6 Horse And Dog Ovals In Miami Area Get Full Sanction Of County Electorate

MIAMI, Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—Eight horse and dog tracks along the Florida East Coast and one dog track in Clay county near Jacksonville have the full sanction of county electorates to operate under the new law legalizing racing and pari-mutuel wagering systems. Three of the horse tracks and three dog tracks, led by Joseph Widener's Hialeah Park, are in the Miami area. They gained landslide support in the county referendum election yesterday in spite of the fact that two of the horse tracks have not been built.

A horse and dog track in Palm Beach county was approved for operation as was a dog track at Orange Park near Jacksonville.

Several other counties proposed racing plants but elections to ratify their operation will be held later.

While the vote was being counted last night, Rev. C. W. Drake, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Tampa, announced his intention to apply for an injunction to prevent the operation of tracks in any counties where the law is retroactive.

The contest was heard in Dade County where voters campaigned were held. The vote was held to have set a record there for local referendums.

With 81 out of 74 precincts in Dade County tabulated, the ballot showed:

CANNON ISSUES STATEMENT UPON HIS INDICTMENT

Says He Will Continue His Work For Prohibition And Morality

ATLANTA, Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., last night issued a statement in reference to his indictment for violation of the corrupt practices act in which he said: "I believe that no indictment would have been found had the Roman Catholic district attorney summoned the witnesses I gave him, just as he summoned other witnesses, without asking the grand jury whether it desired to hear them or not."

Bishop Cannon said he had requested Bishop John M. Moore to take general supervision of his work in Brazil, and Bishop Burlington of his work in the Belgian Congo.

"I shall, as far as time and strength permit," he added, "continue my work for prohibition, against war, for marriage and home, for a better adjustment of economic and industrial life, for improved racial relations, for better education."

Memorial Service For Edison Held By Fort Myers Group

The service was sponsored by the local branch of the national plant, flower and fruit guild of which Mrs. Edison is president.

Mrs. A. R. Stansifer, first vice president, led the service. A resolution of condolence was adopted. It had been offered by Frank T. Bentley, Mrs. E. L. Evans and Mrs. Lucian Lucas, all close friends of the Edison family, and carried the additional signature of Mrs. Stansifer. A copy was sent immediately to Mrs. Edison.

A city-wide memorial service will be held today starting at 2:30 o'clock at the municipal auditorium at which Fort Myers will pay its homage to the inventor, who resided here each winter for nearly a half century.

Under the auspices of the Fort Myers Ministerial association, this service will be held simultaneously with the funeral service at Edison's New Jersey home.

Bluenose Retains Place As Queen Of Fishing Schooners

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—Bluenose, Captain Angus Walters' big salt banker from Lunenburg, N. S., retained her throne as queen of the North Atlantic fishing fleets yesterday by defeating the American challenger, Gertrude L. Thebaud of Gloucester, Mass.

The sailing champion of the fishing banks for ten years led the pride of the Gloucester fleet home from a 30-mile open ocean course by 13 minutes. Monday she beat the Gloucester man over the same course by more than half an hour.

Last night they dusted off a big silver cup, the international fishermen's trophy, forerunner, almost, for eight years, of the trophy presented to Bluenose's fleet little skipper in competition since 1923, when Captain Ben Pine, Thebaud's veteran racing skipper, came to Halifax in the Columbia in an attempt to recover it. Owing to a dispute, that series remained unfinished and the cup was put away in a safe deposit vault. When this year's race was arranged, no one could remember where it was and it was found after a painstaking search just in time for the title contest.

Captain Angus and his schooner have never met defeat in an international title contest.

The League's Council today met to discuss the situation in Manchuria and the League's Secretary-General, Sir Eric Drummond, observed that the League's efforts to bring about a settlement of the Manchurian situation had been hampered by the unwillingness of the Japanese government to accept the League's proposals.

Alden's Bear Cats Get Thrashing As Hurlers Driven From Hill

By E. H. CULLUM. Dick Alden's Bear Cats had their claws clipped, their fur scorched and were thoroughly tamed last night when they went up against the shock troops of the Florida Power & Light Company...

Lawson started on the mound for the Bear Cats, and outside of being very wild, walking nine during the three innings he pitched, when he was able to locate the plate the F. P. & L. boys slammed his offerings all over the lot...

Britt Raburn pitched the entire game for the light boys, and while he was in trouble several times, he managed to pull out without any serious damage, yielding up nine hits, for nine runs and striking out ten. Aside from pitching a good game, Britt had a perfect night at the bat, getting six hits out of six times up, three singles, two doubles and a home run, scoring every time he got on a base besides hitting in five additional runs...

However the best play of the game goes to Stoothoff, first baseman for the Bear Cats, when he went far back to get Clay Williams' foul fly, falling flat after catching the ball but holding on to it.

Florida Freshman Dies After Auto Accident

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 20.—(A.P.) Reports received at the University of Florida last night said Donald Scott, Clearwater, University freshman, died in a Lake City hospital of injuries received in an automobile accident at Live Oak yesterday.

Two other University students, Louis T. Wood, Clearwater, and Charles G. Boulware, Tallahassee, and two Tampa high school boys, Floyd Griffin and Roy Peterson, also were injured when their automobile turned over.

The party was on route from Tallahassee to Gainesville, Griffin and Peterson planned to continue to Tampa.

OH YEAH?

By PETER SCHAAL

The South still rings to the steady ratt to which Gene McEver, the south's greatest half-back beat against the goal line of what must have been as astonished an Alabama team as ever has been gathered together.

Naturally Tennessee is seen as the South's undefeated champion this year. Their schedule includes games with North Carolina, Duke, Vandy, and Kentucky, all easy with the exception of Vandy, Tulane, which pulled a distinct surprise in its overwhelming 19 to 0 defeat of the Vandy team which took the measure of the powerful Ohio State eleven, has a remaining schedule which is a little tougher than the Tennessee schedule.

That leaves us with Georgia, undefeated so far, and with its best team in years. The Georgians are said to have a Notre Dame team in every respect, including three sets of first-class players. If they win the rest of their games they will without doubt earn the title of National Champions.

Catch Leonard McClure is one of the lushest high school men in the state these days. Disappointed at the showing his boys made against Oree here last Friday, and faced with games with Deacons and Andrew Jackson on successive Fridays, he has been drilling his boys at top speed, realizing that the coming games are as high as they come. Unless an injury is reported in scrimmages during the week, McClure's men will be in perfect physical shape for the Deacons game in that city Friday afternoon.

Daytona has one of the heaviest teams in years, boys who are not only well built, fast, and powerful but possessing an unusual amount of football knowledge. Their new coach saw them go down to a 13 to 0 defeat in Tampa last week, but he knew they were facing one of the best teams in the Big Ten, veterans all, so he wasn't discouraged over his outside-the-northeast-conference loss.

From all indications, half of the football fans of Sanford will trek to Jacksonville this week, anticipating a football game which will rival that of the Georgia-Florida game in Gainesville next week in point of thrills and spills. The Flame-nags, fresh from a 13 to 6 win over the Tech Yellow Jackets, and still wearing the bright red plume of their surprising moral victory over the Gators last year, will come to Jacksonville Saturday as the favorites. It should be one of the best games in the South this week, rivaling only the Georgia-Vanderbilt game an indication of a victory for the Gators is a possibility, for it is considered that all the regular season work will be back, Pappy in Jay of the Gators.

