

People In The News

President Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon is to visit the Western White House at San Clemente, Calif., and will stay there until the Democratic National Convention, July 16-18. Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler gave no specific dates for departure or return in announcing the plans Monday.

Boggs & Ford

TOKYO (AP)—Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, House majority leader, and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader, were greeted on their arrival in China by Chou En-lai, vice president of the Chinese People's Institute of Foreign Affairs, a New China News Agency report says.

Gov. Wallace

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace has said he will not appear at the trial of Arthur H. Bremer, charged with shooting him.

Sen. Goldwater

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater says he checked into costs at private hospitals before he underwent surgery for a gall bladder ailment and paid an equivalent amount to Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Mental Patients To Vote?

By TOM KALIN Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Voting machines may have to be used in Florida's state mental hospitals as a result of a new state law allowing mental patients to retain their civil rights, says a state official.

Weather

Yesterday's high 94 low 68. Fair to partly through Friday. Highs 88-98. Variable winds 10 to occasionally 15 mph.

TIPPING TIPS: No More Nickels And Dimes

By PEGGY WALKER
Copley News Service
Tipping isn't the nickel-dime kind of tip it used to be. As an average, tips should run about 15 per cent of a bill, but can run as high as 20 or 25 per cent, depending on who you are and where you are, according to Patricia J. Scott, who teaches tipping practices in a personal development course.

On the other hand, if you're dining at a fine restaurant or exclusive club in a big city, say New York, Chicago, Los Angeles or San Francisco, you'll be expected to leave a 20 per cent tip. And if you're on a post-holiday holiday, going big time, you may be expected to count on 25 per cent.

Tipping is one area immune to sexist bias. Women are expected to tip just as men do. "The traveling, working businesswoman should always tip as a man tips. She's expected the same services," Mrs. Scott said.

The only exception would be the housewife who is working to supplement family income and is on a budget. "I feel when we are on a budget that we can tip less. I would say go to 10 per cent but rarely less than that."

In very expensive shops, each operator who serves a customer is tipped, including the maid who takes your coat. The resulting tipping can run into several dollars.

Overturning is as gross as under-tipping, said the consultant, who, on the other hand, believes that not tipping at all is unfair, especially to waiters and waitresses who make their living, or a large part of it, on tips.

ECKERD DRUGS

U.S.P. 5 GRAIN - BOTTLE OF 100 ASPIRIN
REG. 29c
5c
(LIMIT ONE)

ASSORTED REGULAR FLAVOR
SHASTA DRINKS
12 OZ. POP-TOP CAN
12 FOR 99c

COPPERTONE
LOTION OR OIL
4 OZ.
REG. $1.58
1.09
(LIMIT ONE)

IPANA PLUS 3
TOOTHPASTE
5 OZ.
29c
(LIMIT ONE)

AMERICAN FLAG
5 FT. POLE WITH EAGLE ON TOP
REG. 3.79
2.66

KODAK X-30
COLOR OUTFIT
REG. $30.95
29.99

KLEENEX
200 FACIAL TISSUES
REG. 37c
27c

WESTCLOX
ALARM CLOCK
REG. 3.49
1.99

TIKI TORCH
REG. $1.00
78c

SYLVANIA
FLASHBULBS
REG. $1.49
1.19

ICE CHEST
REG. $2.44
2.24

WY-KEE-KEE
BOARD
REG. $1.78
78c

WY-KEE-KEE
MATTRESS
REG. $4.99
3.44

WY-KEE-KEE
SWIM FINS
REG. $2.44
2.44

WY-KEE-KEE
CHILD'S SWIM CAP
REG. $1.99
99c

WY-KEE-KEE
LAWN MOWER
REG. $84.88
74.88

WY-KEE-KEE
LAWN HOSE
REG. $4.99
3.99

GRILL
REG. $10.99
10.99

20 LBS. CHARCOAL BRIQUETS
REG. $1.29
1.09

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

WY-KEE-KEE
WY-KEE-KEE
REG. $1.99
1.99

The Sanford Herald

Thursday, June 29, 1972—Sanford, Florida 32771
4th Year, No. 224

MOORING BASIN SOON OPERATING

West Basin of Holiday Isle will be back in operation within 2-3 weeks, City Manager W. E. Knowles said this morning as workmen commenced anchoring 20 floating dock units for mooring pleasure craft. The basin has been Charged With Murder Johnson Trial Opens

Opening statements by prosecution and defense were heard this morning by a nine-man, three-woman Circuit Court jury in the case of Tommy L. Johnson, charged with first degree murder.

Mr. Eaton said Johnson, 35, Midway, is charged with the April 8 death of Joseph Green, 54, another Midway resident. Green was allegedly gunned down while standing on his front porch after an argument had ensued between the two men.

Johnson expired after slugs from a .22 pistol struck him in the heart and left arm. The killer escaped in his car, which was later found in Sanford.

After the shooting, Eaton detailed the defendant fled the scene to Pompano Beach, taking the gun. This, he said, was recovered from a relative.

Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be still wiser; teach a righteous man and he will increase in learning. Proverbs 9:9

Death Penalty Killed By Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today 5-4 that the death penalty cannot be carried out in the United States. The nine justices divided so sharply that they issued 11 opinions while reversing especially two death sentences in Georgia and a third in Texas.

Chief Justice Burger stressed in his dissent that the court, while setting aside the death penalty, also gave state legislatures the opportunity and indeed unavoidable responsibility to make a thorough re-evaluation of the entire subject of capital punishment.

The five-man majority comprised Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Thurgood Marshall and, with some reservations, Potter Stewart and Byron R. White.

Justice Burger stressed in his dissent that the court, while setting aside the death penalty, also gave state legislatures the opportunity and indeed unavoidable responsibility to make a thorough re-evaluation of the entire subject of capital punishment.

10 Gs Isn't Enough

PERU, Ind. (AP)—Lowell F. Elliott says that being honest enough to return $50,000 he found in his field should be worth more than $10,000.

So the 41-year-old farmer turned down a $10,000 certified check American Airlines offered him Wednesday as a gift for returning ransom dropped by a hijacker who parachuted from a jetliner after taking it over at St. Louis and ordering it flown to Toronto last weekend.

Defense Attorney Harvey Coulter related the tactic of defense will be excusable homicide. Coulter mentioned the deceased was "mean and drunk" on the evening of April 7 and raised a "row" with his wife, Mae. She fled the premises in "terror," Coulter related, and then Green proceeded to Johnson's residence hanging on the defendant's bedroom window.

Green expired after slugs from a .22 pistol struck him in the heart and left arm. The killer escaped in his car, which was later found in Sanford.

Inmate Dies; Second In Two Months

LAKE COUNTY, Fla. (AP)—A prisoner arrested on a drunk driving charge Wednesday became the second Lake County prisoner in two months to die while in custody.

An autopsy was ordered for the post-3000 hours after the inmate was found dead in his cell at the Lake County Jail in a hospital in Eustis.

Doctors at Florida Hospital refused to sign the victim's death certificate. State Atty. Gen. Gordon G. Graham then ordered the body taken to Leesburg, Meach said.

Convicted Of Rape, Anderson Gets Life

By MARION BETHEA
In what Assistant State Attorney Newman Brock termed a "sweet victory" for the state, a Circuit Court jury last night returned a guilty verdict in the rape trial of Willie C. Anderson.

Following dynamic prosecution by Brock, and equally adroit defense by Alan Dickey, the jury pondered its life or death decision for over nine hours.

The 17-year-old girl testified the assailant told her to get a "good look" at him and that if she reported the incident he would kill her.

TRANSPORTATION SPECIALS
'67 Chev. Impala $795
'64 Karmann Ghias $495
'63 VW Pick-up $195
$125 EACH
64 Chevrolet Automatic
62 Ford Fairlane
59 Chrysler Imperial
62 Ford Falcon
59 Ford, V-8 Auto, Runs Good

BILL BAKER VOLKSWAGEN, INC.
NOW TWO LOCATIONS
SANFORD
3219 W. W. 14th Ave.
Orlando Ph. 322-1831
Orlando Ph. 324-1811

Editorial Comment

Here Is An Issue Seminole Knows

Perhaps this is a little early in the presidential campaign to be discussing the records on which the nominees for the White House must run.

Yet there are two recent happenings which make it essential to consider the executive order issued by President Richard M. Nixon which has a direct and important bearing on the economic life of central Florida, more especially Seminole County and Sanford.

This took place on Jan. 19, 1971 when the president issued an executive order which stopped the Cross Florida Barge Canal in its tracks.

To understand what prompted this drastic action, denying the findings which countless bodies had come to after searching study of this controversial canal—that the canal was needed, was an economic plus for more than Florida, but a useful national transportation artery and could be, in time of war, a national safety valve—the emergence of ecology as a favorite and emotional issue should be recalled.

The barge canal had been subjected to attack from the environmentalists and found its backers firmly armed with solid arguments to dispute any such drastic move as Nixon made. Yet he made it and its results in terms of the future of the Part of Sanford, created to be an important part of the net of waterways which the barge canal would complete, is evident.

Now there is a breath of life to the stopped canal breathed in by an appropriation in Washington which will provide funds. It is the result of such stalwart champions of the canal as Rep. Bill Chappell keeping up a demand that the presidential action, negating the action of Congress, be given further study.

Since that date in '71 when the ecologists were riding high, wide and handsome time has done its usual tempering task, and some of the excesses which were fanned by that emotional approach to the hard issues of progress and development have been re-appraised.

Right now we do not bring up the pros and cons of the cross-Florida barge canal, but we do believe that this single action of President Nixon should be given some thought when the voters of this area go to the polls on Nov. 7th.

Nor do we believe that it is drawing too long a bow when it is listing this exercise of the presidential power without due respect for the Congress as an instance which Floridians can understand and apply to their own economic picture.

For the cross Florida barge canal was in full flower and heading for completion when the voters of Seminole County, with some vigorous leaders setting the pace, secured the funds and created the Port of Sanford.

Short-sighted erasure of the canal from the future of Florida, erased as well the plans which had been made to attract maritime business to Central Florida to use low-cost water transport and thus make Central Florida more attractive on a cost basis to industry.

Nothing but support should be given those who are keeping alive the fight to give fair

Americano

Raising Kids By Old Time Rules

By SAM STEWART Copyist News Service

In a concert it's an encore; in an opera it's a reprise; in television it's a rerun. All these things are something that somebody figured was worth hearing again.

They're keeping up, even after long absences, and each time, they're entertained, somebody says. "This is worth printing. Best thing I've ever read." In our business, it sometimes becomes necessary to say that we'd seen it, that we'd enjoyed it too, and that we'd reprinted it not many years ago.

A classic example is "Letter from an Angry American," which has been reprinted far and wide and probably will be again. It started as a letter from a Montana historian, Prof. E. Ross Toole, who wrote a fed-up letter to his brother. His brother made copies for his friends; his friends made copies; eventually it was reprinted in more than 500 newspapers and magazines.

To our attention today has come another durable essay, older even than Toole's letter, but just as timeless.

This was submitted as a reprint, several times removed, from "Economic Intelligence," published in August, 1929, by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. It bore the heading: "Twelve Rules for Raising Delinquent Children."

It was that was the time and place of origin—sometimes it's hard to give credit where credit is really due—13 years have gone down the drain. But the rules sound amazingly enduring, maybe even imperishable.

Here they are, all 12 of them: "1. Begin with infancy to give the child everything he wants. In this way he will grow up to live the world over him in a living."

"2. When he picks up bad words, laugh at him. This will make him think he's cute. It will also encourage him to pick up 'cuter' phrases that will blow off the top of your head later."

"3. Never give him any treatment to the barge canal project. Among those engaged in this, quite expectedly, John Krieger who is in Tallahassee today for the annual conference of those engaged in "Water Resources Development in Florida." The Cross Florida Barge Canal situation is on the agenda for the conference and will be discussed.

It should also be discussed and remembered when the probable Republican nominee for the presidency, Richard M. Nixon, offers his record as good enough to merit a second term.

Global View

Soviet Pact: Look What Is Left Out

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — What was omitted from the U.S.-Soviet arms agreement may be more significant than what was agreed on.

The omissions give strong clues as to what Moscow will push in the continuing arms race. The agreements are likely to judge the Soviet Union toward even more vigorous meddling in Latin America, South and Southeast Asia and the Mediterranean in an attempt to find added bases for the Russian submarine and surface fleets.

Bases were not controlled by the agreement and it became apparent in the discussions that Russian strategists are convinced the American worldwide system of bases gives Washington undue advantage in sea-based missile and surface warfare.

They are aimed both at gaining bases for their own fleets and in inducing countries allied with the United States to deny their harbors to American nuclear submarines and their land to American nuclear-carrying planes.

The agreements are expected also to push the Russians toward even greater work on cruise missiles, low-flying guided missiles which can evade most radar defenses. These can be fired from surface ships and submarines. The Soviet Union already has made considerable progress on very short range cruise missiles such as the Styx.

Cruise missiles known to this reporter as being developed by the Russians have a potential range of a few miles to a hundred or so. The prospect, however, is that within a decade a 1,000-mile version might be come practical.

With presently known defense techniques, such missiles would make Washington almost defenseless, even with the 100-missile ABM system now proposed. For, as noted above, the cruise missiles would fly in too low for radar to give sufficient warning.

The cruise missile is not limited by the agreements. Unless adapted to air use by bombers which could hide like submarines, it would give the Russians a major advantage in attacking mainland targets. For, with its limited range, the projected 1,000-mile cruise missile fired from a submarine could be highly effective against the U.S. east and west coasts.

But by contrast, only a small percentage of the Russian people and Russian industry are sufficiently close to stretches of sea wide enough to provide sufficient hiding places for the missile-carrying submarines.

The major weakness of the agreements probably is that, other than for the limited ABM systems allowed near each capital, they make no provision for the protection of either country's command, control and communications systems—the means by which a head of government keeps in contact and control.

Protection of command, control and communications is essential not only to enable a country to feel assured it can successfully resist itself in a war, but equally essential in bringing a war to a quick end if the outbreak is accidental.

But to enter the war, once started, both need to be able to control their forces.

This omission contrasts sharply with that of this reporter's analysis in a recent issue of the magazine, "The American Summit has confirmed, in a major way, the serious strains developing in the international Communist camp these days and is threatening to compound the confusion generated by long years of angry sniping between pro-Soviet and pro-Chinese parties around the world."

Welcoming his visitor from Havana, the Soviet Communist party chief resorted to verbal gymnastics intended to convey the message that while East-West war is unthinkable, East-West peace is impossible.

The speech had a singularly defensive ring as it dealt with the theme of Brezhnev's summit with President Nixon. These talks, said Brezhnev, reflected "the real state of affairs in the world" and a need to assure peace and international security. But, he added, "the processes in this important matter in no way signify a possibility of weakening the ideological struggle."

"On the contrary," he went on, "we should be prepared for an intensification of this struggle and its becoming an increasing more acute form of struggle between the two social systems, and we have no doubts about the outcome."

Since it was the ideological struggle in the first place that triggered the cold war and all that went with it, intensification of the ideological war as envisaged by Brezhnev hardly sounds like a bright promise for peace.

Soviet national and security interests tend to clash with our world revolutionary goals, and that seems to be where the trouble lies.

Although Castro's regime couldn't exist without massive Soviet help, the Cuban leader has been one of those who took a dim view of the Soviet-American summit and what it might portend. He lost no time in assuming revolutionary every-where that Castro would never make friends with the "imperialists" for any reason.

Global View

Soviet Pact: Look What Is Left Out

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — What was omitted from the U.S.-Soviet arms agreement may be more significant than what was agreed on.

The omissions give strong clues as to what Moscow will push in the continuing arms race. The agreements are likely to judge the Soviet Union toward even more vigorous meddling in Latin America, South and Southeast Asia and the Mediterranean in an attempt to find added bases for the Russian submarine and surface fleets.

Bases were not controlled by the agreement and it became apparent in the discussions that Russian strategists are convinced the American worldwide system of bases gives Washington undue advantage in sea-based missile and surface warfare.

They are aimed both at gaining bases for their own fleets and in inducing countries allied with the United States to deny their harbors to American nuclear submarines and their land to American nuclear-carrying planes.

The agreements are expected also to push the Russians toward even greater work on cruise missiles, low-flying guided missiles which can evade most radar defenses. These can be fired from surface ships and submarines. The Soviet Union already has made considerable progress on very short range cruise missiles such as the Styx.

Cruise missiles known to this reporter as being developed by the Russians have a potential range of a few miles to a hundred or so. The prospect, however, is that within a decade a 1,000-mile version might be come practical.

With presently known defense techniques, such missiles would make Washington almost defenseless, even with the 100-missile ABM system now proposed. For, as noted above, the cruise missiles would fly in too low for radar to give sufficient warning.

The cruise missile is not limited by the agreements. Unless adapted to air use by bombers which could hide like submarines, it would give the Russians a major advantage in attacking mainland targets. For, with its limited range, the projected 1,000-mile cruise missile fired from a submarine could be highly effective against the U.S. east and west coasts.

But by contrast, only a small percentage of the Russian people and Russian industry are sufficiently close to stretches of sea wide enough to provide sufficient hiding places for the missile-carrying submarines.

The major weakness of the agreements probably is that, other than for the limited ABM systems allowed near each capital, they make no provision for the protection of either country's command, control and communications systems—the means by which a head of government keeps in contact and control.

Protection of command, control and communications is essential not only to enable a country to feel assured it can successfully resist itself in a war, but equally essential in bringing a war to a quick end if the outbreak is accidental.

But to enter the war, once started, both need to be able to control their forces.

This omission contrasts sharply with that of this reporter's analysis in a recent issue of the magazine, "The American Summit has confirmed, in a major way, the serious strains developing in the international Communist camp these days and is threatening to compound the confusion generated by long years of angry sniping between pro-Soviet and pro-Chinese parties around the world."

Welcoming his visitor from Havana, the Soviet Communist party chief resorted to verbal gymnastics intended to convey the message that while East-West war is unthinkable, East-West peace is impossible.

The speech had a singularly defensive ring as it dealt with the theme of Brezhnev's summit with President Nixon. These talks, said Brezhnev, reflected "the real state of affairs in the world" and a need to assure peace and international security. But, he added, "the processes in this important matter in no way signify a possibility of weakening the ideological struggle."

"On the contrary," he went on, "we should be prepared for an intensification of this struggle and its becoming an increasing more acute form of struggle between the two social systems, and we have no doubts about the outcome."

Since it was the ideological struggle in the first place that triggered the cold war and all that went with it, intensification of the ideological war as envisaged by Brezhnev hardly sounds like a bright promise for peace.

