

Direct Selling Of Merchandise Seen To Be On Increase

By WALTER BREDE JR.
(For Sam Dawson)

NEW YORK (AP)—Is the door-to-door salesman vanishing from the American scene?
Is the modern descendant of the old Yankee peddler facing oblivion?
"No," say the companies which depend on these people for distribution of their products. "If anything, their number is increasing."
Proponents of "direct selling," the direct distribution of merchandise from factory to home, profess to see a new opportunity for the time-tested doorbell-pushing technique in the current pushing toward a buyers' market.

Time was when a certain segment of retail opinion believed the door-to-door salesman was on the way out—a victim of television. According to this theory, televised demonstrations of consumer products and televised sales talks which could be viewed by the housewife in her home would make the home visits of the door-to-door vendor unnecessary.
Today, however, TV is being used to promote direct selling. Direct selling is big business. Total volume is estimated by the National Association of Direct Selling Companies at more than 10 billion dollars a year. According to the National Retail Business Bureau Inc., which local Retail Business Bureau across the country are affiliated, more than 6,000 American companies are engaged in direct selling with a total sales force of 1 1/2 million men and women.

The Electrolux Co., easily the nation's biggest manufacturer of vacuum cleaners, employs 10,000 door-to-door salesmen.
Avon Products Inc., cosmetics manufacturer, had sales last year of more than $33,000,000. Its products are distributed to American homes by 16,000 independent sales representatives, many of them housewives. "We haven't deviated from this system in 86 years," says George K. Graves Jr., Avon vice president.

Then there's the ubiquitous Fuller brush man, backbone of the huge sales organization of Fuller Brush Co. of Hartford, Conn. A host of other house-to-house vendors peddle everything from lingerie to tailored suits, kitchenware to sterling silver, seeds to fire extinguishers.
Direct selling has come a long way since the time when peddlers sold tinware, clocks, brooms, knives and cloth to frontier families.

Want to give a party? Some companies will send a salesman to your home with all the things for a full-course dinner, including flowers. It doesn't cost you a nickel. All you have to do is invite your friends and let the salesman show them the company's floor wax or furniture polish, pots and pans or plastic aprons. The salesman cooks and serves the meal—and washes the dishes.

A constant headache to the direct selling people is the bad name given their profession by the occasional dishonest salesman, and the consequent enactment of local laws and ordinances which restrict direct selling. Some 30 years ago the town of Green River, Wyo., adopted an ordinance making it a misdemeanor for a person to visit a private home for the purpose of selling merchandise without having been invited. Similar ordinances have since been declared consti-

Prisoners in Compound 66 today gave up the bodies of eight POWs killed in an April 10 riot. A small group of prisoners accompanied the bodies to a prisoner cemetery outside the compound.
The 8,400 Red in Compound 78—first to be dispersed—fought savagely for 2 1/2 hours Tuesday before being subdued by 750 tough paratroopers from the 187th Airborne Combat Team.
Thirty-one Red were killed in the fight. The Army said seven wounded POWs had died since, boosting the death toll to 38. A new survey showed about 150 prisoners were wounded.

One American died to death after being stabbed by a crude prison spear. Fourteen other Americans were injured, none seriously.
The bloody fight had its effect on POWs in other compounds. Those in adjoining 78 were moved to new, smaller pens without resistance a few hours later and 77 sent word to Hoatner it would obey moving orders.

Prisoners in 77 began lining up in a driving rain an hour and a half before their scheduled evacuation.
The bloody fighting had its effect on POWs in other compounds. Those in adjoining 78 were moved to new, smaller pens without resistance a few hours later and 77 sent word to Hoatner it would obey moving orders.

Thirty-five others assembled in the rear of the compound and waited until all other POWs had been marched out. Then they marched out.
Maj. David Korn, Richmond, Va., an officer of the 187th, said it was apparent many more prisoners would be separated but were held in the marching columns by die-hard Reds.

Two POWs who escaped from Compound 77 told stories of murders during the riot.
American guards outside the compound said they had heard screams inside.

North Korean Col. Lee Hak Koo, a Compound 78 leader now in solitary confinement, told an interrogator he thought Hoatner was bluffing when he said he would move the prisoners by force if necessary.

Breakout of the island's 17 big compounds is expected to take about 10 days.

millions were hopeful of completing their bill Thursday.
A controls extension bill, drafted by the Senate Banking Committee, is now under debate in the Senate. It calls for extending wage, price and credit controls for eight months, until March 1, 1953.

The Senate bill has become a vehicle for debate over the steel crisis with numerous amendments offered to deal with it.
Chairman Spence (D-Ky.) told reporters there was no discussion in the House committee of writing in the Byrd Amendment, adopted by the Senate late Tuesday.

This provision, sponsored by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), calls on the president to use the Taft-Hartley Law in the steel dispute.
Meanwhile the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill setting up a $1,390,630,000 federal-aid highway program for the two fiscal years starting July 1, 1953.

Passage was by voice vote. The bill was a compromise of separate measures passed previously by the Senate and the House. It carries no actual appropriations but authorizes a program which must be financed by later legislation.

The bill makes no change in the present formula by which states must match some of the funds put up by the federal government for construction and planning.
The amounts authorized, all for each of the two years:

Primary highway system, 347 1/2 million dollars; secondary system, 185 million; urban area primary highway system, 137 1/2 million; expansion construction and improvements of interstate highways, 35 million;

Forest highways, 22 1/2 million; National in half a dozen states, no-constituted in 11 others.

The National Association of Direct Selling Companies contends that direct selling—the oldest form of retail distribution, and also the newest—is here to stay.

Blues In The News

By B. WISE and F. JUZE

With the intense suffering and pain expressed on the faces of the men aboard the station as they went through the gruesome process of receiving their semi-annual typhoid and tetanus inoculations, one would quickly gather the impression that theirs was a fate worse than death.

As the men advanced along the line, with each step drawing them closer to the point of the needle, the witty and humorous remarks became louder, in an attempt to throw a scare into the next "victim."

