Lake Mary Firemen, County In 'Agreement'

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Volunteer firemen thrashed out differences with County Fire Administrator Gary Kaiser last night, agreeing to vote at a Tuesday night meeting on whether to appoint a committee to work with Kaiser on a mutual aid agreement.

GARY KAISER

While details of the formal agreement are being worked out, the volunteers, with the blessing of elected city officials, offered informal mutual aid to the county "to see if we can work together."

A poll taken among the six city officials present — Mayor Walter Sorenson and all five councilmen — assured city permission will be readily available to the firemen to take city firefighting equipment outside the city limits to assist the county in emergencies.

Although County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. said he and his colleagues have given Kaiser the go sign to assist any where in the county with or without a formal agreement, he warned elected officials of the liability involved.

"The buck stops with these elected officials," Vihlen said, pointing to city officials. He cautioned the six not to let it appear on the public records that a swap out in fire protection is taking place without a formal agreement.

"It opens the elected officials, not only to public, but also personal liability," he said, adding every taxpayer in Lake Mary should be concerned with the liability.

Mrs. Barbara Smith, speaking on behalf of her fire chief husband, said the county has nothing to offer the city in mutual aid and the county is not in a position to provide the volunteers with like services.

She said the Lake Mary Department currently has 43 active volunteers and 18 to 20 men on the average show up at each fire.

Mrs. Smith noted the department is in process of equipping an emergency vehicle and has eight vehicles able to pump a total of 6,400 gallons of water per minute. She noted the volunteers' concern they might be called upon, under a formal agreement, to work under the direction of "some people in the county" adding her husband does not want the volunteers placed in the position of being required to live up to an agreement they might regret.

Volunteer George Hess, expressed bitterness that the county had refused the department's offer.

Seminole County Bar Steps In With Legal Aid For Poor

By MICK LOCHRIDGE Herald Staff Writer

Indigent families in Seminole County probably have tougher legal problems than anybody else. They have no money to have their legal problems taken to court.

The trap in which the low income families finds themselves is about to be sprung. The Seminole County Bar Association Monday opens its Legal Aid Society with the purpose to provide indigent families free legal service.

Funded by an $8,000 state grant and an estimated $4,000 to $5,000 from filing fees from the circuit court, the society will operate on free time donated by the more than 90 practicing attorneys in the county.

According to Kirby Moncrief, Bar Association president, if a family or individual qualifies for the service of the society, an attorney will be assigned to devote time to the case.

Criteria for accepting a legal problem has not been finalized but Moncrief said the income of the family will be a major concern. Also, he said each case will be judged on its individual merits.

Moncrief says the society will not handle any criminal cases or class action cases. He said the main concern will be with landlord-tenant problems, breach of contracts, neighborhood disputes, child support cases and child custody.

He said divorce cases would be handled only in "extreme emergencies." "This is not going to be a divorce mill."

If the case is accepted, Moncrief said, the attorney will be judged on its individual merits.

"The attorneys in the Seminole County Bar Association are donating their time absolutely free of charge for indigent persons who truly deserve legal help and cannot afford it."

"follow cases all the way through. It means filing and doing everything until the case is closed."

"The attorneys in the Seminole County Bar Association are donating their time absolutely free of charge for indigent persons who truly deserve legal help and cannot afford it."

The legal aid office will be located in the old Armory building on First Street. The Bar Association will lease two offices in the building.

To apply for legal aid, Moncrief outlined steps to be followed: — Make an appointment with the secretary at the legal aid office.

Fill out an application. The application will be reviewed.

If the applicant qualifies, the case will be assigned to a Bar Association member.

Moncrief said the assigning of the cases to attorneys would be "just go down the line, from A to Z."

The formally organized legal aid society, which has been a "pet project" of Moncrief this year, was approved in a vote last year by Bar members. Moncrief said in the past, free legal aid has been handled by volunteer lawyers and also coordinated by the president.

"But, there are so many people in Seminole County we can't do it any more. We've got to have an organization to do it."

In April, the Board of County Commissioners (BOC) passed an ordinance raising the filing fee in circuit court from $20 to $22 to provide the additional revenue for the society. Moncrief estimates that the $2 fees will account for up to $5,000 this year. The BOC will assist in setting guidelines for qualified volunteer lawyers and also assist in budgeting Society funds.

Moncrief said "from year to year we're going to get funds from wherever we can," from benevolent people, anybody. "If a person makes a contribution it is tax deductible, but we're going to make sure a person deserves the legal aid before we provide it," he said.

Summer Jobs Get More U.S. Cash

An additional $26,722 in federal money has been appropriated for Seminole County's summer job program which will provide jobs up to 300 youths from economically disadvantaged families.

The money, released by the U.S. Department of Labor following Congressional legislation, is in addition to already approved $175,000. The 10-week program was implemented Monday with 200 students between the ages of 14-21 going to work. Seminole County, selected as a prime sponsor based on population, has a total of $201,994 allocated by the labor department. In addition, $59,446 in federal money has been "carried over" from last year's program, according to Bob Ellis, the county's intergovernmental coordinator.

Total funds for the summer job program stands at $232,444. Participants in the program must come from economically disadvantaged families, which federal criteria states as an urban family of four that has no more annual gross cash income than $5,860.

Elliot Smith, coordinator-counselor for Crooms High School in Sanford, is in charge of hiring the students for the program. He says he has placed students in secondary and elementary schools in the county. Non-profit organizations and in clerical positions.

"We're trying to offer a little bit of everything," Smith said today. "We're trying to cut out the custodial jobs."

Smith also said he is still looking for some college students for working as recreational director assistants in recreational facilities.

The federal money is being channeled through the courts through the county's forward to the Seminole County School System and Smith.

Federal criteria suggest students be hired for jobs including directing children's recreation in parks and community centers, rehabilitating facilities and inventory supplies in schools, sorting and storing books in libraries, caring for toddlers in a day care centers, cleaning up alleys and vacant lots for environmental agencies and setting up exhibits or guiding visitors through museums.

New Circuit Judge Active In Seminole County Events

Local boy makes good. That phrase could well apply to Kenneth M. Leffler, who was appointed by Gov. Reubin Askew yesterday to fill the circuit court vacancy in the 18th judicial circuit.

The vacancy was created when Judge William G. Akridge announced his retirement last month, effective June 30. Leffler will assume the judgeship July 1.

Leffler, who was born in Sanford on Sept. 13, 1928, currently resides in Longwood with his wife Sue and 12-year-old daughter Cindy.

He attended the rank of Lt. (Senior Grade) before transferring to retired reserve under honorable conditions.

Leffler graduated from the University of Florida College of Law in 1954 with a Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree and was admitted to the Florida Bar in 1959.

He is qualified to practice before all courts in Florida; United States District Court, Middle District of Florida, U.S. Court of Appeals, Fifth Circuit; U.S. Court of Customs and Patent Appeals; U.S. Court of Claims; and Tax Court of the U.S.

