

18-Hole Playoff In 'Tense' Masters

Rain Threatens Baseball Opener

By United Press International
 President Kennedy, a tough football player of some repute, unlimbers his strong right arm for baseball today to help open a "new frontier" in the major leagues.

The President, who showed a live fastball last year in his first experience in a ceremony dating back to William Howard Taft, will throw out the first ball at the game between the Washington Senators and Detroit Tigers in the nation's capital.

Rain threatened to dampen, or possibly even to postpone the presidential opener. The forecast was for cloudy skies and a 50-50 chance of showers.

There also was an opening-day game scheduled at Cincinnati, where the Reds, 1961 National League champions, were pitted against the Philadelphia Phillies. Because Cincinnati was a charter franchise in 1876, the Reds traditionally open at home each year, instead of on alternating years. Only Cincinnati and Washington rate this privilege.

On Tuesday, major league baseball formally extends its boundaries to Texas for the first time. The Houston Colt .45s, one of the two new National League franchises in the new club alignment, make their debut against the Chicago Cubs.

And on Friday, National League baseball returns to the ancient Polo Grounds in New York after an absence of four seasons. There the New York Mets, second of this year's new franchises, meet the Pittsburgh Pirates.

President Kennedy, a host of Washington dignitaries and thousands of plain old baseball fans were expected to AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — It was Arnold Palmer, who pulled his game together just when it looked like he was going to blow it for the second year in a row; defending champion Gary Player and conservative Dow Finsterwald in an 18-hole playoff today for the Masters championship and one of golf's richest purses.

They tied for the title Sunday with total of 280, eight strokes under par and the same score with which Player beat out Palmer for the championship last year by one stroke.

It was Palmer, as usual, who came up with most of the drama as 35,000 fans watched in brilliant sunshine and Finsterwald sat in a cottage bordering the Masters course wondering how he was going to make out.

Shooting a one over par 37-36-73, Finsterwald, playing with U. S. Open champion Gene Littler, who finished fourth, had come in with his final score as Palmer and Player teed off for the 18th hole. At the six, Finsterwald tied with Finsterwald and Palmer, who had blown a two stroke lead starting the final round, was two shots back.

Palmer, who needed only a par on the final hole to win last year but soared to a double bogey to lose out to the little South African, had played his poorest round, with three bogeys, one double bogey and 12 pars going to the 16th.

He changed from a four iron to a five iron for his tee shot on the par three, 190-yard hole and hit it too well, going over the green, and it looked like he was doomed to failure in his bid for a third Masters championship.

But he wedged the ball into the cup from that 45 feet for a birdie.

Now he knew he needed another birdie to get back into the running and he got it on the next hole, the par four 400-yard 17th. He put his eight iron second six feet from the cup and sank the putt.

That put him into a tie with Finsterwald and Player and then came the par four, 420-yard 18th where he blew knocked his putt in to create the first three-way playoff in the 26 years of the Masters and only the fourth playoff in all that time. The last playoff was in 1934 when Sam Snead beat Ben Hogan by a stroke, 70 to 71.

Palmer, shaking his head sadly, admitted he was lucky to get into a playoff. "I played so bad I couldn't have made the Podunk Open," he said. "I just never got going. I wasted too many shots."

Many in the huge gallery thought the turning point for Palmer came on the second hole when he missed a two foot putt for a birdie.

Player, four strokes behind Palmer going into the fourth round of play, shot the best golf of the three with a 35-36-71, one under par for the 6,980-yard par 36-36-72 Masters course. Palmer wound up with a 36-36-75, three over regulation figures.

Palmer, shaking his head sadly, admitted he was lucky to get into a playoff. "I played so bad I couldn't have made the Podunk Open," he said. "I just never got going. I wasted too many shots."

Colbert praised the entire team for their effort in the meet and failed to single out any one boy. Charles Hayes qualified for the state meet in the 100 yd. freestyle event with a time of 37.8. All the boys looked good in the meet and with a few firsts and seconds, they had enough depth to win.

Results were:

City Puts Off Water Improvement Program

The City Commission, by a 3-2 majority Monday night, beat down Commissioner Tom McDonald's request to start work immediately on financing a million dollar water improvement program.

Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps and Commissioner Earl Higginbotham and Al Wilson refused to go along with McDonald and Joe Baker. "We need it like a hole in the head," said Higginbotham. Crapps said he thought the city would be in good shape as far as water was concerned for at least another three years and asked, "where are we going to get the money?"

The proposed water program which includes new well fields and transmission lines was submitted by engineers Clark, Dailey and Dietz, Lefler and Bush some four months ago.

"If we don't accept their recommendations, then let's hire some more engineers," McDonald said.

City Manager W. E. Knowles said that he felt the water problem was "more acute" than a sewage treatment plant. "But, the state has forced us to concentrate on sewage. We will be faced with a water problem within two years."

McDonald kept reminding the board that the city is faced with additional growth and needs additional water supply to take care of fire fighting. "We just don't have enough on a peak day," he added. McDonald also said that he felt that the program would not cost any million and suggested leaving out the transmission lines. However, the board wanted more information on water capacity figures and asked Knowles to work up some figures before next Monday's meeting.

2 Sanford Fliers Killed In Crash

Two Navy lieutenants were killed Monday in the crash of a Navy training plane about 30 feet offshore in the Atlantic near Ponte Verda, south of Jacksonville.

The victims were identified as Lt. (jg) Robert Hugh Yates, 26, the pilot, whose parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Yates live in Catawissa, Pa., and passenger Lt. (jg) Samuel Fleming

THE GREEN LEAVES OF SUMMER make their appearance among the rocks in the famous triangle at the corner of Park and 25th St. as a quartet of ladies from the Sanford Federation of Garden Clubs work busily in the spring sunshine. Assisting are members of city work crews who previously prepared the soil and staked out the beds for the low-maintenance shrubs. Members of the Federation working at the triangle include Mrs. Eric Vihlen, president, Mrs. D. K. Dorman, pres.-elect, Mrs. Sophia Shoemaker, Civic Beautification Chairman and Mrs. A. W. Epps, Jr. (See story in Wednesday's Herald.) (Herald Photo)

Ray, 26, whose parents Mr. and Mrs. Champ L. Ray live at Burnsville, N. C.

Navy officials at Sanford Naval Air Station, home station of the single-engine T23 propeller-driven aircraft, said the cause of the crash was not known.

But it appeared Yates may have been trying to ditch the plane in the shallow offshore waters. The bodies were recovered by a helicopter and taken to nearby Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

Officials at Sanford NAS said Ray had completed a course at the Army Survival School at Fort Stewart, Ga. Yates had flown up to return Ray to Sanford. The plane took off its fatal flight from Liberty Army Air Field, Ga.

Seize 7 More JESSUP, Ga. (UPI) — A huge posse, aided by bloodhounds, flushed seven more convicts out of hiding in southeast Georgia early today. Only one of 25 who escaped Saturday night from a state prison camp was still at large.

Sabotage? PONT SAINT ESPRIT, France (UPI) — Police today investigated the possibility that saboteurs may have touched off the chain of explosions which destroyed a nearby gunpowder factory and killed at least 18 persons. Eight others were missing.

Refugees Arrive LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Ninety-one Cuban refugees were taking a look at their new home today after flying here from Miami Monday. Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson told them, "You must realize you will not be alone in Southern California."

Downtown Center Around The Clock

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI) — The city of Rochester today got its first look inside a 7½-acre midtown shopping center complete with shopping mall, tropical trees that will grow year-round and perhaps the cuckooes clock in the world. Midtown Plaza, described by its architect Victor Gruen as a city within a city, was opened to the public at formal ceremonies today. It contains an 18-story office building, hotel, several streets full of shops and three other integrated buildings, all connected by a roofed-over, air-conditioned mall.

The L-shaped mall, about 300 feet long and 100 feet wide, has a ceiling 60 feet above the red tile floors, sheltering clusters of tropical plants and palm trees which will flourish next winter no matter how much snow falls outside.

The clock, dubbed "the clock of the nations," has four standard clock faces, but below the faces hangs a wheel-like structure with 12 spokes supporting large cylinders.

