AIDS still spreading, officials say

ATLANTA — Officials at the national Centers for Disease Control said Thursday over 57,000 new cases of AIDS are expected this year and nearly a half-million new cases are possible by the end of 1993.

New data indicate an average of more than 80,000 people are becoming infected each year with the AIDS-causing human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), and there are now about 1 million HIV-infected individuals in the United States.

Dr. James Curran, who heads the CDC's AIDS task force, said the finding that new HIV infections are occurring at a greater rate than active cases of AIDS shows that "we have yet to turn the corner on the AIDS problem. There is no premature declaration of victory here."

Electronic taxes to save money

TALLAHASSEE — Florida is now receiving tax payments that are filed electronically, a process that state officials say will earn an additional $3 million a year in interest payments.

Last year, the legislature passed a law requiring people and businesses owing large amounts of taxes to pay electronically. That allows the state to begin collecting interest a few days earlier than in the past, which means more interest is accrued.

Two state agencies are responsible for enforcing the law — the Department of Revenue and the Department of Business Regulation.

State scrambles fighter jets to shoo Soviets away from coast

United Press International

JACKSONVILLE — Florida Air National Guard fighter jets have scrambled four times in the past two weeks to intercept Soviet spy planes flying off the north Florida Coast, according to Air Guard members.

The latest incident took place Tuesday, when two Soviet TU-95 Bear reconnaissance bombers were seen just off the coast, flying within 90 miles of U.S. airspace.

Officials for the 125th Fighter Group based at Jacksonville International Airport said the incidents are the first since March

"We don't want to get the public alarmed," said Maj. Craig R. McKinley, air operations officer for the interceptor group. He said they were not flying over land.

The planes have dropped as low as 500 feet to get a closer look at U.S. Navy ships, McKinley said.

Capt. Jeanette Booth, intelligence officer for the group, said Soviet Bears were spotted Feb. 9, Feb. 13, Friday and Tuesday, and have been observed from Virginia to central Florida.

The planes, designed 35 years ago and fitted to observe subma-

LAKE MARY — Despite a driving rainstorm and a live cable television broadcast of the event, nearly 100 people went to the Lake Mary High School auditorium to hear Supt. Bob Hughes and Sanford Chamber of Community representative James Stelling debate the merits of the school board's proposed $520 million bond issue.

For some, what they heard did not change their minds; for others, it did influence their thinking.

The audience was comprised mostly of Maintenance man faces charges of selling drugs on local school grounds

By SUSAN LODEN
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — A Lake Brantley High School maintenance man was arrested last night on charges of selling cocaine on school grounds. The man was busted after allegedly meeting an undercover agent to make a fifth drug deal.

Melvin Cleveland Fisher, 34, 202 Terry Lane, Sanford, is charged with four counts of selling cocaine on the Altamonte Springs school's property and one count of trafficking in cocaine.

Fisher's arrest came after a meeting with the CCIB agent during which Fisher was allegedly going to sell the agent more cocaine near Fisher's Sanford home. The deal fell through, but Fisher was arrested in connection with the earlier sales at the school. Fisher is held at the county jail without bond.

Seminole County Sheriff's Sgt. Dale Wagner, Lake Brantley's school resource officer, said he has worked with Fisher for nine years. Wagner said "He sold cocaine to the agent within minutes of meeting him at the school."

Lake Brantley principal Darvin Booth said today he is writing a letter to school officials to request Fisher's immediate suspension. He said he expects the school board to terminate Fisher's 12-year employment with the school district at its next meeting Feb. 27.

"I feel disappointed about it," Booth said, of the allegations. "I'm

HRS officials want to exhume infant

TAMPA — State welfare officials want to exhume the body of a baby buried more than eight months ago because of a recent child abuse complaint against his parents, a newspaper reported Thursday.

The child's mother said she found her 2-month-old boy dead in his crib June 12.

Police reports at the time noted that there were no apparent signs of abuse or foul play, and an autopsy blamed crib death, also known as sudden infant death syndrome.

The Tampa Tribune reported Thursday that state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services received a complaint about the boy's parents on its abuse hot line recently.

An unnamed source told the newspaper that the state agency wants to check out the complaint by re-examining the boy's body.

The Hillsborough County HRS office sent copies of the police report and the medical examiner's files this week to its Tallahassee headquarters, sources told the paper.

Supreme Court overturns death sentence

TALLAHASSEE — The death sentence given a Broward County man convicted of the abuse death of his girlfriend's 18-month-old child was overturned Thursday by the Florida Supreme Court.

The court ruled 7-0 that Circuit Judge Patti Englander Henning should have abided by the jury recommendation for life in prison for George Morris in the May 1986 death of Matthew Roberts.

The child died of a head injury after being taken home by Morris for the night. The coroner found extensive evidence of previous abuse of the little boy.

The court upheld Morris' conviction for first-degree murder, but sent the case back to trial court with instructions that the sentence be set at life without parole for 25 years.

Add another name to governor's race

TALLAHASSEE — Former Florida Gov. Claude Kirk Jr. was expected to switch to the Republican Party Friday and enter the race for governor against incumbent Gov. Bob Martinez, according to political observers in Tallahassee.

Kirk, 64, has been a Democrat for years and is known for his down-home style of politicking. He served as governor of Florida from 1968 to 1970 as a Democrat before losing the job to Reubin Askew.

Kirk was expected to be joined at a Tallahassee news conference Friday by former state GOP chief Tommy Thomas of Panama City, who has been one of Martinez's main critics since the governor supported a controversial sales tax on services in 1987.

Kirk entered big-time politics in 1960 as a leader of the Floridians for Nixon campaign. As the Republican nominee in 1964, he lost the U.S. Senate race. He was elected governor two years later. But he lost that job to Democrat Reubin Askew in 1970.

Gunman killed in shootout with deputies

CITRA — Deputies on the lookout for gunmen suspected of robbing seven area supermarkets in a week killed a gunman in a shootout in front of a grocery store that had just been robbed, authorities said Thursday.

A second gunman fled, but police questioned a gunshot victim who showed up at a Gainesville hospital about 30 minutes after the shooting Wednesday, and police consider him a suspect, Miami Herald writer spokeswoman Jennifer Fanalaw said.

"He gave us three stories on how he was shot, and none of them panned out," she said.

An autopsy was being conducted Thursday on the dead man, who suffered a single gunshot wound to the head. After the shooting, he ran about 25 feet, then collapsed and was pronounced dead at Monroe Regional Medical Center in Ocala, Fanalaw said.

Widow fails to report husband's death

MIAMI — A 77-year-old woman slept in the same bed with her dead husband for two weeks and closed her apartment to visitors because she didn't know what to do, police said Friday.

"She was so overwhelmed by his death that she didn't even leave the apartment," said homicide detective Al Jullachs. "The problem was she didn't know what to do."

Police said Edward Gandorf, 86, probably died Feb. 9, but his wife, Martha, covered him in a blanket and a towel and left him in the bed they had shared for 26 years. He was found about 11 a.m. Thursday after a neighbor called police about a foul odor in the area.

When police arrived, Mrs. Gandorf told them her husband was dead, Jullachs said.

Gandorf, a retired New York telephone company employee, and his wife had been living in the North Miami apartment complex for about 20 years. The couple had no children, Jullachs said.

Pregnant girl slapped

SANFORD — Stanley Paige, 18, of 30 Lake Monroe Terrace, Sanford, was charged with battery after a 14-year-old, pregnant girl told Sanford police he slapped her face several times. Paige was arrested at home at 10:25 a.m. Wednesday.

Man accused of child abuse

LONGWOOD — Longwood police report charging Robert Dean Wilborn, 25, 454 Jesup Ave., Longwood, with child abuse after two witnesses said they saw him toss his 4-month-old daughter into his car.

Police said the child was bruised and had red marks on her body when they arrived at the scene at 1408 Sparrow St., Longwood, at about 8 p.m. Thursday.

Two witnesses said Wilborn had picked up the child for a visit and he allegedly thrown her into the open passenger side window of his car. She landed on the front seat and hit the door, a police report said. Wilborn allegedly got into the car and lay on top of the baby and "climbed" her in his arms.

Longwood firefighters treated the baby at the scene. She was returned to the custody of her mother, who was not one of the two witnesses who reported the allegations.

Man accused of inciting a riot

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — A man who allegedly fought two Seminole County sheriff's deputies and called to a small crowd to "get" the officers as they arrested him on a warrant had charges of encouraging a riot added to other charges this morning.

