

Year-Around Schools Appear Here To Stay

By EDWARD NEILAN
Copy News Service
WASHINGTON — Goodby, student summer vacations!
More and more American schools are holding class on a year-round basis and authorities say this latest — and most controversial — educational innovation is here to stay.
That is the conclusion of a new report — "Year-Round School: Districts Develop Successful Programs."
The report, published by the National School Public Relations Association, estimates that about 25 school districts across the country are operating either full year-round programs or pilot projects in one or two schools.
In addition, scores of school districts in at least 27 states are actively studying the concept.

The report flatly predicts that the idea is going to grow even more in the months ahead because of "the continuing and rising pressures for more and better learning for children and youth in today's urban society and the constant demands from taxpayers to at least hold the line on educational costs."
"As more and more school budgets and bond issues are rejected by the taxpayers, more and more school boards will continue to look at year-round schools as the most viable alternative," the report says.
"Parents are quick to oppose double sessions and oversized classes for their children. Educators will press for more opportunities to individualize instruction and revise curricula. Taxpayers will continue to resist costly building programs."

Winn-Dixie Seeks To Hold Costs

The nine divisional managers responsible for the operation of 85 Winn-Dixie food stores located throughout the southeastern part of the United States met this week in Jacksonville to search for ways to hold expenses in line and stabilize their retail food prices.
The management of the Jacksonville headquarters firm called the meeting in an effort to put the combined experience of Winn-Dixie's key people toward the task of expense reduction.
Joe A. Adams, executive vice president, told the group, "We must make every effort to hold the line on retail food prices even in the face of increased product cost and higher operating expenses." He stated that often times during an election year, the food industry is made the "whipping boy" for an inflationary economy. Yet, food consumed at home takes a lower percentage of spendable income than ever before.

Every category of expense was studied from the receiving of merchandise in the company's warehouses to the customer's purchase and checkout at the cash registers.
Adams said, "According to a Cornell University study, the average net profit of the retail food industry is less than one per cent. This makes it essential for us to exert maximum control over our expenses."
Adams reiterated Winn-Dixie's pledge to fully comply with Phase II of the current economic stabilization program. J. R. King, vice president and division manager of the Jacksonville division, was optimistic about the positive results the second-day session could bring about in holding food prices in line.

'Trend Toward Light' Chou Vows Cooperation

By HENRY HARTZENBUSCH
Associated Press Writer
PEKING (AP) — Premier Chou En-lai pledged tonight that China "will work unwaveringly" for normal relations with the United States.
At a dinner in his honor, the Chinese leader was responding to a toast from President Nixon, who declared: "We have begun the long process of removing that wall between us."
The toasts seemed more low-key than those raised at Chou's banquet for the Nixons on Monday. At that time Chou remarked that "the gates to friendly contact have finally opened."

Nixon said the two peoples can "rise to the heights of greatness from which we can build a new world."
Nixon gave a nine-course banquet for Chou and his Chinese associates in the Great Hall of the People, where the premier had entertained the presidential party at a dinner on the Americans' first day in China.
It was a meal of Chinese food except for grapefruit and orange segments from California and Florida, and California champagne.

Nixon in his toast, said it is possible for nations with different systems and values "to live together in peace... letting history rather than the instincts of the past be the judge of their decisions."
Chou, who was seated at Nixon's right at the banquet, applauded frequently as the president spoke. Nixon likewise clasped his hands as Chou spoke.
Then Chou and Nixon drank a toast as the band played "America the Beautiful."
Nixon mingled with the crowd, exchanging toasts with various Chinese officials.
In his introductory remarks he praised the Chinese people.
Recalling his visit to the Great Wall of China, Nixon called it one of "the great wonders of the world." He said the wall showed the determination of China to maintain its independence through its history.

Chou responded to Nixon's toast by expressing his thanks to the president for being host at the banquet.
"We have exchanged views on normalization of relations," Nixon continued, noting that Chou had met with him and had a talk with Mao Tse-tung.

Second Time Around

By FRANK MACOMBER

If this story is a little confusing, it makes amends with the happiest possible ending. James and Effie Hanback of Torrance, Calif., have remarried after a "trial separation" of 54 years. During the more than half a century after their divorce, James was a husband again for 36 years until his second wife's death in 1970. And Effie was widowed after a second marriage of 45 years.
The Hanbacks were married the first time in 1911 in Lawson, Mo. He was 17 and she was 14. They had three sons and two daughters before something happened to the marriage.
The second-time-around newlyweds credit their children with reuniting them. James has lived in California most of the last half-century, while Effie stayed in Missouri. She came out to California to visit the children in 1964 and saw James for the first time in years. She returned in 1970 and they met again. Things began to go well between them, but Effie thought any talk of remarriage should wait until they got reconciled.
Last August, James flew back to Missouri to see Effie. "On our first date more than 60 years ago he rode a mule," Effie recalls. "This time he came in a jet."
After a constant exchange of letters between California and Missouri, Effie finally came West again, this time for good. To the delight of their two surviving children, George and Geneva, they announced their engagement, or reengagement, and marriage followed quickly.
"We're very happy to be together again, to enjoy our children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren," Effie says.
How's that for happy?

Think of International Business Machines Corp. (IBM) and the whirl of coldly calculating computers usually comes to mind, doesn't it?
Everybody knows computers have no hearts, but IBM has one.
The New York-based firm has given 12-month salaries to 18 of its scientists, engineers and business management specialists. Their interim mission: to teach 18 black colleges in the South.
They will instruct in such subjects as mathematics, computer science, engineering, circuit logic design and physics.
The unusual program, praised by many black leaders, began last September but its details were withheld until "we were certain we had something to talk about," explains Prector H. Houston, director of equal opportunities plans and program for IBM.

Districting Of City Proposed By CofC

By BILL SCOTT
Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce legislative and national affairs committee this morning approved a resolution advanced by a five-man study sub-committee asking the City of Sanford to establish single districts based on geographical and population lines for candidates for City Commission. Exact number of districts was not included in the resolution and presumably will be determined at later meetings.

Just have to share this one with you. First read it in the column written by Rev. David Poling... part of same which carries this logic:
They said, "You are no longer a lad."
I nodded.
They said, "Enter the council lodge."
I sat.
They said, "Our lands are at stake."
I scowled.
They said, "We are at war."
I hated.
They said, "Prepare red war symbols."
I painted.
They said, "Count coups."
I scalped.
They said, "You'll see friends die."
I cringed.
They said, "Desperate warriors fight best."
I charged.
They said, "Some will be wounded."
I bled.
They said, "To die is glorious."
They lied.

Talk about the poverty program and automatically you think in terms of the Community Action, etc.
Well, up to Baltimore they really do understand the meaning of the missing person.
Honest... would you believe that the Baltimore Community Action Agency was forced to close 11 of its 33 centers in the city because of a lack of funds.
(That's not too unusual, though look at all of us who go from Friday-to-Friday, trying to make the check last.)

Walter Gielow, sub-committee chairman, read the resolution, which was approved with one "nay" vote and one abstention. Sanford commissioners are presently studying a new charter for the city and it is the intention of the Chamber committee actions to persuade the Commission to allow the charter to be drawn setting district lines.
The new charter must then be approved by the city voters in a December referendum, same election which also will allow the city to vote on a new mayor-commissioner and a commissioner.
When final committee plans are worked out, they will be presented to the City Commission for inclusion in the new charter.
Voting against the motion, which was offered by Dr. George Starke, was Phillip Logan, committee member, who said districting was artificial and "all city residents should have the right to vote on all candidates."
George Crossley, committee vice chairman, stated under the present system he did not feel a black could be elected to office even if the black is more qualified than a white opponent.

