ments being done by Mrs. Irving Fleischer for the occasion. Among the adults who will be showing paintings are Mrs. Olive Adams, Mrs. Betty Armstrong, Mrs. Mildred Babcock, Mrs. Georgia Ball, Mrs. Ruth Bethea, Mrs. Katherine Bishop, Mrs. Gretchen Crowell, Mrs. Kathy Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Galloney, Mrs. Helen Galloway, Mrs. Beth Gregory, Mrs. Helen DeWit, Mrs. Mary Know, Mrs.

Students Demonstrate To Class

Two Seminole High School chemistry students, Sherrille Julian and Betty Brandt, accompanied by their instructor, Paul Hickson, demonstrated how to detect radiation in food at a seminar on Emergency Mass Feeding being held at Longwood School Monday.

The students demonstrated to members of the school food services as part of a training course that is being given by the Civil Defense Dept., the Dept. of Education and the School Food Service Dept. In order to make the food radio-active, a harmless solution of uranyl acetate had been prepared in the school laboratory and some of the solution poured on a cabbage, an orange, a banana, a can of applesauce and a loaf of bread.

With the aid of an amplifier set up for the demonstration, the class was able to hear the clicks of the Geiger counter, and it was explained how the timing of the "clicks" indicated the density of the radiation.

Glenn, Kennedy In Washington For Reception

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. arrived here today with President Kennedy for a tumultuous reception the nation bestows only rarely on American heroes.

The first American to orbit the earth was accompanied by his wife, two children, his parents and fellow astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and Alan B. Shepard.

The freed Marine lieutenant colonel scheduled a visit to the White House, a parade along the rain-soaked "avenue of heroes" to the Capitol, and a speech before a joint meeting of Congress.

Glenn and all six of the other astronauts were going to the White House reception. From there out, it was to be Glenn's day.

Rain pelted down from a dirty gray sky as the big celebration got under way, and no letup was in sight. But this did not deter the crowd, which began lining Pennsylvania Avenue well in advance of parade time. Upwards of 300,000 persons were expected to be on hand.

By 10:30 a.m., about 200 spectators had gathered at rope barriers at the Capitol in anticipation of seeing the man who soared three times around the earth in his space capsule last Tuesday.

School children in the Washington area were given the day off to watch the gala proceedings, and government workers were allowed time off.

The Supreme Court, in a change of plans, decided to recess at noon so the justice could attend the joint session and hear Glenn's speech. The court originally had planned to skip the meeting.

Glenn and his family were expected to spend about 10 minutes in the President's office, saying goodby to Kennedy, before setting out on the 45-minute parade to the Capitol.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was to ride in the lead car with Glenn and Mrs. Glenn along the parade route taken by such heroes as Eisenhower, MacArthur and Pershing.

Other members of Glenn's family and his six fellow astronauts also were assigned cars in the parade, which will include marching units of the armed forces.

Cuban Tobacco Clearance Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., said he plans to introduce a bill in Congress this week to waive U. S. import duties on Cuban tobacco being held in bond in warehouses in this country.

Cramer said his bill would not allow any more tobacco to be imported from Cuba, but would permit use of tobacco already in storage without payment of the duties. He described this as a form of aid to Tampa cigar makers, hard hit by the tobacco embargo.

Shorter Week Urged By Meany

Ordinance For Bonds To Be Asked Tonight

Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps will ask the City Commission tonight to set the wheels in motion for a sewage treatment plant and ask that a bond ordinance be drawn up to float a $200,000 bond issue to carry out the program.

Indications are that the board will delay action on a $1,000,000 water improvement study until further study.

Crapps today said he would ask the commission to approve revenue certificates for the sewage treatment plant in an effort for the city to get a federal grant of $100,000 now being held in abeyance in Tallahassee.

Tuesday is the deadline for the federal grant and although the State Health Department has granted a 30 day extension it will take 30 days for the ordinance to be drawn up.

The issue will be one for 20 years and it would mean an increase of about 60 cents per customer per month.

In other business, the board will consider diagonal parking on First St. based on a recommendation by the merchants division.

City Manager W. E. Knowles has indicated he is against the move. The board also will consider a request for a bus franchise.

Consideration of utilization of the county registration system.

Consideration of tabled bids on the pickup truck and consideration of allowing Alex of Miami to utilize city water and sewer lines.

Herlong Among Those Qualifying

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—A lot of political campaigning appeared likely this year as candidates flocked to qualify at the secretary of state's office to run for national and state offices.

The Fifth District incumbent, Cong. Syd Herlong, was among those who filed over the weekend.

Democrat Roger L. Davis of Fort Lauderdale filed to oppose incumbent U. S. Sen. George A. Smathers. No Republican candidate had filed for the office as the first week of qualifications closed out Friday.

Most of the early congressional filings centered around new districts created by the 1961 Legislature but Rep. Danie B. Fassell found himself opposed by State Rep. David Eldridge and Republican Ralph W. Schmidt for his Fourth District seat. Dr. John Marcello, Lake City, filed to oppose incumbent Rep. D. R. Matthews of Gainesville.

Ten candidates qualified to oppose incumbent state senators and 25 filed to oppose incumbent state representatives.

Kennedy Closer To Summit Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy appeared today to be one step closer to a summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, but still insisting on specific evidence of Russia's good faith.

The White House disclosed Sunday that the President, though rejecting Khrushchev's second bid for a March summit meeting, told the Soviet leader he hoped progress on disarmament would make it possible to hold one before June 1.

