

Polk Cites Need For Employee Lab Consolidation Predicted

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

Though funding for the state crime lab in Sanford has been restored, both local and state officials predicted today lawmakers will make a second attempt at consolidation before the issue is resolved.

The Florida Senate Ways and Means Committee voted yesterday to maintain the level of funding and not consolidate the state's six crime labs into three facilities as proposed last week by a ways and means subcommittee.

But Seminole County Sheriff John Polk and others predicted today the Senate or the House may make a second attempt to reduce the number of crime labs before the measure is approved at both levels of state government.

Polk also said today there's still a good chance the Sanford lab won't be funded at the level proposed yesterday by State Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach. In essence, Vogt's ways and means approved measure stipulates funding for 33 Sanford crime lab employees next year.

But a committee in the Florida House has passed a measure that funds only 23 employees, one less than the number presently employed at the Sanford-Central Florida Airport facility. The sheriff says the facility needs additional employees.

Last year, the number of employees was reduced from 33 to 24, according to Polk. Vogt, Polk and County Commissioner Sid Vihlen Jr. say they will monitor the measure as it threads its way through the full House and Senate. The Senate is expected to take the issue up on Thursday, while the House is slated to vote the following Monday.

Vogt also pointed out this morning that there is still a "lot of sentiment" to consolidate all the state's labs into two facilities — one in Sanford and a second in Tallahassee.

"If that happens, Vogt said, 'I'll try to write some proviso language into the bill that insures the Sanford facility is designated as one of the two.'"

Vihlen predicts there "will be a conflict" between the two branches to the appropriate level of funding.

He also says there is sentiment among lawmakers to consolidate all labs into one facility.

The ways and means subcommittee said consolidating labs in Miami, Jacksonville and Tampa would have saved the state some $1.2 million.

State Sen. Ken Plante, R-Winter Park, agreed with Vihlen that moving all labs into one facility would save money.

Plante, like Vihlen, says if consolidation is approved, Sanford is the most logical facility.

At yesterday's session, Vogt led the drive to restore money for the Sanford Crime Lab.

"Law enforcement officers all over the state are upset about this," the senator noted.

Other lawmakers testifying at yesterday's full Senate committee hearing said cases are backed up at all crime labs in the state.

The Seminole County Commission has a lease agreement with the Airport Authority for the building at the airport.

And, county commissioners at first feared Seminole would be left holding the lease and other monetary commitments if the lab were moved from Sanford.

However, Plante assured officials the state would reimburse this county for any expenses incurred as a result of consolidation.

Plante estimated Seminole's investment at $700,000.

The recommendation from the Ways and Means Committee can be amended or ignored by either the full House or the Senate. Or, a conference committee can amend both House and Senate versions.

Vogt, Polk and Vihlen say they will carefully monitor the measure as it travels through the legislative process. Yesterday's vote was 11 to 7 in favor of leaving the lab here.

City Lowers Inspection Fees; Fewer Needed, Commission Says

Sanford Bucks The Trend On Manufactured Housing

(Editors Note: The million dollar Cavalier Motel — an ultra modern complex on Sanford's South side, is a modular ghost town, closed by its owner when he learned that there was a serious question about its safety. The motel was constructed of modular units manufactured in Georgia and approved by the state of Florida. However, the motel is now involved in a swirl of legal controversy, including allegations that the modular units' manufacturer used highly flammable materials in their construction. Now the million-dollar complex stands empty and padlocked behind a tall chain-link security fence.)

The Cavalier Motel was Sanford's first experience with manufactured housing but it isn't likely to be its last.

If indeed the Cavalier Motel and its potential dangers ever made an impression on any member of Sanford's officialdom, it was not borne out by the action of the City Commission on April 12.

By a 4-0 vote, Sanford's City Fathers opened the city doors wide to manufactured modular housing without any tightening of inspection procedures to insure that another Cavalier-type situation could not happen.

In fact, it took the opposite stance. The commission actually voted to lower inspection fees for modular-housing units on the theory that fewer inspections would be needed than with conventional type housing — and on the theory that such units are inspected in the factory.

However, each unit normally is not inspected at the factory. Actually, the procedure is for the state to approve plans and engineering specifications and confine its inspection to the first few units off the assembly line.

