Bicyclist Killed When Hit By Car

A 24-year-old Sanford man was killed by an automobile on Thursday night while bicycling in the vicinity of W. 25th St. and Lockwood Dr.

Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett said that the motorist, Dorothy Roane Kimber, 2600 Georgia Ave., Sanford, initially left the scene of the accident but later returned. Kimber was traveling westbound on 25th Street when she struck the cyclist who was riding alongside the road. The victim was dead at the scene.

The name of the victim has not been released because his next of kin has yet to be determined, Harriett said.

Charges are pending against Kimber depending on the outcome of the investigation.

Report: Life Came 'Easy'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The discovery of tiny fossils of organisms that lived up to 3.5 billion years ago is further indication that life arose relatively easily on Earth and could have arisen just as easily on a similar planet in another solar system, a scientist said.

The discovery also suggests that life on Earth began earlier and evolved faster than previously believed, and could have a serious impact on theories of the origin of life, the scientist said.

The fossils were discovered by UCLA paleobiologist J. William Schopf and geologist Bonnie Packer, and their findings were reported in the journal Science.

Found in remote western Australia, the fossils are about 100 micrometers long.

Murdered Girl's Mother Berates Killer

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

"Just look at him. I see the hands that murdered my daughter," said the tearful mother of Karen Barkley who was strangled to death in September.

Barkley's killer, Donn Durham, 22, fidgeted and turned red-faced as Dolores Barkley spoke at his sentencing hearing Thursday in Sanford before Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. At the end of the two-hour hearing Davis sentenced Durham to 17 years in prison and a lifetime of probation.

Durham, who was a schoolmate of Barkley, 21, strangled the girl in his Longwood apartment, tried to make her death look like a robbery, then attended her funeral. He killed her after Barkley, a dean's list student, told him he was a drunk and a loser.

"He not only killed Karen but he killed me," said Mrs. Barkley, also of Longwood.

"Donn Durham broke one of the oldest laws of mankind. I think he thinks he's above the law of God and the land."

As Mrs. Barkley spoke, she showed Davis some of her daughter's personal effects, the young woman's Bible and a who's who book of college students which includes her daughter's name. She put two pictures of the coed on the judge's bench and showed him her running shoes. She told the court that she simply knew within her heart that when Durham showed up drunk at visiting hours for her daughter at church and at graveside that

Crisis Spares Local Emergency Rooms—For Now

From Staff and Wire Reports

Hospital emergency rooms in Seminole County are not hit by a medical malpractice insurance crisis that has prompted some south Florida hospitals to close their emergency facilities because doctors won't pay higher rates for coverage.

Jim Teaar, administrator of Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford, said there is no local problem because the malpractice rates are not as high here as in south Florida. But that doesn't mean it could not become a problem here in the future, he said.

Gov. Bob Martinez has promised quick action on the issue, announcing formation of a 12-member group to make recommendations for legislative action this fall.

St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Co. Wednesday raised its malpractice rate 42.7 percent for doctors in Broward and Dade counties. Rates elsewhere in the state will rise about 11 percent.

Critical trauma patients were being refused by four of the five Broward

County hospitals, and three were turning away obstetrical patients, including those with serious gynecological disorders, officials said. Medical specialists have refused to pay the new, inflated malpractice insurance rates, said Broward County Emergency Medical Services Maj. Robert Strandell. As a result, those critically injured patients who pose the highest risk for a malpractice suit are being turned away.

Advisors Suggest Shift In Expressway Route

By Ted Carter
Herald Staff Writer

In a trade-off of sorts, the three advisory committees to the Seminole County Expressway Authority have agreed to seek a southerly shift of the preferred expressway route near the highway's planned crossing of U.S. Highway 17-92.

The shift has several pluses: It would save money on construction, spare more wetlands, single-family homes and a pair of automobile dealerships. It also would lengthen the distance between the expressway and a number of homes in Park Ridge subdivision.

But moving the alignment as proposed by the technical, citizens and environmental committees Wednesday would mean the entire 100 apartment units at Shenandoah Village would be caught in the expressway's path. The original alignment of the favored Route 53 would claim only 12 multi-family units.

The shift also would take out Victory Baptist Church on County Road 427 and two single-family houses, according to Gerald Brinton, the authority's executive director.

Brinton said engineering consultants have been studying the shift for several weeks and gave it their endorsement at this week's meeting of the advisory committees.

Route 53 crosses 80 acres of wetlands and requires a bridge of from 1,200 to 1,500 feet. The shift would take the highway to the southwestern edge of the wetlands near 17-92, thus saving disruption of about 20 fewer acres of the valuable marshes, Brinton said.

Deleting the bridge could save up to $2.5 million, which could be used to cover the cost of providing 500-foot noise buffers where the expressway would come within 500 feet of residential areas.

The shift would save 10 homes, eight of which are in Park Ridge subdivision. The subdivision would also benefit from an additional 300 feet of buffer from the proposed expressway. Also, according to Brinton, the shift would bring the highway 1,200 feet farther away from Sunland Estates.

Moreover, eight apartments at Groveview Villas targeted for removal under the original alignment of route 53 would be saved, said Brinton.

The two car dealerships that would be spared are Jim Lash Blue Book Auto Sales and Jim Chumbley Auto Sales, which has recently been sold to automobile dealer Bob Dance.

Brinton said the new alignments will be displayed at public information sessions Wednesday and Thursday. The sessions, at which Brinton and engineering consultants will be on hand to answer questions, are from 4

No Tax Increase In Longwood Plans

Longwood's proposed $4.3 million general fund budget for the 1987-88 fiscal year calls for the city's property tax rate to remain at $2.90 per thousand assessed property valuation.

The proposed general fund budget calls for an increase of $184,495 over last year's general fund total of $4,094,832.

According to City Administrator Ron Waller, the $2.90 rate is expected to provide $1,127,825 in real and personal property tax revenue as compared to $957,000 last year due to an increase in taxable property on the tax rolls. The rate will cost a Longwood homeowner with a house assessed at $75,000, city real estate taxes of $145.

Work sessions on the budget are scheduled for July 13, 16, and 27 at 7 p.m. in city hall, 175 W. Warren Ave.

U.S. Sen. Lawton Chiles (D-Fla.), long-time member of the Senate Committee on Aging, listens to area seniors during hearing Thursday in Casselberry. The hearing was to help evaluate local programs for the elderly funded by the Older Americans Act. Work is underway to extend the 1965 act, due to expire Sept. 30. There were about 100 persons from Central Florida attending the hearing at the Senior Citizens Center, 200 N. Triplett Dr.

County Patient With Cities Blocking Fees

By Ted Carter
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County has decided patience is a virtue when it comes to collecting transportation impact fees within the three cities that so far refuse to recognize them.

The fee collections of several hundred dollars on each new dwelling or commercial building were to begin within the county's seven municipalities Wednesday. But moratoriums of varying lengths enacted by Sanford, Winter Springs and Casselberry have caused the county to delay the fee collections in those cities until the circuit court issues a declaratory judgment. The other cities have signed interlocal agreements to allow the collections. County commissioners last month decided to wait until after July 1 to seek a court ruling on whether the fees can be assessed within cities that do not sign interlocal agreements.

In the meantime, the county will honor the moratoriums, said Montye Beamer, assistant county administrator. "We're not going to violate the moratoriums of the cities by collecting the fees," she said.

The county, however, will be keeping track of new construction within the three hold-out cities, according to Beamer, who said the monitoring will make collections easier if the court rules in the county's favor. Each builder who files for a construction permit in Sanford, Casselberry or Winter Springs will be notified they may have to pay the road impact fees.

"We want to let them know it's possible they will owe us money," Beamer said. She added the notification letters will include a calculation of the amount of fees that may have to be paid.

Designed as a means of paying for road construction needs caused by growth, the fees are assessed when a building permit is requested and must be paid before a certificate of occupancy is issued by a building department.

Moratoriums enacted by Sanford and Casselberry expire in the fall. Winter Springs enacted a one-year ban on the fee collections in June.

Winter Springs may decide to lift its moratorium when city commissioners meet July 13. A meeting

Monday night between the governing bodies of Winter Springs and the county ended with city commissioners indicating they will reconsider the moratorium in exchange for an agreement from the county to begin engineering work on improving the intersection of Tuskawilla Road and State Road 419.

Winter Springs city commissioners had argued the absence of a county charter means the county has no authority to collect the fees within cities.

Casselberry's moratorium expires Sept. 30, and was enacted to give the city time to study a road impact fee ordinance of its own, said Mayor Owen Sheppard. "We agree with the concept and are willing to cooperate

IN BRIEF

He's Late, She's Mad, He Gets Stabbed, Car Tires, Too

When Walter Dziok arrived home at about 10 p.m. Wednesday he was two hours late from a furniture shopping trip. He told Seminole County sheriff's deputies that's when his girlfriend allegedly became enraged and stabbed him in the right hip.

The woman then allegedly went outside and stabbed the tires of his car, leaving the knife under one of the wheels, a sheriff's report said.

When deputies arrived at the scene at Bldg. 1080 Willa Springs Apartments #110, they met the suspect outside. She allegedly pointed out the knife and allegedly said she had also stabbed the car tires.

Karen M. Evans, 19, of the above address has been charged with aggravated battery and was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Husband Faces Added Charge

A 41-year-old Longwood man arrested Monday on a battery-spouse abuse charge after allegedly kicking his wife in the head had a charge of aggravated battery added by Seminole County sheriff's investigators Wednesday at the jail.

A sheriff's report said that the condition of the victim, Connie Rae St. John, is serious. She was first hospitalized at Florida Hospital-Altamonte Springs, after the attack and was moved the following day to Florida Hospital-Orlando to undergo brain surgery.

Investigators reported she was in stable but serious condition in intensive care following the surgery, but was able to tell investigators she wanted the suspect prosecuted to the fullest extent, a sheriff's report said.

Worth Edward St. John was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond on the latest charge.

Woman Arrested For Attacks

A 19-year-old Apopka woman who went to the home of her stepfather in Casselberry at 1480 Holiday Drive to pick up a car license tag and a battery at about 8:50 p.m. Wednesday allegedly attacked the stepfather's roommate and a neighbor.

Herman Rablon, the stepfather, told Casselberry police that the woman allegedly started an argument with his roommate, Francis Canfield. Canfield fled, with the woman allegedly chasing him down the street wielding a knife.

A neighbor who came outside, told police that the woman allegedly turned on her with the knife and chased her back into her home.

Police said the suspect had allegedly been using the knife to remove the license tag from a vehicle and she reportedly gave it to them after the alleged attacks.

Patricia Warden, of 435 W. Main St., has been charged with aggravated assault and released on $1,000 bond to appear in court July 20.

Tip Leads To Cocaine Find

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy, acting on a tip, reported stopping a car suspected of containing cocaine. The stop was made on U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry, at about 11 p.m. Wednesday.

The deputy reported seeing a bag of white powder on the floor of the car, which when tested was reportedly confirmed to be cocaine.

Deborah Elgin Lapinski, 24, of 170 Lombardy Road, Winter Springs, was charged with possession of cocaine. Because she was on probation, she is being held without bond.

Burglar Chased From Home

John Harrison chased a burglar back out a window after spotting him in his home at 6 Castle Brewer Court, Sanford at about 2:30 a.m. Thursday.

Sanford police called to the scene nabbed a suspect in a park at that housing complex at about 3:20 and Harrison reportedly identified the man.

Willie Roosevelt Brown Jr., 21, of 1300 W. Seventh St., Sanford, has been charged with burglary and was being held in lieu of $2,000 bond.

Driving Under Influence Arrests

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Marilyn Ethel Grover, 27, of Orlando, at 2:34 a.m. Thursday after her car was seen weaving on westbound Interstate 4.

—David Steven Reis, 33, of Lake Worth, at 9:35 p.m. Wednesday after his car was in an accident on State Road 46.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

Sandra Gall Buettner, 41, of 1034 Chesterfield Circle, Winter Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies a $600 ring was stolen from her home Wednesday.

A $200 typewriter belonging to Lorraine Rogers, 332 W. Long Creek Cove, Longwood, was stolen from her workplace at 926 Congress Court, Casselberry, between June 1 and 14. The loss was reported to sheriff's deputies Wednesday.

18 Illegal Aliens Suffocate In Boxcar

SIERRA BLANCA, Texas (UPI) — The "very nasty business" of smuggling aliens was laid bare with the discovery of the bodies of 18 men who were locked for 14 hours in an insulated boxcar where they convulsed in 125-degree heat, spat blood and suffocated, officials said.

A 19th man, Miguel Tostado Rodriguez, 21, of Mexico, survived by using a steel spike to punch a hole in the wood floor of the Missouri-Pacific boxcar, and he told authorities Thursday the aliens and their two guides were locked inside by a third member of the smuggling ring.

Border Patrol spokesman Mike

Williams said agents acting on information from Tostado, who was in good health, searched for the smuggler today in the El Paso area. Williams said it was unclear whether the smuggler intended to harm the aliens or was merely trying to prevent the detection of his human cargo.

Jack Vicaery, a Border Patrol agent in McAllen, said smugglers also often lock up aliens so they will not escape without paying a fee. He added, "We've seen just about everything there is to see. It is a very nasty business."

Freight trains are frequently used by the smugglers to ferry undocumented workers deeper into the United States from towns on the Mexican border, and Border Patrol agents were conducting a routine search when they made the horrific discovery just after dawn Thursday.

Pools of blood spit up by men during the heat convulsions that preceded their descent into coma and then death lay on the floor, and agents observed scratch marks that the men apparently made on the metal walls of the car in an attempt to claw their way out.

"It was not a pretty sight," said Williams. "They had heat convulsions. There was a lot of blood inside the car. We're having problems identifying them because a lot of them are not carrying identification and they'd ripped their clothes off in the car."

All 18 victims were taken Thursday to El Paso Mortuary Services, where they were to remain until they were identified and relatives had been notified. Four victims were identified by Thursday night, but officials would not release their names.

Tostado said the men "knew that they were in trouble the minute the door was closed," said Williams.

Man Fires At Woman, Misses; Faces 7 Charges In Incident

A 29-year-old Oviedo man allegedly fired shots at a woman as she was driving away from her Franklin Street home. He was arrested by three Oviedo policemen who reported the man fought them and continued to threaten the woman when she returned home accompanied by Oviedo police at about 12:50 a.m. Wednesday.

Oviedo police reported meeting Mary Jane Newkir on Oviedo Road. She told them of the alleged gunplay and when police arrived at her home to investigate they said the suspect refused several orders to come outside.

A Casselberry police dog was brought to the scene and the suspect came out of the home but was uncooperative, police said.

The man allegedly told police "if he wasn't arrested he was going to hurt her (Newkir) bad. And the next time the police came back they would have to shoot him because he would not go with police," a police report said.

The man took off his shoes and allegedly shoved three policemen in an attempt to get to Newkir.

Rayfield Joynes, of 562 Academy St., was arrested on three counts of battery on a policeman, two counts of assault, resisting arrest and obstruction by disguise. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Police did not report the cause of the trouble.

Man Pleads No Contest To DUI Manslaughter

A Tampa area man pleaded no contest Wednesday to the DUI manslaughter death of a Tampa woman Aug. 10 on Interstate 4 near Lake Mary.

Erick Sundvall, 22, of Mango, east of Tampa, entered the plea before Circuit Judge O.H. Eaton Jr. Eaton set sentencing for Aug. 14. Sundvall was charged with the death of Paula Dunn Yarte, 20.

Yarte was killed when the 1983 Toyota truck she was riding on left the interstate and rolled several times. Yarte had been riding on the truck's sunroof or was standing on the seat and through the roof when the vehicle went out of control. Yarte was thrown from the vehicle, which rolled over her. She was dead at the scene from severe head injuries. Sundvall and Yarte's husband, John, 20, were also tossed out but received minor injuries.

