

1943 Yankee Club Satisfactory To Ed Barrow

By CHIP ROYAL

New York—The 1943 edition of the New York Yankees is "a very peculiar club," as President Ed Barrow puts it, "but a satisfying one."

Yes! Any club that can win almost three-fourths of its home games, and every series but one with the rival American League outfit, needn't take a back seat to any baseball team.

"It's my style of team," says Cousin Ed proudly. "Not as brilliant in individuals as other clubs we have had, but it's loaded with more fight. Come to think of it, we still have a lot of great players, war or no war."

Dickey Over W. Cooper
"There's Bill Dickey back at the plate. They call Walter Cooper Dickey any day. And have you not noticed the way he's hitting this year? His best previous average in the majors was .302 in 1934 but he'll beat that this year."

"We have a wealth of pitching material and a man who knows how to get the most out of them," says Ed. "I'm sure you know who I'm talking about."

"We certainly haven't any worry in that department," says Ed. "The Yankees have," says Ed.

with a few more. Ed Johnson, Al Uhlir, Russ. He's the most important player on the club, I like the way the boys get in front of every ballgame, matter how hard it is. It's then square off and let's go with the best arm since Bob Mousel came up to play the bag."

That was as far as Barrow got. His secretary reminded him of an earlier appointment and he begged to be excused. But it shows how the man who helped make the Yankees feel about his employees. The records speak for the rest of them.

Key Man Missing
Like every club in the American and National League, the Yankees were without several of their best men this year: Joe DiMaggio, the big slugger who sparked the club to its 1943 American League championship; Big Charley Ruffing, Ed Riffe, Blasty Hassett, Tommy Henrich and Phil Rizzuto, all important cogs in last year's machine, were missing.

All over the league they say Ed Barrow would have his trouble, like other managers fielding a club that would rise from the depths of the second division.

But with a little of that McCarthy genius, Joe came up with firstacker Nick Eiten, who had a so-so year with the Phils in 1942, but who has been among the American League's run-inners in last year's machine, a minor league outfielder, rookie Johnson; Johnny Lindall, the Cleveland disappointment; Roy Weatherly, who may be the series star; and Pitcher Charlie Wenzeliff.

MAN THROGS, according to a German announcement, have evacuated Bryansk (1), main pivot in the southern and central defense systems in Russia. Red army forces farther south, pushed closer to strategic Zapozhne (2). West of captured Mariupol (3) one Soviet column raced sixteen miles southwest to the sea coast town of Yalta, on the Sea of Azov. It was reported by Moscow that Nazi forces in the town were cleared out after brisk hand-to-hand fighting. Soviet marines, in a daring maneuver, made two landings (4) along the sea coast behind the retreating German troops. They cut off a large force and seized a heavy toll of the Nazi units. ### Heavyweight Champ Is Worried Over Army Opinion

By CHIP ROYAL
AP Features Sports Editor
New York—Heavyweight champion Joe Louis is worried! He is afraid the servicemen won't like him in his nation-wide tour of the Army camps—AND HE MAY BE MAKING HIS LAST APPEARANCE IN THE RING.

Before the Brown Bomber's professional handlers, and others who stand to lose a lot of shakedown money over the fact that Joe may not again professionally, let us hasten to quote the champ.

"I'm really scared about this big trip we're on. My title and any prize for a fight was seem unimportant. I have a job to do. I don't care if I never fight again as long as I never give the boys a good-enough show, help with some fun, and push home the idea that good physical condition makes better soldiers."

Have you heard how the boys are enjoying it? I'm worried that they won't get enough out of it. We're supposed to rest Saturdays and Sundays but I'm hoping to crowd a few more shows in on those days.

"The hard work won't hurt me any. It will help me keep in better condition than ever because of this war. I'll be out there on Saturdays and Sundays but I'll be glad to defend my title again."

"Well, that's hard to say. I'm looking forward to at least one or two more championship fights. But this war will have to end soon or I'll be like Tannay and retire. I'm 29 now and in three years, I'll have white whiskers as champs go."

In that case who do you think will be the next champion?

"You've got me again. It could be Billy Conn or that Freddy Mills fellow over in England. I'd like to fight them both before I quit but it all depends on how long Uncle Sam needs me. He comes first."