Every half hour, when the clock strikes, the wheel revolves, and dolls inside dance a folk dance to music of one of 12 nations — the United States, Japan, Israel, Germany, Nigeria, Thailand, Canada, Poland, Italy, Puerto Rico, Ireland and Scotland.

On the hour, all the cylinders open but only one group of dolls dances. But when the clock strikes noon, every cylinder opens and all 12 groups of dolls dance.

Participants emphasized that this was just the first of many such meetings. The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk of the United Presbyterian Church, said that it would take "at least 10 years" for a detailed plan of union to be worked out and acted upon by the churches.

Milligan Hints At 'Mutiny'

ORLANDO (UPI) — State Democratic Chairman James M. Milligan hinted of a possible "mutiny" Monday night in replying to a suggestion by Gov. Farris Bryant that the party should hire a full-time, paid executive director.

Milligan said that present office holders, which include Bryant, should be thankful for the "foot soldiers of the party who have fought through thick and thin" to win elections of Democrats in Florida.

Bryant, in his weekly radio comment broadcast Sunday, said that the governor was the natural leader of the party, but that it was obvious that he did not have time to attend to details of partisan politics. Therefore, he suggested a full-time paid executive director to hold together the party's structure.

Church Merger Talks Under Way

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Negotiations for a four-way merger of major religious denominations were reported today to be off to a good start.

The merger would bring together the Episcopal Church, the Methodist Church, the United Church of Christ, and the United Presbyterian Church to form a new communion with more than 18 million members.

Leaders of the four denominations opened talks Monday at Washington Cathedral. The closed meeting was scheduled to wind up tonight.

Participants emphasized that this was just the first of many such meetings. The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk of the United Presbyterian Church, said that it would take "at least 10 years" for a detailed plan of union to be worked out and acted upon by the churches.

Action On B Bond Retirement Slated

The City Commission called a special meeting for next Monday night to give its final okay to a specially scheduled issue of $1.2 million B bonds by 1977.

City fiscal agent Loomis Leedy appeared before the board Monday night and presented a revised schedule to finance the treatment plant for an increase in sewerage rates to 76 cents for each user in the city.

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham said "I like the program very much."

Last Chance Given Reds On Test Ban

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Great Britain and the United States informed Russia today that they must go ahead with nuclear atmospheric tests this month unless the Soviet Union agrees quickly to a test ban agreement with adequate inspection provisions.

"There is still time to reach agreement," said a joint statement issued simultaneously at the White House and read in the House of Commons by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

"We continue to hope that the Soviet government may reconsider the position and express their readiness to accept the principle of international verification," the statement said. It was prepared by President Kennedy and Macmillan in the light of Russia's refusal to accept inspection in any form.

"But if there is no change in the present Soviet position," the statement said, "the governments of the United States and the United Kingdom must conclude that their efforts to obtain a workable treaty to ban nuclear tests are not now successful."

W. W. Anderson, speaking in his official capacity as a member of the North Orlando Village Council, told the Civic Assn. at its meeting Monday night that the village would be polled in regards to establishing a three per cent utility tax on residents to raise money for a Police Dept. and a Fire Hall Community Building.

Anderson said that he was sending a letter to every resident in the village and that a majority of the citizenry must return an opinion, either for or against, before any further action is undertaken.

Bomber Stream Meet Over

Marquesas Keys and San Salvador were the main points of interest Monday night as Heavy Attack Squadron One, Three and Eleven made B15 runs and dropped their bombs in an all-out effort to capture top honors in the sixth Bomber Stream competition.

Heavy Attack Squadron One emerged with all honors, having won as the top squadron and also the top team score. The top team consists of Lt. N. J. Johnson, pilot, J. S. Sandifer A01, Bombardier/Navigator and J. L. Haywood A02 as third crewman.

Ervin said his office will take no position on fairness of the new formula, proposed by the 1961 Legislature with the help of the governor.

Oviedo School To Get Lights

The Oviedo Town Council voted Monday night at a called meeting to install two 400 lumen mercury vapor lights at the Oviedo High School. These will replace the conventional light now at the school. One light will be placed in front of the gym and the other at the intersection.

A representative of the Florida Power Corp. met with the Council to discuss installation of mercury vapor lights for the town to replace the present lighting system. No action was taken on the heavy expenditures on street paving and the construction of the new $15,000 fire house.

In other business the Council voted to make a first payment of $50,020 on the new fire house.

It's On The Rocks Casselberry Hears Liquor Protest

Casselberry's Sunday liquor sales came up for another round of discussion at the monthly Board meeting Monday night with Rev. Oscar C. Poole of the Community Methodist Church appearing to read a prepared public statement concerning his personal views on the issue.

Poole's statement came after Attorney Kenneth McIntosh advised the board that last month's Petition for Initiative was found to be faulty and that further action could come only from the board.

The petition sought to bring the town of Casselberry in line with county regulations through referendum, but failed to carry the necessary attached copy of the proposed ordinance and also was found to bear faulty signatures.

The minister, first making it clear that he had "no axe to grind" and was not "tied in with any political group," said that he did not approve of past approaches to bring about the Sunday closing.

"It is time for us to take a clear, sound and intelligent approach on this issue," he emphasized.

Poole pointed out that conformity with the Blue Laws was not at question but suggested, instead, that "the town should be concerned with whether the Sunday sales of alcohol constitute a menace to public safety in the area."

Citing the recent traffic incident in nearby Maitland involving a driver judged to be under alcoholic influence and members of Casselberry's Robert Hamilton family, all still hospitalized, he stressed that "one life is worth any amount of money these Sunday sales might bring into the town."

The statement closed with a plea to "keep the issue apart from personalities in the future."

Any further discussion on the matter at this time was ruled out by Chairman Paul Bates who said, "it's no use to reconsider it. . . the petition is a dead issue and we should stop and think this thing through before bringing it up again."

Authorized Bates to contact residents for road rights of way when engineering surveys are completed on the municipal connecting links to be paved in the town;

Signed a short term lease with Casselberry Gardens, Inc. for use of blocks A and B in Normandy Park as a Casselberry Recreational Center, and;

Agreed to pay for plastering work at the Town Hall.

South Rich Potential For Future . . Stapp

"Our Southland is destined to be the richest land area in the world," Industrialist Albert Stapp told Rotarians Monday.

"Every year 200,000 adults take up permanent residence in Florida and we produce about 100,000 babies," he added.

"But the tragedy of our time," Stapp continued, "is the headlong march toward a welfare state, where everyone wants to have something they have not earned."

Stapp said that in a democracy everyone votes for the candidate who promises the most from the public treasury, and stated that one-half of England's total budget now goes into the welfare budget.

"You've got everything here to build the future of this area. The future of America belongs to the South, and there is a desperate need for men and women of learning, ambition and talent. It is no job for the half-educated," Stapp said.

"We must strive in every phase of life for excellence, so that we may be worthy of a free society. Americans will not find happiness in aimlessness and the pursuit of pleasure," he said.

"There are two kinds of people," he pointed out. "Those who are part of the problem and those who are part of the solution."

Stapp quoted Dr. Albert Schweitzer in saying that "You must give some time to helping your fellow man," adding, "and be glad of the privilege of doing it."

Stapp commended the Rotary Club for its stimulation of club members to share the ideal of service with each other.

"It always makes you feel good to be in a town, a store, a business or a club where they make you feel welcome, pat you on the back and call you by name, that's the spirit that builds," Stapp said.

The industrialist leader commended the state of Mississippi for the vast strides in the industrial development of the area after the passage of a program known as BAWI, a "balance of agriculture with industry."

He used the Mississippi story to point out that a town can get industry if they really want it, and work together, determined to improve conditions.

X-Ray Unit Only Hold-Up On Dental Clinic

A report on the progress of the setting-up of a dental

County Health Department was given by school nurse, Mrs. Meredith McClure, at a recent meeting of the Committee Mothers of Seminole High School.

Mrs. McClure said that a local women's organization is sponsoring various projects to raise funds for the purchase of an x-ray unit, which will be necessary before the clinic can be set up. All other equipment is available at the County Health office, and the voluntary services of two local dentists have been promised, when the clinic can be put into operation.

