Mondale: 'Today, We Have A Brand New Race'

By Anne Saker

United Press International A recharged Walter Mondale says "everything is different" in the race for the White House now that opinion polls, key Democrats and even some Republicans say he made a strong showing against President Reagan in their debate.

Reagan was low key in assessing his performance while his aides struggled to put the best light on matters. When questioned about it Monday, the president stretched out his hands. looked at reporters and said: "I'm smiling. I'm

To the partisan cheers of thousands lining New York City streets for the traditional Columbus

Day parade, Mondale and his running mate, actress Sophia Loren, who was the grand Geraldine Ferraro, waved and smiled as they walked down Fifth Avenue and were greeted by hundreds of signs congratulating him on his effort in the televised face-off Sunday night in Louisville, Ky.

Vice President George Bush, who also marched in the New York parade, will meet Ferraro in Philadelphia Thursday. His aides say that while he is downplaying the importance of the debate, he is spending much of the week rehearsing and studying briefing papers.

Bush marched in the parade a few minutes before the Democratic team, but the applause was largely for his parade companion, popular Italian with Mondale's performance.

Mondale, flanked by New York's top Democrats at a post-parade rally, told cheering supporters. "Today, we have a brand new race. Today, everything is different."

Ferraro led the cheers at the rally, giving Mondale a rousing introduction worthy of a boxing announcer at a championship bout.

"In this corner, at a feisty 170 pounds, the new heavyweight defender of the world - Fighting Fritz Mondale!" she shouted as her running mate Jumped on stage.

Other state Democrats were just as pleased

Declaring "the lid is off," New York Gov. Mario Cuomo called Mondale's effort "one of the great political victories of all time."

"Last night, we watched the election turn around," sald New York Mayor Edward Koch said. Sen. Daniel Moynihan of New York said. "This campaign was born again last night in Louisville.

In Philadelphia later, Mondale was greeted by another large and enthusiastic crowd in a South Side high school. Scolding Reagan for frequently quoting Democratic presidents. Mondale said, "The Republicans are trying to steal our heroes -

Community College Tax Plan Eyed

Florida voters will have an opportunity to vote next year on special taxing authority for community col-leges if the State Board of Community Colleges has its way.

The year-old board, according to director Clark Maxwell Jr., is seeking a legislative sponsor for a state constitutional amendment that would authorize community college trustees to levy a property tax up to $1 per $1,000 of assessed property value. Proceeds of the tax would fund capital improvements at the colleges.

If the legislature approves, the measure would not be on a statewide ballot before fall, 1985.

If approved, each of the state's 28 community colleges would develop a taxing plan that would have to be approved by the state board.

Speaking at Seminole Community College in Sanford Monday, Maxwell, a former state senator, said he feels a half-mill levy, or 50 cents per $1,000 in property value, would be appropriate to start the program.

An initial 50-cent levy would raise about $2 million for SCC, he said. The taxing procedure would replace an annual legislative dole under a school construction bill titled Public Education Capital Out-lay, Maxwell said public primary and receive the majority of the bill's $185 million and community colleges get less than

Residency Issue Quelled

McClanahan Stays

Herald Staff Writer

A.A. "Mac" McClanahan will remain a candidate for the district one seat on the Sanford City Commission in the Dec. 4 municipal election unless city officials or some individual who is "adversely affected by" his candidacy wants to challenge his residency in the City Sterney Bill Colbert, in a written opinion handed to the city commission Monday night, said Mc-Clanahan, by his actions, has made a prima facte case for residency in the district, at least since early September.

And Colbert said Federal Judge Elizabeth Kovachevich who issued a court order in April requiring election within districts of the four city commissioners "did not go so far as to impose a durational residency requirement. therefore, there is none in effect."

"... the issue is... premature," the city attorney said, adding his file on the question "is complete.

McClanahan, just released from Central Florida Regional Hospital where he has been confined for kidney surgery, said today he is pleased with Colbert's opinion.

The city took no action, however. Meanwhile, Colbert said if the commission wants to impose a valid durational residency requirement for city commission candidates, it can do so, pointing to a federal case of several years ago concerning the city of Longwood, when it was ruled that a one year residency requirement for the McClanahan city council was valid. That residency requirement in Longwood is still in

The Sanford City Commission at a special meeting on Sept. 13, called by Mayor Lee P. Moore, instructed Colbert to determine whether McClanahan is residing at 108 W. 6th St. in the city's district 1, where a commission seat is up for election, to research the law to find legal precedent and a definition of the terms residency and resident. He was also told to petition the federal court if necessary to review the facts and the law and come up with a determination.

Moore said at the time he overheard a conversation indicating McClanahan may not setually live in district 1.

The mayor said he felt it was incumbent on the city to enforce the federal court order and the intent of that order was that the persons running for the various district commission seats be someone from the district or neighborhood to represent that district

But Colbert told the commission Monday night it is "legally inappropriate at this time" to take the issue of McClanahan's residency before the federal district court.

He said first there is no enforceable. durational residency requirement in effect in the city, by either ordinance or city charter.

Secondly, he said. McClanahan has done all those things appropriate to declare the W. 6th Street address his legal residence - he made a rent payment on an apartment there on Aug. 31, 1984; made a deposit on his gas service at the apartment; changed his address on his voter registration to vote in the district; received mail addressed to him at the address and changed his address on his driver's license to the W. 6th Street apartment.

Prior to Aug. 31, McClanahan lived at 409 Editha Circle for many years.

"A cursory view of the area shows Mr. McClanahan's vehicle regularly comes and goes from the W. 6th Street address and by his own statement he spends the night there." Colbert said. These factors taken together tend to make out a prima facie case for residency in the district, at least since early September."

"The fact that Mr. McClanahan may want to establish residency in the district for the purpose of being a candidate for public office is not unique." Colbert said. "Candidates for President, the Senate, and Congress regularly more to a particular district or state to enhance their candidacy,

Fire Guts Home

A fire that swept throught the new Altamonte Springs home of Lloyd and Sharon Register at about 9:30 p.m. Monday did $100,000 damage. Seminole County Fire Inspector Ray Pippin said the cause of the fire has not been determined. The flames apparently broke out at the south end of the house at 507 Forestwood Court and engulfed the roof and attic. It took Altamonte Springs and Seminole County firefighters about 45 minutes to control the fire. The Registers, who had just moved into the house, were in West Florida on vacation and were scheduled to return today.

Woman Charges Rape Through Bars In Jail

MIAMI (UPI) - Police are investigating a woman's claim she was raped through the bars of her jail cell by a 19-year-old trusty after her arrest on drunken driving

But one of two trusties questioned said the 22-year-old woman "tried to entice them to have sex with her" and the trusties were never inside the locked cell where the woman was alone, Northeast District Commander Major Thomas Arnold said Monday.

The woman said a 19-year-old male prisoner, a trusty at Metro-Dade County police headquarters, sexuall, assaulted her through the cell bars while another trusty acted as a lookout shortly after her arrest Friday.