In addition to his arrest for violation of probation for shooting into an occupied vehicle, Arthur Lee Bennefield, 24, 93 Stephen St., Oviedo, was charged with battery on a policeman, encouraging a riot, and resisting arrest with violence. He was arrested at 12:59 a.m. Friday on Jackson Street, rural Altamonte Springs.

Shuttle takeoff in limbo

United Press International

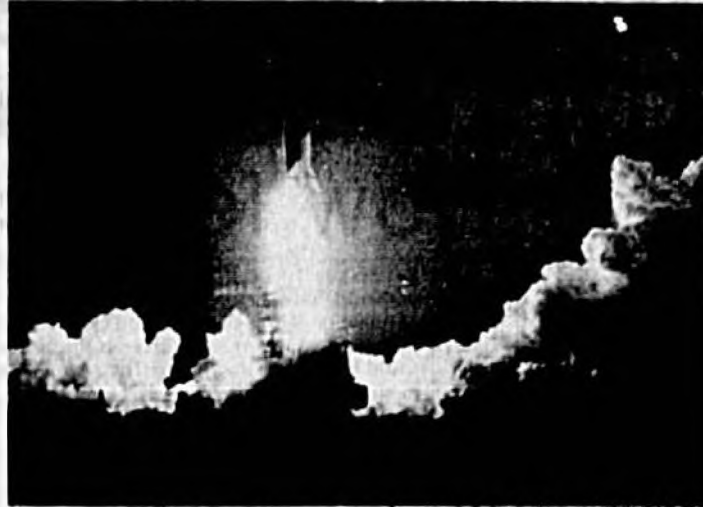

CAPE CANAVERAL — Atlantis skipper John Creighton's sore throat and cold improved overnight and he was cleared Friday for a twice-delayed launch Saturday on a military mission, but stormy weather threatened another 24-hour postponement.

Space agency physicians examined Creighton, 46, early Friday and declared him fit for a pre-dawn liftoff Saturday, two days behind schedule. He and his co-pilot then boarded NASA training jets and practiced landing procedures, despite rain and heavy cloud cover at the Florida shuttleport.

"The word from the flight surgeons is John is cleared for flight," said a NASA spokesman.

But regardless of Creighton's health, the 34th shuttle mission faced another hurdle in the form of stormy weather, with forecasters predicting an 80 percent chance of high winds, clouds and rain for a Saturday launch that would violate tough safety rules instituted after the Challenger disaster.

A cold front brought thunderstorms to the Florida spaceport Thursday and more of the same was expected Friday night. But meteorologists expected an 80 percent chance of favorable weather for a Sunday launch try.

Both bad weather and skipper John Creighton's sore throat and cold will keep the shuttle Atlantis from roaring into space like the Columbia did in January.

The goal of the mission is the launch of what is widely believed to be a $500 million, 37,000-pound photographic spy satellite.

As usual with such military flights, the exact launch time will be withheld until nine minutes before takeoff. Sources, however, have said liftoff for the 4 1/2-day voyage is scheduled for around 1 a.m. EST on whatever day NASA ends up choosing. Landing is scheduled for Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Liftoff originally was scheduled for liftoff early Thursday, but NASA managers Wednesday delayed the flight 24 hours because of Creighton's illness. It was the first time a shuttle launch was postponed because of crew sickness and only the second such hold-up in the U.S. space program's history.

Ariane rocket destroyed

UPI report

KOUROU, French Guiana — An Ariane rocket carrying two Japanese satellites suffered a loss of power 6.2 seconds after liftoff Thursday and exploded 95 seconds later in a major setback for the European space program, officials said Friday.

The spectacular disaster, the fifth in 36 Ariane launches, destroyed both costly satellites — valued at more than $250 million — and grounded the European rocket program for at least two months and possibly longer for an investigation. A board of inquiry will be named next week, officials said.

At a news conference Friday, officials with ArianeSpace, the European consortium that markets Ariane boosters in competition with American rocket companies, said it was not clear what caused one of the rocket's four first stage engines to lose power.

Two Kings win Annual Explorers Spec Tournament

By LACY DOWEN
Herald correspondent

SANFORD — The Second Annual Sanford Police Explorers Spec Tournament last weekend bagged a number of winners.

The explorers, a youth group affiliated with the Sanford Police Department, fished for the elusive fish in The St. John's River and area lakes, according to Explorer Terence Rush.

Lake Mary residents Carl King and Bud King were crowned first place winners, bagging specs with a total weight of 30 pounds four ounces. Their cash and prizes, which totaled $223.92, included two rods and reels, two tickets to the Grand Romance, hats and license plates. They donated a $20 cash prize to the Sanford Police Explorers.

Sanford Fire Chief Tom Hickson and Richard Cohen of Sanford placed second. They not only caught a total weight of 28 pounds nine ounces, but landed the big spec of the day, which weighed one pound 13 ounces, and earned the fishermen an additional $86.25 in prize money. Their second place prizes included two tackle boxes, two knives, assorted lures, hats, and license plates, totaling $90.

Third place winners, Deltona residents Jim Murray and Terry Murray, reeled in 12 pounds 15 ounces of specs which earned them two tackle boxes, two plastic lure cases, lures, a $20 check, hats, and license plates, totaling $59.

The annual tournament raises money for uniforms and travel expenses for the Explorers, and to benefit the George Manning Harriett-Sanford Fire Department Scholarship Fund.

Local sponsors for the event included A&N Sports, Central Florida Gun & Pawn, Cuttin' Corners, Donato's Pizza, Don's Glass, Duggar General Store, Ernie Jackson's, Farmers Furniture, Fantastik Sam's, Florida Patients Aid, Forever Fashion, Golden Lamb, Good Year, H&M Restaurant, Hair Arrangers, Harriet's Ceramics, Headliners, Highway Oil, Hungry Howies, Jan's Produce, K-92 FM Knight's Shoes, M&V Motors, Martin's Automotive, Medco Discount Store, McI's Exxon, Powell's Office Supply, Ristorante Dinner, Ro-Jays, Sam's Meat, Sanford Tire and Muffler, Snappy Car Rental, Spec's Music, Styles Unique, Studio 1 Hair Design, Sun Hobbies, The Cuttery, The Half Shell, The Men's Den, Western Sizzlin Steak House, and William Howard Jewelers.

A chicken barbecue followed last weekend's tournament where over $600 in door prizes were awarded.

Keep the lid on

Congress had little choice but to follow Secretary Jack Kemp's urgings and enact a law to curtail widespread influence peddling at the Department of Housing and Urban Development. But lawmakers were careful to leave the lid open just far enough to the HUD pork barrel for members of Congress and their staffs to cash in on federal grants through political favoritism.

The new law requires that most of the money for federal housing projects be distributed to regions of the country based on need. It mandates that HUD publish notices of funding availability, application procedures and selection criteria. Each decision is to be documented and made available for public inspection.

The measure also replaces two of the secretary's discretionary funds with narrowly focused programs. In addition, all consultants hired by special interest groups must register with the department and disclose their fees, which may not be based on their success in obtaining HUD grants. The failure of consultants to comply with these requirements can result in civil penalties up to $10,000 or an amount equal to the fees received.

It is instructive to note, however, what was not included in the law.

For instance, Congress rejected Secretary Kemp's proposal to tie community development grants more closely to anti-poverty efforts. To do so would have limited the funds routinely sought by senators and congressmen for pet projects back home. These have included such amenities as golf courses and swimming pools in wealthy suburbs. Last year, Rep. Mary Rose Oaker, D-Ohio, tried to finance $6.5 million from a HUD discretionary fund after the department rejected Cleveland's application for a grant to build a rock and roll museum.

In writing the law, Congress also exempted lawmakers and their aides from the reporting and registration requirements that apply to lobbyists. A lobbyist, under the law, is defined as one who is paid to influence decisions. Because political contributions are not considered payment, lawmakers and their staffs were considered not to be lobbyists. This torture logic was applied even though Sen. Alphonse D'Amato, R-N.Y., is involved in one of the HUD influence peddling scandals that prompted the law in the first place.

Despite the new reforms, it appears that Secretary Kemp will have his hands full just trying to keep the lid on HUD's pork barrel.

How long can Fidel Castro last?

Last December I bet a friend a lunch that Romania would blow before Yugoslavia did. He bet on Yugoslavia, because he figured Ceausescu had the lid screwed down so tightly on Romania that it would be a long time before the necessary pressures could build up.

I bet on Romania, precisely because Nicolae Ceausescu's grip on it was so ferocious. Even so, I'll admit that I had no idea the end would come so quickly. At my old magazine, National Review, they announced a pool on when Romania would explode. Unfortunately the deadline for submitting entries was Dec. 31 - and Ceausescu was gunned down on Christmas Day.

