Brantley Uneasy About Special Library Law

By MICHEAL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County's $7 million bond issue may face a tough time Wednesday morning when the county's legislators decide whether they will introduce it to the Legislature for validation. State Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, chairman of the legislative delegation, said he's "not certain" how his colleagues will vote on the issue. But personally he said he's been wrestling with the problem for several days.

Brantley said he's trying to keep an open mind on the issue despite "the intensive lobbying effort that's going on on both sides" by those for and against the library improvements.

The bond issue was approved in October by about 58 percent of the 10,000 voters who cast ballots. But county officials recently discovered that they had failed to advertise the bond issue three and five weeks prior to the election.

To correct the error they have asked the legislative delegation to submit the bond issue to the Legislature.

If the delegation votes to introduce a special act it will be introduced to the community affairs committees of the House and Senate. Then the issue will come before the bodies on a day for special local bills. The bills are usually passed at one time by unanimous consent.

The most vocal opponent of the bond issue is Commissioner Robert G. "Bud" Feather. Feather opposed placing the referendum on the ballot and has opposed asking the Legislature for a special act.

Feather has sent letters to each member of the delegation asking them not to approve the special act.

Brantley said the delegation's meeting at 9 a.m. Wednesday in the Altamonte Springs council chambers could be an emotionally charged session.

Brantley said he hopes to keep it from becoming emotional. "The real issue, after we boil down all the emotional and philosophical arguments, is whether it's proper to circumvent state law in cases where the county violated it."

He said on the other side is the fact that voters went to the polls and cast their votes for the referendum in good faith.

County commissioners, he said, "feel they owe something to the people who voted in favor of the bond issue."

The delegation must decide where to draw the line on such requests, Brantley said.

"It may not be a proper thing to do," he said. "The average citizen doesn't have a legislative delegation they can go to when they violate the law."

Rep. Carl Selph also has wrestled with the issue. Unlike Brantley, he has made up his mind to vote for the special act.

"It's not a simple yes," Selph said. "I don't think we should consider merits of the bond issue itself. That should've been considered by the county commission and the voters."

Selph said the main issue will be to determine whether the wording of the bond issue was misleading. If it's not, he plans to vote for the special act.

"The bond issue got good coverage in the media," he said. "I'm wrestling with the requirements for legal advertisements. I think the intent was to ensure that you don't slip something by the voters."

"I think people were probably well informed," Selph added. For Brantley, the issue is not as clear cut. He has weighed the choices available. In addition to the special act, the county could take the bond issue to the state Supreme Court for validation or could hold another election.

"My mind goes back and forth—One day I get up and say I'm going to vote for it. Then five minutes later I change my mind," he said. "It's going to hinge on the cost of a special referendum."

Brantley said opponents of the special act already have threatened to file a lawsuit if the Legislature approves the special act.

"If the costs of the special election are $25,000 or so that may be the cheapest avenue," Brantley said. A lawsuit could tie up the bond issue, designed to build branch libraries in four areas of the county, for several years.

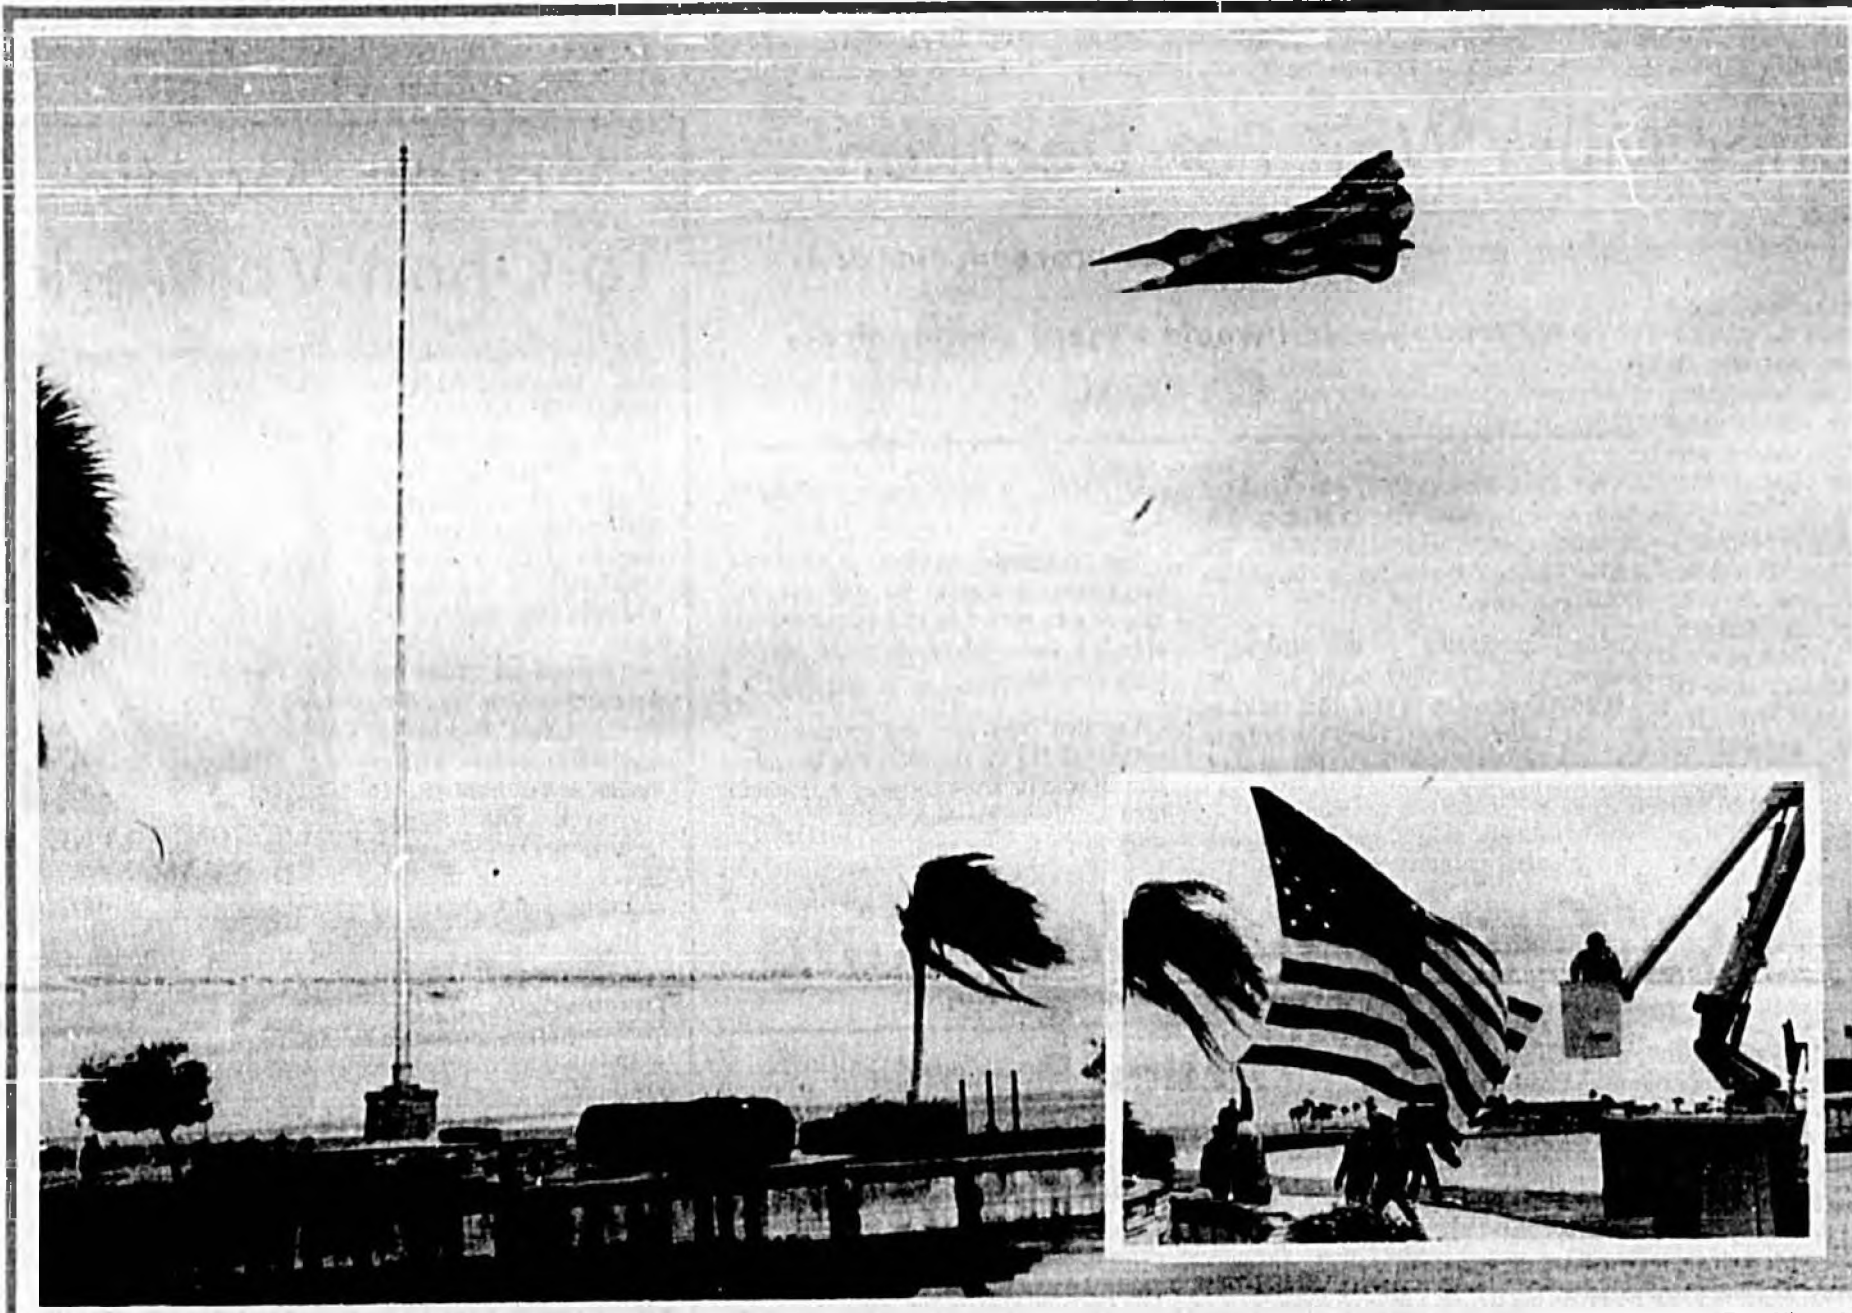

Camilla Bruce, supervisor of elections, said a special election would cost between $25,000 and $30,000.

Brantley said the special election would be the cleanest way to solve the problem.

He's concerned that the delegation won't be unanimous even if it supports the special act.

"A problem usually arises when you have a situation where you're not unanimous," he said. One member of the delegation can cause the measure to be defeated.

"I just hope we can agree not to disagree," he said.

BLOWING IN THE WIND

The American flag that usually flies only over Memorial Park across from Sanford's City Hall was flying far and wide Monday morning after a line snapped, freeing Old Glory to flap over Lake Monroe waters in the west harbor. A Sanford city maintenance crew rescued the large flag. Butch Strine climbed into the bucket of a maintenance department truck, elevated himself and was able to throw a weighted line over the flag's cable. Maintenance department workers, along with workers from the parks and street departments pulled the flag down and repaired the lines.

Sanford May Buy Land Back From Feather

By DONNA ESTES

Seminole County Commissioner Robert G. "Bud" Feather will be told at 11 a.m. next Wednesday whether the Sanford City Commission will force him to resell to the city the property on which he had planned to build a multi-million-dollar nursing home and apartment complex for senior citizens.

It was clear Monday night that the majority of the commissioners favored either taking over control of the 8.5 acres behind the Evening Herald Building and fronting on the Lake Monroe lakefront or requiring Feather to pay more money for it. The additional money discussed was $50,000.

Feather, looking drawn and disturbed as his attorney, Edgerton van den Berg, discussed the county commissioners' options, said he would lose $270,000 if the city repurchased the land for the agreed upon $100,000.

Feather surprised commissioners when he revealed he had paid Frederick Rucker $300,000 for the land. The city had sold the property to the Altamonte Springs man for $117,000.

Last June as time was running out for Rucker to begin construction under a city-imposed deadline of a proposed multi-story condominium apartment complex, Feather bought the tract from the Altamonte Springs man.

Feather's time under a contract with the city to begin construction of his planned life-care facility will expire March 1. The county official had requested a year's extension of the deadline and the right for another six months' delay after that.

For that extension he promised to pay the city a fee of $5,000. In addition he pledged to pay the city $10,000 per year for every year completion of the project is delayed after Dec. 31, 1986.

In an exchange, Feather asked that the clauses giving the city the right to repurchase the property, if certain deadlines weren't met, be stricken from the contract.

Feather had planned to build a 60-bed nursing facility and a 240-unit apartment complex for seniors on the site in the first phase.

Nearly three weeks ago the state granted Feather a certificate of need for the nursing home beds—30 for residents of the complex and 30 for non-residents.

During the discussions Monday night, Mayor Lee P. Moore said the money that Feather was offering for the delay was not enough. Feather responded by upping the ante for a delay in construction completion until Jan. 1, 1985.

"On Jan. 1, 1985, if 240 units are not there, I'll pay $25,000," he said. "I'm asking, please, let me proceed. It will succeed, I know it will. I've done everything I said I would, except communicate."

