Do you ever feel trapped? Do the walls of a meaningless life seem to close in on you sometimes? Here's good news! Every life has a gate, and it is never locked. But it only opens from one side . . . your side.
Seek for the gate with all your heart, and you will find it. Open it, and you will enter a world full of meaning and beauty. You'll step from darkness to light . . . and never look back.
The key? It's waiting for you in Christ's teachings. His Church will help you to find it, and in His service you will discover life's real purpose. Go to church this Sunday, and hear God's words of promise and comfort. They are meant for all who yearn to widen the cramped horizon of their lives. They are meant for you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

Solons Reach Education Compromise

Causeway Bill In Hopper

Davis Offers Amendment To Road Program

TALLAHASSEE (Sp.) — Rep. S. Joseph Davis Jr. today offered an amendment to the $300 million road bond program to include funds for the construction of the Lake Monroe Causeway.

Davis also said he would try to amend the legislation to include Seminole County in the funds allotted Orange County for arterial connectors and urban improvements.

"We are in the urban area and we should be included in this project," Davis said. "At the present time the bill calls for all the roads to be built in Orange County south of Orlando."

Representative Davis said he had talked with Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and he is in accord with the purposes of the amendments.

The Lake Monroe Causeway would realign U. S. 17-92 from French Avenue in Sanford, across a four-mile span to the Deltona area, connecting back with the original 17-92 south of Orange City.

The causeway and necessary road construction in Volusia County would cost an estimated $5 million.

The $300 million road bond program proposed by Gov. Haydon Burns was debated for two days in the Senate before reaching the House.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson today opened the White House conference on natural beauty with a call for Americans to wipe out ugliness in the land and produce "a more beautiful America."

More than 1,000 business, farm, labor and government leaders were invited to participate in the conference, which plans to present recommendations to President Johnson Tuesday. Johnson has asked for "sound, economical and imaginative" programs to beautify the nation.

She said that one of the most pressing challenges for individuals today is the "depression and tension" resulting from the sight of a world that is not pleasing to the eye.

"Ugliness creates bitterness," she said. "Ugliness is an eroding force on the people of our land."

"We are all here to try to change that," said the First Lady who planned to join in several of the panel discussions.

"This conference is a step to the solution, and I think a great one."

Spectacular Blastoff Set Early Tuesday

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Engineers were set to start the final countdown late today for a Saturn-1 super rocket expected to put on one of the Cape's most spectacular night-time blastoff shows early Tuesday.

The 188-foot-rocket, the free world's mightiest space booster, is scheduled to roar into the sky at 8:30 a.m. (EDT) carrying a giant "winged" meteoroid detection satellite called "Pegasus."

It will be the first after dark launch for the powerful booster that is riding on a string of eight straight successes.

The long column of flame and smoke from the first stage's eight engines should provide a brilliant spectacle for missile watchers who are expected to be out on nearby beaches in droves despite the early hour.

The Saturn launch team breezed through the first portion of the rocket's two part, 16-hour and 45-minute countdown Sunday without difficulty and was scheduled to pick up the final half at 5 p.m. (EDT) today.

The launch will be the second of a four-shot series that began Saturday with the successful flight of a "Project Fire" payload.

The 200-pound craft was rocketed 500 miles into space and then rammed back toward earth at 25,000 miles per hour to measure the tremendous heat spacships will encounter when they pierce earth's atmosphere on return flights from the moon.

Before leaving for work in Sanford last Saturday morning Mrs. Richard Rozolaky took time to iron a uniform, leaving a cup of water on the window sill of her home on Northwood Road in Caselberry. A few hours later the house had collapsed after being swallowed up to the roof by a sinkhole.

Even though the window glass was broken out, and very little else was left intact, the cup still was in its place on the sill with water in it a week later.

Donald Patton of Lake Mary suggests as a safety measure on our streets and highways that blue flasher lights be installed on all city, county and state cars. He believes this would prevent too much speeding.

The waterways committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. to finalize plans for the Sanford-St. Johns Scenic Cruise scheduled for June.

James L. Thompson, 2403 Sanford Avenue, operator of a gasoline service station at Celery and Mallonville, was injured this morning when the motor scooter he was riding struck a car at the intersection of Third Street and Sanford Avenue.

Drivers of the car, according to police reports, was Othman Muhammad Abu Baker, 211 Chapman. He was charged with failure to yield right of way.

Thompson was treated for his injuries at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Sanford fails to get mentioned in a "Guide to Florida's Most Interesting Cities." DeLand and other cities in the Central Florida area merit a write-up.

Legislators Charge FEA Resorts To 'Blackjack'

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A Florida Education Association demand for an investigation of the political activities in relation to Florida schools drew angry reaction today from legislators and even State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey called it regrettable.

Some legislators came out flatly and termed it an attempt to "blackjack" the Legislature into raising teacher salaries.

Superintendent Bailey, an advocate of pay raises, said nonetheless he feels that the FEA could make its own study of conditions in the state with a much better knowledge of the facts than could its parent organization, the National Education Association (NEA).

"I welcome a study of Florida education," Bailey said. And he said he recognizes the right of the FEA to issue statements as they deem wise and to ask for an NEA study.

"However, I regret that the NEA or any other national group should ever have to be called upon to investigate education in a state or local unit," he said. "Such an investigation can best be made by local people, familiar with local conditions."

What the FEA should be doing, he said, is getting up a bill to suggest a tax source, then getting the necessary legislative support to pass it through both houses and over the Governor's objections.

Gov. Haydon Burns declined immediate comment, except to say that he does not intend to budge from his hold-the-line policy against raising taxes to increase teacher's pay or any other item not already taken care of by the Legislature.

Senate President James Connor, of Brooksville, was outspoken in his reaction.

"It is nothing more than an attempt to blackjack us into raising teacher's pay," he said.

Others echoed Connor and said "it won't work."

One of the most vocal was State Rep. Robert Mann, of Tampa, chairman of the House public schools committee, which already has turned down a $51 million teacher pay bill.

Mann, whose wife is in the school system and who long has been considered a friend of education and the FEA, called it "ironic" that the FEA should ask for the National Education Association (NEA) investigation just one day after a "momentous" decision by the State Supreme Court that should provide the funds from real estate taxes to foot the bill for higher pay raises for teachers from local rather than state funds.

The court ruled that real estate assessments of less than 100 per cent of fair market value are illegal. Mann said this will compel many Floridians not now contributing to pay real estate taxes. Real estate is the principal support of schools at the county level.

U. S. Engaged In Controlling The Weather

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson told Congress today that "substantial progress" has been made in developing scientific means of changing the nation's weather and climate, but "the pace has been too slow."

"To advance the rate of progress," Johnson said in a statement, "an effort of larger scope and direction is needed both in conducting basic research and in developing means to put the knowledge to work."

The presidential message accompanied an annual report of the National Science Foundation on weather modification during the present fiscal year which was sent to Congress.