Soviet national and security interests tend to clash with our world revolutionary goals, and that seems to be where the trouble lies.

Although Castro's regime couldn't exist without massive Soviet help, the Cuban leader has been one of those who took a dim view of the Soviet-American summit and what it might portend. He lost no time in assuming revolutionary every-where that Castro would never make friends with the "imperialists" for any reason.

"The big misconception today is that if you are sexually successful, you are successful," he said in an interview.

Father Kennedy said most people do not understand what role sex should play for them. "Sex still is not integrated in most American lives," he said. "The task of life is relating to people, and sexuality is but a part of that task."

He added that despite all the books and studies, no one is

1. How was the cost for the 45-15 plan computed? A. If money was needed ONLY for something on a 45-15 plan, it was counted as a cost.

2. Will the children have the same teacher throughout the year? A. Generally yes; elementary school children will have the same teacher throughout the year.

3. Is Seminole County the only county planning to implement 45-15? A. No.

For Demo Convention

Poor People City Shelved

By TOM RAHM

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Miami Beach City Council Wednesday voted to shelve a request by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference to build a "poor people's city" in time for the Democratic National Convention.

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy appeared before the council to ask for a campus at Flamingo Park for about 500 poor people during the week of the July 10-14 nominating convention.

"I came today with a mandate from the poor," Abernathy told the council. "We feel that we must make a witness at the Democratic Convention. We have chosen to build Reurrection City II and through a non-violent process to exercise our right to challenge the Democrats to be the party of the people."

In a news release prepared for a news conference in Washington today, an SCLC spokesman quoted Abernathy as saying he was optimistic the council would lift its ban on campsites and okay a location for the poor people's gathering.

"I still have faith in the city council and officials of Miami Beach that they will work wholeheartedly to grant poor people a place to camp in the city."

Miami Beach Mayor Chuck Hall said the council was hamstrung by its vote last week to deny campsites to all protesters within the Miami Beach city limits.

City Manager Clifford O'Key was instructed to find out if there was some way the council could accommodate the civil rights group.

Abernathy, who succeeded the late Rev. Martin Luther King as head of the SCLC, said the group's mission was not to protest but "to lobby for the things black people need."

"We are people who believe in putting justice back in business," he said. "We live in two Americas — rich and affluent America and poor America."

"We feel the poor people ought to be here because America ought not to exclude them from the system," he said. Abernathy received a standing ovation from many of the 250 people attending the meeting when he appeared.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The emergency ordinance provided that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

The council adopted one other emergency ordinance providing that if Protesters however, retained the right to veto his actions.

Global View

Soviet Pact: Look What Is Left Out

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — What was omitted from the U.S.-Soviet arms agreement may be more significant than what was agreed on.

The omissions give strong clues as to what Moscow will push in the continuing arms race. The agreements are likely to judge the Soviet Union toward even more vigorous meddling in Latin America, South and Southeast Asia and the Mediterranean in an attempt to find added bases for the Russian submarine and surface fleets.

Bases were not controlled by the agreement and it became apparent in the discussions that Russian strategists are convinced the American worldwide system of bases gives Washington undue advantage in sea-based missile and surface warfare.

They are aimed both at gaining bases for their own fleets and in inducing countries allied with the United States to deny their harbors to American nuclear submarines and their land to American nuclear-carrying planes.

The agreements are expected also to push the Russians toward even greater work on cruise missiles, low-flying guided missiles which can evade most radar defenses. These can be fired from surface ships and submarines. The Soviet Union already has made considerable progress on very short range cruise missiles such as the Styx.

Cruise missiles known to this reporter as being developed by the Russians have a potential range of a few miles to a hundred or so. The prospect, however, is that within a decade a 1,000-mile version might be come practical.

With presently known defense techniques, such missiles would make Washington almost defenseless, even with the 100-missile ABM system now proposed. For, as noted above, the cruise missiles would fly in too low for radar to give sufficient warning.

The cruise missile is not limited by the agreements. Unless adapted to air use by bombers which could hide like submarines, it would give the Russians a major advantage in attacking mainland targets. For, with its limited range, the projected 1,000-mile cruise missile fired from a submarine could be highly effective against the U.S. east and west coasts.

But by contrast, only a small percentage of the Russian people and Russian industry are sufficiently close to stretches of sea wide enough to provide sufficient hiding places for the missile-carrying submarines.

The major weakness of the agreements probably is that, other than for the limited ABM systems allowed near each capital, they make no provision for the protection of either country's command, control and communications systems—the means by which a head of government keeps in contact and control.

Protection of command, control and communications is essential not only to enable a country to feel assured it can successfully resist itself in a war, but equally essential in bringing a war to a quick end if the outbreak is accidental.

But to enter the war, once started, both need to be able to control their forces.

This omission contrasts sharply with that of this reporter's analysis in a recent issue of the magazine, "The American Summit has confirmed, in a major way, the serious strains developing in the international Communist camp these days and is threatening to compound the confusion generated by long years of angry sniping between pro-Soviet and pro-Chinese parties around the world."

Welcoming his visitor from Havana, the Soviet Communist party chief resorted to verbal gymnastics intended to convey the message that while East-West war is unthinkable, East-West peace is impossible.

The speech had a singularly defensive ring as it dealt with the theme of Brezhnev's summit with President Nixon. These talks, said Brezhnev, reflected "the real state of affairs in the world" and a need to assure peace and international security. But, he added, "the processes in this important matter in no way signify a possibility of weakening the ideological struggle."

"On the contrary," he went on, "we should be prepared for an intensification of this struggle and its becoming an increasing more acute form of struggle between the two social systems, and we have no doubts about the outcome."

Since it was the ideological struggle in the first place that triggered the cold war and all that went with it, intensification of the ideological war as envisaged by Brezhnev hardly sounds like a bright promise for peace.

Soviet national and security interests tend to clash with our world revolutionary goals, and that seems to be where the trouble lies.

Although Castro's regime couldn't exist without massive Soviet help, the Cuban leader has been one of those who took a dim view of the Soviet-American summit and what it might portend. He lost no time in assuming revolutionary every-where that Castro would never make friends with the "imperialists" for any reason.

"The big misconception today is that if you are sexually successful, you are successful," he said in an interview.

Father Kennedy said most people do not understand what role sex should play for them. "Sex still is not integrated in most American lives," he said. "The task of life is relating to people, and sexuality is but a part of that task."

He added that despite all the books and studies, no one is

1. How was the cost for the 45-15 plan computed? A. If money was needed ONLY for something on a 45-15 plan, it was counted as a cost.

2. Will the children have the same teacher throughout the year? A. Generally yes; elementary school children will have the same teacher throughout the year.

3. Is Seminole County the only county planning to implement 45-15? A. No.

Global View

Soviet Pact: Look What Is Left Out

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — What was omitted from the U.S.-Soviet arms agreement may be more significant than what was agreed on.

The omissions give strong clues as to what Moscow will push in the continuing arms race. The agreements are likely to judge the Soviet Union toward even more vigorous meddling in Latin America, South and Southeast Asia and the Mediterranean in an attempt to find added bases for the Russian submarine and surface fleets.

Bases were not controlled by the agreement and it became apparent in the discussions that Russian strategists are convinced the American worldwide system of bases gives Washington undue advantage in sea-based missile and surface warfare.

They are aimed both at gaining bases for their own fleets and in inducing countries allied with the United States to deny their harbors to American nuclear submarines and their land to American nuclear-carrying planes.

The agreements are expected also to push the Russians toward even greater work on cruise missiles, low-flying guided missiles which can evade most radar defenses. These can be fired from surface ships and submarines. The Soviet Union already has made considerable progress on very short range cruise missiles such as the Styx.

Cruise missiles known to this reporter as being developed by the Russians have a potential range of a few miles to a hundred or so. The prospect, however, is that within a decade a 1,000-mile version might be come practical.

With presently known defense techniques, such missiles would make Washington almost defenseless, even with the 100-missile ABM system now proposed. For, as noted above, the cruise missiles would fly in too low for radar to give sufficient warning.

The cruise missile is not limited by the agreements. Unless adapted to air use by bombers which could hide like submarines, it would give the Russians a major advantage in attacking mainland targets. For, with its limited range, the projected 1,000-mile cruise missile fired from a submarine could be highly effective against the U.S. east and west coasts.

But by contrast, only a small percentage of the Russian people and Russian industry are sufficiently close to stretches of sea wide enough to provide sufficient hiding places for the missile-carrying submarines.

The major weakness of the agreements probably is that, other than for the limited ABM systems allowed near each capital, they make no provision for the protection of either country's command, control and communications systems—the means by which a head of government keeps in contact and control.

Protection of command, control and communications is essential not only to enable a country to feel assured it can successfully resist itself in a war, but equally essential in bringing a war to a quick end if the outbreak is accidental.

But to enter the war, once started, both need to be able to control their forces.

This omission contrasts sharply with that of this reporter's analysis in a recent issue of the magazine, "The American Summit has confirmed, in a major way, the serious strains developing in the international Communist camp these days and is threatening to compound the confusion generated by long years of angry sniping between pro-Soviet and pro-Chinese parties around the world."

Welcoming his visitor from Havana, the Soviet Communist party chief resorted to verbal gymnastics intended to convey the message that while East-West war is unthinkable, East-West peace is impossible.

The speech had a singularly defensive ring as it dealt with the theme of Brezhnev's summit with President Nixon. These talks, said Brezhnev, reflected "the real state of affairs in the world" and a need to assure peace and international security. But, he added, "the processes in this important matter in no way signify a possibility of weakening the ideological struggle."

"On the contrary," he went on, "we should be prepared for an intensification of this struggle and its becoming an increasing more acute form of struggle between the two social systems, and we have no doubts about the outcome."

Since it was the ideological struggle in the first place that triggered the cold war and all that went with it, intensification of the ideological war as envisaged by Brezhnev hardly sounds like a bright promise for peace.

Soviet national and security interests tend to clash with our world revolutionary goals, and that seems to be where the trouble lies.

Although Castro's regime couldn't exist without massive Soviet help, the Cuban leader has been one of those who took a dim view of the Soviet-American summit and what it might portend. He lost no time in assuming revolutionary every-where that Castro would never make friends with the "imperialists" for any reason.

"The big misconception today is that if you are sexually successful, you are successful," he said in an interview.

Father Kennedy said most people do not understand what role sex should play for them. "Sex still is not integrated in most American lives," he said. "The task of life is relating to people, and sexuality is but a part of that task."

He added that despite all the books and studies, no one is

1. How was the cost for the 45-15 plan computed? A. If money was needed ONLY for something on a 45-15 plan, it was counted as a cost.

2. Will the children have the same teacher throughout the year? A. Generally yes; elementary school children will have the same teacher throughout the year.

3. Is Seminole County the only county planning to implement 45-15? A. No.

Global View

Soviet Pact: Look What Is Left Out

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — What was omitted from the U.S.-Soviet arms agreement may be more significant than what was agreed on.

The omissions give strong clues as to what Moscow will push in the continuing arms race. The agreements are likely to judge the Soviet Union toward even more vigorous meddling in Latin America, South and Southeast Asia and the Mediterranean in an attempt to find added bases for the Russian submarine and surface fleets.

Bases were not controlled by the agreement and it became apparent in the discussions that Russian strategists are convinced the American worldwide system of bases gives Washington undue advantage in sea-based missile and surface warfare.

They are aimed both at gaining bases for their own fleets and in inducing countries allied with the United States to deny their harbors to American nuclear submarines and their land to American nuclear-carrying planes.

The agreements are expected also to push the Russians toward even greater work on cruise missiles, low-flying guided missiles which can evade most radar defenses. These can be fired from surface ships and submarines. The Soviet Union already has made considerable progress on very short range cruise missiles such as the Styx.

Cruise missiles known to this reporter as being developed by the Russians have a potential range of a few miles to a hundred or so. The prospect, however, is that within a decade a 1,000-mile version might be come practical.

With presently known defense techniques, such missiles would make Washington almost defenseless, even with the 100-missile ABM system now proposed. For, as noted above, the cruise missiles would fly in too low for radar to give sufficient warning.

The cruise missile is not limited by the agreements. Unless adapted to air use by bombers which could hide like submarines, it would give the Russians a major advantage in attacking mainland targets. For, with its limited range, the projected 1,000-mile cruise missile fired from a submarine could be highly effective against the U.S. east and west coasts.

But by contrast, only a small percentage of the Russian people and Russian industry are sufficiently close to stretches of sea wide enough to provide sufficient hiding places for the missile-carrying submarines.

Denise Jarrell, Ronald L. Clark To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wiley Jarrell, 2010 Oak Ave., Sanford, are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Lybbia Denise Jarrell, to Ronald L. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Uray Clark, 4375 Confederate Point Road, Jacksonville.

Miss Jarrell is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Berryhill, Rogersville, Ala., and the late Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jarrell, Sanford.

Born in Sanford, the bride-elect is a 1969 graduate of Seminole High School. She received her A. A. Degree from Seminole Junior College in 1970. At University of Florida where she was graduated in June, 1972 with a B.S. Degree in Journalism, Miss Jarrell was a member of Sigma Delta Chi, Theta Sigma Phi, Phi Kappa Phi, and the Student Relations Society of America and Collegiate Civitan Club.

Mr. Clark is the grandson of

MISS LYBBIA DENISE JARRELL

Mr. L. G. Moon and the late Mr. Moon, Palatka, and the late Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Clark, Starke.

The bridegroom-to-be was graduated from Bartow High School in 1968 where he was active in varsity baseball, basketball, vice president of the senior class and Key Club Boy's State delegate.

He received his B. A. Degree in Political Science from University of Florida in June, 1972, and will begin law studies in August at Lumberland School of Law, Sanford, University, Birmingham, Ala.

The wedding will be an event of Aug. 5, at 4 p.m. at First United Methodist Church, Sanford.

No local invitations are being mailed. All relatives and friends are cordially invited to the wedding and reception immediately following in the church fellowship hall.

Shirley Compton, Harry Robson Jr. Exchange Vows In Double Ring Rites

Miss Shirley Jean Compton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Compton, 486 Highland Ave., Mullens, W. Va., and Harry E. Robson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robson Sr., 113 East 14th St., Sanford, were united in Holy Matrimony, Saturday, June 3, 1972, at 8 p.m., in Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Sanford.

MRS. HARRY E. ROBSON JR.

Rev. Leroy D. Soper was officiating clergyman at the double-ring ceremony. Miss Beatrice Buck was organist and presented appropriate musical selections.

Church decorations included an altar arrangement of yellow and white carnations, greenery and a five-branched candelabrum with white burning tapers. Potted palms and greenery were placed at vantage points and white satin bows and fern marked family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white crepe with high neckline, long empire waistline and pale yellow train. Her veil of yellow and white silk illusion was attached to a cluster of lace and net flowers adorned with tiny seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of long-stemmed yellow roses, white baby's breath and greenery.

Matron of honor and only attendant was Mrs. Thomas Wyle, Orlando. She wore a formal length gown of yellow crepe featuring an empire waist and long sleeves and carried a bouquet of long-stemmed yellow carnations.

Harry Robson Sr. served his son as best man and ushers were Sam Schwartz Jr. and James S. Koerner, both brothers-in-law of the groom. The groom's mother chose a beige lace dress with matching accessories and a yellow and beige orchid corsage. The bride's mother wore a pale pink double knit dress with white lace trim, sleeveless coat, matching accessories and a pink and white orchid corsage.

The buffet table, overlaid with a hand-made eury lace cloth, that belonged to the groom's great-grandmother, held a three branched candelabrum with yellow tapers and decorated with yellow and white carnations and roses. Fruit punch was served from a silver punch bowl, surrounded with fern.

The table also held the four-tiered wedding cake decorated with love birds. Served with the cake and punch were smoked turkey, shrimp, assorted sandwiches, liver pate and hors d'oeuvres.

Mrs. C. S. Schwartz Jr., cut and served the cake and Mrs. James A. Koerner, served the punch. Both are sisters of the groom.

Yellow and white, tied with yellow ribbon, were placed in a silver bowl for the guests to shower the couple when they departed.

Approximately 90 relatives and friends attended the reception.

For traveling Mrs. Robson chose a white double knit dress with a burgundy and white sleeveless coat and the rosebud corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple left for a wedding reception at 1811 Dover Road, Winter Park. The bride is an anesthetist for Tillery and Lightbody, oral surgeons of Winter Park, and the groom is associated with his father at Robson Sporting Goods, in Sanford.

Out-of-town guests attended from Jacksonville, West Palm Beach, Jupiter and Miami.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. The bride's table was overlaid with a white net over yellow satin cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow and white carnations and roses, flanked by crystal candelabra with yellow tapers.

The buffet table, overlaid with a hand-made eury lace cloth, that belonged to the groom's great-grandmother, held a three branched candelabrum with yellow tapers and decorated with yellow and white carnations and roses. Fruit punch was served from a silver punch bowl, surrounded with fern.

The table also held the four-tiered wedding cake decorated with love birds. Served with the cake and punch were smoked turkey, shrimp, assorted sandwiches, liver pate and hors d'oeuvres.

Mrs. C. S. Schwartz Jr., cut and served the cake and Mrs. James A. Koerner, served the punch. Both are sisters of the groom.

Yellow and white, tied with yellow ribbon, were placed in a silver bowl for the guests to shower the couple when they departed.

Approximately 90 relatives and friends attended the reception.

For traveling Mrs. Robson chose a white double knit dress with a burgundy and white sleeveless coat and the rosebud corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple left for a wedding reception at 1811 Dover Road, Winter Park. The bride is an anesthetist for Tillery and Lightbody, oral surgeons of Winter Park, and the groom is associated with his father at Robson Sporting Goods, in Sanford.

Out-of-town guests attended from Jacksonville, West Palm Beach, Jupiter and Miami.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. The bride's table was overlaid with a white net over yellow satin cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow and white carnations and roses, flanked by crystal candelabra with yellow tapers.

The buffet table, overlaid with a hand-made eury lace cloth, that belonged to the groom's great-grandmother, held a three branched candelabrum with yellow tapers and decorated with yellow and white carnations and roses. Fruit punch was served from a silver punch bowl, surrounded with fern.

The table also held the four-tiered wedding cake decorated with love birds. Served with the cake and punch were smoked turkey, shrimp, assorted sandwiches, liver pate and hors d'oeuvres.

Mrs. C. S. Schwartz Jr., cut and served the cake and Mrs. James A. Koerner, served the punch. Both are sisters of the groom.

Yellow and white, tied with yellow ribbon, were placed in a silver bowl for the guests to shower the couple when they departed.

Approximately 90 relatives and friends attended the reception.