James Joy Johnston, who has been a big noise in the fight racket for more than 50 years, boys who haven't been in the service long enough to see action. Once any of our fighters see action their ring days will be over. "In the case of Louis, he'll have to fight next year or the long legs and his age will be too much of a handicap for a comeback."

Lawton Chosen President Of County C Of C

Treasurer's Report Shows Cash Balance Of $5,687 At Close Of Fiscal Year

T. W. Lawton was elected president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of directors in the City Hall last night. Ed Higgins was re-elected secretary while Leo Leher was named vice president and J. L. Ingley treasurer.

The nominating committee, appointed by the retiring President, W. A. Leffer, consisted of James H. Gut, George D. Bishop, L. B. Mann, J. A. Hillman and W. G. Kilbey. District vice presidents elected were Ned Smith and P. A. Dyson from Sanford and C. E. Bradshaw from Altamonte Springs. B. F. Wheeler from Oviedo and W. G. Kilbey from Geneva.

The report by the Treasurer J. L. Ingley revealed a cash balance of $5,687.38 with anticipated revenues for the coming year of $5,000 from the County Publicity Fund, $4,000 from the City of Sanford, and $5,000 from memberships, making a total of $14,687.38 available for the coming year if needed.

In turning over the office of president to Mr. Lawton, Mr. Leffer, who had previously declined re-election, declared he had nothing whatever to do with the selection of the nominating committee and so felt that he could speak freely in commending its choice.

He cleared the selection of Mr. Lawton, who resides in Oviedo, for the presidency would do much toward cementing friendlier relations between the city and county and added that he had long

Earle Kipp And Mrs. Fred Myers Urge Parents To Buy War Bonds

R. Earle Kipp, principal of the Sanford Grammar School and Sanford Junior High School, and Mrs. Fred Myers, chairman of the Seminole High School P.T.A., today urged parents of school children to subscribe to the Third War Loan.

Said Mr. Kipp: "The Third War Loan Drive places on the shoulders of the American people a greater responsibility than any they have ever before undertaken. It calls for more money than any other financial operation in the history of the world, because never before has there been such urgent need. Never has so much been at stake. We are asked to raise $15,000,000,000. We are told that this means the purchase of at least one extra $100 Bond in September, by everyone of us over and above our regular bond purchases. Those who can afford more must buy more, regardless of any sacrifice entailed. In fact unless we do sacrifice to buy Bonds—we are not doing all we should do.

"The mother who didn't want her little boy to 'play soldier' may by now have watched him march off in the uniform of the real thing. Parents who were careful not to allow toy cannons to reach their youngsters are if the notes in my neighborhood are any indication—getting used to the hooting and hollering of machine guns, that strident accompaniment of the command games by which our children identify themselves with fathers and older brothers who have gone to war.

"Many of us who have taught our children that war was the ultimate horror, have had to

Peterson Wants Motorists To Go Easy On Tires

Not Enough Grade 1 Tires Here For All Who Are Eligible

The new warning to motorists to conserve tires, not to drive over 35 miles an hour, not to blame dealers for unsatisfactory tires, or the Rationing Board for various tire restrictions imposed by the government was issued today by A. B. Peterson who said that the situation is not as bad as it is being made to appear.

"I wish that I were able to really convince motorists that the tire situation is so critical that it is better to conserve their present tires, it may be necessary for their cars to be stored," Mr. Peterson said.

"Not only have tire quotas been cut, but tire dealers are unable to secure tires from the manufacturers," he said.

"A gasoline book holder of 'A' grade tires is not eligible for tires of any kind. All 'B' gasoline book holders and 'C' book holders whose essential driving is less than 600 miles are entitled to only grade III tires. Our grade I quota is so small that this office will be unable to take care of the motorists who are eligible under this restriction for new tires.

"If the motorist would bear in mind this office does not make these rules, but only administer them, we have no personal choice in the matter but to follow the rules prescribed for the issuance of the certificates. We cannot exceed the quota allotted to us under any circumstances.

"This office is willing to admit

Ration Cost Of Butter Is Raised To Sixteen Points

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29. (AP)—A nationwide commodity price list announced by the government today raised the rationing cost of butter sharply from 10 to 16 points to compensate for a 10 per cent production decline, but held spot prices for apples, oranges and other fruits at 8 to 11 points.