EDISON'S BODY LIES IN STATE IN WORK ROOM

"This man," he said, "was also touched with the spirit of Jehovah. In him were all the elements that go to make the map of God. His death was fulfillment of his vincible life."

He then recited Tennyson's Crossing the Bar. The funeral will be at 2:30 P. M. Wednesday at Glenmont, the Edison estate, with burial in Rosedale Cemetery at Orange.

The Rev. Stephen J. Herben, who while pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Orange from 1912 to 1916, enjoyed a close friendship with Mr. Edison, will conduct the funeral service unassisted. He now is engaged in editorial work for a Methodist book concern.

The service will be private, but Henry Ford and Harvey Firestone, the inventor's celebrated cronies, will join the family in attendance. President Hoover hopes to be present but has been unable to plan definitely.

For a second time since Mr. Edison's death early Sunday, Arthur L. Walsh, vice president of Thomas A. Edison Industries, Inc., said the inventor was not an atheist, even though he acknowledged no specific creed.

Mr. Walsh recalled that once as he sat with Mr. Edison in the laboratory, the latter said: "Some time when I've reached the end of my rope in an experiment, suddenly there will come a thought that is the key to my problem. Certainly that supreme intelligence guides the human mind."

The room in which the body of Thomas Edison lay was much as he left it before his last illness. His old rolltop desk, a blue covered couch on which he used to rest, the long shelves of books lining the balcony, the scores of photographs and paintings on the walls—all were undisturbed.

Close to the desk at which Mr. Edison had posed over many of his inventions stood the coffin. Over it were sprinkled red oak leaves from the trees on the Llewellyn Park Estate. Around the room were several vases of chrysanthemums, a few sprays of amaryllis and bunches of brightly colored autumn leaves.

Directly above the coffin was a big bronze wall clock, its hands strangely stopped at 3:27 A. M. yesterday, three minutes after the inventor sank from a coma into eternal sleep.

The soft amber radiance of the incandescent lamp—considered by Mr. Edison his greatest invention—filled the room.

It was into this setting, so reminiscent of the days when the living Edison's vibrant personality dominated the room, that the employer of the Edison plant were ushered at 8 A. M., two hours after the body had been borne from the home under an escort of motorcycle policemen.

Charles Edison, the inventor's son, was there to receive the men and women of all ages. Some were in their Sunday clothes; others, soon to go on duty, were in overalls. Some led their children through the slowly moving line for a glimpse at the figure under the coffin's glass lid.

A PAIR OF SPARKS CIRCUS BABIES

Again this year Sanford will be visited by the ever popular Spark Four Ring Circus when they are scheduled to appear on the Mellenville Ave. and 8th St. grounds. The circus is coming from Ocala and will include in its performances a number of thrilling features that have been especially engaged for the 1931 tour.

The trained wild beast displays include large groups of lions, tigers and leopards who are put through a series of thrilling stunts by the noted Franz Woska who for many years held the very dangerous position of master wild beast trainer of the great Carl Hagenbeck Wild Animal Farms at Stellingen, Germany.

The entire show with its four rings and "safety-first" steel arena will be presented in compact form and without any curtailing of features at 2 and 8 P. M. on Friday, October 23rd. Downtown ticket office at Rummel and Anderson Drug Store on circus day.

was filled. A guard of honor—four Edison employees standing with folded arms at each corner of the coffin—was changed every 15 minutes.

Public mourners numbered thousands and they were polyglot. There were bankers in cut-a-ways, school children carrying their books, old persons who wept freely, unemployed in threadbare clothing, Salvation Army corps in uniform, mothers with babies in arms.

Some younger employees of the Edison plant who never had seen the inventor filed past the tier two and three times.

Other farmers in this vicinity also expect to plant one or more acres if conditions are favorable.—Lake City Gazette.

British Delegates At Methodist Meet Decry Liquor Issue

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—(A.P.)—British delegates yesterday blocked efforts of staunch dry advocates within the Methodist Church to force a separate pronouncement on the liquor question coming before the general conference.

At a meeting where Bishop James Cannon, Jr., was termed "a martyred and persecuted man," it was the objection of the Rev. C. Emory Walters of London that prevented a division of reports to be made on questions before the group meeting, held in a suburban church.

"Gentlemen, we Britishers sympathize with you in your liquor problem," Mr. Walters said, "but we have come a long way to join with you in this great conference and feel that the questions of modern marriage and unemployment are equal in the church with prohibition."

Mr. Walters had spoken previously and received applause when he declared that the church should change its marriage vows, containing the phrase "until death do us part," or decline to permit divorced persons to receive the blessings of the denomination, and said that he was opposed to birth control "because the use of contraceptives of any kind is against God and the church."

Earlier in the day the general conference offered prayer that "God may give power to the deliberations and peace producing efforts of the League of Nations," in dealing with the Sino-Japanese situation.

The conference also paused to express sorrow over the death of Thomas A. Edison and to send a message of condolence to Mrs. Edison, a Methodist.

LOVE STAMPS CHAIN-STORE TAX LAWOKEY

Commenting on the case, Judge Love said he considered the Florida law presented only one difficult issue—the distinction made between chain operators doing business in only one county and multiple operators doing business in more than one county with increased taxation of the latter group.

He said he studied the case carefully on this point—the difference between the Florida law and other chain store acts—and concluded that the Florida law was constitutional.

If the chain method of doing business is sufficient evidence of an advantage that it may be placed in a class by itself, he said, the spreading of this system into more territory than one county evidences still greater advantage and warrants classification as increased taxation.

This alleged discrimination based on the crossing of county lines was one of the chief points raised at the act. Other points attacked were that it assumed filing stations and wholesale businesses; that it taxed the number of roofs under which business were operated rather than the amount of business done, and that it required compulsory assignment of property owners.

The state's defense law was based chiefly on the five-four decision of the United States supreme court in upholding the Indiana chain tax law. In that case the majority opinion was based on the doctrine of the right to classify for taxation, the spread of chains being said to be sufficient evidence of advantage to warrant the classification of such business for special taxes.

WYNE'S PROUD VICTORY OVER YELLOW JACKETS

Wynne's Charges Plan Campaign On Gators With 3 Stars Hurt

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 21.—Having definitely proved to the gridiron universe with a 13 to 0 victory over the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets and a 7-7 tie with the University of Wisconsin Badgers, champions of Purdue last Saturday, Auburn really has a season's first string eleven this year under the leadership of Coach Wynne, Roger Kiley and Sam McAllister, the Tigers started work this week for their next game with the University of Florida, happened considerably on account of major injuries to three regulars.

The Gators will be encountered in Jacksonville Saturday in Auburn's second Southern Conference game of the season and Florida's third. Coach Charlie Bachman's charges swamped the North Carolina State Wolfpack, 34 to 0, and held the North Carolina Tarheels to a 0-0 verdict in their conference engagements. The Plainsmen rate a 1,000 percentage in the conference standings with an impressive win over Georgia Tech.