For traveling Mrs. Robson chose a white double knit dress with a burgundy and white sleeveless coat and the rosebud corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple left for a wedding reception at 1811 Dover Road, Winter Park. The bride is an anesthetist for Tillery and Lightbody, oral surgeons of Winter Park, and the groom is associated with his father at Robson Sporting Goods, in Sanford.

Out-of-town guests attended from Jacksonville, West Palm Beach, Jupiter and Miami.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. The bride's table was overlaid with a white net over yellow satin cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow and white carnations and roses, flanked by crystal candelabra with yellow tapers.

The buffet table, overlaid with a hand-made eury lace cloth, that belonged to the groom's great-grandmother, held a three branched candelabrum with yellow tapers and decorated with yellow and white carnations and roses. Fruit punch was served from a silver punch bowl, surrounded with fern.

The table also held the four-tiered wedding cake decorated with love birds. Served with the cake and punch were smoked turkey, shrimp, assorted sandwiches, liver pate and hors d'oeuvres.

MRS. DALE JAMES FEDDER

Ada Sharon Cameron, Dale James Fedder Exchange Vows

Miss Ada Sharon Cameron became the bride of Dale James Fedder, Saturday, June 17, 1972, at 4 p.m., in the Elder Springs Baptist Church, Sanford.

Officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony was Rev. H. Griffin. Appropriate musical music was presented by the choir, including "With This Ring I Do Thee Wed" and the wedding marches.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cameron, 142 Mobile Lane, Ocoee, and the groom is the son of Mrs. Jean Fedder, 1507 Wynewood Dr., Sanford, and Harland Fedder, 1711 South Bumpy, Orlando.

Church decorations included a floral arrangement of white carnations, mums, daisies (with yellow centers) and greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white satin, empire styled, with sheer sleeves and a long veil that formed a train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath with white satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Larry Morrison, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She wore a formal length gown of gold crepe, empire styled, featuring a scooped neckline and short sleeves. She carried a bouquet of yellow mums and baby's breath with yellow satin ribbon streamers.

Larry Morrison was best man and ushers were Dennis and Billy Cameron and Darwin Fedder.

Three year-old Barbara Jean Patt, flower girl, wore a yellow formal length gown similar to that of the matron of honor and carried a basket of yellow mums and daisies. Brian Morrison, also three years old, carried the rings on a heart shaped white satin pillow.

Miss Pamela Cameron caught the bride's bouquet. The bride's mother chose a two piece pink suit with white lace blouse and a white carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a green and white crepe dress and a white carnation corsage. All members of the immediate families wore white carnation corsages and boutonnieres.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's mother. The bride's table, overlaid with a white cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white carnations, mums, daisies and greenery. Fruit punch, cake, nuts and mints were served to those attending. The three tiered wedding cake was iced in white and decorated with yellow flowers and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Larry Morrison cut and served the cake, which was aided by Betty Kinard. Mrs. Barlene Horn served the punch and Mrs. James Caulder kept the bride's book.

For traveling Mrs. Fedder wore a white pantsuit with orange blouse and the daisy corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple left for a wedding trip in Orlando, where they also visited the groom's father and other relatives. Their new residence will be at 1507 Wynewood, Sanford. The groom is employed by Seminole County Road Department in the electronics department.

Leg Program

Legs are swinging back into full view, so shed those boots and make sure you're ready for such exposure. An exercise program to firm and shape the legs should be part of your plan. Also, invest in a good razor or hair remover. Then if there are unsightly marks, veins or discolorations on your legs, consider one of the new leg make-ups as the final part of your leg-beauty care program.

8 X 10 COLOR PORTRAIT 47¢

Plus 50¢ Film Charge. Groups 97¢ Per Subject. Limit 1 Per Subject, 2 Per Family.

All New Poses. No Age Limit. All New Dynamic Background and Props. No Proofs - Select Finished Portrait in two weeks.

MC CRORY'S THURS., FRI., & SAT. 10 A.M. - 6 P.M. July 6-7-8 1/2 Price Special - 25¢ With This Coupon

We Will Be Closed July 3rd and 4th

To give our employees a well-deserved rest Have a Happy Fourth of July From Philips PH. 322-3315 Cleaners, Laundry & Fur Storage SANFORD 215 W. 11th St.

Meadowcraft ALL WEATHER GROUP

Special purchase brilliantly styled, wrought iron furniture with an exciting casual flare.

JUNE SPECIALS

42" Table with 4 Chairs $149.95 Regular Price $217 Special

4 Piece Grouping (Not Shown) Settee, 2 Chairs, Coffee Table Regular Price $154 Special $124.95 Color choice Antique Green, White or DaHoodi

Each Piece Carries Meadowcrafts Unconditional Guarantee Against Rust and Corrosion For 10 Full Years

THE ORLANDO FORGE Ph. 647-2534 711 N. ORANGE AVE. WINTER PARK.

Sanford BPW Club Inducts Members

The home of Mrs. Bill (Nora) Gordon in Mayfair provided an atmosphere of congeniality for a recent covered dish dinner-business meeting for the Sanford Business and Professional Women's Club.

Following an informal buffet dinner with a variety of delicacies made by the members, president Laura Jo Garrett presided over the business meeting.

Induction of two new members, Dona Speir and Cathy Haag, in a candlelight ceremony by the president was first business at hand. A hearty welcome was extended to Dona and Cathy by the members.

Bride-Elect Of Gary Davis Honored Shower Entertains Miss Tammy Huset

By MARION BETHA

Pretty bride-elect Miss Tammy Huset, Orlando, was honored recently with a miscellaneous bridal shower given by Mrs. J. J. Nicholson and Mrs. Harold Keeling, aunts of the future groom, at the former's fashionable home on Myrtle Avenue.

Elaborate arrangements of spring flowers in pastel hues were placed throughout the party area and a miniature church complete with bridal couple graced the mantle. The church steeple featured a burning yellow taper.

The dining table was overlaid with a white damask cloth, centered with an artistic arrangement of lavender snapdragons, interspersed with lily-of-the-valley and flanked by white tapers in a milk glass candelabra. Lime sherbet punch was served from a crystal bowl encircled with fernery and baby's breath.

Mints and nuts were served from crystal appointments. The party fare also included a sheet cake decorated in the bride's colors of lavender and white, with white wedding bells and the inscription "Best Wishes Tammy and Gary."

The lovely honoree was attended in a Hawaiian print jersey

PREPARING TO ENJOY the delicious party fare at a recent bridal shower honoring Miss Tammy Huset, right, are Mrs. J. J. Nicholson, left, hostess, Mrs. Harold Keeling, hostess; Mrs. Jeff Davis, mother of the groom-elect, and Mrs. Pearl Huset, mother of the honoree. (Marion Betha Photo) knot pantsuit, complemented by a pink carnation corsage, presented by the hostesses.

Her mother, Mrs. Pearl Huset, Orlando, wore a print pantsuit, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. Jeff Davis, was gowned in a Navy Blue frock, featuring a tiny mandarin collar.

Enjoying the festive occasion with Tammy were the mothers of the bride and groom-elect and the Misses Charles A. Alderman, David Van Ness, "Chatter" with local relatives Betty Burgess, Wayne Keeling, Betty Weber, David Van Ness Jr., Walter Betha, Mildred Nicholas and Misses Kathy Davis and Jeanette Kinlaw.

The marriage of Miss Huset and Gary Scott Davis will be solemnized on July 1.

Attention, please! Tell us your story. We welcome your news! Engagement and wedding forms, available at The Herald office, should be accompanied by a black and white glossy studio photo at least five days before desired publication date.

Requests for women's news and photo coverage (parties, clubs, etc.) should be made at least a week in advance. Area correspondents are listed daily on the editorial page.

Doris Williams, Society Editor

Drop by mary/esther's and ramble thru our rack of special bargains

GREAT VALUES REDUCED TO $5 and $10

New fashion styles at old-fashion prices at... mary/esther's

200 N. Park Ave. Sanford

PATTERN CUTTING CLINIC

Attend Our 2 Hr. Classes WED., JULY 5th 10 A.M. and 2 P.M. ONLY

LEARN TO:

- Draft Patterns
- Adjust Patterns
- Fit Any Garment
- Make Any Size Any Style
- Learn Designing As Designers Do It
- Copy Latest Fashions
- Position Darts
- Master With No Figuring No Experience
- All Equipment Available at Clinic
- Free Basic Dress Pattern To All Attending

Admission $3.00

Both Classes Identical Call 323-2810 To Make Reservations Now Classes Limited

Lakeview NURSING CENTER

"where your friends are" 24 Hour Nursing Care For Private Patients - VA - Medicaid Out Patient Therapy

919 E. 2nd St. Sanford, Fla. Ph. 322-6707

Land o' Fabrics A World of Wonderful Fabrics

154 E. FIRST ST. phone 323-2810 MASTERCHARGE BANK AMERICARD STORE HOURS: 9 TO 5:30 EACH DAY

Sale. Save $4 on a gallon of our finest interior and exterior latex paints. Your choice, 4.99

Reg. 8.99. One Coat Plus Exterior Latex with 8 year guarantee. Covers any color in one coat. Delays blistering and peeling.

8 year guarantee. When this PennCRAFT paint is applied to a properly primed and properly prepared surface, we guarantee that it will last for 8 years without peeling, cracking, chipping, or fading. It will resist water, salt, and acid. It will resist dirt, grime, and pollution. It will resist fading and discoloration. It will resist staining and discoloration. It will resist mold and mildew. It will resist insects and rodents. It will resist fire and smoke. It will resist fire and smoke. It will resist fire and smoke.

Reg. 6.99. The Excellence Interior Latex with 10 year guarantee. Covers any color in one coat. Dries to a tough finish that's fade and stain resistant.

10 year guarantee. When this PennCRAFT paint is applied to a properly primed and properly prepared surface, we guarantee that it will last for 10 years without peeling, cracking, chipping, or fading. It will resist water, salt, and acid. It will resist dirt, grime, and pollution. It will resist fading and discoloration. It will resist staining and discoloration. It will resist mold and mildew. It will resist insects and rodents. It will resist fire and smoke. It will resist fire and smoke. It will resist fire and smoke.

Save $50 Reg. 149.99. Sale 99.99. PennCRAFT 1/2 HP compressor. Overload protected motor. 12 gallon tank capacity. 1/4 HP compressor.

Save $2 Reg. 11.49. Sale 9.49. 6' stepladder. Reg. 13.99. Sale 11.99.

Save $4 Reg. 189.99. Sale 149.99. 1HP compressor. Reg. 249.99. Sale 219.99.

Save prices effective thru Saturday.

Special. Deluxe 3 HP mower

66.88

PennCRAFT Deluxe 20" rotary mower. Featuring easy height of cut adjusters and Kleen-Aire® filtration system. And the latest safeguard features include a side chute extension deflector, a rear deflector plate, on-handle controls and extra strong woven mesh bags.

6.99

Cast iron double Hebacons has two 4-position adjustable chrome plated grids. 2 bottom drive controls and insulated wood handles and base.

27.99

Steel barbecue wagon with flip top hood and full view safety glass window. 6-position fire pan lift. 2 chrome plated grids.

Sale. Save 10% on air conditioners Sale 242.95

Reg. 269.95 Penncrest Custom, 18,000 BTU, 2 speed air conditioner. Features filter out filter for easy cleaning, permanent Scott foam filter. Adjustable air directors for cooling where you want it. Air exchanger exhausts stale air, brings in fresh air. 2 speed fan and cooling power. 15,000 BTU, 2 speed. Reg. 229.95. Sale 207.95. 22,000 BTU, 2 speed. Reg. 299.95. Sale 269.95. 28,000 BTU, 2 speed. Reg. 359.95. Sale 323.95. 8,000 BTU. Reg. 144.95. Sale 129.95.

JCPenney The values are here every day.

Sanford Plaza 10 AM to 9 PM Mon.-Sat.

"SAFE BUY" Used Car Values . . .

1970 Continental Mark III (2) $5480

The ultimate in luxury automobiles. Both fully equipped and featuring all leather interiors. Your choice a sporty yellow finish topped by brown vinyl roof, or popular blue with black vinyl roof.

1971 Pontiac $3380

Granville equipped with all the popular "options" including air conditioning and a cool green exterior.

1969 Montego $1680

Two door hardtop for the young at heart. Features include power steering and air striking blue finish. Topped in white.

1969 Cougar $1980

A real "sport" well equipped including air. Only one previous owner.

1968 Ford $1580

Country Squire Station Wagon, well equipped one owner trade in.

NEW '72 MERCURY MONTEGO & COMET RENTALS ARE AVAILABLE NOW - CALL 322-4864

HAL SPRAGINS LINCOLN MERCURY, INC.

(305) 322-4884 • 831-5898 109 N. PALMETTO AVE., SANFORD, FLORIDA 32771

MARV • COMET • CONTINENTAL • MARQUIS • CAPRI • MONTEREY • MONTEGO • COUGAR

Penneys 4th of July weekend.

Big bang up specials for everyone in the family.

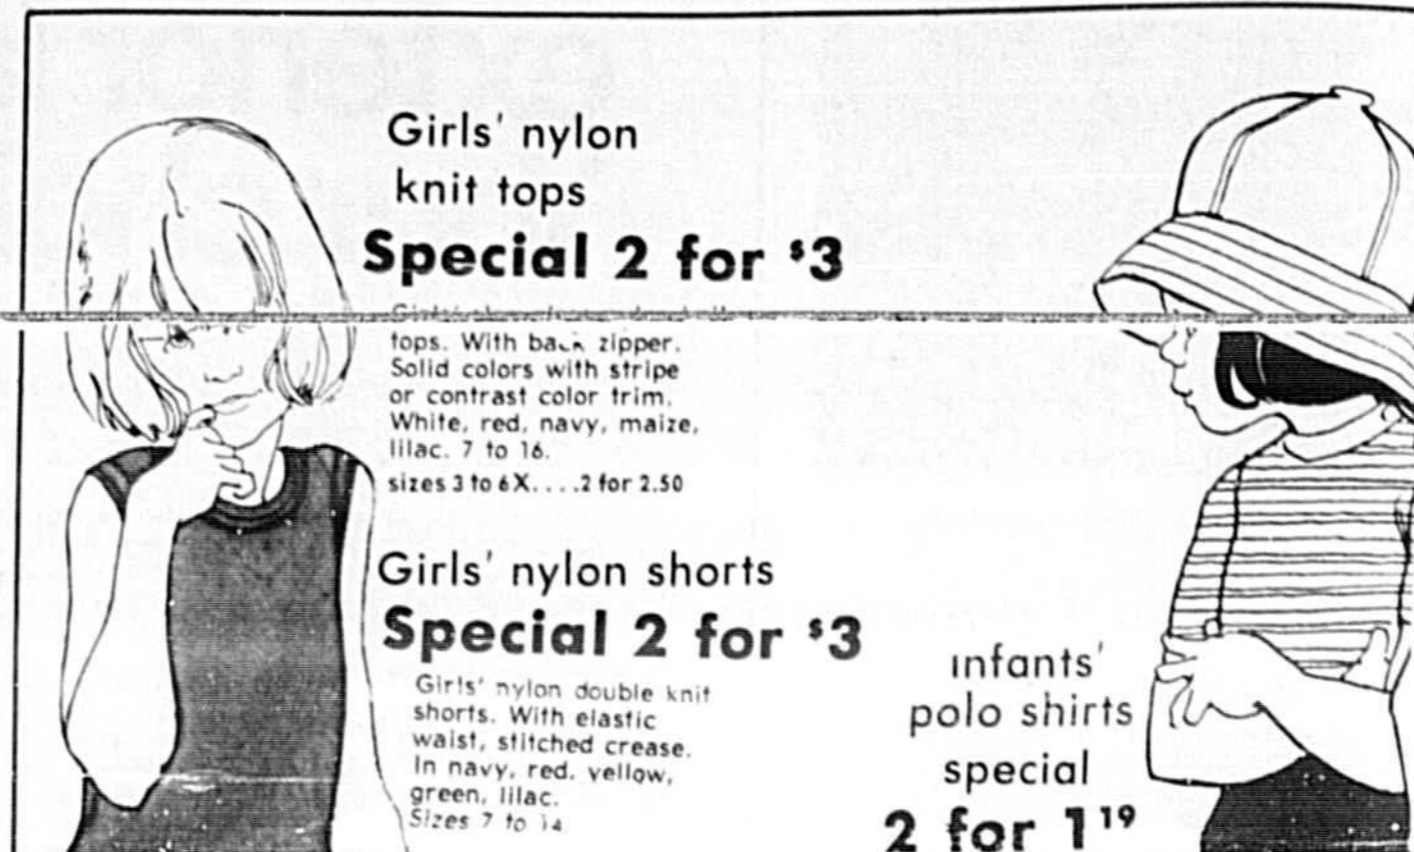

Women's stretch denim jean shorts.

1.99

Casual shorts in a carefree blend of nylon-cotton stretch denim that is Penn-Frest for no ironing needed. Favorite solid colors for summer. Sizes 8-16.

Special 2 for $5

To keep your summer on the soft side, plush cotton terry velour shells. In solids and stripes. Misses' sizes S, M, L.

Girls' nylon knit tops

Special 2 for '3

Tops. With back zipper. Solid colors with stripe or contrast color trim. White, red, navy, maize, lilac. 7 to 16. Sizes 3 to 4X. ... 2 for 2.50

Girls' nylon shorts

Special 2 for '3

Girls' nylon double knit shorts. With elastic waist, stitched crease. In navy, red, yellow, green, lilac. Sizes 7 to 14.

infants' polo shirts special 2 for 1.99

Polo shirts for the littles players. In cotton knit with fancy patterns. Snap shoulder. Infant sizes 1 to 4.

Infants' boxer shorts special 2 for '1

Infant boxer shorts of cotton and cotton polyester. In solid colors and woven patterns. Sizes 1 to 4.

Boys' football style jerseys.

Special 4 for $5

Boys' lightweight football polos with bright numerals and contrasting ribbed cuffs. Machine washable combed cotton in S-M-L.

Boys' western jean shorts.

Special 1.99

Boys' dungaree shorts. They're long wearing polyester/cotton and have western styling. Regular or slim. sizes 6-18.

Little boys' short sets

special 1.99

Little boys' short set includes Penn-Frest polyester/cotton shirt and boxer shorts. Shirt is soft, easy care knit. Sizes 3 to 7.

Men's knit sport shirts

Special 2.99

Polyester-cotton knits with short sleeves, zipper or placket collar. Solid fashion colors. S-M-L-XL.

4 piece genuine redwood group

69.99

4 pc. genuine redwood group includes 2 chairs, chair, coffee table. Chairs are light and easy to move and feature 2 1/2" thick foam block cushions.