All of which is by way of introducing the fascinating question: How long will Fidel Castro last?

To begin with the obvious, there is no possibility whatever that the old Thunderbird of the Caribbean can last indefinitely and die with his boots on in a Cuba still faithful to communism. Communism as a viable political philosophy is as dead as Tyrannosaurus rex (to which it bore a striking resemblance), and all that remains is the messy job of cleaning out pockets of resistance like Castro in Cuba, Ramiz Alla in Albania and the elderly clique that runs the People's Republic of China.

Just for one thing, the economy of Cuba, like communist economies everywhere, is too feeble to survive. At the moment it is still being subsidized by Moscow to the tune of some $5 million a day, but that could disappear at any moment, either because Mikhail Gorbachev has better uses for the money or because subsidizing Castro is inconsistent with the broader directions of his foreign policy.

For another, the smell of carrion always attracts vultures. There are plenty of Cubans who know that Fidel's days are numbered, and some of them are in the Cuban government and armed forces. They are undoubtedly planning his overthrow - probably his assassination. But they must, of course, make sure that theirs is the final coup and not (as in the case of those unlucky Panamanians last October) the next-to-last.

The smell of carrion always attracts vultures.

For his part, Castro is openly disgusted with Gorbachev's perestroika, which the Cuban dictator apparently regards as the faint-hearted policy of a Johnny-come-lately who was still in his 20s when Castro seized power in Cuba 30 years ago.

Asserting that Cuba had managed to avoid making the mistakes that have bedeviled other communist regimes, the statement went on to admit that "we can and must stop ourselves making other mistakes." It then pledged itself to "the perfecting of a single, Leninist party based on the principles of democratic centralism" (i.e., dictatorship).

Splendid! There is, then, to be no backing down in Cuba - no effort to "reform." So we can expect that the internal pressures will grow greater, as external subsidies diminish.

What should Washington's policy be? There's no particular need for hurry, so why not sit back and watch the fun? When the time comes, there will be plenty of Cubans, both in Cuba and loitering (shall we say?) nearby, ready to participate in the restoration of a free and prosperous nation.

That will be worth waiting for.

Habash sides with Arafat - for now

WASHINGTON - One of the most rabid Palestinian terrorists of the last 20 years, George Habash, is currently restraining himself in deference to a political solution to the question of a Palestinian state. But when we tracked him down to an office in Damascus for an exclusive interview, Habash warned us that his self-imposed truce won't last forever.

His followers, members of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, are secretly arming themselves on the West Bank. They are waiting for Habash's order to escalate the Palestinian uprising, the intifada, from rock throwing to grenade tossing.

Our own estimate, and that of U.S. intelligence sources and sources inside the PFLP, is that Habash will give his fellow Palestinian, Yasir Arafat, six months to win concessions from Israel. Then Habash will renew the violence.

The historical record shows Habash is not prissy about bloodshed. He formed the PFLP in 1967 after the loss of the West Bank to Israel. Then he mounted a series of spectacular terrorist operations: hijacking three airliners and blowing them up in front of TV cameras (1969); a machine gun attack by hired Japanese Red Army suicide terrorists in the Lod Airport in Tel Aviv killing 27 civilians (1972); hijacking a Japanese airliner to Libya and blowing it up (1973); throwing hand grenades into a crowded Tel Aviv theater, killing three (1974); hijacking an Air France airliner to Entebbe, Uganda, where four civilians were killed during a successful rescue by Israeli soldiers (1976); and hijacking a Lufthansa airliner to Somalia only to have West German commandos storm the plane, rescue the passengers and kill three terrorists (1977).

Since 1984, his group has hijacked or bombed three Israeli buses and stabbed an Israeli student to death on a Jerusalem street. Age has taken a toll on Habash. His speech, in English, was halting when we met him. One side of his body is paralyzed, and he needs help to walk. He blames a surgeon who botched his brain surgery in Beirut in 1980.

Highly classified Central Intelligence Agency reports reveal that Habash has been near death several times from a heart attack and unidentified illnesses.

The CIA keeps close tabs on Habash's health. He is easily the most important Palestinian leader after Arafat, and he could change the course of the low-key intifada by a simple order to escalate the violence. Habash has not held back lately because of discretion alone. He was stung by the two defeats - the Israeli paratroopers at Entebbe and the West German commandos in Somalia. He now concentrates on operations inside Israel or from neighboring countries, instead of global terrorism. It suits Habash's purposes now to pose as a supporter of Arafat. "We are part of the PLO," he told us. "That is why our goal is the goal of the PLO - self-determination for Palestinians, independence, having the right to establish our own state like any other people."

Habash told us he is still a committed Marxist. "I hope it will be a socialist country," he says of the Palestinian state. "I hope to see a Palestinian state with Jerusalem as its capital. And I hope to see a democratic parliament, a Palestinian parliament, holding its session in Jerusalem before I die."

He blames a surgeon who botched his brain surgery in Beirut in 1980.

ELLEN GOODMAN

Our life by Donald and Ivana

WASHINGTON - Until now I had repressed any bad feelings for Donald and Ivana Trump on the theory that their marriage had one major redeeming social virtue: By choosing each other, they had saved two other people.

But my excuse, like their marriage, is now history. In the past week, their trumpeted separation blasted everything else - the uprising of Eastern Europe, the fall of Mike Tyson and the resurrection of Nelson Mandela - off the top of the tabloids.

All this comes not a minute too soon for the lifestyle sections of the rich and famous. They don't have Leona to kick around anymore. Zsa Zsa has paid her dues to society. Hollywood is into babies and 12-step rehab programs. And the Washington scandals of the day are less about sex than S&Ls.

So it is that Americans who have never flown Trump, read Trump or played Trump, are talking and reading about Donald and Ivana as if they lived next door. Was she indeed becoming, gasp, another Leona? Was he unfaithful? Would the prenuptial agreement hold? Who would get custody of the Plaza?

Once again, in the global village, it is clear that celebrities - a category that now lumps Dan Rather, Sting, and the Mayflower Madam together - have become our neighbors. Americans may know more about them than they do about the folks on the next block. (Quick, name all the neighbors, their occupations, lipstick color, and infidelities. Time's up!)

Gossip was once about people we had actually met. Now it has gone upscale and national. Celebrities are the people we have in common. Talking about their behavior is a way of talking about ourselves, or at least our values.

Take the Trumps. (Okay, I'll say it...Please.) In the '80s, Donald Trump represented a boyish, open-faced, unabashed, go-for-it love of the Great More, the Eternal Higger. As a celebrity, he was living proof to Americans that an unexamined life was probably a prerequisite for making money.

To say that the Trumps had it all was something of an understatement, and understatement was not the Trump style. He was the one who renumbered the floors on his Tower to make it ten stories higher. Don and Ivana had over $1.7 billion, three children, 345 rooms in all their houses to call their own, and our attention. They weren't shy about it.

To some extent, Americans used the Trumps to air their ambivalence about wealth in a country in which everybody calls themselves middle class. To some, Donald was, as Ivana said before the split, "the people's billionaire." To others, he was, as Spy magazine wrote, "the short-fingered vulgarian."

As for the Missus, some saw Ivana as a poor girl from Czechoslovakia who found love, marriage and money in America. Others saw her as the rich lady who considered herself thrifty because she bought $3000 designer dresses wholesale.

Either way, in a 50-room apartment high above Fifth Avenue, the Trumps seemed wholly removed from the more pedestrian problems of life. As celebrities, they got to glitter and the rest of us got to debate the cost and value of the glitter.

Now they get to suffer, thereby fulfilling the great American hope that money can't buy happiness. Under the guise of gossip, we can watch the celebrated split like we watched their celebrated lives - at a safe distance. The Trumps now become a glitzy text for daily commentary on the way less pricey partnerships unravel.

There are already some classic divorce scenarios. Ivana, the self-described "European wife," once happily accepted "a salary of $1 a year and all the dresses she could buy" from Donald. Now she says that a $20 million agreement isn't enough.

Donald, a proud husband once, put Ivana in charge of the Plaza because she was "rock-strong and solid." Now he lets friends suggest that she did little but pick out wallpaper.

Add a lot of zeros to the checkbook and this sounds like any marital partnership unraveling, any couple you know revising the story of their marriage with hourly bulletins. Take away the public relations men and the lawyers and it sounds like our friends pushing us to choose between the Bride's Side or the Groom's Side.

