

Dividend Of 100% Declared By Eckerd

Jack M. Eckerd, president and chairman of the board of Eckerd Drugs of Florida, Inc., announced a record-breaking year at the end of the fiscal year, April 3. Total sales of $23,054,765 as compared to the year before when sales were $17,105,824, a per share earnings of $3.05, as compared to $1.72 the previous year.

JACK ECKERD

On May 14, the board of directors of Eckerd Drugs of Florida, Inc., declared a 100 per cent stock dividend on common stock to stockholders of record as of the close of business June 8.

The cash dividend on common stock payable on June 22 to shareholders of record as of the close of business on June 8, was increased from seven-and-one-half-cents to 10 cents per share per quarter, on shares outstanding after the 100 percent stock dividend.

"We are certainly pleased," said Eckerd, "to have our faith in Florida's future so well demonstrated. We have added eight Eckerd Drug Stores this past year. New, quality-economy stores, geared to meet the ever-increasing needs of our customers."

Commenting on the constantly improving service offered customers by the employees of Eckerd's, Eckerd added, "The record year has enabled the company to contribute $111,000 to the employee profit-sharing trust fund, almost double the amount contributed last year. This trust fund is presently shared by 301 employees."

areas and attractions in Florida during the summer vacation season.

As its part in the program, the Eckerd firm will promote a month-long photo contest during June with prizes to be all-expense paid vacations in St. Petersburg. Major co-operation has been obtained from the new, plush Gulf Lane Motel-Boatel on Indian Rocks Beach. All winners will be hosted by this resort facility according to Ed Hickey, general manager.

Florida Youth Writes His Own Garden Of Verse

FT. WALTON BEACH — (UPI) — Joe Potter Jr. is just about like any other eight-year-old boy.

He goes swimming. He plays baseball. He collects things. He's an active third grader.

But the world is comparatively new to Joe and everything is fascinating to him—nature, animals, mud, boys and girls.

Unlike other third graders, Joe sat down recently and began writing of his experiences, his likes and dislikes. Joe writes verse, like this entitled "Boys":

Boys are made for climbing walls,
Boys are made for taking falls,
Boys are made for fixing bikes,
Boys are made for their dilikes,
Boys are made for being boys,
And not little love toys.
Or this, aptly called "Mud":
Mud is greasy slime,
Mixed with some black grime.

It is just wet dirt,
That can get on your skirt.
It's really a big mess,
Always on your pretty dress.

While adults take many things for granted, experiences make an impact on Joe, who wrote "Farms":

Farms have pigs and hens,
Farms have a nest of wrens,
Farms have hay and oats,
And mad of 'billy goats,
It's more than dirt and sand
It is the promised land.

When Joe grows up, he won't be a fireman or a policeman or anything like that. His mind is made up.

"I'm going to be minister and a poet," he said.

Legion Unit Wins Honors

By Jane Casselberry

Honors were won by American Legion Auxiliary Memorial Unit 256 of Casselberry at the Department of Florida convention held last weekend in Tampa.

Delegate Mrs. Kenneth Green won first place and a cash prize for the attractive centerpiece which she designed using veteran's poppies.

The unit history compiled by Mrs. Joseph Claszewski, historian, won first place and a citation.

A special citation and a cash award was presented for the prebook entered by Mrs. Leonard Casselberry, prebook chairman.

The Auxiliary meet was held at the Sheraton Tampa Motor Inn.

Kenneth Green was delegate from Post 256 at the state Legion convention held at the Floridian Hotel.

Editorial Comment

Eyeball To Eyeball

Sanford is a good place to live but the city has no image, no identity. It has no noteworthy attractions for tourists.

Among Florida's most interesting cities it rates near the bottom of the list.

Even native Floridians, in other sections of the state, some times are hard-pressed to tell you where the city is located.

"Oh, that's between Orlando and Daytona."

"There's a big lake there, isn't there?"

"Is that on the St. Johns?"

Some tourists used to be funneled through Sanford whether they liked it or not. Now, Interstate 4 whisks them around the city in a few minutes.

If by chance the motorists happen to glance sideways while crossing the bridge, they may get a faraway look at our city 'way up there on the lake.

It is not good to be recalled as a mere by-path on the road to cities of well-known identification and well-established images.

But all this is changing. Our image is taking shape. Our identification is in the making.

The Lake Monroe Development Project is off the drawing board and ready for launching.

Definite, painstaking, concrete steps taken recently by our City Commission, our County Commission and our state legislators can assure us of a bright future. A future than can hold unlimited opportunities.

Sanford need no longer be the forgotten city where the word "progress" was a tongue-twister and where growth was always undertaken at a snail's pace.

Our biggest assets, the St. Johns and Lake Monroe, have been standing by for years on end. We have been content to let it be.

But our lake could be a jewel and our river a necklace.

The time for action has come and our officials are now eyeball to eyeball with reality.

It has been a fruitful year so far. Planning takes months, even years. In the days ahead we should reap the harvest of the past labors of a lot of hardworking and progressive-thinking people.

We congratulate everyone who has had a part in taking our dream and forging it into a fact of tomorrow.

Boat Works To Build Boat Capital Pictured

$300,000 Cost Pictured By Southern Co.

Lakefront Development Is Outlined

A program to develop the shores of Lake Monroe into a facility that will make Sanford the recreational boating capital of Central Florida was revealed today in a spectacular color drawing.

(An abridged color version of the Lakefront Development Project is carried elsewhere in today's edition of The Herald.)

The actual 9-3-foot drawing by Architect James G. Chapman will be on display Saturday at Roumillat & Anderson Drugs at First Street and Park Avenue. Architect John A. Burton IV was a consultant for the design.

The rendering, financed by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Florida State Bank and Sanford Atlantic National Bank, will be on display at other locations in the downtown area within the next few days.

The drawing outlines the proposed marina project, the motel-boatel-restaurant complex, Lake Monroe causeway and Port of Sanford. It also envisions the relocation of the Municipal Zoo and tank farms and complete beautification of the lakefront.

Rep. S. J. Davis Jr. informed The Herald this morning he had introduced and pre-filed in the House a measure creating the "Port Authority of Seminole County." Directors, under the supervision of the Seminole County Commission, would operate the "Port of Sanford."

The City of Sanford is moving ahead with the lakefront program. The city's fiscal agent Leedy, Wheeler, Allen and Associates, of Orlando, already are preparing the bond ordinance for the city to issue revenue certificates for the first phase of construction, estimated to cost $800,000. Negotiations are now under way to determine what private capital would be interested in providing a top flight, quality motel with restaurant and small convention facilities.

The city will provide the location, land and lakefront facilities for the motel complex.

The construction of the marina area will be carried out in stages. In the first phase the city will bulkhead, fill and provide services for a 15-acre tract on which the motel-boatel complex would be constructed.

The city also would provide marina facilities for the area such as docks, floats and ramps to serve nearly 150 boats in the first stage. Eventually a 30-acre landfill is planned with 2,000 boat berths.

Plans also call for the relocation of the zoo and tank farms with shopping areas to take their places.

HAROLD SLAMA, with one of his Cobia boats, today announced a $300,000 expansion of the Southern Fiber Glass Products on Silver Lake Drive off South Sanford Avenue. (Herald Photo)

Sanford - Seminole Development Company today announced the expansion of Southern Fiber Glass Products, Inc., to one of the larger industrial manufacturing complexes in Central Florida.

The boat company has contracted to purchase its present building of 30,000 square feet in Sanford Industrial Park.

The development company also will construct an adjacent building of 40,000 square feet for boat manufacturing.

Southern Fiber Glass will move its entire operations into the new complex from Orlando. It is estimated that the expansion project will cost in excess of $300,000.

Southern Fiber Glass presently is producing the fiber glass Cobia boat. Twelve boats up to the 17-foot category are being produced daily at the Sanford plant. The company also is producing three to four larger craft daily at its Orlando plant.

President Harold Slama, of Southern Fiber Glass, said that combining the two operations will improve production and centralize the company's operations.

The expansion in Sanford will mean employment at the Cobia plant will increase from the present 83 employees to 150. At the peak of production, approximately 200 persons will be employed, Slama said.

Slama said he was very pleased with the local labor situation and that was an important factor in the expansion plans here.

Negotiations for the expansion deal were handled by Sanford - Seminole Development Company, of which Clifford McKibbin is president, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce's industrial committee headed by Scott Burns, and Howard Hodges, president of Sanford Atlantic National Bank.

"We are very pleased to announce the expansion of the Southern Fiber Glass operations here," McKibbin said. "It will be a big asset to our community."

The Sanford - Seminole Development Company's board of directors also announced its third annual dividend of 60 cents a share on company stock.

(Related details on pages 4-3-6-7.)

Elder James Hamrick, pastor, in charge.

Class Night will be at 8 p.m. Saturday with David Wood, member of the senior class, as master of ceremonies.

Other weekend programs include Sabbath School at 9:30 a.m. Saturday and Sunbeam Yepper Services late in the afternoon.

Final graduation events will be conducted at 10 a.m. Sunday with Dr. Frank Knittle, vice president of Andrews University in Berrian Springs, Mich., as commencement speaker. Diplomas will be presented by William Fuchs, principal of the Academy, assisted by Miss Mary Elam, registrar.

Officers of the graduating class are Bill McDowell, president; Angel Zagorsky, vice president; Connie Arnold, secretary; Jeanie Walker, treasurer; Paul Richardson, pastor, and Greg Musselwhite, sergeant-at-arms.

Class sponsors are Roger Miller, physical education director, and Clinton Anderson, English and art instructor.

Both sides in the Dominican conflict reacted coolly today to the efforts of the Organization of American States to restore normal conditions in this divided city.

HHFA Directs Canal To Detail Powers

By Paul Brookshire

The St. Johns-Indian River Canal District board of directors Thursday voted to amend a legislative act under which it was set up so the district can qualify for funds from the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The HHFA notified the district that its powers must be spelled out in more detail before it can approve a $54,000 loan to the district.

The district's board of directors, which met here Thursday, is seeking the loan to complete an engineering report on the proposed canal.

Chairman John Krider said the HHFA did not reject or approve the canal's application but said it must be resubmitted for consideration.

The HHFA said the current act under which the canal district was set up did not contain any authority to construct the canal or obtain rights-of-way.

The directors promptly voted to amend the act to include such authority. The district's attorney, Mack N. Cleveland Jr., also state senator, is expected to introduce the amendment in the Florida Legislature Monday.

The amendment will give the canal district power to contract with the Florida Canal Authority to build the canal.

The HHFA also informed the district that it would consider application for a loan for construction of the entire canal if no other means are available and if there is an acceptable means of repaying the loan.

In other action, the district's board of directors approved a payment of $15,000 to Reynolds, Smith and Hills, architects and engineers, for a preliminary engineering survey of the canal. Also approved was a $4,000 plus interest payment to the trustees of the Florida Internal Improvement Fund.

Krider informed the directors that the State Road Department's budget for 1965-66 includes an item of $10,000 for survey of a road paralleling the canal.

Two minor changes in canal alignment also were discussed and the board agreed to pay expenses to send Krider to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress Conference in Washington next month.

Longwood Vote Slated Tuesday

By Donna Estes

Longwood City Clerk Mrs. Onnie R. Shomate reports that 845 persons are registered and eligible to vote in the special city election Tuesday.

The election is being held to fill the council seat left vacant by recent resignation of Council Chairman R. C. Carlson.

Qualified candidates seeking the post are John Deaton, James Reller, Homer Scott and Daniel Screency.

Screency, whose qualifying petition was filed shortly before the May 22 noon deadline, accepted a draft by a group of residents and expressed his regret that Carlson's ill health necessitated his resignation. He further stated that Longwood has lost a "sincere and dedicated" public servant.

County Viewed As Tinder Box

By Jane Casselberry

Cloudy skies this past week failed to live up to their promises and the few drops that fell left Seminole County thrifter than ever.

With no appreciable rainfall since March, the county is a tinder box and County Ranger Albert Harris and his Florida Forest Service crews are on duty round the clock.

He has checked out 33 fires within the past two weeks during which time 300 acres have burned in the county. Two hundred of these acres burned near the county's Osceola airstrip in a fire of incendiary nature, still under investigation.

Until drought conditions now existing are relieved, Harris requests that residents refrain from burning trash, or property and be careful with cigarettes and matches.

Criminal carelessness in starting fires may result in arrest, he warned.

Choppers Crash, Nine Yanks Die

SAIGON (UPI) — Nine Americans were killed today when two U. S. Army helicopters collided and burst into flames over the Bien Hoa air base north of Saigon.

The disaster came only 12 days after 27 Americans died in a chain reaction explosion on the flightline of the jinxed base.

Iowa Freezes

United Press International Temperatures dipped toward freezing in Iowa early today as clear, cool weather spread over most of the nation. Temperatures were in the 30s and dropping.

'Walk In Space' Flight Delayed

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — A planned attempt to rocket two U. S. astronauts on a record four-day flight to conduct America's first "walk in space" June 3 has been postponed.

The launching of rookie astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White may be delayed as much as one week — to about June 10.

5th Fatality

Billy Dupree, 20, Safety Harbor, injured early last Sunday morning in an automobile accident on Interstate 4 near the SR 434 overpass, died of his injuries early Wednesday. This marks the fifth traffic fatality in Seminole County this year.