The newly appointed judge is a member of the Seminole County Bar Assoc. where he served as president in 1968; The Florida Bar (board of governors in 1969-70); Ninth and 18th Circuit Grievance Committees, 1965-68; and the American Judicature Society.

Leffler is presently engaged in the general practice of law in Altamonte Springs and formerly practiced law in Sanford (1959-73), first with W. C. Hutchison Jr., under the firm name of Hutchison and Leffler and later with Robert M. Morris under the firm name of Hutchison, Leffler and Morris.

He is a member of Altamonte-Casselberry Chamber of Commerce, Sanford Rotary Club (director, 1962), University Club of Orlando and serves as a

NATION IN BRIEF

Two Men Rescued After 13 Days On Raft

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Two men who spent 13 days drifting across the Gulf of Mexico in an eight-foot rubber raft say they drank their own urine to stay alive. One even offered to kill himself so his comrade could have something to eat.

Richard Lebo, 36, and Gary Gillespie, 21, were exhausted but in good condition today after being rescued Thursday by a Coast Guard helicopter. They were first spotted 46 miles south of Galveston by a private helicopter which did not have enough fuel to stop.

The two had been drifting in the raft since their 48-foot cabin cruiser, Caroline, sank off the Yucatan coast on June 6 while enroute from Key West to the Central American country of Belize.

Oil Reserve Lower

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Geological Survey now estimates the Atlantic coast of the United States may hold barely a year's supply of oil instead of the three-to-seven-year supply forecast earlier.

In a new study of oil and gas still to be discovered in the United States, the Geological Survey sharply lowered all of the estimates it had issued just over one year ago, bringing them closer in line with oil industry estimates.

The highlights of the downward trend were revealed earlier but the full report, released Thursday, fills in the gloomy details.

In March 1974, the Geological Survey estimated anywhere from 200 billion to 400 billion barrels of oil and natural gas liquids remained to be discovered in the United States — a fresh supply that could last anywhere from 66 to 132 years at the nation's 1974 domestic production rate of 3.04 billion barrels a year.

Rail Clerks To Delay Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The railway clerks union agreed early today to postpone its threatened nationwide strike until July 21, after all-night negotiations failed to settle a contract dispute.

The union earlier had threatened to walk out at 12:01 a.m. EDT Monday.

W. J. Usery Jr., the Ford administration's top labor troubleshooter, who announced the postponement at dawn, said the union acted after he requested a 30-day delay.

No further talks were scheduled following the all-night session among Usery, the union leaders and representatives of the rail industry.

Before the talks ended, movement reportedly was made in the positions of the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks (BRAC) and the railroad industry.

Sam Giancana Killed

OAK PARK, Ill. (AP) — Sam Giancana, a reputed leader in the Chicago crime syndicate who was recently linked to alleged CIA plots to kill Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, was found shot to death in his home Thursday night, police said.

Giancana, 65, had been shot once in the right corner of his forehead and five times in the neck, according to Oak Park Police Chief Wilbur Reichert.

No weapon was recovered, but six .22-caliber shell casings were found on the floor, Reichert said.

"It looks like a professional hit, but the small caliber of the gun bothers us," he said. Gangland slayings often are committed with shotguns or large caliber weapons.

About $1,000 in cash was found on the body, Reichert said, leading authorities to discount robbery as a motive for the shooting.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rudolf Nureyev hailed the event as "a very important moment" in his career. "I have worked with Martha Graham, the cradle of modern dance."

His partner in Thursday night's world premiere of Graham's "Lacifer," Dame Margot Fonteyn, said she loved the evening. "It was very exciting. And wasn't it marvelous that Mrs. Ford came? She was the crown of the performance!"

Cleveland, one of a small group of accredited airport executives, served on the nominating committee for the national officers that led to the election of Roy E. Bayless, Austin, Texas, as incoming AAAP president.

Cleveland teamed with Edward L. Foster, Melbourne, president of the Southeast Airport Managers Association, in planning for the regional group's forthcoming conference slated for Norfolk, Va. this September.

Little Damage To Holding Cell

Youthful Mental Patient Sets City Jail Fire

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford police today said a small fire set by a juvenile mental hospital escapee did only minor damage to a holding cell last night at the city's new Law Enforcement Center at Ninth St. and French Ave.

Capt. Earl Bourquard said the 17-year-old Sanford boy, who had been arrested on multiple felony charges in connection with a robbery and attempted robberies, was in a holding cell by himself while officers were determining what he was an escapee from a state mental hospital at McClenny.

"The fire was a pile of paper next to a mattress," Bourquard said. "The mattress didn't catch fire and jailers discovered the fire before it could set off the smoke and heat detection system."

"He said jail personnel quickly snuffed out the blazing paper.

Minor damage was reported to a small floor area in the cell and there were no injuries.

The juvenile became violent, officers said, and was subdued and taken to Florida Hospital South, Orlando, to the psychiatric ward under provisions of the Baker Act.

Detective Sgt. Eddie Hughes said the juvenile has been charged with — —Armed robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony in connection with the Wednesday robbery of Herbert Drueding, of Altamonte Springs, at Persimmon Ave. and W. 13th St.

—Drugging said three men robbed him of $13 at gunpoint. Arrested shortly after the robbery were two other suspects — Lewis Ruffin, 24, and Charles Jerome Pierce, 20, both of Sanford.

—Attempted robbery, use of a firearm in commission of a felony, and breaking and entering of a dwelling house in connection with an incident yesterday afternoon at 115 French Ave. in which a man with a gun broke into a woman's residence and demanded money "so he could get out of town."

—Attempted robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony in connection with an incident at 4:15 p.m. yesterday in which a man with a pistol tried to kidnap a clerk at a drive-in grocery store at French Ave. and Third St.

—Police said the clerk refused to hand over the store's cash, not believing the pistol was a real gun.

Police said the juvenile was apprehended 14 minutes after the convenience store incident when stopped by an officer at Mangoustine Ave. and 11th St. He was charged then with carrying a concealed firearm.

Closing Costs Known Here, Realtor Says

A federal law that went into effect today requiring mortgage lenders to disclose real estate closing costs to the buyer at least 12 days ahead of the closing won't have much effect here, according to Seminole County Board of Realtors President Carl Pilcher.

"For a long time, Florida has been a leader in many ways in the real estate field," Pilcher told the Herald. "Realtors here are already complying with the spirit of the new law. We don't bring people to a closing and let them have a heart attack over the costs," Pilcher said.

"If it has any effect at all in Seminole County, it will be only to cause delay in some closings," Pilcher said.

According to Pilcher, closing costs in Seminole generally run $200 to $300 on a transaction in the $20,000 to $50,000 range. He noted that costs for assuming an existing $20,000 mortgage may be as low as $50, while they are somewhat higher for new mortgages. As an example, Pilcher cited closing costs as around $600 on a new Veterans Administration (VA) mortgage when there is no down payment.