"It's hard to imagine being forcibly raped through the bars of the cell," Arnold said. "I have a lot of difficulty just visualizing, physically, how that could have taken place."

Reagan To Go Whistle-Stopping

HIALEAH (UPI) - The Ferdinand Magellan, a railroad car that was the traveling home of three presidents and took Harry S. Truman on a successful whistle-stop tour in 1948, is hitting the campaign trail again.

U.S. Car No. 1 pulled out of the Hialeah Amtrak station Monday evening and was to arrive in Washington at 3 p.m. today, authorities said.

Its ultimate destination is Dayton. Ohio where President Ronald Reagan will board the 58-year-old railroad car on Friday and make a whistle-stop tour to Toledo, following the same campaign route as Truman.

It will be the first time a president has ridden in the oak-paneled car since Dwight D. Eisenhower used it to campaign in 1954, said Peter Larson, curator of the Gold Coast Railroad Museum, which owns the car.

Falwell: 'Mondale Hypocritical'

MIAMI (UPI) - Fundamentalist minister Jerry Falwell says Walter Mondale is hypocritical in his concern about religious leaders speaking out on political issues because he does not object when Jesse Jackson does it.

Mondale referred repeatedly to Falwell, founder of the Moral Majority, during the presidential debate Sunday while answering questions about religion and abortion.

Asked Monday if he thought it was fair of Mondale to use his name, Falwell replied, "Well, I didn't ask him to do it. I don't care that he did. He (Mondale) and I have been doing verbal flaticulls for a long time."

During the debate, Mondale attacked Falwell's influence in Republican politics as "an abuse of faith in this NATIONAL REPORT: Dense fog reduced visibilities to near zero early today from the northern Plains to western New York, grounding small planes and delaying arrivals at O'Hare international Airport in Chicago.

Heavy fog covered an area extending from the Dakotas and Nebraska across the Great Lakes to western New York. Pete Reynolds, a National Weather Service meteorologist, said visibilities of near zero were re-ported in Bismark. N.D., the Nebraska panhandle western Michigan and Buffalo, N.Y. Visibility of one-eighth of a mile in Chicago forced officials at O'Hare Airport to put all flights on holding patterns early today, a Federal Aviation Administration spokesman said. Regular traffic was resumed when the fog broke later in the night. All landings were banned at DuPage County Airport in Chicago's western suburbs because of the fog, the FAA said. Small planes also were rerouted from the Pal-Waukee Airport in Wheeling. Ill. Thunderstorms that hurled hall the size of baseballs at Missouri Monday continued today from Arkanaas to Illinois. Other storms soaked southeast Colorado, southeast Texas, the upper Ohio Valley, lowa and Alabama. Slick roads in Chicago were blamed for a traffic accident that killed two women Monday.

Leaders of five striking Disneyland unions and an AFL-CIO official from Washington were arrested Monday as a group of 150 pickets violated a court order to stay off the amusement park's property. All six were cited for disobeying the order and released.

The walkout by 1.844 ride operators, maintenance workers and other employees began Sept. 26. The strikers represent about one-third of Disneyland's winter season work force.

Their jobs are being done by supervisors and non-union employees, and Disneyland told strikers last weekend they would be permanently replaced if they did not return to work by Thursday. The park says about 400 strikers have

Space To Double

Facelift Set For Oviedo High

'brand new high school" next year after it is given an $8 million facelift, according to Benny Arnold, assistant superintendent for facilities and transportation.

The 16-year-old school is scheduled to be renovated starting in June. Arnold said. In addition to improvements to existing buildings, additional classrooms, labs and an auditorium will be built. According to the plan to be presented to the Seminole County School Board Wednesday, everything from parking to sewage will be tackled. New construction will almost double the amount of space at the school — from 128,000 to 229,000, Arnold said.

The project is welcome news to Ovjedo High Assistant Principal Fred Little, who said the school, originally built to house 1.150 students, is now bulging at 1.800. He said the school's staff has been coping "day-to-day" with the problems created by limited facilities and a student body growing at about 300 students a year.

Because of overcrowding, many classes are held in the school's 21 portable buildings. In addition to being right at the 35-person capacity limit, the portables make getting from class to class difficult for the

Having students sprawled out all over the campus has also caused discipline problems, Little said.

The addition of 31 classrooms will alleviate the problem, said Arnold, who called the school a "portable city."

But Little said at the rate the school is growing, it could outgrow the renovations and new facilities. He estimates the school's student population to grow to 2,300 in two years - about the time the project is to be completed.

Beleaguered Challenger Crew Presses On With Experiments

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) - The intrepid planned eight day mission. crew of the shuttle Challenger worked through sweltering heat, the temporary loss of a key relay satellite and a host of other snags to collect a rich harvest of data from the mission's many unsung science studies. Shuttle commander Robert Crippen, pilot Jon McBride and crew members Sally Ride. Kathryn Sullivan, David Leestma, Paul Scully-Power and Canadian Marc Garneau planned to hold a news conference today to discuss the results of their mission so far.

The astronauts were forced to rely on scattered ground stations Monday for infrequent communications because of the fallure of NASA's tracking and data relay

The satellite, orbiting 22,000 miles above the shuttle and centered over a spot several hundred miles east of the Amazon River delta in Brazil, mysteriously went out of action early Monday.

The shuttle relies on the relay station to route much of its communications and all the pictures from its experimental radar mapper to ground controllers. The radar continued operating, storing its Experiments conducted by the astronauta in the crew cabin have proceeded as well. Garneau has kept busy with 10 experiments, mostly related to life sciences, while Scully-Power has occupied his time studying Earth's occans.

On Friday, the astronauts launched the Earth Radiation Budget Satellite after thawing out latches that kept its solar panels from unfolding.

Officials said the satellite is responding well to ground commands and promises a successful yearlong mission collecting invaluable information on how solar energy affects Earth's climate.

On Wednesday, the astronauts plan to make preparations for the spacewalk.

The astronauts are scheduled to connect a hose between two tanks so toxic hydrazine rocket fuel can flow from one to the other in an experiment that could pave the way for

Oviedo Plans To Upgade Water Plant

The Oviedo City Council is expected to chose a contractor within the next few days for a $200,000 project to upgrade the city's water plant.

The project calls for replacing two pumps at the 15-year-old plant, located on South Central Avenue, according to A.M. Jones, head of the water department. The pumps will double the plant's output from 4,000 gallons a minute to 8.000, Jones said. A flow meter will also be installed.

The cost of the new pumps will not drive up customers' water bills. Jones said, adding that they are needed to accommodate the needs of the rapidly growing area.

In addition to a 700-acre housing development under way on the south edge of the city. Jones said there are seven new subdivisions with 125 lots each going up around town. And all of those residents will need water.

Jones said 10,000 people alone are expected to move into the 700-acre development. The city's current population is 3,500.

"I kind of hate to see it going that fast but there is nothing we can do but keep up with it," Jones said.

