

WORLD IN BRIEF

Recall Facing Israel's Delegation To Peace Talks

TEL AVIV, Israel (UPI)—The cabinet may recall the heads of Israel's delegation to the Washington peace talks to report on snags in negotiations with Egypt, political sources say. Conference officials said the work on the main body of the treaty has gone extremely well, but the deadlock has developed over a statement the Egyptians insist must be an integral part of the treaty. It would bind the Israelis to accept the possibility of eventual withdrawal from the West Bank, and recognize the rights of the Palestinians. The Israelis believe such sweeping statements about a comprehensive Middle East settlement should be the subject of separate negotiations, and should not stand in the way of an Egyptian-Israeli peace agreement.

Will Poland Let Pope In?

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Poland's Communist government faced a ticklish decision today on whether to let the first Polish pope return to his homeland for a religious festival that Pope Paul VI was twice barred from attending. Vatican Radio said the secretary of the Polish bishops' conference, Monsignor Bronislaw Dabrowski, has invited Pope John Paul II to attend the celebration May 7 of the 900th anniversary of the martyrdom of St. Stanislaus, a Polish bishop slain in 1079 by King Boleslaw the Bold.

Police Chiefs Touring Yard

LONDON (UPI)—A group of 13 high-ranking police officers are on a two-day visit to London's Scotland Yard Police Headquarters under the auspices of the Police Foundation, a Washington-based organization that provides executive department and management training for police departments.

Zambia Planes Hit Guerrillas

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)—Warplane pilots using Zambian airfields straggled challenged to the outskirts of Zambia's capital to devastate a guerrilla camp and kill at least 300 persons, including Cuban troops, intelligence sources in the area said today. The air strike, 12 miles north of the Zambian capital of Lusaka, about 60 miles west of Rhodesia, was part of an unprecedented two-pronged attack in which Rhodesia's biracial government also sent aircraft east into Mozambique to blunt a rainy season guerrilla offensive.

Buy Him Park

HOUSTON (UPI)—If you know someone who's really worth it, and you can really afford it, buy that person a city park. The wide-ranging Southwest Children's Center offers, for $500, a chance to have a city park named after the person of your choice, complete with a ceremony attended by the mayor.

Chief Missing

YAKO CITY, Miss. (UPI)—Yakoo County authorities searched for a dead and today in the search for their 6-foot-4-inch, 250-pound police chief, who disappeared two days ago on a 6-day trip.

AREA DEATH

CHARLES, Ill., has been missing since around noon Wednesday when he left for Victorville. "I just don't know where to go," says City Mayor Charles P. Harris. "We have covered the county pretty well. We just have to get all the reports and decide what to do next."

Smoking Hazard
A fire in a rooming house in the 1000 block of E. 1st St. in Sanford, Fla., on Oct. 27, 1978, killed three people and injured two others. The fire started in a rooming house on the second floor of the building, which was a three-story structure. The fire spread rapidly, and firefighters arrived to find the building heavily involved. The victims were identified as a 45-year-old man, a 35-year-old woman, and a 10-year-old child. The woman and child were pronounced dead at the scene. The man was taken to a hospital but died of his injuries. Two other people were injured and taken to the hospital. The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

Pair Robs Altamonte Service Station

By DENNIS PEOLA
Herald Staff Writer

A service station near Altamonte Springs was robbed by two men, one wielding a double-barrel shotgun, Thursday evening.

The incident occurred at Matus's Chevron Service Station, at 108 E. Altamonte Drive at 7:30. James Perez of Ocoee, told sheriff's deputies two men pulled into the station and filled their Pontiac Transam with $11.51 worth of gas.

Then the man in the passenger's seat pulled the shotgun and told Perez: "Open that box, I want all the cash, or I will blow your face off." Perez gave them the cash box with an undetermined amount of cash and checks and the man drove away west on Highway 436 towards Apopka, according to records.

A Winter Park man has reported $2,710 in merchandise stolen from his apartment.

Esper J. Kocot, 38, of the Squire One Apartments, told sheriff's deputies the burglary occurred sometime between 2 p.m. Thursday and 12:30 a.m. today.

football game at Seminole High School. All the cars were parked in the school's parking lot and one witness reported six youths loitering in the area, according to reports.

Russell A. Mann, 18, a student who lives in Lake Mary, told police his 1973 Ford pickup truck was burglarized. A tool box containing assorted tools and several tapes with a combined value of $100 was reported stolen.

Gene and Michael Rupert of Sanford said their 1966 Ford Mustang was burglarized when thieves broke a rear vent window, Tinsley-Jones tapes and a box of 25-caliber bullets with a total value of $150 were reported stolen.

J. T. Pugh of Orlando reported his 1976 Chevrolet station wagon was burglarized. Thieves apparently used a coat hanger to open the lock on the door, according to records.

Reputed stolen was a citizen band radio, digital watch and checkbook with a value of $225.

NOW HEAR THIS

The Telephone Typewriter Program for the deaf at the Seminole County Sheriff's Department got a $600 boost this week from the Longwood Sertoma Club. Accepting the check is Herbert Watson (left) of the Telephone Pioneers, the organization which coordinates the program with the sheriff's department. Next to him are Sheriff John Polk, Joe Bert, project chairman for the Sertoma Club; and John Zabel, president of the club. The money will be used to add three participants to the program, Polk said. The program allows the deaf to type, via a telephone hookup, emergency messages which are received at the sheriff's department communications center.

accident occurred. Mr. and Mrs. Krol had to spend Thursday night in a local hotel, according to neighbors. She had been taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital but was not admitted.

Seminole County firefighters and sheriff's deputies maintained a watch on the crash site through the night to protect the area from vandals and guard against the possibility of fire.

They feared a possible explosion or fire as gasoline from the plane spilled over the roof on to the ground.

