato to a better price just now, many farmers in the state are making plans to grow sweet potatoes in larger quantity for next season's market. They are very likely to bring a good price, and are not difficult to grow. The chief thing is to start right.

C. K. McQuarrie, state agent for cooperative demonstration work to the University of Florida experiment station, says the farmer should make the seed bed in time to have "draws" ready for setting by early April. If the weather remains cold during February, the making of the bed will have to be postponed until early March.

Make the bed on the south side of a building or of a tight board fence so that the sun can keep the soil warm. Clear a space four feet wide and as long as you think necessary. Level the ground for the bed but see that no water can stand on or near it during rainy weather. Set a frame made of ten or twelve inch boards standing on edge over the clear space and stake it in place. Place a four-inch layer of horse manure in the frame and cover it up with a few inches of soil, then tramp it solid. If the weather remains warm leave this bed this way for a few days so that the soil will be as warm as possible when the seed are planted.

Since good draws for the first planting are essential for making a good crop, only high grade seed must be used. Place them in the bed carefully so they do not touch each other and they will not be likely to rot. Average sized potatoes should be used and those larger than average should be split the long way and placed with the cut side down. After placing the seed cover it with a thin layer of soil. Over this place a thin layer of horse manure and another thin layer of soil. Ordinarily, a bushel of seed will be sufficient for an acre.

If the weather is dry, sprinkle the seed bed occasionally. After the sprouts show above the ground and begin to grow well, soil should be added every ten days to make long-necked draws. By this method a rapid growth of the draws is made and they will be ready for setting out in early April.

Certain Materials Should Not Be Used in Home Mixed Fertilizers

Some farmers will not attempt the home mixing of fertilizers because they do not know what materials to use to make a suitable combination. Almost any combination is practicable, if it is to be applied immediately after mixing, says S. S. Walek, assistant chemist to the University of Florida experiment station, but if the application to the soil is to be delayed after mixing, some special care must be exercised.

Such materials as nitrate of soda potash salts tend to absorb moisture and form hard cakes or lumps. This is especially true when they are mixing caustic lime, or any material containing caustic lime, such as ashes or basic slag. The trouble can be prevented to a great extent by adding to the mixture a considerable amount of muck to act as a drier.

Those mixtures which will cause a loss of deterioration of plant food through chemical action should also be avoided. When sulphate of ammonia or easily decomposed organic ammoniates such as animal manures, blood, tankage, fish scraps, etc., are mixed with materials containing lime there is danger of losing gaseous ammonia. The commonest lime containing materials are ground limestone, caustic and hydrated lime, wood ashes, basic slag and calcium cyanamid. Reversion of phosphate acid to a less soluble form is brought about by mixing acid phosphate with lime, magnesia, oron, or aluminum compounds.

From these statements the belief might arise that lime is a very undesirable material to use. The explanation is that lime should be applied to the land separately not being mixed with the fertilizers before applying.

Select Prepotent Sires to Head Your Herds

In every breed of animals certain individual sires prove themselves

prepotent by transmitting through their offspring the standard characteristics of the breed. This principle is demonstrated by the ability of hornless breeds of cattle, like the Aberdeen Angus, to mark ninety-five per cent of their calves with the color and hornless characteristics of the sire. Qualities of this sort have been fixed in the standard breeds, years, and maybe centuries, of persistent breeding and selection along the same lines.

One of the chief values of improved breeds of livestock rests in their ability to reproduce these breed qualities. In the case of dairy cattle, breeders want sires that are liable to increase the production of milk and butterfat in their offspring, as compared with previous generations. In beef cattle the object, sought is a sire that will transmit the ability for rapid and economical production of meat. The same is true in the production of breeding swine and mutton sheep. All breeders who look forward to high ideals in animal production and wish to secure greater profits are searching for sires that will continue the improvement of the breed. The important question is how can such sires be selected and determined.

It is unfortunate in animal breeding work that many questions are answered better by hindsight than by foresight. As a matter of fact, the final and true test of prepotency in sires can be answered only by growing and testing the offspring. This may require several years, and if the test results in failure, there is much loss involved. At least small profits will be secured than would have accrued through the use of a better sire. Many sires do not prove their worth until middle life has been reached, and in some cases the are lost or slaughtered before their true value is recognized.

