rate in the first three months of this year—up $42,000,000,000 since the Korean fighting began.

This was reported last night by the Commerce Department, which declared that "the fundamental driving force" that pushed the gross national product to new record heights was the government defense program.

Analysis of the supporting figures showed, however, that some of the gain was more apparent than real. Price inflation has caused dollar totals to rise more rapidly than physical output. (The $279,800,000,000 gross national product of 1950 amounted to only $153,000,000,000 by the yardstick of dollars of 1939 purchasing power.)

Defense purchases hit a rate of $25,000,000,000 a year roughly twice as great as in the first half of 1950. Wages and salaries advanced by $7,000,000,000 to a $162,000,000,000 a year—21 per cent higher than a year ago.

on the west-central front, AP correspondent George A. McArthur reported.

In this sector, Reds retreated through a driving rain. Front line dispatches Monday night told of Communist withdrawals before advancing Allies across more than 20 miles of the front.

Reds were reported abandoning their bridgeheads below the Pukhan and Hengchon rivers, and pulling back toward Chunchon in the center.

Most of the Red casualties were inflicted by the U. S. Second Division which the Communists set out to destroy. The Eighth Army said the Second Division killed or wounded 37,750 Reds in five days.

"We've taken the starch out of the offensive," Almond said. "And I feel certain that if they come at us in even greater numbers we can handle them again."

The Reds threw 1,250,000 men at this sector in their second spring offensive, Almond said. The first all-out smash began Apr. 22 and lasted down at the end of 10 days.

In their new drive, the Reds fell before the tremendous fire power of U. S. artillery, planes and automatic weapons... were trapped on barbed wire entanglements... blown up by mines.

The enemy "may be getting ready to strike again," Almond said, "and if he does we are prepared to meet him."

"We have a line across the peninsula and we are holding it. We have a line of fire that operates day and night, rain or shine. Our capability of bringing down instant fire whenever we sight these people is tremendous."

Much of Sunday's record casualty toll, he said, was compiled when artillery caught the Chinese trying to carry off their dead all along a two and a half mile valley.

Eighth Army reports and field dispatches had given no hint of heavy Red assaults Sunday.

U. S. forces suffered "comparatively few casualties" from the Red's human sea wave attacks, Almond reported. "And the Second Division is still in good shape."

to listen to them," he added.

Haley said if the pair accepts the public invitation to testify the committee would like to hear their stories Tuesday night. He explained that committee will spend Wednesday and Thursday writing its report.

Haley said it had been decided not to subpoena Craig and Pritchard because two days would be needed to get the papers to Miami.

"Then those served would have two days to respond. That wouldn't put them here until Thursday," Haley said.

The committee has issued three other public invitations without success. Dog track operator William H. Johnston and industrialist Lou Wolfson, heavy contributors to the Warren campaign, were invited to appear voluntarily after subpoenas issued for them were returned unobserved because they were outside the state.

Lester Velle, author of a re-telling of Johnston's alleged influence in Florida government, also was invited to testify.

None of the three has responded with an appearance.

McWhorter was released from subpoena by the committee after his testimony Saturday night. Haley said he understood the witness has returned to Miami.

McWhorter told the committee Craig had told him "if there was a possible change in this Legislature" he was going to get Warren impeached.

Craig spent $50,000 without success in an effort to get the 1949 Legislature to legalize bookmaking, he was angered because Warren had refused to help him, McWhorter said.

The witness said he had worked as a bartender in two of Craig's gambling establishments and had spied on other gamblers for Craig.

He also testified that he had worked as an investigator for both Dan Sullivan, director of the Miami Crime Commission, and Dade County Sheriff Jimmy Sullivan and at the same time.

McWhorter told the committee he had seen Pritchard hand the fat brown envelope to Younger in the dining room of the McAllister Hotel. He said he had happened on to the incident after dropping into which he said couldn't be given—that Russia would not enter the fighting.

George said he couldn't see why Chiang Kai-Shek couldn't be permitted to use his Nationalist troops from Formosa to harass China.

"Well," Bradley replied, "from the military point of view there is no objection, as I see it, to removing any restrictions on his (Chiang's) doing these things, provided he doesn't get mixed up in such a way as to involve our own forces."

He added, however, that if the Nationalists took such losses both in men and equipment that they jeopardized the security of Formosa the military thinking might be different.

MacArthur's proposed Korean strategy includes a naval blockade of Red China, bombing of Manchurian bases, and looting Chinese forces for operations against the Chinese Communists. The Nationalist Chinese are now "neutralized" on Formosa.

MacArthur, when testifying before the Senate inquiry into his dismissal, contended his program could be carried out without any great increase in military strength.

Bradley disputed that. He said MacArthur's proposals would mean "spreading our effort a great deal more than it is spread at the present time."

Toubling on the global necessities of the present time, Bradley said it was important to build up security forces in Europe because Russia would be immensely strengthened if it took over Europe. He said the mere loss of U. S. Allies there would mean losing "some very important bases" for air strikes at Russia in event Moscow forces the world to war.

Bradley also said he expects the world tension stirred up by Russia to continue for a long time. "We don't seem to have the immediate answer to stop it."

Bradley was before the two Senate groups conducting the inquiry—Armed Services and Foreign Relations—for three hours today. He was asked to come back at 9 A. M. tomorrow. On the spot of MacArthur's dismissal, Bradley said it was approved by the Joint Chiefs of Staff because MacArthur was out of sympathy with the administration strategy of confining the war to Korea. He said they felt that MacArthur's public statements had "endangered" the principle of civilian control over the military authorities.

But under questions Bradley the hotel to make a phone call.

McWhorter testified "it was he who gave Governor Warren the information about the alleged envelope passing."

He also testified he had seen Younger in Craig's home on Harley Road, Miami. He claimed he was not mistaken in his identification of Younger.

High Court Decision Kills Fair Trade Laws

WASHINGTON, May 21—(AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that state "Fair Trade" laws do not bar stores from cutting prices if the stores refuse to sign pricing agreements.

Justice Douglas delivered the 6-3 decision which attorneys told the high court in advance would have the effect of killing the fair trade laws now in effect in 45 states.

Such laws have been adopted by all states except Vermont, Texas, Missouri and the District of Columbia. They permit the fixing of minimum retail prices by agreements between manufacturers and retailers.

Joining Douglas in the court majority were Chief Justice Vinson and justices Reed, Jackson, Clark and Minton.

Bill To Open Welfare Records To Public Is Passed By Senate 32-5

Volie Williams Proposes Stamp Plan To Simplify Sales Tax Collections

TALLAHASSEE, May 22 (AP)—The Florida Senate today voted favorably on the House bill making the welfare rolls public, but added a provision aimed at preventing abuses. The vote was 32-5.

The bill now must go back to the House for action on the Senate amendment.

The House also gave its attention to welfare, passing a bill which would reorganize the State Welfare Department and tighten the eligibility rules for public assistance. The Senate measure provides that names of welfare recipients be listed with the names of circuit courts. A section of the bill specifies that if the federal government decides that banning secrecy of the rolls would knock off Florida's flow of welfare funds, then the State Department of Institutions could disregard the act making the rolls public.

