TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Dishonest and dishonorable people characteristically lack faith in others. Never trust a person who has no faith. They are a very forward generation, children in whom is no faith.—De. 32:20.

In political lingo the "unvarnished truth" is the first coat before the "whitewash" is applied.

The assessed valuation of taxable property in New York City is nearly 20 billion dollars. Or ten billion dollars in real money.

A new booklet on where, when and how to sell to the government is described as "easy to understand." It has only twenty-four pages.

They are marketing a product now that not only reduces tooth decay but stops mouth odor and helps remove excessive fat and heavy breathing. So far as can be shown there is no positive proof that it will give more mileage than Amoco.

You may think you don't have a stake in Florida's government and how it is operated. But if you buy gasoline, you have a stake and a big one. Florida gasoline users last year paid a 7 cent tax to the state, or nearly 60 million dollars, which was nearly 10 percent more than the year before.

We are sorry that our reporter at the Rotary luncheon Monday did not have time or space to devise to a complete coverage of Dr.
Haynes' talk on "What's New in Medicine." It would have been particularly interesting, we think, to have reported some of his anecdotes. The one about the doctor who specialized in naval surgery, for instance, reminded us of the chef at the Waldorf who specialized in putting raspberries on raspberry tarts. This is indeed the age of specialization.

General Hutchinson's speech at the sheriff's convention yesterday pointed out the chief difficulty in trying to prevent the domination of all aspects of our life by a single central authority. Decentralization of authority is a pretty hard program to put over considering the present state of our legislatures and local government. However, we surely have no indication that our business will be any better handled by the politicians in a distant capital over whom we have little personal control than it is by local politicians whom we may at least know personally and at least be able to bless out whenever they get out of line.

The Supreme Court has agreed to rule on segregation in public schools, probably when it meets again next fall. To most southerners it is absolutely inconceivable that anything could happen which would result in white and colored children going to the same schools, sitting in the same classrooms, having the same teachers. Even Negrees in the South, at least many of them, are not in favor of such commingling. If the Supreme Court should rule against segregation, we can anticipate such a chaotic situation in public education in the South as virtually to do away with it altogether.

The thought of spending some $200,000 for the construction of a cultural building in which to house the library and antique collection of General Henry Sanford, seems as something of a surprise to some of our people who are not familiar with the details of this project. But there are others who have been working on the project for the last 11 years and throughout this time have been consulting with interested persons concerning their efforts to raise money for the building. But as a result of the building's construction, this building project has been given a new lease on life.

Iron Marriage Rules

Every once in a while the West is given a revealing glimpse of what life is really like behind the Iron Curtain.
A recent announcement in a Hungarian newspaper says that the marriage ceremony in Hungary has been streamlined to the point where the newly weds can return to their factory jobs thirty minutes after they are pronounced man and wife.

Previously each couple was absent from work an average of two days after being married. As a result 400,000 work days were lost last year, said this newspaper, which adds that Hungarian couples, willing to renounce the "old bourgeois" custom of the honeymoon, "have welcomed the new regulations with deep gratitude."

There is an element of comedy and also one of genuine pathos in this statement which shows how completely every phase of life is regulated in Communist-dominated countries.
Wedding ceremonies are performed on a mass-production basis. This is the natural pattern for life to assume in states where individualism is a sin. The human emotions give way to statistical data; marriage is equated with absenteeism in factories. The highest moment in a young adult's life must be subordinated to a material production schedule.

Young Americans want none of this. They don't want the intimate phases of their life regulated by any old government. They want to get married when they want to and how they want to, and they want to take their full two weeks of vacation to celebrate the great occasion. There's no competition in America between factory production and matrimony. We believe founding good homes helps everything.

Dangerous Toys

A little boy walked up to three firemen installing an alarm box on a Baltimore street corner recently and with a smile on his face asked if they wanted to "look at my cap pistol." The grins on the firemen's faces froze when the boy pulled the trigger and a bullet went whizzing over their heads. They took the "cap pistol" away from the boy and found it was a fully-loaded German Luger.