Groceries To Continue Wednesday Closings

Grocery stores in Sanford and throughout the state, which have been closing Wednesday afternoons during the summer, will continue to do so throughout the coming winter, and for the duration of the war, William M. Munroe, state secretary of the Florida State Association of Retail Grocers, said yesterday.

Munroe said the plan was to be continued in an effort to spread the shopping period and avoid a week-end rush. Stores will stock up on Wednesday afternoons and try to get customers to do their shopping on Thursday and take some of the load off business on Friday and Saturday.

"We simply do not have the help to do the most of a week's business in one grand week-end," we've got to spread it," said Munroe. "Under the new plan the housewife who is smart will shop Thursday, and get the pick of what we have to sell."

Those who will until Friday or Saturday will take what is left, and if we are sold out of short items, it will be just too late.

Munroe said he has visited most cities throughout the State and the grocers are all in accord with Wednesday afternoon closing.

"The outlook is a little better," Munroe said. Considerable stocks of canned goods are being released to civilians and stocks of some frozen meats and poultry are being released to civilians. It is now more completely a question of points.

Chief Cleveland Issues Warning On Fire Hazards

Clean Up Trash In Gutters, Around Houses Is Advice

"Fire hazards may be avoided by the cleaning of gutters, dry grass and rubbish near buildings, and by removing all rubbish near houses, especially dry grass and leaves," Chief Cleveland advised today.

"Care must also be taken that falling leaves do not accumulate in house gutters. If they do, a spark from a burning trash pile or chimney could start a fire there, setting fire to the building."

"I am asking people to continue in past years in eliminating these hazards. The more they do, the more they will save. It is hard for us to keep a clean house, but in every way possible to keep down these hazards that might easily be avoided."

"In alleys, especially, leaves, grass and rubbish near buildings should be removed. Sometimes cigarette butts thrown in a lighted gutter or in a trash pile might start a fire."

While Chief Cleveland was speaking one of his men opened the fire hydrant at the corner of First Street and Palm Street. The hydrant was turned on and water gushed out under its own pressure.

"Sanford is fortunate in having eight of these wells," he said. "Four of these, including this one, are interconnected with the electric pump on Second Street, and can produce a flow of 3,000 gallons per minute. If during a fire, anything happened to the city water system, we could put pumps to the hydrants and pump water from the wells into the hydrants. The other connected ones are interconnected with the Sanford Avenue, Second Street and Park Avenue, and Third Street and Oak Avenue."

"All these wells and city hydrants are now being tested, oil, greased and checked," Chief Cleveland said.

180 People Needed To Start Project For Cold Storage

War Department Says Manpower Draft Essential

"It is a case of man or money for citizens of the county to meet the needs of a cold storage plant with individual locker space available at about a dollar a month rental, was a model from operated during the war by the County Agent, C. E. Dwyer, following a short operating period in 1942."

The project is to be financed by the Bank for the purpose of providing a cold storage plant for the county, and to be operated by the county.

War Department Says Manpower Draft Essential

Productivity Of Labor Available Has To Be Increased

FOR BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 29. (AP)—A war department official said today that the most essential of all war efforts is to increase the productivity of the labor force available.

"The war department is essential of adequate supplies of labor are being drafted from nonessential work to war industries," he said.

Late Announcement Says Marines Landed On Nanumea Island On Sept. 4th

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 29. (AP)—Greater emphasis in war news presentation now will prevent criticism and lack of confidence later, Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) said in an exclusive interview after his war front visit where "I saw the reaction of our fighting men to habitually optimistic news reports."

Senator Lodge will tell Congress, "Our fighting men are mad because of false optimism of our news," adding "Our present censorship is a case of a front endage and disillusion our fighting men to the truthfulness of their leaders and at home it breeds apathy."

Improvements Are Made In Fixtures At Florida Bank

In accordance with new plans, fixtures at the Florida State Bank are being replaced with modern low type fixtures, the lobby is being enlarged, another teller's window is being added and other improvements are being made. F. Rowland, vice president and cashier, announced today.

M. S. Connel of the Wide Manufacturing Company of Charlotte, N. C. is personally directing the installation of the new fixtures, which he said would be completed in several weeks.