Prior to the accident, the westbound truck had been weaving through traffic around 70 to 80 mph with Yarte waving at traffic. Witnesses said the truck swerved sharply, crossed the westbound lane then rolled several times.

The trio were returning to Tampa after a trip to Daytona Beach.

Five-Day Forecast For Central Florida

Storms Sock Ohio, Texas

United Press International Thunderstorms flooded waterways and roads in north-central Ohio, keeping hundreds of people from their homes early today, and hurled winds that overturned a fishing boat on a Texas lake, killing three people.

Ohio Gov. Richard Celeste declared a state of emergency in four counties and called out the National Guard to prevent looting in flooded communities. Homes and businesses were swamped, and roads were submerged under 6 feet of water Thursday. At least two people were hurt, one seriously.

In Texas, wind-whipped waves on Lake Livingston overturned a small craft Thursday, leaving three dead and one injured. All four boaters were related.

In Shelby, Ohio, some 500 people were evacuated and authorities borrowed boats to look for stranded residents.

Parts of north-central Ohio have been deluged by more than 5 1/2 inches of rain since late Wednesday. On Thursday, Celeste placed Delaware, Morrow, Marion and Richland counties under a state of emergency — clearing the way for possible federal assistance.

Residents in low-lying areas of those counties were forced from their homes as rain-swollen waterways overflowed. The National Weather Service kept flood warnings in effect for five rivers, each expected to crest by late today or early Saturday.

Besides Shelby, Bellville and Mount Gilead were also hard hit. Celeste planned to fly today to Bellville, where at least 40 homes were damaged.

Some 60 businesses and scores of homes were flooded in Shelby, a town of about 9,000, some 50 miles north of Columbus, the Ohio Disaster Services Agency said.

The governor said floods caused an estimated $9 million damage to streets, bridges and other public property in Shelby. Mayor Garland Gates said damage to private property suffered millions of dollars more in damage.

"You just can't believe the sound," said resident Herman Daniels, whose basement walls collapsed under pressure of the surging Blackfork River. "We tried to get everything out. ... All of a sudden the water came from that direction."

A 14-year-old boy was swept several hundreds of yards down the raging Blackfork before he grabbed a utility pole. He was rescued without injury.

Police in boats rescued stranded truckers from their rigs in Mansfield, Ohio, where U.S. 30, a major east-west artery, was closed.

In Livingston, Texas, the three people died and a fourth was injured when their fishing boat overturned on Lake Livingston during a raging thunderstorm Thursday afternoon. Authorities late Thursday had not released the names of the victims pending notification of their families.

"A bad storm came through. The lake became very rough," Polk County Deputy Jim Vail said. "They were trying to get to shore."

Severe thunderstorms in Oklahoma Thursday touched off an oil tank explosion, overturned a mobile home and flooded roads.

Lightning struck the storage tank next to a gas station. "It was just like a bomb going off. I got out of there as quick as I could," said Alan Duroy.

Let The Wall Tumble Down

Behind the promise of glasnost, the Soviet Union's word for its new policy of openness, lies the concrete and barbed-wire reality of the Berlin Wall. Since it was built 26 years ago, it has come to symbolize everything that isn't open about communist society.

East Germany, a Soviet ally, erected it to keep the citizens of East Berlin from fleeing to the free part of the city controlled by West Germany.

President John F. Kennedy went to this politically schizophrenic city and declared, "Es gibt nur ein Berlin." "There is only one Berlin."

But today, Berlin remains two cities, with freedom on one side of the wall, communist repression on the other.

The other day, another American president, Ronald Reagan journeyed to West Berlin and standing near the Brandenburg Gate challenged Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev to prove the sincerity of glasnost, to "open this gate, tear down this wall."

"General Secretary Gorbachev, if you seek peace, if you seek prosperity for the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe, if you seek liberalization, come here to this gate," said the president.

Gorbachev and his policies may have dominated the discussions among the European leaders who met at the Venice summit — a summit Gorbachev did not even attend. But clearly Reagan seized the foreign policy initiative with his impassioned challenge at the Berlin Wall.

Is glasnost a token gesture or a meaningful change for the better? Will a city divided by ideology be allowed to reunite? Whether the Berlin wall remains standing or disappears could resolve those questions. President Reagan threw down the gauntlet. Now, it is up to Gorbachev to prove himself.

Brown Baggers

The trite phrase, "Have a nice day," has now been replaced in supermarkets by the equally irritating, "Paper or plastic?"

We're talking bags, of course. Brown paper bag purists are alarmed over prospects of a paper-bagless world. Already, one company predicts that plastic will occupy 65 percent of the bag market by 1990.

Concerns of paper-bag buffs may grow when they learn the full story behind plastic bags. First, while brown paper bags are made in the U.S.A., plastic bags are made either in Taiwan or manufactured from foreign resins. Also, plastic bags aren't biodegradable, hence billions of them lie around as landfill artifacts or roadside litter.

Plastic bags aren't all bad. They have handles. They don't get soggy. They allow a person to carry a baby and a bag more easily. Still, you can't make a decent Halloween mask out of a plastic bag. Nor can you wear one to a baseball game.

We aren't plastic bag fans, but then again we didn't grow up with them. Instead, we grew up when groceries were often delivered to our homes — in a brown paper bag — accompanied by a cheerful, sincere greeting.

Scandal, Yes, But No Moral Outrage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan says there is too much attention being paid to "side shows and hoopla" in Washington instead of focusing on the real issues concerning the federal deficit, Democratic moves for new excise taxes and the general economy.

It's understandable why the president would want to shift the spotlight away from the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal hearings. But even the lawmakers holding the hearings say that some of the testimony is even more astounding than the television dramas.

There is a subtle pressure on the White House as it waits for one shoe after another to fall and still seeks to portray a "business as usual" atmosphere.

President Richard Nixon, at the height of the unraveling of the Watergate scandal, said he was "not going to wallow in Watergate."

Presidential supporters who hope it will all go away, and soon, are saying the country could care less, that no one is watching, it's a big yawn and boring.

But there are viewers in the country who realize that the drama being played out on Capitol Hill is extremely important to the question of conducting government under law and the separation of powers.

And like Watergate, the revelations are inexorable.

The issue that hangs over the hearings is, of course, what role the president played. He has now acknowledged that he gave the go-ahead on the sale of arms to Iran to win the release of the American hostages in Lebanon. But he adamantly denies any knowledge of the siphoning of profits from the weapons sales to aid the Nicaraguan rebels, or Contras, or to aid and abet international profiteers.

If that is all true, and no one has said otherwise, then surely the president must be astounded at what happened in the White House under his watch. What can he think of the machinations and privatizing of foreign policy that went on under his name.

The lack of outrage is glaring on all sides. When Attorney General Edwin Meese was shown the so-called smoking gun memo on the diversion of funds to the Contras, he was quoted by an aide as saying: "Oh, darn." Not even an expletive deleted, or a sense of shock.

Secretary of State George Shultz said on NBC's "Meet the Press" that some of the disclosures were "astounding." But what was he angry at was not particularly the lies, but the fact that international arms dealer Albert Hakim might have indicated the administration would make a deal with Kuwait to release Arab prisoners arrested in terrorist bombings in exchange for freedom for the American hostages.

That would go against Shultz's "no deals, no negotiations" policy, even though that has been repudiated with the Iran dealings.

But Shultz did not express any outrage at Assistant Attorney General Elliott Abrams misleading Congress. He said Abrams simply did not give Congress certain information.

White House chief of staff Howard Baker has said that Reagan will issue a statement when it is all over. But that may be a little late in the game.

Falwell At The Helm

It's about time that somebody, standing back from the wreckage of Jim and Tammy Bakker's PTL ministry, paused to say a good word for the diligence and dignity of Jerry Falwell's continuing efforts to save it.

The sad story of the Bakkers themselves needn't detain us long. They weren't the first preachers of the Lord's word, nor will they be the last, to confuse their ministry with a pot of honey and wind up gorging on it.

In the long run, however, it will transpire that the good Christians who were misled by the Bakkers are considerably more sophisticated, in the true sense, about sin and sinners than those who are snickering at their discomfiture.

They may have been surprised, at one level, by the disclosures; most of them were no doubt deeply disappointed in the Bakkers. But they can recognize the devil's handiwork with the skill of connoisseurs, and they are chiefly and rightly concerned to save the Bakkers' souls — through prayer, in a spirit of forgiveness, and with deep compassion. That's what Christianity is all about.

Meanwhile there is the PTL ministry itself — the whole enterprise, including its hardware: the theme park, the mailing lists, the TV network, the luxurious homes and the tens of millions of dollars in debts. That is what Jerry Falwell was called in to salvage if he could, and I think he deserves credit, no matter how things ultimately turn out, for a superb try.

I am sure he wishes he had never touched the whole mess with a 10-foot pole. ("Jerry Falwell's Vietnam," some scoffers are calling it.) He has been accused of trying to hijack the PTL ministry, and to change it, in the process, from an evangelical movement to one in his own more purely fundamentalist mold. He has had to wallow in allegations of sexual misconduct that were certainly none of his doing. He has had to try to make sense out of the organization's books, and some reasonable provision for the payment of its creditors.

I hope that he manages to save PTL, and that he receives the thanks he will deserve for a difficult job well done.

343,000 Miles Of Roads To Nowhere

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The Forest Service's "roads to nowhere" actually lead to the loss of billions of taxpayers' dollars and the destruction of irreplaceable natural resources, two environmental groups have charged.

The Wilderness Society and the National Wildlife Federation have joined forces to ask that Congress call a temporary halt to the Forest Service's widespread construction of roads that make government timberland accessible to loggers.

"We have for the last three years told Congress it should put a moratorium on road construction, at least for one year, to get a handle on this thing," said Wildlife Federation lawyer Tom France. "They are building thousands of roads to nowhere."

What particularly galls agency critics is that, in a time of budgetary constraints, it often costs more to build the roads and make other

BEN WATTENBERG

Sewing Safety Net

The standard of American health care is probably the best in the world. Why? Because it's mostly private rather than governmental, because our doctors are well-trained and well-rewarded, because we have devoted great resources to develop new technologies, medicines and procedures.

However, our private system has one central flaw. It is not available to everyone. Because our health care is so good, it is expensive. Most Americans only feel safe because their medical bills are paid through group health insurance provided by their employer. The government steps in only when there are typically no employers: Medicare for the elderly and Medicaid for people in deep poverty.

About 85 percent of Americans are covered. But what about the rest — the 15 percent who aren't insured? That's 37 million people. If they get ill, they can be in trouble. They seek a charity ward or just forgo treatment. There is a hole in our social safety net.

Sen. Edward Kennedy has long been a champion of a broader, safer safety net. But in the past his remedy involved a greater governmental role. Opponents characterized it as "socialized medicine." He never could get it enacted into law.

Now Kennedy has come up with a new way to skin the cat, or about two-thirds of it anyway. Twenty-four million of those 37 million uninsured are in families where a member works full-time. But their employers don't provide group health coverage. Individual coverage is often prohibitively expensive. So Kennedy's new bill mandates that employers of these uninsured workers provide group insurance.

The approach goes with the flow of the new political and budgetary circumstance. It adds to the private, not the public, part of the medical system; there is no big-spending government program. Kennedy takes a non-ideological view of his shift from a public to a private plan. He says, "This can do the job. Let's get the job done."

The Kennedy proposal has other advantages: No one need stay on welfare just to get medical benefits. It takes a big step toward offering catastrophic health insurance for all. It should also have some allure for conservatives: They complain that an increase in the minimum wage ratchets up everyone else's wages in order to retain existing wage intervals. The Kennedy plan is a "benefit," not a "wage" and would not generally have that effect.

Still, most conservatives oppose it. They don't want government mandates. It could slightly increase unemployment. And they recite their mantra: "There is no free lunch." In lunch terms, they are correct. Most of the costs are borne by the businesses involved, so costs will be passed along to the consumer.

Kennedy's bill is not perfect. It ought to be closely scrutinized in some of its important details. But its direction is sound. It goes a long way to stitching up a big hole in the safety net.

Water Safety Myths

By Gayle Young
UPI Science Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — There is no medical reason a person can't swim immediately after eating, but the old myth of waiting a half hour or hour before returning to the water is not necessarily a bad one.

"You figure it gets you out of the water for a time and allows you to rest, which is always a good thing," said Thomas C. Werts, national director of water safety for the American Red Cross. "Exhaustion in the water is a sure sign of trouble."

Every summer, for decades, the Red Cross and other health organizations have warned people about water safety. Still, about 7,000 Americans drown every year and health officials say many of these deaths could have been prevented.

"Unfortunately, no statistics are kept describing the contributing causes to drownings," Werts said. "We don't know if most occur in a guarded or unguarded area, whether the weather was involved or the physical conditions of the victims."

Still, many health authorities say most drownings are probably the result of exhaustion and bad judgment. Many people overestimate their swimming ability and strength, which can be sapped by the humidity, sun and alcohol that often make up summer outings.

Werts said he believes many accidental drownings could be avoided if people did not swim alone.

"If I had only one piece of advice to give, it would be swim with someone — be it in pool, lake or ocean," he said.

Werts said too many people believe they can swim farther or longer than they really can. Others imitate professional swimmers and divers and purposefully hyperventilate before entering the water.

By breathing in deeply and quickly blowing out all of the carbon dioxide in their lungs, swimmers can temporarily stifle the body's natural urge to inhale.

"The trouble is they do it (hyperventilate) too long and when they hit the water they black out," he said. "We really discourage the practice."

Werts said people who become so exhausted in the water that they feel they cannot swim back to shore should roll onto their backs and float.

logging preparations than the Forest Service gets from the timber harvests. In other words, the more roads the agency builds, the more money it loses.

A recent Wilderness Society report estimates that the Forest Service's expanding timber program will mean losses of more than $2 billion over the next 10 years. The society's lawyer, Peter Kirby, told our reporter Lisa Sylvester that the figure is based on the World Resources Institute's finding that 75 national forests consistently lose money on their timber sales. Yet the Forest Service plans to expand logging operations in 61 of these forests.

Kirby pointed out that the National Forest Management Act of 1976 ordered the Forest Service to identify lands that are uneconomic for logging and remove them from the timber base. Instead, he said, timber sales in those areas have actually increased.

"Under continuation of current policy ... annual taxpayer losses on the Forest Service timber program would average at least $190 million per year in the first decade of the (new) plans," the Wilderness Society report asserts. "This amount climbs to $270 million per year in the fifth decade. Cumulative taxpayer losses in the first decade alone would exceed $2 billion."

The Forest Service disagrees with the society's figures. "Based on our cash-flow analysis, the average annual negative cash flow from 1979 to 1983 was $24.5 million per annum, or about $246 million for 10 years," said Larry Henson, associate deputy chief of the National Forest System. The agency is trying to bring that loss figure down by "productivity improvements," he said.

"The Wilderness Society doesn't count all the benefits," Henson said. "True, most roads are built for timber harvests, but only eight to 10 percent of the (roads') lifetime is for logging."

Henson said the roads are also used for access to allow fire protection and insect control, berry picking, hunting, camping, fishing and school buses. Asked how many school buses travel in remote forest areas, Henson said he didn't mean that the roads are built for school bus use, only that in some cases the roads could be used by them.

Wildlife Federation official Dave Alberswerth noted that the Forest Service now has some 343,000 miles of roads — more than a mile of road for each square mile of forest. And with an overall agency budget of about $1 billion a year, he said, road construction eats up $300 to $500 million.

Sen. Jim Sasser, D-Tenn., is one member of Congress who has been scrutinizing the service's budget and agrees that its road-building program needs to be brought under control. A Sasser aide said the senator feels that the Forest Service is spending too much on roads and that a lot of the roads it is planning will be unnecessary.