In deciding by foresight which sire to choose, C. L. Willoughby, professor of animal industry to the University of Florida college of agriculture, says the best information is a complete record of the ancestors of the sire in question. This will show whether or not the parents and grandparents were prepotent and able to improve the breed. Also, the sire himself should be a good individual with vigorous constitution and a symmetrical form true to the requirements of the breed. The proper selection of such animals requires a careful study of the history of the breed and the inspection of a large number of the best animals in private herds and at show rings. When a prepotent sire is found, it will pay to keep him under special conditions as many years as possible.

Temperance Rally Meeting Is a Success

The temperance rally meeting held Thursday evening at the Methodist church was quite well attended and much enjoyed by all present.

Rev. Mr. Steinmeyer presided, and in his short talk he pointed out clearly in concise statements the great economic benefits Florida has already received in her large prohibition territory. His earnestness was transmitted to his hearers, carrying conviction and enthusiasm to the audience, which was shown by the zest with which they sang "Florida, My Florida" immediately afterwards.

Rev. Mr. Davidson then gave some interesting information as to the economic benefits of prohibition in other states. One telling point he made was "The statement prohibition does not pay belongs to the class of sayings which the boys would term 'chestnuts,' for it takes only a very little effort to prove conclusively that it does pay any community in dollars and cents, notwithstanding the inadequate laws which have obtained regarding interstate shipment of alcoholic beverages. But with the passage of the Webb-Kenyon law on Jan. 8th the actual value to the community can be fully demonstrated and prohibitionists have every reason to rejoice. To quote from the Literary Digest of Jan. 20th, "A decision enabling prohibition to exercise its mandate over the home as well as over the saloon, and generally making it possible for a state to be 'dry' in fact as well as in name was handed down by the United States Supreme Court when that tribunal affirmed the constitutionality of the Webb-Kenyon law."

The solo, "The Secret of His Presence" by Mrs. James Taylor was beautifully rendered, and the duet, "Spare My Boy" by Mrs. Mettinger and Mrs. Claude Herndon was sung with such sweetness and power as will linger long in the memory of those who heard it.

Meetings of this kind will do much towards the realization of a "Dry Florida in 1917."

Mrs. Thomas A. Neal returned from a pleasant visit at Jacksonville on Saturday.

NEW ONION DISHES

WILL BE LIKED BY THOSE FOND OF THE VEGETABLE.

Baked and Served in Appetizing Form They Are Excellent for Invalid—Various Methods of Pickling Can Be Recommended.

Baked Onions for an Invalid.—Prepared in this way, onions are served frequently in sanitariums, when onions cooked in other ways are taboo. Use the large white or yellow onions. Do not peel, but arrange in a baking dish, still in their jackets and add enough water to prevent burning. Bake until they are thoroughly tender, the center being steamed in its own juices. When ready to serve, remove the outer jacket of skin, season with salt, pepper and butter and serve very hot.

Kenilworth Ranch Fried Onions.—Cut in slices and soak in milk ten minutes. Then dip in flour and immerse in boiling fat hot enough to brown instantly. You cannot keep the slices whole after they have fried six or seven minutes. Take out with a skimmer, lay on brown paper a few moments to absorb all fat and serve with steak or veal cutlets. They will be firm and delicious.

Glazed Onions.—Choose mild onions for this way of cooking. Melt half a cupful of butter in a saucepan, then put in as many peeled onions as will fit in without crowding. Move about until all are well coated with butter, sprinkle with a tablespoonful of sugar, then pour over them a well-flavored soup stock. If you have no stock on hand dissolve a little beef extract in hot water and salt well. Simmer until the onions are tender, take off the lid of the saucepan and let the stock simmer down to about half a cupful. Serve in a heated covered dish as an accompaniment to a roast of pork or mutton.

Pickled Onions.—Use the smallest onions you can find, pour hot water on them and let them stand until their skins can easily be removed. Make enough brine to cover the onions; let them remain in it from one morning until the next; replace the old brine with new, allowing it also to remain on the onions 24 hours, and change the brine again on the third morning. On the fourth morning put the onions in fresh water and let them to the soaking pot, stirring frequently. A pint of milk added to the water will help whiten the onions during this boiling. Drain well and place the onions in a jar, pouring scalding hot vinegar over them.