Mr. Rowland pointed out the photo-etching which has somewhat the appearance of a photo-etching and which photographs the face and front of every check passing through the bank. It then can reproduce on a white screen by the turn of a hand, a check which is photographed monthly before it is cashed. If a check is lost, the bank has a perfect record of it. The photographs are on rolls of sensitive film and checks are checked for inspection in their natural color.

By this means, Mr. Rowland pointed out, a lot of checks in all the state are eliminated, and more than an hour's work saved every day.

WLB Must Approve All Wage Increases. ATLANTA, Sept. 29. (AP)—Pay increases sponsored under approved wage rates recently announced by the regional War Labor Board must carry board approval, Chairman M. T. Van Hecke said yesterday.

Van Hecke declared an erroneous statement had been widely circulated among Southeastern employers and workers that increases up to the approved rates did not need WLB approval.

"It is not true that raises up to the approved rates need not carry WLB approval," Van Hecke said. "Only voluntary increases up to 40 cents an hour may be given without board approval. There has been no change in WLB policy on permissive increases as provided in general order 30."

New American Legion Commander Rose From The Ranks In Army

Warren H. Atherton of Stockton, Cal., newly elected National Commander of the American Legion for 1943-44, was born in San Francisco, educated in California, and has practiced law here since 1911.

He rose from the ranks in the American Legion just as he rose from the ranks in the Army during World War I, a charter member of the Karl Ross Post 14 at Stockton, in 1919. Atherton served as Executive Committee member of the post, then in 1920 as Post Commander as 11th District Commander in 1922, as Department Chairman of the Armistice Day closing committee in 1928, as a member of the Community Relations Committee of the California American Legion in 1933. He was appointed Chairman of the Department Monday by a committee of the post, then in 1935 as Post Commander of the 25th National Convention in Omaha, Neb., September 22, 1933.

As National Defense Chairman of the American Legion Atherton in the spring of 1943 accompanied General Waring, then National Commander on an aerial tour of American battlefields in North Africa, and of Army installations in the United States covering more than 25,000 square miles.

Atherton enlisted as a private in Co. D, 36th Infantry, 1st Division, October 2, 1917, for World War I service. He was commissioned as a 1st Lieutenant January 2, 1918, and went overseas in April 1918. He was promoted to be a captain of Ordnance in February 1919. He was discharged September 3, 1919. He held a commission as a captain in the Infantry Reserve Corps for 16 years.

Admitted to practice law in California January 8, 1913, Atherton served as President of the San Joaquin County Bar Association in 1921, as Police Judge at Stockton from 1920 to 1925, as President of the Kiwanis Club in 1924, as Chairman of the Building Code in Fremont and Appeals in 1933, as a member of the State Board of Prison Terms and Pardons during 1934-35, as President of the Stockton Chamber of Commerce from 1933 to 1935, and as attorney for the Veterans' Welfare Board of California.

There are 18 acres of land native to this country.

MAINE FARM

(From The Washington Post)
Last fall we put the pasture under plow and the mellow and ground to grass.

Orion rises in the heavens now. Once more the end of summer comes to pass.

That pasture and would be a bed of flame. Where blueberry among late asters glowed.

Beneath the mowers and hay that claimed. Their urgent paths beside the sheepsworn road.

Now from the bedroom window all we see is another year. Is just some green that's fading into brown.

No single hint of autumn's mystery. The old neglected pasture's seed, Of course we needed fodder for the cows.

But there's no place to let the spirit brood! HAROLD T. PULSFER

Secretary takes seems to be fairly well in Florida. Well, he ought to know; he ordered it stored.

Orlando, which has grown substantially in the last few years, now claims a population of 145,000.

Sanford, within ten years, it is expected to take in Winter Park giving it a population of 160,000.

And in another ten years, Sanford will take them both in for a population of 300,000.

Only one more day to get in and pitch for Sanford in the Third War Loan drive.

But they will not return full interest until due. And if, after the war, great numbers of people suddenly begin to turn in their bonds, the government will be obliged to refinance them in ways contributing to inflation.

Buy the bond—and forget it. Build up a bank fund for the luxury besides. It's wonderful for the peace of mind.