Several senators latched on to an amendment to prohibit the rolls being used by anyone except for welfare purposes. It specifically lists commercial firms and politicians as among those who would be guilty of a misdemeanor if the names on the rolls are used promiscuously.

This amendment came after Senator Bracklin of Crestview said the old people would be at the mercy of all "insurance peddlars." This amendment came after Senator Bracklin of Crestview said the old people would be at the mercy of all "insurance peddlars."

There was no date of final passage of the bill, which still stands in the office of the State Welfare Commissioner. The State Welfare Board would appoint a welfare director to take over the duties of the present commissioner, who is expected to resign.

The House bill to reorganize the Welfare Department, approved by a 56-8 vote, would abolish the office of State Welfare Commissioner. The State Welfare Board would appoint a welfare director to take over the duties of the present commissioner, who is expected to resign.

Two Motorists Are Hurt In Accident

Two passengers in a 1940 Plymouth sedan that collided with another automobile at Fifteenth Street and French Avenue at 7:30 o'clock last night, were taken to Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital and were treated for cuts and bruises, police reported. The injured were Perry and Beatrice Butler of 715 Troguis Avenue. Damage to the Plymouth, driven by Charles H. Polley, Jr., was estimated at $200. The 1938 service motor car driven by William E. Jameson, had damage estimated at $125.

At 7:42 o'clock this morning, police investigated a collision between a 1938 Ford sedan and a 1939 Plymouth sedan at Olander Avenue and Thirteenth Street. Damage to the Ford driven by Willie C. Bailey, Negro, was put at $75 and to the Plymouth, driven by Marshall C. Smith at $175.

Highway Route No. 46 To Depend On Plans Of Navy

Whether highway No. 46 from the Geneva Bridge into Sanford follows Geneva Avenue or the proposed lake front boulevard into Sanford may depend on action of the Navy in determining the future length of runways at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, City Manager Clifford McKibbin pointed out this morning.

Last night at the meeting of the City Commission, Mr. McKibbin read a letter from Capt. D. T. Day, commander of the Sixth Naval District, recommending that until plans for the development of the Sanford Station are completed, and runway lengths are determined, it would be inadvisable to plan further improvements to Geneva Avenue.

The letter, said Mr. McKibbin, was ordered forward to the Seminole County Commissioners as they had, in compliance with the request of the State Road Department, asked for right-of-way funds on the south side of the Avenue forming the north boundary of the Station.

The County Commission, he declared, is charged with obtaining rights-of-way for State road improvements, and had previously recommended to the State Road Department that Highway 46 be widened and improved between the new Geneva Bridge and Sanford Avenue.

Commissioner Andrew Curran pointed out today that the request by the County Commission to the City for the right-of-way had been made prior to the new Geneva Bridge and Sanford Avenue.

The City, acting on the County's request, had asked the Navy Department to grant the right-of-way on the south side of the Road Department might go ahead with the work.

A proposal by Welborn Phillips to erect 150 houses on 170 lots in the Wynwood Subdivision, was presented to the City Commission. This property is north of Geneva Avenue (Twenty-fifth Street) and east of Mellonville Avenue and one-third of the area is inside the city limits, said Mr. McKibbin.

Mr. Phillips asked for permission to pave streets 20 feet wide, and concrete flush curbs within the city area, and requested the City to install water mains.

The Commission agreed to the proposal provided that Mr. Phillips agree that the city limits be extended to take in the whole development.

An ordinance was out on first reading to rezone three areas. One includes the east side of Sanford Avenue from Celery (Continued On Page Two)

President Asks For Removal Of Housing Curbs

Truman Calls Limit Of Five Thousand Units Crippling Blow To Program

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—President Truman today asked Congress to remove what he called a "crippling limitation" on the Public Housing program in an appropriation bill.

The President protested an "arbitrary limit of 5,000 public housing units which can be started in the next fiscal year and an equally arbitrary limit of 50,000 units for each year thereafter" written into the supply bill for various government independent offices. The bill has passed the House and awaits Senate action.

"To all intents and purposes this means repealing the public housing provisions of the Housing Act of 1949," the President said in a letter to Senator Maybank (D-S.C.).

Maybank is chairman of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee conducting hearings on the bill.

Legion's Efforts In Fighting Red Philosophy Told

Chittenden Forecasts Naval Base Will Be In Shape By August

Efforts of the American Legion in combating the inroads of Socialism and Communism in this country were outlined last night by Robert L. Atkinson of Clearmont, central area commander of the Department of Florida, Legionnaires and their naval guests at the Legion Hut.

Chittenden, commander of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, and four officers of his command were welcomed to the supper meeting of Post 33 by Post Commander Lewis H. Houghton and Adjutant James Slaughter. A record turnout of members of the post was reported.

The other officers were Comdr. C. E. Pearson, Lieut. Comdr. Roy Reed, Lieut. Comdr. E. J. Harmer and Lieut. Comdr. C. A. Williams.

Atkinson, who was introduced by Mr. Houghton, told of the big job of setting the Naval Air Station in good condition. He pointed out that in three months this will be accomplished.

He told of the present practice of the Air Group No. 3 in making stimulated carrier landings in preparation for real landings, explaining that this is necessary to get the landings together.

He expressed pleasure at the hearty welcome given him, and fellow officers by the members of the post.

Chittenden Legion Comdr. Coffin introduced Comdr. Houghton and members of Post 33 for their fine record, and outlined methods of increasing the efficiency of their post.

The world, he declared, faces a "most unpleasant, difficult problem from which professional men, doctors, real estate men, and politicians alike turn aside."

Such defects as feeble-mindedness, he said, "will not be removed by transferring those people from a slum area to wholesome dwellings."

Boyle's bill is identical to one offered by Rep. McKenzie of Levy county. McKenzie's bill was defeated in committee.

He said he thought the bill was a "fair one." He added that he personally had nothing against newspapers.

Military Hopes For Peace If Chinese Offensive Is Broken, Gen. Bradley Tells Congress

Intelligence Chief For MacArthur To Resign From Army

ALLIES PROBE AT RETREATING REDS; ATTACK IS BROKEN

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—The battleship New Jersey and the destroyer Brinkley Bass have been hit by Communist shore fire off Korea with the loss of two dead and 12 wounded. The Navy, in reporting this today, said the New Jersey was hit yesterday (Korean time) by a shell which landed on its No. 1 main gun turret. Washington, May 22 (AP)—General Omar Bradley said today the U. S. military high command hopes a Korean peace can be negotiated if United Nations troops "bump off" the present Communist offensive.

Testifying at Senate hearings, Bradley said that military men had hoped in March that some peace move could be made. He added: "We still hope that we will be in a position to again propose something through the United Nations which would end up in negotiations and cessation of hostilities."

Bradley said that the March truce effort had to be abandoned because General Douglas MacArthur's second bid to Secretary of Defense Marshall described as an "ultimatum" by the Chinese commander in the field. This was a MacArthur proposal for a ceasefire which carried also an implication that the war might be widened if the Chinese commander did not accept it.

Washington, May 22 (AP)—Allied troops today pushed an ominous Chinese buildup on the eastern front, and fought to stem a Red sweep in the east.