CareCab Offers Safe Fourth Help

The CareCab program sponsored by CareUnit of Orlando will provide free taxi rides home this weekend for people too drunk to drive. But it can't prevent all Fourth of July celebrants who've had too much to drink from getting behind the wheel.

"That's why all motorists should still drive defensively and be aware of the signs of a drunk driver," said Henry Harlow, Director of Community Relations at CareUnit of Orlando, an inpatient drug and alcohol abuse treatment facility.

While some people can drive without exhibiting outward signs of having too much to drink, Harlow said most intoxicated motorists are fairly easy to spot.

"They may be driving too slow or too fast. Their reactions may be slower than other drivers on the road or they're driving where they shouldn't," he said.

CareCab is a community service which provides free, no-obligation cab rides home to people who've had too much to drink and shouldn't drive. It is sponsored by the CareUnit of Orlando. CareCab, which operates in major metropolitan areas throughout the U.S., is the largest and oldest program of its kind and has given more than 45,000 rides over the past six years. The CareCab campaign will be July 3 to July 6. The service will be provided from 7:00 p.m. to 3:00 a.m. each day of the campaign.

CareCab service will be provided to the greater Orlando area for anyone who's been drinking too much to drive and who calls from a public place such as a restaurant or bar — pick-ups will not be made from private parties. The rider will be taken home — not to another party or bar — within a 20-mile radius. Anyone living farther will pay the difference. Call 1-800-433-3691.

Another Variance For Dogs Requested

Just when Sanford City Commissioner Whitey Eckstein thought he might be successful in getting his colleagues to change their minds about a Sanford couple's request to keep four dogs at their residence — one more than city code allows — another resident has turned up with six dogs.

After receiving notice of code violation for having the six dogs, Linda K. Goins, 415 S. Orange Ave., has requested a waiver of the three-dog limit. She argues that her house is for sale and as soon as it is sold she will be moving to a rural location. Goins is requesting the city grant her a waiver until this time. She has had the dogs for five years, she said.

"This request is the worst thing that could have happened for the Watkinses," Eckstein said, referring to the couple keeping four Dobermans at their home at 2532 Princeton Ave. Some commissioners are now seeing a possible danger in opening the floodgates for similar requests, he said.

Indeed, for most members of the commission the Watkins case, scheduled to be reconsidered July 13, still revolves around the ordinance and the desire to strictly adhere to it.

"I don't want to set a precedent," Commissioner A.A. McClanahan said. "Everybody has a unique case and everybody is going to want a variance for their dogs. I think that three dogs is liberal enough."

Commissioner John Mercer said he would rather see a change in the ordinance than an exception to the rule. Mayor Bettye Smith expressed some skepticism that all the people who spoke so strongly against Bob and Linda Watkins' dogs suddenly changed their minds.

Eckstein said that the reason for the change was that the neighborhood was misinformed about the nature of the dogs and what Mrs. Watkins was doing with them.

Eckstein approached his fellow commissioners at a work session Monday to lobby on the Watkins' behalf. They agreed to put the matter on the agenda for their regular meeting July 13, set to begin at 7 p.m. at city hall.

City code allows a maximum of three dogs and three cats. At a May 26 city commission meeting, neighbors of the Watkinses circulated a petition with 20 signatures that expressed fear of the couple's four Doberman pinchers and one Rottweiler/Doberman mix. The fifth dog has since died, and Mrs. Watkins says another is at the end of his life expectancy.

On May 26, Mrs. Watkins answered a neighborhood petition against her dogs by saying that she didn't go looking for the dogs and that they were not a nuisance to the neighborhood. The Watkinses live on three city lots with a six-foot high privacy fence surrounding the property. On a recent to their property Eckstein found the animals remarkably quiet and well behaved, he said. He said that the only dogs he heard barking were from the surrounding neighborhood.

But in May the commission ruled that the Watkinses had 60 days to get rid of two of their animals to comply with city regulations. Most commissioners were sympathetic to the Watkins' situation, but were led by Eckstein who said, "the needs of society outweigh the needs of the individual."

Since then, Mrs. Watkins has circulated a counter-petition in her neighborhood. She has gathered 40 signatures from some of the same citizens who signed the earlier petition against her dogs. Mrs. Watkins said that many of her neighbors were under the mistaken impression that she was running a kennel and breeding attack dogs.

In light of the new petition and his own personal experience at the Watkins' residence, Eckstein asked his fellow commissioners to grant a variance for the couple to keep the dogs.

McCullum Endorses Bush

WASHINGTON — U.S. Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Fla., has endorsed Vice President George Bush in his presidential campaign.

"I'm very pleased to endorse Vice President Bush's candidacy," McCollum said. "Clearly, he is the most qualified candidate to be president."

McCollum joined 64 other Congressional members of the Bush for President Steering Committee in making the endorsement.

"I have had occasion over the past 6½ years to work with George Bush on a number of issues where I have observed him demonstrate his tremendous leadership skills and where his personal involvement made a real difference in the legislative process," McCollum said.

The Vice President appeared on the Capitol steps to have his picture taken with his Congressional supporters.

"Barbara and I are delighted and very proud to have Bill's support for our campaign," Bush said. "He will be a tremendous asset to our effort in the state.

"As a former member of the House, I truly value this endorsement because I know how close Bill is to the people of Florida's 5th District. This group of endorsements, coming so early in the campaign, is a great boost for our growing grassroots organization."

Spam 'Lovers' Party; Meat's 50th Birthday

AUSTIN, Minn. (UPI) — The city where Spam was introduced fifty years ago plans a four-day celebration of the meat in a can that inspired numerous jokes as it fed World War II GIs and became a popular product sold in 90 countries.

The 50th anniversary celebration begins today in Austin, the small southern Minnesota community where the ham and pork product is made by Geo. A. Hormel & Co.

Spam started out slowly after it was introduced in 1937, but it became a mainstay during World War II, feeding troops all over the world.

GIs made jokes about it, defining it as meat that couldn't pass its physical, but they ate it — even Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"I ate my share of Spam," Eisenhower once wrote to the troops. "I will even confess to a few unkind words about it — uttered during the strain of battle, you understand."

Hormel's Allan Krejci, who helped the company prepare for the celebration, said many comments about Spam have been preserved, including a wartime Sad Sack cartoon in which a GI gets a package from home containing two cans of Spam.

"It's one of those products that everybody says they don't eat, but a lot of people do," he said. "We were selling 40 million pounds a year shortly after the war."

Made from ham and pork shoulder, 1 billion cans were sold in the first 22 years, and another billion in the next 11 years.

Krejci said the trademark now is registered in 90 counties and people eat 12,960 cans an hour.

Hormel hopes the celebration will help ease the tensions that still remain from a long, bitter strike by Austin meatpackers that ended in September 1986.

Employees who still have not returned to work plan to attend the celebration, part of Cedar River Days, wearing "Cram Your SPAM" T-shirts as a reminder that all is not well. Union activists plan a tent encampment called Solidarity City during the celebration.

"Austin has not healed and won't begin to heal until 850 people get their jobs back," said Barb Collette of the Austin United Support Group.

Sharon Piller, one of the organizers of the celebration, was unhappy with the protest. "No matter what side of the labor dispute you were on," she said, "no one can deny the importance of Spam. It's very much a part of our history."

Court Blocks Execution

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Supreme Court has granted a stay of execution to William Lee Thompson, who was scheduled to go to the electric chair July 23 for beating to death a woman in a Miami motel room.

In a 7-0 decision issued late Thursday, the high court ordered the stay, saying an opinion would follow later.

NOTICE OF CHANGE OF LAND USE

PUBLIC HEARING TO BE HELD JULY 8, 1987

President Reagan Proclaims 'Economic Bill Of Rights'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, taking advantage of a holiday news lull, decided to proclaim an "Economic Bill of Rights" today to pressure Congress into budget reform before both he and the lawmakers go on vacation next month.

The president's repackaging of his time-worn calls for a balanced budget, with a few new twists to put Congress on the defensive, is also an attempt to set an agenda for presidential candidates of both parties in 1988, say White House aides.

Reagan was to speak from the steps of the Jefferson Memorial this morning to lay out the "bill of rights" and, borrowing from his one-time hero, Franklin D. Roosevelt, to declare "four freedoms" of the economy.

Hot-Air Balloon Nears Record

ABASSETT VALLEY, Maine (UPI) — The Virgin Atlantic Flyer hurtled on a jet stream past the distance record for hot-air balloons and sailed on at 100 mph today toward a new milestone as the first such craft to cross the Atlantic.

The 21-story, black and silver craft piloted by British daredevils Richard Branson and Per Lindstrand had traveled 2,170 miles to a point about 600 miles southwest of Limerick, Ireland, by about 2 a.m. today, 22 hours after liftoff from Carrabassett Valley.

The pilots have no specific touchdown point in mind and may aim past the British Isles toward continental Europe, a spokesman said.

Branson and Lindstrand rode the jet stream Thursday to eclipse the previous hot-air balloon distance record of 907 miles set by American Harold Warner, who flew from Calgary, Canada, to Arnold, Neb., on Jan. 26-27, 1985.

Panama's Chamber Calls Strike; Demands Probe Of Corruption

PANAMA CITY, Panama (UPI) — Panama's Chamber of Commerce called a two-day strike beginning today to demand an investigation into allegations of government corruption against military strongman Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega.

The chamber's action was a response to an attack Thursday by 25 to 50 men who fired submachine guns and hurled Molotov cocktails into four businesses owned by opposition leader Roberto Eisenmann, who is in self-imposed exile in Miami.

Signs of anti-American protest continued Thursday as unidentified demonstrators toppled a statue of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt and painted "Yankee, go home" on stores they later ransacked.

In an attempt to smooth over strained relations with the United States, Panama Thursday apologized for an attack Tuesday on the U.S. Embassy by pro-government demonstrators and said it would pay for damage to the building.

Students Seek Prisoners' Release

SEOUL, South Korea (UPI) — More than 20,000 student protesters, buoyed by government concessions to demands for democratic reforms, called today for President Chun Doo Hwan to release all political prisoners as a sign he means to keep his word.

The protesters gathered for a rally at Yonsei University and planned to march to downtown Seoul to ask others to join them in pressuring the government to quickly implement the reforms promised Wednesday.

Student organizers urged the protesters to remain on the sidewalks of the downtown area, the scene of violent protests between June 10 and June 26, to allow rush-hour traffic to flow unhindered.

Release of political prisoners has become the key opposition demand since Monday, when ruling party chairman Roh Tae-woo made a surprise announcement of sweeping democratic reforms, including release of the prisoners and direct presidential elections.

Demonstrators Protest Evictions

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — About 1,000 blacks marched through the Johannesburg township of Soweto today to protest the eviction of eight families who failed to pay their rents in a year-old boycott.

A spokesman for the Witwatersrand Council of Churches said the crowd was from the White City district of the ghetto about 10 miles southwest of Johannesburg.

A reporter on the scene said the crowd dispersed peacefully after an official of the black Soweto town council arranged for a delegation of protesters to see administrators Monday.

...Route

p.m. to 9 p.m. The first day's session will be at Sanford City Hall, the second at the Seminole County Health and Human Services building on Airport Boulevard.

Brinton and the consultants also will detail two other possible routes for the approximate 16-mile expressway through Seminole County.

The seven-member expressway authority is scheduled to conduct a public hearing July 22 at which a final route is expected to be selected. Authority members, however, have left open the option of canceling the project.

Much of the preference for Route 53 stems from its estimated cost of $245 million, about $30 million less than the two other remaining routes.

How the massive expressway project would be funded is uncertain, but state Rep. Art Grindle predicted this week that a consolidation of the expressway authorities of Seminole and Orange counties could greatly increase chances for state highway funds.

"The thing most people don't realize," said Grindle, "is that the state has $600 million for roads it hasn't spent. How this ridiculous situation was allowed to take place, I don't know."

Grindle said the Republican administration of Gov. Bob Martinez may be receptive to handing as much as $100 million of the highway dollars to a consolidated expressway authority comprised of Seminole and Orange counties. The GOP lawmaker further speculated the money could be obtained without going through the Legislature.

"We need to get settled down here in Seminole County and decide our next move," he said. "A consolidated expressway authority may be the thing to do."

He said if the Orange County Commission continues to "waffle" on whether it wants to join with Seminole County, Seminole should pursue the $100 million on its own. "These days we have a lot more power in Seminole County. We can do some things."

...Life

fossils are the first hard evidence that "life began relatively soon after the formation of the planet," Schopf said Thursday.

The discovery also suggests that life originated in a "relatively easy" manner on Earth, he said, and theoretically could have arisen just as easily on an Earth-like planet in another solar system.

"If it's easy here, it's easy there," Schopf said.

The fossilized organisms were a complex form of plant life "very much like modern pond scum" that apparently produced oxygen through photosynthesis, a chemical process triggered by sunlight.

Scientists believe that organisms capable of photosynthesis evolved sometime after earlier, simpler life forms.

"I was elated and surprised at the apparent degree of their complexity," Schopf said. "I didn't think that evolution had occurred that fast, that early."

"A great number of things had to take place before these organisms came about," said Schopf, who directs UCLA's Center for the Study of Evolution and the Origin of Life.

Since the relatively complex organisms must have been preceded by life forms older than 3.5 billion years, and since the Earth itself is only about 4.5 billion years old, "life on Earth must have existed for more than 90 percent of the Earth's history," said Schopf.

Discovery of early oxygen-producing organisms suggests that "it must not have been all that hard for life to have evolved here," Schopf said. The fossils also argue against the theory that life first arrived on the Earth from elsewhere in the universe, possibly aboard meteors.

"Life got going very early and conditions were right for it," Schopf said. "This tells us that, contrary to what we thought, the early Earth was not inhospitable to life."

The same series of events "could happen elsewhere, not necessarily in our solar system, but on a planet in another part of the universe that has the same sort of history, geological composition and proximity to the sun that Earth has," Schopf said.

Schopf said the algae-like organisms "changed the Earth's atmosphere and the entire environment" because their production of oxygen enabled other life forms to prosper.

In previous years, Schopf and other paleobiologists have visited sites where fossilized organisms appeared to be as old as 3.5 billion years, but either the fossils were not well-preserved or their exact site could not be found on subsequent trips.

Now that he has found well-preserved fossils in a well-documented location, "the puzzle is solved," said Schopf.

Tesar said the malpractice insurance flap could affect Central Florida if legislative action is not taken.

"I think if something doesn't happen, its going to affect emergency rooms in the whole state," he said.

Tesar said some of the suggestions for legislative intervention include making the insurance companies raise rates for only bad doctors and the suspension of licenses of doctor's with repeated problems.

The malpractice issue has not affected the emergency room care at South Seminole Community Hospital in Longwood either, according to Allen Golson, assistant administrator. He agreed with Tesar that if a solution is not found, the malpractice issue could become a problem locally.

There is a disproportionate number of claims and awards in South Florida. Dade and Broward counties accounted for more than 50 percent of the total of all monies paid to medical malpractice claimants in Florida from 1982 through 1986.

Martinez announced the formation of the 12-member working group Thursday, saying its recommendations would form the basis for legislative action to be taken at a special session this fall. Martinez said he hopes to hold the session in September, but would wait for the working group to finish its work.

Martinez, House Speaker Jon Mills and Senate President John Vogt will each appoint four members to the panel.

Increasing malpractice insurance costs and its lack of availability have led many doctors to stop practicing high-risk specialties. Hospitals in turn have curtailed their emergency room services, causing a near health care crisis in south Florida.

The announcement drew praise from the Florida Medical Association.

"We're extremely pleased," said FMA spokesman Scotty Fraser. "Rather than just a study group, you have a commitment from the governor and legislative leaders they will develop a work product."

In south Florida, a makeshift coordination center was created to treat the critically injured and monitor hospitals' calls. All hospital emergency rooms in Broward County still are accepting routine injuries that are not life-threatening, he said.