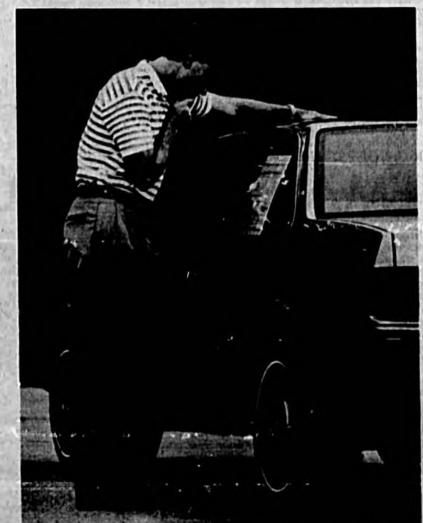

The contractor for the project will be approved this week, according to City Engineer Bill Whidden, of the engineering firm Post, Buckley, Schuh and Jerni vn. Inc.

Five companies submitted bids last week ranging from $72,900 to $98,550. Whidden said he will recommend that the city go with the lowest bidder. Perry Lefever, Inc., of Altemonte Springs.

A Great Coup For Dan Lungren

For the last 18 months, the Democratic leadership in Congress has prevented a full House vote on the Reagan administration-sponsored Comprehensive Crime Control Act of 1983, containing 46 provisions to strengthen the federal criminal code. But Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., and his lieutenants underestimated the tenacity of California congressman Dan Lungren.

Several parliamentary tactics used by the Long Beach Republican to keep the Issue alive in the House finally paid off this week when Congress unexpectedly approved his motion to attach most of the adminstration's anti-crime package to a stopgap funding bill. And before Tip O'Neill & Co. could close ranks, the Democratic-controlled House approved the motion and sent the bill to the Senate where approval is likely.

Although Democratic leaders are trying to downplay the Lungren coup, they are clearly disturbed over some of the measure's stronger sections.

One major provision would establish a commission to bring more uniformity in sentencing for federal crimes. Moreover, the courts would have to justify any departure from these sentencing guidelines, and the government would be able to appeal lenient sentences. Another section would shift the burden of proof in an insanity defense from the prosecutor to the defendant.

Overall, the legislation would permit federal prosecution of certain repeat state offenders. provide minimum sentences for using firearms in federal crimes, strengthen federal authority to seize assets in cases involving organized crime and drug trafficking, increase the penalties for labor racketeering. and toughen the laws against child porno-

Why House Democrats would oppose such strengthening of U.S. law enforcement is beyond us. Even though the new crime codification will apply only to persons convicted of federal crimes, it will doubtless serve as a model for states determined to toughen their criminal codes. Actually, the administration's anti-crime package is a positive response to an angry public increas-ingly impatient about the government's inability to protect its citizens.

The case with which the measure passed the House demonstrates that most Democratic congressmen were acutely aware of this restiveness and were reluctant to appear soft on the crime issue before their constituents.

Greater Peril

Sixty-eight years after the Battle of Verdun, two men stood recently on the battlefield, holding hands at a memorial ceremony for the dead.

The two men were Chancellor Helmut Kohl of West Germany and President Francois Mitterand of France.

And how many dead there were in that 10-month battle in 19161 The bones of 130,000 unidentified soldiers from both sides lie in a common grave. The toll of the battle was 700,000 French and German lives more than the total numbers of Americans killed in all our wars.

Sixty-eight years is long enough to cover them over and let them lie. Only the sorrow remains. And a feeling that the sacrifice was not worth the cost.

Historians now believe that World War I suggested to sober minds the proposition that the steady advance of weapons technology had made total war between modern industrial nations counterproductive. World War II brought us into the era of nuclear weapons and proved the premise.

How much more moving it will be, a century from now, if the leaders of the United States and the Soviet Union hold hands at a memorial ceremony for the dead in the first all-out nuclear exchange of World War III. The toll will dwarf the Verdun casualty list. And the common graves wil be scattered over three continents, outside the ruins of our great cities. If our civilization survives.

The Florida Board of Dentistry has adopted a rule which requires full and precise disclosure of any costs listed in advertisements for dental services.

The advertised fee must stay in effect for 90 days, must include all the components of the service, and must not state only a range of fees. In advertising discounted fees, the regular price must also be listed.

The public can now benefit from full disclosure of fees and be able to shop and compare when it comes to dental services. It will contribute to an atmosphere conducive to increased price competition," said Joan Levy, Consumer Member and Chair of the Florida Board of Dentistry.

"This makes the dental profession one of the few that has specific requirements on how fees are to be listed in ads," she said.

The fee disclosure covers more than 300 dental procedures, virtually all areas of dental practice. The procedures must be listed exactly as written in the American Dental Association Code.

Effective Oct. 1, the rule covers all types of advertising including newspapers, television, radio and

The new advertising guidelines were adopted Aug. 4 by the Board of Dentistry by unanimous vote.

The European Economic Community has complained about wine equity provisions that remain in the trade bill and are aimed at European wines purchased by Ameri-

The American wine industry, which has suffered because of the strength of the dollar, also blames its woes on European subsidization of wine.

The wine equity measure has led Europeans to threaten to retaliate against U.S. agricultural exports such as soybeans, corn gluten feed. citrus, almonds, raisins and walnuts

Several legislators from Midwest states opposed the legislation. Last week during House debate, Rep. Virginia Smith, R-Neb., said, "There is no doubt that if this legislation becomes law, that the European Community will retailed against U.S. farm exports.

'Granting of special relief to one industry will only cause injury to another industry," she said.

The wine measure requires the president to seek agreements with other countries to open their markets to U.S. wine exports and to report on talks within 13 months. If these efforts fail, it authorizes U.S. retailation, possibily including quotas on U.S. wine imports.

Rep. Bill Frenzel, R-Minn., said, "It is ill-informed to believe that these talks would somehow be successful."

The measure for the first time would permit grape growers to file a petition with the U.S. International Trade Commission seeking remedies against wine imports. That is the section that especially raised the hackles of Europeans and many opponents of the bill.

The ITC threw out an earlier petition by grape producers, ruling that growers are not an integral part of the domestic wine industry.

Opponents say granting the grape growers that authority violates rules of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, the Geneva, Switzerland, organization that oversees world trade.

Those rules restrict industries that can claim injury in trade disputes to producers of "like" products.

IN TALLAHASSEE

After Amendment 9

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - Now that the Florida Supreme Court has knocked Amendment 9 off the November ballot, the Florida Medical Association is valeing the same complaint raised earlier this year when the court also killed a controversial government limitation proposal.

The FMA brass claims the court justices are selected and retained with the obvious implication that the current justices should be removed.

The complaint is almost a carbon copy of that voiced in late March when the court rejected Amendment 1, which would have severely restricted the ability of government to raise revenue.

Amendment 1 father George Schulte immediately targetted Justices Raymond Ehrlich and Leander Shaw and has been traveling the state in a one-man campaign aimed at having them rejected by voters in Florida's merit retention election Nov. 6.