The fire danger was rekindled Thursday afternoon when an FAA inspector opened the gas cap on the airplane's left wing and spilled more gallons of fuel over the roof and onto the ground.

Morgan's father, Eliah, 1300 Forest Boulevard, speculated his son was trying to prevent a fire by getting the wheels of the plane down.

"He knew if he crash-landed there could be a chance of an explosion, so he wanted to get those wheels down," said his father. He added the younger Morgan's experience as a pilot probably accounted for his cool thinking under pressure.

Herckiah Ross, chairman of the Black Community Division of United Way of Seminole County again this year, is a fireman with the city of Sanford and a part-time worker at Good Samaritan Home. He has been a volunteer with United Way for more than six years.

"I volunteer because United Way is a group of people working together helping people and I felt we can serve God by serving others," said Ross.

Fire units from Seminole County, Sanford and Lake Mary responded to the accident as did law enforcement officials from the same entities.

In a related incident, a 17-year-old boy was taken into custody by deputies Thursday for "obstructing the extinguishment of a fire."

The youth had been warned to remain outside a restricted area around the crash scene, but was arrested after being observed smoking a cigarette inside the restricted area where the youth was turned over to juvenile officials.

"While they are not charging for meals as such, it certainly makes a client feel less than desirable if he doesn't make a contribution," said Mr. Jones. SCA continues to serve about 60 MOW daily to the homeless and elderly under another federal program. The county commission approved employment of three persons under the federally funded Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) to aid in SCA's MOW on the condition that the entire MOW program be operated under Project OASIS beginning in July, 1979.

Attorney Murder Charge

MIAMI (UPI)—A prominent attorney charged with selling 15 pounds of cocaine was arrested Thursday and charged with conspiring to murder a man involved in the sale who had begun cooperating with federal Drug Enforcement Administration agents since his arrest.

DEA agent Adam De Groot told a U.S. magistrate Thursday that federal authorities have a tape recording of a conversation between Peter Joseph Star, a co-defendant in the case, and another man in which Paul called that Duane Roger Olson be killed.

NATION IN BRIEF

Inflation Slowing, GNP Growing, Government Says

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's economy grew at a 3.4 percent annual rate during the third quarter of this year, the government reported today, a pace almost exactly on target with administration projections.

Furthermore, the Commerce Department said inflation during the July-September period decelerated sharply—rising by just 7 percent after an 11-percent surge in the second quarter.

Proxmire: No Controls, Page 5A

NEW YORK (UPI)—Australian publishing magnate Rupert Murdoch has confirmed reports he will introduce a new morning newspaper—a 10-cent, five-day-a-week tabloid known as the Daily Sun. The city's two major existing morning papers, The New York Times and Daily News, have not published since Aug. 9 because of a strike.

Smoking Moms Damage

CHICAGO (UPI)—The children of smoking mothers have blood vessels that show signs of lesions and clogging—and the heavier the smoking, the worse the damage, a Danish cardiologist says. Dr. Inger Assmussen of the University of Copenhagen said the study conducted for the first time on humans has confirmed what was already evident in animal studies, that smoking during pregnancy damages the baby's blood vessels.

Trio, 200 Lbs. Pot Nabbed

NEW YORK (UPI)—Three men were arrested early today in midtown Manhattan and charged with possession of about 200 pounds of marijuana, police reported. Police at the West 35th Street stationhouse identified the suspects as Gerald Spiegel, 30, of 1114 Rhineland Ave., the Bronx, Jeffrey Steinberg, 31, of 240 Lafayette St., and Donald Muller, 29, of 7650 Southwest 60th St., Miami, Fla.

Memphis Teachers Warned

MEMPHIS (UPI)—School officials, facing possible cutoff of state funds, warned striking schoolteachers to return to classrooms today or face disciplinary action. Negotiators meeting around the clock with federal mediators reached tentative agreement on two non-economic issues Thursday and reported significant progress in a number of other areas, including wages.

5 Airmen Killed in Crash

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—A Strategic Air Command B-52 jet bomber, loaded with fuel, crashed into a farm field Thursday after taking off from March Air Force Base, less than three miles away, and killed five of six crew members when it disintegrated in a thundering explosion and fireball. Almost miraculously the tail broke off the plane, which was on an unarmed training flight, and the tail gunner jumped free and dashed to safety. He ran an estimated 300 yards, despite a fractured spine.

Olympic Signing Ceremony

WASHINGTON (UPI)—After a year of wrangling, Los Angeles won the right to host a spartan Olympic Games in 1994, hammering home the spirit of Proposition 13 even to the aristocratic International Olympic Committee. A ceremony at the White House was scheduled today to sign the formal agreement, bringing the summer Olympics to the United States for the first time since 1962.

Carter Signing ERA Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Carter's signature today on the legislation extending the deadline for the Equal Rights Amendment is a ceremonial gesture that stresses his support for the move—but is not needed and has no legal force. The House and Senate approved the three-year, three-month extension of time for ratification by three-fourths—38—of the states. Currently 35 states have endorsed it but the original seven-year deadline would have expired next March 22.

Emergency Shelter Plan Eyed By SCA For County

By DONNA ESTER
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole Community Action (SCA) is proposing a new program to provide shelter on an emergency basis for persons coming into Seminole County from out of state and from elsewhere in Florida who have no where to stay.

There are also dozens of persons monthly in Seminole who are evicted from their homes and need shelter on a short-term basis. "There are families and individuals sleeping on park benches or out on the road right here in Seminole County," Stanley Cox, SCA's program planner told the agency's board of directors Thursday night.

Before anything can be done to create the program, however, statistics showing numbers of persons in need in this area have to be compiled. "We all know the problem and it is very large," she said.

When the statistics are compiled, said Mrs. Cox, the first group that will be called upon for help will be the churches. She said she hopes the churches will set up a continuing fund to provide the housing.