In a further report, Mrs. McClure stated that Miss Sadie Harding Nursing Consultant from the Florida State Board of Health was favorably impressed with the operation of the high school clinic and plans to use this as an example to set up other school clinics throughout the state.

The Committee Mothers stated that an annual report is being compiled, which will list the accomplishments of the clinic during the past year.

Eye and ear tests have now been completed and children with sight and hearing problems has been referred to specialists in those fields.

A much-needed bed was donated to the clinic by Mrs. Ned Julian. Items which are still needed include a First Aid Cabinet, scales, chest of drawers, pillow, mattress cover, single bed sheets and pillow cases.

New clinic schedules have been made up and the final meeting of the clinic mothers is slated for 3:30 p.m. April 23th at the Health Dept.

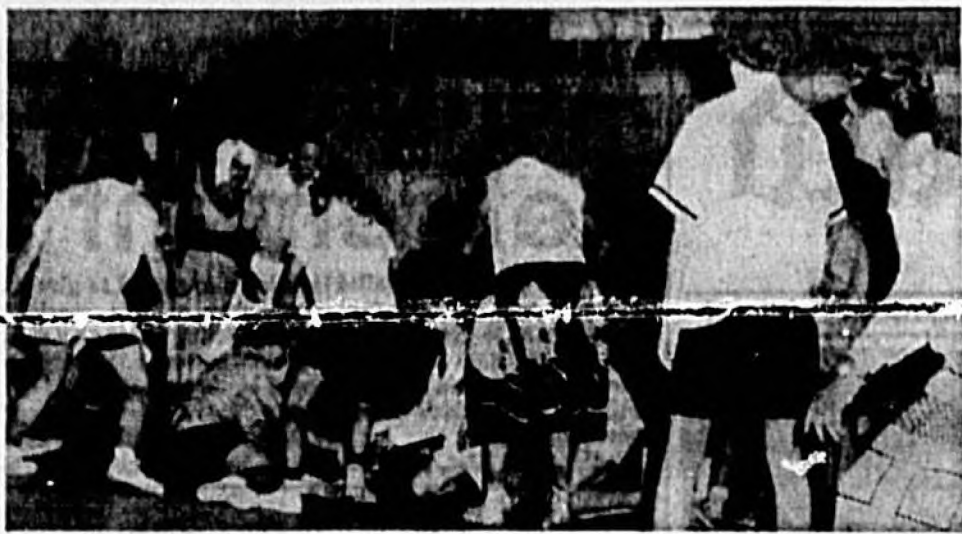

Persons interested in assisting with the work of the clinic next year are urged to attend the meeting, or contact any member of the committee or leave word at the school office.

Mothers to be contacted include Mrs. E. W. Avenel, Mrs. E. S. Miller and Mrs. M. J. Corbett.

'Crasher' Breaks Up Movie Awards Show

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Sophia Loren, whose fear of losing kept her from appearing at the scene of her greatest triumph, today was acclaimed by Hollywood as the best actress of 1961.

Sharing her victory was German born Maximilian Schell who won the best actor Oscar at Monday night's 34th annual Academy Award presentations at Santa Monica Civic Auditorium, making it a double win for foreign stars.

"West Side Story" voted the best picture of the year, almost swept the boards, winning 10 of its 11 Oscar nominations.

Miss Loren, an international glamour girl, won the award for her sezzies role of a tattered mother in war-torn Europe in "Two Women."

Earlier Monday the actress, in Rome for a new film, said, "I guess I didn't go to Hollywood because I am scared." On hearing of her victory she said, "I'm so happy I just can't believe my ears. It's just wonderful, wonderful, wonderful."

Schell won his award playing a German defense attorney in "Judgment at Nuremberg." In his acceptance speech he thanked his co-stars saying, "especially that great old man Spencer Tracy who was nominated for the eighth time this year."

"West Side Story" 10 awards placed the picture second in all-time Oscar competition, topped only by "Ben-Hur" which collected 11 golden statuettes two years ago. It also won an honorary award for "the art of choreography on film" given to Jerome Robbins.

Legitimate Word

"Dunk" is a legitimate word. It comes from the German "tunken," meaning "to dip; to sop bread in a liquid and eat it." Dunk is an Americanism, at first dialectal, but now in good favor.

Hilarity Reigns At Oviedo Gym

Hilarity and excitement were the theme at Friday night's two novel basketball games held in the Oviedo High School gym.

The first game was a match between the high school girls and boys, with the girls dressed in shirts, shorts and ties, and boys decked out in all sorts of feminine attire. The weaker (?) sex had a decided advantage in that their opponents had to play with their feet tied together.

The first half of the second game featured a contest between men and women teachers of the school. Needless to say, the audience, consisting mainly of pupils, went wild with shouts of encouragement and laughter.

Last, but not least, was the final half of this game, played by mothers and fathers of the P.T.O., with the ladies wearing their husbands' pajamas.

Unfortunately, accurate scores could not be reported on these games. The scorekeeper must have been henpecked (besides his wife was playing), and in most cases, no matter what happened, the girls got the points.

The event was sponsored by the Student Council of the school, with proceeds going to further their many projects.

Majorettes Score In State Meet

Seminole High School A and B Corps majorettes entered the Florida State USTA contest in Orlando Saturday coming home with six top places in the various categories.

In the large team competition, the A corps placed third and the B corps fourth, with only .08 of a point between them.

In the twirling solos for 14 years old beginners, Linda Jernigan won first place, Maureen Moughton, third, Bettina Vale, 11th, Shirley Thrasher 13th. All entries were rated according to place.

In the 14 year old advanced twirling, Donna Peters placed 9th.

In the 15 year old beginners, Candi Conder placed third and in the advanced group, Susan Brown was second and Ann Mahan, sixth.

The beginning 16 year olds had Janet Johnson in 5th place and Judy Lavender in 6th place.

Judy Lavender also entered the advanced 16 and won third place, with Sharon Williams, 6th and Nylene Albers 7th, Sandy Wright 8th and Mary Scott 9th.

In the advanced 17 year old competition, Joan Jones came in 6th and Ruthi Carlton 7th.

In the strutting competition, Judy Bedwell was 7th in Junior Division with Sandy Wright, second in the Senior Division, Ann Mahan 4th, Joan Jones 7th and Sharon Williams, 8th.

All girls who scored in the top three places in any competition will receive the corresponding medal to wear on their uniforms.

St. Catherine Of Siena Circle Names New Officers

The regular monthly meeting of Longwood's St. Catherine of Siena Circle of the Church of the Nativity was held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Gerald Sasser in Longdale with 15 members in attendance.

In the election of new officers, Mrs. Sasser was named chairman with Mrs. Garland Shaw as co-chairman. Secretary will be Mrs. Fred Della Motta and treasurer will be Mrs. Ann Hopkins.

New chairmen are Mrs. Vester Elgin, ways and means; Mrs. June Boyles, poster; Mrs. Mary A. Nix, stamps; Mrs. Tracey Estes, publicity; Mrs. John Kennedy, devotional; Mrs. Florian Basthinski, telephone; Mrs.

Joyce DeFault, correspondence and Mrs. Helen Blankenship, sunshine.

Mrs. Joseph Hopkins, outgoing chairman, was presented a gift of appreciation. A lovely crocheted bedspread was displayed for which tickets are available from any member of the circle.

Further plans were made for the May 5 Festival where the St. Catherine of Siena Circle will sponsor the grab bag booth, the basketball booth, the parcel post booth, a plant booth and a fancy work booth.

Due to the Lenten fast only coffee and tea were served during the refreshment and social period.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Shaw.

The year of 1961-62 commemorates the 100th anniversary of the birth of Rudolf Steiner of Germany.

Some of the contributions of local youngsters include replicas of "pinatas", a holiday prize game prop, used in Latin countries and made by students of Spanish.

An outstanding attraction is the molded flowers, leaves and petals made from a solution of salt, cornstarch and cake coloring. There are some very fancy hats made by first graders, some three dimensional crepe paper craft figures, and pictures created with almost every imaginable type of material.

A new and different exhibit is that of some specially decorated onions.

Advance information on the Rudolf Steiner Art Exhibit states that there are now 70 schools all over the world, which were begun by Rudolf Steiner in Stuttgart, Germany in 1919.