Lindley Hatfield, halfback, who gained 69 yards in six tries against the Yellow Jackets in Atlanta; Tom Brown, fullback, who accumulated 20 yards in five plunges through the line, and Ernest "Fearless" Molpus, guard, who was a dreadnaught in opening up holes for the ball carriers and a Rock of Gibraltar on the defense, are the Tiger who will probably not play against the Gators in Jacksonville. All received broken ribs on Grant Field.

Unless an unlocked for change takes place, it is doubtful if the above superb players will be ready for action again until the Tulane game in Montgomery, November 7. Hatfield has less chance of playing against the Spartans than the other two. The Tech game is Hatfield's nemesis as he was injured in this clash in 1930 and was out for three games, and it looks like he will be out for the same length of time this season. The Engineers marched to victory last year when Hatfield was carried off the field, but Wynne injected a capable substitute in Firpo Phipps last Saturday, who took up where the fleet-footed Montgomery boy left off. Hatfield's 66-yard run against the Jackets in 1930 was a highlight of the battle and his runs this year also stood out.

On top of injuries received in Atlanta against the Golden Tornado, word drifts in from Montgomery, where Casey "Nitpick" Kimbrell, sophomore halfback, was sent for an examination of an abscess on his neck, that he will be out for a month. Kimbrell's loss is a blow to the reserve department since he is the fastest runner on the squad and the second best punter.

With the loss of Hatfield and Kimbrell, both left halfbacks, Wynne will lose many hours of sleep, worrying over this position. Phipps is the only left half on the team with any varsity experience, and he is not immune from injuries, which start Wynne to worrying. This post will be well fortified if the sensational Phipps can remain at his post for 60 minutes, but this is too much to expect from the ex-Mobile prep school star after two strenuous games against Wisconsin and Georgia Tech.

Thomas "Red" Head, quarterback on the 1930 frosh team and in Spring training, will be given plenty of work at left half this week in an effort to locate an understudy for Phipps. Head was transferred to halfback after the second week of practice this season, has been out a good deal because of injuries, so is almost a novelty at this important berth. And he weighs only 145, almost 10 lbs. less than he did as a plebe.

Auburn's "Iron" men are gradually weakening, and who wouldn't with Wisconsin and Georgia Tech charges using steady streams of punts to start the Tigers' season? The starting Bengals have been to yield ground against such players, even in the last few minutes of the game, but the hope is that they have set for the two weeks beginning to tell. This was evident at the game in Atlanta when several of Auburn were barely able to get into the dressing room, and every player who opened his eyes Tech emerged in a badly battered condition. Wynne will be expected to give Co-Captain McCallum, Chambliss, Arthur Jordan, Grant, Hitchcock, Phipps and the ailing Wynne, Hatfield, Molpus, and a complete rest this week. They are to be in fair condition for the Florida fray.

GAINESVILLE.—Work on new highway connecting with the Florida Trail at Chipley and the way of the city to Beech Grove, seven miles north of Gainesville, will start soon.

OH YEAP?

By PETER SCHAAL

This is the story of the lowly third stringer, that skinny-legged, seared looking, low-in-his-uniform appearing high school youth who patiently plies his way to the practice field day after day, always hopeful, always dreaming of his big chance, yet doomed to be pummeled and pushed about by boys who have probably only one thing in their favor, size. This is the story of some 20 Sanford High school aspirants who have been telling daily, in murky as well as scorching weather, yet whose spirits are still high, whose dreams of one day making that first string team are still foremost in their minds.

Coach Leonard McLucas held his first practice session with an attendance of about 45 boys. In a few days that number dropped to 30, and within a few days injuries and intelligibilities had reduced that number to 26. Today there are 34 boys on the field when a game begins, 23 of them ready to step into the shoes of the first eleven. Six weeks of daily training of the hardest kind has failed to stop some of those youthful gridders. Six weeks of the most grueling and body-breaking training a youngster can imagine, yet 34 players are still coming back for more!

The why of that condition is attributable to a number of things. Some of those players know that if they work hard, they'll be given a chance. Some of them realize that an injury may creep into the front ranks any moment, and that by silently plugging away, they will be given the chance to play. Some of them, all I hope, realize that their time will come in 1932, when the regulars graduate, and that they can do nothing better for themselves, their school, and football than to at practice sessions daily, assimilating as much of Coach McLucas' football knowledge as possible.

I like to think that 34 players are out there every day, rain or shine, running until they drop, hurrying home to dress and eat dinner and then report for skull practice at the high school, because they have a deep and sincere amount of respect and admiration for their coach. Since Coach McLucas became a member of the faculty at Seminole High, a remarkable change has taken place in the morale, spirit, physical and mental life of that 8-hour community of 500 students. Walking through Seminole High the recess periods or when classes are being changed, one senses an air of good fellowship and fraternity that certainly wasn't there three years ago. There is a friendly smile and greeting at every hand; the members of one class, while proud of their own strength and prestige, seem to want to lend a hand to the members of the other classes, anxious to do anything for the common good. The introduction of Coach McLucas, bringing with it not only a rigorous form of physical education and attention to school duties, but also a closely knit spirit of camaraderie on the campus is, to me, reflected in the consistency of the 34 boys who are trying to be members of Seminole High's best football team. The most important move the school board ever made was the one which saw them appointing Coach McLucas as head of the department of physical education.

To those second, third, and fourth stringers I see every time I attend a practice session I offer congratulations for a season which is already a success, mainly because of their earnestness. Their valor and courage will some day be recognized, their abilities corralled, their spirits molded into what will then be the finest, smartest, and greatest football team Seminole High has ever had. Football fans, I offer you the following boys as future men you'll one day be proud of: Young, Kennedy, Vincent, Smith, Tillis, Jack Kenner, Riser, Harrison, Biggers, Yancey, Higgins, Sharon, Varner, Bennett, Dighton, Knight, Brown, Odham, McClelland, Coleman, Williams, Hester, and the others.

Yesterday's practice session in preparation for the game in Daytona Friday was just as intense as all the others have been. As usual Coach McLucas stressed blocking and signal drills and as usual the boys looked alternately good and bad. The strong Daytona outfit will give them plenty of food for thought two minutes after the game has begun, and the plan is that if the boys ever plume in to get down to business they need to

FRANK FRISCH IS NAMED AS MOST VALUABLE IN '31

Captain Of Champion Cardinals Accorded Big Baseball Honor

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—Frank Frisch, captain and second baseman of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, has crashed baseball's hall of fame as the National League's "most valuable player" for 1931.

Announcement of Frisch's selection, by a vote of a committee of baseball writers, was made yesterday by William J. Slocum, of New York, president of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. The association is perpetuating the "most valuable player" poll, which was officially dropped by the National League in 1929.

Frisch emerged the victor in a three-cornered battle of ballots with Chuck Klein, slugging outfielder of the Phillies, and Bill Terry, first baseman of the New York Giants. Out of a possible maximum of 80 votes Frisch topped the list with 65, Klein received 55 and Terry 53.

In 1924, when the first official National League award was made, Frisch finished third. He was runner-up to Paul Waner in 1927. He also placed second in last year's unofficial contest, trailing Hack Wilson.

Frisch and Terry this year were the only players who scored points on all eight of the writers' ballots. Frisch had only one vote for first place but piled up his winning total by getting five votes for second place, one for fourth and one for eighth. Terry had one first, one second, three fourths, one fifth, one seventh and one eighth.