Of course, the question this time is whether it's more dreadful to be married to a woman who has her carpet vacuumed before she steps into the room? Or worse to be hooked up to a man whose social outlook is, "Even if the world goes to hell in a handbasket, I won't lose a penny?" Donald Trump once described his work style this way, "Boom - like a cobra." In this celeb match, we are asked to choose between the mongoose or the cobra.

Gossip was once about people we had actually met. Now it has gone upscale and national.

"YOUR HONOR, THIS IS PRESIDENT REAGAN'S TESTIMONY."

very disturbed that he would involve himself in something like this. In all other ways he was a good employee." Fisher's duty was to maintain sports playing fields.

"I feel we've done the right thing," Boothe said. "I feel the trust we have as employees working here on campus was violated in an unappealing fashion. This is the right thing to do because of the choice Mr. Fisher made (to allegedly sell cocaine)." Boothe said school superintendent Robert Hughes supported the investigation and arrested 100 percent.

It was Wagner who in early January brought unconfirmed reports to Boothe that Fisher might be involved in selling cocaine in his own Sanford community, Boothe said. Boothe said he discussed the problem with Wagner and they agreed the allegations must be investigated. Boothe said that so far no other members of the school staff or students have been implicated in the drug activity at the school. Boothe said questions are still being asked to determine if the school is now clear of the problem.

According to Fisher's arrest record, he sold 6.1 grams of cocaine to the agent in two transactions on Jan. 18 at the school. On Jan. 22, Fisher allegedly sold 10 more grams to the agent at the school and on Jan. 25 the agent said he bought 28 grams of cocaine from Fisher at the school. CCIB paid a total of $4,100 for the cocaine.

to the main school building. Also, he pointed out that a portable classroom does not have the expected 50-year lifespan of a traditional school building.

"Spending money on portable classrooms is not a wise investment in the future," Hughes said.

Hughes also defended the board's 18-month implementation plan for the modified school calendar pilot program (year-round school) saying that it was needed to study the effects on all involved. Too many times, in other districts, such a plan entered into hastily, failed.

"It needs to be planned," he said. "It's more than just putting more students in a building."

Attention last night also was focused on the proposed construction in Sanford of a new $17 million administrative facility.

Stelling suggested, and was supported by a viewer who called from Winter Springs, that the district might save money by purchasing an existing building rather than building a new one. He added that the amenities might be too "plush" to have such a high price tag. In much-larger Orange County, the caller said, their new school headquarters cost $13 million.

"The $17 million figure is just an estimate," Hughes said. "We do not know for sure what it will cost to build that building."

The $31 million high technology package (computers) outlined by bond proponents was another sticking point for the opponents.

"Why are we putting money into $20,000 computer systems that will be obsolete in a few years? Why do we need satellite dishes at all the schools?" Stelling asked.

Hughes pointed out the need to keep students up-to-date on all the technologies available today, saying that those skills were essential to success in today's world.

"If we are going to keep ahead of the game," Hughes said, "we need to keep up with the technology."

While his opponent said the district already had too many computers, Hughes pointed out that most of the surrounding counties were already ahead of Seminole in the computer to student ratio.

The overcrowding situation in Seminole County had reached crisis proportions, Hughes said.

"If the bond issue does not pass on Feb. 27," Hughes said, "the district will only be able to build two elementary schools, those will not open until the middle of the 1991-92 school year. We will have to go to double sessions and there will be inadequate middle school housing."

Questions from the audience at Lake Mary High School and from viewers of the CableVision of Central Florida live broadcast went over many of the same points made by the speakers.

The two hour debate session will be rebroadcast this evening from 6 to 8 p.m. on Storer Cable Channel 22 and again on Monday from noon to 2 p.m. on the same channel.

rines and surface ships, were meandering up and down the coast, she said, and are probably nothing more than routine surveillance checks.

"They know exactly when we see them," she said. "It's no secret."

Air Guard officials said the flights off the Florida coast are nothing new, and are not surprising. The Soviet Bears have been flying over the east coast for years, flying from Cuba on various observation missions or on their way to or from the Soviet Union.

The Florida Air Guard observed Soviet Bears dropping sonar buoys 300 miles off the Florida coast in 1987, and in 1982 the bombers were seen snooping around during the sea trials of the USS Vinson, an aircraft carrier being tested 42 miles off the coast of Jacksonville.

there was a 90 percent chance of rain throughout the day. Winds will blow at about 20 mph from the southwest with higher gusts coming from the west. Highs will be only in the low 70s.

The rain will keep coming, he said. At 9 a.m., there had already been 2.3 inches of rain in the past 24 hours. According to the Central Florida Research Center in Sanford, the city received 1.03 inches of rain as of 9 a.m.

Things will look up tonight with gradual clearing. "I can't be sure the skies will be clear by morning," Martin said, "but there should be gradual clearing throughout the day."

parents, along with a smattering of district employees and representatives of both proponent and opposition groups. Most seemed attentive to the speakers, though one audience member dozed through most of the event.

The debate moderator, former Lake Mary City Commissioner Randy Morris, had asked that there be no outward signs of approval or disapproval shown to either speaker and the audience remained quiet until the debate was adjourned a little after 10 p.m. Several supporters of the bond cheered silently in the last row as Hughes made his points.

In addition to those who had braved the weather, there was a potential audience of 170,000 subscribers to CableVision of Central Florida's public access channel 32, although a Cable spokesperson was unable to estimate viewership. The broadcast began 15 minutes late, apparently because of transmission difficulties.

Following a 20-minute presentation and four-minute rebuttal by each speaker, the audience, both in the auditorium and at home, were permitted to submit questions to a screening panel which would make sure the questions were "balanced".

About a quarter of the live audience left following opening remarks, some saying they had already made their decisions and didn't need to hear more, others saying they were bored with the proceedings.

Carol Saporito and her daughter Michelle, a senior at Oviedo High School, were among the first out the door.

"I thought the debate was well done," Carol said. "I'm not in favor of the bond and that (the debate) did nothing to change my mind."

Both mother and daughter had complaints about the district's management of the money it has already, citing a lack of books for upper level courses, such as texts for Michelle's Spanish III and Spanish IV classes.

"It's awful," she said.

Keylor Chan, whose son is a junior at Lake Mary High School, said that he was opposed to the proposed bond issue also. "They just have not done enough study on this," he said, rushing from the room. "They're giving us estimates...like on the administration building. I don't want estimates. I want to vote on exact figures."

Some people were less sure of their convictions as they left the room.

"When I came, I was against this," said Cheryl Harkey, an Orange County school teacher who lives in Seminole County. "Now I have more things I need to think about."

Harkey said she thought the campaign was getting too emotional. "Parents and voters need to be more educated and less emotional," she said.

Bob Stieker, whose three children all have attended Seminole County schools, said that he is in favor of the bond to maintain and improve the quality of education in the district. He added he "knows there is going to be waste in any governmental agency" because that is the nature of a democratic bureaucracy.

"I am only interested in what is best for the educational system," he said.

WORLD BRIEFS

Ortega predicts free and fair election

MANAGUA, Nicaragua - President Daniel Ortega, saying it was time to "put away the olive green" and rebuild, predicted a free and fair vote in Sunday's national elections would lead to normalizing relations with the United States.

Baker sees normal Nicaragua ties

WASHINGTON - Secretary of State James Baker says the United States would be prepared to recognize a Nicaraguan government, including a Sandinista regime, that fairly wins Sunday's national elections.

Cheney warns on Asia troop cuts

TOKYO - U.S. Defense Secretary Dick Cheney cautioned Congress today against demanding more than a 10 percent U.S. troop reduction in Japan and neighboring countries, saying drastic cuts could spark regional arms races and possibly war.

"If we were to withdraw our forward-deployed forces from the Asia-Pacific region, a vacuum would quickly develop," Cheney told reporters at the Japan National Press Club.

Cheney, winding up a two-week visit to South Korea, the Philippines and Japan, will return to Washington Saturday.

NATIONAL BRIEFS

Minnesota senator faces investigation

WASHINGTON - The Senate Ethics Committee has voted to investigate five allegations against Sen. David Durenberger, R-Minn., after finding there was "substantial cause" to believe violations may have occurred in connection with compensation for books he has written.

"This has been a painful experience for me," Durenberger said. "It was never my intent to circumvent Senate rules for my own benefit. I made every effort to seek opinion from the appropriate bodies and from legal counsel. And I believed that I had fully disclosed all income received under my financial agreements. But as I've told my constituents, I made mistakes and had lapses in judgment on these matters and I take full responsibility for them," he said.

