Mrs. Brown looked in her purse and the wallet was gone, as she happily accepted its return and rewarded Brundage for his honesty and his courtesy.

Reapportionment Views Outlined By Gubernatorial Candidates

MIAMI (UPI) — Ten of the 12 Florida gubernatorial candidates outlined their views on taxation and reapportionment in a meeting here Wednesday night.

Eight Democrats and two Republicans appeared at a dinner of the Florida League of Women Voters. Only J. Harris Belser of Bonifay and Ku Klux Klan leader Bill Hoadrix of Oldsmar were absent.

The candidates were given five minutes each to outline their proposals. Those present and their statements:

Farris Bryant, Ocala — collection agencies should be consolidated and the intangible tax cut in half. Medium-sized counties should be granted increased legislative strength.

Doyle Carlton, Wausatcha — Cut the intangible tax in half, set up a state-wide assessment standard, revise taxes in line with recommendations of the legislative intangible committee now working on the problem. Add 10 new House members and six new senators.

Haydon Burns, Jacksonville — Establish a state committee to revise the tax structure.

Ted David, Hollywood — Set up a sales tax on banks, an excise tax on liquor, and a severance tax on timber and phosphate. Urged "all-out war" on the North Florida "Pork Chop Gang" which has blocked reapportionment in the Senate.

Club members voted to help the Jaycees with their annual Easter egg hunt. They will dye the eggs and help prepare them for the event.

The club plans to hold a "steak fry" at Golden Lake, April 18, honoring new members and their husbands.

Mrs. M. L. Raborn won the hostess gift. Following the business session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Klinefelter and her co-hostess, Mrs. Bill Slayton.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bob Stoker with Mrs. Tony Trama as co-hostess.

Seminoles Grab First Baseball Win; Lose Track Meet

Jim Gracey Hurts Tilt

By JERRY COVINGTON

The Sanford Seminoles picked up their first win of the baseball season Wednesday night when they defeated Leesburg by a score of 5-4.

This was the first OBC action for the Seminoles and they will face tough Apopka in more competitive action here Friday night.

It was a startling mound performance by Seminoles pitcher Jim Gracey that accounted for the Seminoles' victory. Senior Tom Mitchell started for the Seminoles and found himself in a little trouble in the third inning although he didn't give up but one hit. Gracey came on in relief and immediately struck out the side in his five innings he pitched in ball game and he should be tough from here on out.

Friday against the Darters, Coach Dave Lewis will probably give Gracey the nod to start on the mound.

Up until this point of the season Gracey had a great deal of trouble but he found himself in this game and he should be tough from here on out.

In a five way track meet Wednesday night at Leesburg, the Seminoles lost to Leesburg by a score of 10-8.

The scoring was as follows: Winter Park, 10; Sanford, 20; Leesburg, 8; Lake Wales, 23, and Sebring, 5.

In the meet the Wildcat's Mike Moeber did everything but sell tickets to the event. He pulled up a total of 234 points and took first place in every event that he entered. He won the high jump, the shot, the shot put, the discus throw, and was another man on the winning relay team. In the shot put event Seminoles' Charles Fox set a new school record with a heavey throw but his record was bettered by Lee's 25 feet.

With the exception of the big advantage given the Wildcats by Moeber, the Seminoles were right there in every event. Four new school records were set. The mile run was won by Murrey Simon, in 17:40. The 200 yard dash was won by Charles Fox, and Farley established a new time of 3:42. Jim Gracey scored through the air 15-8 in the broad jump to set a new record established at Seminoles in 1937. The old record was held by Murrey Simon, in the mile run. Chester Fawley won the event in a time of 4:34 and Ray Lambert bettered his own school record in the 400 run in a time of 2:02.

The next meet will be the Boone School Saturday afternoon in Orlando.

Wynn Hurts Seven Scoreless Innings; Ready For Good Year

United Press International

Early (Gus) Wynn, the American League's top winning pitcher of last season, gave notice today that he's all set for another big year that will bring him close to the magic figure of 300 victories.