Who Was That Woman I Saw You With?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After Charles Ward bought $80 worth of clothing last month, he told the court in a $5,000 damage suit, he received a bundle of trouble.
The 31-year-old airport skycap told Superior Court Thursday that a salesman from the store sent him a follow-up postcard saying he'd enjoy serving "you and Mrs. Ward."
Ward, who insisted he was alone when he shopped, said his wife of 11 years, Louanna, hit the ceiling, accused him of shopping with another woman, mused objects and "objectives... inconsistent with legal decorum" and ordered him out of the home.
Ward said he hoped that any forthcoming ruling in his favor would restore the irate Louanna's faith in him and invite him once again "to her confidence and the bosom of my family" at their home in suburban El Cerrito.
Spokesmen for the store were unavailable for comment on the suit.

COMPLAINT IS NINE MONTHS OLD
The photograph was published nine months ago by The Sanford Herald when Sidney Vihlen Jr. first called attention to untreated sanitary waste flowing through this storm sewer into the City of Sanford harbor across from the post office. He has renewed his request the City be compelled to eliminate the situation (see accompanying article by Jane Casselberry).

Vihlen Reiterates: City Polluting Lake

By JANE CASSELBERRY
County Commissioner Sidney L. Vihlen Jr., acting as a private citizen, today requested the regional engineer for the Florida Department of Air and Water Pollution Control, Alex Senkevich, to take action to stop the City of Sanford from dumping raw sewage and untreated waste into the eastern section of Sanford Marina on Lake Monroe.
Howard Rhodes, acting regional engineer, speaking in the absence of Senkevich, who was in Lake Wales today on department business, told the Herald he was uncertain as to what course of action will be taken but that the decision will be made Monday on the return of Senkevich.

Vihlen told the Herald that as of 8:45 a.m. today when he checked the scene the pollution problem was "still very much in evidence."
In his letter he said, "As you know, this sewage is being dumped from a large concrete culvert owned by the City of Sanford and creates the con-

Longwood Stands With Annexation

By DONNA ESTES
LONGWOOD — City Council last night voted unanimously to stand by its annexation of a small tract of land despite threat of probable court litigation.
In a motion made by E. E. Williamson, senior member of the board, City Attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr. was instructed to notify Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr.'s unnamed clients that the city is prepared to defend its position and annexations in court.
Council also authorized issuance of a building permit to allow construction of a professional parking on the annexed parcel being challenged.
Letter from Cleveland, read into the record, said the method used by the city to annex SR 434 some years ago has been declared unconstitutional and hopefully Council will undo what it has done. The correspondence contended that if the city refuses to "de-annex" the parcel on which a dentist plans to build a professional building, appropriate court action will be filed. Cleveland's letter announced that the notification to the city is not intended as a threat.
Davis admitted the state law under which the annexation of the road was accomplished was declared in the early 1960s to be unconstitutional. He added that the Legislature did not repeal the law nor change it despite the Florida Supreme Court decision.

The attorney said if the owner of the Weinstock property situated adjacent to Knowlton is not willing to agree to deannexation, the city would have no recourse but to defend its actions in the court.
Davis continued that the annexation in his view is valid and would remain valid until a Court declares otherwise.
Chairman Eugene Jaques opined that if it is wrong for Longwood to annex roads under the state law, the neighboring South Seminole cities, which also annexed right-of-way, are also wrong. And, further, if the Weinstock annexation is invalid, a large number of city annexations are as well.
Davis said the particular law used permits annexation of land on which reside less than 19 registered voters. Corridor or roadway annexation as such has not been tested in the court, he said. While the state law was used as basis for the road annexation, the city's petition charter provision was used to annex the Weinstock tract.
When questioned the land was given a business district zoning designation and this is the major rub, the attorney said.
"It is question of whether their threats are going to force you to de-annex," he said.

Added Payrolls Sought

A list of industrial prospects for the state will be sought from the Florida Department of Commerce and its head, Lt. Gov. Tom Adams, by the Seminole County Industrial Development Authority, in an effort to entice new industry into the area.
The authority, in a meeting Thursday afternoon at Altamonte Springs, agreed to John Mercer's suggestion that the Board's executive director, David F. Kelley, contact Adams.
Mercer said the list should be obtained from the Commerce Department before it is picked over by other industrial groups in the state.
The instruction to Kelley came after he showed copies of a booklet prepared by Adams and the state Commerce Department, which showed Seminole is one of counties that is below the $2,700 national per capita income.
Seminole County was placed 25th in the survey, which was prepared and distributed at the direction of the lieutenant governor.
The average earnings in the two counties was listed at $3,338 but it was figured to be even lower in the Sanford area.
It was disclosed in the survey that 38.4 per cent of Seminole County households have incomes of less than $5,000 a year. Kelley said, "We're in miserable condition," because of the low wages paid workers.
According to the report, reasons for the state not developing industrially were listed as rigid water and air pollution controls standards that discourage industrial development; Florida growing almost totally in terms of population rather than economic conditions state spends less than one quarter of one per cent for improving the standard of living for its people.

Smoking Lamp Is On? Off?

By DONNA ESTES
LONGWOOD — The smoking lamp will not be lit at meetings of the City Council, two members of the board affirmed Thursday night.
The large red "no smoking" signs posted in the city hall for the past two years or more are virtually ignored by some members of the audience at meetings.
When Councilman Dick Crenshaw asked, "Is there any objection to removing the 'no smoking' signs?" senior member of the board, E. E. Williamson declared, "I do." His sentiments were echoed immediately by Chairman Eugene Jaques.
The subject was not pursued and two land developers present smoked right on.

Gift Of God Eternal Life

By Rev. G. Blair McGarvey
Sanford Alliance Church

In Roman 6:23 the Apostle Paul writes to the churches at Rome, "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

As we enter the season of Lent and approach the Easter season, we begin to think of the "WAGES OF SIN." In Romans 3:23, "The scripture states that, 'All have sinned and come short of the glory of God.' We further read, 'There is none righteous, no one not...' (Romans 3:10) If the wages of sin is death, and all have sinned... all are judged guilty before God... then I want to know what is meant by death... because Satan always pays his wages.

In Genesis, God spoke to Adam and said, "But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die." (Gen. 2:17) When Adam ate, Adam died, because God said it and God cannot lie. Adam became separated from God. He suffered spiritual death. Adam became subject to physical death, his body began to die. Adam became subject to the possibility of permanent separation from God, Eternal death. Adam sinned, and "the wages of sin is death." This is that moment of disobedience and sin, Adam died spiritually, became subject to death physically, and faced eternal separation from God as a real possibility... in fact that eternal separation from God became Adam's "right."

We hear much about "rights" in these days of self-indulgence and comfort seeking. Since the wages of sin is death, and since all have sinned, man has a "right" to his wages. This is, in fact, the only thing that man really has a "right" to claim. All that man enjoys - life and health, wealth and power, blessings untold, these are ours because of God's mercy. Salvation can be ours, not as a "right", but as a gift of God's grace.

This brings us to the question, "How does God exchange our 'right' which is death, for His gift of grace which is Eternal Life?" The "why" is His love, and the "how" is His Son, Jesus Christ. Look our "right" that we who believe on His name might share His "right." Our "right" is death. His "right" that we who believe on His name might share His "right." Our "right" is death. His "right" is Sonship with God. In Philippians 2:6-8, Paul is speaking of Jesus Christ, "Who being in the form of God, thought it not (a thing to be grasped) for to be equal with God; but made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of man; And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross."

On that day, which we commemorate on Good Friday, Jesus Christ, the sinless Son of God, "Conceived of the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary" climbed a hill called Calvary, and there He became subject to death. Jesus "tasted death for every man." (Hebrew 2:9) He became subject to the wages of sin when He died on the CROSS. He took death that rightly should come upon every man. He took hell that man might have heaven.

Notice please, what the death of Jesus involved, and the wages of sin can be seen. On the cross of Calvary we see what man deserves... what man owns a "right" to receive. There was loneliness there on the cross. Jesus was deserted by His followers, by His family, and His friends. The group that followed Jesus to the cross was reduced to one disciple, His mother and several friends. The disciples doubted, denied, and departed, leaving Jesus to face His accusers alone. Even those who went to the foot of the cross could go no further. They remained while Jesus was nailed to the cross. Death and hell, fellowship.