St. Johns Traffic On Increase

One-way water traffic on the St. John River from Jacksonville to Lake Harney averages about 677,300 tons a year, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers revealed today in its latest report.

The 1963 traffic on the 160-mile stretch was 569,000 tons. Increase in traffic tonnage on the St. Johns waterway is sparse with inland waterways traffic patterns in other parts of the nation.

Little ports are far outstripping the growth rates of many of their larger neighbors, according to an article in the May 25 edition of the Wall Street Journal.

Small ports also are bringing new prosperity to many towns they serve, attracting industries with fat payrolls to inexpensive, roomy industrial development sites near the water.

The smaller harbors are making deep inroads in total maritime commerce, The Wall Street Journal contends.

Inland cities, such as Stockton and Sacramento are luring traffic away from the big port of San Francisco. Pascagoula, Miss., handled twice as much cargo in 1964 as it did the year before.

Voters in Pascagoula backed a $2 million bond issue to dredge a new channel and clear land for industrial sites. Another $10 million in bonds issued later financed construction of warehouses, berths and a grain elevator.

Need Comforting?

People are seeking comfort so desperately today that we know there is a hunger for it which is not being satisfied. We are all interested in having air conditioners, reclining chairs, automobiles that absorb the roughest places, and houses capable of taking care of many needs. Of course, these things are good but if we stop with them the inner comfort which is most important is not satisfied. Even though material advances have been great, our hospitals are largely filled with people who have mental disturbances brought to pass by the stress, strains and confusions of life.

The values that we have held dear have been shaken and distorted by a century on a bit more than half over, yet one that has experienced two world wars, a severe economic depression, and an overthrow of many traditions considered necessary for many years.

It is good that we be concerned with the physical needs of all people. In America, however, if we faced the reality of need for the greatest number of people we might find that the hunger for comfort is greater than for food. Both should be satisfied if possible which means that we should not feel that we are wasting our time when we seek to comfort those about us. Perhaps we feel that our efforts as individuals in supplying the material needs of the world are negligible, but our work can be very vital in bringing comfort to those who need it.

Perhaps each of us have friends who have felt their world cave in when a loved one dies. Many of you who read this article will or have experienced such a chapter of life. For those who come into contact with bereaved people often there is an awareness that many need to be involved in bringing comfort to them.

One minister told of a helpful experience. "The bereaved person is usually surrounded by friends and cushioned by every comfort they can provide—at first. But what happens to him a few weeks later? The anesthetic of his initial shock has worn off. The sad little tasks that kept him busy are all accomplished. The friends drift off to their own concerns. He is left alone too soon."

"Several years ago a widow in my congregation, with the help of three others, dedicated herself to helping people through what she called 'The second phase of sorrow.' It is the only secret society of which I am a member. What do we do? We invite the bereaved person to our homes on nights which would ordinarily be heart-breaking—on anniversaries or birthdays and, of course, on Christmas. We try to provide and encourage hobbies. In one case we helped in the adoption of a child for a woman who lost her baby. We even have played Cupid, introducing lonely young persons who later married. None of these people suspects what we are doing, not at the time. But later, when they are better adjusted, we invite them to become members. Thus far we have forty-six—a chain that is constantly growing, linked by a common need to comfort and be comforted.

Of course there are so many conditions of life that demand the healing hand of comfort so let us be aware of it and offer ourselves as a channel of God's Spirit in satisfying a need that is so great.

Handy Helpers Participate In 4-H Sunday

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson
Seminole County 4-H Clubs observed National 4-H Sunday last week with members attending the church of their choice and some clubs participating in the services.

Girls of the Lake Monroe 4-H Handy Helpers Club took part in morning worship at Upsala Presbyterian Church and were introduced by Rev. James Hardin, supply pastor.

Brief explanatory talks by the girls heard by the congregation were "Purpose of 4-H Sunday and 'This is the 4-H Club,'" by Tequilla Chesser; "Growing Mentally," by Gail Cooper; "Growing Physically," by Charlene Baker; "Growing Spiritually," by Debbie Smith, and "Growing Socially," by Ruth Bullard. Introduction was given by Audrey Pyle.

Topic of Rev. Hardin's sermon was "A Pastor's Prayer for his People."

REV. CHARLES B. HOGG and Mrs. Hogg of Christ Methodist Church accept gift presented by Clifford Johnson, (right) church leader, at party in their honor. Rev. and Mrs. Hogg, who are retiring from the ministry, will be leaving immediately after this Sunday's morning worship.

Church Honors Retiring Pastor

The congregation of Christ Methodist Church, Sanford, honored the pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Charles B. Hogg, at a friendly get-together last Sunday at the church.

The Hogs are retiring from the ministry and will be making their future home in DeLand. They will be leaving immediately following the morning worship service this Sunday for his church conference in Kentucky.

Mrs. Hogg, attractively attired in a black and white silk print, was presented with a lovely corsage of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses. Rev. Hogg received a white carnation boutonniere.

Clifford Johnson, church lay leader, presented the honored couple with a beautiful engraved silver tray as a gift from the congregation.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth and held a center arrangement of white miniature and larger blue mums, stock and greenery, with blue candies at each side.

The cake, which was decorated in blue and white and had the inscription, "God Bless You," on top, was served by Mrs. Dave Waggoner. Sparkling punch was served from a crystal punch bowl by Mrs. Robert Wade.

Guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

The pastor, Rev. Clifford E. Harrod, will bring a brief sermon related to youth and the entire service will be planned in honor of the graduates.

High school students will serve as ushers for the service and also will participate in other ways. Young people of the community are invited to attend.

Christ Church WSCS Officers Are Installed

Officers of the Christ Methodist Church Women's Society of Christian Service were installed Sunday morning during the worship hour by the pastor, Rev. Charles B. Hogg.

"Let My Light Shine" was the theme for the installation service. Purposes are to provide an opportunity for new officers to search for their true role in the WSCS and to dedicate themselves to their tasks and to provide an opportunity for all members to commit themselves anew to witness and service through the church.

Installed were Mrs. Clifford Johnson, president; Mrs. James Runnels, vice president; Mrs. James Sommerville, secretary and Mrs. Robert Bradbury, treasurer.

Secretaries of work installed were Miss Judy Pauline, promotion; Mrs. W. L. Hiers, Christian social relations; Mrs. Dave Waggoner, spiritual life; Mrs. Carl Bradbury, missionary education and literature and publications; Mrs. H. L. Nielsen, youth and student work, and Mrs. Leo Vorholt, children's work and supply.

First Southern Methodist Has Conference

First Southern Methodist Church held its third quarterly conference May 16 following a morning worship service and Sunday School hour. Rev. D. H. Knight, pastor, presided and reports were heard from Rev. Knight and church officers.

At conclusion of the conference, members of the congregation gathered at the church property on S. Sanford Avenue for an old-fashioned "dinner on the grounds" at the site of the future church building. Invocation was offered by Rev. Knight.

A meeting of the building committee was held last Sunday afternoon for a preliminary planning session to discuss tentative plans for the building program. H. B. McCall, church treasurer, is serving as chairman of the committee.

Vacation Bible School Set For Alliance Church

"Proclaiming Christ Our Peace" will be the theme of the Vacation Bible School to be conducted at the Sanford Alliance Church on Park Avenue from June 7 to 18 under the direction of Mrs. Rena Harrod. Daily sessions will be held from 9 o'clock till 11:30 each morning and children from four years through 16 years of age are invited to attend.

Mrs. Betty Hartman will assist Mrs. Harrod in directing the school and will serve as registrar and song leader. Teachers include Mrs. Pat Dorton, nursery; Mrs. Becky Teston and Miss Bonnie Kelly, beginners; Mrs. Amy Henson and Mrs. Ida Smith, primaries; Mrs. Anne Tynes and Mrs. Joyce Wilson, Juniors. Rev. Clifford E. Harrod, pastor, will teach the intermediates and assist with the music. Assistant teachers will be Mrs. Martha Ayers, Miss Jill Woods and Miss Joann Woods.

Daily activities will include Bible lessons, handicraft, object lessons and the singing of lesson-related choruses and hymns. Patriotism will be emphasized daily by the saluting of the American and Christian flags and pledges of allegiance. A closing demonstration program is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Sunday, June 20, in the church auditorium. Children of the community are invited to attend the school. Further information may be secured by phoning Mrs. Harrod.

Allamonte Guild Has Installation At Luncheon

By Donna Estes
St. Mary Magdalen Catholic Women's Guild held its installation luncheon recently at the Villa Nova Restaurant in Winter Park with Mrs. Charles Callahan, past president of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, serving as installing officer.

Mrs. John Barhydt, retiring president, received a National Council of Catholic Women pin before presenting a gift from the guild to Rev. Hubert J. Reason, pastor.

Fr. Reason addressed the group and spoke of the importance of work being done by lay women of the church, expressed his appreciation to the retiring board members, and his congratulations to the new board.

Members installed were Mrs. Robert Bush, president; Mrs. Carl Warren, first vice president; Mrs. W. F. Hinton, second vice president; Mrs. J. F. Mulson, recording secretary; Mrs. Norman Lansverk, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Maurice Stohler, treasurer; Mrs. J. M. Klein, parliamentarian, and Mrs. R. J. Sullivan, historian.

Mrs. Bush spoke of the aims of the guild for the coming year and welcomed the new board.

Rev. William Stahler, assistant pastor, closed the ceremonies with prayer.

Shirley Smith Circle Conducts Study Course

The program at the May meeting of Shirley Smith Circle of Pinecrest Baptist Church was a study course book taught by Mrs. Johnnie Herin. Title of the book was "Go Home and Tell." Next month's book will be taught by Mrs. Cameron Paulk.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Harold Sherwood, Circle Chairman, with the devotional given by Mrs. Lucille Abrams.

For the Community Mission Project for June the members will bring plants for the parsonage.

Hostess for this meeting was Mrs. V. M. Smith.

Members attending were Mrs. Fred Gray, Mrs. Harold Sherwood, Mrs. Johnnie Herin, Mrs. Adwon Clark, Mrs. S. L. Wiggins, Mrs. C. E. Wade, Mrs. Cameron Paulk, Mrs. V. M. Smith, Mrs. Lucille Abrams and visitors, Mrs. S. G. Beverlin and Mrs. Minna Huackstaedt.

Lutheran Ladies Aid Gives Annual Father-Son Banquet

Many happy and satisfied Fathers and Sons were the reward of the Ladies Aid, Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, last Sunday Night.

The 70 men and boys feasted on the banquet fare prepared in their honor. Each table, depicting some manly sport, was made festive with candlelight and day lilies.

The banquet entertainment consisted of a vocal and guitar number by Chuck Best; a Mood-Medley by a "moley" Klefchen-Band whose unusual instruments were manipulated by the Banquet Committee. Danita Braden pleased the gentlemen with a vocal number accompanied on the piano by her mother.

Guest speaker for the evening was James Lynd, director of the Orange County Detention Home, one of the two in the State of Florida approved by the U. S. Bureau of Prisons Inspection Service. Lynd provided much interesting and helpful information for his attentive listeners.

Among those who received special recognition during the evening were Gilbert Wylie, the oldest gentleman present; the Benkariks, John, Jerry and Skipper, for representing three generations; Phillip Skates attending with the most sons (3), and Hill Holcomb with the most "adopted" sons, the four Rundvall boys.

Class To Meet

The Daughters of Wesley Sunday School Class of First Methodist Church, Sanford, will meet at 3 p.m. Tuesday with Mrs. L. E. Estes, 401 Scott Avenue.

Mrs. Darwin Shea Honored By Class

By Jane Casselberry
Mrs. Darwin Shea, who has resigned as teacher of the Christian Homemakers class of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church, was honored at a surprise "hootenanny" party.

The business meeting was interrupted by a group of folk singers, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Oakley, Rev. and Mrs. Delma Copeland and Mrs. Charles Pierce, and from then on everyone joined in for an evening of fun and music.

Everyone was asked to bring some type of "musical instrument" and many demonstrated a great deal of imagi-on it. Class members gave her charms typical of their work or hobby.

Hosts for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Duncan and Mrs. Albert Harris. Refreshments of sherbet punch and cake were served. The large cake, decorated in red and white with an appropriate message, was baked by Mrs. Harris and decorated by Mrs. G. F. Messick.

A red and white checked table cloth covered the serving table with matching cups and napkins and the centerpiece was of red and white flowers.

In addition to class members, the 45 persons attending included some members of the Senior Choir of which Mrs. Shea has served as director for many years.

Pleasurable Pursuits Open To 'Senior Citizens'

By Dottie Austin

The highest sanctioned game that has ever been bowled at Jet Lanes was rolled a few weeks ago by 60-year-old, silver-haired Hayden Sheets, of Orange City.

It was 290 pins — just one strike away from a perfect game. His first frame was a spare and he then rolled 11 strikes in a row.

Sheets, his wife, son and daughter-in-law make up a team called "The Linens," bowling in the Ball and Chain League on Thursday nights.

A machine designer for Rohr Products in Deland, Sheets has been bowling for 30 years. Asked in what he attributed his championship game, Sheets replied, "Just lucky, I guess."

Sheets is "just a youngster" compared to the years of other active bowlers who range up to 75 and perhaps beyond. John Spolski, owner of the lanes, says he doesn't know the ages of all his bowlers.

"But I do know this — one of the groups that has the most fun and is the liveliest is our Deltona Pin-Busters League, made up entirely of retirees, many of whom never bowled before in their life."