"The need is for emergency housing for one or two days. The only place that can be called upon now is the Salvation Army in Orlando," Mrs. Cox said, adding that Capt. Carl Phillips, the Salvation Army leader in this area, wanted to open a shelter in Sanford but was denied.

She said while shelter is available at the Orlando Salvation Army facility, many do not have the transportation to get there. The board of directors Thursday also heard a report from Equal Opportunity Officer (EEO) Louis Crawford that consideration on the federal level is being given to pulling the EEO function out of the Federal Community Service Administration (CSA) and community action agencies and placing it under the Justice Department.

Filing of an application for a federally funded Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) position of a driver for the SCA van through the county commission also was authorized.

STANLEY MULLER

An annual memorial to the late Stanley Muller, who was a member of the board of directors of Seminole Community Action (SCA) from its founding in 1968 until his death a few weeks ago, is to be sponsored by SCA within the next few weeks. Muller, a member of the county's educational system for many years, and the only member of the original board to continue his activity in the anti-poverty agency for all these years, is to be remembered with an award to someone in the community who meets Muller's high standards of character, dedication and community service. The SCA board voted unanimously to initiate the memorial award.

Lake Mary Picking From 2 Hall Sites

By MAX EKKELETIAN
Herald Staff Writer

Two sites for a new city hall will be presented to the Lake Mary City Council next week, according to Councilman Pat Southward.

Mrs. Southward and Mayor Walter Sermon have met with one property owner on Rinehart Road to discuss the possibility of purchasing a tract of land there. Another property owner, with a suitable piece of land at the intersection of Country Club Road and Lake Mary Boulevard, may also be interested in selling that land, according to Mrs. Southward.

"None of it is in the point where it is really tied down," said Mrs. Southward. She emphasized the property owners have not presented prices for the land involved. However, offers are expected before next Thursday's regular council meeting.

"We would like to get this taken care of as soon as possible, because land prices in Lake Mary are not going to get any cheaper," said Mrs. Southward. "We hope to have some kind of a vote on the 28th."

The vote next Thursday probably will not be a final vote on either property. "I hope to have a presentation and it could be developed in the point where the council might take a fairly decisive action, but they will be no say they could not next week. They might be able to authorize an appraisal," she said.

"One of the unresolved areas is how much land is involved," said Mrs. Southward. "We've asked for five acres or more, but we haven't worked out how much will be in the parcel."

water plant and possibly a fire station on the land, according to Mrs. Southward. "This city can't afford to let things go," said Mrs. Southward. "The city looked at land two to three years ago and nothing happened then, so it just went by the wayside. We can't afford to let that happen again."

Mrs. Southward and Councilman Lillian Griffin had been appointed by Sermon to act as a real estate committee to seek a site for the new city hall. The pair recommended a site on Country Club Road between Fryed and Frick Roads. However, the council rejected that proposal 3-2.

Councilman Bert Perinich had the opposition to the original Country Club site. He maintained in part that the site should be close to the geographic center of the community.

"A municipal building is designed to meet the service needs of the people in the community, that's why we need more time to find property close to the geographic center of town," Perinich said in opposing the original Country Club Road location.

Citizens living near the site proposed two weeks ago also voiced opposition to the site. They were concerned over traffic and noise problems they feared the building would bring to their neighborhood. — MAX EKKELETIAN

...THE HOPE OF OUR COMMUNITY, OUR NATION!

The game is almost over, and this is the critical moment. The final score hangs on what Ken does with that ball. If he is successful, he will be the hero of the day. If he isn't, people may not entirely blame him, but even so...

Throughout our lives, even if we never touch a football, we cannot avoid coming up against moments when the "final score" depends upon our actions.

Decision-making is never easy, especially when the decision involves others as well as ourselves, and major decisions almost always do. This is when we need a place to go where we can empty our hearts and souls and let the peace and understanding which is God's flow into us... that place is the church.

Rev. Norman S. Lunde, author of "You, Unlimited" will continue the 10th Anniversary Season of the church with his address Sunday at Winter Park Church of Religious Science at 10:30 a.m. service at Park East Theatre, 17-92 and Lee Road.

Kazyk First In Diocese Catholics Ordain Married Deacons

By JOAN MADISON Herald Correspondent For the first time in centuries, married men are now allowed to receive the sacrament of Holy Orders in the Roman Catholic Church. The church ordains as deacons men who are married and the first deacon in the Orlando Diocese is the Rev. Norm Kazyk of St. Mary Magdalen Church in Alakomate Springs.

Stephen was chosen from the community to help the spouses meet the growing needs of the community, it has been noted in the church in the last centuries, until redefined by the Second Vatican Council. With a disconcerting shortage of priests in many places in the world (for example, only 135 active priests, averaging one priest for every 1,500 registered Catholics in Orlando), the diocese may provide relief for overtaxed priests. A training program is scheduled to begin in Orlando this fall leading to ordination.

"Single men ordained as deacons are required to remain celibate and if a deacon's wife dies, he cannot remarry," according to Kazyk. "You never really stop being a deacon, being aware of the intensity of your life," says Kazyk who is director of Religious Education at St. Mary Magdalen Church. "You're always aware of a special presence of the Lord and of the special kind of calling in your life," he adds.