The mass puncturing process went along comparatively easy, in spite of the large number of men receiving the shots. Now that the din of "battle" has subsided, the men have been set at ease, with only the thought of the next "Operation Needle" lingering in their minds.

Donald Regan, AN, one of the original Fascon members, was discharged from the U.S. Navy yesterday. Don hails from New Orleans, La., but since his recent marriage in the Harbor City, Ann Pearce of Sanford, he plans to make Florida his home.

Wanting no time in settling himself up in civilian life, Don will start to work today in his new Civil Service job. Besides his government work, Don is also part owner in the Sanford Radio Service, which he plans to carry on in his spare time.

The very successful Fascon softball team won its 12th consecutive victory over the Conway nine, in the City of Orlando Recreation League Monday night, at the Grand Avenue Ball Park in Orlando. Promoted the first round win in the league, the Sanford bunch have proven themselves to be the top contenders for the league championship. By trouncing the Conway softballers, the group has advanced another game closer to the "crown" by pulling one game ahead of the Orange Bulk team, who are running a close second.

"Bing" DeLatre, AN, who is leader of the league at the plate with a huge .513 average, came through again with another timely homer in the fifth inning. Morris Hall, the phenomenal Navy pitcher, led his recent mound performance in which he turned in a brilliant one-hitter, also proved himself to be a very able batsman by slugging a four bagger into the home run.

Mr. McLean, the Regional CAA Safety Agent, has placed the Naval Station, Sanford on his itinerary for the purpose of discussing and explaining to the area industrial and commercial parties who are interested in obtaining CAA ratings. Anyone interested in this program, seeking ground or flight ratings, should contact Chief Day located in the Station Operations Department.

Welcome aboard goes to Harold Driggers, MN, who reported to this command from San Francisco, Calif. He is at present attached to the Florida division of the Station.

Also coming to NAAS, from Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, is Lester Evans ME2, who has also been assigned to Security.

John F. "Pappy" Haynen has joined the ranks of the civilian since being discharged recently. "Pappy" Mr. Haynen and his two children will return to New Orleans, La., where he will return to his former job with the U.S. Post Office.

Joseph Petras Is Awarded His Degree

ATLANTA, Ga. (Special)—One thousand and thirty-one degrees were awarded to future engineers, architects and executives by the Georgia Institute of Technology, on Monday, June 8, 8:30 a.m., at ceremonies held at the Fox Theatre. President Blake R. Van Leer presided and presented the diplomas to each of the graduates.

Among them was Joseph Petras, 1395 Sanford Avenue of Sanford, Fla.
The commencement address entitled "The Reach of Technical Reasoning" was delivered by David W. Harris, president of the University of Illinois at Chicago, Chicago, Ill., a Tech graduate of the class of 1912, and son of Nathaniel E. Harris, one of the founders of Georgia Tech.

After receiving their diplomas the graduates were inducted in a body into the Georgia Tech Alumni Association by Price Gilbert Jr., president of the association.
Of those receiving degrees, more than one-half were from Georgia. The balance were from 39 states, one territory, and 11 foreign countries including Argentina, China, Colombia, Cuba, France, Greece, Honduras, Mexico, Holland, Nicaragua, and Switzerland. Of the 1,331 graduates, 68 are graduating with honor.

North Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas. Sen. Richard Russell, Georgia Democrat, does not run.

The Taft camp called the signals when the Arrangements Committee put together the men and the jobs for the July 7 convention at Chicago. It was noticed that the Chicago, whose office is in the South was rejected by Eisenhower campaigners, was ready for a no-quarter battle.

Of the 1,193 convention delegates—of which 1,206 already had been chosen, the Associated Press tabulation now gives Taft 464, Eisenhower 390 and others 134 with 209 uncommitted or delegated. Nominations requires 904 and in a squeeze the contested delegations—like those from Texas, Louisiana, Georgia and Mississippi—could put a man across.

The keynote for the Democratic convention can do much to set the tone. The Platform Committee will put into words what the party stands for. And the chairman, first the temporary and then the permanent, will have plenty of power when disputes hit the floor. Disputes like whether to seal pro-Taft or pro-Eisenhower delegations.

The Army said it would take no action on the question of whether Eisenhower would violate regulations by appearing on the political convention program. Friends said he would wear civilian clothes.

The keynote for the Democratic convention will be a speech by Massachusetts Gov. Paul Dever, took a crack at the Republican Party activity of McArthur, Eisenhower and Lt. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer.

Never told New York Democrats Tuesday night that the three generals are fighting for control of the GOP and comprise "the menace of a military junta" Wednesday in chairman of the National Citizens-for-Taft Committee.

W. Averell Harriman, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, also voiced an opinion about the party's program. He said the Democrats have a positive program.

Another candidate for the Democrats' top spot, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, told a rally in Washington, D. C., he is in home rule to solve local problems. Kefauver and Harriman are battling heatedly for the capital's six Democratic delegates to be selected at the unofficial primary next Tuesday.

Eisenhower, meanwhile, was continuing his sessions in New York with delegates and others he hopes to have in his side. On his conference program today were John Foster Dulles, an influential Republican as yet uncommitted, and delegates from New Jersey, New York and Maryland.

A Taft spokesman said the senator also is conferring with delegates, but added, "We're not putting any particular emphasis on these meetings." Taft's schedule calls for conferences with New Jersey delegates Thursday and Maryland delegates Monday.

Kefauver's tally of 24 delegates (tops among Democrats); Sen. Richard Byrd of Georgia is second with 20, followed by Harriman's 16, with 616 needed for nomination. This Associated Press tabulation, like that for the GOP race, is based on promises and conceded alignments of the delegates so far named.

on you there is no easy way out, you automatically take the right course," said Col. Gatchel.

Stressing the honor system at the Academy, he told of the men some months ago who tried to set up a law to themselves, and pointed out that due to the high standards in force, there was no possibility that West Point would keep the men there. Where the standards are the highest, they must be accepted, or else the person must get out, he declared.