"This started at 4:30 p.m. Monday, about 30 hours earlier than we thought it would," said Robert Strandell, of the Broward County emergency Medical Service. "This wasn't supposed to happen until the rate hike went into effect July 1."

...Killer

he was her killer.

"I could have walked up to him with a gun. But I have respect for the law, the law of God and the law of the land ... we must be responsible for our actions."

She told the court the family had to hold a closed-casket funeral because her daughter's body was unfit for viewing since Durham had left it in an abandoned car after killing her. The body remained in the car the entire day in intense heat until it was found by authorities. "She was disposed of like a piece of meat," she said. Turning towards Durham, her emotions erupted: "Why didn't you take your life?" she asked. "You parted the next night."

Through the hearing, Durham appeared more angry than embarrassed.

His face reddened when his behavior and actions were talked about. He exhaled loudly and squirmed in his chair. He brushed the top of his dress slacks as if there were dirt there and propped his right arm from the elbow up on the defense table, his hand curled as if holding a pen. He drummed his left fingers on his leg. He licked his lips.

Diane Rockwell, Durham's mother, said her son cared about people.

"I am not going to make excuses for Donn. He committed a crime and he must pay, but I know he cared about Karen ... He would never deliberately hurt anyone," she said.

She admitted, however, that her son does have a drinking problem and that "under the influence he is a different person. (But) he is not a killer," she said.

The young woman's father, Cecil Barkley, who initially did not want to address the court, told Davis that he was not pleased with the judicial process.

"I think what the jury did (reaching a second rather than first-degree guilty verdict) is a travesty. I have forgiven Mr. Durham in my heart. I think he's going to live in hell," he said, then wryly added, "if he's such a good person, let him go," indicating his objection to what he considered too light of a sentence.

From the back of the courtroom Durham's mother said "No, he needs to be punished," to which Mrs. Barkley rejoined, "your son is a murderer."

When Durham stood to speak, Mrs. Barkley, sobbing deeply, walked quickly from from the courtroom.

"I am very, very sorry for what I did ... I know what I did was wrong. I know that her family is hurting and that my family's hurting. I don't know what else to say but that I am hurting. I view it as an accident. I never intended to hurt her," said Durham.

Davis said he was displeased with the legal restraints upon him that limited the number of years he could send Durham to prison and so told Durham.

"I am supposed to be as objective as I can and follow the law as much as I can," Davis said he wished there was a legal reason to give Durham a longer sentence. He sentenced Durham to 17 years, which by state law could be cut in half with good behavior. Davis also ordered Durham to serve a lifetime of probation, pay the Barkleys

$5,400 in funeral expenses, and up to $20,000 in legal costs to his attorney Don West.

After the hearing, West said he thought the conviction and sentence were just. He said there may be an appeal but if so based on technical elements of the trial and not for the purpose of substantially changing the verdict or sentence.

"Our family has been devastated," said Barkley after the hearing. He said he realized Davis was hobbled by law in the amount of time he could give Durham. He said people don't want to pay taxes to build prisons to house Durhams until their lives of family have been touched by crime.

Before the 4 p.m. hearing began, the courtroom was cleared and for security reasons, everyone entering the room searched for weapons.

The victim in the case, Durham's confidante, visited Durham's apartment Sept. 18. She was wearing a $5,000 diamond. They argued. He had been drinking and she was telling him he needed to straighten out his life. She was a social and academic success and deeply religious, as is her family.

During the argument, Durham lunged at her. He said she collapsed immediately, an autopsy showed she suffocated. The state charged Durham with first-degree murder but a 12-member jury rendered a verdict for the lesser crime of second-degree murder.

...Longwood

The value of taxable property in Longwood as of July 1 was $409 million compared to $345 million last year, according to Seminole County Property Appraiser Bill Suber.

The roll-back tax rate, the rate which would have provided the same amount of property tax revenue as last year, is approximately $2.63. That rate would cost the typical homeowner $13.65 less in city real estate taxes.

Other boosts in anticipated city revenue come from items such as the local option gas tax ($74,000 increase), the electric franchise tax ($28,000 increase), and fines and forfeitures (a $20,000 increase).

Also added to the general fund are the following estimated revenues: federal, $1,100; state, $938,800; county, $376,500; local revenue, $1,772,031. The estimated appropriated carry-over is $100,000.

The total proposed city budget, in addition to the general fund, includes the following self-sustaining funds: water and wastewater, $1,479,508; utility construction, $2,333,647; capital improvements, $864,000; cemetery, $2,500; Crime Watch, $1,600; police education, $12,500; police confiscation, $16,500; community service trust, $9,310; industrial park fund, $41,131; special assessment (paving), $401,536. These funds, combined with the general fund revenues, come to $9,441,559. Less transfers of $724,301 leaves a total net budget of $8.7 million for the city.

Expenditures for various departments, as recommended by Waller, include: city commission, $157,545; city clerk's office, $162,647; personnel, $37,385; city administrator, $69,716; purchasing, $30,860; finance department, $60,578; general services, $178,067; city attorney's office, $70,919; Land Planning Agency, $35,450; city elections, $3,000; codes enforcement, $32,120; police department, $1,314,502; fire department, $928,312; building, planning and zoning, $141,143; parks and recreation, $154,742; and street department, $902,541.

Michael Bennett, Broadway Director, Dies

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Michael Bennett, the Pulitzer and Tony winning director and choreographer whose "A Chorus Line" has run longer than any show on Broadway, died at his home Thursday. He was 44.

Bennett died just before 5 a.m. Thursday of lymphoma "as related to or caused by AIDS," said Jan Rooney, a spokeswoman for the Arizona Health Sciences Center in Tucson, where Bennett received treatment.

Diagnosed about 18 months ago, Bennett sold the building on Broadway in New York City where he based his theatrical operations and moved to Tucson last December to die.

Funeral arrangements were pending but a memorial was planned for noon July 27 at the Shubert Theater on Broadway, where the 4,957th performance of "A Chorus Line," was staged Thursday night.

Broadway theaters dimmed their marquee lights at curtain time at 8 p.m. Thursday in Bennett's honor.

Breglio said a scholarship fund for young directors and choreographers and an undetermined contribution in Bennett's name to fight AIDS also were planned.

Joseph Papp, whose New York Shakespeare Festival has produced more than 400 shows, said Bennett "more than anybody was our hope" for a resurgence of the American musical at a time when most Broadway musicals have their origin in London.

"Michael's ability is to take rough, raw material and shape it into something that becomes exquisite," Papp said. "To lose someone of this stature is a great loss to the culture of this country."

Bennett, himself a former Broadway "gypsy" — a young dancer who travels from show to show dancing in choruses — conceived, directed, choreographed and co-produced "A Chorus Line."

Ronda Hannah, M.R. Bennett Repeat Vows

Ronda Jean Hannah of Orlando, and Michael Ray Bennett of Sanford, were married June 13, at 3 p.m. at New Life Assembly, Sanford. The Rev. David Rutledge was the officiating clergyman for the traditional ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Creighton of Kissimmee. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Bennett, 621 Camellia Court, Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a white schiffli embroidered lace gown by Elegante with a high lace-trimmed neckline. Satin bows accented the long puffed sleeves and a satin cummerbund with a big satin bow in the back enhanced the fitted waistline. A circlet of silk leaves cascading with pearl flowers held her tiered fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of silk violets with white ribbon streamers.

Keri Stewart attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a lavender lace and taffeta tea-length gown and carried a keepsake bouquet of lavender carnations interspersed with baby's breath and ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids were Shelly Kidd, Nanette Gryete, Deb Orvec and Gina Lowe. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the honor attendant's.

Felix Torres served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsmen were Jeff Gibson, Shannon Smith and Bill Wilkins.

Jennifer Brown was the flower girl and Jonathan Stewart, ring bearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ray Bennett

The reception was held in New Life Assembly fellowship hall.

Following a wedding trip to St. Augustine, the newlyweds are making their home in Colorado Springs, Col. where the bride is a licensed optician and the bridegroom is serving a tour of duty in the U.S. Army.

Couple's Racial Prejudice Casts Doubt On Friendship

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are 29 years old. We are friendly with a married couple whose company we enjoy, but there is one problem: They are very prejudiced against black people. This hateful attitude seems to come up in conversation at least once every time we're together.

I was raised not to judge people by the color of their skin, and consequently this racist attitude of theirs is very upsetting to me. I am not the type of person to argue my point, as this would be rude, and may jeopardize our friendship.

Should I continue to ignore their comments, or should I tell them how I feel?

OKLAHOMA READER

DEAR READER: Silence implies agreement, so speak up and let them know that their bigotry exposes their ignorance, then try to encourage them to adopt a more enlightened attitude. Of course, it may jeopardize your friendship, but perhaps you should ask yourselves if these are the kind of people you really want for friends. Speaking up in defiance of prejudice and bigotry is not rude; it's the right thing to do. Those who choose silence are guilty of the sin of omission.

DEAR ABBY: My ex-fiance and I were madly in love. He asked me to marry him. I said yes and he gave me a ring. Then his mother told him she would disown him if he married me. We saw each other behind his mother's back, then he left for Japan (he's a U.S. Marine). Before he left, he said he loved me but he doesn't feel right going against his mother's wishes, and I should forget him.

Well, it's been six months and I haven't heard from him. His close friend, who is a friend of mine, told me that "Neil" is trying to forget me. I've tried to forget Neil, too, but I can't.

I'd like to know who was wrong — Neil, or his mother, who caused my broken engagement, canceled wedding, broken heart and endless tears?
STILL IN LOVE

DEAR STILL: You're hurt, which is understandable. You'd probably feel less hurt if you could blame Neil's mother, but look at it this way: How would you like to be married to a fellow who was old enough to be a Marine but had to date the girl he loves behind his mother's back? Rejoice! And try harder to forget him. He's not a man — he's just a mamma's boy in a man's uniform.

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to see that letter from a minister who objected to screaming kids at church weddings. The kids are not at fault; they're tired, bored and cranky, and shouldn't be expected to sit still and be quiet during a long wedding service.

We had our lovely wedding video-taped. One screamer ruined the video because his voice could be heard during the entire service — even above the voice of the minister.

Please print this to forewarn others. It's too late for us, but not for them.

VIDEO RUINED

DEAR VIDEO: A couple in Ashland, Ore., sent me the card they enclosed with their wedding invitations:

"Because the ceremony will be videotaped, a sitter will be provided for children under 6 years of age in the church nursery. Children are welcome at the reception."

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for your advice to "Indiana Mother" who objected to giving condoms to teenagers. You were right to remind her that sex with the wrong partner just once could be a death sentence — and better safe than sorry.

But more important, what kind of moral values have these children been taught at home if they can be ignored just because someone hands them a free condom?

Does "Indiana Mother" think that her children are so ignorant they didn't know that condoms existed, and could be bought at the local drug or grocery store? Or does she think that one free condom will cause them to rush out and find a sex partner?

Teaching teen-agers to say "no" to sex is like teaching them to say "no" to food. It'll work until they get hungry.

Heartbroken Baker Chomps At 400's Bit

Despite having his heart broken several times over by the unforgiving, 2.5-mile track at Daytona International Speedway, Buddy Baker is still chomping at the bit to hit the track for Saturday's 10 a.m. start of the Pepsi Firecracker 400.

Baker, a 46-year-old veteran, knows the high banks of Daytona about as well as anyone. "I understand the race track, understand how to drive it," Baker said of the high-banked speedway. "I know from past experience what feels right. And there are a lot of things there that have to be right. I love that place."

Baker ran his first race at Daytona in 1961. Since then he's run 78 races, with five victories — the 1980 Daytona 500, the 1983 Firecracker 400, the 1979 Busch Clash and three 7-Eleven Twin 125-mile qualifying races.

"I did a lot of tire testing in the early years and I got a feel for the race track," Baker said. "It's a handling race track, more so than Talladega."

Baker has had a good handle on Daytona the last two times he's been there. In the '86 Firecracker, Baker was leading and was closing on victory when with 10 laps to go, there was a crash in front of him and he was forced into the wall in turn two and his car's handling was ruined.

While he admitted at the time that it was one of his most crushing defeats, particularly since he had assumed ownership of his own team, Baker has proven to be resilient.

"When you're really right at Daytona, like I was last July, you can make everyone else look kind of puny," he said. "But you can come back the next time and not have it." He said that he has his notes from last July, and that he will run just as good Saturday morning.

"Daytona probably is one of the most mentally taxing race tracks we have to go to," Baker said. "It's not that hard to drive, but you have to concentrate all the time. Still, I wish we ran at Daytona every week."

CLIPBOARD KEN — Ken Schrader has come a long way down the road to NASCAR respectability in one short year — at least now he's a regular fixture on Kathy Bodine's clipboard.

"She writes down all the practice times of everyone they have to worry about," Schrader said of driver Geoff Bodine's wife. "That was always my goal, to get enough to be on her clipboard."

The former dirt track demon from Fenton, Mo., started to get some attention when he posted the third-quickest qualifying speed and won a 125-mile qualifying race for the Daytona 500 in February. Schrader hit another milestone at Darlington in March when he won his first Busch Pole.

SPEEDWORLD — Five Floridian drivers will be making a bid to unseat an Alabamian as the current All Pro Racing Association National Points leader Friday and Saturday night on their own home turf in the Keene Brothers Trucking 100 and 200 at Orlando Speedway.

On Friday, qualifying begins at 6 p.m., with a 12-lap "B" Bomber feature, 15-lap Mini-stock feature, a 25-lap Late Model feature and heats for all divisions precede the Keene Brothers Trucking 100 at 8 p.m.

Saturday's schedule calls for a 15-lap "A" Bomber feature, 20-lap Sportsman feature and heats at 8 p.m., followed by the Keene Brothers Trucking 200, with the top eight finishers from Friday night's "100" inverted for the start.

Originally scheduled as a two-night, two-track event, both ends of the double-header have been moved to Orlando following unexpected construction delays at the Lakeland Interstate Speedway.

Glencoe, Alabama's Mickey Gibbs currently holds a 20-point advantage over rookie Bobby Gill, from Venice, Florida, while Naples-native Billy Bigley, Jr. (third), Daniel Keene (ninth), rookie Donnie Strickland (10th) and Dennis Langston (12th) are all within striking distance of the leader.

Add to that list of home-state favorites Orlando's own David Rogers, the winningest driver in Florida, and the odds become heavy that the two races will be captured by drivers in their own home state.

Besides the Florida drivers striving for the top spot, 1985 All-Pro National Champion Steve Grissom (fourth), Tommy Evans (fifth), who just captured his first Super Series victory, Ricky Crawford (sixth), legend Jody Ridley (seventh), 1984 National Champion Darrell Brown (eighth), and rookie Gary Flinley (11th) will all be on hand looking for a victory.

VOLUSIA, TOO — Record crowds are expected to turn out for the 29th Annual Pepsi Firecracker 400 for the Winston Cup drivers at Daytona International Speedway.

Allison Debuts With 400 Pole

Auto Racing

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI) — Davey Allison, beating rain drops and the rest of the field, Thursday won the pole position for Saturday's NASCAR Firecracker 400. He will face 39 competitors and a disquieting history of failure for those drivers beginning from the No. 1 position.

Since 1961, only David Pearson (1974) and Cale Yarborough (1981) have won both the pole and the Firecracker 400.

Allison, the 26-year-old son of two-time Firecracker champion Bobby Allison, drove his Ford Thunderbird around the 2.5-mile tri-oval in 45.435 seconds, an average speed of 198.085 mph. He edged Bill Elliott (198.050), also in a Thunderbird, by .92 of a second to win his second pole of the year.

"That was faster than I thought we'd go," said Allison, who will make his Firecracker 400 debut. "We were concerned about even being in the top five. We found some things this morning that helped a bit."