Mrs. Roosevelt says the boys in the Pacific think it is funny this controversy over the drafting of fathers. Mothers of small children, however, will not think it is funny when their husbands go off to war, though so far this has been the only nation in the world which has recognized parenthood as a legitimate excuse from service in the armed forces.

Avocado is a good substitute for breakfast, we note, as we discover we have used the last of our red coupons. Well, most eaters will question that statement. But from the standpoint of nutrition there is nothing better than avocado. There are not many of them and so not many people can use them as a substitute for anything, but for those who can, they'll find one avocado is a good meal in itself.

Sanford's high school football team got off to a flying start this year with a 20 to 0 win over Rustia. Our scouts report that Orlando scouts were plenty worried when they saw Fleming and Ladross go charging through the Rustia line while many a scout was ever made in the Sanford line. It may be too early in the season to begin talking too soon, but it looks like a good season for Sanford.

People who have been living out of cans might as well make their minds to get on a new line of diet. Nation points have increased from 2,100 to 11,000 on each of six types of cans. These are especially important for the human race. People who are in the habit of eating canned goods should be thankful they are there. There are always some of fresh fruits, vegetables, and meats, but it is necessary to buy the human race.

Dnyepper Or Neper?

People seem to be having a terrible time with geographical names. As the war proceeds, and centers of interest swing from one area to another, there is incessant trouble about pronunciation. It is probably worse for Americans than for other nations, because our people are so sensitive about it.

Take the Dnieper River, for example, which has been in the news and on the tongues of people lately, the world over, because of its location and importance. It seems to be almost as troublesome vocally as it is militarily. In conversation and on the radio you hear half a dozen different pronunciations. It is pitiful how the radio people strain themselves to get it "right". But what IS right in such a case?

It might be a good idea for anybody with that sort of worry to quit fussing about the way people in Russia, or anywhere else, pronounce their place-names, and simply fall back on natural, old-fashioned American practice. As for the case in question, let the Russians themselves say "dnyepper" if they want to. Their vocal organs are attuned to such sounds. But why should Americans think they have to break their jaws doing likewise? American dictionaries and cultured American speakers in the past have said "Ne-per", and have simplified accordingly hundreds of other foreign words hard for us to say. The English are less sensitive and silly about such matters than we are.

Lima Bean History

The lima bean seems to have been chiefly known as the partner of corn off the cob in that famous dish called succotash. It is also eaten cooked alone, with butter or butter and milk, when fresh and green. Also sometimes it is found in cans—which are a great stand-by of the camper, giving him, with bacon, a meal without KP on potatoes. In the winter many are the devotees of the dried lima bean, flud up with various sauces.

But lima bean history has been sadly neglected. Now W. W. Mackie, retired agronomist of the University of California at Berkeley, has remedied that lack. Mr. Mackie has delved into the history of the lima bean and written an article on it for the college technical journal, Hilaria in Cuba. But the first real lima beans were found in Virginia, south of the Potomac. They grow there in a form similar to that of the original primitive beans found in America from Brazil north to the Hopi pueblos of the southwestern United States.

Isn't it wonderful to know things like that? But it's even more wonderful to have corn for dinner Tuesday and lima beans Wednesday and succotash Thursday. That's our glorious thing about America anyhow. The asparagus season is just thinning out when the berries come at their best and then the melons and then corn'beans. Preach pie coming along now, too. Boy, what a country!

Ten Year Bonds

Many people are mixing up their plans for the future. They are buying bonds now, because they cannot buy things. House improvements, for instance, cars, trips, fur coats. They expect to use their bonds for these purposes the minute the war is over and objects of desire become available again.

It's better to buy bonds with this in mind than not to buy them at all. But it's a mistake to count on cashing them before their time is up. Bonds are far better, for the nation and for the individual buyer, if they are bought with a plan to let them alone until they become due.

Other savings can be made, after the bond is bought for the month, with postwar luxuries in view. Or some form of thrift prepayment can be worked out for the new kitchen sink or automobile.

It is true the bonds can be cashed any time after sixty days. This gives them value as backing for emergency. But they will not return full interest until due. And if, after the war, great numbers of people suddenly begin to turn in their bonds, the government will be obliged to refinance them in ways contributing to inflation.

Buy the bond—and forget it. Build up a bank fund for the luxury besides. It's wonderful for the peace of mind.

