

CLONDIE

by Chic Young

BEETLE BAILEY

by Mort Walker

THE BORN LOSER

by Art Sansom

ARCHIE

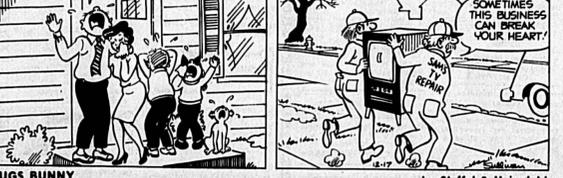

by Bob Montana

ECK & MECK

by Howie Schneider

PRISCILLA'S POP

by Al Vermeer

BUGS BUNNY

by Stoffel & Heimdahl

FRANK AND ERNEST

by Bob Thaves

TUMBLEWEEDS

by T. K. Ryan

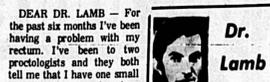

ACROSS

36 Baseball player Mel
4 One (Fr.)
10 Small
12 Nine (Fr.)
14 Phony (abbr.)
15 Blood (pref.)
17 Buddhism
18 Flowering shrub
20 Skin-ill sufferer
22 Display
24 Awful
26 Sweet potatoes
30 Western hemisphere organization (abbr.)
31 Gold in heraldry
32 12 Roman
33 Max West role
34 Amalgamation of surprise

DOWN
1 Safety agency (abbr.)
2 Don Juan's mother
3 Bear
4 Canadian group
5 Born
6 Swirly
7 Leak out
8 Never (cont.)
9 Infinity of time
11 Bear
12 Intermediate
13 Parasitic insect
19 Wander
21 Waid
23 Skillful
24 Capulus
25 European capital
27 Nerve part
28 Archbold
29 Occupy
30 Lubricates
31 Alley
32 Not new
35 Country festival
36 Energy
40 And
41 Hidden
42 Parodied
43 Pelvic parts
45 Cabbage
46 Egyptian sun disk
47 Kind of slipper
50 Lubricates
51 Alley
52 Brown

Return To Doctor To Get Your Relief

Dr. Lamb
DEAR DR. LAMB — For the past six months I've been having a problem with my rectum. I've been to two proctologists and they both tell me that I have a small hemorrhoid. Every day since I suffer inside and out of the anal area. I have burning and a feeling of drawing and fullness. I had a prescription for sulfa and also an injection but still no relief. Day after day the situation continues and I'm worried about rectal cancer. I dread going to the bathroom because the discomfort is so great. I tried to look at the area myself and I can only see a very small bluish area and it's not swollen. Any suggestions would be very much appreciated.

DEAR READER — Burning and irritation aren't necessarily caused by hemorrhoids. The truth is that internal hemorrhoids, which are those you can't see, usually don't cause symptoms. You can have inflammation in the area which can cause burning and it may be unrelated to hemorrhoids. A good example here is a person who eats hot, spicy food and later on has burning with subsequent bowel movements. Because of the tendency for this to occur after some Mexican foods that are very hot and spicy, this condition has sometimes been referred to as Mexican heartburn.

Sulfa drugs are not normally given for hemorrhoids. That suggests to me that whoever prescribed them must have thought you had some sort of inflammatory disease of the rectal area rather than just simple hemorrhoids.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 13-12, Hemorrhoids: New Treatments For An Old Affliction, to give you a better idea of what hemorrhoids are and what can be done about them. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to: Dr. Lamb, c/o request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

WIN AT BRIDGE

NORTH 13-17
♠ 10 9 8 7
♥ 10 9 8 7
♦ 10 9 8 7
♣ 10 9 8 7
SOUTH 13-17
♠ A K J 6
♥ A K J 6
♦ A K J 6
♣ A K J 6
Vulnerable: Both
Dealer: South

WEST 13-17
♠ A 7 5 3
♥ 10 9 8 7
♦ 10 9 8 7
♣ 10 9 8 7
EAST 13-17
♠ A 7 5 3
♥ 10 9 8 7
♦ 10 9 8 7
♣ 10 9 8 7

SPIDER-MAN
AS THE BOSS GAVE ORDERS...
I'M THE ONLY ONE WHO'S NOT...
THE WHOLE LAST CHAPTER...
BUT OUR HERO ISN'T WAITING FOR...
"TIMBER!"...
"COME TO SPRING!"...
"WHO CARES?"

ZOONIES
MARTIANS!!
RUN FOR YOUR LIVES!!
EGAD!!
WHERE'S!!

Khomeini Assistant Shot Dead

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — A trio of gunmen today assassinated a close aide of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini and the government blamed the United States. Militant students said they would put 50 American hostages on trial unless the shah is returned to Iran.

The students also declared open verbal warfare on Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh, branding as "irresponsible" his statements that some of the hostages might be freed by Christmas. They threatened to take over Iranian embassies abroad from Foreign Ministry personnel.

Three gunmen on one motorcycle killed Mohammed Mofatteh, head of the main Islamic religious school, in a hall of bullets in downtown Tehran before they escaped. Two guards also died, and two other people were wounded in the attack. Mofatteh, a leader of the anti-shah movement during Khomeini's exile, was the third close confidant of the Khomeini to be assassinated recently.

The ruling Revolutionary Council said in a statement: "One more prominent spiritual leader has been made a target by the enemy. He has been shot down by dirty agents of the CIA and SAVAK" — the shah's former secret police.

The gunmen opened fire on Mofatteh and two guards just outside the Islamic College of Tehran. Mofatteh fled into the building but was pursued by the gunmen and shot in the head, shoulder, hand and ankle. He died about three hours later.

The identity of the killers, who authorities reported escaped on the motorcycle after setting the weapons of the dead and wounded, was not immediately known. Two key aides of Khomeini were assassinated earlier by hitmen of the anticlerical "foran" underground group.

The students branded as "irresponsible" and "an illusion" statements by Foreign Minister Sadegh Ghotbzadeh that some of the captives in their 40th day of confinement could be freed by Christmas and that spy tribunals probably would not be held.

County Boils Down Hospital Choices To 3

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer
Seminole County Commissioners agreed at a work session Monday to interview only three of five groups that have proposed to buy or lease Seminole Memorial Hospital.

The commission's action eliminates American Hospital Management Corporation, Miami, and Gateway Medical Management Inc., Clearwater. Still being considered are Florida Hospital, a Seventh-day Adventist non-profit organization; Hospital Corporation of America, a Nashville for-profit group; and the proposal of the hospital's current board of trustees.

The interviews were scheduled for Jan. 10, five days before the commission holds public hearings on the issue.

Commission Chairman Bill Kirchhoff said the proposals of the eliminated groups "were not in the same league" as the others.

American Hospital and Hospital Corporation of America are offering to spend millions of dollars each, including cash payments to the county, Kirchhoff said.

Florida Hospital would buy Seminole Memorial for $8.2 million and spend an additional $6 million renovating it. In addition, it proposes construction of a satellite facility somewhere between Seminole Memorial Hospital and Florida Hospital-Altamonte in the 14 corridor "at some point in the future."

Hospital Corporation of America stated in its proposal that the cost of renovating the existing facility would be almost as great as the cost of a new hospital with similar bed capacity and services. The corporation proposes to build a new $18 million 200-bed facility within the city limits of Sanford.

Adventist PR Effort Irritates The Board

County commissioners noted Monday that one of the groups proposing to take over Seminole Memorial Hospital has been undertaking "a major public relations campaign" in the hospital's constituent area.

Although annoyed, the commissioners agreed not to try to take any action to stop it.

"We said they couldn't go around saying bad things about the other applicants," Assistant County Administrator Jeff Eichenberger said. "But we didn't say they couldn't blow their own horn."

The interviews were scheduled for Jan. 10, five days before the commission holds public hearings on the issue.

Commission Chairman Bill Kirchhoff said the proposals of the eliminated groups "were not in the same league" as the others.

American Hospital and Hospital Corporation of America are offering to spend millions of dollars each, including cash payments to the county, Kirchhoff said.

Florida Hospital would buy Seminole Memorial for $8.2 million and spend an additional $6 million renovating it. In addition, it proposes construction of a satellite facility somewhere between Seminole Memorial Hospital and Florida Hospital-Altamonte in the 14 corridor "at some point in the future."

City Ignores County, Approves Annex

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer
Despite a warning from a county commissioner the action could result in a lawsuit, the Sanford City Commission voted unanimously Monday night to annex a tract of property on U.S. 17-92 at Woodson Avenue, near Sunland Estates.