Besides commercial pastimes such as bowling, golfing, movies and sight-seeing trips, many recreational activities and pleasurable pursuits are open to senior citizens of this area through the City Recreation Department, the Tourist Club, churches, clubs and other organizations.

One of the most popular of the Tourist Club activities are the shuffleboard courts, which are the scene of many games and tournaments, with local teams competing with out-of-town teams.

Actually, activities of the Tourist Club are not limited to "tourists" and some of the regular members are year-round residents.

President of the club is Adolph Gutz, who is a winter visitor, but other officers are local residents. Besides shuffleboard games, the club holds suppers, card parties, holiday celebrations and other entertainment.

The City Recreation department sponsors ceramics classes Monday and Wednesday nights at the Cultural Arts Center on Fifth Street at the old library building.

On Wednesday square dancing is held at the Civic Center, with new classes in square and round dancing forming at regular intervals.

Painting, drawing and sketching is a popular hobby with senior citizens, many of whom attend the art classes given at the Cultural Arts Building on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

The City Library is a popular spot for persons with leisure time. Besides books, the library stocks popular magazines, periodicals, house organs and newspapers, with tables and comfortable chairs for reading or studying.

Gardening is another pleasurable pastime that brings its own reward. Lots of sunshine, warm air and rainfall help to produce lush, abundant growth, luxuriant foliage and fragrant blossoms. More than a dozen garden clubs are active in Sanford, plus many more in other communities throughout the area. Central Florida's many lakes, rivers and ponds provide close-at-hand opportunities for swimming, fishing and boating.

Church circles, Sunday School classes and clubs add to the social picture with parties, luncheons, teas and the popular "covered dish suppers."

Bridge clubs and canasta clubs, Welcome Wagon Clubs and fraternal organizations each have their own social events that provide opportunity for fellowship, making new friends and acquaintances.

Beach Barbecue Entertains Susan Perkins And Guests

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Scott and daughter, Maureen, complimented Miss Susan Perkins, a member of the current graduating class with a delightful barbecue and swimming party last Sunday at New Smyrna Beach.

A red and white color scheme was chosen for decorations and red and white checkered cloths were used on the beach tables and the guests sat under red and white beach umbrellas.

Games were played and swimming in the surf was enjoyed. The barbecue consisted of hamburgers with all the trimmings topped off with Mrs. Scott's famous "Brownies" with marshmallow, fudge coated icing.

Miss Perkins received a beautiful white straw handbag as a hostess gift from the Scotts.

Those invited to join in the fun were the honoree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brack Perkins, Susan Perkins, Bruce Dowlen, Donna Collins, Joe Farless, Pat McGuire, Buddy Burton, Susan Piercy, Joe Purdy, Linda Spencer, Jimmy Courier, Elaine Echols, Tony Gonzales, Janie White, Gary Lloyd, Kathy Butler and Jimmy Dodson.

Dwayne Clutter Party Honoree On Birthday

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
Dwayne Clutter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Clutter, celebrated his sixth birthday recently with a party at his home.

The children played games and were given favors of balloons and blowouts.

Enjoying the birthday cake, ice cream and punch were James, Jack, Jud and Joe Martin, Tammy Holland, Tammy Todd, Tina Nettles, Carolin Pickles, Cindy Lightner, Johnny and Jasper Allman, William, Cindy and Brenda Clutter.

Assisting Mrs. Clutter were Mrs. James Martin and Mrs. J. L. Allman.

Miss Jeanne Robson, C.S. Schwartz United In Impressive Church Rites

Miss Ruth Jean Robson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robson Sr., of Sanford, and Carlton Samuel Schwartz Jr., of Springfield, Ohio, son of Mrs. Harry Abe and Carlton Schwartz Sr., were united in holy matrimony Wednesday, May 28, the eve of the Ascension, at 7 p.m. at Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

The Rev. Leroy Soper officiated at the impressive candlelight and double ring ceremony.

Accenting the main altar were two imported brass vases containing white stock, white carnations and gypsophelia and two standard baskets beautifully arranged with white glads and stock combined with salal foliage. Tall white tapers glowed in the four-branched cathedral candelabra with potted palms placed at vantage points.

The choir rail was banked with trailing heather leaf fern and the pews were marked with white satin ribbons, greens and candles. White nylon velvet roping identified the family pews.

Miss Pearl Buck, organist and director of music, played several selections during the pre-wedding recital. She presented "March in B Flat" by Handel as the Processional and "Rigaudon" by Campra, as the Recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride was radiant in a white formal gown of peau de sole and Chantilly lace. The fitted lace bodice featured a pearl encrusted Sabrina neckline with the bracelet length sleeves of peau de sole accented with open work of Chantilly lace. Her semi-bell skirt was fashioned with a deep unpressed pleat at the waist front with a tailored bow at the back, cascading floor length streamers, enhancing the full sweeping chapel train. Highlighting the gown train was a large open lace applique motif at the hemline.

Her headpiece was a matching Chantilly lace mantilla mounted on an open pill box, falling to a fingertip veil. She carried a splendid cascade bouquet of white roses with green velvet leaves adding depth to the detachable orchid corsage in the center.

Miss Linda Gaye Robson attended her sister as maid of honor and attending as bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Fulford, Cocoa; Miss Susan Schirmer, New York City, and Miss Bonnie Gielow, Miss Merritt Phillips and Miss Debbie Scott, all from Sanford.

The bridesmaids were lovely, smartly attired in street length gowns of splashing pink parrot chiffon and white lace. The empire bodices featured a scoop neckline and short cap sleeves. The billowy chiffon skirt fell into soft folds with a Dior bow accenting the front empire waistline. Their double petal veils of imported silk illusion fell from a matching circlet headpiece.

The maid of honor carried a dainty cascade combining pink sweetheart roses, white carnations and green velvet leaves edged with ruffled netting. The bridesmaids carried similar cascade bouquets of pink sweetheart roses. Harry E. Robson Jr., brother of the bride, served the groom as best man and usher.

Margaret L. Davis To Present Piano Recital Tuesday

Margaret L. Davis will present her piano pupils in their annual recital on Tuesday, June 1, at 8:15 p.m. at the Woman's Club on Oak Avenue.

A social hour will follow the program with refreshments served. The public is cordially invited to attend the piano recital.

Mrs. Carlton Samuel Schwartz, Jr.

Miss Sandra Mays, J. Ulrey Exchange Vows Of Marriage

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful white street length brocade dress with long sleeves, tapered at the wrist. The fitted bodice featured a round neckline, and over the skirt, she wore a bell shaped over skirt fastened in the front with a bow. Her short veil was attached to a flat bow and she carried a bridal bouquet of white roses.

Three branched standing candelabra, containing tall white candles, made a lovely background for the two large bouquets containing white mums and gladioli, spaced with pale pink carnations.

W. H. Martin, organist, played the wedding music and Merritt Staley sang a wedding prayer.

Miss Gay Ulrey, sister of the groom, the only attendant, was attired in a petal pink silk peau de sole street length dress with soft pleats on either side of the skirt. The sleeveless fitted bodice with a round neckline was covered with a waist length, short sleeved jacket of the same material and tied in the back with tiny bows. Her headpiece was a matching pink bow with a short circular veil. Her bouquet was a large cluster of pink carnations.

Seating guests were Johnny Courier and Walter Teague. Lighting the candles were Billy Colbert, Sanford, cousin of the groom, and Walter Teague Jr. Serving as best man was the groom's fraternity brother from Winter Park, Michael Ogilvie.

WES SAYS:

There was a young woman who lived in a shoe. She had lots of children but she knew what to do. She washed her clothes at WES-KAY. For she found it was true she got DOUBLE LOADS for a QUARTER. And clothes much CLEANER, too.

ers were Bud Taylor, Bill McGee, David Jamison, Roger Clark and Henry Schumaker. Mrs. Robson chose for her daughter's wedding a rich royal rose lace sheath accented with touches of matching satin over peau de sole. Her accessories were matching rose and she wore a white Phalaenopsis orchid corsage. The Mayfair Inn was the site for the elaborate reception with a round marble top table holding a crescent of white mums in an alabaster container, outlined with the bridal attendants' bouquets, centering the entrance foyer.

The receiving line formed against a background of potted palms and magnolia blossoms with a profusion of greenery and magnificent arrangements tastefully and artistically adorning the spacious lobby.

Centering the two oblong punch tables, arranged at an angle, was a round table with the beautiful, traditional, tiered wedding cake forming the centerpiece. The tables, covered in pink satin, were overlaid in white net with the frilly skirts edged in lace. The sides were gracefully draped with pink roses interspersed along the folds and at the corners.

The beautifully appointed punch tables featured branched candelabra containing tall white tapers and arranged with pink sweetheart roses, white carnations and snaps, baby's breath and heather fern, at each end. Sparkling pink punch floating dainty nosegays in handsome silver punch bowls graced the opposite end of each table.

Suspended from the ceiling over the bride's table was a cluster of white wedding bells tinged with silver and showered with pink satin streamers.

Mrs. Jim Robson and Mrs. Charles Meeks greeted the guests at the door with Miss Anne Crapps and Miss Rose Kraetzler in charge of the bride's book. Pouring were Mrs. Arthur Beckwith, Mrs. W. M. Phillips, Mrs. B. L. Perkins Jr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson and Mrs. M. L. Raborn Jr. and Mrs. Walter A. Gielow cutting the cake.

Floating hostesses were the Misses Michele Jones, Pat McGuire, Angela Hurt, Melanie Hurt, Myra Meeks, Patricia Perkins, Linda Spencer and Betty Odham.

For her going away outfit the bride chose an aqua imported linen sheath and lace coat ensemble with matching aqua accessories and she wore the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to Miami, the newly weds will be at home at 504 Francis Boulevard, Lakeland. Approximately 40 out of town wedding guests were in attendance.

The orchids worn by both mothers were grown by the groom's father who had them made into corsages.

royal rose lace sheath accented with touches of matching satin over peau de sole. Her accessories were matching rose and she wore a white Phalaenopsis orchid corsage. The Mayfair Inn was the site for the elaborate reception with a round marble top table holding a crescent of white mums in an alabaster container, outlined with the bridal attendants' bouquets, centering the entrance foyer.

The receiving line formed against a background of potted palms and magnolia blossoms with a profusion of greenery and magnificent arrangements tastefully and artistically adorning the spacious lobby.

Centering the two oblong punch tables, arranged at an angle, was a round table with the beautiful, traditional, tiered wedding cake forming the centerpiece. The tables, covered in pink satin, were overlaid in white net with the frilly skirts edged in lace. The sides were gracefully draped with pink roses interspersed along the folds and at the corners.

The beautifully appointed punch tables featured branched candelabra containing tall white tapers and arranged with pink sweetheart roses, white carnations and snaps, baby's breath and heather fern, at each end. Sparkling pink punch floating dainty nosegays in handsome silver punch bowls graced the opposite end of each table.

Suspended from the ceiling over the bride's table was a cluster of white wedding bells tinged with silver and showered with pink satin streamers.

Mrs. Jim Robson and Mrs. Charles Meeks greeted the guests at the door with Miss Anne Crapps and Miss Rose Kraetzler in charge of the bride's book. Pouring were Mrs. Arthur Beckwith, Mrs. W. M. Phillips, Mrs. B. L. Perkins Jr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson and Mrs. M. L. Raborn Jr. and Mrs. Walter A. Gielow cutting the cake.

Floating hostesses were the Misses Michele Jones, Pat McGuire, Angela Hurt, Melanie Hurt, Myra Meeks, Patricia Perkins, Linda Spencer and Betty Odham.

Christian Principles Are Basis Of Forest Lake Academy

Forest Lake Academy is fully accredited by the Department of Education of the State of Florida and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. It is a Seventh-day Adventist institution owned and operated by the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. It is governed on the basis of Christian principles.

In a land of excellent educational opportunity offered at public expense, a private school should have a special reason for its establishment. Private schools should differ sufficiently from state schools to justify their existence. The unique character and standards of Seventh-day Adventists justify their operation of such a school as Forest Lake Academy, which offers its advantages to young men and women of good character and earnest purpose. The ultimate objective in Christian education is the development of sound character. The government of the academy is therefore based upon a clear definition of Christian principles of conduct as taught and practiced by the Seventh-day Adventist church, supported by a program which fosters the development of habits of self-control and self-discipline which constitutes the social expression of these principles. The highest type of government is self-government, based upon voluntary acceptance of these standards of personal conduct and of social relations which will insure the greatest common good.

The conception of Christian education among Seventh-day Adventists comprehends more than the pursuit of a certain course of study. It means more than a preparation for the life that now is. It has to do with the whole being, and with the whole period of existence possible to man. "It is the harmonious development of the physical, the mental, and the spiritual powers. It prepares the student for the joy of service in this world, and for the higher joy of wider service in the world to come."

In harmony with this conception, the objectives of the academy have been restated in the following terms:

1. To lead its students, by means of a Christian phil-sophy of life, to know God and to enjoy a daily walk with Him.

2. To assist in the formation of a noble Christian character by placing great emphasis on the spiritual values in life.

3. To develop habits of accuracy, discrimination and sound judgment in thinking and doing.

4. To combine technical knowledge with skills, to react alertly to the exigencies of a vocation or a profession.

5. To develop minds trained to view with understanding and historical perspective, the religious, social, scientific, racial and economic forces which shape contemporary life.