With a down payment, closing costs drop to some extent, Pilcher said. If the buyer puts $3,000 down to generally can save $80, or about three per cent of his down payment, in closing costs.

Buyers must be provided with a copy of the closing statement containing at least an estimate of the fees and charges to be levied when the formal purchase transaction takes place, according to the Real Estate Settlement

500,000 People Seen For County

LAKE MARY — County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. predicted last night Seminole County's population will rise to 500,000 in the 1990 decade.

The 1970 U.S. census showed the county to have a population of 70,865 in 1970. Seminole was the fastest growing county in the nation in the intervening years after the last official census, he said, now recording 150,000 citizens.

With the change in the county from rural to urban, government had to reorganize for new problems, Vihlen said, leaving a void in public relations around the county.

"We were remiss in public relations," Vihlen said. "There will be a day, five or six years from now, when the county will be back in the growing trend again," he said.

With more people in the county, more urban services are being demanded, he said, explaining this was one of the reasons the county commissioners decided to create its county-wide fire department for the unincorporated areas.

Although the move was met with criticism and some hard feelings, it will prove to be the correct one, he said.

Longwood Council In Utility Meeting

LONGWOOD — The City Council will hold a 10 a.m. workshop tomorrow with officers of Longwood Utilities Inc. on the privately-owned sewer utilities plan to raise its monthly rates from $4.50 to $7.50 a 60 per cent increase.

The meeting was scheduled for Saturday by Council Chairman J.R. Grant to give working people in the areas served by the sewer utility an opportunity to attend the session.

The areas currently on that sewer system are Sandalwood, Highland Hill, Shadow Hill and Longwood Grove subdivisions.

The company's sewer package plan is located on a three-acre tract in the residentially zoned and recently re-annexed parcel bounding Longwood Hills Road.

The City Council recently granted the utility a temporary franchise to permit continued operation on pending action on granting an operation franchise.

The temporary permit was given when the utility pleaded that financing to the subdivisions it serves was being held up until it received a franchise.

Inmate Dons Civvies, Walks Out Of Jail

TAMPA (AP) — An inmate who donned civilian clothes and walked out of the Hillsborough County jail this week is the subject of a nationwide search by the FBI, officials said.

The escape, Frank Sacco, 49, of Yonkers, N. Y., an alleged loan shark and twice convicted extortionist, was discovered missing during a Wednesday attendance check, officials said.

The FBI said Thursday that Sacco's nephew, Frank Armento, 23, of New York, has been accused in a federal warrant with aiding in the escape and is also being sought.

Maj. Albert Perotti said investigators have determined that Sacco walked out of the jail sometime between 3 and 5 p.m. Wednesday — seven or eight hours before he was missed.

Perotti said Armento is believed to have slipped a set of street clothes to Sacco, who changed into the clothes in the visitation room and waited for a busy time of the day at the jail when guards were receiving the evening meal to inmates.

Refugee Helper Given Aid

MIAMI (AP) — "It really threw me when I read about the injustices done to the American by his own people in his own country," says Charles Feldman.

Feldman and his wife have invited Anthony Conti, 50, a American who says he lost everything he had in the fall of Saigon, to live with them.

The Feldmans live on Social Security benefits.

"It's overwhelming," Conti said Thursday when he learned of the offer. "I am touched by their generosity." But he didn't say if he would accept the offer.

Conti, a World War II veteran, said Wednesday that he had been unable to find a private or public agency to help him.

"I never dreamed I'd end up in a flophouse with derelicts, owing rent," he said. "Another thing that baffles me is that no one has come forward to sponsor an American. I don't want to go on relief. I want a job."

Winn Dixie Found Guilty

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — A federal district judge has found Winn-Dixie Inc., a giant southeast food chain, guilty of civil contempt of court and has ordered the company to pay $1 million in back wages.

Judge Gerald B. Tjoflat ruled Thursday that Winn-Dixie was in civil contempt of court for failing to comply with wage-hour judgments going back to 1967.

He said Winn-Dixie could purge itself of contempt by paying back the wages as set out in an agreement between officials of the company and the U.S. Labor Dept.

The judge found that the chain had not complied with the minimum wage, overtime pay and record-keeping provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The back pay is to go to cashiers, meat cutters, stock boys, supervisors and other store personnel.

Gunman Shoots Self

NOBLETON (AP) — A man who summoned police by saying he had killed his mother and grandmother began a hour-long gun battle when the officers arrived, then put an abrupt end to it by shooting himself, Sumter County officers say.

Joseph Royce O'Berry Jr., 26, was reported in critical condition at a Tampa hospital with a head wound after the Thursday shooting, which began in a rural area.

The bodies of his mother, Ellen E. O'Berry, 48, and his semi-invalid grandmother, Isabelle Pierce, 68, were found in the trailer, deputies said.

His father, Joseph O'Berry, was working at a rock mine the time of the shootings, officers said.

Capt. Dave Gessse said that a man called the sheriff's office Thursday, told a story about murder and killing, and provided his address.

Bodies Found On Dike

FORT LAUDERDALE (AP) — The bodies of two teenagers, both shot to death, have been found in the Everglades by a man and two children on a fishing trip, Broward County officers say.

The fully clothed bodies were found Thursday on a flood-control dike west of U.S. 27 and about three miles north of State Road 84 in the western part of the county, the officers said.

Neither was immediately identified. Officers said they appeared to be between 14 and 18.

Officers said each had been shot one time, probably with a .45-caliber pistol. They said there was no sign of sexual attack.

The bodies were first spotted by Gale Spiece, 15, of Davie. She was with her father, Robert Spiece, and 12-year-old brother Frank.

Teens Entertain Invalids

PALM COAST (AP) — Two dozen Ohio teen-agers are spending their summer bicycling through Central Florida, trying to brighten life for hospital patients and the elderly.

The 24 youngsters and five chaperones from the Grace Lutheran Church in Fremont, Ohio, are entertaining the invalids with religious and patriotic songs and skits.

"It's all fun," said Donna Shafer, 14. "Singing is work, sure, but it's truer fun."

Since arriving by plane in Orlando earlier this week, the group has visited hospitals and old people's homes in Titusville, New Smyrna Beach and Bunnell.

From here, the youngsters will cycle to St. Augustine, Palatka, Ocala, Leesburg and Disney World before flying home.

Smitty's Snappin' Turtle

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Owners of an Orange Park, development have been enjoined from using allegedly misleading sales pitches and advertisements to sell lots in a subdivision called Florida Frontier Unit One.

Without admitting wrongdoing, the developers agreed to refrain from future offerings in a judgment issued Thursday by U.S. District Judge Charles R. Scott.

The suit was filed by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development against Omega Properties of Fort Lauderdale and its president, Richard L. Halpern, and Omni Realty Corp. and its president, Montgomery Murphy of Orange Park.