The commission, without comment, voted unanimously to approve on first reading an ordinance annexing the property, planned as the site of a new ComBank. Second and final reading of the annexation ordinance, scheduled for Jan. 14, must take place before the annexation is effective.

Sanford, in whose commission district much of Sanford lies, said Monday if the city would hold up on the annexation he would be amenable to joining with the city in gaining an interpretation from the attorney general on what an enclave is.

The basis for the county's court action against the city would be the same as lawsuits against three other cities in the county — that an enclave, forbidden by state law, would be created.

State law does not define the term, nor have the courts or the attorney general's office. The cities of the county have said the word means a parcel of property completely surrounded by property in another governmental jurisdiction. The county has taken the position the word means either partially or completely.

Schools Hunger For Funds To Avoid Cuts

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer
If the Seminole County School District does not get $5.33 million more next year, either through increased state aid or property taxes, school services will have to be cut.

This is the basic finding of a report released Monday by the Florida State Education Department using figures compiled by the county districts and submitted on the state inflation during the coming year.

Around The Clock	4-A
Bridge	4-B
Calendar	4-B
Comics	4-B
Editorial	4-A
Dear Abby	4-B
Dr. Lamb	4-B
Horoscope	4-B
Hospital	4-A
Obituaries	4-A
OURSELVES	4-B
Sports	4-A
Television	4-B
Weather	4-A

WORLD IN BRIEF

OPEC Oil Ministers Hope To Reach Uniform Prices

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — OPEC oil ministers on the second day of their tightly guarded meeting behind closed doors today hope to set a uniform 1980 price level, realigning widely diverging price policies that have sent the cost of oil skyrocketing.

"I feel sure we'll reach some kind of agreement regarding prices," said Venezuela's Energy and Mines Minister Humberto Calderon, who was appointed chairman of the conference of the 13-nation cartel. The Venezuelan minister spoke after meeting privately with several of his colleagues Monday night in what appeared to be an eleven-hour attempt to unite member countries on the price issue.

Cuban President Fidel Castro has urged OPEC to "substantially increase" its aid toward underdeveloped nations, the Cuban news agency Prensa Latina reported.

Korea Assassins Could Die

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — Military prosecutors today demanded the death penalty for seven men, including South Korea's former spy chief, charged in the assassination of President Park Chung-hee.

Prosecutors sought the death penalty for Kim Joo-kyu, the former chief of the Korean Central Intelligence Agency who admitted firing the fatal shots Oct. 26 into Park; Kim Kae-won, Park's former chief presidential secretary who was present during the shooting; and five other former KCIA agents.

The prosecution demanded a 5-year prison term for Yoo Suk-ai, another KCIA agent accused only of destroying evidence.

Peace Corps Worker 'Well'

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — An American Peace Corps worker, one of 12 hostages held by leftists demanding increased benefits for workers, today began his second week in captivity, but said she is being well treated.

"I am well. I exercise every day and spend most of my time reading books," said Deborah Loff, 25, of Succasunna, N.J.

"The boys leftists have a good heart to me but I would like to get out and go home."

Miss Loff, who worked as a health adviser in the San Jacinto Market where she is being held, was taken hostage last Tuesday by youths.

Rhodesia Gets Cease-Fire

LONDON (UPI) — Britain and the Patriotic Front guerrillas have crowned more than three months of tough negotiations with a cease-fire agreement they hope will end the 7-year-old bush war in Rhodesia and lead it to full independence as the new Republic of Zimbabwe.

The two sides announced Monday they had cracked the last of many deadlocks that have plagued the conference and initiated a cease-fire agreement six days after the marathon talks started Sept. 19.

They said they will sign a full-fledged agreement ending the war, in which an estimated 30,000 people have died, at a ceremonial session Wednesday.

WEATHER

Readings at 9 a.m.: temperature, 74; overcast, low, 44; yesterday's high, 64; barometric pressure, 30.21; relative humidity, 79 percent; wind, North at 10 m.p.h.

FORECAST
Sunny today and Wednesday. Quite cool today and tonight, and warmer Wednesday. Highs today low to mid 60s. Lows tonight low to mid 40s. Highs Wednesday around 70. Winds northeast 15 to 20 mph diminishing at night.

HOSPITAL NOTES

SEMINOLE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL
Admitted: Mary M. Anderson, Thea L. DeLeon, Willie M. Hood, Wesley Smith, Johnnie L. Walters, Barbara J. Wycho, Lawrence T. Wilson, Donald William M. LeVine, Dolores Mary S. Pender, Barbara Chisler A. Boster, Lois Mary William L. Preter Jr., Lake City.

Evening Herald (USPS 491-280)
Tuesday, Dec. 18, 1979—Vol. 72, No. 181
Published Daily and Sunday, except Sundays by The Sanford Herald, Inc., 300 N. French Ave., Sanford, Fla. 32771.
Second Class Postage Paid at Sanford, Florida 32771.
Home Delivery: Week 98 cents; Month, $2.80; 6 Months, $12.00; Year, $21.00. (By Mail: Week $1.40; Month, $4.20; 6 Months, $12.00; Year, $21.00.)

Brothers Charged In Fight With Police

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

Two Casselberry officers were injured and three men arrested in a disturbance which followed an accident Sunday evening.

Robert Lee Florence of 106 DeSoto Ave., Altamonte Springs and Gerald Lee Florence, who identified himself as Robert's brother, were each arrested on a variety of assault charges by Casselberry police.

Frank G. Wilson, 110 Ford Ave., Altamonte Springs, was arrested by sheriff's deputies on charges of interfering with an officer by yelling obscenities.

Police say the incident began when a car, allegedly driven by Robert Florence, rammed a gas pump at the Phillips 66 convenience store on County Route 427 at about 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

When officers tried to question Robert Florence, he began assaulting them, officers report, adding at one point, he grabbed a policeman by the neck and began choking him.

During the battle between the police and Robert Florence, a large crowd began to gather, police say. Gerald Florence

Action Reports

- ★ Fires
- ★ Courts
- ★ Police Beat

reportedly joined in the fight screaming "stop hitting my brother."

Robert Florence was charged with four counts of assaulting an officer, resisting arrest with violence, careless driving, false accident reporting, leaving the scene of an accident, driving with a suspended license and driving a car with no valid plates or inspection sticker.

Gerald Florence was charged with assault on an officer and resisting arrest with violence.

Casselberry Police Sgt. Durbin C. Gatch was treated and released at Florida North Hospital with a minor concussion.

Officer Allen J. Hatzel was treated and released for a fractured right hand.

The two injured officers did not return to work Monday, said Casselberry Police Chief George Karcher. Hatzel will not be back on the job for several weeks because his hand is in a cast, although Gatch is expected back soon, he added.

HOUSE FIRE
A 16-year-old Altamonte woman was admitted to Florida North Hospital's Intensive Care Unit Sunday night with injuries resulting from a fire in her home.

Sharon Johnson was sleeping in her home, 107 Hilltop Place, at 11:30 p.m. Sunday when a fire broke out, severely damaging the structure, owned by John Robert Johnson, sheriff's deputies say.

Millard Misgrove, a 76-year-old man living in a separate apartment in the house was able to escape without injuries, reported deputies. The two were the only persons home at the time.

Seminole county fire investigators report the cause of the blaze, which did $25,000 worth of damage, is still under investigation.

Dr. McDaniel Leaving Post

Sanford Hunting For New City Physician

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford is looking for a new city physician. Dr. T. F. McDaniel who has filled the post for the past 22 years will retire on Dec. 31.

The position pays $40 annually and the responsibilities of the job include initial physicals for all city employees and the treating of all injuries suffered by employees while on the job.

A qualification of the job is some expertise in industrial medicine.

Dr. McDaniel will continue his private practice.

The Sanford city commissioners, at their Jan. 14 meeting, will present Dr. McDaniel with a plaque for his dedicated work to the city.

In other business at Monday night's city commission meeting, the board voted

Longwood Panel At Full Strength

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

For the first time in more than six months, the Longwood City Commission met Monday night with a full complement of five members. Steve Uhart, who was elected Dec. 4 to fill the vacancy in District 1 (due to the resignation of Larry Goldberg in August), was sworn in prior to Monday night's meeting.

Uhart, who was elected to take office in January was appointed to fill the brief time remaining in Goldberg's term. The District 3 seat vacated when Stephen Barton moved from the city at the end of May was filled at a special election in September in which William Mitchell was chosen by the voters.