Atorney General Ervin stated that things are looking better in Florida with a $30,000,000 surplus in the general revenue fund. He pointed out that the two leading gubernatorial candidates stressed law enforcement in their platforms and predicted great improvement in this program in Florida.

Comdr. Trapolin, who was in that, "We have nothing to be ashamed of," concerning law enforcement in this state. He also urged sheriffs defeated in the recent election not to be discouraged, that defeat is a part of political fortune, and did not reflect on their service.

Prosecuting Attorney George A. Speer concurred in praising the sheriffs of the danger contained in the recent increase in Negro voting registration. He predicted that 150,000 Negroes would be registered by November and that this is being done at the instigation of "agitators out of Philadelphia."

"If this campaign is consummated," he declared, "you sheriffs are going to have to make a pilgrimage to Philadelphia to make your peace with gangsters. One day this minority bloc will wield the balance of power if you let them."

Ike Declares He Opposed German Zones

General Reveals His Advice Not Sought At Yalta, Potsdam; Taft Studies Korea

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today he opposed the division of Germany into separate zones at the end of the war and also was against isolating Berlin.

He made the statement in answer to questions put to him by members of the New Jersey legislative delegation.

Eisenhower also said that he did not participate in either the Yalta or Potsdam Conferences and that his advice was not accepted on the division of Germany.

"A delegate asked directly whether the establishment of the line of demarcation between the Allied and Russian armies in Germany was Eisenhower's decision," he said. "That was one of the pieces of advice that was not accepted."

The delegates then asked who did establish the zones, and Eisenhower said that he was not involved in the decision. "The European Advisory Commission met in London in 1941, as I recall," Eisenhower said. "This commission took these actions. Later, I understood they were approved at Yalta."

"As soon as the armistice was signed, we were directed to get back into our own areas as rapidly as possible. We were forced to retreat 150 miles after the war—we had been attacking as far down as Leipzig—and we had to go back to the line picked by the politicians."

The general also was asked whether he participated in the Yalta and Potsdam Conferences. He said emphatically, "I did not. I gave no political decisions of the war."

"I gave my opinions voluntarily on one or two things, but they weren't accepted."

Dr. H. W. Hurt Of Stetson Is Jaycee Speaker

Flag Day Ceremonies To Be Held On Saturday At Stadium

Dr. H. W. Hurt of Stetson University told the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Yacht Club today that the greatest single force which would solve the world's most difficult problems is taking an interest in other persons. He also explained that the "business" object of the meeting of human beings.

"Actually the big job for business is the rearing of our successors through the churches, newspapers and the home," he elaborated, "it is these factors that mold the moral fiber of our youth and successors."

Dr. Hurt, who has written much of the Boy Scout Manual, stated that because of the lack of interest in youth and in other people, misunderstanding and ill feeling has caused most of the problems people face today.

He suggested that everyone should take a special interest in helping someone which would lead to collective bargaining in labor disputes rather than the customary bargaining that now prevails.

Program chairman Arthur Beckwith Jr. introduced Dr. Hurt. John Pierson announced that the flag day ceremonies at the stadium of the Stetson University will be held on Saturday night at the Memorial Stadium between 7:00 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

Affected are vegetables grown in Florida and other Southern areas and in greenhouses in some Midwest areas between November and May.

Agriculture officials said suggestions have been made that the United States, Mexico and Cuba get together on a marketing agreement under which shipments would be regulated so as to avoid sharp fluctuations in supplies, and consequently prices.

For many years, this country has obtained a part of its winter vegetables from Cuba. Mexico is encouraged to produce for the U.S. market by a reduction in tariffs in 1943 and by a reduction in the duties on supplies from Cuba during the war, when there was a shortage of ships.

A slight advance was made last year in the tariff on tomatoes. Nevertheless, the duty is still below that in effect before the war.

Officials are disinclined to boost duties further because, they say, there is need for the supplies being imported.

What is needed, they said, is a program which would keep marketings from being too much on one week and too little the next.

Officials said they hope to work out a program by the time the winter season starts next fall.

Government Seeks To Stabilize Price Of Winter Crops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is casting about for some way of reducing frequent ups and downs in prices and supplies of winter-grown vegetables.

Complaints have been made to the State and Agriculture Departments from some domestic growers that in effect before the war, Mexico and Cuba get together on a marketing agreement under which shipments would be regulated so as to avoid sharp fluctuations in supplies, and consequently prices.

For many years, this country has obtained a part of its winter vegetables from Cuba. Mexico is encouraged to produce for the U.S. market by a reduction in tariffs in 1943 and by a reduction in the duties on supplies from Cuba during the war, when there was a shortage of ships.

A slight advance was made last year in the tariff on tomatoes. Nevertheless, the duty is still below that in effect before the war.

Officials are disinclined to boost duties further because, they say, there is need for the supplies being imported.

What is needed, they said, is a program which would keep marketings from being too much on one week and too little the next.

Settlement Made In Struggle For Steamship Line

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government and the R. Stanley Dollar interests today settled their 3-year court fight over control of the big Dollar Steamship Line.

Terms of the settlement provide:

1. The controlling stock interest in the line claimed by both will be put up at public sale at any price above 11 million dollars cash.
2. The winner on sealed bids will get the 92 per cent block of stock and the government and the Dollar interests will divide the proceeds.
3. If the public sale fails to bring a bid of 14 million or more, the stock will be divided equally between the government and the Dollar interests.

In any event, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer said, the government intends to get out of the line and return it to private operation.

During court proceedings, the 92 per cent block of stock was estimated to be worth 60 million dollars but Sawyer said today the net value of the line was about 32 million at the end of 1951.

The stock was handed to the old Maritime Commission in 1938 when the government loaned the shipping line 4 1/2 million dollars for repair of ships and for working capital, then subsidized its operation for a 3-year period.

After the loan had been repaid out of company earnings, Dollar demanded return of the stock, contending it had merely been pledged to secure the loan.