Infantry troops waged see-saw battles on the eastern mountain, 25 miles south of Parallel 38. Communist troops were trying to expand a wedge down in South Korea.

Front line reports said South Koreans were forced to adjust their lines for 25 miles eastward to the Sea of Japan. All dispatches regarding this action were hastily removed.

Funeral Services For John Courier Held On Saturday

Funeral services for John E. Courier, 58, who died of an illness on May 19, were held Saturday afternoon at the First Methodist Church in Sanford. The Rev. J. E. McKinley officiating. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery with Masonic Services.

Mr. Courier was a member of the First Methodist Church and of the Brotherhood of the Masons. He was born in Sanford on May 27, 1893 in Polk, he had lived in Sanford for 38 years and belonged to the Brotherhood of Local Engineers and Plumbers No. 62. Mr. Courier was employed by the A. C. L. Railroad for 45 years and was selected as engineer on President Roosevelt's special train when he visited the Naval Air Base at York, Fla. during World War II. Survivors are his wife, Mrs. J. E. Courier, Jr., two grandsons, John E. Courier III and James M. Courier, one sister, Mrs. E. J. Courier, of Miami and a brother, Joseph Courier also of Miami.

Funeral services were held at the home of Mrs. J. E. Courier, Jr., 1215 N. G. Street, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery with Masonic Services.

Byron West Spends Vacation Camping On Longwood Farm

A former city editor of the Florida Times Union, Byron West, is enjoying camping out on a 20-acre tract of land on the shore of Rock Lake west of Longwood. With Mrs. West, he declared today, he is living an outdoor life on land that has been in her family estate for many years.

Mr. West, formerly managed Perry-owned newspapers in Tallahassee and Pensacola, and has successfully handled many public relations campaigns, the most recent being that of Senator George Smathers, who was defeated in the Florida Legislature today to repeal the present bill law provision that a person must give a newspaper five days' notice before beginning a "rate" action over a new story.

Boyle's bill is identical to one offered by Rep. McKenzie of Levy county. McKenzie's bill was defeated in committee.

He said he thought the bill was a "fair one." He added that he personally had nothing against newspapers.

Construction of the new highway 1926 left Longwood off the beaten path. The old Orlando road has, however, been resurfaced and improved, and Longwood is growing steadily, and attracting new residents.

Mr. and Mrs. West stated that they like Seminole County and may consider building a home near Longwood. Their home now is in Jacksonville.

Three Medal Of Honor Winners

WASHINGTON, May 22 (AP)—President Truman today presented the Congressional Medal of Honor to three Korean War veterans. The recipients were Sgt. Ernest R. Kouma, Dwight, Neb.; Lt. Carl H. Dodd, Keosau, Ky.; and Sgt. John A. Pittman, Tallula, Miss.

The presentation ceremony took place at the White House in Washington. President Truman presented the medals to the three veterans, who were accompanied by their families.

Sgt. Kouma was honored for his gallantry in action on May 1, 1951, when he killed 210 enemy soldiers in a tank action near the town of Pusan. Lt. Dodd was honored for his leadership in a fierce battle on April 1, 1951, when he captured a key position in the face of heavy enemy fire.

Sgt. Pittman was honored for his heroic actions on May 1, 1951, when he threw himself on a hand grenade to save his fellow soldiers from being killed.

The medals were presented by President Truman in a ceremony at the White House. The three veterans were accompanied by their families.

The presentation ceremony was held in the presence of many guests, including members of Congress and other officials.

The three veterans are all members of the American Legion. They have served in the military for a total of 45 years.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

The expectation of a speedy end of the world has induced the same mistake on several times in modern history. When the end did not come individualism had to be restored. And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all as every man had need.—Luke 2, 45.

With only about another week of sessions, the Legislature still has to find the money to pay for the expenditures it has authorized.

General Beasley told the senators yesterday that General MacArthur was dismissed "because he was not in sympathy with the Korean war plans." In that respect he was not unlike most other Americans.

The U. S. Second Division in Korea is reported to have killed 37,750 Chinese in five days. This is almost as many as the total number of American troops killed in the first World War and probably constitutes a new record for mass annihilation of enemy troops anywhere at any time.

President Truman says he is going to ask Congress for two billion dollars more for economic and military aid to American allies.
Which will be all right if they remain our allies. But wouldn't it be too bad for us to build up their armament factories so that they can make guns for the Russians?

The British are reported to be mobilizing 4,000 airborne units in order to prevent nationalization of the oil industry in Iran. And if Iran were to be invaded, no doubt Britain would fight, even at the risk of a third world war. But why is it any more for Russia to invade Iran than for China to invade Korea?

The death of "General" Jacob
S. Coxey, leader of "Coxey's Army", at the age of 97 reminds us that the United States did not have to wait for a Republican administration for a march of unemployed in Washington. It was 57 years ago in Grover Cleveland's administration that Coxey, a well-to-do small business man, organized a group of hoppers and led them to Washington with the idea of influencing the government to issue non-interest bearing bonds for a huge road building program.
He wound up in jail on a charge of tampering on the grass.

"Rep. Volie A. Williams, of Seminole County, is developing an imposing record in this, his first term in the house," writes Jim Powell in the Tampa Tribune. He is sponsor of Attorney General Ervin's new legislation against off-track betting (bookmaking), and his bills are moving toward passage. His votes on appropriations and other important measures are discerning. He voted against nearly all appropriations increase amendments, and voted against the bill to raise to $3000 the road department's maximum for non-competitive purchasing. He is an able speaker."

Reports that Russia is planning to bring about a truce in the Korean fighting in the near future would be a good Communist trick if they can get away with it. The UN forces are chewing up Chinese at such a rapid rate that Russia can hardly count on continued Chinese subservience much longer.
If Russian intervention brought a semblance of peace to Korea there would be a favorable reaction, not only in Korea, but also in China and the United States, not to mention certain European countries which have repeatedly from the beginning of the war, been on the side of the Chinese.

The Truth About Sunglasses

If you wear sunglasses at the beach you'll welcome the news that inexpensive ones—25 cents to $2—offer as good protection as any, provided the lenses are dark.

Sunglasses are more important than many people suppose—so important that military and civilian doctors have made extensive studies of the protection they afford the eyes. In a June Reader's Digest "Report to Consumers" Allen Rose reports the results of careful tests.

Temple University doctors, checking the vision of life-guards, found that a few hours a day of exposure without sunglasses caused an average sensitivity loss of 50 percent. In terms of driving safety this means that automobile headlights of 30 candlepower would have the effect of only 15 candlepower. Reading lights and all others would be similarly weakened. This loss, though not permanent, may last for some time.

The tests showed, further, that only the darker lenses prevented the loss of sensitivity. Darkness of lens is the essential requirement.

The doctors also wanted to know how much protection the cheaper glasses offered. Comparisons were made between pairs from top-notch oculists and others picked up for a quarter at a boardwalk concession. No significant difference was found.

Color of the lens is unimportant to eye-protection, provided it's dark enough, but certain tints of glass do distort the color of objects looked at—traffic lights, for instance. But no matter what color, or how dark the lens is—don't under any circumstances look directly at the sun. Partial or even complete blindness might result.