The commission voted 3-2 to withdraw an offer by the city to purchase Longwood Utilities Inc.'s sewage treatment plant for $75,000. The offer called for $50,000 in cash and the rest paid back over a year out of sewer revenue. Owners of the 300,000-gallon facility have been expanding the plant to double its capacity.

The plant has been beset in the past with operational problems and odor complaints from residents in the area. The problem occurred three days last week when it overflowed again, according to Commissioner Jay Leibensperger. The motion was made by Mitchell, who said the company has not responded and negotiations could be reopened at a later date. Commissioners J.R. Grant and Leibensperger

Bans New Topless Bars

A 180-day moratorium on business licenses for topless bars and businesses selling pornography was unanimously approved by Casselberry City Council Monday night.

The moratorium was suggested by Council Chairman Frank Schetto to keep topless bars from proliferating in the city.

The city attorney works with "other entities in Seminole County to come up with a workable, enforceable ordinance."

AREA DEATHS

ROOSEVELT BARRETT
Roosevelt Barrett, 72, of Cypress Avenue, Sanford, died Saturday, Dec. 15 at Seminole Memorial Hospital. He was a member of the Trinity United Methodist Church Friendship and Union and Fellowship Society No. 8.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Piccola Harris; sons, James and Robert L.; both of Sanford; sister, Mrs. Laura L. Houston, Valdosta, Ga.; four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral home, 900 Locust Ave., Sanford, is in charge of arrangements.

FUNERAL NOTICES

MILLERLAND, MRS. ALICE DEAN — Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Dean Millerland, 74, of 344 Woodside Ave., Sanford, who died Saturday, will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Graham Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Lennie Barnett as officiating. Burial in Riverside Cemetery, Orlando in charge.

HARRIS, ROOSEVELT — Funeral services for Roosevelt Harris, 72, of Cypress Avenue, Sanford, who died Saturday, Dec. 15 at Seminole Memorial Hospital will be Saturday at 1 p.m. at Trinity United Methodist Church with Rev. Jesse Gordon officiating. Burial will be in Riverside Cemetery. Graham Funeral Home, 900 Locust Ave., Sanford, Fla. is in charge. A.P.D.

MRS. ALICE McELLAND — Mrs. Alice Dean McElland, 74, of 344 Woodside Ave., Sanford died Sunday, A member of Burdett's A.M. she had lived in Sanford for the past 47 years, interment will be at Riverside Cemetery. The services will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Graham Funeral Home, 900 Locust Ave., Sanford, Fla. in charge of local arrangements.

MRS. ALICE McELLAND — Mrs. Alice Dean McElland, 74, of 344 Woodside Ave., Sanford died Sunday, A member of Burdett's A.M. she had lived in Sanford for the past 47 years, interment will be at Riverside Cemetery. The services will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Graham Funeral Home, 900 Locust Ave., Sanford, Fla. in charge of local arrangements.

unanimously to participate with the other cities of Seminole and the county commission in funding an assistant state attorney to prosecute city ordinance violations.

Commissioner John Morris warned, however, that competitiveness could be among the cities to see whose cases get prosecuted first when the responsibility for prosecution is the state attorney's.

At a meeting of the Council of Local Governments in Seminole County last week, city and county delegates were told by State Attorney Douglas Cheshire that he can interview alternate candidates for the position at the council at its January meeting.

In the meantime, the cities are to take action on approving and funding the position.

The commission, at the request of City Manager Warren Knowles, again tabled several months ago and is attempting to restore it and have it added to the list of state historic buildings.

— Re-designated the Atlantic Bank of Seminole and the Flagship Bank of Seminole as depositories of city funds. City funds going through the accounts total $6.3 million to $7 million annually.

— Adopted a resolution suggested by the Friends of the St. Johns seeking the appointment of a Sanford or Seminole County resident to the St. Johns River Water Management District at Palatka.

The resolution also gives the protection, improvement and restoration of the St. Johns River a high priority status. It also pledges to express the concern of the city to the state about the neglect of the river and the harm the city and area is experiencing because of that negligence.

— Voted to give Jerry W. Mills 90 days more to repair his property at 701 W. Third St. The house was condemned by the city commission a year ago. Mills purchased the property to withdraw the offer, while Uhart and Mayor June Lovorn voted against the motion.

City Administrator David Chesney announced there would be a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at city hall with the Citizens' Participation Committee on the regional sewer study.

The commission will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today to meet with three top contenders for the position of city attorney — Gerald Korman of Longwood, John Jones of Casselberry and William H. Morrison of Altamonte Springs.

The commission is scheduled to vote tonight on the replacement for City Attorney Ned Julian Jr., who resigned effective Nov. 1, but agreed to stay until Jan. 1, so that a replacement could be found.

NATION IN BRIEF

Cranston Predicts SALT Will Pass Senate In March

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Assistant Senate Democratic leader Alan Cranston predicts the Senate will take up SALT II towards the end of January and perhaps ratify the treaty with some changes in March if a broad coalition can be forged.

Cranston, D-Calif., is currently trying to swing two groups of senators behind the treaty.

Senate observers figure there are about 57 to 62 senators leaning in favor of the Strategic Arms Limitation Treaty — short of the 67 needed to ratify but more than the 51 needed to beat down "killer" amendments.

One group, headed by Sen. Daniel Patrick Moynihan, D-N.Y., wants to see "deep cuts" in strategic arsenals during the next round of SALT negotiations.

A second group, headed by Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., and Sen. John Warner, R-Va., wants to see the treaty "improved," loopholes closed, and U.S. defenses bolstered.

Laborer Named In Murders

NORTH CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI) — An unemployed Berkeley County laborer has been charged with the brutal murders of two elderly female Mormon missionaries whose bodies were found in a parking lot of a large suburban shopping mall.

A bond hearing was set today for James Arthur Brown, 24, charged with two counts of murder in the slayings of Elizabeth W. King, 66, of Kayville, Utah, and Jane Ruth Cannell Teusher, 65, of Fish Haven, Idaho. Brown is also charged with one count of criminal sexual assault.

Charleston County Police Capt. Michael Boggs said Brown was arrested Monday afternoon at his Carnes Crossroads home. He offered no resistance, Boggs said.

— It was glad it passed, Carter said after the Senate Monday night approved, 74-29, its version of the bill highlighting his energy program.

While the bill was improved by the full Senate and "does include some important concepts for the conference committee to consider," said a White House spokesman, it "falls considerably short of the House bill."

Lane Sues New York Times

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Attorney Mark Lane has filed an $8 million federal lawsuit against the New York Times, claiming the newspaper libeled him in its coverage of the 1978 People's Temple massacre in Guyana.

The lawsuit, filed last week in U.S. District court, claims a story published by the newspaper in 1978 intimated that Lane, an attorney for the People's Temple cult, went to Switzerland with a former cult member to withdraw $8 million from the religious group's secret account.

Lane said he was in Paris at the time of the alleged trip to Switzerland and Teresa Bulford, former administrator for the People's Temple, was in Memphis.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Shields May Surrender To U.S. Marshals Thursday

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — A federal grand jury has indicted Harmon Wesley Shields, former executive director of the Florida Department of Natural Resources, and Tallahassee real estate man Jack Vernon Quick on three counts of conspiracy to extort money and property in connection with state purchases of environmentally endangered lands.

Shields, 57, is expected to surrender to U.S. marshals in Tampa Thursday.

Quick, 41, recently was sentenced in Valdosta, Ga., to five years in federal prison for conspiracy to possess and distribute marijuana, and three counts of using a car and a telephone to further an interstate crime.

Education Proposal Heard

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — A Washington consulting firm says the only way to get the universities, community colleges and vocational-technical schools to work closer together is to put them under a single state board.

The Academy for Educational Development recommended Monday creation of a board that would, at least, coordinate programs and activities of the agencies of higher education, and, at the most, actually run the institutions as a single system.

Space Shuttle Hits Snag

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Space technicians worked through the night in hopes of putting the Space Shuttle's rocket plane Columbia through a twice delayed simulated launch and space flight today.

At the Cape, a 6-minute simulated launch into orbit of the Columbia, with backup astronaut Air Force Col. Joe Engle and Navy Cmdr. Richard Truly at the controls, ran into two postponements Monday. The simulated launching tests are a major part of a five-day, around-the-clock dress rehearsal of ground and flight crews and the instruments they'll use which began at 4 p.m. Sunday.

The first launch was scheduled for 2:00 p.m. but was delayed until 7:45 p.m. when a cooling fan malfunctioned in a simulator device.