"From the beginning," the brochure states, "art was placed at the center of the educational process. In the teaching is presented through art, through the use of imagination, beauty, rhythm and the sense of wonder."

"Since this element is so closely related to the being of the young child, a basis is laid in this way for understanding and insight and there is an active participation which lays a firm groundwork for all later education. It is conceived that the purely intellectual at this age is sharply limiting to the development of the child, and is the origin of much later lack of interest and understanding, as well as of deep conflicts of character and morality."

Lyman Missile Club Launches Rockets

By Jane Casselberry

In spite of Friday's overcast skies, chapters of the Lyman Missile Club launched rockets as planned in what proved to be a very exciting time for the seventh and eighth grade students of Mrs.

Catherine Martin's Science Classes.

Chapter Five launched two courageous "astroblugs," bull ants named Louis and John, in a tiny capsule aboard their Rocket, the LMC 5, during three successful flights. The astroblugs had undergone extensive preflight training which included riding a capsule in a washing machine and on a bicycle wheel to determine their capabilities to withstand the rigors of outer-space.

The ants, though slightly woozy, survived the flights and returned in triumph to tell their exciting adventures to fellow-ants.

Top altitude reached on the LMC 5 flights was estimated at 250 feet. Lyman Principal Ralph Jiggs, had the honor of lighting the fuse on the second shot.

The first rocket to soar aloft was Challenger 1 which Chapter One launched with mixed results from the football field during the first

Local Gardeners Attend State Meet

By Mrs. C. M. Flowers

The 36th annual convention of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs held in Jacksonville recently was attended by members of the local garden clubs.

Mrs. Eric Vihlen president of the Sanford Garden Club and Mrs. D. K. Dorman, president elect both attended.

Others were Mrs. A. S. Pontier, Mrs. Volie Williams Jr., Mrs. W. L. Gramsow Jr., Mrs. W. E. Knowles and Miss Beth Darby.

Mrs. Williams State Book Chairman, attended the meeting of the board of directors in the Robert Meyer Hotel Spanish Room and later attended a reception at the home of Mayor and Mrs. Hayden Burns.

State and Jacksonville Garden Club directors, convention committees and club presidents from District Four were honored at a luncheon at the Robert Meyer roof garden.

The State Flower Show was held at the Garden Center at the Woman's Club and the Cummer Gallery of Art, prior to the convention. Mrs. Fred Gaus of Sanford served as one of the judges and also attended the judges council.

During the convention, delegates heard addresses by Dr. Frank Slaughter and Sen. George Smathers.

Dr. Slaughter, who spoke at the "Golden Isle" luncheon, (the title of his latest book) entitled his speech, "The Fruitful Lane." He supplied a lesson in Florida history, supplemented by several anecdotes involving the first settlers.

Senator Smathers urged long-range planning of community and transportation facilities, pointing out the need to cope with the increasing population and the fast-growing space industry in Florida.

Smathers said that in the near future "Project Apollo," the space project that will ulimately put the first American on the moon, will add 200,000 employees to Florida payrolls.

These employees and their families will add a total of 600,000 to the state's population, and more highways, schools, public utilities, hospitals, water supplies and other facilities will be needed.

Smathers called upon Florida's garden club members to aid their communities in planning for new facilities and for new industry. He urged them to assume the challenge of public responsibility to act as guardians to assure that Florida's heritage of recreational, historical and scenic attractions are fostered and maintained.

Smathers said that in the near future "Project Apollo," the space project that will ul-

Friendship 7-2 was launched successfully by Chapter Two with a second stage firing and the parachute opening as scheduled but caught on telephone wires during the descent and was not recovered until several hours later.

Chapter Three's rocket, Blaster 3, made three successful flights while Chapter Four's AOK 4 had three successful launchings although the parachute failed to open on the first two attempts.

Chapter Six met with partial success in its three attempts to launch Skyflite 6 with the rocket refusing to leave the pad in one and the parachute failing to open in the others.

Appointed terms from each chapter fired the fuses and recovered the rockets while chapter reporters covered the launchings for the press.

Just Unfair... Unsound

The announcement last week by Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Ribicoff concerning aid to schools in federally impacted areas may financially handicap some Florida Schools.

The HEW chief stated that starting in September of 1963, children whose parents both live and work on federal property will be withdrawn from local segregated schools and placed in integrated schools on the government installations where they reside.

Such action, will, of course, reduce the federal payments now being made to local school districts which serve such students and in the case of Florida could cost schools in 15 counties (including Seminole) an estimated $829,000.

His policy statement, made before a house subcommittee studying school integration, was surprising inasmuch as he was recently quoted as saying that he would not inject the racial issue into the school aid program.

In our opinion, such action will be both unfair and economically unsound—unsound because the federal government will have to bear the entire cost of establishing schools to serve the relatively small number of children affected. At present the state pays about half the cost of providing schooling for these students and other children of federal employees in these defense areas.

It appears to us that Mr. Ribicoff also is overlooking the fact that federal administrative agencies have the duty to carry out the will of Congress—which certainly would not be done in this instance.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Lois is like many girls who shun glasses because they figure boys will not ask them for dates. But you can damage your eyes and become almost blind if you have one eye that is weaker than the other, and fail to wear glasses that balance the load. Use the "hot-cold" method to relax your eyes before sleeping.

CASH, L-101: Lois 34, aged 19, is a studious college coed. "But Dr. Crane," she began, "I have headaches a great deal and our school physician says I need glasses. "One of my eyes is weaker than the other. But I hate to wear glasses for don't they spoil a girl's chances for dates?" "You know what they say, namely, that boys don't make passes at girls who wear glasses.

"So what should I do to relieve my eyestrain?" "When you read, make it a habit to raise your eyes and focus on a distant object, even if only for a moment, as you turn each page.

For that gives your eye muscles a momentary break in their constant strain of keeping a focus at a 20-inch range, which is about the usual distance of the page.

To appreciate how the eyes are mistreated, suppose you held a heavy suitcase in one hand steadily for an hour.

Why, in a matter of 3 minutes your muscles would be registering pain and fatigue. So you normally shift hands or set down the heavy load for a few moments, don't you?

Well, the inner muscles of each eyeball also are in constant strain as long as you are focused at your book, or even the nearby TV screen.

So rest them every couple of minutes by looking across the room, or out the window at a distant object, as you turn the page.

Also, bathe your eyes occasionally and always at bedtime, using hot water and then cold. Keep alternating for several minutes.

For this change from hot to cold and back again, stimulates greater circulation and thus flushes out the fatigue products from overworked muscles.

If you have poor circulation in your legs do the same. Prepare two buckets or foot tubs. Place hot water in one and cold water in the other. Then rest your feet in the hot water for a full minute, after which place them in the cold for a minute; then back to the hot, etc.

Repeat this process for 10 minutes or longer. You will often notice a marked reduction in cramps and fatigue.

A girl like Lois should remember, too, that when your eyes are not equal in strength, you tend to use the stronger and ignore the weaker.

Eventually, the weaker eye thus grows almost blind, just because of this disuse.

A cross-eyed person likewise may have two equally good eyes, but he can pay attention to just one, so the ignored eye goes almost blind.

That's why we urge correction of crossed eyes early. Lois should thus wear properly fitted glasses that will balance her eyes and thus cause her to use both of them. This will keep the naturally weak eye constantly stimulated.

Glasses are almost a requirement nowadays for heavy readers. And they do not debar romance, if the girl employs the "Compliment Club" technique.

Besides, she can leave them off on dates where she knows she will be kissed at the end of the evening.

So send for 200-point "Rating Scale for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 50c. They show girls how to be popular despite eye glasses.

"We Consider It a Real Delicacy Back Home"

Dick West Says

Language Barrier

WASHINGTON (UPI)—More and more, I find myself tending to be a believer in FLOPEP.

FLOPEP is a name I made up in honor of Rep. Daniel J. Flood, D-Pa. It stands for "Flood's Law of Pentagon Excess Population," which he stated as follows:

"I could drive down to the Pentagon with a platoon of Marines, and 10 Greyhound buses, and pick up every fourth character, civilian or military, and take them away, and nobody but his family would ever know he was gone for the next decade."