If spiced pickles are desired, place one-half pound of "prepared" spices, such as may be procured at the grocer's, in tin bags, and steep them in the vinegar 15 minutes. But if the whiteness that is so appetizing in pickled onions is to be retained, the spices must be omitted. As the onions are placed in the jar, distribute sliced red peppers through them. These peppers present a very attractive appearance when put up in glass jars, and sealed the same as canned fruit. They are particularly nice served with cold meats or fish of any kind.—Emma Paddock, Telford in Kansas City Star.

Fried Raw Turnip.—For a family of six persons get a pound of raw turnips, four medium-sized raw turnips. Place either fresh pork fat or lard fat in frying pan, when hot put in ground turnips, with about one-half cupful of water, to fry. Season with salt and pepper. As water boils out gradually add just enough water to make a brown liquid; continue cooking until turnips are soft and of golden brown. Nice when served with steak, pork chops or fried ham.

Two cupfuls of dates, stoned and chopped. Spread evenly over bottom of plate that has previously been lined with rich paste, then make a custard with the yolks of three eggs, one cupful milk, one-third cupful sugar, pinch of salt, little nutmeg. Pour over dates and bake in slow oven till custard is firm. Frost with the whites of two eggs and one-half cupful sugar. Brown in oven.

Winter Clothespin Apron.—To hang out clothes in winter: Make a convenient clothespin apron, and a little while before hanging out the clothes put the pins in the oven until well heated through. Then tie on the apron and put the hot pins in the pocket. These keep the hands from becoming chilled and the work of hanging out clothes is more easily and quickly done.

Apricot Pudding.—Put a layer of apricots (dried, made into rich sauce) into a buttered dish, add a few lumps of butter, then a layer of cracker crumbs, sprinkled with a little cinnamon, then a layer of apricots, etc., making the last layer of crumbs. Bake in oven and eat hot or cold (hot is best) with sweetened whipped cream.

Making White-Curtains Ecru.—First soak the curtains over night in cold water to remove all dust. In the morning wash in the usual way and rinse thoroughly to remove all soap. Then put in boiler with a tan stocking. Remove when the right color is reached.

Add Salt.—If you find that your cream refuses to be whipped, add a pinch of salt and it will stiffen almost immediately.

Gilbert Leach of the Leesburg Commercial is in Washington fighting for deep water on the Oclawaha. Hope he gets it.

Just after E. S. Cravens, naval stores inspector had written a nice article in the Times-Union Governor Catts took him out and put in his son-in-law. Sometimes it does not pay to advertise.

Dr. Porter of the State Board of Health goes next and a man from Alabama takes his place. Being from Alabama, is the hall mark of distinction and statesmanship these days and the Florida crackers will find it out when they apply for a position under the new governor.

The editor of The Herald knows how repulsive such a scrap as he out lines above is to the editor and we have taken his advice again and expect to let our weapons rust and mold away. However, we have made that statement three other times through these columns and we are sorry to say it is the only promise we have made and broken in the past. We have done all things possible to bring about a sentiment of harmony at least but our efforts have not been crowned with any perceptible degree of success. But we are going to have the persistency of Job anyway.—Lakeland Star.

"One of the features of the Seminole County Fair will be the corn show," remarks the Sanford Herald. "Not only will the splendid corn of this county be shown, but there will also be fine displays of corn from other sections of Florida." The Herald thinks that the corn show will open the eyes of the corn growers from the north and west who will attend the fair at Sanford. The exhibition will include the corn raised on the celery lands of Seminole county, that grown on the highlands and in fact corn raised in various parts of the state and prove beyond question that splendid corn and lots of it can be raised almost anywhere in Florida.—Times-Union.