Ann Landers On Divorce: Stand By Your Man

NEW YORK (UPI) — When Ann Landers' husband of 36 years told her he wanted a divorce, the popular advice columnist didn't shed a tear. Instead, she went out and bought him nine dozen new socks and underwear.

For the first time since the breakup of her marriage in 1975, Miss Landers revealed details of what she called "the major tragedy of my life" in an interview with the Ladies' Home Journal released Monday.

She said her husband, Jules Lederer, broke the news one evening at dinner, saying, "I have something to tell you. I'm seeing another woman."

"I said, 'My, that's quite a bomb to drop

Ann Landers On Divorce: Stand By Your Man

three dozen white boxer shorts. "I gave him a telephone list; the doctor, the optician and so on. I had my chauffeur and housekeeper go to his new apartment and stock up the freezer with staples because here was a man who totally depended on me for such things for 36 years."

When the marriage broke apart, Miss Landers, who receives 300,000 letters a year, told the public in her column, "The lady with all the answers does not know the answer to this one." She closed with 4 inches of blank space "as a memorial to one of the world's best marriages that didn't make it to the finish line."

"You see, this man had never even bought a suit without me," she said. "Twice a year we'd go shopping together and outfit him for the spring or fall. So when he was finally leaving, I went out and bought him three dozen pair of black socks, three dozen brown,

Today, she isn't about to rule out another try at matrimony, but adds any man she might marry "would have to have pretty good credentials."

The list: "Someone in good physical condition, bright, stimulating, honest, preferably a non-drinker, non-smoker, someone who celebrates at a very high level and whose own success wouldn't be over-witmed by mine."

Miss Landers — born Esther Pauline Friedman and known as "Eppie" to her friends — is the identical twin of Pauline Esther who, as Abigail Van Buren, is her competitor in the advice column field.

Long, Ullman Prepare For Windfall Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After six weeks of floor debate, the Senate has passed a $178 billion windfall oil profits tax bill that both President Carter and Sen. Edward Kennedy want toubenched.

A conference committee Wednesday will attempt to settle differences between the Senate bill and the $277 billion measure the House passed in June.

Senate Finance Committee Chairman Russell Long, D-La., will head the Senate delegation to the conference. House Ways and Means Chairman Al Ullman is expected to lead the House conferees.

Long was asked if the conferees would split the $100 billion difference between the two bills. "The whole thing is negotiable, both on the upside and the down side," Long replied.

The Senate bill would take in about 38 percent of the net windfall oil companies will make from rising world oil prices and Carter's decision to decontrol domestic oil prices. The House bill would take about 51 percent. The administration estimates the total profit at $11 trillion.

The $99 billion gap between the two bills stems largely from Idaho. Brown is also charged with one count of criminal sexual assault.

Charleston County Police Capt. Michael Boggs said Brown was arrested Monday afternoon at his Carnes Crossroads home. He offered no resistance, Boggs said.

While the bill was improved by the full Senate and "does include some important concepts for the conference committee to consider," said a White House spokesman, it "falls considerably short of the House bill."

PSC Cuts Long-Distance Phone Rates

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — If you like to talk with your cousin in Miami or your mother in Tallahassee, you'll enjoy the Public Service Commission's new in-state long-distance telephone rates.

But if you call home 10 miles away a couple of times a day be prepared to pay more than you expect. The PSC Monday night slashed in-state long-distance calls by $1 million, but in the process increased the charges for those calls.

To bring more costly long-distance calls down, the PSC on a 4-1 vote opted to increase the in-state rate to the interstate level. The result is a complicated formula which will reduce the cost of three-minute Pensacola to Miami calls by 63 cents from $2.03 to $1.40, while raising that 10-mile long-distance call 42 percent from 26 to 37 cents.

The reduction brought an immediate protest from Southern Bell Telephone Co. spokesman Wall Alford who said it might force the company to seek a rate hike within the next two years.

"I would think within the next 18-month to two-year time frame that given toll rate decreases local rates will have to go up," Alford said.

He also indicated increased pressure on existing telephone lines as people take advantage of lower rates could cause delays during peak telephone periods.

DAVID BEST ENTERS RACE

David Best, a trial attorney who practices in Orlando and Brooksville, announced today his intention to seek the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 11th district of Florida.

The announcement was made in both Orlando and Clearwater. Best was narrowly defeated in his first bid for public office in 1978.

G. Pete Corum D.M.D.

Family Dentistry
Winter Springs Dental Clinic
200 S. State Road 454
Winter Springs, Florida 32787
327-0731 327-0732

KARNS INSURANCE AGENCY

Where Quality Sells & Service Tells
104 E. Commercial Dial 322-5762

Dental Appointments Available at the New WINTER SPRINGS OFFICE

Monday, Wednesday & Friday 8:30 to 5:00 P.M.

Ann Landers On Divorce: Stand By Your Man

NEW YORK (UPI) — When Ann Landers' husband of 36 years told her he wanted a divorce, the popular advice columnist didn't shed a tear. Instead, she went out and bought him nine dozen new socks and underwear.

For the first time since the breakup of her marriage in 1975, Miss Landers revealed details of what she called "the major tragedy of my life" in an interview with the Ladies' Home Journal released Monday.

She said her husband, Jules Lederer, broke the news one evening at dinner, saying, "I have something to tell you. I'm seeing another woman."

"I said, 'My, that's quite a bomb to drop

Long, Ullman Prepare For Windfall Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After six weeks of floor debate, the Senate has passed a $178 billion windfall oil profits tax bill that both President Carter and Sen. Edward Kennedy want toubenched.

A conference committee Wednesday will attempt to settle differences between the Senate bill and the $277 billion measure the House passed in June.

Senate Finance Committee Chairman Russell Long, D-La., will head the Senate delegation to the conference. House Ways and Means Chairman Al Ullman is expected to lead the House conferees.

Long was asked if the conferees would split the $100 billion difference between the two bills. "The whole thing is negotiable, both on the upside and the down side," Long replied.

The Senate bill would take in about 38 percent of the net windfall oil companies will make from rising world oil prices and Carter's decision to decontrol domestic oil prices. The House bill would take about 51 percent. The administration estimates the total profit at $11 trillion.

The $99 billion gap between the two bills stems largely from Idaho. Brown is also charged with one count of criminal sexual assault.

Charleston County Police Capt. Michael Boggs said Brown was arrested Monday afternoon at his Carnes Crossroads home. He offered no resistance, Boggs said.

While the bill was improved by the full Senate and "does include some important concepts for the conference committee to consider," said a White House spokesman, it "falls considerably short of the House bill."

PSC Cuts Long-Distance Phone Rates

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — If you like to talk with your cousin in Miami or your mother in Tallahassee, you'll enjoy the Public Service Commission's new in-state long-distance telephone rates.

But if you call home 10 miles away a couple of times a day be prepared to pay more than you expect. The PSC Monday night slashed in-state long-distance calls by $1 million, but in the process increased the charges for those calls.

To bring more costly long-distance calls down, the PSC on a 4-1 vote opted to increase the in-state rate to the interstate level. The result is a complicated formula which will reduce the cost of three-minute Pensacola to Miami calls by 63 cents from $2.03 to $1.40, while raising that 10-mile long-distance call 42 percent from 26 to 37 cents.

The reduction brought an immediate protest from Southern Bell Telephone Co. spokesman Wall Alford who said it might force the company to seek a rate hike within the next two years.

"I would think within the next 18-month to two-year time frame that given toll rate decreases local rates will have to go up," Alford said.

He also indicated increased pressure on existing telephone lines as people take advantage of lower rates could cause delays during peak telephone periods.

DAVID BEST ENTERS RACE

David Best, a trial attorney who practices in Orlando and Brooksville, announced today his intention to seek the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 11th district of Florida.

The announcement was made in both Orlando and Clearwater. Best was narrowly defeated in his first bid for public office in 1978.

Evening Herald

300 N. FRENCH AVE., SANFORD, FLA. 32771
Area Code 305-322-2611 or 321-9993
Tuesday, Dec. 18, 1979-4A

Some Help For Social Security

As expected the HEW's Advisory Council on Social Security has recommended that Medicare no longer be financed with Social Security taxes. This would permit a major rollback in employment taxes which otherwise are due to escalate sharply in the next few years.

Financing Medicare out of personal and corporate income taxes would relieve Social Security of a liability that has been hard to control. If Congress adopts the idea, it must decide whether to increase income taxes to pay for Medicare, or to add this hospital insurance program to the general budget with no accompanying tax legislation, thus increasing the federal deficit.