United Nations Service

Because the problems of international war and peace considered by the United Nations are so well publicized many persons are not aware of the other functions used in its efforts to help men to live together in harmony. After the earthquake which caused great suffering and loss of life in El Salvador, Secretary-General Trygve Lie offered the technical services of the United Nations and the specialized agencies which it has set up for relief and reconstruction in such situations.

It is encouraging to know that when disaster strikes in any corner of the world there is now an agency which can speak for most of the nations of the world and offer assistance. This function of the United Nations is an important one and should receive more attention.

Crime News

Do you need an effective answer for your readers who complain about the newspaper's coverage of crime news?

Senator Kefauver supplied one answer when he said he "would rather have a good, courageous, crusading newspaper . . . than any law you can imagine on the statute books" and added that "had it not been for the press of America there never would have been an investigation because it is the press which has been exposing and asking for prosecution and the cleaning up of criminal conditions for a long, long time."

A second answer is supplied this week in the awarding of Pulitzer Prizes for meritorious public service to two newspapers for their coverage of crime during 1950. The Miami Herald and the Brooklyn Eagle campaigns were found to be outstanding. There were many other newspapers that did excellent work in this field but which did not win prizes. Of course, these testimonials are for the continuing, digging, exposing kind of coverage and not sensationalized reporting of criminal activities. There is a big difference.

It is difficult to justify sensationalism. It is easy to prove to readers—even those who want newspapers to print only sweetness and light—that organized crime cannot long exist under the spotlight of newspaper publicity and aroused public opinion which is the natural result. News of crime may be unpleasant and distasteful to many people but it is urgently needed for enlightened self-government.

Recent Congressional investigations show how urgent it is for all newspapers to continue even more expansive coverage in the public interest.—Editor & Publisher.

Jet Ace

his wing tanks, one wouldn't shake loose. That made his aircraft unbalanced and difficult to manage. He had to use two hands on the control stick. He should have returned to base immediately.

Jahara only smiled. He had waited since Apr. 22, when he ditched jet No. 4, for his chance at the ace-maker, (No. 5) and wouldn't be denied.

The 27-year old double ace—he was credited with nine and one-half air victories over Europe in World War II—was graduated from high school in Wichita in May, 1942. He enlisted as an air cadet the same day.

He had this to say about the difference between air combat in Korea and Europe:

"There's a lot of difference—as much as night and day—because (1) of the great speeds today, up to 700 miles an hour; (2) the short time for firing, even when you're on the enemy's tail; and (3) it's very difficult to identify friend from foe in a split second since both the (F-86) Sabre jets and the MIG swept back wings and you can't see as well as 45,000 feet as you can at 10,000."

The MIGs have many advantages over us: (1) They are only 30 to 50 miles from their base so to be well fueled, while we use two thirds of our fuel getting to MIG sides and back; (2) If they are shot down and fall out there's a good chance they'll be back having martinis in their officers'— clubs in a few minutes; (3) If they get into trouble they can glide to safety across the Yalu in their sanctuary where we are forbidden to go and (4) They don't have our weather problems in reaching the combat area.

"They have a plane about as good as our F-86, but we know our advantages and their disadvantages and our leaders take advantage of them."

Jahara said a jet pilot rarely fights more than five minutes at a time explaining:
"Even if you are on his tail and can stay there two minutes, you have only a couple of seconds of firing opportunity."

He said teamwork was the basis for success in air combat.

"A good wingman is worth his weight in gold. When a leader sees the enemy he quits looking around and the wingman becomes his eyes and ears. He sticks to his target, and that's when he's most vulnerable."

"I lost contact with my wingman Sunday during the terrific engagements I had to make to keep on the MIG's tail. I ended up with two MIGs shooting at me from behind.

"I noticed the bursts from their heavy cannons as they poppled around me and for two minutes I made violent maneuvers to get away.
"Two of my buddies saw it and asked who I was. I just managed to groan out 'I shart-r-r-'

Construction Of Railroad Spur To Starke Mart Begun

WINTER HAVEN, May 21—(Special)—Construction of a railroad spur into the Starke State Farmers' Market began this week and every effort is being made to have the track ready for the anticipated heavy green corn deal. Nathan Mayo, Commissioner of Agriculture has authorized expansion of the present platform and the installation of a larger wheel in an effort to provide ample facilities for the farmers in the vicinity of this market. The expansion and production of corn, strawberries, beans, potatoes and peppers has been consistently increasing under the present management the last few years and we have been awaiting a propitious situation. William L.
Wilson, Director of State Markets said in his weekly market review:

"String beans and potatoes are moving in good volume on the Starke Market at the present time and strawberries continue in fair volume. Better than 3,000 units of produce moved during the past five day period at a gross return to growers of $3,733.92. An improvement in volume of beans and potatoes is anticipated during the current week.

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—
This week Congress is expected to settle the question of sending wheat to India, which needs it badly and appealed to this country for help months ago.

Already there is some starvation there, and there have been floods. And, aside from the humanitarian problem of helping hungry people, this country has a real and deep interest in India.
That country, with a population of 350,000,000 and with great importance in Asia, has tried to steer clear of the struggle between this country and Russia. This country doesn't want it to lean toward Russia.

India hasn't asked for the wheat—2,000,000 tons, enough to however.

"In excess of $34,000,000 gross receipts for 9,429 packages of receipts for 9,429 packages of the Palmetto State Farmers' Market last week. Prices are reported satisfactory on good quality tomatoes, small sizes prevailing with the demand excellent. No. 1 tomatoes sold from $2.50 to $4.00. Okra brought the next highest return of an average of $7.19. A variety of beans, squash, peppers, cucumbers, green corn, blackeye peas, lima and crowder peas made up the total volume moving over the market.

"Cucumbers moved in good volume over the Wauchula State Farmers' Market, though the season is reported coming to an end.
Prices are improving with more than 6,000,000 tons abroad. It is buying 3,000,000 of those 6,000,000 from other countries.

In addition, it is buying another 1,000,000 from this country. That leaves 2,000,000 tons which it still needs. Why doesn't it buy that also and why does it come to this country for help?

Senators who have dug into the problem, and that includes Democrats and Republicans, agree on this:

(1) India, a young country trying to get on its feet, doesn't have enough dollars to purchase any more wheat beyond the 1,000,000 ton already has bought here; and
(2) It already has gotten abroad all the wheat it can from other countries and this one is the only one with a surplus. Therefore, India turned to this country for wheat, about 2,000,000 tons of wheat cost? About $100,000, 000, or $95,000,000 for each 1, 000,000 tons. As mentioned, India didn't ask for a gift. It asked for an American loan to buy American wheat.

India started talks with this country on the problem last December. It made its formal request in early February. But Congress let the request lie around until the Senate acted last week.

Why the delay? For one thing, some congressmen are peeved with India's Prime Minister Nehru, who hasn't bought much on our side in the struggle with Russia and Communist China as Congress thinks he should be.

President Truman suggested we make India a gift of the wheat.
Usually they shifted to the idea of giving India 1,000,000 tons free, and letting it have a loan for the other 1,000,000.