Kennedy again urged Khrushchev to send his foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, to meet with the British and American foreign secretaries at the opening of the 18-nation arms control meeting in Geneva March 14. He said U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk would "present my views with complete authority."

Red Border Cop, 3 Others Escape

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berlin police today reported the escape of an East German border policeman and three of his friends across the East-West border.

They fled through barbed wire from the Soviet zone of Germany to the American sector of Berlin in a suburban area last Wednesday.

The policeman, Rudi Thurrow, 21, gave details of the flight to the West Berlin newspaper B. Z.

Thurrow told police he fled through the barbed wire first and covered the escape of his friends, two men and a woman, by firing 30 shots from his machine pistol over the heads of two Communist policemen who tried to halt them.

The two other policemen took cover and did not fire on the refugees.

Husband Shoots 3, Kills Self

MIAMI (UPI)—A Miami man critically wounded three persons during a family argument Sunday over the custody of a 10-year-old girl, then killed himself.

Police said Peter Cuevas, 33, died in a local hospital three hours after the shooting.

In critical condition were his wife, Eloy, 32, shot in the abdomen, their daughter, Leilani, 10, hit in the arm and face, and Eloy's sister, Basilia Cabrera, 31, hit in the left shoulder, right arm and thigh.

Authorities said Mrs. Cuevas had left her husband a month and a half ago and went to New York, then returned and was living with her sister. The daughter lived with the father.

35 More Days

Register now and be prepared to vote in the May primaries. The Registration office is open daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and on Saturday from 9 a. m. to noon. Registration closes April 7.

HEART SUNDAY WORKERS are busy counting money as returns pour in from all over the county to headquarters. Central station for the drive was at the home of Chairman Merle Warner on Park Ave. Filling in as tellers for the day were Mrs. Hilda Butler, Michael Cuolo and Mrs. Laurence Vershel.

Meet Tonight

The Seminole-DeBary Audubon Society will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in the Sanford Farm School Building, 920 W. 18th St. A picture program on the bald eagle will be shown. Hostesses for the meeting will be DeBary members of the Society.

Bold OAS Blows Up Dump

ALGIERS (UPI) — Police and troops swept through the European quarters of the port city of Oran today in a vast operation against the terrorist Secret Army Organization (OAS).

Police sources said hundreds of persons were questioned, scores of homes and apartments searched and several caches of arms discovered in the big port city.

In Algiers, Moslem students went on strike to protest a weekend of violence in which more than 100 persons were killed. It was climaxed by a brazen bazooka attack apparently carried out by the OAS which blew up a French ammunition and fuel dump Sunday.

The bazooka attack was fired from a hilltop into the LaCasse barracks of French mobile security forces on the outskirts of Algiers.

The dump exploded with a roar but only one man was killed — a sergeant driving by at the time. His wife was seriously wounded.

The deaths across Algeria over the weekend brought to nearly 3,000 the number killed and injured since the beginning of the year.

In addition the OAS has been building up its fighting force with money and weapons seized in raids on banks and armories.

There are more than 400,000 French troops in Algeria but they may be hard put to cope with any increase in the tempo of violence that probably will come with formal announcement of a cease-fire between France and the Algerian rebels.

Despite reinforced armored patrols in Algiers and Oran over the weekend it was the bloodiest in two months of battling between the rival European and Algerian rebel factions.

In the two hours between noon and 2 p. m. Sunday, 10 different terror attacks had killed 7 and wounded 15 in Algiers.

ENTERPRISE FOURTH GRADERS, directed by their teacher, Miss Louise Ball, were in charge of the assembly program presented last Wednesday in the school auditorium. Entitled

"February, The Birth Month," the program play commemorated the birthdates of Abraham Lincoln on Feb. 12 and of George Washington on Feb. 22. (Cox Photo)

Algerian Rebel Parliament Set To Complete Pact

PARIS (UPI) — The National Council of the Algerian Revolution was reported ready to wind up its debate in Tripoli today on the draft agreement negotiated with France to end the Algerian war.

There was no official word from the Libyan capital that the rebel parliament had accepted the agreement but informed sources on both sides were optimistic.

President Charles de Gaulle, speaking at Columbeylea, Deux-Eglises Sunday, displayed the attitude of the French government which already has approved the pact.

"It is possible that the long trail we have had to bear is finished, or on the point of being finished a few days from now, in an honorable and humane manner which is worthy of France," he said.

Earlier in the day it was disclosed that De Gaulle had set up six defense zones in metropolitan France to crush any extremist violence resulting from a cease-fire announcement.

The rebel national council has been meeting in Tripoli since Thursday.

A correspondent for Radio Tunis reported from Tripoli that the council would finish its meeting sometime tonight, but there was no indication when its decisions would be announced.

First Clinic

First clinic in the English-speaking world, the London Dispensary, was founded in 1698 as a central means of dispensing medicines to the sick poor whom physicians were treating in the patients' own houses, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Miss Isabel Hardie, originally scheduled as guest speaker was called away due to a death in the family. Taking her place was Mrs. L. V. Cavins, retired head resident of the girls dormitory of Capital University in Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Cavins is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. E. Collingwood of Forest City who is a WSCS member.

An experienced world traveler, she described trips to Russia and Japan and told of having met the famed Japanese Christian and social worker, Kagawa, before his death in 1960 and of having tea in his home.