The report, which surveyed research developments in weather alteration by various federal and commercial agencies as well as foreign governments, said that unless "higher national priority" is placed on this research, "the full potential of weather modification will probably take a long time."

Example of weather modifications, according to the report would include: Rain-making for drought-stricken or arid areas, cloud-seeding techniques to increase snowfall, fog penetration, hail suppression, and turbulence investigation.

Boatman Rides On Shark's Back

MARATHON (UPI) — A 25-foot whale shark provided a rare show for hundreds of tourists and Keys fishermen today when it swam into a shallow cove at Grassy Key.

The shark, its back fin, tail and white-spotted back showing above the water, swam sluggishly about in the cove and showed no inclination to leave. It came as close as 20 feet to U. S. Highway 1 leading to Key West.

One man in a flat-bottom skiff paddled out into the cove and his boat was taken for a short ride on the shark's back.

The whale shark is rarely seen close to coastal areas.

Annual Battle Opens In House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration's annual foreign aid battle opened on the House floor today with all signs pointing to a congressional showdown this year over policy rather than money.

The House was scheduled to begin discussion of President Johnson's $3.36 billion authorization bill.

A vote on the proposal was set for Tuesday.

3 Youths Hurt In Car Wreck

Three youths were injured, one critically, in a one-car wreck on Interstate 4 near the R 434 overpass at 3 a.m. Sunday.

Billy Dupree, 20, of Safety Harbor, is in critical condition at Orange Memorial Hospital today after being thrown from the vehicle.

Raymond Spencer, 17, and Joseph Knight, 17, both of Winter Haven, and passengers in the Dupree auto, received minor injuries.

State Trooper J. L. Sikes said the car driven by Dupree was headed north on I-4 when it left the highway and skidded 210 feet down the left shoulder of the road.

Sikes said the car flipped over and Dupree was thrown about 35 feet. The automobile was listed as a "total loss."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson today opened the White House conference on natural beauty with a call for Americans to wipe out ugliness in the land and produce "a more beautiful America."

More than 1,000 business, farm, labor and government leaders were invited to participate in the conference, which plans to present recommendations to President Johnson Tuesday. Johnson has asked for "sound, economical and imaginative" programs to beautify the nation.

She said that one of the most pressing challenges for individuals today is the "depression and tension" resulting from the sight of a world that is not pleasing to the eye.

"Ugliness creates bitterness," she said. "Ugliness is an eroding force on the people of our land."

"We are all here to try to change that," said the First Lady who planned to join in several of the panel discussions.

"This conference is a step to the solution, and I think a great one."

U. S. Engaged In Controlling The Weather

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson told Congress today that "substantial progress" has been made in developing scientific means of changing the nation's weather and climate, but "the pace has been too slow."

"To advance the rate of progress," Johnson said in a statement, "an effort of larger scope and direction is needed both in conducting basic research and in developing means to put the knowledge to work."

The presidential message accompanied an annual report of the National Science Foundation on weather modification during the present fiscal year which was sent to Congress.

The report, which surveyed research developments in weather alteration by various federal and commercial agencies as well as foreign governments, said that unless "higher national priority" is placed on this research, "the full potential of weather modification will probably take a long time."

Example of weather modifications, according to the report would include: Rain-making for drought-stricken or arid areas, cloud-seeding techniques to increase snowfall, fog penetration, hail suppression, and turbulence investigation.

Boatman Rides On Shark's Back

MARATHON (UPI) — A 25-foot whale shark provided a rare show for hundreds of tourists and Keys fishermen today when it swam into a shallow cove at Grassy Key.

The shark, its back fin, tail and white-spotted back showing above the water, swam sluggishly about in the cove and showed no inclination to leave. It came as close as 20 feet to U. S. Highway 1 leading to Key West.

One man in a flat-bottom skiff paddled out into the cove and his boat was taken for a short ride on the shark's back.

The whale shark is rarely seen close to coastal areas.

First Lady Calls For 'Beautiful America'

$20 Million Earmarked For Voc-Tech

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A compromise agreement that would make about $20 million available for vocational-technical education in the next biennium was wrapped up today and is expected to win speedy approval of the Legislature.

Gov. Haydon Burns and State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey bowed to the demands of advocates of separate vocational-technical training centers. Reportedly, the main steam was generated by House Speaker E. C. Rowell and Senate President James Connor.

The upshot is that money that had been scheduled for junior college and university construction will be nicked to provide from $7.8 million to $8 million for separate vocational centers at locations to be determined by the Cabinet Board of Education.

Some $4 million in federal funds will be available to match this state allocation and another $8 million will be provided in state funds for vocational education at junior colleges.

The compromise was a victory for the House. The Senate had passed in less than five minutes on Friday a bill that earmarked only $2 million for separate vocational centers.

But Connor suddenly decided it was not the bill he and other advocates of vocational training wanted, and before recessing for the weekend, the Senate recalled the bill from the House so it can be amended and re-passed today.

In weekend huddles, Governor Burns and education forces in both Houses worked out the compromise.

The money to be earmarked in the higher education bond program with estimates of what will be available ranging from $80 million to $85 million.

Since it is not known exactly how much money can be counted on, the bill was worked out on a percentage basis with vocational education getting over nine per cent of what is available.

In dollars and cents, this was estimated at about $7.8 million for separate vocational centers, leaving $35.5 million for junior colleges and $41.7 million for universities.

If less money than anticipated is realized from the bond fund then each type facility will be reduced proportionately.

The reason the fund is flexible is because of the available surplus from utility tax receipts pledged to pay off the $75 million in bonds.

Depending on how much the tax brings in and how much is needed for debt service, the rest is an unknown quantity.

One of the big battle points in the compromise is over the criteria which the Cabinet will use in deciding where to put the centers.

Carl Setje Heads Retired Group

By Jane Casberry
Winter Park Chapter 888 of National Association of Railroad Civil Employees recently elected officers for the coming year at a covered luncheon at the Lake Island Recreation Center.

James O. Bellenger, national vice president of NARCE, installed the new officers and gave a short interesting talk on several bills now pending before Congress to raise the annuities of civil service retirees. Officers installed were Carl Setje, president; Herman Mayer, first vice president; Mrs. Emma Ashworth, second vice president; Frank G. Lucey, secretary, and Vincent H. Williams, treasurer. Roy C. Potts is president emeritus, having served several terms as president of the organization prior to Setje's appointment. Mrs. Paul D. Knight was re-appointed to serve as publicity chairman.

F. E. Spradley, field vice president of Region 6-B, Alabama, gave a talk about the welfare and happiness of retirees, urging them to write their congressmen requesting at least a 10 per cent increase in annuities. Setje, Mayer, and Williams attended the state convention in Miami May 8, 10, and 11, and a report was given the group.

Mrs. Setje was in charge of the luncheon arrangements. She was assisted by Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Williams. Tables were decorated with bowls of gardenias and clever mint cup favors were at each place.