2 window umbrella tent.

34.88

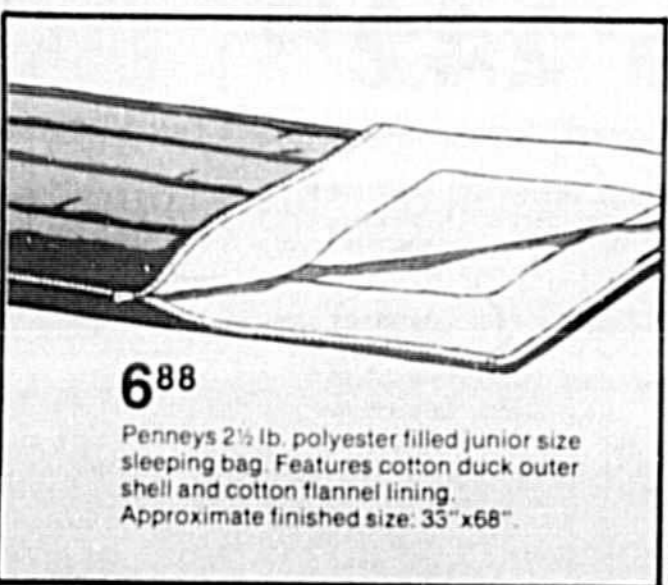

6'x8' umbrella tent. Features cotton drill walls, roof and floor. 2 windows with roll-up curtain. In gold and cactus with pearl gray floor. 7' center height, 4 6" side wall height.

2 H.P. edger

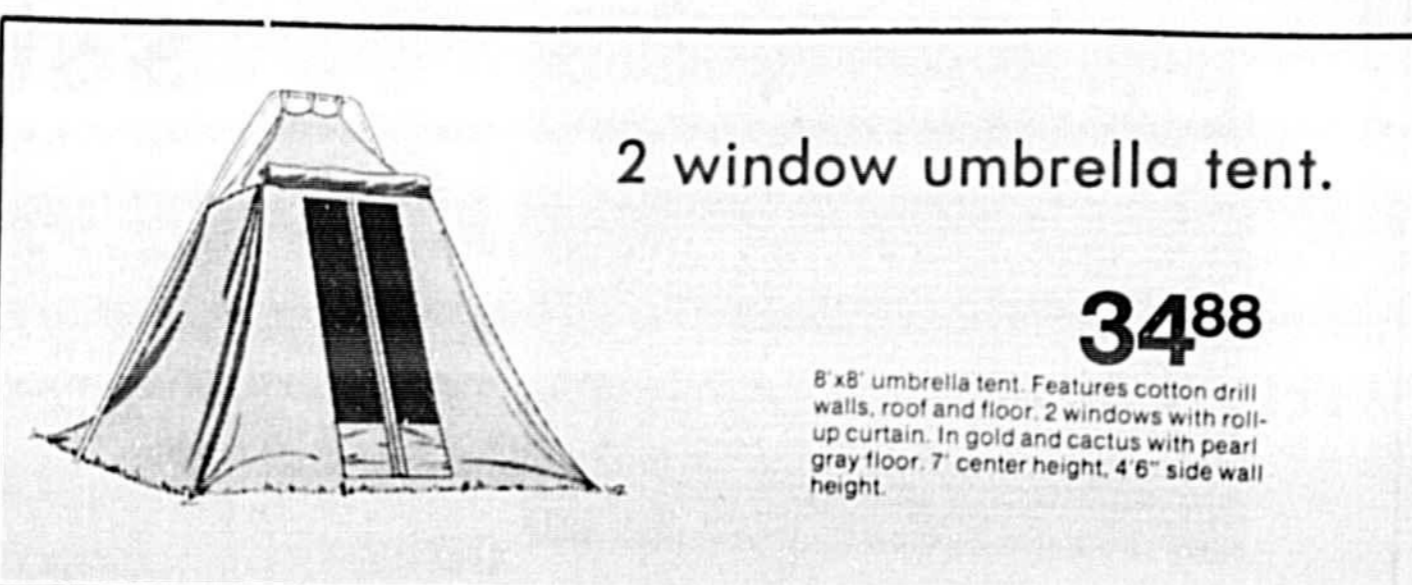

59.99

2 H. P., 4 cycle engine, 6" wheels. Left hand cut, throttle stop on handle.

6.88

Penneys 2 1/2 lb. polyester filled junior size sleeping bag. Features cotton duck outer shell and cotton flannel lining. Approximate finished size: 33" x 68".

Special 66.88

Penncraft Deluxe 20" rotary mower. 3 HP engine. Safeguard features include side chute extension deflector, rear deflector plate, on-handle controls for quick shut off, and extra strong woven mesh bags.

2 H.P. edger

59.99

2 H. P., 4 cycle engine, 6" wheels. Left hand cut, throttle stop on handle.

JCPenney
The values are here every day.

Sanford Plaza

10 AM to 9 PM

Mon — Sat

Marines Bolster Others 'Allies Drive On Quang Tri

By RICHARD BLAYSTONE
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. helicopters landed more than 1,000 South Vietnamese marines on the coast east of Quang Tri City today while more than 20,000 other government troops pushed north into enemy-held Quang Tri Province.

South Vietnamese paratroopers were reported meeting moderate resistance but less than expected—in their drive on the western flank of the 10-mile front.

The marine assault force reportedly met no resistance at one landing zone and only small arms fire at another.

Near the center of the front, along Highway 1, government troops reported killing 41 North Vietnamese and capturing several heavy weapons. They said they suffered no casualties.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel reported that one unit found a North Vietnamese T59 tank abandoned with the engine running.

The large number of heavy weapons captured, compared to a relatively small number of individual weapons, prompted one military source to speculate that the North Vietnamese are short of manpower.

Military sources said they were pleased by the progress up Highway 1.

"We had thought it would be a damn tough nut," said one. "They're doing very well; keep your fingers crossed," said Maj. Gen. Harold Cooksey, the senior U.S. military adviser in the region.

U.S. B52 bombers kept up their support of the drive, dropping 100 tons of bombs and 100 tons of napalm on Quang Tri Province and 100 tons southwest of Hue, where military sources said the possibility of an attack "is still very real."

Forward elements had advanced six miles or more since the drive was launched. Reported casualties totaled 165 North Vietnamese and six South Vietnamese killed and 34 government troops wounded.

The marine assault force reportedly met no resistance at one landing zone and only small arms fire at another.

Near the center of the front, along Highway 1, government troops reported killing 41 North Vietnamese and capturing several heavy weapons. They said they suffered no casualties.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel reported that one unit found a North Vietnamese T59 tank abandoned with the engine running.

The large number of heavy weapons captured, compared to a relatively small number of individual weapons, prompted one military source to speculate that the North Vietnamese are short of manpower.

Military sources said they were pleased by the progress up Highway 1.

"We had thought it would be a damn tough nut," said one. "They're doing very well; keep your fingers crossed," said Maj. Gen. Harold Cooksey, the senior U.S. military adviser in the region.

U.S. B52 bombers kept up their support of the drive, dropping 100 tons of bombs and 100 tons of napalm on Quang Tri Province and 100 tons southwest of Hue, where military sources said the possibility of an attack "is still very real."

TRYING OUT the newly completed fire truck, custom-built by members of the Sanford Fire Department at a savings of around $10,000, are Chief G. M. Harriett, W. E. Ellenberg, Otis A. Sjoblom, John J. Carver, Paul Keith, Richard Cohen, and Lt. E. F. Brooklyn. The truck, which will be an assist unit for other SFD vehicles, has a 1,600 gallon water tank with a 500 gallons a minute pump and two 1 1/2 inch pre-connected lines.

Faced Death Penalty 97 Are Happy At Raiford

RAIFORD, Fla. (AP)—Florida has 95 men and one woman under death sentences, all but three of them confined at Raiford State Prison in the pine woods and farming country of North Florida.

Thirty-one of the condemned are white and 66 black. The population long ago outraged the original death row of six cells adjacent to the ground floor room with dust-gathering electric chair.

Instead, the maximum security R wing in the east unit has been taken over.

R wing has a capacity of 102 one-man cells, but if a new program of placing some of the condemned men among the general prison population succeeds, it may not be necessary to spill over into another wing if the number grows.

Eight men under death sentence have been gradually moved out of their lonely isolation and mixed with other prisoners in the medium security man unit.

Marie Dean Arrington, the woman under death sentence, is confined to the hospital. She is the only woman among the more than 2,100 housed at Raiford.

Longest term resident among the condemned is Dennis Whitney, who has also been moved to death row. He occupies a one-man cell in the maximum security Q wing.

At his own request, prison officials said, he was given a quiet cell where he can concentrate on his art work. His talent has been highly praised.

Whitney, an accused cross-country killer at the age of 17, carries prison number 1, that is because he was the first processed July 1, 1960, when a new numbering system began.

One condemned man is temporarily away from the prison for a court hearing and two are confined at the state mental hospital in Chattahoochee.

Among the best known names on death row are Freddie Lee Pitts and Wilbert Lee, convicted twice of killing a pair of service station attendants at Port St. Joe in 1963. Their original convictions on guilty pleas were set aside, but a jury at Marianna convicted them last March. They are seeking another reversal.

Two long term residents of death row, Robert Shuler and Jerry Chatman, are no longer there. A federal judge vacated their 1960 convictions of raping a white woman in Lake County. The judge said faked footprint evidence and suppression of the alleged victim's statement were grounds for a new hearing.

Chatman and Shuler are in the general population pending a decision on an appeal by state attorney Gordon Oldham of Tallahassee.

Next to Whitney in death row longevity are three men who arrived Oct. 27, 1960, on conviction of killing a Jacksonville storekeeper in a robbery. They are Willie Young, Calvin Thomas and Harold Simon.

The electric chair has been idle since May 12, 1964, when Sie Dawson and Kenneth Clark Blake were executed for separate slayings.

U.S. District Judge William A. McHae declared a moratorium on executions in Florida in 1967 and Gov. Reubin Askew issued a separate moratorium this year.

Ziegler would not reply directly when asked if the 39,000-man level would present the "realistic" from the administration has pledged to keep in South Vietnam until North Vietnam frees all American war prisoners. The President's

Chattman and Shuler are in the general population pending a decision on an appeal by state attorney Gordon Oldham of Tallahassee.

Next to Whitney in death row longevity are three men who arrived Oct. 27, 1960, on conviction of killing a Jacksonville storekeeper in a robbery. They are Willie Young, Calvin Thomas and Harold Simon.

The electric chair has been idle since May 12, 1964, when Sie Dawson and Kenneth Clark Blake were executed for separate slayings.

U.S. District Judge William A. McHae declared a moratorium on executions in Florida in 1967 and Gov. Reubin Askew issued a separate moratorium this year.

Ziegler would not reply directly when asked if the 39,000-man level would present the "realistic" from the administration has pledged to keep in South Vietnam until North Vietnam frees all American war prisoners. The President's

Chattman and Shuler are in the general population pending a decision on an appeal by state attorney Gordon Oldham of Tallahassee.

Next to Whitney in death row longevity are three men who arrived Oct. 27, 1960, on conviction of killing a Jacksonville storekeeper in a robbery. They are Willie Young, Calvin Thomas and Harold Simon.

The electric chair has been idle since May 12, 1964, when Sie Dawson and Kenneth Clark Blake were executed for separate slayings.

President Is Timing Two Talks?

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's next Vietnam withdrawal announcement may well come on the eve of his formal re-election campaign.

Nixon could choose that occasion to tell the country that the U.S. military presence in Vietnam would be reduced below 30,000 men, and to declare the United States out of the war, except in an advisory capacity.

This possibility of such a timetable arose Wednesday when White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler announced that Nixon has ordered U.S. troops in Vietnam cut by 10,000 men in the July-August period.

Ziegler disclosed at the same time that draftees no longer will be sent to the war zone unless they volunteer to go. About 4,000 Army draftees now in South Vietnam and others already on shipping orders will not be affected by the change in policy.

The new U.S. troop level of 39,000 men in Vietnam will be reached by Sept. 1 and Ziegler said another announcement in October would be made before that date.

Based on the pattern of the 10 previous withdrawals, Nixon can be expected to make this next announcement a few days before Sept. 1.

That likely will fall after Nixon's certain re-election by the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach in late August and ahead of the main presidential election campaign which traditionally opens about Labor Day.

Ziegler would not reply directly when asked if the 39,000-man level would present the "realistic" from the administration has pledged to keep in South Vietnam until North Vietnam frees all American war prisoners. The President's spokesman said Nixon will "keep the minimum needed to achieve our objectives."

In the three years since the Nixon administration started pulling out U.S. servicemen from Vietnam, it has steadily trimmed the American presence of 543,000.

However, since last February and the onset of North Vietnam's big offensive, Nixon has ordered thousands of U.S. fighting men, warships and warplanes back into the Southeast Asia area.

The concentration of U.S. airpower in Thailand has raised the number of American servicemen in that country from 32,000 to about 45,000 and reinforcements of the U.S. 7th Fleet in Vietnamese waters has boosted naval manpower there from 13,000 in January to about 45,000 now.

The party's frontrunner, Sen. George McGovern, waited to today for the convention's Credentials Committee to resolve a challenge that could cost him nearly 150 delegate votes.

The challenge involves California's winner-take-all primary which added 271 votes to the McGovern column after his June 6 victory there. Supporters of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who ran second, and seven other candidates on the California ballot claim the delegates should be apportioned according to the popular vote to conform with party rules.

The test comes at a time McGovern claims he is just 20 votes short of the 1,509 needed for nomination. The Associated Press delegate poll gives him 1,383, or 141.1 short of a majority.

Humphrey, who trails a distant second, clung to the hope that delegates would turn to him as the candidate "best equipped to beat Mr. Nixon."

He blamed his own mistakes and a flawed selection process for losing his candidacy.

Nevertheless, Humphrey said the nonbinding caucus vote was seen as further evidence of unhappiness among party regulars over the direction of the party.

ECONOMICS would be a likely conversational topic for Sen. George McGovern, whose proposed grant of $1,000 to every American is a major campaign debating point, and John Kenneth Galbraith, economic adviser to President Kennedy and former ambassador to India. The occasion was a money-raising event in New York for McGovern's presidential campaign.

Wallace Plans Strategy If....

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Massachusetts Democrat George Wallace will stick with his party through the convention where he'll demand adoption of a platform echoing his views, says the Alabama governor's campaign manager.

Denouncing the draft prepared by the Platform Committee, Snider said, "We're going to Miami to fight it with everything we've got available to fight with. We felt like the people sent them a message. We felt like the Platform Committee didn't get the message."

A committee-adopted plank describing budget as acceptable in cases where it both improves the quality of education and segregates schools is the major irritant to Wallace forces.

McGovern, meanwhile, wound up his five-state Southern swing with praise for several of the region's new, moderate governing as possible running mates and a row to campaign against President Nixon in Dixie if he is the Democratic nominee.

He said he asked Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter "if he were available and he didn't give any conclusive answer." He said he also would consider Govs. Dale Bumpers of Arkansas, Reubin Askew of Florida or John West of South Carolina "an asset on the ticket."

In another development, a disputed proposal to revamp the Democratic National Committee to provide for more grass-roots participation was dealt a sharp rebuke by House Democrats.

Meeting in a special caucus Wednesday, they voted 150 to 90 in favor of a move by Rep. Frank Annunzio, D-Ill., that declared the plan is "not in the best interests of the Democratic party" and needs further study.

The nonbinding caucus vote was seen as further evidence of unhappiness among party regulars over the direction of the party.

Nevertheless, Humphrey said the nonbinding caucus vote was seen as further evidence of unhappiness among party regulars over the direction of the party.

Teachers Frown On 45-15 Plan

The Seminole Education Association (SEA) teachers organization committee named to study the 45-15 extended year does not recommend the revolutionary attendance concept for the 1973-74 school year.

This was disclosed at Wednesday night's School Board meeting at Oviedo High School by Cindy Crain, SEA 45-15 study committee chairman.

Mrs. Crain read the following reasons for the study committee's views on the plan, which is expected to be implemented starting July, 1973 by the board.

"Our studies to date indicate there will not be sufficient time to properly redesign the curriculum and develop adequate administrative procedures."

"A significant majority of the educators are dissatisfied with the information concerning 45-15 as prepared for the county."

"Reaction in the form of straw ballots, letters to the editors of local newspapers and questions from parents at recent school board meetings would indicate that many sectors of the general public are not in favor of 45-15 as it has been presented."

"45-15 is being used as an election issue."

"The expense of air conditioning, even the first priority areas in the schools, will be too great to be financed and completed by July, 1973."

"To date, no adequate or satisfactory program has been developed or accepted by the school board."

Mrs. Crain read the following study committee recommendations and urged consideration by the board.

"Board delay start of any extended year plan to allow sufficient time for a complete cost analysis, for public information, for curriculum redesign and for realistic plans for implementation of a program."

"Board hire a research specialist to develop reliable cost figures for the 45-15 program."

"Board consider air conditioning as many elementary schools classrooms as possible as first priority."

"Board consider calling a bond election in Spring, 1973 for purpose of updating school construction program and complete air conditioning."

"Board include a straw ballot in November general election to give county citizens an opportunity to express their opinion on what they are willing to support financially."

A. F. Keeth, School Board chairman, accepted the recommendations from Mrs. Crain and said they would be given careful consideration.

The expense of air conditioning, even the first priority areas in the schools, will be too great to be financed and completed by July, 1973.

To date, no adequate or satisfactory program has been developed or accepted by the school board.

Mrs. Crain read the following study committee recommendations and urged consideration by the board.

Board delay start of any extended year plan to allow sufficient time for a complete cost analysis, for public information, for curriculum redesign and for realistic plans for implementation of a program.

Board hire a research specialist to develop reliable cost figures for the 45-15 program.

Board consider air conditioning as many elementary schools classrooms as possible as first priority.

Board consider calling a bond election in Spring, 1973 for purpose of updating school construction program and complete air conditioning.

Board include a straw ballot in November general election to give county citizens an opportunity to express their opinion on what they are willing to support financially.

A. F. Keeth, School Board chairman, accepted the recommendations from Mrs. Crain and said they would be given careful consideration.

The expense of air conditioning, even the first priority areas in the schools, will be too great to be financed and completed by July, 1973.

To date, no adequate or satisfactory program has been developed or accepted by the school board.

Mrs. Crain read the following study committee recommendations and urged consideration by the board.

Board delay start of any extended year plan to allow sufficient time for a complete cost analysis, for public information, for curriculum redesign and for realistic plans for implementation of a program.

Board hire a research specialist to develop reliable cost figures for the 45-15 program.