The government refused, insisting that the stock had been surrendered to it outright, not just pledged to security.

Dollar sued and eventually won a decision in U. S. District Court here. The government carried the case to the Court of Appeals and Dollar won again.

Instead of handling over the stock however, the government took the case to court in San Francisco, seeking a decision there that would enable it to keep the shares.

About a year ago, the Court of Appeals ordered Sawyer, Solicitor General Philip H. Perlman and six other officials to turn over the stock right away or go to jail for contempt.

The Supreme Court saved them, however, with a stay of punishment until it could review the proceedings. It has not got around to that review, nor to answering a government request that it decide the whole issue once and for all.

The government exercised operating control of the shipping concern throughout the court battle, changing its name from the Dollar Line to the American President Line.

Sheriffs' Convention Proves Big Success

Sheriff P. A. Mero today characterized the sheriffs' convention which closed yesterday in Sanford as an outstanding success and expressed his thanks to all the speakers, the merchants association, and all others who contributed to the success of the convention.

He especially thanked the Elks Club for the use of their facilities for the barbecue and said that a number of the sheriffs had called it the finest barbecue they had ever attended.

More than 100 delegates attended the convention from all parts of the state and were addressed by such outstanding personalities as Railroad Commissioner Jerry Carter and Wilbur King, Attorney General Richard Ervin, Rep. Fortis Bryant of Ocala, who is speaker designate of the House of Representatives, Lieut. General J. C. Hutchison, Senator I. F. Boyle, Rep. Volpe Williams Jr., Rep.-designate Mack Cleveland Jr., Prosecuting Attorney George A. Speer, and Judge Douglas Stinson.

Ed Cameron Is Named President Of Cattleman

Formation of a new Seminole County Cattleman's Association, with Ed Cameron as newly elected president, was announced today by C. R. Dawson, county attorney, following a meeting Tuesday night at his office. About 100 cattlemen were present.

Other officers elected were C. S. Lee, Ocala, vice-president; Mr. Dawson, secretary; and George Hadden, treasurer. The board of trustees includes W. H. Wright, Dr. C. W. Baker and Dr. R. L. Bess.

The new organization, which still affiliated with the Florida State Cattleman's Association, has a membership of 100. The Central Florida Cattleman's Association, to which most of the members formerly belonged.

One of the major reasons for forming the new group, said Mr. Dawson, was that the cattlemen felt that the Central Florida Cattleman's Association was getting somewhat inactive. Dues in the new association are 100 or 150 cents a head of cattle, except here and there approximately 12,000 head of cattle in Seminole County.

Plans were made to send delegates to the barbecue and meeting of the Florida Cattleman's Association in Kissimmee on Saturday.

One of the major issues at the meeting, Mr. Dawson declared, will be to discuss the taxing of land for enforcement of the marks and brands law, which the cattlemen maintain is not properly enforced by the State in lack of sufficient outfitting inspectors.

Mr. Dawson said that he is preparing mimeographed sheets, showing all the marks and brands used in Seminole County, and these will be distributed to the members of the new Association.

Mr. Mathieux was elected president of the Sanford Farmer-Auction, Inc., at its annual meeting Monday night. Other new officers are J. W. Jones, vice president, and Mr. Dawson, secretary and treasurer.

"We are going ahead with new vigor on another sales, mainly Monday night," said Mr. Dawson. He said that the market is planning the installation of a community bar here, which will be available to groups and organizations. The advantage is that there is plenty of shelter, and running water is available, he added.

Adventist School Graduates Local Girl And 47 Others

The Forest Lake Academy, a Seventh Day Adventist school, today graduated a class of 48 students. Among them was Miss Betty Brisson of Sanford.

The Academy is a private school for boys and girls and is of the Seventh Day Adventist denomination. It is, according to the Mission yearbook, "a school where one comes to obtain a Christian education, to study, to be sanctified, to include prayer bands, Friday night devotionals, and Sabbath services."

The Academy was also the site during the recent year for a camp meeting attended by more than 3000 people of Florida.

Industrial education is also provided at the Academy, including training in newspaper work, dairy work, the raising of poultry, laundry and many other endeavors.

Of the recent graduating class, seven intend to go into nursing, six into teaching, six into education, and seven into the medical field. Other prospective professions included x-ray technician, dental hygienist, and secretary.

The Academy supplies milk and does the laundry for the Florida Sanitarium at Orlando, and many of the students are enabled to work their way through school in this manner.

The school also includes a unit of the Seventh Day Adventist Medical Cadet Corps "in order that our Seventh Day Adventist youth may be better prepared for the service of their country."

The school's yearbook, the "Mirror," is filled with interesting pictures of the school and of its site which is in the rolling orange grove country in the Southern part of the county.

Gen. Collins Blames Manpower Shortage For Koje Outbreaks

First Army Inquiry Cleared U. S. Generals Involved In Prisoner Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—The initial Army inquiry into the Koje Island troubles of last month was disclosed today to have cleared the U. S. general who was captured by his Communist prisoners. It also cleared the general who set him free by making concessions to the inmates.

The clearances were later reversed by Gen. Mark Clark, and the two officers, Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd and Charles T. Collins, were reduced to colonel. Clark said the concessions amounted to a surrender to blackmail.

Dodd and Collins were first found by brother officers in Korea, to have "acted in the best interests of the United States." It was brought out with release of a revised version of testimony given Monday by Secretary of the Army, Gen. Omar Bradley. He appeared in a closed door meeting with a House appropriations subcommittee checking up on the Koje incidents.

Clark's testimony, and that of Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, also made the points that there wasn't enough manpower available to control fighting prisoners on Koje Island and the Army wasn't prepared for the outbreaks.

Clark said the first man board of inquiry was headed by a Brig. Gen. Kellogg and included two colonels and two lieutenant colonels.

He said the board concluded that the two officers "had, under the circumstances, acted in the best interest and the United States and the United Nations under difficult circumstances and that an action should be taken against them."