The reason I am beginning to regard FLOPEP as one of the eternal verities is because I am convinced that every fourth person in the Pentagon is engaged in the manufacture of abbreviations.

If my assumption is correct, then their departure not only would pass unnoticed, but would be a blessing as well.

The staggering rate at which abbreviations are being fabricated in the Pentagon was impressed upon me as I was leafing through a volume of testimony released today by the House Defense Appropriation Subcommittee (HDAS).

Every witness that appeared before HDAS spoke in initial-ese, which is one of the dialects of gobbledygook and involves the use of monograms as nouns and verbs.

Parts of their vocabulary—"SAC," "MARS," "ICBM"—are fairly familiar to the average English speaking layman.

But how many literate Americans can cope with this sentence: "NUDETS will detect, locate, and report nuclear detonations occurring within NORAD's geographical area of responsibility?"

Although it came from the hearing transcript, it sounds like something the March hare might have remarked to Alice.

The subcommittee HDAS thoughtfully provided a glossary to help the transcript reader distinguish between "R U S A N D A" and "RUEWIS"; "PAMN" and "PURS"; and "RIDS and "RIAR."

But the list was distressingly incomplete. There was no mention, for instance, of

Peter Edson Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—U. S. Supreme Court's decision that city voters have a right to sue in federal courts for fairer representation in state legislatures does not mean there will be a sudden or complete shift in the balance of political power.

This is going to be a long legal fight, battled every step of the way by rural interests that have traditionally dominated state legislatures. They will be supported by special interest lobbies that try to control state legislators. This makes the war a "Last Stand for the States' Rights."

Opposition to reapportionment in the South will be as intense as it has been against the Supreme Court's other historic decision on public school integration in 1954.

In the eight years since then, Southern Education Reporting Service finds that only 897 school districts out of 2,804 having both white and segregated. At this rate, it may take another 15 years to carry out the Supreme Court decision to end racial discrimination in schools.

Proponents of reapportionment in state legislatures hope their cause can move faster than this, but there are all sorts of obstacles that can be thrown in their path.

The best example is offered by Tennessee, whose test case was the basis for the Supreme Court decision.

U. S. Civil Rights Commission reported last year, after the 1960 census, that 37 per cent of the voting population in Tennessee controlled 20 of 33 Senate seats while 40 per cent of the population controlled 63 of 99 seats in the House. There had been no reapportionment for 61 years.

This was the basis for the suit filed in federal district court on behalf of city voters to force reapportionment. The Supreme Court now has decided only that federal district courts have jurisdiction over such actions, and nothing more. The Supreme Court did not order an American political revolution.

But look what can happen next as analyzed by Morris Cunningham of the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

First, 25 days are allowed for the defendants to file an appeal for rehearing before the Supreme Court. Such an appeal probably would be denied since the Supreme Court has been considering this case for two years and has already heard it twice.

If no appeal is filed, 30 days after decision or on April 25 the Supreme Court will send a mandate to federal district court in Nashville to order Judge William T. Miller to order a new trial. He can call for a three-judge trial, which will delay matters further.

Since this is all new legal ground there could be many federal courts from either side of the federal court of appeals or the Supreme Court.

This could take months or even years to untangle.

The only alternative would be for Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington to call the state legislature into special session to consider a reapportionment.

There is strong opposition to a special session. And here politics further enters the scene.

A new legislature will be elected in November. Candidates presumably will run on platforms for or against reapportionment. This is hardly the climate for calm, judicial procedure. District court therefore will probably delay decision till after election, if the case is heard before then.

The new legislature meets in January. If it should reapportionment for 61 years.

Letters On Medical Care For Aged Flood Herlong's Office

By Syd Herlong

The question of medical care for the elderly certainly is a hot one if our mail is any indication. More than half of it is on this subject—and we are getting so much mail that it actually takes the full time of one employee to do nothing but open mail. We are doing our best to keep up with it but with a limited staff of only five people and all of us working overtime we still find ourselves gradually getting behind. I say this so you will know that if you have written us and haven't received a reply to your letter, it is just as soon as we get to it.

Most of your letters require my personal attention, and with all the other duties that we have it is utterly impossible to dictate some 300 personal letters a day.

Some time ago I told you I was going to acknowledge all your questionnaires. I had hoped to but I now find that this is going to be impossible. I hope you understand and will permit this to be an acknowledgement. I did get your questionnaires—about 7,000 of them—we counted them and the results were published.

Getting back to the subject of medical care for the elderly—because there is so much interest in it—and so many mistaken ideas about it—it might be well to bring you up to date on the present status of it.

The Chairman of our Committee has indicated that the Committee will consider the bill immediately after we finish the trade bill on which we are now working. This will probably be some time about the middle or last of May. Here's what is usually done on a bill of this scope:

The 23 members of the Committee sit around a table with the top officials of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, our professional staff, the legislative drafting service and the actuaries. There we endeavor painstakingly—line by line—to write a bill. After this is done the bill is read paragraph by paragraph and is subject to amendments. Then, if the amended bill is agreed to by a majority of the Committee it is reported to the House for debate and action.

For me to categorically state at this time that I am going to be for or against this particular bill when I don't have any idea what it is going to look like after the Committee gets through amending it would be like a doctor prescribing treatment for a patient before he has even had an opportunity to examine him. I prefer to examine this patient before I decide on the treatment, and I am sure you would want me to do just that.

The Chairman of our Committee has indicated that the Committee will consider the bill immediately after we finish the trade bill on which we are now working. This will probably be some time about the middle or last of May. Here's what is usually done on a bill of this scope:

The 23 members of the Committee sit around a table with the top officials of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, our professional staff, the legislative drafting service and the actuaries. There we endeavor painstakingly—line by line—to write a bill. After this is done the bill is read paragraph by paragraph and is subject to amendments. Then, if the amended bill is agreed to by a majority of the Committee it is reported to the House for debate and action.

For me to categorically state at this time that I am going to be for or against this particular bill when I don't have any idea what it is going to look like after the Committee gets through amending it would be like a doctor prescribing treatment for a patient before he has even had an opportunity to examine him. I prefer to examine this patient before I decide on the treatment, and I am sure you would want me to do just that.

Getting back to the subject of medical care for the elderly—because there is so much interest in it—and so many mistaken ideas about it—it might be well to bring you up to date on the present status of it.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolski

Well, without a doubt, the top news in our bowling spotlight this week would have to be Al DePalma's PERFECT GAME!

By now I'm certain that all of you have heard the news, what with my erstwhile buddy Larry Vershel even featuring this historic event in his column, too! (Hat tip to him when he visited with us the last time. DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT! The real scoop is that he put so many of 'em into the channels that there was a good chance his name was going to be changed to C. C. B. V.—Consistent Channel Balls Vershel. His actual score was about 10 and then I'm giving him the benefit of the doubt!) (Getting back to the Pro—Al DePalma, he didn't even take a practice or warm-up shot. As soon as he struck with the first ball, he continued the pattern and, of course, the eventual 300 GAME.

All but one of the strikes was smack-dab in the pocket. Only one crossed over to the Brooklyn side.

Watching him perform this outstanding feat (your chances of making it are about a million to one) was Phil Roche bowling on the lanes alongside of Al and Johnny Wright, Dot Button and myself.

The Friday nite Mr. & Mrs. League was well represented this past week at Familiarization Night. The following couples were in attendance or have signed cards indicating they'll bowl in this popular league: Mr. & Mrs. Johnson, H. Smith, Altman, Cowley, Spots, Kostival, Beat, Hack, et., DePalma, Fradrick, Franta, Attkins, Schautteet, Spolski, Poulter, Durman.

There'll only be room for twenty couples in this league, if you'd like to join call the lanes and be at the lanes on Friday at 6:45 P.M.

Certainly sorry to hear about Orville (Smoky) Jones being out of action with the popular Spare Ribbers League. Everyone's asking 'bout you, Orville. Hurry on back.

Equally disheartened on the removal from this area of Fran Mackey who's Navy husband John is being transferred out to New Mexico. We'll miss you Fran. Good luck and may you too hurry on back!