"With the certificate of need and the economy on the up, I'm sure I'll succeed. Please work with me on this," he said. Van den Berg insisted the city's "reverter clauses," the right to reacquire the property, makes it impossible to get financing for the project.

Moore reminded fellow commissioners that Feather is "a leg up" on the project by having the certificate of need.

Commissioner David Farr said the city had placed Feather in an untenable position with the clauses in the property sales contract. He suggested the city take back the property, then establish a fair market price without reverter clauses and then sell the property.

Commissioner Ned Yancey echoed Farr's comments.

Farr said the property was sold at a lesser price—$117,000—as an incentive to get it developed and placed on the tax rolls.

Commissioner Milton Smith stressed that the Commission's first responsibility

Yards Along Canal May Flood

Sewage Plant's Discharge Increase Opposed

By MICHEAL BEHA

A Lake Monroe man is opposed to plans to raise the capacity of the Lake Monroe Utilities sewage plant because it will bring more water into Elder Canal.

T.C. Rabun said the permit being considered by the state Department of Environmental Regulation to increase the discharge of effluent from the plant to 75,000 gallons would flood the yards of many residents along Elder Canal. The plan is to discharge effluent into Elder Canal from where it will flow into the St. Johns River downstream of Lake Monroe.

"The county doesn't do anything with the ditches in regard to cleaning them out," Rabun said. "Regardless of whether it's treated or untreated, we can't stand the water."

The permit application is the subject of a public meeting set for tonight at 7 o'clock in the Seminole County Courthouse in Sanford.

Rabun, who recently underwent open heart surgery, said he's not certain whether he will be able to attend the meeting but he expects many of his neighbors to be in attendance. Rabun sent county commissioners a letter opposing the permit application.

"After every big rain like the one we got this weekend there's water standing in our yards," he said. "We just can't stand another 75,000 gallons a day."

Rabun, who lives about a quarter of a mile from the plant, said he has no problem with the plant itself.

DER officials have said they have no problems with the application filed by the utility but decided to hold the hearing at the request of Seminole County commissioners.

Ed Davenport of DER's Orlando office said the meeting is not a public hearing. No hearing officer will be present and no decisions will be reached in the meeting.

Davenport said DER officials will present information about the application along with their opinions on its impact.

Seminole County officials, who oppose the plan, and representatives of the utility, owned by Dr. J.W. Hickman, have been invited to make presentations at the meeting.

The temporary operating permit was first sought in December 1981, according to Greg Drummond, a public relations consultant who works for Hickman. After nine months the DER rejected that application.

The original application for 100,000 gallons was rejected because the facility did not have the capacity to process 100,000 gallons a day, Davenport said.

A second permit was then applied for, this time for 75,000 gallons a day. The plant currently processes about 50,000 gallons of sewage per day.

Davenport said the operating permit will allow the plant to treat and discharge 75,000 gallons of sewage each day. According to the application, 25,000 gallons of effluent is sprayed on nearby fields and the remaining 50,000 gallons are treated by a "living filter," an area filled with plants and soil which effectively treats the effluent before it is discharged.

The sewage plant serves the I-4 Industrial Park and the Port of Sanford.

State Lawmakers To Join Local Officials

VIP Volunteers To Serve In Seminole Schools

By MICHEAL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

State and local officials, school board personnel and administrators will serve as volunteers in Seminole County schools on Friday.

The special volunteer program will cap Seminole County's observance of Florida School Volunteer Week.

This school district is honoring its volunteers in the Dividends program. Dignitaries have been invited to serve one day as a volunteer to highlight the program and make the public aware of the service the volunteers provide.

Included in the list of dignitaries are state Sen. Toni Jennings, who will work at Lake Orienta Elementary School; state Reps. Bobby Brantley, who will visit Lake Mary High School; Art Grindle, who will visit Lyman High School, and Carl Selph, who will work at South Seminole Middle School.

Others who will serve as "Dividends for a Day" include: County Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn, Spring Lake Elementary School; County Commissioner Barbara Christensen, Sterling Park Elementary School; County Commissioner Robert Feather, Lake Brantley High School; County Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff, Midway Elementary School and County Commissioner Bob Sturm, Oviedo High School.

School Board Chairman Roland Williams, Seminole High School; School Board Vice-Chairman Nancy Warren, Wilson Elementary School; School Board Member Jean Bryant, Geneva Elementary School and School Board Member Pat Telson, Eastbrook Elementary School.

Mayor Ray Ambrose, Altamonte Springs, Altamonte Elementary School; Mayor Charles Glascock, Casselberry, Lake Howell High School; Mayor Walt Sorensen, Lake Mary,

Lake Mary Elementary School; Mayor June Lormann, Longwood, Longwood Elementary School and Mayor John Torcaso, Winter Springs, Winter Springs Elementary School. School Superintendent Robert Hughes, Jackson Heights Middle School; Assistant Superintendent Dan Dagg, Sabal Point Elementary School; Director of Elementary Education Marion Glennani, Goldsboro Elementary School; Director of Exceptional Education Don Ricci, Rosenwald Exceptional Child Center; Coordinator Clem Boyer, Math, South Side Elementary; Coordinator Charlippe Geyer, Secondary Language Arts, Rock Lake Middle School; Coordinator Myrna Walters, Elementary Reading, English Estates Elementary School; Coordinator Bettie Palmer, Science, Woodlands Elementary School; Coordinator Brenda Griffin, Kindergarten-third grade, Goldsboro Elementary School; Coordinator Jim Elliott, Social Studies, Casselberry

Elementary School and Coordinator John Blair, Fine Arts, Lakeview Middle School.

Additionally, the district is holding its second annual sharing session for community resource volunteers today at the Sanlando Methodist Church in Longwood.

Community resource volunteers are people who have talent in specific areas but do not have time to work in the schools on a regular basis.

Included in the session are talks by Jeff Butler, assistant professor of communications at the University of Central Florida; Tom Hale, staff meteorologist for WCPX-TV in Orlando, and Marion Eggers, who collects miniatures.

Additionally, Superintendent Robert Hughes addressed the group and school officials gave their feelings about the volunteer programs.

Congress EPA Documents

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Environmental Protection Agency "whistle-blower" Hugh Kaufman is giving a House subcommittee boxes of documents on the embattled agency's toxic waste cleanup activities.

Kaufman, a hazardous waste specialist and outspoken EPA critic, began turning over the files shortly after agency officials made a deal with him Monday that averted a potentially embarrassing hearing on their alleged efforts to fire him.

A House Science and Technology subcommittee is one of several congressional panels investigating the growing controversy over the Reagan administration's handling of "Superfund," the $1.6 billion law aimed at cleaning up the nation's worst toxic waste dumps.

'Squeal Rule' Blocked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teenage girls can continue to get birth control prescriptions from federally funded clinics without fear their parents will be informed, at least until a trial is held on the so-called "squeal rule."

A federal judge in New York Monday temporarily prohibited the Reagan administration from requiring clinics to tell parents when their teenage daughters get birth-control pills or devices, saying the rule actually would increase pregnancies.

The controversial regulation cowering health clinics that get federal funds was scheduled to take effect Feb. 25, but U.S. District Judge Henry F. Werker enjoined the Department of Health and Human Services from enforcing the rule until a trial is held.

GM, Toyota Team Up

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. and Toyota Motor Co. — the world's No. 1 and No. 3 automakers — say their $300 million deal to build subcompact cars is a landmark in industrial cooperation but auto workers are cautiously optimistic.

The two automakers announced simultaneously in Detroit and Tokyo Monday an agreement in principle to produce autos at GM's vacant 411-acre Fremont, Calif. plant under joint management.

The two companies will jointly build 200,000 cars a year for up to 12 years to be marketed by Chevrolet dealers, replacing the Chevette. The price of the so-called T-cars would be around $6,000.

NATIONAL REPORT: Rain driven by 50-mph winds battered the Virginia coast and plunged thousands into darkness in Washington D.C. But an ice storm spared the Northeast, still reeling today from the Blizzard of '83 that was blamed for at least 71 deaths. Authorities said it would cost millions to clean up from the region's worst wintry assault in 40 years. Heavy thunderstorms today pounded Texas, dumping an inch of rain an hour near San Antonio and Austin. Violent storms whipped up the Southeast Atlantic Coast today and gale warnings were posted from North Carolina to Maryland. Melting snow Monday knocked out power for about three hours to about 3,600 customers in Washington's fashionable Georgetown section, plunging the Watergate complex, the Kennedy Center and Georgetown University into darkness.

Local Ophthalmologist To Receive New YAG Laser

A DeLand ophthalmic surgeon will be among the country's first to obtain the new YAG laser, a surgical laser developed for use in cataract operations to make them easier, safer and quicker.

Dr. Albert C. Neumann, founder and medical director of the Neumann Eye Institute, 650 W. Plymouth Ave., DeLand, is scheduled to receive the YAG directly from Germany by the end of the month. The surgical laser was recently introduced at the American Academy of Ophthalmologists conference in San Francisco by French surgeon Daniele Aron-Rosa who developed the instrument.

The YAG, an acronym for yttrium-aluminum-garnet, laser works in an infrared wavelength. It is used in the first step of the cataract surgery to open the membrane enclosing the clouded human lens.

It also will benefit patients requiring secondary cataract surgery, almost 25 percent of the total number undergoing the new extracapsular cataract technique. This "cold" laser can take the place of surgical knives or needles to "cup away" membranes that have become opaque after the lens is removed.

Neumann explains that the procedure performed the conventional way has taken up to one hour and, in the past, the patient was usually hospitalized.

"Because the YAG is a non-invasive way to remove cataracts, and each laser pulse only takes a trillionth of a second, the patient remains in street clothes," says Neumann, adding that it also relieves much of the anxiety associated with surgery of any kind because it does not require hospitalization.

Dr. Neumann explains that the laser, working in the infrared range, is invisible to the human eye, therefore a red aiming beam of neon helium is used to mark the YAG's exact position.

"Whereas the cataract operation is considered one of the safest surgical procedures performed today, the YAG laser will increase even more the safety and control the surgeon has in the operation," says Neumann, pointing out that the cataract operation is also the most commonly performed eye procedure. Neumann said he averages more than 12 such procedures a week.

This recent stride in the cataract operation is one of the many ophthalmic procedures pioneered at the Neumann Eye Institute. Neumann is well known for his work in such outpatient procedures as Radial Keratotomy, the surgical procedure to correct near-sightedness, and Intraocular Lens Implantation, the cataract procedure for inserting an implant in place of the eye's original lens.

Neumann also travels worldwide to study with some of the masters in ophthalmic breakthroughs for use at the Neumann Eye Institute which serves as a private research and training facility for ophthalmic surgeons nationwide.

This activity has resulted in the stepped up completion date for the Institute's 16,000-sq.-foot expansion, scheduled for spring of this year, he says. This new facility will feature the is to the taxpayers of Sanford and to Feather secondarily.

... Feather Must Wait For Decision

Looking at van den Berg, Smith said it would cost Feather to have the reverter clauses removed from the contracts. He also favored the city taking the property back, determining its fair market value and again placing it on the market with Feather being given the right of first refusal on reacquiring it.

Moore warned his colleagues that a possibility exists that an appraisal of the former city landfill tract will show its value to be less than the $117,000, originally paid the city by Hucker.

As the discussion concluded after 90 minutes, van den Berg noted "from the signals we're receiving, we will be considering whether Bud should come in and get a building permit and start the project before March 1."

'I'm asking, please, let me proceed. I've done everything I said I would except communicate.'

— Bud Feather

Earlier in the meeting, van den Berg said in his opinion that beginning construction could mean "disturbing the earth" through excavating a foundation as an example.

Moore responded to the attorney's suggestion that Feather might apply for a building permit by saying that building a "2 by 4 office doesn't meet the criteria the city expects" for beginning project construction.

"It's devious, in my opinion," Moore said, adding, "I would not take kindly to it."

Just moments earlier, at Moore's suggestion, a motion to call for the property to revert to city ownership on March 1 was tabled until the special Monday meeting.

Van den Berg said the commission's action tabling the decision was generous and he said he knew the mayor wouldn't take kindly to his suggestion. "I don't want to do it," he said.

Arrest May Crack Burglary Ring

The arrest of an 18-year-old Longwood man in connection with the burglary of a Sweetwater home may lead to the jailing of other members of a ring suspected of a series of break-ins in the Sweetwater and Wekiva areas.

Anthony Raponi of 201 Green Lake Circle was arrested Sunday and later freed on $5,000 bail.

According to a sheriff's spokesman, Raponi may be involved in at least eight other burglaries which were allegedly committed along with two teenagers.

Further arrests are expected, the spokesman said.

Mixon, Mantle To Open Vorwerk

U.S. Gov. Wayne Mixson and baseball legend Mickey Mantle will join Vorwerk USA at a luncheon news conference Wednesday in Altamonte Springs to announce the opening of the company's new headquarters at 500 Northlake Boulevard South.

Other special guests for the event will be state Sen. Toni Jennings, R-Orlando, and Altamonte Springs Mayor Ray Ambrose.

Vorwerk, one of the largest privately owned corporations in Europe, is enjoying rapid growth in Florida and the Southeast.

Mixon will speak about the impact of foreign corporations establishing headquarters in central Florida. Levine will discuss Vorwerk's unique approach to the unemployment problem and Mantle will host a special event to kick-off Vorwerk's local community service program.

"A key element in Florida's economic development plan is attracting foreign corporations to establish headquarters in the state," said Vorwerk's spokesman Glen Urdine. "Vorwerk is planning for rapid expansion in Florida in the coming years," he added.