Board consider air conditioning as many elementary schools classrooms as possible as first priority.

Board consider calling a bond election in Spring, 1973 for purpose of updating school construction program and complete air conditioning.

Board include a straw ballot in November general election to give county citizens an opportunity to express their opinion on what they are willing to support financially.

A. F. Keeth, School Board chairman, accepted the recommendations from Mrs. Crain and said they would be given careful consideration.

The expense of air conditioning, even the first priority areas in the schools, will be too great to be financed and completed by July, 1973.

To date, no adequate or satisfactory program has been developed or accepted by the school board.

Mrs. Crain read the following study committee recommendations and urged consideration by the board.

Board delay start of any extended year plan to allow sufficient time for a complete cost analysis, for public information, for curriculum redesign and for realistic plans for implementation of a program.

Board hire a research specialist to develop reliable cost figures for the 45-15 program.

Board consider air conditioning as many elementary schools classrooms as possible as first priority.

Board consider calling a bond election in Spring, 1973 for purpose of updating school construction program and complete air conditioning.

Board include a straw ballot in November general election to give county citizens an opportunity to express their opinion on what they are willing to support financially.

A. F. Keeth, School Board chairman, accepted the recommendations from Mrs. Crain and said they would be given careful consideration.

The expense of air conditioning, even the first priority areas in the schools, will be too great to be financed and completed by July, 1973.

To date, no adequate or satisfactory program has been developed or accepted by the school board.

Mrs. Crain read the following study committee recommendations and urged consideration by the board.

Board delay start of any extended year plan to allow sufficient time for a complete cost analysis, for public information, for curriculum redesign and for realistic plans for implementation of a program.

Board hire a research specialist to develop reliable cost figures for the 45-15 program.

Board consider air conditioning as many elementary schools classrooms as possible as first priority.

Board consider calling a bond election in Spring, 1973 for purpose of updating school construction program and complete air conditioning.

Board include a straw ballot in November general election to give county citizens an opportunity to express their opinion on what they are willing to support financially.

A. F. Keeth, School Board chairman, accepted the recommendations from Mrs. Crain and said they would be given careful consideration.

The expense of air conditioning, even the first priority areas in the schools, will be too great to be financed and completed by July, 1973.

To date, no adequate or satisfactory program has been developed or accepted by the school board.

Mrs. Crain read the following study committee recommendations and urged consideration by the board.

Board delay start of any extended year plan to allow sufficient time for a complete cost analysis, for public information, for curriculum redesign and for realistic plans for implementation of a program.

Board hire a research specialist to develop reliable cost figures for the 45-15 program.

Board consider air conditioning as many elementary schools classrooms as possible as first priority.

Board consider calling a bond election in Spring, 1973 for purpose of updating school construction program and complete air conditioning.

Board include a straw ballot in November general election to give county citizens an opportunity to express their opinion on what they are willing to support financially.

A. F. Keeth, School Board chairman, accepted the recommendations from Mrs. Crain and said they would be given careful consideration.

The expense of air conditioning, even the first priority areas in the schools, will be too great to be financed and completed by July, 1973.

To date, no adequate or satisfactory program has been developed or accepted by the school board.

Mrs. Crain read the following study committee recommendations and urged consideration by the board.

Board delay start of any extended year plan to allow sufficient time for a complete cost analysis, for public information, for curriculum redesign and for realistic plans for implementation of a program.

Board hire a research specialist to develop reliable cost figures for the 45-15 program.

Board consider air conditioning

TRACK TALK

with George Crossley

This weekend, weather permitting, the Pocono 500 from Pennsylvania will run. Practice laps by Bobby Unser in the Eagle is already putting a real scare into the opposition. This race is the second leg of the USA's tri-series crown. Last year the winner was Dan Gurney. The winner of the first race, the Marlboro 500, was Dan Gurney. Look for another real close race between the Penske prepared cars and the Gurney Eagles.

Paul Revere 250

The Paul Revere 250 will start the festivities at Daytona International Speedway midnight July 3rd. This race for Camaros, Mustangs, Javelins and the like will be run over the 3.12 mile road circuit.

Dr. Wilbur Pickett, the fast travelling Daytona Beach neurologist, is entered in the #24, 74 Paul Revere 250.

Pickett is no stranger to the twisting international road and track course.

Pickett teamed with Charlie Kemp of Jackson, Miss., in his last outing here to win overall honors in the Camel GT Challenge Series Starlite Three-hour event Easter weekend in the Holiday Inn Corvete.

Pickett teamed with Charlie Kemp of Jackson, Miss., in his last outing here to win overall honors in the Camel GT Challenge Series Starlite Three-hour event Easter weekend in the Holiday Inn Corvete.

The Firecracker 400 will begin at 10 a.m. July 4th with Bobby Allison's Chevrolet, David Pearson in a Mercury and Richard Petty, Bobby Isaac and Buddy Baker among others in Dodge giving every fan the opportunity to cheer for his favorite. Last year's 400 was one of the most exciting races I have ever witnessed with Isaac taking the win just feet ahead of an oncoming Petty with Bobby slowed by the losing of a hood pin during the last few laps of the race. This NASCAR season has produced some of the most competitive racing ever seen by his reporter. We can expect the same on July 4th.

If the 24 hours of Daytona is run next year with the absence of the exotic Prototypes then the Grand Touring cars should be the fastest cars on the Road Course for this grueling event. This should mean that Corvettes would have the edge in speed over the rest of the field. This is not just my opinion but also is the opinion of Vince Gimondo who I have recently spoken to concerning the Daytona Continental event.

That reminds us that the Mid-Ohio IMSA Race will be run the weekend of July 8 and Vince Gimondo will be there in his Camaro ready to make the fine showing he always makes wherever he competes. I will be sure and talk with him about the nature of IMSA competition this year.

Road Atlanta

The Road Atlanta Can-Am July 9th will have more drama and more competition than any Can-Am race in the series history. With the incredible 900 Horsepower Porsche 917-10 driven by Mark Donohue and the possibility of a sister car to be driven by Gary Bettenhausen or A. J. Foyt against Jackie Stewart and Mosport winner Denis Hulme in McLaren Chevrolets as well as the Shadow also Chevrolet powered and driven by Jackie Oliver we have a fantastic race slapping up.

Several interesting things to ponder about this event. Will the McLaren team switch to Turbo-Charged 430 Cubic Inch 1,000 Horsepower Chevros to counter the Turbo-Charged Porches? Will they continue with the 800 Cubic Inch 800 Horsepower Monsters with gobs of Torque and hope for a handling advantage? The possibilities in this event are just beyond belief. I hope to cover this race.

New Smyrna

Spectacular is the only word to describe the finish in the late model super race Friday night at New Smyrna Speedway. The battle between Cocoa driver Henry Pullen and Orlando Chevelle star Wayne Heckle has been raging for several weeks, with the two both taking home feature wins. But, those who have been watching the late model races know that Friday night, the difference was a foot. Just one foot after 25 laps of racing. And the foot belonged to Pullen, who had trailed Heckle for the entire race only to get past as the pair came down to the finish line.

In contention the whole way but forced to settle for the third place money was Dave McGinnis of Largo, who has also visited the winner's circle several times this season.

Heat winners in the late model division were Ernie Bea of Orlando and McGinnis.

From an exciting in the limited stock class — on the race got started. A big field of cars kept having problems with accidents, and it took three tries for the entire field to complete the first lap and make the race official. Mo Davern of Melbourne took the lead quickly, trailed by Ray Snodgrass of Eau Gallie and Orlando Bob Sweet. Sweet's bid didn't last long, as his car went out of control and smashed into the first turn retaining wall.

Meanwhile, Snodgrass made his move, and took over the lead. That's the way it ended, with Snodgrass the winner, Davernport second and Wayne Marshall of Eau Gallie third. Jack Cart of Eau Gallie and Marshall won the heat events. Congratulations were Snodgrass.

Next Friday's race program, underway at 8:30 p.m., will feature three races to be run with the mini-stocks making their first full-scale appearance along with the late models and limited stocks.

Stock car fireworks steal the show July 3 at New Smyrna Speedway, as the biggest car racing program of the year highlights the holiday weekend.

Limited stock cars and limited late models will both get their chance, in a big event highlighted by the first annual Independence Day '72 for the late model machines.

Jointly sponsoring the program along with New Smyrna Speedway is the Citrus County Speedway. The combination of two tracks promises to produce the largest field of cars ever assembled at the half-mile track. Early indications are that more than 40 of the late model models will be on hand when the flag falls for 75 laps of racing.

There's a reason why motorcros racer Steve Fisher rates the title "expert." Winning is the key word and winning is what Fisher, of West Palm Beach, did Sunday in motorcross competition at New Smyrna Speedway.

Fisher, in the Expert class, outran Jerry Williams of Jacksonville, who he had to settle for second place money. The champ is a Honda pilot, while Williams was aboard a Yamaha. Third spot went to Don Smith, also of Jacksonville, with Pete Haffendin of Melbourne fourth.

Motorcross racing, held at the speedway's tough infield course the second and fourth Sunday of each month, is sponsored by the Daytona 200 Motorcycle Club and New Smyrna Raceways, Inc.

Nearing RBI Standard 'Bad Henry' Shoots For 2 Ruth Marks

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Everybody knows about Bad Henry's relentless pursuit of the Babe's big record—but now, all of a sudden, it seems he's shooting for another target as well.

Bad Henry, of course, is Hank Aaron of Atlanta, who today is just 61 home runs short of Babe Ruth's all-time major league record of 714.

He got his 633rd career blast Wednesday night against San Diego and, for two reasons, it was a propitious time.

The more obvious one is that it was the game. It was a two-run, tie-breaking clutch in the ninth inning that gave Braves a 4-2 triumph in the opener of their two-night doubleheader. But he couldn't

AL Hits Latin Tempo Tiant, Cuellar In Top Form

Associated Press Sports Writer
Luis Tiant and Mike Cuellar, two crafty old Cubans, gave the race in the American League East a Latin tempo Wednesday night — with a big assist from rookie Juan Beniquez.

Tiant, a 32-year-old right-hander from Havana, pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 5-3 victory over Detroit with five innings of one-hit relief.

That sliced the Tigers' lead to one game over Baltimore when Cuellar, a 26-year-old southpaw from Santa Clara, Cuba, hurled the Orioles to a five-hit 5-0 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Elsewhere, the Chicago White Sox downed Oakland 6-1. Minnesota edged California 7-4 and Milwaukee took two from Cleveland 4-2 and 2-1. Texas and Kansas City were not scheduled.

I've come back to my old motion," said Tiant, who won 21 games for Cleveland in 1968 but was released by Minnesota after spending two months of the 1970 season on the disabled list with shoulder problems.

"My motion is the big thing," he went on, referring to his herky-jerky corkscrew delivery. "I give the batters my back and surprise them with my hesitation. I confused them tonight the way I used to before I was hurt."

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

'Bad Henry' Shoots For 2 Ruth Marks

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Everybody knows about Bad Henry's relentless pursuit of the Babe's big record—but now, all of a sudden, it seems he's shooting for another target as well.

Bad Henry, of course, is Hank Aaron of Atlanta, who today is just 61 home runs short of Babe Ruth's all-time major league record of 714.

He got his 633rd career blast Wednesday night against San Diego and, for two reasons, it was a propitious time.

The more obvious one is that it was the game. It was a two-run, tie-breaking clutch in the ninth inning that gave Braves a 4-2 triumph in the opener of their two-night doubleheader. But he couldn't

AL Hits Latin Tempo Tiant, Cuellar In Top Form

Associated Press Sports Writer
Luis Tiant and Mike Cuellar, two crafty old Cubans, gave the race in the American League East a Latin tempo Wednesday night — with a big assist from rookie Juan Beniquez.

Tiant, a 32-year-old right-hander from Havana, pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 5-3 victory over Detroit with five innings of one-hit relief.

That sliced the Tigers' lead to one game over Baltimore when Cuellar, a 26-year-old southpaw from Santa Clara, Cuba, hurled the Orioles to a five-hit 5-0 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Elsewhere, the Chicago White Sox downed Oakland 6-1. Minnesota edged California 7-4 and Milwaukee took two from Cleveland 4-2 and 2-1. Texas and Kansas City were not scheduled.

I've come back to my old motion," said Tiant, who won 21 games for Cleveland in 1968 but was released by Minnesota after spending two months of the 1970 season on the disabled list with shoulder problems.

"My motion is the big thing," he went on, referring to his herky-jerky corkscrew delivery. "I give the batters my back and surprise them with my hesitation. I confused them tonight the way I used to before I was hurt."

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an insurance run.

After the Red Sox took a 4-3 lead against Joe Coleman with two runs in the fifth on Doug GIFFIN'S DOUBLE, Carl Yastrzemski's triple, Reggie Smith's single and stolen base and a single by Beniquez, Phil Gagliano drew a bases-loaded walk in the eighth and Beniquez, a 22-year-old rookie shortstop from San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, filling in for the rookie Venezuelan, Luis Aparicio, cha, cha, chad across the plate with an

EVEL KNieVEL

LOW PROFILE — This is the Skycycle X-1 that motorcycle stunt man Evel Knievel will climb into next year in his bid to jump a 4-mile canyon along the Snake River in Idaho. Vehicle is 17 1/2 feet long and is powered by a 1,500-pound-thrust steam rocket and a 5,000-pound-thrust solid fuel rocket. Sky-cycle will reach 350 m.p.h. before Evel bails out. (CNS Photo)

Evel Knievel Sets Up A Novel Stunt

By JEFF CUSHING
Copley News Service

Evel Knievel is known for his exploits with a motorcycle. He is also known as perhaps the craziest guy on two wheels. Anyone who will try to leap over a long row of automobiles on a cut-down Harley Davidson is listening to a different drummer, right?

Knievel is a show-stopping stunt man from the word GO. Give him a ramp, a row of cars and a guaranteed purse and he'll don his white, fringe-trimmed riding leathers, strap on his helmet with "Color Me Knievel" emblazoned on the back, climb on his Harley and give an audience the thrill of his lives.

Part of the thrill is to see if Evel can make it. Sometimes he does. Sometimes he doesn't. Like the time he almost killed himself in front of the Caesar's Palace casino in Las Vegas a few years back. But Evel keeps coming back for more. And more.

Coming up on Evel's appointment pad is by far the most ambitious project of his life. And if he succeeds, he'll have a tough time of ever coming up with anything more grandiose.

He tells you what he's going to do matter-of-factly: "I'm gonna jump across a 4-mile canyon on a motorcycle."

It hits you like a rock. At first you think he's putting you on. But Evel is serious. Dead serious.

If everything goes according to plan, Knievel will shoot across a 500-foot chasm on the Snake River near Twin Falls, Idaho, on July 4, 1973. It's as simple as that.

Evel has been thinking about a canyon jump for several years. Back in 1968, he constructed a prototype rocket-powered motorcycle and put it on display at a Phoenix, Ariz., auto dealership.

"It was the most atrocious thing I ever saw," reflects Doug Malzewicki, an aerospace research engineer. "It was just a motorcycle with two weird-looking wings bolted on and a crude jet propulsion unit sticking out of the middle. I knew at once as I saw it that it wouldn't fly 10 feet in one direction, let alone carry Knievel across the Grand Canyon."

The federal government put a stop to the Grand Canyon jump. But Knievel, undeterred, went out and bought himself his own canyon along the Snake River, a few miles outside of Twin Falls.

Then he teamed up with Malzewicki on the development of a rocket cycle that would work.

"What we came up with isn't some Buck Rogers mock-up," says Malzewicki, 30, who is the rocket science and education manager of L. M. Cox Manufacturing, the model rocket and airplane people.

"We approached the Sky-cycle project from a very scientific approach. We used computers to design both the vehicle and the ramp that will carry the rocket cycle that would work."

"It hits you like a rock. At first you think he's putting you on. But Evel is serious. Dead serious."

If everything goes according to plan, Knievel will shoot across a 500-foot chasm on the Snake River near Twin Falls, Idaho, on July 4, 1973. It's as simple as that.

Evel has been thinking about a canyon jump for several years. Back in 1968, he constructed a prototype rocket-powered motorcycle and put it on display at a Phoenix, Ariz., auto dealership.

"It was the most atrocious thing I ever saw," reflects Doug Malzewicki, an aerospace research engineer. "It was just a motorcycle with two weird-looking wings bolted on and a crude jet propulsion unit sticking out of the middle. I knew at once as I saw it that it wouldn't fly 10 feet in one direction, let alone carry Knievel across the Grand Canyon."

The federal government put a stop to the Grand Canyon jump. But Knievel, undeterred, went out and bought himself his own canyon along the Snake River, a few miles outside of Twin Falls.

Then he teamed up with Malzewicki on the development of a rocket cycle that would work.

"What we came up with isn't some Buck Rogers mock-up," says Malzewicki, 30, who is the rocket science and education manager of L. M. Cox Manufacturing, the model rocket and airplane people.

"We approached the Sky-cycle project from a very scientific approach. We used computers to design both the vehicle and the ramp that will carry the rocket cycle that would work."

"It hits you like a rock. At first you think he's putting you on. But Evel is serious. Dead serious."

If everything goes according to plan, Knievel will shoot across a 500-foot chasm on the Snake River near Twin Falls, Idaho, on July 4, 1973. It's as simple as that.

Ex-Movie Star Recalls 'Luck' In Early Days

By NANCY ANDERSON
Copley News Service

HOLLYWOOD—If Maureen O'Sullivan had spent her last $20 sensibly, "Tarzan" would never have had her for his "Jane," nor, in all likelihood, would Mia Farrow have had her for a mother.

The $20, frivolously blown, much less a fine singing voice, was in great demand at the studio with the result that McCormack, Lawrence Tibbett, Morton Downey and others were being snatched from opera and concert stages and thrust before cameras.

Unhappily, many of these overnight movie stars as one-picture movie stars as the star.

John Weismuller's jungle bride in "Tarzan, the Ape Man" and indirectly to her marriage to John Farrow, Hollywood writer, director and lady killer.

"The greatest blessings my career brought me were my husband and children," she says now. "Though I know that, if I'd never come to Hollywood, I would probably have met someone else who would have made me happy."

"I often think about what my life might have been if I'd never become an actress. If I stayed in Ireland, I probably would have met and married someone in the foreign service who'd be retired by now."

Born in Roscommon in the west of Ireland, Maureen was the gently reared daughter of a prominent family with no leanings toward the stage or screen until she met a studio representative at a party.

She was 17 years old and beautiful and thoroughly flustered when he surprised her with his version of "You ought to be in pictures, baby."