Government Rests Case Against Gurney

TAMPA (AP) — After 17 weeks, 69 witnesses and numerous delays, the government has wrapped up its bribery conspiracy case against former Sen. Edward Gurney and three others.

Attorneys prepared today to argue defense motions in the absence of the jury.

The five-man prosecuting team rested its case late Thursday afternoon after summoning

Tampa attorney Edward Kohrs to the lengthy, often-delayed proceedings. Then, the jurors were dismissed until Monday.

Kohrs, a former Gurney confidante and patronage adviser, managed Gurney's 1968 Senate campaign in Hillsborough County. But "I left my friendship outside this courtroom," Kohrs told the jury.

He testified that he repeatedly warned Gurney in 1972 to investigate the activities of fund raiser Larry Williams. Gurney, ex-aid Joseph Bastien and former federal housing officials K. Wayne Swiger and Ralph Kozintz are charged with conspiracy to raise an illegal slush fund from builder payoffs in connection with Williams' activities with the Federal Housing Administration.

Gurney also is charged with bribery and receiving unlawful compensation, both in relation to a condominium apartment; and four counts of lying to a federal grand jury that indicted him last July 10.

Kohrs said he participated in a conversation in autumn 1971 in which Williams discussed the FHA, a need to raise money, and what it takes financially to mount a re-election bid.

90 Gallons Of Whiskey Destroyed, Man Charged

WACHNETA (AP) — A 900-gallon camouflaged still and 90 gallons of rooibush whiskey were smashed with fire axes, but not before deputies checked to make sure the booze was the real thing.

"You have to taste it, but you just stick your finger in it and taste it," said Capt. Melt Godwin of the Polk County Sheriff's office. "It wasn't ro-t-gut whiskey. I'd say it was pretty good. It's over 100-proof whiskey."

Good moonshine sells for about 200 gallons wholesale and $2.50 a half pint on the street, Godwin said. The 900-gallon still could produce about 90 gallons every 72 hours and had been operating for two to three months, he said.

Joe Heath, 26, of Wachnetta, a small town near Winter Haven in Central Florida, was arrested and charged with possession of an illegal still, unlicensed whiskey.

Godwin said authorities were searching for a second man.

"The still was very well camouflaged," Godwin said. "The whiskey was in plastic jugs painted green to make it look like undergrowth. It was pretty well hidden in the woods."

Godwin said deputies had received a tip that the still was in the area and had been searching for it the past 10 days by aerial surveillance.

"We've been checking the area real close, analyzing aerial photos. There was a reflection caught early this morning. We looked closer and there it was," he said.

Godwin said it was the first still discovered in Central Florida in recent years.

In fact, he said, stills are now so scarce the sheriff's office put it on display.

"Some of my men had never even seen a still before," he said. "Now they know what one looks like."

Wilson Raps Ravenell On Job Move

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The commission, splitting along racial lines, voted last week to abolish Ravenell's $19,000-a-year job on July 1. Nine white commissioners voted against Sanchez, who is black, and five black commissioners supported him. The others were absent.

"The law is clear that the executive director is hired and terminated by the secretary on the advice and consent of the commission," Ravenell said. "That means I initiate. Anything they say to me is a recommendation, but that doesn't mean I follow it in all instances."

But, Wilson contended that Ravenell ignored other sections of the law. She said one section

Shoplifting Law Is Toughened

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Shoplifting suspects who resist merchants' efforts to detain them can go to jail for a year under a new Florida law aimed at one of the state's fastest-growing crimes.

Gov. Reubin Askew signed the law Thursday, putting into immediate effect a measure (HB996) that provides up to a year in prison for anyone who resists arrest by a merchant or policeman and is convicted of larceny.

In urging Askew to sign the bill, Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin

Congress Is Back To Energy Wars

Congress, back from a Memorial Day recess during which it was stung by President Ford for its foot-dragging on energy legislation, is understandably eager to come to grips with the problem.

The Democratic leadership will be tempted to make the first order of business a reversal of the President's actions in resuming progressive tariff hikes on imported oil and moving toward a phaseout of price controls on fuel produced domestically.

But public confidence in the government's capability to deal with fuel conservation and development demands will be bolstered only through positive measures. A replay of legislative condemnation of the administration's energy program will only reemphasize congressional failures.

The lawmakers must focus on development of a comprehensive energy policy to supplement the steps taken by Mr. Ford.

They should be encouraged by Commerce Department reports of economic indicators suggesting that the recession has ended or that the end is imminent.

Energy and economic woes go hand in hand. The anticipated economic revival will allow the nation to withstand the inevitable rise in fuel prices linked to either Mr. Ford's initiatives or to the gasoline tax hikes favored by Congress.

But implementation of Arab threats of hefty oil price increases or another embargo on Arab oil shipments would immediately stifle the promise of economic recovery.

The legislators should proceed with their plans to encourage fuel conservation. The producing nations feel the squeeze of reduced consumption worldwide and are wary of forcing further restrictions of American oil imports.

At the same time, Congress should enact the windfall profits tax needed to assure that the higher prices paid for domestic oil are ploughed back into exploration and development of new fuel sources.

Despite the brave talk of the members of Congress in chats in their home districts, the fate of the principal gasoline tax of up to 23 cents more per gallon — is uncertain.

The stage is set, nevertheless, for constructive action. If the flickering flame of economic resurgence is to be fanned to a steady glow, Congress must perform.

U.N. Warning Timely

The personal opinion shared by Daniel P. Moynihan with members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee should be given careful consideration by ambassadors of the ambitious developing nations before the United Nations General Assembly convenes this fall.

The United States, Moynihan said in hearings on his confirmation as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, should withdraw from the assembly and freeze its U.N. contributions if the assembly votes to expel Israel.

Moynihan's viewpoint is likely to win a sympathetic reception in Congress, where the disproportionate American support of the world body is increasingly weighed against recent assembly efforts to embarrass the United States. Resolutions in the last assembly, barring Israeli participation in several U.N. programs, heightened congressional resentment.

With Middle East peace hopes built around U.N. policies, expulsion of Israel would be a flagrant violation of the organization's essential objectivity.

The bloc of nations forming since World War II comprises an assembly majority. The reckless zeal with which the new countries exercise their power threatens to rock the very foundations of the United Nations.

Watchdogs Abandoned Their Job

The shocker in the Rockefeller Commission report to the President on the Central Intelligence Agency was its documentation of the callous abdication of responsibility by the CIA, National Security Council, State Department, White House Office of Management and the Budget, the Pentagon and the intelligence community itself.

But we are talking of men, not institutions. The men who failed in their duty were prominent senators and representatives, secretaries of State, Defense and Treasury, foreign affairs advisers to the President, directors of CIA and a host of others over more than two decades and five administrations.