A German-based multi-million dollar company, Vorwerk has been selling its products in Europe since the 1880s. The firm manufactures and sells a variety of products, including carpet cleaners, carpets, carpet cleaning products, prefab homes, modular kitchens and computer software. Now it is only marketing vacuum cleaners in the United States. The products are manufactured in Germany and are sold door-to-door.

The firm has had a temporary office in Altamonte Springs for almost two years. It has 20 branch offices in Florida, including Sanford, and 33 in the United States. By the end of this year the firm expects to have 30 offices in the state and 100 nationwide.

Stetson U. Gives Wheeler Distinguished Service Award

B. Frank Wheeler, president of Nelson and Co. in Oviedo, was presented the Distinguished Service Award by Stetson President Pope A. Duncan on behalf of the Alumni Association.

The award was presented Saturday night at the Annual Alumni Dinner during the school's Homecoming celebration.

"Mr. Wheeler is an alumnus, trustee and devoted friend of Stetson University," said Nestor de Armas, immediate past president of the Alumni Association.

A 1943 graduate of Stetson, Wheeler joined the board in 1967 and served as vice chairman for four years. He was elected chairman in 1981.

Wheeler is past president of the Florida Celery Exchange in Orlando and president of the Growers Container Cooperative in Leesburg. He is chairman of the board of B & W Canning in Groveland and also chairman of the board of the Citizens Bank of Oviedo. He was born in Oviedo and is active in the First Baptist Church of Oviedo.

PRE-ARRANGEMENTS

The funeral serves a wide range of purposes, with religious, psychological and physical significances. There are many aspects and details to the meaningful funeral that are arranged with the assistance of the professional funeral director, usually at the time of need. However, some people prefer counseling prior to need.

We offer complete information on pre-arrangements and pre-financing, available without cost or obligation of any kind. Feel free to contact us at your convenience.

Oops! Police Grab Wrong Woman In Narcotics Probe

MIAMI (UPI) — The Drug Enforcement Agency's No. 1 female fugitive is still at large, officials announced after fingerprinting a woman who was arrested by mistake as the matriarch of a Colombian cocaine ring.

A fingerprint comparison Monday revealed that a woman federal agents had identified as Martha Libya Cardona, 36, the alleged head of the 70-member de Gabriela crime network, was actually Lilia Reyes, 38. Mrs. Reyes was wanted by state officials on unrelated cocaine trafficking charges.

DEA agents arrested Mrs. Reyes Saturday in a Little Havana restaurant after her ex-boyfriend, Mario Estevez, pointed her out as the fugitive Ms. Cardona.

But DEA spokesman Brent Eaton said that Estevez, who is under the witness protection program because of his testimony in another case, apparently had been fooled by Mrs. Reyes into believing she was Ms. Cardona.

Special Tax Session?

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham intends to decide today whether to bring the Legislature into a special session next month to raise the gas tax or wait until the regular session in April.

Graham has established several deadlines for settling this sticky question and missed them all, but aides insist the current deadline will be met.

Under a plan by Senate Finance and Tax Chairman Gwen Margolis, the sales tax exemption on gas would be lifted, which would result in a nickel boost in the tax on fuel selling for $1 a gallon. But the current 8-cent-a-gallon tax would be reduced by as much as four cents, keeping down the overall increase.

Leaking Like A Sieve

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The space shuttle Challenger's delay-plagued first mission will be postponed until at least the middle of March while technicians replace another engine, space agency officials said.

A leaky inlet in a replacement engine forced the latest delay in the maiden launch of America's newest rocketship, said a spokesman at the Kennedy Space Center.

The Challenger was scheduled to be launched Jan. 20, but a hydrogen leak in one of the spaceplanes's main engines pushed the blastoff date to March 7. The discovery of a leak in the replacement engine will delay the launch by at least another week, said Jim Ball, space center spokesman.

Lebanon Delays Move Into Christian Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — President Amin Gemayel issued a sweeping presidential decree giving the Lebanese army power to reassert national authority today in Christian-controlled east Beirut for the first time in eight years.

Senior officers and government officials said Monday, 3,000 troops were poised to enter the stronghold of the Christian Phalange militias as of midnight local time, but the hour passed with the streets deserted. There was no explanation for the delay.

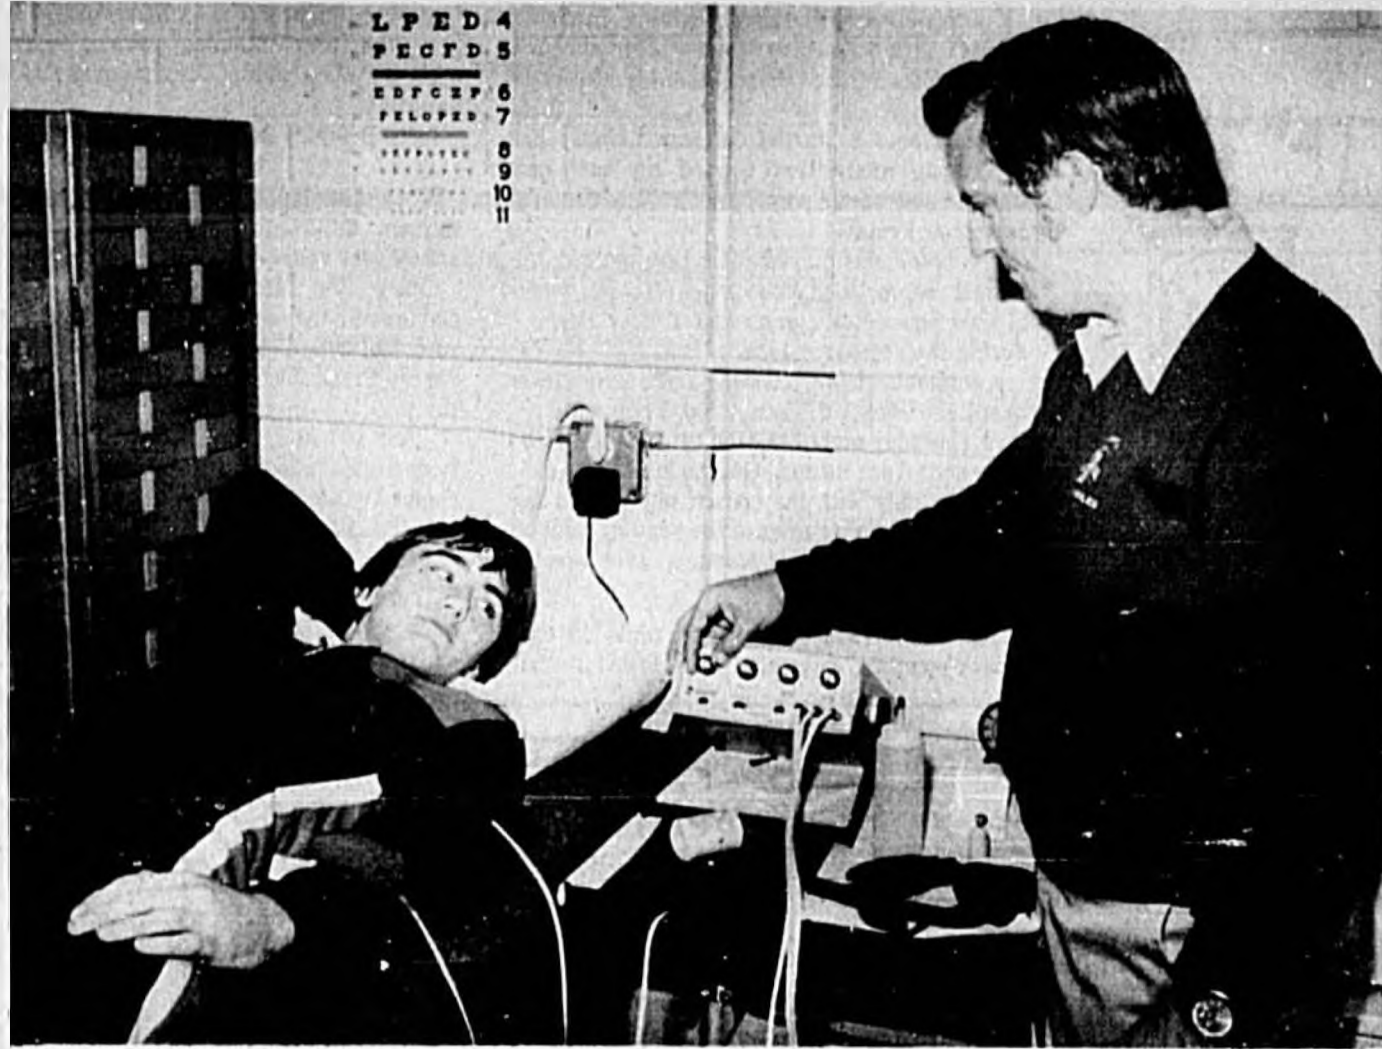

Fumes Killed Moviegoers

TURIN, Italy (UPI) — Poisonous fumes emitted by burning plastic seat covers turned a movie theater into a "spectacular gas chamber" that choked to death most of the 64 victims of the cinema blaze, investigators said.

The state prosecutor's office named a six-member panel to begin a full technical investigation of the blaze on Wednesday.

Despite initial reports, none of the victims' bodies was charred in the region's worst post-war disaster, officials said Monday.

Most of the victims were asphyxiated by dense, toxic smoke, much of it given off by burning polyurethane seats and other plastic materials, officials said. Some were trampled to death in a frantic search for exits.

Proposed State Budget Includes Tax Hikes

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham submits his new budget to the Legislature this week and he will recommend tax increases to enable state government to get by as Florida eases out of the recession.

Graham has an extra $560 million to spend from existing tax sources during the 1983-84 fiscal year that begins July 1, nearly a 10 percent increase, but he isn't free to do anything he wants with this money because of the severe budget problems the state has faced this fiscal year.

So he will have to propose new taxes to get the money for teacher and faculty pay raises and other increases necessary under the Cabinet's five-year plan to make Florida the 12th state in the country in education quality, and to continue his law enforcement, economic development, transportation and environmental protection initiatives.

He already is committed to seeking increases in transportation taxes to generate an extra $250 million a year to repair roads and bridges. But other tax increases — to produce as much as $500 million — are likely to be recommended when he releases an $11 billion 1983-84 spending plan.

Graham is required by state law to submit his budget by Feb. 19, 45 days before the beginning of the regular legislative session. But budget director Tom Herndon says the document will be mailed to legislators as early as Wednesday.

He will release his recommendations publicly in a series of announcements that could begin early this week, instead of outlining all of them in a single news conference, his practice in the past.

The governor likely will propose an increase in the required local effort for public schools, which would force many school districts to raise their property taxes. He has been studying a wide range of state tax options, including removal of some sales tax exemptions and increasing the corporate profits tax.

Education clearly will be the top priority in his new spending plan.

Handgun Control Group Preparing For A Showdown

United Press International
Handgun Control Inc. has started building a resources bank of up to $200,000 to fight for tighter handgun laws in targeted states such as Florida, Virginia and Ohio.

"Our plan is to develop a war chest to be used in local or state fights for handgun control," Charlie Orasin, executive vice president for the Washington-based group, said in a telephone interview Tuesday.

"Right now, we're working in southern Florida. Florida is notorious for its very weak control law and its handgun black market. That is why Florida is a target state."

Orasin said his group was successful last month in getting the Broward County commission to vote 5-2 for an ordinance requiring anyone purchasing a handgun to wait 21 days while the sheriff's department checks out the buyer's background.

The group said it was the first handgun control ordinance in the South in the past few years.

Also under the Broward ordinance, a gun that is lost or stolen must be promptly reported to authorities; and if a handgun is used in a crime it must be destroyed. It is also illegal to buy more than five handguns in a 90-day period.

"Ohio has a very weak handgun law. We will be working to pass a statewide licensing and registration law," Orasin said.

"Pennsylvania is one state we are going to have to go into soon because of its pre-emption law. Philadelphia can't pass a handgun law because it is preempted by the state."

Housing To Lead The Recovery? Economy 'Not Out Of The Woods'

United Press International
An administration representative painted a rosy picture for Congress of an economic recovery led by housing sales, but those outside the government are slower to forecast a strong housing industry.

"All indicators tell us the housing industry is back on course and headed for full recovery," Housing and Urban Development Secretary Samuel Pierce told the Senate Banking Committee Monday. He said it was leading the nation into recovery.

Pierce forecast an increasing demand for housing throughout the 1980s as 41 million Americans reach 30, the peak period for buying a first home.

But Harry Pryde of the National Association of Home Builders characterized the recovery as "fragile," and said it could be endangered by higher interest rates or federal budgets that remain high.

Henry Schechter, of the AFL-CIO, said interest rates will have to come down even further to sustain a housing recovery.

Whether or not the government is too optimistic about housing is not yet clear, but new figures show government economists who found the nation's economy just barely topping the $3 trillion mark in 1982 apparently were a little too optimistic.

On Jan. 19 the government said, before inflation GNP reached $3.06 trillion for all of last year.

Government economists have checked the economic reservoir represented by inventories and found the level lower than they estimated when reporting the nation's gross national product — the broadest government measure of the economy. Business inventories dropped 0.6 percent in December despite a 0.9 percent drop in sales.

Commerce Department chief economist Robert Ortner, reflecting on the latest figures, said:

"The economy is not out of the woods yet."

Treasury-bill yields climbed slightly at the government's auction, the fourth consecutive weekly increase.

The government sold $6.2 billion of three-month bills at an average discount of 8.256 percent, up from last week's 8.252 percent.

The government also sold $6.2 billion of six-month bills at an average discount of 8.389 percent, up from last week's 8.345 percent.