Here's something Special in Spaciousness

A LOT of folks like the two-door idea, because they feel that tiny tots are safer in the back seat.

But that's no reason why back-seat headroom should be dimensioned for midgets only.

So Buick engineers have done something about it, in the Buick SPECIAL 2-door Sedan pictured here.

They've kept the compactness of over-all length that's important in modern packages.

But they've arched that sturdy steel up to give you he-man headroom—headroom in back as well as headroom in front—that makes a six-footer feel at home.

And they've designed a trunk that has "room for tourists."

Don't ask us how they did it. Come see for yourself.

Slip into those spacious seats—and while you're there, find out why this compact honey is one of the hottest numbers we've seen in years.

Find out how that F-263 valve-in-head Fireball Engine pours out the power and stretches the miles per gallon.

Find out how Buick's exclusive combination of torque-tube drive and coil springs on all four wheels puts big-car sureness and stability into this nimble performer.

Find out how Dynaflow Drive® takes the strain out of traffic driving—and brings you relaxed to the end of a long day's cross-country driving.

And above all find out how much comfort and luxury and convenience you get for the prices you see featured here. The sooner you see your Buick dealer—the better off you'll be.

Miss Shirley Ervin Honored InLakeMary

Mrs. Roy L. Howell, of Lake Mary, her daughter, Miss Peggy and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Roy L. Howell, Jr. honored Miss Shirley Ervin Wednesday with a bridal shower. Quantities of gardenias decorated the party rooms and flanked the wedding cake, which was surmounted by a miniature bride and groom. The cake was arranged on the dining table which was covered with a lace cloth. Burning white tapers cast a soft glow over the refreshment table.
Games and contests were enjoyed during the evening, with Miss Duncan Baker winning the prize, a pair of wall plaques. Following the opening of the numerous gifts, refreshments of wedding cake, punch, open faced sandwiches, nuts and mints were served. The napkins, punch holders and plates carried out a wedding bell motif in white and silver.
Invited to be with Miss Ervin were her mother, Mrs. J. E. Ervin and Mrs. Dean Taylor, H. H. Greier, Florence Boteler, C. W. Spohn, C. C. White, Earl Toney, John Peckham, Frank Evans, R. H. Eubanks, W. T. Bailey, P. D. Anderson and Sanford and Gormley of Sanford the Misses Jackie Ervin, Dilon and Duncan Baker, Mari-jane, Barbara and Yvonne Eubanks and Milton Howell.

Swiderski Hurls Shutout As Giants Beat Leesburg 7 To 0

Richie Klaus Clouts 1st Homer Of Year; Big Hurler Allows But Eight Safeties

By ED HARPER
Big Carl Swiderski had the vaunted Leesburg Packers eating out of his hand last night as the Sanford Giants continued their rampage to win 7 to 0.

A new policy eliminating Sunday baseball in Seminole County and substituting a series of doubleheaders has been in vogue since the management of the Sanford Giants.

The Giants opened up on Packer pitcher Ronnie Blane in the first inning as Tim Dolan sent a whirling double into left field followed by walks to Max Pfeiffer and Richie Klaus. Max Pfeiffer slapped a clean double into the hole between left and center to score all three runners and that was all Swiderski needed.

The big pitcher gave up eight hits and five walks in the first four innings, but the scoring punch was not forthcoming as top flight fielding and clutch pitching shut off every rally to leave 12 men stranded.

Richie hit his homer in the fourth with none aboard and the Giants collected three more runs in the 8th. Pfeiffer drove in Blane to open the inning and Bailey walked. Swiderski then dropped a beautiful ball down the third base line and beat it out to first accompanied by the cheers of the crowd.

Frankie Therina singled to drive in two runs and Tim Dolan lofted a high outfield fly to push Swiderski across.

Therina laid down the perfect drag bunt in the 6th inning to reach second with yards to spare. The ball rolled with tantalizing slowness toward the second baseman, too fast for the pitcher and the first baseman and too short for the keystone man. Frankie then stole second adding insult to injury.

Mickey McBride and Fred Petty also stole second and Ballantine. Richie Klaus' home run "rang" from the minute the ball hit his bat with a curious sound which every pitcher professes to recognize with sinking heart. Packer leadoff man Joe Burgess took to leaping back from each of Swiderski's pitches in an attempt to rattle the big hurler, but he managed only one walk with the tactics.

Max Pfeiffer's shoe tops. Max bent over and scooped it in about an inch from the ground and loped over to first doubling off the runner. The man on second had been halfway to third before the coach frantically waved him back to second. As he turned and started back, Richie Klaus reached the bag and made frantic signals to Max who had stopped on first with the ball in his glove to think over the bizarre situation which happens on an average of once a season in each league. He quickly lobbed the ball to Richie six steps ahead of the runner and the triple play—first of the year in the Florida State League—was complete.

The stands, press box and players went wild at the rare play and Callahan had a grin a yard wide on his face as he came off the field.

Although triple plays are a matter of luck and a happy confluence of circumstances rather than skill, the sight of one is probably the most exciting defensive play in baseball.

Phil Rizuto of the Yankees not so long ago described a unique chance he had against the Browns in 1946 to make a triple killing unassisted. Seems as if there were runners on first and second with some out when a line was hit like a bullet over Rizuto's head and to his left. It loomed like a sure single and to top it off the hit-and-run was on.

The little Yankee shortstop made a desperate one-handed stab at the ball and felt it slash into the webbing of his glove. Victims of record look glory were behind his eyes for their runner who had been on second had rounded third headed for home and the man on first was coming around second head down, hell-for-breakfast. All he had to do was step on 2nd for the triple kill. Then tragedy struck. The webbing in the Scooter's glove gave way under the force of the blow and the ball squirted sickly down at his feet.

Nothing like that happened to Max the other night, however, and Sanford registers another first in the record books.

E. B. Smiths Win Golf Tournament; Iveys Are Second

The Sanford Women's Golf Association held a married couples and single couples two-ball four-some tournament yesterday afternoon at the Seminole Country Club. Twenty-three couples took part in this tournament.

Winners were as follows: married couples—low gross, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith; with an 80; runner-up, Mr. and Mrs. John Ivey with an 86; low net, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Higginbotham with a 72; runner-up, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wheeler with a 72 1/2; single couples: low gross, Miss Ed Powell and J. W. Altman with a 79; runner-up, Miss Ellen Betts and Sonny Powell with an 81; low net, Mrs. John Schiravi, Jr. and George Herndon with a 68; runner-up, Mrs. E. C. Hayman and Edith Stout with a 71.

Red Hats 3; Senators 1 OHLAND, May 22—(AP)—Righthander John Jance scalped 10 Orlando hits last night in a 3-1 decision over the Senators.

John Tennant, on the mound, for Orlando gave up only six hits but was victimized by his own wildness and a series of errors by Third Baseman Dave Drapp in the sixth inning. Tennant wild-pitched a run home in the eighth.

The Brooklyn Dodgers entered the National League in 1900. The team made its debut at Washington Park and defeated Philadelphia, 10-0. The Dodgers in those days were known as the "Bridegrooms."