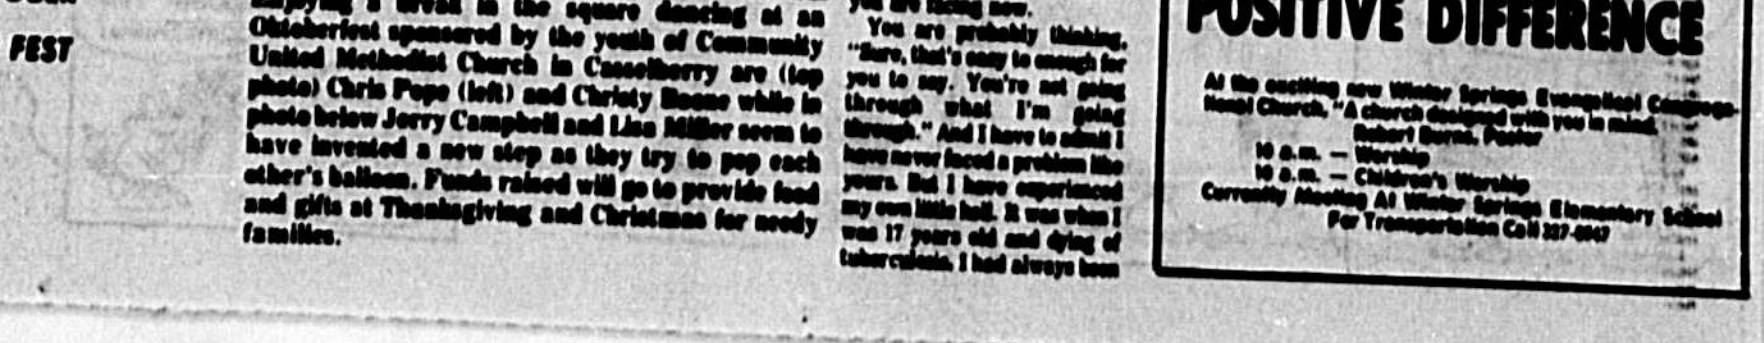

Although the deaconate program in the Catholic Church dates back to the time St. Stephen was chosen from the community to help the spouses meet the growing needs of the community, it has been noted in the church in the last centuries, until redefined by the Second Vatican Council. With a disconcerting shortage of priests in many places in the world (for example, only 135 active priests, averaging one priest for every 1,500 registered Catholics in Orlando), the diocese may provide relief for overtaxed priests. A training program is scheduled to begin in Orlando this fall leading to ordination.

Typically, this could include baptizing, administering the Eucharist, assisting and blessing marriages, officiating at funeral and burial services, reading sacred scripture at the Mass, preaching, bringing the Eucharist to the dying and otherwise being an official prayer leader. "But the main role of the deacon is not so much to be on the altar or to be involved in the liturgy, but to respond to the hurting needs of society," explains Kazyk. Prison ministry, the hospital, marriage problems, and social type programs are areas in which deacons tend to specialize.

Many deacons also hold full-time jobs in the community. In some areas deacons wear the clerical collar, but Kazyk does not. Kazyk has been married for 22 years, and he and his wife, Rosemary, live in Fern Park. They have five children, ages 5 to 21 — Susan, Linda, Karen, Nancy and David. "It's been a beautiful experience for our family," he reveals. "After I earned the child's I wouldn't have to live at the rectory."

Kazyk has a background in mechanical design engineering and has held a major managerial position. While in school, he had as majors, psychology, sociology, engineering, theology, and philosophy. He earned a degree in theology and is currently completing a masters in religious education. Kazyk has also done graduate work in business administration.

He jokes about his "five majors," but there's no doubt that he has found what he is looking for. "It's a beautiful situation. Acceptance by the laity has been beautiful, acceptance by the clergy in the world has been absolutely exceptional. I'll have to set up a model relationship between deacon and clergy. I would have to say it is right here at St. Mary Magdalen Parish," Kazyk said.

Nuclear Age Ethics

By DAVID E. ANDERSON UPI Religion Writer Churches have failed to deal with the issue of nuclear power and weapons because they lack an adequate ethic for addressing highly technical issues.

In general, the churches attitude toward the use of nuclear power has changed radically over the 30 years. The first development of nuclear power during the late 1940s and the 1950s aroused no opposition in the churches," Arbrecht observes. "Most of the churches have no system for analyzing the ethical problems of nuclear energy," he said.

Arbrecht's comments come at a time in the United States when debate and anti-nuclear activity among both religious and secular activists. Arbrecht says the nuclear energy debate illustrates the problems churches face when trying to relate their faith to contemporary issues involving science and technology.

When technical and ethical issues are closely related, Arbrecht observes, and churches have only a limited understanding of the technical aspects it is difficult to reach a sound ethical judgment. "In addition, the churches lack an agreed method for approaching ethical-technical issues" which results in "divergent and confusion about their responsibility in relation to such issues."

Arbrecht, writing in the current issue of the World Council's journal, The Ecumenical Review, surveys the church's 30-year involvement with the nuclear energy question. "The first development of nuclear power during the late 1940s and the 1950s aroused no opposition in the churches," Arbrecht observes. "Most of the churches have no system for analyzing the ethical problems of nuclear energy," he said.

The theological anti-nuclear wing, exemplified by the Christians within the Mobilization for Society, maintains that "nuclear energy is a technology which is against God's will and must be totally rejected." The technical anti-nuclear wing, Arbrecht says, sees its case for stopping the use of nuclear power primarily on technical grounds. There are safe and workable alternatives, it maintains.

Going Through Private Hell

QUESTION: My husband is an alcoholic and has a violent temper. I am especially when we're short of money as we are now. Our two teenage sons, who are after school jobs, and he takes all their money for his own use. They're sure argue because they're afraid of him. Frankly, I fear for the children and myself. When I go to bed at night, I often wish I would die during the night so I wouldn't have to face another day. I know God knows what I'm going through and I don't help, but sometimes I wish He'd help more. But why should He? Frankly, I don't know how to help. I wish I could help more. I wish I could help more. I wish I could help more.

ANSWER: I believe with all my heart that God wants to help you more than you can ever imagine—yes, more than you ever want to be helped yourself. You see, God doesn't want you to resign yourself to "that little private hell of yours." He wants you to have hope. He wants you to have hope. He wants you to have hope. He wants you to have hope. He wants you to have hope.