Chairman Sikes (D-Fla.) of the subcommittee remarked that the initial board "produced nothing but inexcusable whitewash."

Clark said Dodd was reduced in rank primarily because he went to the prison compound to talk to prisoners instead of summoning their representatives to his office. He said Collins was broken for his failure to show the "major impetuosity" expected of general officer.

Clark said that at one time 132 Communist prisoners on Koje were quarantined by between 2,500 and 3,000 South Korean troops, under American supervision.

The American Eighth Army, he said, had to be prepared first "to defend and then to take the major initiative" against the Communist force fighting against it.

"We can ill spare the men for jobs other than this critical assignment and still provide a fair rotation of troops which the American people rightly demand," he said, adding that the Americans are engaged in "a major war" in which the testimony showed also that subcommittee officials supported a proposal, approved by President Truman, to invite military observers from five neutral nations to inspect the camp.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) originally suggested the idea, and the President forwarded the plan with endorsements by the Defense Department Wednesday.

Koje Island was the scene of a series of violent disorders that led to the temporary capture of a fair rotation of troops which the American people rightly demand," he said, adding that the Americans are engaged in "a major war" in which the testimony showed also that subcommittee officials supported a proposal, approved by President Truman, to invite military observers from five neutral nations to inspect the camp.

Bill Authorizing American Troops Hunt Prisoners Reported Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee voted today to authorize American troops to hunt for missing prisoners of war who broke away from 1,800 marching Reds.

The breakthrough came during an otherwise orderly evacuation of the fourth trouble-ridden POW enclosure at this United Nations prison camp.

The anti-Red POWs said the missing prisoners had been held before Communist kangaroo courts before today's transfer. They didn't report the number.

Death of the hands of their anti-Red leaders was the fate of 16 POWs missing from an enclosure emptied Wednesday.

The camp commander, Brig. Gen. Hayden T. Boatner, is expected to report to the POWs.

The usual night temperature for this time of year is 69 or 70 degrees, Mr. Moughton said, the temperature has not risen above 60 degrees in the last three years, he added, and the hottest last summer was 99 degrees.

Export Of Cotton Fabrics Is Hurt By World Competition

By RICHARD FISKE
 (For Sam Dawson)

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Dwindling exports to far corners of the world mean fewer jobs in the cotton mills of New England and the South.

Exports of American cotton cloth have been holding up fairly well. But the competition is getting keener. International markets are being reduced.

All around the world cotton textiles are being over-produced. One textile man says it's getting to the point where there just aren't enough people to buy the output of so many modern mills.

Some of the smaller underdeveloped countries have established textile industries, many of them uneconomic.

They close textiles, with the help of American foreign-aid funds, because traditionally it is an industry that supplies lots of jobs. There is a scarcity of dollars in many of the once-lucrative markets for American cloth. Exchange restrictions and import quotas are cropping up again in textile-importing countries.

American cotton manufacturers, many of whom believe the darkest days of their domestic recession are over, notice these international complications as their greatest worry.

Translating exports into terms of jobs leaves this picture:

The American cotton textile industry provides about 500,000 jobs when operating at capacity.

Textile men say a normal breakdown to support this capacity operation would be 90 per cent of the production in this country and 10 per cent abroad.

This 10 per cent that is exported, they added, accounts for about 50,000 of the total jobs.

Right now, the cotton textile industry is employing about 391,000 workers and is exporting about 8 per cent of its output.

The world overproduction that is worrying American manufacturers has become critical for other nations as well. It has caused curtailment and unemployment in England, India, Japan, France and Belgium.

Charles C. Hertwig, president of Bibb Manufacturing Co. at Macon, Ga., said recently this overproduction that extends from Osaka to the Carolinas, threatens the home market of American manufacturers as well as the export markets.

F. Bailew Lane, secretary-treasurer of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute, spoke recently of the danger of deluging the American market with foreign goods made by poorly paid labor.

But, he added, that solution of the problem isn't as easy as just saying "protective tariff."

"We know," he said, "that if Communism is to be stopped in the Far East, Japan and India must be free, self-supporting democracies. We know that America cannot continue to pour tax money into the Orient."

"But we feel that Japanese and Indian textile mills can and should sell in oriental markets which are historically theirs."

The textile industry's committee on Foreign Trade decided recently to join delegates from Great Britain, Japan, India and some West European countries at the International Textile Conference at Buxton, England, in September.

The Americans go into the conference knowing that they cannot engage in any sort of international imports, division of markets or

Recount Ordered In First Circuit Attorney Election

TALLAHASSEE (U.P.)—Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin said today the State Canvassing Board should meet to recount votes cast in the disputed race for state attorney in the First Judicial Circuit.

The First Circuit covers Extreme Northwest Florida and includes Escambia, Walton, Oklawaha and Santa Rosa Counties.

Complete election returns from the circuit at first showed Ed Wicke, Panama City, had beaten John B. Amos, Fort Walton, by 12 votes.

However, a court-ordered recount in Precinct 14 of Walton County nine days after the second primary gave Amos enough additional votes to put him 25 ahead of Wicke.

Secretary of State H. A. Gray asked Ervin what he should do with the amended certificate of the Walton County Canvassing Board which has been filed with him.

Ervin said it appears "a clear legal duty rests upon the State Canvassing Board to recount the vote cast for these two candidates for this office and conform such returns to the returns heretofore filed by the counties of Escambia, Santa Rosa and Oklawaha and the amended return now filed by the Canvassing Board of Walton County."

The attorney general told Gray he should call the State Canvassing Board into session to take that action and suggested Wicke and Amos be notified of the meeting "to afford either of them opportunity to take such action as they might deem advisable if they should differ with the conclusions here reached."

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—One of the most famous and storied night clubs in the world is celebrating its 30th anniversary, and the citizens of Hollywood and Los Angeles are waxing sentimental about it.