The three world series heroes of the Cardinals, Pepper Martin, Burleigh Grimes and Bill Hallahan, received no points whatever. They won honorable mention, however, along with more than a dozen others.

Another striking feature of this year's balloting, done before the World Series, was that no player received the top ranking on more than one expert's sheet.

The complete list, with points totals: Frisch, St. Louis, 65; Klein, Philadelphia, 55; Terry, New York, 53; English, Chicago, 30; Hafey, St. Louis, 29; Wilson, St. Louis, 28; Jackson, New York, 21; Grimm, Chicago, 21; Adams, St. Louis, 18; Brandt, Boston, 15; Maranville, Boston, 15; Cuyler, Chicago, 14; Traynor, Pittsburgh, 12; Lucas, Cincinnati, 10; Lloyd Waner, Pittsburgh, 8; Bottomley, St. Louis, 8; Jim Elliott, Philadelphia, 6; Quinn, Brooklyn, 6; Finn, Brooklyn, 5; Clark, Brooklyn, 3; Derringer, St. Louis, 3; Rost, Chicago, 3; Bartell, Philadelphia, 2; Verge, New York, 1; O'Doul and Wright, Brooklyn, 1 each; Cuccinello, Cincinnati, 1; Gelbert, St. Louis, 1.

This week, once over the Daytona hurdle with safety, they've got to tackle Andrew Jackson, Orlando, Leesburg, and Gainesville, and possibly the Rollins Rats, no easy schedule.

Professional football is rapidly gathering in our Southern football stars. Sunday's games told of Johnny Burnett, former Florida griddler getting into action against Ken Strong's Stapleton team for the N. Y. Giants. Sammy Stein, another former Florida player has long been a member of the Giants, as has Doug Wycoff, the Georgia Tech star. Muddy Waters, last year's star tackle for the Gators, is a member of the Cleveland pro team, with old Cy Williams, another Gator ace, playing tackle for the Providence Steam Rollers when he isn't somewhere wrestling. "Father" Lumpkin, another Tech ace, is going fine as a member of the Portsmouth team, while Stumpy Thomason, still another Georgian, is the powerhouse of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Pro football, with its 10-team league, is on a sounder basis than ever, to the delight of thousands of fans who enjoy watching football played in a clean-cut manner. Wish we had games played during December, a league here in the South, with twice each week, and with the big games played Christmas and New Year's.

Here's one more tabulation of the Pick-The-Winner contests, 25 of them, who had handed in their lists up until this morning: 33 pick Army, 5 pick Yale; 34 pick Brown, 2 pick Lehigh; 31 pick Minnesota, 7 pick Iowa; 31 pick Navy, 7 pick Princeton; 25 pick Auburn, 12 pick Florida, one pick tie; 30 pick Indiana, 8 pick Chicago; 23 pick Michigan, 16 pick Illinois; 27 pick Georgia, 1 pick Vanderbilt; 23 pick W & J, 16 pick Lafayette; 23 pick Carnegie Tech, 6 pick Purdue; 34 pick Notre Dame, 2 pick Pittsburgh; 21 pick Wisconsin, 17 pick Pennsylvania; 25 pick Chattanooga, 9 pick Freshyork; 21 pick Northwestern, 1 pick Ohio State, and 27 pick Tennessee, and one pick North Carolina.

KEYSTONE OF GATOR LINE

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 21.—"Big Bill" Ferrazzi, 190 pound center of the University of Florida, who was unable to play last Saturday in the Syracuse game, will be in shape for the clash with Auburn at Jacksonville this week. Coach Charlie Bachman said today, Ferrazzi was the line hero when Florida held North Carolina to a 0-0 score, and Roy Simmons, Syracuse scout, declared that "Big Bill" is the greatest center he has seen in football in the last ten years. The Gators expect one of their hardest battles of the year against the Auburn team at Jacksonville, and Mentor Bachman is drilling his proteges carefully for the Saturday clash.

Chase Team Trims Soldiers On Ball Field Last Night

By R. H. CULLUM
The Chase diamond ball team defeated Company D last night 25 to 12. Bryan pitched for the victors, and with the exception of the sixth inning, he was never in any trouble. The Company D boys staged a rally, which, helped by errors on the part of the Chase team, pushed over six runs in this inning.

Cook was on the mound for the losers, and pitched a good brand of ball, and had he had any kind of support in the field, he might have won the game. In the sixth inning, the entire Company D team blew up, errors piling up with lightning-like rapidity, allowing the Chase team to put over eleven runs in this frame. Cook also was the heavy hitter for the D team, hitting a thousand, getting four hits out of four trips to the plate.

Weaver carried off the batting honors, securing four hits out of five times up, one of them a homer.

Despite the apparent one-sidedness of the game, the large crowd seemed to enjoy it immensely.

While Company D team was disappointed in not winning, they are not at all discouraged and are ready to meet all comers at any time.

At the request of Manager Porter Lansing, a game has been arranged for tomorrow night between Company D and the Sanford Herald team. This game is scheduled to start immediately following the concert at the band shell.

Laundry Girls Drop Contest To Orlando

The Seminole Laundry girls diamond ball team, playing Orlando last night to play their last game of the year, lost the contest by an 11 to 5 score. Condie Taylor, ace of the Orlando girl pitchers was on the hill for the Orlando Blackwood Cleaners team, and kept all Sanford threats at bay, being given good support.

Kithel Gates, Sanford's best pitcher, was not up to her usual form, but did her best to prevent a loss for her team. Her support was not as steady as that of the Orlando outfit however. The girls team will now disband until April.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—A slash in prohibition enforcement expenditures, was demanded yesterday by Representative Schafer, Republican, Wisconsin, as a means of reducing the cost of government.

Importers Of Peas And Peppers Seek Tariff Reduction

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—Importers of Mexican and Cuban green peppers and peas yesterday asked the tariff commission to recommend a 50 percent reduction in the present 2-cent duty.

They were opposed by Florida cooperatives, the Manatee County Growers association, Florida East Coast Growers association and the Lee County Growers association, and individual producers, who contended the existing tariff was necessary to meet foreign competition.

Arizona and Los Angeles interests sought the reduction to be able to supply eastern markets when the Florida crop is inadequate.

A. D. Hutchinson, New York importer of Cuban peppers, also appeared in behalf of reduction.

Presentation of evidence in the hearing on the 3-cent tomato tariff was completed yesterday morning. Among those who testified were George S. Fletcher, Miami; H. T. Bennett, Bradenton; Arthur Hoadley, Fort Myers and L. L. Chandler, Goidis, all Florida producers, opposing any change in the rate.

Fletcher said Florida's production of tomatoes would have been "several times" its present volume had it not had to compete with foreign imports. He added the 3-cent tariff had aided in expansion and that now the industry was in a position to grow and prosper.

Horace Daniels, representing the American chamber of commerce in Havana, asked the commission to lower the rate to permit freer entry of Cuban tomatoes.

Man Drowns Trying To Save Rod And Reel

ST. CLOUD, Oct. 21.—Charles Dykes, pioneer St. Cloud settler, was drowned here yesterday afternoon when he jumped overboard in an attempt to recover a rod and line which had been snatched from his hands by a bass while he was fishing in Lake Herndon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bonham, unable to swim, were forced to watch their companion go down as pole and line vanished across the lake. The body was recovered. Mr. Dykes is survived by one son, Allan Dykes, of Macon, Ga.