RAISE GOOD HOGS
It pays just as little to grow a poor quality of hogs as it does to grow a "poor quality of people." In this age of universal breeding-up, when the world wants only the best and is willing to pay the price, it is heavy and steady loss to "hear" the market with scrub stock of any kind. And the heaviest and steadiest loser is the farmer who persists in growing that kind of stock when he might just as well grow the better kind. President Anthony of the Duval County Fair Association, as an experiment raised a native razor-back hog alongside a pure bred of exactly the same age, giving them each the same feed and the same treatment, and they were exhibited together in the same pen at the Duval fair, the one weighing 460 pounds, and the other exactly 26 pounds, both being 14 months old at the time. It is the kind of a hog," said Mr. Anthony, "that has kept Florida poor. A man is richer for every one of this kind he kills before it has drawn a long breath, and the longer he keeps on and the more of them he keeps, the poorer he gets."—Quincy Times.

PROTECT THE ROADS
At a joint meeting here last Saturday of the boards of county commissioners of Lake, Volusia, Orange and Seminole it was decided, to take steps to prevent the heavy hauling of merchandise trucks on the good roads of these counties.

The good roads of these five counties were laid at a great expense and they should be protected. Any ordinary vehicle will wear out these roads during our life time but the big trucks with heavy loads and tires that are not protected will wear them out in a few years, especially when a regular trucking service is maintained daily. There is a law now that should prevent this destruction of good roads but the various counties will frame a bill at the next legislature that will absolutely preclude this heavy hauling for commercial purposes.

These good roads were built with the tax payer's money at a great expense and for that very reason the tax payers should be protected and these roads should not have anything but the ordinary wear and tear of ordinary traffic and with care and protection the tax payers can be assured of obtaining their money's worth. Every tax payer in Florida should insist on protection for the good roads of the state and bar the indiscriminate use of the roads for heavy traffic.

WHAT SPELLS SUCCESS
Theodore M. Vail, president of the American Telegraph & Telephone Co., was here several days of last week in his handsome yacht and was the cynosure of all eyes. At the age of seventy-one he is still hale and hearty and able to thoroughly enjoy life.

In a recent interview Mr. Vail said: "I have more to do with promotions than most men. It would astonish you to know how many promotions made on the initiative of the employe himself, through outside 'pull' or intrigue end disastrously. The only push and pull that brings success are the push and pull a man creates through possessing and exercising and developing his inherent qualities and capabilities.

"The man who forges ahead is not the only one does one only what he is told has to be done; he is the fellow who does what he sees should be done—provided he doesn't imagine he is more important than he really is. Initiative counts heavily.

"Common sense is one of the most important ingredients of success. It is also one of the rarest things in life. As some one aptly said: 'Common sense is the most uncommon thing in the world.'"

To which the Reporter Star adds: We have had the same testimony from other successful men. The inevitable inference is that they have drawn upon experience in formulating their advice to the young. Reduced to brief and simple words, the rule reads: "Win success by deserving it." But this rule should not be followed blindly if we are to profit from observation. All of us have seen many hard working individuals ground down by poverty.

It is hardly possible for all to be wealthy, but in this land of opportunity all should be reasonably prosperous and happy. This may not be literally accepted because of its too-Utopian sound and seeming. The materialist will assert that such a condition would put a damper on endeavor. The man who is contented does not strive, and no man can be happy unless he is content. False conclusion! The most useful and successful men have been the happiest but were they satisfied? Look at Theodore Vail, placid and in vigor at seventy-one. Here is his philosophy: "No man in God's world can do much. I never tried to do anything which I could find somebody else to do better." Give the other fellow a chance—don't try to hog all the opportunities, try to find your own proper place, the thing that you can do best, and go about it with vim.

"Many failures are caused by putting good men in the wrong places," said Mr. Vail. Again he hit the bull's eye. This is the reason why so many men work hard to poor purpose; they are misfits rather than inepts. Mr. Vail's advice is valuable because it is based upon many years of observation in a busy world. It will do a lot of good.

BORDER GUARD RETURNS

Florida Troops Not Included in The List

Washington, Jan. 23.—More than 25,000 National Guardsmen now on the Mexican border have been designated by Major General Funston for return home and muster out of the Federal service under the order issued yesterday by the War Department.

All these organizations will be started homeward as soon as transportation facilities can be provided. Their departure will leave between 15,000 and 50,000 men of the guard still in the Federal service doing border patrol.

The guardsmen designated for return and muster out include:

Louisiana: First Battalion Field Hospital No. 1.

South Carolina: Troop A Cavalry Company A Engineers, field hospital company.