Oral Roberts

QUESTION: I had even dreamed of one day becoming the pastor of my home state. But suddenly my dream was shattered and I was banished for months with little or no hope of recovery. This one day as I lay in bed, wrapped up in the little hell of mine, God stepped in. He made himself as real to me that I called Him to forgive me of my sins and take control of my life. Although I was not physically healed at that time, the joy of the Lord filled me and completely I forgot my private hell of mine. He made my predicament for a time and I had my first taste of heaven on earth. And let me add that within a short time God did heal me—not only of the tuberculosis but also of the stuttering which had plagued me all my life. My point is this: Even while you are in the midst of your problem God can lift you out of your discouragement and give you a new expectancy. He can give you hope instead of despair, faith instead of fear, peace instead of turmoil. The little hell of mine was shattered and I was banished for months with little or no hope of recovery. "That's why I say, 'Don't give up!' God loves you, and He can make a way where there is no way! So... how are you treating on God as your source."

Prescribing Heart Medicine

DEAR DR. LAMB—Recently, I was listening to a TV program that missed the first part. The doctor was discussing artery blockage of the heart causing angina or heart pain. He mentioned a medicine called Inderal. Can you tell me more about this medicine and what it does? My husband has coronary insufficiency, coronary artery disease. Would this pill help him?

DEAR READER—You can't prescribe for a person without knowing exactly what his problem is and how serious it is, as well as the rest of the health status of that person—in this instance, your husband. I can tell you that Inderal is frequently used to treat high blood pressure and also to treat individuals who have irregularities of the heart, and to help relieve angina or heart pain caused by heart disease.

That doesn't mean it is indicated in all these cases because there are other medicines that sometimes work better for a particular case, but it is a very useful medicine and often is the proper choice. The basic action of Inderal is to block the effects of adrenaline. Some individuals have irregularities of the heart because they are particularly sensitive to adrenaline products produced either by their own nervous system or by the adrenal gland. Adrenaline tends to be stored in the heart muscle and causes it to be more irritable.

Annual Awards Presented

Highlight of the annual awards luncheon given by Seminole Memorial Hospital this week for the SMH Auxiliary was the recognition of members who have given at least 100 volunteer hours in service and honor.

His Folks Are Nice But She's Miserable

DEAR ABBY: I am 34 and Larry is 29, and here is my story: We moved in with Larry's parents right after we got married. ("Only until we find a place of our own," he promised.) Well, it's been five years, and here I sit with two lovely children and a closet full of unused wedding presents.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently visited some out-of-town friends we haven't seen in years. We wanted to stay at a motel but they wouldn't hear of it, so we ended up staying with them, which was a big mistake.

DEAR HUMILIATED: Don't pick up any steps to dance with or that will be the beginning of the end. Tell your "generous, good-natured" guy that charity begins at home. And let him know you mean business!

Lake Howell Loses Toughie, 8-2

By JIM HAYNES
Herald Sports Editor
DAYTONA BEACH—Baby, the rain must fall. Or...into each life some rain must fall.

Either way, Curtis Koen has had enough of it in his life as he tries to get Lake Howell High School's football program on its feet.

The Hawks led until the last two and one-half minutes Thursday night in an 8-2 loss to Mainland.

The game was played in on-and-off rain.

"We drove right to the goal line twice and fumbled," said Howell coach Koen. "I know the ball was wet for both teams, but it didn't help us."

Lake Howell was stymied offensively, held to a total offense of 23 yards. However, a second quarter safety, when punter Greg Lewis touched the ground with his knee in the end zone made it 3-0.

The points stood tall until the end.

Lewis' safety, Lewis downed ball in end zone.

—Cappobianco fumbled in end zone.

There was only 2:21 left in the game when Mainland made good an 18-yard touchdown pass play from Al McMillan to Lewis.

Held deep in its own territory, Howell lost another two points when quarterback Bob Cappobianco was sacked for a safety.

There were a few standouts in defeat for Lake Howell. Dave Weaver, defensive tackle, played a superb game for the Hawks, being in on a down or so tackle. The plays he hurt Mainland most on, however, were the two times on which he stole the ball from an opposing ball carrier.

One of those plays found him returning the play for 50 yards and almost scoring a touchdown.

Defensive stalwarts Bo Thomas and Jeff Wallace also were outstanding for Lake Howell.

The loss was the fifth of the season in six games for the Hawks. It was the second win in six games for Mainland.

Three Games Tonight Spice Prep Slate

The high school football beat continues tonight on three fronts for Seminole County teams.

Seminole High takes a short trek to Auburndale to face the Class AAA Bloodhounds; Orlando Bishop Moore is at Lyman; and Oviedo hits the road to Melbourne to meet Central Catholic.

The Seminole Auburndale contest is a non-division, non-conference affair that finds coach Jerry Posey's team seeking its fourth win in six games. The Seminoles were sidelined by Orlando Edgewater and Gainesville, top-ranked teams in the weekly high school poll.

Seminole returns to the county wars next week, hosting Lake Howell.

Lake Branley is off this week. The Patriots are working toward an Oct. 28 tester at Mainland.

San Francisco, Chicago at Tampa Bay, New Orleans at Houston, Los Angeles, San Diego at Detroit, Washington at the New York Giants and St. Louis at the New York Jets.

Unbeaten Pittsburgh heads Houston Monday night.

Celtics Sign Chris Ford

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Celtics, trying to shore up their backcourt defense, Thursday acquired veteran Chris Ford from the Detroit Pistons in exchange for Earl Tatum.

The trade of the two guards also gives Boston an unspecified future draft choice from the Pistons.

Parker, Garvey Head National All-Stars

NEW YORK (UPI) — Outfielder Dave Parker of the Pittsburgh Pirates and first baseman Steve Garvey of the Los Angeles Dodgers were the leading vote getters on the UPI 1978 National League All-Star team.

Also named to the team were catcher Ted Simmons of the St. Louis Cardinals and outfielder Reggie Smith of the Dodgers.