B-2 stealth bomber runs into trouble

WASHINGTON - Work on the B-2 stealth bomber should be slowed to see if testing reveals any expensive flaws, a senior congressional official said, and the program will cost more than the $70 billion now advertised.

Frank Conahan, in charge of national security programs for the General Accounting Office, the investigative arm of Congress, also said Thursday that cost estimates for the plane's electronic defenses have tripled in three years because of inflation, price changes, manufacturing problems and design changes.

From United Press International reports

57,000 new AIDS cases expected

United Press International

ATLANTA - The United States has "yet to turn the corner on the AIDS problem," with up to 57,000 new cases expected this year and nearly a half-million new cases possible by the end of 1993, federal officials said.

New data indicate an average of more than 80,000 people are becoming infected each year with the AIDS-causing human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), and there are now about 1 million HIV-infected individuals in the United States, the national Centers for Disease Control said Thursday.

Dr. James Curran, who heads the CDC's AIDS task force, said the finding that new HIV infections are occurring at a greater rate than active cases of AIDS shows that "we have yet to turn the corner on the AIDS problem. There is no premature declaration of victory here."

The new projections of HIV infection and AIDS cases were formulated at a recent workshop on AIDS sponsored by the CDC.

Reagan insists he did not know key Contra facts

United Press International

WASHINGTON - Former President Ronald Reagan insisted in sworn testimony he still did not know money from arms sales to Iran was illegally diverted to the Nicaraguan Contra rebels and repeatedly said he could not recall key events from the worst scandal of his administration.

Reagan, in 293 pages of testimony taken last week for the trial of former national security adviser John Poindexter and released Thursday, did not waver from the position he has adopted since the Iran-Contra scandal broke in 1986.

At least 124 times Reagan said he did not remember various meetings or other aspects of the scandal and he stressed that even to this day he was unaware of the crux of the affair: that profits from secret arms sales to Iran were funneled to the Contra rebels at a time when Congress had prohibited direct U.S. aid to them.

He said he could not remember whether he asked aides to withhold information from Congress, but insisted that he did not order Poindexter to lie to lawmakers investigating the scandal.

IN BRIEF

BASKETBALL

Bucks surge late past Mavericks

The Milwaukee Bucks used defense and a fourth-quarter scoring spree Thursday night to end Dallas' five-game winning streak.

Trailing 90-86 with under six minutes left Thursday, the Bucks outscored the Mavericks 23-7, gaining a 109-97 victory in Milwaukee.

"The defense again was a big factor," Milwaukee Coach Del Harris said of his team, which held Dallas without a field goal for 7:56 of the fourth quarter.

Elsewhere in the NBA, New York defeated Washington 119-110, Phoenix beat Sacramento 104-98 and Utah routed the Los Angeles Clippers 116-102.

CASSELBERRY — Jason White, Jake Garman and Ryan Rogers each won in singles and doubles Thursday to aid Lake Mary in its 7-0 win over Lake Howell at Red Bug Park.

White won his match at No. 1 singles, defeated Jon Floyd 8-0. At No. 2 singles, Rogers dropped Roger Allin 8-1 while Garman def Anthony Cabrera 8-3 at No. 3 singles.

White and Garman then teamed up to defeat Brian Best and Tim Connor at No. 1 doubles while Rogers and Keylor Chan beat David Robinson and Anthony Roy at No. 2 doubles.

Also posting wins for the Rams Thursday were Jack Davis (who beat Grant Bowden 8-1 at No. 4 singles) and Richard Wrinman (an 8-6 winner over Mike Malyas at No. 5 singles).

Now 4-0 in dual meet competition, Lake Mary will return to action next Tuesday at home against Matland in a 3:30 p.m. match.

YOUTH FOOTBALL

League elections scheduled

The Sanford Youth Football Association will elect its officers for the 1990 season during a meeting scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday in the Goldsboro Elementary School auditorium.

All interested individuals are invited to attend. For information call 321-2012.

TRACK AND FIELD

Lake Howell hosts invitational

Even though the 1990 high school track season is little more than two weeks old, Lake Howell High School will host its second girls' meet of the season on Saturday.

Two weeks ago, it was the Lake Howell Open. Tomorrow, some 12 to 14 teams including Lake Mary, Lyman, Lake Brantley and DeLand, will compete in the Lake Howell Invitational.

After a coaches' meeting at 9:30 a.m., competition will begin with the field events at 10 a.m. There will be no preliminaries, which means all the running events will be run as finals while competitors in the field events will get just four attempts.

At noon, the running events will begin. According to Lake Howell coach Tom Hammon, the meet will be scored under the new system proposed by the State Track Committee, which awards points through eighth place.

Meanwhile, the Lake Howell, Lyman and Lake Mary boys will be competing at the Dr. Phillips Relays on Saturday. The Lake Brantley boys will be at a meet in Deltona.

Patriots open with rout of Tribe

SANFORD — Michelle Davis and Nicole Rathbun both were 3-for-4 Thursday as Lake Brantley opened its softball season with an 18-1 pounding of Seminole at Fort Mellon Park. The game was stopped after six innings due to the 15-run rule.

"I'm proud of the girls," said Seminole coach Greg Register. "They were up the whole game. Their attitude was great. They were hitting the ball down but Lake Brantley just made good plays. They earned it, no doubt."

Chris Rabaja and Kristi Wilson were both 2-for-4 for the 1-0 Patriots. For the 3-1 Seminoles, Andrea Ruffin and Carey Dryden were both 1-for-2. Also, Latrece Turner had an outstanding defensive game for the Seminole in the outfield.

Lamb slams door on Seminole in tournament finals

From staff reports

SANFORD — Relief pitcher Chuck Lamb came in and worked out of a one-out, bases-loaded jam in the sixth inning to save Lyman's 5-4 win over Seminole in the championship game of the Seminole Invitational baseball tournament Thursday night at Sanford Stadium.

Lyman improves to 4-1 with the win while Seminole falls to 2-4.

The Tribe had taken a 3-0 lead by scoring three times in the bottom of the third inning, only to see Lyman tie the score with a three-run outburst in the top of the fourth. Seminole retook the lead with a run in the bottom of the fourth, but Lyman went ahead to stay with two runs in the sixth.

Lyman's game-winning rally started when Kevin Scott singled with one out and stole second. Jump and Talbot then drew walks to load the bases before Kevin Waincoat hit a two-run single, scoring Scott and Jump.

Seminole had a great opportunity to tie the game when it loaded the bases in the bottom of the sixth with one out. Anthony Roberts walked and Mike Senechek singled before Harvey Clinger advanced them with a sacrifice bunt. When Jeff Bergman drew a walk to load the bases, Lyman turned the game over to Lamb.

In he came and struck out the first batter he faced, then got the next to bounce into an inning-ending fielder's choice.

Talbot and Waincoat were both 2-for-3 for Lyman while teammates Mark Pielcones and Scott were both 2-for-4. Erskine Howard was 3-for-5 for Seminole, the other Tribe hits coming from Clinger and Bergman.

Lyman will return to action on Monday in its first home game of the season — and the first at its new on-campus baseball field — against DeLand at 7 p.m. Seminole plays Kissimmee-Gateway on Tuesday at 6 p.m. at Osceola County Stadium, then returns to Sanford Stadium next Wednesday for a 7 p.m. game against Lake Howell.

Surprise, surprise

Top-seeded Rams upset by 'Hounds

By DEAN SMITH

LAKE MARY — Lyman used a patient offense to perfection as the No. 8-seeded Greyhounds upset the No. 1-seeded Lake Mary Rams 49-42 in quarterfinal action of the 4A-District 9 boys' basketball tournament at Lake Mary Thursday night.

Now 6-17, Lyman moves on to Lake Weir and the semifinals, where it will take on DeLand, which advanced with a 75-64 conquest of Lake Howell. The other semifinal has Oviedo taking on Spruce Creek. The Lions eliminated Lake Brantley 73-60 for Coach Dale Phillips' 250th career win while the Creek ousted Matland.

"We did a real good job of handling the ball in our halfcourt offense," said Greyhound coach Norm Ready. "We didn't tell the kids to hold the ball, but we did tell them not to take any shots except layups. It allowed us to cut our turnovers to almost none. We only had six turnovers and two of those were five-second closely guarded calls."

The most impressive of the 'Hounds was senior forward, Octavius Holliday who scored a game-high 28 points.

"I was impressed with him, too," said Ready. "He had been a 20-plus point-per-game scorer on the freshman and junior varsity teams, but as a junior he just couldn't score. For some reason he wasn't using his quickness or ball-handling abilities, so we changed our half court offense to take better advantage of Octavius' and Todd Patterson's abilities."