Separation from His Heavenly Father was evident there on the cross. "My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me?" (Matt. 27:35) cried Jesus, as in that dark hour He experienced separation from the face of His Father, God. Physical suffering characterizes the cross. Such anguish as few can imagine was the purpose of the cross. It was designed to punish cruelly and to bring lingering agony. Mental anguish was a part of this death. Exposed to the gaze of men, the cross was a shameful death.

All this and more comprise the wages of sin which Jesus tasted for man because of His great Love. Why review the awesome and awful death of the cross... because it is the measure of God's love to us. Jesus loved so much that He was willing "to become obedient unto death, even the death of the cross."

Jesus, God's Son, has taken our "rights" that we might, by faith, share His inheritance. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believe on Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16)

THOUGHTS

Religion that is pure and undefiled before God and the Father is this: to visit orphans and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unstained from the world.—James 1:27.

Religion gives men and women strength to face the vicissitudes of everyday living. It helps mold character and personality. It enables the individual to make decisions which are fair and honest.—J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director.

Suspect Charged

County jail cell Monday night. Both Whalen and Perkins had been arrested earlier on warrants charging the pair with robbery and kidnaping Walter Barone, manager of the same store that employed Day.

Barone told investigators he was abducted at gun point Feb. 7 from his home, forced to drive to the store, and was robbed of $3,700 by the pair, who reportedly warned Barone he would be killed if he disclosed the robbery to anyone, according to Kriz. Resulting investigation of the robbery of Barone turned up the same suspects as the accused killers of Day. Kriz said Day also was forced to "hand over" a large sum of money to his killers before they drove him to the Trinity Preparatory School campus and stabbed him seven times in the chest.

Developer Wins The Final Word

LONGWOOD—A land developer, who paid a $50 fee last week before the city's planning and zoning commission would consider his plan for a planned new subdivision, got the last word Thursday, following an interpretation of a resolution and the subdivision ordinance by City Attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr. that the city has no regulation requiring any builder to pay fees for plats.

It will be his duty to discharge the responsibility of corporate citizenship in a degree proportional with that of all other businesses."

Price Bulge Unchanged Wholesale Prices Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices jumped another eighth-tenth of one per cent in January. The rise exactly matched December's increase and indicated that the expected Phase 2 price bulge has not yet begun to flatten out. When adjusted for the usual seasonal trends, the rise in the wholesale index was only half as great, or four-tenths of one per cent, the Labor Department's announcement said. The seasonal improvement resulted from a smaller climb in food and farm products, which rose 3.2 per cent in December—the biggest increase for those items in 10 months—and 1.3 per cent in January. But there was no comfort for administration economists in the segment of the index that covers industrial materials and commodities. It increased five-tenths of one per cent, compared with four-tenths of one per cent in December. The industrial commodities are considered a better indicator of future price movements at retail than food and farm prices.

Ground Troops In Big Battle

U.S. fighter-bombers continued to pound the area. Meanwhile, U.S. military sources said heavy U.S. air strikes against three major enemy base camps along South Vietnam's western border in mid-February knocked out more than 200 trucks and destroyed large quantities of ammunition and fuel. The sources reported, however, they could not say how the raids had affected enemy plans for an offensive in South Vietnam's central highlands, which has been predicted for several weeks by U.S. officials.

Fiscal Aide Question In Abeyance

LONGWOOD—Appointment of a fiscal agent for the city is being held in abeyance pending recommendation of City Attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr. Mayor Kenneth Brown said Thursday night the only difference between proposals submitted by fiscal experts, Robert Wagner and Logan Browning, is that Wagner's company has pledged to purchase bonds for the new sewer system in the event the city cannot sell them at public sale. Davis said he will give an opinion of the proposals at the March 3 meeting of Council. The attorney reminded, at the same time, that unless the city receives assistance from the federal government in the form of outright grants there is little likelihood a sewer system will be constructed in the municipality. In other action, Council confirmed the appointments by Mayor Brown of Council Chairman Eugene Jaques, Zoning Board member Robert Hammond, Richard Bennett, former councilman H. A. Scott and Mrs. Robert Wagner to the city's historical commission.

Grave Owners Note

LONGWOOD—Permanent floral arrangements, bushes and other personal items on graves in the city's Memorial Gardens cemetery should be removed, according to Councilman William Kiosky and L. L. Williamson. The two members of the board, who are supervising beautification work at the cemetery, said within the next few weeks new topsoil will be placed throughout the newer section of the cemetery and grass will be planted. Those bushes and shrubs not removed by families will be taken up and transplanted to spots around the fence surrounding the city facility. In addition, it should be pointed out, restrictions in the newer section of the cemetery forbid planting of greenery above ground level.

Vote To Enlarge House Enlarges Issue

The 70 members of the Florida House of Representatives who voted to expand that body from its present 119 to 120 seats may have won a Pyrrhic victory which they will live to regret. Indeed it is possible that the flying in the wind public sentiment as shown in polls and votes which want smaller, less expensive, more responsive and more accountable government could start a taxpayers revolt of such proportions that a voter revolt would be the end product.

For this vote was one which is only a single incident in the momentous decisions on apportionment and redistricting which are in the laps of the legislators unless they want to show such irresponsibility that the courts, once more, must make the final decision. It was in 1970 when the ire of taxpayer-voters was aroused so by the self-created salary boost to the $12,000 by the legislators that heads fell and the membership changed. As experienced and wise a voice as that of Speaker of the House Richard Pittigrew (D) of Miami was raised after the vote (40 opposed) to point out the enlarged House could well become a very hot issue when legislators seek re-election in November. The vote, of course, was instructive and goes to the Senate where that body must reduce its membership from 48 to 40, thus landing in a climate hardly receptive to the surprising House move. It is this sort of action that has created a public where non-voting is entirely too prevalent. Was this responsive to any public vote? How, then, can a voter go about forcing accountability? Of course the answer is to deny re-election to those who voted "aye."

But this is the kind of response which would punish the legislator who did vote his conscience and is manifestly unfair. In this instance, however, with the very strong sentiment for smaller governmental bodies rampant, the blanket indictment is justified. Reapportionment, which is to be given center stage at a special session, is something that the public needs to know about and a development which, we are sure, will get through debate then. As this comes into view, we believe that there should be adopted a standard of modern political planning which will carry the "one man, one vote" principle into every decision. Here in Seminole County there is a startling example of an important geographical entity which is, in fact, without responsive representation in the state legislature because of the manner in which the present alignment of such representation is arranged. We believe that there should be representation which would be truly from Seminole County, would run in Seminole County and who would have its talents focused on the needs of this growing and important segment of Central Florida.

Thus there would be created a matter of fact which, we are convinced would result in better voter turnout. Under the present arrangement where Seminole-Orange have a group representation, the way in which individual accountability is evaded encourages the "my vote won't count" attitude. "Accountability" and "Responsiveness" are two words which every political hopeful at every level of government better understand and worry about. With the cost of government spiraling, the cost of living following suit, the taxpayer (who is the voter) could take recourse to the ballot and explode into repercussions even Tallahassee could not ignore.

Retirement Plan Revived Councilman Bill Klosky of Longwood wants to give the employees of his community center a chance to consider going under the state retirement plan. Klosky said he has found funds in the budget to pay for the back box for the main tenance and water departments so sorely needed and the funds allocated for state retirement deductions to pay for half the cost of the plan. The deduction would amount to about four percent with the city to match the sum.

Donna's Deliberations by DONNA ESTES. Some 10 days ago The Herald conducted a survey among the six mayors of Seminole County to gauge their feelings on the question of whether the county should have its own representation in the Florida House of Representatives and the State Senate.

So, that answers the doubts of one of the mayors. The skepticism of the second mayor still remains, however. The solution most likely is that if all six mayors stand united on this issue and make their wishes known, victory is not an impossible goal. The cities are regularly adopting resolutions to the Legislature indicating support or opposition to various pieces of legislation. Couldn't they go the resolution route again. But this time perhaps the resolutions could be sent in a package with a cover letter denoting the fact that all six mayors are unanimously supporting Seminole having our own legislator?