Lima Beans And People

A 13-year-old Ohio girl has conducted experiments she believes prove beyond doubt that a little love and a few kind words mean a lot to a lima bean.

This may not seem like much at first, but read on.

She experimented with four groups of bean plants.

Group No. 1 she piled with affection, urging the beans to grow up big and strong.

Group No. 2 was serenaded with soft and schmaltzy violin music.

Group No. 3 was bombarded with blasts by the Beatles. And Group No. 4 was scolded.

The beans that were loved and encouraged did indeed grow up big and strong—better than any of the others.

The fiddle-fondled beans did second best. The Beate beans were a poor third (relax, kids, it may mean nothing), and the unloved beans turned out to be stunted no-good-niks.

A prominent horticulturist says the girl may have something. He mentioned such things as sound and tone values, high frequency impulses, cells and growth regulators.

But the important thing is that a 13-year-old girl and a lima bean have reminded a trouble-torn nation of a simple truth—that a little love and a few kind words bring out the best in people, too.

Now all we have to do is put it into practice.

The Low Low In Thievery

Can anything be worse than the fury of a tornado, flood or fire?

Yes. Looting of the ruins.

What kind of fiend is this who can prey upon the homeless, the helpless, the grief-stricken survivor who has just lost a loved one, at the very moment of their deepest sorrow and despair? It takes a special brand of depravity.

Yet such looting is so commonplace that it is routine police procedure to place guards amidst the devastation to protect the stunned victims of nature's wrath from the sneak attacks of their fellow humans.

A sorry commentary on the human race!

But there is a brighter side to the picture.

For every miserable thief who skulks through the ruins to steal there are scores of good Samaritans who rush in to help the stricken.

The Samaritans reap their reward in the knowledge of what they have done.

Perhaps the looters do the same.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

New Found Friendship

By Joseph W. Grigg

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle's new found friendship with the Russians is off to a promising start.

Four days of talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in Paris recently seem to have convinced both sides that there are good prospects of their being able to do political business with each other.

No startling new agreements developed. Gromyko flew back to Moscow with nothing like a blueprint for a "Paris-Moscow axis" in his pocket.

But they did find enough common ground to convince both De Gaulle and the Russians that it is worth their pushing ahead with further talks.

These will continue during the coming months with Soviet Ambassador to Paris Valerian Zorin, who until recently was Gromyko's chief deputy and who sat in on all the Paris discussions.

French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville will fly to Moscow next fall for further direct talks with Gromyko.

What Gromyko's Paris talks succeeded in doing was to clarify the issues on which France and Russia agree, those on which their ideas are close to each other and those on which there is no prospect of agreement.

On Viet Nam they found themselves in close agreement on a "hands off" call to other countries, particularly the United States. Both want to return to the 1954 Geneva peace settlement that was supposed to have neutralized all former Indochina. Both want withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Viet Nam and an end to American bombing of North Viet Nam.

But they did not agree on how to get Viet Nam peace talks started.

The Russians continued to hold out for an end to American bombing of North Viet Nam as an advance without any advance conditions at all.

On the twin questions of European security and Germany, on which the Russians laid heaviest emphasis throughout, there was some doubt as to just how far they did agree.

They also found some fields of agreement such as on calling a conference on Cambodia, convening a five nation nuclear disarmament conference and on keeping the real power in the United Nations in the hands of the Security Council.

But Gromyko himself conceded there were many areas where there is no agreement and none seems likely at the moment.

Yet both sides appeared convinced the talks are worth pursuing.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Mark Plotts outlines a very unique personality change that often attacks men past the age of 40. Wives, analyze your husband by the 8-point test below. If you wish a jolly, generous mate, then you must help him maintain an affectionate role after middle age. Otherwise, he may become a Scrooge or Silas Marner!

CASE W-401: Mark Plotts is a star salesman who chaperoned me for a day of speeches in Phoenix, Ariz.

He covers three states as his territory so he has become a very astute observer of human behavior.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I have noticed that some men develop a 'power complex' as they grow older.

"Although they may start out as happily married, with many friends, they begin to alter their personality after middle age.

"For they often develop a dictator attitude. They greedily reach out for more money or more political power, until they are almost twins for Silas Marner or Hitler. Why does this happen?"

Money often becomes a substitute symbol of masculine vigor, especially in men past the age of 40.

When a husband grows plutonic in his marriage, he may try to regain control of his wife's devotion by holding on to the purse strings very tightly.

In psychiatry, we often equate miserliness with a plutonic sex life in husbands.

For a man who is full of masculine virility is likely to be generous both with love as well as money.

Conversely, a husband who is approaching the plutonic stage, is likely to be a miser with both love and money!

When husbands enter the male climacteric (counterpart of the feminine menopause), they sprout some or all of these classical symptoms:

- (1) They may start drinking liquor to excess.
- (2) They drive their car recklessly and may actually state they hope a tire blows out as they take a curve (sulcidal urge).

- (3) They become miserly with words of praise and, instead, they go out of their way to find fault. They are overly critical, both of their wife as well as their children.
- (4) They become "worry warts" about their health and shop around from one physician to another, taking pills aimlessly, usually of the psychosomatic sort.
- (5) They become addicts of power and show a dictatorial attitude toward their family, as well as employees.
- (6) They become tightwads with their money, doling out dimes to the thrives, yet raving about her extravagant spending.
- (7) They may develop imaginary romances so their wife will think their plutonic role with her is explained by their Don Juan life with paramours.
- (8) Sometimes they actually consort with a paramour and then they reverse their miserliness, as they squander money freely on their temporary siren.

In this respect, the "sugar daddies" who wait in limousines for chorus girls are often stingy with their wives!

Women, if you want a generous husband, then remember that you must insure him against impotence via your seductive allure.

So send for my booklet "How to Prevent Plutonic Husbands," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c.

Feed your mate plenty of gastric as well as erotic calories and he will purr contentedly through your Golden Wedding Day.

Letters

Editor, Herald:

I want to take time out from ironing this evening to publicly thank the person or persons who made it possible for me to hear the four convicts from the state prison who spoke at Sanford Junior High this morning to the students and interested persons.

I just wish this program could be repeated in the evening so that the fathers of these students could hear the true stories these four gentlemen told us this morning.

I feel very strongly about this "Operation Teenagers" and only wish it was made part of the school program at the beginning of the next school session. I think it should be a MUST for every junior and high school student!

Again, my sincere thanks. Mrs. John Hay Jr.

Dick West's The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — News photographers lead hard lives, they keep telling me down at the darkroom, and I suppose in some ways they do.

Press cameramen in Washington, for example, spend a lot of time photographing the activities of bureaucrats and members of Congress. Which is a job I certainly don't envy.

Their subjects usually are involved in paperwork of some sort, and all paperwork looks pretty much alike. This makes it difficult for the photographers to get variety into their pictures.

Then there is always a chance that some truculent witness at a congressional hearing will take a poke at them or try to break their cameras.