Rounding out the top five, in order, were Ken Schrader (197.105) in a Ford Thunderbird, Morgan Shepherd (197.105) in a Buick LeSabre and Terry Labonte (196.870) in a Chevrolet Monte Carlo SS. The top 20 positions were determined Thursday, with the final 20 to be decided today. Saturday's race is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. EDT.

Allison's speed was well short of Sterling Marlin's qualifying record of 203.666 mph set last year. Drivers were operating under NASCAR's new rule requiring all cars to use a smaller carburetor, new skirt and closed windows. The rule is in effect only at Daytona and Alabama International Speedway, where speeds were almost always over 200 mph.

The smaller carburetor prohibits the greater speeds and the skirts and windows prevent air flow that may lift the speeding car from the track.

"The cars are easier to drive now (since the rule change), than in February," Allison said. "I think NASCAR's done a good deal by going to the smaller carburetor."

Thirty-three drivers attempted to qualify before steady rain forced a delay. Qualifying was suspended for more than an hour as the remaining drivers waited for the track to dry.

"It was tough waiting through the delay,"

Allison said. "I knew there were two guys who could beat me — Terry Labonte and Rusty Wallace — and I just wanted it to end right away."

Elliott, who finished second here in 1982 and 1985, was satisfied with his car's performance in the rain.

"I was surprised," Elliott said. "We only ran 203 here last July. The ol' Thunderbird has been driving really good since we've been down here."

Connors Eyes Cash; Martina Subdues Evert

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Jimmy Connors, eligible to play on the senior circuit next year, tends to more compelling business today.

The 34-year-old American, looking to extract one more Grand Slam title from a storied career, meets Pat Cash of Australia in a Wimbledon semifinal. Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia faces Stefan Edberg of Sweden in the other.

On Thursday, before a Center Court audience which included Princess Diana, the completion of the women's semifinals set up a repeat of the French Open final. Martina Navratilova, who lost to Steffi Graf in Paris, will face the West German teenager Saturday for the Wimbledon crown.

Navratilova, aiming for a record-sixth consecutive Wimbledon title, battled just over two hours before defeating longtime friend and rival Chris Evert 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

"When we shook hands (after the match), Chris said, 'I hope I didn't take too much out of you for the final,'" Navratilova said. "What a thing to say."

"I'm flying now. I've been confident the whole tournament and now I'm in the finals. That's what I worked for and was hoping for."

Graf, unbeaten this year through eight tournaments, raced to her 45th straight victory of the season with a 6-0, 6-2 victory over Navratilova's doubles partner, Pam Shriver.

Connors is the only one of the four men's semifinalists to have won the Wimbledon crown, having captured the title in 1974 and 1982. He is making his 11th semifinal appearance at Wimbledon in 16 years.

The No. 7 seed has not won a tournament since November 1984 in Tokyo but has been enjoying a new lease of life in London. He staged a dramatic fourth-round recovery against Sweden's Mikael Pernfors after losing the first two sets and trailing 1-4 in the next. In the quarterfinals, he beat big-hitting Slobodan Zivonjovic in straight sets.

Cash, a semifinalist in 1984, is the No. 11 seed. He has a psychological barrier to overcome after losing on grass to Connors in the semis of the pre-Wimbledon Queen's Club tournament.

Connors and Cash will be preceded on Center Court by Lendl and Edberg. The 27-year-old Czechoslovakian, runner-up last year, has regarded a Wimbledon title as a mission.

Lendl's task was made easier by the second-round elimination of defending champion Boris Becker. But even if the West German had still been in contention, it would have been no easy matter to face the world's No. 1 player in his current form.

In retaining his French Open title in Paris four weeks ago, Lendl confirmed his mastery on clay. But there were still doubts about his ability on the Wimbledon grass.

However, Lendl answered with daunting displays, highlighted by Wednesday's dismissal of Frenchman Henri Leconte, who had beaten him in the Wimbledon semis two years ago. In his five Wimbledon matches, Lendl has lost only five service games and is clearly much more comfortable on grass courts.

Edberg, hoping to become Sweden's first Wimbledon champion since Bjorn Borg ended his five-in-a-row sequence in 1980, has proved himself on grass. He has twice won the Australian Open, including a semifinal victory over Lendl in 1985.

The Evert-Navratilova match was the 73rd meeting between the two great rivals — and one of their best. Navratilova, who holds a 39-34 lead in the series, beat Evert for the sixth time at Wimbledon.

Navratilova will be bidding to equal the Wimbledon record of eight singles titles held by Helen Wills Moody.

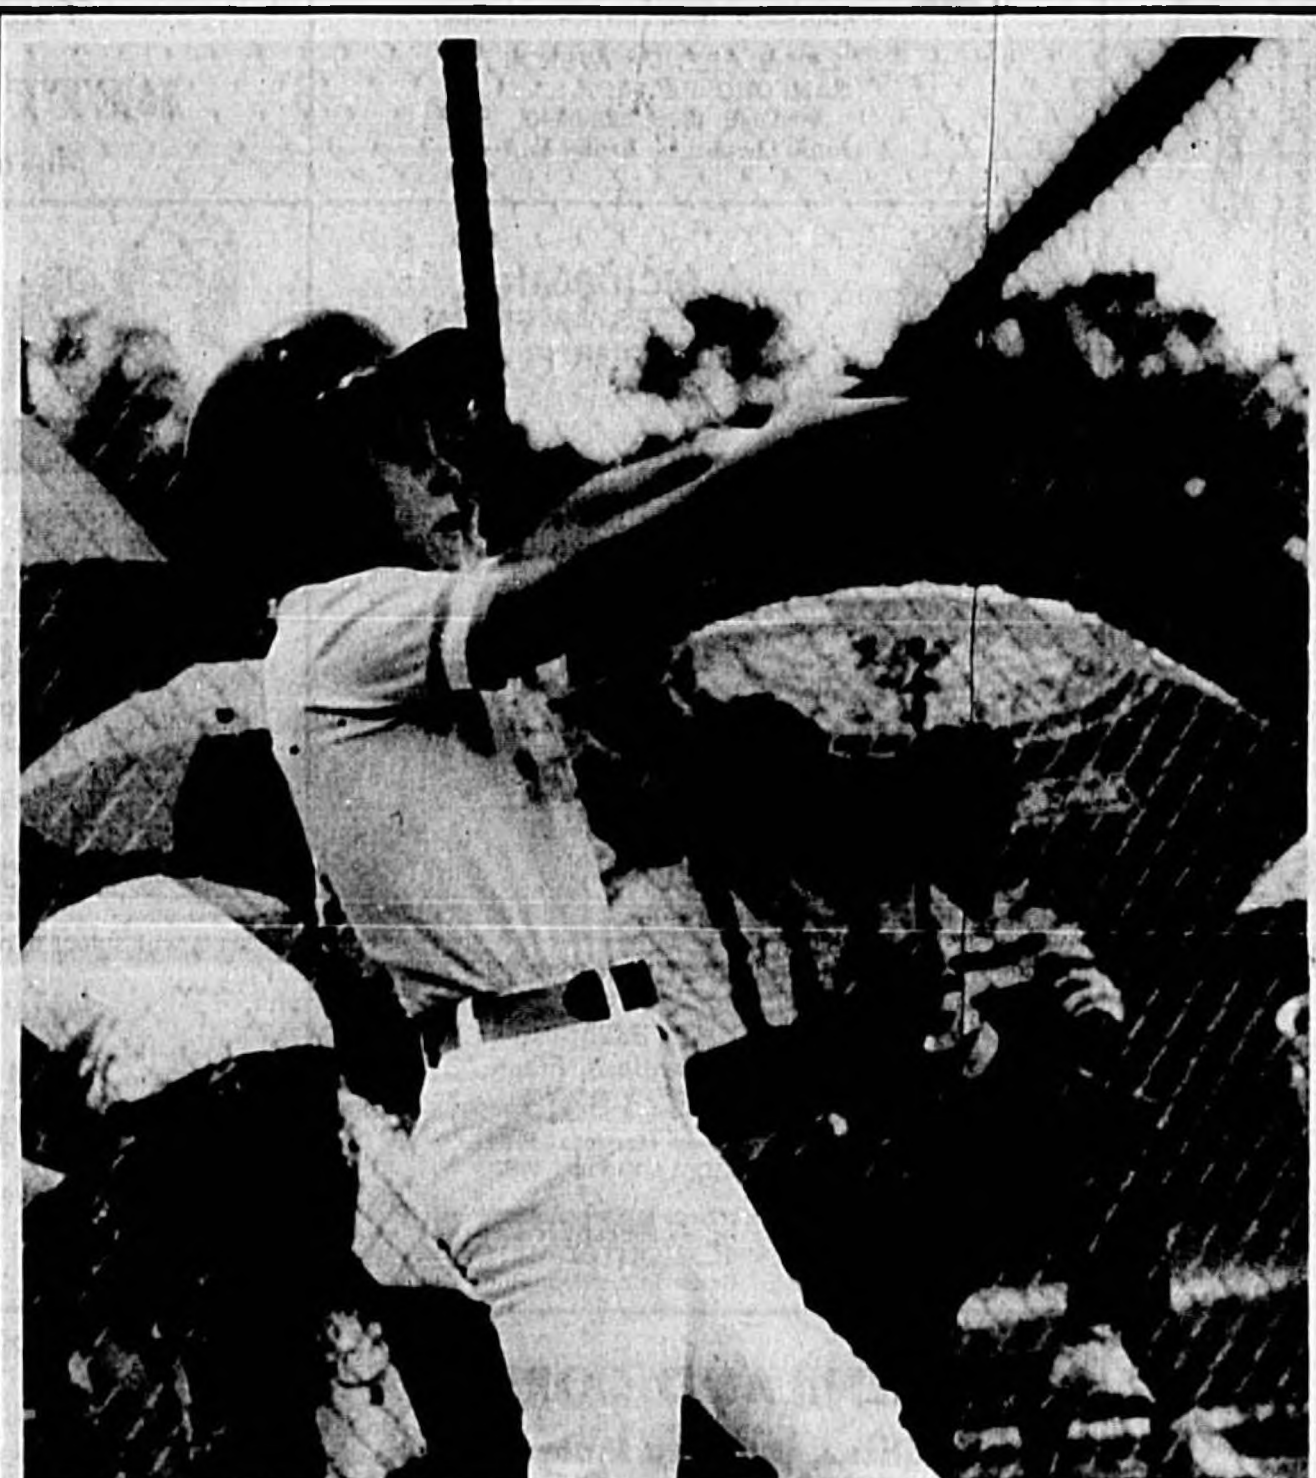

"After the match I had tears in my eyes, and it wasn't for me winning, it was for Chris losing," Navratilova said. "I really wished that she could win this tournament one more time. I would have been almost as happy if she could win it as I am if I win it."

"At 5-4 I thought about our friendship and I thought, 'God, you're crazy to think about it.' I'd be so happy to win but I'd be so sad for her. It actually overwhelmed me because I didn't expect to feel that much."

Graf need only 51 minutes to conclude her day's work. She has won 45 straight matches since losing to Navratilova in the Virginia Slims Championships in New York last November.

Shriver said she was tired after two consecutive matches in which she was carried to 10-8 in the third set. She won only 12 points in the opening set.

"The turning point was walking out there," she said.

strong relief effort by Aaron Church to pull out a 10-8 victory. The Mustang All-Stars battle again tonight at 6 at Five Points.

National Prevails, 10-8 Johnson-Church Combo Fans 12 Americans

By Mike Dame
Special to the Herald

WINTER SPRINGS — Mike Johnson and Aaron Church combined to struck out 12 batters to lead the National League to a 10-8 victory over the American League in the first game of a three-game series between the Seminole Pony Baseball Mustang All-Stars at muddy Five Points Complex Thursday night.

The series will continue tonight at Five Points when the two squads face off at 6.

Following a 1:15 rain delay in the top of the first inning, the game became a seesaw battle in which there were four lead changes and one tie.

Johnson started the game on the mound for National and struck out the first two batters before the dark clouds opened up and flooded the field. The rains also seemed to wash away Johnson's pitching groove, for when play resumed he gave up three consecutive singles to American's Cris Kleibl. Dusty Story and Brian Dwyer. Mike Goodall capped the inning with a two-run double to give American a sudden 4-0 lead.

"The rain hurt our pitcher," National manager Gary Burger said. "It took him a while to get his control back."

After National scored two runs of its own in the bottom of the first to cut the lead to 4-2, Johnson did regain his control in the second as he fanned three consecutive batters to retire the side.

National took the lead in the bottom of the inning, 5-4, powered by singles off the bats of Shawn Burger, Church and Dusty Curry. Burger scored when American pitcher Mike Goodall balked, while Church and Curry each drove in a run with their singles.

The seesaw continued to totter in the third when American regained the lead, 7-5. Dwyer started the three-run rally for American with a single, followed by a Tommy Powers' walk. Tony Hammett then came up and drilled a two-run double to left field. Hammett also scored himself on a Jeff Chenut single.

National tied the game in the bottom of the third, 7-7, when Burger laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt down the first-base line, driving in Kiley Calapa who had walked. Brian Lowe, who had singled to lead off the inning, also scored on a past ball.

Left-handed hurler Aaron Church came on in relief of Johnson in the top of the fourth and quickly retired the first two batters. Story then came up and beat out grounder to shortstop Burger and eventually scored when second baseman Stuart Robinson let a grounder by Brian Luger get through his legs. Luger was thrown out at third however, when catcher Shawn Earnest stopped him on an attempted steal, ending the inning with American holding an 8-7 edge.

The final lead change took place in the bottom of the fourth, when Brad Butterfield led off the inning with a single off right-handed reliever Story, who suffered the loss. Eddie Wilson followed Butterfield with an RBI double, and Wilson also scored in the inning on a past ball to give National the lead for good, 9-8.

Church shut down American in the final two innings to gain the victory, facing only six batters and fanning four. National added an insurance run in the fifth when Earnest belted an RBI single to drive in Jamie Pitzer, who also had singled.

Dwyer and Hammett led American as each went 2 for 2, while teammate Story also chipped in two hits. Nine different batters had a hit for National.

"I expected the game to be close," American manager Mark Kleibl said. "Our guys hit the ball well and made them make the plays. We're still trying to find out who our starting nine are."

Burger, who didn't expect the game to be so tight, was very happy with the way things turned out.

"This is the way baseball should be," Burger said. "Just look at the score."

IN BRIEF

Beasley's Hit Caps Comeback, Medco Pharmacy Captures Title

Tasha Beasley's base hit in the bottom of the sixth inning drove in Rita Burke with the winning run and capped off a tremendous comeback by Medco Pharmacy in a 10-9 victory over Kiwanis for the Sanford Junior League softball championship Tuesday night at Fort Mellon Field.

Kiwanis took a 9-3 lead into the bottom of the fifth inning when Medco rallied for six runs to pull even. Vickie Green, Denise Badger and Kim Green all had RBIs in the inning while Medco took advantage of four Kiwanis errors.

After Beasley, the winning pitcher, retired Kiwanis in the top of the sixth, Burke reached on an error to lead off the bottom half. With one out, Green singled and Beasley then rapped a base hit to drive in Burke for the 10-9 victory.

Kiwanis scored five times in the first, three on a home run by Monica Chole and scored three more in the fourth on two Medco errors.

Lateasia Reddicks, Vernita Ward and Francis Brown had two hits each for Kiwanis while Burke, Green and Ruth Ann Williams each had two hits for Medco.

Rain Suspends Colts' 2-0 Lead

The Seminole Pony Colts had their parade rained on Thursday night, but, fortunately, the parade will pick off Friday just where it left off.

In the bottom of the first inning in the opening game of the Colt Sectional Tournament, Seminole had a 2-0 lead over Pinellas Park and had the bases loaded with no outs. The rains then came and washed out the game for the night. The game will resume where it left off tonight at 6 at Lowery Park in Tampa.