The Chicago White Sox ace right-hander displayed mid-season form in breezing seven shutout innings in a 2-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers Wednesday, just about as easily as he breezed past his 20th birthday last January. With 271 victories already in the till, "hard rock" Wynn is four triumphs ahead of Milwaukee's Warren Spahn for top honors among currently active hurlers and he knows that another big year will put him within arm's reach of that exclusive "300 club."

Only six modern hurlers are members of that club and they are all Hall of Fame immortals—Cy Young, Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Eddie Plank and Lefty Grove.

Only three more wins will put Wynn in the No. 7 slot among modern pitchers, just ahead of the 273 wins by former Yankee star Charley Ruffing.

Wynn was complained of a gout attack just last weekend, was a pain in the neck for the Tigers as he scattered four singles over his seven innings. Two of the Detroit hitters were quickly erased in double plays. A two-run Chicago rally in the fifth inning on Gene Freese's single, Minnie Minico's double and Al Smith's double enabled Wynn to turn over a

BRL Tryouts Slated Friday

Sanford Babe Ruth League tryouts will be held Friday at the Seminoles High Baseball Field beginning at 3:30 p. m.

All boys who will be 13 by September 1 or not over 15 on that date are eligible to register for the tryouts. Birth certificates must be brought at this time.

Last year's six team league has been expanded to eight with the addition of Lake Mary and Oviedo. The season is due to get underway April 25 with practice starting next week.

'Newk' Sent Home

CINCINNATI (UPI) — The Cincinnati Reds have sent pitcher Ben Newcombe home from their Jacksonville training camp for dislocation of a leg injury. Newcombe pulled a muscle in his right thigh during a game two weeks ago and the injury has not responded to treatment.

Covington Covers Sports

By JERRY COVINGTON

The Seminoles High baseballers have their work cut out for them tomorrow when they play host to tough Apopka. The Darters are undefeated in OBC play and they have a win over Lakeview of Winter Garden, earlier touted as the team to beat this season. The Darters only loss was to Lyman by a score of 4-3. However, the next week they came back and beat the Greyhounds 5-3. Sophomores Dan Goolsby is a fine pitcher and is the big gun for the Darters.

The Seminoles may have found the key to a successful season Tuesday night in their victory over Leesburg. Senior Jim Gracey was tremendous on the mound as he fanned 10 batters and gave up but one hit. If Gracey can keep his form they will be tough all the way.

Another fellow who has given the Seminoles a big boost is freshman Jackie Coalo. Little Jackie has steadily improved behind the plate and is giving the pitchers a lot of help. Johnny Wheelchel started the season as the No. 1 catcher but Coalo has been so impressive that at present he has the regular job.

In the batting department, third baseman Terry Christensen and Alex McKibbin have found the range and they should be banging out the base hits. In the game Tuesday Christensen hit a ball well over 340 feet only to have it hauled in on a beautiful catch.

Coach Jim Pigott's tracksters continue to crack record after record, this season. If by some chance they can outscore Winter Park in the events Mike Moeber isn't participating in they have a good chance taking the OBC. The Wildcats automatically have a 20 point or better advantage when Moeber enters a meet, for he is nothing short of sensational in every event. He is like a college star among these high school lads.

In a little more than a week, Manager Robbie Robertson will bring his ball club to Sanford to open the 1950 Florida State League season. The club is scheduled to arrive around the 16th and they probably will play an exhibition game with one of the Giants farm clubs before the season opens April 19 in Leesburg.

Robertson, who is a fine catcher and hitter, is very excited about the players assigned to the Greyhounds by Kansas City and he is confident that he will be able to provide us with an exciting summer.

Business Manager Pete Schaal reports that everything is set for the opening game and the club is ready to operate on a sound financial basis throughout the season. The city has given wonderful responses to the entire program and we can look forward to a fine summer of baseball.