These, however, are old problems with which the photographers are accustomed to deal. A newer one has cropped up recently that I fear may be more than they can bear.

It was pointed out to me the other evening at the White House news photographers' annual dinner.

I spotted a photographer I knew who was looking rather downcast. Since it was supposed to be a festive occasion,

I asked him what the trouble was.

"They're killing cheese cake," he said. "Women, they're making a mockery of one of America's finest institutions."

"Pray elucidate," I said, so he did.

Ever since the invention of the daguerotype, he said, photographers have been snapping pictures of pretty girls in cheesecake poses. Especially in America. Cheesecake has become as American as apple pie.

When a photographer took a picture of an actress, a beauty queen or some other attractive female, tradition demanded that he pose her in such a way as to reveal a bit of knee and perhaps a flash of upper leg.

Folks who got married in Las Vegas are saluting it as the gambling capital of the U.S.A.

The number of psychiatrists in the U.S. has tripled since 1948, are we three times as goofy now?

Some of the spring hats look sprung.

This helped get the picture printed and also added a measure of enjoyment to the photographer's work.

"But now look what's happening," my friend lamented. "Just about ever dame in the country is wearing her skirts at or above the knees."

"Every time you shoot a routine picture with women in it, you get a few knees and a thigh or two. So nobody pays any attention to cheesecake any more."

I tried to comfort my friend by reminding him that fashions are highly unpredictable.

"In a few months," I said, "the upward trend in hemlines might reverse itself and cheesecake will make a comeback."

"Maybe so," he said, "but if you own any stock in French postcards, I'd advise you to sell."

Driving School For Teenagers To Open June 11

Students and teenagers out of school, between the ages of 14 and 20, are eligible to enroll in the driver's training summer courses to be given at Seminole County high schools beginning June 11. Private school students also will be accepted.

Students presently enrolled at Seminole, Lyman, Crooms and Oviedo will sign up for the course at their schools. Persons now out of school and private school students are asked to pick up their application forms at the school administration office. May 28 is the deadline for enrollment.

Drivers training is required by law for all students but no credits are given for the course. Through the summer course, students have the advantage of getting the class "out of the way" before enrolling in regular academic subjects during the regular school year.

A certificate of completion of the course permits a ten percent decrease in the cost of automobile insurance. Students with driver's training may get their regular driver's license at 16. Without it they cannot get a license until age 18, unless parents sign a declaration with the Florida Highway Patrol assuming full responsibility.

W. H. DeShazo, coordinator of the driver's training courses for the county schools, explained that with the new driver's training ranges in operation one teacher can direct as many as seven students in cars, driving through the course, through the use of walkie-talkie radios.

The course requires 30 hours of classroom study, 12 hours on the driving range and the remainder in traffic driving.

A fleet of new automobiles is made available to the schools through Sanford Automobile Dealers Association, under the direction of Willie Hunt. Use of cars is donated by Hunt Lincoln Mercury, Bill Hemphill Motors, Seminole County Motors, Haag Chrysler-Plymouth and Heller Motor Sales.

Variety Show Set Tuesday In Longwood

By Donna Estes
Longwood Parent - Teacher Organization will present its annual adult variety show, "Dixie Daze," following Tuesday's 7:30 p.m. general membership meeting of the group in the school auditorium. Installation of officers will precede the show and old and new by-laws will be read with proposed changes put to vote of the members.

Lyman Honors Athletes At All-Sports Banquet

By Jim Dechus
Herald Sports Writer

Lyman High School's All-Sports Award Banquet was held last Friday night in the Lyman High School cafeteria and auditorium with awards being presented during the program to the outstanding athletic performers of the past year.

Glenn Wilkes, head basketball coach at Stetson University in Deland, was the guest speaker for the evening.

The agenda for the evening began with the invocation by County Supt. of Public Instruction R. T. Milwee. This was followed by a ham dinner in the cafeteria.

After dinner the audience moved to the auditorium where presentation of the awards began.

Track Coach Rodney Umberger was first on the list presenting the trophy for most valuable member of track team to Miller Mike Ackerman, who according to Umberger "showed not just skill but also a great deal of desire and determination."

Next Coach Fletcher Cockrell presented a trophy to Steve Gillespie as the most valuable member of this year's golf team. Gillespie participated in the state golf tournament at Port St. Lucie this past month.

Baseball Coach Walt Drusus, filling in for ailing Jim Payne, made the presentation of the award for the baseball team. Steve Simpkins, a junior left-hander, received the trophy as outstanding pitcher. Simpkins compiled a record of 4-3 including a no-hitter against Apopka. He also batted .333.

Outfielder Marvin Cook was named most valuable player on the team. Cook led the team with an excellent .425 batting average and totaled 15 RBIs in 14 games.

Coach Jim Farley, filling in for Dick Silvers, presented the award as most valuable player on last fall's junior varsity football team. Eldridge totaled 286 yards rushing in one game and was the chief scoring threat for Silvers' baby Greyhounds.

Coach Dick Copeland presented quarterback Jack Blanton with the award as most improved football player. Guard Chuck Wagner and halfback Phil Perrault were named recipients of the Boss Mobley Award as outstanding lineman and back, respectively. Blanton was an honorable mention selection for All-Orange Belt Conference and Wagner was one of the co-captains of the team.

Byrd Brownell received the award from Coach Tom Barnes as the most valuable player on the junior varsity basketball team. Brownell was a consistent scorer and rebounder on Barnes' winning cage team.

Joe Asher, who averaged 18 points per game, received the trophy as most valuable player on the varsity basketball team. Mike Sterling, captain of the squad, was named as the most improved performer.

Paul Lambert received the Bill Proctor Scholastic Athletic Award for both athletic and academic excellence. Ronnie Greene and Larry Miller received recognition also as outstanding scholar athletes.

Wins Trophy

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI)—Ray Cullen, the kid brother of a skating family, has been named winner of the Dudley (Red) Garrett Memorial Trophy as the outstanding American Hockey League rookie for the 1964-65 season.

Cullen, a Buffalo Bison forward who scored 28 goals and 84 assists for 64 points, is the third member of his family to play for the AHL club. Brothers Barry and Brian previously skated for the Bisons.

Ford To Get Big Test In This Year's '500'

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—This may be the year Ford's V-8 engines will be put to the acid test in the 500-mile Speedway auto race.

Twenty-seven of the 33 starters in the $500,000 plus chase next Monday have rear-engine machines, 17 of them powered by Ford.

The four-cylinder Offenhauser, the ancient standby, will furnish the power in 14 other entries and the two famed Novis have eight-cylinder supercharged engines.

Only four conventional roadsters of the type that has won every "500" since the early 1950s will be in the lineup.

Last year only 12 rear-engine cars were in the race, seven powered by Ford, and only that of two-time race winner Roger Ward finished in the first ten.

Qualifications which ended late Sunday resulted in the fastest field ever, with the average speed of 136.068 miles per hour, 3 1/2 mph. faster than a year ago.

