School Bands, Orchestras Will Swing Into New Sessions Soon Over Nation

AT SCHOOL PROOF ... Jardine A fanfare for fall will echo down the streets and sound in the stadiums of the nation as 60,000 school bands and orchestras swing into a new season.

The American Music Conference reports that the number of bands has almost doubled since World War II and the number of orchestras has grown even more.

Children playing musical instruments and getting instrumental instruction in schools, and with private teachers, today number about 2,000,000 compared with only 2,500,000 in 1947. One youngster in every four participates in musical activities.

In many high schools, the large number of youngsters who vie for position in the regular band has often necessitated a second band to handle the overflow.

School authorities recognize the band as a rallying point for school spirit and an excellent way to build group cooperation. The perseverance and concentration that learning a musical instrument requires in other classroom studies, it is found.

The opportunity for worthwhile recreation from their community and friends, the out-of-town trips and competitions make the extra hours of practice seem worthwhile to the young musicians.

In Dr. James Bryant Conant's survey of high school education for the Carnegie Corporation, music was one of three courses recommended for the curriculum of all types of students—slow, bright, and average.

Officials of 106 out of 200 colleges and universities surveyed, declared that musically trained students were far superior to others.

Another survey revealed that 90 per cent of all elementary honor students play some kind of musical instrument.

Both large and small communities take advantage of these music making activities. In Columbus, Ohio, a city of over 275,000, more than 87 per cent of all school children take part in some kind of music class or program. Even in Anton, Colorado, (a town of less than 3,000) — out of a total enrollment of 47 in 1957 — 47 students.

Of the 98 extra-curricular courses offered in the nation's high schools from 1920 to 1958, only three have continued through the years. Of these, two are the school band and orchestra.

Elegant Finery Is Fashion's Keynote For School Girls

"High fashion" has been handed on a silver platter to school girls! From toddler to teens, they'll be wearing all the elegant finery — to the very last detail that has been created for mom and big sisters by the leading designers in the world of fashion!

This year in fact — mom and sis look young and animated in fashions that seem to be "copy-cat" versions of the young sets' own styles... rather than vice versa!

There are really two looks in children's wear — the fitted and the unfitted!

Of course, many of the new handlings for the younger girls are really not new at all. The chemise dress, the middie blouse, the very low-waisted flounce dress have all been around in the children's world of fashion since the turn of the century.

"Chemise" and "trapeze" will share equal honors in the school-going crowd. The chemise lends itself to jerseys, soft wools, challis-weight woolsens and blends, silky blends and polished cottons. They will take shape in a wide assortment of dress styles as well as suits and coats.

The trapeze on the other hand, simply demands a heavier fabric — so, corduroys, twills, bulky woolsens and knits, velveteens and heavyweight cottons will shape this silhouette.

For his school term, style is emphasized in the new empire waistline. Falling softly from just under the arm, it is particularly pretty in dressup clothes... exceptionally lovely in napped fabrics.

Coats will stress the perennially-popular classics of pretty princess lines, boy coats and chesterfield variations as well as the newer-looking flared trapeze style, the coat with the very-low placed belt or the lowboxed chemise.

The overblouse look will be important in little girls' separates and sportswear styles as well as in more dressy fashions.

Sweaters are now usually hip length, bulkier and never have looked so different... and whether the young miss is wearing kindergarten or high school, this year her wardrobe will boast a wide and gay variety of them.

Back To School Time Very Dangerous; Concern Of Parents Is Well-Founded

It's September — back to school time!

If you're anything like most parents, the day Johnny and Mary dust off their books and go off to school is both pleasant and worrisome.

Like any parent, you're concerned about your children's welfare. You've probably heard back-to-school time is hazardous for children, though you may not know just exactly why.

Well, it is a dangerous time for several reasons — more children converging on one place (the school), motor groups of children (who know what kids in a group will do), and more children on their own for the first time in their lives.

Just exactly how dangerous is back-to-school time?

According to the National Safety Council, accidents are the leading cause of death to the nation's more than 30 million school-age children.

In recent years, about 1 out of 17 students injured accidentally has been on his way to or from school. More than 4,000 children 5 to 14 years of age are killed annually by motor vehicles.

Another reason parents are wary this time of year is because Johnny and Mary, giddy over going back to school and being with friends all day long again, may have an urge to play in such dangerous places as dumps and open pits, or near railroad tracks.

What can parents do to make sure their children stay safe at back-to-school time, as well as the rest of the year?

"Make sure your children have been taught to do things the safe way", the National Safety Council advises. "If you've taught your children to live safely — to stop, look and listen before crossing the street, not to play in unsafe places, to keep to the right side of the road on bikes — then there's little to worry about!"