Thirty years ago, the operators of the Coconut Grove put a party on the first lamb chop and served up the first glass of ginger ale (that was during prohibition, you know). The Grove, now one of the oldest U. S. dine and dance spots, has since served thousands of lamb chops and thousands of glasses of ginger ale, and stronger beverages.

It has also witnessed a segment of Hollywood history and watched the growing up of a city. Many a Hollywood star got the first boost to fame at the Grove, and many an Angeleno (including myself) treated high school dates to an evening among the plaster palms.

It started as a bare ballroom in the Ambassador Hotel back in 1922. Someone got the idea of decorating the place with four potted palms. The idea grew until the place became a grove of imitation acacia trees with toy monkeys among the leaves. Moorish architecture was added to complete the illusion.

Art Hickman's band opened the Grove. Since then nearly every sweet band and every top night club act has played the room. The accent is on sweet music, and Benny Goodman is the only swinger to appear there. Guy Lombardo holds the money record, and Freddie Martin is the long-run king. He was there for 3 1/2 years during the war.

The fame of the Coconut Grove soon spread. There was a 1938 picture with that title, starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers. Many another city has had a Coconut Grove. One was in Boston, and 500 persons were killed in a fire there Nov. 28, 1942.

The Ambassador, maitre d' of the Coconut Grove, has memories of the Los Angeles Grove.

"I remember a couple of girls who took part in the Charleston contests. Their names were Jane Peters and Lucille Sueur. They went into the movies as Carole Lombard and Joan Crawford," he said.

The maitre d' recalled how Dorothy Lamour used to come nightly to the Grove to see her then husband, movie producer Herbert Kaye. One night she brought Martha Raye with her and the pair created attention by doing the big apple on the dance floor with their partners.

Sauer hammered three of "Coconut Grove" pictures into the picture. Attention became furor when the enthusiastic Martha's neckline slipped, with disastrous results.

Oldtimers recall another notable event. It happened while the Grove was having "star nights," at which rising movie talent was honored for the evening. A hotshot press agent got the idea of bringing one starlet before the audience in a cage of ice.

The starlet unwillingly agreed to do it. When the cage was wheeled in the heat of the room sealed it shut. Walters worked feverishly with ice picks to free her from the icy tomb.

My own special memories go back to the days when I was making fruit punch for a high school girl and shuffling her around the dance floor to Freddie Martin's music. Ah, those were the days.

I also recall a special banquet at the Grove in 1945. It was in honor of the homecoming of two local boys, Gen. George Patton and Jimmy Doolittle. Patton addressed the mixed gathering in his usual colorful style, and his language could have turned the coconut palms to purple.

CONNECTICUT DELEGATES to the Republican Convention are vastly amused as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower obligingly crutches down for Joel Crothers, 11, a young camera fan. As the former commander of NATO is rapidly discovering, autograph signing, back slapping, baby kissing and hand shaking are a 21st day's campaign. Smiling in center is Claire Boothe Luce, former Congresswoman, a member of the delegation that called on Ike at his Columbia University New York, home.

Peninsular Phone People To Keep Up Try For Rate Rise

TAMPA (U.P.)—Peninsular Telephone Co. officials said today its attorneys and management will determine the next step in seeking a rate increase which twice has been denied.

Carl D. Brorin, president of the company, said Peninsular attorneys are studying the Tuesday ruling of the State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission in denying a rate increase.

He said the decision of the attorneys and management "may be submitted to the board later."

However, Brorin added, "It is safe to say that we will prosecute our rate case because we feel an increase in rates is necessary to do our job."

The commission, in a 2-1 decision, denied Peninsular's request for a raise in rates. The majority decision of the commission said Peninsular had "failed to prove its right to an increase."

The majority opinion also said Peninsular is earning 0.0185 per cent on its investment and that the commission figures 6 per cent is a fair return.

The company sought a rate increase which would insure a return of not less than 8 per cent.

The commission said the company's common stock had increased in value nearly seven million dollars in six years prior to 1932 and its preferred stock had increased about 9 1/2 million.

Peninsular, said the agency, never failed to pay a dividend on its stock and always paid interest on its debt. It said Peninsular's contention that it earned only 4.77 per cent was figured on a rate base which included items the commission "declines to recognize as proper."

The company says it is operating on rates set 25 years ago and they are from 25 to 50 per cent less than charges by companies rendering similar service in Florida.

A company statement said the commission ruling penalized "efficiency of operation." It added that its service standards rendered the public could not be maintained under conditions imposed by the commission.

Shoot To Kill Order Extended In Berlin

BERLIN (U.P.)—The Soviet Zone government decreed today an extension of its shoot-to-kill security measures to include the border around Berlin as well as the frontier with West Germany.

An order signed by Communist Prime Minister, directed the security police to "extend generally" the measures beyond the frontier to the international frontier to "hinder the entrance of diversionists, spies and terrorists in the territory of the German Democratic Republic."

It provided sentences of at least two years in jail for violators "unless they are not liable for higher punishment under other regulations." The death penalty is already provided for major violators of a catch-all Communist law "for protection of the peace."

The order came as the Western High Commission met in this block and threatened city for a discussion of the Communist squeeze.

PRISONER ESCAPE
 FORT MYERS (U.P.)—Three agitators who fled a road camp four miles west of Labelle were being sought in this area today.

Capt. W. T. Shealey of the Citrus Center, Fla., identified them as Leonard Garzan, 25, serving three years from Dade County, John T. Edge, 22, serving two years from Orange County, and Samuel C. Lineberry, 23, doing four years from Volusia County. All were convicted of breaking and entering agreement concerning production, piping and conference at Buxton, England, in September.

But they believe their chances are good, as one textile man said, to make "a real contribution to a better ordered world trade in cotton textiles."

Hank Sauer Is Leading Slugger In Major Leagues This Season

By JACK HAND
 Associated Press Sports Writer

No one will dare ask Hank Sauer to sit out the 1932 All Star game. The big fellow from Chicago stands out today as the leading slugger in all baseball.