67 Of Nation's Top Golf Pros Tee Off In Masters Play

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — The world's masters of the fairways started out today after the first of 1950's major golf titles—the Masters—with Arnold Palmer the betting choice and Sammy Snead and Ben Hogan the sentimental favorites.

Despite a slight attack of the flu, which he shrugged off "as nothing serious," Palmer still remained the betting favorite. But the odds on the year's leading money winner lengthened from 5-1 to 6-1, with Snead the second choice in the revised betting list at 8-1. Ken Venturi was next in line at 7-1 followed by burly Mike Souchak at 8-1.

Palmer, who has cashed in $28,700 thus far, said he went to see a doctor purely as a precautionary measure "and he told me the congestion was breaking up."

"It doesn't bother me," he insisted, adding that the odds didn't bother him either.

"At least I try to make them no concern," he said.

Palmer played only a few holes on the back nine of the championship course Wednesday and then shot a two under par 33 over the nine-hole par three course in the afternoon. The contestants played this one for silverware prizes.

Palmer missed four greens, but had seven one-putt greens.

Snead won the competition when he birdied the ninth hole for a 23. Law Worsham and Dick Knight tied for second with 24's. Doug Sanders and Ted Kroll each had holes in one. Snead considered his par three triumph a good omen.

"I have as good a chance as anybody," he insisted. Earlier in the day, he fired a final practice round 7, even par, with five birdies and five bogeys. It was the first time he had failed to break par in his Masters teesups.

Detroit Prexy Denies Dykes Out

LAKELAND (UPI) — Bill DeWitt, president of the Detroit Tigers, says the club has no more thought of replacing Manager Jimmy Dykes than "of taking a trip to the moon."

The club president made the statement Wednesday in commenting on a Detroit newspaper report that Dykes might be on the way out. The report followed by one day the demotion of Rick Ferrell from general manager to a post as DeWitt's special assistant.

DeWitt called the Dykes report "ridiculous" and said the cigar-smoking field pilot is "a splendid manager."

Dykes, one of baseball's wittier shippers, wasn't letting himself be bothered much by the story.

"I've looked over my contract and it's all legal and in good order," he said. "I intend to fulfill my part of it."

Welter Bout Ends In Draw

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Former heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano summed it up perfectly in discussing Wednesday night's 10-round nationally televised fight between welterweights Gale Kerwin and Jay Fullmer, which ended in a draw.

"Kerwin was more aggressive," said Marciano, who refereed the contest held in the swank Fontainebleau Hotel's grand ballroom. "But Fullmer landed more punches."

Marciano scored it 99-98 for each fighter under the 10-point-man system. Judge Harry Fearman favored Fullmer, 97-94, but Judge Dave Feld had Kerwin in front, 99-95. United Press International scored it 94-96 for Fullmer.

Kerwin, a 25-year-old Canadian native now fighting out of Valley Stream, N. Y., was bitter over the call.

"I thought I won easy," he said. "I carried the fight, worked harder, and scored with much heavier punching."

Kerwin, who weighed 145½ pounds to the 25-year-old Fullmer's 130, said he thought he knocked his opponent down with a left hook to the jaw late in the sixth round. Marciano ruled it a slip.

Fullmer, brother of middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, was dissatisfied with the decision, but was not as vehement as Kerwin.

Kegler Who Rolled Record To Join 'Hall Of Famers'

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — Alvie Brandt, the mighty mite from Lockport, N. Y., who rolled the highest league series in bowling history, will be inducted into bowling's Hall of Fame in ceremonies at the ABC tournament here tonight.

Brandt, who rolled a sensation at 800 series in 1929, will become the 21st member of the bowling Hall of Fame. Following induction ceremonies he and other Hall of Famers will compete in an exhibition match against an all-star team from Toledo.

Other Hall of Famers appearing tonight are Frank Benson, Adolph Carlsen, Joe Morris, Hank Marine, Harry Street, and Walter Ward.