A stunned Lake Mary coach Willie Richardson was still searching for answers for the loss long after the game.

"This may stay with me 'till next month," said Richardson. "I knew we would be flat, but I had no idea it would affect us like this. We had the shots we wanted but didn't score. And we let them take rebounds right out of our hands."

"We just went through the motions in the first half and that's not like us. We normally get a spark."

Going into this week's 4A-District 9 tournament, Lyman coach Norm Ready made some slight alterations in the Greyhound attack to try and better utilize the skills of Octavius Holliday (No. 40, left) and Todd Patterson. The changes paid dividends immediately as the eight-seeded 'Hounds upset No. 1-seed Lake Mary on Thursday night.

Creative Invasion clinches tie in Thursday Night Softball

By DEAN SMITH
 Herald correspondent

SANFORD — Two streaks came to an end in Sanford Recreation Department Thursday Night Softball League action as Creative Invasion ended a one-game losing streak and Crazy Wings ended a one-game winning streak at Chase Park.

Creative Invasion bounced back from last week's loss to clinch at least a tie for the championship with a 12-7 triumph over the Wrecking Crew while Tem Dale Company moved into second place by hammering Crazy Wings 14-2.

With two weeks left in the regular season, Creative Invasion is 6-1, Tem Dale 4-3, Wrecking Crew 3-4 and Crazy Wings 1-6. Next week, Wrecking Crew tackles Tem Dale at 6:30 p.m. and Crazy Wings looks to stop Creative Invasion at 7:30 p.m.

The game between Creative Invasion and Wrecking Crew was not as close as the score indicates as Invasion was up 8-2 after three innings of play and 11-4 in the sixth before the Crew scored three runs to keep it respectable.

Doing the damage for Invasion were winning pitcher Blake Murray (double, two singles, three runs scored), Kirk Allen (double, single, three runs scored), Jerry Dibartolo (double, single) and Kyle Brubaker (two singles, two runs scored).

Other contributors included Joe Ferrpes and Ron Lasage (two singles and one run scored each), Steve Noble and Cliff Partlow (one single and one run scored each) and Brian Hartman (single).

Ronnie Wirth (double, two singles, two runs scored), Steve Pridgen (double, single, run scored), Heath Short (two singles, run scored), Tony Cox (two singles), Chip Campbell (home run, run scored), Steve Long (triple, run scored), Steve Cooper (double), Bill Polatty (single, run scored) and Bill Martino (single).

Crazy Wings scored the first run in the second game but Tem Dale scored the next 14 as Tem Dale cruised to its second straight win and third in its last four starts.

Contributing to the 20-hit Tem Dale onslaught were Steve Hargas (home run, two singles, two runs scored), Terrell Ervin (three singles, two runs scored), Sandy Hovis (three singles), Jay Johnson (triple, single, two runs scored) and Jim Sheffield (double, single, two runs scored).

Underdogs pick up victories in Wednesday Night Softball action

By DEAN SMITH
Herald correspondent

SANFORD - It was "Underdog Night" in the Sanford Recreation Department Wednesday Night Softball League this week as RMC picked up its first win of the season and the Sanford Police Benevolent Association got its second triumph.

RMC knocked Harecar Aluminum Products out of a share of the league lead with a 18-12 victory while SPBA handed Whiskey River an 8-5 setback. The Killer Bees are back in first place by themselves at 4-1, while Harecar falls to 4-2. Whiskey River is third at 3-3, SPBA 2-3 and RMC 1-5.

Next week, SPBA and RMC square off at 6:30 p.m. with Harecar and the Killer Bees doing battle at 7:30 p.m. Whiskey River has the week off.

Harecar jumped to a 5-1 lead after the first inning and appeared headed for its fifth victory of the season. But RMC came up with four runs in the second to tie the score.

After this the two teams swapped the lead back and forth until Harecar went up 11-10 entering the seventh and final inning. But RMC staked claim to the victory when it came up with six runs on six hits capped off by Mike D'Amico's three-run home run.

Harecar came back to score one run and had two more on base with one out, but RMC retired the last two men to end the game.

Leading the 22-hit attack for RMC were Mike D'Amico (home run, three doubles, three runs scored), Delton McCormick (two doubles, single, three runs scored), Tom Tews (double, two singles, two runs scored), Randy Covell (double, two singles) and James Ledford (double, single, two runs scored).

Other contributors included Benito Aviles and Mark Morden (two singles and one run scored each), John D'Amico (home run, two runs scored) and Bob Keeney and Ron Dexter (one single and one run scored each).

Doing the damage for Harecar were Brian Burke (three singles, two runs scored), Bill Rosece (three singles, run scored), Jim Arnold (double, single, four runs scored), Allen De Haal (two singles, two runs scored), Mark Steffen (home run, run scored), Jack Eltonhead (triple, run scored), John Adams (single, run scored) and Jerry Monti (single).

In the second game, Whiskey River led 5-4 entering the bottom of the sixth inning as it tried to move into a tie with Harecar for second place, one game behind the Killer Bees. But SPBA spoiled all that as it exploded for four runs on six hits, then held on for the victory.

Pacing the SPBA attack were Steve Harriett (three singles), Bob Fisher (two singles, two runs scored), Mitch Tindel (single, two runs scored), Ned Golden, Tom Hastings and Mike Ansley (one single and one run scored each), Guy Brewster, Tony Esoff, Ben Hartner and Darrell Brewer (one single each) and David Delrosso (run scored).

Providing the offense for Whiskey River were James Garner (double, two singles, run scored), Trey Brasser (two doubles, run scored), Johnny Haddock (two singles, run scored), Andy Dickens (two singles), Frank Stagg (double, run scored), Scott Normadin (single, run scored) and Mike Rutundo, A.W. Imes, Bobby Garner and Jimmy Jenkins (one single each).

Upset

from our defense at some point in the game but that didn't happen tonight. We just stood around and reached and got in foul trouble. That wasn't the real Lake Mary team out there tonight. But I guess you have to expect that from high school kids. It's been a good year, though."

Holiday outscored the Rams 10-9 himself in the first half as the Greyhounds completely dominated play and led 23-9 at the intermission. Lake Mary also found itself in foul trouble as starting guards Jason Hamelin and Mike Merthie left the game with three personals each. Also in foul difficulty was forward Jaimon Perry with two.

Lake Mary tried to get back in the game in the third period and outscored the Greyhounds 11-6 to close the gap to nine, 29-20. The Rams also outscored Lyman in the fourth quarter, but by just two points, 22-20, as the Greyhounds went back inside to Holiday, who hit six field goals and both his free throw attempts in the final eight minutes.

Lyman only had three other players beside Holiday score. Patterson was in double figures with 11 while Greg Gooch and Cedric Bouey added six and four points, respectively.

For Lake Mary, Merthie was the only player in double figures with 17, including three three-pointers. Hamelin and Perry helped out with eight and seven. Senior center Chris Davidson, who has been out with a pulled calf muscle, tried to play but was ineffective and scored just three points.

When asked about his chances the rest of the tournament, Ready was relatively confident.

"We were close in a lot of games early in the season but just couldn't seem to get over the hump," explained Ready. "Then the team seemed to lose confidence in itself and started finding ways to lose. Now I have their confidence, so there's no telling what we might do."

the season, to tonight's semifinal round against host Osceola (which held off St. Cloud 85-78 on Thursday). Game time is set for 8:00 p.m.

This evening's other semifinal game, set for 6 p.m., will match top-seed Jones against Gateway. Gateway defeated Edgewater 72-71 Thursday while Jones had a bye. The winners will play for the championship Saturday at 8 p.m.

"We played well except for the start of the third quarter, when we got lazy and careless with the ball," said Seminole coach Greg Robinson. "The only disappointment for me in the game was that we had 13 turnovers and Leesburg really wasn't putting any pressure on us. But overall, we played very well."

Despite leading 19-10 after the first quarter, Robinson felt the turning point of the game came in the second quarter when Wiggins and Ben Hall came in off the bench. Hall scored all seven of his points and grabbed four rebounds and blocked one shot while Wiggins picked up four of his 17.

The spark by Hall and Wiggins allowed Seminole to take a 42-27 lead into halftime. Leesburg tried to get back into the game at the start of the second half, scoring the first two buckets to cut the lead to 11. But Brandon Cash nailed two three-pointers to push the lead back to 17.

Seminole dominated the backboards, out-rebounding Leesburg 34-26. Wiggins led the way with eight. Moore and Hall helped out with seven and six, respectively. Seminole also got good balance in the assists column as Bernard Eady and J.J. Wiggins dished out six each while Cash and Sam Ayres handed out four each.