If the race keeps pace with the time trial speeds, the winner May 31st may average 150 miles per hour.

Eleven cars were qualified Saturday and six more Sunday, but four were eliminated by faster machines and Ward, in the biggest surprise of the trials, "humped" himself when he failed on the third try to gain a starting berth.

Ward, a 44-year-old grandfather, made two unsuccessful attempts last weekend and Saturday escaped injury in a spectacular warmup crash. His car was repaired overnight but his speed late in the day missed by an eyelash catching the car qualified at 153.623 by Bill Cheesbourg of Tucson, Ariz.

Ward thus failed to qualify

U. S. Open Qualifying Begins Today

MIAMI (UPI)— Top professional and amateur golfers from around Florida and South Georgia were scheduled to play 36 qualifying holes at three Florida courses today for the U. S. Open tournament.

A total of 74 pros and amateurs sought 13 qualifying berths at the Palmetto Golf and Country Club in Miami, Ponce de Leon Club in St. Augustine and at the Bay Hill Golf Club in Orlando.

The qualifiers will advance to the regional elimination rounds in Atlanta June 7-8.

A total of 38 golfers—20 of them pros—were scheduled to tee off at Palmetto where seven qualifying slots were at stake. Two qualifiers will be named from eight pros and three amateurs at St. Augustine and the four low shooters among 17 pros and eight amateurs will get bids in the Orlando action.

Professional Joe Lopez Jr., Miami, and amateurs Al Johns of Punta Gorda and Pete Cook of Miami were among the top names scheduled to play at Palmetto.

Professionals Pete Cooper of Sorrento and J. C. Gosale of Largo were to lead the parade at Orlando along with amateur Paul Tarnow Jr., Tampa.

N.F.L. BIRTHDAY CANTON, Ohio (UPI)—The National Football League was formed at Canton, Ohio, in 1920.

Elks Nine Cops First Half Junior League Flag

Elks gained a berth in the post season City Championship playoffs by winning the first half of the Junior League with a 7-3, won-lost record. The Elks club nosed out Civitan and Rotary by one game in the final first half league standings.

Elks and Rotary completed a 10-inning 2-2 tie game Friday afternoon with Elks winning 3-2 in 12 innings. Gary Maples worked the 11th and 12th innings to gain credit for the victory, his fourth without any setbacks on the mound. Maples struck out five of the seven men he faced in the relief role to raise his strikeout total to 45 in 22 innings. He has not allowed a single hit in the last 21-inning span and has walked only four batters in compiling a remarkable record to date.

Elks led off the bottom of the 12th with Jerry Smith reaching first on an error, advancing to third on a double by the next batter, Gary Maples, and then scoring the winning run on a bunt single by Tommy Gracey.

In the Little League play Friday, Chase and Florida State took victories in their respective leagues. Chase took a two-game lead in the Little National by beating their nearest pursuers, First Federal, 8-2. Richard Frank was the winning pitcher. Bill Hope led the 11-hit attack, netting three hits in three times at bat.

Andy Steele hurled one-hit ball and allowed only one walk as his Florida State teammates trounced Strickland Morrison 11-0 in four innings. Tommy Barks had two hits, including a home run, and Hardin also had two hits to lead the Bankers. Florida State erupted for seven runs in the second inning and added four more in the third to take the win. Although in last place, Florida State is only two games behind league-leading Georges in the tight Little American League race.

Halyes was president when the first Chinese diplomatic mission to the United States arrived in Washington.

Extra Innings Rule National League

By Curt Block
UPI Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals were the most spectacular, but Walter Alton gets the award for imagination.

The never-say-die world champions, frustrated by a 7-0 Met lead and a 77-minute delay caused by rain and muddy playing conditions, rallied for seven runs in the eighth and ninth innings Sunday and eventually recorded an 8-7, 12-inning win over New York.

In Chicago, Los Angeles Manager Alton saw an early lead go by the boards, sending his game with the Cubs into overtime. In the 12th inning, Alton had Wrigley Field regulars scratching their heads when he played with two outfielders. He won his gamble but lost the game in the 16th, 3-2.

Elsewhere in the senior circuit, Philadelphia nipped Cincinnati, 4-3 in 10 innings; San Francisco clipped Houston, 3-2; and Pittsburgh mauled Milwaukee, 10-1.

In the American League, Washington split with New York winning 7-3 and then losing 3-2; Boston won two from Cleveland 6-2 and 8-3; Baltimore took a pair from Detroit, 7-3 and 8-3; and Chicago beat Los Angeles, 8-3.

Kansas City was rained out at Minnesota.

Alton's unusual move came about thusly: Cub shortstop Roberto Pena opened the 12th with a single, bringing pitcher Lindy McDaniel to bat in an obvious bunt situation.

The Los Angeles skipper called Ron Fairly in from right field and played him at first base. Wes Parker, the regular first baseman, was stationed halfway between first and home plate, leaving

Lindy McDaniel took a called strike and then fouled off two pitches trying to bunt, for a strikeout, and the Dodger defense went back to normal.

Los Angeles tallied twice in the opening frame and then was held scoreless for 15 innings in the longest game of the year. Chicago won it on a bases-loaded walk issued by Howie Reed.

NO! I HAVE NOT RETIRED!

In answer to so many inquiries, I take great pleasure in welcoming another State Farm Agent in Sanford. It was my pleasure to assist in the selection of Mr. Gordon Meyer as an additional State Farm Agent for the Sanford area. We feel he will be an asset to us in keeping abreast with the growth of the area. Mr. Meyer is a very fine gentleman and his high moral values will uphold the reputation of our Company.

His office is located at 2913 South Orlando Drive, and our office is same as always, 107 Magnolia Avenue. When you think of insurance think of STATE FARM, LIFE, FIRE and AUTO.

Sunland Victory Puts Indians Out Of Pennant For First Half

By Jim Bacchos
Herald Sports Writer

Pitcher Tom Bryan slammed two home runs and battery mate Donnie Robinson belted a home run and a double on Saturday night to give the Sunland Yankees a 14-12 victory over the Casselberry Indians in South Seminole Senior League action at C. L. Cooper field in Casselberry.

The loss dealt to the Indians, their second, gave the Altamonte Senators the first half championship.

The victory by Sunland gave them a second place tie with Casselberry.

A nine-run fifth inning uprising by Sunland erased an 8-5 Casselberry lead and brought pitcher Robinson the victory. The Indians scored three times in the last inning, but were unable to pull out the victory.

Beside the clouts by the Sunland battery, Donnie Smith, Addis Stewart, Bob Polaski and Mike Stewart also had hits for the Yankees. Brent Helms homered and Jim Lucas rapped a pair of singles for Casselberry.

On Friday night Casselberry took the first half Little League crown with a 1-0 victory in a playoff game with the Altamonte Twins. Doug Kaubie stole home with the winning run for the Indians, after having reached base on a single. Larry Cote was the winning pitcher.