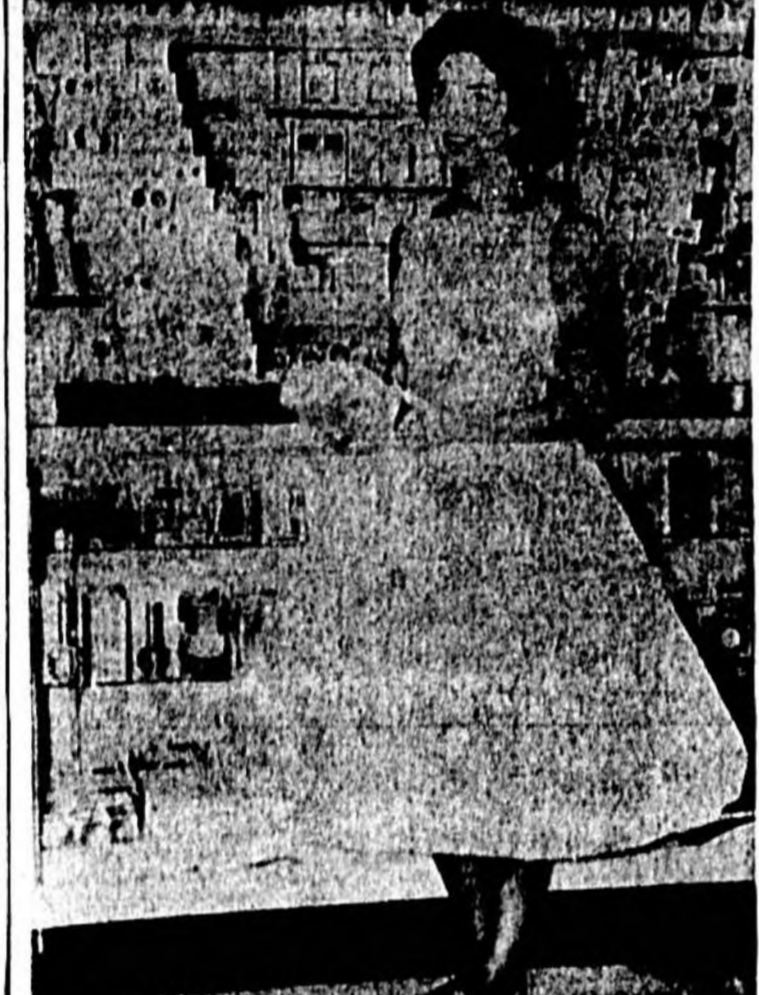

"The parent who hasn't taught the child these safety rules is the one who should worry when the child's away from home."

And if you drive a car during back-to-school time—or anytime, for that matter — here's a suggestion to the motorists from the Council:

"Keep your tires and brakes in good condition so you can stop in time, slow down on city streets and near schools, and be careful near groups of children. Expect the unexpected."

Sweaters Feature Big, Bulky Look

At the top of the list for newness in male fashions this fall — is the sweater that's as big, as bulky, and as woolly as you can get. Warm as a pot-bellied stove on even the coldest days are the full-button bulky knit wool cardigans that button right up to the neck. And a sweater that will keep even your ears warm, is styled with a big shawl collar that snaps up to hug the neck.

Church Being Erected At Altamonte Springs

Construction of the First Baptist Church of Altamonte Springs was successfully started last Sunday when the Rev. Richard Brown officiated at ground-breaking ceremonies.

The Rev. Maurice Barnes, pastor of Wilsey Baptist Church, represented the Wilsey Association, of which the new Altamonte Church is a member.

The mayor of Altamonte, Lawrence Swafford, members of the town council, and friends attended the services. Harold V. Nelson, the first member of the mission, and young Sandra Cordell turned the first spadeful of dirt as everyone present watched with pride and thanksgiving. Eighteen young boys and girls, attired in white, composing the church choir, provided music for the occasion. This ceremony marked the beginning of a dream realized. It has been planned since the inception of a mission in 1928 when the Longwood Baptist Church sponsored a small group of people in Altamonte who felt the need for a Baptist Church.

Mission membership grew in number and on Feb. 17, the membership was organized into the First Baptist Church of Altamonte Springs. It is affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention.

Woodruff To Use Edgington At End For 1958 Season

GAINESVILLE—Dan Edgington won a berth on the sophomore All-Southern team for the first time last season, and in the opinion of Florida Coach Bob Woodruff this was an excellent choice.

Edgington gained the honor even though playing left end on Florida's Blue, or second unit, behind this year's captain, Don Fleming.

To capitalize on his ability, Coach Woodruff has moved Edgington to right end for the coming season, where he will battle for a first string berth with another fine sophomore of '58, Dave Hudson of Pensacola.

A product of Miami Edison High where he won All-State and All-Southern honors, Edgington weighs 181 pounds and stands six-two. Despite his size he ranks as one of the fastest men on the team.

His speed became known to everyone who witnessed the Florida-Vanderbilt game last season. The Gators had just scored their second touchdown to go ahead 14-0 when Joe Hargett kicked off to Vandy's great halfback Phil King in the end zone.

King, a sprint star at Vanderbilt, cut left and struck off down the field. Edgington, racing from the opposite corner pulled what seemed a near impossible stunt by coming from behind and tagging King on the Gators' 13-yard line.

The raring Edgington played 203 minutes in Florida's game last season, an outstanding record for a sophomore. He was on the receiving end of four passes for a gain of 47 yards and intercepted one opponent's aerial. He also recovered one fumble, and is considered a strong defensive player.

A standout player last season, Edgington appears a star in the making. He and his Gator teammates report to the University on Aug. 30 and will begin practice on Sept. 1.

Akins Gets Sixth Straight Knockout

CHICAGO (UPI)—Virgil Akins, who scored his sixth straight knockout while trying out his new status as welterweight champion Wednesday night, said today he is "finally ready for the big money."

Akins, of St. Louis, Mo., made his first appearance since winning the title in June and scored a 10th round technical knockout over Charley (Tombs) Smith in a televised non-title match at the Chicago Stadium. But he absorbed a beating before his 10th round rally pulled it out of the fire.

Akins, cut over both eyes, was a constant target of Smith's long, flicking lefts and a score of solid rights until the end came for the Los Angeles brawler.

"I think this puts me in line for a fight with Carmen Basilio," Akins said.