Fortunately no one was harmed in this incident. But hundreds of people are maimed — and killed — each year in this country by children who mistake dangerous weapons for toys. Adults who should know better also injure themselves and others by misusing firearms.

The right to bear arms is a Constitutional privilege enjoyed by every citizen in this country. However, this privilege is subject to almost daily misuse. Easily-available guns are used by people in fits of temper. War souvenir pistols and other types of weapons are left accessible to children although it is common knowledge that they should never be left lying around loaded.

The increasing abuse of firearms in this country is becoming a menace of frightening proportions. Unless individual owners of weapons take voluntary steps to protect themselves and the public from injury, it may become necessary to curb the right of every citizen to bear arms.

Parallel To 1912

When ten Republican governors joined in a written protest, they used a political technique that has perhaps not been used since 1912. Then Theodore Roosevelt's decision to run for a third term against his former friend and protege, President Taft, was announced in response to a plea by seven Republican governors, urging his candidacy. Now the governors of Colorado, Connecticut, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Oregon and Wisconsin sign a protest against the management of the Texas Republican convention in which pro-Eisenhower delegates are said to have been unfairly defeated by Taft men.

There have been some other parallels between the 1952 and 1912 pre-convention Republican campaigns. These must seem ominous to a loyal party member, who will recall that 1912 ended in a split down the middle, and Republican banishment from power for eight years.

Ike Meets The Issues
Tampa Tribune

Those who "like Ike" are well pleased and those who dislike him have to admit, that General Eisenhower, in his first press conference, proved his ability to handle himself in a new and trying situation. Faced with an inquisitive array of the country's smartest newsmen and newswomen, the candidate for the White House, with little hesitation, answered each question, and in most instances with refreshing frankness and positiveness that promise a spirited and straightforward campaign for the nation's highest office.

It may also be said, regardless of party affiliations or personal preferences, that the Eisenhower position on the major issues is founded on sound sense and true Americanism. Opponents will find it difficult to successfully attack his pronouncements on the major problems of the hour.

The only criticism that may be directed at the candidate's first appearance as a target for repor-terial interrogation is that, in some particulars, he used too many words to state a conclusion—but this may be excused by his unfamiliarity with the role rather than an attempt to evade or circumvent. For instance, answering the question, "Do you favor a compulsory FEPC?" he said:

"The FEPC—when you use these initials, you are proposing, as I see it, a sort of absolute question—because there are many things involved in it. I have no objection whatsoever to giving my unchangeable, my unwavering support of fairness and equality among all types of American citizens, and I believe that insofar as the Federal Government has any constitutional authority in this field, it means, all of its capabilities, all of its policies, should adhere firmly and without any kind of reservation to that principle. I do not believe that we can cure all of the ills in man's hearts by law, and when you get to compulsory action in certain specific phases of the law, I really believe we can do more by leadership and getting states to do it than by a federal compulsory action. I believe that the states should be encouraged to take the lead in this matter, and that the federal government should support them in this. I believe that the states should be encouraged to take the lead in this matter,
and that the federal government should support them in this."

On other points we find no fault with Eisenhower's conclusions—such as his position on medicine, regarding the advances of Communism in Western Europe, rooting Communism out of the government, and that aid to education should be a local function.
He was not asked specifically about the increasing burden of taxation, but he had made his position on that question clear in his opening speech.

The distinguished aspirant for the presidency will, of course, participate in the major points of the campaign program—but we can only hope that he has given a clear, steady and unswerving policy regarding the major issues of the hour.

BARN YARD CHAMP

Polio Precautions Drive Planned To Reach Vast Areas

NEW YORK (Special)—To provide the homes of America with the latest medically-approved precautions against polio, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is distributing 35,000, 000 copies of its 1953 "Polio Pledge" for parents, it was announced today.

Assisting the March of Dimes organization in reaching as many homes as possible are the nation's schools, men's and women's organizations, labor unions, churches, business and industrial firms, newspapers, and radio and television stations.

United States Commissioner of Education Earl James McGrath urged widespread distribution of the "Pledge," declaring:
"How to prevent polio is still unknown, but more and more facts about the disease are being uncovered yearly. In case polio comes, intelligent action based on reliable information is of vital importance.
Teachers play a leading role in bringing this knowledge to youngsters and their parents—to help them understand.