The highest possible total for any bowler in a three-game league set is 300, or three perfect 300 scores. Brandt accomplished his great total on games of 297, 298 and 299. He rolled 23 strikes out of a maximum of 34.

Wednesday's bowling in the tournament resulted in one minor change in the standings when Edward Wierdarski and John Syroka, both of Toledo, had a 1,200 double to tie for 12th place in the two-man division.

Wierdarski rolled a 613 and Syroka a 607. Syroka ended with 1,213 for 12th place in the all-events.

The top team score was 2,228, rolled by the Los Angeles Bowling Assn. No. 3 team. It, however, was not good enough to crack the leaders.

To Sign Pact

GENEVA (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson said Wednesday he will fly to New York some time next week to sign a contract for a return match with Floyd Patterson on June 22.

Johansson has lined up sparring partners for his training quarters in a chateau about 10 miles from the Lake Geneva district.

Flying Joe Foss

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Joe Foss, Marine Corps flying ace in World War II, has flown more than 42,611 passenger miles since taking over as commissioner of the American Football League.

NORTH ORLANDO HOMES model home has been chosen "Best Home For The Money" by American Home Magazine. In making its selection, American Home considered design, price of the home, type of construction, cost of the land, building materials, zoning, and many other factors. William L. Deutsch, executive vice president of Masterbuilders Corp., said the award winning home was designed to let its occupants "enjoy Florida living." A folder showing the home can be obtained by sending your name and address to Deutsch, care of Masterbuilders, Box 975, Winter Park.

Property Tax For North Orlando
A Possibility

A village property tax for North Orlando is "in the realm of possibility," Mayor Roy Liddick said Tuesday night.

A village resident, Charles Bigelow, asked at the Village Council meeting whether North Orlando would some day have a property tax. Bigelow said that as North Orlando grows from its present 4,100 acres, it will need more police and fire protection.

The mayor said a tax on cigarettes and local industry might bring the community income in the future. Councilman Joe Jackson said North Orlando will collect money from franchise agreements as time goes on.

The mayor really had a tough job recently, the village Council also heard.

Mayor Liddick was offered some money—and he had to refuse it. It seems the mayor received a letter from Seminole County Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson Sr. saying that Peterson was authorized to give North Orlando assistance if the village was damaged by March's heavy rains. The mayor had to report that North Orlando didn't need the money.

"That's a shame...to our advantage," Councilman Reggie Webster said.

Land-Locked Lake Property Owners May Get Flood Relief

Relief may be in sight for landlocked lake property owners in the south end of the county.

County Commissioner Lawrence Swofford was authorized by the board Tuesday to check into the cost of pumps to pump the water out of property near Lake Faith, Lake Roy, Lake Oriens, Lake

Seminole, Lake Mauby and Lake Charity.

Swofford told the board that water is seeping in the homes of many of these property owners and in some cases persons have even moved out.

Board Chairman John Krider asked Swofford to get the "facts and figures" and if the purchase of pumps will help and, is not costly, "we will do everything in our power to relieve the situation."

Swofford said there is a south end of the county have risen to a "critical" point.

North Orlando Seeks Way To Curb Dog Problem

North Orlando's mayor will see if the village can't control its dog problem by getting pointers from Sanford's dog ordinance.

Mayor Roy Liddick told the village council Tuesday night that he would find out from City Manager W. E. Knowles just what kind of an ordinance Sanford has on dog control. G. W. Peil, of 30 S. Cortez Ave. said there are 10 or 15 dogs that frequently run loose in his neighborhood.

"In order to keep these dogs from running wild that people own, we are going to have to put a fee on them," Mayor Liddick said. He pointed out that places like North Orlando are becoming a dumping ground for people who want to abandon their dogs.

North Orlando will have a report within 10 days on just what kind of insurance the village's property should have. Councilman Joe Jackson told the village council.

Jackson said American Fire and Casualty Company is making a survey of the type liability North Orlando needs now and what it should have as the community grows. Jackson recommended that the policy cover the village's station wagon, jeep, and pickup truck and the mayor and councilmen's cars when they are being used for village business.