6. To stimulate thought and culture by intellectual contact with the greatest thinkers of our own and former times, and to foster an appreciation for the best in books, in nature, in music, and in all the fine arts.

7. To inculcate sound principles of homemaking and to develop the social graces. To cultivate a sense of civic responsibility and a spirit of personal service.

8. To assist students to develop a desirable personality and to discover capabilities, aptitudes and interests latent within themselves.

9. To have the student understand and practice the principles of healthful living, and to recognize that physical fitness is the foundation for any achievement in life.

10. To develop in the student a sense of the dignity of labor and of financial responsibility, by providing for gainful employment thus correlating theory and practice.

Forest Lake Academy offers the student a choice of three courses of study. These are the General Academic (passing grades required), College Preparatory (C average required), and Enriched Honors (B average required). Twenty units are required for the first two courses of study, and 22 units for the latter. Five to five and one-half units is considered a full school load.

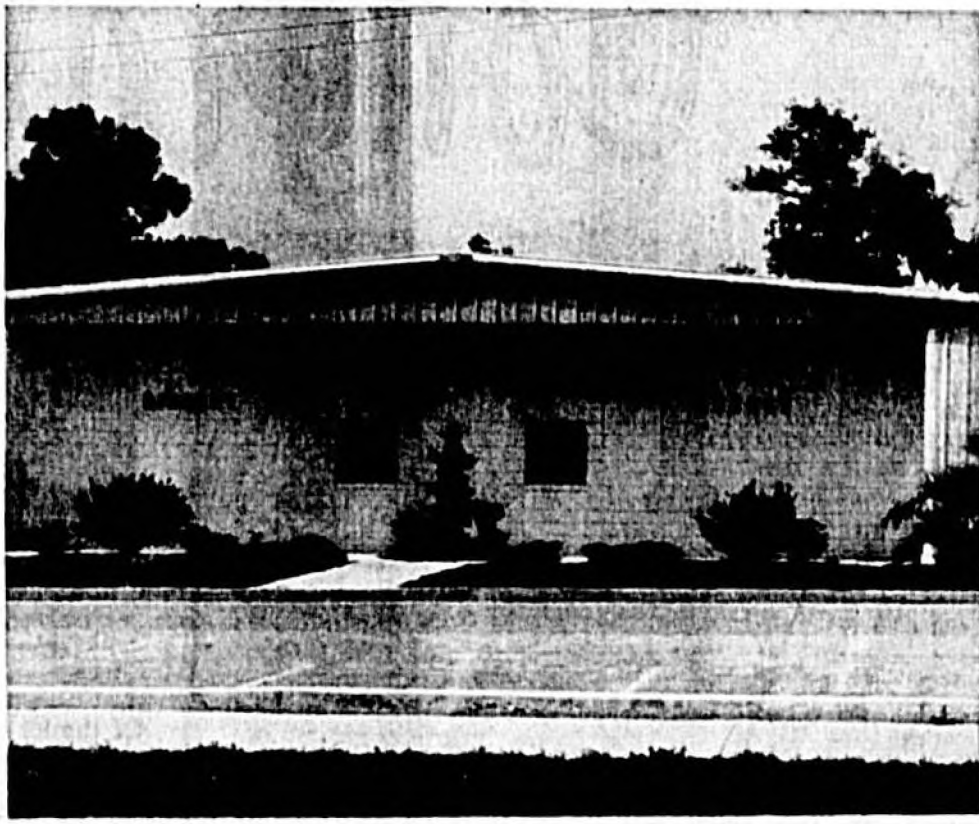

The work program is set up primarily to help the dormitory student defray part of his school expenses. Day students are employed when the work program demands more workers than can be supplied by dormitory students. It is possible for a student to earn a considerable amount toward his school expenses. Students work on an hour rate ranging from 35 cents to 75 cents, depending on their faithfulness at work and their age and experience in that particular type of work. There are industries on the campus where students can earn as high as $1.25 per hour.

Forest Lake Academy is located about four miles east of Apopka on State Highway 436, which connects U. S. 17-92, U. S. 441 and Interstate 4. Post office address is Maitland, Fla. The school campus overlooks beautiful Mirror Lake, and is 11 miles from Orlando, the "City Beautiful."

Students earn toward school expenses in new commercial laundry.

This building houses the Academy's bindery and press.

Campus maintenance operations center is this structure.

Miller, Anderson Are Devoted Sponsors Of 1965 Senior Class

Co-sponsors of the Senior Class are Mr. Roger L. Miller, instructor in physical education and Medical Cadet Corps director; and Mr. Clinton James Anderson, English and art instructor.

Mr. Miller was graduated from Union College, Lincoln, Nebraska, in 1961, where he received the B. S. degree in physical education. After his graduation he remained at Union College to teach in the physical education area. At Forest Lake he has sponsored the F.L.A. Gymnastic Team, social activities of the Student Association, and has led out in the intramural sports program. He has also served as assistant boys' dormitory dean.

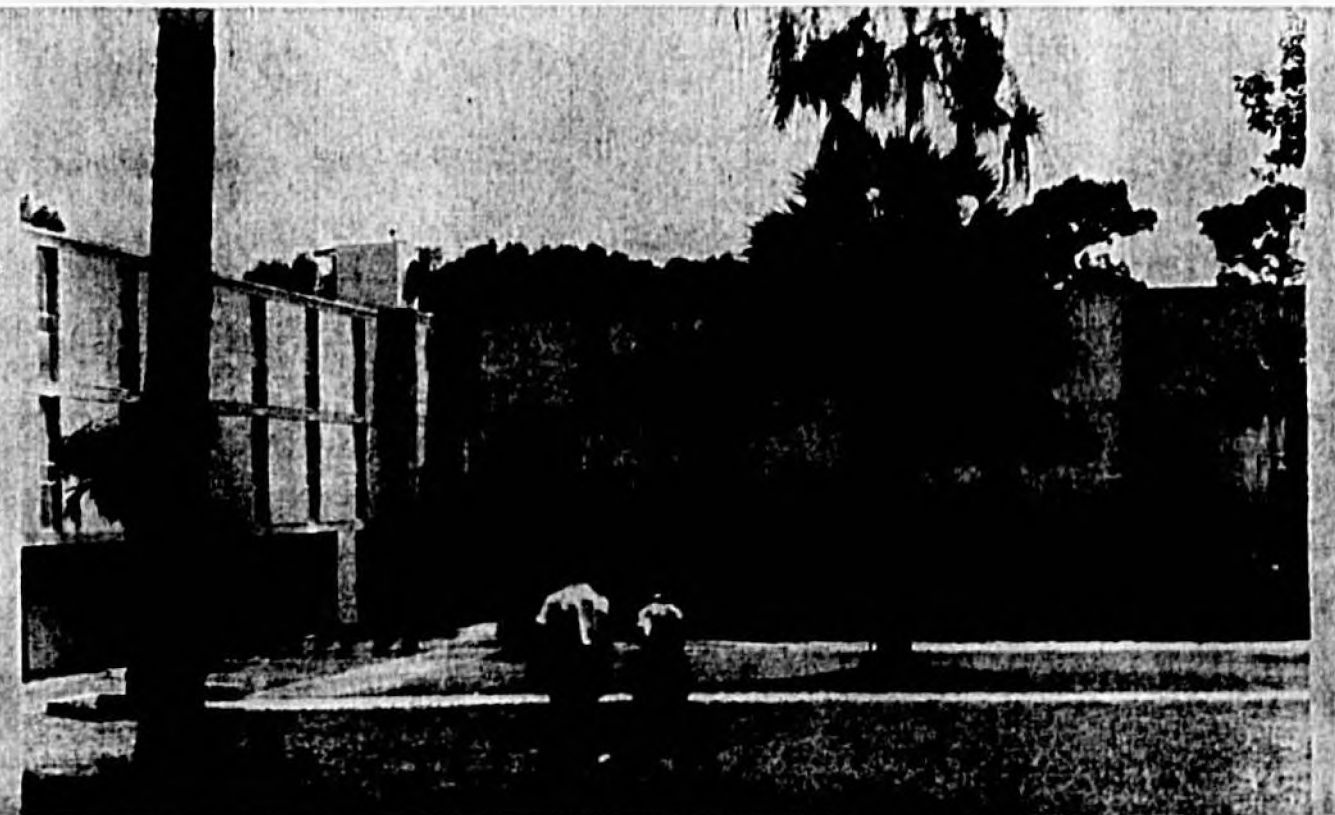

Graduated from Emmanuel Missionary College, Berrien Springs, Michigan, Mr. Anderson majored in English and art and received the B. A. degree in each area in 1963. He was graduated with honors and was elected to be in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. This is his second year to teach at Forest Lake. Hobbies are photography and oil painting, and he enjoys participating in sports such as soft ball, swimming, volleyball and tennis.

Seventh-day Adventist schools carefully choose their students. Only those of good character are admitted.

First semester of the school year 1965-66 will begin August 29. Classes begin August 31. The fall week of prayer is observed Sept. 26 to Oct. 2.

New Dormitory For Girls Open, Residents In Thumbnail Sketches Tell Life Of Students At Forest Lake

The new North Wing of Memorial Hall girls dormitory was completed this spring and the first residents have already moved in.

The new unit can house 140 girls and includes a chapel with a seating capacity for 100. It features a split-level lobby and lounge and contains a party room complete with kitchen.

The new wing is as fire proof as possible. It is of concrete block construction, with concrete stairways and concrete roof structure. The furniture is built-in and covered with formica.

Groundbreaking for the $200,000 Forest Lake Seventh-day Adventist Church was conducted March 14 before an audience of many church dignitaries and members.

Voted by her classmates as most intellectual, Meredith Summer rightly deserves this title. She has maintained a 4.0 grade point average through all four years of high school. Besides being valedictorian of the senior class, she is also President of the Teachers of Tomorrow Club, a member of the Reflector staff, and a member of the Beta and Spanish Clubs. Working in the Bindery has given her good experience and has helped her to earn a large share of her tuition. Her plans are to attend Southern Missionary College to train for elementary education. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Summer of Collegedale, Tennessee, where her father teaches math and science in elementary school.

Lynn Neilson, co-editor of The Reflector, has been a student of Forest Lake Academy for his junior and senior years. Prior, he attended Plainview Academy, Radfield, S.D., where he was President of the freshman class and won the American Legion Award for Citizenship and Leadership. He has been on the honor roll all four years of high school and is a member of the Beta Club. His plans are to take pre-law at Southern Missionary College this coming fall and then attend Newbold College in England for his sophomore year. Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Neilson, reside at 173 Willow Avenue in Maitland, Florida.

Leo James' activities have been varied during her academy years. She has served as secretary of the Sabbath school, Missionary Volunteer leader, an editor of the Reflector, vice-president of the church choir, and as a member of the tumbling team. At the Florida Sanitarium she worked as a laboratory assistant and at the Academy Bindery as a stamper to help defray her academy expenses. Her work at Camp Kulaqua near High Springs, Fla., earned her a scholarship during the summertime. Originally from Norfolk, Va., she now lives with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lucas in Orlando. This summer she plans to go to Southern Missionary College, Collegedale, Tennessee, to work at McKee Bakery before school in the fall.

Vice-president of the senior class is Angel Zagorsky, from Bakersfield, California. Angel contributed to the Forest Lake chapter of the American Temperance Society as its off-campus program chairman, visiting local high schools and churches with films, lectures, demonstrations and a play. Musical activities of the academy have often included Angel's talent for singing, and she has served as vice-president of the chorale, for which she has also done solo work. She has been a member of the Beta Club, the campus honor society, and has been vice-president of the girls' dormitory club. Angel plans on beginning her college work this summer and attending Bakersfield Junior College in the fall. She would like to be a legal secretary.

David Wood, son of Elder and Mrs. R. H. Wood, is Missionary Volunteer President of '65. Along with this title, he has held the offices of Seminar president, American Temperance Society president of '63-'64, junior class pastor, chorale pastor, and chairman of the Student-Faculty Senate. He was voted as the boy most spiritual and best all around by his classmates. His father is pastor of the Baltimore First Seventh-day Adventist Church in Baltimore, Maryland. Theology is going to be his major at Southern Missionary College next fall.

The senior class treasurer, Jennie Walker has earned all of her tuition as an employee in the bindery. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Walker, reside in Jacksonville, Florida. Mr. Walker is a real-estate salesman. Jennie plans to attend Southern Missionary College in Tennessee this coming fall to major in secretarial science.

Senior class president, Bill McDowell, also a member of the Student-Faculty Senate, the Student Association recreation committee, and is on The Reflector staff. He is receiving good training while working in the laboratory of Holiday Hospital. The son of Dr. and Mrs. McDowell, he is planning to take a law course at Southern Missionary College in Tennessee next year.

Salutatorian and secretary of the senior class is Connie Arnold. Her home is in Melbourne, Fla., where her father, Elder William C. Arnold, is pastor of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. A member of the Beta Club, she has also held the offices of Student Association secretary, First semester Girls' Club President, Girls' Club Treasurer, snapshot editor of The Mirror, and was voted by her classmates as most spiritual and most dependable. She will attend Southern Missionary College next fall as a medical secretary. Many hours of beautiful music have been rendered by her agile fingers gracing the piano keyboard.