Football Finishes

ATLANTA, Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—Georgia Tech may discard its "two-team" system for the Tulane game at New Orleans Saturday. At least Coach Bill Alexander plans to bunch his best forwards into one line and force it to stand the battle as long as possible.

Alexander is uncertain of only one position on this new line. Tharpe is a sure beginner at one tackle but the Tech coach has yet to decide between Exell, Clinegan and Tom Cain for the other.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—Georgia's football coaches yesterday counted nine regulars on the injured squad, three of whom are not expected to play against Vanderbilt here Saturday.

Home Key, the backfield star of the Yale and North Carolina games, has a sore leg but Trainer C. W. Jones hopes to have him ready Saturday. Jack Roberts, the first string fullback, has a heel injury. Others nursing hurts include Jimmy Steineff, fullback; Graham Batchelor, center; Freddie Miller, end; and Sam Brown, halfback.

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—Certain major shifts in the Crimson Tide line apparently were under consideration yesterday as Coach Thomas continued disintegrated with the forward wall against Tennessee. No defense announcement of any possible change was forthcoming, however.

CLEMSON COLLEGE, S. C., Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—Clemson took its final home workout yesterday before leaving early today for Columbia and the state fair week game with South Carolina at noon Thursday. The team had a routine practice of dummy scrimmage in offense.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—The Tarheel varsity will win in scrimmage against the freshmen yesterday, Coach Chuck

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 21.—Coach Charlie Bachman, tutor of University of Florida Gators, is presently taking the team with the Auburn Tigers and as a result is putting the Florida team through the strictest routine of practice. Yesterday afternoon, the Gators worked in the new stadium for two hours, running signals and perfecting the offense which failed, so diplomatically as to make an impression at Syracuse last week.

With Scabby Phil and Spunky Cherry back on the field in shape for real action, the orange and blue clad boys held a snappy dummy scrimmage against Nassau, Fla.'s battered Omelets, who gained a respite from further punishment, the varsity mentor is tonight upon saving his team for actual combat.

Coach Holzinger was teaching his ball carriers the fine art of lateral passing and is attempting to perfect the deceptive plays in the Florida aerial attack.

As yet the Gators have not glimpsed the Auburn plays which were so successful against Georgia Tech last Saturday, when the Alabama Poly eleven rolled over the Yellow Jackets, 13 to 9. Florida, with the superior team it had last year only succeeded in adding the Auburn outfit, 7 to 0.

ATLANTA, Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—Dr. Theonwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe university here, said yesterday that Oglethorpe had accepted an invitation received several weeks ago to play an inter-sectional football game for charity in Chicago, Nov. 21.

He said that a number of schools were approached and that disabled veteran officials, who are sponsoring the game, would choose the teams to play in this contest.

Dr. Jacobs said the Haskell Indians, chosen yesterday as one of the teams for this game, would be acceptable to Oglethorpe.

WANTED SON OF BANK PRESIDENT KRAFT BY GUNMEN Machine Gun Robbers Leave Death Wake In Making Getaway

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 21.—(A.P.)—A coroner's jury investigating the ambush slaying of Lester Stratton, 24, alleged bootlegger and his companion, Elmer Wells, 18, Oct. 4, was unable to fix the blame after a hearing here yesterday.

Stratton and Wells were shot to death with shotgun on a lonely lane in the outskirts of the city as they were taking two cars to Stratton's home. Stratton was driving the first machine and towing the other which Wells was steering.

Wells was shot in the back of the head after having been forced to drive the bank car while Stratton took up position, James Kraft, 15, was being held on the highway, six miles from here.

His body and that of the slain bank president were found in the woods near the highway. Kraft was believed killed in reprisal.

The other victim of the gunmen's bullets, W. R. Kraft, 23, was shot because a raider refused to believe his assertion there was no more money in the bank. He was wounded in the shoulder and is believed suffering from a lung infection. Physicians said he might die.

The brothers, sons of President W. F. Kraft of the institution, were at work with seven other employees when three bandits appeared. A fourth, machine gun man, waited in a car outside.

Several customers were in the lobby, and with the employees forced to lie on the floor during the robbery, Stratton person by there at the bank, whose companions gathered an estimated $50,000 in cash and securities, asked W. R. Kraft where other valuables were.

Kraft replied they were none. The men then fired his pistol point blank.

AF bank guard "pinned an alarm from his bullet-proof cage in the balcony and fell to the roof in fire at the car, the men seized Fry, Alice Schaefer, a stenographer, and James Kraft, an bartender, using them as shields, they opened the waiting car. Mrs. Schaefer was released but while the machine gun swept the street, Kraft was forced to drive.

WYNN'S PROUD VICTORY OVER YELLOW JACKETS

Wynn's Charges Plan Campaign On Gators With 3 Stars Hurt

ABURN, Ala., Oct. 21.—Having definitely proved to the gridiron universe with a 13 to 6 victory over the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets and a 7-7 tie with the University of Wisconsin Badgers, Coach Wynne today has a strong feeling about the campaign.

The Gators will be encountered in Jacksonville Saturday in Auburn's second Southern Conference game of the season and Florida's Coach Charlie Bachman's charges are expected to be a 6-0 verdict in their conference engagements. The Flaminians will have a 100 percent record in the conference standings with an impressive win over Georgia Tech.

Unless an unexpected change takes place, it is doubtful if the above superb players will be ready for action again until the Tulane game in Montgomery, November 7. Hatfield has less chance of playing against the Spartans than the other two. The Tech game is Hatfield's second as he was injured in this clash in 1929 and was out for three games, and it looks as if he will be out for the same length of time this season. The Spartans marched to victory last year when Hatfield was carried off the field, but Wynn injected a capable substitute in Fippo Phipps last Saturday, who took up where the first-footed Montgomery boy left off. Hatfield's 56-yard run against the Jackets in 1929 was a highlight of the battle and his run this year also stood out.

On top of injuries received in Alabama against the Golden Tornado, weed drifts in from Mont. country, where Casy "Streak" Kimbrell, sophomore halfback, was sent for an examination of an abscess on his neck, that he will be out for a month. Kimbrell's loss is a blow to the reserve department since he is the fastest runner on the squad and the second best punter.

With the loss of Hatfield and Kimbrell, both left halfbacks, Wynn will lose many hours of sleep worrying over the position Phipps is the only left half on the team with any variety of experience, and he is not immune from injuries, which starts Wynn to worrying. This post will be well furnished if the conventional Phipps can remain at his post for 60 minutes, but this is too much to expect from the ex-Mobile prep school star after two strenuous games against Wisconsin and Georgia Tech.

Thomas "Red" Head, quarterback on the 1929 fresh team and in Spring training, will be given plenty of work at left half this year in an effort to locate an understudy for Phipps. Head was transferred to halfback after the opening week of practice this season, but has not a good deal of experience at this important berth. Head weighs only 145, almost 20 lbs. less than he did as a player.