Let's take a quick look-see on how badly they've been mauling these new pins (or was it their averages they're beating?)

In the Friday afternoon Spare Ribbers League, Mayers (Scrap team) found them just right as he checked-in with a 256/559 ave.

Lyman Seeks 8th Against Oviedo Nine

By Ronnie Broadway
Herald Sports Editor

Lyman High School goes after its eighth baseball win of the season today at the Longwood Field at 4 p.m. They will host the Oviedo Lions and hope to get revenge from an earlier season 3-1 defeat.

Gene Griffin will probably start on the mound for Lyman, backed up behind the plate by Rick McCanna. Coach Jim Payne has his boys in top shape, with the exception of Jim Williams, who could possibly see action this afternoon. Williams is still bothered by a torn muscle. Donnie Smith, one of the fine relief pitchers on the Greyhound squad, will be ready to back up Griffin if needed. If they should come out on top, the Hounds will ARNOLD PALMER does a little dance after sinking a birdie putt at the annual Masters Golf tournament in Augusta, Ga.

Palmer Readies For Grand Slam

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Masters champion Arnold Palmer, having already accomplished two personal golfing missions, set his sights on a third today—a grand slam.

"I shall always be my goal, it never will be out of mind until I get too old to play," the 32-year-old Pennsylvania pro said when asked if he was going to try to add the British Open, the U. S. Open and the PGA championship to his Masters title. No golfer ever has won all four.

Happy, but weary, after he came from behind in an 18-hole playoff Monday to beat defending champion Gary Player by three strokes and hard-luck Dow Finsterwald by nine, Palmer said he "was extremely proud" to join Sam Snead and Jimmy Demarest as the only three-time winners of the Masters.

"And I'm glad too that I've erased the memory of that double bogey six on the 18th hole last year," he added. "I know that if I won here this year that hole never again will come back to haunt me."

His victory Monday, when he staged another of his fantastic finishes, shooting five birdies to overcome a three-stroke lead which Player had gained on the front nine, enriched Palmer $20,000 and made him the leading money winner in the game since the PGA started keeping records back in 1917—with a total of $206,738.00.

Fronton Getting Near End Of Season

The last week of play at the Orlando Seminole Fronton in Fern Park will feature two more matinee performances, with a fashion show at Wednesday's performance put on by Belk's of Orlando who will have models parading the aisles demonstrating the latest in Spring and Summer fashions for the ladies, who will be admitted free.

Saturday and Monday matinee and evening performances saw some great Jai Alai played by the complete roster as some of the dark horses came through and put on some great shows for the fans.

Among them was a terrific display by Isaac Saturday afternoon and again on Monday when he took six wins and two places, and Adiaz on Friday had three marks in the win column.

Saturday night the fireworks started in the eighth game when a quietly determined Uria took the floor against Gasti, Badiola, Iriarte, Sagas and Arelito and put them all to shame with straight six points to take the contest without working up a sweat.

In the big 11th game Saturday Astiga and Iriarte, playing out of sixth position, were two points behind both Arrona-Elorri and Uria-Zarra when their turn came. They immediately took control and didn't relinquish the serve until they had scored seven straight and put the game on ice.

Monday's play was highlighted by Gasti's string of three victories in the afternoon, and Badiola's dogged determination to win the featured eighth game last night.

There was nothing scintillating about Badiola's play Monday night but the sheer

Seminoles, Wildwood Clash

Game Time Set For 4

By Ronnie Broadway
Herald Sports Editor

Coach Jim McCoy sends his OBC leading Sanford Seminoles up against the Wildwoods from Wildwood this afternoon at 4 at the field on Celery Avenue behind the Giants' dormitory.

Sanford will be out after its fifth win in a row and their fifth conference win. They have beaten Winter Park, Lakeview, Apopka and Leesburg thus far in OBC competition.

They have only one loss for the season, that being to Edgewater in the first game of the season.

Once again Roscoe (Amos) Bowen will lead things off for the Seminole batters and he will play in the right field spot.

McCoy said that he can cover the big hole with the best of them. Chuck Ogden, who has made some fine defensive plays at the second base position, will hit second, followed by Mike Carlo in left field. Brother Jack Carlo will be behind the plate and Jack has been hitting consistently and is doing a fine job on the receiving end of the battery.

He will be followed by Gary Davidson, left-handed slugger who will swing fifth.

Flashy Steve Barnes will cover the hole between second and third, followed by Butch Riser who will either play center field or be the starting pitcher. Tim Barrowman, a sophomore who has shown his ability as a glove man will play in the hot spot at third if Riser is not called to the mound. Dan McFarlin, who pitched a beautiful game in holding Lakeview to two hits, will probably receive the starting nod from McCoy.

There will be plenty of help from the bench if needed. Bobby Johnson will be ready to do any relief duty that may arise, and Berry Johnson and Billy Higgins will be looking for some action. McCoy expects a tough game, regardless of the Wildwood record. He also stated that his boys have been playing fine ball this season and they are always out there hustling, regardless of the situation. He says that they will be out for the win and feels that his boys are capable of coming home victorious.

Journeyman Righthanders Have 'Big' Day

Three journeymen righthanders named John F. Kennedy, Art Mahaffey and Benie Daniels were the stars of Monday's major league openers and some lefthanded old pros like Warren Spahn, Whitey Ford and Johnny Podres would be happy to do as well today.

This is a big day in baseball's relentless push to new frontiers.

It's the day when the major leagues invade Texas; the Los Angeles Dodgers play for the first time in their long-awaited $18 million super-stadium; and Casey Stengel starts learning the truth about his New York Mets.

President Kennedy cut loose with his best high hard pitch to usher in the 1962 season Monday and then settled back like Mr. Everyday Fan to watch Daniels pitch the Washington Senators to a five-hit, 4-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

In Monday's other opener, at Cincinnati, Mahaffey scattered nine hits in pitching the Philadelphia Phils to a 12-4 victory over the Reds, last year's National League champions.

At the present moment, the Senators and Phils are alone atop the standings in each league. But it's probably the last time that will happen this season.

Mr. Kennedy's pre-tenure pitch at Washington was recovered by Marty Kutyna, Senators pitcher who out-scrambled his teammates as the ball rolled along the first base foul line.

The President then was chased to cover by a rainstorm which delayed the game for 22 minutes and later was nearly beamed by Willie Tasby's foul ball in the fourth inning. But he ducked, came up smiling and stayed to the final out of the game.

Bob Johnson, young Washington shortstop, hit a two-run homer in the fourth off lefty Don Mossi and received some hearty applause from the President and the rest of the crowd of 44,383. This was the largest turnout ever for a baseball game in the nation's capital.

After an error by second baseman Chuck Cottier of the Senators helped the Tigers score a run off Daniels in the sixth, Washington clinched matters with two more runs in the seventh. Hits by Cottier and Bob Schmitt, two Detroit errors and a single

Nuxhall, McDevitt, Tanner Get New Life On Majors

By United Press International

Joe Nuxhall, Danny McDevitt and Chuck Tanner, three well-traveled baseball players, got a new "life" today, but it was back to the minors for such as Von McDaniel, Johnny James and Joe Christopher in last-minute changes made before major league openers.

Nuxhall, who broke into the majors with the Cincinnati Reds in 1944 at the age of 15, was purchased from Rochester of the International League by the Los Angeles Angels. McDevitt was plucked from Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League by the Kansas City Athletics, and Tanner was picked up by the Angels from Dallas-Fort Worth of the American Association.

Nuxhall, a left-handed pitcher, was with Kansas City last year and had a 3-8 won-lost record. He has an overall record of 89-89 in the majors, mostly with the Reds. McDevitt, also a lefthander, broke in with the Dodgers. He eventually pitched with the Yankees and this spring trained with the Minnesota Twins, who cut him a week ago.

Tanner, an outfielder, saw previous major league service with the Chicago Cubs, Milwaukee Braves and Boston Red Sox.

Along with Tanner the Angels brought up first baseman outfielder Tom Burgess from their Dallas-Fort Worth farm club, and sent right-handed pitcher Johnny James to the same club on option.