Mayor Liddick told Jackson to get at least two bids on the insurance. They will be from Sanford, Winter Park and Orlando agencies.

County Contest Day Discussed

Cecil Tucker, county agent from Sanford, met with the Lake Mary 4-H boys this week at the school to discuss the county contest day to be held on April 30.

Four categories are open for the boys to enter: tractor care, public speaking, electric lamps, and insect collecting. These subjects were discussed by the boys and their leader, Mrs. Cecil Tucker.

To conclude the contest day activities, the 4-H boys and girls will have a skating party at Skate City. There will be a 50 cent charge for each one attending.

Monday afternoon Tucker will meet with the boys again to have a work session on their garden. All boys are asked to attend whether they have a garden or not.

Junior Rifle Club Organized

The South Seminole Rifle Club now has its junior counterpart.

A South Seminole Junior Rifle Club has been started by Bill Bridge of Fern Park. There are 27 boys in the club which has National Rifle Association affiliations. The boys shoot every Saturday at their own range.

Bridge, who is also scoutmaster of Longwood Boy Scout Troop 229, bought several single shot .25 caliber rifles which he lets the boys use when they don't have their own guns. The boys are taught rifle construction and safety before they go on the range. The club is open to boys under 18.

Tractor Theft

Five Longwood youths were arrested last week and charged with taking a Conley Groves tractor, driving it into a swamp, and draining out the gasoline. The tractor was taken the night of March 28, Longwood Police Chief Claude Lajoie said Wednesday.

New Cars Really Draw 'Em

The Sanford Automobile Dealers Assn. show opened to a full house Wednesday night and the dealers were shining up their wares for another go 'round today as the exhibits continue from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. through Friday.

An estimated 5,000 people looked over the 1960 models of all U. S. made cars and compacts and the imported ones sold here.

The compact cars drew a big share of the public interest, but there was a lot of o-o-hing and a-a-hing over the plush big jobs too.

Station wagons and flashy convertibles attracted many comments and the newest accessories in the show impressed most spectators.

Among the viewers were residents from all over Seminole County and adjoining areas as far away as Apopka and DeLand.

The dealers were well pleased with the turnout and hope to entertain more large crowds today and Friday, Willie Hunt of Hunt-Lincoln-Mercury, chairman of the show, said.

"Interest in all models and styles was great and it looked like the people enjoyed the show," Hunt said.

There are 81 cars on display and visitors to the show have commented on the convenience of having a chance to see all the different makes in one location, Hunt said.

There are cars with a retail value of $252,196.41 being exhibited by the Sanford dealers. They range in price from $1,118.85 to $7,042.87.

A puppet show will be presented three times today, at 4:30, 7:30 and 8:30 p.m., and a loudspeaker system will be operating to enhance the entertainment.

Refreshments are being sold in the show area by members of the Seminole High School Band, which was given the concession profits by the auto dealers. The band was applauded Wednesday night for a concert during the show.

More door prizes will be awarded tonight and Friday and somebody will get an opportunity to take home a $300 cash gift during the final showing Friday.

Sold!

Response to the Auto Show was immediate from the standpoint of sales, some of the dealers showing cars reported.

Bill Hemphill of Bill Hemphill Motors sold a Rambler American just after the crowds began touring the show area at Ft. Mellon Park. That was the first car reported sold.

Fred Yoskie of Moller Motor Sales sold two sales were made at the show last night. A Chevrolet Belair and a pickup truck were purchased from among Moller's 20 entries in the show, he said.

Hunt Lincoln-Mercury sold two of the new Comets and reported prospects for others.

All the dealers reported "real good prospects" for delivery of automobiles to buyers from several communities.

Pat Ending Mars Fine Hitchcock Drama

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — Alfred Hitchcock, who conducts those Sunday night TV courses in cannibalism, threw his considerable weight behind the more agreeable and pertinent subject of justice Tuesday night.