However, when she discovered that he meant what he said, that he really wanted to get her into movies, she talked her family into letting her go to Hollywood to appear in "Song of My Heart" with the great Irish tenor, John McCormack.

At that point, sound was so new that anyone with a respectable speaking voice, former had to project more than fine tone to make it with picture-show patrons. McCormack's career in films was short-lived. However, the little Irish girl who'd appeared with him was treated more kindly by Hollywood, primarily because the 20th Century-Fox organization was feuding with Janet Gaynor and needed a young actress to use as a threat to the star.

LUCKY BREAK — Maureen O'Sullivan, seen here as Johnny Weismuller's jungle bride in "Tarzan, the Ape Man," almost didn't make it in motion pictures. Today she is as enchanting as ever (see inset).

"I was under contract to Fox and was promoted as the new Janet," O'Sullivan recalled recently while making an ABC "Movie of the Week."

"Of course I wasn't like her. Her fans didn't accept me as a substitute, and pretty soon the studio lost interest in me."

"I went home to Ireland for a visit, and while I was gone, Fox decided to drop me. I was told about this, but after I got back to Hollywood, I simply didn't hear from the studio."

"I was living at the old Garden of Allah then, where my rent was $20 a month, quite a lot for that time."

"I'd reached the point where I had only $20 left and couldn't decide what to do with it. I could have used it to go home, but I'd left with such expectations I hated to go back a failure. On the other hand, I could have used the money to pay another month's rent in hopes that I'd get some work before the month was up."

ONE WAY

To Assure Yourself
The Best News
Coverage Of Seminole County - Be A Regular Subscriber To
The Sanford Herald.
Just $1.50 A Month.
Try It...
You'll Like It!

DELIVERED MONDAY THRU FRIDAY

Just Give Us A Call 322-2611—831-9993 or Just Drop Us A Note.

CLIP AND MAIL

Start Paper To:

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ Tel. _____

CUT AND PASTE ON YOUR ENVELOPE

Postage Will Be Paid by Addressee

NO POSTAGE NECESSARY IF MAILED IN THE UNITED STATES

BUSINESS REPLY ENVELOPE
FIRST CLASS PERMIT NO. 46, SEC. 34.9 FLORIDA, FLA.

CIRCULATION DEPT.
The Sanford Herald
P.O. BOX 1457
SANFORD, FLORIDA 32771

FLEET RESERVE Association of Seminole County made $913 at the auction held to benefit zoo Saturday in conjunction with the Sanford NAS reunion. Horace Paul (center), president of Fleet Reservist Club, presents check to Clifford Nelson, president of Seminole Zoological Society; as Gib Blake, of the society's board of directors looks on. (Staff Photo)

There is the possibility that sexual desire may be decreased with the oral contraceptives you are taking. This point is hard to prove, but cases have been reported where experience has been that change-

Here is an unusual combination of personal memoir and a low key political essay, an essay in which Muskie manages to make his main points by describing how, as his political career progressed, he formulated his position on various issues.

The reader needs to keep in mind that the manuscript was completed months ago, well before the spring primaries, the author acknowledges that by the time the book would get into circulation his political fortunes might be up or down.

Muskie begins by referring to his early training as a governor and senator, then sketches the course of his 1968 campaign for the vice presidency.

Some of his observations are presented coolly. He thought at the time that with President Johnson "we never had a comfortable relationship, but it was productive, particularly on domestic issues."

He found that Hubert Humphrey had his problems, but decided that if the Humphrey-Muskie ticket had been elected, Humphrey would have made a very good President. He always had the right qualities and I think they might have suited the country at that time.

The Muskie process, in the framework of a memoir, to present a series of notes on experiences and ideas, recollections, opinions and recommendations.

He bears down hard on the subject of the environment, noting that he was aware of the problem as governor. Then come the questions of individual freedom, equality of races and sexes, and of political responsibilities. He pointedly records his trips abroad and comments on America's international posture with an overview of what he considers the factors contributing to a current malaise in American society.

SO YOU WANT TO BE Building Trades Employment Prospects Upward Bound

By ERNIE HOOD
Hook your ambitions to a moonship, all of you who have written regarding career opportunities in the building trades. It appears asbestos and insulating workers—25,000 employed now, with average annual openings of 8,500 to 1980. Rapid employment increase expected as construction activity expands.

Electricians (Construction)—190,000 now, with average annual openings of 12,000 to 1980. Very rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Plumbers and Pipefitters—40,000 now, with average annual openings of 6,000 to 1980. Moderate increase. Floor covering installers—40,000 now employed, with average annual openings of 2,000 to 1980. Rapid employment increases from wider use of resilient floor coverings and wall-to-wall carpeting.

Carpenters—830,000 now with average annual openings of 46,000 to 1980. Rapid employment increases from rise in construction activity.

Glaziers—10,000 now employed with average annual openings of 500 to 1980. Rapid increase.

Lathers—30,000 now employed, with average annual openings of 1,500 to 1980. Rapid increase.

Construction expansion and growing use of concrete products.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Questions Women Ask: Lag In Sexual Interest May Be Due To Pill

By ELEANOR B. ROBERTSON, M.D.
Copley News Service

Q I am a college student and have been married 2 years. I have been on birth control pills all this time. I'm glad you are a woman gynecologist because I simply couldn't ask a man about this. For the last year I have had no interest in sexual relations with my husband. We are worried there is something the matter with me. What do you think?

A Interest in sexual relations is not a simple matter. There are a host of complicating elements, especially in the female. A woman's emotions are affected by all the parts of her living. Simple fatigue is important, and if you are a student, studying and keeping house at the same time, fatigue at the end of the day, when there is opportunity for sexual activity, would not be surprising.

There is the possibility that sexual desire may be decreased with the oral contraceptives you are taking. This point is hard to prove, but cases have been reported where experience has been that change-

Here is an unusual combination of personal memoir and a low key political essay, an essay in which Muskie manages to make his main points by describing how, as his political career progressed, he formulated his position on various issues.

The reader needs to keep in mind that the manuscript was completed months ago, well before the spring primaries, the author acknowledges that by the time the book would get into circulation his political fortunes might be up or down.

Muskie begins by referring to his early training as a governor and senator, then sketches the course of his 1968 campaign for the vice presidency.

Some of his observations are presented coolly. He thought at the time that with President Johnson "we never had a comfortable relationship, but it was productive, particularly on domestic issues."

He found that Hubert Humphrey had his problems, but decided that if the Humphrey-Muskie ticket had been elected, Humphrey would have made a very good President. He always had the right qualities and I think they might have suited the country at that time.

The Muskie process, in the framework of a memoir, to present a series of notes on experiences and ideas, recollections, opinions and recommendations.

He bears down hard on the subject of the environment, noting that he was aware of the problem as governor. Then come the questions of individual freedom, equality of races and sexes, and of political responsibilities. He pointedly records his trips abroad and comments on America's international posture with an overview of what he considers the factors contributing to a current malaise in American society.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

Employment of 15,000 to 1980. Rapid increase as construction expands demand for appliances, air-conditioning systems, electronic data processing equipment and electrical control devices.

ing the brand and composition, or using another method of contraception for awhile, has corrected the problem in a number of cases.

Because there are so many factors involved in a woman's enjoyment of "sex," definite diagnosis and specific treatment are almost impossible. The little step at a time is the course to take — an examination to rule out any irritations and to be sure of general good health, change in medication, adjustment of living and work schedules, discussion with husband, etc. Patience on the part of all concerned is necessary and, in the end, the difficulties can usually be worked out.

Q I have been hearing about blood-poisoning effects of gonorrhea. Is it true that gonorrhea can get into the blood?

A Yes, some complications of gonorrhea are caused by the organisms getting into the blood stream. Many of these complications disappeared when penicillin was first introduced and cured the infections.

Now, with so much of the disease running wild, uncommon disorders are reappearing. Seen on the skin and arthritis are two. Rarely, these bacteria also affect the coverings of the heart, the brain, and the liver.

However, there are other complications that are not blood-borne, but occur as a result of unusual sexual practices with an infected individual. Inflammation of the rectum and of the throat are two of these.

Q I am 16 years old and I have warts around the opening of my vagina. I have never had intercourse. Is there any other way to catch them?

A So-called "venereal" warts are seen occasionally in quite young girls and women of these cases have been reported in the medical literature. These are usually preceded for some weeks by vaginal discharge which is probably due to trichomonas. Although the nurse is right, that most of these cases are spread by sexual intercourse, there can occur about it, just as trichomonas can sometimes be picked up in other ways.

Warts are due to a virus and grow in some people and not in others. These include the common ordinary warts that bother certain individuals on the hands. In a susceptible family, several members may have genital warts, so it is possible must have caught them by having sexual intercourse. I have never had intercourse. Is there any other way to catch them?

Warts are due to a virus and grow in some people and not in others. These include the common ordinary warts that bother certain individuals on the hands. In a susceptible family, several members may have genital warts, so it is possible must have caught them by having sexual intercourse. I have never had intercourse. Is there any other way to catch them?

Warts are due to a virus and grow in some people and not in others. These include the common ordinary warts that bother certain individuals on the hands. In a susceptible family, several members may have genital warts, so it is possible must have caught them by having sexual intercourse. I have never had intercourse. Is there any other way to catch them?

Warts are due to a virus and grow in some people and not in others. These include the common ordinary warts that bother certain individuals on the hands. In a susceptible family, several members may have genital warts, so it is possible must have caught them by having sexual intercourse. I have never had intercourse. Is there any other way to catch them?

Warts are due to a virus and grow in some people and not in others. These include the common ordinary warts that bother certain individuals on the hands. In a susceptible family, several members may have genital warts, so it is possible must have caught them by having sexual intercourse. I have never had intercourse. Is there any other way to catch them?

Warts are due to a virus and grow in some people and not in others. These include the common ordinary warts that bother certain individuals on the hands. In a susceptible family, several members may have genital warts, so it is possible must have caught them by having sexual intercourse. I have never had intercourse. Is there any other way to catch them?

Warts are due to a virus and grow in some people and not in others. These include the common ordinary warts that bother certain individuals on the hands. In a susceptible family, several members may have genital warts, so it is possible must have caught them by having sexual intercourse. I have never had intercourse. Is there any other way to catch them?

Warts are due to a virus and grow in some people and not in others. These include the common ordinary warts that bother certain individuals on the hands. In a susceptible family, several members may have genital warts, so it is possible must have caught them by having sexual intercourse. I have never had intercourse. Is there any other way to catch them?

We'll give you $50 for your old encyclopedia.

World Book Encyclopedia
Encyclopaedia Britannica
Book of Knowledge Encyclopedia Americana
Coles Encyclopedia
Ment Student's Encyclopedia Encyclopedia International Grove Encyclopedia

When you purchase the new 1972 Compton's Encyclopedia, for information, contact Bob Smith, 1950 Lee Rd., Winter Park, 32789.

Compton's
New leadership in the field of learning.

Electric Paper Shredder destroys letters, envelopes, file cards and negatives.

- Light Weight and Portable
- Adaptable to any desk
- Automatic feeding
- No danger of jamming
- Performs normal shredding

$59.50

george stuart
133 E. ROBINSON ORLANDO
COME IN TODAY FOR A FREE DEMONSTRATION
CHECK WITH US FOR THE BEST PRICE

TG&Y Spring & Summer Fabrics Clearance

HURRY IN WHILE THE SELECTION IS GOOD!

AND SAVE

We Must Make Room For Fall Fabrics

100% Polyester Double Knit

58" - 60" wide 1st Quality Fabric Machine Wash Tumble Dry No Iron $1.99

VIP "Favorite" Prints 45" wide - 100 per cent cotton Machine Washable Tumble Dry $1.29

Courtesy Prints & Plaids 35" - 36" wide 100 per cent Cotton Machine Washable Tumble Dry - 1st Quality $1.37

100% Polyester Double Knit Machine Wash Tumble Dry Easy Care Fabric 44" - 46" wide $2.99

| | | |
|--|---|---|
| Double Knit Machine Wash Never Iron 58" - 60" wide Reg. $1.99 | Brushed Satreen Stripes 30 per cent Polyester 30 per cent Cotton 45" wide Reg. $1.99 | Super Stowe 50 per cent Polyester 50 per cent Cotton 44" - 46" wide Reg. $1.99 |
|--|---|---|

Sanford Longwood

413 E. First St. Open Sunday 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. Mon. - Tues. Wed. Thurs. & Sat. 9 a.m. - 7 p.m. Fri. 9 a.m. - 9 p.m.

Hwy. 17 & 244 Open Sunday 10 a.m. - 7 p.m. Mon. - Tues. Wed. 9 a.m. - 9 p.m. Thurs. - Fri. Sat. 9 a.m. - 9 p.m.

CASH BUYS MORE AT SCOTT'S home builders supply

4mm Luan PANELING $1.06

STUDS $2.79

2x4x8 $1.06

700 French Ave. Sanford, FL. Ph. 323-4700

Prefinished paneling in 4x8 sheets is available in three colors: light, medium, dark. Scott's offers more savings for you in all your lumber needs. Phone your nearest Scott's for low prices.

CERAMICS IS ONE OF THE World's Most Fascinating HOBBIES

LEARN TO FINISH THIS BEAUTIFUL 5 PIECE MUSHROOM CANNISTER SET $1.11 to $3.20 Per Pc. Also Matching Accessories

LEARN TO FINISH THESE FASCINATING "SMILEY" & "HAPPY" FIGURES IN POPULAR MON-FIRE COLORS AS GIFTS FOR YOUR FRIENDS. YOUR CHOICE OF 35 DIFFERENT FIGURES IN GREENWARE. MOST AT "SUMMER SPECIAL PRICES"

OF $1.98 EACH AND UP DEPENDING ON DESIGN

COME SEE LARGEST STOCK OF CERAMIC GREENWARE AND RELATED SUPPLIES IN CENTRAL FLORIDA.

WHOLESALE DISCOUNTS TO CERAMIC STUDIOS, CRAFT & GIFT SHOPS

DISTRIBUTORS FOR THE "CERAMICHOME LINE"

 VERY PROFITABLE DEALERSHIPS AVAILABLE ***

MUSIC BOXES DAY AND NIGHT CLASS
ELECTRIC AND BATTERY CLOCKS INSTRUCTION AND LAMP PARTS AND WORK SHOP
ELECTRIC SUPPLIES SESSIONS
MODELING CLAY BY PROFESSIONAL BRUSHES & TOOLS TEACHER

GREENWAY CERAMI-CRAFT
A DIVISION OF
GREENWAY NURSERY
ON WYMORE ROAD, BETWEEN FAIRBANKS & LEE RD., WINTER PARK
OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK 9:00 to 5:30 NO MAIL ORDERS

FOR SALE! ALUMINUM SHEETS

USED OFFSET PRINTING PLATES 23 INCHES BY 36 INCHES

15¢ EACH

IDEAL LINING MATERIAL (They Just Fit Between Studings and Rafters)

NON-RUSTING PURE ALUMINUM EASILY INSTALLED WITH STAPLEGUN

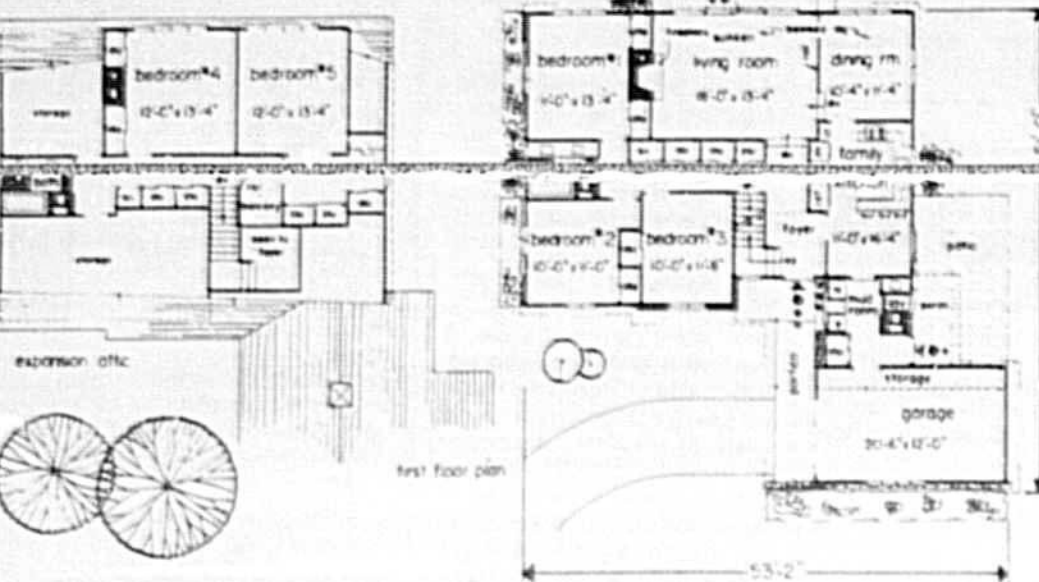

CAN BE CUT WITH SCISSORS IDEAL FOR ROOFING OR INSULATING

The Sanford Herald
300 N. FRENCH AVE. PH. 322-2611

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

EARLY AMERICAN-STYLE RANCH is designed for the growing family. Built-in house two more bedrooms and a full bath. The room is an imaginative and sensible home in itself, also. There is a dramatic sunken living room with fireplace and beamed ceiling. The dining room, kitchen and dinette are well located, with the laundry nearby. There also is a laundry and mudroom, an attached garage and an abundance of closets. Plan HAT23 contains 1,206 square feet and was designed by architect Samuel Paul, 107-40 Queens Blvd., Forest Hills, N. Y. 11375, who may be written for further information.

Under present regulations, no benefits will be payable unless you have the 31 necessary quarters. You may, however, earn the additional nine quarters by working between now and age 62 or even after age 62 if you still need to make up quarters to qualify.

DO-IT-YOURSELF

Guard Wood Surface from Wet

Paint and varnish protect wood surfaces from the weather. And wood that is in constant proximity to moisture—fence posts, wooden outdoor furniture, door sills, eave ends—needs extra protection than either paint or varnish.

Continued presence of moisture allows fungus to thrive, resulting in rot.

Any piece of wood that touches the ground or is in such a position that moisture will collect on it easily should be treated with a wood preservative.

Wood preservatives are varied and the well-known creosote, with its pungent odor and association with railroad ties, is not the only one and certainly not the best.

Creosote's chief virtue is its cheapness, which makes it good for fence posts where its flaws will not affect anything. Creosote breeds through paint so that it is not useful on surfaces that must be finished. It is very flammable and has an unpleasant, strong odor that seems to last forever.

Shop around and you can find preservatives that are not bled and which are a little more pleasant to use. While there are many trade names, a look at the ingredients will indicate the presence of such chemicals as pentachlorophenol, zinc naphthenate and copper naphthenate.