It is not only that these men failed to monitor errors and excesses in the CIA. It is clear they also failed to make certain that this vast and costly, yet essential, agency was making the most effective use of the great resources assigned to it. The faulty intelligence in the Bay of Pigs invasion, in Vietnam and Korea, the continual surprises we meet with in Russian missile development — all point to failures of commission by the CIA so great as to endanger our national security.

The National Security Council and two subordinate committees, the NSC Intelligence Committee and the 40 Committee, have primary executive control over the CIA. The evidence from the Rockefeller report is that these committees limited themselves to high-level directives and general approvals and disapprovals and made little or no effort to monitor or to spot check detailed CIA activities for effectiveness or illegality, or for the misuse of men and funds, except when asked by CIA.

It is just as simple as a rubber band and just as elastic. It can be stretched to cover any activity of the secret, unseen showmen in school, army, homosexual marriages, etc.

But the most important point has been ignored by the press and overlooked by ERA opponents. That is, to obtain absolute equality of the sexes all reference to sex must be eliminated. So John and Jeremia Spuckentz will be given a number. Thus it will be Spuckentz 099-10-3788 and then some official checking on the sums they were asked to vote.

Zaire Orders U.S. Envoy Out In Overthrow Hassle

KINSHASA, Zaire (AP) — The Zaire government has ordered the United States ambassador to leave the country and is also reported hampering efforts to reach two American students and a young Dutch woman held by guerrillas in the eastern part of the country.

The expulsion order for Ambassador Dean R. Hinton was disclosed in Washington Thursday and confirmed by the Zaire government Thursday night. It came in the wake of charges in government-controlled newspapers that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency conspired with six high-ranking Zairean army officers to overthrow President Mobutu Sese Seko.

Hinton, who has been in Zaire for four years, had no comment on his expulsion. The State Department denied the charge of an American plot against Mobutu.

The plot against Mobutu was first reported by the government-controlled newspaper Le Monde, which said, "If the United States is holding an attempt on the life of President Mobutu, let it be known one of its citizens will leave Zaire alive."

On Thursday, the official government newspaper Salongo reassured Americans living in the country of the "friendship of the Zaire people" and asked them to continue working in the country.

Women's Rights Rapped

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The wives of the Egyptian and Philippine presidents say the women's rights movement should not become a competition against men. Imelda Marcos of the Philippines, in a speech before members of the International Women's Conference, and Jihan Sadiq of Egypt in an interview contended that the feminist movement in the United States and other prosperous nations is too demanding and anti-male.

Gandhi Hearing Slated

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A Supreme Court justice agreed to hold an urgent hearing Monday on whether Prime Minister Indira Gandhi can continue to hold her office until the court decides her appeal against her conviction for corrupt campaign practices. Mrs. Gandhi's lawyers informed Justice V.R. Krishna Rao today that they would file their appeal Monday against her conviction last week by a trial judge in Allahabad and his sentence barring her from holding any elective office for six years.

Federal Judge Strikes Two Publication Laws

FORT LAUDERDALE (AP) — A federal judge has struck down an unconstitutional Florida statute which prohibits the publication of criticism of a candidate on election day and order newspapers to make political advertising available at lowest rates.

U.S. District Judge Norman C. Roetger Jr. handed down the declaratory judgment Thursday as the result of a suit filed by Gore Newspapers Co., publishers of the Fort Lauderdale News and Sun Sentinel. Roetger's decision overturned a section of a 1973 state campaign financing law and invalidated a 64-year-old Florida law prohibiting distribution of political criticism on election day.

"Both statutes (Florida Sections 106.16 and 104.35) are unconstitutional on their face as violating the First Amendment to the Constitution," Roetger ruled.

"The constitutionality of a statute aimed solely at institutions protected by the First Amendment is determined by the existence of impact," the judge said.

Inflation Continues To Ease

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices increased four-tenths of a percent in May, the government reported today, continuing a moderating trend in the nation's inflation.

April's increase had been six-tenths of a percent. For the year ending in May, the overall increase was 9.5 percent, the first time in more than a year that the 12-month rate was under 10 percent.

The Labor Department said its Consumer Price Index stood at 159.3 based on the 1967 average of 100, meaning that consumers were paying $59.30 for the same goods that cost $100 eight years ago.

The Labor Department said there were higher prices during May for gasoline, used cars and meat. The price of beef rose 7.8 percent, more than half the 11 percent price decrease of the previous six months.

The government also had encouraging news about pay, reporting that real spendable earnings of workers rose by 4.4 percent in May, largely because of the government tax cuts which took effect on May 1.

Captured U.S. Planes Used By Viets

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence sources believe the Vietnamese Communists have used captured U.S.-built bombers against Cambodian forces in the Gulf of Thailand.

Pentagon officials think the A37 bombers may have been flown by U.S.-trained pilots who served with the South Vietnamese air force until North Vietnam won final victory nearly two months ago.

The North Vietnamese are known to have captured many planes along an estimated 420-mile front from vessels once supplied to South Vietnam by the United States.

U.S. intelligence reports indicate the dispute between the neighboring Communist regimes in Indochina has widened into a series of armed clashes along their common border. One report speaks of a recent increase in the frequency and intensity of the skirmishing.

Source says a Cambodian mission flew from Phnom Penh to Hanoi on June 11 to try to resolve the territorial dispute. Cambodia's Communist-led peasant army, good enough to defeat troops of the U.S.-backed Lon Nol government, would stand little chance against the heavily armed, highly disciplined North Vietnamese army, in the opinion of U.S. analysts.

According to U.S. estimates, North Vietnamese troops outnumber the Cambodian Khmer Rouge army by more than 220,000 to perhaps 75,000 men.

In another Indochina development, the North Vietnamese 320th Division is said to have crossed into southern Laos from South Vietnam.

This, along with Communist Vietnamese seizures of islands from the Cambodians, prompts U.S. intelligence specialists to wonder whether Hanoi intends to try to extend its control into a wider area of Indochina beyond Vietnam's traditional borders.

Angola Civil War Threat Mushrooms

LUANDA, Angola (AP) — Thousands, blacks as well as whites, are fleeing from Angola as the threat of civil war looms over this Portuguese territory on Africa's west coast.

Potentially one of the richest nations in Africa, Angola has been plunged into turmoil by three rival African groups. They are fighting each other for military supremacy before two independence comes to the country of 6.2 million people on Nov. 11.

Perhaps 5,000 persons — a conservative estimate, according to local officials — have been killed in armed clashes since mid-1974. Most of the victims have been Africans.

Much of the fighting has occurred in towns in northern and central Angola, but most of the deaths have occurred in gun battles in the streets of Luanda, the capital.

The three rival guerrilla movements are: —The Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola (MPLA), a Soviet-backed group led by Agostinho Neto and supported by the Mbundu tribe in central Angola, comprising about 20 per cent of the population. —The National Union for the Total Liberation of Angola (UNITA), led by Jonas Savimbi and backed by the Ovimbundu tribe of southern Angola, comprising about 33 per cent of the population.