On Capitol Hill, Treasury Secretary Donald Regan attempted to persuade Congress — in a time of domestic budget cutting — to approve $8.4 billion in increased U.S. financial pledges to the International Monetary Fund to help it deal with the $500 billion debts of the world's poorer nations.

Regan said, unless they can solve their debt problems, developing countries will have to reduce their imports, including those from the United States.

U.S. exports, Regan said, account for 5 million American jobs, and nearly 30 percent of this country's exports go to non-producing developing nations.

On Wall Street, the Dow Jones industrial average climbed 10.60 to 1,097.10, the highest level in its 87-year history.

The closely watched average, which surpassed its old record of 1,092.35 set Jan. 10, failed to crack the 1,100 level that many analysts said has become a psychological barrier. It crossed that line briefly on Jan. 12.

The Dow average of 30 bluechip stocks, catching up with other market barometers that set new marks last week, has gained 320.18 points since the historic rally began last Aug. 13, including 8.59 last week.

Nobody Likes Malpractice Reform

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — When Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter appointed a task force last summer to solve Florida's medical malpractice insurance problem, he told the new members their job was to make everybody a little bit mad.

Eight months later, Gunter's legislative recommendations have done just that — doctors, trial lawyers and the insurance industry can each find something in the proposals to be unhappy with.

The 3,500 south Florida doctors who brought the crisis to a head when they staged a work slowdown last summer are the most unhappy. Spokesmen for the doctors immediately rallied against Gunter's proposals as an embarrassment that will do nothing to reduce frivolous lawsuits.

A spokesman for trial lawyers criticized Gunter's proposed legal reforms and said they will do nothing to alleviate a problem caused by bad doctors.

The insurance industry is unhappy about being the "deep pocket," the ultimate financial backstop for the entire system.

Gunter's recommendations announced last week seek to balance the competing claims by striving for early settlement before resorting to the courts, closer scrutiny and discipline of bad doctors and a fiscally sound insurance pool.

The sharpest conflict is between the doctors and lawyers, a conflict that spawned occasional outbursts of sharp rhetoric about greedy lawyers and incompetent doctors during the eight months of task force meetings.

Dr. Paul Baxt of Hollywood, one of the most outspoken of the doctors last summer, said Gunter had created "a giant pie in which the trial attorneys can stick their thumbs and pull out as many dollars as possible."

Dr. Arnold Tania, president of Florida Physicians United for Health Cost Reform, termed Gunter's recommendations an embarrassment that will limit health care in the free market only to the wealthy.

Ronnie Book, a Miami attorney representing the doctors, said the doctors had hoped for some form of mandatory arbitration to settle claims, a limitation on pain and suffering awards by juries and a limitation on attorney fees.

Gunter's recommendations contained none of that, although he did call for voluntary arbitration.

The academy of Florida Trial Lawyers was less harsh and applauded parts of the Gunter plan, but was critical of proposals that would separate malpractice trials into liability and damage phases and would allow for structured payouts on claims.

Crucial West German Election

Fifty years after Hitler assumed power, the West German government faces the most difficult election in postwar history.

The parliamentary election on March 6 will pit the ruling Christian Democrat party against the former ruling party, the Social Democrats. But what makes this election different is the emergence of a pacifist-environmentalist party, the Greens, as a force that may carry the swing vote.

In the short term, this is a referendum on sausages and missiles. In the long term, it is a choice between the NATO alliance and neutralism. And finally, it will test whether West German democracy can weather internal divisions and external pressures — or fall victim to extremism.

Germany has tumbled from the height of its postwar economic boom. It no longer imports foreign workers. On the contrary, 2.5 million are out of work in West Germany, the highest unemployment rate since Hitler recruited his followers from the jobless masses in 1930-32. The world recession, exacerbated by high interest rates in the United States, has hit West Germany hard. Economic vitality — sausages — is probably the biggest issue for the majority of German voters.

But the most explosive issue facing them is the deployment of U.S. Pershing-2 missiles, scheduled for December. These missiles open a Pandora's box in German politics. They trigger resentment against the United States and fear of nuclear blackmail by the Soviet Union. The conservative Christian Democrats, led by Prime Minister Helmut Kohl, support deployment. In the Geneva arms talks, they support President Reagan's zero option to cancel deployment of the Pershing-2 missiles in return for the Soviets dismantling all Soviet medium-range missiles. The Social Democrats, even though former Chancellor Helmut Schmidt recommended the missile deployment, are now wavering in their support.

The Greens want no nuclear weapons and want Germany to become neutral.

The fear in Washington is of a Social Democrat-Greens alliance, in which the radical party pushes the liberal Social Democrats to the left — away from NATO and toward neutralism.

The Soviets are politicking for just such an eventuality. On a trip to West Germany, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko said: "The implementation of this (NATO) program will mean a years-long nuclear confrontation with all the consequences."

French and British leaders are concerned about German appeasement before the Soviet threat. And they fear anti-NATO, anti-nuclear, pro-neutralist forces building in their own countries.

In a historic address to the German Parliament in January, French President Francois Mitterrand said: "Anyone gambling on uncoupling the European continent from the American continent would, in our view, jeopardize the balance of forces and therefore maintenance of peace. I think, and say, this 'uncoupling' is in itself dangerous, and I fervently hope that the Geneva (arms) negotiations succeed. ... This is why the Atlantic Alliance members' common determination and solidarity must be clearly confirmed so that the negotiations come to a conclusion, a necessary condition for not installing the (Pershing-2) weapons ..."

Mitterrand is saying, bluntly, that the best way for Germans to prevent Pershing-2 missiles from being deployed is to stand steadfast with America at the Geneva negotiating table. If the Soviets understand they cannot intimidate Germany with threats, they will make real concessions in the arms talks.

It is as impossible to predict the Soviet behavior as to foretell the outcome of the West German election. But we urge American officials to show increased flexibility in Geneva. The Germans must be convinced that security from nuclear war can be found in arms negotiations, not by breaking from the NATO alliance — or embracing extremism.

"Don't ever say 'MX' again. It's PEACE-KEEPER! PEACEKEEPER!"

Coach Howard Hawkins' Fighting Seminole soccer teams begins District 4A-9 play today at 4 when it hosts Spruce Creek at Sanford Memorial Stadium.

The Tribe, 6-9, started the season slowly but picked up momentum toward the end and finished with a 9-1 victory over New Smyrna Beach on Friday.

The Seminoles played their best against the stiffest competition, knocking off two state-ranked powers — Lyman and Trinity Prep — during the regular season.

A Seminole victory Tuesday and a Lyman win over Lake Brantley in Longwood (7 p.m.) will set up a Thursday night rematch between the Tribe and coach Tom Barnes' Greyhounds at Lyman.

"If we play with the consistency we did the first eight or nine games of the season, we'll be all right," said Barnes Monday. "We have to avoid our defensive lapses."

Top-seed DeLand hosts Apopka while Daytona Beach Mainland entertains Lake Howell in other first-round games. The DeLand-Apopka winner plays the Howell-Mainland winner in Friday's other semi-final game. The championship will be Saturday.

Lake Brantley is the defending champion.

Girls basketball takes center stage Wednesday through Saturday when district tournament action gets underway at two sites.

Coach Ron Merthle's Seminoles travel to Daytona Beach for the 4A district involving top seed DeLand, Lyman, Lake Howell, Apopka, Spruce Creek, Lake Brantley and the host Lady Bucs.

Closer to home, Lake Mary and its top-seeded Lady Rams will host the 3A district which includes Oviedo, St. Cloud, Bishop Moore, Jones and Osceola.

There are still some tickets available for the Jack Billingham Roast and Toast at the University of Central Florida Saturday at 7 p.m.

Tickets for $20 are available at the UCF ticket agency.

Darrell Chaney, Atlanta Braves' announcer, will emcee the event with Detroit Tiger manager Sparky Anderson, ex-Baltimore Oriole Dave Johnson, new UCF football coach Lou Saban, UCF baseball coach Jay Bergman, Rollins College baseball coach Boyd Coffie and Orlando Sentinel sports editor Larry Guest as the roasters.

Tickets include dinner and door prizes. The money will benefit UCF baseball. Call 275-2139 or 275-2729 for tickets.

Coach Mike Gibson of the Lake Mary Rams' track team held his season opener Saturday. The showers fell all day long but Gibson was encouraged by some of his girls' times and jumps. Fran "Flash" Gordon won the 100-yard dash in 11.8 and took the long jump in 16-feet-9. Gordon was also third in the 220-yard dash.

States' Money Crunch

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (NEA) — The state widely acclaimed (or derided) as the nation's trend-setter has produced a new fad ideally suited for the economically calamitous 1980s — a substitute for money.

It's called the registered warrant, and if California's state government cannot quickly find a more conventional means of resolving its fiscal problems, officials here could begin distributing thousands of them late this month.

Registered warrants are state-issued IOUs, representing a promise on the part of the state government to pay its debts to suppliers, employees and others — if and when it scrapes together enough real money.

Currently spending $4 million more every day than it is collecting, California is estimated to be $1.5 billion to $2 billion in debt — and similar financial hemorrhaging now is underway in dozens of other states.

Although virtually all states are theoretically required by law to produce balanced annual budgets, a survey recently conducted by the National Conference of State Legislatures found that 19 states are projecting deficits in their general fund accounts at the end of the current fiscal year.

In that category are Connecticut, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont, New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Louisiana, Virginia, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Idaho, Utah, California and Washington.

Another 12 states expect to barely escape a deficit by having year-end balances of 1 percent or less of their annual general fund spending while only six states project a balance of more than 5 percent, the level traditionally regarded as the minimum for prudent fiscal operations.

A similar survey conducted by the National Governors' Association showed that budget officers in 41 states are forecasting a collective year-end budget deficit of almost $2 billion. "As bleak as these totals are," said the NGA, "the fiscal situation in the states is probably worse than portrayed" in its survey.

In recent years, states confronted by a fiscal crisis generally sought to alleviate their problems through measures which involved reduced spending — selective or across-the-board funding cuts, employee layoffs or furloughs, hiring freezes and travel restrictions.

In recent months, however, a growing number of states have been forced to resort to the action despised by politicians and citizens alike — tax increases. "This is probably a harbinger of things to come," the NCSL has warned. "Tax increases are likely to play a much larger role in budget adjustments than they have in many years."

The Minnesota legislature, for example, last year initially imposed a 3.5 percent surcharge on the state's personal income tax rates, then met in a special session in December to add another 3 percent surcharge.

In the final months of 1982, state legislatures in Indiana, Mississippi, Nebraska and New Jersey convened in special sessions to increase both state sales tax and state personal income tax rates.

AID Mars Move To Thwart Sandinistas

WASHINGTON — The Reagan administration has made no secret of its earnest hope that the leftist regime in Nicaragua will somehow dry up and blow away. Meanwhile, it is turning up the heat by stirring up opposition to the Sandinistas and holding joint military maneuvers with Honduras near the Nicaraguan border.

But one of the administration's moves in Honduras has run into an almost literal roadblock thrown up by conscientious officials at the Agency for International Development.

The controversy is over a $7.5 million, 150-kilometer road the State Department wants to help Honduras build to the Nicaraguan border, through a rain forest inhabited by Miskito Indians. Ostensibly, the road would be built to give the Indians a means of getting their crops to market. So the State Department has asked AID to put up the money.

But AID officials don't buy the agricultural argument for the highway. "It's a goddamn tank road," an agency source told my associate Bob Sherman.

My sources say the road's real purpose is to make it easier for the Honduran army to move troops and supplies to the isolated Miskito lands, which Nicaraguan opponents have been using as a staging area and sanctuary for raids on Sandinista outposts across the border.

Put simply, AID officials are tired of using economic-development funds for largely political objectives, particularly when there are needier candidates for the limited amount of money. So AID has thus far refused to build the road.

Numerous sources offer three arguments against the project:

— The road construction would disrupt the fragile ecology of the virgin rain forest.

— The Miskito Indians don't want the road. They see it as a means of opening up their ancestral home for development, which will ultimately lead to the theft of their tribal lands.

— A wealthy Honduran businessman, who was once accused of torturing and murdering several persons, including a U.S. missionary, stands to make a bundle from the road project. He owns land through which the road would run.

An AID spokesman said the agency will provide no funds for the controversial road either this year or next. He said AID will not even become involved in preparations of an environmental-impact statement during this period.

But my sources say the State Department will continue trying to bully AID into putting up the money for the road. A cable last November from U.S. Ambassador John Negroponte in Tegucigalpa formally requested AID funding.

The debate over the Honduran road reflects a broader controversy that has arisen in the past two years: the increasing politicization of AID funds under the Reagan administration. AID officials generally argue that their assistance money should be doled out on the basis of need, not politics.

I reported yesterday that AID is going along with a questionable plan to help Nicaragua's southern neighbor, Costa Rica, move thousands of settlers into land along the border as a way of thwarting Sandinista incursions.

The Costa Rican project at least has the

Senator Is Interested

I read with interest the comments of your reporter, Donna Estes, wherein she states that Senator Jennings and I seemed to be bored and disinterested during the last Seminole County legislative delegation meeting.

It's very hard for me to understand how Ms. Estes knows my feelings about any matter. She has never taken the time to interview me, neither after the two delegation meetings we have had, nor by telephone.

To say that I am "bored" with the needs of Seminole County is far from the truth. The voters of Seminole County overwhelmingly placed their trust in me, and although I am representing this area for the first time, it represents thirty percent of the population in my district, and I am just as interested in your area as any other.