Problems Beset Brown Mayor Ken Brown of Longwood is still plugging away trying to find a time when the full committee, recently appointed to prepare a new charter for the city, can meet. At the first meeting, two of the members were absent and at the second meeting last week two others were not present. Since one member is a local minister and holds services on Wednesday nights, Ken is looking to a change in meeting nights as the possible way to having all five members together at one time. Incidentally, Ken is sure getting a lot of razzing about a recent headline in The Herald quoting one of his statements that the present charter allows a "ding-a-ling" to run for the mayor's office, but gives him little authority. Usual greeting to his honor, Kenneth Henry Brown Jr., when he enters city hall now is "Here come the ding-a-ling." And Councilman Klosky elbows the mayor everytime he makes a colorful remark.

Sen. Henry Jackson has received the endorsement of the Virgin Islands delegation to the 1972 Democratic National Convention. His Miami campaign headquarters announced today. STOP SPINNING MERRY GO ROUND, I WANT TO GET OFF!

I have just had the three most horrible days of my life. My hubby and I had planned a three-day cruise aboard the M. V. Freeport to Preoprest and Nassau. I could just feel the sand in my toes and the sun on my back. Ben looked forward to a little sport at the casino.

Evidently the ship forgot to get the weather report or just neglected to mention to the passengers that there were in for a rough crossing. The first night I was one of the few people not ill and went to the ship's doctor to see if I might help in some way.

After finally sighting Freeprest and feeling like Columbus must have on sighting land we were informed by the Captain that a tanker had been swept on the rocks and all available tugboats had to help the tanker. We would land as soon as possible. Thus one miserable night passed.

Next morning there was much excitement among our little group of passengers. Land again had been sighted and we were sure we were in Nassau as scheduled.

Wrong again! We had been circling Freeprest. Fellow passengers, we circled Freeprest until 6 a.m. Sunday morning when the ship was able to put into port long enough to unload the cargo. We poor miserable creatures were not even allowed to jump off for a newspaper.

We were among the lucky one though because at least we had a place to lay our heads.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Junior Woman's Club Hears 'Helping Hand' Explained

Seminole County's "Helping Hand" program was explained to Sanford Junior Woman's Club members and guests at their February meeting held recently.

Chief Deputy Duane Harrell of the Seminole County Sheriff's Department showed the audience a film illustrating what a child can do if approached by a potential molester.

This program was initiated last year, when families located along the routes used by school children were asked to place "Helping Hand" stickers in their front windows.

If a child is approached by a stranger or suspicious person, he would run to the door of a "Helping Hand" home and ask for assistance.

The home would in turn call the police or sheriff's department immediately.

Further information concerning this program can be obtained from the sheriff's department.

Mrs. Charles Ward Jr., Education Department chairman, asked Chief Deputy Harrell to present the program to members because of recent attempted child attacks.

Spring shoes will be a real treat to the wedge. They feature open toes, or sling-backs, or high platforms, or clogs. Single shirt just pairs are available in your local pattern shop.

Interesting Patches

Patchwork kits for men and women can be made with ultra-modern prints that present an interesting contrast of the traditional and modern. Single shirt just pairs are available in your local pattern shop.

OFF WITH OIL

The glossy look in make-up is not the same as the shine caused by oily skin. If your skin has a tendency toward oiliness, try to avoid the glossy, shiny make-ups. Keep a supply of lemon saturated cotton on hand for use during the day. And use make-ups with more of a powder base.

Visitors Drop By—Illinois State Senator and Mrs. Berthel Howander who recently stopped to visit their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Segerind, while vacationing in Florida, stopped by to view the festive tables at the Deltona Woman's Club recent Caledonia luncheon. Visitors are shown being greeted by Mrs. Kenneth David, co-chairman of the event.

Mothers react to letter on birth of 'special' child

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1972 by Charles Towson, N. Y. News, Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: This is my first letter to a column: How should one react to the news that their friends have had an "abnormal" child? I think I can answer that because we had one. We were lucky enough to be told immediately of our baby's condition and did not have the agony of the slow realization that "something was wrong."

Feeling it best to face the problem, we freely told our friends and relatives about our "special" child. Altho we knew very little about what to expect, he was our baby, and we knew we wanted to keep him with us. He is now a lovely, mischievous 11-year-old Mongoloid, going to a special school, and we have never regretted our decision.

"Perhaps "congratulations" are not in order, but to ignore the presence of a new baby in a home, when you would normally express interest is, I think, cruel. To this day I remember the pleasure I felt when someone came to see our baby, to hold him, and to let me talk about him.

One of the hardest a mother of a retarded child has is not having anyone to confide in. Every child's progress is child's progress. Every tiny gain has a tremendous importance for the mother of a handicapped child.

So, do acknowledge the birth of a special child. Or send a little gift. Or send flowers to the mother. Continue to show an interest (not curiosity), and encourage the parents to get in touch with their local society for retarded children for help with mutual problems. It will be rewarded with much love, affection, and gratitude. EDITH

DEAR ABBY: Some writing asking you if they should send a gift or card of "congratulations" to a mother who has given birth to a Mongoloid child. Thank you for saying: "By all means, yes. To a mother, a child is a child."

I know your advice was sound because I had a Mongoloid son "Freddy" called. They stopped by they even gave me a surprise baby shower when he was a month old. Here is the message on one card which meant so much to me:

"God gave this child to you to guide, to love, to walk thru life beside. A little child so full of charms. To fill a pair of loving arms. God picked you out because he knew How safe His child would be with you. God bless friends like that. MRS. C. B. BEACON, N. Y.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

CITY MANAGEMENT OFFERS CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

By ERNIE HOOD

As noted in the U.S. Labor Department's Occupational Outlook Quarterly over crowding, pollution and high crime rates are examples of the many interwoven problems that challenge city governments from coast to coast.

Coping effectively with these complex issues calls for sophisticated managerial techniques, and many communities are turning to specialists who have such skills—namely, city managers.

In the opinion of Donald Clark, who researched the quarterly article, employment of city managers is expected to increase very rapidly through the 1970s.

Opportunities will be especially good, he says, for those who have a master's degree in public or municipal administration.

This should be reassuring news for the many people across the country who have written this column for information on careers in municipal government.

City management employment growth is related to increasingly complex methods used to solve urban problems.

These methods include: computerization of police information; the use of technology to control traffic; and application of systems analysis to a wide range of urban problems.

TAURUS (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A perfect day for extending yourself with others and thereby paving the way for greater success in the future. Your attractiveness will draw others to you. Try to make me happier, too.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get into your matters over with kin, you can do much to improve conditions at home and have more harmony there. Invite friends in later in the day and have a delightful time. You have work at happiness to really have it.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A good day to be charming with others. State your aims, ambitions so your group activities is wise, too. Dress in good style.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Find the right system for taking care of any promises you have made so there is mutual satisfaction. Forget that urge to criticize others and do something to improve one's life.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Talking over with partners and congenials how best to have greater harmony and more successful results with mutual activities is fine now. You can get much backing from them and can use it wisely. Make this a happy day.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A bigwig is watching how you do that special work assigned to you and can be very generous if you handle it properly. Plan how to get cooperation of co-workers for best results. Rest on laurels tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Forget all that wormout type of amusements and get into some more planning for the future. It will be easy to secure the information now that has long escaped you. Take time for deep meditation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You would do well today to follow your intuitive hunches and get the results you have long been unable to reach. Hunches are also helpful in the p.m. in regard to romance. A more kindly attitude on your part is fine.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) This is the right day to clear up any questionable points with an associate and have excellent understanding between you for the future. You can have far better relations with the public in general, also. Think constructively.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you show gratitude to an associate who has been of help to you in the past, you can do much to make that person happy and improve your surroundings in some way. If there is chatter, clear it up. Retire early.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those very charming and dynamic young people who understands own abilities and powers early and will succeed in almost anything tackled, get along well with others, provided you give the encouragement necessary here while young. Plus the fine education deserved, if you have a little to do to do too much needing could have adverse results here, though.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

WIN AT BRIDGE

Expert Outfoxes Self

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Only an expert of a real deal could get himself set at four hearts. So he did. West would never lead from a king of a suit bid by dummy. Then East had to have the club king. It might well be a doubleton. In that case it would fall under the ace at the next lead and three would be two discards on clubs waiting for him. He would make four hearts and three would be one down.