Akins' manager, Bernard Glickman, said Truman Gibson, president of the International Boxing Club, has promised a bout with Basilio in the late fall "that should draw $200,000."

Seems that McDole was sitting at home, watching TV, when the yellow cat strayed in and joined him. McDole tried to eject the uninvited guest—and Tom turned on him.

Sports Parade

By JACK CUDDY

United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hold on to your hat, because there will be more baseball trades this winter than ever before — judging from the swag talk circulating in both major leagues.

No one apparently is satisfied with what he's got and that includes Casey Stengel, whose Yankees have made a farce of the American League race despite a recent slump in which they dropped 9 of 12 games.

Never one to sit still even when he's winning, Stengel already has traded general manager George Weiss to a mind to make changes this winter.

That doesn't mean such stars as Mickey Mantle, Whitely Ford and Bob Turley are in any danger of being dealt, but such players as Don Larsen, Andy Carey, Bobby Richardson and Johnny Kucka may change uniforms.

Paul Richards, who acts as both general manager and field manager of the Baltimore Orioles, can't wait for the trading season to open again.

"We need hitting in the worst way," he says. "As soon as the market opens I'm going to try every possible thing I can — to come up with some power."

While he's looking, Richards also will have his eye peeled for a front-line center-fielder whom he can play between Gene Woodling and Bob Nieman.

White Sox Need Hitters

The White Sox, who made more deals than any other club last winter, promise to be back at the same old stand when the snow flies again. They thought they had corralled enough pitching to beat the Yankees; they realize now they were mistaken. And they also know it will take much more hitting than they have to make them a serious pennant contender.

Over in the National League, the trading activity doubtlessly will be just as brisk.

The San Francisco Giants had a taste of first place this year and liked it so much they figure they could occupy it permanently if they go out and get themselves another 13-game winner.

Savannah Claims 'Most Splendid' Garbage Truck

SAVANNAH, Ga. — (UPI) — There probably is no more splendid garbage truck in the country than the one operated in Savannah by Robert Robinson.

The vehicle, called the "Green Hornet," belies with mirrors, toy pistols, flags and a wide variety of other articles the 35-year-old Robinson has collected in 27 years of work, seven days a week.

There are eight side mirrors. And on the front bumper are mounted two 50-millimeter artillery shells, their belligerent appearance softened by the dolls' heads fastened atop each one — and the flags flying alongside.

The "Green Hornet" gets a fresh coat of wax and a good polishing every day. The wheels are painted a new color (always bright) every two weeks.

When it rains, Robinson coats the truck with oil, which is removed when the skies clear. At night the vehicle is covered with canvas to protect it from the elements.

Says garbage collector Robinson: "Keeping things clean is just my way."

Raincoat Travels, Always Returned

HARRISBURG, Pa. — (UPI) — Carl A. Carbone, a drug salesman, travels a great deal—but not as much or as far as his raincoat.

Carbone makes a practice of picking up hitchhiking service men, and when it's raining, of loaning them his raincoat. He has never failed to have it returned, either by mail or express.

"The raincoat has been sent from India, Hong Kong, and other places around the world," he said, "but it always comes back. I shall keep loaning it out."

Hunt Gets Edsel Dealership Here

Walter M. Hunt, president of Hunt Lincoln-Mercury, Inc., Sanford, today announced that his firm has been selected to represent the new Edsel car.

Hunt said the new arrangement provides Hunt Lincoln-Mercury with cars in all price classes. In addition to the new Edsel, Hunt is the dealer for Lincoln, Mercury and Continental.

"Our appointment to handle the new Edsel is in line with a program announced earlier this year," Hunt said. "The Ford Motor Co. last January decided to group all Ford products, excepting Ford cars and trucks, under a single management to allow for greater efficiency, selective development and a well-balanced retail marketing organization."

Hunt said he was "very happy" to have the Edsel as the fourth car in his dealership.

Edwin C. Hunt is sales manager of the firm; Bill Neider is the service manager.

Horse Races Set For Lake Helen On September 2

Another "hang up" Labor Day celebration will be staged this year at Lake Helen, according to L. L. "Link" Jacobs, chairman of the horse racing committee.

American Legion Posts of Lake Helen and Casadaga jointly sponsor the Central Florida event at Blake Park near Lake Helen.

"Horse racing will be the real thriller this year," said Jacobs. "We are going all out to make it a great day for the children, too."

Jacobs said that horse racing will get underway at 11 o'clock. Just one hour after the day-long celebration begins, "but the main events in the racing schedule will be at 1:30."

There are going to be plenty of games for the children to enjoy, the spokesman for the two Legion Posts said.

One of the big attractions will be the fish fry, complete with high puppies, to be served at noon.

"We want everybody in Central Florida to take advantage of the Labor Day celebration we're staging this year and plans are being completed to take care of just as many as will come over and enjoy the day with us," said Jacobs.

Blake Park, at Lake Helen, is located five miles east of Orange City.

Movielanders Attended The Fight

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Movie landers went to the fight this week to see Roy Harris take his lumps from champion Floyd Patterson, and most were disappointed that the Cut and Shoot challenger didn't win.

Audie Murphy, most decorated hero of World War II, sat reeling throughout the bloody match, winning every time his fellow Texan took a hard blow.

Before the fight began glamor girl Kim Novak made it clear she was for Harris.

"I didn't care who won until the boys came into the ring," she said. "But look at that Roy Harris. He's just as cute as he can be. I hope Patterson doesn't hurt his face."

At about the tenth round Kim was near tears as she watched her hero pouring down her hero's battered face.