After Seminole ace James Joyce struck out the side in the top of the first, the first two Seminole hitters walked and Mike Senechek singled to load the bases in the bottom half. Two walks later, Seminole had a 2-0 lead, still with no outs. Then came the rain.

"Things are looking pretty good so far," Seminole manager Neil Miller said. "And Joyce looks real strong throwing the ball."

Sox Gamble On Hoyt Return

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago White Sox are in a low stakes poker game with LaMarr Hoyt in which they hope to draw an ace out of the deck.

Hoyt, the troubled former Cy Young Award winner, will come to Chicago this weekend to finalize terms on a minor league contract.

Hoyt's decision to come back to Chicago to start his comeback was easy to understand. He was with Chicago when he won 24 games in 1983, took the White Sox to the American League playoffs and wound up winning a $1 million-plus contract.

Taylor Emerges With Farr Lead

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — No-name lady pro golfers have found rewards in a tournament that is little-known itself, the Jamie Farr Toledo Classic, and the trend shows signs of continuing.

Lauri Peterson, who won the inaugural event in 1984, became Rookie of the Year, and Penny Hammel's only tour victory was the Jamie Farr in 1985. There was no tournament last year and now unknown Nancy Taylor emerged as the first-round leader after Thursday's 4-under-par 68 at the 6,220-yard Glengarry Country Club.

Taylor, of Tampa, leads the $225,000 event by one stroke.

Sindelar's Long Game Prevails

OAKVILLE, Ontario (UPI) — Joey Sindelar used his long-game to conquer the lengthy Glen Abbey Golf Course and take a one-stroke lead entering today's second round of the $638,000 Canadian Open.

Sindelar, who struggled early, scored a combined 5-under-par on the 7,102-yard Glen Abbey's five par-5's and finished the round with a 4-under 68, one stroke ahead of Tom Purtzer.

Casselberry LL Eyes 'Major' Impression

Sam Cook

HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

Altamonte Springs and Oviedo have operated established Little League programs for several years now, but what about Casselberry?

Scott Richardson, who jokingly admits to being "part president and part dictator" of the fledgling league said Wednesday attendance is on the rise.

"Rounding up the players is the easy thing," the former Casselberry Parks and Recreation board member said. "The toughest thing we have to do is getting the community to work as one and behind the program."

Casselberry just finished the third year of its Major League (10-12 year olds) and its first season of Junior League (13 year olds). Participation has increased from 93 to 180 in two years, Richardson said he expects to add at least 50 more next year.

The need for a Casselberry program was necessitated by an overflow at Altamonte. Oviedo, too, has grown by leaps and bounds. Altamonte's second-place finish at the 1984 World Series gave Little League Baseball another shot in the arm in this area.

Although the Junior program is still in its infancy (one team), Richardson said the Majors should be able to hold their own this year. Manager Bob Bernstein and coach Rodney Williamson, both of the champion Braves, will handle the reins for the all-stars.

Six Braves — Brian Gomes, Regan Kingsbury, Jaron Proulx, Randy Proulx, Jason Rasmussen, John Santos — head up the roster. Five members of the A's — Troy Grossnickle, Wayne Leigh, Craig McGee, B.J. Salkaus, Randy Schaffnit — and three Pirates — Brad Norburg, Brian Teagle and Jason White — complete the 14-member squad.

White, a strapping 6-foot, 160-pounder, was the dominant hurler in the league and considered one of the best in the area.

Casselberry opens tournament play Tuesday, July 14 at Eustis against Eustis.

The Juniors, meanwhile, will be undergoing their first district competition and looking to gain some experience. They are managed by Ron Mason and coached by Bill Lewis.

The Juniors' roster includes: Kevin Crotty, Gene Davenport, Benny Edens, Scott Harrell, B.J. Lewis, Patrick Lowry, Sean Mason, Robert Pautienous, Jason Roby, David Ruscitti, Jason Snyder, Benjamin Tarr and Maurelle Washington.

The Juniors open tournament play Saturday, July 11 at Mount Dora against Mount Dora.

Richardson said Wirz Field, a quaint facility in the Summerset subdivision, has been completely renovated and one of the better fields in the area.

Little League Baseball's District 14 has more Roman numerals than a Super Bowl surrounding it this year. District 14 Administrator said Central Florida has been divided into four groups to cut down on travel.

In the Majors, Altamonte American and Oviedo are Division I, Area II while Casselberry and Altamonte National are Division II, Area I.

In the Juniors, Altamonte, Oviedo and Casselberry are Division II, Area I.

In the Seniors, Altamonte American is Division I, Area II while Altamonte National and Oviedo are Division II, Area I.

"There was a problem with the kids traveling too far for games in past years," Crawford said. "We've tried to correct that this year."

Here's a look at the first-round games for the county teams:

Report: Serious Breaches In Virginia Tech Program

BLACKSBURG, Va. (UPI) — A report on an internal investigation of the Virginia Tech men's basketball program cites "serious breaches of academic integrity," including a case of grade-fixing and an admission no players graduated during a five-year period.

The long-awaited report was discussed Thursday at a news conference conducted by Virginia Tech President William Lavery, interim Athletic Director Ray Smoot and Vice Rector W.S. White.

The report listed 12 violations of NCAA regulations, including $7,200 worth of automobile financing by an athletic booster to the wife of a student-athlete.

"We are understandably quite concerned," said White, who headed the investigatory committee that drafted the report compiled from information obtained by two outside investigators.

University officials hope to take the information contained in the report to an August meeting of the NCAA's Committee on Infractions, Smoot said. Four allegations of infractions are still being investigated, he added.

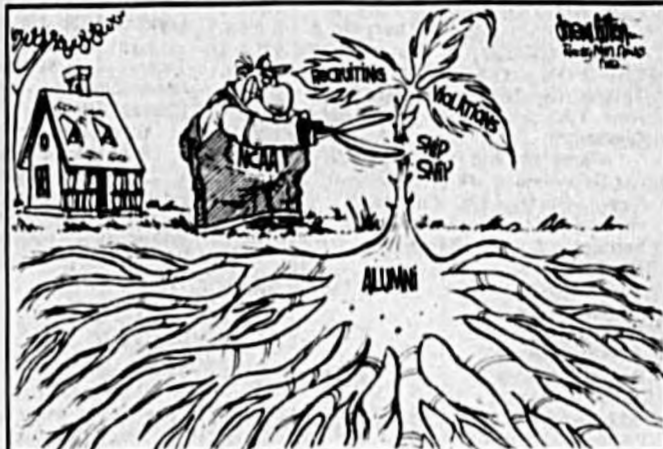

Smoot and the other university leaders sidestepped repeated questions about whether Charlie Moir, the winningest coach in Tech basketball history, would be fired in light of the report.

The case of grade-fixing involved an unidentified faculty member who agreed to award an independent study course grade to a student-athlete before any work was done. The fixed grade was discovered, however, and the player was ruled academically ineligible, the officials said.

The report also said not a single student-athlete in the basketball program who entered the university from 1981 to 1986 received a degree.

The actions at Tech amounted to a "lack of regard for academic integrity" in athletics, the school quoted investigators as saying.

NBA TO SHIFT FALL MEETING

PHOENIX (UPI) — The NBA will not hold its annual fall meetings in Arizona as planned because the state does not have a paid holiday honoring slain civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr.

The league — in which roughly 75 percent of the players are black — announced Thursday it is pulling out of its scheduled meetings in suburban Scottsdale, and will select a new site within the next few weeks.

"Arizona is one of only seven states not to recognize Martin Luther King Day as a legal holiday," the NBA said in a statement announcing the cancellation.

The NBA joined about 30 organizations that have pulled out of meetings in Arizona since January, when Republican Gov. Evan Mecham rescinded an executive order by his predecessor designating the third Monday in January as a paid state holiday honoring King.

NBA Commissioner David Stern said the decision "is especially painful for us because of the excellent relationship that the Phoenix Suns and NBA have with our fans in Arizona. However, the political climate surrounding the controversy makes it inappropriate for us to convene in Arizona at this time."

Hard Luck For Lyman

Lyman's hard luck in the DeLand Firecracker American Legion Tournament continued Thursday as it dropped a 2-1 decision to Lake Worth in the second day of the three-day qualifying tournament.

The Lyman Legion, which lost to Jacksonville, 6-1, on Wednesday, will try to salvage one victory out of the tourney today against West Tampa. Lyman's record now stands at 12-3.

While starting pitcher Jim Lucas was in fine form, Lyman took a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning when Mickey Helms walked, stole second and scored on Marty Martin's base hit.

Lucas pitched shutout ball for five innings but Lake Worth tied the score in the sixth. Chris Brock then came on in relief and got out of the sixth.

In the seventh, though, Brock walked the leadoff hitter, balked him to second and gave up a one-out single for the winning run.

Lyman had seven hits in the game led by Brock who was 2 for 3 with two doubles. Martin also had two hits while Johnny Luce, Kenny Jackson and Jon Emerson had one hit each.

In five and one-third innings, Lucas gave up five hits, walked one, hit one and struck out three.

Mets: Gooden Lied About Cocaine Use

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York Mets officials say they are convinced Dwight Gooden was using cocaine last season despite the pitcher's denials...

Gooden tested positive for cocaine use April 1 and checked into a drug rehabilitation center for a 28-day stay...

In a copyrighted story, the Daily News reported club officials and the players' association confronted Gooden last July about rumors of possible cocaine use...

"He obviously lied to us," a team official told the Daily News. "We're convinced now he was on drugs during the season, but he continues to deny it."

Sanford's Trio Leads Blue Streak Into AAU Tourney

The Team Central Florida Blue Streak, Seminole County's darlings of the hardwood, have earned the right to compete in the AAU National 11 and Under Championships on Aug. 9-16 at Syracuse, N.Y.

Led by the Sanford trio of Niki Washington, LaShawn Merrick and Kaylisa Mullins, coach Nancy Coalter's Blue Streak stormed through the competition in winning the Broward Sports Festival and AAU State 11 and Under title...

Washington was the Most Valuable Player at the Broward Sports Festival and an All-Tournament selection at state. Merrick was the MVP at the AAU State Tournament.

Longwood's Karen Morris was also an All-Tournament selection at state. Other Longwood players on the squad include Tracy Coalter, Jackie Corr, Jill LeJeune, Alison Harper, Jennifer Ducker, Sarah Doyle, Hope Chernak and Leigh-Ann Penney...

Before the Blue Streak can reach its destiny, though, it needs to raise around $6,000 for expenses. Anyone who wishes to contribute can contact Coalter at 774-2907.

Three other Team Central Florida all-star squads have qualified for national tournaments. The Team Central Florida 16 and under team of coach Art Parissel is competing in the National 16 and Under Tournament beginning this weekend at Clovis, N.M. Both the 15 and under and 13 and under Team Central Florida entourage will travel to Oxford, Miss., on July 24-25.

The 16 and under squad is without a doubt the toughest in the state in its age group. Having Winter Park's magnificent Mimi Jones and Daytona Beach Seabreeze sensation Kenya Robinson on the same team is enough to ensure any team instant success...

Other Seminole County members of the 16 and under squad include Lake Brantley center Gretchen Mull, Lake Brantley guard Jenny Tufford and Lake Mary forward Gina Dawson.

The 15 and under team of coaches Mike Averill and Mac Blythe have practically destroyed everything in their way en route to the Orlando Sports Festival and AAU State titles.

West Orange's Jennifer Clark and Rockledge's Saressa Setzer have set the scoring pace for Team Central Florida while Lake Brantley's Tracy Brandenburg has been steady at the point and also contributed well to the scoring.

Those wishing to contribute to the team should call Mike Averill at 629-1600 or Mac Blythe at 323-1450.

The 16 and under squad is without a doubt the toughest in the state in its age group. Having Winter Park's magnificent Mimi Jones and Daytona Beach Seabreeze sensation Kenya Robinson on the same team is enough to ensure any team instant success.

Other Seminole County members of the 16 and under squad include Lake Brantley center Gretchen Mull, Lake Brantley guard Jenny Tufford and Lake Mary forward Gina Dawson.

The 15 and under team of coaches Mike Averill and Mac Blythe have practically destroyed everything in their way en route to the Orlando Sports Festival and AAU State titles.

West Orange's Jennifer Clark and Rockledge's Saressa Setzer have set the scoring pace for Team Central Florida while Lake Brantley's Tracy Brandenburg has been steady at the point and also contributed well to the scoring.

Those wishing to contribute to the team should call Mike Averill at 629-1600 or Mac Blythe at 323-1450.

Sanford's trio of Niki Washington, LaShawn Merrick and Kaylisa Mullins, coach Nancy Coalter's Blue Streak stormed through the competition in winning the Broward Sports Festival and AAU State 11 and Under title.

Longwood's Karen Morris was also an All-Tournament selection at state. Other Longwood players on the squad include Tracy Coalter, Jackie Corr, Jill LeJeune, Alison Harper, Jennifer Ducker, Sarah Doyle, Hope Chernak and Leigh-Ann Penney.

Rahal Dismisses Historic Edge

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Bobby Rahal dismisses the idea recent history gives him an edge Sunday in the Cleveland Grand Prix.

bidding to become the first driver to successfully defend a national championship since Rick Mears (1981-82).

Rahal, 34, of Dublin, Ohio, has won the last two races on the Championship Auto Racing Teams (CART) circuit — Portland and the Meadowlands.

"The TrueSports team really makes a difference at every event. We are large enough to do all the things we need to do, but also small enough so that motivation and concentration on purpose is easier to maintain.

In the past two years, the driver that captured the Meadowlands event also finished first in Cleveland. Danny Sullivan accomplished the feat last year and Al Unser Jr. did so in 1985.

"Everyone on our team wants to win as much as I do, which is very special and important. I think our record speaks for our team."

But Rahal, whose first CART victory came in the 1982 Cleveland race, is hardly taking matters for granted.

"It's really a question of preparation," said Rahal, who is

The 10 a.m. race will feature the nation's finest stock car drivers battling on the super speedway. But following that event, the racing action will shift to the NASCAR-sanctioned Volusia County Speedway.

The combat will shift to Volusia County Speedway on Saturday with racing scheduled for 7:45 p.m. The regular VCS divisions will complement the activities on the 4th. Racing at both tracks will include time trials and 50-lap features with a purse of more than $9,000 being offered at each facility.

The half-mile clay oval located 15 miles west of Daytona International Speedway will host a NASCAR/Busch All-Star Series event. This race will feature some of the Southeast's finest short-track drivers against the best of the local late model drivers.

Among those entered for the event are Ellenwood Georgia's Mike Head and Chattanooga, Tennessee's Ronnie Johnson. The two drivers are currently atop the series point standings with Johnson leading Head by a slim margin.

The action will get underway Friday night in Savannah, Ga. at Oglethorpe Speedway. The half-mile clay oval will host the Busch All-Star Series for their first stop of the weekend with many of the local drivers from this area traveling to Georgia. Racing is slated to get underway at 8 p.m.

Other local drivers expected to be on hand include Jacksonville's Dennis Bennett, Steve Harris from Altamonte Springs and Steve Shuman from DeLeon Springs.

Volusia County Speedway is located 15 miles west of Daytona Beach on State Road 10. Phone (904) 255-2433 or (904) 985-4402 for more information.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

44 Stark Crew Members Return To Florida Home Port

MAYPORT NAVAL AIR STATION (UPI) — Forty-four surviving crew members of the USS Stark are home with their families today, and their damaged vessel is returning to port from the war-torn Persian Gulf.

The sky threatened rain in the 90-degree heat as the sailors, non-essential personnel aboard the ill-fated guided missile frigate, disembarked Thursday from an Air Force C-141 cargo plane at 4:40 p.m. EDT at Mayport Naval Air Station, the Stark's home port.

There to greet the men were approximately 150 family members, who swept forward in a mass, a Navy band, and a small girl's carefully-lettered sign with the misspelled message, "Welcome back, heroes."