Barney Shotton, National League All Star manager in 1930, got him self in a jam when he suggested that big Hank give way to Dodger Duke Snider in the starting lineup. Shotton found himself without a centerfielder in his fan-picked out field of Enos Slaughter, Ralph Kiner and Sauer. So he decided to bench Sauer.

The wires stizzled with fiery protests from indignation. Cub fans they applied so much heat that Commissioner Happy Chandler heeding the mounting pressure ruled "Sauer must start."

Sauer hammered three of "Coconut Grove" pictures into the picture. Attention became furor when the enthusiastic Martha's neckline slipped, with disastrous results.

Oldtimers recall another notable event. It happened while the Grove was having "star nights," at which rising movie talent was honored for the evening. A hotshot press agent got the idea of bringing one starlet before the audience in a cage of ice.

The starlet unwillingly agreed to do it. When the cage was wheeled in the heat of the room sealed it shut. Walters worked feverishly with ice picks to free her from the icy tomb.

My own special memories go back to the days when I was making fruit punch for a high school girl and shuffling her around the dance floor to Freddie Martin's music. Ah, those were the days.

I also recall a special banquet at the Grove in 1945. It was in honor of the homecoming of two local boys, Gen. George Patton and Jimmy Doolittle. Patton addressed the mixed gathering in his usual colorful style, and his language could have turned the coconut palms to purple.

Three Injured In Sunshine Biscuit Strike Disorder

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Six large trailer trucks were disabled and three of their drivers were beaten today in a case of violence growing out of a strike at the plant of Sunshine Biscuits Inc.

The injured drivers refused medical aid and one of them, George I. Meider, a Tex. told police that during the melee his wallet containing $400, was ripped from his pocket.

Police said the other injured drivers were Harry B. Dawson, Haines City, Fla., and Wilbur Weaver, Plant City, Fla.

It required four hours to repair the empty trucks and drive them to the plant, only three blocks away.

Police gave this version:

The six trucks, all from the South and independently owned, arrived in Queens early today and were parked at a diner, where the drivers "stayed" for breakfast.

When the driver driving away to 25 men drove up in four automobiles, unhooked the trailers, ripped out ignition lines, smashed spark plugs and broke off lines.

When the drivers came out, the mob attacked them with fists and clubs. The attackers fled when police arrived.

Wednesday four loaded trucks that had just left the plant were shined a few blocks away. Patrolman Frank Churski, who tried to break up the demonstration, was treated for a leg injury. He arrested John Barabarte, 38, Astoria, Queens, as his assailant.

The strike started March 12 when

Veteran Outfielder Soddy Groat To Sign With Sanford

Ken Adams Is Sold And Roland Dropped As Seminoles Snake Up Roster

By KENT CHESTLAIN

With the assurance that the Seminoles Blues will at least continue, General Manager John Kridler announced today that two players had been sold or released and three more have been acquired.

The color guard hitting infielder, Soddy Groat, has been signed as a free agent and will join the club Saturday for the Palatka game here. Groat, a consistent 300 hitter formerly played with Leesburg in the Florida State League and began this season with Augusta, Ga. of the Class A Sally League, is a veteran outfielder and is known for his many antics on and off the field.

Hurler Ken Adams, recently obtained from the now defunct Gainesville G-Men, was sold to Fitzgerald of the Georgia State League for an unannounced sum of cash. Adams had reviewed twice and started one game for the Blues holding a 0-1 record. Jim Roland, rookie catcher from Tampa, who was picked up to fill in for injured Dusty Rhodes several weeks ago, drew his outright release today.

Meanwhile President Joel Field reported that two pitchers were signed from the Lakeland Pilots of the Class B Florida International League. Field's announcement did not include their names. GM Kridler stated this morning that he hoped the flingers would be in for tonight's game.

Kridler said the addition of Groat would give the Blues that outfield punch it has been lacking. "Soddy is a terrific hitter and will bolster our fielding in the outer pasture," Kridler commented.

Not much was available at press time on the two new Lakeland hurlers. Seminoles Blue officials hinted that more changes were in the offing, however, they declined to mention names.

"As I see it we have to almost revise our whole team," Kridler declared this morning.

The cutting of Adams and Roland brings the total Blue players released to 21 so far this season. Last week-end veteran hurler Marty Martinez was cut and veteran infielder Bill Godwin was signed from Lakeland Pilots.

Only five players on the present Sanford roster started with the Blues this season. They are Manager Chuck Aleno, Joe Parise, injured Johnny Imbra, Bob Ward and George Kenis.

Blues Seek To End 4-Game Losing Streak In Cocoa Tonight

Seminoles Defeated Again, 12-8, By 15-Hit Jax Beach Sea Bird Attack

Tonight the Seminoles Blues will seek to snap a four-game losing skid when they play a single game with the Cocoa Indians at Provoat Park. Jorge Rivero, probably will make his third try for the Blues on the mound since coming from the disbanded Gainesville G-Men last week.

Last night Sanford dropped its second two-game series in a row by losing 12-8 to Jax Beach, 12-8 at the Sea Bird Stadium. Jesus "Chico" Carralero starting on the club for a 1-1 record. Seminoles in his bid to annex win No. 9 of the year but was shelved from the bill on a 10-11, 6-run onslaught by the Sea Birds in the first four frames.

The lead exchanged hands several times in the game with Sanford going ahead in the seventh, 4-7. However, the Sea Birds countered with five tallies for the second time in the evening when reliever George Kenis forced in two runs on bases on balls.

New Seminoles Blue players played an important role in the losing attack. Paul Eskew banged across four runs on two singles and a double while Jesus Gonzales rapped out three hits and Bill Godwin contributed two bingos in four trips. Manager Chuck Aleno got only an off-the-bench single in six appearances, and chalked up one run batted in to push his RBI production up to 74 for the year, 60 behind the FSL record.

Kenis was charged with the defeat while reliever Bill Herman notched the win in the frame scoring and hitting contest. At least every Sanford hitter got one hit with the exception of Joe Parise and Corrales.