Earning the title of witless, Fred Minesinger is an off-campus student of Forest Lake Academy. He is a co-editor of The Reflector, President of the Spanish Club, Pastor of the Music Club, and a member of the band. He has presided over the job of being a chemistry reader. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Minesinger, reside at 911 South Bear Lake Road. His father is head of the science department at Forest Lake. He plans to major in math or chemistry at Southern Missionary College.

Reba Hall, daughter of Mrs. Marjorie Hall of Orlando, served as editor of the school yearbook, The Mirror, this year. Voted by her classmates as the girl most likely to succeed, Reba has held the offices of secretary of her sophomore class, secretary of the Beta Club, vice-president of the Spanish Club, Sergeant-At-Arms of the band, assistant secretary of the Student Association, and was a member of The Reflector staff. She won a Betty Crocker Homemaker's Award Trophy and received a $100 scholarship for college. Reba has attended Forest Lake for all four years of high school. She plans to take secretarial training at Southern Missionary College in Tennessee.

Congratulations FOREST LAKE

SENIOR CLASS DATA:

Of the 82 senior class members there are 36 boys and 46 girls. Thirty-one of them have attended all four years at Forest Lake Academy. The Beta Club, the campus honor society, included 20 members of the senior class — students with outstanding scholarship, citizenship and leadership qualities.

The class recently visited Southern Missionary College, Collegedale, Tennessee, on their class trip. SMC is a Seventh-Day Adventist liberal arts college which serves the young people of the Southern Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists. Many of the Forest Lake senior class members will attend SMC this fall.

Seven states outside Florida are represented from California to Pennsylvania. Thirty-seven students live in towns outside the Orlando, Winter Park, Maitland and Apopka and Forest City area.

New Look Evolves At Forest Lake

A new look is evolving on the campus of Forest Lake Academy in Forest City. The school has grown steadily in physical proportions in the past five years, and buildings and industries have been added to accommodate the additional needs.

According to Principal William Fuchs the new look began with the paving of key roads on the campus, the ones beside the boys' and girls' dormitories and the road between the Florida Conference youth auditorium and the present industrial arts building. A complete sewage disposal plant was also erected in the pasture near the maintenance building. These installations were completed in 1962 at an approximate cost of $42,000.

Soon after the completion of the roads and sewage disposal plant, a new maintenance building was erected. This is an all steel prefabricated Butler building costing about $30,000.

After some study it was decided that the school needed more industries to supply students with work. Another Butler building, approximately 80 feet by 100 feet, was built during the spring and summer of 1962, which houses the Forest Lake Book Bindery and also the Academy Press; the two wooden structures which formerly housed the press were demolished. The bindery and press were built at a cost of over $40,000.

Since 1961 three faculty homes, three and four bedrooms, and a duplex with two bedrooms on each side have been built on the campus.

McClure Hall, the boys' dormitory, was completed in the early fall of 1963. It will house about 125 boys, and features air conditioning throughout and is completely fire resistant. The $230,000 structure also has a lovely chapel which is used for morning and evening worship services, as well as prayer meetings for the church.

Two cement block buildings have been added to the gymnasium facilities for use as shower rooms, rest rooms, and locker rooms for the physical education students. It totaled over $50,000.

During the fall and summer of 1962 work was begun on the cafeteria building which also housed the home economics department and band practice room. It was complete by June of 1963 at a cost of $180,000. The cafeteria features an all electric, stainless steel kitchen, and is considered to be one of the finest and most complete kitchens for such an institution in the Central Florida area. It has a dining room capacity of approximately 300 people.

The recently completed laundry employs students, who earn part of their school expenses working there. It features all new equipment: washers and extractor combinations, a mangle and linen-folding machines. Building and equipment cost $120,000.

Completed this month is the north wing of the girls' residence hall. The old building is in the process of being razed, and the east wing will be constructed for occupancy as soon as possible. When completed, the dormitory will accommodate about 150 girls. Featured in the building is an attractive chapel seating 175 people, used for morning and evening worships, a kitchenette and well-furnished guest rooms. This building is a $250,000 construction.

A tragic fire last summer destroyed the administration building, which housed the music department, chapel, classrooms, library and administrative offices. These departments moved into temporary quarters on campus, using vacated faculty housing for classrooms, and partitioning off parts of other rooms to provide needed space. A new administration building complex is now under construction and will house three separate buildings connected by a covered walkway: a two-story classroom unit, to include 11 classrooms; a building for administrative offices; and a library. $270,000 is the anticipated expense.

The new look of the future on the Forest Lake Academy campus will include a music building, student chapel, church, and recreation field.

THE BRAND NEW GIRLS residence hall was recently completed on the Forest Lake Academy campus. It also was constructed by Groves Builders. Another wing on the dormitory is expected to start next week after school is out.

NEW ADMINISTRATION Building now under construction on the campus is being built by Groves Builders, General Contractors. It is expected to be completed by December, 1965.

Academy Bounces Back After Fire

It had been a muggy day and a sure bet rain would be coming soon.

Things were quiet around Forest Lake Academy; school was out, most students had gone home as had members of the faculty.

The Fourth of July weekend was approaching, quietly, with no hint of violence. Then the rain came and with it a spectacular display of lightning. Thunder rolled across the campus of the Academy.

Darkness fell and with the darkness the lightning appeared to grow in intensity. An ear-splitting thunderclap rocked the Academy area.

Seconds later a flicker of light started inside the Administration Building. It spread quickly until it appeared to come from all parts of the structure.

Fire!

The alarm was sounded for nearby fire departments. They sped to the scene, laid hoses as rapidly as possible. First they used water from the Academy's 10,000-gallon reserve tank. It was not enough.

They dispatched a pump to nearby Mirror Lake and tons upon tons of water were poured on the inferno. But the blaze had too much of a headstart.

Firemen from virtually every surrounding community responded to the call for help. They tried desperately to salvage as much of the building as possible. They failed.

After virtually an all-night battle the tally stood like this:

The library was gone. So were the laboratories, the offices, classrooms, bookstore, assembly hall and music studios.

While firemen were still on standby duty at the scene, Principal William Fuchs announced that school would be ready for the fall opening.

The vow held true. Virtually every day except the Sabbath, volunteers joined the professional workers in getting the Academy back in fullscale operation.

Came time for school to open and things were back to normal. The $250,000 blaze had disappeared—except in the memory of those who saw it.

Forest Lake Academy was established in 1925 by the Seventh Day Adventist Church to provide moral and religious education and guidance; purposes not available in public school.

About half of the students are dormitory students and the other half from the Central Florida area.

The Academy includes grades 9 through 12, offering a regular college preparatory course and vocational subjects. In addition, each student is required to take a class in the study of the Bible.

Dormitory students work at the school to earn part of their tuition.

A work program is set up at the Academy to help dormitory students defray part of their school expenses. It is possible for a student to earn a considerable amount toward his school expenses.

The Academy was first organized in 1918 and established on the grounds of the Florida Sanitarium in Orlando. It was then known as Winyah Lake Academy.

Forest Lake Academy has a band of over 70 pieces and many instrumental groups.

'007' Returns

The world's greatest secret agent is back and the Ritz Theatre's got him! Meaning the great James Bond—"007" to his fans—in not one, but two great action dramas! Which it is pointed out, means double the danger, double the women, double the excitement—and double the fun!

The big double bill stars Sean Connery as "007" in both "Dr. No" and "From Russia With Love," and the twin bill opened Thursday at the Ritz Theatre. Both are being presented by Harry Saltzman and Albert R. Broccoli, and both, of course, are from the world-famous mystery-adventure novels of Ian Fleming. Ursula Andress is the beauty in "Dr. No," and Joseph Wiseman stars in the title role. Jack Lord plays Felix Leiter and co-star Bernard Lee plays "M."

The beauty in "From Russia With Love"—and nobody can say that "007" can't pick 'em—is Daniela Bianchi, an eye-fil if ever there was one. Pedro Armendariz, Lotte Lenya co-star with Lee again playing "M." Both pictures are United Artist releases, and both were directed by Terence Young from screenplays by Richard Maibaum. They are both in Technicolor. A lot of territory is covered in the twin adventure. "Dr. No" which is about a megalomaniac scientist who has discovered a way to blow the earth out of the universe, takes place in Jamaica and its adjacent keys.

The other, "From Russia With Love," is about an infamous red plot to lure Bond to his destruction, using the gorgeously proportioned and shaped Miss Bianchi as bait.

In announcing the great James Bond double-bill, the management of the Ritz Theatre reminds that the bill is "double danger, double the women, double the excitement and double the fun."

Villanova Seeks 6th Track Title

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UPI) — Villanova's mighty Wildcats, who have monopolized the ICAA championships for almost a decade, begin their quest for a sixth consecutive title in the nation's oldest track meet today at Rutgers University Stadium.

The 89th ICAA carnival, which will conclude Saturday after a total of 18 events, has attracted a field of 57 schools from the eastern seaboard, including powerful Harvard and Maryland. But the favorite's male, as usual, has fallen on Villanova.

"DR. NO" is the feature attraction this week at the Ritz Theatre. It is a sequel to the ever-popular super-spy, James Bond, or should we call him "007." Starts Sunday at the Ritz.

Newman Stars

CLAIRE BLOOM struggles against a terrorizing Paul Newman, playing a Mexican bandit who has kidnapped her, in MGM's "The Outrage," which opens at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre Sunday for a three-night run. Laurence Harvey, Edward G. Robinson and William Shatner also star in the gripping drama.

Paul Newman enacts the most unusual and controversial role of his career in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's drama "The Outrage," which opens at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre Sunday for a three-day run.

Also starring in the film are Claire Bloom and Edward G. Robinson.

The movie is set in the West during the latter part of the last century. The story centers around a vicious bandit, portrayed by Newman, who has been convicted and sentenced to hang for the murder of a southern gentleman, played by Laurence Harvey, and the violation of the latter's wife.

"The Outrage" was filmed in Panavision, largely outdoors on locations in Southern California and Arizona.

TABLE HOPPING

By Dottie Austin

SATURDAY NIGHT is the last night for the popular "Illusions," Gene Shelton and Billy Short who have had such a successful run at the CAPRI LOUNGE AND RESTAURANT for many weeks. Dom Pattatucci is planning a big farewell party in their honor and everyone is invited. Last chance to see this fabulous duo so be sure to make your reservations for the CAPRI, Saturday! Beginning Monday, May 31, a new group called the "Astronauts" will take over the bandstand to entertain you. Where else but at the CAPRI will you find such consistently fine entertainment? This pair, Buddy Heller and Chips Walker, who make up this zany twosome are real fine musicians, as well as clowns. Piano, drums, and some real weird musical instruments, plus singing and comedy numbers. Remember the business luncheon's at the Capri and their fine catering service.

BILLY SHORT

GENE SHELTON

MAR-LOU RESTAURANT AND LOUNGE is back with Tablehopping this week reminding you that they have "The Castaways" on hand for your entertainment and enjoyment. Remember that the MAR-LOU is famous for their charcoal steak dinners and don't forget that they serve luncheon, too. The orchestra tunes up at 9:30 p.m. so be sure you are there when the fun starts, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. Open all other nights, too, except for Sunday.

TRADE WINDS is the spot to take the whole family to dine in high style with specialties on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights. A wonderfully tempting array of fine foods, all prepared and ready to serve as you pass through their line, with so many delicious-looking dishes it's hard to choose. Fast, efficient service and remember that they have the finest catering in Central Florida.

INN? Fresh crisp blue water perch, crunchy homemade french-fries, spicy baked beans, creamy slow and good ol' grits complete the menu, with platters full of all-you-can-eat. Remember that they have the same good service and fine food when they have their all-you-can-eat chicken dinner on Monday nights.

FAMOUS FOR FOOD is FREDDIE'S Steak House in Fern Park, probably the most popular fine restaurant in Central Florida—so popular in fact, that it is wise to make reservations if you plan to dine there this weekend. The excellent cuisine, efficient service and delightful atmosphere all make FREDDIE'S a wonderful place to take those VIP's that you want to impress—whether personal friends or business associates. In the Lamplighter Lounge you will enjoy the music of Jay Miller at the piano, while in the Galleight dining room violinist Bill Adler will entertain you.

HAVE YOU SEEN the funny pictures with their clever gag captions on the walls at the CARIBE COCKTAIL LOUNGE in the Valdez Hotel? Some of the saniest, kookiest and raunchiest we have seen—wonder who thinks them up? Remember that the music on Friday nights is on the house, so all you have to do to hear your favorite songs is punch the button for listening or dancing pleasure. Drinks are special prices for the ladies during the happy hour from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

To Meet Sneed
ASHFORD, England (UPI) — Charlie Ward won the $5,000 Teacher Senior tournament with a sub-par 71 in the final round Thursday. The victory qualifies Ward, a former British Ryder Cup golfer, to meet Sam Sneed in a final round in Lancashire, July 4. Sneed won the American section again this year. The meeting will give Ward a chance to avenge the defeat he received at the hands of Sneed in the Ryder Cup match. "That defeat," says Ward, "still rankles."

Seminole Gridders In Spring Practice Tilt Tonight

Test Goes Under Lights 8 O'Clock

Seminole High School football fans will get a preview of the 1965 Seminole in the annual Black-Spring practice game. The contest gets underway at 8 o'clock at Sanford Municipal Stadium. There will be no admission charge. There have been 67 boys who participated in spring practice during the past three years, and Athletic Director Ganas has said tonight's tilt will be "a pretty even" one. "The boys have been doing well," Ganas said. "They are showing a lot of spirit." He has no head mentor, due to the resignation of Coach ... the boys got off to a start in spring practice, ... the new coach would ... med. Without the new ... the boys spent much of ... time in working on ... mentals.