Wynn's "Iron" men are good. Wisconsin and Georgia Tech were the only steady stream of opposition to win the Tiger. The starting lineup has been set to yield ground against the players, even in the last few minutes of the game, but the fact that they have set for the game was in beginning to tell. This was evident at the time in Alabama when several of the players were barely able to hold their own during the game. Every player who opened his mouth was met with a body check. Wynn will be pleased to see the Co-Captain, McCallum, Chambliss, Art. Jones, Grant, Hirschbach, and Phipps, and the other players, and a complete rest this week. They are to be in fair condition for the Florida leg.

OH YEAH?

This is the story of the lovely third stringer, that shiny-legged, snared looking, last-in-line uniform appearing high school youth who patiently plods his way to the practice field day after day, always hopeful, always dreaming of his big chance, yet doomed to be punished and pushed about by boys who have probably only one thing in their favor, size. This is the story of some 20 Sanford High school aspirants who have been toiling daily, in murky as well as scorching weather, yet with no spirits are still high, whose dream of one day making that first string team are still foremost in their minds.

Captain Leonard McLucas held his first practice session with an attendance of about 45 boys. In a few days that number dropped to 25, and within a few days, injuries and indispositions had reduced that number to 16. Today there are 34 boys on the field when a game begins, 23 of them ready to step into the shoes of the first eleven. Six weeks of daily training of the hardest kind has failed to stop some of these youthful gridblers. Six weeks of the most grueling and body-breaking training a youngster can imagine, yet 23 players are still coming back for more!

The why of that condition is attributable to a number of things. Some of those players know that if they work hard, they'll be given a chance. Some of them realize that an injury may creep into the front ranks any moment, and that by silently plugging away, they will be given the chance to play. Some of them, all I hope, realize that their time will come in 1932, when the regulars graduate, and that they can do nothing better for themselves, their school, and football than to be at practice sessions daily, assimilating as much of Coach McLucas' football knowledge as possible.

I like to think that 24 players are out there every day, rain or shine, running until they drop, hurrying home to dress and eat dinner and then report for skull practice at the high school, because they have a deep and sincere respect for their coach. Since Coach McLucas became a member of the faculty at Seminole High, a remarkable change has taken place in the morale, spirit, physical and mental life of that 8-hour community of 500 students. Walking through Seminole High the recess periods or when classes are being changed, one senses an air of good fellowship and fraternity that certainly wasn't there three years ago. There is a friendly smile and greeting at every hand; the members of one class, while proud of their own strength and prestige, seem to want to lend a hand to the members of the other classes, anxious to do anything for the common good. The introduction of Coach McLucas, bringing with it not only a rigorous form of physical education and attention to school spirit, but also a closely knit spirit of camaraderie on the campus is, in no way, reflected in the consistency of the 24 boys who are trying to be members of Seminole High's best football team. The most important move the school board ever made was the one which saw them appointing Coach McLucas as head of the department of physical education.

To those second, third, and fourth stringers I see every time I attend a practice session I offer congratulations for a season which is already a success, mainly because of their earnestness. Their valor and courage will some day be recognized, their abilities revealed, their spirits soaring into what will then be the finest, swiftest, and greatest football team Seminole High has ever had. Football boys, I offer you the following hope for future years: You'll see me again at your homecoming, Varsity, Smith, Tiffin, Jack Kinner, Blair, Harrison, Higgins, Yancy, Elyman, Sherman, Varner, Bennett, Dighton, Knight, Brown, O'Brien, McClendon, Coleman, Williams, Beator, and the others.

Yesterday's practice session in preparation for the game in Daytona Friday was just as intense as all the others have been. As usual Coach McLucas stressed blocking and signal drills and as usual the boys looked alternately good and bad. The strong Daytona outfit will give them plenty of food for thought two minutes after the game has begun, and one wishes that if the boys ever planned to get down to business they would do

Captain Of Champion Cardinals Accorded Big Baseball Honor

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—Frank Frisch, captain and second baseman of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, has crashed baseball's hall of fame as the National League's "most valuable player" for 1931.

Announcement of Frisch's selection, by a vote of a committee of baseball writers, was made yesterday by William J. Stocum, of New York, president of the Baseball Writers' Association of America. The association is perpetuating the "most valuable player" poll, which was officially dropped by the National League in 1929.

Frisch emerged the victor in a three-cornered battle of ballots with Chuck Klein, slugging outfielder of the Phillies, and Bill Terry, first baseman of the New York Giants. Out of a possible maximum of 90 votes Frisch topped the list with 65, Klein received 25 and Terry 5.

In 1924, when the first official National League award was made, Frisch finished third. He was runner-up to Paul Waner in 1927. He also placed second in last year's unofficial contest, trailing Hack Wilson.

Frisch and Terry this year were the only players who scored points on all eight of the writers' ballots. Frisch had only one vote for first place but piled up his winning total by getting five votes for second place, one for fourth and one for eighth. Terry had one first, one second, three fourths, one fifth, one seventh and one eighth.

The three world series heroes of the Cardinals, Pepper Martin, Burleigh Grimes and Bill Hallahan, received no points whatever. They won honorable mention, however, along with more than a dozen others.

Another striking feature of this year's balloting, done before the World Series, was that no player received the top ranking on more than one expert's sheet. The complete list, with points totals:

- Frisch, St. Louis, 65; Klein, Philadelphia, 25; Terry, New York, 5; English, Chicago, 30; Hafez, St. Louis, 29; Wilson, St. Louis, 28; Jackson, New York, 24; Grimes, Chicago, 21; Adams, St. Louis, 18; Brandt, Boston, 15; Maraville, Boston, 15; Cuyler, Chicago, 14; Traynor, Pittsburgh, 12; Lucas, Cincinnati, 10; Lloyd, St. Louis, 8; Jim Elliott, Philadelphia, 6; Quinn, Brooklyn, 6; Finn, Brooklyn, 5; Clark, Brooklyn, 3; Derringer, St. Louis, 3; Root, Chicago, 3; Bartell, Philadelphia, 2; Verges, New York, 1; O'Doul and Wright, Brooklyn, 1 each; Cuccinella, Cincinnati, 1; Gelbert, St. Louis, 1.

This week, once over the Daytona hurdle with safety, they'll get to tackle Andrew Jackson, Orlando, Leesburg, and Gainesville, and possibly, the Rollins Rats, no easy schedule.

Professional football is rapidly gathering in our Southern football stars. Sunday's games told of Johnny Burnett, former Florida grizzer getting into action against Ken Strong's Stapleton team for the N. Y. Giants. Sammy Stein, another former Florida player has long been a member of the Giants, as has Doug Wycoff, the Georgia Tech star. Muddy Waters, last year's star tackle for the Gators, is a member of the Cleveland pro team, with old Cy Williams, another Gator ace, playing tackle for the Providence Steam Rollers when he isn't somewhere wrestling. "Father" Lumpkin, another Tech ace, is going fine as a member of the Portsmouth team, while Stumpy Thomason, still another Georgian, is the powerhouse of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Pro football, with its 10-teamed league, is on a soaring basis these days, to the delight of thousands of fans who enjoy watching football played in a clean-cut manner. Wish we had games played during December, a league here in the South, with twice each week, and with the big games played Christmas and New years.