Despite the cries of foul, however, the FMA has no one to blame for its woes but itself.

The FMA did not begin its multi-million-dollar campaign until after the court had already knocked Amendment 1 off the ballot in a decision that set new legal parameters for citizens' initiative ballot questions.

Previously, the court had in-terpreted the constitutional onesubject limit on such proposals in a way that made it relatively easy for private citizens to successfully petition to put proposed constitutional amendments on the ballot. In the Amendment 1 decision. however, the court interpreted the one-subject question far more atringently: Shaw, in fact, wrote that the court had made it virtually impossible for a proposal to pass the

The FMA had benefit of that decision when it set off on its quixotic effort to circumvent a Legislature which had refused for two years to give it what it wentedin the doctor-lawyer fight over medical malpractice.

That didn't stop the FMA from packaging into a single ballot pro-posal a three-pronged amendment based its decision on politics and compiled from the failed legislation said it raises questions about how most repeat. Few observers gave it much chance of passing legal musicr.

Even had the proposal remained on the ballot, serious question remains about whether it would have passed - despite the fact that supporters brandished a poll purporting to show a majority of Florida voters in favor of it.

The proposal was patently deceptive, an effort to trick voters into giving the medical profession what the Legislature had not.

From its infancy, when people where hired to collect enough signatures on petitions to put it on the ballot until the day it was stricken. Amendment 9 paraded itself as a way of holding down health care costs.

That remains to this day a debatable point.

What is not debatable is that Amendment 9 would have limited certain damages for such factors as pain and suffering in all civil suits not just medical malpractice suits to a maximum of $100,000.

Nor did supporters say that by eliminating the doctrine of joint and several liability, voters would have been accepting a situation in which an injured person might not be able to collect the monetary damages awarded by a jury.

In fact, the effort was deceptive from the time the FMA created its campaign organization. The group was dubbed "The Committee For Citizen's Rights in Civil Actions."

DON GRAFF What Do Soviets Do Right?

Now that they have Andrei Gromyko's eyes-only report from Washington, the guys in the Kremlin must be wondering what it can possibly be that they have been doing right.

Look at it this way. As a world mover and shaker, the Soviet Union had a dismal record of late.

Afghanistan may not be exactly their Vietnam, but it drags on and on and has damaged their image immensely in the non-communist world - and probably in the communist one as well. It presents the spectacle of a super that can't work its way with a non-power which is not thousands of miles away but on Ha own border.

That's not the only problem border. Although tensions have eased somewhat. China has not been brought to heel and the potentially threatening American connection continues.

The Soviets have been unable to capitalize on the American debacle in Lebanon. Sure, their boys, the Syrians, are doing all right. But there is no indication that what they are doing is in anyone's interest but the Syrians'. The Soviet role is largely one of picking up the arms

Eastern Europe is a downhill disaster. Poland may be under control for the present, but remains a political, economic and military albatross. Even the East German are acting up.

In Western Europe, the Soviets defeated themselves with their heavy-handed threats in last fall's Euro-missile propaganda war. On that and other arms issues they have backed themselves into corners they can't move out of without appearing to give way. Central America? Nuisance value so far. The best hope of long-term gains is in Washington defeating

And to top it all off, for four years the Soviets have had to stand still for a stream of public abuse from the American president. Yet suddenly the longest-running comrade of all is received in state in the United States. The reception could not have been more respectful if he and his government had been moving steadily from triumph to triumph. There was the American media and presumably public - hanging on every nuance of Gromyko's encounters with the president, with the challenger, with the secretary of From what you read and saw, you might have been forgiven for thinking that Gromyko was a late entrant in the presidential election. Which, in a way, he was. The production is widely read, even by grudgingly approving Democrats, as a campaign coup for Ronald Reagan.

FEMA Plans For U.S. Martial Law

WASHINGTON - The nation's civil defense chief. Louis Giuffrida, seems determined to carve out a powerful empire for his Federal Emergency Management Agency, even if he has to call in the Army.

The scary thing is that there are like-minded elements in the Pentagon willing to scrap the Constitution and turn the United States into a military dictatorship.

I've already reported how Guif-frida ran afoul of Attorney General William French Smith with a draft executive order that would insert PEMA between the White House and the Cabinet in the event of a national emergency.

I also reported that Gluffrida had prepared eweeping legislation, to be presented to Congress when dis-aster strikes, that would give the president (and FEMA) authority to abolish private-property rights and civil liberties without the hindrance of the courts or legislatures.

Now my associates Donald

Goldberg and Indy Badhwar have obtained a Pentagon document that discloses how the military would work in cooperation with FEMA civilians during a national emergency. Its proposed assault on the courts, the executive branch and the Constitution is truly

The internal document shows how the Pentagon, in league with FEMA, plans to drape a cloak of questionable legality over their activities whenever they decide the country is in the throes of a national emergency. The report, issued by the Joint Chiefs of Staff last December, is titled, "Military Support of Civil Defense: System Description.

The Posse Comitatus Act prohibits the armed forces from engaging in domestic law enforcement except under strictly delineated restrictions designed to safeguard constitutional rights. The Joint Chiefs' guideline sets forth its own exemptions to the law "based upon the inherent legal right of the United States government to ensure the preservation of public order ... by force if necessary."

It's wise to be suspicious when someone starts talking about the government's "inherent" right to do this or that. It's a signal that the Constitution is about to be blindsided. In fact, when President Truman ordered the Koreanwartime seizure of the steel mills in 1952, the Supreme Court ruled that he had no such inherent right, even for "national defense."

Here are some of the ways the Joint Chiefs plan to bring in the troops - in close coordination with

- "Normally a state of martial law will be proclaimed by the president," the document states. But it adds, "in the absence of such action by the president, a senior military commander may impose martial law in an area of his command where there has been a complete breakdown in the exercise of government functions by local civilian authorities."

- "Military assumption of judicial, law enforcement and administrative functions of local government will be based on necessity that is actual and present" presumably as decided by the general on the scene.

- "In the absence of martial law. the performance of law enforcement functions by the military will be limited to those actions that are necessary to prevent loss of life and wanton destruction of property." Just who will define these limitations is not precisely spelled out. The Joint Chiefs intend to give Guiffrida and his satraps the military muscle they need. "All military forces, Active and Reserve, and the National Guard, when federalized. are considered potentially available to provide (support) to civil authorities during a civil defense emergency." the document states.

Salvage Tugs Try To Save Crippled Oil Tanker

ABU DHABI, United Arab Emirates (UPI) - Salvage tugs worked today to save a crippled supertanker struck and set ablaze in the Persian Gulf by an Iraqi missile. Six crewmen aboard the tanker were killed.

Marine Navigation, London agents of the vessel World Knight, whose home-port is Hong Kong, said the six crewmen died Monday and that nine crewmembers among survivors airlifted to safety by Iranian helicopters were

The World Knight was en route to the Iran's Kharg Island oil terminal when it was hit.