Memorial Day Drag Race Events Slated

Special Memorial Day weekend drag races, sponsored by the Seminole Timing Association, will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Osceola Drag Strip with $1,875 in prize money to be awarded. Saturday night the gates will open at 8:30 with time trials at 7 and eliminations getting underway at 10. On Sunday, activities begin at 10 a.m. when the gates open. Time trials are slated for 11 and eliminations at 3 p.m.

CPO Smacks Elks, Snaps Winning Streak

CPO sidetracked the Elks' express last night, winning 5-2 over the Junior League first ball champs. The loss snapped an Elks seven game winning streak and was their first defeat since April 28. Bobby Lundquist limited Elks to four hits in receiving credit for the triumph. Lundquist was bothered by control problems, issuing 12 walks but managed to get out of trouble successfully. Elks stranded 11 base runners.

Legion Opens 1965 Baseball Slate Saturday

Sanford's American Legion Campbell-Lossing Post No. 53 will open its 1965 baseball season Saturday night at Pinehurst Park against Orlando Post No. 242. Game time is 7:30.

Post 53 was the sixth district winner last year and runner-up in the Central Florida area tournament at Fort Pierce. The team eliminated Tampa and Bradenton, only to lose the final round to Fort Pierce.

Probable starting lineup for Saturday night's game will find Sanford fielding Jimmy Courier on the mound, Rex Brooks behind the plate, Eddie Fitzgerald at first base, Billy Kuykendall at second, Ronnie Hinson at shortstop, Bernie Barbour at third, Danny Tillis in left field, Donnie Griffin in center and Donnie Smith in right.

Rounding out the squad are Ricky Sires, Ray Pivec, Eddie Eldridge, Billy Higgins, Steve Harris, Chris Akers, Frank Whigham, Danny Lee, Tim Colbert, Jimmy Anderson and Dick Mamale.

The team is coached and managed by Frank Thomas and J. W. Kuykendall. Post 53 is in the Sixth District, composed of Eustis, Casselberry and four teams from Orlando.

Longwood Braves Stage Rally To Dump North Orlando Cards

By Jim Bacc... Herald Sports Writer
The Longwood Braves scored six runs in the seventh inning last night to register an 8-7, come-from-behind victory over the North Orlando Cardinals in Senior League play at Casselberry.

Trailing 6-2 going into the last frame the Braves erupted for six runs to earn the victory for Pitcher Jim Finch. Finch also led the Longwood hitting attack with a pair of doubles and a single. Mike Shaw hit three singles for the Braves, Terry Roberts rapped a pair of singles and George Simpkins and Tom Milwee had a single apiece to round out the 10-hit attack.

North Orlando rapped out nine hits, including three singles by Mike Kreeck, a double and single by Ed Wire, a double by Bob Hawk, and singles by Bo Smart, Bobby Evers and Ron Stephenson.

The Braves also took the Little League game by a score of 4-3 over the Cardinals, with a two-run rally in the last inning.

North Orlando tallied first in the contest with a run in the second frame. The Braves scored two in the top of the third to take the lead, but the Redbirds came back with

Seminole Thoroughbred Racing Included In Racing Bills Face Final Vote

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Bills to allow 90 days of summer horse racing in South Florida and add thoroughbred racing to the program of the Seminole track between Sanford and Orlando headed for Senate and House calendars today.

Both the senate finance and taxation committee and the house appropriations committee approved last night the controversial bill setting up a summer thoroughbred program for the three Miami area tracks—or possibly just two of them.

The bill moved to the calendars in both houses. The senate committee sent to the upper chamber's calendar the bill by Sen. Mack Cleveland Jr. of Sanford adding thoroughbred racing to the quarter-horse and harness program at the Sanford-Orlando track.

Cleveland said the track, a summer-only attraction, was closed last season and now is in receivership. He said, however, track officials hope to reorganize and that an expanded racing program could provide needed revitalization.

The committee defeated an amendment to the South Florida summer racing bill offered by Sen. John Mathews of Jacksonville that would have guaranteed the racing would be spread equally between Tropical Park, Hialeah and Gulfstream Park tracks.

William Lantaff, Hialeah's legislative lobbyist, said the racing commission should have authority to determine whether the whole 90-day summer season should be run at one, two or three tracks. Winter racing at the three tracks is provided for specifically by state law.

Lantaff argued that Tropical Park is the weakest of the three tracks financially and also is farther from tourist grounds. He said Tropical might not find summer racing profitable. "This is an experiment. We think it will be unprofitable the first two or three seasons," Lantaff said.

Andy Patrick Paces His Team To Victory In Navy Keg League

Andy Patrick more than lived up to his one handicap rating in the Tuesday Night National Division of the Navy League at Jet Lanes as he pummeled the Maples for a 222/625 that helped Commission to a three point decision over the NAMTG "B" team.

He had ample support from Al DeRosia with a 187/516 and Ollie Graesser with 180/522. John Kneeland was the high bowler for NAMTG "B" with 212/593 followed by Bobby Meeks with a 194/559 and Duda with 191/507.

NAMTG "A" won three from Disabursing as Ceynowa with 178/500, Falch with 179/504 and Petrocki with 231/508 were high rollers. Jim Busard with 204/513, Stark with 212/513 and Gallagher with 181/530 were the stars for Disabursing. The Alley Bats stung NAMTG "C" with a three game defeat as Ruddy hit 208/525, Bassar a 202/547 series. Supply hit Maint. with a three point decision as Martin with 190/517, Webb with 227/522 and Brown with 190/541 all showed good efforts. Dick Dixon with 178/512 and Stewart with 199/559 were high for Maint.

Wisemore with a 199/530 and Sondys with 208/561 series were too much for the Airframes team as they paced the Marines in a four game sweep of series. Keith Morgan shot a 192/508 to help the Mets surprise the Ovionics team in a four game victory. Joe Irwin was high for Avionics with 202/513. Don Ethell rolled 201/545, Dan Saechy a 200/501, Bridges a

Members of the Seminole High School band wound up their school year with a banquet and concert at the Civic Center and awarded trophies and honors to their most outstanding members. Special honors went to Mrs. H. L. Johnson, school bus driver, who has driven the band and chaperoned them on their out-of-town trips for seven years. She was presented with a gold pin and an orchid corsage. Named to head the band next year was Captain William Crowell, with Robert Lackie as drum major. Vickie McArdle was named head majorette. Others were Claudia Bomgardner, head girl officer, vice president, treasurer and chaplain; Bettye Kellett, secretary, and Karen Vickers, secretary. Majorite officers include Patay Foy as first assistant; Susan Stein as property officer, and Michel Malbon as secretary.

Elder Springs Class Meets

The Friendship Class of Elder Springs Baptist Church held its monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the church with Mrs. Lucille Miller, president, in charge. Mrs. Margaret Griffin offered the opening prayer and the devotion leader, Mrs. H. S. Steinmeyer Sr. read from Luke 2:40-52 and spoke on being a Christian walking closer to God. In business it was voted that all members of the class would take part in providing ice cream during the last week of the church's Vacation Bible School. It was requested that members have a season of prayer for youths as they start their revival next week. Attending were Mrs. Amy Eggle, Mrs. David Remley, Mrs. Lucille Miller, Mrs. Florence Myers, Mrs. Marie Wilkens, Mrs. Steinmeyer, Mrs. Thelma Fort, Mrs. Griffin, and Mrs. Betty Sandage. Mrs. Myers, the hostess, served refreshments following the meeting.

Epworth League Group Attends District Meet

Six Epworth League members of the First Southern Methodist Church of Sanford attended the District Epworth League meeting held last Saturday at Port Salerno. The four adults accompanying the young people enjoyed a tour of area churches with the local pastors, Rev. Charles Bennett of Port Salerno, and Rev. D. H. Knight Jr., who serves the Sanford congregation as well as the Stuart church. After the business meeting League members participated in the planned recreation for the afternoon and a picnic supper at a waterfront park. Returning to the church, the group viewed an appropriate film, "Venture for Victory," followed by refreshments of punch and cake. Those attending were Steve Duffey, Elizabeth Priest, Daniel Priest, Allan Getman, Lawana Williams, Gene Jamison and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Jameson and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Priest. "Desert Fox" was the nickname given to World War II German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

DELAND (UPI) — Volusia County school teachers will boycott baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies next week, but parents plan to substitute for them in key roles. The county's 1,400 — plus elementary, high school, vocational school and junior college teachers began their boycott of all non-essential extracurricular activities on Wednesday after being turned down in their efforts to win pay raises ranging from $650 to $1,582 annually, plus other educational improvements.

"Our teachers have acted very professionally about this, and now they are very determined," said Robert McDermott, director of personnel for the Volusia School Board. Since the start of the boycott, parent groups have been meeting and making plans for taking over some of the key functions of teachers, who normally have key roles as chaperones, class sponsors, advisors, and directors of some functions in the annual baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies. Baccalaureate is scheduled Sunday for most of the graduating classes and graduations will be held at the different schools during the coming week. McDermott said the teachers formed a committee representing all teacher groups in the county to determine what improvements are needed. Actually, McDermott said, the teachers are seeking lower pupil loads for teachers, more adequate school supplies, and higher salaries "in that order."

Alliance WMPF Has Meeting

Business meeting of the WMPF of the Missionary Alliance Church was held at the home of Mrs. J. F. Brown on Country Club Road with eight members in attendance. Opening prayer was given by Mrs. Clifford Herrod and devotion was led by Mrs. E. H. Stone. Four pairs of dungarees and four shirts were received for the group to send to missionaries. In addition to those named, the hostess served refreshments at close of the meeting to Mrs. George Wells, Mrs. Tolar Teston, Mrs. Fay Lee, Mrs. E. A. Montfort, Mrs. M. L. Ayers and Mrs. J. F. Brown.

Geneva Baptist Plans School

By JoAnn Hays First Baptist Church of Geneva has announced plans to conduct a Vacation Bible School Aug. 2-13 at the church. Superintendents of the various departments will be Mrs. Daisy Hinojosa, intermediate; Mrs. Janie Hart, juniors; Mrs. Sue Gibson, primaries; Mrs. Florence Glazier, beginners, and Mrs. Kitty Baxter, three year olds. Children attending the three year department should have celebrated their third birthday by Jan. 1, this year. Mrs. Janet Byrnes will serve as secretary and pianist for the school. All superintendents and workers have completed the book, "Better Vacation Bible Schools," which was reviewed on Monday and Wednesday of last week with Rev. M. D. Jackson in charge.

Sanfordite's Kin Rites Saturday

Mrs. C. A. Kearns, 77, of Greensboro, N. C., mother of Mrs. E. L. Dowell, of 105 Forest Drive, Sanford, died at 2:15 a.m. Thursday in Wesley Long Community Hospital in Greensboro after a 10-week illness. Funeral services will be at 4 p.m. Saturday at Christ United Church of Christ in Lexington. Burial will be in Ebenezer Church Cemetery.

ACTION UPHELD Sanford Civil Service Board Thursday upheld action of City Public Works Director W. E. Knowles in the dismissal of Leslie Padgett, city employe, for "drinking on the job." Padgett had appealed to the board in a public hearing held at City Hall.

The weekday kindergarten of Grace Methodist Church, Sanford, will have its commencement program at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the church sanctuary. Mrs. H. B. McCall, teacher, will direct the group in a presentation entitled "Mother Goose Land." Those taking part will be Chuck Cowan, Angela Harvey, Dan Hendrickson, Stuart Hires, Dale Johnson, Lori Pruden, Randy Reynolds, Shane Steele, Jimmy Turner, Donnie Williams, Laurie Williams and Starr Zizza. Rev. John H. Hires Jr., pastor of Grace Church, has announced that registration is now being made for the kindergarten's fall term. Interested parents are invited to call the church office any weekday morning for further information.

Wing One Reunion Slated For Norfolk

A Reconnaissance-Heavy Attack Wing One reunion will be held June 12 at the Sewall's Point Golf Club in Norfolk, Va. All present and former wing officers, active company representatives and Sanford civilians are invited to attend. Facilities at the Naval Station Beach Club, Virginia Beach, and the golf club will be available to all guests and officers attending. The present commander of Reconnaissance Attack Wing One, Capt. Richard E. Fowler Jr., and at least one former commander, Capt. J. D. Ramage, will attend. Capt. J. M. Tully and Capt. J. O. Mayo, both former wing commanders, also have been invited as guest speakers. The reunion will start with a golf match Saturday afternoon, with speeches and dinner to follow at 7 p.m. Anyone interested in making a reservation or in obtaining more information should call Ens. Michael Claytor at Sanford Naval Air Station FA 2-1330, extension 455.

Come to Church Every Week

NOON by the Chapel Clock

One... two... three.
Four years Connie and I have listened to that deep, resonant chime counting off the hours of our college days. Sometimes it was just part of the setting at State — like the Commons, and the Quad, and Moonlight Walk. But often it called us to high moments of worship and thought and prayer.

Four... five... six.
Today we pause, and count! Exams are over. Trunks are packed. Books are on their way back to the Library. Tomorrow — Commencement.

Seven... eight... nine.
Again we're reading each other's thoughts. Let's walk once more through that graceful arch, hand-in-hand and smiling. Let's kneel together in the sacred stillness, breathing our thanks... our hopes... our needs... our dreams. For life and love await us. And these we will share with God! It is Noon by the Chapel Clock.