She told also of visiting churches and monasteries in Russia and, in reference to the Communist effort to suppress religion, she quoted one Russian as saying: "Religion is like a nail when you hit it with a hammer, the harder you hit, the deeper it goes."

Historic Battle Looming In Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Democratic senators carried the historic fight over public vs. private ownership of utilities into the space age today by calling for a government-owned satellite communications network.

The move was expected to come after both the House and Senate held a joint meeting to hear an address by astronaut John Glenn.

Sens. Estes Kefauver, Tenn., and Wayne Morse, Ore., planned to introduce a bill that would create a $500 million communications satellite authority. The principal and interest would be repaid from the system's proceeds. According to Kefauver, it would operate like the Tennessee Valley Authority.

President Kennedy already has asked Congress to create a privately owned corporation to operate the space communications system. The Senate Space Committee has scheduled hearings starting Tuesday on the administration measure and on one similar to it introduced by Committee Chairman Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma.

Kefauver, in a speech prepared for Senate delivery, described the field of space communications as a natural resource. He said the federal government "is the only entity in our country with experience in the operation of a world-wide communications system."

Other congressional news: Farms: The Chamber of Commerce charged that the administration, through its proposed farm plan, was trying to force production and marketing controls on farmers with "the threat of getting tough" and breaking the backs of farmers.

Walter B. Garver told the Senate Agriculture Committee that the administration was proposing to manipulate prices in monopolistic fashion by limiting the food and fiber supply of the nation.

Kastenmeier: Rep. Bob Kastenmeier, D-Wis., charged today that the U. S. Weather Bureau was practicing inefficient business methods that cost taxpayers tens of thousands of dollars. Kastenmeier, in the fifth in his series of statements on waste in government, said the bureau was duplicating weather facilities; displaying weaknesses in warehouse management and showing "extremely poor financial management."

Siam: Siamese cats are native to Thailand, but now there probably are more in other countries than in Siam.

No Danger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said Sunday there was "no danger whatsoever that any extreme or rightist group" would ever dominate the GOP.

Dirksen made the statement in an interview with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, (R-N. Y.) recorded for use on television and radio stations in New York state.

Enterprise P-TC Hears Project Reports

By Helen Snodgrass
The February meeting of the Enterprise Parent-Teacher Council was held last Tuesday in the school cafeteria. Project reports given during the business meeting were heard from Mrs. Donald Drack, chairman of the U. S. Savings Stamps program for students, and from Mrs. Edwin Braddock, in charge of a fund-raising program to pay for the uniforms of the Junior League Basketball team.

Mrs. Drack reported on the amount of stamps sold to date and urged the children to make a special effort to buy stamps regularly in order that they may complete a full book by the end of the term.

Mrs. Braddock advised that the uniforms have arrived and some donations still are needed in order to have them completely paid. Announcement was made that the water cooler, ordered earlier by the council for the school, has arrived and is being installed.

Fifth graders won the room count taken before the program, highlighting important historical events, was presented by Mrs. Ruth Ryan and her fifth grade students. Refreshments for the meeting were in charge of eighth grade mothers.

The party is open to the community and all interested persons have been invited to join the church group for the evening. New tables and chairs recently purchased by the women now are in use.

Refreshments and prizes will be provided and a minimum donation will be accepted.

Presbyterians To Sponsor Survival Course

Seminola County Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson Sr. has issued a reminder to all interested persons that classes are now being organized for a Personal Survival Course which opens Friday at the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford.

Instructor Tom Richey will meet with the group from 7 p. m. until 10 p. m. each Friday for four consecutive weeks. Registration may be made through the church, which is sponsoring the course, by contacting Mrs. Carl Schiike.

Four Young Tius Steal Many Hearts

By Jane Casselberry
Many a heart was stolen last week by petite and talented Ginny Tiu and her equally talented brother and two young sisters, small Alexander and pixie-like Vicky and Elizabeth who entertained daily during the Grand Opening Week of the new Riksha Inn in Fern Park.

Ginny, who leads the group, is well known to TV viewers as she has appeared many times with such network personalities as Perry Como, Ed Sullivan and Danny Thomas. Though she came to this country only two-and-one-half years ago from Hong Kong, she has the aplomb of a show business veteran.

The youngsters put on a fast moving, entertaining show which includes piano selections, both popular and classical, singing and dancing and telling jokes which have been around many more years than the young Tius.

Their repertoire includes such varied selections as "Do-Re-Mi," "God Bless America," "Don't Fence Me In" and an imitation of Jimmy Durante singing "Inka, Dinka, Doo."

Although impossible for all of the nine Tiu children, ranging in age from 14 years to the baby, to appear in the show, the children are accompanied at the piano by their father and reserve an introductory spot for charming Mrs. Tiu who, in truth appears hardly a day older than her daughter.

Contrary to widespread belief, General Pershing did not say "Lafayette, we are here" to the French people in World War I. It was included in a speech delivered at Lafayette's tomb by Col. Charles E. Stanton, chief disbursing officer of the AEF.

Castro Introduces 'Fourth Strike'

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro made his first public appearance in 13 days here Sunday night and introduced the "fourth strike" to Cuban baseball.

The long absence of the bearded revolutionary leader from the public eye had given rise to rumors that he had taken asylum, had gone to Moscow, was being held captive and the like.

But Sunday the Cuban government sent a communique to the Soviet Union over Castro's signature thanking Moscow for its promise of support against "Yankee aggression" and Sunday night the premier showed up at Havana's Latin American Stadium for a ball game.