The Stark had a crew of 220 men when it was struck in the Persian Gulf May 17 by two Exocet missiles fired by an Iraqi Mirage F-1. Thirty-seven sailors died in the attack, which Iraq later said was unintentional.

Martinez Plans Foreign Trip

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Martinez will go on his first overseas trip next week, a three-day expedition to Panama, Ecuador and Honduras to seek trade contacts and observe Florida National Guard troops.

"This trip provides me with an opportunity to see first hand how the Florida National Guard is assisting the people of Central America, as well as how well it is prepared for its mission both in Florida and this region of the world," Martinez said Thursday.

Florida has built important trade contacts in Latin America in recent years. Many Latin corporations make their U.S. headquarters in Miami.

Martinez was scheduled to leave Monday from McDill Air Force Base near Tampa for Panama City, Panama, for briefings and a tour of canal facilities. He was to fly to Quito, Ecuador, on Tuesday for meetings with U.S. embassy officials and President Leon Fevres-Cordero.

Geneva Parade Slated

The Geneva Citizens Association will hold its annual 4th of July celebration and parade Saturday. This year's theme is "Happy 200th Year — Our Constitution," according to Lee Voorhees, president of the association.

The parade is scheduled to start at 10:30 a.m. from the First Baptist Church, to Avenue C, to 2nd Street, to Pine Street, past the post office, to 1st Street, back to the Baptist Church. The parade marshalls are Mrs. Katie Summerall Corley and Johnny Toole, U.S. Congressman Bill McCollum and State Representative Frank Stone and their families also will be honored in the parade.

A patriotic program will follow the parade at the Geneva Community Center. Following flag raising ceremonies by the VFW Honor Guard and Boy Scouts, McCollum will deliver remarks about the heritage and real meaning of the Constitution of the United States of America.

The program will also include music by the Generation Band, Hamburgers, hot-dogs, ice tea and soft drinks will be available. The Geneva Homemakers will have baked goods. There will be arts and crafts, story telling by the Library, clown faces, a "dunk tank" and other items of entertaining interest. Voorhees said.

Seminole Jobless Rate Stable

Florida's jobless rate dropped in June to 5.4 percent while unemployment in Seminole County remained stable at 4.5 percent in May, the latest figure available, according to Robert Monroe, economist with Job Service of Florida in Orlando.

The state figure was the second lowest rate in the past 12 months, despite a downturn in the construction industry, a federal report shows.

The Department of Labor and Employment Security report released today shows that even though the unemployment rate has declined, it was the sixth highest among the nation's 11 largest states.

The nationwide rate for June was 6.1 percent. Out of a June labor force of 5,840,000 people, 5,546,000 held jobs and 294,000 were unemployed, the department estimated.

"Overall, our economy remains very strong," said Ralph Schunk, a budget analyst for Gov. Bob Martinez' office said. "We're staying within the 5 to 5.5 percent range where we had expected to be."

Schunk said the report was good news for programs funded by the $18.3 billion state budget, which would suffer if the state's economy faltered and tax revenues came up short.

The state's jobless rate has dipped under 5 percent only once in the past year. It stood at 4.8 percent last December.

A year ago, in June 1986, the rate was 5.8 percent. In May of this year it was 5.4 percent. Despite the decline in joblessness, employment in the state's construction industry has dropped 1.6 percent, the report showed.

Rising interest rates, Schunk said, have caused a 1.6 percent decrease in housing starts across the state, although Florida housing starts accounted for 11 percent of starts across the country.

Employment in Florida's growing services and trade industries continued to lead other sectors in June, the report showed. Jobs in food service and retail sales has grown 6.7 percent in the past year, and jobs in health care and business services have grown 6.3 percent.

The nation's unemployment rate dropped to 6.1 percent in June, the best showing since 1979, because the labor force shrank more than usual, the Labor Department reported today.

The government said the rate appeared to go down in large part because fewer young people than normal had entered the labor force by the time it surveyed the job market in June.

An estimated 119.2 million people were in the civilian labor force, 476,000 fewer than in May, the government said. Of that force, 112.26 million people were employed, 190,000 less than in May, while 7.26 million were out of a job and looking for one.

That represents a 286,000 person drop in people looking for work. Because it fell by more than the drop in total employment, the rate fell as well.

June's 6.1 percent civilian jobless rate is the best since December 1979, when it stood at 6.0 percent. The rate was 6.3 percent in April and May.

The average non-farm employment grew by a smaller than expected 116,000 workers, nearly all of them in service — rather than goods-producing jobs.

The Labor Department also said the average number of hours worked per week in manufacturing plants by production line workers stayed the same at 41 hours, but the number of hours of overtime per week shrank by 0.1 hour to 3.7 hours a week.

Teenagers accounted for more than two-thirds of the decline in the number of job seekers, it said.

The teenage unemployment rate fell 1.8 percentage points to 15.9 percent. The rate was unchanged for adult men at 5.5 percent and shrank 0.2 of a percentage point for adult women.

Whites recorded a 0.1 percentage point drop in their jobless rate to 5.2 percent. Blacks fell 1.1 percentage points to 12.7 percent and Hispanics' rate dropped 0.2 percentage point to 8.5 percent.

The 6.1 percent overall rate covers only the civilian population. If military personnel stationed in the United States are included as part of the labor force, the overall jobless rate was 6 percent.

Since June 1986 the nation's unemployment rate has dropped a full percentage point while the number of people employed has risen by 2.5 million. Many economists have been surprised by that growth in employment, saying they didn't think the economy was strong enough to support that many new people on the payrolls.

Thirst May Be Matter Of Habit

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — I drink about two gallons of liquid a day and take three quarts of liquid to bed, which I have to drink before I can get to sleep. Why am I so thirsty?

DEAR READER — The brain's thirst center is controlled, in part, by the concentration of water in body fluids. For example, people with excessive salt or sugar in their bodies will excrete these substances into the urine. Because salt and sugar draw water from the system, some dehydration will result and the person will feel thirsty, in order to replace the water that is used to excrete the salt or sugar. This is why diabetics are often thirsty until the disease can be brought under control.

A rarer cause of thirst is diabetes insipidus, an abnormality of anti-diuretic hormone, or ADH, a substance that causes us to retain fluid. If the ADH system is malfunctioning, a patient may experience uncontrollable thirst, even though he is not excreting excess salt or sugar.

In my experience, the most common cause of extra fluid intake is psychogenic polydipsia, an emotional addiction or habit of drinking inappropriate quantities of fluid. This has no physical cause.

People who seem to have an inordinate thirst need a complete medical examination, blood analysis and urine testing to see if they have a physical cause — such as diabetes mellitus or diabetes insipidus — for the condition. If so, appropriate treatment is in order. If not, counseling may be necessary to help patients with water-habituation to alter their practice of drinking too much fluid.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Whenever I touch metal or a light switch, I get an electric shock. Why is this?

DEAR READER — The tiny shock or spark that we all may experience when touching metal is due to static electricity. Small electrical charges build up in our bodies as we move about a room, especially one with carpeting. When we touch a grounded object, we may experience a shock. This condition is normal; it is not harmful. It is more noticeable on cold days, when the humidity is low, because static charge tends to build up more rapidly in dry air. This is the same harmless electrical principle that allows children to rub balloons on a carpeted floor and then make them stick on ceilings or walls; the balloons pick up static charges that will bind them to non-metallic surfaces.

If you constantly receive a shock from a particular wall plate or lighting fixture, you should have the object checked by an electrician to make sure it is properly grounded. However, plain static electricity is a common component of our environment.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Competitive bridge has no real age barriers, although younger players certainly have more stamina. Von Zedwitz won the World Mixed Pairs at 76, my father won a North American Team Championship at 80, and a couple of years ago Jack Denny and Tom Mahaffey won the Summer North American Team Championship. They are now both in their mid-70s, but today's deal demonstrates that they know how to bid the right slam. Denny was South and Mahaffey was North.

(South pitching a heart), club ruff, heart ruff, and a diamond to the king. Now came the ace and queen of spades. The defenders could take only the spade king. A nice hand, but could West have done better? West should know that the dummy is likely to be void in hearts, and might well lead a diamond. With a diamond lead, there are certainly variations on the play, which I will leave to you enterprising readers, but very likely the contract is set. Of course, then, this article would be about West. Who among us with the guarded king of trumps behind the slam bidder would not lead that heart king?

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JULY 4, 1987

In the year ahead, be on the lookout for a venture or enterprise where you can transform something outmoded into something that can meet a new need.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Things in general look quite promising for you today. This will be due primarily to your ability to overcome any difficulties that confront you. Major changes are ahead for Cancers in the coming year. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Those in your charge may have to be managed with a firm hand today. Exercise your authority when needed, but don't be overbearing.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your fundamental business sense should put you in the profit column today if you abide by its dictates. Monitor the bottom line for both pennies and dollars.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Companions will find you an admirable person with whom to be involved today. You'll size up situations realistically with an eye for the good of all concerned.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be charitable and helpful today to those who need your assistance, but also be realistic regarding the extent to which you're able to aid them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your friends will sense that you are the person they can lean on should any problem arise today. Be prepared to accept this role.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You have a slight competitive edge over others today. Keep this in the back of your mind in case you are drawn into a challenging development.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If an old but faraway friend has been on your mind lately, try to establish contact today. You both could benefit from the call.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) The possibilities for achieving your objectives are very good today, but you'll need motivation. This is why your goals must be significant.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) An associate who is fond of you may impart some information today that you would rather not hear. But it will be intended for your good.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) There will be bonus benefits for services you are scheduled to perform for another today, but these rewards won't be forthcoming if you don't do an A-I job.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be alert for small opportunities in a partnership arrangement today. What appears to be insignificant can collectively be nurtured into something grander.

Sanford, Florida — Friday, July 3, 1987

Photos And Story
By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

"They struggle for their very existence. They store water and survive almost impossible periods of drought. Out of the ground, they sometimes can live five years and then grow again."

Some are gnarled, others hairy. Most are thorny enough to inflict injury as a mode of defense. They live for hundreds, even thousands of years under austere circumstances of extreme heat and cold. And though most are green, these lifeforms described by Sanford's Duane Harrell are not creatures from Mars.

They're the cacti that abound in the deserts of the American West, and which can be successfully transplanted and acclimate to a Florida setting.

Harrell should know. About 15 years ago he traveled to Arizona and became fascinated by the local vegetation. The appeal he thinks is "the fact they struggle. They're a hardy plant. There are very few natural diseases that affect them. They do better if you tend to neglect them.

"They're ageless. Some are over 100 years old. Some were here when George Washington was president. Or Billy the Kid might have ridden by (a still living cactus.)

Sanford's Cactus King, Duane Harrell, fondly checks one of his thousands of succulents which abound at his home.

...Cactus

"It's history. A living thing that was here a long time ago," Harrell said.

Within two weeks of his first introduction to cacti in their natural desert setting of hot days and cold nights, Harrell returned to the desert with his wife and began to amass a collection of cacti which, after many return trips over the years, numbered into the thousands with most species represented. All right here in Sanford.

He harvested and bought every type of cactus he could find.

Harrell was obsessed. He read books on the tender love and care of these prickly plants and experiments on his own with soil mix and settings.

"I had never been into plants. I found something to catch my interest," he said.

And, Harrell said, he's not the only one interested in cacti, although he has reduced his stock down to just those very special ones in two greenhouses at his home, those planted in his lawn, and a few he has added to his worksite.

When Harrell's interest in cactus was at a peak he began distributing as well as cultivating them. He learned that cactus draws interest around the world.

The Japanese, he said, seem to be buying up every type of cacti they can get their hands on. Harrell said because of his listing in a log of international cactus growers and collectors, he once had a visit from a German man who just had to see Sanford's cactus collection.

Those interested in cactus share information, tips and cactus with each other and there are international cactus associations, Harrell said.

To grab up a variety of these thorny collectibles, Harrell said, you can't rely on the stock of most Florida plant growers because their stock just isn't extensive enough for those who really get hooked on cacti.

A trip out West or through communication with other collectors is your best bet to line up an intriguing array of these succulents, Harrell said.

The "Old Man" cactus, one that hides its thorns under a hair-like, wispy white covering is a cactus that doesn't like water at all. So Harrell says he has never planted an Old Man outside. Most cactus, he said, do well outside in Florida, provided there is good drainage of the soil. He's only lost one species in an unsuccessful attempt to transplant outside.

But, he said, with many cacti he's not willing to take his experimentation too far, because they can be very valuable.

An Old Man that is 3-foot tall is worth $150 and a 5-foot tall Old Man would be a $500 investment. Some Old Man cacti are more than 1,000 years old, Harrell said.

Some cactus, he said, "You almost want to take home and set in front of a fireplace on a winter night."

And Harrell has never taken a chance to see if his cactus could withstand a Florida freeze. When the thermometer dips below 32 degrees his prizes planted outside are covered. He'll also place a light bulb nearby to make sure the chill doesn't get to be too much, although Harrell said he doesn't try to boost the temperature too much above the freezing mark. That's not necessary, he said, because although Florida cactuses do become accustomed to balmy weather, traditionally cacti can withstand the cold of the night in a desert setting. He also pointed out that cacti are also found in the natural environment of cold states such as North Dakota.

A cactus that doesn't survive outside of its natural setting is most likely to have been overwatered by an overzealous tender. So perhaps cactus are best left to those who tend to be a bit neglectful.

But be forewarned, a true cactus lover probably won't be satisfied with just one or two. And as the urge to collect increases, so does the responsibility.

Ohhhhhh, Nooooo! Home Shopping On ABC

By Mark Schwed
UPI TV Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — People who have stopped sending their money to PTL's Jim and Tammy Bakker now have another place to chuck the cash.

The new black hole for bucks is "Bargain Hunters," the first combination home shopping and schlock TV game show on major commercial television. Three guesses which network.

Yes, ABC, the network that recently gave you the first psychic TV talk show host ("The Extra-Sensory World of Char") is the force behind "Bargain Hunters," a weekday show premiering Monday, July 6 (11:30 a.m. to noon EDT).

"Bargain Hunters" possesses all the most irritating traits of game shows. There is the offensive announcer who twists and mutilates words so that "bargain" comes out as "Baaaaaaaaarrghhhhhain."

And he says things like, "So stay right where you are, America, and test your shopping skills with our studio players."

The host, Peter Tomarken, spews silly nonsense such as, "You are definitely a bargain, dear."

Don't forget those Vanna White clones, who are wheeled out like there's no tomorrow to stroke tires, melt against a new two-door refrigerator and fondle the four-piece luggage set with their stretch-Ilmo fingernails.

The object of the game is to win, of course, and that is done by answering such questions as "It's possible to buy a lock of Abraham Lincoln's hair. Would it be a bargain at $125,000?" (Yes, it is a bargain. A lock of Lincoln's hair costs $300,000). A better question might be, "How much would you pay for 100-year-old hair?"

ABC promises the merchandise will range from "useful household items to luxury vacations." The pilot featured nothing but junk.

In its promotional material, ABC says the half-hour program "appeals to the natural instinct of everyone to spot 'a real buy.'"

Well, you can't fool Mother Nature and you sure can't hoodwink Mrs. Consumer. What we have here is a real stink bomb — a half-hour Ginsu knife commercial without the chef.

"Bargain Hunters" is a ripoff. It's a commercial within a commercial for a program that plugs products while selling an audience that is buying its products between commercials during the program. Marshall McLuhan is rolling over in his grave.

ALL MY CHILDREN

Matt said goodbye to Robby, who went to California to begin a modeling career. Adam taunted a jealous Natalie that Palmer had never loved any woman like he loved Daisy. Jeremy insisted to Noelle that they can only be friends until they find out the facts about her past. Elizabeth ignored Myrtle, who threatened to tell everyone about Elizabeth's hooker past if she doesn't stay away from Julie. Elizabeth heard Julie admit that she thinks about her "deceased" mother a lot. Hillary is upset that she caught Mitch out with another woman. Cecily is suspicious of Elizabeth's interest in Julie. Mark confronted Rosa after he overheard Natalie say that her affair with Ross is over forever. Nina went off on her own to search for Cliff after his watch was recovered from a train that had been hijacked at the same time that Cliff supposedly died in the plane crash. Noelle plotted to seduce Jeremy.