Unsuccessful, but expert reasoning anyway.

POLY'S POINTERS Hydroponics Is Name For Chemical Gardening

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Hunar wanted to know what chemical gardening is. The name is hydroponics and it is the study of growing plants without soil. They are grown in tanks filled with sand, gravel or water to which nutrients have been added. Metal or plastic containers should be used as wood may leak. Plants grown by this method need the same amount of light and warmth that the plant would require in soil. For more information, look in an encyclopedia under Hydroponics. I am 12 years old—REN

And a pretty smart 12 year old I would say—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is to answer the telephone ring and hear someone say "Who is that?" It just turns me off as surely the caller knows whom he is calling and the reason for the call. It is just common courtesy to ask for the person you want to speak to. In the cities there are crank callers and others with criminal intentions to see if there are anyone at home. I simply refuse to answer such a caller directly but ask "KATH-therin, in return, who is that they are calling—KATH-ERINE

DEAR POLLY—I am a recent graduate from nursing school and find uniforms are very expensive to buy. Since finding material that is suitable for neat-looking uniforms is difficult, made mine out of permanently pressed sheets. My uniforms are not only neat-looking but easy to keep clean. They are very inexpensive to make. I get two uniforms from one sheet and can usually make four, including the zippers and other sewing needs, for approximately $15. I hope this will help some other young nurse or any person who must wear white.

Frosty's Fairway

The annual Kader Tournament, which is put on for the members of the Mayfair Women's Golf Association by Kader Jewelers in Sanford, came to an end this week. The event, usually a 54 hole tournament, had to be reduced to 36 holes because of bad weather over the past few weeks.

Hazel Darn captured the prize of silver with a two round net total of 138. Second place ended in a tie between Lib Robertson and Vivian Conklin, who will meet in an 18 hole playoff next Monday to decide who gets the second place award of silver.

The monthly Mooney award, which is given to the woman who records the best three out of four rounds in the month, also went to Hazel Durso.

In their regular weekly outing, the girls played an 18 hole event in which nine blind holes were picked and the scores tallied.

Jo McDaniel won "A" flight with a 34. Hazel Durso once again became a winner as she captured "B" flight with a 34. "C" flight was won by Evelyn Antar, who turned in a fine 24.

Miriam Askew was the winner of the nine hole group with a 16.

VALLEY FORGE

According to Fran Albrecht, the publicity chairman at Valley Forge, the members of the women's association played low gross, low net this week. The last five scores in the "A" flight, Peg Dorsey continued her winning streak by taking top prize in low gross with a fine 83. Second low gross ended in a deadlock at 85 between Dottie Lucas and Wanda Stenke. In low net category, it was Nannie Lou Schwartzman winning first place at 62, while Shirley Corner took second with 64.

Elaine Bodine recorded an 86 which won her first low gross honors in "B" flight. Margaret Morewood was second with 89. Trudy Cosins was the winner in the low net division with 58, while Jane Montgomery was second with 62.

In "C" flight, the winner of the low gross competition was Betty Lynn who turned in a 91. In second place was Goldie Tudor, who finished with a 99. Wilma Welling won first low net with 63 while Ruth Davis was second at 67.

ROLLING HILLS

The only news this week from the ladies at Rolling Hills comes as the result of the Resident's Cup Tournament which is an annual event. Lucy Weimann won the three round classic by firing net scores of 77-77-72 for a total of 226.

With the absence of air weather golfers, last Saturday's four ball, best ball tournament for the men almost did not materialize. However, at least three teams braved 50 mile-per-hour winds and, in spite of it all, did extremely well. The winning team was comprised of Ron Masten, Rush Bailey, Rod Ross and "Hutch" Hutchinson and turned in a net 56 to pick up first place money at 62 and a share of second place. They were two teams ahead of Lyle Nelson, Henry Tucker, Fred Tannier and George Varni; and B. Howells, Jay Dowling, B. Richards and Don Sefton.

The members of the Rolling Hills Golf and Country Club are really hole-in-one insurance conscious. The last five years of the course have resulted in the member winning a two week vacation for two almost anywhere in the world.

The most recent happy player is Bill Welch, who holed out an eight iron on the par three fifth hole. Congratulations, Bill!!!!

FLORIDA TOUR

The end of the rainbow in golf has to be in Florida. The pot of gold this year is $825,000 all of which begins at the richest of them all, the Jackie Gleason Classic. The $250,000 event will be played in Ft. Lauderdale, February 24-27.

Next will be the Doral-Eastern at the Doral Country Club in Miami which is worth $150,000. As far as us locals are concerned, the really big one is the Florida Citrus Invitational March 9-12, paying $150,000. The pros then swing up to the Greater Orlando Open in Orlando, March 13-15. The prize will be $125,000. The last stop on the tour through the Sunshine State will be Pensacola for the Monsanto Open being played at the Pensacola Country Club. That pot holds another $150,000.

Lion Secret Weapon Does Not 'Upset' Sanford Thinclads

Jackie Matherly finished fourth in the 440 yard run in the Oviedo-Sanford Track meet but it was by far the most popular event of the afternoon.

There is a Miss in the front of Jackie Matherly's name and that is what made the Oviedo runners fourth place finish stand out. And Matherly did not finish last, she beat out a male runner from Oviedo in the event.

Sanford literally "ran away" with the meet, winning by the lopsided tally of 108-24.

Among the first place finishers for Sanford was Dallas Brown, who took time out from his basketball practices to fire the shot put 45 feet, three and a half inches.

The top finisher for the Seminoles was long distance runner, Vic Johnson. Johnson captured the mile run in 5:18 and later took first place in the two mile run with a time of 11:52.

A few other Johnson boys from Sanford did quite well also. Andrew Johnson raced to victory in the 200 yard dash and Ed Johnson vaulted to a first place finish in the high jump. The Seminoles swept the three top finished in five different events, taking all the points in the low hurdles, shot and pole vault.

Seminoles Rise in Tournament

By GARY TAYLOR Herald Sports Editor

The Fighting Seminoles streaked to a record 21st win last night as they advanced in the District 5 AAAA basketball tournament by stopping DeLand 60-44. The Tribe plays Mainland tonight at 8:45 p.m. in the 7 p.m. game tonight, top-seeded Gainesville battles host

The Seminoles were able to get several substitutes off the bench in the second half. The Seminoles had four men in double-figures during contest. Ricky Grant was tops for the Seminoles and high-point in the game with 14 points. Ricky Smith scored 12 for the Tribe and Frank Sloan had 11. Clifford Martin was also in twin figures in the game with 10 points.

A buzzer shot by Pat Crimmins ended the second period and the Tribe took a 29-22 lead into the dressing room.

Next will be the Doral-Eastern at the Doral Country Club in Miami which is worth $150,000. The prize will be $125,000. The last stop on the tour through the Sunshine State will be Pensacola for the Monsanto Open being played at the Pensacola Country Club. That pot holds another $150,000.

VALLEY FORGE

According to Fran Albrecht, the publicity chairman at Valley Forge, the members of the women's association played low gross, low net this week. The last five scores in the "A" flight, Peg Dorsey continued her winning streak by taking top prize in low gross with a fine 83. Second low gross ended in a deadlock at 85 between Dottie Lucas and Wanda Stenke. In low net category, it was Nannie Lou Schwartzman winning first place at 62, while Shirley Corner took second with 64.

Elaine Bodine recorded an 86 which won her first low gross honors in "B" flight. Margaret Morewood was second with 89. Trudy Cosins was the winner in the low net division with 58, while Jane Montgomery was second with 62.

In "C" flight, the winner of the low gross competition was Betty Lynn who turned in a 91. In second place was Goldie Tudor, who finished with a 99. Wilma Welling won first low net with 63 while Ruth Davis was second at 67.