Ten... eleven... twelve.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL — ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Price Of Liberty

And still they come—fresh names to be added to the long, long roll of those who have fallen in the service of their country.

We had thought, 20 years ago, to have made an end to it once and for all, even as 25 years before that men told themselves they had fought the war to end all wars.

But more names were still to come. The peace so dearly bought in 1945 was but a pause. A mere five years later and there were different battlefields and a different enemy. But the face of death was the same one known to those who had met him at Lexington, at Lundy's Lane, at Vera Cruz, Antietam and San Juan Hill, in Flanders and in Normandy.

We had thought, after Korea, to have made an end to it. The men of the West who had fought and died and held the line there had proved to those of the East that there was no more profit to be gained in nibbling at freedom's edge with "limited" war than in uncapping the nuclear holocaust that would destroy us all.

But more names were still to come, for never-sleeping tyranny has many fields to plow.

They began coming in from new battlefields with faraway names—Bien Ho, Da Nang. They come slowly still, but there are more names today than yesterday, and little hope for anything but more tomorrow than today.

Now, most recently, the names came from a battle place closer to home—the sun-and blood-drenched fife of Hispanola. A handful only, thankfully, but the long, long roll is that much longer.

Today we suspend the public business to honor all the names, those lost to history as well as those still painfully fresh in memory. As Walt Mason wrote:

The little green tents where the soldiers sleep
And the sunbeams play and the women weep,
Are covered with flowers today,
And in the ghostly distance, the long, long file of those who have given us the peace and liberty that makes possible this day of Memorial Day goes on and on . . . and on.

Salute To Lions

We can't let the school year pass us by without paying a special tribute to the Oviedo High School Lions. Their record in football, basketball and baseball borders on the fantastic.

In football, competing for only the third year, the Lions achieved a 9-1-1 record and defeated Williston in the Rainbow Bowl, 27-6. The Lions rolled up 230 points to their opponents' 89.

In its second year of Class B basketball competition, Oviedo High School went to the finals in State Tournament competition. The Lions missed the state championship by eight points. The '65 team won 15 of its last 17 games.

It was virtually the same story in baseball. The Lions won 10 out of 13 games and missed the State Tournament by one game.

It might be appropriate to add here that Oviedo High School won the Seminole County basketball championship for the third straight year.

The Herald salutes Oviedo and is proud to play a part in honoring the Lions at their annual athletic awards banquet tonight.

Thought For Today

A slack hand causes poverty, but the hand of the diligent makes rich.—Proverbs 10:4.

The leading rule for a man of every calling is diligence; never put off until tomorrow what you can do today.—Abraham Lincoln.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CABE W-406: Loraine Q., aged 20, is a lovely college coed.

"But, Dr. Crane," she began, "I am a victim of unrequited love!"

"In fact, the boy I am crazy about doesn't even seem to know that I exist."

"Oh, he is in one of my classes but he is so preoccupied with science that I wonder if he ever takes an interest in romance."

"But I fell in love with him at first sight. So how could I ever make him fall in love with me?"

Yesterday I mentioned that if you offer a high chair baby a first taste of hot dog, he may pucker up his mouth and spit it out.

Yet a few years later, when he is a Cub Scout, he may regard hot dogs as the supreme meat delicacy on the menu. Why?

Just because in the intervening years, he has associated hot dogs with hikes, outdoor romping, and freedom from apartment restraints.

Hot dogs then have become the diffuse though subconscious reminders of many happy experiences, so all those jolly moods have become linked with the taste of the hot dog.

As a result, the hot dog then seems delicious though he would have spewed it out of his mouth at the high-chair stage.

This is what we psychologists call the "law of conditioning." In recent years the term "brainwashing" explains this situation.

What Loraine must do is "brainwash" her classmate in a favorable manner and repeat it until she becomes a fused symbol of many happy experiences, jointly shared.

Then the sight of her or even the sound of her voice on the telephone will "trigger" a diffuse rush of emotions which will make her seem "delicious."

So I had her conspire with another coed whose boy friend knew this science student.

A double date was arranged.

On the date, I had reminded Loraine to be a good listener, gay, jolly and carefree.

Girls, don't try to get the boy's name on the "dotted line" too soon, for men sense such veiled sales pressure.

You are then like a salesman who is always "closing" in his subtle tones and sales palaver.

Adenauer's successor, Ludwig Erhard, shared Adenauer's concern. Yet Erhard was anxious to seek a tie-up with Communist China and was restrained only because he doesn't want to appear to be undercutting American President Johnson while the Viet Nam war is increasing in ferocity.

West Berlin Lord Mayor Willy Brandt, who hoped to lead the opposition Social Democrats to victory over Erhard in the September parliamentary elections, said if he does form a federal government he will immediately seek to talk with Moscow about German reunification.

And the Free Democrats, who are the junior members of Erhard's coalition and hope to improve their position in September, have put Moscow on the list of capitals their leaders are to visit in advance of polling date.

They hope to convince voters they could succeed where others have failed.

So far the Russians have offered the Germans no encouragement. While flirting outrageously with France, Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin has not even replied to Erhard's suggestions that he pick up the invitation to his predecessor, Nikita S. Khrushchev, to visit Bonn this year.

Adenauer and Erhard were so concerned at de Gaulle's moves to improve Franco-Soviet relations that they wrote him letters about it. The French president replied he intended to carry on despite their anxieties because he believes that only thus can the division in Europe be healed. German leaders were not ultimately, he will wake up to the fact that you are delicious as a companion. He will then hunger for you as preferred love meat!

So send for my 200-point Rating Scale, "Test for Successful Sweethearts," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c. Use it as a blueprint!

And the End Not Yet

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Flirtatious de Gaulle

By Wellington Long
BONN (UPI) — French President de Gaulle's flirtation with the Soviet Union and certain East European Communist governments both frightens and fascinates his German neighbors.

Former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who spent 14 years trying to cement West Germany and France firmly together so one side could never again join the Russians against the other, feared his work will be undone.

Adenauer's successor, Ludwig Erhard, shared Adenauer's concern. Yet Erhard was anxious to seek a tie-up with Communist China and was restrained only because he doesn't want to appear to be undercutting American President Johnson while the Viet Nam war is increasing in ferocity.

West Berlin Lord Mayor Willy Brandt, who hoped to lead the opposition Social Democrats to victory over Erhard in the September parliamentary elections, said if he does form a federal government he will immediately seek to talk with Moscow about German reunification.

I read with great interest your account in last Friday's paper of the cost of soundproofing the Lyman High School gymnasium. As a taxpayer, I decry this use of funds which could more profitably be used for other purposes. Library books, shop equipment, hand instruments to name only three areas which I am sure could well use $1500 and provide daily benefits to the students from its use.

As a parent of a senior student this year, I had the honor of acting as spokesman for the clear cut majority of this year's senior parents of Lyman; in the presentation of a petition to the County School Board and Superintendent of Public Instruction requesting that graduation exercises be held at the Jai-Alai Fronton. This, I might add, at no charge other than cleaning and electrical expenses, which would have undoubtedly totaled less than $100. The Fronton, which is being used by some Orange County schools, seats 1900 guests plus the students; the Lyman gymnasium a total of approximately 1200. At the presentation of this petition, the school board members did not even show the common courtesy of discussing the relative merits of available areas in which to hold graduation exercises. The board spokesman merely stated that the board upheld the decision previously made by the school principal and that the gymnasium would be used. As I had earlier been informed that the board and principal were lunching together, this came as no great surprise.

As a resident and registered voter in Seminole County, I have come to the conclusion that the county school board has become so bureaucratic that they feel they are no longer answerable to the wishes of the majority of the citizens and taxpayers who have elected them and help pay their salaries. I await the results of our next elections with great interest.

call me a cheapskate... I love it!

I'm just proud that you are getting more and more Sunshine Service for your dollar.

Today, the average price paid per kilowatt hour for electricity in the home is actually 31% cheaper than it was just ten years ago. In fact, five major rate reductions during this period are saving our customers $27 million dollars each year.

With the cost of just about everything else going up and up, Sunshine Service is a bigger bargain than ever—by far, the biggest bargain in your family budget. How do I do it? By cost-cutting efficiencies of my Sunshine Service teammates—modern equipment—newer and bigger plants—and YOU . . . using more and more.

It's cheaper than ever to go all-electric than to use a combination of utility services!

Save Those Postcards

By Polly Cramer
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY—I used to throw away the pretty postcards sent to me by friends who were in faraway places. Now I tape all these cards on the kitchen wall and keep them throughout the year. At the beginning of each new year I start all over again. Friends and even repairmen notice them and enjoy looking to see where the pictures are from and often will comment that they would like to go to a particular place. It is interesting to see how far they come from and who remembers me throughout a year. Friends will often write on their cards, "I hope mine will be the first card for the new year," or "Perhaps this is the last card for this year." I enjoy looking at them as I relax in the kitchen.—ALICE

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently attended a very lovely dinner party at the home of a friend who always does things just so. Dinner was announced and we all went to the table to find our places. The hostess had placed cards. When one lady discovered she was seated next to her own husband, she said loudly, "I don't have to go to a party to sit next to HIM." The hostess immediately switched a few place cards so that the couple was split up. What do you think of such a performance on the part of a guest? INTERESTED
DEAR INTERESTED: Every ethical doctor is willing to discuss money with his patients. All the patient need do is ask, "How much do you charge for an office visit? Or a treatment? Or for that kind of operation if surgery is required?" The doctor cannot always give you the exact amount because he, himself, doesn't know how many treatments or visits you will need. But if a doctor refuses to discuss money—go elsewhere.

We planned to take a house on the beach for the last two weeks in July, but Danny refuses to go. We can't go without him, and we can't leave him home alone.

Mower Handles Most Jobs

... with Alleen
By Alleen Snoddy
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Power mower designs get better looking each season. However, you will clip yourself if you purchase a mower primarily for its handsome chassis.
When buying a power mower concentrate on safety and workability more than looks. If your lawn is typical—a rotary-type mower that is an all-around gardening tool. The reel-type mower (discussed in a previous article) is for fine lawns, trimmed for formal or semi-formal appearance.

check the mower for handling. Handles should be adjustable and changes in cutting height easy to make. For maximum safety, the rotary blade should be completely covered so feet and fingers can't touch the blade when the engine is running. If there is an ejection chute, it should deflect downward. A new kind of rotary power mower sails a quarter inch above the ground, without wheels or discharge chute. It's almost impossible to get feet or fingers caught up in the blade. (But just wait. Someone may succeed in spite of all design efforts and manufacturer's precautions.) The flying mower drops clippings and debris beneath it to avoid throwing foreign objects. In rotary mowers, Dr. Watson says the swept-back "S" shaped rotary blades are safer than the flat types. The swept-back blade doesn't hit sticks and stones directly and cuts down on throwing them. If you also buy a leaf mulcher with your unit, see that it attaches easily and also can be removed easily, but not during operation. A small rotary mower is best when you can get it in close to trees, house and stone walls for neater trimming. The wheels should turn well in a small area for top trimming action. If you have a large area to mow, consider a rotary rider power mower. Always ask for a home demonstration before buying this equipment. Test the rider on yard banks for balance. It should have side-hill stability and not scalp your lawn when it comes over the crest of a hill. Some form of automatic shut-off is essential for safety. A home demonstration of a rotary rider machine shows whether the mower is underpowered for the work it is to do. Dr. Watson explains that heavy-duty rider mowers generally are for care of lawns in an industrial park or for use by professional gardeners. If you have much acreage, you may need such a heavy-duty mower.