Boats For Patterson

Two boats, a 19-foot motor launch, was waiting for a knockout. He was one of the few Hollywoodites rooting for the champion.

Ring Crosby sat with his son Philip and head leader Phil Harris. The Graces, a long-time film fan, seemed bored by the proceedure. But Harris took the opportunity to snarl for a moment with ex-champion Max Baer, neither of whom could have lasted a round with Shirley Tomole.

Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds had front-row seats.

"Down in front," little Debbie howled when photographers jumped up to take pictures.

"I'm from Texas," she said proudly. "You know who I'm pulling for. But, Roy sure is taking a beating."

Roy Dalton was on hand. To his wife Julia Adams stayed home.

"The last time I took Julie to the fight one of the boys had his multiple knocked out and I landed right in her lap," Roy explained. "I haven't even been able to talk her into watching the fight on TV since then."

Quinn Does Research
Producer-director Anthony Quinn was this doing research for his next movie, a fight film.

Roy Calhoun, who stars in a new TV western series titled "The Texas" this fall, was hollering for Harris. After the fight he said "maybe we ought to change the title to 'The Arizona'."

Also at ring-side were Walter Pigeon, Bob Evans, Howard Keel and Joe E. Brown.

"If I'd tried to put my actors in those kind of costumes for 'Gladi' nobody would have believed it," he observed.

OPENING TOMORROW at your Movieland Drive-In Theatre, "The Bridge on the River Kwai," starring William Holden, Alec Guinness (Best Actor of Year) and Jack Hawkins.

'River Kwai' At Movieland Drive-In

Now, Sanford can see the film that has been claimed as the biggest, most important and most exciting in recent years. "The Bridge on the River Kwai" stars William Holden, Alec Guinness and Jack Hawkins, the new Sam S. Angel production opens tonight at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre. A Columbia Pictures release, the CinemaScope Technicolor action has already been honored with more than 30 international awards, including designation as the "best picture of the year" by the New York Film Critics.

The picture begins with Holden an American captain in a Japanese prison camp, watching as British officer Guinness marches his straggled troops into the jungle compound as though they were an army of men. Guinness undergoes torture rather than as a prisoner in camp commandant Saito. Hayakawa's order that British officers work beside Japanese in the construction of a vital railway bridge across the River Kwai. Holden, who intended to survive the war, fears Guinness' definition of honor as much as he fears Hayakawa's ruthlessness. He manages a desperate escape, finally reaching Allied lines.

Guinness' stubborn courage forces Hayakawa to lose face but then, to prove that the prisoners are superior to their situation, Guinness takes command of the bridge construction and sees to it that the work is done well and on schedule.

Holden, meanwhile, tries to make a pact with British nurse Ann Sewers (played by the lovely Julie Adams) but she, too, is devoted to the bridge. "The Bridge on the River Kwai" is a gripping, powerful, and great picture.

Nats, Tribe Eye Minneapolis As Site of Transfer

WASHINGTON, D.C. (UPI) — General Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators, reportedly in a hurry, and today because the Cleveland Indians' announcement that they are considering moving their franchise to Minneapolis has been to the press.

If he does, he does want to move, he may have to leave the team from the league and in addition may have to face the wrath of Congress.

Griffith asks the American League for permission to move to Minneapolis, he could draw negative votes not only from the Indians but also from the New York Yankees and the Boston Red Sox.

Griffith refused to deny a suit filed in St. Paul, Minn. which claims that Griffith's transfer would violate a contract with the St. Paul Senators and their current home stand on Sept. 3.

Citizens in Tampa, Fla. are acquired by a new ordinance to help police officers make an arrest themselves.

GREAT ADVENTURE - Walt Disney's "Peter Pan" Technicolor all-cartoon feature, will be showing at the Ritz Theatre today and tomorrow.

Ritz Theatre Now Showing 'Peter Pan'

Walt Disney's all-cartoon fantasy, "Peter Pan," will play today and Saturday at the Ritz Theatre and the Technicolor screen version of J. M. Barrie's celebrated play is brilliantly alive with fun and excitement.

Without minimizing the heart-tugging sentiment and nostalgic emotions which have kept the play's enchantment fresh through three generations, Disney has filled his screen version with humor.

The comedy, unfolding naturally out of the behavior and excoerde of "Peter and Wendy" and all the virtues to, and inhabitants of, Never Land ranges from the innocent dalliances of childhood to broad farce and the hysterical hilarities of violent action, when virtue triumphs over villainy.

At most every scene is fully packed with fun - from the time Peter plucks the Darling children in the magical Isle on their fabulous ad-

Braves, Yanks Extend Lead

Al Lopez Believes Sox Can Overhaul Yanks On Pitching

NEW YORK (UPI)—Al Lopez believes his White Sox can overhaul the Yankees because of pitching.

"Pitching is largely the answer to what's happened to the two clubs so far this season," said Al during a chat in the dugout before Thursday night's game with the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium.

He explained: "The Yankees got off to a good start because their pitchers were doing much better than expected. But our start was bad because our pitching was so far off par."

Although the Yanks were 10 games ahead of Chicago before Thursday night's play, Lopez said he was confident of overtaking Casey Stengel's outfit "because since about mid-July our pitching has returned to normal," whereas Yankees flingers have been off form.

Sox Pitchers Winning

During that period Don Larsen scored a single victory and lost three; Bob Turley went 3 - 3; Whitey Ford, 3-2, and Art Ditmar, 4-3.