ROLLING HILLS

The only news this week from the ladies at Rolling Hills comes as the result of the Resident's Cup Tournament which is an annual event. Lucy Weimann won the three round classic by firing net scores of 77-77-72 for a total of 226.

With the absence of air weather golfers, last Saturday's four ball, best ball tournament for the men almost did not materialize. However, at least three teams braved 50 mile-per-hour winds and, in spite of it all, did extremely well. The winning team was comprised of Ron Masten, Rush Bailey, Rod Ross and "Hutch" Hutchinson and turned in a net 56 to pick up first place money at 62 and a share of second place. They were two teams ahead of Lyle Nelson, Henry Tucker, Fred Tannier and George Varni; and B. Howells, Jay Dowling, B. Richards and Don Sefton.

Final Second Upset By Greyhound Five

Down three points with less than 20 seconds left on the clock, the Lyman Greyhounds surged from behind and upset fourth-seeded Seabreeze 75-66 in last night's first round action in the District 5 AAAA basketball tournament.

Trailing 64-62, Lyman's Steve Nelson fouled Reginald Dickerson with 19 seconds left in an attempt to get possession of the ball. Dickerson hit on two free throws and it looked hopeless for the Hounds. Nelson hit on a bucket to cut the margin to one again. Then he fouled Dickerson with seven seconds left, and the Seabreeze players went to the line with the one-and-one in effect.

But Dickerson's first try was off, and there was a mad fight for possession of the ball. The ball was knocked to half court where Nelson scooped it up and went in for the game-winning layup with only a second showing on the scoreboard clock.

The lead changed hands several times during the course of the game. Seabreeze jumped ahead in the opening minutes of the first period, but the Hounds fought back to control the margin 19-12 at the buzzer.

The Lyman lead didn't last long as the Daytona Beach-based team scored the first 10 points of the second period and led 22-19. Once again the Lyman squad fought from behind, and coach Bill Moore's team took a 34-31 lead into the scoring column for the Hounds in the third period.

The Sandcrabs got hot in the opening minutes of the final period and charged into the lead once again. It appeared that they were in control of the game.

'Killer' Signs Contract By ALEX SACHARE Associated Press Sports Writer While Harmon Killebrew is happy with his dollars, Vida Blue says he might start collecting his paychecks in yen.

Killebrew, Minnesota's 35-year-old slugger who has hit 513 home runs and driven in 1380 runs in his major league career, signed his 1972 contract Thursday for an estimated $125,000. This would be $150,000 more than he made in 1971, when he clubbed 28 homers and knocked in 119 runs.

Blue, meanwhile, was home in Mansfield, La., even though the Oakland A's were opening their spring training camp in Mesa, Ariz. The 22-year-old pitcher is said to be asking $92,000, while Oakland owner Charlie Finley has offered $80,000.

And according to a report in the San Francisco Chronicle, if he can't come to terms with Finley, Blue might seek employment in Japan.

"Yes, I've been talking to teams in Japan," the Chronicle quoted Blue's attorney, Robert Gerst, as saying. "They are interested, if we can't reach an agreement with Finley."

Blue earned $56 last season, when he had a 24-8 record, a 1.82 earned run average and 301 strikeouts. He won both the Cy Young and Most Valuable Player awards.

Although he still feels he'll eventually get Blue to come to terms, Finley conceded there is a growing possibility the 22-year-old left-hander might not play for the A's this season.

"I'm beginning to wonder," he admitted.

WANT AD

Arnold is devoted wife. As a teen-ager, he heard a traveling salesman describe experiences with prostitutes in Chicago's 'red light' district. The salesman recounted vivid cases of wild sexual passion that were strangled by the commercial female sex pots.

Case T-511: Arnold J. aged 27, is insanely jealous. "Dr. Crane, my pretty wife began, 'Arnold doesn't even let me go to the store to buy my groceries, unless he is always with me. And he shuns social engagements for he thinks all the men are trying to make dates with me.'"

"If we do go to a party, then he accuses me of being unfaithful by not being interested in other men. 'Why, I am not even allowed to attend church by myself!'"

And if we occupy a stranger with other folks, if the pronger near me offers me a glass, then Arnold thinks I must have been talking this man behind his back. "Actually, I am not interested in any other men but Arnold, so why does he make such false accusations?"

JEALOUSY'S CAUSE "It takes a thief to catch a thief," runs an old adage. Which means, in effect, a person who cheats is more likely to suspect others of doing likewise.

When you married couples encounter abnormal signs of jealousy in your mate, then consider the above idea as a possibility. But sometimes the illicit philandering is still in the imagination of the jealous person.

He may merely have contemplated being unfaithful but may not actually have been guilty of physical unfaithfulness. However, it is a sure axiom of psychiatry that a jealous person is a victim of a sexual inferiority complex.

"I haven't what it takes to hold my wife's undying devotion," is thus the terrifying thought that permeates through the mind of such an out-bid man for her affection, is then the follow-up.

So Arnold becomes chronically suspicious of every male he meets and browbeats his wife by false accusations.

Very ardent and often tearful protests of her love are sweet music to his harassed spirit. Actually, the root of Arnold's specific problem was due to his wrong notion about a woman's erotic hunger.

City Panel Nixes Districting Plan

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles termed districting of the city for election of commissioners a "retrogressive form of government" at a City Commission work session called for the purpose of studying the new city charter.

Commenting after the city manager's opinion that formation of districts would have the effect of going backward in city government, Julian Stenstrom opined, "If we're going to districts, I'm in favor of going all the way and restrict voting on a commissioner to those persons living in the candidate's district."

A. A. McClanahan disagreed and vowed, "I'll never vote for that." He explained he has an "open mind" to candidates running at-large if districting is done on that basis.

Mayor Lee P. Moore stated, "What you're doing is allowing the taxpayers to vote only for one man who would spend their money."

John Morris favored having seven commission districts instead of the present five but this was not shared by the other commissioners.

Gordon Meyer opined, "I do not feel it's wise to change at this time." Moore stated, "I feel five is adequate to do the job."

by JOHN A. SPOLSKI

For those who are opposed to the death sentence, I wonder how they'd make out talking with Mrs. Gentile today. She and her husband were shot in their Orlando pawn shop over the weekend... he died later.

Let's show 'em mercy... the Gentile family, in this case; and not the two or three punks who pulled the trigger... even after they cleaned-out the cash register.

Why did they shoot? Why should they not get the electric chair?

That gigantic DC-4 jet which many of you saw come in to Sanford's airport late Sunday afternoon was here for the purpose of returning its 251 passengers to Boston.

According to the pilot, in the next 4 to 6 weeks, that plane will look like a midjet as the bigger DC-10s start making their stops here with Disney-bound tourists. The bigger planes will carry 340 passengers.

QUESTION... If you or I want a driver's license for this state, all we do is plunk down three bucks and take the test. Why then, for students in this county taking a required Driver's Education Course... why then are they required to take a physical at a physician's cost of somewhere between $8 and $10?

If you want to have fun, then go to the Annual Valentine Ball. No stiff starts at these swinging affairs.

As a matter of fact, they sometimes get so exuberant, they forget the many work hours which go into their having an enjoyable time.