It was a double-header between two amateur teams, the Occidentals and the Orientals.

After the first game Castro went down on the field himself and batted against the two pitchers scheduled to oppose each other in the second game.

With an umpire calling the pitches, pitcher Modesto Verdura whipped a called third strike past the premier. Castro promptly proclaimed he could not be called out without swinging. Verdura tossed another and Castro hit a grounder to right field.

Against the other pitcher, Manuel Hernandez, Castro blooped a Texas Leaguer into right field.

Castro's last previous public appearance was on Feb. 12 when he and visiting Brazilian peasant leader Francisco Juliao attended the opening of the national circus.

A Key Note

"Our industry in the year 2000 will be very largely concerned with products now unknown to us, which you and your generation will help to develop. . . ."

"Some of you will spend your mature years working in fields which cannot now be listed in any college catalogue because they have not yet been invented."

With words like these, Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, tries to entice countless young Americans towards the frontiers of science.

This country's still notable shortage of scientists and engineers recently drew fresh comment from President Kennedy. It is constantly remarked by many public figures.

Seaborg's appeal on this score, however, seems unusually thoughtful, if his talk at the Science Youth Day dinner at the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation be a fair example.

He appears especially eager to knock down a prevalent notion that only mental wizards dare enter these important fields. Says Seaborg:

"The great bulk of scientific discoveries were made by men of better than average intelligence who were by no means in the 'genius' category."

Below the superintelligence level, such diverse qualities as manual dexterity, freshness of viewpoint, mastery of experimental techniques or possession of sharp insights drawn from past experience may make decisive contributions to science.

In fact, Seaborg says flatly that geniuses alone cannot advance science effectively. So many varied tasks need doing in basic research, industry, agriculture, medicine and other fields that "help from people of many levels of ability" is a necessity.

For much of this work, aspiring young Americans need not plow through what they may fear is a forbidding curriculum. A good high school grounding in math and English gets them off winging, after which they could do with a foundation of basic science courses and reasonable mastery of German, French and increasingly, Russian.

Seaborg does not pretend that work at any level in science and engineering is child's play, to be handled with fingertip touch. But he believes once young people sample the lures of science they will forget soft living and clockwatching.

For the nation's sake, we must hope that discerning appeals of this sort will strike a responsive chord. The discovery and application of new scientific ideas by the thousands lies ahead of us if we are to keep this country abreast of its population growth and its crucial free world responsibilities.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Styles in the conduct of international relations change like everything else. When once, as in the days of both Roosevelt, the United States sending a battleship into some used to "show the flag" by trouble spot or around the world, today's presidents just send their relatives.

President Eisenhower sent his brother Milton hither and yon. His brother Edgar wasn't so co-operative.

But look at the Kennedys. His wife is going to Pakistan and India. If she is half as successful on this trip as she was in conducting that TV tour of the White House, the least to expect is that she will bring youth and beauty to Kashmir, if not peace. Recall how she charmed Khrushchev at Vienna. Consider how kind and sweet and reasonable he has been about relaxing tensions ever since. Oh, baby.

Brother Bobby is showing the disturbed youth of disturbed places like Japan and Indonesia how far a young man can go in a democracy if he just has the right connections.

Brother Teddy has gallivanted through Israel and pointed Middle East and it's getting so you can't look at a map anymore without finding some spot where a Kennedy is or was.

Sisters Eunice and Jean did Poland and Yugoslavia last year without upsetting Gomulka or Tito, or converting them from communism. Brother-in-law Sargent Shriver has been all over for the Peace Corps. And sister Jean and her husband Stephen Smith went around the world with Vice President Lyndon Johnson and Lady Bird. Remember what they brought back to improve international understanding? — a camel driver.

Dick West Says:

Manage Women?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — While leafing through a stack of congressional newsletters, I ran across an item that set me all awither.

The Small Business Administration, it said, had published a pamphlet explaining "How to manage women."

Now here, I exclaimed to myself, is a federal agency that understands the meaning of public service. Rarely does one find the government showing such an awareness of what the citizenry needs.

The SBA pamphlet obviously would be of value not only to small businessmen, but to large businessmen and even non-businessmen, possibly including newspapermen.

I mean, it is common knowledge that women have been getting more unmanageable by the hour. Feeling that there was not a moment to lose, I beat it over to the SBA headquarters to pick up a copy of the pamphlet.

I found upon my arrival that a lot of other male minds had been running in the same channel. The agency already had exhausted its supply of the pamphlets and had a big backlog of orders on file.

Fortunately, I was able to borrow a copy and immediately undertook to memorize its contents. I wanted to be well briefed on the subject before I went home that night.

Sad to relate, the pamphlet is a bit too narrow in scope for my purposes. It deals primarily with managing women employees, rather than with women in general.

Nevertheless, it sets forth some broad principles (no pun intended) that can be applied non-commercially by substituting the word "husband" where the word "employer" appears. "Women," the pamphlet says, "are different. They tend to personalize situations. . . . Some women magnify minor details because they often feel that they are the center around which other people revolve."

Women like to be praised and dislike being corrected, particularly in front of other women. They become annoyed when rushed and are touchy about working overtime. Above all, women resent anything that makes them suspect they are being treated unfairly. They don't function well unless convinced that they are on equal terms with men.

CASE L-440: Not long ago I saw a striking ad in the Wall Street Journal.