Whatever the Medicare switch might do to the federal budget, it would put Social Security on a better footing to cover its commitments in retirement and disability benefits. The 13-member advisory committee has offered a wide range of reforms to make the system more equitable and to finance it with less drastic increases in the payroll tax shared by employees and employers.

Some of the reforms would make the system more sound economically and also more fair. It is no longer defensible, for instance, that the participation of federal, state and local government employees in Social Security should be voluntary while it is mandatory for the rest of the employed population. Retirement systems for public employees should be blended into Social Security.

The committee also proposes a more equitable formula for calculating the benefits for the aged widow or widower of a covered worker, and for the sharing of benefits by husbands and wives who are divorced after a relatively long marriage. Benefits would be reduced for workers who move in and out of the labor force during their lifetime and now qualify for benefits out of proportion to what they paid into the system.

For all the merit of these reforms, the committee stumbles into questionable territory with one of its major recommendations — that half of all Social Security benefits be subject to income tax. While the Treasury would derive an obvious bonanza from this policy, it defies both fairness and logic to have the government pay a retirement benefit with one hand and then demand part of it back in income tax with the other.

The theory is that the average retiree pays in only 17 percent of the amount he or she gets back in benefits, so most of the Social Security check is actually "new" income that has never been taxed. While this theory may satisfy the government's mania to let no taxable dollar slip through its hands, subjecting benefits to income tax would change a basic principle of Social Security.

The committee points out that the tax would affect only individuals or couples with a substantial retirement income — money from private pensions, investments and other sources which, combined with Social Security, gives them an income of $14,800 or more. About 10 million of the 24.2 million families now receiving Social Security benefits fall into that category. The rest pay no federal income tax under the double exemption granted to persons over 65, and still would pay no tax.

What this means, however, is that one's real benefit from Social Security would diminish if one has been sufficiently prudent to amass a comfortable retirement nest egg. It would breach the principle that one's benefit is based solely on what one earned and paid into the system — regardless of one's financial circumstances at the time of retirement. In other words, a "means test" would affect the real amount of one's benefit.

The principle that Social Security treats everyone alike is one of the main arguments the system has going for it. To involve it in a tax scheme that penalizes thrift and retirement planning is a "reform" that Congress should reject.

WASHINGTON — The glowing Ayatollah storming the U.S. Embassy in Tehran had planned from the beginning to put American hostages on trial as spies. This is the conclusion of analysts who have been following the chaotic, cataclysmic events in Iran.

Justice would be better served, however, if the ayatollah were put on trial. He is strangely sensitive about the word "criminal" which he would like to reserve for his enemies. So I have compiled from the available evidence a criminal indictment against Khomeini.

COUNT ONE: In defiance of international law, he plotted the assault on the American Embassy. It was no spontaneous event. It was preceded by several days of inflammatory anti-American rhetoric. "All our troubles are caused by America," he cried. He denounced the United States as "the great Satan."

He should have sought and burned the American Embassy in "honor" and "revenge" in the morning. He then charged a full week before the embassy was seized. The American Embassy was "host of spies" and "a center of intrigue," he proclaimed on November 4. Thereafter, he continued to charge that the

Around
The Clock
By JOE DESANTIS
When Seminole High's basketball squad knocked off Daytona Seabreeze last Friday night, it stretched its win streak to nine straight games to remain undefeated.

A year ago, while attending Lyman High, Stambaugh made an amazing 99 out of 100 shots in a club fund raising tournament. Seems a little early to be talking about baseball but the old diamond sport is right around the corner.

Back to roundball. Joe Sterling's Seminole Community College Raiders are looking forward to the new year. The S.C.C. crew will once again host the annual Raider Basketball Classic slated to tip off on January 2nd at the Raider Basketball facility.

VIEWPOINT

Obvious Ethical Problem

By ROBERT WALTERS
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Among aficionados of politics, the "revolving door" isn't a department store entrance. It's a technique for abating public service while advancing the private interests of its practitioners and their clients.

But its correlative influence now reaches to the highest level of politics — campaigns for the presidency — and threatens the integrity of the Federal Election Commission, the government agency responsible for enforcing campaign finance laws.

The most recent case of an FEC official offering a political campaign the specialized skills and knowledge he acquired while on the government payroll involves the commission's former general counsel, William C. Oldaker.

At the time, Oldaker's office was investigating a formal complaint filed by President Carter's re-election committee, alleging that the supposedly independent "Draft Kennedy" committee then operating in various states were, in fact, part of a coordinated effort orchestrated in Washington.

Oldaker says that after his first contact with the Kennedy campaign, he voluntarily withdrew from any involvement in the case. There is no evidence to refute that claim, but FEC employees under Oldaker's direct supervision continued to work on the Kennedy investigation while he was actively considering employment with the Kennedy campaign committee.

Oldaker resigned from the FEC at the end of October to seek "a new challenge." He now is deputy legal officer for the Kennedy campaign, responsible for dealing with the same federal laws and regulations he once enforced.

In his letter of resignation, Oldaker noted that he is technically in compliance with the provisions of the new ethics-in-government law specifically drafted to discourage such "revolving door" activities.

But Oldaker's interpretations of the law haven't always been flawless. While serving as an attorney in the Denver regional office of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission in 1973, he was demoted and suspended for nine weeks after his superiors discovered that he had falsified records submitted to agency officials in Washington.

JACK ANDERSON

Khmeini Planned Embassy Takeover

WASHINGTON — The glowing Ayatollah storming the U.S. Embassy in Tehran had planned from the beginning to put American hostages on trial as spies. This is the conclusion of analysts who have been following the chaotic, cataclysmic events in Iran.

Justice would be better served, however, if the ayatollah were put on trial. He is strangely sensitive about the word "criminal" which he would like to reserve for his enemies. So I have compiled from the available evidence a criminal indictment against Khomeini.

COUNT ONE: In defiance of international law, he plotted the assault on the American Embassy. It was no spontaneous event. It was preceded by several days of inflammatory anti-American rhetoric. "All our troubles are caused by America," he cried. He denounced the United States as "the great Satan."

He should have sought and burned the American Embassy in "honor" and "revenge" in the morning. He then charged a full week before the embassy was seized. The American Embassy was "host of spies" and "a center of intrigue," he proclaimed on November 4. Thereafter, he continued to charge that the

COUNT TWO: With malice aforethought, the ayatollah set out to frame innocent Americans as "spies" and "saboteurs" in the morning. He then charged a full week before the embassy was seized. The American Embassy was "host of spies" and "a center of intrigue," he proclaimed on November 4. Thereafter, he continued to charge that the COUNT FOUR: Khomeini had ordered the execution of hundreds of his opponents. They were accused at whim and tried before revolutionary councils that were more eager for revenge than justice. Some of the worst offenders under the shah mysteriously were let alone.

He was the shah's closest confidant, Hussein Fardoust, who headed the imperial inspectorate. This gave him authority over the police and most police officers were SAVAK. Yet somehow he managed to ingratiate himself with Khomeini and to escape the fate of others whose only crime was to offend the ayatollah. More than 600 have died before the firing squad.

VIEWPOINT

About Walls, Freedom

By DON GRAFF
Where there's a will there's a way, as they say — and if "they" doesn't include the Chinese, it ought to.

Weeks of debate over the fate of Democracy Wall in Peking have ended in compromise. The wall, which served as a national bulletin board during the People's Republic's headlong rush to rejoin the modern world but lately has come into increasing official disfavor, is not being abolished in practice, merely shifted in location.

Posters will no longer be permitted on the 200-foot-long structure along Chang'an Avenue in the heart of Peking. Instead, citizens may express the Chinese version of free expression on another wall in a park removed from the city's main thoroughfares.

Ground rules also have been changed. No longer may just anyone slap on just any declaration. Poster posters must first register, giving authorities a record of who is speaking out about what.

The Changan wall has not been the only such outlet for comment of public affairs and personal grievances. Poster walls exist in other major cities and did, until recently dismantled, elsewhere in Peking itself. But it has been the most famous, the focus of attention for both Chinese and world factions by China's remarkable political and cultural transformation of the past several years.

But the means for letting off public steam that was initially useful to the post-Mao leadership eventually became a nuisance. A faction whose enthusiasm for experiments in democracy is under firm control would abolish the wall. Rather than doing so, which might have been read at home and abroad as regression to the bad old repressive days, the new leadership opted for a more subtle arrangement: a way of allowing an acceptable degree of public expression while curbing excessively outspoken critics.