Hogan And Sneed Are Favorites In United States Open Tournament

By FRANK ECK
NEW YORK, May 22—(AP)—Ben Hogan, the 140-pound Texan who completed one of the greatest comebacks in sports history when he won the United States Open golf crown at Merion last June, says Sammy Sneed has a good chance to capture the coming Open at Oakland Hills June 14-16.

"They have added 40 bunkers in the fairways," said the man who almost lost his life in an automobile accident in February, 1949. "They have lengthened seven holes and it's a real good course for Sneed."

The Open is one tournament that always has eluded Sneed. Three times he has been runner-up. In 1947 he finished second at the same Birmingham, Mich., course to Ralph Guldahl, losing by two strokes, 281-283. In 1947 at St. Louis, Sneed tied Lew Worsham after 72 holes but bowed in the playoff, 69-70. In 1949, Sneed failed at the end to finish in a second-place tie with Clayton Saefer.

Sneed, who sustained a broken wrist earlier this year, recently won his first 1951 tournament over his home course at Greenbrier when he came from behind to beat Jim Ferrier. Sneed's rounds were 67, 67, 65, 64 seventeen below par over the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., layout.

Hogan, in town for a television show last Sunday, will be after his third open. Besides winning the three-way playoff at Merion last year he scored at Riviera in Los Angeles with a record 276 in 1948. Wiry Ben, who skipped the 1949 Open because he "had to learn to walk all over again" following his near fatal accident, will make the open his last tournament for the year.

Beginning on Thursday he will participate in the annual colonial invitation at Fort Worth. After that he will play 14-hole exhibitions at Nashville on May 31, Pittsburgh on June and Logansport, Ind., on June 6.

Then the little man with the big heart will go directly to Detroit. After a few rounds Hogan plans to "hit a lot of practice shots." He says he will lay off the game the day before the Open and if he feels tired he may lay off for a day three days before the tournament.

Meanwhile, the entry list for the 1951 Open closed last night with a record field of 1,480 golfers entered. The field will be whittled down in qualifying trials June 4. The previous high for an entry list was 1,411 at Los Angeles in 1948.

Besides Hogan, the field includes nine past Open champions, British Open champion Bobby Locke, PGA champion Chandler Harper and the entire U. S. Walker Cup team, now competing in the British Amateur at Porthcawl, Wales.

State Legislature

(Continued From Page One) is appointed by the Governor. Persons making applications for welfare benefits would be forced to sue for assistance those relatives legally required to support them. They could be accepted on the welfare rolls only if the suits were unsuccessful.

Legislation now is pending to require certain close relatives to support indigent kinfolks who are likely to become public charges.

Welfare Department employees would come under a merit system under provisions of the bill. The Senate approved construction of a State Hospital for Chronic Alcoholics near Avon Park in Highlands county.

The hospital would be financed through earmarking of five cents of the extra 25 cents per gallon tax on alcoholic beverages adopted by the 1949 Legislature.

Pending construction of the hospital, alcoholics would be sent to private hospitals and nursing homes after posting bonds to insure they will remain there for treatment.

Senator Moore of Sebring, who steered the measure to passage, said alcoholics would be committed for treatment in the same manner that mental patients are sent to the Florida State Hospital at Chattahoochee.

The Senate Appropriations Committee gave its approval to a proposal to finance a study of mental hospital sites in the Tampa Bay area and the lower east coast. These proposed hospitals would be branches of the Florida State Hospital. Original construction would be designed for 500 beds, but the plans would be designed for later additions.

The House voted a two-year extension of the Patton committee to investigate activities of State institutions. The committee was created by the 1949 Legislature and has devoted the past two years to an inquiry into the State-supported colleges.

A resolution designating Gorrie Square in Apalachicola as the Gorrie State Park was introduced in the House by Rep. Patton of Franklin county and promptly adopted.

The park is named in honor of Dr. John Gorrie, inventor of the process for making ice which has been the foundation of modern refrigeration. He was a resident of Apalachicola where he perfected his ice making technique during his search for a means of reducing the temperatures of yellow fever victims.

An Eighth Army officer said the withdrawals were being made by small Communist contingents. He added: "These small groups usually go to an assembly point where they congregate and move northward again in large numbers."

Reds were reported withdrawing across the Imjin River north-west of Seoul, Pursuing South Koreans marched through Mun-san for the second straight day. Some units reached as far as 25 miles north west of Seoul.

British, American and Korean forces pushed up to the Hongchun and Pukan Rivers southeast of Changgong, 25 miles northeast of Seoul.

American units crossed the Hongchun southeast of Kayong, Red artillery center 32 miles northeast of Seoul. The Red bridgehead across the rivers virtually had disappeared.

An Eighth Army officer said the Reds were withdrawing to escape American artillery fire, a major factor in the destruction of an estimated 60,000 of their comrades in five days on the central front.

South Koreans made a fighting advance of a few hundred yards in the center, south of Chuchon. Redheld Chuchon is 45 miles northeast of Seoul.

U. S. Second Division troops fought sharp skirmishes as they staked out from Hangeo on the east-central front to test the strength of new Chinese masses gathering in front of them.

One Chinese probing assault was smashed before it began. The on rushing Chinese tripped. At least 47 more than last year when James Q. Galloway was commander.

Awards were presented to Mr. Galloway, who had 27 new members to his credit; Chester Miller, 106 members; George O. Mayberry, post third vice-commander-elect, 28 members; James F. Benton, second vice-commander-elect, 25 members. Others receiving awards were John Pierson and William F. Thorne.

Post Adjutant Singletary was singled out by Capt. Loucks for special praise for his "excellent and conscientious" work for Post 53 during the past year.

Adjutant Singletary, he pointed out, was the No. 2 "Coke of the Walk" member in the whole state of Florida, has won the Propeller Blades award for members gotten during the period of Mar. 25 to Apr. 30, has received a Century Card for 107 members obtained this year. Although the leading membership getter of the World War II group, he allowed the award a Legion shirt, to go to George N. Mayberry, accepting an unofficial Legion shirt.

Receiving honorable mention were Comdr. Hoasholder, Condelet Denver Corbell, James Field and Rudolph Johnson, Jr.

Capt. Loucks was commended by Adjutant Singletary for his untiring work in behalf of the Post, including that of historian and his work on membership that has won him Century Club "Coke of the Walk" and Propeller award.

Cedric Benz predicted that a $500,000 appropriation for Florida Veterans affairs will be passed by the State Legislature.

John Pierson, chairman of the most parade committee for Armed Forces Day, expressed thanks to those who helped make the parade an outstanding success. These included Lieut. David Remley of the Civil Air Patrol, who called Legion attention to the parade, and who with Mr. Pierson and E. A. Monforton formed the parade committee. He also commended Capt. R. M. Baker, who served as parade coordinator, and Adjutant Singletary.

Bradley Testifies

(Continued From Page One) not accept it. President Truman has said he made up his mind to dismiss MacArthur from the Far Eastern commands because of this move. Bradley made it plain that Korean strategy has been keyed for weeks now to the hope peace negotiations might follow if the Communists' spring offensive was met and broken.

Bradley told senators that as early as February this possibility was discussed by the military Joint Chiefs of Staff. He related: "At that time we were reasonably sure a new attack would come sometime in the spring, and if you can bump that off, as it were, you are in a much better position to negotiate than you would be if you couldn't contain it."

Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was testifying at hearings by the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees on the dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur as Far Eastern commander.

The expected spring offensive has been launched by the Communists and U. N. troops thus far have succeeded in preventing any major breakthrough, while punishing the attackers severely.

Bradley said that in February the military leaders wanted some "political guidance" but understood that "until the situation is a little better known as to whether or not we can contain it, that the United Nations would have some trouble formulating policy."

His statements suggested the possibility that if the present great Communist effort in Korea is "bumped off" definitely, then the United Nations may take some steps for a negotiated peace.

Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass) tied that down further with questions which brought Bradley's assertion that "we still hope" to get in position for negotiations.

penetrated east of the city. One hill changed hands four times in bitter hand to hand fighting.

The Eighth Army said there was heavy fighting all day in the area. "Many Chinese and North Koreans" were reported pressing southward.

Barnard reported other Red columns were streaming down toward the central front.

It was Bradley's fourth day of testimony to the senators. Questioning of the General was delayed by a long exchange among the senators during which Senator Wiley (R-Wis) denounced as a "damned lie" what he said were "inspired newspaper reports" he and other Republicans were out to "get" an Administration witness.

These reports referred to Republican attacks on Secretary of State Acheson, but Wiley did not call Acheson's name.

In the exchange, some of the Democrats chided Wiley for using such terms as "white wash" and "wash out" in protesting a committee vote last week against trying to get testimony on President Truman's private talks with advisers on the question of firing MacArthur. Wiley had said the inquiry might become a "white wash or wash out" if the committee did not get all the information he said they needed.

Bradley, in his testimony, also said: 1. He is still unable to remember just how or from whom he first heard in early April that Mr. Truman was considering the firing of MacArthur.

2. Military leaders and President Truman have always been opposed to letting Formosa fall into hostile hands. Formosa is the big island off the China coast where the Chinese Nationalist government took refuge when driven from the mainland by the Communists.

Bradley's remarks about the views of the military and the President came when Senator Saltonstall said he believed the hearings had brought a "more definite affirmative policy" toward Formosa Bradley wouldn't concede that.

3. Military leaders have not changed their attitude toward use of the Chinese Nationalist troops in connection with the Korean war.

Yesterday, Bradley had testified there was no military objection to use the Nationalists to harass Red China, if American troops were not involved in the action and losses were not so great as to endanger the defense of Formosa itself.

Some senators had regarded that as a move toward the view of MacArthur that these troops Korean effort in some way should be allowed to support the 4. The military view on economic sanctions against Communist China have not changed. He said, "we have argued economic sanctions ever since China got into the Korean situation."

House Bill Balked Asking Resignation Of State Race Pair

Extra Track Day To Finance Football Scholarships For Athletes Is Killed

TALLAHASSEE, May 23.—(AP)—Introduction of a House resolution calling on R. P. Beville and Roy Patience to resign from the State Racing Commission was held up today.

Rep. Moody of Hillsborough, chairman of the Resolutions Committee which agreed yesterday to sponsor the proposal, said two members of the committee—Reps. Smith of Duval and Sheppard of ANNA HARRIS—had asked for another meeting today on the question.

"They have another idea now," Moody said. Sheppard was one of the men who drafted the resolution, charging the commissioners with "abuse of office."

He said he would agree not to introduce it if the House would approve a proposed constitutional amendment to make Senate rejection of a Governor's appointments absolute.

He said at present, the Legislature could do nothing if the Racing Commission members refused to resign or if the Governor refused to accept their resignations.

Even if the Senate should refuse to confirm appointments of the Governor, he said, they would wait until the Senate is out of session and reappoint them for the rest of his administration, Sheppard said.

He proposed a new clause in the Constitution which would prohibit future governors from pulling back in office men whose appointments had been rejected by the Senate.

Such an amendment could not affect this administration because it could not become effective until ratified in a general election two months before Warren goes out of office, but Sheppard said he thought it would be beneficial for the future.

Sheppard and Rep. Haley of Sarasota drew the Beville-Patience resignation resolution as a substitute for one by the Pine Hills Republicans that would call five members of the racing board.

Warren Gets Bill Aimed At Shutting Off Bookie Dope

Printing Of Aids To Illegal Bettors Forbidden By Law

TALLAHASSEE, May 23.—(AP)—The bill to prohibit publication of any horse race information which might be of help in illegal gambling cleared the Florida Legislature today and went to Governor Warren.

The House concurred in Senate amendments to the measure to complete its legislative passage. The bill forbids printing of newspapers, wall charts, tip sheets, scratch sheets and bookmaking tickets "in furtherance of illegal gambling."

The Senate amendment made a legislative declaration that the printed information to be banned "programming horse racing entries at various tracks, bookies, probable odds, withdrawals, selections of one or more of these items usually with special identifying numbers, are closely interrelated with and are designed primarily to serve the interests of illegal off-track gambling through bookmakers whose operations are prohibited by law."

Sanford Fruit Co. Plans Expansion, Coultter Announces

The Sanford Fruit Co., which is headed by Harry E. Touke and located at the Sanford State Farm Market, is planning new facilities designed to handle more tonnage of fruit next year. O. L. Coultter, sales manager, stated this morning.

One of the factors which is expected to substantially increase this business is the handling of the Fostage Pineapple Concentrate Co-operative of which Mr. Touke recently became a member, he declared.

Claude C. Meishon, vice-president and general manager of the co-operative, said the firm is expanding plans calling for expenditure of more than $500,000 on the new concentrate and single strength juice plants. Forest City, due to growth in business and increasing demand for orange juice.

Mr. Touke, enthusiastic over the outlook, has predicted an increased demand for fruit of his firm. The Sanford Fruit Co., as the result of the anticipated increase in business, is planning to add new machinery to the plant and modern types of bins to hold oranges to be sent to the Fostage plant for juice extraction. The bins will be built on the east side of the building.

By June 15, when the packing house has closed down for the season, total shipments will be more than 300,000 boxes for the period, he declared.

He predicted that the company will, as the result of joining the co-operative, buy more fruit next season, and this will benefit local growers. Some of the fruit will be carried direct from the grove to the concentrate plant at Forest City, he said.

Prince Denies Miami Detective Wrongdoing When Shot By Wife Who Working For RFC

Office Manager Says He Resigned At Request Of Symington

By WILBUR JENNINGS, WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—Frank Prince, assistant manager in the Office of Loans of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. (RFC), said today he had resigned at the request of W. Stuart Symington, newly-named administrator.

Prince told a reporter in a telephone interview from his Baltimore home that he left his post May 20.

He admitted having a part in a 750,000 RFC loan to the Mobile Paper Co. of Mobile, Ala., which is now under investigation by a Senate subcommittee investigating the agency. But he said he had done nothing wrong and his role was purely in line with his position.

The investigation was made at the request of Rep. Boykin (R-Ala.) who has been involved in the transaction. Boykin asked for a "very, very thorough" investigation. The congressman added that the loan involved no wrong on the part of himself or his family.