The next Sanford home game will be played on Saturday night when Palatka comes to town. Then Jax Beach will be in town on Sunday followed by Leesburg and Orlando.

Chuck Aleno

Press Box Pattern: After going hitless in four trips to the plate in his first game with Sanford, Bill Godwin has slugged out five hits in his last eight times at bat for a blistering .417 batting mark. Eskew's four RBIs last night were the second such feat for the ex-University of Georgia baseball captain. Eskew eluded a grand slam homer two weeks ago against Cocoa.

The government recently moved to use the facilities at Punta Gorda for the base. Navigation district directors voted to proceed with acquiring all land needed in Venice for the waterway and asked the State Internal Improvement Commission to lay aside any submerged bay bottom lands along the proposed route for the canal.

U-F's Papa Hall Will Defend His NCAA Jump Title

GAINESVILLE (AP)—J. L. (Papa) Hall, University of Florida football and track star, will defend his national collegiate high jump title at Berkeley, Calif., this week-end. Hall's hopes of competing in the Olympics at Helsinki this summer ride on the NCAA meet. It will serve as a qualifying event for the Olympic Trials later this month.

Although he successfully defended his Central Collegiate high jump title at Milwaukee last week, Hall still faces possible trouble from a pulled leg muscle.

It has been a severe handicap his jumping all spring, keeping him out of some meets. "It will be in perfect condition today and on the blink tomorrow," Hall reported. "I've had to nurse it very carefully and even then I never knew when it's going to stiffen up on me."

Hall jumped 6 feet 9 to win the NCAA last year. He won the Central Collegiate last week at 6 feet 7 1/2.

U.S. Open Meet Attracts Hogan And 161 Golfers

Little Fort Worth Pro Threatens To Take Title Again

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

DALLAS (AP)—Two intruders, heat and Hogan, threatened to complicate matters today as the familiar figures of golf's tournament trail began their annual quest for the biggest prize of all, the United States Open.

Ben Hogan, of course, was regarded as the most serious threat as the vanguard of the field of 162 players began to stream down the bottlenecked fairways of the Northwest course.

The wary little man from Fort Worth, who plays in only a few selected tournaments each year, smashed the solidarity of the regular "tourists" by winning the last two Open championships. His rivals don't like to do it again but they can't deny him a place among the top three or four favorites.

The sticky heat, which hasn't kept a few players from scorching the course in practice, may have a more serious effect if it continues through Saturday. The contenders will have to play 36 holes on that last day and the strength-suppling Texas sun may take a severe toll.

The top favorites, Hogan, Sam Snead and Lloyd Mangrum, are getting old as athletes go—from 37 to 40 years—and most of their strongest rivals aren't exactly young. You don't find 20-year-old kids winning major tournaments these days and the Open title hasn't gone to a rank outsider since Sam Parks won at Oakland in 1935.

But the pressure of competing for a title that is worth many times the value of its $4,000 top prize money, and the toughened-up course, remained as important factors although early estimates of the probable winning score have been revised downward.

The pros, who were mentioning 72 hole totals of 283 or 284 a few days ago before the steatough Bermuda grass rough was trimmed a bit and the tree-lined course was spruced up for the tournament, now are saying a par 280 score will be needed to win.

Since Snead carded a record-equalling 64 in practice Tuesday, the pros haven't been afraid of the course. Cary Middlecoff, the 1949 Open champion, and Jimmy McHale, the big amateur star, shot 65 Wednesday and Ed (Porky) Oliver, manufactured a double-eagle three on the 483-yard 14th hole.

Murray Says Four Issues Extend Strike

Company Report That Union Shop Alone Holds Up Settlement Called A Lie

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK
PITTSBURGH (AP)—President Philip Murray of the striking CIO United Steelworkers said his policy-making sides today that the union shop issues is only one of four obstacles holding up settlement of the 12-day-old steel strike.

Murray, who heads the union's parent CIO, declared the steel wage-price dispute has become a political football.

The silver-haired labor leader told a joint strategy session of the USW Executive Board and Wage-Policy Committee:

"I do not profess to know how long the struggle (strike) will last."

He was given a rising ovation when he said it is his purpose to "carry out your mandate and the mandate of the last convention."

He referred to a resolution adopted at the union's convention last May which stipulated settlement based on recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board.

The WSB recommended a 26 cent hourly raise for the 650,000 CIO Steelworkers, meaning an average of between $1.90 and $2 an hour and also called for a union shop.

In addition to the union shop, Murray listed three other issues as blocking a final settlement:

1. The steel industry's insistence on a management clause in any new contract. Murray said such a clause, defining management's rights, would allow companies to launch speedups.
2. The question of seniority. Murray said U. S. Steel Corp. wanted all seniority questions resolved to its satisfaction.
3. Incentive pay. The labor chief declared U. S. Steel Corp. also insisted on its version of incentive.
4. The union shop. Murray said the industry falsely gave out the impression that the union shop is the only issue. He called it "a plain unadorned lie."

When Murray mentioned Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as candidates for the Republican presidential nomination, his audience boomed lustily.

Murray said Taft should have more sense than to press for a court injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act. Various members of the audience yelled:

"What sense?" and "Ho ain't got no sense at all."

Murray called Eisenhower a "millionaire" because Eisenhower supported Taft's declaration that the Taft-Hartley Act should be invoked by President Truman to get the steel mills back in production.

WASHINGTON (AP)—James B. Carey, leader of a CIO union of electrical workers, today declared that a "Communist controlled union" survives only because of "deliberate, active assistance and encouragement of big business."

Fierce Red Attack Is Driven Back By U.S. 45th Division

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman called today for swift adoption of an all-out civil rights program backed up by "the full force and power of the federal government."

He declared in a speech prepared for commencement exercises at Howard University, a Negro institution:

"I am not one of those who feel that we can leave these matters up to the states alone or that we can rely solely on the efforts of men of good will."

"The federal government must live up to the ideals professed in our Declaration of Independence and the duties imposed upon it by our Constitution."