"The 1953 message about polio precautions, entitled "Polio Pledge" has been made available to all the schools in the country.
I recommend that administrators and teachers give all possible help to the National Foundation and its Chapters in this school and community health program."

The National Foundation has issued a Spanish language version of the "Pledge" for dissemination in Puerto Rico and those areas of the United States containing large numbers of Spanish-speaking people.

The United States Post Office Department also is cooperating in the effort to call the precautions to public attention. A message to the National Foundation from Assistant Postmaster General Walter Myers, revealed that polio precaution posters, conveying pictorially the same message contained in the "Pledge," will be displayed in all first, second, third and fourth class post offices of the nation until October 31.

The "Pledge" is divided into two major parts, bearing the headings,
"If Polio Comes to My Community" and "If Polio Strikes My Home." It reads:
If Polio Comes to My Community, I WILL REMEMBER TO:
1) Let my children continue to play with their usual companions.

They have already been exposed to whatever polio virus there may be in that group, and they may have developed immunity protection against it.

2) Teach my children to scrub their hands before putting food into their mouths. Polio virus may be carried into the body through the mouth.

3) See that my children never use anybody else's towels, wash cloths or dirty drinking glasses, clothes and tableware. Polio virus can be carried from these things to other people.

4) Follow my doctor's advice about nose and throat operations, inoculations or teeth extractions during the polio season.

5) Be ever watchful for signs of polio: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, tenderness and stiffness of the neck and back.
6) Call my doctor at once and, in the meantime, put to bed and away from others any member of the family showing such symptoms.

I WILL NOT:
1) Allow my children to mingle with strangers, especially in crowds, or to go into homes outside their own circle. There are three different viruses that cause polio. My children's group may be immune to one of these. Strang-

Florida Southern To Get New Building

LAKELAND (Special)—Florida Southern College's proposed new science building, which will be started late in 1952, will cost an estimated $600,000, President Ludd M. Spivey said today.

He announced that Architect Frank Lloyd Wright presently is working on final plans for the structure which will be located on the West Campus at the college, overlooking Lake Hollingsworth.

The college president stated that Mr. Wright has informed him that the architectural plans for the building will be completed in September for the ninth of 18 projected Wright-designed projects at Florida Southern which will cost approximately $10,000,000 upon completion.

Dr. Spivey said that about $225,000 of the cost of the educational structure, which will be de-located upon completion of the "Folk County Science Building," has been pledged to date by residents of Folk County.

Completed to date on the Frank Lloyd Wright Campus are three classroom seminars, the J. Edgar Wall Water tower, the William Horsley Industrial Arts Building, the Annie Pfeiffer Chapel, the E. T. Roux Library, and the Emile E. Watson Administration Building.

2) Let my children get fatigued or

3) Take my children away from

If Polio Strikes My Home, I WILL:
1) Have confidence in my doc-

3) Remember that whatever fi-

What's the big idea of DYNAFLOW DRIVE?

THERE are all sorts of "drives" and "shifts" on the market.

Some still operate entirely by hand.
Some depend on shifting gears, but do this automatically. Some feed the power through oil, but use a lock-out device at cruising speeds.

But we still think that Dynaflo* is the best of all for this simple reason:

The big idea of Dynaflo Drive is to make life easy for the driver.

In traffic, you can start and stop, slow down, accelerate with complete and infinite smoothness — because no gears have to shift, ever, in Dynaflo Drive.
So there's no lurch, buck or bobble.
Dynaflo always feeds power with a steady, willing sweep—at 3 miles an hour or 30—or as high as it's legal to go.

On hills, you get the same sure, steady, unfaltering power-feed for the same reason. No gears ever shift.

On a long day's drive, you can ride with wonderful freedom from tension—your foot relaxed on the throttle — because you always drive through oil.

And at any speed you get a smoother ride, in part because Dynaflo Drive provides such a smooth and gentle linkage between that mighty Fireball 8 Engine and the rest of the chassis.