Here's one more tabulation of the Pick-The-Winner contests, 25 of them, who had headed in their lists up until this morning: 23 pick Army, 4 pick Yale; 24 pick Brown, 2 pick Lohigh; 21 pick Minnesota, 7 pick Iowa; 21 pick Navy, 7 pick Princeton; 25 pick Auburn, 12 pick Florida, one pick a tie; 20 pick Indiana, 8 pick Chicago; 22 pick Michigan, 16 pick Illinois; 27 pick Georgia, 1 pick Vanderbilt; 21 pick W & J, 16 pick Lafayette; 22 pick Carnegie Tech, 6 pick Purdue; 24 pick Notre Dame, 2 pick Pittsburg; 21 pick Wisconsin, 17 pick Pennsylvania; 23 pick Chattanooga, 9 pick Freshwater; 21 pick Northwestern, 1 pick Ohio State, and 27 pick Tennessee, and one pick North Carolina.

KEYSTONE OF GATOR LINE

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 21.—"Big Bill" Ferrazzi, 190 pound center of the University of Florida, who was unable to play last Saturday in the Syracuse game, will be in shape for the clash with Auburn at Jacksonville this week, Coach Charlie Bachman said today. Ferrazzi was the line hero when Florida held North Carolina to a 0-0 score, and Roy Simmons, Syracuse scout, declared that "Big Bill" is the greatest center he has seen in football in the last ten years. The Gators expect one of their hardest battles of the year against the Auburn team at Jacksonville, and Mentor Bachman is drilling his players carefully for the Saturday clash.

Chase Team Trims Soldiers On Ball Field Last Night

By R. H. CULLUM

The Chase diamond ball team defeated Company D last night 25 to 12. Bryan pitched for the victors, and with the exception of the sixth inning, he was never in any trouble. The Company D boys staged a rally, which, helped by errors on the part of the Chase team, pushed over six runs in this inning.

Cook was on the mound for the losers, and pitched a good brand of ball, and had he had any kind of support in the field, he might have won the game. In the sixth inning the Chase team, D team blew up, errors piling up with lightning-like rapidity, allowing the Chase team to put over eleven runs in this frame. Cook also was the heavy hitter for the D team, hitting a thousand, getting four hits out of four trips to the plate.

Laundry Girls Drop Contest To Orlando

The Seminole Laundry girls diamond ball team, playing Orlando last night to play their last game of the year, lost the contest by an 11 to 5 score. Connie Taylor, ace of the Orlando girl pitchers was on the hill for the Orlando Blackwood Cleaners team, and kept all Sanford throws at bay, being given good support.

Slash Demanded For Enforcing Dry Law

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—A slash in prohibition enforcement expenditures was demanded yesterday by Representative Schafer, Republican, Wisconsin, as a means of reducing the cost of government.

Importers Of Peas And Peppers Seek Tariff Reduction

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—Importers of Mexican and Cuban green peppers and peas yesterday asked the tariff commission to recommend a 50 percent reduction in the present 3-cent duty.

They were opposed by Florida cooperatives, the Maricopa County Growers association, Florida East Coast Growers association and the Lee County Growers association, and individual producers, who contended the existing tariff was necessary to meet foreign competition.

Arizona and Low Angles interests, sought the reduction to be able to supply eastern markets when the Florida crop is inadequate.

A. D. Hutchinson, New York importer of Cuban peppers, also appeared in behalf of reduction. Presentation of evidence in the hearing on the 3-cent tomato tariff was completed yesterday morning.

Among those who testified were George S. Fitcher, Miami; H. T. Bennett, Hixson; Arthur Hoadley, Fort Myers and L. L. Chandler, Gadsden, all Florida producers, opposing any change in the rate.

Fletcher said Florida's production of tomatoes would have been "several times" its present volume had it not had to compete with foreign imports. He added the 3-cent duty had aided in expansion and that now the industry was in a position to grow up prosper.

Horace Daniels, representing the American chamber of commerce in Havana, asked the commission to lower the rate to permit free entry of Cuban tomatoes.

Man Drowns Trying To Save Rod And Reel

ST. CLOUD, Oct. 21.—Charles Dykes, pioneer St. Cloud settler, was drowned here yesterday afternoon when he jumped overboard in an attempt to recover a rod and line which had been snatched from his hands by a bass while he was fishing in Lake Herndon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bonham, unable to swim, were forced to watch their companion go down as pole and line vanished across the lake. The body was recovered. Mr. Dykes is survived by one son, Allan Dykes, of Macon, Ga.

Football Finishes

ATLANTA, Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—Georgia Tech may discard its "two-team" system for the Tulane game at New Orleans Saturday. At least Coach Bill Alexander plans to bunch his best forwards into one line and force it to stand the battle as long as possible.

Alexander is uncertain of only one position on this new line. Tharpe is a sure beginner at one tackle but the Tech coach has yet to decide between Exell, Clingan and Tom Cain for the other.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—Georgia's football coaches yesterday counted nine regulars on the injured squad, three of whom are not expected to play against Vanderbilt here Saturday.

Home Key, the backfield star of the Yale and North Carolina games, has a sore leg but Trainer C. W. Jones hopes to have him ready Saturday. Jack Roberts, the first string fullback, has a heel injury. Other nursing hurts include Jimmy Stineff, fullback; Graham Batchelor, center; Freddie Miller, end; and Sam Brown, halfback.

UNIVERSITY OF ALA., Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—Certain major shifts in the Crimson Tide line apparently were under consideration yesterday as Coach Thomas continued disatisfied with the forward wall against Tennessee. No defense announcement of any possible change was forthcoming, however.

CLEMSON COLLEGE, S. C., Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—Clemson took its final home workout yesterday before leaving early today for Columbia and the state fair week game with South Carolina at noon Thursday. The team had a routine practice of dummy scrimmage in offense.

CHAPEE HILL, N. C., Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—The Tarheel varsity ran wild in scrimmage against the freshmen yesterday, Coach Chuck

Collins expressing greater satisfaction with his University of North Carolina squad than at any time in the past two seasons. Jim Peacock, center, who has been out with injuries, was back, but he and Rip Blasco, slinky half, showed brilliantly in play.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Oct. 21.—Coach Charlie Bachman, tutor of University of Florida Gators, is evidently taking the game with the Auburn Tigers next Saturday not at all lightly, and as a result is putting the Florida team through the strictest routine of practice.

Yesterday afternoon, the Gators worked in the new stadium for two hours, running signals and perfecting the offense which will, so diametrically to make an impression at Syracuse last week.

With Bobby Phill and Spencer Cherry back on the field in shape for real action, the orange and blue clad boys held a snappy dummy scrimmage against Nash HSU girls' lettered Olympians, who gained a reprieve from further punishment by varying their line in the moment, saving his team for actual combat.

Coach Holsinger was teaching his ball carriers the fine art of lateral passing and is attempting to perfect the deceptive plays in the Florida aerial attack.

As yet the Gators have not glimpsed the Auburn players which were so successful against Georgia Tech last Saturday, when the Alabama Poly eleven rolled over the Yellow Jackets, 13 to 0. Florida, with the superior team it had last year only succeeded in subduing the Auburn outfit, 7 to 0.

ATLANTA, Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe university here, said yesterday that Oglethorpe had accepted an invitation received several weeks ago to play an inter-sectional football game for charity in Chicago, Nov. 21.

He said that a number of schools were approached and that disabled veteran officials, who are sponsoring the game, would choose the teams to play in this contest.