I have a district office at Post Office Box 697 in Clermont, zip code 32711, and the phone number there is 904-394-6000. Please call me collect there at any time. I also have an Orange County line and the number there is 656-7544. I want to be responsive to my constituents in Seminole County, and hope that everyone in the 11th District, including Ms. Estes, will contact me if they have any questions or problems concerning their state government.

Keep Athletics Separate

According to an article in this Sunday's Florida Magazine, Florida has had decreasing state rankings of 38, 39, and 40, in the last three years.

I believe that athletics are extremely important as an extra curricular activity of students, in that they teach team work, competitiveness, rewards of personal sacrifice and the fact that one can come back to win after defeat. But, they should and must be always secondary to education. Education has to be first, as our students will have a distorted idea of the real world in our increasingly complex, competitive, and computerized society. The person who is less educated is automatically left far behind his peers. I think it is a ridiculous situation when low academic standards are set for participating in athletics and congratulate the Fellers at Lyman High for taking their sons out of the athletic program at Lyman, which in the long run will be of educational benefit to their sons.

Beware Of The 'Facts'

NEW YORK (NEA) — The current flap over the scientific validity of the work of the late Margaret Mead raises questions about the impact of science on our society far more important than most of the events crowding the headlines these days. They deserve the consideration of every thoughtful person.

Margaret Mead was only in her 20s herself when, as a graduate student in anthropology at Columbia University, she went to Samoa in 1925 to do field work there on the subject of adolescence. Her ensuing book, "Coming of Age in Samoa," had an impact far beyond anthropological circles. Those were the Roaring Twenties, the era of the "flapper," when postwar America was genially evading the Prohibition laws and Hollywood was leading the way in exploring the heights (and depths) of hedonism. To a country hungry for excuses to abandon moral restraints that had come to seem unbearably burdensome, Margaret Mead brought wonderful news of a South Sea Island society that (to quote a recent article in The New York Times) "condoned adolescent free love," as a result of which "adolescence in Samoa was without the turmoil or stress that accompanies adolescence in the United States and elsewhere."

"Coming of Age in Samoa" ultimately sold millions of copies, and — in the words of Sherwood Washburn, a past president of the American Anthropological Association — "influenced the way people were brought up in this country."

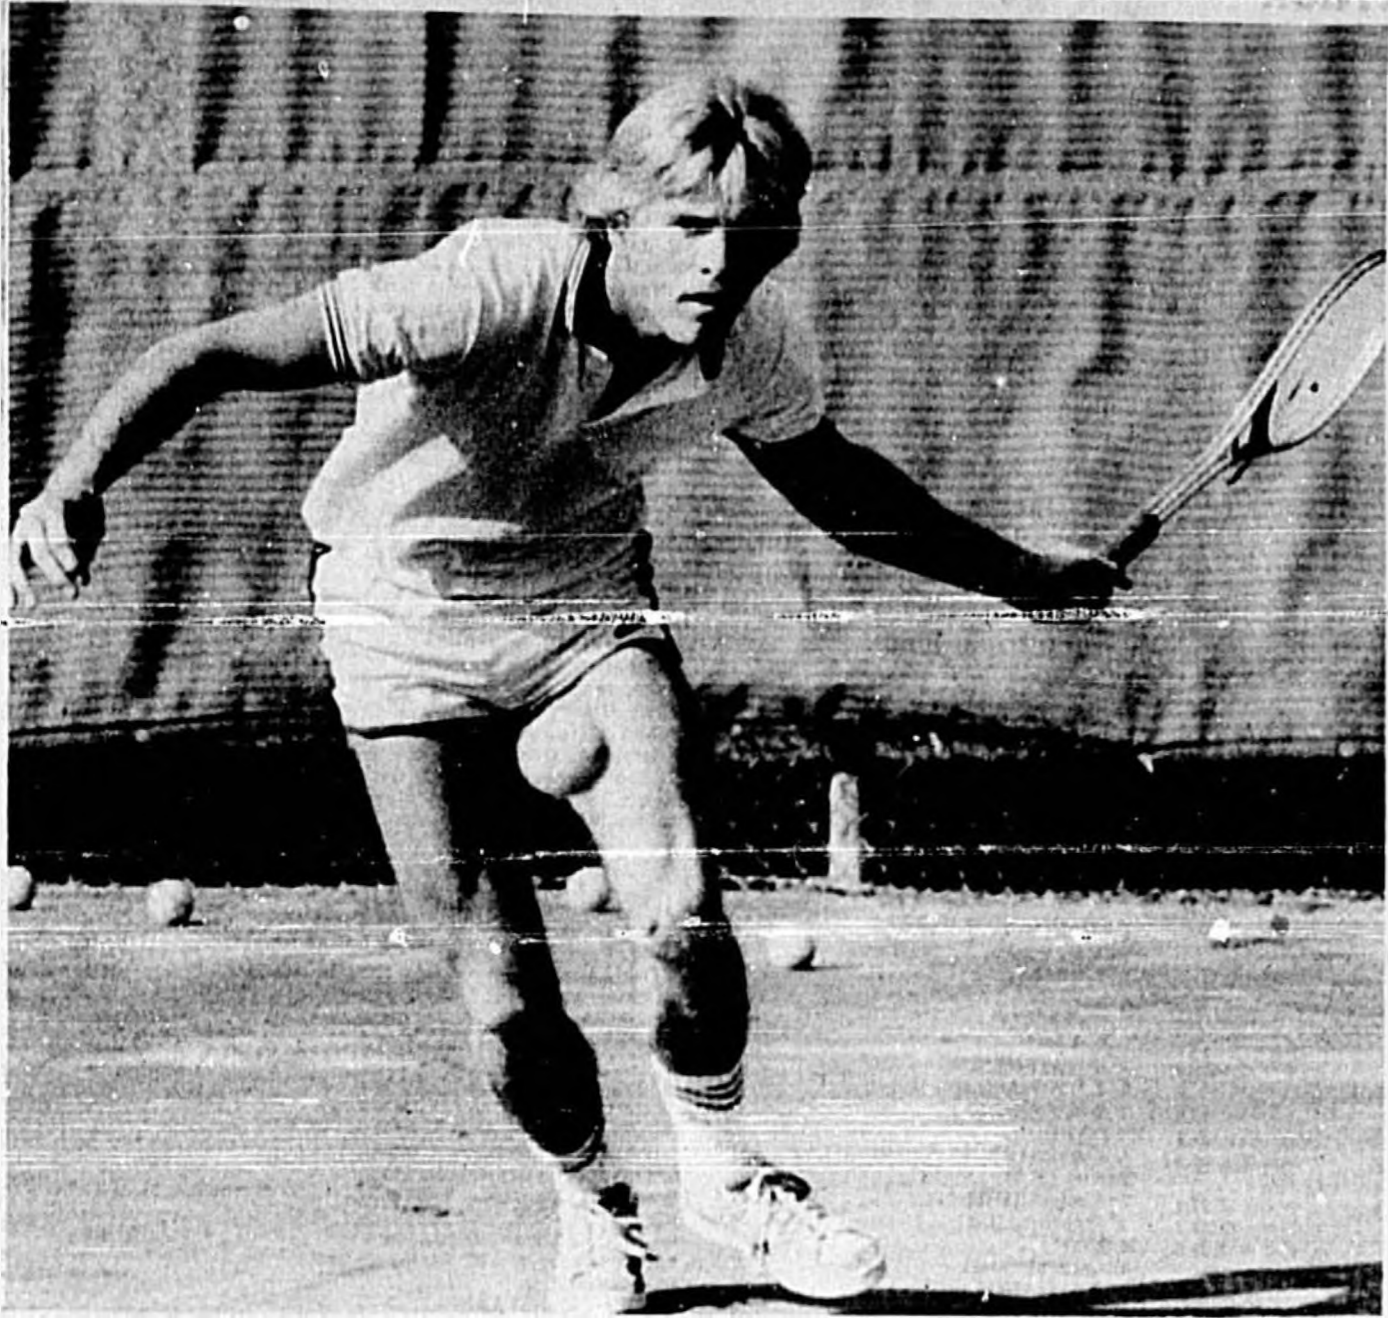

It was, in fact, a major factor in that decline of our value system that is now so obvious and so widely deplored. What deserves to be stressed, however, is that Mead's work was peddled as rigorously scientific. Ever since the 18th century Enlightenment, Western civilization has accorded vast respect to the pronouncements of "science." And certainly, measured by what it has achieved for mankind in many fields, it deserves our respect. In our deference to science, however, we have tended to forget that while "figures don't lie, liars can figure."

Margaret Mead was no liar. But, according to a book to be published in April by the Harvard University Press, entitled "Margaret Mead and Samoa: The Making and Unmaking of an Anthropological Myth," by Derek Freeman, professor emeritus of anthropology at the Australian National University of Canberra, she was biased, careless in her research techniques and fundamentally wrong about Samoan society. In the matter of that Samoan predilection for free love, for example, Professor Freeman — who has spent a total of six years in Samoa since 1940 — asserts that on the contrary "the cult of female virginity is probably carried to a greater extreme (in Samoa) than in any other culture known to anthropology."

It is far too late to undo all the social damage done in the name of "science" by Margaret Mead, who died in 1978. But it is not too late to point out that even today a lot of real and alleged "scientists" with strong political opinions are not above using their professional prestige in an effort to impose some extremely dubious views on the rest of us.

Netters Play Greyhounds

Although the Seminole High girls tennis team has only one senior among its top five players, the Lady Seminoles should be strong contenders to win a second straight district title.

"We will win our share of matches, but will also gain much experience by the end of the season," Seminole coach Donalyn Knight said. "Several of the girls will be playing tournaments that will lead to a state ranking."

At number one singles, the Lady Tribe will go with junior Tracy McNeill, who Knight said should be ranked in the state. The number two and three players, Susana Huaman and Britney Tyre are also juniors and should help keep Seminole in the running for the district crown. Huaman won the number three singles at the district last year.

The only senior in the top five is number four singles player LaDonna Merrifield who adds experience to

Prep Tennis

Knight's squad. And, at number five singles is sophomore Judy White who will help the team and gain experience along the way.

Of the five remaining members of the team, four are sophomores and should play an important role in the future of Seminole's tennis program. The fifth is senior Trichel Taack who was a standout on the volleyball team but doesn't have much experience playing varsity tennis.

The four sophomores include Beth Nelson, Dana Ray, Melanie Boyd and Ida Heaps. "It should be an exciting season," Knight said. "The team's attitude is great and I really enjoy working with this group."

The Seminole High boys team had its share of ups and downs last season, unfortunately, most were downs as the Tribe won only one match.

Seminole has the experience this year though, with four of its six members being seniors and two juniors.

"The boys team should be much improved over last year," Knight said. "They will gain much experience and will be surprising."

At the number one singles spot, the Tribe will go with junior Robbie Jasa while Chris Calloway, Toal Doan and Jerry Martin, all seniors, fill in the two, three and four spots. Junior Sam Patel is the number five player and Phil Fausnight, a senior is also expected to see a lot of action.

Possibly after the soccer season ends, the Tribe will be joined by Bobby Gonzalez and Robert Rutherford.

Seminole's boys and girls open the season this afternoon at 3 p.m. at Lyman.

The boys first home meet will be Wednesday, Feb. 23, against Trinity Prep. Both the boys and girls will be home Thursday, Feb. 24, against Spruce Creek.

Crash Costs Cale Record, Pole

By CARL VANZURA
Motor Sports Writer

DAYTONA BEACH — A record that was, but now is not, moves that worked and moves that did not, and all the excitement one person could stand happened Monday at the Daytona International Speedway after racing finally got underway after Sunday's all-day rain canceled the action.

Qualifying for the 25th Annual Daytona 500 started the day off with Ricky Rudd surprising everybody with a record-breaking run of 198.854 in the Piedmont Airlines Chevrolet. The record that was, but now is not, came about when Cale Yarborough turned the two and a half mile oval at 200.503 mph.

On Yarborough's second lap, the Hardee's Chevy was moving even faster when it broke traction on the rear wheels and went into a slide in the fourth turn. As the car dipped to the bottom of the track, the wind flipped the car onto its top and it slide into the wall, then flipped it back onto its wheels.

Yarborough's crew, after checking the car determined that it could not be fixed and that he would have to run a back-up car. Because of changing cars, he will lose the record as well as the pole position. Rudd will now be on the pole with Geoff Bodine sitting on the outside pole.

Ferrel Harris, the Pikeville, Ky. coal miner, won the ARCA 200 with an average speed of 144.202 mph. Elliott Forbes-Robinson managed to finish second. Scott Stovall, the 1982 ARCA point champion, finished third in the 80-lap event.

The Fifth Annual Busch clash was won by Neil Bonnett as he slipped under Darrell Waltrip in the third turn of the last lap. Terry Labonte made a move that did not work as he tried to take Waltrip and Bonnett on the outside of the third turn and crashed.

Pantelias Looks For 1-4 Raiders To Come Around

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald Sports Writer

You don't have to try and think of any profound conclusions as to why the Seminole Community College baseball team is off to a slow start. "We just haven't been hitting anything," Raiders coach Jack Pantelias said of SCC's 1-4 record. "The pitching has been great, but we aren't getting any timely hits."

Of SCC's four losses, three have been by two or less runs, and in all three cases, the pitching staff performed as well as can be expected this early in the year.

In the season opener, SCC lost an 11-8 slugfest to South Florida Junior College. Unfortunately, the Raiders best offensive production came on the pitching staff's worst day.

The Raiders only victory was a 1-0 blanking of Manatee JC in which sophomore hurler Alan Soyer tossed a three-hit shutout. SCC had only four hits, two by freshman Mike Sims.