Prince said that he might be related to Boykin but that he could not trace it. "If I am related," he explained, "it goes so far back that it doesn't amount to anything."

Theodore Herz, staff director of the subcommittee, said Prince was called to the committee's attention by the fact that he had been involved in the transaction. Prince said he had done nothing wrong and his role was purely in line with his position.

Prince denied that charge. He said that in July, 1948 he called Hartman from Rep. Boykin's Capitol Hill office, but he denied Hartman's statement that he had been involved in the transaction.

Reds Routed By Fierce Allied Counterattack

Communists Retreat Before Probing UN Patrols Slashing Quickly Northward

By ROSEN CLEMENTS, TOKYO, May 23.—(AP)—Communist troops retreated along an 80-mile front in Korea today before northward thrusting Allied tanks and infantry.

The entire U. S. 10th Corps opened a counterattack across the east-central front and gained up to three and one-half miles. In the attacking force were the Second Infantry and First Marine Divisions and other unidentified units. They recaptured Hangey, key road center.

All along the front from Musan in the far west to Pungnam in the east-central sector, the Reds were pulling back toward North Korea.

On the western front, Allied forces slashing through rugged mountains cut off the spearhead of the Red offensive force of their second spring drive. The Allies seized a key pass on the Communist supply route to Chinese troops fighting 25 miles south of the Red Korean border for control of the main transportation highway in that area. Some Red troops were pulling back to the west.

On the west-central front, an Allied spokesman said Red forces were making "hasty but orderly" withdrawals.

In the far west, South Korean troops pushed within four miles of the Red Korean border. The valiant U. S. Second Infantry led Wednesday's big U. S. counterattack across 20 miles of the east-central front.

Tanks led American infantrymen back into Hangey, key highway junction, 13 miles south of the border.

The tanks and doughboys drove into shattered Chinese remnants after planes and massed artillery had the way without resistance. The tanks and infantrymen reported little opposition.

Attacking Leutenecker's regiment six wounded Americans who had been through six nightmarish three-mile raids in the valley. Chinese had turned into a scene of death.

American dead lay there, two bodies of one doughboy lay close together on one frosty slope. A large shell hole. Beside his body was a small table, and his head was photographed.

Survivors said the Chinese had taken the walking wounded with them. Chinese hurrying northward had made a dash across the Puk-san and Cheonan rivers north of Chongchon. This amounted to a 10-mile pull back in two days.

Six Are Killed As Big Transport Crashes On Farm

Air Force Plane Just Misses Clearing In Forced Landing

NEW HEBRON, Ind., May 23.—(AP)—An Air Force plane from Patterson Field, Dayton, O., crashed after crashing on a farm near here today and at least six of the men aboard were killed.

There were at least five survivors. They suffered burns and serious injuries.

Capt. John M. Christensen, the pilot and one of the survivors, said 13 men were aboard the plane. This made two men unaccounted for.

Capt. Christensen and the four other survivors were taken to the Henry county hospital at New Castle, Ind. The hospital listed the others as Jack Sowers, William Small, James Stelzy and Casius Ziskler. The hospital had no more addresses.

State troopers first said some men might have parachuted from the plane, but later they discounted this possibility.

Mrs. Wilford Thompson, a farm wife living near the crash scene, said she believed the plane was still before it hit the ground.

"It was a big plane, and it passed over our farm," she said. "It started to bank as it went over the farm when it hit some trees on John Dillig's farm and crashed on the farm site."

High School Glee Club Entertains Kiwanis Meeting

Kiwanians, hosts to members of the Leeburg Kiwanis club, to enjoy the singing of the Seminoles High School Glee Club. Miss Olive Reese, club director, responded to a standing ovation by the Kiwanians following the last number, "Roadways," by the male quartet.

P. P. Campbell, president of the club, was introduced by the club in celebration of his 75th birthday, and was congratulated by Past President Edward E. Lane for his "faithful" service as treasurer of the club, a post he still occupies. In behalf of the club, Mr. Lane gave him a bright sport shirt, and the "Battle of Jericho" and "Roadways" by the entire boys' glee club. The opening numbers were sung with accompaniment by a double quartet of boys and girls.

DiSalle Defends Price Rollback To House Group

Novelist Schulberg Admits Communist Affiliation In '30s

By HOWLAND EVANS, III, WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—Price Stabilizer Michael DiSalle defended his rollback of cattle prices before a congressional committee today, saying it would benefit large segments of the industry.

The annual rollback of 10 percent, he said, the House Agriculture Committee will help packers, processors, handlers and some retailers. Packers will be able to establish a margin of profit which they lost in the freeze order last January, he said.

DiSalle stated the rollback was based on past facts and aimed to help establish economic stability through the country. He agreed to furnish the committee with the figures on which it was based.

Meanwhile, Novelist Budd Schulberg told the House Un-American Activities Committee today that he had admitted to Communist influences in Hollywood.

Schulberg, 47, said he had admitted to Communist influences in Hollywood. He said he had drifted into a study group in Hollywood in 1937 and then abandoned subsequent party membership two years later after he had learned over the years of party discipline.

He said his decision to write "Sammy" without consulting the Hollywood Communist Party was not a matter of conscience but water to meet to Vermont to complete his work.

Schulberg testified he was criticized as being too "stingy" by several writers. Richard Collins, writer John Howard Lawson and V. J. Persico, all testified in his defense.

General Asserts Iran Is Explosive Area; MacArthur Program Is Rapped Again

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(AP)—General Omar N. Bradley said today that in his opinion none of President Truman's key advisers was "pushing" for dismissal of General Douglas MacArthur.

Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, made the statement in a sharp new exchange with Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) over what was said at President Truman's conference with his advisers on firing MacArthur.

As he did last week, with later support by an 18 to 8 Senate vote, Bradley refused to testify about the attitude of different individuals. Specifically, he declined to say whether any of those who took part in conferences were "intensely distressed" by the decision to fire MacArthur.

Continuing his prolonged testimony at the Senate hearings on MacArthur's dismissal, Bradley also:

1. Acknowledged that the fighting in Korea restricts U. S. ability to counter possible Russian aggression elsewhere in the world, and named oil-rich Iran as now in "danger."

2. Insisted once again that MacArthur's proposed Korean strategy would not end the war and free the United States from the long-term military burden which "might help a little bit."

3. Testified he believes MacArthur first proposed the use of U. S. ground troops in fighting the North Korean aggressors. President Truman had ordered the U. S. intervention by instructing that Air and Naval power be used to aid the South Koreans.

4. Agreed with Senator Clegg that the U. S. should not be drawn into a general war with the Soviet Union.

5. Said he believed the U. S. should not be drawn into a general war with the Soviet Union.

6. Said he believed the U. S. should not be drawn into a general war with the Soviet Union.

FRIGHTENING AMERICA
PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 23.—(AP)—Dainty 20-year-old Siamese princess Mari Parabata flew to Britain today because "I was so frightened by New York."

After four years studying languages, music and poetry in Switzerland, she went to America on vacation.

At Prestwick Airport today she told reporters "I stayed only two weeks. Then I had to get away. It was so frightening. Everything was so modern and so fast, and there were those terribly tall buildings. But perhaps it is unfair to criticize after such a short stay."