Stickers proclaiming that the units are approved by the state are placed on the units by factory employees and there is normally no provision for subsequent inspections by the state. Thus, most units are not inspected by any governmental authority.

In any case, the unanimous vote of its City Commission — with the exception of Commissioner Julian Stenstrom who abstained — made Sanford the first city in Florida to change its code to accommodate factory-built housing.

In fact, it made the change when several other cities were taking the opposite viewpoint and tightening restrictions on factory-built housing.

"We tried every way we could to stop factory-built housing from coming in here," said Winter Haven director of building and zoning Norman Sowards. "Every time one comes up, it sticks out like a sore thumb."

Ray Stevens of Daytona Beach's Building Department said, "We're a little worried about factory-built housing. We don't want people coming in here and putting up shoddy stuff we're going to have to live with when it turns into an instant slum four or five years later."

"We haven't had any factory-built housing yet — fortunately," said Jim Banks, St. Augustine building official. "I wonder if they're solid or just a sales pitch."

Reaction to factory-built housing ranged from mild skepticism to an outright slamming of the doors in several other Florida cities including Leesburg, Gainesville, Haines City, Bartow and Plant City.

The proposal of the fee adjustment in Sanford reached the City Commission as a single paragraph, 35-page memo from City Manager Warren E. Knies II. It was never considered by the city Planning and Zoning Board, the usual

Financing Plans Approved

Sanford's city commission has approved financing plans for both the planned Downtown city hall and the public works complex now under construction.

At a regular meeting Monday night, the commissioners gave preliminary approval to a proposal to pay for the new city hall, expected to cost close to $2-million, from electric franchise revenue.

The commission still must approve the final draft of a contract with the Leedy Corp. of Orlando for preparing the certificate sale.

The commissioners also accepted the low bid of Flagship Bank of Sanford for a $50,000 loan to complete the public works complex. The bank offered the loan at 5 1/2 percent interest.

A list of 16 firms that have expressed interest in designing the new Downtown city hall was presented to the commissioners. The 16 firms — including four from Seminole County — will be reviewed by a committee headed by Commissioner A.A. McClanahan, and a priority list for negotiation with the city will be drawn up.

During a presentation by members of the Sanford Woman's Club and the Junior Woman's Club on the Community Improvement Project, Commissioner Gordon Meyer suggested turning nine acres of city-owned land at the corner of French Avenue and Seminole Boulevard into a park. The site was originally chosen as the site for the new city hall, but the commissioners reversed their decision after a committee of bankers urged them to get city hall Downtown.

Voters In Three States Pick Candidates Today

By The Associated Press
Jimmy Carter, far ahead in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, took on a new foe in Nebraska's primary election today while President Ford tried to throttle Ronald Reagan's challenge in Republican voting there and in West Virginia.

Democrats were voting, too, in West Virginia, where the field was limited to two candidates, and in Connecticut, where the election was just the first step in picking the state's national convention delegation.

Ford, loser of four primaries in a row, squared off with Reagan in statewide popularity contests with no effect on the delegate count. But 25 Republican delegates were at stake in Nebraska in separate contests in congressional districts and West Virginians chose 28 delegates uncommitted by state law. Reagan went into today's primaries with 1,130 delegates for the nomination and 1,207 yet to be chosen.

The major Democratic contest was in Nebraska, where Sen. Frank Church of Idaho made his primary debut. There were 11 candidates on the Democratic ballot and 23 delegates at stake, but only Church and Carter campaigned there.

Sen. Robert Byrd, running as a favorite son, was considered the favorite in West Virginia's Democratic primary although, by law, the state's 33 delegates are uncommitted. The only other candidate on the ballot was Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, whose campaign in the state was hampered by a lack of money.

In Connecticut, Democrats voted in a party-run primary to choose delegates to June 12 congressional district conventions that will in turn pick the state's 51 delegates to the national convention.

Ron Nessen, the President's press secretary, said Ford was optimistic about his chances in Nebraska and West Virginia, but felt both would be close.

Carter was at home in Plains, Ga., Monday, while Church continued his push for votes in Nebraska. In an election eve telecast, Church said, "In this country, it's never too late and the odds are never too great."