Time Problem

The immense speeds with which airplanes move nowadays, and their steadily increasing power, raise some interesting questions, not merely temporal but philosophic.

An American observer points out, for instance, that if transatlantic planes ever reach a speed of 720 miles an hour—as they may before long—the elapsed time indicated on the pilot's instruments going east will be only five hours. Now that is the precise difference between Eastern Standard and British time. So the passenger leaving New York at noon will still find it noon when he reaches Great Britain.

To all appearances, he will have crossed the Atlantic in "no time at all". And suppose planes, as they may yet do, go faster than that, and cross the ocean apparently in "less than no time!" Surely, as the great author Thomas Mann says, "there is something strange in the nature of time."

Give Them Adequate Breakfasts

MELBOURNE TIMES

Would you like to know which child in a school room fails to get breakfast? He comes from a home where some one is looking after his health.

A teacher of many years experience says that information she says that many of the failures at school can be directly traced to "skippy or trashy breakfasts that are eaten under nervous or emotional strain."

How much better it would be, this teacher says, if families would set their alarm clocks for a pleasant breakfast hour. Breakfast, the teacher says, should be the family's get-together time.

THEY WILL TELL US

By GEORGE W. BARRETTE
In the Florida, Ill. Journal-Transcript

Years and the war have added lustre to the record of The American Legion, have enlarged its opportunity for service and have stimulated its list of patriotic accomplishments.

The beginning of the 25th year since the founding of the national organization marks the passage of time. Day to day demonstrations of Legion activity, Legion leadership, and Legion benevolence reveal the achievements—a field all Americans must till if the United States is to live.

In Peoria the Legion record has been particularly impressive, its influence unusually strong. Peoria Post No. 2 ranked thirty-first in membership among all posts in the nation in 1942, although Peoria was the eighty-sixth city in the country in point of population. There were only 65 posts in the country with memberships of more than 1,000 and Peoria was thirty-first in that list, with a membership of 1,282.

In a sense the evolution of the Legion has been characteristic of and parallel to the evolution of the best group thinking America has known in the last quarter of a century.

Originally, the Legion was primarily a selfish organization. Sometimes its rudimentary was repulsive. Not infrequently it indulged in chauvinism which some folks thought ridiculous, if not dangerous. But it had one constant, one familiar, one high and honorable purpose. It preached through this last quarter of a century, national preparedness and national security. Its members learned some things by their service in World War I. It had been impressed upon them that there was more than merely a trite trum in the old saw that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty. It had been impressed upon them that no nation dare grow soft or too much preoccupied with its own affairs, lest it invite attack and court defeat.

Over and over again the Legionnaires warned of the smallness of our army. Over and over again they preached against the hysterical pacifism of early post war days, when so many Americans were watching for somebody whom to pin blame for the conflict.

Also, early, the Legion undertook the vital task of keeping Americans aware of the fact that if we were to come again, not only would it be necessary to draft men in large numbers, but also necessary to draft capital, to inject government into business and industry, and to mobilize the nation's resources for the single ruthless purpose of preserving the American way of life.

We now have many things which the Legion recommended then. They came as inevitable result of this conflict. When Legion conventions voted for extensive military training, when they urged universal conscription of all able-bodied men either to work or fight, when they agitated for a draft of capital as well as a draft of labor, these vital were usually called visionary or Utopian. Time has given their wisdom certification. We have everything they asked save the labor.

They have been those who thought to keep America strong, who labored to make it great, who dreamed to make it great. In the light of their common experience as service men and veterans, they knew perhaps instinctively that it would all have to be done. They knew that making a world safe for democracy is not an hour's job, not a 24-hour accomplishment, not even a one-generation achievement. They were not lost in the isolationism. They did not wander in daydreamed fields of idealism.

They preached a strong United States. And the Legionnaires who return after World War II will preach the same gospel. They will tell us what they expect us to do to preserve it.

And, God, help us, if we are too dumb this time to realize how right they will be.

When short-snorters (trans-ocean flyers) meet and compare their ungraphed dollar bills, the invitation here a "Cola" is fairly sure to follow. In three short words people strike the spark of comradship. From the friendly greets in the dining room, Coca-Cola stands for all-around enjoyment. It has become a symbol of those who see things in a friendly light.