Garvey Perry of the San Diego Padres and Bert Hunter of the Dodgers were named the starting pitchers while Rolfe Fingers of the Padres was named the relief pitcher.

The squad was selected by a UPI board of 36 baseball experts who cover games regularly.

The closest vote was in the outfield where Foster (301-90-130) beat out Jack Clark of the San Francisco Giants, 15 votes to 14.

The voting for relief pitcher also was close with Fingers being named on 15 ballots and Kent Tekulve of the Pirates on 11.

Rose and Madlock drew votes at two positions each — Rose getting 23 votes as a third baseman and one as an outfielder and Madlock drawing 10 votes as a second baseman and two as a third baseman.

The voting covered only performance during the regular season and was completed before the playoffs and World Series.

HAWKS' JOHN VIGNONE, LINEBACKER JIMMY SMITH

By MILTON RICHMAN

Yankees After Tommy John?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Next free agent the Yankees are giving offer is 26-year-old lefthander Tommy John, whom the Dodgers told to take a hike when he asked them for a three-year contract.

If John succeeds in getting it from the Yankees, he'll come out of the World Series with the biggest "share" of anybody. And speaking of shares, I'm curious to see how much the Yanks voted Series' hero, Brian Doyle, their little 55-in second baseman who shuttled between them and the minors all season long.

It happened during batting practice before Tuesday night's Series finale, so not too many people noticed Fletcher of the Year Ron Guidry running into the outfield wall at Dodger Stadium while shagging flies. He ran into it so hard, he suffered an ugly bruise on his right knee. "But I caught the ball," he said proudly. Had their been a seventh one, Guidry was on tap to pitch it. "You think the knee might've stopped you?" someone asked him, seeing the extent of the bruise. "I would've pitched with a broom leg," laughed the Yankee left-hander.

I sure hope Thurman Munson is all right. I can't be absolutely positive, but I think I saw him smile during the Yankees' celebration over winning the Series. Maybe he just forgot himself.

Of all the statements I heard during the Series, many coming from sudden self-styled analysts, the one which struck me most was Bob Lemon's fundamentally simple comment on baseball. "It's a game made for kids," he said, "and grown-ups foul it up."

Dodgers' scouting report on Bucky Dent, the Series' MVP, was pitch him inside, which is the way they pitch him in the American League and the reason he keeps injuring his leg by hitting it with foul balls.

Steve Garvey's .308 batting average for the six games offers perfect proof that anything can happen in a short series. Despite his sub-par showing against Yankee pitchers, nine out of 10 National Leagueers will tell you the Dodger first baseman is the most consistent hitter in the circuit.

You can't please everybody. Bill Russell, Davey Lopes and some of the other Dodgers think many of the Yankee fans are delusional while Freddie Patek says if Kansas City's fans showed half as much enthusiasm as the ones in New York, the Royals would win more games.

Don Sutton took the Dodgers' defeat hardest. Red-eyed, he sat slumped in a chair, looking as if he had lost his best friend, and talked about how he didn't know if he'd ever get another chance to pitch in a World Series. He should've remembered what he said before going out to pitch the sixth game. He said and children were all going to love him either way. Sutton was right about that. He'll feel better after he begins working out next week in preparation for the 1979 season.

Nearby Lyle, last year's Cy Young winner and this year's batting figure, passed up the champagne in the Yankees' winning quarters. He didn't feel much like celebrating, knowing he'd pitched to move on somewhere else pretty soon. Being in the lineup didn't bother outfielder Paul Blair, though. He shrugged it up as bad as anyone else after the Yankees' victory, headily holding, "I don't wanna go to Texas!" "I don't wanna go to Texas!" When the time comes, he'll go, anyway.

See Lyle, the Dodgers' ace, in another one moving on, having played out his option with them. "The Dodgers are my life," says the 30-year-old infielder-outfielder from Longview, Texas. "They've been my life since I was 9 years old because of a boy who happened to be on the club from my home town. His name was Charlie Neal and he had played semi-pro ball with my father. After we moved to California, my father would take me to see the Dodgers every time they played in San Francisco. Seeing the Dodgers is like taking one of my limbs away. I'd miss him. The reason I'm going is because I want to play and I want some security." Sutton and Toronto both are interested in Lyle.

Arkansas To Test Longhorns

By United Press International

Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz is as fast with a funny line as any man alive, but if Texas does the kind of things it is capable of in Saturday's showdown in Austin, Holtz will be in no mood for laughter.

"I hope it doesn't turn into a big-play football game," Holtz said, referring to the Longhorns' ability to turn a game around in the time it takes to take out a free safety.

The Razorbacks, 6-4, and ranked third by UPI, and Texas, 4-1, in the eighth spot, also will be vying for strong position in the Southwest Conference. Arkansas is a 5-point favorite.

The Razorbacks, despite their success, have given up some big games this season. But they are coming to the game knowing every play is a potential big play. Texas Coach Fred Akers knows it, too.

"You have to harness as much as possible their complete offense and you know what kind of chow that is," Akers said. "It is going to be difficult. It'll be a challenge for our defense. At the same time, we're going to have to be able to move the ball ourselves and that will be quite a challenge."

Akers said his offense is not as far along as he would like it to be at this stage, but he said to be at this stage, he and the Longhorns are improving.

In Oklahoma, Coach Barry Switzer is hoping the Sooners are gearing for their Big Eight battle against Iowa State with more gusto than they displayed in a narrow 17-10 victory over Kansas.

"We looked terrible against Kansas," conceded Switzer. "The looking good for Iowa State to be as tough as any we've had this year. Maybe people will start listening to coaches when they say there's not much difference in teams anymore. You can see Southern California, Michigan, LSU and Texas A&M. They all got beat and we were lucky we didn't."

Southern Cal, dropping from second to the No. 7 rating after losing to Arkansas State, tries to recover against Oregon, Michigan, falling from fourth to sixth, and Wisconsin, LSU, sliding out of the top 10, plays Kentucky, and Texas A&M goes against Baylor.