Nicklaus Wins Memphis Open On First Hole Of Sudden Death

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—Jack Nicklaus picked up $9,000 to add to his massive winnings Sunday when he came from behind to win the $50,000 Memphis Open golf tournament in the first hole of a sudden death playoff with Mississippi Johnny Pott.

Nicklaus, playing as much off the fairways as on during the first three rounds, switched to an intent, gambling style of play during the final round to knock five strokes off par and end up in a tie with Pott at 271-nine-under par.

The 25-year-old Masters winner parred the extra hole with ease after young Pott got into

Miss Aiken Marries C. D. Hayes Jr.

A home wedding, marked with quiet simplicity, held at 7 p.m. Saturday, May 22, united in marriage Anne Wright Aiken and Charles Denver Hayes Jr.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. (Dick) Aiken Jr., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Hayes spoke their vows before an improvised altar at the bride's home in Mayfair.

Rev. Grover Sewell performed the double ring ceremony and wedding music was played by John Charles Aiken, brother of the bride. "How Great Thou Art," "Because" and "A Wedding Benediction" were sung by the father of the bride.

The mantle was arranged with burning white tapers, flanked on either side with white flowers. Gardenias and ivy were interspersed along the candle holders. Ivy and other foliage were placed about the fire place and the couple knelt for prayer before a white wrought iron prayer rail.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory heirloom tulle gown fashioned with a V shaped decolletage and bell shaped skirt that terminated in a chapel train. The neckline was outlined with embossed lace flowers forming cap sleeves. The same lace was applied in a scroll pattern on the front of the skirt that featured back fullness accented with a flat bow. Her veil of illusion was attached to a coronet of seed pearls and iridescent crystals. She carried a white satin bride's Bible topped with a white orchid.

Matron of honor was Mrs. sister of the bride, who wore an ivory green tulle gown with matching shoes and head-dress. The dress featured a scooped neckline and wide cummerbund. She carried a white bouquet.

Best man for the groom was his cousin, Paul Keith. Members of the immediate families were present and were entertained at a reception following the ceremony.

A bridal motif was portrayed in the dining room with white bells, burning tapers and white floral arrangements. The tiered cake was served along with lime sherbet punch, nuts and mints. Tiny rice bags tied with green satin bows were given each one present.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a pink suit with white blouse and white accessories and the orchid carried during her wedding.

The couple will reside in Fayetteville, N. C., where the groom is attached to the Special Forces Training Group at Ft. Bragg.

Lyman Senior Honored At Afternoon Tea

By Jane Casselberry
Miss Lynn Bauman, Lyman High School senior, was guest of honor at a graduation tea given by Miss Glenda Payne at her home on Rock Lake in Longwood from 2 until 4 p.m. Saturday, May 15.

The honoree and her mother, Mrs. H. E. Bothell, were presented with corsages. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. James G. Payne.

The table was overlaid with a white damask cloth and the centerpiece of spring flowers was accented with a wise old owl with diploma and mortar board. Lyman school colors were carried out in the cake which bore the inscription "Congratulations, Lynn." The silver tea service was placed on one end of the table and a large punch bowl on the other.

One of every three workers in British manufacturing industries is a woman.

Jeanne Robson Honored At Coffee

Mrs. Arthur Beckwith was hostess for a coffee, Friday morning, honoring Miss Jeanne Robson whose marriage to Sam Schwarz will be an event of May 28 at Holy Cross Episcopal Church. Miss Robson wore a white lined dress with navy blue piping and matching blue and white shoes. Her mother, Mrs. Harry E. Robson, wore a blue striped seersucker dress with matching stole. Both were presented with white, purple-throated orchid corsages by the hostess.

The dining room buffet held twin candelabra with white tapers and arrangements of gardenias. A marble top coffee table in the living room was adorned with an arrangement of magnolia blossoms and the sun room was decorated with white snapdragons.

Greeting the guests at the door were Mrs. Charles Meeks and Mrs. Walter Gielow. Presiding at the coffee and tea services were Mrs. Brack Perkins and Mrs. Wally Phillips; Miss Anne Crapps assisted with the serving.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a white linen cloth and centered with a beautiful arrangement of shaded pink snapdragons in a silver container with a foundation of calladium leaves.

Dainty squares of pound cake, brownies, heart shaped sandwiches, to a staid nuts, mints and assorted party cookies were served. The hostess gift to Miss Robson was a silver bread tray.

Graduate Feted At Informal Party

Miss Pat Taylor, a member of the 1965 graduating class at Seminole High School, was honored with a Coke party recently at the home of Mrs. E. W. Rogers, 811 Park Ave.

The school colors of blue and white were used in decorations and refreshments. The hostess gift to Miss Taylor was a pair of crystal candlesticks with candles.

Refreshments of chips and dips, mints, nuts, sandwiches, petit fours and Cokes were served to the guests who enjoyed the party from 10 to 11 a.m.

Assisting Mrs. Rogers with the serving were her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Rogers, and her mother, Mrs. H. Q. Touchton.

Guests included Mrs. Cecil Tucker, mother of the honoree, and the Misses Becky Hicker, Pat Irvin, Maxine Stowell, Melanie Williams, Barbara Cox, Sharon Booth, Linda Robson, Michele Jones, and Sharon Walker. Also Linda Green, Linda Spencer, Susan Haynes, Donna Collins, Pat Chapman, Lynne Boynton, Elaine Headrick, Kathy Butler, DeLaine Johnson, Kathy Trout and Pat McGuire.

Mrs. Schumann Honored At Family Reunion, Barbecue

Mrs. Bertha Schumann, who currently is making her home with her son-in-law and daughter and their family, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Estes, of Longwood, was guest of honor at a family reunion recently in Melbourne.

The reunion took place at the ranch home of Mrs. Schumann's foster sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Troup.

The occasion marked the first time that she, her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Maul, of Sulterville, Pa., and Mrs. Troup had been together in 20 years.

A barbecue consisting of chicken, ribs, ham, potato and macaroni salad, tossed salad, cole slaw, relish tray, fruit, hot rolls, cake, pie, coffee and cold drinks was served picnic style on tables set on the east lawn of the Troup ranch.

Children attending the event were thrilled by a tour of the ranch where they saw a cow with her newborn calf, ducks, chickens, guinea and peacocks.

Present for the occasion, in addition to those named, were Mr. and Mrs. John Troup Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Troup, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Estes and children, Tracy Ed, Theresa, Kevin and Donna.

Way To Fight War, As Marine Said

By Leon Daniel
SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—It was, as the Marine said, a hell of a way to fight a war.

It was, too. For one thing, there were all these Dominican civilians sitting on their front porches watching.

And then there was the television cameraman filming Sgt. Dennis Lamoreaux busily squeezing off rounds with his M-14 rifle at a rebel who had climbed a tree on a jetty sticking out in the Caribbean. The Third Platoon of Dog Company deployed but it is doubtful that the Marines ever learned to do it "that way" back at Camp Lejeune.