SCC is in the midst of a three-game losing streak in which it lost to South Florida, 2-0, Indian River, 5-4, and Indian River again, 3-2.

"We lost two, one-run games that we could have won if the hitting was there," Pantelias said. "We need to get a few more games under our belts and keep taking batting practice."

Pantelias is hoping the bats will come alive within the next few weeks. The Raiders still have 12 more games before the Mid-Florida Conference title race begins.

Ford Rebounds, McCrimon Shoots, But Oviedo's Murphy Can Do It All

If Osceola's Frank Ford and Jimmy McCrimon are All-Americans, then what is Ronnie Murphy? How about All-World? Murphy, Oviedo's 6-4 jumping jack, is a better player than either.

After watching the antics of all three for four years and seeing them go head-to-head twice this year, it was obvious that Murphy is the better all-around player.

Oviedo coach Dale "Digger" Phillips, of course, concurs. So does Seminole Community College assistant coach Terry Woods who saw too much of all three while coaching at St. Cloud High School.

Osceola coach Ed Kershner won't commit himself. "They play different positions," Kershner said. "It's tough to compare them."

Not that tough. Murphy's biggest asset is his fluidity. He never struggles on the court. He dribbles, shoots, passes and rebounds with the grace of an antelope.

Murphy jumps better than either Ford or McCrimon. Murphy shoots better than Ford. Murphy passes better than McCrimon. The Oviedo senior plays on a less-talented team, yet, he led the Lions to a stunning 62-61 upset of the No. 1-ranked Kowboys last Tuesday. It snapped a 26-game winning streak.

"I've felt all along Ronnie was the best player," said Phillips. "It's just that he hasn't had the support (teammates) that Ford and McCrimon do."

Ford is a better rebounder because he is stronger and more aggressive, especially on the offensive boards. Fourteen of his 28 points came on rebounds Tuesday.

Sam Cook

Sports Editor

He is listed at 6-4, but is an inch shorter than Murphy who is 6-4 or 6-4 1/2. Ford and Murphy play with great basketball sense. McCrimon, who is a better shooter than both, is sometimes a little out of control. All three are excellent clutch performers with maybe an edge (very slight) to McCrimon over Murphy. The 6-0 guard's four jumpers, with people all over him, down the stretch almost pulled out the game.

Ford, though, is devastating on the boards. Will he be that devastating when he goes to Auburn next year? Probably so. Some players just have that innate ability to go to the ball. Ford is one of those players.

"I just hang around the basket," said Ford about his offensive rebounding prowess. "When the ball is in the air, I sort of have a knack of knowing where it is going to bounce."

Ford may have to play guard in college. "He does have to work on his ballhandling," admits Kershner. "But when McCrimon was in the hospital once with 103-degree temperature, Frank took over ballhandling and scored 45 points."

Murphy has already signed with Jacksonville. McCrimon is struggling to reach predictability so he can go to a major college. "Jimmy needs all A's and B's," said Kershner. "We'll just have to wait and see."

If McCrimon doesn't predict, he will go the junior college route. McCrimon said he would like to stay close to home (which would make SCC coach Bill Payne very happy), but Kershner said he is being overwhelmed with J.C. offers from out of state.

One thing that can't be argued is that all three are great. It's doubtful that Florida high school basketball has put three better players on the court at the same time.

They may get together again in the district at Bishop Moore this week. And if they do—you better not miss it. You wouldn't see another Ronnie Murphy around Seminole County for a long, long time.

MR. BASKETBALL—David Stir, publisher of Gator Bait, the school newspaper at Florida, sent out ballots to procure nominees for a "Mr. Basketball" award.

The honor, which is quite an achievement in Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Illinois, picks the best basketball player in the state regardless of year in school.

There's nobody better than Murphy.

COLLEGE BEAT—Former Lake Brantley football standout Fred Baber was named the most valuable junior varsity player at Furman. Ex-Patriot Kyle Davis also plays for the Paladins. Both are freshmen.

Paul Edgeman, a key ingredient on Seminole's district champion tennis team of last year, is playing this year for the Stetson Hatters.

Oviedo's Ronnie Murphy leads the county in scoring, rebounding and steals. He has also blocked 66 shots this season.

J.C. Baseball

"I'm not too worried about it at this point," Pantelias said. "All the guys have the ability to converge and start this thing rolling. I just hope we'll be ready by March 3 for the first conference game."

The Raiders first conference game is against Central Florida CC at SCC. SCC has home games this week on Tuesday and Wednesday. Tuesday at 2 p.m., the Raiders host the Rollins College "B" team and Wednesday Brevard CC comes to Sanford for a 3 p.m. game.

In the early going this season, the following players have seen plenty of playing time for the Raiders.

Catcher — Bryan Holzworth and Mike Conway. Lyman graduate Holzworth is a returning sophomore who played behind standout Jimmy Mee a year ago. Conway is a freshman out of Winter Park High.

1st base — Bobby Thigpen and James Eldredge. Thigpen is another returning sophomore who made a big contribution to last year's Mid-Florida Conference champions. Thigpen also plays in the outfield. Eldredge is a freshman out of Orlando's Boone High.

2nd base — Tim Barker and Bruce Parker. Both saw a lot of playing time as freshmen a year ago. Parker also plays shortstop.

Shortstop — Parker and Mike Sims.

Sims is a fine prospect, according to Pantelias. A freshman from Brooksville Hernando High, Sims had two hits in the Raiders only victory and is steady with the glove at shortstop.

3rd base — Eddie Looper. Another freshman from Brooksville Hernando, Looper is also adept in the field and has the potential to be a fine hitter too.

Outfielders — Sanford's Alton Davis, a freshman out of Seminole High, is coming along well after a broken leg kept him out for most of his senior year in high school. Davis covers a lot of ground in center field and is a switch hitter with both speed and power. Another Seminole County prep star, Sammy Duda, starts in left field for the Raiders. Duda is a sophomore out of Oviedo High. Speedy sophomore Joe Palitucci alternates with Thigpen in right field. Palitucci is one of the fastest players on the team and he also played a lot on last year's team.

Pitchers — The area that Pantelias is the most pleased with, the starters for the first five games are all sophomores.

Jody Ryan, out of Crystal River High, started the first and fifth games and pitched well but doesn't have a win to show for it. Soyer started against Manatee and went the distance with a three-hit shutout. Pete Frantzis, out of Springstead High, saw limited action a year ago but has developed into one of the top hurlers on the staff. Frantzis is the only southpaw in the starting rotation.

"He pitched well enough to win against South Florida, but an error took us out of the game," Pantelias said. David Rettig and Winter Park's Greg Stake are also top pitchers for the Raiders this season.

From last year's conference championship squad, SCC lost starters Bob Parker, who went on to Mississippi State, Tony Sowers, Jeff Blanton, Jeff O'Dell and Mee along with pitchers Steve Birchnermeier, Brian Rice, Rick Marcello, Jay Williams and John Thompson. Mee has moved into the starting catcher's job for Division II powerhouse Florida Southern.

Medlock Back To Seminole; Lake Mary Forfeits 10 Wins

The Lake Mary boys basketball team will forfeit 10 basketball games it won while playing Reginald Medlock, according to Lake Mary Principal Don Reynolds.

Medlock, a junior who attended Seminole High School last year, was found to be still living in the Seminole school district. He started at guard for coach Willie Richardson's cagers.

"He (Medlock) was living out of the district and he gave an address which was in the district," said Reynolds Monday.

Medlock withdrew from classes Friday at Lake Mary and was supposed to attend classes Monday morning at Seminole, according to Reynolds.

Lyman, Howell Claim Wins

Lyman's and Lake Howell's girls basketball teams tuned up for Wednesday's district tournament and concluded their regular seasons in fine form Monday with a pair of wins.

Coach Dick Copeland's Lady Greyhounds used double-figure scoring from four players to topple Spruce Creek, 63-40, at Lyman. The 'Hounds finished 12-6 and 11-5 in Copeland's first year back as a head basketball coach.

Lake Howell, meanwhile, received solid scoring from Tammy Johnson (18), Janene Brown (15) and Cindy Blocker (12) to drop Mainland, 72-65, at Lake Howell. The Lady Hawks finished 5-20 and 5-11.

Wednesday's district will be held at Mainland in Daytona Beach.

Tribe, Rams Open District

District soccer action opens tonight for Seminole and Lake Mary. Both squads will open at home.

Coach Howard Hawkins' Seminoles, seeded third in the District 4A-9, entertain Spruce Creek at 4 p.m. at Seminole High School. An injury throws the Tribe, 6-9, against the winner of the Lyman-Lake Brantley game. Kickoff is 7 p.m. at Lyman.

Other district matchups are DeLand hosting Apopka and Daytona Beach Mainland entertaining Lake Howell. The winners meet Thursday on the field of the higher-seeded team. The final two play for the championship Saturday.

Lake Mary, meanwhile, entertains New Smyrna Beach at 7 tonight. The Barracudas were murdered by Seminole, 9-1, Friday.

Daytona Beach Father Lopez takes on Flagler Palm Coast in the other District 3A-8 game while top-seeded Seabreeze and Oviedo have byes.

The Lake Mary-NSB winner plays Seabreeze at Lake Mary Thursday at 5 p.m. The Palm Coast-Father Lopez survivors plays Oviedo at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, also at Lake Mary.

The championship game will be Saturday at Lake Mary.

White Captures Sarasota

SARASOTA (UPI) — Donna White, after failing to make the cut last week for the first time in her seven-year-career, decided to relax and have fun at the Sarasota Classic.

How much fun she may have had in the rain-plagued tournament is questionable, but — she won the tournament.

While front-runners Beth Daniel and JoAnne Carner ran into trouble in Monday's rain-delayed final round, White put together six birdies and two bogeys for a 4-under-par 68 and won with a 4-under-par 284.

One stroke back at 285 were Nancy Lopez, who had a final round 68, Alice Miller, 70, and Carner, 73.

Evans Takes 2 In A Row

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Current NASCAR national modified champion Richie Evans made it two wins in a row on Monday night as the 17th Annual World Series of Asphalt Stock Car Racing continues at New Smyrna Speedway.

Mark "Captain Sizzie" Malcuit, driving the fastest late-model so far in the 1983 series, held off 1977 Series high point man Mike Eddy who has scored one win and two runner-up finishes at this point.

With Greg Sacks sorting out his new car, after the older machine met with the outside retaining wall during time trials, Evans led all the way, but had to sustain extra strong challenges from Kent, then Reggie Ruggerio, extremely aggressive and hungry for a win.

But again, for the second night in a row, Ruggerio ran over some debris which punctured a tire, and he had to settle for fourth. Evans, Kent, Doug Hewitt and Jamie Tomaino rounded out the top five. Heat winners were Mike McLaughlin and Kenny Bouchard.

On night number one, only five late models were in the 18 second bracket, but now, no less than ten teams are also up in that range.

The last two laps of the main were quite hairy, as the lead quintet, formed by Malcuit, Eddy, Junior Hanley, Trickle and Bob Keselowski, had to contend with extra-heavy slower car traffic, almost blocking the track. But they finished in that same order, with Malcuit's margin of victory reduced to less than half a car length. Frank Wood, Art Sommers and Spike Lindley were the heat winners.

(See Wednesday's Evening Herald for Late Models and Modifieds results)

Bishop Moore did not lose to DeLand as reported in last Thursday's Evening Herald. Bishop Moore beat DeLand in overtime.

Hadden, Gordon Outrun Rain For Point Trophies

Oviedo's Bernard Hadden won the 100 and 220 and 330 dashes to pace the Lions to an easy victory in the Lake Mary Open Boys Track Meet Saturday at Lake Mary High School.

The Lions totaled 88 points to out-distance Lake Mary and Lyman which tied for second with 71. Seminole (58), Lake Brantley (45), Bishop Moore (43) and Luther (0) were next.

In the girls meet, Daytona Beach Father Lopez edged Seminole 67-40. Lake Brantley (54), DeLand (38), Lake Mary (33), Lake Howell (30) and Bishop Moore (24) followed.

Lake Mary's Fran "Flash" Gordon won the 100 dash and the long jump. Seminole was led by Crystal Caldwell who captured the 220 dash and 440 dash. Sharon Lawrence took the shot put for the Lady Seminoles.

Hadden won the high-point trophy for the boys with 21 points while Gordon paced the girls with 23.

Blake, Daviero Expect Good Year

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald Sports Writer

The Seminole High boys track team is expecting great things from seniors Mike Wooten and Dion Jackson this season. But if the Tribe is going to compete for the conference and district titles, it is going to need big contributions from the entire team.

Wooten and Jackson both placed first in two events Saturday at the Lake Mary Opener and combined for 24 of Seminole's 58 points. The Tribe finished fourth in the meet. Wooten, a standout for the Tribe last year, won the 880 run with a time of 1:25.8, six seconds better than the second-place finisher. Wooten also won the 1,320 run with a time of 3:25.8.

Jackson, an outstanding leaper, posted first places in the long jump with a 21-foot-7 1/2 leap, two feet better than the closest competitor, and the triple jump with a 43-foot-7 1/2, nearly four feet better than the second place finisher.

Seminole is also depending heavily on Marvin Pringle in the discus and shot put and sprinters Torin Williams, Joe Whack, and Deron Thompson.

Pringle, also a senior, placed fourth at Lake Mary in the discus 107-foot-1 and in the shot put 38-foot-10.

Williams had the Tribe's only other first place as he won the 440-yard dash in 52.7. Whack, another senior, placed second in the 330 (37.2) and in the 220 (23.8). Bass ran a 10.8 in the 100 for fifth place and was fourth in the triple jump with a leap of 39 feet.