The Idaho senator, who entered the race late, conceded in an earlier interview victory over Carter in Nebraska would be a "political miracle." But he added, "Miracles sometimes happen, though rarely."

In other political developments — Wallace says in Montgomery he said the Alabama governor's scheduled campaign trip to Maryland — where he was seriously wounded in a 1972 assassination attempt — has been called off.

Wallace was to have held a news conference Saturday at a Laurel, Md., motel on the fourth anniversary of the attack at a nearby shopping center that left him partially paralyzed.

Diverse Locales For TV Comedies

NEW YORK (AP) — Next fall's situation comedies will show a Russian defector, a young student who'd only been out of Moscow for 2 1/2 months, he said. He said the show, who spoke perfect English, was best by a candied in rugged terrain.

It's called "Ivan the Terrible," starts Saturday, Aug. 21 on CBS and stars Lou Jacobi as Ivan, head of a nine-member clan that somehow lives in a 14-room apartment in beautiful downtown Moscow.

"Well, the premise is that people are alike everywhere," says Hitzig. "The governments may change but the same things affect people everywhere — inflation, crowded subways, the cost of food and so on."

Road Signs Confuse Drivers

VIENNA (AP) — In Vienna, the great number of sometimes conflicting traffic signs leave motorists in a state of confusion. In fact, officials admit they don't even know how many such signs are around.

Teens Torn Between Law And Peers

WASHINGTON — It is popularly known that teenagers commit almost half of all serious crimes in America. What is less well established is that the young people also are the most victimized segment of society. According to federal surveys more criminal acts are visited on males 16 to 19 years old than any other group, and boys aged 12 to 15 are second. One example will drive it home: each year 2 of every 10 people aged 12 to 15 suffer from known larceny offenses; this is twice the rate of those 25 to 34. Undoubtedly the youths are targets because they are easy. They are not physical pushovers, necessarily, but as a category they are less suspicious, less responsible and less careful than older citizens. Hence the vulnerability of the unsuspecting; "I took the ride," a savagely raped hitchhiker told Los Angeles police recently, "because to tell the truth he seemed like a real nice guy."

Try Grilled Roast For Added Flavor

One of the pleasures of cooking outdoors with a barbecue grill is that it gets Mom out of the kitchen. Another pleasure is the added flavor such cooking brings that you do not get while preparing meat and other foods in oven or on the range. For example, turkeys, whole chicken, marinated legs of lamb or beef are easy to prepare. A hooded grill or smoker makes the cooking simpler but those with an uncovered unit also may have success with something like a pot roast on the grill by making a cover with aluminum foil.

DEAR ABBY: Men have worn earrings for centuries—Shakespeare, Rembrandt and King James II, to name a few of the more prominent of them. Ancient Greeks and Romans borrowed the custom from the Persian and Indian men. And our own American Indian braves also wore earrings. And how about the early African warriors? And the pirates? Men wore earrings long before women did, so why all the ruckus?

DEAR ABBY: I am a man who wears a little gold earring in my left ear because of my religion. I am a Buddhist, and all Buddhists wear one gold earring—and always in the left ear. Hormone Governs Blood Calcium

DEAR DR. LAMB — A member of my family in her late 70s has been told she has an overactive parathyroid gland. I have never heard of this condition before and can't find out much about it. What are the parathyroid glands? What is their function in the body? What causes them to become overactive? What symptoms do they cause and what is the treatment? Is this thing hereditary and does poor nutrition play any part in causing it?

DEAR READER — The parathyroid glands are tiny glands located on each side of the thyroid in the neck. They are principally involved in calcium metabolism. Normally as the blood calcium level falls they release parathyroid hormone. This hormone mobilizes calcium from the bones to help raise the blood calcium back to the normal level.

An increase in activity of the parathyroid glands occurs in a number of conditions. One of these is vitamin D deficiency related to rickets. Diseases that interfere with the absorption from the digestive tract and even chronic kidney disease may cause overactivity of the parathyroid glands.

Overactivity of the parathyroid glands may cause an increase in the amount of calcium in the blood. This may lead to calcification of soft tissues such as calcium deposits in the kidneys and other areas. Mobilizing calcium out of the bones causes a form of bone demineralization.