That's the way it is at Checkpoint Dallas. As the Marine said, it was a hell of a way to fight a war.

GERALD J. LANG, ADJ2, has received the award of "Plane Captain of the Month" of Heavy Attack Squadron 11 at Sanford Naval Air Station for "outstanding performance of duty." (Navy Photo)

Civilians had a disconcerting habit of strolling rather casually down a sidewalk and into the line of fire. Then there was another problem. The lieutenant had told the Third Platoon they could not shoot unless they were shot at.

So when shots began whistling toward the Third Platoon from the direction of the jetty, the lieutenant said it was okay to shoot.

Lamoreaux' third or fourth shot brought something that looked a lot like a man toppling out of the tree. Then it began to look more like a war.

The lieutenant said Lamoreaux, of Jacksonville, N. C., had a possible kill.

The sergeant lit a cigarette and his buddies in the Third Platoon were yelling things like "beautiful shot" and "did you see that guy fall out of that tree?"

War at Checkpoint Dallas sometimes seems unreal. A Marine can stand around the corner and buy a cold beer at the grocery store and think it over.

Or he can try out his high school Spanish on the Dominican girls who stop by to say a lot of things that don't sound like "Yankee go home."

Speaking relatively, Checkpoint Dallas is pretty good duty.

Take "Bodcheck Charlie" for example. That's what the boys in Third Platoon call the rebel sniper who fires a few rounds at them every day just after dark.

The Marines say they're going to get "Bodcheck Charlie" one of these nights. They may, too, because they've got a lot more fire power than Charlie and his sniping buddies.

Then there's that old white truck with the sandbags and 80 caliber machinegun on it. The rebels use it occasionally to make a run toward Checkpoint Dallas. But they don't get very far.

By Dottie Austin
(First Of Three)
"The day a man retires is the day he begins to die," says 86-year-old Frank Miller, judge of the Seminole County Small Claims Court, who puts in a full day's work every day.

"I will leave this world some day, but meantime, I'm not going to let the world leave me behind," added the judge, patting the female reporter on the knee.

Frank Miller's sentiments are obviously echoed by hundreds of other "senior citizens" of this area, who past "retirement" age, who continue in business, putting in long hours on the job as well as taking part in many civic activities and extracurricular activities.

The month of May was designated as "Senior Citizen's Month" by the President's Council on Aging and this reporter was assigned to find out what the "senior citizens" of our area are doing and thinking and what is happening to them.

What we discovered astounded us, (young and ignorant as we are.)
(On of the first things we found out was that we have no "senior citizens" around here. Among those who qualify for the title, the words have an ominous ring and are resented—sometimes fiercely.

The second thing we discovered was that although the figure of 65 has been arbitrarily set as "quitting" time for most workers, a great many of them choose to ignore the bell to "retire to their corner" and keep right on with what they are doing.

Others accept the dictum, hang up their hat and start "taking it easy." They get out the fishing rods and the golf clubs, putter around the yard a while, read a few books they had been saving. Suddenly they wake up one morning to find they are "bored to death" with "retirement" and back to the work-a-day world they go, to "start living again."

No sooner had the paper come off the press than the telephone began ringing. "I'd know that beautiful smile anywhere," said one caller.

Mrs. I. J. Dutler Jr., 113 West Jenkins Circle, was the first one to guess the "mystery man's" identity. You are all right, folks. It is Charlie Morrison. You can fool some of the people some of the time but not all of the people all of the time.

An abundance of coral snakes is reported in the Lake Branley area.

Maj. Harry Williamson of Sand Lake Road killed a 21-inch coral snake on his property the other day. It was his second kill within a few days.

Congratulations to County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Fitzpatrick! They are the parents of a baby girl born last Saturday. She makes No. 7 for the Fitzpatricks. They have five boys and two girls.

A major problem in operating a hospital is "what to do with the visitors?" We'll mean as they may be, visitors clutter up the place and quite often slow down the normal functions by getting in the way. Seminole Memorial Hospital today issued this plea: "Due to the crowded conditions of the hospital, it is strongly urged that visitors: Limit their visit to 15 minutes; two visitors to a patient only; do not congregate in the halls, in order that equipment and the normal functioning of the nursing department can be carried on for the patients' welfare and benefit." And an aside to these well-meaning visitors: these doctors seriously are considering cutting off all visits to their patients.

Land O' Lakes Country Club will hold a disaster benefit golf tournament, pool party and cookout June 6 for the sinkhole victims at Casselberry. The club also has offered its golf course, swimming pool and barbecue facilities to the "Helping Hands." All entry fees will be put in the fund for the benefit of the disaster victims.

Two memorial gifts have been received by United Fund of Seminole County, one in memory of Mrs. Beatrice Rivers and the other in memory of Miss Florence Witte—gifts that will go toward helping the living.

CARL SETJE, of Casselberry, has been doubly honored in that he has been re-elected president of the Winter Park Chapter, National Association of Retired Civil Employees, and elected secretary of the Florida Federation of Retired Civil Employees.

The "All Florida Magazine," complete with television listings for the week, will be distributed with The Sanford Herald beginning Friday.

This week's issue contains a special feature on the state's Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center in Avon Park. Come along with writer Fredric Babcock to the center where "no man is an island" and dedicated experts work to restore hundreds of men and women to society and sobriety.

A special treat for the ladies in The Herald's inaugural edition will be a recipe for orange pecan pie. Many other interesting stories and features are in this colorful magazine that will be yours each week with The Sanford Herald.

TOURIST KILLED
FORT WALTON BEACH (UPI)—A tourist from New York City, 46-year-old Solomon M. Mizzarach, was killed today when a semi-trailer truck smashed into the back of his house trailer beside U. S. Highway 98.

Downeasters Take Fight In Stride

LEWISTON, Maine (UPI)—The even tenor of its way is what this town is pursuing, right up to fisticuff time. Easy does it.

Its picture is going to go flashing live through the heavens to television screens of the Western world in the (related story on page 6.) Most watched fight ever, but downeast sophistication has conquered municipal tizzy. Level heads prevail all over. Even as the closed-circuit television people were announcing they had insured champion Cassius Marcellus Clay's life for $1 million until he can get out of town, the police chief here pointed out that "we've got a peaceful community."