ANOTHER WORLD

Marley phoned Michael and Donna, who were upset to learn that Vicky cleaned out her bank account. In her diary, Lisa wrote about being raped when she was 14. M.J. lashed out at Chad, who insisted he didn't send her the copy of the videotape of her days as a hooker. John rejected Jamie's recommendation that he seek help from the Braille Institute since John may never regain his eyesight. John later lied to Donna that there's a good chance his sight will return soon. Rachel and Felicia tried to work out their mutual feelings for Mitch. Cheryl fretted that when Becky's father is released from jail he'll take Becky away from the McKennon clan. M.J. nixed Chad's suggestion that they run away together before she goes through with her plans to marry Adam. M.J. felt guilty when Adam talked about how he trusts her. Chad's crime bosses want him back in the hooker business.

AS THE WORLD TURNS

Margo and Sierra were hopeful when the Greek police failed to find Craig's body in the plane crash wreckage. Margo and Hal heard a rumor that an unconscious man was found on the beach. An island woman is taking care of an unconscious Craig. Dusty and Holden launched separate searches for Lily. Kathy appreciated Andy's attempt to bring her out of her depressed mood. Lily, who hitchhiked her way out of Oakdale, gave her watch to a truck driver who suspected that there's a reward out for her return. Meg and Tonio were married in Las Vegas. Sierra suspects that Tonio married Meg so that he can't be deported. Betay learned that Steve was sentenced to 25 years of hard labor in a Greek prison. Duncan freaked out to see the supposedly dead Doris Pierpont is really alive. Hal and Margo romped in the sack. Lily phoned Sierra, but hung up when Lucinda got on the line.

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL

Caroline objected that Ridge hopes Thorne will turn his romantic sights from Caroline to Brooke. Eric confided to Margo about his past romance with Beth. Stephanie flipped out when Kristen said Eric deserves some happiness, even if it's with another woman. Rocco was furious to learn that Mark sits around all day while Donna's out working. Caroline had dinner with the Logan clan. Katie dreamed about being set free and the most popular girl in her school. Brooke encouraged Storm to see more of Caroline.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES

Diana freaked when she received a phone call from her father, Phillip Colville. Miss Peach insisted to Shane that she's going to marry her fiancé, Geoffrey, even though Shane learned that the man is a known con man. Mike knocked Kai out with chloroform and tied him up after Diana realized that Kai had been following her. Maggie returned home after her surgery, but feared she'll never completely recover from her illness. Justin continued to see Adrienne, despite Angelica's objections. Diana warned Mike not to let Alice get wind of the fact that Simon is behind the mysterious goings-on in Salem. Jeannifer and Frankie tried to help a stoned Sascha, who admitted that she's afraid of her boyfriend, Nick. Neil and Grace are becoming close friends. Roman admitted to Kayla that he's suspicious of the F.B.I. man who's after Patch.

GENERAL HOSPITAL

Robert arrived too late to prevent the murder of WSB agent, Mr. Rush. On orders from his mystery boss, Elena, Dusty murdered Rush. Simone told Tom that she won't agree to marry him unless both of their parents sanction the nuptials. Juan's cohort, Ramos, insisted that Monica let Sean deliver the ransom money for Eric's release. Mystery lady, Elena, had a secret meeting with Ramos. Greta realized that her reunion with Eric will mean the end of her budding relationship with Sean. Tony can't forgive Corey, who still suffers guilt over the fact that he killed Tania. Patrick is jealous that Terry is spending so much time with Dusty. Alan put pressure on Rosa, who didn't tell him the real reason that Monica went to the Biscayne islands. Robert and Anna joined Sean and Roger in the Biscayne islands. Duke took Camellia to the Biscayne islands after the hit man made another attempt to kill Camellia.

RYAN'S HOPE

Ben and John sparred over Lizzie. Dakota agreed to run for district leader of Riverside. John told Concetta that he doesn't want to end their love affair. Devlin refused to reconcile with Jack. Ben clammed up when Lizzie quizzed him about his past troubles. After she lost her job, Concetta became a partner in Pat and Evan's medical clinic. Dakota told a relieved Concetta that he decided not to drop the investigation into Melinda's death. Concetta had a run-in with her former lover, Jerry Morgan, who is married.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS

Brad phoned Traci in California, then flipped out when Tim answered the call. Jack set things up for Nikki, who taunted Victor by making him listen as she planned her burial with a funeral director. Mary set Paul up with Dana, a spinster schoolteacher. Paul was shocked when Dana served him dinner, then donned a skimpy negligee and tried to seduce him. Phillip kept mum about his budding drinking problem when Kay warned him about the pitfalls of booze addiction. Nina secretly plotted to get Cricket out of Phillip's life. Ashley denied Jack's insinuation that Ashley and Victor are planning to get together as soon as Nikki "dies." JoAnna realized that Lauren has romantic designs on Brad, even though he's married to Traci. Ashley learned that Jack's been spending time with Nikki. Amy is impressed by Nathan's efforts to help troubled teenagers. Steven is not happy about Ashley's talks with Victor.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE

Tina stopped Gabrielle from taking Al, then freaked out when Gabrielle decided to stay in Llanview and to accept Detilla's job offer. Rolo and Chantal are convinced that Gabrielle will lead them to the cocaine money that Dante supposedly stole from them. Dorian was surprised when her friends threw her a going-away party before she left to take over the ambassadorship to Mendorra. After learning that Al is Gabrielle's child, Maria confronted Tina, who fended off Maria's attack with a scalpel. Kate and her friends rescued Patrick from the African prison, then they returned to Llanview. Steve agreed to manage Max's hotel, the Holden Towers. Wanda reminds Gilbert of his deceased wife. A jealous Patrick agreed to help Tina win Cord away from Kate. Sandra admitted to Jonathan that she thinks someone's trying to kill her. Cord is jealous of Patrick. Viki interviewed reclusive movie star, Natasha Norman.

What's A 'Network'?

VIDEOT
Guy MacMillin

When Jim Bakker was defrocked as head of The PTL Ministries, news reports mentioned that his empire included not only his syndicated TV show, his religious theme park, his air-conditioned doghouse and his antique car, but his TV network.

My phone was flooded with a call: What the heck? Did Jim Bakker really have his own TV network?

The answer is yes, sort of. But lots of folks have TV networks these days. For a few thousand bucks, you can, too.

Not a conventional network, of course. To start one of those, you have to have a lot of expensive programs, well-heeled national advertisers, a string of private stations across the country, and money to pay the stations for their time.

And you have to get all those things at once, because you can't get advertisers without programs and stations, or programs without advertising money, or stations without programs and advertising money.

The rewards are great, but putting the elements together without going bankrupt is extremely tricky business — so tricky that only three companies in the United States have been successful at it: ABC, CBS and NBC.

When other companies decide they'd like to own a TV network, they usually try to buy one of the three, rather than attempt to start one of their own. General Electric bought NBC recently. Capital Cities bought ABC. Ted Turner tried to buy CBS (prompting Laurence Tisch, in effect, to buy it instead).

By the way, the Public Broadcasting Service isn't a TV network at all, but an association of stations that pay for programming. They submit programs to each other and set their own independent schedules. That's why PBS programs can be refreshingly unpredictable. That's also why it's a pain in the neck to figure out what's on any given PBS station at any given time.

One TV network folded more than 30 years ago, the Dumont Network, perhaps best known for bringing us "Captain Video," who was known as the "guardian of the safety of the world." Another, the Fox Network, is struggling to make a go of it today.

But during the past few years, we have seen the development of a new kind of network. It is broadcast by satellite (rarely to over-the-air stations) mostly to cable TV systems hungry for something to sell their subscribers.

We have Jim Bakker's PTL network, which runs religious programs 24 hours a day. There's also the Financial News Network, the QVC Network, the World Television Network, the National Jewish TV Network, the Eternal Word TV Network. I mean, golly, do we have networks! Some sell advertising; some charge cable systems; some beg for money.

Who watches these new cable networks? Not as many people as those who watch ABC, CBS and NBC. But the number is growing.

And that makes the conventional networks nervous.

Harmon Succeeds Solo In Movies

By Vernon Scott
UPI Hollywood Reporter

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Mark Harmon had a sinecure on television's "St. Elsewhere" series, working three days a week for a hefty salary with job security and the status of national dream boat.

Handsome and athletic, the 34-year-old bachelor had it made.

But two years ago, the son of football immortal Tom Harmon and actress Elyse Knox chucked it all for the insecure business of movies.

"It was a tough decision," Harmon said the other day. "I'd been on the series three years and it felt pretty comfortable. It's never easy for an actor to give up job security and a paycheck.

"But this is not a secure business. I'm not an actor because I'm seeking security."

Although he was comfortable in the role of young Dr. Robert Caldwell, Harmon, now 36, was dissatisfied with his contribution to the show. In his final year with the series he asked the producers and writers to challenge him as an actor.

He suggested they radically change the character and personality of Caldwell at a time when other cast members were content simply to seek higher salaries.

"I questioned working three days a week in a large ensemble cast instead of putting in five days a week," he said. "They warned me that if they wrote Caldwell to the max there would be no place to go except out of the show.

"I said OK, and they changed the character 180 degrees. And they did write me out when Caldwell died of AIDS.

His first project after the series was the four-hour NBC miniseries "Deliberate Stranger," in which he played serial killer Theodore Bundy, very much against his good-guy image.

He returned to TV again for three segments of "Moonlighting," playing a strong romantic character, and for the ABC-TV movie, "The Prince of Bel Air," which did well in the ratings.

Harmon now can be seen in "Summer School," a light comedy which also marks the first time he gets top billing. While "Summer School" will not win any Oscars, it is aimed at the youth audience without sex, nudity, drugs or food fights.

The Oscar Connection
 "The French Connection" was the big film in the 1971 Academy Awards. Gene Hackman won "Best Actor," William Friedkin was "Best Director" and the film was picked "Best Picture." Other winners that year were "Best Actress" Jane Fonda for "Kluge," and Ben Johnson and Cloris Leachman were "Best Supporting" in "The Last Picture Show."

Do Cartoon Hosts Get Paid, Or Do It Free

Dear Dick: My sister and I are wondering if the people who host the NBC Saturday morning cartoons get paid for hosting, or if they do it at their own time? — L. and M.K., Muskegon, Mich.

Dear L. and M.K.: The TV unions don't let anybody do anything at any time for nothing. There is a minimum payment — "scale," as they call it — and everybody who appears on TV is required to get at least that amount of money.

Dear Dick: Recently, my husband and I watched the movie "Matlock," which was the pilot for the "Matlock" TV series. My husband says that the girl who played Charlene, Matlock's daughter, is the same girl that plays her in the series. I say that girl in the movie was not Linda Purl, who plays Charlene in the series. Who is correct? — J.B.D., Harriman, Tenn.

Dear J.B.D.: You are. Lori Lethin played Charlene in the pilot film. And, as you say, Linda Purl plays her now.

Dear Dick: Did Kene Holliday, on "Matlock," act with John Waite in "The Mississippi"? He is great on "Matlock." — R., Knoxville, Tenn.

Dear R.: No. Stan Shaw played Ralph Waite's assistant on "The Mississippi." I agree with you about Holliday; he adds a lot to that show.

Dear Dick: We were talking about an old TV program the other night. The topic was "Hogan's Heroes." I said that the three leading characters — Hogan, Schultz and Col. Klink — are all deceased. Please tell us if they are alive or not, and who the respective actors were. — D.E.S., Reading, Pa.

Dear D.E.S.: Two of the three — Bob Crane, who was Hogan, and John Banner, who was Schultz — are dead. Werner Klemperer, who played Klink, is still very much alive.

Dear Dick: Recently, I watched Michelle Phillips (formerly of The Mamas and the Papas) on "Knots Landing." She was once married to John Phillips (also of that group) who is the father of MacKenzie Phillips (formerly of "One Day At a Time"). I've always assumed that Michelle was MacKenzie's mother, but on a Joan Rivers show she talked about only two children, Chyana and a younger son. Who is MacKenzie's mother? — Mrs. L.P., Kalamazoo, Mich.

Dear Mrs. L.P.: John Phillips' first wife, Susan

Adams, was the mother of Laura, whose professional name is MacKenzie.

Dear Dick: I read in one of your columns how Frances Dee is still alive. Could you please tell me how old she is and what movies she was in? Wasn't she in silent movies? — C.L., Houston.

Dear C.L.: Frances Dee is 79 now. She doesn't go back quite as far as silent films. Her first movie was "Playboy of Paris," opposite Maurice Chevalier, in 1931. She made many films, including "Becky Sharp," "If I Were King," "Four Faces West" and "Mr. Scoutmaster." She was big in the '30s and '40s.

Dear Dick: Please tell me about Steve McQueen. I thought he died a few years ago, but my son says no. If he died, when did it occur and how did he die? — L.L., Ventura, Calif.

Dear L.L.: Your son must not read the papers. McQueen's death, in 1980 from cancer, was very well publicized.

Dear Dick: Do you know of a World War II movie that took place in Europe and starred Van Johnson and James Whitmore? — J.J.Z., Chill, Wis.

Dear J.J.Z.: I think you must mean Van Heflin, not Johnson. Heflin and Whitmore were in "Battle Cry" together. Johnson did some WWII films, including "Battleground," but none with Whitmore.

LOVING

Jim counseled Marty about her drinking problem. Jack convinced Stacey not to pressure Lily to find her own apartment just yet. Ava warned Cecilia that Trisha knows that Cecilia didn't really skip town. Ava told Clay that she won't see him again unless their romance is kept out in the open. Trisha told Rick that she'll help him search for his real parents. Marty promised to help April, who feared she'll be working as a hooker forever. The mystery man who's tailing April has a wall covered with photos of her. Ned admitted he loves April.

SANTA BARBARA

A tearful Lionel held Caroline, who died in his arms. Cain aimed his rifle at Cruz, but didn't kill him. Cain had flashbacks about the killing he saw when he was in Vietnam. Paul admitted to Marsha that he had a past association with Tori. Marsha caught on to Cruz and Eleanor, foiling their attempt to get info on Marsha's adoption agency. Toddlers, Inc. Eleanor warned Willie that she doesn't want Jeffrey harmed when Willie arranges Kelly's "accidental" death. To get info on Toddlers, Inc., Keith had Gina accept a job delivering babies to prospective adoptive parents. Willie made several failed attempts to kill Kelly, who wrongly suspects that Jeffrey may be trying to do her in. When Tori interrupted Paul's attempt to kidnap Chip, Paul insisted that he wasn't trying to take the child. Cruz told Brick that they'll find Johnny. Willie beat up Mason. Jane spent time with Caroline before her death.

GUIDING LIGHT

Johnny's sister, Lacey, arrived in town, but Johnny didn't seem glad to see her. After Reva and Josh brought Marah home from the hospital, Josh learned that the child may not be his. A grown-up Alan-Michael Spaulding parachuted into town during a family barbecue held at Johnny's new air field. Jackson made mysterious phone calls to London. Lacey and Dinah started hanging out together.

Philip was upset to learn that Alan had a minor heart attack while arguing with Ross and Vanessa. Alan told Alex he was going away to recover from the attack.

Alan was later kidnapped by a mystery man and left unconscious in a wooded area. Johnny freaked when Lacey took Cameron up in a hot air balloon. Kaz's condition weakened as he awaited a heart transplant. Josh took a job managing Kaz's business affairs while he's hospitalized. Dinah feels that Vanessa and Ross are ignoring her.