For the 15-15 Leesburg Yellow Jackets, 8-5 senior center Quantrel Allison was the big man with 15 points and seven rebounds.

At best, coaching is a precise profession that is a constant mental, emotional and physical drain. On Thursday night at Lake Mary High School, Lake Mary's Willie Richardson (left) and Lyman's Norm Ready (right) needed all their experience as their teams met in the 4A-District 9 boys' basketball tournament. Ready won this round as his eight-seeded Greyhounds upset the No. 1-seeded Rams.

Stith, Virginia Cavaliers beat clock, Georgia Tech

United Press International

Virginia Coach Terry Holland believes the clock ran out at a fortunate time Thursday night for his Cavaliers.

Bryant Stith's six-foot jumper at the buzzer lifted the Cavaliers to a 73-71 Atlantic Coast Conference upset over No. 6 Georgia Tech in a game that was close throughout, featuring 14 ties and 21 lead changes.

"It looked like it was going to go on another 40 minutes before anyone got enough of a lead to win the game," Holland said.

With the game tied 71-71 and one second remaining, Stith took an inbounds pass from John Crotty and hit his game-winning basket.

"Of course the play into Bryant was one of the big plays of our season," Holland said.

The game was tied 37-37 at halftime, but the Cavaliers built a 64-59 lead when Crotty hit a three-pointer with 7:03 left. The Yellow Jackets fought back to tie the game 66-66 when Scott hit a three-pointer with 3:15 left.

Crotty gave Virginia a 71-68 lead with 1:11 left before Oliver hit a three-pointer to tie the game 71-71 with 42 seconds remaining.

"That was a whale of a ballgame," Holland said. "Even at the half and in the second half, golly gee, neither team would give up. I don't know what the offensive efficiency was, but it seemed like they scored every time they had the basketball. Luckily, we were doing the same thing."

Virginia, 16-8 and 5-6 in the conference, also received 17 points from Kenny Turner. Crotty wound up with 14 points and a game-high 10 assists.

Georgia Tech, 19-5 and 7-5 in the ACC, was paced by Brian Oliver with 23 points, while freshman Kenny Anderson added 21. Dennis Scott, who has averaged 28 points per game, hit only 3 of 16 shots from the floor and was held to 11 points.

"We never got in sync," Georgia Tech Coach Bobby Cremins said. "Virginia just gets us out of sync. We made some great runs, but we just couldn't get over the hump."

Orangewood also earns a victory in tonight's 8 p.m. semifinal. The other semifinal matches the two teams that have played for the district title the last two years, Wymore Tech and Trinity Prep.

Both teams got off to a slow start with Orangewood holding an 8-5 lead after one period of play. Mount Dora Bible won the second quarter 16-14 to close the gap to one point, 22-21, at the half.

With leading scorer Colby Arrow under the weather with a case of tonsillitis, the Rams went inside to their big man, 6-8 senior Chris Winkler. Winkler responded by hitting 10-of-10 from the floor in the second half as Orangewood extended its lead and cruised to the 10-point victory.

While Orangewood went inside for its scoring, Mount Dora Bible relied heavily on the three-point shot for its offense as eight of their 21 field goals came from long distance.

The difference between going into the paint and jump shooting could also be seen from the free throw line as Mount Dora was just 2-for-2 while Orangewood was 16-for-21.

Winkler hit 13-of-17 field goal attempts for the game on his way to a game-high 27 points. He was also a terror on the boards with 15 rebounds. Helping out offensively were Daniel Parke and Rob Wilson with 10 points each. Their contribution was needed as Arrow was held to only five points.

Leading the way for Mount Dora Bible was Brian McCullen, who nailed five three-pointers in his 17-point effort. Also in double figures was Brian Bouchard with 13. Justin Engle also pitched with two treys for six points.

Foot surgery option needs second opinion

DEAR DR. GOTT: I was told by a podiatrist I need surgery to remove part of the metatarsal head pressing on the ball of my foot. This advice was given without benefit of X-rays. Is there a possibility that I can wear pads to cushion the foot rather than having surgery? Will I be able to move my toes and foot normally if I have the surgery? I'm confused.

DEAR READER: On occasion, the bones of the foot become painful because of an outgrowth of calcium deposits. Such deposits sometimes press on sensitive structures or act like a stone in the shoe to cause pain. Under these circumstances, doctors attempt to pad the tender area or, in more severe cases, to remove part of the offending bone.

I'm surprised your podiatrist suggested surgery without first trying an orthotic sole insert. Podiatrists are usually quite skilled at designing and fitting these inserts, which are cheaper than surgery and often relieve symptoms. Ask the podiatrist about this approach. If he or she insists on an operation, I suggest you obtain a second opinion from an orthopedic surgeon.

When properly performed, partial removal of the metatarsal head should not permanently affect foot or toe movement. However, in my opinion, the operation should not be attempted until other options have been exhausted.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Our pharmacist told us that a patch applied to one's chest would enable us to kick the nicotine habit. Is this available on the U.S. market yet? We've tried Nicorette gum, hypnosis, acupuncture and Smoke Enders without success.

DEAR READER: Nicotine addiction can be a devilish problem to lick. The primary factor in recovery seems to be a commitment to stop smoking. Once a person has decided to give up tobacco, various aids and support groups — such as the ones you mention — are available.

Recently, Catapres (clonidine), a prescription anti-hypertension drug marketed in pill and patch form — was found to reduce nicotine craving in tobacco addicts. In particular, the patch seems to help during the first few days of withdrawal. No one knows the mechanism for this action. However, it should be used in conjunction with other smoking-cessation techniques, such as a support group. In addition, the patch can only be prescribed by a physician because its blood-pressure-lowering effects must be monitored.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Defense is the hardest part of the game because each defender has to use his imagination to picture what declarer is likely to have and then what partner needs to have in order for the defenders to take the required number of tricks. In today's hand, I wonder how many of us would have known that the obvious approach was wrong. East took the queen and king of hearts, then switched to the king of spades. That is normal defensive play. But it was also normal for declarer to win the spade ace, play Q-J of diamonds, and then cash A-K of clubs and ruff a club with the ace. Declarer was able to get to dummy with the king of diamonds and throw his remaining losers away on the good clubs. East should realize that South definitely has the ace of spades, and East should further realize that the clubs will inexorably become good by ruffing if South somehow has three small clubs, that is good luck for the defenders, and the king of diamonds will be a likely entry to run those clubs. The key to the defense is in preventing declarer from enjoying the club tricks. Since the two of hearts lead showed no more than four hearts, East can reduce dummy's diamond length. He simply plays a third round of hearts. Declarer is forced to ruff in dummy, and now setting up the clubs becomes an exercise in futility, since West holds three diamonds and will have one left with which to ruff.

The year ahead could be an exceptionally fortunate one for you both socially and materially. Your destiny is in your own hands, so make of it.

Anchors aweigh, mates! 130 antique boats in Mount Dora show

By SANDRA BOUCHANINE
People editor

MOUNT DORA — As many as 130 owners of antique and classic boats are expected in Mount Dora the last weekend in March for the third annual Mount Dora Antique Boat Festival.

And sponsors say it promises to be one of the finest shows of its kind in the country. Participants for this year's show are slightly more than last, according to Al Liveright, executive vice president of the Mount Dora Chamber of Commerce Inc. The chamber, Sunnyland Chapter of the Antique and Classic Boat Society and the Mount Dora Yacht Club are co-sponsors of the event.

The exhibitors will begin arriving with their wooden-hull boats, Thursday, March 29, from all parts of the U.S. and from Canada. Some of these vessels (antique boats) date back to before World War II. This is the distinction between a classic and antique wooden-hull boat, according to Liveright.

Activities will peak on Saturday, March 31, when there will be boat exhibits, a nautical flea market, and a paddle carving exhibit. The fun will continue through Sunday, April 1.

Most of the people who participate in the show are antique and classic boat buffs who also like to take the boats out on the water.

"They're here to have a good weekend and to take the boats out as well as display them," Liveright said.

The boat exhibits, flea market and carving exhibit will be set up in the Palm Island parking lot, adjacent to the lakefront at Lake Dora, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Sunday. There will also be a few antique cars on display, according to Liveright.

Palm Island, a park within walking distance of downtown Mount Dora, is a nature preserve featuring the longest boardwalk bordering a lake in the state of Florida, according to information sent from the Mount Dora Chamber of Commerce.

Other events Saturday include a fly-by or parade of 19-foot Chris-Craft runabout boats at 4 p.m., followed by a mixed parade of boats.