There were no murders here last year, no negligent manslaughter, no forcible rape cases, only seven cases of breaking and entering, and two aggravated assaults. Police Chief Joseph H. Farand said the 230 law officers on duty for the Clay-Liston heavyweight championship fight tonight represent only "a normal security measure" for this town of 41,000. The television head man said the "major consideration for our taking the insurance was the so-called threats against the champ's life." He said the fact that the insurance people were requiring only a $1,000 premium showed they believed odds were 1,000-to-1 against Clay's being attacked by Black Nationalist fanatics. Chief Farand said, when asked about rumors of people en route here to get Clay, that "I've had no report of this nature from any authoritative source—anything we've chased down has proved to be fictitious." "Security is well in hand, and I'm sure we are adequately set up for any eventualities," he said. Local police, deputy sheriffs, and state troopers will guard the city and St. Dom's Youth Center. At that center, scene of the fight at 10:30 p.m., a representative of a sports magazine started Monday at work in progress on the imported ring and the adding of chairs to bring the seating capacity to 5,900. In moving tones, he said: "This is the sanest pre-fight day I've ever seen in my life—the sanest and calmest." Downtown at the ticket office on Ash Street co-promoter Sam Michael, of Auburn, and his wife stood outside in the sun and whipping wind. Willie Heddish, the amiable giant who is Sonny Liston's trainer and head tactician, strolled up. Nobody on the street looked at him. Jim Braddock, the former world champion heavyweight, drove up and asked Michael the way to a restaurant. No crowd. No one even looked,

Burns Hails Road Bond Victory

Highway Plan To Be Carried To Electorate

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Haydon Burns today hailed passage of his $300 million road bond program as a great victory for Florida and said he will campaign to get it adopted by the people at a special election in the fall. Burns said the amendments tacked to the Senate-approved bill before its passage in the House by a 91-29 vote Monday night were "very mild" in effect and there will be no problem straightening out differences in House and Senate versions when it gets to conference committee later this week.

There are two major differences in the two versions. The House tacked on a conflict of interest provision which the governor said was not really necessary, claiming other state laws took care of such matters.

And the Senate insisted on a West Florida road called the "Tapper Road" which Governor Burns said was not justified and which the House refused to accept.

In its marathon battle Monday, the House members debated chiefly an endless procession of amendments to the bill, not the bond program itself.

In all, the House killed off 21 proposed amendments to the program but approved 13. Rep. S. J. Davis Jr., of Seminole County, was unsuccessful in tacking on amendments constructing arterial connectors and urban improvements in his county, work on the highway (17-92) from Sanford to Orange City, and in increasing the size of the issue from $300 million to $350 million.

Senate OKs Jr. College

TALLAHASSEE (SpI)—Final passage on all phases for a $611,561 appropriation for the proposed Seminole Junior College was voted by the State Senate at noon today.

The Senate, in a move spearheaded by Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr., of Sanford, included $365,000 for capital outlay (construction) for the school in the $80 million bond implementing bill.

Previously the Senate had approved two appropriations for the Seminole college, $30,000 for planning and $219,561 for operations during the second year of the biennium. Those latter appropriations will come from the general operating fund.

Senator Cleveland's motion was approved to immediately certify the entire plan to the House of Representatives for its approval. Should the House and Gov. Haydon Burns approve, the college could commence operations next September in available space in present school facilities.

Building Supplies Go Up In Smoke

Fire from an undetermined source Monday destroyed about $500 worth of building supplies in a construction shed at Seminole Memorial Hospital where a new wing is being built. According to Fire Chief R. T. Thomas, the blaze was discovered about 2:15 p. m. The building contained paint thinner, oxygen tanks and other combustibles. There was no explosion.

JOHN ANGEL, principal of South Seminole Junior High School, was honored when the school's unit of the National Junior Honor Society was named the "John Angel Chapter." President Thomas Soard presented the charter to Angel.

John Angel Honored By Honor Students

By Jane Casselberry
Charter for John Angel Chapter, National Junior Honor Society, was formally presented by President Thomas Soard to Principal John Angel at an all-school outdoor assembly at South Seminole Junior High School. Twenty-three new members were tapped and initiated. They are Douglas Finch, Thomas Hawks, James Lucas, Michael McCarthy, John Newell, Raymond Sigmon, Patricia Harville and Bonnie Simmons, ninth grade; Karl Erickson, Scott Gettings, Gerald Haas, David Loveland, Gerard O'Conner, Kent Planch, Gerald Scott, Jay Wolk, Sandra Bordenick, Elizabeth Bryan, Barbara Bryant, Debra Dane, Terry Pattishall, Janet Waltman and Meridel Eddy, eighth grade. Those taking part in the ceremony were Soard, Donna Kilmer, vice president; Larry Todd, Keith Creeden, Walter Blittine, Lalou Byers, Suzanne Webber, Judy Chenet and Barbara Andrews. Robert Likens, faculty advisor, administered the pledge.

Medals were presented to the two top students of American history. Gerard O'Conner received the Daughters of the American Revolution Award presented by Mrs. W. E. Baker, of Sally Harrison Chapter, Sanford. The United Daughters of the Confederacy Award went to Meridel Eddy and was presented by Mrs. T. J. Taylor, of Norman Devere Howard Chapter, Sanford. Certificates were given 24 students who placed in the top 10 per cent of the nation in recent national education development tests.

Orlandoan Loses Cash To Robbers

ORLANDO (UPI)—A prominent citrus grower and packer was robbed of $2,000 in cash in the driveway of his home by three masked gunmen early today.

L. W. Hardman was accosted by two men as he prepared to go to work. They searched him and took the cash, papers and some keys. Hardman was tied up by the three men who escaped in his 1965 automobile. They left it abandoned and it was found about 45 minutes after the holdup.

Plan To Save Seats Of All Incumbents

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The big county minority bloc agreed tentatively on a congressional redistricting compromise that would preserve the seat of every incumbent U. S. representative from Florida.

The group, numbering 16, met at the call of Sen. George Hollahan, of Dade, and decided informally to try to stick together on both redistricting and legislative reapportionment, rather than each trying to come up with his own plan.

They also decided, Hollahan reported, to take up congressional redistricting ahead of legislative reapportionment—and to handle both in a special session rather than tackling either of the knotty problems in the two weeks remaining of the current Legislature.

Only Sen. John Spottswood, of Key West, was unhappy with the plan finally agreed to, he said, and adjustments might be made to satisfy him.

He objected to the group's proposal for an investigation of the "political atmosphere" in Florida in relation to the school system.

The FEA called for the investigation after the Legislature turned thumbs down on a $50 million tax hike that would be earmarked for teacher pay raises.

The investigation sparked angry replies from lawmakers, including Senate President James Connor, who claimed the FEA was trying to "blackjack" the Legislature into voting them a raise.

Other lawmakers called the investigation "ironic" after a recent Supreme Court ruling that property must be taxed at its full value and O'Neill's bill giving the comptroller power to enforce the full value property assessment ruling.

The comptroller under O'Neill's bill, could withhold commissions to local tax assessors and delay approval of local tax rolls that do not meet the market value criteria set by the Supreme Court last week in a Duval County case.

Another trouble spot was in the district which includes Brevard County. Sen. James Drossler, Cocoa Beach, was satisfied with a distribution that made a new district composed of Orange, Brevard and Indian River as far as redistricting goes, but he would not want this setup to dictate legislative reapportionment that might make Brevard and Orange a senatorial district whereas now they are separate districts with separate senators.