Whitney, Stambaugh, McCray, Butler and Thomas go after Friday night on Wednesday night when they square off against Merril Island in the second night of opening round action of the Orlando Lion Christmas Invitational.

Remember black studies? They were one of the fruits of the turbulent campus '60s, a time when raising racial consciousness went with the antiwar movement as a cause of student defiance. Main Hall administrators.

There are still some 200 black-studies programs in U.S. campuses, but driving is certainly not the word for the movement's whole.

Harvard is reportedly considering restructuring its Afro-American Studies Department as a cause of student defiance and the instructional mainstream.

Perhaps that's where it should have been all along.

Remember black studies? They were one of the fruits of the turbulent campus '60s, a time when raising racial consciousness went with the antiwar movement as a cause of student defiance. Main Hall administrators.

There are still some 200 black-studies programs in U.S. campuses, but driving is certainly not the word for the movement's whole.

Harvard is reportedly considering restructuring its Afro-American Studies Department as a cause of student defiance and the instructional mainstream.

VIEWPOINT

About Walls, Freedom

By DON GRAFF
Where there's a will there's a way, as they say — and if "they" doesn't include the Chinese, it ought to.

Weeks of debate over the fate of Democracy Wall in Peking have ended in compromise. The wall, which served as a national bulletin board during the People's Republic's headlong rush to rejoin the modern world but lately has come into increasing official disfavor, is not being abolished in practice, merely shifted in location.

Posters will no longer be permitted on the 200-foot-long structure along Chang'an Avenue in the heart of Peking. Instead, citizens may express the Chinese version of free expression on another wall in a park removed from the city's main thoroughfares.

Ground rules also have been changed. No longer may just anyone slap on just any declaration. Poster posters must first register, giving authorities a record of who is speaking out about what.

The Changan wall has not been the only such outlet for comment of public affairs and personal grievances. Poster walls exist in other major cities and did, until recently dismantled, elsewhere in Peking itself. But it has been the most famous, the focus of attention for both Chinese and world factions by China's remarkable political and cultural transformation of the past several years.

But the means for letting off public steam that was initially useful to the post-Mao leadership eventually became a nuisance. A faction whose enthusiasm for experiments in democracy is under firm control would abolish the wall. Rather than doing so, which might have been read at home and abroad as regression to the bad old repressive days, the new leadership opted for a more subtle arrangement: a way of allowing an acceptable degree of public expression while curbing excessively outspoken critics.

Whitney, Stambaugh, McCray, Butler and Thomas go after Friday night on Wednesday night when they square off against Merril Island in the second night of opening round action of the Orlando Lion Christmas Invitational.

Remember black studies? They were one of the fruits of the turbulent campus '60s, a time when raising racial consciousness went with the antiwar movement as a cause of student defiance. Main Hall administrators.

There are still some 200 black-studies programs in U.S. campuses, but driving is certainly not the word for the movement's whole.

Harvard is reportedly considering restructuring its Afro-American Studies Department as a cause of student defiance and the instructional mainstream.

Perhaps that's where it should have been all along.

Remember black studies? They were one of the fruits of the turbulent campus '60s, a time when raising racial consciousness went with the antiwar movement as a cause of student defiance. Main Hall administrators.

There are still some 200 black-studies programs in U.S. campuses, but driving is certainly not the word for the movement's whole.

Harvard is reportedly considering restructuring its Afro-American Studies Department as a cause of student defiance and the instructional mainstream.

SPORTS

Seminoles Salute District Grid Champs

By JOE DESANTIS Herald Sports Editor

The Seminole High Fighting Seminoles coaching staff and Booster Club honored the Five Star Conference and District 9 6A football champions at their annual banquet Monday night with a steak dinner and trophy presentation.

With former Seminole High standout Jay Stokes, who later went on to star at Florida State, as guest speaker, both the varsity, junior varsity, cheerleaders, and managers were recognized for their accomplishments and contributions to the Tribe football program.

The Tribe's Outstanding Defensive Linebacker award went to first team All-Five Star Conference performer Morgan Smith. Smith was also selected honorable mention to the All-Central Florida squad.

Seminole assistant coach Roger Heathard presents Linebacker Reggie Campbell with the Tribe's Most Valuable Defensive Player Award.

Head coach Jerry Posey presents rambling Arthur Jackson with the Fighting Seminoles' Most Valuable Offensive Back award during the annual football banquet Monday.

Finally: Seminoles Debut In Two Polls

They say good things come in pairs. After being snubbed for the first three weeks of the prep basketball polls, Bill Payne's Fighting Seminoles, fresh on the heels of a big win over Daytona Seabreeze and sporting a perfect 9-0 record, made their debut in the state's top ten today with a number nine ranking.

What came as a pleasant surprise also, and may provide a little healthy competition within the school, is the fact that Cheryl Klein's Lady Seminoles, written off by many after the loss of Dawn Berguson, did the most squad two better by entering the women's poll in the number seven slot.

The Lady Seminoles good fortunes can be attributed a great deal to the outstanding play of super sophomore Robbin Higgins and Tony Hardy, moved up from the junior varsity level to the varsity level. Both Payne and Klein will try to keep the ball rolling over the holidays as each face tough Christmas Tournaments.

Whitney, Stambaugh, McCray, Butler and Thomas go after Friday night on Wednesday night when they square off against Merril Island in the second night of opening round action of the Orlando Lion Christmas Invitational.

Remember black studies? They were one of the fruits of the turbulent campus '60s, a time when raising racial consciousness went with the antiwar movement as a cause of student defiance. Main Hall administrators.

There are still some 200 black-studies programs in U.S. campuses, but driving is certainly not the word for the movement's whole.

Harvard is reportedly considering restructuring its Afro-American Studies Department as a cause of student defiance and the instructional mainstream.

Perhaps that's where it should have been all along.

Remember black studies? They were one of the fruits of the turbulent campus '60s, a time when raising racial consciousness went with the antiwar movement as a cause of student defiance. Main Hall administrators.

There are still some 200 black-studies programs in U.S. campuses, but driving is certainly not the word for the movement's whole.

Harvard is reportedly considering restructuring its Afro-American Studies Department as a cause of student defiance and the instructional mainstream.

From The Sidelines

By JOE DESANTIS Herald Sports Editor

The Lions are beginning to round into form with the return of the football team and are further bolstered by the healthy return of Horace Rolland, back from a knee procedure.

Whitney, Stambaugh, McCray, Butler and Thomas go after Friday night on Wednesday night when they square off against Merril Island in the second night of opening round action of the Orlando Lion Christmas Invitational.

Remember black studies? They were one of the fruits of the turbulent campus '60s, a time when raising racial consciousness went with the antiwar movement as a cause of student defiance. Main Hall administrators.

There are still some 200 black-studies programs in U.S. campuses, but driving is certainly not the word for the movement's whole.

Harvard is reportedly considering restructuring its Afro-American Studies Department as a cause of student defiance and the instructional mainstream.

Perhaps that's where it should have been all along.

Remember black studies? They were one of the fruits of the turbulent campus '60s, a time when raising racial consciousness went with the antiwar movement as a cause of student defiance. Main Hall administrators.

There are still some 200 black-studies programs in U.S. campuses, but driving is certainly not the word for the movement's whole.

Harvard is reportedly considering restructuring its Afro-American Studies Department as a cause of student defiance and the instructional mainstream.

Crooms Wins 4th

Chris Mariette's Crooms Panthers overcame an unproductive fourth period (eight points) to hold off Bishop Moore 60-51 Monday night.

The victory — the fourth straight for the improving Panthers — capped their record to 6-2 while Bishop Moore dropped to 1-3.

Whitney, Stambaugh, McCray, Butler and Thomas go after Friday night on Wednesday night when they square off against Merril Island in the second night of opening round action of the Orlando Lion Christmas Invitational.

Remember black studies? They were one of the fruits of the turbulent campus '60s, a time when raising racial consciousness went with the antiwar movement as a cause of student defiance. Main Hall administrators.

There are still some 200 black-studies programs in U.S. campuses, but driving is certainly not the word for the movement's whole.

Harvard is reportedly considering restructuring its Afro-American Studies Department as a cause of student defiance and the instructional mainstream.

Perhaps that's where it should have been all along.

Remember black studies? They were one of the fruits of the turbulent campus '60s, a time when raising racial consciousness went with the antiwar movement as a cause of student defiance. Main Hall administrators.

There are still some 200 black-studies programs in U.S. campuses, but driving is certainly not the word for the movement's whole.

Harvard is reportedly considering restructuring its Afro-American Studies Department as a cause of student defiance and the instructional mainstream.