Dr. Jacobs said the Haskell Jaydians, chosen yesterday as one of the teams for this game, would be acceptable to Oglethorpe.

KIDNAPED SON OF BANK PRESIDENT KILLED BY GUNMEN

Machine Gun Robbers Leave Death Wake in Making Getaway

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—A coroner's jury investigating the ambush slaying of Lester Stratton, 24, alleged bootlegger and his companion, Enoch Wells, 19, Oct. 4, was unable to fix the blame after a hearing here yesterday.

Stratton and Wells were shot to death with shotguns on a lonely lane in the outskirts of the city as they were taking two cars to Stratton's home. Stratton was driving the first machine and towing the other which Wells was steering.

After having been forced to drive the bank car while citizens took up pursuit, James Kraft, 19, was found dead on the highway six miles from here.

His body and that of the slain brother, who was not identified, had been dumped from the automobile. Kraft was believed killed in reprisal.

The other victim of the gunmen's bullets, W. R. Kraft, 23, was shot because a rider refused to believe his assertion there was $5,000 more money in the bank. He was wounded in the shoulder and believed suffering from a lung fracture. Physicians said he might die.

The brothers, sons of President W. F. Kraft of the institution, were at work with seven other employees when three bandits entered. A fourth, machine gun ready, waited in a car outside.

Several customers were in the lobby, and with the employees were forced to lie on the floor during the robbery. Fifteen persons lay there as the bandits, whose companions gathered in a designated $50,000 in cash and securities, asked W. R. Kraft where other valuables were.

Kraft replied there were none. The man then fired his pistol point blank.

A bank guard pressed an alarm from his "bullet-proof" cage in the balcony and then to the roof lay there as the bandits, whose companions gathered in a designated $50,000 in cash and securities, asked W. R. Kraft where other valuables were.

Kraft replied there were none. The man then fired his pistol point blank.

As the holdup men drove away Edward Trinks, working nearby, fired six shots and he said he heard one occupant cry out he

Jury Unable To Fix Blame For Slaying

Dry Leader Scores Wets As Untruthful

COLUMBUS, Ga., Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—Mrs. Mary Harris Armour told the Georgia Women's Temperance Union at the opening session of its convention here last night that she had not found one person "who obeys the law" and tells the truth "fighting with the wets."

"When people who obey the law and tell the truth begin to seek destruction of the Eighteenth Amendment, then it will be time to tremble," she said.

"The cowards and the quitters are saying we can never possess the good land of total abstinence and world-wide prohibition," said Mrs. Armour.

Effort Made To Save Condemned Slayer

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—The state pardon board yesterday was asked to grant a life sentence to J. T. Blackwell, under sentence to die in the electric chair for the first degree murder of Sheriff C. D. Clarke of Calhoun county, at Blountstown in 1930.

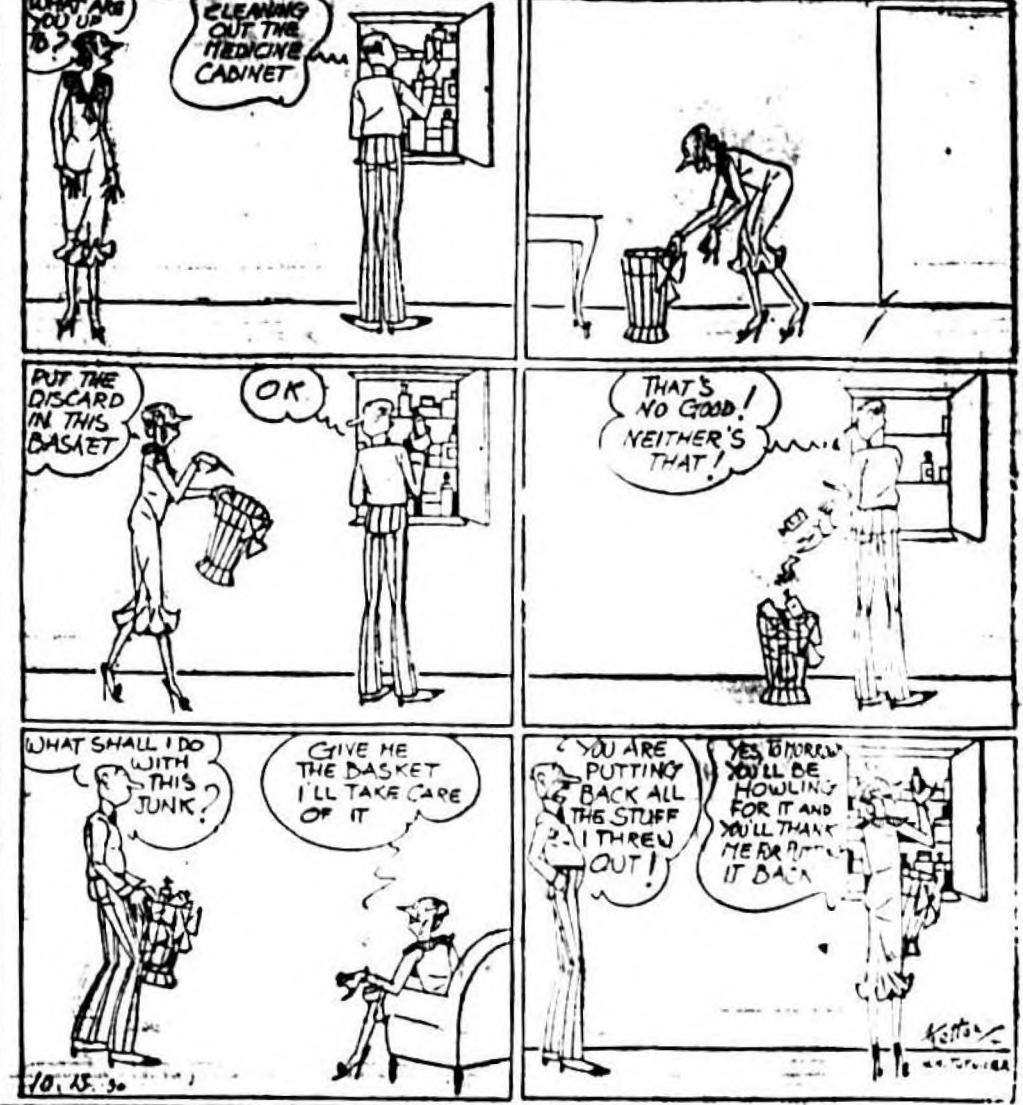

The board reopened its public hearing yesterday, to allow Blackwell's case to be presented. The continuation was favored and opposed by oral and written pleas addressed to the board. A large delegation of Calhoun county residents attended the hearing.

Mrs. Shelly Smith Is Identified As Killer

MADISON, Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—Two more witnesses today testified in Circuit Court here today that Mrs. Shelly Smith, Greenville, fired the shots which killed her estranged husband English B. Smith. One witness yesterday had told the same story. Mrs. E. C. Drivers, the woman's mother, however, as eye witness to the shooting, returned to the stand today to say John Reinschmidt, Quitman, Georgia manufacturer, and not her daughter, fired the fatal shots. Mrs. Smith and Reinschmidt are on trial for first degree murder. Two 13-year-old boys today testified Mrs. Smith shot her husband.