Meanwhile at least three White Sox hurlers were zooming: Dick Donovan with five wins and one loss; Ray Moor, 4-0, and Billy Pierce, 4-2.

"In Florida training, Stengel was worried about his pitching," Lopez continued. "But the Yanks got off to a flying start. As I recall, Turley won his first seven straight. Others were doing well, too, and Ryne Duren proved an unexpectedly fine reliever. But he's not now with an injured leg, I believe."

White Sox, 6-4, to put the Yankees 11½ ahead in the American.

Burdette, who doted out four hits to the Dodgers, now has won eight games since the all-Star Game.

Turley allowed six Chicago hits in gaining his 10th victory of the year, tops in the majors and an all-time career high for him.

The two right-handers won real big games Thursday night.

Giants Loss Helped

The Braves were in trouble, with their lead down to 3 games and a five-game series with the second-place Giants right around the corner. But the Giants dropped an 8-1 game to the Newcombs of Cincinnati in the afternoon and that gave Burdette his chance.

But the Yankees crept ahead, 3-2, and then broke the game open with three runs in the seventh on three singles, a walk, and two sacrifice flies.

In other Thursday games the St. Louis Cardinals behind Larry Jackson nipped the Philadelphia Phils, 2-1; Ernie Banks' 20th and 21st homers gave the Chicago Cubs a 3-1 win over Pittsburgh; the Boston Red Sox outslugged Cleveland, 6-6; Gus Triandos' homer gave Baltimore a 1-0 win over Detroit; and Doc Lopez' two homers led the Kansas City A's to a 7-4 win over Washington.

Banks Homers Twice

Jackson scattered 10 hits to win for the Cards in a duel with Curt Simmons. Simmons batted home a run in the fourth inning and Gene Freese singled home what proved to be the winner in the fifth.

Newcombe, gaining only his third win against 11 defeats, was threatened in a four-run first-inning lead by the Red Sox and breezed home on a six-hitter.

Banks, the major league's leading home run slugger, drew even with Babe Ruth's record hit for the year in which Babe hit 60. He also had a run-scoring double in a perfect 3-for-3 day.

At Boston, the Red Sox stranded 16 runners, but a three-run rally in the eighth inning, including a two-run homer by Dick Gernert, decided the game.

The Orioles, trailing 6-3, came up with four runs in the seventh, including Triandos' three-run clout, to beat the Tigers and tie them for fourth place in the A.L.

Lopez' two homers for the A's gave him 12 for the season, seven against Washington.

Player Of The Day

United Press International
—ERNE BANKS—

Ernie Banks has hit more home runs in a single season than any shortstop in history — and now seems a clinch to break that record in his greatest year yet.

The Chicago Cubs' toothpick shortstop smashed No. 36 and No. 40 for the season Thursday in leading the Cubs to a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. He drove in all five of Chicago's runs with those blows, plus a double.

Banks now is within striking distance of his all-time shortstop record of 64 homers, set in 1933. He just missed that mark last year with 62.

Also, with 40 homers in 120 games he's exactly even with the pace Babe Ruth followed in 1927. Babe's great September surge probably puts his record out of Ernie's reach, but that record of 64 is doomed.

At Boston, the Red Sox stranded 16 runners, but a three-run rally in the eighth inning, including a two-run homer by Dick Gernert, decided the game.

The Orioles, trailing 6-3, came up with four runs in the seventh, including Triandos' three-run clout, to beat the Tigers and tie them for fourth place in the A.L.

Lopez' two homers for the A's gave him 12 for the season, seven against Washington.

Seminole Grid Squad Getting In Shape

By Jerry Covington

A squad of 62 young athletes is settling down to a well-ordered conditioning program in an effort to be ready to go with the heavy work Sept. 2 when uniforms will be issued.

Coach Jim Pigott and his assistants, Dave Laude, Bud Lyster, and Dick Silvers, are planning their strategy so that everything will be set for the opening contest Sept. 18, against the Lyman Grey hotel.

The coaching staff also will be giving young players a chance to fill the shoes of graduates Eddie Barbour, Jack Stotaky and Billy Tyre. Although last year's big guns of the line will be missed, there are several prospects who show the potential of taking over with authority.

There is one familiar name to the local fan who could turn out to be a tough customer in the forward wall. Duke Schbard has reported to practice this fall, about 20 pounds over last season and he has the determination this season to grab a starting spot and hold it. He could prove to be one of the top linemen.

There are several youngsters who are working hard in an effort to land a spot on the squad. Lin Rimer and Ray Lundquist are pretty good bets to see a lot of action this season in the backfield and Charles Fox and Timman Troutner are two of several youngsters who could shape into good linemen for the Seminoles.

Senior Kelly Lake, who was a contender for a spot last season but was ruled ineligible, looks good and should be ready to handle a lot of the tackle duties. Although it is a little early to make any predictions about the 1955 season, the squad is taking shape nicely and should be ready to give every team on the schedule a run for its money. There are many question marks at this point, but if everything takes its normal course Pigott and Laude will come up with several "sleepers" who will do the job.

The squad has a good foundation, built around Dandridge, Stanley, Swain and Jones. There also are many others with good experience.

A single rocket engine produces power equivalent to 38 locomotives.

First Methodist Church To Become Headquarters For Y.A.W., August 24

The First Methodist Church of Sanford is sponsoring its Annual Y.A.W. (Youth Activities Week), August 24-30 from 6:30 to 9:30 p. m. To insure a successful week the committee have chosen what they believe to be a wonderful speaker, the greatest food, the best recreation directors, and the most wonderful song leaders in Sanford...