But this is not all. Our service records show that Dynaflo also makes life easier for your bank account. It saves wear and strain on the engine, besides the cost of clutch repairs, saves strain on the transmission and even on the rear tire.

There are a lot of other good reasons for buying a Buick — its style, its room, its ride, its power, its thrift, its durability—and its price.

When you can get all this—plus Dynaflo Drive — why be a holdout?
Come in and give Dynaflo a try today.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster,

Naomi Hester Is Wed To Bunyan E. Powers

Of interest to many Central Floridians is the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Inabitt of the marriage of their daughter, Naomi I. Hester, of this city to Bunyan E. Powers of Orlando. The marriage took place on Saturday at the First Baptist Church in Orlando with the Rev. C. C. Kiser officiating.

The bride wore a navy blue street dress with navy and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. R. G. Clark served as matron of honor and wore a navy blue ensemble with white accessories. David Hester performed the duties of best man.

After a short wedding trip to the coast they plan to make their home at 410 Palmetto Avenue in this city.

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—The box office queen is working again after a year-long squabble with her studio, so it's time to pay a call and survey how things are shaping up with her as admirably as usual.

The girl, of course, is Betty Grable, still rated the No. 1 female attraction by the nation's theater owners. When I found her, I discovered things are shaping up as admirably as usual.

"The Farmer Takes a Wife," she plays a maid in the early days of the Erie Canal and thus wears long skirts. However, the script writers know better than to keep such obvious assets hidden. They have arranged for scenes in which Miss Grable gets in and out of bed, bathtubs, etc.

"I asked Betty about her suspension and she said she had to have two months to rest up in. So they put me on suspension. I didn't expect to get paid, but I didn't expect them to do it in such an impersonal way."

"Pretty soon the months went by, and I didn't miss working at all. I didn't take any trips or anything. I just spent the time with my family and my horses. I was never stage struck, and I didn't miss picture work. I'm like that—happy with what I'm doing. When I'm in a picture, I'm happy because it's usually fun. But I can be just as happy at home doing nothing."

Betty also seemed hurt because the studio didn't urge her to come back. When she returned, it was on her own free will.

"I mentioned that the Internal Revenue Bureau will no doubt be mad at the Jamess, since both were largely idle last year. 'They are,' she said. 'But not too mad. Harry and I expected to be paying hardly any income tax. So what happens? One of our horses, Big Noise, ended up earning $100,000 last year.'

Because she has been suspended, Betty will get only a straight salary for her present film; she'll be deprived of her usual fat bonus at the end of it. I remarked that this was rough treatment for the top box office gal.

"They keep telling me my pictures cost too much," she replied. "I don't see why they should, because you don't see any 'Quo Vadis' crowds in them. Apparently my pictures make money for the theater men, but not for the studio. I can't figure it out."

Capable review: "Lydia Bailey" is colorful adventure stuff that will please the less discerning film fans. If not taken too seriously, it can be enjoyable, since there is an abundance of action and color. Derived from the Kenneth Roberts novel, it is a rambling tale of revolution, war and passion in the Caribbean. On the debit side is the acting, which is never very convincing. Sole exception: William Marshall's robust portrait of King Dick.

Ike Declares He Opposed German Zones

General Reveals His Advice Not Sought At Yalta, Potsdam; Taft Studies Korea

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today he opposed the division of Germany into separate zones at the end of the war and also was against isolating Berlin.

He made the statement in answer to questions put to him by members of the New Jersey legislative delegation.

Eisenhower also said that he did not participate in either the Yalta or Potsdam Conferences and that his advice was not accepted on the division of Germany.

"The delegates then asked who did establish the zones, and the isolation of Berlin as a partially Allied city within the Soviet Zone," he said. "That was one of the pieces of advice that was not accepted."

Gen. Collins Blames Manpower Shortage For Koje Outbreaks

Bill Authorizing American Troops Seizure Of Mills Again Voted Out

Senate Approves Legislation Extending Economic Controls

First Army Inquiry Cleared U. S. Generals Involved In Prisoner Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—A house committee voted today to approve a proposal that President Truman be empowered to seize and operate the struck steel mills.