Luanda is an MPLA stronghold, and black Angolans from other sections who support the other two movements have been the victims of MPLA troops.

Leaders of the three guerrilla factions met this week in Namuru, Kenya, to try to resolve their differences. The Kenyan government's news agency reported Thursday that they decided to disarm all civilians in Angola immediately to ease tensions.

The three rival guerrilla movements are: —The Front for the National Liberation of Angola (FNLA),

New records aren't unusual at Seminole Turf Club, Casselberry, but there's a two-legged filly with a golden nose who is perhaps setting the most unusual one.

"It's a weird job for a girl," admits Sandy. Not only does it affect her lifestyle, but how many women would be willing to climb over 1,000 steps every night to sit alone for hours in a tiny black room high atop the grandstand? A native of Hollywood, Fla., Sandy worked for a bank after graduating from high school in 1974. Realizing that wasn't taking her anywhere, she went back to school at Miami Dade Junior College and worked part-time as an apprentice at Hollywood Dog Track. While there she became friends with the photo finish camera operator who offered to train her on the "magic eye."

And that was the beginning of a new career for Sandy. After learning the photo-finish operation on her own time, she applied to "Eye-In-The-Sky," a Tampa firm which provides the equipment and personnel for many of the country's horse and dog racing tracks including Seminole.

She was hired and assigned to the local turf club which began the first part of a split season in April. So Sandy, who has never been away from home before, brought a camper, loaded it up with her worldly belongings and headed for central Florida. "I knew it would be hard to find an apartment for only a few months," says Sandy who will be on the move again when the season's over here.

A lot of personality and poise for a girl of 18 — just old enough to work at a race track — make it easy for Sandy to find friends. Good friends who even let Sandy park her camper in their back yard in Forest City. So the mobile life shouldn't be the hard part. "The difficult part is that you make friends and then have to leave every three or four months," says Sandy.

But the free outdoor life is probably refreshing for one who spends about five hours every evening, six nights a week in what amounts to about an eight-foot square dark room. An awning-type window is the port opening to refreshing breeze and view of the track hundreds of feet below. But often that's enough to air out the noxious odor of the developing chemicals Sandy works with.

A movie type camera permanently affixed in the wall and focused on the finish line must be activated as the first horses begin the final approach to the line. After the horses pass, Sandy lowers her window and in total darkness must quickly and dexterously remove the film from the camera and develop it in a matter of 15 to 20 seconds.

In a stand below, the judges wait for Sandy to "read" the negatives and give them the final line-up of horses as they crossed the finish line via intercom.

In a close, nose-to-nose race the negative itself can be flashed to the judges. If there is still a question, Sandy makes a rough print of the negative before the official results of a race can be announced and payouts calculated.

Actually working only about two or three minutes every race leaves a lot of time over a span of five hours. "I bring embroidery, books, coloring books, anything to keep busy," says Sandy.

To make her black abode a little more palatable, Sandy has added a poster and a touch of bright contact paper to the walls. Sometimes she breaks out and goes down those 1,065 stairs to the clubhouse. Perhaps that's what helps her be at a slim 115 pounds.

Now that some of the tracks are on strike Sandy's not sure where she'll go from here. Who knows, she may wind up on national television. She has already sent her letter

Men-Only Meeting Ruffled Feathers Of Some Women

Invitations to a Boy Scout fund raising luncheon held in Orlando Tuesday read: "If this letter is addressed to a woman, please send a male representative..."

The men-only invitations were sent out because the luncheon in aid of the Central Florida Council of Boy Scouts was held at the University Club in Orlando. The club bars women except for certain social functions.

David Hedrick, committee chairman of an Orlando Scout troop who arranged the luncheon, said he knew about the "lady exclusion thing" but that it "altered my mind in the urgency of getting things together."

"This was a very hurried attempt to do some good for the Boy Scouts. By the time I realized the women wouldn't be able to come, it was too late to change the meeting place," Hedrick said. He added that the six women excluded from the luncheon had not expressed displeasure directly to him, though he had heard "second hand" that some of them were angered.

"Personally, I've only received one 'poison pen' letter, and that from a man," commented Hedrick.

Of the 70 persons invited, only about 20 men attended Tuesday's gathering, which was to have produced ideas to help the council's lagging funds.

Barbara Torrey, a Citrus Girls Scout Council board member, said she was upset about the ban because "fund raising is an important matter and I feel women have good ideas. We're behind the scenes workers."

But Janet Stebbins, chairman of a Seminole County troop committee, said: "I felt the arrangements were made hastily. The choice of location was unfortunate. But I was thrilled to send a man. I don't like to raise money and as long as someone represents us, what's the difference whether it's a man's voice or a woman's that reports back?"

In an attempt to placate those who are angered, Hedrick said he is mailing letters of apology to all the women concerned. He is also arranging another meeting to further discuss the Scouts' financial problems on July 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the Friendship Room of Orlando First Federal building, on the corner of Church Street and Magnolia Avenue in downtown Orlando.

"I want everyone in the Central Florida area interested in Scouting to come — especially the women," said Hedrick.

Distance Sets Problem

DEAR ABBY: I am a 44-year-old widower with four children still at home. I've been seeing a 45-year-old widower who has three children who are also living at home. We've talked marriage, but have no definite plans.

We live 70 miles apart and can see each other only on weekends. Because of time and expense, we stay overnight at each other's homes. We do not sleep together: I feel that we are well enough chaperoned by our seven children, whose ages range from 7 to 17.

My friend's 17-year-old son said he doesn't think we should spend the night at each other's homes even though HE knows everything is respectable because he's afraid of what the neighbors might say.

I would like your opinion.

L. DEAR L: I'd explain to the lad that as long as you know that everything is kosher, and HE knows it, you don't feel that what the neighbors might say is worth driving 70 miles home for.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are supposedly mature adults in our 40s. We have been married five years. At least five nights a week, his mother telephones when we are eating our evening meal (always between 5:30 and 6). She asks my husband what her's doing, and he says, "Just eating around." So I sit and listen while he makes small talk with back when he's finished. I would appreciate your opinion on this matter.

U.S. Open

'It's As Good As The Good Old Days'

MEDINAH, Ill. (AP) — There's the old king, Arnold Palmer, up there with the fuzziest kids. And the guys who are supposed to win it are scrambling, sweating, heaving and, in one case, even threatening to blow the joint.

The 75th U.S. Open Golf Championship is off a soggy starting — and surprising — start. Maybe things will get better in today's second round.

"It's as good as the good old days, even better," said a very pleased Palmer, a rejuvenated war horse of 45 seeking lost glories.

Palmer was the only one of golf's stars among the sub-par leaders after fashioning a steady 69 — "not sensational but not bad, either," as he described it — over Medinah's rain-soaked 7,032 yards Par is 71.

He was tied with three others, including an Englishman. They trail a pair of freckle-faced youngsters, Tom Watson and Pat Pittman, tied for the lead with 67s, and a 10-year tour veteran, Jim Weichers, who never has won a pro tournament, next at 68.