Every night at 6:30 p. m. the song leaders will lead the youth group in singing "fun" songs. This will be followed a half hour later by a "How" Worship. During this period it is desired that answers to many youth questions will be answered.

At 7:45 p. m. the Rev. Larry O'Steen will be the guest speaker at a youth workshop. This is the only part of Y.A.W. that adults and parents are invited to attend and the youth of the church urge parents especially to make an effort to be present.

From 8:30 p. m. until 9:30 p. m. when the closing fellowship and friendship circle is formed, recreation will be the subject of the Y.A.W. program. Planned recreation includes folk games, folk dances and on Tuesday night a "talent" show.

Among the leaders of the Y.A.W. are the following: Miss Mary Margaret Hawk, Miss Rachel Beasley, Miss Mabel Chapman, the Rev. "Bob" Baker, Art Beckwith, Ashby Jones, and Rev. Larry O'Steen, and Coach Jim Pigott.

The Public Is Entitled To Know Why County Engineer Was Fired

The question of why W. M. Hoag was fired as county engineer needs an answer. Hoag asked for this answer Tuesday at the Board of County Commissioners meeting. He did not get it. Not only does Hoag need to know, but the public has been drawn into this controversy and should be informed.

The Herald certainly upholds the Commission in its right to dismiss any employee, for cause or otherwise. The taxpayers are not too concerned about who heads their road department, as long as they get good roads. Taxpayers are concerned, however, when a statement is made to the effect that "nobody knows who is getting gasoline out of county tanks."

Hoag said that records, before he became county engineer, were lacking. Neither charge was denied by the Commission.

The Herald hopes that lack of records on the gasoline tanks and that the gasoline is being used only to run county-owned equipment. Hoag mentioned other things that should be corrected. He estimated that he saved the county some $40,000 in five months.

Taxpayers are interested in saving money. They are interested in efficient, honest and straightforward administration of their

Peak Polio Season Nearing
If you are under 40 years of age, and you haven't had your three vaccine shots, don't count out the possibility of polio in 1958.

This is the grim warning of Surgeon Gen. Leroy Burney, head of the U. S. Public Health Service. Gen. Burney said the next four weeks, Aug. 27 to Sept. 27, will see polio rise to its peak for 1958.

Some 40 million persons in the U. S. have not had even one shot of polio vaccine. If you are one of these, you should know that vaccination is the best insurance against paralytic polio. If you think polio is something for the children, consider this: during 1957, the U. S. reported 691 persons over age 20 who were paralyzed.

Last year, in 5,821 homes, the word polio left tragedy in its wake. In most of these homes, the vaccine is a miracle which arrived too late.

They Prefer Not To Work
It is amazing to what lengths some people will go in an effort to make a living without working.

New "tricks" and "tricks" crop up frequently. One of the latest "tricks" used to get the railroad industry's attention, is the "workbook" system. Some interesting facts concerning Florida's phosphate industry were revealed recently by W. T. Bradley, European sales manager for International Minerals & Chemical Corporation in a talk before the Tamon Boyce Club.

Most of us realize that this industry is important to Florida's economy. It gives us a ready source of revenue. It gives us employment to over 6,000 workers with a $2 million annual payroll. The market value of all Florida's mineral and chemical phosphate products is around $175 million a year and about 70 per cent of that amount stays right here in the state, to buy Florida rock, pay state and local taxes, to amortize plants, purchase electric power, pay transportation costs and supplies. Add to this the $54 million payroll and we find that the phosphate industry is worth $229 million to the state.

About 20 per cent of our phosphate products are sold in overseas markets and it is imperative that these markets be maintained and expanded if the industry is to grow and prosper.

Our major competition comes from producers in the Middle East, North Africa and Russia and it is getting tougher all the time. Israel, Jordan, Egypt, North Africa and Russia are increasing their tonnage, and modernizing their plants.

They possess a tremendous geo-

Mr. Hoag should not know his wife, and marry another, commitment adultery against her.

Seminole County taxpayers should be unwilling to accept such explanations as Commissioner B. C. Dodd's statement: "Some of us can see more with our eyes than you can with your instruments" and the announced reason for Hoag's dismissal: "He used white paint for signs on county trucks and he should have used green."

Prior to Hoag's appearance before the Commission Tuesday, no explanation was in order. Now that the question of unlocked gasoline tanks, poor records and other matters have been injected into the argument, an explanation is due the public.

Seminole County needs to know if its business is operated on such a basis.

Special Brand Of Sorrow
News of heartache and sorrow can be found in your newspaper on any given day. Once in a while, however, a story which is especially heartrending gets into print.

Such was the story of the young West Virginia man who slipped from the grasp of a minister and drowned. The man, just 21, was being baptized into the church. (Line Hoag was one of 40 being baptized in an East Liverpool, Ohio, creek. He was swept away by the swift current. Unable to swim, he sank beneath the waters.)

Other church members were horrified. The Rev. Gallard McCortney, church pastor and uncle of the victim, was doing the baptizing. Rev. McCortney, suffering of shock, was taken to a hospital.

Such an experience will be imprinted forever upon the mind of the Rev. McCortney.

Hot Weather Cools Off Demand
NEW YORK—UPI—With all the new respect to the handful of dramatic hits available, the only Broadway show for which summer visitors will have any real difficulty in securing tickets are musicals.

And there are only two such—"The Music Man" and "My Fair Lady." The latter is still playing to standees after two years and four months. "The Music Man," of course, is only eight months old.

