TO ORGANIZE BOARD TRADE IN SANFORD

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEET- ING DECIDES UPON REORGANIZATION

At a meeting of the Commercial Club in the court house Tuesday night for the purpose of reorganizing a large crowd attested to the feeling in this city that Sanford needs an active and live body to represent the business.

Hon. Forrest Lake, president of the Commercial Club called the meeting to order and stated the object and then tendered his resignation as president, calling the vice president, G. W. Spencer to the chair.

Mr. Lake in a brief outline spoke of the benefits that had accrued from the club and the objects it had obtained and stated that on account of the press of business he would be forced to resign as the president but would still be an active member of the new organization.

Mr. Lake has made a statement of the club and under his leadership it has accomplished in the way of improvements and members feel that the time has come for a new Board of Trade to be organized with a constitution and by-laws, a paid secretary and many other improvements commensurate with the growth of San ford. In other words all the members in the president's down bed

the city has outgrown the Commercial Club and having served the club for many years as a club that now demands a real

Board of Trade along the lines of organization that other cities have with success.

The members resolved themselves to a mass meeting and a temporary organization was effected with G. W. Spencer as temporary president and W. M. Haynes secretary and treasurer.

It was decided to draft a constitution and by laws and to form a permanent organization.

The members also voted that the new Board of Trade be given the task of keeping communication between each branch and to meet at a convenient time and canvas of the territory of their committee below.

The members voted to present at the organization meeting on Friday

WHERE WASHINGTON TEAM WILL FINISH

Just where the Washington team will finish this year is a matter of conjecture. Some wise ones have named as low as sixth place for Griffith's outfit, but the team should do better than this, for it has been materially strengthened.

The Nationals' pitching staff, among the best in the American League, is stronger this season than last. Foster is proving the best full of his career, and this is also true of Miller. Ray Neuman is in great condition and is off to a better collective than he has ever had before.

Should Have Known That

It is better to have and not want than to want and not have.

In a word, I am not in a hurry.

AMONG THE FARMERS

ITEMS OF INTEREST CONCERNING FARMERS AND FRUIT GROWERS

Sore-Head May be Prevented in Chicks

Sore-head usually gives trouble to poultrymen during summer. It is prevalent during the rainy season on late hatched chicks. The disease is due to small parasites which cause swelling and irritation of the head. The eyes become inflamed and sore and the chicks finally die.

The best means of control is prevention, according to A. P. Spence, district agent for the University of Florida Extension Division. If one waits until the disease appears, he will have considerable trouble and probably will lose a number of chicks.

As soon as the chicks are strong and active, epsom salts should be given in the feed or water. A half pound of epsom salts can be added either to enough wet mash feed for fifty chicks and fed three times a day or to three gallons of water which can be kept before the birds constantly. Enough permanganate of potash should be added to the water to color it. The chicks seem to prefer the colored water to fresh. It is probable that the salts will be more effective if given in the feed.

Local treatment should be applied as soon as the disease appears. W. L. French of the University of Florida College of Agriculture has found the following prescription effective: Lard, 2 ounces, powdered copper sulfate, 1 ounce; table salt, 1 ounce; crude carbolic acid a few drops. This remedy is severe but effective. None of the mature should be allowed to get near the chicks.

If the chicks are weak and not strong, add a few drops of oil of camphor in water and administer a few drops every day for a week before the sun.

ment is applied. In severe cases the chick should be destroyed.

It Is Time to Prune for Witthrip

Witthrip is in practically every citrus grove in the state. Trees that are weakened from overbearing, lack of food, drouth, or any other cause are apt to be attacked. The disease not only attacks the vegetable portions of the tree, but it causes anthracnose spotting of the fruit. The fungus which causes witthrip fruits on dead wood, and consequently the presence of dead wood in the grove is dangerous.