Palmer was tied at 69 with rangy Peter Costerhuis, the best player in Britain, Grier Jones and Lanny Wadkins. The only other sub-par shooter was Ben Crenshaw, 23, who was

Women 'Calculated To Destroy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association says new federal regulations requiring equal treatment of men and women in athletic programs are "calculated to destroy" such popular and successful college sports as football and basketball.

NCAA President John A. Fuzak told a House education subcommittee the Ford administration regulations will destroy the financial basis upon which most universities operate their athletic programs for men and women.

"A failure to provide some protection for revenues from those sports which enjoy significant public interest would eventually result in an erosion of that interest and consequently an erosion of those revenues," said Fuzak, associate dean of the college of education at Michigan State University.

Fuzak said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which wrote the regulations, "has been absolutely unwilling to look at the economic structure and realities of college athletics, and has in effect insisted on treating revenue-producing sports in the same fashion as those — for either men or women — which are not revenue producing."

"We think this attitude is just plain unintelligent," he said.

Fuzak made his remarks in a statement prepared for the subcommittee which is reviewing the guidelines implementing Title IX.

The new rules, signed by President Ford and set to go into effect July 31 unless rejected by Congress, require equal treatment for males and females in gym classes, vocational training, financial aid, faculty hiring and many other activities, especially athletics.

Fuzak said the ultimate effect of the regulations are predictable.

If gross revenues from such sports as football and basketball must be available for women's sports as well as for men's, he said, "the inevitable result is a downgrading of football and basketball in quality and, ultimately, loss of spectator interest."

He suggested that Congress declare a moratorium on any application of Title IX to intercollegiate athletic programs and require HEW to study its practical impact on the sports programs.

AL Oakland A's: A-Plus Effort

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baseball's World Champion Oakland A's have come up with their own plumbers' unit to sabotage any title aspirations of challengers in the American League West.

"We've won four of five and put Minnesota back a ways," said Oakland Manager Al Dark. "Now we've got to prepare for Kansas City."

The makeshift A's capitalized on strong pitching by Sonny Siebert, Glenn Abbott and Paul Lindblad and some daring baserunning for a 5-2 victory over Minnesota in 10 innings Thursday.

Oakland won the final four games of the five-game set, which left the Twins eight games behind.

"We've got to be thankful we could win this game resting some of our guys," said Dark, who rested Bert Campaneris, Gene Tenace and Billy Williams and used Reggie Jackson as the designated hitter. However, Ted Martinez, Ray Fosse and Angel Manguillo failed in capably.

Yankees 9, Tigers 2

Catfish Hunter retired the first 17 batters and finished with an eight-hitter while Roy White drove in five runs with a homer and a single to lead New York over Detroit.

The Tigers' first baserunner off Hunter, 10-6, was Tom Verzyer, who homered with two out in the sixth. Ron LeFlore later doubled off Hunter in the eighth inning and eventually came around on a grounder for the Tigers' final run.

Rangers 8, White Sox 3

Tom Grieve's two-run double sparked a five-run seventh inning that carried Texas over Chicago. Chicago left-hander Claude Osteen carried a 3-0 lead into the seventh, but quickly surrendered a single to Leo Cardenas and a walk to Jim Sundberg. Cesar Tovar then singled through the left side to score Cardenas with the Rangers' first run.

Rich Gossage replaced Osteen and Toby Harrah greeted him with a run-scoring single. Gossage struck out pinch-hitter Jim Spencer but Grieve lined a shot into the right field corner to score Tovar and Harrah. After Mike Hargrove was intentionally walked, Lenny Randle singled home Grieve with the final run of the inning.

Cattfish Hunter, left, boosted his record to 10-6 with an eight-hitter against the Tigers. He retired the first 17 batters in a row.

Jerry Reuss, right, shut out the Cardinals on five hits. The win stretches the Pirates' lead in the NL East to 3 1/2 games.

WFL Pair Sign With Jax

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Two of the World Football League's offensive stars of last year will be together on the Jacksonville Express in the new WFL this season.

Tommy Reamon, who led the league in rushing and was one of the WFL's three most valuable players of 1974, signed with the Express Thursday and joined quarterback George Mira, who was most voted valuable in the Quarter Bowl game.

Mira and the Birmingham Americans noted out season and the Florida Blazers 22-21 in the 1974 WFL version of the Super Bowl.

The Express got the rights to Mira and signed him earlier. The Blazers, who were based in Orlando, are now defunct.

Reamon chose to remain with the WFL after negotiating with the National Football League champion Pittsburgh Steelers and the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian League.

"I made my decision for the happiness and security of Tommy," he said. "I think I could make any club in football. I wasn't afraid to try the NFL."

He wouldn't say whether his contract guarantees him the $37,947 still owed him by the old WFL.

"I hope to be better than a year ago," Reamon said. "Jacksonville's strongest point at this moment appears to be the offensive line along with Mira at quarterback. We need to get team unity. That's important. Then we can make a run for the 1975 World Bowl."

Reamon gained 1,578 yards on 386 carries with the Blazers. "As a rookie, I was worked in slowly," he said. "That's why I only had 637 yards after the first 11 games. I think it helped me, because any rookie has to mature."

Reamon was a regular running back at Missouri in 1972 and 1973 and after being named national junior college back of the year for two seasons while playing with Fort Smith, Kan., Junior College.

The Express also announced the signing of veteran center Howard Kindig, who played three games with the predecessor Jacksonville Sharks and eight with the New York Jets of the NFL last season. He was with the Miami Dolphin's NFL championship teams of 1972-73.

NL Reuss Fires Goose Eggs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jerry Reuss nibbled at the plate with his pitches, giving the St. Louis Cardinals nothing fat to hit.

The starvation diet left the Redbirds with a bad taste in their mouths and just a bunch of eggs on the scoreboard Thursday night.

"I've been able to control my pitches and put the ball pretty much where I want to," the Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher said, explaining his 5-0 shutout over the Cardinals and other recent successes.

"I've just been consistent, and consistency is the most important ingredient in pitching."

Reuss' six-hitter, his second shutout over the Cardinals this season and his eighth victory, is a bitter pill for St. Louis to swallow. Only a couple of nights ago, Cardinal pitcher Lynn McGlotten branded the Pirate staff as "medicore."

But Jim Rooker answered that charge Wednesday night with a six-hitter and Reuss delivered another high, hard one at the Cardinals with his beauty Thursday night.

Coupled with the New York Mets' 3-2 defeat by Montreal in 13 innings, the Pirates improved their lead in the National League East to 3 1/2 games.

Expos 3, Mets 2

Gary Carter's infield single drove home the winning run in the 13th inning to lead Montreal's victory over New York. Pitcher Dale Murray began the Montreal rally with a walk on four pitches from Rick Baldwin and was sacrificed to second. After an intentional walk to Mike Jorgensen, Tony Scott singled to load the bases and set the stage for Carter's dramatic hit.