For anything else, including such dramatic blockbusters as "Two for the Seecaw," "Look Homeward Angel" and "Sunrise at Campobello," it will not be necessary to write your congressman, although you still may not be able to get the best locations on short notice.

The traditional fact is that when the hot weather closes in, those who still insist on going to the theater would rather see something in the musical line than a dramatic show.

Whether the reason is the availability of stars or theaters, Broadway being notably short on the latter—there is a growing tendency for American producers to announce productions of plays in Britain prior to their New York appearances.

One of these is the comedy called "Brouhaha" by George Feil, who previously has had two Broadway productions—"Flight Into Egypt" and "The Emperor's Clothes." They commanded a certain amount of critical respect but did not catch on.

"Brouhaha" was slated for a Broadway run starting July 30, to be followed by a London engagement, prior to showing over here—producers Robert L. Joseph and Lester Cowman hope. Jules Maschlin, one of the most American of comedians, has one of the lead roles.

Gilgully said it is the job of the railroad and the purpose of the campus interviews to show young men that the industry is interested in having them and that there is a real future for them.

"Railroads are here to stay," he emphasized. "It is the job of the railroad to find young men within their own companies to go on and compete with other large industries for their share of potential management."

Rail Workers Hit Hard By Changing Industry
(Much has been written about the financial plight of the American railroads, but less about the men who run the trains—what the future holds for them, how they feel about the situation, and what railroad management is doing to help young men in retraining the industry. The following dispatch from the nation's rail hubs deals with these questions.)

By LARRY MORRONE
United Press International
CHICAGO (UPI)—The railroad worker of today wonders whether he'll be next.

He's seen employment already cut to a record low of about one million persons. He's seen the colorful gandy dancer replaced by an automatic spike machine. He's seen the legendary towerman replaced by a board of push buttons. And, in the railroad industry's desperate struggle to get over its financial straits, he's seen the diesel engine crush the steam locomotive off the rails. He's watched the roundhouse disappear.

He's witnessed the consolidation of small-town rail depots that once gave even the tiniest hamlet a link to the outside world.

So the railroad worker naturally wonders when his time is coming.

Engineers, conductors and brakemen interviewed by United Press International said that as far as they're concerned the rail industry is a dying business.

They gave their names but asked that they not be published.

A 65-year-old veteran engineer said: "The railroads of today and the railroads of yesterday are complete strangers."

Trucks and planes have taken over from the trains, said this railroader of 42 years' service. "They're taking over on their feet. Now we are just waiting to see what happens to us."

He said the industry no longer offers the opportunity to young men that it once did, adding: "If I had a son that wanted to go into railroading I'd do everything in my power to make sure he didn't. The hours are irregular, the promotion slow and the pay too low for the responsibility."

orange concentrate in that it sharply reduces shipping costs. We can hold our own against foreign competition if the Florida mines and plants continue to be operated at a high level of efficiency without added operational costs.

The companies will do everything in their power to maintain the competitive balance. With the assistance of Florida and plant officials in operating the industry's plants it will remain a healthy contributor to the state's economy.

Washington See-Saw
By Win Pandemon
Word For Students—Senator George Smathers usually keeps up to the minute on his television report. He interviews top names in the news. This week on his show, he chatted with Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, the man who is chiefly responsible for the atomic submarine and the first commercial atomic reactor. (Ironic twist: Adm. Rickover has received more newspaper headlines in the past 10 days because he was snubbed by the White House than were given to him for building the Nautilus.) Last week, after Senator Smathers had filmed his TV show, he and the Admiral were headed for the Senate dining room. The Senator stopped to speak for a few moments to a group of "fellowship" students. He introduced the Admiral who told the students, "I think that education is the most important thing in the world today. If America fails to raise its educational level it will face destruction. Education is more important than all the atomic energy in the world."

Old Rule At Work—There is one rule that smart politicians never break—or even bend. They stick to their own knitting and don't mess around in other candidate's races. We never saw that rule followed closer than in the present Holland-Pepper affair. Most of the members of the Florida Congressional Delegation will tell you ("strictly off the record") don't quite me, that they think Holland will win. But, we haven't found one who will take sides. One member even complains about the number of letters he has been receiving from his district asking his advice on how to vote. In another of those "don't use my name" conversations, the Congressman says that friends of both candidates are hoping he will write a letter favoring their man. The Congressman knows that no matter how confidential he might make such a letter, it would end up in the campaign. He answers that he will have to work with the winner in the Congress and he can't take sides. "Usually," he said "I can tell which side the letter writer is on. And I'm not about to get mixed up in anybody else's race."

No Loafing—You can't be sure of many things during an election, but here is one thing for certain. Syd Herlong isn't going to let any Republican candidate slip up on his blind side again. He's already working. Tonight will see him on WLOP-TV in Orlando; tomorrow, the 22nd, he'll be in Daytona Beach at a big meeting with Congressman Billy Matthews. You can be sure the visiting Congressman will say a few kind words about Syd. Saturday will find him in the Sirine parade in Jacksonville with Senator Holland and Congressman Charlie Bennett and Sunday in Titusville for the dedication of a hospital. This time he plans to have two offices open in the District. Probably in Leesburg and Orlando. He's not sure whether or not he'll dust off his campaign bus trailer this year, but with or without the trailer, you'll see a lot of Syd around the fifth district between now and then.