Seminole's girls team lost one of the school's best ever, Tony Hardy, to graduation, but coach Emory Blake feels he has the depth to make up for Hardy's loss. The Lady Tribe will have to make up an average of about 20 points per meet.

"We should be able to do a lot of the things we did last year," Blake said. "We have three or four girls who can make up for the points Tony scored."

Besides Hardy, Seminole lost only Revonda Caldwell to graduation. Eight members from last year's squad are returning and only two are seniors. The Tribe also has two newcomers who Blake said should add to the team right away.

In Saturday's Lake Mary Opener, the Lady Seminoles placed second behind Father Lopez, 67-41. "Of the 61 points, 53 were scored by four girls," Blake said. "And two of our top girls aren't out yet because of basketball."

Crystal Caldwell, Charita Medlock, Sharon Lawrence and Katrina Walker all turned in impressive performances at the Lake Mary opener. Traci Brown, Jackie Fort, Lisa Grant, Wanda Fisher and basketball players Ariene Jones and Sharon Jenkins will make the Seminoles one of the strongest teams in the district.

"We hope, barring injuries, we can make a good run again this year," Blake said. "We have a good nucleus and have pretty good depth."

Caldwell, a junior, scored 18 points at Lake Mary including first place finishes in the 440-yard dash (82.1) and the 220-yard dash (27.8). She also recorded a sixth place finish in the 800 (1:53.8).

Senior Lawrence scored 12 points for Dion Jackson, Seminole long jumper, leaps 21-feet-8 during the Lake Mary Open Track Meet Saturday. Jackson, a senior, also won the triple jump.

Miss Fleming, W.D. Jacobs Repeat Vows

Susann Marie Fleming and Walter Dean Jacobs were married Jan. 22, at 4 p.m., at the Community United Methodist Church, Casselberry...

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Patricia Fleming, Winter Springs, and Kenneth Fleming, Deltona. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Jacobs of Oviedo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal bridal gown accented with appliques of Venice lace. Her veil of illusion was secured to a coronet of fresh roses, lily-of-the-valley and ivy.

Londa Denton attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a metallic blue gown and carried three white rosebuds with blue baby's breath. She wore a spray of baby's breath in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Carol Harris and Nancy Beaudon. Their gowns were identical to the honor attendant's and each carried two white rosebuds.

Robert Jacobs served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Don Jacobs and Dan Sharron.

Autumn Denton was the flower girl and Scott Evans was ringbearer.

Following a reception at the Highlands Clubhouse, Winter Springs, the newlyweds departed for a wedding trip to Walt Disney World.

They are making their home in Oviedo where the bride is a finance clerk and the bridegroom is a builder.

Sertoma Honors Grindle For 'Service To Mankind'

At a special meeting of the Longwood Branch of Sertoma Clubs, the members had a special job to perform. They were honored to present the club's most prestigious award, the "Service to Mankind" award for 1982 to Art Grindle of Altamonte Springs.

Art, who is well-known for his dedicated community service and his ability to inspire and encourage others to better themselves, was given this award by the club president Dr. Bill Armstrong.

Art is now under nomination for the Mid-Florida District award for his "Service to Mankind."

The Sabal Point Women's Club has a special meeting planned for tonight. World renowned makeup artist Douglas Marvaldi, will show the members the "how-to's" of makeup.

Included will be a slide presentation, and a makeover of one of the members. Douglas is originally from New York and has done makeup for stars of "All My Children." Now that he is in Florida does the makeup for Carol Nelson of Channel 6 News.

This meeting will be held at the Sabal Point Country Club, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Longwood Sertoma Club meets every Tuesday at noon at Quincy Steakhouse on Douglas Road.

Special guest Jay Bergman, the head baseball coach at UCF, spoke to the members about this upcoming baseball season at the meeting today.

The baseball season begins Feb. 19 and the first game to be played will be against Rollins College.

If anyone would like more information about the Longwood Sertoma Club, they may contact: Linda Tomlinson 869-4634.

The Retired Seniors Volunteer Program (RSVP) is looking for persons 60 years or older who would like to give some of their time and wisdom to helping others.

RSVP is a non-profit program, funded by federal grants and contributions by concerned civic organizations and the Seminole County Commission.

Last year a total of 72,000 hours of volunteer work was recorded by the seniors in this program. In March, a special recognition luncheon is planned to honor all the volunteers of Seminole County.

Volunteers are needed to assist as substitutes in the Sheriff's Department, courthouse, schools, health care clinics, community service organizations and Red Cross. Also needed are those who could help other adults to read.

For any person, 60 years or older who wishes to do volunteer work, but has no means of transportation, pick-up service will be provided.

For information, contact RSVP, 834-6550.

The Longwood-Lake Mary Lions and Lioness meet tonight at the Quality Inn, Longwood, at 7 p.m.

The Lioness will be discussing their upcoming "No-Bake" Bake Sale and the planning of a St. Patrick's Day dance.

At the Feb. 8 meeting of the Longwood Rotary Club Linda Partin, a CPR instructor from Orlando Regional Medical Center, gave information and procedures on how to give assistance to either a drowning or choking victim.

Rotary will meet tonight at Cassidy's Restaurant on Markham Road, at 7:30 p.m.

Longwood city administrator David Chase has outlined a plan for the building of the Longwood Community Center. He has received a go-ahead from the city commission to contact local clubs and organizations to obtain their financial support.

David is endeavoring to get firm commitments from various groups in order to finalize the plans so they may be brought before the city commission for approval.

The location site for the proposed community center is on West Street, across from Christ Episcopal Church.

Mixed Cargo For Ports In Southeast

United Press International

The recession brought a mixed cargo to Southeastern ports last year and the outlook for 1983 hinges on a general economic recovery.

Phosphate and coal exports were torpedoed by the 1982 economic slump, but high-value container traffic increased at some ports.

While Charleston, S.C., had a 15.7 percent loss of general cargo tonnage in the first six months of last year and had to lay off 77 workers, the port in Jacksonville showed modest increases in vehicle imports despite sagging auto sales.

"Traffic is down everywhere," said Rex Sherman of the American Association of Port Authorities.

Southeastern ports tend to lag behind the general economy and were buffered from the worst of the slump last year, Sherman said, but better times for Dixie's docks are linked to an improved economy.

South Florida's Port of Miami and Port Everglades fared better than most because they have built a strong trade with Central America and the Caribbean, Sherman said.

Savannah, Ga., and Charleston, on the other hand, are more vulnerable because Sherman said they must solicit cargo from as far away as the Mid-West.

Charleston's exports suffered as the recession put the squeeze on the textile industry. For the last six months of 1982, Charleston handled an estimated 445,000 tons of cargo, down 245,000 tons from the same period in 1981, according to the port authority's Ann Moise.

About 260,000 tons of textiles were exported through Charleston to China last year. That was down from previous years, too, and Mrs. Moise said the Reagan administration's trade cutback with China may hurt Charleston this year.

On a brighter note, Charleston is handling 1.9 million tons of containerized cargo and is now the nation's 9th largest container port.

"We think because of the recession, people are switching to containers faster than they would otherwise," Mrs. Moise said.

Container tonnage at Wilmington, N.C., for instance, jumped to 503,000 tons last year, an increase of 76,000 tons. Bill Staver of the North Carolina State Ports Authority credits Wilmington's success to aggressive marketing and ship turnaround times of 6 to 8 hours.

Last fall, Wilmington handled 1,000 containers of tobacco for Japan that in past years would have been shipped through Virginia ports, he said.

Port Everglades handled 420,000 tons of container cargo last year, up 95,000 tons, but petroleum imports for distribution throughout south Florida dropped 5 percent.

Port Everglades is a major port of call for ships from Europe and the Mediterranean en route to Gulf of Mexico points and spokesman Larry Dressler said the port is trying to establish itself as a transshipment point for containers from Europe to Central America.

Most of Tampa's cargo tonnage is phosphate products used in fertilizer production and the port suffered from the continuing slump in central Florida's phosphate industry.

Tampa handled 45.3 million tons of cargo in 1981 — mostly phosphates — and port spokesman Frank Clewis said unofficial figures show Tampa handled only 38 million tons last year.

Bostonians Scorn Sleeping Pills And Irish Whiskey

NEW YORK (UPI) — The view of some sociologists that Americans are becoming more uniform in their tastes and consumption habits is disputed rather startlingly by an expensive survey done by Mediamark Research, Inc., of New York.

The study shows, for example, there are nearly twice as many heavy smokers (nine packs a week or more) in New York and Boston as in Washington; the consumption of hard liquor in New York appears to be more than twice that of people in Cleveland and Los Angeles, but New Yorkers don't buy a lot of bourbon.

It also indicates that people in St. Louis are rather different from most of the rest of the country. It's not just that folks in St. Louis eat only 43 percent as many kosher frankfurters as the national average (New York eats the most, 353 percent of the average) but the people in Mound City on the Mississippi appear to be thrifty and conservative about everything. Only Washingtonians are as conservative in their buying habits as the St. Louis folk.

The jeans clothing fashion that has enthralled the nation for the past two decades has had the least impact on both men and women in St. Louis and Washington, although for men at least, folks in Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston also seem to have been less attracted to jeans.

Alain J. Tessier, president of Mediamark Research, says his annual survey is now four years old and runs to 20 volumes of closely printed tables covering buying preference in most of the markets in the country except in the deep South, and for 3,000 brands of 1,000 products.

The reason the South isn't yet adequately covered, Tessier said, is that primary customers for the service have included broadcast networks which own few stations in the South.

He said his firm used 550 interviewers and did more than 20,000 interviews last year. The survey, a wealth of demographic and other marketing information, is sold to advertisers, magazines and broadcasters with charges based on advertising billings of the customers — perhaps $50,000 to $200,000 for the biggest users.

Other curiosities revealed by the survey: Bostonians scorn prescription sleeping pills; they buy only 27 percent as many as most Americans. Bostonians also buy only 53 percent as many Cadillacs as the national average while Washingtonians buy 171 percent.

Many people think of Boston as a city with a huge Irish population but it turns thumbs down on Irish whiskey, drinking only 33 percent as much as the national average against 154 percent for New York. San Francisco would appear to be the drinking capital of the country. It is tops in consumption of bourbon, gin, vodka and Irish.

Detroiters seem most involved in common stock investment — 204 percent of the national average — residents of the District of Columbia the least with only 50 percent. But Washingtonians easily top the nation as investors in gold, other precious metals or gems, 280 percent of the average, along with Chicago. Again, St. Louis is at the bottom in this category with 40 percent of the national average.

Tessier told United Press International he thinks, for both advertisers and the media, the geographical differences in buying preferences are far more important than the differences by sex or age.

Because the annual survey still is young, Tessier said it does not yet reveal much in the way of year-to-year changes in buying habits.

It should be remembered, he cautioned, that brand preferences are dictated to a very large extent by availability. People can't easily prefer brand A in a city where it isn't marketed much while Brands B and C are being pushed.

Come To Vera's Attic For Bargains

If you are looking for bargains in clothing for the whole family come up to Vera's Attic. It is a new consignment shop located at 3816 Highway 17-92 (at Lake Mary Boulevard) next to Winn-Dixie.

The owner-operator, Vera opened the store Nov. 4, 1982 and already has more than 200 consignees. A Sanford resident and homeowner Vera has a large stock of quality new and pre-owned up-to-date clothing at working girl's prices, including pretty formals for the prom.

She has a good selection of children's clothing from newborn to size 20 for both play, school and dress.

Vera also has a large selection of famous brand name dresses and new designer jeans for women and men's shirts, suits and ties. Expecting? Why pay more, Vera has maternity dresses for less. Vera's Attic has the atmosphere of a small boutique with a personalized touch. There is plenty of parking space. Be sure to check out the special clearance racks for blouses and slacks priced at $1.50 and up. She also has women's and children's shoes.

Store hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday; 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., Thursday and Friday; and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday. For information call 321-2378. A layaway plan is available.

Vera is always looking for new consignees with clothing in current styles, being in "new" or "like new" condition, from local individuals or retailers.

Vera treats consignees right with no money hassle. She offers consignees a 50-50 split, paid the first five days of each month on items sold in the month ending the 25th of the prior month.

After 30 days unsold clothing may be discounted at Vera's discretion, but not necessarily.

Senkarik Glass & Paint, Sanford, has quality products and service.

Senkarik Glass & Paint Is Fix-Up Headquarters

Let Senkarik Glass & Paint Co. be your headquarters for paint-up, fix-up time this Spring. Located at 210 Magnolia Ave., Sanford, Senkarik has been a paint and glass dealer here since 1943. One of the most versatile paint and glass stores in Central Florida, it has been synonymous with quality and service in the Sanford area.

It specializes in all types of glass, including table tops, custom residential glazing, mirrors, glaze replacement, storefront commercial and auto glass. They also stock Plexiglas in four thicknesses.

Senkarik carries a full line of nationally known, and Sanford manufactured Pen Paints and Benjamin Moore Paints for interior and exterior jobs as well as all types of painting supplies, brushes and rollers.

Jerry and Eddie Senkarik, who are carrying on the tradition of service begun by their father and store founder, John Senkarik, are always glad to give advice on painting and will be glad to estimate the overall cost of materials needed to do a job.

For any wood which must weather the outdoor elements, they recommend McCloskey's Man o' War Ultra Spar Marine Varnish.

Do-it-yourselfers will find the best of products for easy furniture refinishing at Senkarik. You can get a professional looking refinishing job or restore old furniture, antiques and picture frames.