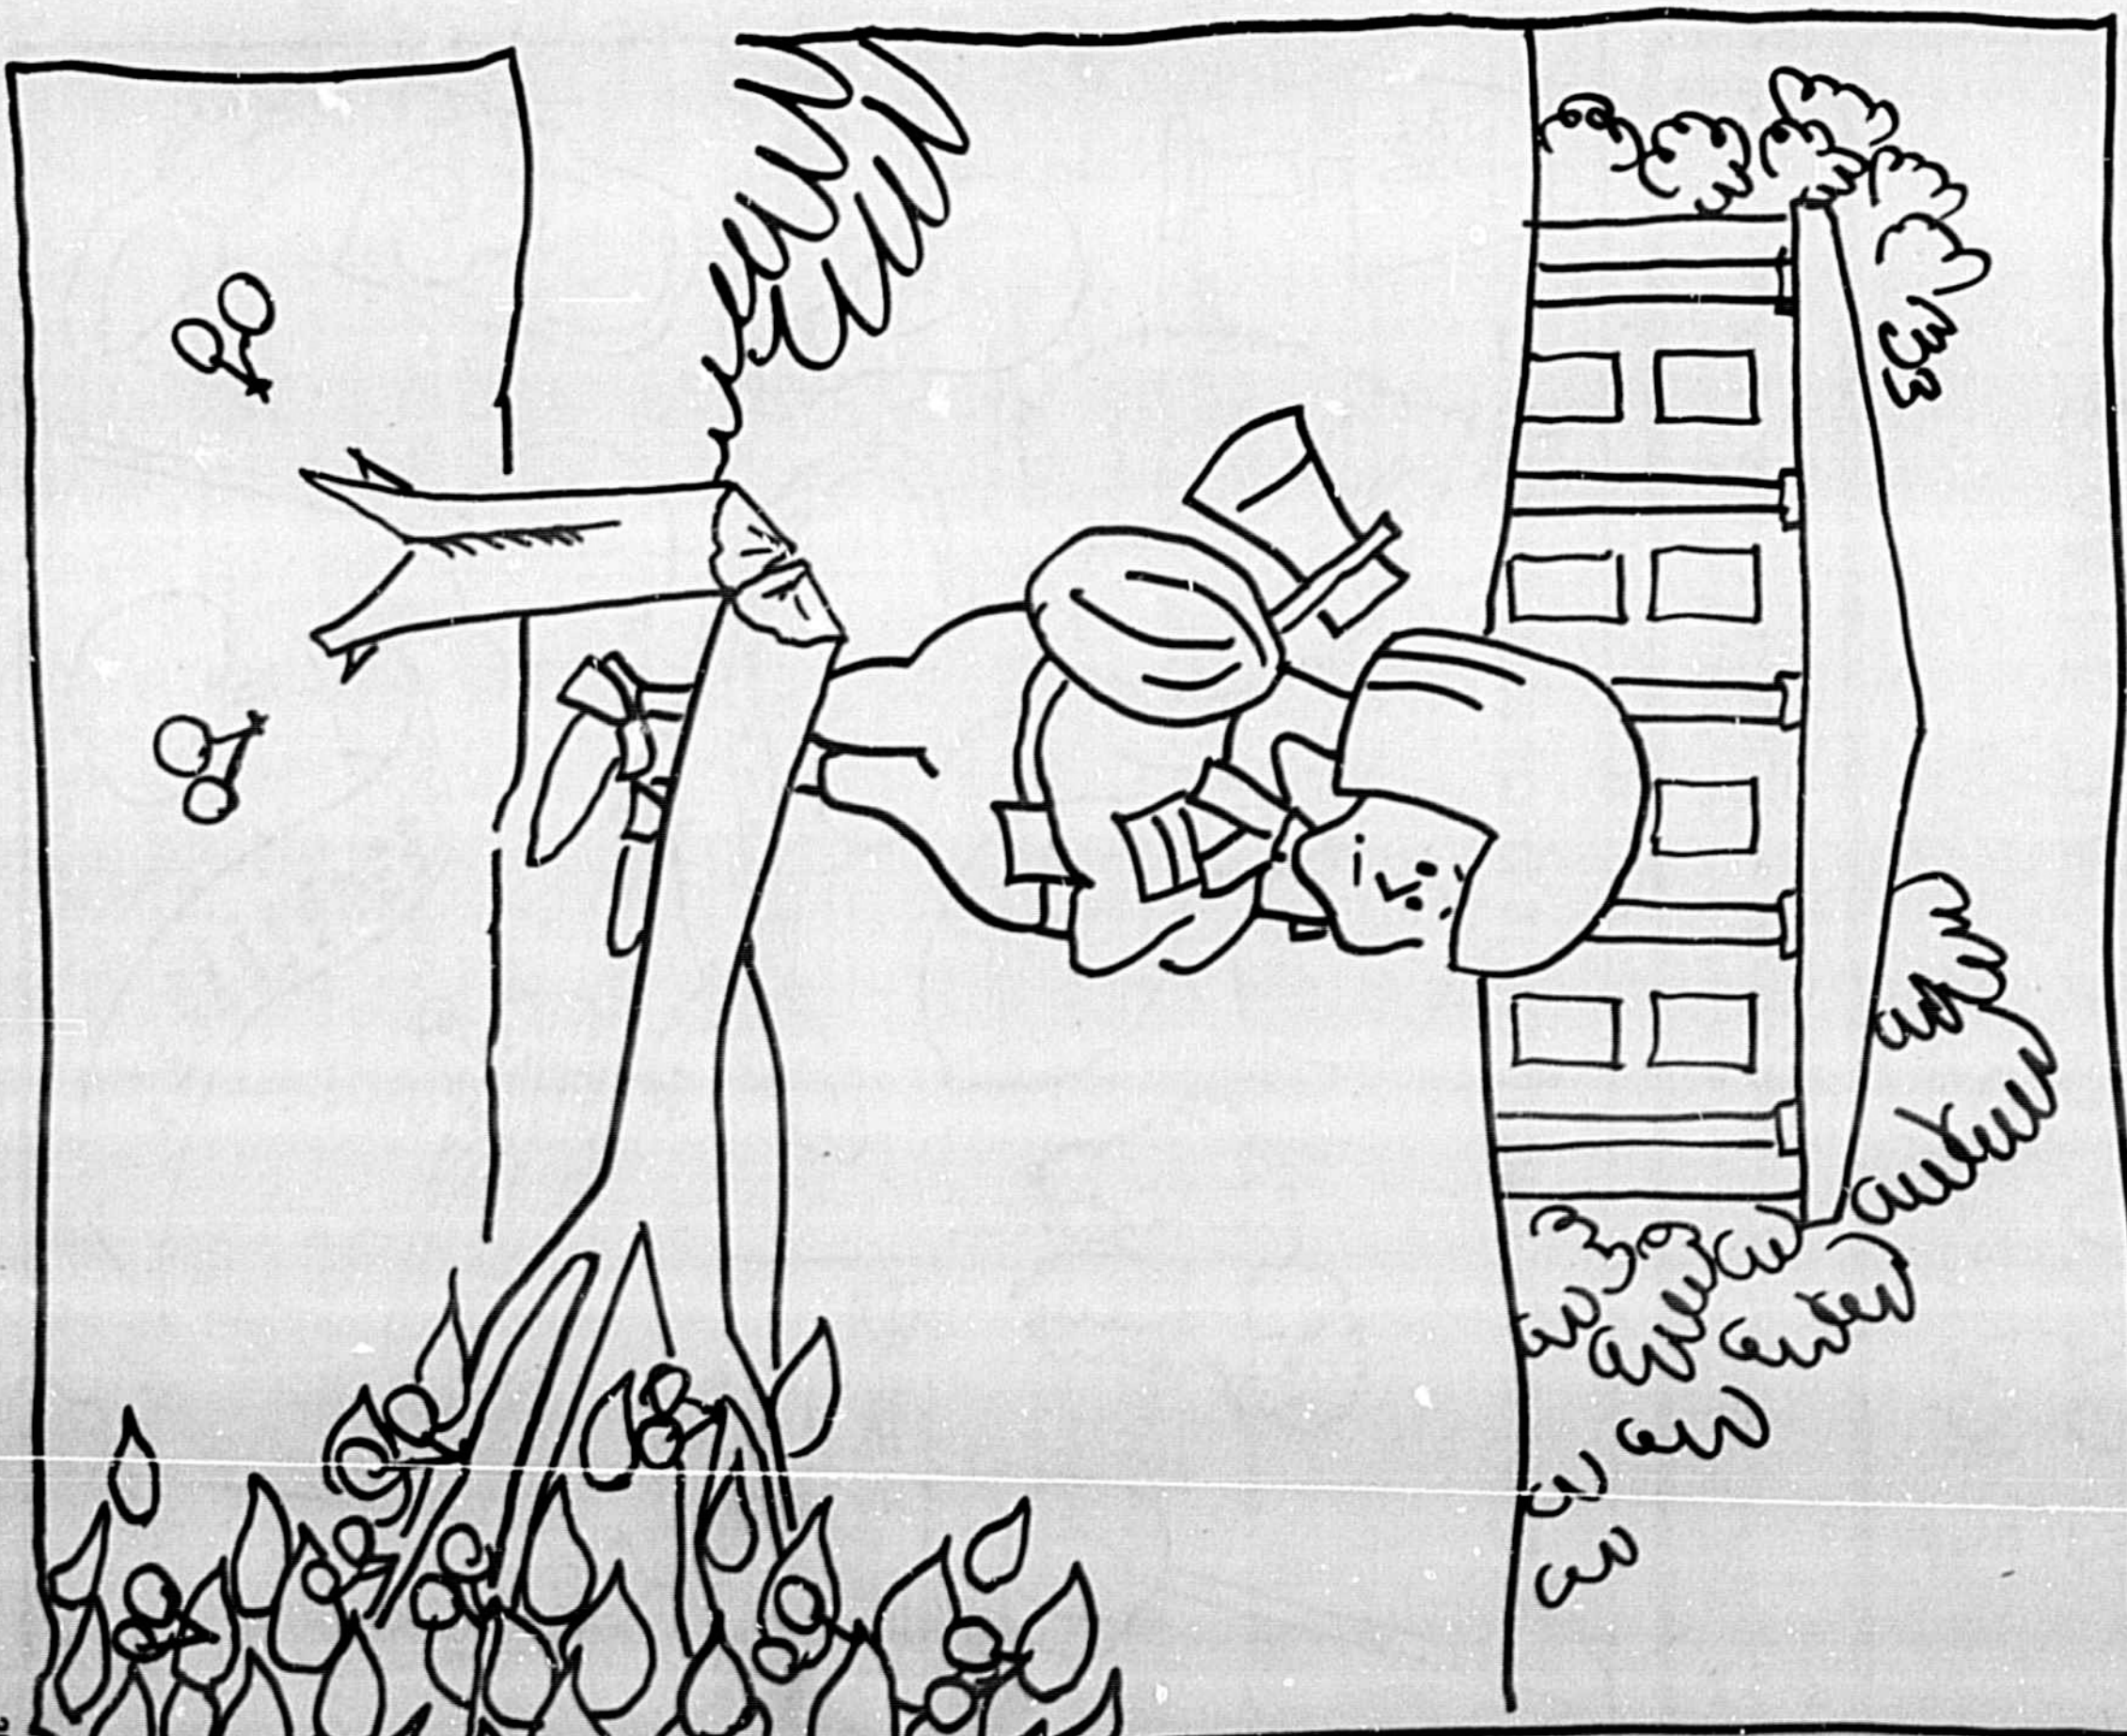

As an example, those Disney characters at the main entrance... Donald Duck and Thumper the Rabbit... look an awful lot of time and talent to make them.

Some cute lasses in a pink gown was seen walking out with them after the festivities were concluded.