What causes it? It is limited to the parathyroid glands themselves, about 80 per cent of the causes are the result of small, benign tumors of these glands. In only about two per cent of the cases is a malignancy involved. Most of the other cases are just in-

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you're careless today and make miscalculations, they could turn out to be rather costly. Move cautiously.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Today it may seem that the harder you try to please, the less you're appreciated. Steer clear of those who'll take you for granted.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) A veiled opportunity could come your way today unexpectedly. You'll have to be exceptionally sharp to recognize it for what it is.
CANCER (June 21-July 22) Normally you're not the showoff type. Today you may try to upstage your friends, to call attention to yourself.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Make the most of present opportunities, or they may be suddenly withdrawn. Conditions could well alter rapidly today.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Even though it will be difficult to own up to your mistakes today, do so rather than rationalize. Excuses weaken your image.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you borrow someone's money that the lender prizes, be careful! You have a tendency to be careless with possessions of others.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's not your nature to be in a dilemma, but today you may have a problem making up your mind and sticking to it.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Persons who lend a helping hand today can't be expected to do everything for you. In certain areas you must fend for yourself.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It's good to be optimistic, but today you must be practical, too. Don't build your hopes upon false promises.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You may be depending a bit too heavily on chance and luck to carry you through. They're not allies to be relied upon today.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If someone tells you a tall tale today, don't try to top him. Your friend may get away with a little fib, but you won't.

Sanford firemen remove body of manager after midnight fire at thrift shop on Second St.

Firefighter extinguishes hot spot in blaze that gutted Bate's Peanuts packaging plant.

Body Found In Fire Ruins Of Local Shop

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer
Sanford firemen found the body of a 30-year-old woman early today after extinguishing a fire that heavily damaged a used clothing store in Downtown Sanford.
Six hours earlier firemen contained a blaze that gutted the store's Peanuts plant at the Sanford-Central Florida Airport.
The causes of both fires haven't been determined. Deputy State Fire Marshals are reviewing the damaged buildings in joint investigations with police and fire department officials.
Police said the body of Mrs. Leandra Kaye Gudgel, 30, of 115 S. French Ave., was found by firemen on the floor of a bathroom at the rear of the brick building near a storage area that housed used clothing sold at the store.
Seminole County Medical Examiner Dr. G.V. Garay, who pronounced Mrs. Gudgel dead at the fire scene, was to perform an autopsy today in an effort to determine the cause of death.
Investigators said the fire, of undetermined origin, is believed to have started in the storage area but it spread to the front of the store where firemen arrived to find the front door unblocked.
The bathroom where the woman's body was found was not heavily damaged and sustained no damage, officials said.
Police said Mrs. Gudgel, who managed the store owned by Jerry Swift, of Pittsburgh, Pa., apparently went to the store Tuesday night to do some work.
Investigators said she left a note for her husband, Curtis Gudgel, at their residence saying she would be at the thrift shop.
Police said a bicycle, believed to have been ridden to the store by Mrs. Gudgel, was found inside the fire-damaged building.
Officials said Mrs. Gudgel's purse was found inside the store.
This morning police and firemen were assisting Deputy State Fire Marshal Dale Otterbacher in a probe at the scene in an effort to determine cause of the blaze.
Firemen were able to contain the fire, reported by a passing motorist, to the building and extinguish the flames before thousands of used garments on racks and tables filling the former grocery store building were consumed by the fire.
A worker at an adjoining business at the airport turned in the 5:30 p.m. Tuesday alarm that sent airport and city firemen to Bate's Peanut Products, 2644 Navigator Ave.
Firemen said they arrived to find half of the 18-foot metal structure engulfed in flames.
Owner James R. Bates, of Sanford, estimated that damage to the roasting and packaging plant portion of the business was $12,000 or more, according to police.
An estimate of fire damage to the building was not immediately available, according to a Sanford Airport Authority spokesman.
Bates said damage to plant equipment is partially covered by insurance.
Firemen said a fireball prevented the blaze from spreading to the other half of the building that houses offices and storage facilities.
Bates said that two employees had been working earlier in the packaging department but had left for the day before the blaze broke out.
The Bate's firm distributes roasted and bolted peanuts throughout the state and employs 12 persons, Bates said.