It was the first formal vote by any House group since Mr. Truman asked Congress to take over the mills on June 1.

The Senate previously had rejected the bill by a vote of 53-47.

The House group was led by Rep. Wm. W. Wadsworth, N.Y., chairman of the subcommittee on Economic Controls.

The bill would give the president authority to seize and operate the mills for a period of 90 days, renewable for another 90 days.

The House group also passed a bill to extend the economic controls for 90 days.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The initial Army inquiry into the Koje Island troubles of last month was disclosed today to have cleared the U. S. general who was captured by his Communist prisoners. It also cleared the general who set him free by making concessions to the inmates.

The clearances were later reversed by Gen. Mark Clark, and the two officers, Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd and Charles T. Collins, were reduced to colonel. Clark said the concessions amounted to a surrender to blackmail.

Dodd and Collins were first found by brother officers in Korea, to have "acted in the best interests of the United States." It was brought out with release of a revised version of testimony given Monday by Secretary of the Army Peace. He appeared in a closed door meeting with a House appropriations subcommittee checking up on the Koje incidents.

Clark's testimony, and that of Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, also made the points that there wasn't enough manpower available to control fighting prisoners on Koje Island and the Army wasn't prepared for the outbreaks.

Clark said the first man board of inquiry was headed by a Brig. Gen. Kellogg and included two colonels and two lieutenant colonels.

Dr. H. W. Hurt Of Stetson Is Jaycee Speaker

Flag Day Ceremonies To Be Held On Saturday At Stadium

Dr. H. W. Hurt of Stetson University told the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Yacht Club today that the greatest single force which would solve the world's most difficult problems is taking an interest in other persons. He also explained that the "business" object of the meeting of human beings.

"Actually the big job for business is the rearing of our successors through the churches, newspapers and the home," he elaborated, "it is these factors that mold the moral fiber of our youth and successors."

Dr. Hurt, who has written much of the Boy Scout Manual, stated that because of the lack of interest in youth and in other people, misunderstanding and ill feeling has "taunted" most of the domestic people's faces today.

He suggested that everyone should take a special interest in helping someone which would lead to collective bargaining in labor disputes rather than the customary bargaining that now prevails.

Program chairman Arthur Beckwith Jr. introduced Dr. Hurt. John Pierson announced that the Yacht Club will present the Flag Day ceremonies for Saturday night at the Memorial Stadium between 7:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. The ceremonies will include the playing of the national anthem, the playing of the Florida State Anthem, and the playing of the Stetson University Anthem.

Mr. Pierson introduced Harrison Smith, the Boy Scout who said the most tickle during the "Hikes for Freedom" program.

Settlement Made In Struggle For Steamship Line

Government Set To Return Dollar Line To Private Owners

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government and the R. Stanley Dollar interests today settled their 3-year court fight over control of the Dollar Steamship Line.

Terms of the settlement provide:

1. The controlling stock interest in the line claimed by both will be put up at public sale at any price above 11 million dollars cash.
2. The winner on sealed bids will get the 92 per cent block of stock and the government and the Dollar interests will divide the proceeds.
3. If the public sale fails to bring a bid of 14 million or more, the stock will be divided equally between the government and the Dollar interests.

In any event, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said, the government intends to get out of the line and return it to private operation.

During court proceedings, the 92 per cent block of stock was estimated to be worth 60 million dollars but Sawyer said today the net value of the line was about 32 million at the end of 1951.

The stock was handed to the old Maritime Commission in 1938 when the government loaned the shipping line 4 1/2 million dollars for repair of ships and for working capital, then subsidized its operation for a 3-year period.

After the loan had been repaid out of company earnings, Dollar demanded return of the stock, contending it had merely been pledged to secure the loan.

The government refused, insisting that the stock had been surrendered to it outright, not just pledged to security.

Dollar sued and eventually won a decision in U. S. District Court here. The government carried the case to the Court of Appeals and Dollar won again.

Instead of handling over the stock however, the government took the case to court in San Francisco, seeking a decision there that would enable it to keep the shares.

About a year ago, the Court of Appeals ordered Sawyer, Solicitor General Philip H. Perlman and six other officials to turn over the stock right away or go to jail for contempt.