Tennessee: Ambulance company No. 1, field hospital No. 1.

Arkansas: First infantry.

Kentucky: Second infantry.

North Carolina: First infantry.

"Mum" About Pershing

War Department officials continued to withhold comment on reports indicating that the movement of General Pershing's regulars out of Mexico is underway, and the statement announcing the guardsmen designated for return does not concern these orders with the withdrawal plans in any way. The understanding has been, however, that, with the return of the expedition in Mexico and readjustment of the border patrol all of the state troops gradually would be sent home. The department statement says:

Tallahassee, Fla., Jan. 22.—Dr. W. H. Cox of Brooksville, formerly of Dothan, Ala., and Holmes county, who has been here for three days and who is slated to succeed Dr. J. Y. Porter as state health officer was this morning advised that he must wait till June. The state health officer is chosen by the state board of health consisting of three members appointed by the governor. The attorney general's office, Flournoy and other lawyers consulted to see if all the board of health members could not be removed immediately and three Catts men commissioned in their stead who should elect Cox, but friends of Cox were advised this morning that the terms of office of the board of health members did not expire till June and its members cannot be removed till then without cause. A new board will be named in June and then Cox will succeed Porter.

over on the west coast there is a nursery firm which has gained an enviable reputation through its fair dealings with customers. The third ad in their regular season schedule appears in this issue, and in this advertisement they have struck a key note, so far as this town is concerned. They are offering special combinations of ornamental plants and shrubs as attractive prizes and their selections are to be recommended.

It is not the purpose of The Herald to act in the capacity of salesman for the advertisers but in this instance much good would result if the local people would take advantage of the offers made in the various collections and plant the shrubs about their homes. In improving the grounds of a dwelling all that is needed is a start and the growing plants will furnish interest in the work and it will continue.

A negro in charge of a nursery at West Palm Beach was asked for some information regarding a special variety of shrub. He could not Presbyterian C. E.

The Presbyterian C. E. had a fine attendance on Friday evening. The meeting was in charge of Co. D, Miss Alice Whitner, leader. Subject, "Seeing God in Others." An interesting program was carried out.

The society is making plans to celebrate Christian Endeavor Week, beginning Sunday, Jan. 28th. A letter from Mr. M. C. Fagg of Jacksonville was read announcing that the Sanford Presbyterian C. E. had won the silver loving cup for sending the largest contribution to the work of the Children's Home Society last fall when the Save-a-Baby Campaign was conducted by all the C. E. societies in the state.

Gay Young Blades
Five young men from DeLand arrived in Sanford Sunday to look over the city and its surroundings, but before they had finished their tour of the city they were found resting in the Seminole county jail. The young men were quite festive and while on the outskirts of the city one of the men tried out his pistol. After firing once, Sheriff Brady was on the scene and the young men not knowing that the sheriff was behind them fired three more times and before they had reached Monroe the sheriff had them coming back to Sanford.

Sheriff Brady made one of the young men put up bond and told the others that they would have to appear in court today and show cause why they should come to Seminole county to try out their pistols. The pistol was thrown away, for the sheriff was unable to find any gun on any of the men. The men were released and said they would be back without fail.

BOARD OF MISSIONS

Leading Men of Florida Methodism in Sanford

At the meeting of the Board of Missions of the Methodist church of this state which closed on Wednesday at noon there were present Rev. J. F. Bell of Jacksonville, president, C. H. Summers, Kissimmee, Sec. Treas., Dr. I. S. Patterson, Jacksonville, Conf. Secy of Missions, J. W. Rast, Jacksonville, Dr. J. B. Mitchell, Jacksonville, G. H. Yor, Frost Proof; Presiding Elders Smith Hardin, Orlando, I. C. Jenkins, Jacksonville, W. A. Myers, Tampa, R. Ira Barnett, Ocala, Dr. R. H. Alderman, Pres. Southern College, Dr.

J. P. Hillburn, Ft. Myers, S. W. Lawler, Tallahassee, Dr. T. J. Nixon, Tampa. The addresses were very inspiring and helpful, and plans laid for the work of church extension in the state.

Dr. Ira S. Patterson, a former pastor remained over Wednesday night and preached a great sermon on "Building the Kingdom," which was heard by a good audience.