Hospital Church Upsets Carter In Nebraska Rates Reagan, Ford Share Primary Victories To Rise

By DAVE GOLDBERG
Associated Press Writer
Ronald Reagan has scored another key triumph in his quest for the Republican presidential nomination, but President Ford has come up with a victory of his own. Frank Church, meanwhile, has scored an upset in his Democratic primary debate.
Reagan continued his recent string of successes by capturing Tuesday's Nebraska primary. Acting as its regular monthly meeting, the trustees approved a wage and salary administration program which Vice Chairman Allan Keen said would cost the hospital about $125,000 the first year it is in effect.
Although the hike in room rates was submitted to the panel as part of the wage and salary package, Keen said the bulk of the funding will come from increased charges for various hospital ancillary services and from an applied cost-efficiency effort.
The new policy goes into effect June 1, but the room rate boosts cannot be instituted until they are approved by Blue Cross, a process which usually takes about 60 days, Chairman John Evans said. The wage and salary program is the product of several months of study by Keen and Panel Member Sophia Shemakier.
"This was done primarily for the hospital's employees," Keen said. "The way it is now, during the first three years our employees receive regular wage and salary reviews, but after that only general, across-the-board increases affect them."
The study included 1,050 separate elements of hospital ancillary services such as the operating room, laboratory, respiratory therapy and physical therapy, Keen said. Charges for some of these services will be boosted — and others lowered — to bring them in line with rates in most other hospitals in the Central Florida area, he said.
The wage and salary plan, based on 30-40 new and updated job descriptions, includes 15 pay grade levels, each containing several progressive steps. The lowest beginning step will be adjusted to minimum wage level, Keen said, and will climb as the minimum wage increases.
At the same time, Keen explained, higher echelons in the pay pyramid will also be adjusted upward, thus keeping the same relative distances among the grades. Employees will be guaranteed an annual wage and salary review which could produce a pay boost of zero-to-five per cent.
Seminole Memorial administrative personnel will not be affected by the new system, Keen said.

SEA, School Board To Meet Thursday

By JEAN PATTESON
Herald Staff Writer
Charged by the Seminole County School Board with violating their master contract, representatives of the Seminole Education Association (SEA) will meet with board representatives Thursday evening to discuss an informal solution to the charges.
At last Wednesday night's school board meeting, the SEA was charged with violating their contract by charging that the SEA was not living within its contract by allowing three Grooms, SEA executive director, to represent three other employ groups in collective bargaining talks.
The Board's grievance against the teachers' group specifically charges that Section C of the master contract has been violated. The section states: "The Association agrees that neither it nor its members or agents will attempt to represent, in any negotiations or grievances, the interest of anyone other than members of the bargaining unit."
The SEA is charged with granting approval for Grooms to represent three other non-instructional employ groups — the Seminole Educational Clerical Association; School Bus Drivers Association; and Non-Instructional Personnel of Seminole County. All three groups are currently engaged in contract talks with the school board.
According to Harry Pelley, chief negotiator for the board, the SEA has five days after Thursday night's meeting to submit an answer to the board. If no acceptable solution is worked out by this time, the grievance will go to arbitration.
Meanwhile, the SEA met with the school board negotiating team across the bargaining table for the first time last Thursday, to negotiate a contract for the coming school year.
Discussion centered around the number of persons the SEA could have on its team and a limit to the number of spokesmen they could use. Pelley, speaking for the board team, proposed having only one spokesman and one assistant spokesman. "I want to know who I'm going to be talking to across the table each week," Pelley commented. He said he was not concerned about how many other SEA

Jail Panel Urges Additional Cells

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer
Sheriff John Polk said today it's the recommendation of a jail space needs committee to add some $200,000 worth of prefabricated jail cells to the Sanford facility to relieve overcrowding.
The sheriff stressed the addition of the cells behind the kitchen facility is only a "short term" solution.
"I should carry us until a long term solution can be found," Polk said.
Polk's ad hoc committee — which was appointed by the Seminole County Commission today at the sheriff's headquarters in Sanford.
Polk said enough prefab jail cells should be constructed to house 42 inmates, thus relieving the overcrowding at county jail.
Polk said lawmen are handling as high as 100 inmates a day at the structure, which was built to house 44 inmates. Jail officials report prisoners are sleeping on the floors, or in the drunk tank.
The sheriff said the ad hoc