There are other traditional games involving the top 10. It's No. 2 Penn State vs. Syracuse, fourth-rated Alabama vs. Tennessee.

Hill Sweeps Sabal Field

Pat Hill captured top honors Thursday in Sabal Field when she shot a 105 to win A Flight in the women's golf tournament. Mary Hornstein had a 93 for low net.

In B Flight, Juanita Peterson had a 96 and Zella Elmsell shot a 76 net in match of cards over Grace Heldman.

Chris Burger had a 90 in C Flight.

Seminole Girls Lose To Deland

The Seminole High girls volleyball team was defeated by Deland Thursday, 3-1, 10-8 and 15-12.

Seminole plays at Mount Dora in an invitational tournament Saturday afternoon.

The conference tourney is Oct. 27-28 at Lake Howell, while Seminole hosts district play Nov. 2-4.

Dolphins, Colts Clash In Battle For AFC East

The Baltimore Colts apparently have abdicated their three-year monarchy over the AFC Eastern Division, and two teams will duel Sunday in New England's Schaefer Stadium with the crown up for grabs.

The Patriots and Miami Dolphins, both 3-4, clash in a battle for first place and both teams are intent on participating in the 1979 playoffs after being thwarted last year by the Colts, who have stumbled to a 2-5 record this season.

The Patriots have won four straight since dropping a wild Monday night game to the Colts, and they will provide a severe test for a Dolphin defense which has given up huge chunks of yardage — but few points. New England sports a finely tuned offense which is usually scrappy on the ground (1,200 yards) and in the air (1,300). Together, the blend represents the AFC's most efficient offense in total yardage.

If the Dolphins have to throw, however, they may be like a fish out of water. Miami has the AFC's top rusher in Del

Williams (88), but they've gained only 800 yards through the air. Regular quarterback Bob Griese replaced Don Bruck in the second half last week and sparked the Dolphins to their third straight triumph, but Miami may be forced to throw more than usual. The Pats' 3-4 defense is designed to stop the run — and it has succeeded spectacularly.

The Dolphins have allowed the most passing yards in pro football, despite an improved pass rush that is still learning, according to Coach Don Shula.

"I think we can look to get even better against the pass," said Shula, "as our young people like Duke (defensive end A.J.) and Baumhower (nose tackle Bob) become even more aware of techniques."

Elsewhere Sunday, Green Bay is at Minnesota, Philadelphia at Dallas, Cincinnati at Buffalo, Cleveland at Kansas City, Denver at Baltimore, Oakland at Seattle, Atlanta at

His Plan For Life: 'No Kids To Watch'

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD UPI—Larry Breeding, who stars in the new "Who's Watching The Kids" series, never asks the question posed in the title of the show because he is a dachshund with no plans to change his lifestyle.

Breeding is an Illinois farm boy who spent three years studying acting and working in the theater in New York before moving to Hollywood three years ago to make commercials and try his hand at television.

Larry became so enamored of Southern California that he convinced his parents to sell their 1,000-acre farm and move west. He helped them settle down in Fallbrook, Calif., on a three-acre avocado and orange grove.

Larry lives in a Hollywood duplex with his girlfriend. They don't talk about marriage. Engaged three times in the past, the youthful actor is wary of matrimony.

His two-bedroom dwelling is a study in green and white and wicker furniture. Thanks to his rural background, the place is full of green plants. The walls are decorated with excellent prints collected from museums and posters from old plays. The walls are white, giving a clean, fresh appearance to his digs.

One bedroom has been transformed into a den where Larry keeps an antique secretary his father refinished for him. He has an old electric peddle fan above his bed and a brace of ancient railroad signal lights in the living room.

Larry is a man who likes a big breakfast and sees to it that he gets it. He prepares scrambled eggs, pheasant, grits and biscuits with red-eye gravy almost every morning just to keep himself going.

He arrives at Paramount Studios at 8 a.m. to begin rehearsals, often working until midnight. When he does get home early his live-in girlfriend prepares dinner. Sometimes, after spending 14 hours on the set, Larry spends the night in his dressing room, too exhausted to drive home.

Driving in a limo of his, especially since he bought a racy new Jensen-Healey which he took to and from the studio.

A pair of gray alloy coils, Tom and Allen, are his only pets. He named his new television company, "Who's Watching The Kids."

An easy-going character, Larry spends the weekends planting flowers in the garden or lounging beside a friend's swimming pool studying scripts. Now and then he takes off for a ranch near Santa Barbara to ride horseback, another farm related hobby.

He plays tennis on public courts but says jogging is just too much trouble.

Haysam Georgi as "Scratch"

'Scratch': A Devil Of SCC Play

The 1978-79 season of the Seminole Community College Players will open Oct. 26 with Archibald MacLellan's new play, "Scratch" — a new play suggested by Stephen Vincent Benet's short story, "The Devil and Daniel Webster."

Historical facts, literature and theology are interwoven into a suspenseful story.

The play is set in the 1850s with three main principals, a jury and judge, and other characters.

Jabez Stone has been poverty-stricken all his life. He plows the fields and one day his plow breaks. He utters, "I swear, it's enough to sell myself to the devil."

The Devil, "Scratch," appears and a promise is made. Jabez agrees to sell his soul to the Devil in exchange for seven years of prosperity.

Jabez becomes a wealthy man in New Hampshire. He enjoys his riches, but the seven years pass swiftly. It is time for his soul to be given to the Devil. Jabez breaks the promise and a trial is held.

The jury is comprised of others who have been previously destined to Hell, including Aaron Burr and Judge Hawthorne of the Salem Witchcraft trials.

The play, in rehearsal almost seven weeks, will run through Oct. 29. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Admission: Free.