It was a welcome change. Hitchcock directed, "Incident at a Corner," NBC-TV's "Starline" offering, which told the story of 68-year-old James Medwick, a school-crossing guard who was fired immediately after being unjustly and anonymously accused of molesting little girls.

In the play, some of Medwick's family advised him to accept the tough break, beat an expedient, hasty and silent retreat from town. They wanted to avoid nasty publicity and the presumed financial repercussions. But Medwick's future son-in-law, played by George Peppard, pressed for a battle to expose the malicious lie for what it was.

"Any man," he said, "old, young, rich or poor, when faced with a lie about himself, has got to get excited." Peppard also argued on the larger issues of individual freedom and security. He pointed out that nobody could enjoy either if all it took to crush an innocent man was a poison pen letter. Clearly, he was one of those idealistic types, regarded in his community as a boat-rocking, non-conforming troublemaker.

Peppard's passion for truth and justice led him through an erratic course and some blunders. He himself was biased, antagonistic, although the circumstances were extenuating.

Author Charlotte Armstrong supplied our hero with some sharp lines to help him cut through the curtains of fear, timidity and intransigence. For example, when a school principal advised Peppard that the breath of scandal is intolerable to a school system, Peppard's retort was, "so is injustice."

The play maintained a disaffected balance by giving all sides in the case arguments that seemed logical, taken in a framework of discretion being the better part of valor. Yet, everything yielded before Peppard's overzealous demand for truth.

I was quite proud of Peppard's general attitude, but not his method.

What prevented the play from being more successful was its avoidance of some elements of strict reality. The ending, unfortunately, was much too pat. Ironically, there was a reliance on expediency — through coincidence — which removed some impact from the story.

Still, the play succeeded in an area where earlier this year, playwright Archibald MacLellan failed. That is, Miss Armstrong devised a more dynamic plot to remind us anew of "the secret of freedom."

Peppard played his part with credibility and fire, as did Vera Miles in the role of his fiancée, Paul Hartman, as Mr. Medwick, let himself get bogged down a few times in displays of superficial solemnity but otherwise handled his part well.

Hitchcock's famed flashes of directorial genius were less in evidence than usual. But I guess that's because he was operating under a severe handicap. No corpses.

Home Economics: Career Unlimited

STILLWATER (UPI) — "Help wanted" signs constantly are appearing in an area where women do not need to compete with men, said Dr. Lela O'Toole of Oklahoma State University.

The dean of the O. S. U. home economics department said new jobs are being created for well-educated home economists. Some 80,000 persons already are in the field.

"For girls seeking a career," Dean O'Toole said, "professional opportunities in home economics are unlimited."

Chrysler Takes Top Honors In Economy Run

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Chrysler Corp. took top honors in the 1960 Mobilgas economy run, placing first in four of the six divisions of the fuel-saving test. Fifty-six drivers crossed the finish line Wednesday after nursing their cars 2,061 miles from Los Angeles. The cross-country trip took five days.

The test, sponsored annually by the Mobil Oil Co., was conducted by the United States Auto Club (USAC). It is designed to check gas-use of American-made cars under normal driving conditions. Chrysler products took the first two places in the two low-priced car divisions and first in the upper medium priced class and the high priced class.

Winners were Mary Hauser, Hollywood, Calif., in a Plymouth Savoy, at 24.8 miles per gallon; Mary Davis, Hollywood, Plymouth Belvidere, 22.8; Mel Asbury Jr., Hollywood, Chrysler New Yorker, 20.8, and George Alsbury, Hollywood, Imperial, 18.8.

The top performance record went to a Rambler American custom in the compact car class, the first year the smaller cars competed. The Rambler, driven by Les Viland, Lyons, Mich., finished with a 29.3 mile-per-gallon average, best in the field.

A Studebaker Hawk, driven by Jim Peterson, Altadena, Calif., was the winner in the lower medium priced class with a 22.9 average.

Whaling Appears To Be Losing Its Glamour

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—What probably is the most dangerous peacetime occupation—open-boat whaling in the Moby Dick style—practically has disappeared from the seven seas.