The heading over the ad was this:

THE SHOCK OF COMMON SENSE

Leo Burnett Company, Inc., was the sponsor of the ad, which contained a picture of an immigrant woman with a market basket full of cut flowers.

She was trying to sell them in front of the Music Hall.

But she had a small sign that read:

"I am not starving. And I do not have 17 children to feed. I sell flowers because I love flowers and enjoy selling them. If you care to buy, they are 25 cents each."

What do you suppose was the result?

Well, she emptied 5 baskets within 15 minutes!

The Leo Burnett Company, then reminded readers that we should never underestimate the power of simplicity and forthrightness in producing sales.

It summed up this dramatic truth by quoting Ralph W. Emerson:

"Nothing astonishes us as much as common sense and plain dealing."

Truth Beats All

Each year thousands of college students get this same idea drilled into them from Chapter 1 of my college textbook, for I cite the classic example described in Printers Ink of an Evanston haberdashery.

This men's clothing store had never sold more than 19 men's suits in a single day, for it was a small shop.

Over a period of several seasons however, it had accumulated 102 left-over suits that just hadn't proved as popular as others.

"You couldn't give away these left-over suits," argued Evanston trade is the most the store manager, "for our fastidious in the U. S. A."

But the advertising manager of the home firm insisted on a big sale.

The ad brought in 250 men and sold 100 of these suits in a single day. The two unsold suits were of such unusual size that they wouldn't fit anybody.

Here's the newspaper ad, which fulfills Emerson's statement about the value of simplicity and plain dealing:

We'll be frank about this. These suits have been in stock for two or three seasons. They are not in the latest styles.

Some are in colors and patterns that have not proved most popular.

Some seem to be just as attractive as any we have, but for reasons we can't explain, haven't sold well. But—

Every one is well tailored. Everyone is in perfect condition.

You see men . . . well dressed men, too . . . wearing suits just like them every day, suits they've had a season or two. Why not get one or two of these suits now, at one-third the original price?

Sale opens Saturday morning. It won't last long.

Send for my booklet on "The New Psychology of Advertising & Selling," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Flameless Electric

Ranges still operating perfectly after 33 years of service in these apartments

Mollie Lewis, left, Fenimore tenant, baked cakes and pastries on the old electric range for many years. Says: "Everything turns out perfect, and it is so easy to use electric."

Another tenant, 86-year-old Beanie Weingarten, regularly baked bread for the past 16 years on her electric range.

When the 48-unit Fenimore Apartment building was built on Miami Beach in 1928, it was the first apartment house to feature all-electric kitchens in that area. Now, after 33 years of trouble-free service, the original ranges are being replaced by modern electric ranges as part of the general, overall modernization of the property. The original ranges, however, were still in good condition and operated as well as they did when they were installed in 1928. As testimony to the excellent condition of these old ranges, inspection by the Florida Hotel and Restaurant Commission rated the establishment 100% on August 23, 1961, before the old ranges were replaced.

This is another proof of the dependability and lasting convenience of flameless electric cooking that keeps your kitchen cooler, cleaner and safer. When you add or replace kitchen equipment, remember . . .

The Fishing Liars Contest is bringing in a variety of tales, including some ingenious methods of catching the biggest or most fish.

Mrs. Jack Lillis of Sanford sent in one which she calls the "The Virginia Way." It's simple:
"Back home in Virginia, we have a sure-fire method for catching the bass and its 'kissin' cousins.' All one needs is a cane pole and some wads of chewing tobacco.

"First, drop a wad of tobacco into the river or lake, wait a few minutes, then when the fish comes up to split, hit it in the head with the cane pole.
"Works every time"

Two well known local figures are connected with another story we will pass on today. Pam Pigott, aged 10, whose forthright personality is well known to athletic contest spectators as an honorary cheerleader, wonders whether her daddy, Coach Jim Pigott, is a borderline case in accurate fish statistics compilation.
Pam refers to her story as "My Dad's Fish Tale." It goes like this:
"One day about three months ago," began my father, "I was cast net fishing on the Manatee River and wasn't having much luck, so I moved on down the river a ways.
"All of a sudden, I saw a big school of mullet feeding just off shore. I cautiously waded within throwing distance and made a perfect cast. As I gathered in the net, it was full of nice, fat mullet, about 25 in all.
"After quite a struggle getting them to shore, I discovered I had nothing to put them in, so I left them on the shore. "Eager to catch more,

Seminoles, Lyman Nab Cage Victories

Sanford Stops Oviedo Five

By Ronnie Broadway
Coach Bud Lauer's Seminoles opened up in the second half Friday night to finish ahead of the Oviedo Lions by the score of 37-43 to give the Seminoles their 12th win of the season as the regular season ended. The loss gave the Lions a 7-17 mark for the season.
The game was nip and tuck through the first period as the Seminoles took a 13-12 first quarter lead. Barry Brown and Bubba Davis led the first period scoring for the Seminoles with Tom Estes and John Courier carrying the lead for the Lions.
Sanford opened up its lead in the second stanza only slightly as they ended up with a 32-28 halftime lead. Each team had matched the other in the scoring department, but the second half was to be the deciding factor. Brown continued pacing the Seminoles with Don McMurray pitching in on the scoring.
Third quarter action saw the Seminoles take command and pull away. They outscored the Lions, 15-9 and were never threatened from there on out. Oviedo threatened early in the third period by scoring their first five baskets to tie the score. But the Seminoles opened the gap quickly to lead at the end of the third period, 47-37.
As the final eight minutes started, the Seminoles continued their barrage of baskets and pulled ahead even more as the final buzzer sounded. Sanford won going away, 57-43.
Brown paced the Seminoles as high point man with a 15 point total as he hit for seven field goals and one free throw. Davis and McMurray each had nine for Sanford to tie for second honors. Tom Estes had 14 pointers to lead the Lions, while John Courier hit for ten more.
In the JV preliminary tilt, the Baby Seminoles squeezed out a close 70-69 win over the Lion "B" Squad.
The regular season for the Seminoles is over, but the Group 3 Tournament will begin Tuesday night in Deland, with Sanford seeing its first action Wednesday night against the Barracudas from New Smyrna Beach High School.