"Watch Us Grow"

was the slogan that was used in the Intermediate Department of the Baptist Sunday school last Sunday, when the Department reported the whole enrollment present with the exception of two members, and had two visitors present to make up for the absent ones. This is a record that any department may justly be proud of. This merely illustrates what is actually being done at the Baptist Sunday school, which as said in these columns before is the only A-1 Baptist Sunday school in the state. Every department is gaining, and a remarkable occurrence was the fact that there were 149 Bibles brought to school.

The sermon delivered at the Baptist church Sunday evening by the pastor was one specially interesting for its unique subject—"Madness." This was given with appropriate Scriptures, and in Dr. Hyman's true style made a discourse that is adaptable to every day life, and was a sermon that could be used with benefit to any of the mass.

TWO WAYS OF SAVING MONEY

English Method of Handling Bread at the Table Is Worth Consideration—Home Baking.

In most English homes it is the custom to put the loaf of bread on the table to be cut as needed, and every family has its more or less handsomely-carved bread board, matching the handle of the good English steel bread knife.

An even more effective economy is wrought whenever the housewife undertakes to bake her own bread instead of buying the product at the great bakeries.

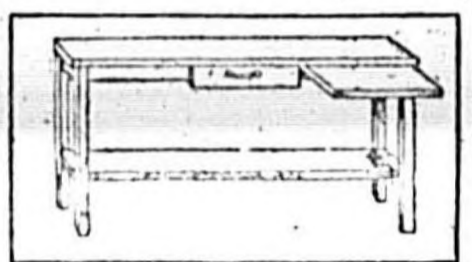

Home baking need have no terrors for any woman of average intelligence, especially if she can afford one of the patent bread kneaders which reduce both time and effort to a very moderate amount.

FOR COMFORT IN KITCHEN

Cabinet That Can Be Moved Should Be Made During the Winter for Use in Summer.

How many times during the summer we would like to move our work into the breeze when the wind changes. But the cabinet can't be moved easily, so we work on in the same old place.

This one is easily constructed and has only one drawer and two sliding shelves or kneeling boards.

Useful Cabinet.

boards when pulled out make a handy table at each elbow, and when not in use can be pushed back out of the way.

The drawer is used for paring knives, mixing spoons and such. With a stool tall enough to allow one's elbows to come above the table the cabinet is ready.

New Apple Salad.

Beat one-half cupful of, double cream, a tablespoonful of lemon juice and one-quarter spoonful of salt until firm throughout.

Creamed Ham.

Do you wish something for luncheon, a dessert or something more hearty? This is very nice: Melt one and a half tablespoonfuls butter and stir in one and a half tablespoonfuls flour.

Baked Peas and Eggs.

Take one can of peas, three hard-boiled eggs (sliced). Arrange in alternate layers with the peas in a moderately deep baking dish.

Peach Compote.

Three pounds of peaches freed from skin and stones, three pounds of sugar, two chopped oranges and one pound of raisins.

To Clean Windows.

Wash the glass with water to which a little ammonia has been added, and polish with a chamois which has been dipped in water and wrung as dry as possible.

BURN DEAD CHICKENS

Average Poultryman Is Not Careful About This Matter.

Good Crematory Can Be Easily and Cheaply Constructed of Common Cast Iron Box Stove—Keep Plant Clean as Possible.

Once again the poultry breeder's attention is called to the proper disposal of dead poultry. On all plants, large and small, some fowls and chickens die or must be killed on account of disease.

On some plants dead birds and poultry often from the killing and dressing room, also, are dumped in the hog pen or manure heap.

The remedy is simple and inexpensive, says a writer in an exchange. Cremate all dead fowls and offal regularly and frequently.

Make up your mind that you will not bury, or leave lying about the premises, dead fowls or chicks, but cremate them promptly.

Spiritual Triumph.

The guest who insists on the host that his allotment of beefsteak was delightfully tender, but that the knife was a trifle dull, provides an illustration of the often used expression, a triumph of the spirit over the flesh.

Period of Adjustment.

"Why do they say that the first year of married life is almost the most difficult?" "Because that's the time she has to get used to the fact that he isn't making all the money in the world, and he has to adjust himself to the discovery that his wife might have a temper and uses it at times."