Irao claimed that its air force struck "two large naval targets" Monday, but there was no independent report of a second hit. French-made Exocet sea-skimming missiles were probably used in the strike on the World Knight.

The attack broke a three-week lull in the Gulf "tanker war," an offshoot of the 4-year-old Iran-Iraq war. More than 50 mostly neutral ships have been confirmed hit by both sides so far this year.

Honeywell Bombing Probed

BRUSSELS, Belgium (UPI) - A special anti-terrorist group will investigate the bombing of the Brussels headquarters of the U.S. defense contractor Honeywell by a group protesting American nuclear missiles in Europe.

An organization calling itself the Communist Combatant Cells claimed responsibility for Monday's bomb, which went off at dawn. Fifteen rooms and several hallways were wrecked, but no one was injured.

A Justice Ministry spokesman Monday said the Interforce Anti-terrorist Group will investigate the bombing and two other similar attacks last week, all claimed by the Communist Combatant Cells.

In a letter delivered to a Brussels television station, the Communist Combatant Cells said Honeywell was bombed because it is "actively involved in the construction program of cruise missiles."

Following the two attacks last week against offices of the American company Litton and a West German truck manufacturer, the group said it had targeted the firms because they supplied materials or transport for the missiles.

Extortionists Poison Candy

TOKYO (UPI) - The beleaguered Morinaga Confectionary Co. refused today to give in to extortionists who laced its candy with deadly cyanide at supermarkets and demanded $410,000.

About 800 employees were mobilized in Osaka, Japan's second-largest city, to find any more poisoned sweets at major retailers, he said.

The gang claimed it placed 20 poisoned packs at retailers between Tokyo and Fukuoka, about 700 miles to the west. Kyodo News Service said Morinaga products have been withdrawn from at least 870 retail stores in 28 of Japan's 49 provinces.

Police scientists said the tainted treats each contained 200 grams of cyanide, enough to kill an adult.

Lt. Col. Ricardo Aristedes Clenfuegos, chief Defense Ministry spokesman, said the army would "respect and support" Duarte's initiative.

"The armed forces maintains its position of support for the president as he follows the constitution," he said.

But in a statement released in Mexico City, the rebels' Radio Venceremos sald, "Duarte's speech before the United Nation lacks objective elements to support it and cannot be considered a serious proposal until there are concrete facts to show the (government's) Intention to reach a political solution to the conflict."

(UPI) - Salvadorans weary of always have urged direct talks to nearly five years of civil war end the fighting, said they did praised President Jose Napoleon not believe Duarte is ready to Duarte's call for peace talks with work for peace when the armed leftist rebels, but the guerrillas forces under his command "daily increase their terrorist In a speech to the U.N. The negative tone of the Venceremos statement contrasted with that of rebel spokesmen Mario Lopez, one of five members of the Farabundo Marti National Liberation Front's high command.

There is something positive in his declaration," Lopez said in an interview in Mexico City, "He is not speaking only of elections. he is speaking of peace."

Lopez said the guerrillas would await word from Duarte about conditions for the talks before giving a final response.

Westmoreland's CBS Libel Suit Goes To Court

NEW YORK (UPI) - Gen. William Westmoreland's libel suit against CBS for claiming he lied about enemy troop strength in Vietnam is expected to prompt testimony about the broader issue of wartime conduct of civilian and military leaders.

The $120 million suit against the network was to go to court today for the start of jury selection. A jury of six will be selected from a pool of 100 potential jurors in the court of U.S. District Judge Pierre Leval.

The trial is expected to last three to four

Westmoreland, 70, who commanded U.S. troc is it. Vietnam at the height of the war. contends he was the victim of a smear in the CBS documentary. "The Uncounted Enemy: A Vietnam Deception."

The 1982 documentary accused Weatmoreland, now, reffred, of taking part in a conspiracy to downplay enemy troop strength in Vietnam in an attempt to deceive Congress and the American public about the progress of the war.

Westmoreland denies any deception took place and claims he was held up to "scorn, contempt and ridicule" by the documentary. He filed the libel suit against the network in 1982.

CBS, which lost a bid to have the suit dismissed, claimed that while certain network guidelines were violated, the documentary was essentially true.

As a public figure. Westmoreland must convince a jury that the statements CBS made about him not only were false and demaged his reputation, but were made with "actual malice."

While the key legal issue at the trial is the balance between the rights of an individual and freedom of the press, testimony is expected to address bronder tesues such as the conduct of civilian and military commanders during the Vietnam War.

Witnesses expected to testify at the trial include former Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, in depositions, McNamara said he never heard of any falsification of intelligence data about enemy forces during his years as defense secretary.

Also expected to testify is Gains Hawkins. a retired Army colonel who appeared in the documentary. Hawkins headed a unit in Vietnam that helped prepare enemy troop strength estimates in 1966-67. In depositions, Hawkins said Westmoreland encouraged him to lower the estimates

Named as defendants are CBS News correspondent Mike Wallace, who narrated the documentary, CBS producer George Crile and former CIA analyst Samuel Adams, a consultant on the program. Last Thursday, Westmoreland dropped they've been grave robbing to tell the truth. "You don't honor Harry Truman by passing the buck on Lebanon." Mondale said. "You don't honor Franklin Roosevelt by trying to destroy Social Security.'

Campaign spokesman Dayton Duncan said Mondale's Washington headquarters received

2.000 positive phone calls Monday on the debate. Fund-raising parties across the nation on debate night raised an estimated $5 million, he said. The Reagan camp remained positive about the debate but initial claims of victory were dampened by early poll results.

An early Gallup Poll indicated the majority of television viewers felt Mondale had won. A private poll commissioned by the Republicans found the outcome "a dead heat," said Jim Lake. a Reagan campaign spokesman.

But a Newsweck magazine survey had Mondale winning 54 percent to 35 percent. An ABC News poll gave Mondale a narrow 39 percent to 38 percent lead and a USA Today poll showed Mondale the winner 39 percent to 34 percent. The president shied away from making any personal judgments on his performance, but the debate appeared to be a downer for a campaign that has been riding high. "He's aware of the criticism." said deputy press secretary Larry Speakes. "He's not overly concerned."

"It's our view that Reagan more than held his own and Mondale failed in his knockout punch goal." White House chief of staff James Baker told reporters.

Reagan did not score "a home run" but "a triple."

"We came out just where we wanted to come out." Rollins said. I do not think that Mondale in any way, shape or form, can be declared a clear winner.

Samocki Sparks 'Pack Attack' To Postal Record

Herald Sports Writer
Question: what is the definition of the word "pack?"

1. A group that runs together. 2. A gang or band of people.

3. A compacted mass of ice floes. 4. Lake Howell's girls cross country

5. All of the above.

This is not a trick question, the answer is all of the above. The first three answers are currently in the dictionary while the fourth might have to be a new addition if Lake Howell continues to perform the way it has all

The Lady Silver Hawks, ranked first in the 4A state poll, continued their dominance in Seminole County Monday night at Lake Mary High as they ran away with the Seminole County Postal run title.