'Rog Not Kidding' Over Holding Out

By United Press International
Roger Maris goes to bat for the fifth time today against Roy Hamey, the New York Yankees' general manager, in an attempt to settle the home run king's salary demands.
In their four previous meetings, the Yankee slugger struck out each time in his quest for a $75,000 contract. This would represent about a 109 per cent increase over Maris' salary last season, when Roger walloped a record 61 home runs and won the American League's Most Valuable Player Award for the second straight year.
Hamey reportedly has offered Maris $60,000 for this year's work, but he is expected to go higher today in order to prevent Roger from becoming an official holdout Wednesday when all the Yankees must be on deck at their Fort Lauderdale, Fla., camp.
Maris already has resolved to return to his Missouri home if the Yankees fail to meet his demands, and those who know the strongwilled outfielder best insist "Rog isn't kidding."
The Yankees aren't the only club facing a holdout siege.
Utility infielder Dilly Goodman stalked out of the Chicago White Sox' camp at Sarasota, Fla., Sunday in a salary dispute with GM Ed Short. The White Sox also are waiting to hear from relief pitcher Turk Lown, who is sweating it out at his Pueblo, Colo., home.

Excelling Aims To Halt 'Jinx'

The track's winningest greyhound, representing the track's winningest kennel, will try tonight in the featured ninth race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club to upset the jinx that has twice prevented her from registering her tenth victory. She is Excelling owned by Orville Moore. Among her victories she won the Racing Queen Stakes on Feb. 3. But in her last two outings she has posted a third and a fourth.
Other super greyhounds slated for action in this main event are Panay Cross, O. Nellie, Big Calhoun, John Lee, A. R. Ewbanks, Cedar Cadet and Foxy Rifle.
Starlight Kennel's Foxy Rifle is the only last-out winner in the event. He scored in a B race last Thursday and will be trying for his fourth win of the season tonight.
An important special event next Saturday is creating a great deal of interest. It is the first running at the track of the Marathon Speed Classic. Sixteen super distance greyhounds will compete in two races over the long 4 1/2-mile course. The router posting the fastest win time will earn a substantial cash bonus for his owner.

Kwite White Holds 1st Place

The action in the Jet Lane Keglers found Kwite White taking all four points to maintain first place. Other team standings are: American Legion three and one half points off the pace, Wheeler Fertilizer, Craig Cars, Riggs Sunoco, O. K. Tire Store, Barley's Sinclair, and Glen's Phillips "66".
High series and high game was captured by Charles Peterbridge with a big 201-190-208 for a 399.
Other 200 plus games rolled were Terry Patterson 200, Richard Barnes 203, and Lomax Jones 205.

WELCOME WAGON

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: I am frequently asked, "Do YOU ever have a problem, Abby?" The answer is yes. And right now I have a dandy and an appealing to my readers for a solution.

I have just written a new book. It's all about marriage, why it fails and how to save it. I titled it, MARRIAGE ON THE ROCKS. (The condensation is presently appearing in McCall's Magazine.)

I have just been informed that the title of my book was so good that someone else used it years ago. This was news to me. Furthermore, if I insisted on using my title, I would have to fight it out in court. No, thank you, I decided to change the title, instead. It's a serious book (but not without humor) dealing with marriage and "his infidelity." So, Dear Reader, wherever you are, if you can think of a fitting title for my new book, formerly MARRIAGE ON THE ROCKS, please rush it to me.

ABBY (AUTHOR WITHOUT A TITLE)

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a fishing bug. During the summer months he fished only on weekends. I didn't mind getting up at four a.m. to fix him a hot breakfast and pack him a good lunch. But recently he has taken up night fishing. He tells me blue fish bite better at night, so he takes off in the evening and returns at dawn, all done in, and with a very small catch. The fish he catches at night do not seem as fresh as the fish he caught in the daytime, and they look more like flounders than blue fish. I want to know if blue fish really bite better at night.

FISHERMAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: It doesn't matter when the blue fish bite better if you continue to go for his line. Any man who can pass off a couple of fish market flounders for fresh blue fish should spend his time selling, not fishing.

DEAR ABBY: I met a very nice boy at the skating rink. He goes to a different school, but we started liking each other. He told me he was in the eighth grade, so I told him I was also in the eighth grade, but I am really in the ninth grade. I was afraid if he knew I was in a higher grade he wouldn't like me any more. Now I am afraid somebody might tell him. Should I tell him myself or do you think it would be the end of his liking me? NINTH GRADER

DEAR NINTH: Tell him yourself. And fast. And don't ever downgrade yourself again.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MIAMI MOTHER: If you permit your daughter to "go steady" at 12 and 13 years old, don't wring your hands and moan when she tells you she is old enough to get married at 17 or 18.