Do It Yourself:

Good Driveway Is Asset

By Mr. Fix
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Tools with wooden handles—from hammers and hatchets to spades and hoes—will suffer a broken handle long before the metal head shows any damage. Handles for almost any tool are available. Take the old handle along, or what's left of it, when you purchase a new one. A certain amount of trimming will be necessary anyway, but the closer the replacement to the old, the less work there will be in trimming for a good fit. While a handle can be sometimes repaired—tapping a split or gluing it—it is better and safer to replace it with a new handle. Techniques in fitting a handle will vary with different tools, but figure on using a plane or a rasp or even both to taper the new handle for a snug fit. Fitting a new hammer handle is one of the easiest of the replacement jobs. Techniques are the same for ax, hatchet or sledge handles. Cut the broken handle off close to the head of the tool. Put the tool in a vise and try to tap out the rest of the handle. If you can't pound it out, drill a couple of holes in the wood. This will break it up and all you have to do is remove the pieces. The new handle will have to be trimmed to fit. Keep trying it as you plane or file away the excess wood so that it fits firmly. Saw Cut Needed Make a saw cut in the end, about 1 1/2 inches deep. Then drive in the handle until part of it sticks out the other end. Insert a wooden wedge in the cut you have made so that it expands the handle sideways. With a saw cut away the excess handle and wedge so that the wood is flush with the metal. Drive two metal wedges across the wooden wedges and you are finished. A little more difficult is fitting a spade or shovel with a new handle. Generally the handle fits into a socket, or a metal ferrule fits over the top and bottom of the handle. In either case rivets (once in a while nails) have been used to hold the handle in place. To remove the rivets, drill them out with a metal-cutting drill. Center punch the rivet head first so the drill bit will not slip. Use a drill smaller than the rivet so that you don't enlarge the holes. Knock out what is left of the old handle. If you can't quite get it with a hammer, use a metal pin or a long bolt with the hammer to knock out the wood. Fit New Handle Fitting the new handle is again a process of trimming and fitting. Once properly fitted, drill holes in the handle for new rivets. Insert them andpeen them over on the opposite side. On tools such as a hoe or a cultivator, driving the handle into the socket and securing it with a screw may be enough. Some tools, garden rakes for example, have a pointed tang that is driven into the head of the handle. A metal shell is wrapped around the end of the handle and often the new handle will already have this. Drive out the metal tool by pounding it with a hammer. The pointed tang is then just driven into the new handle. When pounding on the metal part of the tool in removing the remnants of an old handle, be careful that you don't damage the metal or blunt a sharp edge. Do not burn out the wood. This will spoil the temper of the metal.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The double finesse is a finesse against two missing cards. Thus, South misses both the king and queen of spades. If he lays down the ace, he is going to lose two spade tricks unless he drops either the king or queen. If he leads from dummy and finesses the ten with the plan to finesse the jack later on, he will only lose two spade tricks if West holds both the missing honors. Thus, while a single finesse has an even money chance to succeed, a double finesse succeeds three times out of four. West holds both the king and queen of spades as you can see from a look at the hands. This time the double finesse is going to lose, so that any South player who tries won't be afflicted with this hard luck. There is no law compelling anyone to finesse twice if he can eliminate the need for the second finesse and South can do this easily. All South has to do is to win the diamond opening, draw trumps and take all the clubs and dummy's remaining high diamond. Then he leads a spade from dummy and puts in the ten. This starts the double finesse but South has done all the finessing he has to do. West is in the lead. If he leads back a spade, South makes the ace and jack automatically. If he leads back a club or diamond, South ruffs in one hand and discards a spade from the other.

The Doctor Says: Vitamins Are Essential

By Wayne G. Brandstedt, M.D.
Although vitamins have been known for more than 60 years, many people still think of them as a source of energy—which they are not. They regulate growth and other vital body functions and without them serious deficiencies will develop. But energy is supplied only by carbohydrates, proteins and fats. Vitamin A is found in milk, eggs, liver and yellow and leafy green vegetables. It is necessary for normal growth in children and at all ages for good vision, especially at night. A deficiency of this vitamin is rare in the United States but excessive amounts can cause poisoning. This is found chiefly in persons who eat the liver of bears or seals. Vitamin B is found in lean meat, dried yeast and whole grain cereals. Because it has been found to be composed of many parts it is now spoken of as the vitamin B complex. Since all of its parts are soluble in water it is easily eliminated from the body and massive doses will not cause poisoning. The complex includes thiamine (B-1), riboflavin (B-2), pyridoxine (B-6) cobalamin (B-12), folic acid, pantothenic acid, niacin and biotin. Thiamine is necessary for the proper working of the heart and nervous system. A deficiency of this vitamin causes beriberi, a disease that is characterized by weakness and waterlogging. Riboflavin is needed for healthy skin and it helps you tolerate bright light. A deficiency of this vitamin causes cracking of the skin, especially at the angles of the mouth, and pain in the eyes on exposure to light. Pyridoxine is essential for healthy teeth, gums, blood vessels, red blood cells and nerves. A lack of this vitamin is never seen in adults but in infants it results in jumpiness and convulsions. Cobalamin prevents pernicious anemia and is necessary for proper growth in children. It is valuable in the treatment of certain types of anemia. Pantothenic acid is required for the body's synthesis of adrenal hormones and the production of antibodies against germs and viruses. Niacin is necessary for the conversion of food to energy. Thus, although the vitamin furnishes no energy, you can go into a terrific slump without it. This is the vitamin that prevents pellagra. In doses that far exceed the body's needs it will reduce the blood cholesterol level. Biotin is essential for the health of the skin, mucous membranes, red blood cells and blood vessels. No cases of deficiency of this vitamin have been reported.

Your Dental Health Excellent Gumboil Relief

By William Lawrence, D.D.C.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Dear Dr. Lawrence: Could you in your column discuss gumboils? I think I have one. It comes and goes and doesn't give me much trouble, but I'd like to know what caused it and what I should be doing about it.—Mrs. Edith W.
A "gumboil" or parulis, is a by-product of periodontal disease (pyorrhea). It appears on the gums as a slightly raised, small red "boil" with a tiny opening in the center. This opening communicates with an infected gum pocket next to the tooth. Accumulated waste products of infection (pus) fill the pocket and then drain out through this opening. Drainage is nature's attempt to get rid of infection. When the pocket is drained empty, it heals; when it fills up again, the boil recurs. Disease which produces bone loss and pocket formation around teeth is called periodontal disease. Its causes are not fully understood but are thought to be mostly local in origin. Some common, contributing causes are: prolonged trench mouth infection, crooked teeth, faulty "bite," bruxism (night grinding), poorly contoured fillings, poorly fitted bridges and partial dentures. Each of these may be further aggravated by old age, inherited tendency, poor general health and poor mouth hygiene. Treatment consists of scraping and planing root surfaces and cutting away diseased gum tissue, thus eliminating the pocket. Sounds horrible doesn't it? It isn't though. Modern techniques and knowhow have simplified the procedure and pain killers give excellent relief. Best treatment, of course, is prevention. Early diagnosis and treatment of periodontal disease can prevent formation of gum pockets and associated ills. Gumboils are not uncommon in children, but they mostly come from infection that begins inside teeth, i. e., deep decay or damage from a fall, etc. Since infected baby teeth will be replaced by secondary teeth, infection is best eliminated by removing the tooth. Antibiotics are sometimes used to control infection around teeth and gums while treatment is in progress. But unless the condition is treated and the cause removed, they give only temporary relief. Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of this paper. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)

By laboring in such a way that other are inspired, you are a true bearer of the light today. Be more concerned about making good health. Put all in order about you. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)—You have to be a humanitarian today, since there are so many who look to you for assistance. Show your respect the meaning of this delicate representative of your fellow man. PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20)—Try not to spend so much on entertainment and concentrate upon helping others around you. Be cheerful and raise the morale of those who have peace within your own heart. YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will have the ability to solve the problems of others as well as his or her own. Including in sports will work off much of the excessive energy in this chart. An education in some government work or police work of any sort is very fine, whether male or female.

MONDAY, MAY 21, 1966

GENERAL TRENDS: A day when others are using your charm towards others, by showing an interest in them with an attitude of being understanding, will you be able to sidestep some harsh conditions now in effect that could lead you into a considerable amount of trouble. Show you can ignore any sarcastic comment.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Financial affairs can be quite difficult, but if you butter right people up a little, they soon ease up. Avoid too much speed in driving. Cut down the accident rate, which could include you.

TAUROS (Apr. 20 to May 20)—You are magnetic and have better judgment than others now, so gently give advice to help them. Think about increasing abundance at some other time. Aspects will then be better.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Stick to personal affairs is wise, since outside activities could cause you to run into a good deal of trouble. Do kind things for others. This brings fine benefits later.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Look to a good pal for understanding of your ideas, since others are all too busy or worried that out in some social and charitable affair. Do your part with complete confidence.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—One in power will not disappoint you today, while others are certain to be lacking in their efforts. Take the trouble to do your civic duty. Help your fellow man and you help yourself.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Making good use of new suggestions can be profitable, but cooling charm is important. Avoid old conditions, and an irate friend or rival will be very consciousness. Be more humane, too.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23)—Several anxieties will worry you in rather a dither, but by handling all duties with regularity, you win out. Big gifts given in haste may seem a little too demanding. Show patience.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21)—Any suggestions from dynamic partner should be heeded in dealing with other important matters. Be energetic and carry through with speed. Make fine headway easily.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Perseverance in any labor facing you is the only way to handle it accurately. Don't go off on any tangents. These could become very troublesome.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)—Being amusing and entertaining with others is best way to get rid of the depressive feeling in the air. Establish peace everywhere. Use that fine talent you possess.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 19)—Although you want to have a good time, there is much you need to do at home, so be difficult. Being more secure means contacting the right person.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—Although home problems may be rather annoying, be devoted to the same. Concentrate your efforts there will avoid arguments outside. Stay on the safe side and get out.

YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be somewhat of a paradox, since while there is great maturity and ability to sell especially, the tendency is to putter around at home if you don't early teach that being out in the world is a great adventure in itself. Use some amount of discipline and then this chart can be a most interesting and happy one, a force for good.

Highlights

7:30 - 8:30 p.m. (NBC) "Santo Domingo: War Among Friends." A quickly put together news special (designed to beat the CBS Monday Night Special) which does an effective job of summing up the confusing situation in the Dominican Republic. The events there are summarized verbally and on news film and there are interviews with American and Dominican officials.

7:30-8:30 p.m. (CBS) "Rawhide, 'Piney' (Rerun). Minimal action here, but plenty of good robot humor, thanks to Ed Begley as a gregarious confidence man not averse to breaking the law for a fast buck, and he learns a new town's been built over an abandoned mine and the bank is directly over one of the tunnels. He's such a benevolent-looking old coder, Gil Favor doesn't realize he and his drovers are being used for a heist.

8-8:30 p.m. (ABC) "The Farmer's Daughter." "Why Walk 'Til November?" If you've been a regular follower of the series and can hardly contain yourself waiting for the big day, this episode (the last of the season) is guaranteed to keep you on edge. Katy and Glen decide November is a long time to have to wait to get married, particularly in their agitated condition, and they plan an elopement. Everything you might expect to go wrong does.

8:30-9 p.m. (ABC) "The Addams Family." "New Neighbors Meet the Addams Family." (Rerun). A wildly funny half hour. Think how you'd feel if you were on your honeymoon and you moved into a home next door to the Addams clan? The newlywed Petersons (Cynthia Pepper and Peter Brooks) face this unusual situation and you know if their marriage can last through such experiences as the neighborly visit and bridge game, it will survive anything.

9:30-10 p.m. (NBC) "Jack Benny Program." (Rerun). Considering how poorly she fared with her own series this season, this is a welcome opportunity to catch Carol Burnett clowning in a riverboat sketch with Jack (he's a riverboat gambler) and singing "Everything's Coming Up Roses" on the rerun of a program originally aired in 1963.

9:30-10 p.m. (ABC) "FDR." "Fury in the East." This half hour covers the far-flung activities of the United States Armed Forces in the Pacific during the earlier stages of the war, what the strategy was, how it was arrived at, how implemented and how effective it was.

10-11 p.m. (CBS) "Slatery's People." "Question: How Long Is the Shadow of a Man?" (Rerun). Interesting drama about inter-party conflicts. Vera Miles gives a well-drawn performance as a newly elected lady legislator who decides Slatery holds too much power. And she's almost too much for him.

10-11 p.m. (NBC) "Jack Paar Program." (Color). Mostly talk tonight, but since there are some good talkers involved, it's a reasonably entertaining show. Robert Mor-

FRIDAY, May 28, 1965

Take a look at tomorrow . . .

Lake Monroe Lakefront.

It's time to wind the clock for the countdown.

The Lakefront Improvement Project is on the launching pad. All systems are "go."

The shores of Lake Monroe from Mellonville Avenue to West of Interstate 4 will one day hum with activity and blaze with bright lights.

A marina on the lakefront at Sanford is the No. 1 project in the long-range plans that include a causeway over Lake Monroe, a port facility, a motel-restaurant complex with convention accommodations, illumination of the lakefront and its beautification.

The City of Sanford is moving ahead with the bond ordinance to issue revenue certificates for the first phase of construction costing $800,000.

First phase in the project is for the city to bulkhead, fill and provide services for a 15-acre tract on which a motel-boatel-restaurant complex will be erected.

The city also would provide, under the initial project, marina facilities for the area such as docks, floats, ramps, etc., to serve nearly 150 boats. There would be storage space facilities for another 130 watercraft. Eventually there would be a 30-acre landfill handling nearly 2,000 boats.

A national motel chain has indicated it is ready to build a 100-room inn on the lake fill. The motel would have a rooftop restaurant from which diners could view the city, the lakefront and the water beyond.

Such a quality accommodation on the lake also would provide facilities for small conventions.

The Sanford Municipal Zoo and tank farms will be relocated along the lakefront, making room in the marina area for a shopping complex.

Development Project

The marina and motel facilities are shown in the center of the color photograph above. To the right would be the proposed Lake Monroe Causeway, connecting directly with rapid-growing Deltona and carrying U.S. 17-92 from French Avenue, a more direct route to Orange City and DeLand.

The causeway would provide a link-up with a similar span over Lake Jessup connecting directly with the new East Central Florida University near Oviedo.

The new "space university" will house 10,000 students when it is completed within a few years.

Farther to the right in the photograph will be the Port of Sanford. (Portions of the Lake have been omitted to pinpoint the sites of the various facilities.)

Local legislation has been introduced in the 1965 session of the Florida Legislature creating the Seminole County Port Authority.

Seven members appointed under this Act serve staggered terms, under the supervision of the County Commission. They will be vested with the authority and tools to develop the Port of Sanford.

An engineering study called the St. Johns River the most valuable asset in the county and said that excellent opportunities exist to develop the river. Engineers recommended that a one-berth port facility be constructed on a site not far from the lakefront.

Lakefront development is no longer a dream. Sanford is destined to become the recreational area of east Central Florida. And with the port and causeway bringing economic stability, Sanford will really find its place in the sun.