Lake Howell had seven of the top 20 runners Monday night and finished with a combined team time (top five runners) of 60:12.2, shattering the old meet record of 62:47.1 set by Lyman in 1982. The Lady Hawks were followed by Seminole (63:19.9), Lake Mary (65:33.4), Lake Brantley (66:19.0) and Lyman (68:49.3). Ovledo had no team time.

Lisa Samocki led the way for Lake Howell as she completed the two miles on the Lake Mary track with a time of 11:33.7, Samocki now stands second on the girls varsity all-time Postal Run

Samocki was followed in the Lake

Howell top five by Amy Ertel (fifth at 11:54.2), Martha Fonseca (sixth at 12:09.2), Nancy Nystrom (eighth at 12:09.8) and Belinda LaSeur (12th at 12:25.3). Also running for the Lady Hawks were Mary Fonseca (13th at 12:39.6) and Michelle Spearman (19th at 13:05.6).

Seminole's girls continued to perform consistently as its top five finished in the top 23. Shownda Martin led the way as she finished second with a time of 11:42.3, which ranks her third on the meet's all-time honor roll. Debble Coleman ran another fine race for the Lady Tribe as she finished seventh at 12:09.7. Completing Seminole's top five were Dorchelle Webster (10th at 12:19.0), Jennifer Roberts (20th at 13:22.8) and Katrina Walker (23rd at 13:46.1). Also competing for Seminole were Glenda Bass (30th at 14:43.4) and Lisa Grant (32nd at 15:07.8).

Lake Mary's Lady Rams showed improvement Monday with a thirdplace finish. The Rams' top five consisted of Sue Kingsbury (ninth at 12:17.3), Heather Heikkila (11th at 12:24.3). Fran Gordon (16th at 12:56.4), Niki Hays (24th at 13:48.8) and Liz Stone (25th at 14:08.6). Lake Mary's number six runner, Lisa Shelby, came in 28th at 14:32.6.

Lyman's top two runners turned in another solid performance Monday night as Julie Greenberg finished third at 11:47.2 and Tracy Fisher was fourth at 11:48.4. Greenberg now ranks fourth on the all time honor roll while Fisher is now fifth.

Lake Mary's boys team also packed well Monday night as the Rams had six of the top 10 finishers for a team time of 51:30.2 and the Postal Run championship. Seminole finished second followed by Lyman, Lake Brantley. Lake Howell and Cyledo.

"I was really impressed with the team's confidence," Lake Mary coach Mark McGee said. "Lyman went out fast and led most of the first mile, but the kids hung back and ran their own race. Six runners in the top 10 is an excellent performance."

Lake Mary's top six included Matt Palumbo (2nd at 10:07.6). Ken Rohr (third at 10:10.6). Bob Howard (fifth at 10:15.5). Harold Pitts (sixth at 10:25.4). Jim Shepherd (ninth at 10:31.1) and John Amrhein (10th at 10:32.1). Tom Wait (15th at 10:38.0) also competed for the Rams Monday.

While Lake Mary dominated the individual supremacy in the county Penick led from start to finish in Monday night's two mile race (boys cross country runs three miles) and wound up with a time of 9:43.4.

"He (Penick) finished the first mile in 4:34," Seminole coach Ted Tombros said. "That ties his best time on the track last season. But he really had nobody to push him."

Penick was followed in Seminole's top five by Larry Cosby (fourth at 10:14.3), Kelvin Abney (16th at 10:39.1), Kelly Faint (21st at 10:44.7) and Randy Drury (35th at 11:38.3).

In the junior varsity girls race, Lake Howell and Lake Brantely were the only two teams with complete teams and the JV Lady Hawks came out on top with a team time of 30:51.6 compared to 33:03.0 for Lake

Lake Howell's Kim Hammontree took the individual title in the one mile race with a time of 5:54.2 which is good for fourth on the Junior varsity all

Edgemon Gets His Kicks Quick

By Sam Cook Herald Sports Editor

Daryl Edgemon gets his kicks quick. Just ask Apopka. The Blue Darters were caught napping twice by Edgemon's punts on third down. The first time, it cost them 43 yards. The second time, it cost them the game.

Here was the situation.
Seminole had a 14-7 lead with 7:30 to play. But, with the explosive Sammie Smith in the Apopka backfield, it was still anybody's ball game.

Deron Thompson hauled in an Apopka punt at his own 20 and zipped it back 20 yards to the 40. Quarterback Mike Whelchel then threw incomplete and Dexter Jones ran for three yards.

With Seminole facing a third and seven at its 43, coach Jerry Poscy sent in the play. Whelchel moved his hands out of the way and center Strickland Smith anapped the ball directly to Edgemon, the lone back in the

"We try to make the defense think we're going to pass," said Edgemon. "I just take the snap, step backward and rock forward. All I take it one step."

And then? "The most important things are quickness and heighth," Edgemon continued about his element of surprise. "We just want the punt to roll as far as it can. Hopefully, our attackmen (Thompson and Cliff Campbell) will get down field to down it or force a fumble if the guy catches it." No sooner said than done. Edgemon unloaded his best boot of the year - a 55-yarder which rolled under the watchful eyes of Thompson and Campbell all the way to the Apopka 2.

"Most of the teams, especially the Seminole County ones, know it's coming," said Edgemon.
"But it's usually too late for them to get back." Edgemon, who has a 2.8 grade average and hopes to play college football next fall, hadn't punted before last year. He said the quick kick does give him some anxious momenta at times. "I just try to block all the nervousness out," he said. "Usually, I just pray that I get it off. I've punted six or seven times now and haven't had one blocked. Friday's was probably my best (pressure) kick, but I had a good one against Astronaut, too."

The best was next. Apopka quarterback Sid Lowman and fullback Carth Rangel collided on an exchange and the ball popped free. Tribe defensive tackle Anthony Hall engulied it at the two-yard line.

It took just two plays to put the game away. Whelchel picked up one yard on a quarterback sneak and Jo-Jo McCloud slugged in for the rest behind clear-out blocks from Smith, Thompson and Campbell. Hal Posey's third PAT gave the Noice an insurmountable 21-7 lead with just 5:41 to play. Edgemon, not surprisingly, was selected as the Optimist Offensive Player of the Week for his effort. Junior defensive back Dexter Franklin, who had six tackles and four assists, was the Optimist Defensive Player of the

Not only did Edgemon get his kicks from his foot, he had pretty good time with his hands. too. It was a 40-yard Whelchel-to-Edgemon pass which snapped a 7-7 tie and sent the second-ranked Blue Darters spinning in the second period.

Edgemon remembered it well. "It was a special play to either me or (wideout) Mike Cushing." he said of the maneuver which! sent Edgemon down the middle! and Cushing down and out; hoping to freeze the safety. "I just said, 'if it's me, let me catch it.' All of a sudden I was in the open. I saw Whelchel get hit as he released the ball. The thing I' knew I was in the end zone."