This week's articles will deal with a gadget that is easy to add to your regular bidding methods. It is not too valuable because you won't get much opportunity to use it, but for the few hands it fits, the gadget is flawless.

In today's hand South has 10 points, stoppers in all suits and a perfect book three no-trump response to his partner's opening heart bid.

It also appears that once he responds three no-trump he has thrown a lay down diamond slam out the window. If he should respond with either two clubs or two diamonds, he might also fail to reach that diamond slam, even though he would have a chance to get there.

Hence, my own practice for the last year or so has been to leave the standard three no-trump response to others. This has left me with a nonworking bid which I have put to use by using the three no-trump response to a minor suit opening as an immediate request for partner to show how many aces he holds.

This gimmick works beautifully when the right hand appears and I recommend that readers who want to add something new to their game get together with your regular partners and adopt it.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

American women are often chided for using the term "just a housewife" when asked their occupation.

Why that belittling "just," when homemaking is still the most important job at which any woman can excel?

Well, when it comes right down to it, who ever gives the housewife a pat on the back? Her family tends to take her for granted and to accept matter-of-factly all that she does to make them comfortable, to offer encouragement or lend a helping hand, to keep things running smoothly, and to make "home" a happy word for each member of the family. And when honors are passed around to women, the homemaker is usually overlooked. It's the career woman, the clubwoman, the worker on community projects who get public attention and a pat on the back.

Of course, all of these women may be housewives too—but they aren't honored for what they do INSIDE their homes. When they are singled out for attention it is for what they do OUTSIDE the home.

So no wonder the woman who devotes almost all of her time and energy to the major job at hand—being a good wife and mother and a fine homemaker—is likely to say of herself when asked her occupation, "Why I'm just a housewife."

She may know full-well that the job she is doing is the most important job any woman can do. She may even have moments when she feels a deep satisfaction with the way she is handling her job. But she gets no raise and no promotions to assure her that she is succeeding. She doesn't climb any success ladder—she just stays put at the center of the family circle.

She is rarely told that she is doing an important job and doing it well—and almost never is she given a public pat on the back.

So she doesn't really expect anybody to be impressed when she admits to being a full-time homemaker. Not because SHE doesn't think her job is important—but because she isn't sure that others do. That is why she says, almost apologetically, "just a housewife."

RAY MCKINLEY

Glenn Miller Orchestra To Play In Area

The world famous Glenn Miller Orchestra, under the direction of Ray McKinley will appear in concert at Orlando's Municipal Auditorium, Saturday, Mar. 17 at 8:30 p.m.

The combining of Miller's magnificent music with Ray McKinley's very special talents is nothing new—in fact, it's almost 25 years old. It began as a mutual admiration society, and culminated many years later in McKinley taking over the wonderful Air Force dance band when Major Miller was lost in action during World War II.

The Miller band, the number one music organization in America at one time, was permanently taken over by McKinley several years ago. With the band came the entire music library which belonged to the famed orchestra leader.

In recent years the band has kept its fame through the Glenn Miller Show which was seen on nation-wide television and its many recordings which quickly became best sellers.

The two hour concert in Orlando will feature the 18-piece orchestra, vocalists Joan Shepherd and Johnny Puruley, Bobby Nichols and his golden trumpet, and saxophonist Lenny Hambro, of the Lenny Hambro Quintet fame.

Mail orders for tickets may be ordered from—Famous Artists, c/o Streep's Music Store, 641 Orange Avenue, Orlando. See ad in today's paper. Make checks payable to Famous Artists and enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Piano Duo Smash Hit

By Dottie Higginbotham

Ronald and Jeffrey Marlowe, the fabulous 21-year-old twin pianists, who play duets in perfect harmony on two Baldwin grand pianos were a smash hit with members of the audience of the Sanford-DeBary Entertainment Assn. Wednesday.

Hardly glancing at each other across the two pianos, fitted against each other on the stage of the Seminole High School auditorium, the two young men evidenced a marvelous sense of timing, and a rapport of mood that made every number they played completely enjoyable.

Musical lovers, and especially pianists, even amateur ones, were enthralled with the wonderful proficiency, timing, the crescendos and accelerations, the dramatic pauses, that were so perfectly balanced the audience often held its collective breath.

A paraphrase of Strauss' Die Fledermaus, bubbled and sang from the twin pianos, with delightful rippling cadences and fluid dancing movement.

Other numbers which were executed in equally thrilling precision, timing and coloring were the Rondo, Opus 73 by Chopin and the weird and eerie Danse Macabre by Saint-Saens.

A Sonata by Poulenc was a whole book of music, lilting, crashing, delicate and swift, with four parts identified on the program as the prologue, allegro molto, andante lyric and epilogue.

The evening's concert began with Sicilienne by Bach, followed by Variations on a theme by Haydn.

With a tremendous ovation welcoming them back, the Marlowes played the Ritual Fire Dance for their first encore. This was delightful, but not enough for the music-hungry audience, who demanded more and got a sprightly theme entitled, Yankee Doodle, Garshwin-style. Still applause demanded more and the thoroughly appreciated young men obliged with a Jamaican Rumba to wind up the concert.

Frances Cross of Stemper Agency picked the difficult 6-7-10 split, Midge Woods (McRoberts Tires) got the 3-10, and Vicki Pio (Alix) picked up the 5-7.