The first named is most common. These penta preservatives generally come in an oil base and the better ones will be clear.

Check instructions for painting. Chances are you will have to seal the preservative with shellac or aluminum paint.

Zinc naphthenate is generally clear and is used for sealing wood surfaces and for using on wood that will be varnished.

Copper naphthenate is green in color and if the color bothers you it will have to be painted over. But it will need sealing first.

Whatever preservative you choose, remember that protection comes from having the material soak into the wood as much as possible. Brushing on is not as good as dipping.

Creosote will cause skin burns. Other preservatives while not so caustic, will also irritate the skin of many people. Use with caution. Wear gloves.

Shop around and you can find preservatives that are not bled and which are a little more pleasant to use. While there are many trade names, a look at the ingredients will indicate the presence of such chemicals as pentachlorophenol, zinc naphthenate and copper naphthenate.

The first named is most common. These penta preservatives generally come in an oil base and the better ones will be clear.

Check instructions for painting. Chances are you will have to seal the preservative with shellac or aluminum paint.

Zinc naphthenate is generally clear and is used for sealing wood surfaces and for using on wood that will be varnished.

Copper naphthenate is green in color and if the color bothers you it will have to be painted over. But it will need sealing first.

Whatever preservative you choose, remember that protection comes from having the material soak into the wood as much as possible. Brushing on is not as good as dipping.

Creosote will cause skin burns. Other preservatives while not so caustic, will also irritate the skin of many people. Use with caution. Wear gloves.

USING PRESERVATIVE-TREAT PART OF POST THAT GOES INTO GROUND

DIP BOTTOMS OF FENCE PICKETS

MOISTUREPROOF OUTDOOR STEPS

PAINT DOOR SILLS

today's FUNNY

PROCRASTINATORS HAVE A "WAIT" PROBLEM

Wait till... Wait till... Wait till...

VETERANS and NON-VETERANS

WE OFFER NOTHING FREE

However, we do have the finest pre-need "Family Burial Estate" program available! All we ask is the opportunity to present "Our Program" before you purchase your burial estate elsewhere.

WE INVITE COMPARISON

CHAPEL HILL

CENTRAL FLORIDA'S MOST BEAUTIFUL "MEMORIAL PARK"

2400 HARRELL ROAD, ORLANDO, FLA. 32807

DIAL 471-3919

Please have counselor call regarding your pre-need "Family Burial Estate" program. It is understood there is no obligation.

NAME _____ ADDRESS _____ CITY _____ PHONE _____

This special offer for miscellaneous merchandise only! Classifications '55 and '55A

Ad must state the price of merchandise—to assure maximum response

Count approximately 5 words per line to figure total lines

DIAL 322-2611 or 831-9993 TODAY!

What About Retirement? Social Security Rules Outlined

By FRANK CORRICK
Copy News Service

Q. In 1964, I checked with Social Security and they told me I would need nine more quarters to qualify for monthly benefits at 62. I am now 62 and my husband isn't eligible for Social Security. Does this mean I lose everything I've paid in?—Mrs. E.S.

A. When you reach age 62 in 1965, you will need 31 quarters of coverage (almost eight years of work under Social Security) to qualify for a monthly benefit. The estimate given you in 1964 indicates you need a little more than 31 quarters to qualify at age 62.

Under present regulations, no benefits will be payable unless you have the 31 necessary quarters. You may, however, earn the additional nine quarters by working between now and age 62 or even after age 62 if you still need to make up quarters to qualify.

Q. We are interested in the income sources of the U.S. life insurance companies? Also, what life insurance company is the oldest in the world?—J.G., Student

A. We receive money from two main sources: premiums paid by policyholders and earnings on investments. There is a close relationship between these income elements. Part of each premium payment is available for investment in the nation's economy; in calculating premiums, the anticipated investment earnings are taken into account, thereby reducing the cost of life insurance to the policyholders.

In 1970, the total income of all U.S. life insurance companies was $49.1 billion; 78 per cent from premium receipts and 21 per cent from investment earnings. The remainder came from various other sources.

In 1796, the first life insurance company in the United States, The Corporation for Relief of Poor and Distressed Presbyterian Ministers and of the Poor and Distressed Widows and Children of Presbyterian Ministers, was established in Philadelphia by the Synod of the Presbyterian church. This company, now Presbyterian Ministers' Fund, is the oldest life insurance company in continued existence in the world.

Q. I retired in 1966 but won't be 65 until November. A friend says I should take my Social Security benefits at age 62. My employer will deduct $80 per month from my pension when I reach age 65. What should I do?—R.E.M.

A. Social Security applications are generally retroactive for 12 months so it would not be possible at this time to claim benefits back to age 62.

It would be a good idea to discuss with your former employer what effect the retroactive would have on your pension. Then talk to the local Social Security office.

Q. I have Medicare and I am confined to my home. I've heard about home health benefits. Can I get them? What kind of care is available for this kind of care?—A.J.M.

A. Your medical insurance part of Medicare (Part B) will pay for up to 100 home health visits each calendar year but only if you meet these five conditions:

1. You need part-time skilled nursing care, or physical or speech therapy services.

SINGER

PRE-GRAND OPENING SALE

Old Fashioned Days Old Fashioned Prices

FEATURES:

- TOUCH & SEW from $299.95
- ZIG ZAG from $129.95
- PORTABLES from $79.95

Take Off And Sew!

To the lady who wants our machine and somebody else's price.

APPROVED SINGER DEALER

Kingdon Sewing Center

210 E. FIRST ST. PH. 322-6861

133 East Robinson Orlando, Florida Phone: 341-3421

432-1242
Dunwoody Beach 254-5202
Dunwoody Sanford 688-4436
Lake County 383-6456
Maitland 262-4576
Tusculum 281-6859

DIAL 322-2611 or 831-9993 AND ASK FOR

The Sanford Herald

SUPER SELLER

JOIN THE WORLD-WIDE FAMILY OF SATISFIED WANT-AD USERS!

Now You Can Advertise Miscellaneous Merchandise For Sale At Low, Low Cost.

3 LINES 5 DAYS $3

• 4 Lines, 5 Days $4 • 5 Lines, 5 Days $5 • 6 Lines, 5 Days $6

This special offer for miscellaneous merchandise only! Classifications '55 and '55A

Ad must state the price of merchandise—to assure maximum response

Count approximately 5 words per line to figure total lines

DIAL 322-2611 or 831-9993 TODAY!

Dear Abby

Taxpayer makes 'home delivery' to postmaster

By Abigail Van Buren

1170 N. CHERRY TRAIL, N. Y. 10512, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: I wanted to call your postmaster and tell him a thing or two because I knew he ate my pension check, but I couldn't find his telephone number in the book. I called information and that's when I found out he had an unlisted number! That really made me mad, so since I can't change his number, I'm sending you this letter to let you know.

Abby, as a taxpayer, I would like to know why a public servant like a postmaster would have an unlisted telephone number?

DEAR TAXPAYER: Probably to protect him from people who "know" he ate their pension checks.

DEAR ABBY: For the mother whose 16-year-old son pretends to be retarded to draw attention, and the father's encouraging reaction:

Obviously, the boy is a good actor, but he probably is repeating himself, so I suggest the father do the following to inject realism:

Begin by using elastic bandages to tie the boy's elbows just slightly behind his back, so the elbows will remain bent. Next, wrap heavy rubber bands around the boy's wrists. Then, wrap elastic bandages around his crossed knees. Then wrap more elastic bandages around his feet so they will be pointed inward.

Next, place a handful of large marbles into the boy's mouth, so he can neither close his mouth nor control his saliva. Finally, put a strap around the boy's head, and attach a rubber band to the back of his head so he can't wiggle it.

By this time the father is probably about to explode in anticipation of the boy's next performance. Then the father should instruct the boy to do some simple task, like turn on the TV and adjust the color and then try to sit in his favorite chair.

My analogy to simulate what it's like to have cerebral palsy (which isn't necessarily retardation) breaks down here—for the father is able to do the boy's temporary condition. I wish to God that I had such power for my young daughter.

DEAR ABBY: From the letters in your column, we "cold" wives should form a club. There are a lot of us around. We're easy to recognize. We're either sick or we [headaches] or dead too much. I'm going on a diet, smoke too much, and eat too much. I'd give 10 years of my life to be a wife like you. I wish to God that I had such power for my young daughter.

DEAR POLLY: My hobby is candlemaking, but many times bubbles appear in the candles and I wonder if anyone knows what causes these bubbles or how I can prevent them.—L. H.

DEAR POLLY—I have two Pevensies. I wish the manufacturers of three-minute timers (the hour-glass type) would place one- and two-minute marks on the glass so we could use them for such things as one-minute jellies and two-minute beef.

Also, if washcloths were reinforced in the center, we would have so many with four good corners and holes in the middle.—MRS. L. W. R.

DEAR POLLY—Mrs. G. McV.'s letter prompted me to write in defense of clerks and cashiers who are not familiar with sale prices. This is not as easy as one may think. If someone had to work in a retail store at least one day, they would have greatly changed attitudes. They would not have decided they did not want back pay and would have decided they would make sure they had sufficient money or a check before being checked out and making the cashier to make over-rings. They would check sales dates and not become angry when told an item was no longer on sale. The main thing to remember is that serious complaints should be taken to the store manager, who usually quite courteously and cooperatively about any problems and will try to solve them. Clerks and cashiers do not always have the authority to handle many problems. Thank you for hearing our side.—KARLA

DEAR POLLY—After a few experiences like Mrs. G. McV. with cashiers not knowing sale prices, I adopted a practice which has proven to be most satisfactory. All the sale items are put out on the check-out counter last. By doing this, they are all together and I am free to watch the cash register when those items are rung up.—MRS. C. A. W.

DEAR POLLY—I cut out the ribbed stretch tops of those worn-out white baby socks and, when needed, use them as bandages for the small wounds and burns that often occur in a family and when you may be out of adult band-aids. The tops can be cut to the desired width and mine are washed and kept in a special drawer.—ELSIE

The Car Porta-DESK

Provides firm writing surface enabling you to write clearly and conveniently. Strong clip, with pencil holder, holds work firmly on 12" x 15" writing surface.

Front filing compartment accommodates standard size files or notepaper. Rear compartment furnishes additional storage space. Keeps car from having that "cluttered, strewn-about" appearance.

Desk top also supplies hand platform on which to set sandwiches and drinks while eating in your car.

george stuart

133 East Robinson Orlando, Florida Phone: 341-3421

ICARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A new attitude is possible for you by getting advanced information on ways and means by which to expand your position in life. Be sure to be openminded and look into modern ideas which could increase your abundance and please your friends.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Contact personal advisers and figure out a way to solve your own problems much better. Make sure you follow advice given you. Evening is fine for study and relaxation.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Impress on others that you are a fine citizen with a philosophical attitude toward others. Attend the social where you can meet interesting persons. This could aid you in the future.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) New opportunities come your way now. Be sure to seize them before others do. A new contact has fine suggestions to make. Listen carefully and follow only the best ones.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make sure you go through with any promises you have made. Show that you are a dependable person. An adviser can help you solve a problem. Contact this person early.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Ask associates directly what is expected of you and then try to please them. Show that you are loyal and efficient. Making radical changes around you is not necessary. Smile more and please others.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Start early on the work you must do and the slate will be clear for a big weekend. Fellow workers cooperate willingly and much can be accomplished. Take it easy tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A bigwig will now appreciate a particular skill you possess and you will benefit right away from this. The evening should be spent happily with mate. Forget going off on a tangent.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Look about the home and see what appliances are necessary to make it run more smoothly. A gentle word and a smile could ease wounded feelings. Think along constructive lines.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have to escape that dull routine now, meet new people and look into new activities if you want to succeed. Steer your efforts in directions that are productive and satisfying.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Contact a business expert for the advice you need to make a greater success of yourself. Go over your financial position and make a wise decision. Avoid one who wants to argue.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make a point to be with persons you like and who can help you in your career. Make new contacts of worth and your future becomes more interesting. Show that you are capable.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You need to study more data that will fit into your plan of living for the future. Assist those who are in a little unexpected trouble. Make good friends of them. Be generous.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who really like people. For this reason success will follow since there is a desire to help and to be helped, which is what makes for a happy life. Direct the education along lines that mean dealing with the public in general and will be a good chance your progeny will become famous.

Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for July is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and sign to Carroll Righter Forecast (name of newspaper), Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028

In the Sky

ACROSS 37 Take a seat
38 Tree country
39 (sh.)
40 Paper man
41 42 Atlantic (sh.)
43 44
45 46
47 48
49 50
51 52
53 54
55 56
57 58
59 60
61 62
63 64
65 66
67 68
69 70
71 72
73 74
75 76
77 78
79 80
81 82
83 84
85 86
87 88
89 90
91 92
93 94
95 96
97 98
99 100

DOWN 1 Excited
2 Aerialist
3 Circle part
4 5
6 7
8 9
10 11
12 13
14 15
16 17
18 19
20 21
22 23
24 25
26 27
28 29
30 31
32 33
34 35
36 37
38 39
40 41
42 43
44 45
46 47
48 49
50 51
52 53
54 55
56 57
58 59
60 61
62 63
64 65
66 67
68 69
70 71
72 73
74 75
76 77
78 79
80 81
82 83
84 85
86 87
88 89
90 91
92 93
94 95
96 97
98 99
100 101

POLLY'S POINTERS

Wants Graduations On Three-Minute Timers

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—My hobby is candlemaking, but many times bubbles appear in the candles and I wonder if anyone knows what causes these bubbles or how I can prevent them.—L. H.

DEAR POLLY—I have two Pevensies. I wish the manufacturers of three-minute timers (the hour-glass type) would place one- and two-minute marks on the glass so we could use them for such things as one-minute jellies and two-minute beef.

Also, if washcloths were reinforced in the center, we would have so many with four good corners and holes in the middle.—MRS. L. W. R.

DEAR POLLY—Mrs. G. McV.'s letter prompted me to write in defense of clerks and cashiers who are not familiar with sale prices. This is not as easy as one may think. If someone had to work in a retail store at least one day, they would have greatly changed attitudes. They would not have decided they did not want back pay and would have decided they would make sure they had sufficient money or a check before being checked out and making the cashier to make over-rings. They would check sales dates and not become angry when told an item was no longer on sale. The main thing to remember is that serious complaints should be taken to the store manager, who usually quite courteously and cooperatively about any problems and will try to solve them. Clerks and cashiers do not always have the authority to handle many problems. Thank you for hearing our side.—KARLA

DEAR POLLY—After a few experiences like Mrs. G. McV. with cashiers not knowing sale prices, I adopted a practice which has proven to be most satisfactory. All the sale items are put out on the check-out counter last. By doing this, they are all together and I am free to watch the cash register when those items are rung up.—MRS. C. A. W.

DEAR POLLY—I cut out the ribbed stretch tops of those worn-out white baby socks and, when needed, use them as bandages for the small wounds and burns that often occur in a family and when you may be out of adult band-aids. The tops can be cut to the desired width and mine are washed and kept in a special drawer.—ELSIE

WIN AT BRIDGE

'Greed Is a Terrible Thing'

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The bidding has been:

| | | | |
|------|-------|------|-------|
| West | North | East | South |
| ♠ 4 | ♠ 10 | ♠ 10 | ♠ 10 |
| ♥ 2 | ♥ 10 | ♥ 10 | ♥ 10 |
| ♦ 2 | ♦ 10 | ♦ 10 | ♦ 10 |
| ♣ 2 | ♣ 10 | ♣ 10 | ♣ 10 |

MacDuff, the best player in Scotland, needed just one quick look at dummy and the opening lead to see that his hand was unbeatable. He was unbeatable. He was sure of a trick with his king of diamonds but after knocking out the ace of spades would have two spade tricks plus the three top tricks in each of the other suits.

His king of diamonds did win the first trick after Donalbain, sitting East, played the seven. At trick two MacDuff led a spade to dummy's king. Fleance looked at the suit and saw the bridge for the shilling. MacDuff looked

Highlights TV Time Previews

8-30 CBS My World and Welcome To It (Herman Munro) seeks refuge in his cartoon world from the outward emotions of his wife and daughter when they can't find the cat he abandoned in a housing development. Munro's fit of anger at the car recalled when the bit him on the neck and finger, but Ellen and Lydia develop neurotic notions about the cat stealing away because it hates the theme.

8-9 NBC NBC Adventure Theater (Herman) "The Highest Fall of All" Personal problems of a man who is a member of the most daring of all stunts—a leap from the Golden Gate Bridge—as the exciting ending to a film on location in San Francisco. Terry Moore as the script girl probes to find out the student's motivation for such almost certain death in this stunt.

8-9 ABC Alias Smith and Jones (Herman) "The McCreeley Bust—Going, Going, Gone" A big line of guests, Burl Ives, Cesar Romero and Lee Majors, continues the story of the last of the great American lawmen (Ives) and Armand (Romero) who have been feuding for years, stealing it from each other. They finally agree the best should be destroyed and hire Heyes and Curry to carry out the mission, which is more easily said than done.

9-11 CBS The CBS Thursday Night Movies "The Tiger Makes Out" Eli Wallach and Anne Jackson, well-known husband and wife acting team of stage and screen, are costarred in this brilliant comedy about human frustrations. Eli plays an angry maulman whose emotions explode and the tiger in him comes out, as he loses a helpless female and drags her back to his cluttered Greenwich Village apartment to get some contempt for society. The woman turns out to be Anne, who is not helpless, but just as frustrated from the badgering she gets from her husband. With common interest, they plot to improve society.

9-10 NBC Ironside (Herman) "Death by the Numbers" One of the more suspenseful shows of the season. Ironside poses as a likely victim, a member of the parole board. A series of murders have a similar pattern, and Ironside uses himself as bait to get the murderer.

9-10 ABC Longstreet (Herman) "Anatomy of a Mayday" A judge facing impeachment proceedings. The judge is liberal-minded, and ultraconservatives have trumped up corruption charges to get him off the bench, saying he had money invested in a company which had litigation before him. The opponents say his decision favored his financial position in the company. Marshall takes the defense of his long-term friend, the judge.

friend's disappearance at sea is suspicious, although his first reaction by police is that it was accidental. However, Longstreet's probing turns up foul play. The ketch exploded mysteriously and a tape of the Mayday message to the Coast Guard confirms Longstreet's suspicions. Drawn into the investigation are the victim's girl friend, business partner and business adviser.