Perhaps that's where it should have been all along.

SCOREBOARD

Table with columns for various sports events, teams, and scores. Includes sections for Jai Alai, Pro Football, Dog Racing, and Kennel Numbers.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Sorry! You can't HAVE Bo Derek. She's not available."

Advertisement for MR. MUFFLER featuring a cartoon character and text about muffler services, including phone numbers and addresses.

Advertisement for LAND & WATER SPORTS CENTER featuring a cartoon character and text about boat and motor services, including phone numbers and addresses.

Advertisement for MICHELIN tires featuring the Michelin Man character and text about tire services, including phone numbers and addresses.

CALENDAR

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 18
Model Railroad, 7:30 p.m., Hobby Dept., Sanford.
Weight Watchers, 7 p.m., Sanford Women's Club, 309 S. Oak Ave.; 7 p.m., Summit Apts., Casselberry.
Overeaters Anonymous, 7:30 p.m., Florida Power & Light, Sanford.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 19
Casselberry Rotary, 7:30 a.m., Woman's Club, 250 Overlook Drive, Casselberry.
Orlando Rotary, 7:30 a.m., Town House.
Sanford Kiwanis, noon, Civic Center.
Sanford Optimist, noon, Holiday Inn.
Recovery line, 12:30 p.m., 103 Robin Road, Altamonte Springs.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 20
South Semolee Optimist, 7:30 a.m., Holiday Inn, Wymore Road, Altamonte Springs.
Lake Mary Rotary, 8 a.m., Mayfair Country Club.
Weight Watchers, 10 a.m., Lake Mary Presbyterian Church, 7 p.m., Quality Inn, Longwood.
Friendship Club, 10 a.m., Altamonte Springs Civic Center.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21
Diet Workshop, 10 a.m. and 7 p.m., Montgomery Ward, Interstate Mall.
Altamonte Springs Seniors, noon, Ireland's.
South Semolee AA, noon, Mental Health Center, Robin Road, Altamonte Springs.
Resources for Human Needs, noon, Sanford Chamber of Commerce.
Overeaters Anonymous, 7:30 p.m., Altamonte Mall Seniors.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 22
Holiday musical puppet show, "The Elves and the Shoemaker" by Puppet Power, 10:30 a.m., Theater on Park, Winter Park.
Senior Citizens tour to Lakeland for the Lipizan Show at 8 p.m. Leave Sanford at 4 p.m. with pickup at Casselberry at 4:30 p.m. Return 10:30 p.m. Dinner on the way down. Call 322-6148 for reservations.
Trinity Prep School Players will present "Christmas in the Marketplace," 7 p.m., in Trinity's chapel, Goldenrod. Open to public.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 23
Greater Midland Civic Center New Year's Eve Dance with music by Jack Drummond, 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Midland Civic Center. Breakfast served. Call 644-7187 for reservations.
THURSDAY, JANUARY 3
Semolee Chapter No. 2 OES, 8 p.m., North Park Avenue, Sanford.

Advertisement for 'We're Drumming Up Business For You On The Business Review' with contact information for Semolee County, CALL 322-2611 to reserve your space.

Elvis' Doctor Faces Malpractice Charge

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Elvis Presley's physician gave him vast quantities of 17 types of addictive drugs during the 20 months before his death, expanded malpractice charges against the doctor say. The State Board of Medical Examiners Monday accused Dr. George Nichopoulos of prescribing nearly 12,000 tablets of uppers, downers, and painkillers for the rock 'n' roll star between Jan. 10, 1976, and Aug. 15, 1977, the day Presley was found dead in his Graceland mansion at Memphis.

The board's original complaint charged Nichopoulos with indiscriminately prescribing drugs to Presley and 10 others. The new complaint accuses him of "gross incompetence, gross ignorance, or gross negligence" for prescribing drugs in excess of "medically appropriate" amounts to 20 people. The new complaint, based on an audit of Memphis pharmacies, said Nichopoulos issued 198 prescriptions to Presley during the 20-month period.

Drugs allegedly prescribed for Presley included the depressants Quaalude, Letrine, Pareal, Anyltal, Tunali, Placidyl, and Perdon; tranquilizers Valium; the stimulants Dexedrine, Biphemamine, Carbitol, and Isonamine; the painkillers Dilaudid and Demoral; the combination uppper/downer Dexazolin; Lomotil, a synthetic laxative; and a narcotic and used to combat diarrhea; and Hyocine Compound tablets, a synthetic narcotic-type drug used as a cough suppressant.

On the day before Presley died, the complaint charged, he received nine prescriptions for two each Dilaudid and Demoral, and one each of Biphemamine, Perdon, and Quaalude. Although Presley's death was attributed to heart failure, questions remain about the role played by drugs. The singer had at least 10 drugs in his body at the time of his death, medical reports say.

The city's credit rating, once pegged triple A and one of the proudest in the nation among municipalities, is slipping. For the 20 years he was mayor, the late Richard J. Daley topped Chicago as "the city that works." New York, Cleveland and Detroit might flirt with bankruptcy. Other big cities might be stymied by decay and stagnation. Chicago, under the rule of a seemingly benign politician, appeared to proceed unperturbed, building and bragging.

"I have seen the past and it works," a New Yorker once observed of Chicago. Until now. Some Chicagoans are directing blame at their city's mayor, leftist, mercurial Jane M. Byrne. The city's mounting troubles have fallen upon her slender shoulders since she topped Daley's old machine in last February's pivotal Democratic primary.

It took guts, an indomitable Irish spirit, and a temper to match, to do what she did. Some of those traits may account for where she is now. She promised confidently to settle the Chicago Transit Authority dispute, much as Daley, her political tutor, used to do. The difference is that Daley almost always delivered. Mrs. Byrne did not. In the meanwhile, she plunged waist deep into political intrigues that afflicted her city's travails, either directly or indirectly.

CLASSIFIED ADS Orlando-Winter Park 322-2611 831-9993. Includes rates for 1-line, 2-line, 3-line, 4-line, 5-line, 6-line, 7-line, 8-line, 9-line, 10-line, 11-line, 12-line, 13-line, 14-line, 15-line, 16-line, 17-line, 18-line, 19-line, 20-line, 21-line, 22-line, 23-line, 24-line, 25-line, 26-line, 27-line, 28-line, 29-line, 30-line, 31-line, 32-line, 33-line, 34-line, 35-line, 36-line, 37-line, 38-line, 39-line, 40-line, 41-line, 42-line, 43-line, 44-line, 45-line, 46-line, 47-line, 48-line, 49-line, 50-line, 51-line, 52-line, 53-line, 54-line, 55-line, 56-line, 57-line, 58-line, 59-line, 60-line, 61-line, 62-line, 63-line, 64-line, 65-line, 66-line, 67-line, 68-line, 69-line, 70-line, 71-line, 72-line, 73-line, 74-line, 75-line, 76-line, 77-line, 78-line, 79-line, 80-line, 81-line, 82-line, 83-line, 84-line, 85-line, 86-line, 87-line, 88-line, 89-line, 90-line, 91-line, 92-line, 93-line, 94-line, 95-line, 96-line, 97-line, 98-line, 99-line, 100-line.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

get more than you bargained for! CLASSIFIED ADS are sure to get results!

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill. Also includes 6-Eating Places. Beginning Dec. 14 breakfast lunch served at Restaurant, 300 Sanford Ave. Also includes 9-Good Things to Eat.

Legal Notice. Notice is hereby given that I am engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida. Also includes PICTITIOUS NAME. Notice is hereby given that we are engaged in business at 100 N. 13th St., Sanford, Florida.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Alterations & Tailoring. Joints Alterations & Tailoring Men's & Women's garments.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Appliances Repair. JAY'S APPLIANCE Repair Under new ownership.

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Beauty Care. TOWERS BEAUTY SALON formerly Hairdresser's Beauty Shop.

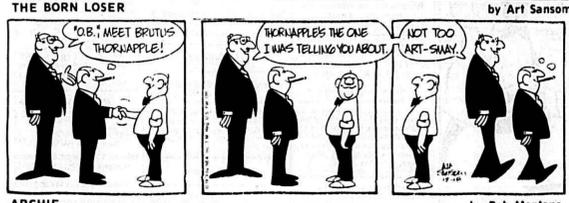

Home Improvements. CUSTOM HOMES BUILT. Also includes Painting. A & B PAINTING Residential & Commercial.