The quick kick is a play which Posey pulled from his own prep career while at Haines City. "I used it in high school," Posey said. "When I was a tailback running out of the single wing, it was an effective way of surprising the defense."

Posey made use of Timmy Lawrence last year, but he put Edgemon through the paces, too. "I knew we would need Daryl this year. He has a good leg and he can rock back out of that three-point stance. He's become real good at it."

Poscy said the same play stuck Apopka on the one-yard last year, but Rodney Brewer just toased a 30-yarder to James Jones to get the Darters out of

This year, though, there was no Brewer or Smith or Apopka victory.

Daryl Edgemon gathers in the pass and heads for a 40-yard touchdown. This play broke a 7-7 deadlock as Seminole went on to a 21-7. win over Apopka.

Sparky: He Can Reach Out And Touch You

DETROIT (UPI) - Sparky Anderson has a slight impediment of speech. Every once in awhile, he stops to take a deep breath.

Part of his enormous appeal for so many people, both those who know him and those who don't, is that he never stops talking. In some, that's a big minus. With Sparky Angerson, that's a decided plus.

He's pure gold. Absolutely beautiful. He isn't only a ballplayer's dream. because one way or another he gets them all playing time and they all love to play for him, but he's a newspaper-man's dream as well because no matter how busy he is, he always gives them something to write about and they enjoy listening to him

He was in exceptional form Sunday sitting behind his desk in his office while most of his Detroit Tigers were out on the field loosening up and taking batting practice in a steady mist that made the infield and outfield grass wet and treacherous.

The workout had been scheduled for one o'clock, but with the wietched weather and all, along with some question over whether the session would be called off, a few of the players still hadn't shown up. Some of those who did took their sweet old time putting on their uniforms and walking out onto the field, possibly because all the euphoria of Friday night's pennant clincher against the Kansas City Royals still hadn't entirely worn off or maybe because the conditions outside weren't very good.

Sparky was still going strong at 20 minutes after one, talking to 18 writers who had him surrounded at his desk in

'Hey, Sparks, we gotta workout out here," shortstop Alan Trammell delivered a shrill needle on his way out of the clubhouse.

"Okay. Trams." his manager hollered back at him, barely interrupting himself with what he was talking about to the writers, "I'll be out there—in about a couple of hours."

"Don't worry about it," Trammell answered on the fly. "I'll take care of

That's the type of relationship Auderson has with his players. He runs a loose ship. Until he sees some storm clouds starting to gather. Then he gets right up there on the bridge and lets everyone know who's captain.

Ballplay s tell you how much a World Series ring means to them, how proud they are to finally win one.

Milton Richman

UPI Sports Editor

Sparky Anderson has two of them, but never bothers wearing either one. Clubs under his direction also have won five pennants and six division titles. He has rings to commemorate those events, but you'll never see any of them on his fingers, either. He also has rings for managing three National League All-Star teams and serving as eench in two others and they're back home in some drawer, too. It's not that a world championship, pennant or All-Star ring means less to him than it does to anyone else. It's simply that deep down. Sparky Anderson doesn't go for any outward show. He doesn't need any to let him know whom he is. he was telling the newsmen.

"The only ring I wear is my wedding ring," he explained. "I don't wear any of my World Series or All-Star rings. I don't wear any jewelry. I say this: I know where I come from, and if I know where I come from, I know where I'm going. The only security I need is to know who I am, and I know I'm me."

Quite naturally, Anderson keeps being asked if winning the pennant with the Tigers this year means more to him than the four previous ones he won with the Cincinnati Reds. In one way it does, he said, because he had publicly declared on June 14, 1979, the day the Tigers signed him as their manager, that if they didn't win in five years, he should be fired. He always remembers that, partially because he never was allowed to forget he said it.

"I told my wife, now nobody will ever question my credibility." he said in his office Sunday as his team was getting ready for the World Series outside. "I told her, what I said is on the record. That's something they never can take back."

In that way, Sparky is a lot like Casey Stengel. Sometimes, he'll say "they" when he really means "I," and what that actually shows is that he has an entirely different manner of expressing himself than one of Detrolt's former managers, the late Charlie Dressen.

Despite the fact the Tigers got off to an unprecedented 35-5 start. Anderson experienced one of the lowest points in his life this past May when his father. LeRoy, died. Sparky still hasn't gotten over that.

"That's my one regret, I wish I could've spent more time with my father," he said. "My father was a house painter and a paper hanger. He was a very quiet man, a very shy man and totally uneducated. But I'll show you how smart he was.

"He told me the only thing I had to remember was to be nice. Just be nice. he'd say. It doesn't cost a dime to be nice. My Dad was very shy. He went to only one World Series, my first one in 1970. He never tasted shrimp cocktail in his life. His favorite thing to cat was a hot roast beef sandwich. He'd always eat that no matter where he was.

"Whenever I see that telephone commercial-reach out-1 think about niv father. I don't think I had enough time to tell him how much I loved him. Sometimes, my daughter will be talking to me and she'll say, 'you know, Daddy, I love you.' Whenever she says that to me, I say to her, 'sit down. You know something? You never said better words."

Right there, you get a good idea why most people, ballplayers, the media, everyone, feel about Sparky Anderson the way they do.

Montana Delivers 1st-Round KO As Niners Crush Giants, 31-10

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) - It was pro football's version of the first round knockout.

San Francisco's Joe Montana stunned the New York Giants early Monday night with touchdown passes to two backup receivers, Renaldo Nehemiah and John Frank, and Dana McLemore delivered a knockout punch with a 79-yard punt return for a touchdown to cap a 21-point first period. Montana added another TD pass for a 28-3 halftime lead and the 49ers coasted to a 31-10 victory to push their record to 6-0.

San Francisco and Miami remain as the only unbeaten teams in the NFL.

The game was less than three minutes old when Montana hit Nelie. 'uh with a short sideiine pass and the world record-setting hurdler outraced All-Pro cornerback Mark Haynes down the right sideline to complete a 59-yard touchdown play. Less than four minutes later, Montana tossed a one-yard TD pass to Frank, a rookle from Ohio State who made his first pro reception.

All Souls Booters Fit To Be Tied

The All Souls soccer team is fit to be tied. For the second time in a week, coach Hal LeRoy's booters battled to a deadlock and then couldn't break it in two overtime periods. Monday's 3-3 stalement came against Slavia's St. Luke's Christian School.

"But this one was different," said LeRoy, feeling a little like Florida State's Bobby Bowden. "We had to come back to tie it." The Sanford school fell behind, 3-0, at halftime. Leading scorer Jeff Dunn then took over in the final half. He scored the first two goals to pull All Souls within 3-2.