Seen it may depend for its survival entirely on the fertile imaginations of adventure story writers and movie makers.

This rather sad reflection on the growing security of modern life came from Dr. Robert Clarke, an Englishman who has tried his hand at open-boat whaling both in the movie studios and outside.

He stopped by at United Nations headquarters early this week on his way from Europe back to South America where he is now advising the governments of Chile, Peru and Ecuador, under the expanded technical assistance program, on how to develop their whaling industries.

Dr. Clarke was the technical adviser for the filming of Herman Melville's classic whaling epic, Moby Dick. He told a group of U.N. newsmen, to whom whaling was a pleasant interlude from discussion of the South African riots, how the scenes of Ahab's encounter with the white whale were skillfully shot in specially constructed ponds in London.

Moby Dick was constructed in three gigantic parts, Clarke explained, with a very realistic head cast as Herman Melville described it. The only thing omitted from the movie model was Moby Dick's crooked jaw. "We didn't put one in because people might think it was a very badly constructed whale," Clarke said.

In real life, sperm whales with deformed, twisted lower jaws sometimes are encountered. But do white whales really exist? Dr. Clarke has never seen one, and he has no hard evidence that anyone else has. The closest color to white is found in old sperm whales which get more gray-headed the older they become.

Dr. Clarke said he supposed that "in peacetime there is no more dangerous occupation than open-boat whaling." The only part of the world where it is still practiced is in the Azores and around Madeira Island, off the coast of Portugal. There whales are harpooned, chased, and lanced to death much as they were in the 19th Century and the open boats, Clarke said, "are smashed time and again."

One of the few precautions is that now, according to Portuguese whaling regulations, men must be able to swim before they are allowed out in the boats. Dr. Clarke has eaten a lot of whale meat in his life and he described it as "very good indeed."

Dr. Clarke, who said he "always wanted to go and see whales" since he was a small boy, has already spent two years helping Chile and Peru put their whaling industry on a scientific basis.

Together these countries catch about 8,000 whales annually; Ecuador, which had no whaling industry, now wants to join the club.

Open Against Giants
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Forty-Niners will open their 1959 home schedule against the New York Giants on Sept. 28. The remainder of the six-game slate will be against the Los Angeles Rams, Oct. 5; Chicago Bears, Oct. 12; Detroit Lions, Nov. 8; Green Bay Packers, Dec. 11 and Baltimore Colts, Dec. 18.

Macmillan Comes Perilously Close To Violating Prime Rules Of Club

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor
Addressing a joint session of the South African Parliament early this year, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said: "...In this shrinking world in which we live today, the internal policies of one nation may have effects outside it. I hope you won't mind my saying frankly that there are some aspects of your policies which make it impossible for us to support you without being false to our own deep convictions about the political destinies of free men."

Jacksonville Girl's Letter Knocks 'Em Dead

LONDON (UPI)—Congratulations Corrine Sharrock of Jacksonville, Florida, U. S. A.

Your letter to the Times of London knocked 'em dead today. Miss Sharrock chastised the British for the furor caused in this country over a mammoth gold eagle the State Department intends to place atop the new U. S. embassy.

Many British, who take a dim view anyway of the modernistic embassy, think the presence of the 35-foot eagle would shatter the old-fashioned serenity of English surroundings.

"What a temper in a teapot," the American woman wrote, and went on to compare England's attitude to the states to that of an "aristocratic family whose son has run away from home."

"The poor boob (the errand son) pays and pays trying to buy his way back into the good graces of the family," she said. "Can't you accept us for what we are? We're young; we're brash. We run instead of walk and we love our flashy toys. We have all the vigor and all the imperfections of youth but we're growing."

"Won't you please let us have our oversized eagle? Youth must have its toys and that (the eagle) will be a lollipop!"

"Yours, with tongue in cheek." The Times carried no comment but the headline over the letter said: "Let The Eagle Soar."