Midge Woods had high series of 540 scratch with high game of 190. Maxine Koehler, 181/506 series, Helen Price (Welsh) 180, Jane Adcock (Alix) 181, Beverly Grabarkiewicz (Stemper) 180.

Women Hear Book Review

By Jane Casselberry
Mrs. E. P. Richards presented a review on A. J. Cronin's latest novel, "The Judas Tree," at last Wednesday's 8 p. m. social meeting of the Casselberry Women's Club.

After the review and following discussion, refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. Joseph Laird, Mrs. Eph Mower, Mrs. Karl Kramel and Mrs. Myron Jacobs.

Area Golfers Get Good News

By Jane Casselberry

Ralph Park, new owner-manager of the Casselberry Country Club and nine hole Golf Course, has announced that plans are being made for the formation of a Men's Assn. and that an organizational meeting will be held within the next two weeks.

Another bit of good news for golfers of the area came late last week with Park's announcement that clearing work for developing and putting in the back nine holes is scheduled to begin early this week.

Stemper Paces Sandspur Loop

Stemper Agency is still in the lead in the Sandspur Loop winning three points from McRoberts Tires.

Welsh Tire Shop is in second place winning all four from Robson's Sporting Goods. Jet Inn is in third place, winning three from Alix of Sanford.

Frances Cross of Stemper Agency picked the difficult 6-7-10 split, Midge Woods (McRoberts Tires) got the 3-10, and Vicki Pio (Alix) picked up the 5-7.

Midge Woods had high series of 540 scratch with high game of 190. Maxine Koehler, 181/506 series, Helen Price (Welsh) 180, Jane Adcock (Alix) 181, Beverly Grabarkiewicz (Stemper) 180.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

8-8:30 p. m. CBS Pete and Gladys. Cara Williams may not be trying to emulate Lucille Ball, although one can't help noticing some of the similarities in her lively (and laudable) comedy techniques. In tonight's telecast she inadvertently pours salt on the wounds of a sensitive neighbor who harbors a grudge against Pete (Harry Morgan). Her memory fails her (but helps the plot) when the neighbor (Cliff Norton) arrives for a peacemaking dinner.

Connors reminds us he was an excellent movie villain before turning TV hero. Playing a dual role for the first time, he is seen as both a nasty badman and an upright Lucas McCain. Leonard Stone is good as the badman's henchman and co-star Paul Fix, as Marshal Torrance, gets a physical beating by the villains as a warm-up to a main event with Lucas.

THE LARGEST FAMILY ever admitted to Moosehart, Mrs. Mable Fowler and her 14 children, will spend an aggregate total of 143 years at the Moose supported orphanage which allows a mother to remain with her children until they reach adulthood. To acquaint the public with the Order's program and work, Sanford Moose Lodge 1851 is having Open House at 8 p. m. today. Featured on the entertainment program will be Magician Fred Tirrell whose performance will be for the entire family as will the following color movies.

Boosters Plan Spring Club Activities

Work is progressing at the Seminole High School track field, T.A. Champion Jr., track chairman, reported at a meeting of the Booster Club executive board recently.

Champion stated that materials, funds and labor are still needed and asked that those interested in helping prepare the track for the spring athletic program, call him or Charles Fox or Fred Ganz.

A covered dish supper honoring the Junior and Varsity basketball players and cheerleaders has been planned for March. Mrs. Eugene Williams reported. Since only Booster Club members and their families will be admitted, it was suggested that membership cards, which are still available, be obtained now.

A report from the baseball committee was read, stating that a practice field had been laid out at Seminole High and the first game will be played on March 20. All home games will be played on the field behind Municipal Stadium. Booster members will sell baseball season tickets to help sponsor the team.

Reports were also heard from Mrs. Richard Gleason, golf chairman, Mrs. Charles Hayes, swimming chairman, and Chester Oxford, program chairman.

In other business, Cdr. Richard Gleason was appointed chairman of the fund committee. President Michael Caolo asked each committee chairman to check with members selling membership cards and to contact Mrs. Charles Meeks, membership chairman as notifications of all activities are to be mailed to members in the near future. Refreshments were served

There is no definite amount set up in the ordinance although by the time it is completed it is expected to be in the neighborhood of $200,000. Validation Ordinance To Be Drawn

The City Commission Monday agreed to match funds with the Sanford Downtown Merchants Assn. to help pay for a study on improving the downtown area.

The commission agreed to kick in $300 for its part of the study. The merchants are expected to put up their share at a meeting of the group Thursday night.

The study will be conducted by Prof. W. W. Young of the University of Florida Marketing Division. The study will include the possibility of a mall between First and Second on Magnolia (previously recommended by City Planner George Simons), an arcade on the alley from Commercial to First, stopping auto traffic, and other improvements including the beautifying of store fronts.

Zoning Law Revised

The revised City zoning ordinance "called the most liberal ever" was adopted by the City Commission Monday night by a unanimous vote.

The board approved the ordinance, waiving the rules of first reading and adopted the 62 page report.

Before city approval some of the commissioners wanted to table action and hold off having to hear Attorney Bill Hutchison read the lengthy report.

"Read it at home and we'll take your word for it," Commissioner Earl Higginbotham told Hutchison.

No Code To Goad 'Em

"My conscience is as clear as a presiding elder." With these words Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps broke a 2-2 tie defeating the proposed "Code of Ethics" at the City Commission meeting Monday.