McDaniel, one-time St. Louis Cardinals whiz-kid pitcher who was trying to make it back to the majors as an infielder, was cut by the Houston Colt 45s, who sent him to Oklahoma City of the American Association. McDaniel was drafted by the Colts from the Cardinals' farm club at Tulsa, where he hit 15 homers a year ago.

Christopher, one of the top hitters in the New York Mets' training camp this spring, was sent to Syracuse of the IL on 24-hour recall with the promise from Manager Casey Stengel that he would be brought back as soon as possible. Taking his place on the roster was young infielder Ron Kanehl, who hit .304 for Nashville a year ago.

All the changes were necessitated by baseball rules by Daniels produced the Senators' two runs off Ron Kline.

At Cincinnati, a crowd of 25,300 watched Clay Dalrymple and Don Demetre hit home runs in Philadelphia's 15-hit attack. The Phils routed Joe Jay with six runs in the third. Dalrymple's bases-empty homer, off Jay in the second inning, was the first in the majors this season.

Today's schedule in the National League pitted the Reds at Los Angeles; the Milwaukee Braves at the San Francisco Giants; the New York Mets at the St. Louis Cardinals; the Chicago Cubs at the Houston Colts, and the Phils at the Pittsburgh Pirates.

In the American League, it was the Baltimore Orioles at the New York Yankees; the Cleveland Indians at the Boston Red Sox; the Los Angeles Angels at the Chicago White Sox, and the Minnesota Twins at the Kansas City Athletics. Washington and Detroit were idle.

A capacity crowd of 56,000 including Commissioner Ford Frick, was expected to jam Los Angeles' model Chavez Ravine Stadium for the Dodgers' opener. Podres was opposed by Jim O'Toole of the Reds.

Houston will make its major league debut in a rain-bow-colored temporary 33,000 seat stadium. Bobb Shantz, one of the grab-bag players selected by Houston in stocking the new club last fall, will start for the Colts, with Don Cardwell pitching for Chicago.

The Mets, not due to open at home until Friday, will shoot Roger Craig against the Cards' Larry Jackson in the only night game on the program at St. Louis.

Rides 3 Winners

LAUREL, Md. (UPI)—Herbert Hinojosa scored a riding triple at Laurel Monday, winning with Princess Juxta ($11.80) in the second, Mauda H. ($7.00) in the fifth and Rosie Redmond ($11.40) in the sixth.

Meet Set

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Football League will hold the spring session of its annual meeting here on May 23 and 24, to be preceded on May 22 by a gathering of working club executives.

Maris To Get MVP Plaque

NEW YORK (UPI)—Roger Maris will receive his 1961 Most Valuable Player plaque when the New York Yankees open their 40th season in "The House That Ruth Built" today against the Baltimore Orioles.

In tribute to the memory of the Babe, his widow, Mrs. Clara Ruth, will throw out the first ball. Ruth hit a three-run homer to beat the Boston Red Sox, 4-1, when Yankee Stadium was dedicated back in 1923.

For the devotion, Miss Ruby Booth read verses from Psalms and the well known prayer written by Gen. Douglas MacArthur to his son. The only communications were several thank you notes for various gifts and flowers sent by members. The treasurer announced that there were still several pairs of hose in odd sizes and a few steak knives on hand. Members were told they could purchase orange jelly from the Men's Club, with proceeds added to a scholarship fund for Southern Union College.

After some discussion the table cloth committee was instructed to purchase the new damask table covers that the Circle will use for buffet dinners throughout the year.

The president appointed Mrs. Maurice Corbett as chairman of the kitchen. Her job, with the help of an assistant, will be to see that all the cabinets are kept in a neat and orderly fashion as well as the other kitchen equipment.

All members were urged to bring in questions on religion at the next two meetings and place them in a box that will be provided. Next month Rev. Joseph Stock will have a "Question and Answer" program and will answer all questions the members might have regarding the Bible, church or Sunday school.

The program for the evening was presented to the group by Mrs. Ralph Loring. Her topic was "What About God?"

The next meeting will be April 16 at the home of Mrs. Owen Meredith, 399 Beth Drive. Anyone that does not know where she lives may join the motorcade that will leave the church at 7:30 that night.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My oldest sister, who is almost 18, and her boy friend, who is 18, rattle together in our living room sometimes. It embarrasses me. I wonder if you think it is all right. They have fun and he never hurts her. I think they should not rattle like this. Am I being silly? KID SISTER

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

(P. S. Don't you have a television set? It could solve your problem and EVERYBODY could relax.) DEAR ABBY: I work adjacent to a marriage bureau and see the couples applying for marriage licenses. Sometimes it makes me sad to see the youngsters who are murr- ing. The boy hangs back, shyly, and makes the girl do all the talking. They look so childish. I want to say, "Don't do it. Wait! You are only babies." Of course I don't dare. There are older couples in their middle twenties and early 30s. They know where they are going and what they are getting into. And when the older couples come in, we are delighted. They are so cute together, and we think, "Bravo for them. No more loneliness." COURTHOUSE EMPLOYEE

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

When there is a long suit in dummy, it nearly always pays to try to set it up for eventual discards of your own potential losers. A hand sent me by Alton Smalley of St. Paul illustrates this point beautifully. Playing at seven clubs, South won the opening trump lead, led the ace of spades, ruffed a spade in dummy, led a heart to his ace, ruffed his last spade in dummy, discarded one heart on the ace of diamonds, and tried to discard his last heart on the king of diamonds only to have West ruff in and set him.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

When John Glenn's mother was asked during a television interview if her son as a child had any trait or quality that might help to account for the man he is today, she gave the question careful thought and then answered: "When he started anything, he always saw it through." Now mind you she didn't say her son had been a well-adjusted child, or a happy child, or a secure child, or that he had been popular with his peers. None of those phrases used so glibly by the child-guidance experts were mentioned by the mother of the young man who stands so tall today that just because he is an American the rest of us stand a little straighter, too. No, when Mrs. Glenn looked back on her son's childhood to try to see what he had THEN that might have been important in making him what he is NOW she saw the old-fashioned virtue of seeing a job through. That's quite significant, isn't it, in the light of all we've been told about the import-

'Paper Pledge' Not Enough, Russia Told

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States warned today it will not submit its own security and that of the free world to a "paper pledge" that Russia will never again test nuclear weapons.

The "motivation for developing new weapons which the U.S.S.R. to break its self-imposed pledge not to be the first state to resume nuclear tests would well lead it to attempt the clandestine violation of a nuclear test ban treaty," chief U. S. delegate Arthur H. Dean warned.

Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference the U. S. and British governments have made one concession after another in an attempt to meet Soviet fears that an inspected nuclear test ban treaty would be used as cover for espionage.

"There has not been the slightest demonstration of Soviet good will or flexibility," Dean went on. "On the contrary, the Soviet Union has made evident, by its conduct last fall, just how much it values the conduct of tests for the development of new weapons."

He read into the record Monday's joint appeal to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev by President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to reconsider and accept the principle of international verification of a test ban treaty.

"There is no further appeal which I can make here to my Soviet colleagues," Dean said, "beyond my oft-repeated plea for them to show some reasonableness, flexibility and political sense."

"HAVE A piece of chicken, Mayor," says Fire Chief Mack Cleveland Sr. to Sanford Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps at the annual fireman's barbecue held early Tuesday evening at the fire station. Some 50 persons attended the "feed" including city commissioners and members of the Civil Service Board.

Say It With Flowers Federation Seeks Recognition

With an eye toward recognition from the State Federation of Garden Clubs, the Sanford Federation, under the direction of Civic Beautification Committee Chairman, Mrs. A. K. Shoemaker Jr., set about this week to enhance and landscape the controversial triangle at the intersection of U.S. 17 and U.S. 92.

In a letter to City Manager W. E. Knowles, a detailed landscaping plan was sketched out for the planting and required approval. City crews worked Friday and Monday preparing the designed planting beds and bringing in topsoil.

Tuesday, four members of the Sanford Federation, Mrs. Eric Vilhen, president; Mrs. D. K. Dorman, president-elect; Mrs. A. W. Epps Jr. and Mrs. Shoemaker set to work to carry out their landscaping plan, with the assistance of city crews.

The main landscaping plan includes three beds, north, south and center. The north bed contains juniper puffs, juniper hedges, day lilies and abelia grandiflora.