10-11 ABC Owen Marshall, Counselor at Law (Herman) "A Question of Degree" Lloyd Nolan appears as a political judge facing impeachment proceedings. The judge is liberal-minded, and ultraconservatives have trumped up corruption charges to get him off the bench, saying he had money invested in a company which had litigation before him. The opponents say his decision favored his financial position in the com-

Television

THURSDAY

7:00 (2) Dream of Jeannie
(4) Truth or Consequences
(9) Dragnet
(2) Let the Truth
(1) Hogan's Heroes
(2) Adventure Theatre
(6) My World and Welcome To It
(9) Alias Smith & Jones
(6) My Three Sons
(2) Ironside
(4) Movies
(9) Revival Fires
(2) Dean Martin
(9) Owen Marshall
(4) Movies
(2) Johnny Carson
(4) Movies

FRIDAY

MORNING

6:00 (1) Slim Mims
6:15 (4) Sunshine Ammanac
6:40 (4) Summer Semester
7:45 (2) Sports Club
8:00 (2) Today
(4) News
(1) The Big Top
8:00 (4) Capt. Kangaroo
(1) Mike Douglas
9:00 (2) Phil Donahue
(4) Romper Room
(9) Movies
9:30 (4) Virginia Graham
10:00 (2) Dinah's Place
10:30 (2) Concentration
10:50 (4) Fashions in Sewing
11:00 (2) Sale of the Century
(1) Love, American Style
11:30 (2) Hollywood Squares
(4) Love of Life
(9) News

AFTERNOON

12:00 (2) Jeopardy
(4) Where the Heart Is
(9) Password
12:30 (2) News
(4) Search for Tomorrow
(9) Split Second
1:00 (2) Somerset
(4) What's My Line
(1) All My Children
1:30 (2) Three on a Match
(4) As the World Turns
(9) Let's Make a Deal
2:00 (2) Days of Our Lives
(4) Love Is a Many Splendored Thing
(9) Newswired Game
2:30 (2) Doctor Light
(9) Dating Game
3:00 (2) Another World
(4) Secret Star
(9) General Hospital
(4) Edge of Night
(9) One Life to Live
4:00 (2) I Love Lucy
(4) My Three Sons

Bahama Joe's & Lobster House

Service From 11:30 A.M. to 10:00 P.M. Sunday Thru Thursday

11:30 A.M. to 11:00 P.M. Friday and Saturday

EXCELLENT SEAFOOD Inexpensive Prices RAW OYSTER BAR COCKTAIL LOUNGE

PH. 372-5281 2506 S. French Sanford

HELLA WHEELS

FRI. SAT. SUN Mid-Nite Show Doors Oct. 11 to 10 P.M.

MOVIELAND Drive-In Theatre

Now Thru Sat 1st Show at 8:15 ACTION TWINS

No. 1 AT 11:15

THE OZARKS

BARBARA HERSHEY in BOXCAR BERKELEY

COLOR BY DELUXE

No. 2 Color

THE RIDE OF HELL

Color by Delux

A Treat for the Grand Opening of the 100th Store

"IT'S HONEY DIPPED"

WORTH COVENANT ABOUT

Famous Recipe Fried Chicken

Celebration
Tues. Wed. Thurs. 90¢
Regular Dinner
3 pieces of chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, cole slaw and hot biscuits.

Reg. Price $1.25

Come Celebrate With Us!

Famous Recipe FRIED CHICKEN

1809 S. French (Hwy 17-92) Sanford

BINGO

FRIDAY 7:30 P.M.

All Souls Church
9th & Oak

20 GAMES PAY ONCE FOR ALL EVENING INCLUDING

$100 JACKPOT

Summer Specials from Royal Typewriter Co.

(products of the famous Litton Industries)

Royal's Finest Light Weight
Portable Typewriter

Special
$39.95
Reg. $54.95

Royal Mercury... full size, 6 1/2" x 11" board; dual shift keys; 1, 1 1/2, and 2-line spacing; Touch-Set margins; paper table scales; retractable paper support; calibrated paper ball; removable top cover; automatic and manual ribbon reverse; touch regulator. Takes standard business size envelope. Comes complete with handsome console carrying cover.
Especially recommended for the traveling man and the student... wherever portability is desired. Never before so much value at such a low price! Nationally advertised at $54.95. George Stuart's Special Price $39.95. (Pay as little as $5.00 a month.)

Royal's Heavy-Duty
Manual Portable

Special
$69.95
Reg. $89.95

The handsome, rugged Royal Sabre... has all big-machine features including the full-size 88-character keyboard, Magic Margin controls, erasure table, Magic Column set, paper guide and scale, ribbon color selector and stencil cutter, push-button variable line spacer, Luggage-style carrying case included. Nationally advertised at $89.95. George Stuart's Special Price $69.95. (Pay as little as $5.50 a month.)

Royal's Award Series
Electric Portable

Special
$64.95
plus trade*
Reg. $119.95

The famous Royal Apollo 10... has full-size keyboard with standard carriage, pre-set tabulator, "Touch-Set" margins, half-line spacing, 3-position ribbon, fast action tabulator, line finder. Available in Elite, Pica, or Script type styles... also with the Spanish keyboard. Nationally advertised at $119.95. George Stuart's Special Price $64.95 plus your trade-in.* You may pay as little as $5.50 a month if you wish.

* If you don't have a trade-in on your old machine, department has some at very low prices.

Royal's Compact
Office Electric Typewriter

Special
$179.95
Reg. $219.95

The new Jupiter 13 from Royal's Award-winning 1300 series has extra wide 13" carriage, electric carriage return, full-size electric keyboard, easy-to-set Magic Margins, electric repeat keys, touch and impression controls, automatic back space, repeat space and many other exclusive electric features. Choice of Elite or Pica type. Heavy-duty carrying case included. Nationally advertised at $219.95. George Stuart's Special Price $179.95. (Pay as little as $11 a month.)

Compare with any type writer selling for up to $250.00.

Royal's Brand New Digital II Electronic Calculator

Special
$159.50
Reg. $269.50

Brand New... the first time ever at this low price... a full 12-column electronic calculator by Royal. It adds, subtracts, multiplies, divides and performs mixed calculations in a fraction of a second! Big 12-digit capacity, 4-position decimal control. Direct credit balance. Large, easy-to-read figures. Compact. Light weight. Satisfaction guaranteed. Buy this machine... use it for 10 days... if it is not as represented, bring it back for full refund. Nationally advertised at $269.50. George Stuart's Special Price $159.50. (Pay as little as $10 a month.)

Royal's Newest Deluxe
Adding Machine

Special
$72.95
Reg. $129.95

The Royal 739 adds, subtracts, gives credit balance, multiplies. Easy-to-use 10-key keyboard. Lists and totals to $9,999,999.99. Has single, double and triple cipher bars, non-add key, multiplication key, electric clearance, two-color ribbon. Nationally advertised at $129.95. George Stuart's Special Price $72.95. (Pay as little as $6.00 a month.)

Don't let this low price fool you... this is Royal's good office model machine... but at a price low enough you can buy one for your home.

Store Hours: 8:15 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Friday until 6 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Saturday

george stuart
133 EAST ROBINSON DOWNTOWN ORLANDO

Use your American Express Card, your Master Charge, or BankAmericard... or buy on time (low carrying charges)

Orlando 241-3431 - Cocoa 632-1242 - Melbourne 262-4576 - Titusville 267-6859 - Lake County 383-6566 - DeLand-Sanford 668-4436 - Daytona Beach 255-5202

The Sanford Herald

Friday, June 30, 1972—Sanford, Florida 32711

Will Hanoi Change Its Stand? President Vague On Peace Talks

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon has announced the United States will return to Vietnam peace talks in Paris on July 13 because he sees "a chance for more serious discussions."
Holding his first television-radio news conference in 13 months, Nixon gave no clue Thursday night to the nature of presumed secret talks that is bringing both sides back to the conference table.
In fact, he couched his veiled optimism with a statement that "we have been disappointed in the past with regard to these discussions"—suggesting history might repeat itself.
The Paris talks have been in the deep freeze since early May. The last time the talks were held in the White House, the seemingly relaxed chief executive also...

—Repeated high praise for Vice President Spiro T. Agnew but declared he won't make known his choice of a 1972 campaign running mate until the Aug. 21 Republican National Convention draws nearer.
—Expressed hope the courts will uphold the death penalty as a deterrent to such federal crimes as kidnapping and sky-jacking.
—Endorsed, in perhaps stronger language than before, legislation to tighten controls over cheap and readily available handguns.

"I have always felt there should be a federal law for the control of handguns... The problem there is to write the law... in such a way that it is precise and deals with that kind of handgun which ought to be controlled."
—Cautioned Congress against any inflationary or inadequately financed increase in Social Security benefits.
—Saw the economy making great strides, while cautioning that he plans to do more to reduce unemployment.
—Vietnam was the dominant topic.
—Nixon said the United States "will return to the negotiating table... on the assumption that the North Vietnamese are prepared to negotiate in a serious and constructive way. We will be prepared to negotiate in that way."

—He reaffirmed a May 8 offer to withdraw all American troops within four months in return for a supervised Indochina cease-fire and the return of American prisoners plus an accounting for those missing.
—At another point, Nixon again claimed success for his Vietnamization program while declining to say exactly when Saigon forces might be able to operate effectively without U.S. supporting airpower.
—"We expect, perhaps, some more North Vietnamese offensive," he said, "but I believe now the ability of the South Vietnamese to defend themselves on the ground... with the support we give them in the air, has been demonstrated."

—Nixon said the... of the Force Gen. John Layton... of proving unauthorized bombing strikes against Northern targets "did not affect the diplomatic negotiations." But he said the forced retirement and demotion of Lavelle was proper and "will assure that kind of activity may not occur in the future."
—In defending his request for money to fund new offensive weapons programs, while seeking congressional approval of his Moscow-summit arms accord, Nixon contended both countries understand the other will go forward with new weapons...

—While discussing Vietnam, he...
—I find that making a bargain with them is not easy and you get something from them only when you have something they want to get from you.
—In this vein, he said that's why he intends to continue bombing North Vietnam, mine its harbors and maintain a "residual force" in the South until prisoners of war are returned.

Door Is Open For Newer Death Laws

By John A. Spolnik
Now don't get too "hot" about the Supreme Court ruling on the death sentence... Judging by the number of calls and the tones of same received from you dear readers, I'd be of the opinion that there is a slight disagreement existing...
The truth of the matter is, according to Attorney General Robert Shevin, "I think they left the door ajar." He suggested the constitutional question of the death penalty may now depend on "who you kill or how brutal the crime is."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court decision outlawing the death penalty as it is now imposed leaves the door open for Congress or the states to write new laws that would be considered valid.
The only reason there is an opening at all is that only two of the five justices in Thursday's majority seem to have concluded that capital punishment is prohibited by the 8th Amendment for all crimes and under all circumstances.
They were Justices William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall.
The three others, Byron R. White, Potter Stewart, and to a lesser degree, William O. Douglas, quarreled constitutionally not with capital punishment itself so much as with the looseness of sentencing procedures.
That is, the legislatures left it to judges and juries to choose to impose the death penalty in one instance of murder or rape and to impose a lesser sentence on another defendant for a similar crime.
White said that as a result the odds are very much against execution. "When imposition of the penalty reaches a certain degree of infrequency, it would be very doubtful that any existing general need for retribution would be measurably satisfied," he said.
Stewart said: "I simply conclude that the 8th and 14th Amendments cannot tolerate the infliction of a sentence of death under legal systems that permit this unique penalty to be so wantonly and so freakishly imposed."

Shevin said he would urge Gov. Reubin Askew to call a special session of the Legislature.
So, why don't call your representative and let him know how you personally stand on this matter.
Didn't really mean to infringe on the news from our Society Department, but during the course of one of this morning's many phone calls, in a lighter vein one of the gals had this comment on describing some of the latest gowns... They're "low and behold!" (Don't blame me... she said it, not me.)
If you're taking any bets today, a certain winner would be that today... and no other day previously, or to come... will be the longest day in your life.
Every other day since man began recording time has had 86,400 seconds. At 8 p.m. EDT, midnight Greenwich Mean Time, today the world's timekeepers will add an extra second.
The purpose is to correct a discrepancy in time-keeping due to tiny changes in the earth's rotation.
Now that I've socked you with that "Timeless" bit of info... Don't goof-off and blow it! It ain't gonna happen again for another 50,000 years!

DRIVER ESCAPED ON FOOT
Sanford police are seeking the driver of this wrecked, stolen automobile. Sgt. Ralph Russell and Sgt. Doug Bishop sought to stop the car last night at Ninth Street and Sanford Avenue and a 100-mph chase ensued. The car struck a utility pole near Orange Avenue and the driver escaped on foot. (Gary Taylor Photo)

On Scuttled Death Penalty County Officials Irate

Yesterday's ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court abolishing the death penalty has caused a barrage of comment from local law officials.
Locally, the decision could affect two recent cases and another in which the convicted have been inmates of death row at Raiford for many years.
Israel Gilley and Jimmie Lee Drumwright were meted the death penalty on May 4, 1965, after being convicted by a Triplet 12 of the opinion that Circuit Court jury of the Feb. 8, 1963, rape of a Seminole County housewife.
Dennis Herovich was sentenced to the electric chair on May 2, 1972, for the Sept. 20, 1971 rape of a teenage Sanford girl.
Winter Springs Police Chief Walter Bachelor views the decision "strongly."
Chief Bachelor contends, "I feel abolition of the death penalty is a disservice to law enforcement officials. It is a drastic situation and those guilty of perpetrating a capital offense such as rape or murder will feel it is a two for one situation; they may as well kill a policeman... they can't get into any worse trouble so they may as well go ahead."
"In cases where they have been sentenced to life imprisonment with no hope of parole, if they don't like the law there is no reason not to kill him. This is simply another question of the courts making the criminals' lot easier. It will be difficult to enforce the law without a severe penalty involved. The courts keep lessening the penalties. We, as law enforcement officers, cannot continue to enforce the law if there is no teeth in the punishment process."

Oviedo Police Chief Kenneth Triplett is of the opinion that "There are certain instances where the death penalty should be used. They shouldn't have done away with it. It is a deterrent to certain crimes such as murder and rape and there should be other deterrents than life imprisonment for these offenses."
Seminole County Sheriff John Polk stresses, "I think that the death penalty is a definite deterrent to murder and rape, and I don't understand the President's statement last night on TV that the ruling doesn't apply to federal cases. I feel our major crimes such as murder and rape, if the Supreme Court ruling stands, will increase. The death penalty has been a deterrent to major crime. Now, what has a man got to lose if he kills a hundred men? He can only get life imprisonment."
Police Chief Justice East, of Altamonte Springs, George Karcher, of Casselberry, Ben Butler, of Sanford and Eddie Sweet, of Longwood, were unavailable for comment.
Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi, who sentenced Byrd to death in the electric chair, was in trial this morning, and unavailable for comment. However, a reliable court source indicated he is irate over the decision and was visibly upset when the Supreme Court decision was handed to him while he occupied the bench yesterday.
Judge Salfi has been a vocal proponent of the death penalty since he was a judge in the 1950s, and in sentencing

Zane Clark on a drug offense, told him that if it were in his power Clark would receive the electric chair for his part in involving area youth to become "hooked" on the drug habit.
The Senate adopted today a 28 per cent across-the-board increase in Social Security benefits... the biggest such boost in history.

Weather
Yesterday high 94 low 73. Partly cloudy through Saturday. Highs 88 to 92. Low tonight in 70s.
INDEX
Area deaths... 3A
Calendar... 7A
Church directory... 7B
Church news... 2A
Classified ads... 6B-7B
Comics... 6B
Crossword puzzle... 3B
Dr. Crane, Dear Abby... 3B
Editorial comments... 6A
Entertainment, TV and Guide... 7A
Farm news... 7A
Financial news... 3A
Hospital notes... 3B
Public notices... 7A
Sports... 4B-6B

HEADLINES Inside The Herald

AN ANGRY George McGovern threatens to withhold support from the 1972 Democratic ticket if he loses the presidential nomination because of his setback in the California credentials case.
STATE PRISON officials say the 96 men and one woman under the death sentence in Florida will stay where they are—at least until they get directions from a court of Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin.
A CITY of olive-drab tents capable of housing, feeding and fully equipping at least one Army battalion has sprouted 25 miles from the site of the Democratic and Republican national conventions.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate adopted today a 28 per cent across-the-board increase in Social Security benefits... the biggest such boost in history.
Employees of city and county governments will get Tuesday off to celebrate Independence Day as all county offices and city halls will close Tuesday. In addition Altamonte Springs and Winter Springs also will be closed on Monday.
U.S. post offices and area banks will close Tuesday only. Motor vehicle inspection stations will close Tuesday as will driver's license offices.
Zane Clark on a drug offense, told him that if it were in his power Clark would receive the electric chair for his part in involving area youth to become "hooked" on the drug habit.
The Senate adopted today a 28 per cent across-the-board increase in Social Security benefits... the biggest such boost in history.

Nixon At A Glance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Following is a summary of President Nixon's activities Thursday night.
PEACE TALKS—The President will return to the Paris peace talks on July 13 and the Vietnamese communists have said they will attend. With serious negotiations the war can be ended well before next January. If not, U.S. bombing and mining will continue.
VICTIMIZATION—He is optimistic about the ability of the South Vietnamese to defend themselves.
DEATH PENALTY—He hopes the Supreme Court decision against capital punishment will not prohibit the death penalty for such federal crimes as kidnapping and hijacking.
GUNS—Congress should ban the sale of cheap, easily concealable handguns the President called a major source of violence.
AGNEW—Nixon praised the performance of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and said he will announce his decision on a running mate well before the Republican National Convention.
SOCIAL SECURITY—Any Social Security increase passed by Congress must be responsible, non-inflationary and adequately financed.

Tuesday Is Legal Holiday

Employees of city and county governments will get Tuesday off to celebrate Independence Day as all county offices and city halls will close Tuesday. In addition Altamonte Springs and Winter Springs also will be closed on Monday.
U.S. post offices and area banks will close Tuesday only. Motor vehicle inspection stations will close Tuesday as will driver's license offices.

used car specials

| | |
|--|---|
| '71 SUPER BEETLE Sapphire Blue $1995 | '70 FORD LTD Loaded, Beautiful Blue $2295 |
| '70 CHEVY II NOVA Low Miles $1695 | '70 VW BUG Red, Wide Tires $1495 |
| '70 SIMCA Special At $995 | '69 SQUAREBACK Air, Nice $1795 |
| '65 DODGE Coronet, 4 Door $495 | '65 OPEL Kadett 5000 Wagon $395 |

BILL BAKER VOLKSWAGEN, INC.
NOW TWO LOCATIONS
SANFORD
32140 Highway 17 South
Sanford, FL 32783
Orlando, FL 32811