Depressed 'Mary' Facing 3-Week Plastic Surgery

NEW YORK (UPI)—The people who put together the "Mary" show are pulling it apart. And what they resemble just might be found at a new time.

"Mary" is suffering from depression — severely depressed ratings opposite ABC's "Battlestar Galactica" and NBC's "Centennial." In the ratings for the week ending Oct. 8, "Mary" wound up with a 24 percent share of the viewing audience, while "Centennial" took a 34 percent share and "Galactica" soared off with a 28 share.

MTM Productions, which produced the new Mary Tyler Moore vehicle, has eight completed "Mary" shows in the can and has taken a three-week hiatus in shooting to re-evaluate the program format.

In the meantime, CBS is giving "Mary" a two-week vacation from the air, while it tries rejiggering its Sunday night schedule on Oct. 15 and preempting "Mary" for the television movie, "Like Mom, Like Me" on Oct. 22. The Sunday shuffle shows where CBS' mind is at. If you want to shoot down big game like "Galactica" and "Centennial," you need big guns. As a result CBS put "All in the Family" and "Alice" in the 8-9 p.m. (Eastern time) slot. How will the Archie and Edith show rate against the old west and outer space?

'We deserve a better time'

Then CBS is putting a special episode of "Dallas" in the 9:10 p.m. slot, aptly named "Dallas" in the present slot at 10 p.m. Saturday night (Eastern time) opposite ABC's "Fantasy Island." "Dallas" hasn't exactly started a stampede. It looks like "Dallas" will have to make it in a new time period or go the way of the longhorns.

"Mary" is another matter, and no one is ready to relegate Mary Tyler Moore to the scrap heap.

"We originally were going to take a one week hiatus — now we've add two more for three in all — in order to rethink the format of the show and try to be more responsive to what the audience wants," said Larry Bloustein, a spokesman for MTM Productions in Los Angeles.

Bloustein said in a television interview that what the reviewers and audience alike appeared to be demanding was "more, more and more Mary."

"It's very interesting to Mary," he said, "but we have a wonderful supporting cast that we think would catch on like Betty White and Ted Knight and Garin MacLeod in the other show if the audience weren't so picky."

That since the audience is picky, Bloustein says he would like to retool the new format as if it was catching, and MTM isn't in any position to insist, "Mary" will get a new look.

Format aside, there is the matter of time slot and "Mary" is in a tough one. "We deserve a better time," Bloustein said, hoping that CBS would decide to try rescheduling "Mary," perhaps at a later time on Sunday nights.

"Of course, CBS has to put something in that spot and it's a difficult one," he said. "And we asked for it — we figured '90 Minutes' had the most intelligent audience in television and we thought that audience would like our show."

The strategy that has worked for "90 Minutes" has pitted the news magazine against children's programming, giving the audience an adult alternative to "Hardy Boys" and

'We have to redesign the show...'

"Disney." The difficulty is that "Galactica" turns out only kids but also their space opera-minded parents, and "Centennial" is an adult show with surprisingly strong pulling power. It has ranked in the top 20 Nielsen ratings for both its outings so far.

"It looks like these viewers are going somewhere else and we're losing our in-land audience," Bloustein admitted.

"Look, I think our show is wonderful and the cast is brilliant but we're not doing the show to please me. We have to redesign the show to please the audience."

Ask Dick Kleiner

DEAR DICK: I am trying to recall several series from the '60s. One was "East Side, West Side," about two social workers in New York. I say George C. Scott and Cicely Tyson played the leads, but friends say no. Also, "The 200 Years," I believe it was called, about a man recovered from an iceberg which I think starred Monte Markham — did I dream that up? No one else seems to remember it. Also, we have seen Mark Richman in many villainous roles, lately but I remember a series called "Cain's Hundred" which he starred in. Right? LOIS BOWLDS, Garberville, Calif.

Your memory is pretty good. Scott and Miss Tyson were the stars of "East Side, West Side." And there was a series about a man recovered from the ice — most of your friends were smart and forgot it, it was so bad. It was called "The Second Hundred Years" and starred Markham and Arthur O'Connell. And Richman — he calls himself Peter Mark Richman now — was the hero of "Cain's Hundred," although he was a tough sort of hero.

DEAR DICK: Ever since Burt Reynolds' recent films, such as "Hooper," I've put aside boys and men like Erik Estrada, Scott Baio and others. Now I'd like some info on Burt. If possible, how old is he? What color are his eyes? S.S., Tucson, Ariz.

Erik and Scott are down-hearted, S.S., but obviously it's a sign of maturity. Congratulations on coming of age. Burt is 42, DEAR DICK: We are wondering if Vickie Lawrence is the daughter of Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme. We think she is great, and so are they. H. Athens, Ga.

You are great and I am great and Vickie is great and Steve and Eydie are great — but none of us is related.

'WKRP': Ho Hum; Nothing Happens

By DAVID HANDLER

It might take politicians a heap of fun, but he has this cub-ruby idea he wants to make WKRP a rock n' roll station. No way, says Big Guy until he finds out there's tons of you-know-what to be made off that noise.

Whence "WKRP in Cincinnati," an outing which prespires with up-to-the-minute zanyness but never manages to rise above low-hum generation gap comedy. The newsmen still does his hipsters all over again. Welcome back to the '60s, hold the mace, please.

WKRP is a sleepy, Muzak radio station headed by a balding conservative who likes to be called the Big Guy. "I'm in charge here," claims Big Guy, "but sometimes Mama scares me a little."

The DJs are relics like Johnny Caravello, jettisoned from the big time years ago for employing the word "booger" on the air. The newsmen is a pint-sized nerd in a bow tie who has no sense of humor. The sales manager is a slimy creep who's always making passes at the Big Guy's secretary, who's so well-equipped that she can knock your eyeglasses across the room without taking a deep breath.

Enter Andy, the newbroed programming manager. He's a good ol' boy, just a