Seen On Capitol Scene—James Gibbitt, U. S. Attorney from Miami with his wife, Elican and two little girls, here for the U. S. Attorney's conference. Miss Renee Shelhamer, 17, pretty little granddaughter of Mrs. James Gibbitt, from Billings, Montana, just visiting. Marion Gardner, former secretary to Congressman Joe Hendricks and Syd Herlong, now living in Riviera Beach after more than 18 years service on Capitol Hill, also visiting. and Kay Eckles, originally from Occochee, now Congressional Representative for National Airlines, talking about her upcoming trip around the world—her second.

IN THE EYES OF THE WORLD—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, of the United Nations, shown superimposed on a map of the Middle East, is now the focal point of the world's attention after a General Assembly resolution called on him to make "practical arrangements" to uphold the purposes and principles of the UN Charter with regard to that troubled area. The resolution states that the arrangements are to "facilitate the early withdrawal" of United States forces from Lebanon and British forces from Jordan. (UPI Telephoto)

Auditor Criticizes Seminole Spending

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Seminole County Commission made "improper" lump sum donations of almost $15,000 to various county civic groups last year, State Auditor Byron Willis said Friday. Willis said the donations were carried on county books as "publicity."

In other criticisms of the commission, Willis said it bought about $10,000 worth of equipment without securing bids. Most of the purchases were from Supreme Fuel Co., he said. In addition, the county bought two road graders at a cost of $20,328 when it had a bid of $20,100 from another company, he reported.

The commission justified the higher price because it was for equipment which could be repaired locally. Willis said most county finances were well managed and that the higher price because it was for equipment which could be repaired locally.

Race Riot Erupts In England; Many Hurt In Fighting

NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI)—Special police squads patrolled this industrial city today to prevent a renewal of Saturday night's race riot in which hundreds of whites and Negroes fought a series of running battles. Dozens of persons were injured by bottles, knives, razors and clubs. Eight white men, including a policeman, were taken to hospital. Thirty-seven attacks were needed to clear a razor slash in one man's throat. Two others had more than a dozen attacks each to close back stab wounds. No Negroes were taken to the hospital.

Police said several Negroes were "removed from the area for their own safety." Most of the injuries were suffered in a few minutes of fierce fighting but it was several hours before scores of police with dogs and firemen with hoses could restore order.

Immediate cause of the outbreak was not clear but a police official said "this trouble between the two factions has been brewing up over the past week because of fights between them."

Several persons who live or work in the mid-long street of terrace houses where the fighting broke out blamed the trouble on jealousy over colored men dating white women.

Sabrejets Destroy Two Planes; Boats Sunk In Sea Battle

By ALL KAPP
United Press International
TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—Nationalist Sabrejets tonight in a blazing aerial battle over Quemoy Island that followed two unsuccessful attempts by the Reds to invade an island in the group.

Communist artillery bombarded Quemoy throughout the day with thousands of shells. The third straight day of gunfire from the nearby mainland. The shelling already had killed or wounded more than 400 Nationalists Saturday and Sunday.

Tonight the Communists sent 40 MIGs over the Nationalists' off shore island but Sabrejets pounced from out of the clouds on the faster planes and drove them off, using the American fighting methods that won superiority in Korea.

One of the MIGs crashed in flames on Wailou peninsula of the mainland seven miles northeast of Big Quemoy, the Defense Ministry announced. Wailou is one site of the Red shore batteries.

It was the third destructive job aerial by 11 in the Formosa Strait since the Reds moved in an estimated 230 supersonic MIGs into five coastal airbases last month.

Invasions Repulsed
The Nationalists said two Communist invasion attempts were repulsed in a series of sea battles that raged for many hours in the waters of Quemoy. Two Communist motor torpedo boats were reported sunk, another "probably" sunk and five damaged.

The Nationalists said they lost one hospital ship, a landing craft which entered the battle area by chance while evacuating wounded to Formosa. A second hospital LCI was torpedoed but survived and was being towed to safety.

Despite the heavy casualties among the Quemoy defenders, the U.S. Army announced the 31 officers and men there of the U.S. advisory group were safe although more than 100,000 artillery shells blanketed the area.

Kadets Back Home After Week Away
The Kadets of Sanford, Unit 08-11, returned yesterday from a week of intensive training at the Kadet Officers Training School, Savannah, Tenn.

Attending were 32 Kadets, W. E. Dixon, unit commander, and John O'Hara, unit commander. In addition to their training, the Kadets also participated in a variety of sports, including horseback riding, swimming and archery. The Kadet school is located one mile south of Savannah on a 100-acre farm. On the school grounds are dining tables, an athletic field, dormitories, parade fields and a recreation hall.

Hurricane Daisy No Threat, Yet

MIAMI (UPI)—Tropical storm Daisy, packing winds up to 35 miles per hour, veered to a more northerly direction early today as it churned some 275 miles off the Florida East Coast. Weathermen said there was little danger the storm would hit Florida.

At 5 a. m., the weather bureau said Daisy was centered near latitude 27 north and longitude 78 west, or about 275 miles east-northeast of Palm Beach.

"It has turned more to the north and is moving north-northwest to north at about seven miles per hour," the advisory said.

Forecasters said Daisy probably would pick up in forward speed to about 10 miles per hour during the day with "gradual increase in intensity."

Moore said Daisy may develop into a full fledged hurricane with winds of 75 miles an hour or higher. He said it had a well-defined center and circulation and was in an area of warm seas that would tend to aid the build-up of its rain and wind intensity.

A Navy "hurricane hunter" plane found Daisy northeast of the British Bahamas late Sunday. The plane tracked it late into the night with radar.

Skating Party Set
A junior high skating party will be held at 7:30 tonight in the youth wing of the recreation center.