Air Transport Shown in Film At The Ritz

This month's "March of Time," "Airports to Ours," tells the dramatic story for the first time fully revealed on the screen, of one of the newest US flying services, the Army's Air Transport Command. It opens today at the Ritz Theater.

The Air Transport Command is the world's greatest air line, with bases circling the earth. Flying solo by solo with hundreds of civilian pilots, its thousands of Army pilots have become as familiar with cities like Karachi, Cairo and Chungking, as with New York, Los Angeles or Albuquerque. The film shows them at their job, and discloses all the minute details and precautions which must be taken to insure their "getting their fustat with the mostest."

The A.T.C.'s first major assignment was to fly ammunition to General Auchinleck in Egypt, a successful feat which helped turn Rommel's critical advance of July, 1942 into a Nazi rout that ended with loss of North Africa to the United Nations.

Battle Of Shipping Against Japanese Is Already Won

By ROBERT M. FARRINGTON
WASHINGTON—We have won another great naval battle against the Japs—a pivotal battle that is still being fought, but just as vital as the smashing victories at Midway and in the Coral sea. It is the battle of merchant shipping.

We are sinking about three Jap ships for every one built and this crushing rate of destruction could force the Japs into withdrawing from Wake Island, Rabaul and the Marshall Islands, though not without a fight.

After a heavy raid such as at Marcus Island, the Japs have to send fresh supplies and equipment to repair the damage. Knowing this, our submarines lie in wait and sink the cargo ships which are now almost as precious as warships to the Japs.

Because she badly needs shipping to get ready for the allied drive on Burma and to bring home raw materials from Malaya and the Dutch East Indies, Japan may have to stop reinforcing her outermost bases and withdraw her forces (as at Kiska) or abandon them to futile death (as at Attu).

Japan started the war with 6,400,000 tons of shipping, the third largest merchant fleet in the world (British first; U.S. second). By seizure of her ships and new construction, she is believed to have increased this to 7,500,000.

In the 21 months since Pearl Harbor, and more particularly in the past six months, we have sent one third of this fleet to the bottom—2,600,000 tons.

No nation, and certainly not one with the material shortages such as this for long. Even by overloading ships and postponing drydocks and repairs indefinitely as she has done since 1940, it is doubtful whether Japan has enough shipping for the 2,000 million ton to Rabaul, the 4,500 to Rangoon and to her thousand island strongholds, all at the same time.

There is no hope for Japan in balancing her losses against new construction as we have tried to do in the battle of the Atlantic. Japanese shipbuilding has been a closely guarded secret since 1939, but about 500,000 tons a year, which is more than her pre-war peak, appears to be a fair estimate.

Because of a shortage of steel (they aren't getting U.S. scrap any more), the Japs have been building wooden ships, but it is the essential facilities and the hundreds of component parts such as valves, tubes, gauges, oil cups, etc. which constitute an unbreakable bottleneck.

The Solomon, New Guinea, the Aleutians were only part of a bitter chain to protect Japan's stolen wealth in Malaya and the East Indies. They were worth nothing in themselves.

Therefore, it may be expected that the Japs will discard some of their outer defenses, and concentrate their shipping strength to protect their most valuable conquests.

FOR Negroes Whites, Negroes Cooperate

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 (AP)—President Roosevelt says "Negro and white Americans must co-operate effectively in winning the war, and in developing harmonious peacetime living as a foundation of lasting American democracy."

He made the statement in a letter made public yesterday on the eve of the annual meeting of the National Urban League for Social Service among Negroes.

"The integrity of our nation and our war aims is at stake in our attitude towards minority groups at home."

"Men of all races—black, brown, white and yellow—fight beside for freedom. We cannot stand before the world as a champion of oppressed peoples unless we practice as well as preach the principles of democracy for all men. Racial conflict diminishes war production, cuts down the flow of arms and planes, and increases the toll of American lives. Racial strife destroys national unity at home and renders us suspect abroad."

"Our is a two-fold responsibility. All true Americans must be prepared to protect with life and property the inalienable rights of all men without regard to race, creed or color. All true Americans also must increasingly accept the responsibilities that go with democratic privileges."

The letter was addressed to Lester B. Granger, executive secretary of the league.