The south bed has juniper puffs, day lilies and several annuals.

The center bed contains a European fan palm, raphanotis indica, pyramidalis, Sagu palms, Spanish bayonet, Yucca gloriosa, shore juniper, juniper puffs, century plant, succulents, and callistemon rigidus.

Brown river gravel has been spread over the beds of the low-growing, low-maintenance plants, which have been carefully chosen to grow and bloom with the least amount of care and watering.

6-Laning Of 46 Half Completed

Conversion of approximately four miles of State Road 46 from a two-lane to a six-lane facility near Sanford is 50 per cent complete, the State Road Department announced today.

A. Max Brewer of Tusculum, Road Board member for District Five, said the $24,000 project extends from Interstate Route 4 eastward 3.8 miles to intersect with U. S. Highway 17-92 (French Avenue) in Sanford.

Work on the project includes clearing, grading and paving plus constructing drainage structures curbs and gutters.

San Marco contracting Company of St. Augustine started work on the project last July.

When completed, the improved facility will provide a multi-lane access route between the rapidly-developing Interstate super-highway and U. S. 17-92.

First U. S. Test Due About May 1

WASHINGTON (UPI)—indications today were that the first atmospheric nuclear blast in the new U. S. test series will be set off April 29 or May 1.

A well-informed official said he could not give an exact date, but either of those two dates would be a "very close guess."

The United States thus was giving Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev 20 days to reverse his position and agree to an inspected test ban treaty if he wants to halt the proposed U. S. series.

Officials said the offer to suspend the tests in return for a cheat-proof treaty would be kept open until the last minute.

100 Million Box Citrus Crop Forecast

LAKELAND (UPI) — For the second time in history Florida citrus growers were faced today with a federal forecast of more than 100 million boxes of oranges.

The U. S. Agriculture Department increased its estimate of the Florida orange crop Tuesday from 100 million to 101 million boxes. It was the largest estimate in history except for the 102-million box estimate at the outset of the 1957-58 crop.

The 102-million box estimate, however, never materialized because the freezing winter of 1957-58 cut the actual pickoff to 82.5 million boxes.

The 101-million box crop would be eight million boxes more than the record Florida orange harvest of 1956-57.

NAS Man Hurt Badly In Crash

A Sanford Navy man was seriously injured at 3:15 this morning when his 1958 model car rammed into the rear of a 1950 model on Hwy. 17-92 at Casselberry, State Trooper J. L. Sikes reported today.

He is Frank S. Meider, VAH-1. The driver of the other car was Raymond Zahn, an Air Force man, 7117 Autumn Vale Dr., Orlando.

Meider is in Orange Memorial Hospital in Orlando with severe facial injuries including a broken upper jaw. Zahn was not hurt.

Both cars were total losses, Sikes said.

THE END OF A WILD ride down Hwy. 17-92. Charles M. Higgins, 206 Scott Ave., Sanford, was in Seminole Memorial Hospital today, injured and in serious condition after his car flipped over on the highway. According to Trooper J. L. Sikes, Higgins was traveling at a high rate of speed on 17-92, going south about a mile below Casselberry, when his car crossed the center island and traveled on the wrong side of the road for a half mile. Higgins' car then recrossed the island, hit the curbing, flipped over and skidded 80 feet upside down.

Board OKs Retirement Plan Also

The Seminole Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees Tuesday voted a "compromise" six percent across the board pay raise for all nurses in an effort to halt competitive bidding from surrounding hospitals.

The raise will go into effect May 1 and also includes a retirement participation program with the hospital paying two percent and the personnel the same amount.

At first, Hospital Administrator Bob Besserer proposed an eight percent across the board pay raise bringing the average pay of hospital nurses from $275 to $300. However, the majority of the board was "cool" to the idea calling it too "big a raise at this time and the start of a vicious circle."

Besserer cited figures that neighboring hospitals in Orange and Volusia counties were paying better salaries to their nurses, emphasizing that Seminole was in danger of losing its top quality staff because of competitive bidding between hospitals.

The administrator declared that New Smyrna has a new wing at its hospital but can't open it because of the lack of nursing personnel.

"We don't want to be faced with this when we open our new wing," Besserer declared.

The six percent pay hike will mean an approximate addition of $15 per month bringing the salaries of general duty nurses to around $290.

Raises are also included for head nurses, supervisors, operating room technicians and supervisors. It does not include any raises for aides and clerks.

However, the retirement plan includes all help at the hospital.

The pay raise will add more than $12,000 to the budget while the retirement program will add another $15,000.

Demo Squabble Laid To Gains By Florida GOP

ORLANDO (UPI)—Increasing strength of the Florida GOP is the reason behind a squabble between Gov. Farris Bryant and State Democratic Chairman James M. Milligan of Orlando, two local Republican leaders charged Tuesday.

Milligan Monday night denounced a proposal by Bryant that the party hire a full-time, paid executive director, which apparently would seriously encroach on Milligan's duties, Milligan said that he had forged the party into an effective organization for the first time in Florida.

Mrs. Laura Robinson, State Republican Committee woman from Orange County, and County Republican Chairman Richard Courtney, issued a statement Tuesday that said Bryant, in reality, was afraid of growing GOP power.

They also said that Florida Democrats are in conflict with the philosophy of the Kennedy administration, which they charged was guided by labor leaders and members of Americans for Democratic Action.

City Worker's Firing Reduced To Suspension

The Civil Service Board in a four and a half hour hearing at City Hall Tuesday night, mitigated the sentence of "dismissal" of city employee Emory Lee to a "30 day suspension without pay."

The board specified that at the end of that time Lee was to be reinstated with full pay and seniority.

This verdict was immediately challenged by City Manager W. E. Knowles who stated that Lee had already received workman's compensation pay for three weeks.

"You're just re-instating him with a month's paid vacation," Knowles said.

The board stated that it was unaware of this fact, and after a good deal of controversy over legal and technical points, it was agreed by Lee to waive the workman's compensation pay. Lee was slated to appear in the City Manager's office today to sign the waiver.

Lee, an employee of the city for 11 years, had compiled a heavy record of neglect of duty and incompetence according to testimony by Public Works Superintendent Sid Richard, Supervisor Robert Kelly and City Manager W. E. Knowles, who all took the stand in defense of the city's firing of Lee.

Attorney Mack Cleveland presided as chairman of the Civil Service Board, which consisted of Dr. Vincent Roberts, Denver Cordell, Al Lee, Henry Moore and Major William Bristol.

Knowles, Kelly and Richard testified that Lee had been repeatedly reprimanded for negligence, traffic violations and failing to obey orders, and Mrs. Betty Noyes public works secretary, was called to the stand to testify that so many complaints came from the section of the city where Lee was assigned to pick up trash and garbage that a file was kept on complaints with the results that Lee's route received more complaints than the other three routes put together.

The specific incident which precipitated the firing was an accident on 10th St. near the telephone office, when Lee struck a parked car as he came out of an alley, which the Public Works office contended was not on his prescribed route. He also was accused of driving into the telephone equipment yard, instead of opening a gate with a key and picking up the garbage from the alley. Also that he failed to report the accident to the Public Works Office and to the Supervisor.

Lee's defense was that he was never specifically ordered to follow any prescribed route, and assumed that he could drive any direction at his own discretion and that a telephone employee told him it was all right to drive into the yard.

Lee also declared that he had never been informed that he was to report accidents to three different persons, and assumed that the shop foreman would report it.

In answer to charges of neglect of duty, and the numerous complaints of missed pick-ups, Lee blamed his crew, whom he said was made up of elderly Negroes, both of whom were disabled and in poor health. He insisted that complaints were called in by people who put their cans out after he had gone by or placed them where they were obscured by weeds and bushes.

The Civil Service Board based its verdict on the following statement as summarized in a motion by Dr. Vincent Roberts, and seconded by Henry Moore.

"In view of the evidence, we do not feel that Lee is free of guilt and he has admitted being in the wrong. However other factors are involved in his adequately understanding his duties thoroughly. Therefore we move that the sentence be mitigated from dismissal to suspension without pay for 30 days from the date of discharge March 29 to April 30, 1962."