Then came the big play. On a corner kick, Troy Deppen fed David Wright, and Wright booted in the tying goal with just five minutes to play. Neither team could dent the net 'Deppen played a real good game," said LeRoy. "This tie didn't hurt us because it wasn't a conference game.' Goalie Donovan Tucker turned in eight saves and a shutout performance in the second half. Chris Bowlin made three saves during his turn in the net in the first half.

Knit For Fun And Fashion At Darn Yarn Barn, Maitland

How long has it been since you tried your hand at knitting? Knitting these days is no longer a tedious "knit onc. pearl two" operative pear are was comb exciting new with feathers. nubous, fur. beads, sequins and even leather strips. Using different textures, colors as well as design, knitting is now more of an art form.

"Knitting can be fun," said Joyce Mosley, co-owner of Darn Yarn Barn at No. 8 Royal Plaza, Maltland. "You can knit most anything you can bend around a needle. Now knitting goes faster and is more creative. You can relax and just have a good time.

Sweaters of all kinds are high fashion this fall and winter and with the cost of designer sweaters, it makes sense to create your own. "Knitting is coming back," said Joyce. "Women need to be creative and knitting is relaxing."

Even if you have never knitted or crocheted before, Joyce will be glad to teach you how. At Darn Yarn

Darn Yarn Barn co-owners Joyce Mosley, right, and Betty Allen.

Day & Night Grill-a good place to come for home-style cooking.

Day & Night Grill Reopens New Owners And New Menu

the State Farmer's Market - has reopened better than ever with completely new ownership, new management and new menu. But don't worry the same waitresses who have served you for so long

Under the ownership of June and Tina Porzig, a mother-daughter team, the place has been completely cleaned and redecorated with a new look.

The Porzig family has been in Sanford since 1959 and this is only the latest of their family business enterprises. Al Porzig has a plumbing business, while June is a real estate broker and has a Century 21 office here. Tings- heir daughter, has 10 years experience working in the restaurant business. Jan Fightmaster is the assistant manager.

Located at 1300 French Ave., Sanford, Day & Night Grill is open 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday: 24 hours on Thursday. Friday and Saturday; and breakfast is served until 2 p.m. on Sunday. June and Tina invite you to come in and try the home-style fare which they are serving. Take advantage of the opening specials as well as the daily specials and regular menu items, which range from homemade soup to steak. For instance, the get-acquainted breakfast special is a

Acne May Be Caused By Birth Control Pills

DEAR DR. LAMB - I am 36 matter. and my face is still breaking out. I take 2000 mg. of vitamin C every day and I smoke two packs of cigarettes a day. That's why I take so much vitamin C. I also take 400 IU of E, 50 mg. of combined B vitamins and 30 mg. of zinc. If I took more zinc, would my face clear up? My skin is usually oily.

DEAR READER - Taking vitamins or minerals will not help acne. You probably do need more vitamin C than a nonsmoker, since smoking does appear to destroy vitamin C. But I think a much smarter move would be to stop smoking entirely. Cigarette smoking will age your skin. Not only will you have some acne problems, but you will have a wrinkled skin with deep crow's-feet around the eyes before you should. Additional zinc won't help.

You may be one of the people who develop acree in response to birth-control pills. Ask your doctor about it. You could go without birth-control pills for a trial period and see if that helps. If so, you might do well with a different prescription. The public is sometimes confused about vitamin A and acne. At one time, large doses of vitamin A were prescribed to treat acne, but this is not true today. Taking large amounts of vitamin A can lead to vitamin toxicity. The derivatives of vitamin A are entirely different and are used as a surface preparation. They decrease oiliness and help improve drainage of the oil glands. Although Accutane, a new medicine, is derived from vitamin A, it is an entirely different chemical with a different effect.

I have summarized the current thinking about treating acne in a Lew issue of The Health Letter, Special Report 29, Controlling

DEAR DR. LAMB - Why do some people develop such unhealthy fingernails that they are positively unsightly? My nails splinter and form layers. I've tried every "cure" and "strengthener" on the market. Actually, hardeners and strengtheners definitely make my condition worse. So does regular nail polish, for that I wrote off gelatin as useless years ago. I have begun to wonder if calcium might help. Do you have any advice?

DEAR READER - You are right that fingernail polish, remover and even hardener can be hard on fingernalls. The remover contains harsh chemicals. Fingernails are specialized skin. They need moisturizers to avoid dryness, which leads to splintering and peeling. Don't use having your hands in water, rub your nails with Vaseline or a similar preparation. That helps to conserve their moisture. Also, one night a week, you might want to coat them well with petroleum jelly and wear rubber

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby There are lots of rules for winning tricks at bridge. How about a rule for losing a trick? The Jacoby rule is: When you may have to lose a trick, let it be to that opponent who won't be able to do anything to set your contract.

In today's deal South won the ace of diamonds. "Eight ever, nine never," he said to himself as he played the ace and king of clubs. When West won the third round of clubs with the queen, he shifted to the deuce of spades. Declarer played dummy's queen, covered by East's king. It was curtains for three no-trump! Before the ninth trick could be developed in hearts, the defenders had their spade tricks ready to go and took three spades, a club, and the heart ace to set the contract.

If declarer had thought about the Jacoby rule he would have taken a slightly inferior percentage play in the club suit. Playing the club king and then finessing the 10 brings home five club tricks for a total of ten tricks, but note the effect even if East could win the club queen. Dummy's spade queen cannot be attacked, and playing the heart jack would establish a game-going heart trick for declarer.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY OCTOBER 10, 1984

Your financial prospects look encouraging for the year ahead. However, you must be extremely careful not to lend money to unreliable persons. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your resources must be managed with considerable prudence today. Think twice before assuming any new long-term obliga-tions. The Matchmaker wheel reveals your compatibility to all signs, as well as showing you to which signs you are best suited romantically. To get yours, mail $2 to Astro-Graox 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY

Strive to keep a cool head today so you do not react out of emotion rather than logic. Be especially tolerant with your valued relationships.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec.

21) Procrastination could put you behind the eight ball today. Don't dilly-dally. Give your re-sponsibilities and duties prompt attention.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Independence is an admirable quality, but today, if you fail to go along with the will of the majority, you could be left out on the limb.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
If the worksday world treats you a bit roughly today, don't come home and take it out on innocent members of your family. Leave your frustrations at the door. PINCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Think before speaking today or you may say something in the presence of friends you might later regret. Extricating your foot from your mouth won't be easy.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
Your grandiose financial achemes may look good on paper today, yet they might not be feasible. Re-examine them to be sure they make sense.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be extremely selective of your associations today. Persons whose value systems are not on par with yours could make you ook bad. GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

Attempting to make major changes in your work habits or procedures today could add to your burdens, rather than lightening them.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
You're the one who could end up the loser if you ignore a close and valued friend today in order to be more attentive to a person you met only recently.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll desire lofty accomplishments today but you may not be prepared to pay the price in tenacity that is required to achieve them. achieve them.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Try not to be gullible today. Unfortunately, information passed on by others may have little basis in fact.