H. E. Stevens, plant pathologist to the University of Florida Experiment Station recommends pruning as a precautionary measure against the disease. June and probably July are the best summer months to do this pruning. Injury from pruning at this time is less likely to occur. Of course the best time to prune is when the tree is dormant, but if the disease is in the grove the grower cannot afford to wait.

All dead and diseased wood should be taken out. In bad cases it will be necessary to prune severely and in some cases it will be necessary to sacrifice bearing wood.

Trees which have been pruned severely need extra care, and it may not be amiss to apply fertilizers to stimulate growth.

No stubs should be left where a branch is cut. Stubs will not heal well and will eventually leave dead tissue open to infection which will give the fungus a chance to fruit again. The cut should be made clean, and parallel with the long axis of the supporting branch. This will be a larger wound than if the cut is made across the pruned branch, but it will heal sooner and be less likely to become diseased. All large wounds should be painted with a good antiseptic such as a weak part of carbolic acid to prevent the surface while it is healing.

Citrus Fruit Condition Promises Short Crop

The citrus crop probably will be smaller than last year. The principal reason is an increase in the acreage of citrus in the United States. Because of this there is a great demand for the fruit, especially for the oranges, as estimated by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The price of oranges is expected to be higher than last year.

The citrus business is rather erratic and uncertain and while many are optimistic about the future, others are not. Many represent the citrus from Florida as the best in the world, and larger, some growers think that the late bloom will set fruit and some think that it will not. Others feel the opinion that the fruit will ripen through a long period and success-

First Printed Music

The printing of music from engraved copper plates is supposed to have begun at Rome, where a collection of Canzonets was engraved by Martin van Huxten, and published in 1586. In France the great house of Ballard began to use engraving before the end of Louis XIV's reign, some of Lully's operas being printed from types and some from engraved copper plates.

Most Appropriate
A quarrelsome couple were discussing the subject of epitaphs and tombstones, and the husband said: "My dear, what kind of stone do you suppose they will give me when I die?" "Brimstone, my love," was the affectionate reply.

SEN. DONEGAN IS SATISFIED WITH RESULT

WILL NOT CONTEST RESULT OF THE RECENT PRIMARY

For several days after the late primary election it was rumored that Senator Donegan, candidate for re-election in the Nineteenth District, would contest the election but with his customary good nature and high ideals in his brand of Democracy the Senator has decided to abide by the result of the primary, although there were discrepancies in the election. His letters on the matter follow:

Dear Sirs: Fla., June 26, 1916.

To the Herald, Sanford, Fla.

I have copies of letters in my hands, and I hope you will make a copy of them.

Very truly yours,
Arthur E. Donegan.

Kissimmee, Fla., June 24, 1916.

Mr. W. H. Brokaw, Orlando, Fla.

Dear Sirs: Your inquiry as to whether I will contest the result of the primary held June 26, 1916, is answered as follows:

Mr. Donegan filed a protest against the results of the primary election at Orlando, and the State Board of Canvassers is investigating throughout the state the results of all primaries held in the state. The primary law for the state, of which I believe you are familiar, makes no provision for contests of primaries.

As far as the investigation goes, the results of the primary at Orlando are not yet known.

However, the investigators appointed by the State Board were unanimous in their report that the results of the primary at Orlando were correct.

Mr. Donegan is going to check the results of the primary at Kissimmee.

Very truly yours,

Arthur E. Donegan.

Kissimmee, Fla., June 24, 1916.

The magnificent vote which you received in Orange county speaks well for the high esteem in which the people of your county hold you and I wish to assure you that while it is necessarily a source of regret to myself to lose this office still it is some satisfaction to know that I have as worthy a successor as yourself. Your son have always been among my best friends, and I trust the campaign has brought about no unpleasantness which will disturb the friendly relationship which has existed between your family and myself.

I hope you may spend a pleasant time in Tallahassee, and if at any time I can be of service to you do not hesitate to call on me.

With kind regards and best wishes,

I am, etc.,
Yours very truly,
Arthur E. Donegan.