The Supreme Court saved them, however, with a stay of punishment until it could review the proceedings. It has not got around to that review, nor to answering a government request that it decide the whole issue once and for all.

The government exercised operating control of the shipping concern throughout the court battle, changing its name from the Dollar Line to the American President Line.

Sheriffs' Convention Proves Big Success

Ed Cameron Is Named President Of Cattlemen

Sheriff P. A. Mero today characterized the sheriffs' convention which closed yesterday in Sanford as an outstanding success and expressed his thanks to all the speakers, the merchants association, and all others who contributed to the success of the convention.

He especially thanked the Elks Club for the use of their facilities for the barbecue and said that a number of the sheriffs had called it the finest barbecue they had ever attended.

More than 100 delegates attended the convention from all parts of the state and were addressed by such outstanding personalities as Railroad Commissioner Jerry Carter and Wilbur King, Attorney General Richard Ervin, Rep. Fortis Bryant of Ocala, who is speaker designate of the House of Representatives, Lieut. General J. C. Hutchison, Senator I. F. Boyle, Rep. Volpe Williams Jr., Rep-designate Mack Cleveland Jr., Prosecuting Attorney George A. Speer, and Judge Douglas Stinson.

Ed Cameron Is Named President Of Cattlemen

Orie Mathieux Elected President Of Farmers' Auction

Formation of a new Seminole County Cattleman's Association, with Ed J. Cameron as newly elected president, was announced today by C. R. Dawson, county judge, following a meeting Tuesday night at his office. About 100 cattlemen were present.

Other officers elected were C. S. Lee, Ocala, vice-president; Mr. Dawson, secretary; and George Hadden, treasurer. The board of trustees includes W. H. Wright, Dr. C. W. Baker and Dr. R. L. Bess.

The new organization, which still affiliated with the Florida State Cattleman's Association, has a membership of 100. The Central Florida Cattleman's Association, to which most of the members formerly belonged.

One of the major reasons for forming the new group, said Mr. Dawson, was that the cattlemen felt that the Central Florida Cattleman's Association was getting somewhat inactive. Dues in the new association are 100 or more cents a head of cattle, except for those who are approximately 12,000 head of cattle in Seminole County.

Plans were made to send delegates to the barbecue and meeting of the Florida Cattleman's Association in Kissimmee on Saturday.

One of the major issues at the meeting, Mr. Dawson declared, will be to discuss the taxing of land for enforcement of the marks and brands law, which the cattlemen maintain is not properly enforced by the State in lack of sufficient outfitting inspectors.

Mr. Dawson said that he is preparing mimeographed sheets, showing all the marks and brands used in Seminole County, and that these will be distributed to the members of the new Association.

Orie Mathieux was elected president of the Sanford Farmers' Auction, Inc., at its annual meeting Monday night. Other new officers are J. W. Jones, vice president, and Mr. Dawson, secretary and treasurer.

"We are going ahead with new vigor on our sales," said Mr. Dawson, "and that the market is planning the installation of a community bar here, which will be available to groups and organizations. The advantage is that there is plenty of shelter, and running water is available, he added.

Government Seeks To Stabilize Price Of Winter Crops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is casting about for some way of reducing frequent ups and downs in prices and supplies of winter-grown vegetables.

Complaints have been made to the State and Agriculture Departments from some domestic growers that in effect before the war, Mexico and Cuba were the principal sources of winter-grown vegetables in the United States, and that the United States, Mexico and Cuba get together on a marketing agreement under which shipments would be regulated so as to avoid sharp fluctuations in supplies, and consequently prices.

For many years, this country has obtained a part of its winter vegetables from Cuba, Mexico and other sources. A shortage of supplies from Cuba during the war, when there was a shortage of ships.

A slight advance was made last year in the tariff on tomatoes. Nevertheless, the duty is still below that in effect before the war.

Officials are disinclined to boost duties further because, they say, there is need for the supplies being imported.

What is needed, they said, is a program which would keep marketings from being too much on one week and too little the next.

Officials said they hope to work out a program by the time the winter season starts next fall.