Senkarik carries Benjamin Moore's new latex high gloss enamel, Impervex. It is a tough durable latex enamel designed for interior and exterior use. It has excellent color and gloss retention and is safe for children's furniture and toys. Easily applied with brush or spray it dries fast and has no unpleasant odor. It stands up to hard wear and repeated washings. Outdoors it can be used on garden furniture and metal.

'Moderately Messy' Is Best For Desk Tops

NEW YORK (UPI) — Corporate slob take heart. A clean desk is not necessarily the sign of a tidy mind or an efficient worker.

"The fact is it's a sign of a compulsive mind — one that's insecure if anything is out of place," said industrial psychologist Krass Kestlin.

Robert Kelly, senior vice president for Paul B. Mulligan & Co., a management consulting firm specializing in white-collar productivity, has been in hundreds of executive offices during his career.

"There are very few clean, clean desks I've seen," he said. "It's pretty rare to find that clean, clean desk — as opposed to the organized but not clean desk and to the disorganized, unclean."

Having a totally tidy desk is "not a prerequisite" for productivity, said Dr. Theodore Niedegard, a psychologist at Cabrini Hospital, who admits there's "a lot of stuff on my desk and it pretty much stays that way."

"Someone who focuses on keeping the desk clean, everything filed away, may not be focusing on getting the job done," he suggested.

The ability to focus within apparent clutter may be one of the keys to differentiating the productive pack-rat from someone who has simply lost control of his or her surroundings, some experts suggested.

"Have you ever taken a look at the desks on police shows like Hill Street Blues?" asked Kelly. "There's disorganization, and files that aren't important are on the desk. But they keep the priority stuff in a little space perhaps 2 feet by 2 feet right in front of them. That's what's hot today, what they're working on. They're concentrating on one thing at a time."

"You can have several stacks on your desks," Kelly added. "They can be prioritized, or in disarray so you really don't know what the heck is important or what isn't."

Kelly is a stack person himself, going through his piles of paper every Friday afternoon and reorganizing them. "The prioritization runs from right to left — that's just a quirk of mine because I'm left-handed, I guess," he said. "The stack toward the right would be the most important."

Kestlin, a consultant to Enhart Corporation's human resources department, says a moderately messy desk is nearest the norm. "What's important is to know where things are, no matter how great the clutter, so you don't have to waste time looking for them," he said.

While having a clean desk may not be a priority for a productive person, he or she also recognizes when the clutter has approached the point of no return, Niedegard said. "Someone who's well organized knows where that point is, and when things get near that point, the priority of getting some things off the desk moves up a bit."

Kelly admitted if he saw an entire department filled with cluttered desks he might have a suspicion "of potential ineffectiveness in the operation," but added, "you can't look at one desk and form an opinion."

"I think on the other hand, when you see the totally clear desk you sometimes wonder whether that person has enough to do," he said.

"Really and truly the appearance of a desk is not at all always an indicator. Some people feel comfortable working in that kind of (cluttered) environment. Others do it because they don't know what the devil they're doing."

Kestlin said creative people are particularly notorious for desk clutter. "Other things are more important to them than appearances," he said. "That's why some of them go around looking like unmade beds."

With changing office technology, more and more paperwork is now being filed away electronically, suggesting the possibility of a new office phenomenon — the cluttered computer.

"If you're disorganized you're disorganized," warned Kelly. "It doesn't matter if you're disorganized on the desk or disorganized in a hidden place."

U.S. Airlines Turn To Foreign Plane Builders

NEW YORK (UPI) — The growing commuter airlines are turning to foreign manufacturers for planes American builders are reluctant to produce.

An ever bigger share of the market is going to non-U.S. firms partly because the foreign manufacturers are government-owned and are at least marginally subsidized, but more importantly because some U.S. manufacturers don't want to gamble on the commuter lines' viability.

The foreign manufacturers are willing to take the risk building aircraft in the 30-to-50-passenger range. With the exception of Fairchild Swearingen of San Antonio, the American makers, Beech, Cessna and Piper, prefer to stick to smaller aircraft that can be used either as private executive planes or as smaller commuter liners, carrying up to 20 passengers, says Elliot Fied, an aircraft industry analyst for Shearson-American Express, the Wall Street house.

Fried said these American companies fear the commuter airlines are not well enough financed and the market will not be large enough to justify going into the bigger planes.

Nor do the American makers of big airliners seem inclined to drop down into the commuterplane field.

This leaves the market for commuter liners in the 30-to-50-passenger range to such firms as Short Brothers, Ltd., a British government-owned manufacturer in Northern Ireland, Canada's DeHaviland Co., Fokker of Holland and Embraer of Brazil.

Fairchild Swearingen has a joint venture with Saab of Sweden to build a new 30-to-35-passenger airliner to compete with the bigger foreign commuter planes. Fairchild also is carrying the fight to Embraer. It has been vigorously pressing a proceeding before the International Trade Commission accusing Brazil of flagrantly subsidizing exports of the Embraer 120 to the United States.

Shearson-American Express' Fried said the commuter aircraft market is largely in the United States. The absence at this time of a foreign market for such planes could be another reason American makers are not very interested.

The current growth of the commuter airline business stems from deregulation of the domestic airline industry. The question is how long the growth will last and how viable commuter lines, using the bigger planes will prove to be. Beech, Cessna and Piper obviously have their fingers crossed and believe the smaller planes they are making might ultimately be the best bet for the commuter lines.

But the more aggressive commuter airlines are buying the foreign planes. They say they have no choice; they have been unable to get the American firms to build them bigger planes.

Fied said it is obvious the foreign commuter aircraft are subsidized to some extent — "They're not going to tell you by how much."

Pawnbrokers Seeing Higher Class Clientele

By CANDEE WILDE
United Press International

The Reagan administration may be seeing signs of an economic recovery, but Southern pawnbrokers are seeing a higher class clientele trading quality merchandise for quick cash.

"It might be getting better for the government, but its not getting any better for the people," said Ellis Berlin, owner of Berlin's Pawn Shop in Charlotte, N.C. "People are pawning stuff they normally wouldn't pawn."

Pawnshops offer a unique barometer of the economic climate because they not only offer loans, they also resell merchandise used as collateral on loans that were never repaid.

And to pawnbrokers, the heavy demand for loans and a generally slow resale of unclaimed goods indicate one thing: Times are still tough.

When money is tight, low income people are the first to seek the loan services of a pawn broker.

"I would say up until the last six months, the people were lower to middle class," said Martha Eiland, manager of Bell Street Pawn Shop in Montgomery, Ala. But for many of those customers, making ends meet has been a losing battle that finally squeezed the frills from their lives, leaving them with nothing of value to offer.

One shop owner said the poor are "pawmed out." But pawnbrokers aren't running short of customers. The extended recession and rising unemployment have just altered the profile of today's pawnshop customer.

More and more frequently, new faces are finding their way to the loan window - offering antiques, jewelry, cameras and guns when they discover the checking account balance won't cover the bills.

"Our business is creeping up the economic ladder," said Ira Katz, owner of Southern Pawn Shop in Roanoke, Va.

"There's been more white collar people coming in," agreed Alex Alper, owner of Alper's Loan Office in Chattanooga, Tenn. "The rent comes due and the electric bill comes due, and they are short of money."

Ms. Eiland, who said "almost anyone" is likely to be a customer, added many are "embarrassed." They're willing to take anything we offer. They tell us why they are doing this, like they have a utility bill to pay. We don't require any explanation."

The only real requirement pawnbrokers have is that the item be of some value, so if the terms of the loan - typically $25 to $50, plus an average 15 percent monthly interest - are not met, the money lenders can recover the cash by selling the merchandise.

Several of the pawnbrokers said the new, higher class customers are more likely to return for their belongings after several months.

"The redemption percentage looks a little better," said Alper. "It's up to 10 percent."

Chuck Murray, manager of Albert's Pawn, Buy or Sale Shop in Orlando, Fla., said his store "averaged between 80 and 90 percent" of reclaimed pawn tickets.

"I think in the last few weeks it has picked up, with customers picking their items up," agreed Ms. Eiland. "For a while, it was real slow."

Most people pawn small "disposable or personal" items, like china, televisions, radios and stereos. But pawnbrokers see their share of big ticket items, as well as an occasional glimpse of the bizarre.

"I don't think a day goes by that we don't get a call to take in an automobile, which we can't do," said Katz. "We had one inquiry about pawning a burial plot."

A Myrtle Beach, S.C., pawnbroker said he recently refused a set of dentures from a cash-hungry customer. "We do buy teeth that have gold in them, but not just a plain set of false teeth," said Sonny White.

Murray said his wife's phobia kept him from dealing with one customer.

"He didn't pawn it, but a guy brought in a boa constrictor. He wanted $25, but we didn't take it. My wife is paranoid when it comes to snakes. Good thing she was in the back room."

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Reader Plagued By Gallbladder Grief

DEAR DR. LAMB - A year ago I had my gallbladder and stones removed. An X-ray showed one stone remained. After five weeks I had a T-tube cholangiogram and the stone was gone.

Now, one year later, I am again having slight gallbladder attacks after eating fatty foods. My doctor suggests more X-rays and possible surgery to remove the stone, if found. I do not wish to go through surgery again. He said I could also have a high acidity problem or maybe an ulcer but the symptoms are exactly like the ones I had before surgery.

Is it possible to have another stone after one year? I heard on TV with Hal Linden that too many people opt for gallbladder surgery when a lot of the time the stones can be treated with a drug called CDCA. Do you know of this drug and is it available?

DEAR READER - Yes, rarely new stones form in the bile ducts after gallbladder surgery. And some times a stone is missed at surgery even though a careful exploration is done. And some stones in the duct can be dissolved or extracted without surgery.

Your story, however, reminds me of the many cases of people with symptoms who also have gallstones. The stones may be totally unrelated to the symptoms so the symptoms persist or recur after a gallbladder operation. There is no reliable evidence that fatty foods cause gallbladder attacks or pain, although this was once a popular idea in medicine.

And if you quoted Hal Linden correctly, he didn't do his research properly or did I wait for all the results from the national study. If so he did the public a disservice.

CDCA was studied on a national basis for dissolving gallstones. The final report is that it is not very useful.

After two years of treatment with CDCA there was no evidence of a decrease in stone size in 60 percent of cases. More details on the gallbladder dissolving medicines and new concepts about surgery are included in The Health Letter 20-6, Gall Bladder, Stones and Attacks, which I am sending you. Others can send 75 cents with a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Please explain the reason for stool tests. Are they to determine the presence of parasites? If so, how does a doctor come to suspect their presence? My doctor says they are routine for people my age. Why?

DEAR READER - Yes, they are done to look for any number of parasites or infectious organisms. The methods of collection may vary depending on what the doctor is looking for. And if he is looking for bacteria or parasites it is because a person has been exposed, as in travel to an area where this is a common problem, or most often because the patient has symptoms. A good example would be the patient with diarrhea.

But your comment about age suggests that your doctor is wisely checking his patients for blood in the stool. I keep mentioning this because it is so important. The second most common cause of cancer deaths in the industrialized nations is cancer of the colon. Early detection, often from stool examinations for blood, is your best opportunity for a cure.

HOROSCOPE

YOUR BIRTHDAY February 16, 1983

This coming year you will be in a cycle where hopes and dreams can be realized. However, you must be persistent. Once you begin something, be sure to complete it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Projects large in scope might intimidate others today, but they should be your cup of tea. Be the one who shows them how to make big ideas tick.

Send $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

PISCES Goals and objectives which you may have felt were out of your reach can be achieved both today and tomorrow. Lady Luck will help if you make an effort.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Conditions in general should show a marked improvement today. This will have a positive effect upon your attitude. The tough gets easier.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It will be difficult to fool you today. Your perceptions are especially keen and you'll perceive clearly what really lies behind the facade.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You're very effective today at making fast decisions, so don't discount what comes easy. Even ideas out of the blue will have considerable substance.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) This is one of those days when lucky breaks could come and go in the twinkling of an eye. To make the most of them, be prepared to act immediately.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't treat lightly creative ideas which may flash into your mind today. If they can't be used now, at least jot them down for future reference.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't be too hasty about throwing in the towel today. Events could suddenly reverse themselves to your advantage. Hang in there and keep trying.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You could be extremely lucky today in situations which require a collective effort or partner. You'll know how to bring out the best in others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you think you are on the track of something which could increase your earnings or holdings, chances are you're right. Strike while you have the Midas touch.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your most fun is likely to come today from things done on an impromptu basis. Keep your schedule flexible so that you can flow with events.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Even though you may not have as much direct control over situations today as you'd like, the end results should prove to your advantage.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East cards and scores.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby. The thought process on defense is greatly simplified if you refer to the acronym "ARCH." "A" is analyze the lead. "R" is review the bidding. "C" count winners and losers and "H" the all-important "how can I make or beat this contract?" East analyzes the lead as fourth best. Review of the bidding shows that West can hold the king and jack of spades if South holds a 15-point no-trump. A count of your points and dummy's leaves 19 for South and West.

The play of the 10 will give you four quick spade tricks in that case. On the other hand, if West doesn't have both those cards and you play the 10 spot, South will take his king or jack as the case may be, take and lose the diamond finesse and wind up with at least three no-trump.

Now look at your heart suit. You can take your ace of spades, lead the king of hearts and have three heart winners set up. Can that play go wrong? Almost no way. If South's no-trump was something like x-x-x, A-x, J-x, A-K-Q-J-x-x, he could run off six clubs to develop a diamond end-play against you.

That is most unlikely, so you should play ace of spades and king of hearts and sink another contract. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)