"It's not a race," Liveright clarified.

Presentations during the day will give the history and engineering evolution of the Chris-Craft boats.

An offshore church service is planned for 10 a.m., Sunday given by the Rev. John DeSousa who conducts the service in a boat. Awards will be presented in Gilbert Park at 2 p.m.

A Dixieland band will provide live entertainment both days. Food concessions will operate in the park area.

Boaters interested in more information may write the Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 198, Mount Dora or phone (904) 383-2165.

Registration fee is $27.50; $32.50 after March 12.

Woman's Navy pen pal becomes spouse

DEAR ABBY: Back in December of 1988, I participated in Operation Dear Abby when I sent a Christmas card along with a request for a pen pal to the aircraft carrier USS Nimitz. On Dec. 29, I received a wonderful letter from Machinist Mate First Class John McLeese of Decatur, Mich.

We corresponded for six months, then arranged to meet in June while he was on leave. It was love at first sight! We spent two wonderful days together and continued to keep in touch.

We were married on Jan. 3, 1990, in his hometown of Decatur, in the First Presbyterian Church where his own parents had been married.

I never expected to get a reply to my first letter, because I stated up front that I was in my 30s, divorced and had two young sons — so if it can happen to me, it can happen to anyone. I had to write to share the wonderful news because without "Operation Dear Abby," we never would have met. God bless you, Abby.

CHARLENE MCLEESE,
FRESNO, CALIF.

DEAR CHARLENE: Your letter made my day. May you and John have a lifetime of happiness together.

DEAR ABBY: As I look at the faces of my crew members as I walk about the ship these days, I see lots of smiles. One reason is unquestionably the 30,000 Christmas cards, letters and packages these young men re-

FROM THE PULPIT

Strive to walk in perfect peace

By JAMES F. BROWN
Guest columnist

SANFORD — We seem to be living in a world that is governed by anxiety, worry and fear. What will tomorrow bring, why can't I get that promotion I deserve, what foods are safe to eat and on and on. And the tragic fact is that we seem to worry more about the things we have no control or power over. We expend much energy and accomplish nothing by our worrying. Actually we find ourselves getting deeper and deeper into the pit of despair. Worry is counterproductive. It saps the strength out of us and if we continue in our worry mode it will cause us to lose all hope.

Many of us carry a heavy burden; the tragedy of carrying that burden is unnecessary. 1 Peter 5:7 "Cast all your care on him for he careth for you." Mt. 11:28-29 "Come unto me all that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me, for I am meek and lowly of heart and you shall find rest unto your souls." When you and I do that in faith there is a release from the bondage of worry and the day seems brighter for our hope is restored.

But the question is how do we cast all of our cares on him? Phil. 4:6-7 "Be careful for nothing, but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God which passes all understanding shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus."

Praise God we now have peace, the worry is gone, the heaviness has vanished, but how do we maintain that peace? Phil. 4:8 "Finally brethren whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue and if there be any praise, think on these things." In other words, get your mind off the things of the world and on to the things of God. If we do this and obey His word we will have peace, not worry and fear. Today give all your cares and worries to Jesus and walk in that Peace of God that passes all understanding. For we know that once we have released it to Jesus then the battle is no longer ours but God's.

Finally in closing allow me to remind you of the words of Jesus found in John 14:27 "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you, not as the world giveth give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled neither let it be afraid."

I pray that we would all strive to walk in his perfect peace.

Rev. James F. Brown is the assistant chaplain at the Seminole County Correctional Facility.

James Osborne

National chief of Salvation Army to speak

From staff reports

SANFORD — James Osborne, National Commander for the Salvation Army, will speak at the Sanford Civic Center March 12 at 8:30 p.m. on "Fighting On."

The speech will be preceded by a dinner. Reservations are required and tickets are $25. Reservation deadline is March 8, and reservations can be had by calling 322-2642.

Osborne became national commander in 1989 after serving as commander of the Southern Territory. He is a third-generation Salvationist and was commissioned by the Salvation Army in 1947. He has been included in the Who's Who of Religion and has served on a number of national commissions, including the National Planning and Development Commission of which he was chairman for two terms.

Osborne has had field appointments in Nashville; Owensboro, Ky.; Chattanooga; and Miami. Previous staff positions include divisional secretary of the Kentucky-Tennessee division, general secretary of the North and South Carolina division, public relations secretary of Territorial Headquarters, and divisional commander of Maryland and Northern West Virginia Division.

Osborne has also served as chief secretary for the Western Territory. In Jan. 1984 he was appointed National Chief Secretary, and in 1986 as territorial commander of the Southern Territory.

The meal and speech is to benefit the area Salvation Army.

Is nature coming to an end?

I saw the first welcome sign of spring the other day. It was a steam shovel.

I do not usually wax lyrical over steam shovels as harbingers of spring. Maybe over the willow by the brook "slipping into her yellow dress." Maybe over robins that "stand as thick today as flakes of snow stood yesterday."

But not over steam shovels. This steam shovel, however, was different. It was tearing up the AstroTurf at the gigantic Ohio State University football stadium and helping to prepare the good earth for a new planting of real grass.

It was not only a sign of spring but a sign (if only symbolic) of a return to sanity.

For the last few decades we have been hard at work building an AstroTurf world. As Bill McKibben, the former New Yorker writer, says in his new book "The End of Nature," an AstroTurf world may have a God but "he can't speak through the grass or even be silent through it and let us hear."

We have become worshippers of the great god Dacron. "Our hope for years to come" is now placed in chemicals that will grow our food, provide our clothing and cure us of our ailments and keep us alive and healthy to age 100 and beyond.

But, if it hasn't already, all this will change our thinking about God. We may go on living as we are now but "there will be no one by our side, and nobody above us." God may be acting in many other ways but he will not be controlling the Earth. We will.

We will live in a world of our own making that will resemble nothing so much as one big O'Hare airport where the air will be stifling and every nerve raw and where the rain outside will no longer fall of its own accord but only "when the particular mix of chemicals we have injected into the air adds up to rain."

The family of raccoons, says McKibben, will be gone from around the garbage can ("loud shout huzzah," will chorus the clods in our midst) and the sound of frogs will no longer be heard in the land.

"I will feel a whole lot better when I hear the frogs," E.B. White once wrote after he had come back to his garden patch when the cold of one winter was past.

"We have taken a hammer to the most perfectly proportioned of sculptures.... We have built a greenhouse where once there bloomed a sweet and wild garden." That is McKibben searching for metaphors to explain what we have done to nature — not unthinkingly but thinking. This is the scandal and this the tragedy — that we have been on a binge, as McKibben says, and knew that the Earth couldn't support it.

His word for this willful destruction is "sad... infinitely sad."

Can one steam shovel, tearing up one small acre of AstroTurf so that we might again scatter the good seed on the ground — can this bring back all we have lost? No, but just perhaps it can recall us to our senses.

With the season of Lent, a time of introspection and penitence, the opening words of the old hymn, "Turn back, O Man, forswear thy foolish ways," are particularly appropriate for us.

As we move in this mood of remorse and righteous resolve ever closer to Easter, springtime's renewal of life in nature becomes for us sign and symbol of Easter's celebration of all life — including Earth's.

Methodists launch own war on drugs

United Press International

"We believe God is at work in all of this," said Bishop Jack Tuell, president of the United Methodist Council of Bishops. "We believe Bishop Felton May is called for this."

Tuell made his comments — and the church's commitment — in a three-hour ceremony marking an unprecedented event in the life of the Methodist Church: The setting aside of one of the church's top spiritual leaders to lead a unique anti-drug effort.

The service affirming May's task took place at Asbury United Methodist Church in Washington, D.C., just a short walk from the Lincoln Memorial, but an even shorter walk from the drug-infested neighborhoods that have given the nation's capital a reputation for being among the worst cities for drug-related murder and violence.

May said he brings no special expertise to the anti-drug task but he has had 30 years of experience in urban ministry.

Palm Beach bishop goes to Brooklyn diocese

United Press International

NEW YORK — Bishop Thomas Daily of Palm Beach, Fla., Tuesday was named the Roman Catholic bishop of Brooklyn by Pope John Paul II, replacing Bishop Francis Mugavero as head of the nation's fifth largest diocese.

The 62-year-old Daily led the diocese of Palm Beach since it was created in 1984 and has worked in a number of major Roman Catholic centers since his ordination in 1952.

"The many racial and ethnic groups that live here in this (Brooklyn) diocese are truly a microcosm of the church in the world," Daily said at an afternoon news conference.