Dodgers 4, Padres 1

Ronney and Steve Yeager singled home runs to break a scoreless tie in the sixth inning Doug Rau won his first game in a month as Los Angeles beat San Diego.

Phillies 6, Cubs 3

Johnny Oates and Ollie Brown hit run-scoring doubles in the 14th inning, keying a three-run outburst that carried Philadelphia past Chicago.

Skinny? Count Your Blessings

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB — Why do doctors and nutritionists speak of weight control strictly in terms of calorie intake and calories used by exercise and work? I am an expert in absolutely nothing; however, by most casual observation and my own experience, calorie input has little to do with the weight of many individuals. Metabolism and assimilation must be of even greater importance than quantity or type of food. I have failed at every effort to gain weight. Even heavy exercise programs combined with high protein diets only result in stronger but stringier muscles without weight gain. I know that heredity will be the first suggested reason for my problem which is partially true, but I have two brothers who are reasonably stout. I'm sure I'm not a voice alone. Is there any answer for those of us unable to gain weight? I'm 5 feet 11 and weigh 145 pounds.

DEAR READER — You lucky fellow. Get down on your knees and thank God you have your "problem."

Failure to absorb food from the small intestine will prevent weight gain. We see this in medical problems that have a component of diarrhea or malabsorption.

Dr. Lamb

TONIGHT'S HIGHLIGHTS

TVIEWS: It's interesting to note that in the complete sweep of changes at the top of all three network programming departments, the heavy hand of sales emerges. The new program chiefs at CBS and NBC, Lee Currin and Mike Weinblatt respectively, both headed sales departments at their networks before assuming new responsibilities as head of programming. It would be akin to a newspaper taking its advertising director and putting him in charge of the editorial department. No reflection on CBS and NBC artistic intent, but it seems there is a stronger eye on the commercial aspects of programming with these moves.

DEALING AROUND: When Bob Wood, CBS president, spoke recently about the "irresponsible" demands of a new TV star who wanted a salary jump from $3,000 per episode to $15,000, could he have been referring to NBC's Freddie Prince, of "Chico and the Man"? Incidentally, Prince has full support of costar Jack Albertson, who was miffed because Freddie didn't get an Emmy nomination. The Smothers Brothers may have flopped — again — on TV, but it hasn't hurt their personal appearances. They've just completed their two-week engagement at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas.

8-9:30 CBS FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIES — Boy Friends" First half of a double feature, stars Twiggy, as the needle-thin British model turned actress turns in a surprisingly good performance. Ken Russell's direction and script capture the full essence of this spoof of the 1950s Hollywood musicals with some grand Bubby Berkeley-style dance moves. Entertaining movie.

Appeals Court Ruling Asked Ex-Cops Seek Freedom

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

Defense attorneys said Saturday that they'll hand deliver, if necessary, documents on Monday to West Palm Beach in efforts to get a federal court judge to grant a writ of habeas corpus to two former Sanford policemen sentenced to prison for burglaries.

Attorneys Gerald Ruberg and Newman Brock, who represent Hamlin and Raymond Bennett, made the statements after a hearing Friday in which U.S. District Judge Clarence F. Johnson Jr. denied motions that would have allowed Hamlin and Bennett to be released from jail pending consideration by the Fourth District Court of Appeals of the prison sentences.

Hamlin, 22, received a sentence of five years in prison and five years probation and Bennett, 30, a sentence of seven years in prison and five years probation on guilty pleas to charges of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony when sentenced on Tuesday with five other defendants in the burglary cases. Maximum sentence for both Hamlin and Bennett could have been 15 years in prison.

"It appears to me that you're just disappointed with the way the judge handled the case," the lawyers said. "We're not prepared for the sentences despite the fact that they had pleaded guilty to second-degree felonies in February and knew what the maximum sentences could have been."

"People who get into prison put themselves there," he said. "Don't try to put the monkey on my back."

Ruberg and Brock indicated in the hearing that they'll base appeals of the stiff sentences on grounds that the defense wasn't able to review the confidential portions of presentence investigation (PSI) reports that were prepared for the court by the state Parole and Probation Commission.

Under local court rules the confidential portions of PSIs are given only to judges.

Both defense attorneys argued that the other portions of the PSIs they'd received didn't comply with state law and that the state's plans that could be used by the defendants had been given probation and no jail time.

Judge Johnson revealed that the "plans" were contained in the confidential portions of the PSIs that were reviewed by a panel of three judges—Johnson, A.J. Hosemann Jr. and David U. Strawn. The judges, who would have been trial judges for the seven defendants in the police burglary cases if they hadn't plea bargained with State Atty. Abbott Herring's office, arrived at the sentences and Johnson did the actual sentencing.

Defense attorneys have argued that the PSIs of the former policemen will be in jeopardy once prison inmates learn who they are.

Giant 'Blast-Off' Scheduled For Sanford Fourth Of July

A gala Fourth of July celebration is planned for the area by a steering committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Included among the events planned at Fort Mellon Park will be a gigantic fireworks display, sponsored by the Downtown Business Association (DBA).

Among those groups sponsoring activities on the day the nation celebrates its Declaration of Independence are the Junior Woman's Club of Sanford; Jayceets; Jayces; Telephone Pioneers; Sanford Recreation Department; Pilot Club; Ministerial Association; Democratic Women's Club; Lions Club; Seminole County Gun and Archery Club; Child Evangelism Fellowship; Antique Car Club and the Black Bicentennial Committee, as well as the DBA.

The Junior Woman's Club appears to be among those with the busiest schedule as that organization will stage a pair of moon walks (one for small children and one for larger youngsters), a concession stand, ice cream sales, jump jumping contest and jump rope contests with savings bonds given to the winners as well as giving out free balloons and litter bags.

The Jayceets will have cart and pony rides for children and a bean bag tossing contest while the Jaycees will have a dunking machine and will sell hot dogs, boiled corn and soft drinks.

The Telephone Pioneers will be responsible for the sale of sno-cones and balloons and will have a display of antique telephones while the Recreation Department will have a bar-b-que, the proceeds from which will go toward financing youth baseball projects such as district and state tournament expenses, equipment needs, etc.

A spokesman for the Recreation Department said the bar-b-que is used as an annual fund-raising project rather than "nickel and dime" the parents to death throughout the year. Too, all leagues will benefit directly through all profits realized from the bar-b-que.

Tickets to the bar-b-que will be on sale in advance of the Fourth of July celebration from various members of youth baseball leagues. Bar-b-que tickets may also be purchased at the Recreation Office.

The Pilot Club will have a watermelon on a stick, homemade cake by the slice, homemade ice cream and peanuts for sale and will have a small band in attendance.

All in all, it shapes up as a great day of fun and frolic for the 1975 birthday of our independence in Sanford.