Look, there's a name on the back of each of these characters. Would you please return them so that they can be used for future events? It's much appreciated.

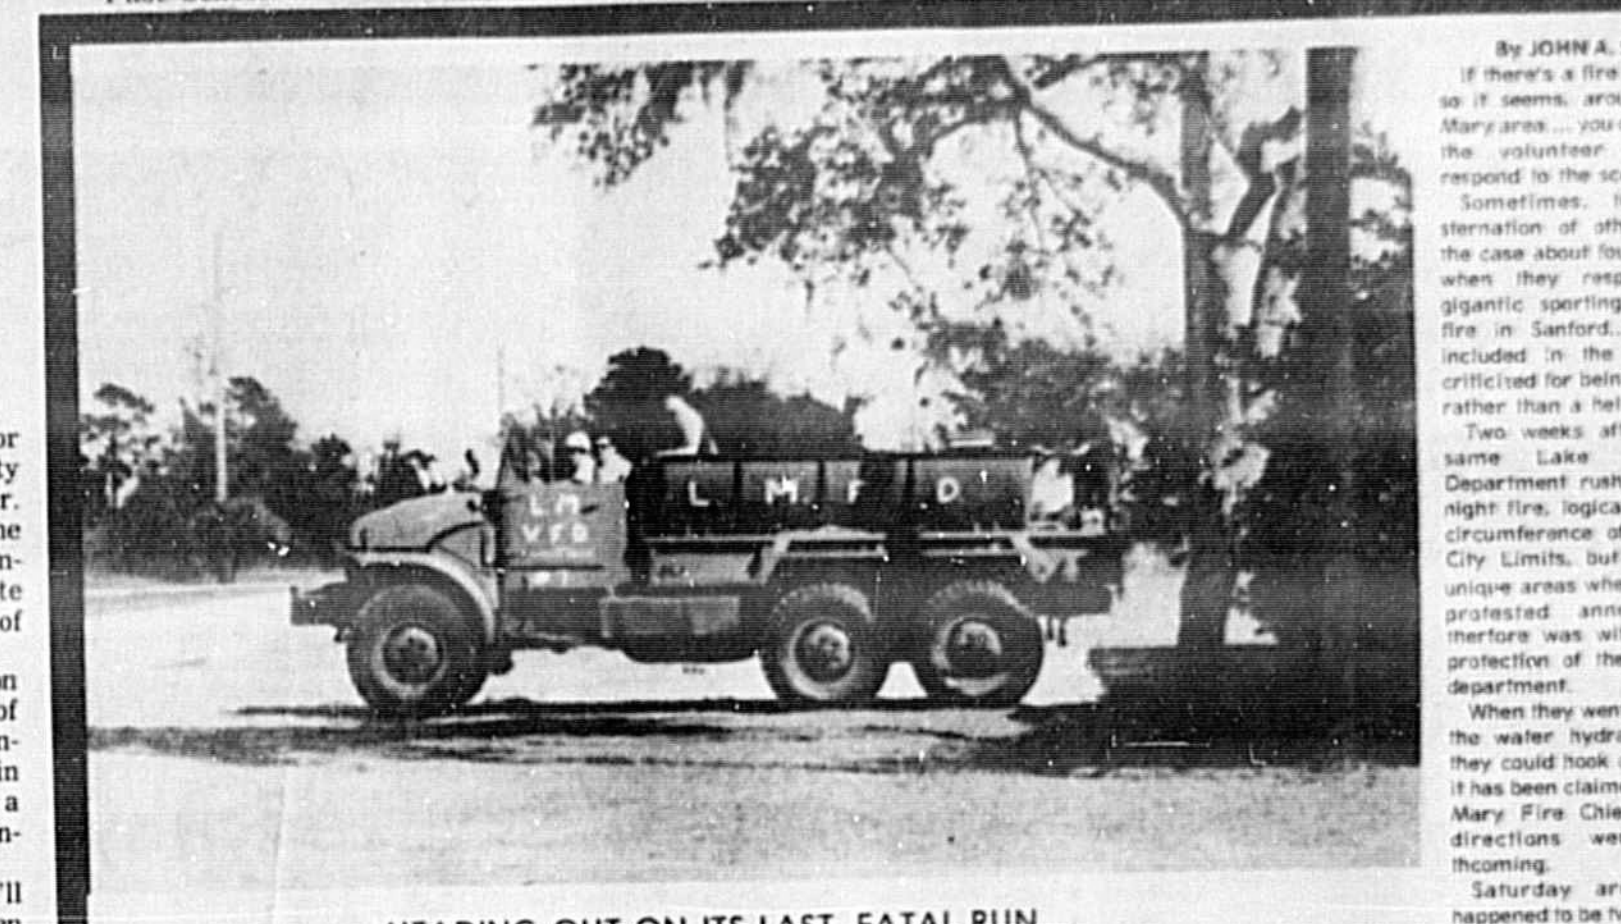

Every noble deed dieth, if suppressed in silence. Pindar