18-Help Wanted. Local business needs a qualified manager for restaurant operation. Also includes SLEIGHBELLS RINGING! NO CASH IN YOUR POCKET JINGLING! YOU NEED AAA EMPLOYMENT.

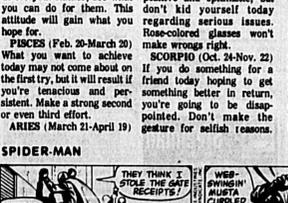

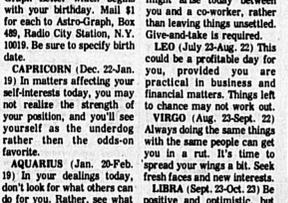

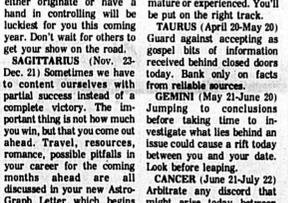

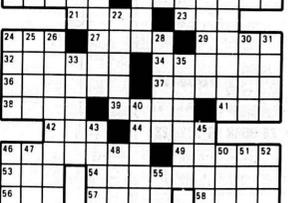

4-Personals. I ONE MORE TIME! I have great dates. Also includes STOP IN AND SEE ANNETTE SHE'S BACK IN SANFORD TO STAY!

5-Lost & Found. LOST male weebill

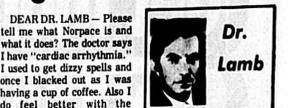

BLONDIE 48—Evening Herald, Sanford, Fla. Tuesday, Dec. 18, 1979

ACROSS 39 Egg cell
41 Snare
42 Untired
43 Short article
44 Soil with dirt
45 Pill of a staircase
46 Actor Sparks
47 Put in periods
48 Study of word
49 Moral transgression
50 Volcano in Italy
51 Something unexplained
52 Nait container
53 Boy (Sp)
54 Glimmer
55 Jiminy Gabor
56 Diminutive suffix
57 Omelette

Norpace: New Drug Regulates Heart

DEAR DR. LAMB—Please tell me what Norpace is and what it does. The doctor says I have "cardiac arrhythmia." I used to get dizzy spells and once I blacked out as I was having a cup of coffee. Also I do feel better with the medicine he gave me.

DEAR READER—Cardiac arrhythmia means some form of abnormal rhythm or beating of the heart. This can be simple sporadic extra beats or irregular beats that some people refer to as their "heart skipping a beat," or attacks of rapid heart action when the heart beats very fast. It beats fast enough so it's not pump enough blood to the heart. Some can cause faintness in some cases.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 612, Heart Irregularities, Skipped Beats, Tachycardia. It will give you more information on these common problems and some are unnoticed and some can be dangerous. It depends entirely on what causes them. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10101.

Norpace is a relatively new medicine that's literally used to calm the excess electrical activity of the heart and helps to prevent irregular beats or cardiac arrhythmia. There are a number of other medicines that are used for this purpose.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

Iran May Let Relatives Visit Hostages For Christmas

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—Tens of thousands of demonstrators mourning a slain religious leader today swarmed around the U.S. Embassy shouting anti-American slogans, but the government relented somewhat, saying relatives of 50 American hostages held inside may be allowed to visit them for Christmas.

Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini dismissed reports that Washington may begin a naval blockade of Iran as a maneuver by President Carter "acting like a frightened lion who roars and puffs up his mane."

Even as the funeral marchers shouted "Down with America!" Interior Minister Hashemi Rafsanjani said in a newspaper interview that "there is a possibility that the (hostages') families will be allowed to visit them for Christmas and we would like such a thing to happen."

The final word, however, belongs with the student captors holding the 50 hostages for the 46th day, he said.

A militant spokesman said, "No decision has been taken on that yet. So far we have agreed to allow them cards and gifts." The student captors previously said none of the 50 hostages would be released from the embassy by Christmas.

Khomeini, in an interview today with former Egyptian newspaper editor Mohammed Hassanein Heikal, said: "The people of Iran want to be martyrs. Only those who are worried about death will be frightened of Mr. Carter's military threats. But not us."

"In fact it is Mr. Carter who is frightened because he doesn't believe in the hereafter."

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

Flood Of Protesters Drown County Land-Use Restrictions

By DIANE PETRYK Herald Staff Writer

It was a near total victory for Mrs. Margaret Cammack and her Seminoke County landowners group Tuesday night as the county commission voted to reject a much debated flood-prone area land-use restrictions and agreed to appoint a citizens study group to reassess the county's entire Comprehensive Plan.

Taking some of the steam out of the crowd that came to protest, Commissioner Bob Stumm made a motion a half hour into the meeting to deny approval of proposed Comprehensive Plan amendments that would have banned construction of residences and septic tanks in so-called flood-prone areas.

But this wasn't enough for Mrs. Cammack.

Representing the Owners of Seminole County, a group she organized, Mrs. Cammack demanded the county reopen hearings on the entire Comprehensive Plan which she called "socialistic in concept."

The Comprehensive Plan, required by state law, was adopted in September, 1977.

"This plan is part of a scheme by Seminole County government to gain control and ownership of our land," Mrs. Cammack said.

"We landowners are being coerced to conform to the ideologies of the Seminole County Planning Department," she said. She accused the commission of trying to use its zoning power to devalue property so the county could obtain it later at lowered prices.

Planners pointed out that the Comprehensive Plan is overall philosophy and does not provide for specific zoning. Mrs. Cammack, a real estate agent, owns 370 acres on Lake Harney.

She said the Comprehensive Plan restricts the right of property owners to use and enjoy their land.

Her comments and demands of the board were greeted by prolonged applause and a standing ovation from the overflow crowd.

100 speakers were set up in a courtroom lobby so those who couldn't get in the 150-seat commission chamber could hear the proceedings.

A motion by Commissioner Sandra Glenn to deny all of the proposed amendments to the Comprehensive Plan, except those concerning aviation, ports, mass transit and electric utilities which were approved without protest in October, and to appoint a 15-member citizens study group to reassess the plan and proposed amendments, failed twice.

But as the commission painstakingly went through the 100 pages of proposed amendments item by item for the next three hours, Mrs. Cammack was frequently asked if her group had objections to individual sections being approved.

Mrs. Cammack and representatives of the Seminole County Board of Realtors agreed they had no objections to parts of the amendments concerning libraries, transportation and other issues not relating to land use.

These parts of the amendments were passed individually.

For the third time, Mrs. Glenn proposed a citizens' group to study the plan. The motion passed 4 to 1 with Commissioner Dick Williams voting no. Williams said the plan went through a long process of hearings and that the public input desired had already been obtained.

The commission was considering the proposed amendments as part of a state-required review process of the Comprehensive Plan. The plan is mandated by the state.

Many homeowners agreed with the statement of one homeowner, who felt the plan infringes on his constitutional rights and is an effort "to reduce individuals to serfs on land that was once theirs."

"Whoever controls the land controls the people," another protester told the board. "We'll soon have the same rights the Russians have in getting the proposed park defeated, as per the citizens' wishes, Kirchoff said.

Kirchoff denied county planners saying the idea for the amendments came from many sources, not just the planners.

County Planner Woody Price said he objected to the county residents' feeling that there exists an adversary relationship between the planning department and the citizens of the county.

"At least it isn't from our side," he said.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.

DEAR DR. LAMB—Unfortunately, my 19-year-old granddaughter got involved with an illiterate, mentally slow sex maniac. They have been married for two years and have a beautiful, healthy, smart baby boy six months old. When my daughter urged me to take the pill, she said she couldn't. The doctor in the hospital told her she couldn't because she has high blood pressure and sugar. We've been trying to get her to go to Planned Parenthood but she says it won't do any good. They are good Christian people and want to do the right thing but she's afraid to have more children by this man. He is impossible and wants sex every night and sometimes two or three afternoons a week. They are living with her parents who cannot afford to feed more. So would you tell us if she can take the pill safely?

DEAR READER—Some women do develop high blood pressure from birth control pills. These women should not use birth control pills under any circumstances.

Of course, I cannot pass an opinion on status of your granddaughter's marriage or her husband but if there's any reason why the couple does not want or should not have additional children, then there are other forms of birth control. This includes tubal ligation for the woman and vasectomy for the man.

If neither one wishes to have surgery and would like a more temporary method, there's always the IUD which your granddaughter could wear. It doesn't have the same side effects as birth control pills at all and is reportedly just as effective, if not more so, in preventing slow sex maniacs. Your granddaughter could seek help from Planned Parenthood, or she could ask her doctor who could also fit her with an IUD if she needs one.